FOUGHT LIKE TIGERS OVER THEIR GENERAL'S BODY

Bloody Conflict Between French Troops and Tribesmen Resulting in Awful Slaughter of the Moors

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—The development of events at Casablanca appears to be regarded with some distrust by the Moroccan Government. Foreign Secretary Tahirsky, in conversation with representatives of the powers, has stated that Germany accepted fully the French assurance that the operations of the allied forces in Morocco would be within the terms of the Algiers convention.

On the other hand the provisional representative of M. Malpertuy was considered by the German merchants to have unduly agreed with the French commanders in their eagerness to give the Moors a "good lesson."

Major Prevost of the Foreign Legion was killed in the thick of the fighting which raged at the Moors when the Moors attacked the French fighting column as it was returning from Litville where bands of the enemy had been driven. As the Moors advanced, the French lines were quickly formed and the fighting became desperate.

WOMAN SHOT BY SMILING VILLAIN

"Excuse Me," on Leaving Victim Weltering in Her Blood—No Motive Is Known

OXFORD, Sept. 5.—Standing over the woman whom he had just shot in a most wanton manner, Granville Muldoon, near Hopewell, smiled at his victim lying in a pool of blood, and as she pleaded with him to go for a doctor, he snarled, "Excuse me, but I have another engagement."

The crime is exceptionally strange in that it is a most wanton one. The victim, Miss Belle McNeil, though seriously wounded, was not dangerously so, and she was able to make her way to a farmhouse for assistance.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 5.—Late last night Chief of Police Stambarger made public a warrant which had been issued, charging Mrs. Phillips, widow of John J. Phillips, the coal merchant, who she alleges was shot by a burglar, with the murder of her husband.

JAPAN AND CHINA MAY CLASH OVER DISPUTED LAND

Manchurian Troops Sent to Kwanto, Which Mikado's Forces Hold for Corea.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4.—The probability of a serious clash between the Chinese and Japanese troops is involved in the action of Hui, the Viceroy of Manchuria, in dispatching a force of Chinese soldiers to Kwanto, or Middle Island, where, in the name of the Korean Government, the Japanese have assumed control.

The territory named is the only rich region between the Yala River and Manchuria on the northern side of the Shanghai range of mountains. It has long been the subject of dispute between China and Corea.

Mr. Mullin Calls it Graft, and Likens it to Bardell vs Pickwick --- Mr. McArthur Described by Mr. Currey as a Town Bully---Case Now in the Hands of the Jury

In the Circuit Court this morning the case of Edgcombe vs. McArthur was continued before Judge Landry.

At this morning's session Mr. Mullin referred to the meaning taken by Mr. Edgcombe in regard to an alleged statement by the defendant as to Mr. Edgcombe having profited by a fire and having collected insurance on it.

Mr. Mullin then began his address to the jury. He said this case might well have been disposed of in the police court as a case of abusive language.

Mr. Edgcombe said that George McArthur said he was worth $125,000. This he said was a boast which would be of little value to him if he were to die.

WIDOW VICTIM OF THE UNWRITTEN LAW

Physician's Son Has Mrs. Bond Slain to Prevent Elopement of His Father

MILLERTON, La., Sept. 5.—The mystery surrounding the murder two weeks ago, of Mrs. Lennie Bond, and her five-year-old son, by a load of buckshot, fired through a window into the bed in which they slept, has been uncovered.

The assassination is said to have been a new application of the unwritten law; that young Baucum planned the deed in order to save his aged mother from disgrace.

This afternoon Secretary McAlulay with five other members of the Bangor Fire Department leave for their homes, and these are the last of the visiting firemen to leave the city.

The death occurred in Chicago on the second inst., of Frederick J. Hall, formerly of this city. Mr. Hall was the son of the late Daniel H. Hall and is survived by his mother, Mrs. D. H. Hall, a brother, Capt. C. H. Hall and a sister, Mrs. Robert McIntyre.

SPORTING MATTERS. R. K. Y. C. WILL OFFER NEW RACING TROPHY. Members' Cup Will be One of the Coveted Prizes to be Sailed For Next Year.

