NATIONAL HONOR OF HOLLAND WILL NOT PERMIT SURRENDER OF WILLIAM TO THE ALLIES

Holland's Reply to the Allies Says She Cannot be Bound by the Peace Treaty Which She Had No Part in Framing.

DUTCH CONSTITUTION PREVENTS DELIVERY

Dutch Traditions Will Not Permit the Betrayal of One Who Entrusted Himself to Holland's Free Institutions.

The Hague, Jan. 23.—The Dutch government has refused the demand of the Allied Powers for the extradition of the former German Emperor.

Paris, Jan. 23.—Following is the reply of the Netherlands government to the Entente:

"My verbal note dated January 15, 1919, given to the envoy of the Queen at Paris, the Powers, referring to Article 227 of the Treaty of Versailles, demand that the Government of Holland give into their hands the former Emperor of Germany that he may be tried. Supporting this demand, it is put forth that if the former Emperor had remained in Germany the German Government would, under the terms of Article 223 of the Treaty of Peace have been obliged to deliver him.

"In citing as promulgated violations of international law, as well as a systematic disregard of the most sacred rules of the rights of man, a number of acts committed during the war by German authority, the Powers place the responsibility, at least morally, upon the former Emperor.

"They express the opinion that Holland would not still be absolutely unshaken if she refused to associate herself with them within the limits of her ability to pursue, or at least not to impede the punishment of crime committed.

"They emphasize the special character of their demands, which contemplate, not a judicial accusation, but an act of high international policy and they make an appeal to Holland's respect for law and love of justice, not to cover with her moral authority violations by Germany of the principles of the solidarity of nations.

"The Queen has the honor to observe, first, that obligations which for Germany could have resulted from Article 228 of the Treaty of Peace cannot serve to determine the duty of Holland, which is not a party to the treaty.

"The Government of the Queen, moved by strong reasons, cannot view the question raised by the demand of the Powers except from the point of view of its own duty. It was absolutely unshaken in the origin of the war and has maintained, not without difficulty, its neutrality to the end. It finds itself then face to face with the demand of the Powers.

"It rejects, with energy, all suspicion of wishing to cover with its own reign right and its moral authority violations of the essential principles of the solidarity of nations; but it cannot recognize an international duty to associate itself with this act of high international policy of the Powers.

"The Government of the Queen cannot admit in the present case, any other duty than that imposed on it by the laws of the kingdom and national tradition.

"Now, neither the constituent laws of the kingdom, which are based upon the principles of law universally recognized, nor a respectable secular tradition, which has made this country always a ground of international conflicts, vanquished in international conflicts, permit the Government of Holland to defer to the desire of the Powers by withdrawing from the former Emperor the benefit of its laws and this tradition.

"Justice and national honor, for which respect is a sacred duty, oppose this. The Netherlands people, moved by the sentiments to which in history the world has done justice, could not betray the faith of those who have confided themselves to their free institutions.

"The Government of the Queen is pleased to believe that the Powers will recognize the good grounds of these considerations, which rise above any consideration of personalities and which seem to it so preponderant that they could not reasonably give rise to wrong interpretations."

MEDICOS SCORED BY THE FARMERS OF ALBERTA

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—That the medical profession, as at present governed, heads too great a monopoly, and that the chiropractic profession should be more favorably recognized, was the opinion of the United Farmers of Alberta in session here today. The convention was

Shortage of Coal May Cause Paris Subway To Suspend Operations

Paris, Jan. 23.—It is feared that a suspension of the operation of the subway in Paris may be necessitated owing to the shortage of coal, which has been intensified by the dockers' strike at Rouen which is preventing coal from reaching Paris by water.

An important meeting of the ministry of public works will be held tomorrow to consider measures to be taken to keep the subway going.

MILITIA DEPT. ISSUES ORDER AUTHORIZING ORGANIZATION OF FIELD AND HEAVY ARTILLERY

Proposed to Organize and Train During the Coming Year Fifty Field Batteries and Fifteen Heavy Batteries—St. John Headquarters for 3rd New Brunswick Heavy Brigade With Three Batteries.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—The initial phase of the re-organization of the Canadian militia was entered upon yesterday by the issuance of an order by the Militia Department authorizing the organization of the field and heavy artillery of Canada. Under the order it is proposed to organize and train during the coming year fifty field batteries and fifteen heavy batteries.

Practically all the militia batteries, except those that fought through the war under their militia numbers and designations, are wiped out by this order, and batteries bearing the numbers of the batteries of the Canadian corps artillery are substituted. In this way the newly organized batteries will bear the numbers under which they fought in the war, except in a few instances where batteries were depot units that did not see service.

Field batteries to be brigaded hereafter include:

Sixteenth Brigade C. F. A.: Headquarters Sydney 60th, Sydney Battery, Sydney.

(A) Battery, Antigonish.

(C) 83rd Battery, Pictou.

Fourteenth Brigade C. F. A.: Headquarters Sydney 60th, Sydney Battery, Sydney.

C.N.R. ENGINEERS AT WORK IN FREDERICTON

Their Activities Indicate That Something is Soon to Happen Relative to New Railway Bridge.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Jan. 23.—Seven members of a surveying party from the C. N. R. Engineering Department have been working in Fredericton today and have been running lines over properties which the representatives have said are to be taken over by the railway through expropriation proceedings within a comparatively short time preparatory to building a new railway bridge over the St. John River here. C. B. Brown, chief engineer of the C. N. R., at Moncton, when asked about the activities of this party of engineers, said they were gathering data and that the actual site of the new bridge had not been definitely determined. It was learned, however, that with the construction of a new railway bridge over the trunk line standard for carrying the through traffic of the C. N. R. from the West over the Transcontinental Railway and via McElroy Junction, Fredericton and the Valley Railway to St. John, the grades of the present bridge approaches are not satisfactory and will have to be changed, while, at the same time, there will be a general protruding out of the line through Fredericton leading to the new bridge. It is in connection with the new approaches that the engineers working here are believed to be engaged, and it is further said that there is little possibility of the new bridge being erected on the site of the present structure. Meanwhile it is reported that contracts for the superstructure are well in readiness to be awarded just as soon as the appropriation is finally passed, that the same is true of the substructure, and it is said present estimates place the cost of the structure at not less than $1,500,000, with another half million dollars involved in the charges which would go along with the building of the new bridge and approaches.

on record in support of a law to legalize the chiropractic practice and to establish a board of examiners to pass on qualifications for entrants into the profession.

The placing of doctors in all rural districts was strongly urged by the delegates. A kick against any further increase in medical or legal fees was also registered.

INDICT MANAGER OF UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 23.—Captain John A. Blain was indicted here today by a Federal Grand Jury which has been investigating alleged frauds in the war time construction of ships for the United States Shipping Board.

As district manager of the Shipping Board Captain Blain during the war directed the U. S. steel program in Oregon and Washington. The indictments charged that he received secret commissions from the Stewart Davis and Equipment Company, of New York, on sales the company made to the Shipping Board while he was district manager. The commissions, it was charged, totalled approximately $16,000.

WAVE OF CRIME IS STARTLING ST. JOHN LONDON

Former Resident of Toronto Figures as Victim of One of Several Brutal Crimes Occurring There Recently.

NORTH ENGLAND WILDLY EXCITED

Over Murder of Young Woman at St. Anne, Pretty Lancashire Resort—Banks Held up.

London, Jan. 23.—It is learned here that a former resident of Toronto figured as the victim of one of several brutal crimes which have been occurring so frequently here, and have caused considerable disquietude. The victim, Mrs. Francis Buxton, was lived alone as the proprietress of the Cross Keys public house, Chelsea, was early this week discovered murdered in the cellar of her house. An attempt had also been made to burn the body in a pile of sawdust. Mrs. Buxton was 53 years of age and was the wife of Frank Charles Buxton, the proprietor of a public house at Box Hill. They had not lived together for twelve years. The husband states that the dead woman was a Miss Frances Poole, who in 1918 married him in Toronto, where she was a member of the choir of Dr. Wylly's church.

Northern England is wildly excited over the murder on the seashore at St. Anne, a pretty Lancashire resort, of Elsie Breads, of Bradford, who separated from her husband after her marriage at the age of 17, and in connection with whose death Frederick Worthwell Holt, an ex-army officer, is in custody.

Within the last fortnight at least half a dozen post offices have been held up at the point of a revolver and their contents cleared out.

Justice Darling, at the Old Bailey, made some remarks concerning a certain class of crime. In sentencing a prisoner to ten years for manslaughter on a charge of causing the death of the wife of a Canadian soldier through an illegal operation, the judge said: "The country which permits its population to be dealt with in this way is bound to decay."

GREAT BENEFITS EXPECTED FROM TORONTO CONGRESS

The Ninth Convention of British Chamber of Commerce Will Attract to Canada Men High in Commercial Activities.

London, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—The ninth convention of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire at Toronto in September will attract to Canada a highly influential element in commercial activities. It is understood that there will be a desire here to make the congress a large one.

These conventions started in 1916 when the first one was held at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition in South Kensington. Incidentally it is curious how the interest in such shows, as the one just named, seemed to have evaporated since Victorian days, although there is a sort of effort to popularize them again this year in view of the fact that the British and Canadian Governments are both going to hold a Trade Exhibition.

For many years the Chamber of Commerce conventions were held in Montreal, and six years later at Sydney, Australia. The intention was to have triennial conventions alternately in London and the Dominions. The forthcoming one was originally arranged for 1915 at Toronto. The programme for the September meeting will probably be ready in March.

STUDENT OF THE "APES" DIES IN CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 23.—Richard A. Gardner, African explorer and author, who some years ago announced that he had found several sounds by apes approaching a language, died at a hospital here last night.

He attracted wide attention in 1905 when he announced that he was going to West Africa to study the means of communication used by apes. He made several trips in an effort to learn the ape language and was found dead in the Congo that talked to him. At this time Professor Gardner brought suit against a photographic company for $100,000 damages for perverting publication of a picture of a man, described as himself kissing an ape.

British Expedition To Make Dash For The South Pole By Airplane

London, Jan. 23.—(By The Canadian Press.)—Dr. John Cope, commander of the British imperial antarctic expedition which will sail from England in the steamer Terra Nova next June for a five years' tour of exploration in the antarctic, says an attempt will be made to dash to the South Pole by airplane. Today he told The Associated Press how he hoped to accomplish this pretentious undertaking.

"The plane we are taking with us," said Dr. Cope, "is being specially constructed, and will be so designed that it can land on the ice by means of skids. Three men will make the dash for the pole from the top of the great barrier at the Bay of Whales."

UNITED FARMERS OF ALBERTA WERE IN JOYOUS MOOD

Resolution to Bring Closer Commercial Relations Between Organized Farmers of the Provinces Cheered.

Calgary, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—Nearly 1,300 United Farmers of Alberta in convention cheered lustily today the carrying of a resolution "to bring closer commercial relations between the organized farmers of the several provinces of the Dominion." Closer political relations were also strongly approved when it cropped up at several points in the day's discussion.

A bone dry Alberta was another popular move, there being one dissenting delegate in a standing vote. Repeal of the supplementary revenue tax, regarded as a war measure, and a three year basis for farmers income tax, together with the annual plea for national control of all natural resources were also strongly favored.

A move to control the editorial policy of the Farmers' official organ was defeated. The foremost local question decided today, outside of prohibition, was a move to get the Dominion Government to co-operate with Alberta in irrigation.

Respectfully with the United States, and immediate removal of the tariff on necessities of life, carried without dissent.

On the plea of many returned soldiers' delegates, the $2,000 cash bonus scheme was rejected, and hearty support given to the G. W. V. A. plan. The convention decided to assume liability for debts created by the political executive.

DR. REID FORCED TO RELINQUISH WORK FOR TIME

Ill-Health Compels Cabinet Minister to Take a Trip to Florida Where He Expects to Remain a Month.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals and who has for a short time past also been acting Minister of Public Works, left tonight for Florida on a trip to his home where his health has not been very satisfactory of late. Dr. Reid expected to be away from the capital for three or four weeks.

Reid is to be acting Minister of Railways during his absence. It is understood that the work will fall on the shoulders of Hon. J. A. Caldwell, but the duties of acting Minister of Railways may be shouldered by Hon. A. K. Maclean during the absence of Dr. Reid.

Following the cabinet meeting this evening Sir George Foster, acting Prime Minister, said that an announcement as to the acting Minister would be made on Monday.

SIGNS OF AN EARLY SPRING

Icebergs Near Cape Race Force Steamer Thirty Miles Out of Course.

New York, Jan. 23.—Icebergs near Cape Race forced the Swedish-American liner Stockholm, which arrived here today from Gothenburg, Sweden, to alter its course during the voyage. That this is an intimation of an early spring, as fogs of the size of those sighted do not, under normal conditions, drift so far south until late in February, is the opinion of the vessel's skipper, Captain A. E. Knacken.

GET TOGETHER GROUND FORNETS AND LABORITES

Resolution to be Submitted to Annual Convention of G. W. V. A., if Adopted, Will Harmonize Soldiers and Labor.

PROPOSED BY N. S. COMMAND

Eight Fundamental Working Principles Set Forth—Labor Must Follow Constitutional Course.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—A resolution, which, if adopted at the next convention of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, will do much to make clear the relationship between the returned soldier and labor, was submitted to the Dominion Executive by the representative of the Nova Scotia command. It was passed at the annual meeting of the Provincial Organization and will probably receive the support of the coming convention.

The chief points endorsed by the resolution are:

- (1)—That the right of labor to organize.
- (2)—That the recognition of organized labor and its right to negotiate with its employers.
- (3)—That the right to strike within the constitutional authority of the Dominion of Canada.
- (4)—That all labor organizations be incorporated.
- (5)—That all contracts entered into between employers and organized labor, when within the constitution of the Dominion of Canada, shall be legal and binding upon the contracting parties or organizations.
- (6)—That reasonable trade tests for candidates to trades unions, so as to protect employers and the general public from "incompetents" and "inefficients."
- (7)—That, in order for a strike to be lawful, it shall be necessary that a majority of the employees affected thereby shall have declared by ballot in favor of such strike.
- (8)—That such legislation should not, in any way, circumscribe the objects of labor, or dictate its policies, but should regulate only its methods.
- (9)—That, if further resolved, that, so long as organized labor in Canada pursues its aims and objects by constitutional methods, the G. W. V. A. may aid, assist and support their legitimate undertakings for the improvement and advancement of labor as a class.
- (10)—That, if further resolved, that, in the event of organized labor pursuing illegal and unconstitutional methods, the G. W. V. A. will consider it their right and duty, as Canadian citizens, to oppose and assist to repress such illegal and unconstitutional methods.

LONDON FINDS FAULT WITH ITS POSTAL SERVICE

The First Batch of Canadian Newspapers for the Year Reached London Yesterday

London, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—Canadian cables indicate a certain exasperation on the Canadian side of mail service delays. On this side, too, similar delays are numerous. The first batch of Canadian newspapers for this year, which were mailed this morning, any annoying feature is the singular gaps in delivery. For instance, London gets Montreal papers for the first second, ninth and tenth of the month, the intervening numbers will be turned in probably some time during the week-end. Enquiries by the Canadian Press at postal headquarters bring explanations which seem largely to justify the assertion that one day the dock strikes and the next ships and their much slower travelling, are mainly responsible.

One Toronto cable instances London newspapers for December 27 having only arrived in Toronto on January 21. It is pointed out that these newspapers, owing to lack of sailings, did not leave Southampton until January 4, one day behind the appointed time. They arrived in New York January 15. What happened to the papers between that date and January 21, when they eventually reached Toronto, the postal authorities here do not know. Curiously enough the Empress of France which only left Liverpool on January 7, reached St. John on January 14th.

ONTARIO ACTS TO PREVENT EPIDEMIC OF INFLUENZA

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Fearing a recurrence of an epidemic of influenza in Ontario the Provincial Board of Health has issued a statement in which it is pointed out that mild cases are as dangerous as severe cases, and mentions that vaccine to prevent complications may be obtained free from the Department of Health. The Provincial Board of Health advises municipalities to extend hospital facilities as rapidly as possible; recommends registration of all available nurses; and emergency training of volunteers; also registration of volunteer home helpers.

