RUSSIAN STRIKE BROKEN ; A GREATER ONE PLANNED.

Revolutionists Arranging for Universal Political Strike, When Assembly Meets, to Include Peasants and Army and Navy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 20.—With the collapse of the strike, the leaders of the "Reds" say they will now devote their energies to the preparation of a universal political strike to sustain the revolutionary programme when the National Assembly meets. These plans which were suddenly upset by the precipitation of the road strike last month are exceedingly ambitious involving the co-operation of the workers of the cities but the peasantry and if possible the army and navy. The propaganda among the soldiers and sailors will be pushed energetically. The leaders all ready claim that they have organized the peasantry in five districts of Kharkoff province, the peasants having agreed not to work for the landlords when the strike is called. They anticipate that the famine which is at the doors of almost 15,000,000 peasants of the central provinces according to estimates will prove an effective ally of the agitation as they can promise to give the peasants land to an unlimited extent. The plague which is moving northward from the Kirghiz Steppes is not stamped out in the Vistula region, may also be made to serve the purpose of arousing the ignorant and superstitious peasants. The leaders will urge the proletariat everywhere to secure arms and be prepared to fight for their rights.

The struggle in progress in the Moscow Zemstvo Congress is watched with intense interest. The main question to be decided is whether the Zemstvo will co-operate with the government or what terms.

The test probably will come upon the resolutions to the offered proposal of cooperation with Count Witte in the general pacification of the country and introduction of the reforms with the understanding that the National Assembly will work out the details.

It is significant that Witte, as the representative of the Jewish population of Vilna, Lithuania, was excluded from many Liberals here believe that the congress is sure to result in a split and that the Radical wing standing on its insistence upon a constituent assembly and universal suffrage, will refuse all connection with the government. The plan loudly discussed by the extremists a fortnight ago of turning the congress into a constituent assembly appears to have fallen through.

While no further information has been received regarding the reported false emperor who was said to be marching at the head of thousands of peasants in the province of Pomerania, the turbulence there has become so threatening that the government has placed the province in a state of siege.

LODZ, Nov. 20.—Two hundred persons were arrested by the military in the Catholic church of the Holy Cross here yesterday, for singing patriotic songs. When the soldiers reached the street with their prisoners, a crowd of people abused the escort and the officer in command ordered the troops to fire. Two men and one woman were killed and four men were wounded.

HONOLULU, Nov. 20.—It is reported that the Russian cruiser Lena, which unexpectedly came here went near enough to Vladivostok to get into wireless communication with that port and was warned to keep away unless in sympathy with the people in their uprising against the government. It is said that the officers were divided in opinion and that the crew was in sympathy with the uprising.

It is impossible to confirm these reports because the captain of the Lena will not be interviewed, and the officers will not discuss the voyage.

The appearance of the Lena at Honolulu has not yet been explained. She left San Francisco for Vladivostok with enough coal to carry her to her destination and at a time when she was due to be in that port she steamed into Honolulu harbor with very little coal in her bunkers.

WARSAW, Nov. 20.—The consuls here have asked the authorities to protect the foreign residents living in the precarious conditions prevailing.

JAPS OVERPOWER KOREAN GOV'T.

Cabinet Forced to Agree to Protectorate.
Emperor Still Holds Out and Assassination Ministers Who Surrendered—Japs Troops Hold Seoul.

SEOUL, Nov. 18.—The conference of nearly a week between the Japanese envoys headed by Marquis Ito, and the Korean cabinet ended yesterday and was followed early this morning by a nine hours' sitting at the palace with the Emperor.

1.—The beginning of today's session, Baron Hayaashi declared his determination not to withdraw until the four demands made by Marquis Ito were signed. The session was ended at 1:30 o'clock this morning when the cabinet, with the exception of the Minister of Agriculture and Minister of Foreign Affairs Pakchun, having yielded sent for the Imperial seal and signed the desired agreement. The four Japanese demands were as follows:

2.—The appointment of Japanese administrators at all treaty ports.

3.—The transfer of Korean diplomatic affairs to Tokyo.

4.—No arrangements to be made with other powers without the consent of the Japanese.

Three thousand Japanese soldiers maintained a demonstration all yesterday on the Esplanade before the palace. Japanese troops patrolled the streets all night. The Emperor's palace was also surrounded by troops and Japanese soldiers and police were lodged in the grounds of the palace.

Foreign officials took no part in the foregoing events, though last midnight, when an alarm was given that the Japanese might use force, it was believed that the American legation aid would be evacuated, and a temporary refuge for the emperor.

AMERICA'S GOLD PRODUCTION BREAKS ALL RECORDS.

Nearly $90,000,000 Worth Was Mined.
Last Year—Silver Also Shows a Considerable Increase.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A report issued by the Geological survey says: The production of gold in the United States during 1904 amounted to 3,910,729 fine ounces, valued at $80,855,648. This represents an increase of $7,243,948 over the production of 1903. The largest previous output was for 1902, and amounted to $80,000,000.

The production of silver in 1904 amounted to 55,688,364 fine ounces valued at $32,052,378. This represents an increase of 1,699,884 ounces over the production of 1903 and an increase in value of $2,713,378. The record output of silver in 1902 amounted to 62,950,000 fine ounces, the report says, has not been reached in late years, nor has the commercial value attained the figures of that year, which amounted to $82,100,000. The principal sources of increase in the gold production compared with that of 1903, the report says, are easily traceable. Colorado added nearly $2,000,000 to her production of 1903 most of this amount coming from the mines of Cripple Creek. Nevada's output increased about the same amount, chiefly by reason of the phenomenal yields of the gold field mines. The greatest progress is reported in California, whose production exceeds that of 1903 by $2,300,000, the increase being caused partly by a strong development of the quartz mining industry and to a less degree by the activity of the dredgers. Alaska and Arizona show increased yields amounting respectively to $476,893 and $748,708.

OVER 100 LOST IN WRECK OF HILDA.

Her Boilers Exploded When She Struck.

In Heavy Snow Storm Captain Made Fatal Mistake—Majority of Victims Were French Farmers.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Special reports received here of the wreck of the London and Southwestern Railway Company's steamer Hilda, which left Southampton Friday night for St. Malo, France, and was totally wrecked on Lesportes reef, three miles from St. Malo, yesterday morning, with the loss of more than 100 lives give a graphic description of the disaster. Owing to the rough sea, together with a thick snowstorm, the captain of the Hilda probably took the buoy light of the rocks for St. Malo light-house. He gave the signal which was not seen by harbor employees and then the steamer proceeded slowly towards the light. When she struck the rocks the steamers' boilers exploded and she was cut in two, giving the passengers no time to save their lives.