The sailing committee of the R. K. Y. C. met in conjunction with the owners of some of the club boats last evening. The establishment of a new trophy to be known as the members' cup was considered and it was decided that the present season was too late for the trophy to be sailed for but that races would be sailed for it next year. The boats represented were: Vanguard, Canis, Winesap, Louisa, Fel Yuen, Grace M. and Armored. After a lengthy discussion the meeting came to the conclusion that the members' cup would be competed for by boats of Class A and B. The first races for the trophy are to be sailed next year. The following committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements: H. Beverly Robinson, A. H. Merrill, Howard Holder, Fred S. Haines, W. McLaughlin, R. C. Bonnal, Frank Likely and J. H. Kimball. Mr. Robinson is chairman and convenor. The cessation of the Saturday half holidays will interfere to a large extent with yachting during the rest of the season. On Monday the first boat was stripped in preparation to being sailed up on the ways. This is considered to be a sure sign of fall.

WELL KNOWN HORSES CHANGE OWNERS. FREDERICTON, Sept. 4.—A trade has been completed whereby Bella Donna, the brown mare by Clayson, which Dr. McAllister of Sussex has been driving, became a member of the Fredrickton club stable, and Wearsy Willie, the Sir William Colt, is the property of the Sussex doctor. Considerable excitement among horsemen was caused last night by the report that Burling (2:18) was dying at Moosepath. The owner, Mr. Kitchen, has returned home, and reports the horse ill, and out of racing for some time.

LEVEL EVIDENCE GIVEN IN EDGECOMBE-McARTHUR CASE

Lurid Language and Violent Actions Attributed to the Defendant—Striking Contradiction in Testimony—Case Will go to the Jury Today.

In the Edgcombe-McArthur suit before Judge Laidlaw, in the circuit court yesterday, both prosecution and defense closed their cases. Shortly after five o'clock in the afternoon the court adjourned until this morning at ten o'clock. At the case was resumed, George Edgcombe, the defendant, went on the stand. He denied applying to the plaintiff the epithet mentioned in the previous evidence. He said it was a way to treat a man when the plaintiff told him he would not buy Mr. Campbell's stock in the rink. Cross-examined by Mr. Curry, witness said he did not recall the plaintiff striking him. He admitted jabbing the plaintiff with his hand, but the jury had to decide whether or not the plaintiff was injured.

The department is asked to investigate the charge that while Robinson was fined for shooting only one cow mouse he really shot four mice, also that Robinson had in his employ a foreign guide contrary to the provisions of the game laws. The department has also been asked by the association to investigate the connection of Chief Game Warden John Robinson, Jr., with the case. The chief game warden in a letter to the press defended the action of his mill-lions namesake.

King Edward has in a supreme degree the knack of looking well in whatever dress he happens to be wearing at the moment. MCDONALD'S WIDOW INVADERS OLD HOME. Empls Strategy to Gain Entrance to Mansion of Chicago "Gambling King" and Remains.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Dora McDonald, widow of "Miles" McDonald, known during his lifetime as "the gambling king of Chicago," has returned to the family residence, No. 4591 Drexel boulevard, where she had not been since last February, when she was admitted to $50,000 bail to await trial for killing young Webster Guerin, an artist. Her homecoming was unannounced. She arrives last Friday afternoon in a cab, with a train-d nurse and her negro maid from the sanitarium, where she had been since she was released from jail on bond. She is ill and nearly penniless.

Wednesday, when McDonald's will is to be probated. J. V. Hinkel, placed in charge of the hours until the will could be probated, was told when she arrived that Mrs. McDonald wished to get some of her things. Once entrenched in the large front room on the second floor, however, she refused to consider such an uncomfortable thing as departing. Last night Mrs. McDonald remained in her room on the second floor, while a close watch was maintained on her by Ricker. A negro maid is the only medium of communication between the two hostile camps.

Tracking a Thief.

"Sweetheart, what's wrong?" The girl looked up at the man by her side, and glanced furtively around. "Nothing, dear," she murmured, evasively. "But there is," insisted the other. "Something worries you. Your father?" "Yes," whispered the girl hurriedly. "This morning he forbade me to see you again. And—"

"No explanation is necessary," she murmured with dignity. "Go!" The man covered, and crossing over to the safe, closed it softly, and sprang through the window. A moment later the rest of a swiftly departing motor was heard. Myrtle dressed mechanically. The glad sunshine streaming into the room seemed to mock her; all joy in life had fled, the future had become an unlikable prospect. Tiding the library so that no trace of the nocturnal visitor was left, she had gone upstairs to wait for the dawn of day. "It was yet early, she heard her father stirring and then there was a knock at the street door. Wondering who it could be at that hour, she answered it herself. "Mr. Penrose is in, miss?"