Some Canadian Political Topics

Why Mr. Brown of York County Wants to Join the Farmers—Mr. King's Tour—Mr. Dewart's Little Joke—Wants Opposition Leader's Salary.

Liberals; and Mackenzie King.

(Fredericton Gleaner.)
At a gathering of Liberals at St. John during the stay of Hon. Mackenzie King the notions and grievances of some of the delegates were quite freely aired. Hon. C. W. Robinson, for instance, complained that the party were not united, and in effect, that the future would be hopeless unless a reunion were effected. Mr. Nelson W. Brown, the leader of the Liberals in this constituency, pressed for a union with the United Farmers, while Mr. H. B. Scott, of Carleton county, who followed in the talk, declared that he is a Liberal first, and will continue as such, notwithstanding the United Farmers' movement, and that movement, perhaps, meant much in his interests. Mr. Brown said that, if he were in the running in the next election he would be a Farmers' candidate; the principles of the United Farmers' movement "differed none at all from those of the Liberals. Take the ball by the horns and join your Liberal interests with those of the farmers in the agricultural districts." There will be a suspicion that Mr. Brown is influenced more by the personal aspect than by consideration for the welfare of either the Liberal party or the United Farmers. Mr. Brown has been given very little, if any, party recognition for what he has done for the Liberals in this county. The Liberal party of this constituency has for years been hopelessly disorganized; divided into factions, the one jealous of the other not one enjoying any measure of the other's confidence or respect. It is under such conditions that Mr. Brown, and because of the failure of others to bear the burdens and responsibilities, came forward in every campaign and gave his time and his money to make a contest. He well knew that neither he nor any other Liberal could be elected, but his effort and his point were to serve the party's interests in other constituencies by keeping the machinery as busy as possible in York. Yet when Mr. Brown could have been awarded by the party for what he has done as a consistent party man, he was deliberately ignored in the Provincial as well as in the Federal field. It is not more than three months ago that the Foster Government, notwithstanding its promise, finally turned a deaf ear and a blind eye to the application of his friends and their presentation of his merits. It is the faction element of the Liberals who will say that it is not the party interest Mr. Brown is seeking to advance in asking that the Liberals go over to the United Farmers.

Mackenzie King's Tour.

(Peterboro Review.)
If Hon. Mackenzie King, the new Federal Liberal leader, ever enjoyed a reputation as an astute politician, he is likely to lose it now as a result of the speaking tour which he is making in the Dominion. The Liberals' hope of support is the farmers of Canada. Mr. King is alienating their support by his attacks on the concerted political action among the residents of the rural communities. He assumes that they are making a mistake in cutting loose from their former political affiliations and essaying to go their own way.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily made and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (30 cents worth), into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "½ ounce of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Memorial Building For King's College

Meeting of Memorial Committee of the Executive of the Alumni Association Held Yesterday When Plans for Proposed Building Were Submitted.

A meeting of the Memorial Committee of the executive of the Alumni Association of King's, which has a branch in New Brunswick, was held yesterday. Dr. M. A. B. Smith, president of the Alumni, presided. Others present were: J. F. H. Teed, St. John; Rev. Thomas Parker, Hampton; Rev. A. F. Bate, Fredericton; C. D. Knowlton, Hampton; R. H. Hewson, Moncton; Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, St. John; Rev. Dr. Boyle, president of King's; Professor McCarthy and Professor A. A. Sturley; A. C. Morris, of the Collegiate School; C. J. Martin, King's; W. C. Ernst, Halifax; Captain Simpson, Prince Edward Island; Rev. Noah Wilcox, Dartmouth; Rev. W. B. Armstrong.

The object of the meeting was to discuss the memorial which it is proposed to erect to the King's College. Dr. Smith submitted two plans for the proposed building. The general idea is to erect a three-story brick building with stone trimmings. This will contain a Memorial Hall about twenty feet square, with space for war trophies and wall space for tablets to contain the names and records of the fallen. In addition, the building will have a lecture room, physical and chemical laboratory, and a large drafting room on the top story. There will also be a butcher's office and a vault to contain college records.

It was decided that funds will be solicited from King's men or from those directly interested. A suggestion was received for a memorial to the first Rhodes Scholar of King's to give his life, L. A. Collett, of Prince Edward Island. It was remarked that of the seven Rhodes Scholars of King's College, seven have enlisted. There are at Oxford at present two King's men, C. A. Simpson and D. A. Wiswell, both of Christ Church College, and W. S. Ernst has been selected as the Rhodes Scholar for Nova Scotia for 1920.

Rev. A. Skerry, who recently returned after service overseas, having gone over with the 12th Battery, has had promises of $2,000, and a number of other persons have offered to give subscriptions.

way alone. Instead of trying to win them back to the fold, he simply drives them further away by the very harshness of his adjurations. The Liberal newspapers that are featuring Mr. King's public addresses are really rendering a service to the party now in power.

If Mr. King's free trade propaganda should by any chance make him friends in the rural communities he will lose supporters in the cities. He has no hope of success without the undivided support of Quebec, and his free trade doctrine will in that Province turn friends into enemies.

Mr. King is anxious for an election. He is willing to take a mere gambler's chance; having lost everything but his last coin, he is willing to risk that in a final throw of the dice.

Mr. Dewart's Little Joke.
(Peterboro Review.)
Mr. Hartley Dewart introduces another of his famous veins of pleasantry into the political situation in Ontario. He offers to give Premier Drury a chance to contest seat in Toronto in order that the Prime Minister of Ontario may not find himself under the necessity of appearing before the public as a homeless member of the Cabinet. Mr. Dewart does not say what seat he proposes to open for the purpose, but it is easy to imagine that he has his own in mind and that his real purpose is to defy Premier Drury in combat. In this way the leader of the Liberals could make a cheap hero of himself by provoking a contest in which the odds were all in his favor.

A farmer candidate, even if he be the Premier of Ontario, seeking the support of a Toronto constituency, would be considerable of a comedy. An avowed temperance man as Premier Drury is, running for office in the constituency that has twice elected Mr. Dewart largely, if not entirely, on his well-known opposition to temperance legislation, would be nothing short of tragic. Mr. Dewart is safe to take his present stand. No one is likely to call his bluff.

No Pay, No Letters.
(Toronto Telegram.)
If Hon. E. C. Drury wishes to stop the present supply of Mr. Hartley Dewart's letters, let Mr. Drury stop the prospective supply of Mr. Hartley Dewart's salary.

All this handwriting on the walls of Ontario's political history is merely Mr. Dewart's simulation of life and activity. The handwriting is also Mr. Dewart's suggestion, that he is the only one and genuine Opposition leader entitled to the $5,000. Sir William Hearst foolishly attached a yearly prize of $2,000 to the Opposition leadership in the Ontario Legislature.

So long as money talks in the $5,000 purse that is hung up as a prize for the public man who looks most like an Opposition leader, so long will the noise of Mr. Dewart's typewriter be heard in the land. Let Hon. E. C. Drury "shut off the money that talks" in the $5,000 salary and the supply of Dewart letters will shut off of its own accord!

France And Canada Steamship Service
In referring to the new steamship service between France and Canada which will be inaugurated next month Mr. Doherty of the Canada Steamship Lines said:
"Importers and exporters should benefit greatly by this service, as the port of Bordeaux serves a section of France not conveniently reached through Havre or other northern ports. The establishment of our Havre service was the result of our faith in the future trade relations between Canada and France, which we realized could be developed only through direct steamship connections. Our faith in the service of this venture has been fully justified and the support extended to us has encouraged us to extend our field by a direct service to Bordeaux. Early indications point to liberal patronage of the new line from the start and the likelihood of our being justified in the very near future in increasing the sailings to two steamers monthly."

Hillsboro
Hillsboro, N. B., Jan. 22—Miss Jennie Pierce of Richibucto is the guest of Miss Lettie Shaughnessy.
Mrs. Arlington Steeves spent the weekend at Harvey Corner.
E. M. Sherwood and Edmund Steeves of Moncton, were here last week.
Mrs. W. F. Taylor and daughter, Jennie, have returned from St. John.
Mrs. H. W. Came has returned from Tidnish, N. S.
Mrs. C. T. Steeves sang a solo and a duet by Mrs. C. T. Steeves and Mrs. J. L. Peck. Refreshments were served and three new members enrolled.
Miss Mildred Steeves has accepted a position in the store of C. Allison Peck.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irving are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl.
On Thursday evening at the parsonage at Dawson Settlement, Rev. S. J. Perry united in marriage Thomas C. Dawson and Miss Bessie Miller.
The January meeting of the Hillsboro Women's Institute met at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Fillmore, on Saturday afternoon, January 16th. The meeting opened in the usual way. Mrs. Slater reported that the street lights in the lake have been put in good condition and are giving satisfaction. Then followed a discussion of a vocational training school for Hillsboro. The discussion was opened by Mrs. Osman who spoke strongly in favor of a school here. Other members took part and the majority of those present were in favor of having a school established in Hillsboro. It was moved and carried that the institute grant $75 for that purpose. A committee of Mrs. C. J. Osman and Miss Ina Steeves was appointed to look into the matter. Miss Bernice Steeves read an article "The Advantages of an Institute in a Community," by Mrs. Ferguson of Newcastla.

MR. KING'S NEUTRAL ATTITUDE.

The Toronto Globe, which in times past tended the altar fires of Liberalism pure and undefiled, is not satisfied with Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King's speeches during his tour of the Maritime Provinces. Apparently it expected the Opposition Leader to deliver a live-wire message, showing a definite grasp of Liberal principles, and calculated to electrify the electorate. But it has been disappointed. Like other Liberal journals it finds Mr. King lacking in definiteness in his attitude to the problems of the day, and intimates that he is merely playing politics, and trying to please a sectional following. It is patent, says the Toronto Globe, that Mr. King's "statements on public affairs are colored, consciously or unconsciously, by the fact that his Parliamentary support comes almost entirely from the east of the Ottawa River. From all Canada west of the Ottawa he has only thirteen supporters in the House. Quebec is not disposed to ask for advanced legislation on public ownership problems, or on prohibition; it has not the same interest in them as have the other provinces."

The Globe observes: "To the vital question of prohibition Mr. King made no reference. His suggestion that the Grand Trunk purchase project should be referred to the people, presumably by referendum, is not a practical one, and leaves his own position undisclosed."

And the Globe adds: "But Mr. King cannot take a neutral attitude and expect any accession of strength in Ontario or Western Canada."

Mr. King told his St. John audience that attitude was all-important, more important than the questions to which an attitude was taken, but if he has only disclosed a neutral attitude on Liberal principles to the senior Liberal organ it can hardly be supposed that he revealed himself in a more impressive attitude to the wise men among the Liberals of the east—presumably the reason that Mr. King is a neutral on the important political questions of the time is, as the Globe suggests, that he has to adapt his attitude to that of the Quebec boss, though, of course, it is possible that he had figured he owed some consideration to the attitude adopted by Premier Foster on the question of national unity during the war. Assuming the correctness of the Globe's view it is not difficult to understand his neutral attitude, for Mr. Lapointe's attitude is necessarily neutral on a variety of political questions. That enterprising politician is for the moment mainly concerned about promoting his personal ambitions, and he is by no means certain where he will fit in when the perturbed political situation in Quebec begins to clarify itself.

DECLINING FOREST RESOURCES.

Col. Henry Graves, Chief Forester of the United States Forest Service says five thousand saw-mills in the Southern States will discontinue operations within the next three years, owing to the decline in the supply of southern pine. Philip Dodge, President of the International Paper Company, says that the pulp-wood supply of the Eastern United States is practically exhausted, and that they must look to Canada for their future supply. Frank J. D. Barnjum, of Annapolis Royal, N. S., writing in the Pulp and Paper Magazine of Canada, says the wood resources of Canada have been so grossly exaggerated that very few are aware how meagre our supply of available wood really is. He observes that in some of the wild estimates of our supply of standing timber they have simply taken a map of Canada, determined the number of square miles, and arbitrarily figured so many cords per acre. But logging by any means has not yet been perfected, there are only two ways you can get out wood—by river or railway. About all the important rivers in Canada have been logged for years. Many have been practically cut out; others have been stripped so far back that it takes two years to drive the logs to the mills. The only railway tapping extensive and new timber territory is the National Transcontinental, and here the sawmills are taking first choice and leaving little for the pulp and paper makers. Mr. Barnjum makes the astonishing statement that every time a railway is built into a wooded country more wood is burnt up than is hauled out.

As pulp and paper making is now the second important Canadian industry, with an enormous investment of capital and an army of employes, Mr. Barnjum thinks Canadian mills should combine to purchase all pulp-wood cut on fee simple lands, making a division of the same on the basis of the shortest rail haul, or that the Provincial Governments should place an embargo or export duty on all pulp-wood. The million or more cords of woods that is being annually shipped to the United States, he says, returns only $15,000,000. If made into pulp and paper in Canada it would enrich the country to the extent of $80,000,000 a year, and prolong the life of all our paper mills a period of at least five or six years beyond their present expectancy. Moreover, he argues that the settler and farmer, who now ship their wood to the States, would be benefited, as with all this wood manufactured in Canada there would be a bigger market for his produce nearer home. "The American mills should be stopped from drawing the life blood of our Canadian wood-using industries," says Mr. Barnjum. "They can find no fault with such action, as self-preservation is the first law of nature, and I am very sure if the case were reversed the American mill owners would have taken this action long before this."

Commenting on this, the Pulp and Paper Magazine says it would hardly be right to prevent a farmer selling his wood abroad if there was no home market for it, and suggests that the question of disposing of wood from private lands is largely a question of organizing and educating Canadians to make a market for it at home. If it be true, as Mr. Barnjum asserts, that there are millions of acres in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick where over 50 per cent. of the standing pulpwood has been destroyed, there would seem also to be need of educating the public authorities as to measures to conserve a great natural resource. Both Canada and the United States have recklessly wasted their forest heritage, and evidently could learn a good deal from France or Germany, where the people take pride in their forests, insist on their protection, and see that their utilization does not ignore the rights of future generations. Even the Indian had regard for the forest; setting a forest fire was a great crime in his decalogue.

CANADIAN GROUP INSURANCE.

Not a few Canadian corporations and other employers have recently insured the lives of their workers under the group insurance system. The plan promises to result in improved industrial relations and the amount of such insurance seems likely to increase. Heretofore, practically all such business has been placed with insurance organizations in the United States. Several of the largest Canadian insurance companies, however, recently made arrangements to issue group insurance on the lives of employees and an apparently technical difficulty in the insurance Act has been overcome. These companies have filed their group rates with the Department of Insurance at Ottawa, have fully complied with the requirements of the insurance Act, and now have authority to issue such policies.

As "Canadian money, Canadian trade, should stay in Canada for Canadian trade," so employers in the Dominion who contemplate providing insurance for their employees should give the preference to Canadian insurance companies. The latter employ Canadian workers, make their investments for the most part in Canadian securities, and pay taxes in Canada. Moreover, the policyholders are as amply protected under the rigorous Canadian insurance laws as they would be if this business were placed in any other country in the world.

ADVERTISING.

Steady-going England has developed a great interest in advertising in recent years, and merchants and manufacturers and firms of all sorts are using newspaper and magazine space to an extent undreamed of before the war. Kitchener was perhaps the first great British advertiser; all the arts of the advertiser were used on a tremendous scale to help his recruiting campaign. Then the Chancellor of the Exchequer for his war loans employed about all the available means of advertising. The success which in both cases attended the use of advertising no doubt had a great effect upon the British mercantile mind. Another influence was probably the extraordinary success and growth of the Selfridge Stores, which under American management carried an amount of newspaper advertising unknown before in the Old Country.