Seven bodies wearing lifebelts were picked up off the village of St. Caste yesterday evening. The coast near St. Malo is covered with wreckage and some cattle. Two-thirds of the Hilda's passengers were French farmers returning to France with the proceeds of the sale of their yearly harvest of onions and potatoes. A year ago, is probably the worst winter in France since English families who were going to spend the winter at Dinard.

The wreck of the Hilda, three miles off St. Malo, showing only her main mast and forecastle. A corresponding view of the wreck which was entangled in the rigging.

EXPLORERS KILLED BY HOSTILE INDIANS.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 20.—In a letter received yesterday by George W. Knox, the fate of Henry Miller and Gus Olinde, who went on an expedition to Tiburon Island in the Gulf of California, nearly a year ago, is probably disclosed.

On the desolate shores of the Gulf of California near a deserted Indian village, a herder found the trappings of Miller and Olinde, a book of nautical science which belonged to Olinde and a pair of dried human hands which may have been those of one of the men. A few feet away was found the charred remains of a huge feast fire and circles of an Indian war dance. It is believed the men were slain by hostile Indians who inhabit that portion of the lower California coast. The discovery of relics of the Miller and Olinde party was made in connection with the search now conducted by Prof. Grinnell of Arizona for his brother, Lt. Grinnell, who was lost on the peninsula.

PROMINENT PARRISBORO MAN DEAD.

(Special to the Star.)

PARRISBORO, N. S., Nov. 19.—David Jenkins Taylor, one of Parrisboro's oldest residents, died this morning after a brief illness in hospital. He was in his eightieth year. Mr. Taylor was born at West Brook, but the greater part of his life was spent in Parrisboro. He was for many years deputy crown land surveyor, and was Parrisboro's first town clerk, and several years of the peace and a deacon in the Baptist church. He was married twice and leaves a widow and several children by his first wife. His only son by his second marriage is William Taylor who is on the staff of the Dominion Atlantic, and is at present stationed at Halifax. He arrived here last night and was present at his father's death.

Y. M. C. A. WILL EXTEND WORK TO ARCTIC CIRCLE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Y. M. C. A. is announced today, is to enter the Arctic Circle upon the opening of navigation in the spring. An army secretary is to be sent up the Yukon with a launch to visit the six posts. He will supply soldiers with reading matter and stationery, give entertainments, conduct religious services and organize army associations.

Wm. A. Reid, who was for two years an army secretary in Alaska, where he laid a similar service, travelling on dog-sledges, snowshoes and by canoes from post to post, is the man chosen for this service. He will extend his services to the Canadian Mounted Police.

GIRL FOUND LONG SLEEP.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 20.—A special to the Tribune from Syracuse, N. Y., says Miss Florence Ryan, 21 years old, awoke yesterday from a state of unconsciousness into which she sank on March 7. She recognized relatives and talked to them.

About a year ago Miss Ryan fell, and as a result of injuries sustained then, soon afterwards lapsed into unconsciousness. Her case has baffled the physicians.

LAST WINTER'S RATE MAY AGAIN PREVAIL.

Threatened Importation of Foreign Ship Laborers May Be Prevented—Longshoremen Meet Tonight.

There is a prospect that the steamship people may bring to this port this winter 300 longshoremen to handle the winter port, as will be seen by reference to a Montreal despatch on page two. This, however, may not be done, as it is quite probable that the local men may amend their motion passed on Friday evening requiring a flat rate of 35 cents per hour all the year around.

Some of the cooler heads in the local union figure out that they were better off last year at the rate agreed upon than they would be under the present arrangement, but some cannot see the wisdom of which occurred at the renewal of last year's agreement claim that the extra time allowed for waits and time while rigging was made ready, also the fact that they got 40 cents per hour on grain gave them a good working wage. They further point out that this season there will be exported from this port as much if not more grain than was shipped from here during the past three seasons. It will take many men to handle this grain, which at last year's rate would mean a big thing to the men.

The Star this morning talked with W. J. Gillespie, John Killen and Michael Kelly, three of the leading members of the association, but all declined to discuss the situation in any way more than to mention that there would be a meeting of the executive tonight, when the matter will be gone more fully into.

Water street, and the vicinity about the longshoremen's headquarters presented a lively scene this morning, and from all quarters came suggestions as to a settlement of the difficulty. Of course there were those who advocated holding out and called attention to the fact that if the men were brought here they would have to pay a license fee of $7.50 each, that it would be difficult to block the men, in fact numerous difficulties.

This week several steamers are due, including the Farina, of the Atlantic line, which will doubtless reach here tonight, a fruit boat tomorrow and a Donadson line boat on Thursday.

ALEXANDER MCGAVIN DEAD IN ST. STEPHEN.

Former St. John Man and Well Known Merchant—He Was a K. of P. and a Forester.

(Special to the Star.)

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Nov. 20.—The community has heard with much pain the news of the death of Alexander McGavin, of the well known dry goods firm of Cameron and McGavin, which occurred at his home on Main street at three o'clock this morning. Prof. Grinnell of Arizona, for his brother, Lt. Grinnell, who was lost on the peninsula.

He was an attendant of Trinity Episcopal church. He was a member of Frontier Lodge Knights of Pythias and devoted freely of his time to its welfare, and was interested in Frontier Company U. R. in connection and was quartermaster of the first maritime regiment of that order. He was also a member of the Canadian Foresters. He was a gentleman of most kindly nature and was esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

His funeral will probably be held on Wednesday afternoon.

DR. PARKHURST ACCEPTS DOCTRINE OF DAMNATION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, last night, told his congregation he believed in damnation. "The apparent cruelties attributed to God," he said, "are not a circumstance to the cruelties in nature. Natural laws pay no more attention to man than a dog."

"Saints as well as sinners were burned in the Windsor Hotel fire and in the Shoom disaster. If God burns a body he will burn up a soul that broke his moral laws. The God of love destroyed 50,000 persons in the Lisbon earthquake. He does not amend physical laws to save saints. If a man will not accept God's moral laws, then I should say that God would damn him and I further say that God ought to damn him."