ONE LOST SENSE. One of the greatest discoveries of physiology is that we sense had six senses. What the lost sense was no one knows, and probably no one will ever know, but that our forefathers possessed it there is no doubt, for the remains of that part of the brain in which it resided are still to be seen in any of us. These remains are simply a small and now perfectly useless little mass of brain substance called the pineal body. It consists of two tiny little oval lobes joined together and lying in a little cavity of the skull, strangely named the sella turcica and situated over and behind the nose. It is quite possible that it may have enabled our forefathers to see in the dark before lamps and candles were invented, or it may have placed them in communion with ghosts and fairies, or it may have been an organ that enabled them to go home in the primeval forests. On the other hand, it is possible that it was a bad substitute for vision or smell or hearing and died out when the improved sense organ developed.

ANARCHISTS WRECK PRUSSIAN EXPRESS Thought Members of Russian Imperial Family Were on Board—No Fatalities.

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—The Prussian railway administration has offered a reward for the description of persons who wrecked the St. Petersburg-Berlin express between Strasburg and Rofelnde, near Berlin shortly before midnight, resulting in eleven persons being injured. Presumably it was the work of an anarchist or Russian revolutionist, who hoped to kill a member of the Russian Imperial family, who is said to have been on board the train. Several cars were derailed and several telescoped, and they afterwards caught fire. An examination of the scene of the wreck at daylight showed that the bolts had been removed from the fish plates of a fifty foot rail, resulting in the latter becoming derailed after the locomotive had passed over it. The persons injured were mostly inhabitants of Berlin, postal clerks, commercial travelers and two army officers.

The indictment charges that these persons entered into a conspiracy in September, 1901, and at various other times, to procure by fraudulent entry timber lands in Boise county, Idaho. Senator Borah has been accorded the privilege of a separate trial.

MOORS AND FRENCH IN DESPERATE FIGHT 25 French Casualties—Moors, Battling Against Machine Guns, Cut to Pieces.

CASABLANCA, Sept. 4.—Eight Frenchmen were killed and seventeen wounded in an engagement yesterday outside the camp. The dead include Major Prevost of the first battalion of the Foreign Legion, and Lieut. Benizans, of the second battalion of Algerian Sharp Shooters. The Moors concentrated the largest force they had yet mustered in this vicinity and returned to the attack again and again after encountering the deadly fire of the French artillery and machine guns. The enemy's losses are described as enormous. The fighting which was started by an attack made by the Moors on a French scouting party, opened at 5 a. m., and lasted 7 hours. Major Prevost conducted a scouting expedition, which was the actual cause of the battle, the object being to locate the enemy and prepare the way for an extensive offensive movement later. The major advanced about eight miles in a southerly direction, meeting only with scattered bands of Moors, which were easily dispersed. He then gave the order to return, and it was when nearing the camp that his forces were assailed by hordes of Moors. Prevost formed his men in hollow squares with the irregular Algerian cavalry in front. General Druide quickly reinforced Prevost and the engagement immediately developed into a desperate conflict, from which the Moors retreated only after their ranks had been decimated by a deadly fire which it was impossible to withstand.

The purchase by Mr. Chas. F. Smith, of the Dr. Parker lot near the Algonquin Hotel, has been ratified by the owner, who is in England. Mr. Smith, who has about completed his first season here and who is charmed with the town as a summer resort, will very shortly begin the erection of a very beautiful summer house for himself on his new estate. The house will occupy the site of the Parker residence, which was destroyed many years ago, but will be considerably larger.—Beacon.

In the police court this morning Robert Brown, a freeman, from the Battle Lineer Leuctra, was charged with being absent from the ship and was fined $4. He said he left the ship to get a drink and preferred prison to the ship. The magistrate informed the prisoner that the city was not anxious to keep him for eight weeks and that he could remain in jail until Saturday night when he will be placed on board the ship. One drunk was fined $4.