At a recent meeting of the Amalgamated Press, Ltd., of London, the chairman, Sir George Sutton, commented at some length on the extraordinary development of advertising in the last few years, and the general recognition among commercial houses of the importance of continuous and carefully prepared advertising. About the same time a memorial addressed by prominent manufacturers to the Overseas Trade department of the Board of Trade observed that one of the factors in Germany's industrial expansion before the war was her cultivation of the art of advertising, and urged that the Government try to enlist the great manufacturers and exporters in some co-operative scheme for the advertising of British goods abroad.

WHAT THEY SAY

As to Paper.

(Montreal Herald.)
If the natural resources of Canada can be supplied at a trifling fee to the paper manufacturers with liberty to export them to a foreign country while Canadians suffer from a lack of them, there is certainly something rotten in the system that calls loudly for reform.

Worth Preserving.

(The Sentinel.)
The British empire has been described as the greatest secular agency for the regeneration of the world that ever existed. Isn't it worth while to preserve its integrity, and fight the disintegrating forces that are trying to destroy it?
"There is no reason," says George Russell, the Irish poet, "why the Sinn Fein should cease working for the destruction of the British empire." "The British empire is a very substantial reason."

Who is Running Ontario?

(Hamilton Herald.)
There is some justification for Mr. Dewar's sneering allusion of Mr. Erny as "Mr. Morrison's premier." It is justified by Mr. Morrison's published statement that "we have not decided yet in what constituencies the bye-elections will be held," and his explanation that under the new regime "the people" and not the government decided such matters. By the U. F. O. means Secretary Morrison. There is a point also in Mr. Dewar's jeer about "irresponsible government." In view of the premier's statement that the government will "get away as far as possible from introducing measures as government bills." That is one way of avoiding responsibility; but it is a rather cowardly way, and is contrary "the people" is meant the U. F. O., and to the spirit of responsible government.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

DISHONESTY WITHIN THE CHURCHES.

The Editor of The Standard:
Dear Sir—The churches are now making a great effort to recruit the ranks of their clergy, and we notice they are not slow to emphasize the noble character of the work, and its call to heroism. Will they also be candid and fair enough to make clear to every volunteer, the dire and humiliating poverty that awaits him?
Service on the foreign field may be placed in a class by itself. A young man expects to make special sacrifices when he takes it up, comparative standards are different, and moreover, he is often ministering to the poor and outcast, we refer to the ministry in Canada, where salaries generally range from $1,000 to $1,500 a year. It does not require much imagination to see the tragedy implied in these figures. The churches are raising an outcry against sweating, profiteering and materialism in the world of business; yet they themselves are guilty of sweating and rank dishonesty. Their people are not poor, and are slow to emphasize the situation. Who has not seen country churches where farmers and others made wealthy by the war, gather with their automobiles (and these not Ford's), to hear a preacher to whom they are paying $1,000 a year, and whom they require to drive thirty or thirty-five miles a Sunday with a horse?

The indictment of the churches is found in their own year-books. Take for example the Methodist Church, which prides itself on its fight against industrial and commercial oppression. In the 1915 year-book we find the following disgraceful annual pitances in company with many others of the same nature:—$800, $708, $855, $805. These were all cases of married men, and the fact that they were supplied with houses more or less furnished, obviously did not raise them above the poverty line.
Now, in 1920, the Methodist Church pays $1,200. In other words, while cost of living, as everyone knows, has gone up 200 to 300 per cent since the war, this church has given its ministers an increase of 33 per cent, and that only in the last year of the war. Examination of the records of the other churches gives about the same result.
The churches are calling for volunteers to train for leadership. How can a man hope to keep toned up for leadership if he is ever wrestling with the impossible problem of paying his way providing for possible illness and old age, travelling to obtain new ideas and inspiration, buying books and living as a man among men, on $1000-$1500?

The funeral of Miss Anale May DeVoe was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from 110 Pitt street. The Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong officiated and interment was made in Fernhill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. John Hannah was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from her late residence, 169 Wentworth street, the Rev. G. F. Dawson officiating. Interment was in Fernhill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Matilda L. Smith, widow of Stephen B. Smith, was held on Thursday evening at her home, 15 Exmouth street. The service was conducted by the Rev. S. S. Poole in the presence of a large number of friends. There were many floral tributes. Interment was made yesterday at Lower Jemseg. The body was taken to Lower Jemseg yesterday morning by the Valley R. R. train.

Annual Reports Were Submitted

Chief of Fire Department Reports on Activities During Past Year and Favors a Permanent Department—Building Inspector's Report.

George Blake, chief of the fire department has filed his annual report showing that during the past year the department responded to 161 bell alarms, 134 of these being on the east side, 27 on the west side. The department also responded to 26 still alarms and 14 false alarms. The total amount of insurance paid by the different insurance companies amounted to approximately one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and to handle the many fires during the year forty thousand feet of two and a half inch hose, two thousand feet of chemical hose, twenty-four hundred feet of ladders and fifteen hundred gallons of chemical were used.

The department was called upon to battle with some serious fires during the year, among which may be mentioned the Gem Theatre, Court House, Mill street fires and the Dock street block in each of these a large amount of property was at stake. The department shall require for the coming year at least two thousand feet of two and a half inch hose, and four additional horses.

The chief further stated that he has heard with pleasure that the city is about to take action in the purchase of a new aerial ladder truck, and another motor pumping engine. He is also of the opinion that the city should have a permanent fire department.

He reported that some repairs were needed to stations and concluded by thanking members Salvage Corps, Police and fire department for valuable assistance.

Building Inspector.

The building inspector reports that during the year permits were issued for 57 buildings. The approximate cost of buildings, alterations and additions as entered in the records of the office is placed at $665,540, classified as follows: Frame buildings, additions and remodeling, $6,300; C. P. R. baggage shed, $200,000; Brick alterations and additions—One apartment house, $50,000; additions, $59,500; remodeling, $5,500. Concrete, new buildings—Warehouse, $25,000; apartments, $20,000; store and storeroom, $5,000; workshop $43,000. Grand total, $506,540. For 1919, $453,323.

In addition to the above, 169 permits were issued for upkeep of properties, private garages, etc. Repairs after fire, 8; ordinary repairs, 70; garages, 32; alterations, 24; small additions, 24; sheds, 1; shed for hot air furnace, 1; retaining walls, 2; smoke house, 1; sun-parlors, 2; woodshops, 3; barns, 1; alterations, 1; shop, 1; workshops, 2. 529 inspections were made.

Alleged Cruelty To Animals

Two Men Are Reported to Have Ill-Treated Horses Near Loch Lomond—S. P. C. Secretary Taking Action in Matter.

The following letter received by the Standard gives some information regarding cruelty to animals which is being investigated:

Loch Lomond, N. B., Jan. 22, 1920.

To the Editor of the Standard:

On Wednesday night two young men acting as if they were under the influence of liquor and driving a horse attached to a sleigh and another horse leading behind the sleigh passed out of the sleigh and tied it in the woods where it froze so that it died. The other horse broke away and Mr. Waters found it at his place and gave it shelter for the night. The men said they were going to Mr. Tingley's Camp, Willow Grove. The men stayed with Mr. Brown all night. I think it is time that such cruelty to animals should be looked after.

Yours truly,
WM. J. JOHNSTON, J. P.
Loch Lomond, N. B.

In connection with the above The Standard is advised that S. M. Womore, Secretary of the S. P. C., has already received this information and is taking action in the matter.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The circuit court yesterday morning before Judge Chandler in the case of Harris vs. Garson, an application made previously to have parts of the pleadings struck out was granted and the case adjourned to February 3 at 10 a.m.

The case of Thomas Fletcher vs. George Wetmore, of this city, then came before the court. This is an action for alleged alienation of the affections of the wife of the plaintiff, who is an Englishman who resided in the West for a time before going overseas, by the defendant, G. H. V. Belyea, K. C., opened the case for the plaintiff and the plaintiff was called and examined. He testified as to his marriage, enlistment and service overseas, and said that when he returned his wife refused to go West with him and would not live with him here. The following jury was sworn: G. Allen, E. J. Todd, J. Kennedy, Wm. Nagle, Geo. McLaughlin, J. Cooper, and R. Foster. The remainder of the panel were discharged until February 3 at 10 a.m. G. H. V. Belyea, K. C., for the plaintiff, and D. Mullin, K. C., for defendant.

The case was resumed in the afternoon. The plaintiff was cross-examined. Harold Whipple, William Parkinson and Miss Blanche Hinds and Walter Urquhart also gave evidence and the court adjourned until this morning at ten o'clock.

Common Council Met In Committee

Matter of Insurance of Firemen and Police Deferred to Next Year—Estimates and Assessment Act Was Discussed.

At a committee meeting of the common council yesterday morning the estimates for the year and matters in regard to the assessment act were discussed.

The matter of $2,500 included in the estimates of the police and fire departments for disability insurance was held over until next year.

A reduction of $1,000 in the police net estimates was effected by the request, of Commissioner Thornton, to increase the estimated revenue from the police court from $5,000 to $6,000. He said that the revenue for 1919 was reported as being about $8,000.

The mayor read a letter from W. Shires Fisher, president of the Maritime section of the Canadian Manufacturers Association protesting against the assessment on goods in transit passing through St. John for export. He asked that they be exempt.

The mayor said that a reply might be sent to the C. M. A. to the effect that no goods in transit would be assessed by the city. The matter was left in his hands.

In reply to the mayor, the chairman of the board of assessors said he had some amendments to suggest to the assessment act and would present them to the council soon.

The mayor said it was desirable to get any amendments before the legislature as soon after the opening of the house as possible.

Commissioner Thornton, in reply to the mayor, said he would not like to say that the department could get along with the new chassis for the ambulance, costing $3,500. He said the revenue from the ambulance was about $700 a year.

The commissioner of public safety's estimate for lighting was increased by $175 to include four additional 100 watt lights, making the increase in estimates for lighting $912.70.

With regard to the item of $30,000 included in the estimates of the public works department for free collection of ashes, garbage, etc., Commissioner Fisher said he wanted it to be known that the inclusion of this item is, by his own proposal, contingent on the total of the appropriations not being large enough to push the tax rate over the $3 mark. Without this amount the increase in the public works estimate amounts to about $39,000.

PRESIDENT OF THE TORONTO COUNCIL

Lady Falconer is again President of the Toronto Local Council of Women, having been unanimously re-elected at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon. Lady Falconer is also President of the Executive Committee of the Dominion Council of the Young Women's Christian Association and a well known woman interested in public affairs.

FLUCTUATIONS WERE ERRATIC Montreal, Jan. 23.—Fluctuations in today's market were erratic, some stocks showing advances and others declines. Wheat changes took place, however, were only fractional and of no significance. Trading today and yesterday in iron looks as if accumulation was again taking place in the stock. Brazilian sold down to 45, a new low on this movement, but recovered fractionally in the later trading. St. Lawrence flour opened ex dividend and recovered most of it, selling at 120. Money still dominates the situation, and until this is rectified, trading is bound to remain dull. McDUGALL & COWANS.

YESTERDAY'S STOCK MARKET UPSET CALCULATIONS Price Changes Were Nominal With No Definite Trend at the Dull and Irregular End. New York, Jan. 23.—The course of today's stock market upset the calculations of those speculative who had hoped or feared, according to their count rates would provoke fresh liquidation. Prices were mainly lower at the outset tending still lower for some of the more mercurial issues later, but in general changes were nominal without definite trend at the dull and irregular end. The new rates of discount of the Federal Reserve Bank resulted in a slight advance of private banks and a consequent easing of the money market was practically undisturbed. Supplies of call money were abundant at six per cent, though rising to eight in the afternoon and time funds eased a trifle, albeit again obtainable only in small amounts. Two stocks stood out in the day's languid dealings and were typical of the general movement. Crucible Steel registered an extreme advance of 8 1/2 points, most of which was held, while General Motors declined seven points with very little recovery. Other motor issues were regular or heavy, with numerous specialties, but oils, stels, equipments and shipbuilding were sustained the constructive account, while rails occupied their respective early losses. Total sales, par value, aggregated $23,275,000. Heavy offerings of Liberty bonds and Victory notes, some of which were in the market, were well received, according to popular belief to the higher discount imposed by the central bank. Other domestic issues were irregular, but international issues were regular. Total sales recovered early losses. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

MILITARY TRAINING NATIONAL NEED, LEGION DECLARES Delegation Appeals to Congress for Radical Changes in Present System. Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—The American Legion goes on record in favor of a policy of universal military training, in a hearing before the House Committee on Military Affairs. Former Representative Thomas W. Miller, of Delaware, chairman of the National Legislative Committee of the Legion, headed a delegation which presented resolutions for universal training adopted by the convention of the American Legion in Kings County. In presenting the resolutions Mr. Miller asserted that failure to adopt such a policy was to endorse unpreparedness and that this was "national folly." He urged the continuance of a separate camp, the establishment of a training service, the reduction of the regular army to the "lowest numbers necessary," and that the general staff be "liberalized" by adding citizen officers, and that "all deadwood be eliminated." Weary of Unpreparedness. "The members of the American Legion are deeply impressed with the folly of national unpreparedness for war," said Miller. "From the results of what they suffered while in France, they believe that this country should adopt a policy of universal military training for its young men, as the only fair, democratic and adequate system of defence. "Having been through it themselves they think it is only fair and proper that the generations which come after them should share such duties and benefits also. They believe that in this way the country can maintain for its defence a citizens' army which will be adequate for any national emergency. They are strictly opposed to militarism or to the fostering of any military caste. They believe that the regular army should be reduced to the lowest numbers necessary for our forts, garrisons and other necessary professional duty; that our general staff should be liberalized by an admixture of competent citizen officers and that all such officers should be subjected to severe tests of fitness which would eliminate all deadwood. Want Citizen Officers. "They believed that this citizen's army should be trained, so far as possible, by citizen officers and its units localized in the territory from which they come, but that it must be trained solely as a national army under the authority of the national government for use only in time of war, and that the mere must not be used to fill up the regular army. "That this training shall be taken by the youth of the nation in their eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth years and shall be for a period of no less than four and not more than six months during the first year, to be followed by a two weeks' training period each year for two years."

FREDERICTON CITY MARSHAL STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS Frederickton, Jan. 23.—City Marshal James Roberts was suddenly attacked with a paralytic stroke yesterday afternoon, and this morning it was said that his condition was so critical that his ultimate recovery is hardly expected. City Marshal Roberts was born at Georgetown, and came to Frederickton about forty years ago. He was at one time a member of the police department and afterwards became city marshal, and also acted as a private detective, as well as holding various other positions, including those of deputy sheriff of York County, bread inspector, server of tax notices and agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty. Lieut. Col. A. H. H. Powell, A. G., was back at his desk at headquarters yesterday morning, after an illness of several weeks on account of a broken arm.

CRUCIBLE STEEL JUMPED PRICE UP (McDOUGALL & COWANS.) New York, Jan. 23.—A vigorous advance of Crucible Steel at the expense of shorts which carried the price up six or eight points served to rally the list in the afternoon. The movement in that stock was accompanied by revivals of the story apparently based on information that the company contemplates a stock dividend in the proportion of something like 4 to 1, provided that the supreme court decides in a pending case that such dividends are not taxable as income. The tire and motor stocks remained generally soft, but elsewhere the list advanced moderately until shortly before the close. In the last half hour active stocks sold off from the top prices of the day. Call money went up, and then receded to 6 per cent. Sales 563,200. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

THE PROPOSED HOME RULE BILL In the House of Commons, England, the Prime Minister outlined the proposed new Home Rule Bill last night. He emphatically rejected the idea of a separate parliament for any attempt at secession would be fought, as the Northern States in America fought the Southern. The main features of the Government's scheme are as follows:— Two Irish Legislatures, one for Ulster and the other for the rest of the country. An Irish Council to consist of twenty representatives of each Irish Parliament. The six Ulster counties to be the basis of the Ulster or Northern Parliament, with some adjustment. If the two Legislatures agree to do so they can delegate various powers to the All Ireland Council. If there is agreement at any time between the two parliaments, without reference to the Imperial Parliament, become one Parliament for all Ireland. The following services to be reserved to the Imperial Parliament:— The Crown. Peace and war. Foreign affairs. Army and Navy. Defence. Treason. Trade outside Ireland. Navigation. Wireless and cables. Trade marks. The higher judiciary. The Irish Parliament to have full control over:— Education. Local government. Agriculture. Roads and bridges. Transportation (including railways). Old-age pensions. Insurance. Housing. Municipal affairs. Local judiciary. The Imperial Government retains control of the police for three years. Post Office remains with the Imperial Parliament. Irish Government to have the revenue raised in Ireland, with the exception of £18,000,000 a year, the estimated "fair contribution" to the Imperial services. A generous money surplus to be given by Great Britain to assist Ireland a good start on Home Rule. Customs and excise to remain in hands of Imperial Government until unity is obtained in Ireland. Income-tax to remain in Imperial control.—London Press.