PRINCE LOUIS' FLEET SHORT 200 SAILORS.

Majority Overstayed Leave and Were Rejected as Deserters When They Returned, Weeping for Reinstatement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—About 200 sailors from the British squadron commanded by Prince Louis of Battenberg were missing from their ships when the squadron made ready to sail today. Several of those who had overstayed their leave were turned away when they tried to board their ships. As it was within a few hours of the fleet's sailing time they made their belated appearance, the officers treated them as deserters. The officers said that they were willing to lose these men on the principle that they are worthless and their loss a good thing.

Many of the rejected sailors cried. Their uniforms in some cases had been taken from them in Bowerly resorts and they had spent all their money before returning to their warships. Many of them immediately applied to the immigration authorities for their return to England. Commissioner Watchorn said that at one of $2 a head would be levied on the Prince's fleet on every sailor who appeared to have been left stranded in New York, the same as imposed on captains of trans-Atlantic steamers for every immigrant embezzled into the United States without due examination.

Young Hackenschmidt, who is to wrestle George Schnabee in the York Theatre tomorrow night, arrived today. The bout will begin at 8:30.

$4,000,000 WORTH OF WHISKY BURNED.

Spectacular Fire at Distillery—810,000 Gallons of Whisky Added Fuel to the Flames

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 19.—At the A. Overhill distillery at Broadford today $4,000,000 worth of whisky was destroyed by a fire which broke out at 10 o'clock. The main bonded warehouse, four stories in height, was burned to the ground. A steady north-east wind which blew the flames toward the town of Broadford from destruction. Smoke was first seen issuing from the third story of the building. Employees of the company climbed up the fire escape and opened one of the small iron doors. They were caught in a suffocating cloud of smoke and dropped unconscious on the fire escape. They were rescued by other workmen and a general alarm was sounded. The blue-tinted flames from the burning alcohol were seen shooting more than 100 feet into the air. As barrels of whisky burst, the blazing liquor was splashed in all directions. Broadford is but two miles from here, and the Connellsville fire department on a special train reached the scene quickly. The men by hand work managed to save the buildings nearby.

SUSSEX FREE BAPTISTS AGAINST UNION.

SUSSEX, Nov. 18.—The difficulties in the way of uniting the two Baptist churches in Sussex now seem greater than ever in spite of the fact that both churches are under the one name. The new Free Baptist Hall in the rear of the church is now nearing completion. The fact that the building was begun just as the union was nearing completion leads to the belief that the church does not favor union. At a meeting of the Free Baptist church, now known as the Main street United Baptist Church, held last Monday evening a motion disapproving of union with the Church Avenue Baptist Church was carried by a majority.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. From early morning until late at night they have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. It is any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl half the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

There are the women's friend in every sense of the word. They will strengthen the weak heart, tone up the shaky, strained nerves, make the brain clear, and restore the lost vitality. Mrs. George L. Jones, Stanley Station, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with weak and dizzy spells and was so run down I could not attend to my household duties. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I found that my trouble had all passed away. I am now strong and healthy again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25. If your dealer does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

LONGSHOREMEN COMING FROM MONTREAL.

Steamship Men Refuse to Give Increased Winter Rate and Arrange to Import Outside Labor.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—Asked tonight concerning the report from St. John, N. B., that it was the intention of the shipping companies doing business from that port during the winter months to take a large number of Montreal longshoremen from Montreal to St. John to work on the Montreal wharves during the summer without anyone objecting, and surely Montreal men should have as good a right on the wharves during the winter months. Three hundred men will be taken down, five or six gangs in all.

BAPTISTS CONSIDER MORE REORGANIZATION.

The second session of the Baptist district meeting was held at Havelock, N. B., on Friday, and was most successful. Dr. Gates was in the chair.

A recommendation from the 5th district in re arrangements of pastorates was read and passed over to the committee whose duty it should be to attend to such matters. The following committee was appointed to report at this session: Rev. D. Long, Thomas Perry and W. Fowler.

The chairman read the constitution, and on motion of Rev. D. Long it was accepted and a committee appointed to make such by-laws as may seem necessary for the working of the district meeting, same committee to report at this session. Rev. D. Long, Thomas Perry and W. Fowler.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

NIGHT SCHOOLS.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 17, 1934. To the Editor of the Star: Dear Sir: Coming on winter, the period of long nights, we hear a great deal about the best means of spending the long nights most pleasantly especially in church organizations, but very little about how they may be spent most profitably especially for grown up boys and young men whose education may be somewhat limited. The general opinion is that the long winter nights could be most profitably and pleasantly spent by having a night school started in connection with these flourishing young men's societies or church organizations.

SERMON TO YOUNG MEN.

A crowded congregation assembled in the Main street United Baptist church last evening to hear Rev. D. Hutchison's fourth sermon to young men. The subject last evening was The Young Man and His Reading. The text was from First Tim., chap. 4, verse 13: "Thou shalt give attendance to reading."

The preacher referred to the hundreds of young men who could be seen every night of the week aimlessly and uselessly parading the streets, if they would only devote themselves to self-improvement they would fit themselves for useful positions in life. During the service Mrs. Allan sang a solo. Next Sunday the pastor will speak to young women on the subject of dress.

PRINCE MAKES HIS LAST STATEMENT
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—From the University Club Prince Louis and his party were driven to the New York Theatre, where he was greeted with rousing cheers, and after he had entered his box he was obliged to stand and bow his response to the noisy welcome.

Shortly after returning to his apartments at the Hotel Nederland the Prince made what he said would be his last public statement before sailing for home. He said:
"We shall leave here with the greatest feeling of regret, and there is not one of us who would not have liked to have met with every demonstration of kindness and regard, and your reception has been most cordial, particularly where large numbers have congregated to welcome us, such as at the Hippodrome and at the New York Theatre tonight."

"I am very grateful for this, for it shows that the kindly feeling of welcome extended to us comes from every class of the people."
"Let me say that I consider the demonstrations given us as entirely directed toward our country, and I know they are appreciated. For myself I do not count. I am simply the representative of my country. I am sure the people of my country will look upon my kindly reception as an honor to the King and themselves. We are proud to represent them, and our only regret is that on the only chance we have had to return some of this splendid hospitality by giving a reception on the Drake, it was so cold in the supper room that all our guests were freezing."