On information of Mrs. Minnie B. Adney the police magistrate has issued summonses against Lemuel Kelly and Church Morse employees of J. N. and S. B. Chute of Berwick, N. S., for violation of the Fruit Market Act. The violation consisted of the packing and marking the New Brunswick apple under the name of the Duchesne. Mrs. Adney will prosecute all persons who represent the New Brunswick apple in the city, contrary to the terms of the Act.—Woodstock Despatch.

At about six o'clock on Sunday evening, George, the young son of Trackmaster Andrew Alton, met with a sad and painful accident. He had been playing on the shore and found a dynamite cap that had been dropped carelessly by some man who had a few days before been blasting rocks. He brought it to the house, procured a match, and holding the cap in one hand applied fire with the other. The result was that the cap exploded and he was badly mangled. Dr. Curtis was sent for and he, assisted by Dr. McIntosh, dressed the wounds, finding it necessary to amputate four fingers of the left and the index finger of the right hand. Although the wound was in the presence of the family when the shocking accident occurred, no one had noticed that he was playing with so dangerous a toy.—Woodstock Despatch.

The eighteen Chinamen at present under arrest in Sydney for attempting to enter this country without paying the regular duty are proving a puzzle to the authorities. The law is that a Chinaman who enters Canada irregularly may be placed in goal for a year. No further action can be taken until the only way out of the present difficulty seems to be the passage of a new law at the next session of Parliament allowing these men to be deported. The captain of the schooner Chorus, from which the Chinamen escaped, claims they escaped from the vessel. He can be fined not less than $500 and not more than $1,000 for each Chinaman and his vessel can be seized.

Chief Rideout is usually a welcome visitor wherever he goes, but the genial head of the police department was given a cold, icy shoulder in a call he made at Dorchester yesterday. Mrs. Jeffries, of Pearl street, is spending some time in the jail at Dorchester, and had written to Moncton about the care of her domicile while she was away. Thinking to straighten matters out, Chief Rideout visited the jail last night, and led by Keeper Doves, arrived at the door of Mrs. Jeffries' cell. The inmate was aroused after repeated calls, and when the inner door was not opened, Keeper Doves called out, "Chief Rideout is here. Do you want to see him?" "No, I don't," came the reply from inside. "I've seen him once too often," and the sounds indicated that Katherine was returning to her interrupted siesta.—Transcript.

C. P. R. control of the Shore Line Railway will likely result in the building up of the many attractive seaside resorts along the line. The finest of these is the New River beach, which is one of the best beaches along the whole Atlantic Coast. It is upwards of a mile in length, and affords excellent facilities for bathing along its whole length, while its harbor is a splendid one. On several occasions C. P. R. managers have visited this beach, and it is believed its beauties and possibilities were among the influences that led to the acquisition of the Shore Line. The place has all the advantages of Bar Harbor, with the added advantage of a much better beach. It will not be surprising if in a very short time a move is made towards creating at New River a great watering resort, and it may be that it will in a few years grow to be as popular and as fashionable as any along the coast. That something of that nature is already in the minds of the C. P. R. managers is believed, and when their new property is put in good shape this development is likely to follow.—Greetings.

A VETERAN SOLDIER.

Capt. McKenzie, Formerly of St. John, Has Been Continuously in the Military Service for Nearly Sixty-Seven Years.

(Fredericton Herald.)

Captain Thomas McKenzie, the veteran caretaker of the drill hall and armory, has been notified by the military council at Ottawa, that he is shortly to be retired from the military service. Under an order promulgated some time ago, it is now required that military caretakers shall be members of the permanent corps, and as Captain McKenzie is considerably past the age limit for enlistment, there is nothing for him to do but to step down and out. He has made application to the Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence for a retiring allowance, and it is understood that Sir Frederick Borden has promised to give the matter his personal attention. As there are no provisions for a gratuity to caretakers, it may be that a special act of parliament will be necessary in Captain McKenzie's case. For length of service and steadfast devotion to duty it is safe to say that Captain McKenzie's record is without a parallel in Canada, and it is very doubtful if there is another man in the Empire with so long and honorable a public service to his credit. The captain is still in the enjoyment of good health, his step is as springy as it ever was, his eyesight as keen, and his memory is as clear as a bell. The captain's many friends sincerely hope that the declining years of his long and useful life may be made happy by a substantial allowance from the Dominion treasury.

HIS MILITARY RECORD.