AMERICANS PUT UP CONTINUOUS FIGHT FOR 278 YEARS TO MAKE COUNTRY BONE DRY

Churches and Other Organizations Celebrate Victory Won—Many Well Stocked Cellars in the Big Cities—Cuba to be Oasis for Thirsty Ones.

New York, Jan. 17.—Uncle Sam has been legally "dry" now for twenty-four hours. Prohibition in its nation-wide aspect has fallen upon the country...

Meanwhile, the churches and other organizations are celebrating the final triumph of prohibition after a "campaign" which they say lasted 278 years. Next Monday the army of clergymen in Greater New York who meet annually for a union meeting...

At these meetings, various speakers are expected to touch upon some of the historical dates of the anti-liquor movement in America, which had its inception in Maryland in 1642 when the colony passed a law "punishing drunkenness by a fine of 100 pounds of tobacco."

Pennsylvania colony in 1644 made it legal to sell liquor to Indians as well as to whites but a few years later prohibited the sale of liquor to Indians under penalty of a fine of 100 pounds of tobacco. In 1650 Connecticut passed a law forbidding "drinking for more than half an hour at a time."

WEAK, WATERY BLOOD

IS THE CAUSE OF MANY SERIOUS TROUBLES

Pale, Weak Women and Girls, Easily Tired Men and Boys Are Victims of Anæmia—Sound, Robust Health Can Only Be Had By Enriching the Blood and Keeping It Red and Pure.

Conditions of thin, watery blood can be easily corrected through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

LOOK FOR THESE SYMPTOMS

The one general symptom of anæmia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, the lips become white and insufficient out-of-door air. It is most common among those who are confined indoors by their occupations and among those who do not get their regular or do not select a proper diet.

WEAK AND RUN DOWN

There is no eight-hour day for the woman in the home. Her every waking hour is filled with household duties and cares, and often, under the strain, her blood becomes weak and watery, and there is a complete breakdown in health.

NERVOUS TROUBLES

Many severe nervous troubles have their origin in anæmia. It is literally true that when the blood is weak and watery, the nerves are starved, and there follows neuralgia, sciatica and nervous headaches.

Baseball Meetings Are To Be Held

Those Booked for Chicago Next Month Will Be Among Most Important Ever Held in History of the Sport.

New York, Jan. 23.—On his return from the west today John Heyler, president of the National League, announced that the baseball meetings to be held in Chicago next month will be among the most important sessions ever held in the history of the sport.

New York American Team Dissatisfied

New York, Jan. 23.—That practically the entire New York American team is dissatisfied with contracts sent them last December was admitted today by Colonel T. L. Huston, vice-president of the Yankees, and Miller Huggins, manager of the team.

Champion Wrestler To Tour America

Stanislaus Zbyszko, European Heavyweight, Due to Arrive in New York February 12—Will Meet Challengers for World's Championship.

Chicago, Ills., Jan. 24.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the European heavyweight wrestling champion, who is due to arrive in New York on February 12th, for his American tour, will meet all challengers for the world's championship regardless of weight, color or affiliations, according to announcement today by his manager, Jack Herman of Chicago.

Stanislaus Zbyszko World's Champion Wrestler.

For his American tour on February 12th, for his American tour, will meet all challengers for the world's championship regardless of weight, color or affiliations, according to announcement today by his manager, Jack Herman of Chicago.

Herman is being deluged with offers for the Polish giant, a great favorite with the American wrestling public, and it is likely that he will start his tour in New York meeting one of the top notch American wrestlers.

After filling a half dozen engagements in the east, Zbyszko will gradually work westward, where fifty dates are awaiting him. Judging from the stack of offers Herman is receiving daily, it seems that every wrestling promoter in the country, as well as hundreds of Polish organizations, are eager to arrange dates for Zbyszko.

The Pole fears no man and will wrestle every championship aspirant Manager Herman said today. We will not raise the bars to anybody, regardless of his affiliations. Zbyszko has beaten most of the present crop of championship claimants and challengers and can do it again.

Herman who directed Zbyszko's affairs on his former visit to this country is mapping out a pretentious tour, which will take the Polish giant to practically every wrestling center in the United States and Canada. Two of the latest circuses in the United States have already made offers for Zbyszko's services during the summer months, and Herman is also considering an offer from M. M. Alvarez, the leading promoter of Buenos Aires, for a tour of South America, beginning June 15th.

TORONTO ROWING CLUB.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—The University of Toronto Rowing Club was formed yesterday at a meeting of about seventy-five graduates and undergraduates, and the re-entry of varsity into national and international aquatic contests for the first time since 1888 is fairly well assured.

FOOTBALL MATCHES INJURING BUSINESS

London, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press)—Manufacturers are organizing opposition to the players of cup and league football matches in mid-week. The loss resulting from attendance at such matches of, for example, 50,000 people at the Sheffield Wednesday-Darlington cup match last Monday is estimated at 25,000 pounds sterling in wages. A hundred thousand pounds sterling trade loss, it is urged, thus incurred at a time when every minister and economist is appealing for increased production as the only real means to relieve the country's financial hardship.

DESTRUCTION OF RATS ON THE FARM

The annual losses on Canadian farm homesteads due to the depredation of rats have never been estimated, but they must amount to tens of thousands of dollars. There are few farmers in Eastern Canada who are not suffering from the ravages of this destructive rodent and unfortunately having invaded the prairie provinces this pest is now rapidly spreading westward.

There is nothing eatable, animal or vegetable, that the rat will not attack and it will "destroy" by pollution ten times as much as it actually eats. On the farm, grain of all kinds, vegetables and fruits, eggs and poultry, constitute the chief objects of its foraging. It is voracious, voracious destroyer. This is not to be confused with the rat there is an ample food supply. No one means of destruction is usually successful and recourse must be had to as many of the various agencies as destruction as may be deemed necessary or practicable. We cannot emphasize too strongly the value of persistent effort if the premises are to be rid of rats.

Prevention: This is of the first importance. It is inside the building rather than outside that rats do the most damage; the great object therefore, must be to prevent their entrance. This is best obtained by having all foundations and floors of concrete. From every stand, dirt concrete so used, for barns, stoves, pigsties, poultry houses, etc., represents a good investment. Old and dilapidated stone foundations may be made rat proof by an inside coating of concrete or cement.

Reserved Decision On Johnson Appeal

New York, Jan. 23.—The appellate division of the supreme court reserved decision today on an appeal of Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American League and of the St. Louis and Cleveland Americans from an injunction issued by Supreme Court Justice Wagner, which restrains them from interfering with Carl W. Mays, continuing as a Yankee pitcher, pending the final outcome of a suit brought against them by the New York club.

AROOSTOOK

Aroostook Jet, Jan. 20.—Two deaths have taken place in Aroostook Jet, this last few days. On Sunday, Jan. 18th, Mr. W. Murphy, age 76, father of Mrs. T. Grant, died, and was taken on Monday the 19th, to Arthurville, near Plaster Rock, for burial. On Monday morning about 6.30 a. m., John Grant died of pneumonia, and will be taken to Killbuck, N. B., for burial, after a funeral service has been held at the Union Church at Aroostook Jet. Mr. Grant was aged 75 years, and was one of Aroostook's oldest and most respected inhabitants.

The long cold spell of winter weather which has lasted since about Dec. 16th, was accentuated today, Jan. 20th, when the temperature dropped to 47 degrees below zero at 4 a. m., and at 2 a. m. was 42 degrees below. Work at Aroostook round-house was carried on with the utmost difficulty, engines being frozen on the tracks, and the roundhouse itself so full of steam and gas, that the workmen had to grope their way round it being impossible to see anything whatever.

Mr. Wilfred Grandiere, who has been in military service at Amherst for about 4 years, has returned to his former position as Asst. Agent, Aroostook Jet.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. Jewett, G. P. R. operator, recently.

Poisons: As there is always more or less danger to live stock in the use of poisons they are the last means to employ. Barium carbonate (precipitated) is the least dangerous; it is comparatively harmless to domestic stocks in the small doses used for killing rats. It is used as a stiff dough composed of flour or oatmeal and a little sugar with 25 or 30 per cent of the carbonate. The addition of a few drops of oil of aniseed or of cayenne makes the bait more attractive. Arsenic is very popular as a rat poison but experience has shown that it is variable in its effect and apparently not always fatal. The bait can be made as already described under carbonate of barium, or the arsenic may be spread or rubbed on buttered bread. Strichnine is also employed and is very rapid in its action. The best plan is to insert a small crystal in raw meat, the pieces of meat being placed in the runs or burrows.

In buildings or yards in which there are poultry or other live stock, a precautionary measure in the use of poisons is the employment of two wooden boxes, the one considerably larger than the other and each having two or more holes in the sides large enough to admit rats. The poisoned bait is placed on the bottom and near the middle of the smaller box. By this means danger to live stock is avoided while the rats have free access to the poison.

There are several model forms of the guillotine trap which are excellent. Cage traps are especially useful in catching young rats, particularly if left open for a night or two or three. Large catches may frequently be made by "barrel" and "pit" traps—the baited covers being hung to the sides as to turn with the weight of the rat. Among excellent baits may be mentioned toaster cheese, bacon, liver, raw meat, grain of various kinds,

When the refreshments were served the boys needed no urging; the hike had put an edge on the appetites of all, and the ladies who so kindly assisted in providing the treat felt more amply repaid for their efforts. It would be hard to find a happier bunch of boys than that which dispersed at the close of the evening.

THE WEATHER.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—A shallow disturbance centered south of the Great Lakes is causing strong northwest winds and snow in southern and eastern Ontario. The weather is fair and moderately cold in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and very cold throughout the West.

Forecast: Maritime—Strong winds or gales from the northwest with snow. Northern New England—Snow Saturday and probably Sunday; colder Sunday. Moderate to fresh southeast to southwest winds.

AROUND THE CITY

THE POLICE COURT. In the police court yesterday, a man was fined $208 for being drunk and having liquor in his possession.

BLACKSMITHS AND HELPERS. A meeting of the Blacksmiths and Helpers was held last evening in the Painters' Hall, Charlotte street. The usual routine of business was discussed, and about nine members were signed on. The President Geo. Murphy presided.

GOVERNMENT MEETING. The Provincial Government was in session here yesterday afternoon, and in the evening until after midnight, but the matters before it were not given out to the press. The Government will meet again this morning.

NAMES OMITTED. In the account of the annual meeting of the Boy Scouts Association Thursday night the names of the following members of the executive were omitted: T. H. Estabrook, Dean Gandy, F. C. Starr, F. B. Ellis, H. V. MacKinnon and F. L. McCafferty.

TEAMSTERS AND CHAUFFEURS. About eighteen new members were signed on last evening by the Teamsters and Chauffeurs' Union, which held a meeting in the Longshoremen's Hall, Water street. The best means to obtain more new members was discussed. President Winchester presided.

N. OLIVER INJURED. N. Oliver, 20 Hanover street, longshoreman, while working at No. 14 shed, Sand Point, was struck on the head with a hoisting hook yesterday, thereby receiving a scalp wound above the eye. He was treated at the Emergency Hospital and was able to proceed to his home.

C. P. R. STATION BURNED. Yesterday morning the C. P. R. station at Megantic, Quebec, was destroyed by fire. The cause was not stated and owing to the interruption of telegraphic communication further details were lacking. The loss is roughly estimated at $10,000. The building was an old one of wood.

PATROLMEN DISSATISFIED. The police patrolmen are dissatisfied with the wage schedule proposed in the estimates of the Commissioner of Public Safety, claiming that they do not meet their expectations of a minimum wage of $4.00. It was stated that policemen who had gone overseas on going back to the force were rated as first year men and paid the rate for new men.

FLOODED WITH WATER. About five o'clock yesterday afternoon as the result of a break in the water pipe, a large flow of water filled the cellar of a large building on the corner of Broad and Carmarthen streets, and then poured through the basement wall and flooded a section of Carmarthen and Britain streets. Men from the Water Department are making repairs.

PHILATHEA CLASS. The Philathea Class of German Street Baptist Church held a meeting last evening, when a clever paper was read by Miss Mary Steeves on "How Canada is Governed." Miss Steeves traced the history of Canadian Government from the time of Magna Charta down to Confederation and the present time. Methods of election were described. The paper was comprehensive and was greatly appreciated by those present. Miss Mabel Lewis, president, presided, and refreshments were served at the close of the address.

Senator Thorne and his brother, Arthur Thorne, left last evening for Hot Springs, Virginia, where they will remain for some time.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB HELD REGULAR MEETING LAST NIGHT

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering in the G. W. V. A. Hall—Committees Reported on Important Matters—Port Congestion Problem Discussed and Matter Will be Placed Before Parliament—Will Co-operate With Board of Trade and Tourist Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. John Commercial Club was held last evening in the G. W. V. A. Hall on Wellington Row, with the president of the club, S. E. Elkin, M. P., in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were adopted as read. The executive committee reported that two meetings had been held by them since the last general meeting, one on January 12th and another on January 19th, both at Club's Corner, when a wire was sent to A. P. Barnhill in regard to the state of congestion in the harbor. Greenings had been extended to Mr. King and M. LaPointe asking their support in obtaining better conditions for the port of St. John. Another meeting had been held on January 21st when the matter of getting behind the Boy Scout Drive was discussed.

The reports of the different committees were read by the secretary, T. E. Simpson, and it was then moved that the reports of the executive be taken up section by section, and carried. The action taken by the Club's executive during the visit of Mackenzie King in soliciting his support for improved harbor facilities was confirmed by the Club.

The Boy Scout Committee's report was confirmed. The Housing Committee reported that they had examined the city building by-laws and had found them inadequate and antiquated and asked that a petition be made asking for a new by-law abridgement of the times. The action was confirmed. Commissioner John W. Thorne, commissioner of public safety, agreed with the resolution passed, the by-law was inadequate and the matter of its amendment had been under consideration for some time and progress had already been made in the framing of a new law. He would be very pleased to have the Club's co-operation in the matter.

The matter of the free collection of ashes and garbage was then taken up, as embodied in the report of the Housing Committee. R. W. D. Paterson stated that it had been suggested by the executive that the ashes be collected free and a charge made for the collection of garbage. In the city of New York private companies paid the city for the privilege of collecting the garbage which was used in connection with fertilizing plants. The action of the Housing Committee was confirmed. The president thought that persons in the city should be sent all the members at Ottawa calling their attention to the state of congestion existing in the harbor at the present time. The committee of the Board of Trade wished to co-operate in this matter. The conditions existing should be brought before the residents of Canada by means of movies and photos and a grant be obtained from the City Council for that purpose.

The president said that there would be no difficulty in getting appropriate floors for harbor development through the parliament if the sympathies of both the government and opposition were secured. He suggested that moving pictures of harbor conditions and views of the city be shown the members during the dinner recess while the House was in session. He thought that with the addition of some of the pictures in Ottawa could be induced to show the pictures along with some of the members of the House. The following were proposed for members of the committee: James Christie, John E. Savre, C. M. Steeves, Fred Girvin, H. S. Keith, W. E. Gunter, W. F. Burditt, A. D. Holyoke, W. E. Golding, P. E. Stuart, W. Heston, F. H. Rowe, G. P. Hennessy, E. P. Creary, G. M. Flood. All the members of the Club were invited to co-operate with the Board of Trade and attend a meeting in the G. W. V. A. Hall when Professor Robinson would give an address on trade conditions overseas.