"In departing I wish to express my appreciation for all that has been done for our honor. I have received an enormous amount of correspondence from all sorts of people since I came to America, and I have endeavored to attend to it day by day, so that it would not accumulate, but I could not keep up with it, and now I have a pile of unanswered letters larger than when I started. But I want to assure you that the moment we get to sea I shall start in to reply to every letter not yet answered and those replies will be mailed from Gibraltar. I wish this statement to be published, so that the many who have not heard from me will know that I have not forgotten them, or tried to slight them."

Prince Louis will board the Drake at 3.30 o'clock tomorrow. He will pay only one more official visit, and that will be to Admiral Evans on the Maine.

"What are you going to do, John?" asked Mrs. McFazze, as her husband unwrapped a set of boxing gloves.
"I'm going to give Johnny some lessons in self-defence," he answered. "Every boy should know how to take care of himself in an emergency. Come on, Johnny, I won't hurt you."

Twenty minutes later Mr. McFazze returned with his hands on his face.
"Get me a piece of raw meat to put on my eye and the arnica bottle," he said.
"Why, you don't mean to say that Johnny—"

"No, I don't; of course I don't, Johnny's sittin' out in the garden now in sorrow and repentance. I've discovered that the only way to teach that boy is with a strap."

Capt. Hamilton, chief of London's fire brigade, has a strong sense of humor. When in command of a small vessel, he hurried up one day from his lunch-table on account of threatened bad weather, and almost immediately afterwards sent down a midshipman to look at the barometer. Walking aft, he happened to look down the skylight, and, to his amazement, saw the midshipman fortifying himself with a glass of his best sherry. "What the—?" said the captain, "and how is the sherry?"
"Like a shot came the answer, 'Steadily falling, sir.' Hamilton so much appreciated the joke that he allowed the incident to pass without further notice.

The local police tomorrow will investigate a report made at police headquarters tonight by a West Gloucester man that a human skeleton, beside which was a dark lantern, had been found today about a third of a mile above the Lily Pond crossing of the Boston and Maine railroad and about 100 yards from the tracks.
So far as is known no one has been missed from this city within a year or two.

ANCESTORS AND POSTERITY.

One day last week the Emperor of Japan went in solemn state to a great temple and gave humble thanks to the spirits of his ancestors for the victory and the glory that is Japan's. And all his people bowed themselves in solemn thankfulness with him. As we, enlightened, read of this ceremony we smile in our superior way and wonder how that strange people can be at once so superstitious and so powerful.

But better far it would be for our nation if we had more of such superstition. Our life is too much in the present. We care little for unborn tomorrow, and less for dead yesterday. We forget that the day we enjoy and strive to take fullest advantage of, oblivious of everything else, would not have been ours in such fullness but for those yesterday and the men that lived and labored for us in them; and we forget that our children's tomorrow depends largely upon what we make of our today.

The Japanese believe that the great among their ancestors are great gods today. They believe that their own spirits, under certain conditions, may attain deification hereafter. So they try to live in such a way that the high spirits who watch and rule over them shall approve of their living, and so that when they themselves put off this life their descendants shall in turn have reason to be proud of and reverse them, and by following their example live greatly also.

We need not worship our ancestors as gods, but we should not forget that if they lived and worked, and that, if their spirits are not actually with us for our guidance, their deeds are. To the men to whom we owe the life that moves within us we also owe freedom and all the blessings of civilization that make life so much more worth the living today than ever before in the world's history. What were we but for the barons of Runnymede, the men who fought under Cromwell and Drake and Howard and Wellington, the men whose mighty minds and self-sacrificing efforts built up the British constitution, the men who made this Dominion and established it to be one of the greatest and the freest among nations? It is not well that we should forget these men and what they did and what we owe to them. And it is not well that we should forget that as we depend upon these, so there depends upon us the welfare of the generations coming and to come. Our fathers labored and we have entered into their labors. What ingratitude and selfish cowardice are we if we forget them and the place we hold between them and our posterity.

They bowed the neck to bear The unadorned yoke that brings Stark toil and sternest care. Wherefore through them is freedom sure.

Wherefore through them we stand From all but both and pride secure In a delightful land.

Dear-bought and clear, a thousand year Our fathers' title runs; Make us likewise their sacrifice, Defrauding not our sons!

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP PROFITS.

The town of Port Arthur, in Ontario, which comparatively new and rapidly growing, was recently able to sell a block of civic lands to the Dominion Securities Company at 103-1-6, making a premium of $7,000 on the transaction.

The citizens of Port Arthur enjoy a lower rate of taxation than the people of any other town of the size in the Dominion.

Both the good credit of the town and its low rate of taxes are directly due to the adoption and energetic prosecution of a policy of public ownership. Nearly half the civic expenses are paid from the profits of publicly owned and operated franchises.

The town owns and operates its own street railway, electric lighting and telephone systems, and all of them pay a profit in addition to providing excellent service. The net earnings of the various services are as follows: Electric railway, $5,598.10; electric light, $13,937.70; telephone, $15,511.00. These figures are net, as all operating and maintenance expenses, interest and sinking fund charges are deducted from the gross earnings before they are arrived at.

To the citizens of St. John, whose civic credit is not improving, whose taxes are high and who pay oppressive rates to companies for what the people of Port Arthur provide for themselves, this example should be impressive.

WHERE HELP IS NEEDED.

Elsewhere in the Star is published the intimation that Rabbi Rabbitts will receive subscriptions for the benefit of the suffering Jews in Russia. The Star commends this opportunity to the charitable of St. John. Seldom have they had the chance to invest their money where it will do more good. The conditions in Russia which it is sought to relieve are unspeakably pitiful. The scattered newspaper despatches which have come lately fail to describe the situation. Reliable advice indicates that during the reactionary riots and massacres of the past few weeks, over 25,000 Jews have been slaughtered, about 100,000 wounded and hundreds of thousands more left homeless and destitute at the opening of the cruel Russian winter. Aid is sorely needed and arrangements have been perfected whereby money contributed by pitying people all over the world will be applied, without delay and with little expense where it will do most good.

The police magistrate's deliverance on the Northrup case would have possessed greater dignity and force had it been marked by less innuendo and would have given the friends of the chief of police less reason to assert, as they are asserting, that an official who, above all others in this city, should be unmoved by motives unconnected with the public good, is allowing his public actions and utterances to be influenced by private spite.