Following is a brief summary of the service and duties to the Empire performed by Captain McKenzie, as compiled by himself:

Fredericton, N. B., Can., Aug. 29, 1870.

1870—Born in Her Majesty's 94th Regiment.

1870—Was present among the school children of the regiment who sang God Save the Queen on Her Majesty's visit to Chatham, England, just after her marriage. She acknowledged the same by rising from her seat in the state carriage.

1871—Enlisted in H. M. 64th Regiment as a boy and performed on the flute, drum and bugle as a duty.

1871—Proceeded to India with my Regiment and performed the duty of field bugler to the generals for a number of years.

1871—Appointed drill corporal to the regiment with extra pay.

1871—Appointed drill sergeant with further increase of pay.

1871—Present with force during the Persian campaign as field bugler to Generals Stalker, Sir James Outram and Sir Henry Havelock, also acted as a D. C. in the camp.

1871—Present with my arms at the Dutch Fort, Ikashiro, Persia, in the heart of the mountains. Presented me with a watch and chain before the whole force for taking care of him after he fell from his horse at Kooshab.

1871—Present during the whole Indian mutiny as detachment to the local advance command. With Havelock's advance from Allahabad to Cawnpore, which was successful after our five engagements, but a few hours later to prevent the massacre of the women and children by the fiend, Nana Sahib.

First Relief of Lucknow—Crossed the River Ganges for Lucknow four different times with Havelock, but each time to retire and await arrival of Outram with reinforcements, then the force advanced on Lucknow. When the force was a mass of a D. C. at Alma Bagh, four miles from Lucknow, the horse was shot under me. I delivered the order, but had to run to the rear, which saved the baggage guard and baggage. The enemy was very strong here, and as I could not get back, I went in accordance with the general's orders, went with the guard into the Alma Bagh (Queen's Palace). Sir James Outram considered this act alone entitled me to the V. C.

During the time at Alma Bagh, nearly three months, the enemy attacked us frequently, and our little force had many casualties.

Second Relief of Lucknow—On arrival of Sir Colin Campbell (Lord Clyde) at Alma Bagh I was chosen his field bugler as I was such at the second or final relief. Lord Roberts was on his staff here, and after a week's heavy fighting, the relief was gained, but Sir Henry Havelock died and was buried at Alma Bagh, and as the enemy had re-taken Cawnpore, Sir Colin Campbell, with most of the force (leaving the balance with Sir James Outram at Alma Bagh), returned to Cawnpore and again captured that city. I remained with Sir Colin Campbell until the end of the campaign. History describes the different battles.

Engagements—Present at twenty-two general battles and many skirmishes with the enemy during over two years' war.

Medals—In possession of medals and clasps for Persia-Indian mutiny, with clasp for relief of Lucknow; for meritorious service and medal for Fenian scare, 1868, Canada.

1871—Trent Affair—Although performing the duty of sergeant-major in my Regiment, I volunteered for service in Canada as drill instructor, and after a severe test before a board of officers, consisting of the general officer commanding and two other staff officers as to my qualifications, etc., received a certificate from the general that I was qualified to fill any position.

Was ordered by the authorities at Horse Guards to New Brunswick as drill instructor to the militia.

1882—Appointed militia storekeeper by the commander-in-chief, Hon. A. H. Gordon, under the new militia act, and established the first militia store in New Brunswick. Remained solely in charge of same until a superintendent was appointed in accordance with amendments to Militia Act, 1885, and myself gazetted to assistant storekeeper. I did both duties, drill instructor and storekeeper, but as I had not received my discharge from H. M. service, was not eligible for the position of superintendent of stores. The governor and authorities regretted this, as the assistant general informed me. Consequently my pay was increased forty cents per diem.

1885-86—Performed the duty of quarter master each year to the militia camps in New Brunswick, each for twenty-eight days, and instructed in drill, etc., when my duty as quarter master did not interfere. After these camps returned to my duty as instructor for 62nd battalion and assistant storekeeper. Also performed the duty of quarter master and instructor at all rifle matches held in New Brunswick from 1882 to 1889.

1887—After discharge from H. M. service at two shillings per day pension, and under the Dominion Militia Act was gazetted ensign, lieutenant and adjutant captain and drill instructor in the 62nd Battalion, St. John.

1888—Was chosen by the adjutant general as adjutant and quarter mas-