A. M. Belding brought up the matter of the agreement of the Play Ground Association into one strong body and two members from the Commercial Club would be invited to form part of the executive. The matter was referred to the Athletic Committee. Mr. Grimmer of the Dominion Employment Bureau drew the attention of the Club to the number of unemployed in the city, mostly returned men. A plan had been suggested by A. E. Schofield to employ the men as cutting fire wood. Mr. Grimmer said that many of the returned men were deserving and he cited some very touching cases. The returned soldier problem was a hard one, and he asked the co-operation of the Club in securing work for the men. The matter was referred to the team floor. It was announced that the Club's week would be ready some time next week.

GRAIN STEAMERS BEING DELAYED

Plenty of Wheat En Route to St. John But C. N. R. Elevators Not Used to Any Extent During Past Week.

The Government Railways have large quantities of wheat en route to St. John, but the C. N. R. elevator has not been used to any extent during the past week. This is due to the fact that the elevators are not getting the dispatch they would like, but Commissioner Bullock stated yesterday that things were going as smoothly as could be expected under the circumstances.

Your old boots and shoes will furnish material to enable our soldiers boys to learn a trade. Don't forget them today, 10 to 4 o'clock.

DIED IN TORONTO. The members of the I. O. Foresters throughout the Province will regret to learn that E. J. Todd, High Secretary, received word last evening of the death of Fred J. Darch, for many years Supreme Secretary of the Order. His death took place in Toronto yesterday.

MEN'S OVERCOATS. At less than cost prices: Coats worth $45.00 for ... $35.00 Coats worth $35.00 for ... $28.00 Coats worth $30.00 for ... $22.00 Coats worth $25.00 for ... $19.50 Coats worth $20.00 for ... $16.50 at Wilcox's January Sale, Cor. Charlotte and Union streets.

Many Visitors To Hostel Yesterday

Formal Opening of Canadian Women's Hostel on Britain Street—Old Metropole Transformed Into Attractive House.

"How do you spell 'appreciate'?" was one of the first questions asked at the Hostel by one of its first guests writing to tell of her safe arrival in St. John, and those who visited the Canadian Women's Hostel, Britain street, at its formal opening yesterday, felt that any one staying there would certainly "appreciate" the coziness and comfort of the home. The old Metropole has been transformed into an attractive house, where nicely fitted up rooms brightened with chintz, white curtains and other little feminine touches of furnishings give an air of hominess wanting in many institutions.

Guests were received yesterday afternoon by Mrs. H. A. Powell, President of the Hostel Committee, Mrs. John Owens and Mrs. J. Goldman Presiding over the tea table in the dining room where Mrs. Arthur W. Adams and Mrs. W. E. Tennant, A. S. D., of the National Association of American Editors in June next and he asked that the club co-operate with the Tourist Association in entertaining the journalists while in the city. The matter was referred to the executive.

The plans of the Hotel Committee were discussed and the Athletic Committee had nothing to report since the last meeting. The committee of Public Safety recommended that red lights be installed over the fire alarms. The following were proposed for members of the committee: James Christie, John E. Savre, C. M. Steeves, Fred Girvin, H. S. Keith, W. E. Gunter, W. F. Burditt, A. D. Holyoke, W. E. Golding, P. E. Stuart, W. Heston, F. H. Rowe, G. P. Hennessy, E. P. Creary, G. M. Flood. All the members of the Club were invited to co-operate with the Board of Trade and attend a meeting in the G. W. V. A. Hall when Professor Robinson would give an address on trade conditions overseas.

MRS. WM. O'KEEFE DIED YESTERDAY

Death Came Yesterday Morning in General Public Hospital as Result of Burns Received on Thursday Night.

Mrs. William H. O'Keefe, 204 Union street, died at the General Public Hospital yesterday morning as the result of burns sustained at her home Thursday night. Deceased was formerly Miss Dena Gannon, one of the most noted beauties of St. John, and since then has resided in St. John. Besides her husband she is survived by four sisters. Coroner H. A. Porter states that there will be an inquest as an investigation showed that death had been purely accidental. He states that Mrs. O'Keefe struck a match to light the oil stove and in doing so lighted the couch, the burning head dying upwards and scintilla a curtain. In her endeavor to pull down the curtain he said, Mrs. O'Keefe's clothes became ignited.

ROWLEY BUILDING DAMAGED BY FIRE

Considerable Damage Done to Flat Occupied by Policeman Corner of Britain and Charlotte Streets Yesterday.

An alarm was rung in from box 45, about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, for a fire which occurred in the top floor of the R. E. Rowley building, on the corner of Britain and Charlotte streets. The fire was confined to the upper part of the building, in the flat occupied by Policeman James R. Corner. Some excitement was caused when a baby's crib with its bedding ablaze was seen to protrude from a window on the second floor which was occupied by James Walker. The damage to the building was slight, most of it due to the tearing down of the walls around the fire so as to get at the blaze. The damage to the building is estimated at $300, covered by insurance. The furniture of Officer Corner was also damaged, the loss being partly covered by insurance. It is fortunate that the good work of the firemen checked the blaze in its early stages, as the whole block consists of wooden tenements, occupied by some fourteen families.

Weekly Chat Answers To Letters

My Dear Chums:—Judging from many answers received it is quite evident that our New Contest, Brain Tests, is meeting with much favor among the members. According to rule we cannot make any secret known about the successful winners of number one until next Saturday, so that there is still time for the far away answers to arrive. Of course you must all admit that number one was quite easy, and it wouldn't be interesting to have them all that way, though some may have found it harder than some of the others which will follow. However, the results so far have been very encouraging indeed. Make sure you state each time when filling out a coupon what course you are already a member of our C. C., or a brand new one. That helps a great deal. This week's puzzle you will notice is number two, and of course that will be the number to put on your coupon if sending one in. So much for contest.

What good times all the kiddies are having with their sleds! It seems to be a real good exciting winter, though I should think there would be many cold fingers and toes with Jack Frost so strong and biting. He is such a snappy fellow on one of the days lately, and one needs to wrap up pretty warm to keep him from doing mischief. His bite may not be so painful and dangerous as an animal's, but with it can hurt for quite a time. Speaking of animals, so many little folks write of their different pets and of the good times they have with them and that sometimes they mention of having to part with them by placing them in new homes, for of course too many dumb friends about the house become a great nuisance. And though you thought comes to me to wonder if you have always the same regard for these dumb friends which you should have, and if you make sure of placing them where they get real good care. Just now I am thinking of little tots using a wee kitten just as if it was a saw just did. Holding on to it for a very long time in a very unbecomingly position by any part easily grab. Dressing it up in all sorts of clothes, and generally making little kitten's life very miserable. The same offense is done to pup too, and the child of course may be too young to realize that such treatment is real cruel to an animal, yet it should be taught to know that the little brute the child hurts kitty, one has as much fear of pain and teasing as the other, and because a little child gets amusement in that way, it is not reasonable to strew the dumb friends to suffer. So we know that all our members (especially those who have joined our Bird and Animal Protection Club) will take care to look after their young birds and girls of the right treatment to give these pets. During this cold weather, when you can look to be allowed in out of the cold, think of those who cannot speak their desires and notice when they plead with their eyes to get shelter. Haven't you often noticed the faithful dog following you with that wistful look in his eye, and with his short legs trying to keep up with the same pace with the horse which can take such long strides thereby getting over the ground much easier? Of course you have, and perhaps it got very tired trying to do what he leaves in his duty, so chums, watch out for these things which concern our faithful dumb friends and speak the word which may make others who are responsible, think it is not always intentional that animals are treated, but very often for lack of thought and consideration. We have not had our animal coupon in our issue lately, and for that reason I am reminding you of the good you may do. Some times children think they can't do any good until they grow up, but you should say to your little hand I'm not going to use you now while you are small; I'm going to wait and save all your strength till I grow up, and then I can use you to great advantage. Why the hand thus hung by your side would not grow or develop, it would be weak and useless, so that when you grow up you could not use it. Something like that might happen to our hearts if we think we can put off doing any good until we grow up. We must begin very early in life to do all the kind and good things possible and thus our character will become stronger and more unselfish.

With great and high hopes for all the good which kiddies may do, Yours, UNCLE DICK

Here we have a set of good resolutions, in puzzle form. After deciphering them, you will have to admit that they present pretty good advice to follow throughout the year. What are they?

Behadings and Curbaliments. 1-Remove the first letter from a cold and leave an elevation which beheaded once more becomes sick. 2-Remove the first letter from a ceasing animal and leave an iron pin when beheaded once more does not feel well. 3-Remove the first letter from a boy's name and leave a negro; curtail and it tells how he went away. 4-Remove the first letter from a cutting implement and be told to hark on, behead once more and learn just you are to give. 5-Remove the first letter from a boy's name and leave a dagger; curtail and it tells how he went away. 6-Remove the first letter from a cutting implement and be told to hark on, behead once more and learn just you are to give. 7-Remove the first letter from a boy's name and leave a dagger; curtail and it tells how he went away. 8-Remove the first letter from a cutting implement and be told to hark on, behead once more and learn just you are to give. 9-Remove the first letter from a boy's name and leave a dagger; curtail and it tells how he went away. 10-Remove the first letter from a cutting implement and be told to hark on, behead once more and learn just you are to give.

DAVID AND THE KING

(Suggested by Browning's "Saul.") 1 Samuel 16: 14 to end.

While David was living so happily on the hills, singing and playing his harp, which saved the sheep, there lived a king in the city near by, who was as sad as David was joyful.

He lived in a great beautiful palace, his robes were made of purple and gold, and he feasted on the best food in the land, yet he was filled with sadness.

Once he had been a splendid soldier, leading his people to battle, and all his army, which he led, were as brave as lions. But now he did not fight battles any more, he did not even sit on his golden throne, with his soldiers and servants around him. He was as lonely as a sparrow in a field.

What shall we do for him? The people asked. "What will make our king happy again and brave, as he used to be?"

Then one of the soldiers remembered that out on the hills he had seen a shepherd boy, whose face shone with joy while he played a harp and sang.

So David was sent for. They could hardly wait for him to come. All those people loved their king so much that when he was sad and sick they were wretched. For three days he had hung in that tent, not speaking nor moving, and this was their last hope of curing him. If the shepherd boy could not help they feared King Saul would never be well.

Telephone Directory vs. Encyclopedia

By Ring W. Lardner.

To The Editor:—
The other day, I was sitting around the home wishing callers would come or something so as I would have an excuse to mix up a cocktail when all of a sudden what should ring but the telephone bell, so of course I thought at first it must be the wrong No. like usual, but I answered it and the girl says Bridgeport wants you. So I said yes, I suppose they do, but I can't live everywhere in Conn. at once and then another female voice spoke up and said she was a reporter on the Bridgeport Herald and when could she get an interview.

So I thought for the second time that they must be calling the wrong No. but soon I remembered who I am, so I kind of snarled back at her like all the big birds do when you ask them for an interview, but I didn't snarl so as she could hear me for I didn't care she would think it was a sincere snarl and hang up and end it all, and little by little we got more friendly and she said she would be over the following Tuesday. So then the both of us hung up on each other and I come back in the parlor with a kind of a pale look and the Mrs. said, who was that woman, and I said she is a reporter on the Bridgeport Herald.

What does she want?
She wants to interview me because I am notorious.

WHAT TO BE.
No shame can harm you while you live. But what's your post or fee, There are some things that you must be:

"You must be honest—therein lies The test of men, however wise; You must be loyal through and through.

Willing to work and cheerful, too; You must be patient and be kind, Be big of heart and broad of mind; And be too manly here to claim Advantage that is linked with shame.

"You must be clean—the world demands Clean hearts and minds as well as bodies.

You must be willing here to bear Your portion of life's constant care, And set in every way you can The fine example of a man.

You shall succeed in any sphere." If these you are, you need not fear.

THE GOLD INLAY.
The Gold Inlay is a painful effort on the part of the dental profession to discourage the sale of false teeth.

When man was created, he was given a set of teeth which it was intended should last as long as his appetite. It is getting harder and harder, however, to find people who have the same teeth they carried around with them in childhood's happy hour. A man may own a prominent, defiant eye-tooth which appears to be sound in every limb, and almost before he knows it some dentist with a prying forefinger will discover that it contains a cavity which looks like the opening of a drive well. It then becomes necessary to insert something which will preserve the tooth and enable the owner to masticate in a contented, borboryng manner, hence the personal popularity of the Gold Inlay.

The Gold Inlay is caused by drilling 400 feet below the surface and excavating a last resting place for $18 worth of labor and material. This is a simple process and does not hurt the patient any more than to gaze on the bill. After the hole has been made large enough to comply with the by-laws of the state dental association, a dummy ring is put in of wax, and the patient is allowed to depart and carry the hole with him. When he returns the real inlay is installed with a mallet wielded by an in-

Well, I said, the N. Y. city papers has started the fashion by interviewing Geo. Maerlinik that can't even write and this lady is going to show them up by talking to a post which can say something back besides cooing and any way she is coming over here next Tuesday to see me so that's that.

Yes, replied the Mrs. but when you say to interview notoriety like Ty Cobb and Jessie Willard for instance, why you don't without going to no bother like seeing them.

And we was all photographed.

Following Tuesday I took light exercise and read and eat a good deal and things went along about as usual without marked change till the Monday night when I began to feel a little dizzy right after supper and I thought at first it must be something I had eat or some thing till I of the lids happened to make the remark that tomorrow was Tuesday and then it flashed on me that all that stood between the Bridgeport lady and it was an ordinary Monday night in the winter time.

But was it an ordinary Monday night god forbid, I retired early and lay there and tossed and read a story by Jos Hergesheimer and tossed some more till it must of been fully 9 o'clock when I dropped into a light dose which came by a sudden terminus at 7:30 Tuesday a. m. and it was broad day and I got up and shaved myself and dressed the latter and came down to breakfast. All ready the women folk was at work cleaning up the parlor in honor of the occasion emptying the ash trays, chairs and etc.

SOCIALISM'S FIRST HYPOCRITE

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.
The International Sunday School Lesson for January 25 is "Truth and Honesty"—Acts 6:1-11.

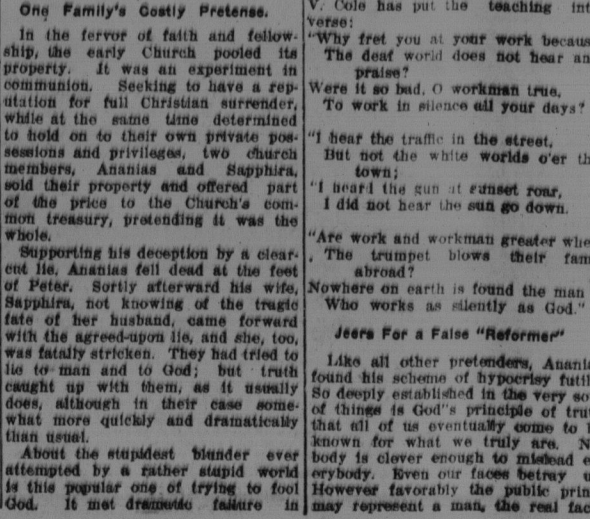

Even a slight knowledge of history studies a person in times of turmoil. The parable is a lamp for present paths. Our air is filled with the clamor of utopian "get-good-quick" schemes, and patent devices for a made-over world. Various types and degrees of socialism are being proffered as the panacea for humanity's ills. So we turn back for a look across the centuries at similar experiences; and we find that the most nearly successful, for a short time, was the first Christian community in Jerusalem. There the believers had all things in common and lived for a period in an almost ecstatic mood—although a little later, significantly, we find Paul taking up a collection among the missionary churches to relieve the poverty of the Jerusalem Christians.