I have just completed my purchase of HOLIDAY GOODS for this season, and assure my friends and would-be customers that never before in my 35 years of business in this city have I ever had such a complete line of first class, reliable, up-to-date stock of WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, SILVERWARE, OPERA and FIELD GLASSES, Manicure and Toilet Sets, and such articles, as I have now on hand to show them; while my DIAMONDS and other precious gems in Rings, Brooches and Pins, are incomparable in quality with what is generally found in jewelry stores, and the prices are much below the quotations of the catalogues sent here from other cities. Call and see them and be convinced before purchasing elsewhere.

LABOR TALKS.

THE CAPITALIST AND THE PROFESSOR.

Cap.—What do you mean by telling these men not to pay the income tax? It is little enough. They get good schools, streets, fire and police protection, and ought to pay for it. Look at my teamster. He has six children, and the whole six get free schools.

Prof.—The fire protection is for your $100,000 worth of goods. It saves you $500 a year extra insurance. The police protection is for your goods and your family. The good streets are for your carriage. As for schools, he pays the school tax in the house rent. You must admit that the tenant really pays the house tax. The owner does not pay it.

Cap.—Well if you take it off incomes these men have to go on to real estate and rents will be higher.
Prof.—Then why do you object to it? You own real estate. Did you ever realize that men getting incomes of $500 to $600 were taxed every year to educate those three boys of yours through the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade, when their boys had to leave at fourteen years of age and go out of the eighth grade to work?

Cap.—Well somebody must do the work. We can't all be doctors, lawyers and bankers. It does not do I tell you to give these people ideas above their station. Why not will?

Prof.—Drive our coaches?
Cap.—Yes, and build our walls, houses, dig drains, etc.

Prof.—Give the mason, the carpenter and the others higher pay and shorter hours, and he can give his family better education. You will then have by degrees a more skilled and thoughtful man and carpenter. He begins to save and take an interest in the state. The more wages he gets the less profit you make. The less income tax he has to pay, the more you have to pay. You become a little less rich, he a little less poor. He gets more contented and you get less avaricious.

Cap.—That is all nonsense. Besides if you do educate these men you can't turn them into managers. Why they would ruin whatever business they touch. A man is born to trade. And the professions are full.

Prof.—You are quite right. There are certain men with remarkably clear insight, who will lead. But that is no reason why they should be permitted to combine and hold all the wheat or flour at an enhanced price or to bribe legislators or councils to grant them a tariff cut. You have a perfect right to buy in the cheapest and sell in the dearest market. But when you tyrannize and get a railroad rebate, or a tariff cut, or a privilege not given to all, then you are stealing and need to be punished. See how we coal miners of Eastern Canada are locked up and what prices we pay. See the prices of meat, yet cattle in the west are cheaper than three years ago. Reflect upon the prices of metal and other ware. Remember that the family cost of living is 20 to 40 per cent. more than ten years ago; whereas wages are hardly half that advance.

Cap.—That is due to European immigration. If it were not for that these wages would have been twice as high.
Prof.—And you would have had less profits, precisely. The influx of cheap labor from Europe kept wages from going up rapidly, and at the same time gave more demand for provisions and clothes which tended to make those necessities advance.

Cap.—Heavens, man you would not prohibit immigration, now would you people the Northwest?

Prof.—Canada's future is based on her agriculture. We have a great market in Europe for dairy products. I would encourage all immigration that would bring real tillers of the soil, for that is the main life of Canada. But to tax the people for the purpose of assisting the immigration of mechanics from old world centres is an entirely different question, and should be considered in all its bearings before such passages are assisted by government.

Cap.—You are too extreme. Remember that capital has its rights and if they are trampled upon it will only force capital away.

Prof.—True, but better to restrict capital in its efforts to coerce and rob them than to be afraid and let it have a free hand. Switzerland put a tax on an graduated tax, but capital increased. If a rich man paid below his share of taxes during his life, the law at his death becomes retroactive and went back ten years if necessary to force him to disgorge that of which he had defrauded the state.

"No American can tell in his mind and in shame over the continuous revelation of lack of principle and cheapness of character in men who have proved grossly untrustworthy. The shame of the senate, with several members who have been under indictment or have to be unscrupulous corruptionists; of department officers of high station selling information as if it were produce; of men intrusted with vast funds for purposes which ought to make their custody a sacred charge, greedily using the money of other people for their own benefit—these things are ominous and menacing in the last degree."

*Extreme! Read the "Outlook" of October 21 and see some of the evils wrought by capitalists in their efforts to get more wealth.

100 DROWNED IN WRECK OF BRITISH STEAMER.

Missing Her Course in Severe Snow Storm,
the S. S. Hilda Struck Rock Off Coast of France and Foundered.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—With passengers and crew numbering more than 100, the Southwestern Railway's cross channel steamer Hilda foundered this morning and the majority of the persons on board were drowned.

The Hilda left Southampton Friday night for St. Malo, on the north coast of France. Her passage was greatly delayed by a fog in the channel, and when nearing St. Malo she ran into a severe snow storm, apparently missed her course, and foundered on the rocks off Jardin Lighthouse, three miles from St. Malo. The company's steamer Ada, outward from St. Malo, rescued five of the passengers and one of the crew. These are now on the way to Southampton, and it is believed are the only survivors, though an unconfirmed report reached Paris that 70 had been saved.

The crew numbered 26 and there were about a hundred passengers, all Frenchmen, the majority being on board from St. Brieux and neighborhood. A telegram from Servan, adjoining the town of St. Malo, gave the few particulars yet available. The Hilda was near the St. Malo Saturday morning. She struck the rocks at four o'clock Sunday morning in the roadstead off the island of Cembra. She had missed the tide owing to bad weather and fog. The majority of the crew and passengers were asleep at the time. Two boats were lowered, one of which, containing five men, arrived at Servan. The second boat was picked up empty at St. Cast, where thirteen bodies were washed ashore. The top of the Hilda's funnel and her mast are visible at low tide, according to the telegram from Servan.

The Hilda was built at Glasgow in 1892 and registered 848 tons. She was a screw steamer of iron construction and was 235 feet in length.

ST. MALO, France, Nov. 19.—The exact number of lives lost in the Hilda's wreck is unknown here. It is understood that there were about twenty first-class passengers, including several English people. Among the latter were the Hon. Mrs. Butler, sister-in-law of Lord Lansdowne, and Colonel Pollett.

LADY BARRISTER.

The First Woman Admitted to the Bar in Melbourne.

Accounts of the admission of Australia's first lady barrister to the bar in full to Miss Greta Fios Matilda Greig. The novelty drew a crowded court, many ladies being present. Chief Justice Sir John Madden and his colleagues of the supreme court in Melbourne signalled the occasion by smiling as they took their seats on the bench. The chief justice, addressing Miss Greig, who had been duly admitted with a number of male candidates, conveyed the congratulations of the bench, and expressed the hope that she would be as successful at the bar as she had been as a student. Miss Greig rose and bowed. Later in the day she made her first professional appearance in an application on behalf of a branch of the Australian Women's Association.

Interviewed as to the position and prospects of a lady barrister in Australia, Chief Justice Madden said that ladies entering the legal profession were certainly handicapped by nature and sex. Women were naturally more sympathetic than judicial, more emotional than logical. Besides knowledge of the world was as essential to success at the bar as knowledge of the law. Asked whether he had contemplated the possibility of a lady barrister becoming a judge, Sir John replied: "I see no reason why they should be denied the right to go as far as they can, even to the bench. That is the logical outcome of their admission to the bar if they display there the qualities necessary to win such promotion."

Minister Pakchisun, in leading the opposition against the signing of the demands of the Marquis Ito, adjured the emperor with the powerful argument possible to a superstitious benighted sovereign namely that his consent would affect and outrage all the spirits of his imperial ancestors.

After the refusal of the emperor to return the first visit of Marquis Ito, the marquis remained in the background.

The conference between Baron Hayashi and the Korean cabinet began yesterday at the Japanese legation, and was so violent to attract attention on adjacent streets. It resulted in Pakchisun and the minister of agriculture dramatically denouncing the proceedings and withdrawing to the palace, where they secured themselves with the emperor.

The emperor then ordered that the ministers who consented to the Japanese demands be assassinated. After the signatures and seals were attached to the Japanese military paraded through the streets.

The emperor took alarm at the contents and tone of Marquis Ito's credentials when they were presented to him on the 10th inst., the day after the arrival of the marquis. His alarm was increased because the Japanese sought to have the marquis occupy the emperor's audience chambers and there receive a return visit from the emperor, who resisted, feigning sickness.

It required five days to arrange an interview regarding the mission of Marquis Ito, and then a confidential intermediary was held at which the emperor referred the entire matter to his cabinet.

It is said among diplomatic circles that the Korean ministry has managed this final event in subverting Korean sovereignty which was an inevitable sequel to the protocols of February and of September, 1904.

It is said, that though bound by treaty to a dignified appeal to the good offices of American and other powers to assist in the rectification of alleged Japanese injustices, the ministers preferred fruitless, underhand means. It is said that at the present moment the Japanese have three secret agents abroad for the purpose of securing intervention. One is in China, the second, in France, and the third, in Korea. A conflict between civil and military forces is now expected, and the Minister Hayashi has sent a strong circular to all Japanese consuls in Korea to administer justice impartially.

After the presentation of the mikado's gift to the court, it reported that substantial sums of money were used to satisfy the ministers who consented to the Japanese demands. About 50,000 Japanese soldiers billeted on the people, or in barracks, are at the service of the Japanese, but no disturbances are expected.

CRANE'S CRIBBAGES

Thoroughly distrusting Lausanne, ennobled by his cowardice, Porter had given him away—but to Allie. Strange, by enough, the girl had taken a strong liking to the son of Lausanne; it may have been because of the feeling that she was indirectly responsible for his presence at Ringwood. Allie Porter's perceptions had been developed to an extraordinary degree. All her life she had lived surrounded by thoroughbred, and her sensitive nature went out to them, in their courage and loyalty, in a manner quite beyond possibility in a practical, routine-following horseman. To her they were almost human; the play of their minds was as attractive and interesting as the development of their muscles was to a trainer. When the stable had been taken back to Ringwood, she had asked for Lausanne as a riding horse.

"I'm going to give him away," her father had replied; "but I'll sell him to nobody but a brute with such a reputation." This word brought to Porter's mind his chief cause of resentment against the Chestnut. The public having got into his head that Porter was playing coupe, generously agreed that he was pulling Lausanne to get him in some big handicap light.

"I won't feed such a state all winter," he declared angrily, after a little pause.

"Well, give him to me, father," the girl had pleaded; "I am certain that he'll make good some day; you'll see that he'll pay you for keeping your word."

An Allie rode Lausanne she discovered many things about the horse; that instead of being a stupid, morose brute, his intelligence was extraordinary, and with her at least, his temper perfect.

Allie's relationship with her father was unusual. They were chums; in all his trouble, in all his moments of wavering, buffeted by the waves of disaster, Allie was the one who cheered him, who kept him in his armor—Allie, the slight olive-faced woman, with the blue eyes of her mother.

"You'll see what he'll do next summer, Dad," she said cheerfully. "You'll win with Lucetta as often as you did with her mother, and I'll win with Lausanne. We'll just keep quiet till spring, then we'll show them."

Lausanne's horse, so steadily controlled by Philip Crane, Banker, had been put in winter quarters at Craven, where Langdon had a cottage. Crane's racing season had been as successful as the Master of Ringwood's, and Crane had won a fair-claim race with the Dutchman—essentially Langdon's horse—and he had been true to his nature, which was to hasten slowly, threw him out of training and deliberately planned a comeback in next year. The colt was engaged in several three-year-old stakes, and Crane put Langdon to work on his capabilities. As his owner expected, he showed them in a severe trial gallop the true Hanoverian's power.

Although Crane had said nothing about it at the time, he had his eye on the Eastern Derby. It was a long way ahead to look to, but it was a race the following June, but it was the essence of Crane's existence, career planning. He loved to win, and a good stayer, such as he had in the Dutchman, the half-and-half run of the Derby left less to chance than any other stake he could have pitched upon; the result would depend absolutely on the class and stamina of the horses. No bad start could upset his calculations. The Dutchman's race as a two-year-old would not warrant his being made a favorite, and Langdon, properly directed, was clever enough to see that the Dutchman was at a comfortable price for betting purposes.