Opportunist, the present lesson portrays the first hypocrite in this new experiment in Christian socialism. It rather jars our optimism to find that even amidst these most ideal conditions, under the personal supervision of Peter and John and the other apostles, self-seeking and pretense so quickly found their way into the community. Ananias was the first example of the sort of thing which is today rampant in all lands, where the lives in regal state, and other Bolshevik leaders have seized gold and goods and special privileges for themselves, as well as power. The difference between the Bible and other radical literature is that it does not overlook the Ananiases.

One Family's Costly Pretense.
In the fervor of faith and fellowship, the early Church pooled its property. It was an experiment in communism. Seeking to have a reputation for full Christian surrender, while at the same time determined to hold on to their own private possessions and privileges, two church members, Ananias and Sapphira, sold their property and offered a part of the price to the Church's common treasury, pretending it was the whole.

Supporting his deception by a counterfeit lie, Ananias fell dead at the feet of Peter. Shortly afterward his wife, Sapphira, not knowing of the tragic fate of her husband, came forward with the agreed-upon lie, and she, too, was fatally stricken. They had tried to lie to man and to God; but truth caught up with them, as it usually does, although in their case somewhat more quickly and dramatically than usual.

About the stupider blunder ever attempted by a rather stupid fool is this popular one of trying to fool God. It met dramatic failure in about him quickly pass from mouth to mouth.

Recently I was present at a public dinner of newspaper men, and one of the speakers, who had secured, by appointment, his first public office, was a "reformer" who gave utterance to platitudes that might have been appropriate before a less skeptical and less sophisticated audience. As it was, these men were familiar with the private business practices of the speaker, and with his notorious parsimony and pretense, so they openly jeered at his simulated modesty and public seal. Perhaps it was not polite, but it seemed to me an illustration of the judgment day that is every day. This "reformer" was undergoing a mild version of the Ananias experience.

Because one's real self is already known to some men, and will soon be known to all men, as well as to God, is a sufficient reason keeping that self true and noble. Passion for righteousness is a better reason, for it is born of a desire to do the will of God. By what we are we best serve the world. Everybody is followed by somebody. Writes Geo. Lee Burton:

"He toiled on the street for his daily bread, Jostled and pushed by the surging crowd of street.

"No one has time to watch," he said, "Whether I choose the right or the wrong; No one can be by me misled."

"He chose the wrong, and thought no one cared; But a child that day his ideal of strength.

A cynic sneered at the soul ensnared; A weak man halted, faltered, at length.

Followed him in the sin he had dared."

A Church With Discipline.
"Justice is the supreme concern of heaven on earth," said Daniel Webster. The swift and summary fate of these two offenders in the early Church may seem severe. Thereby we know how awful is a lie. By the flash that brought death to Ananias and his wife we glimpse the sacredness of truth. In private life and in public affairs, there cannot be built up a safe structure on the basis of deceit and misrepresentation.

The world feels deep resentment against the older order of lying diplomacy which has brought such woe to humanity. It has carried "dishonesty" and self-advantage to such a point that the tested integrity of life mean nothing to it. It will sacrifice the honor of an individual or the welfare of a people for its own dishonest purposes. We shall never have a new world until the contempt and wrath of all honest people have exterminated the present type of state department and foreign office and diplomacy in general.

Condemnation was created in the early Church by the fate of Ananias and Sapphira. The experience was chastening and beneficial. It is not clear that the first need of organized Christianity today is a spirit of discipline, that it will refuse to condone known evil in the lives of members? "No revival" can succeed that is not a revival of righteousness. The most spectacular evangelist of recent times has become a spectacle of failure because he trimmed his message to the rich and powerful, and because the element of truth—to write euphemistically—became paramount in his arrangements. The favor of God cannot be with the Church or the social enterprise that closes even one eye to sin. Our new times must have, if they are to be Christian, the sternness of the Apostolic Church toward falsehood, dishonesty and pretense. Also "thiefstools" miltchBS owd eor

FREE TO MEN
Manly Vigor—Something New

Here is a little free pocket compendium in book form illustrated with 40 half-tones photos reproduction, and containing 8,000 words of easy advice on private matters, which I gladly send to any man anywhere in the world absolutely free of charge, and enclosed in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, so it is received by you like an ordinary private letter. I take all this special precaution in sending my free book because, where the health is concerned, and especially with reference to debility and nerve weakness, people everywhere prefer to keep the matter entirely to themselves. For this reason I seal the envelope and prepay full letter postage. I have thus mailed over a million of the books to men all over the world who requested them.

You, reader, will like this little book immensely, and can grasp the full meaning of its special advice from one or two careful readings. It contains a great deal of heretofore unpublished information of interest to all men, young or elderly, single or married, and may easily be of value to you throughout your entire lifetime.

In one part of the book I describe my little mechanical VITALIZER, which was invented by me to assist men to regain lost vigor. However, you are not to think of getting this VITALIZER at the present time, but first send for the advice book and read up on the subject of self preservation without drugs.

Please use the coupon below and the book will come to you free, sealed, and return mail.

SANDEN, Publisher.

Remember, I will send you, as stated above, my little book or pocket compendium, containing 40 illustrations and 8,000 words of private advice free, sealed, by mail.

This book is meant to point out to men certain errors which are being committed all over the world today by those who do not realize the harm resulting. It gives, in condensed form, and in easy language, the truths that I have learned from years upon years of experience. It deals with vigor and manly power as against weakness and debility. One part of the book describes my little VITALIZER, so all information is complete in this one volume. Please write or call today. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

The Provincial Memorial Home for Children

7 Wright Street

St. John, N. B.

The formal opening of the Provincial Memorial Home for Children, in the old Jack property on Wright Street, by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor William Pugsley last Tuesday was a most auspicious occasion. The spacious building was thronged with visitors both afternoon and evening, and all present were delighted with the admirable arrangements of the home, and spoke in high praise of the enterprise of those who planned the home and carried out their benevolent purpose with such success. None except those closely in touch with the efforts of the organizations and individuals whose work culminated in the ceremonies of Tuesday afternoon and evening, realized the magnitude of the work which has been so quickly and quietly carried on. As shown by the above picture, the dwelling is one of the old colonial mansions which were a distinguishing feature of earlier home building in St. John, and few of which survived the fire of 1877. It was built by the late William Jack, Q. C., one of the leading lawyers of the province in his day, and occupied by him as a residence during his lifetime.

Many Early Applicants.

Even before the furnishings were in the home, applications from many quarters poured in. Many of the cases were so insistent that postponement seemed out of the question, and before the opening day there were thirty-one youngsters from seven weeks to twelve years old, and much interested in their visitors, who in turn made much of the children. The children come from the Counties of Carleton, York, Kings, Queens, Northumberland, St. John and the City of St. John. In a few days there will be twice as many in the home, which has accommodation for seventy-five or eighty. The children have everything provided that will ensure their comfort and their quarters have a high standard of modern requirements in sanitation and fittings.

The guests were invited to tour the building, which they did with evident pleasure, making many comments on the neatness and daintiness of all that they saw. Refreshments were served after the tour of inspection had been made, and then as many as could crowd into the play room gathered there to hear the addresses which were part of the formal opening. The president of the association, Dr. James Manning, gave the introductory address, welcoming the guests and expressing pleasure at the large number present.

Dr. Manning's Address.

Your Honor, Ladies and Gentlemen:
It is my most pleasing duty this afternoon to assist in opening the Provincial Memorial Home for Children by making a few preliminary remarks, and by introducing the distinguished speakers for the occasion. I will be brief.

The province has long felt the need of more accommodation for homeless children, than has existed in the past. We desire to co-operate with the Wiggins M. O. Institution and with the St. John Protestant Orphans' Home which we are glad to see has lately added to its capacity by fitting up the Martello Hotel on the West Side. Wherein the limitations of their charters prevent them from receiving certain class of children, no matter how needy, this home stands with open door to fill such need. Heretofore it has amounted to this—for the hundreds of needy Protestant children—orphans or semi-orphans—in New Brunswick at and before the inception of this movement there was only accommodation for seventy-eight in both institutions. Consequently it had been necessary that hundreds of our own children have been compelled to seek refuge in homes provided by the Roman Catholic Church whose Christian charity has been so conspicuously manifested towards us. Indeed without it they would have starved to death, for they had nowhere else to turn. It is time for us to bear our own burdens. But there were noble-hearted men and women in this community who determined to try and do something to provide food and shelter for these homeless little ones. They conceived the idea of founding a Memorial Home for children which would be province-wide, and which would have no restrictions on admittance except the capacity of the Home. It is not for orphans only—but for others as well. The children are to be brought up in the Protestant faith; they are to wear no uniform; they are to go to the public schools like other children and in every possible way made to feel that this place is indeed a home.

Many of our gallant boys who crossed to Flanders were married and left wives and children behind them when they went to fight our battles. Among these have occurred some of the saddest bereavements of the war. Again: in the granting of pensions of any value it is required that there must be some wound or scar showing—some visible sign of disablement. So a soldier who has been gassed apparently cannot get any substantial pension. Yet there are men—I know one personally—who have been gassed; their lungs and stomachs have been so badly burned that they can only eat invalid's food for the rest of their lives, and they are almost certain victims of tuberculosis. The particular man I refer to cannot work and cannot eat. He is discharged. He has a wife and three little ones, and nothing coming in but a pension of $8 per month. He works when he can—poor fellow—but will never take a steady job again. And the little ones—what of them? They are not orphans. There is no place for them unless in such an institution as this. And, ladies and gentlemen, there are many, many such cases. These legacies of sickness and poverty—the direct results of the war—are heart-rending, and should never be allowed to exist by a grateful country. So it seems most appropriate that this Home for Children should be a memorial one. The marble shaft—the statue of bronze—the brass tablet—all might commemorate the names and deeds of our noble dead, but this magnificent idea has not only achieved this, but it carries out what was probably the last thought of the dying soldier—the care of the little ones at home. Truly this seems to be the most Christlike of all human activities. It has appealed to all peoples of every age.

EXTRACT FROM THE BYELAWS:

Referring to Admission to the Home and Conduct therein.

"All persons seeking to secure the admission of children to the Home, shall, before a child is admitted, or immediately thereafter, sign an application for admission on the form provided.

"No financial requirement nor payment of any amount is necessary in necessitous cases. No homeless child will be refused admission, and the Home will, to the best of its ability furnish clothing for those unprovided for.

"All children of school age will attend public school on the same footing as any other scholar. No uniformity of clothing nor badge of any kind shall be worn or displayed.

"Subject to the oversight of the children's supervising committee, and of the Matron, the children shall be allowed, as near as possible, the same freedom of action, and opportunity for recreation and play and of going in and out of the Home as prevails in any well regulated family. Attendance at Sunday School and religious worship every Sunday will be insisted upon on the part of all of suitable age. Within the Home religious instruction will be imparted on every suitable occasion, and the children taught to repeat their prayers and to reverence the Lord's Day."

Surely, ladies and gentlemen, here is no fitting place for jealousy and self-seeking. Is it not for the children we are engaged? Let us pull together and sink all thoughts of self in the needs of these helpless little ones, remembering the words of Him, who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these—ye have done it unto me."

The Lieutenant-Governor.

Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley was then called upon by the president to address the gathering. His Honor spoke with much earnestness and feeling, his remarks being greatly appreciated by the visitors, and more especially by the management of the Home. Immediately on arrival, His Honor was shown over the whole building by the president, and he pronounced his unqualified approval of the premises and the work. The greeting which he received from the hundreds who thronged the building was hearty and spontaneous as he passed from room to room showing interest in everything pertaining to the Home. On being introduced by the president, he congratulated Dr. Manning and all who had helped in the establishment of the Home and said that Dr. Manning had shown the best of reasons why the institution should be strongly supported by the whole community, since it was only limited in its benefits by its capacity to accommodate children. Its doors were opened more widely than those of orphanages and, wherever children needed institutional care, they could find it in the Home. The children would be given a fair start in life, the rudiments of an education, and the prospect of being taken into a good home. They would be helped to become good citizens, and would be the builders of a better Dominion. He commended the association in its choice of a building, so admirably situated, with spacious grounds giving ample room for enlargement if the expansion of the institution were necessary. He brought messages of sincere regret at inability to be present from Mrs. William Pugsley, unavoidably detained in Rothesay, and from Premier Foster obliged to attend an important business engagement.

The Lieutenant-Governor said that the duty of declaring the institution open, which had devolved upon him was a most pleasant one. On behalf of all who had assisted in procuring it, he handed it over to Dr. Manning and his assistants, assuring them that the people of the province would support this New Brunswick Memorial Home for Children, which had a very special appeal in its establishment at the close of the war. Before pronouncing the formal opening words, His Honor said that of all things on earth the most precious to God and the most valuable to the country was the child life. He then declared the Home open.

The Dedicatory Prayer.

At the conclusion of the Lieutenant-Governor's remarks, a dedicatory prayer, which was also an invocation for divine blessing was offered by Rev. R. P. McKinnon of St. Luke's Church, as follows:

"O God, we thank Thee out of the infinite love of Thy Father, heart, Thou didst send Thy Blessed Son to visit us, to save us, to befriend us. And we thank Thee that Jesus when He was on earth said 'Suffer the little children to come unto Me.'

"We thank Thee our Heavenly Father today, that Thou hast put it into the hearts of men and women to exemplify the gracious and loving invitation of the Lord Jesus by setting apart this Home for the children whom Thou dost love.

"May it please Thee, O God, to let Thy blessing be abundantly upon all who have to do with this Home. Visit with Thy favor those who have so generously contributed to its inception, give Thy heavenly wisdom and grace to those who have the care of the children. Grant that every child who finds shelter under this roof may be received into the arms of the Loving Lord Jesus to be cared for unto all eternity.

"Be graciously pleased, O Heavenly Father, to provide for all the needs of this Institution and make it always bright with the sunshine of Thy own Presence through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

The Musical Programme.

After the prayer, Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett delighted the entire gathering by her rendition of
(a) "The Mission of a Rose."
(b) "Love's Rhapsody."

The other parts of the opening ceremonies were carried out in the largest room in the home, nevertheless only a comparatively small number of the large gathering were able to obtain a position from which they could hear the addresses. Mrs. Crockett took her stand by the piano at the rear of the large entrance hall, and the opening notes of her first selection filled the entire building and secured instant attention, while from all quarters the drift was towards the music. As she continued, conversation ceased in every room, even the little children in the nurseries stopped their play to hear what was to many, if not all of them, the sweetest songs they had ever listened to. Mrs. Crockett graciously responded to an insistent encore by singing "My Shadow" in which the power and sweetness of her voice found full expression.

The accompaniments to these songs were played by Miss Alice G. Hea with her usual fine skill.

Mr. F. L. Potts.

F. L. Potts, M. L. A., gave an address. He stated he was impressed with the remarks of the president who made reference to the men who had gone overseas and been gassed; returning home physically unfit, many of them having to be nourished on certain foods, and who for the remainder of their lives would be incapable of performing very much work, and that no pensions were provided for men who did not bear wounds. Referring to this, Mr. Potts said even the laws governing the military service of Canada as they existed before this present war did not provide the proper reward in pensions to those that served the Empire so well, and that the curse of gas used by the Germans brought a new instrument of torture which incapacitated men even more so than the loss of a limb, and that legislation should be so amended as to provide a suitable pension for men who were incapacitated through gas.

It would be indeed hard for me to befittingly express my feelings today at this the opening of the Provincial Memorial Home for Children. Could there be a greater memorial to our fallen heroes than this Memorial Home for Children, perpetuating forever the memory of the fallen by nursing into life the little homeless waifs who may through misfortune be placed therein; throwing open the door wide, asking no questions, from whence you came, knowing you are among us and that you need a home. Gathered in this home today are people connected with many charitable and church organizations and I am glad of this opportunity to say a few words that may help in the furtherance of this great enterprise for the uplifting of humanity. Last night I read in the paper an interview a prominent citizen gave in connection with three citizens who had passed the three-score years and ten and who through misfortune were taken to the Municipal Home. Today we are opening an orphanage for the little toddlers who are incapable of taking care of themselves, and if we believe in our teachings we are told that we must be a child again. What really have we as Protestants done for the real comforts for those who have passed this three score years and ten? I always believe, and do now believe, that if the women put their minds to doing a thing it will in time become an accomplished fact. The men have subscribed money and labor towards this home; the women have been untiring in their efforts to furnish, equip and make it a home-like place. To them the greatest credit is due, and if a gathering of women from the different churches should form themselves into a committee for the purpose of making this home, not only for the care of orphan children but for the care of the old and infirm and for the uplifting of the unfortunate in the different walks of life, what a blessing it would be?