Many things had crowded into this year of Crane's life. The bank, doing but a modest business always, was running so smoothly that it required little attention from the owner. This was one reason why he had thrown so much subtle energy into his racing; his speculation appeared to him, the plucking he had received as a moneyed youth rankled in his heart. The possession of such a faithful factor as Langdon carried him to greater lengths than he would have gone had he the obvious details been subject to his own execution. Though conscienceless, he was more or less fastidious. Had a horse broken down and become utterly useless, he would have ordered him to be destroyed without experiencing any feel of compassion—he would have stilled the matter entirely from his mind with the passing of the command; but rather than destroy the horse himself, he probably would have fed him. And so it was with men. If they were driven to the wall because of his plans that was their own look out; it did not trouble Philip Crane.

Porter had known simply in a business way. From the first he had felt that Ringwood would pass out of its owner's possession, and he had begun to covet it. The Lausanne race had been Langdon's planning altogether. Crane, cold-blooded as he was, would not have robbed a man he had business dealings with deliberately. He had told his trainer to win, if possible, a race with Lausanne, and get rid of him. That Langdon's villainous scheme had borne evil fruit for John Porter was purely a matter of chance selection. There was a Memphis telephone restaurant not striving to be anything but business obstacles in his ambitious career. Love for this quiet, self-contained girl, unwarmed by anything but the truth, and honesty, and perhaps a young man of more subtle grace would have received some grateful recognition for this office, but the matter had been quite closed out so far as Mortimer was concerned. Allie tried to refer to it afterward, but he was not even curiously stopped.

George Mortimer's chief notion was that work was great thing, seemingly the chief end of man. Another notion almost equally prominent was that those who had to do with thoroughbred horses were simply gamblers—betting people. Her home was in Emerson, a dozen miles from Brookfield.

Quite paradoxically, if Allie Porter, who had no real interest in the horse world, this singular young man with strict religious ideas about gambling, was not a gambler, he was a gambler.

LABOR MEN SHOULD FORM THIRD PARTY.

English Labor Leader Gives Americans Advice.

No Chance of Escaping Unfair Legislation Without Having Regular Representatives in Parliament.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—John A. Hobson, the English labor leader, who is in this country to lecture on the labor movement in England and who has addressed the People's Institute at Cooper Union last night.

Mr. Hobson firmly believes that the condition of the working classes can only be bettered through their active participation in national politics, and that those who had to do with thoroughbred horses were simply gamblers—betting people. Her home was in Emerson, a dozen miles from Brookfield.

Quite paradoxically, if Allie Porter, who had no real interest in the horse world, this singular young man with strict religious ideas about gambling, was not a gambler, he was a gambler.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION ACCUSED.

Charged With Graft by Manager Kelley, of the St. Paul American Team—The Case in Court.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18.—A legal contest against a decision of the National Baseball commission was begun in the United States district court yesterday by Michael J. Kelly, manager of the St. Paul American Association, who filed a petition for an injunction against the commission to restrain it from putting into effect its decision that Kelly should play with the St. Paul American League team.

Kelly declared that he was not under contract to the St. Paul club and could not therefore be sold to Geo. Lennon, owner of that organization. Kelly asserted that if he should, after the decision of the commission, undertake to play with any other than the St. Paul club he would be prevented for ever from engaging in baseball as a means of livelihood. He declared that of the members of the commission, August Hermann and Ben Johnson, as well as John E. Bruce, secretary of the commission had a pecuniary interest in the decision, and that these members of the commission were prejudiced against him. Kelly therefore asked for an injunction restraining the members of the commission from any action whereby any professional baseball club in the United States is prevented from engaging him as a player for the next season. A temporary restraining order was issued. The case will be taken up for hearing on Monday.

"The law courts, in disputes between employer and employee have given a series of judgments that have altered the position of the labor union. The trades unions are apt to be sued for the illegal actions of their members and may be depleted of their funds for damages and costs. Other judgments have impaired the power of catching and punishing men during a strike even when this is done peacefully."

"The result of this has been more and more to force the trades unions to enter politics that they might change the laws."

"The British workman is going into politics. The independent labor party is now the nucleus. In the next three months there must be a general election and there are now many manual labor candidates for parliament. Probably half of them will be elected. In the legislative conflict vested interests will have the advice of the best legal talent because it can pay the highest prices. It must be fought with the same weapons. Don't make your fight so weak for wages but for the higher education and general life of the people that they may win the way to the legislature."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—"The army is under-officered," says Lieut. General Chaffee, chief of the army's annual report to the United States Secretary of war. He says this condition exists for the reason that "in time of war it would be in a decidedly crippled condition."

The lieutenant general's statement is based on the details which he discloses the desertion in the army and makes the following suggestion: "Some suitable legislation affecting the political rights of deserters and an aroused public opinion is repugnant to the mind of all good citizens, constitute the practical means, in my opinion for the material abatement of the crime referred to."

The lieutenant general discusses the report of the chief of ordnance, whose corps, he says, is hampered by a shortage of officers. The chief of ordnance has found it impossible to issue the new model rifle but it is expected that the troops will be supplied in time for target practice next year. Some changes have been made and it is necessary to substitute the knife bayonet for the rod bayonet.

It has been practically determined that an error was committed when the calibre of the revolver was reduced from 45 to 38, the efficiency assumed by the change being merely a reduction in weight of the weapon having been found to be at a sacrifice of the shooting power and effect.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The rumor that the Dowager Queen, Marguerite of Italy intends to visit this country cannot be confirmed at the Italian embassy. It is held to be very probable, however, that she will come to America, as she is an extensive traveller. She has just finished an automobile trip through Holland, travelling incognito and in a very democratic way going around to see the sights not generally visited by travellers.

ROME, Nov. 18.—A monument to Pope Pius X. has just been inaugurated at Rome, his birthplace. Rose is a small village in which the church, the papal office and the inn kept by Signor Parolli, brother-in-law of the pontiff, are the chief sights.

The relatives of the Pope were given places of honor at the ceremony, and afterwards a number of their friends assembled at the inn for dinner to celebrate the event.

A message was sent to the Pope, who replied with his thanks and blessing.