And in conclusion let me say the people of the Province of New Brunswick have shown the greatest interest in this movement towards a Provincial Home. Money, goods and equipment have reached this institution from all parts of New Brunswick. Societies, churches and private citizens have shown their great interest in this movement. Need of moneys will be great as we have not yet really felt the great burden that will be placed upon us through this terrible war, so let us from this small beginning build up such an institution that we may be proud to know it is the Memorial Home of those who have given up their lives that we might live. Knowing what the first principle of this institution is, we ask no questions, we only know that you are here among us, you suffer, you want a home. From whence you came we care not. Our arms are open to welcome you, care for you, provide for you; and as you grow up among us, and later take your place in life, you will always feel grateful, that out of the curse of war and blood sacrifice a living haven of rest was founded for those who are weary. We call upon all interested in New Brunswick to help in this great cause.

In The Evening.

In the evening refreshments were served again and the house was thronged once more. Altogether 943 persons registered their names in the visitors' book and almost as many more who did not register must have been present. Addresses were given by Dr. Manning, His Worship Mayor Hayes, Commissioner Thornton, Rev. W. R. Robinson, and H. Usher Miller. Black's orchestra provided instrumental music and the McEachern brothers' quartette sang several selections.

The opening, from commencement until the last visitor left in the evening, was a grand success.

The guests were received by the president, Dr. James Manning; Mrs. G. O. Akerley, vice-president, and Mrs. O'Brien, the matron. Refreshments were served by a committee from the L. O. B. A., Mrs. Frank Kerr and Mrs. C. E. Belyea pouring, with Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Mrs. John Shields, Mrs. John Sillitart, Mrs. Oliver Stinson, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. H. A. McKeown and Mrs. Fred Duff in the dining room, assisted by ladies from the various organizations.

Arrangement of The Home

On entering the building from Wright street through the curved driveway which leads to the house well set in from the street, one finds the playground on his left with a lot of little kiddies thoroughly enjoying themselves with ample space to "carry on." The pictures in the room are the gift of the W. C. T. U. at the Narrows, Queens county. Across the hall is a large room furnished by the L. O. B. A. which has one bed given in memory of Ella Perry by Captain G. H. Perry. The L. O. B. A. has likewise furnished the main hall, the reception room and the maid's room and done so liberally and well. The halls downstairs are finished in mahogany and lynchist with fumed oak furniture, and nicely carpeted. A. O. Skinner presented the six handsome rugs.

Off the large hall at the head of the first flight of stairs is an emergency room fitted in case of sickness amongst the children so as to keep them from contact with the others. It has been equipped by the Jewish ladies of St. John and by H. M. Ferguson and Annie McAnish.

THE PROVINCIAL MEMORIAL HOME

The Relief Society of Ludlow street Baptist church have furnished a large bedroom on this floor, in which are a bed endowed by Jewel Rebeckah Lodge, one endowed by the North End W. C. T. U. and another by Mrs. L. B. Smith. Pictures especially procured to interest children adorn the walls of the bedrooms.

An attractive reception room, with a fire cheerfully flashing a welcome from the fireplace, and with furniture of fumed oak, and with valuable rugs donated by A. O. Skinner, is on the first floor. Here also is the dining room, nicely equipped by the Orange Lodge of Chipman, Queens, N. B. The kitchen is large and fitted with up-to-date appliances by Colonel Duff of Toronto and the McClary Co., Ltd., who donated a large range and hot water boiler with a capacity of 300 gallons. Set tubs and pantries are in white enamel, and there are two roomy pantries attached to the kitchen, as well as a store-room.

The matron's room was furnished by a friend of the institution from St. Martins, and adjoining it is a bedroom for the smaller children with tinner beds than are to be found in the other rooms. This room has been furnished by Ladies, True Blue Lodge, No. 98. The nursery is an especially bright and attractive room with several small beds and two cradles which were occupied Tuesday by 2 wee creatures whose little eyes were closed in sleep and who were oblivious to the fact that they were the centre of watchful interest for scores of visitors.

Almost all the third floor is devoted to bed chambers. In one of the rooms are two beds furnished by the Kitchener Khartoum club of North End, opening into another bedroom equipped by the I. O. G. T. Here is found a bed endowed by Mrs. Arthur Lemmon of North End in memory of her son Arthur, killed in action on June 2nd, 1916. Other beds have been endowed by the W. C. T. U., Junior Lancaster; Red Cross, H. M. Ferguson, Rexton, N. B., and the infants' room by the Lend-A-Hand Circle of the King's Daughters' Guild. Forty children can comfortably sleep on the third floor of the building as it is at present arranged but with enlargements which can be made more can be accommodated. The Prentice Boys, No. 30, of West St. John, have a room furnished on this floor and also there is one given by the Orangemen of St. Martins.

In the basement of the building is much space which is not being utilized for the present, but which can well be converted into play rooms. One of the rooms here is used for a storehouse for groceries, another for vegetables. The house is comfortably heated with a furnace and with radiators in most of the rooms, fireplaces in several others. The lighting system is modern and there are commodious bathrooms. With the building those in charge of the home have secured the two acres of ground which surround it, as well as a good sized barn which it is planned later to convert into a hospital so as to have a building in which contagious cases might be kept separate.

Board of Management.

Those who have worked for the attainment of this memorial home, who have made a reality out of what just a few months ago seemed but a dream, are certainly to be congratulated upon their success, and they feel grateful for the ready response which has attended their appeals from all countries. Lieut. Governor Pugsley is patron of the Home, Hon. Mr. Justice McKeown, honorary president; Dr. Jas. Manning, president; Mrs. G. O. Akerley, first vice-president; H. M. Ferguson, of Rexton, second vice-president; Francis Kerr, secretary; H. U. Miller, treasurer; Rev. W. R. Robinson, chairman of the board of directors. Rev. Mr. Robinson is also chairman of the admission committee with Mrs. H. A. McKeown, and Mrs. G. O. Akerley, while these three also compose the committee on internal management. W. B. Tennant and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., are on the directorate with the officers, while S. E. Elkin, M. P., K. J. MacRae and T. E. G. Armstrong form the board of trustees. Mrs. Jennie O'Brien is the efficient matron and Mrs. Eliza Munde is the trained nurse.

PATROLS TO FIGHT SINN FEIN

Farmers' Sons Band Together to Suppress Outrages.

(Daily Express Special Correspondent.)
Abbeyfeale, County Limerick, Jan. 23.—One of the most significant developments in the awakening of public opinion in this country has taken place in the parish of Abbeyfeale, and the neighboring one of Kilmorra, in County Kerry.

In both places vigilance committees, consisting of farmers' sons, have been formed. Their purpose is to preserve order and prevent outrage, and they are succeeding. Squads of these young men nightly patrol districts where their local knowledge leads them to believe that trouble is imminent.

These young men know all the suspects, and they have served notice that any one found causing trouble in the district will not be handed over to the authorities, but will be dealt with summarily by the vigilance committee. A thorough thrashing is the usual punishment for such suspects. Any outrage, such as burning hayricks or shooting into cottages, will meet with retaliation in kind. Already the moral effect in the two parishes has been considerable, and there is a freedom from outrage that makes them remarkable in this otherwise troubled part of Ireland.

It is well-known that these farmers' sons mean business. This was evidenced by an incident in Abbeyfeale on Christmas-eve. Four local bullies set on two young men and thrashed them simply as a display of defiance. The beaten men ran for protection to the police barracks yard. They could not get in the barracks itself because that is a thing difficult to accomplish in Ireland after dark.

The bullies in triumph swaggered through the town, and a young farmer's son, one of the prime movers in the vigilance committee movement, heard of the incident. He had the four ruffians thoroughly thrashed and driven from the place.

The vigilance idea first originated in Kilmorra, where a number of hayricks were burned out of revenge. The farmer's son took up the matter, established patrols, threatened chastisement of offenders, and in a brief time reduced the parish to an almost monotonous quietude.

In Abbeyfeale, separated only by a twisting river, the conditions forced the farmers' sons to take similar action, particularly as the transport workers' union was endeavouring to absorb the farm hands and operators in the co-operative creameries which stud this beautiful countryside. All the inhabitants are Sinn Feiners politically, but the question was soon raised whether the transport workers or farmers would prevail.

In one case a man employed in a creamery resigned to take another job some distance away. He became dissatisfied with it, and a demand was made that the man who succeeded him should be discharged and that he should be given his old job back. Failure to comply with this demand was to be met with the adulteration of the milk. The farmer's son met this threat with a promise of drastic retaliation and punishment, and the transport workers experienced their first defeat.

There are about 4,000 people in this parish, and the vigilance committee is more than 100 strong. It can also be augmented as necessity requires. The movement is spreading to other parts of both counties and the police in consequence are having an easier time.

Generous Contributions.

Those interested in the success of the institution have much cause for gratitude because of the generosity and kindness of charitable citizens and friends all over the province. While some large individual donations have been received, the number of smaller money gifts has testified to the unusual interest taken by people of all classes.

The financial burden assumed involved a payment of $5,000.00 on the purchase price of $15,000.00 agreed to be paid for the building and grounds attached. This $5,000.00 was quickly and easily raised and paid.

In addition to the above the sum of $2,622.00 has been received as contributions towards the furnishing of the home in addition to many useful and costly articles of fitting and furniture, among which may be again mentioned a kitchen stove and fittings costing $300.00 from McClary & Company. As noticed above many individuals and societies have provided for separate rooms.

It is hard to say exactly what outlay has been involved in these furnishings so generously bestowed, but those who have visited the home will know that several thousands of dollars are represented under this head. It will require perhaps $1,000.00 more to put everything into shape according to present accommodations.

Before committing themselves to the acquisition and maintenance of the home, those in charge made a careful calculation of the resources available for its permanent maintenance. It was estimated that an annual income of about $9,000.00 per year is necessary on the present scale. Before making a move pledges of unquestionable value amounting to over $3,500.00 were before the committee. With this in view, it was felt that no doubt at all attached to the movement. The resources available for an effective and energetic organization dealing with a matter of such supreme importance have not even been tapped. The committee has not had time to make any systematic canvass for funds. It has not really laid its case before the people. It will be a matter of surprise and disappointment if the receipts on maintenance account do not reach a total of $12,000.00 during the first year. The committee in charge has in view the immediate necessity of further accommodation. It is encouraged by offers of assistance in that direction, especially that of the Sons of England, one branch of which has between $500.00 and $1,000.00 available for that purpose. The gratuitous work of carpenters, plumbers, electricians, and painters, freely placed at the committee's disposal makes the question of building purely the cost of material.

Practically all the work done on the home has been donated—a fact which shows how the idea back of the institution has gripped the conscience of working men and women. If the response from other classes of society at all keeps its pace, the future of the home is bright indeed. The value of such work runs into thousands of dollars, and the workmen of our community have put in their donation of toil, in the belief that the moneyed classes are equally in earnest in this movement. What is the response?

In addition to the donations above noted there have been received the following gifts: Mittens from the Kitchener Knitting Club. Quilts from Mrs. G. Fred Fisher. Infants' Clothing from Mrs. Hooper. Children's Clothing from the Relief Society Ludlow Street Baptist Church. Caps from Scovill Bros. Boots J. M. Humphrey Co. Middy Blouses, Infants' Blankets and Clothing from M. R. A. Ltd. Children's Rocking Chairs, A. Ernest Everett. Quilts from the Millidge Ave. Sewing Circle.

It can easily be understood that many things may have been overlooked during the past three months when so much work had to be done by a comparatively few. The committee especially requests that if any instances have been noticed in which donations have not been acknowledged, either personally or through the press, that the donors will be good enough to draw the fact to the attention of the treasurer, Mr. H. Usher Miller.

MR. FRANK HALL.

Weyvale, Ontario.
"For some two years I was a sufferer from Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia.

"I tried every remedy I heard of without any success until the wife of a local merchant recommended 'Fruit-a-tives.'

"I procured a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and began the treatment, and my condition commenced to improve immediately.

"The Dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation.

"I feel that I owe a great debt to 'Fruit-a-tives' for the benefit I derived from them."

LOYAL STRIKERS

Go Slow Methods Which Salvage Japanese Consciences.

(Daily Express) Correspondent.
Tokyo, Jan. 23.—Japanese workmen have successfully practised a "go slow" strike, which dispenses with the need for strike funds. A recent example on a large scale was eagerly watched by the whole country, and its success has caused much anxiety to employers and to the government.

Seventeen thousand workmen of the Kawasaki Dockyard, Kobe, presented the firm with demands for a 70 per cent. increase of wages and payment of a large bonus which had been promised but not disbursed. They went to the yard daily at the usual hour and took up their accustomed stations, but practically no work was done. The management was non-plussed, and surrendered after ten days of it. The bonus, amounting to £50,000 has now been paid.

The law prohibiting trade unions has made it impossible to accumulate strike funds. The result is that Japanese strikers usually last only three or four days, and the men have not won by then they have to submit, as they have no funds.

The new method appeals to Japanese psychology, which is strongly influenced by ideas of loyalty. To go to the factory ready and willing to work if one's just demands are granted is not disloyalty to one's master, but a polite and samurai-like method of righting one's grievances.

The Final Test.

"I thought you said this bathing suit was in fast colors," said Hinks, indignantly, to the hosiery of whom he had bought this suit this morning. "Yes, sir, that's what I said," returned the hosiery.

"Well, every wretched stripe on the thing has come off on my back," retorted Hinks.

"Ah, but wait until you try to get off your back," smiled the hosiery, suavely. "Then you'll see."

LORD MILNER'S VEXED PROBLEM

Cairo a Mere Crust on a Surface of Lava.

(By Percival Phillips, Daily Express Special Correspondent.)

Cairo, Dec. 31.—Cairo, in the distance, and there have been no further disorders in the province. Informal conversations have taken place between representatives of both sides, which, although not binding in any way and confined to generalities, give grounds for the hope that influential native elements will eventually consent to deal openly with the Commission. With the resumption of work by the students and barristers, all strikes have ended, save minor industrial disputes at Alexandria.

The members of the Milner Commission are grappling manfully with their task, the magnitude of which becomes more apparent as they go deeper into the tangled affairs of internal organization and government. They have sat daily since they began their work nearly a fortnight ago, even working at Christmas. They have commanded the Semiramis Hotel, on the banks of the Nile. A systematic examination is being made of all the Government departments in turn, with a view to their improvement. Today the members of the Commission are dealing with the Ministry of the Interior. They are inundated with a vast mass of documents at each step of the way, and progress is necessarily slow. They will probably remain in Cairo another three weeks before proceeding to the Sudan, and are likely to take three months more to complete their investigation.

One fact which is most striking to a stranger who has newly arrived in Cairo after hearing innumerable reports of the dangerous attitude of the Egyptians is the apparent utter indifference to Europeans, who go about as freely as before the war and are not only not made a target for hostile demonstrations, but are regarded, so far as I have been able to judge, with the usual courtesy.

I have not ventured into the native quarters after nightfall, but in the daytime I can wander at leisure in the bazaars and through the labyrinth of narrow streets without fear of molestation. That, at least, was my experience yesterday, merchants saluting from the fronts of their shops eagerly importing a visit, and even proffering business cards on which was scrawled "A Merry Christmas!"

I pushed unnoticed through the dense and picturesque throng which fills the Muski, the most famous bazaar in Egypt, without seeing any authority save an occasional smart Egyptian policeman and two mounted men. The only bent on souvenir-hunting. Several ladies were calmly threading their way through the tortuous side-streets. In the European quarters there was the same absence of armed force or signs of the discontent which is undoubtedly smouldering in the breasts of the impassive natives. An occasional Army Jerry dashing through the traffic was the only sign of military activity. British soldiers stroll round the shops, and officers and their wives are seen riding or motoring. They may also be seen in fannels going to play tennis.

The road to the Pyramids is filled with the carriages and cars of cheerful sightseers. The terraces of Shepherd's and the Continental Hotels are filled with the usual gay throng taking tea in the sunshine. Both hotels were crowded on Christmas night with dancers, while the main topic of today is not revolt, but Saturday's races at Heliopolis.

This is but the surface of things, and it is difficult to realize that it resembles the crust on the surface of lava. There are plenty of troops, armoured cars, and tanks in and round about Cairo to crush any serious rising, but they are skilfully concealed from the eyes of the diffident gentry in fizzes who fill the cafes and sip coffee as they gaze out with inscrutable eyes on the busy life of the streets.

Must England Fight Reds To Retain Hold on India?

"To make a wide impression" on the elements of discontent in the Punjab, according to their commander, Brig. Gen. R. E. H. Dyer, British and Indian troops fired without warning last April on a meeting of Indians at Amritsar, killing five hundred persons and wounding about fifteen hundred in ten minutes. This action is now being investigated by a committee headed by Lord Hunter. The violent outbreaks of disorder in Calcutta, Bombay, and the Punjab, eventuated from the passive-resistance movement against the Rowlatt Act, which is directed at revolutionary and anarchical crime, and is made necessary by the attempts to overthrow British rule in India. Agitators seized upon this measure, the London Morning Post tells us, to organize an agitation which "threatened the very existence of British rule in India." Events in Afghanistan, and even in Bolshevik Russia, "may or may not have had a connection with this movement."

GOOD ROADS CUT LIVING COST BY ASSISTING IN LARGER PRODUCTION OF NECESSITIES

Good roads have an influence which has a vital interest for all classes of people. They enable the farmers—food producers—and the manufacturers of other necessities to make greater profits through larger production, and at the same time they enable the consumers to get a better living at lower cost.

Suppose the farmers supplying a part of the food of a nearby town have only poor mud roads, and some come to market on the last part of a market day in making the hard, laborious journey to town and back. They make a few trips as their needs of money will allow, and cultivate only as much food as they can dispose of in their short time in town.

The people of the town must pay high prices for the farm products and even then get an insufficient amount, and are compelled to bring in manufactured products from a distance at great expense for transportation. At certain seasons, climatic conditions make the roads impassable, so the farmer stays at home and the town man gets no fresh farm products at all. Twenty years ago a large number of towns and villages in the United States were cut off in this way.

But suppose the farmers and the town people agree that they will eliminate these conditions; they give the mud roads a hard surface so the highways are useful every day in the year, and cut new roads so every grove in the district is within reach. These are some of the results:

- 1.—The farmers go to town oftener because the journey has become easier and takes less time.
 - 2.—Their market in town has become larger so they cultivate larger crops, which they can afford to sell at lower prices. Their own profits increase because of the greater sale.
 - 3.—With more time in town and more money the farmers increase their purchases at the stores, and both the buyers and the sellers benefit.
 - 4.—Changing weather can no longer separate the town from the rural districts, so the town people obtain products of the farm all the year round.
 - 5.—The farms are made to produce a greater variety of crops because the market is open throughout the year. The benefits do not stop here, however, and the big cities beyond the town also share in the general advantage. They receive food products from the town, which becomes a relay station, and ship more goods from the factories for sale by the town's merchants.
- Linked with good roads is improvement of the means of transportation.

Good roads make travel easier for all kinds of vehicles, and introduce motor cars and trucks. As a result, the country at large is made less dependent on railroads.

The roads go where railroads cannot and rivers cannot penetrate, making whole districts independent of these means or at least giving free access to them. In many places, motor trucks and buses are giving all the conveniences of the railroad to people whom the railway could never reach.

No town or community is regarded now as isolated, cut off from the neighboring districts and the great outside world, just because it is not on or near a railroad line. If it provides good roads, modern transportation methods will make the connection.

Not the least of the advantages of the growing out of good roads is the increase in the value of all property which the roads serve. The fact that a farm has been developed into a more efficient producer because of better highways is only one factor in making the property worth more; the fact of the road being near also helps to raise the selling value.

The increase in value invariably is greater than any expenditure which the property owner may have made to obtain road improvement. Often in a city, the paving of a street will raise the value of the adjoining property so that the increase is several times greater than the owner's share of the expense.

When the owner of a large property on the outskirts of a growing city offers his land for sale at home value, he first puts in paved streets and other improvements, and counts his outlay as an investment and charges a profit on it. The buyers recognize the increased desirability of the property and are willing to pay for it.

At the same time all adjoining property, whether toward the city or further toward the country district, also takes on a higher selling price. The effect is the same as when farm lands grow in value because an improved highway has been placed near them.

In one of the South American countries, a great boulevard touching six cities is being laid out with portions separated for different kinds of traffic. It will make the adjoining estates much more valuable as well as adding to their beauty, and the proprietors of the estates are paying for the work for that reason.

Although there are many benefits, economic reasons—better living, cheaper living, the extension of commerce, and larger pay for the producer's efforts—alone would explain why the Good Roads Movement is making the world a better place to live in.

and Irish descendants, don't forget that this man De Valera is doing almost the same thing in this country that we are deprecating the so-called radicals for. Not a native of Ireland, I understand, three thousand miles away, he is going to solve all their problems. How ridiculous, and still therein lies a danger, for with $10,000,000 he may do enough harm to embroil the United States in a war with Great Britain."

De Valera got the freedom of the city from Mayor Campbell at the City Hall and beamed delightedly as the Mayor ennobled the Sinn Fein movement in a speech in the aldermanic chamber, where, it seems only yesterday, the Prince of Wales heard so many nice things said to him.

"The president" and Mayor Hylan swapped bows and the Mayor read to De Valera the following speech: "It is a privileged honor, personal as well as official, to greet most cordially in the person of Eamonn de Valera, the president of the Irish Republic, I do so officially as chief executive of the city of New York, in concord and in conformity with the resolution of the board of aldermen calling on me as Mayor to convey to him the welcome and the addition to the freedom of the metropolis of the western world, the city of New York."

"The performance of this official duty which is personal satisfaction as an American citizen, who feels that self-determination in principle and practice should not be denied the people of Ireland. The question that must be answered, sooner or later, is why Ireland, alone among the smaller nations, should be excluded from a just and legitimate share in the triumph of the late war."

"Your own enthusiastic and most sincere reception throughout our glorious country and, may I say, offers his land for sale at home value, he first puts in paved streets and other improvements, and counts his outlay as an investment and charges a profit on it. The buyers recognize the increased desirability of the property and are willing to pay for it."

American Altruism. "In the great war our nation as a whole demonstrated to the world that we were governed by the high ideals of justice and independence for the oppressed of every race in every land. The integrity and dauntless valor of these heroes proved them to be worthy sons of the indomitable race which furnished the majority of this regiment, and filled the ranks of others renowned for splendid service. We know that these brave soldiers who fought the battles for Great Britain, France, Italy, America and all the Allies, were sustained by the conviction that when peace came it would be a permanent peace because founded on justice."

"I note that more than seventy constituencies in Ireland voted at a recent election for an independent Irish Republic, and in your person these people recognize their duly elected leader. Whether or not the world at large subscribes to these resolutions for a separate national existence and leadership, the truth of the following may not be denied: "A portion of mankind may be said to constitute a nation, the members of which unite among themselves by common sympathies which do not exist between them and others, which make them co-operate more willingly with each other than with other people, and which make them desire to be under the same Government and seek to be governed by themselves exclusively. This is merely saying that the question of government ought to be decided by the governed."

"We have issued bonds," he said, "and these bonds are bonds of the Irish people. These bonds will be profitable in the end. Those who buy them will have a personal share in the republic of Ireland. We are not so much interested in the bonds as we are in the by-products of them, such as the devoted help they will inspire."

Credit to Griffiths. De Valera credited Arthur Griffiths with being the father of Sinn Fein, and got an ovation when he concluded. The next to appear was Warren Shaw Fisher, commander in chief of the United American War Veterans. He provoked the hisses for Great Britain. After asserting that his organization was thoroughly in favor of Sinn Fein plans, although certain politicians were not, Mr. Fisher, reading a prepared manuscript, said: "This political element in both parties is a menace to Americanism and have and are fed on British gold, as they would deliver America into bondage, and tear down the American flag from the high seas at the point of treason, so have been bought to fight your cause. We, as Americans, have banded together to fight for fair play and justice. One of our principles is to challenge Great Britain for the mastery of the high seas."

Justice Daniel F. Cohalen and Dr. David Glenn also spoke. In Alderman Quinn's protest against the loan drive, and his attack on Mayor Hylan, read in part: "I feel it somebody's duty to protest against the financial appeal being made by the so-called 'president' of the 'Irish Republic.' "No more generous race exists than the Irish, and it is a pity to see the duly elected representative mayor of this city pandering to a proposition to relieve Ireland's descendants in this country of $10,000,000. At first this 'Irish Republic' bond issue was considered a joke, but when a cheap, pettifogging demagogue like the mayor we have in the city hall allows himself to become a party to a fraudulent scheme such as this so-called 'Irish Republic' bond issue is, it is about time to raise a protest against such cheap claptrap political pandering for votes, and tell the people the truth."

"A bond issue is a financial lien against tangible property. The misty dream of a deluded agitator is not and never can be called security for a bond issue. "Good Americans, including Irish you a box—(Adv.)"

DE VALERA GIVEN FREEDOM OF CITY BY MAYOR HYLAN

Irish Alderman Protests at Action of Cheap, Pettifogging Demagogue.

New York, Jan. 18.—With more than three hours of oratory, and only one volley of hisses for Great Britain, the Sinn Fein campaign for ten million American dollars for Ireland's independence got under way Sunday at the Lexington Theatre, this city. Under the spur of a thousand dollar personal subscription from Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, who gave his full sanction to the drive, a small army of canvassers will get out to sell the certificates which are not an obligation and bear no interest until six months after British troops are out of Ireland.

Alderman W. F. Quinn, himself an Irishman, issued a statement bitterly attacking the loan, and characterizing "this so-called 'Irish Republic' bond issue," as a "fraudulent scheme." The mayor, for his part in the opening ceremonies, was labeled "a cheap, pettifogging demagogue."

Gets Instant Relief After Four Years

TORTURED WOMAN TRIED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Kidney Disease and Insomnia Had Made Her a Nervous Wreck Till She Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dunvegan, Inverness Co., N. S., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Women who are dragging weary limbs around, weighed down with a suffering and tiredness that can find no rest, will find sunshine and hope in the message Catherine McPherson of this place sends to them.

"I have just used one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills," Miss McPherson states, "but they did wonderful good for me. For nearly four years kidney disease tortured me. It finally developed into diabetes. I became a nervous wreck and insomnia was added to my troubles. I was so weak and tired and irritable that every trifle added to my discomfort. "Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me instant relief. They are a wonderful medicine. I shall recommend them to all my friends."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. They put the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. That's why they bring health and restful sleep in their train.

STRENGTHEN BODY TO FIGHT "FLU"

If Constitution is Strong There is No Danger from Influenza—How it Can be Made So.

Reports from the States indicate that there are many cases of influenza in some of the cities, especially in Chicago, where the total is in thousands. This is a serious matter. Recalling the "flu" epidemic in New Brunswick it is to be sincerely hoped that these parts will be untouched by the ravage. But it is well to be prepared. It is necessary if there is to be a state of preparedness that the body be put in a position to conquer the germs, that the blood be purified, the muscles and organs strengthened and the various parts be in condition to perform their functions correctly. The old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is certainly correct in this case, and here the prevention recommended is "Liv-rite Tonic."

This great medicine has already brought back health to codies which had long been troubled, restored life to organs which had for years been out of order, cleansed diseased systems of their poisons and rid the blood of its impurities. Thus it places the constitution in such a healthy, rugged state that it is almost immune to attack from the germs which beset it. It will pay you to have "Liv-rite" in your home—it is a dollar well invested. If your druggist cannot supply you, send his name to the Maritime Drug Co., 108 Prince Wm. street, or send them a dollar and they will forward you a box.—(Adv.)

Must Be Just. (Toronto Telegram.) Canada's government cannot penalize the anarchy of capitalism and let out the Socialists who tried to supersede national authority with the powers of a soviet government at Winnipeg. The penitentiary doors must be open for the purpose of letting in the cap-

Free Yourself of Rupture Without Pain, Operation or Loss of Time

FOR the benefit of our readers we take pleasure in publishing the Brooks offer to save all who are ruptured from wearing painful makeshift trusses that do not cure.

The Brooks Appliance Co. gladly sends their remarkable patented Appliance ON TRIAL, to prove that it holds the rupture back, keeps it in place, prevents it coming down or slipping out and finally assists Nature to heal up the rupture.

No man or woman ever can look and feel his or her best while suffering the torment, pain and discomfort of rupture.

Every day that you suffer from rupture—every hour of truss torture that you endure—after you read this page is your own fault.

For many years we have been telling you that no makeshift truss will ever help you. We have told you about the harm ill-fitting trusses are doing. We have told you that the only truly comfortable, sanitary and scientific device for holding rupture is the Brooks Rupture Appliance.

Now we offer to prove it to you, entirely at our risk. We will send you a Brooks Rupture Appliance on trial. If you really want to be rid of your rupture fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Instead of wearing a steel spring or inflexible harness, try the velvet-soft Brooks Appliance.

Instead of the old hard or stuffed pad, use the soft rubber automatic air-cushion of a Brooks Appliance.

The Brooks Appliance clings to you without force and you are hardly conscious of its presence. But above all else, it HOLDS always.

Within an hour after you receive the Brooks Appliance, if you take advantage of this remarkable trial offer, you will throw away your truss forever.

Over 685,000 People Have Accepted This Offer. Why Not You?

Doesn't that prove that the Brooks Appliance is not an experiment but a positive success—that it does all we claim for it? Among these 685,000 men, women and children there must be hundreds whose condition was identical with yours. Can you afford not to investigate and satisfy yourself when it costs you nothing to prove what the Brooks Appliance will do for you?

This wonderful device is a triumph of scientific and mechanical genius, the outcome of more than 30 years experience and the results accomplished by its use are little short of miraculous.

Mr. C. E. Brooks, inventor of the Appliance. Mr. Brooks cured himself of rupture over 30 years ago and patented the Appliance from his personal experience. If ruptured, write TODAY to the Brooks Appliance Company, Marshall, Michigan.

Many hundreds of physicians and surgeons commend the Brooks Appliance and condemn makeshift trusses as more harmful and dangerous than any other method of retaining and treating rupture. Thousands of people have written us testifying to the amazing results they have secured from this great invention. Many of these people live right in your vicinity and we will be glad to send you copies of their thankful letters if you will ask for them when you write.

Men, Women and Children Find the Brooks Appliance Equally Effective.

No matter if your rupture is old and severe or only recently developed, no matter if you are young or old, you should not fail to profit by this NO-RISK TRIAL OFFER.

No other rupture support, truss, lock, device, pad or plaster is offered to the public under so broad a guarantee of satisfaction.

If for any reason whatever you do not wish to keep the Brooks Appliance after you try it, send it back. You don't have to give any reason. You are to be the sole judge. There will be no argument, no dispute or misunderstanding.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Accept This Offer.

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance embodying the principles that inventors have sought after for years.
2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.
3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.
4. Unlike ordinary so-called pads, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.
5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.
6. The soft, pliable bands do not give the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.
7. Nothing to get foul; it can be washed without any injury.
8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.
9. All materials are the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.
10. Our reputation is so thoroughly established and our prices so reasonable, our terms so fair, that you should not hesitate to send the free coupon TODAY.