Mrs. Louise Priano, both of Main street, said she had known Stralhan since he was a boy living at 168½ Main street. Margaretta, Mary and Annie, the eldest being in her sixteenth year, and two sons, James and Alphonsus, were from sunny Spain, has a role in which she is sure to make it. As Margaret, the maid of all work at the home of Mrs. J. Butler, Miss Priano asserted that she knew Stralhan as a trouble maker in nearly all of the rooms of the hotel where he worked, and as a gambling brislet and by this event there will no doubt be very few left.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—James N. Stralhan, formerly joint agent of the Montreal & Maine Steamship and Paper Mill Railway at Gainesville, Fla., was arrested here on Saturday afternoon last on charges of stealing $7,500. ASSYRIAN DENIES HE HIT WIFE WITH HATCHET.

The case of John Sullivan, the Assyrian with the Irish name, was heard in the police court this morning.
John Sullivan was sworn by the aid an interpreter. He said that he belonged to Mt. Lebanon, Syria. He has been married for about nine years. He has one child, a girl. He said that on Friday he went home sick and found the house all locked up. After some difficulty he found his wife in the house of a neighbor.
The magistrate then told him to give his version of the affair after they both got home. Sullivan asked her what she meant by going to the house of this neighbor when she had a house of her own. She said that she could if she wanted to. After a quarrel she tried to drive him out of the house, and he was sick and was not able to look after himself. He did not strike her with a hatchet, and did not see the blood on her shoulder.
The magistrate said that under the evidence he was able to be sentenced for aggravated assault. The magistrate added that he would make further inquiries, but he was inclined to believe the woman when she said that he had used the hatchet on her, as he himself had seen the marks. For the present, however, he was remanded.

MAN SERIOUSLY HURT AT STETSON'S MILL.

A serious accident took place this afternoon shortly before two o'clock at Stetson, Cutler Co's mill, Indiantown, by which a young man employed in the mill received serious injuries. The young man was at work on the run and fell off into the yard. It will be remembered that another accident took place here a few days ago. Dr. McIntyre was summoned and immediately took steps to find out what the injuries were.
The young man, who is about eighteen or nineteen years of age, is the son of James Adams, of 181 Water street, West End, who is also employed in the mill.
The sufferer was taken to the public hospital in a coach without regaining consciousness. His injuries are very serious, and the chances of his recovery being feared. His name is Alexander Adams.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning two drunks forfeited their deposits by non-appearance. John O'Regan, late an inmate of Alms House, who went out to seek his fortune on Partridge Island waterworks was a fine 40 or ten feet for being drunk.

The magistrate said a few words commending the Alms House and said it would have been more advisable if he had stayed there. To this O'Regan agreed.
Frederick Stewart, charged with being drunk on St. John street, also charged with threatening to break into a house on this street and breaking windows in it, appeared in court this morning. His case will come up on Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

S. M. McIntryre, secretary of the S. P. C. A., appeared in court this morning asking for authority to transfer, Phillips, sentenced on Nov. 15, to the Alms House to the Provincial Hospital, Fairville, as he is insane. It will be remembered that his was the man who suddenly disappeared from his house on Elm street and went on a visit to Cole's Island.

reported large congregations at the services yesterday.

Rev. J. A. Prosser and Rev. J. Hughes
briefly addressed the conference. Dr.
Gates read a paper on "Modern Pentecost," and was tendered a vote of thanks.

MRS. WM. PORTER, CITY ROAD.

Mrs. Porter, wife of William Porter,
City Road, died in this city yesterday morning. She was only twenty-three years of age and had been married for only a year and a half. A baby girl was born a few days ago and on the following day the mother was stricken with pneumonia and it was feared from the first, although all that medical aid could do was done, that she could not survive. Mrs. Porter was formerly Miss Marion Battison, of Belleville, Kings county. The bereaved husband will have deep sympathy in his affliction.

The Donaldson liner Athena left Glasgow Saturday with a good passen- ger list and cargo for this port.

Geo. A. Knodell and Miss Knodell leave by C. P. R. tonight on a visit to Boston and other American cities.

RIVER STEAMERS LAID UP FOR THE WINTER.

Nearly all the winter berthing places roundabout Indiantown are filled with river craft, boarded up and otherwise protected for the cold season now on.
Marble Cove is simply jammed with steamers and sailing vessels, among them being: The steamer Majestic, the steamer Champlain, the steam yacht Solanda, the steam yacht Hudson, the steam yacht Dream, the towboat G. D.
Hunter, the tug Leader, the towboat
Lily Glasier, the schooner yacht, Dadinda, the schooner yacht Windward, the steam launch Phoenix, the steam launch Polymorphian, the freak launch Antelope, and numerous smaller craft.

At the outside wharves the Star liner
Victoria is lying in a dismantled condition, as is also the old Springfield, the May Queen and others. Engineers are making down the mechanical makeup of the boats and carpenters are doing a lot of boarding-in, etc.

Marble Cove is partly frozen over, and venturesome small boys are taking a chance or two in sliding upon the ice, though skates have not yet been brought forth.

EXCHEQUER COURT.

A session of the exchequer court was held this morning, Mr. Justice Burridge presiding.

In the case of the king on the information of the attorney general of New Brunswick against the Carquette Railway Company, on motion of James P. Barnes, of Bathurst, the case was set down for the next sitting of the court here or to be heard sooner if application be made.

In the case of the Minister of Railways vs. the Quebec Southern Railway, Attorney General Pugsley asked for a stay in the proceedings in view of an appeal from the decision of the court accepting the tender of the Senator Plaque, of Montreal, for $1,651,000 for the three railways now consolidated under the name of the Quebec Southern Railway. A nisi order was made returnable at Ottawa November 28th.
The court then adjourned sine die.

POLICE COATS ARE SHABBY.

There is general complaint among the citizens generally and the police particularly at the disgraceful condition of the great coats that the powers that be decide that cops must wear till the robbins then again, and by that time many of the officers will look like scarecrows that have wintered in the open.

When a man is furnished with a great coat he is solemnly warned that he must wear it for three years, and it is that some of the officers are going about with a few brass buttons hanging on the skeleton of what once was an overcoat.

Tooth Hints!

"When ought we to go to the dentist?"
Many think it unnecessary to devote particular attention to the teeth until the appearance of the mouth is affected by damaged, decayed or broken teeth.
Others give their teeth no attention till pain compels them.

The stupidity and short-sightedness of either policy is evident.

Every one who thinks a moment on the subject knows that we cannot masticate our food satisfactorily if one or more of the teeth are tender, inflamed, decayed or otherwise out of working order; and that if this be the case the mouth requires immediate attention.
