

BE GENEROUS, GREY PLEADS, WITH IRELAND

Better Quit Island Entirely, He Declares, Than Continue in Present Murderous State.

MUST HAVE ONE NAVAL POLICY ONLY

Admits Murder of British Officers Last Sunday Has Complicated Matters Greatly.

London, Nov. 24.—The debate in the House of Lords on Irish Home Rule tonight was made memorable by a notable appeal from Viscount Grey, former Secretary for Foreign Affairs to the Government for an eleventh hour attempt by generosity to Ireland to fashion the bill into an acceptable control in Ireland, it would be better to withdraw all the armed forces and leave Ireland to find her own salvation.

Same as Dominions

He outlined the minimum as, first, placing Ireland in precisely the same position with regard to foreign affairs as the great self-governing Dominions, with the same right to be consulted about commercial treaties and second, only one army in these two islands. He would not, however, contemplate the maintenance of any imperial troops in Ireland after home rule had passed, unless Ireland desired it.

"I am perfectly certain and the history of wars shows it, that unless there is only one army and one naval authority, neither Ireland nor Great Britain could be defended," said Lord Grey.

"That must be without qualification. Whatever Dominion home rule might mean we must from the beginning have no ambiguity on this question."

Mr. Clark in the course of his remarks said that prohibitionists should work irrespective of political parties to bring about the nomination of none but those favorable to prohibition. They good government would result. Judges and officials should be sympathetic to the act whether inspectors, police, magistrates or judges of the supreme court.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—Following a meeting of the directors of the Atlantic Sugar Refiners, Limited, held here this afternoon, it was announced that a special general meeting of the shareholders of the enterprise had been called to take place Saturday morning, December 4th.

The position of the company would, it was stated, be placed so far as possible before the stockholders, who would be asked to ratify several new by-laws passed today by the board.

New Finance Plans

They are charged with published false reports and reports calculated to cause disaffection of the men were summoned on two charges, one relating to the alleged flogging of a youth at the Porto Bello barracks, and the second to the killing of two policemen near Tullow. A third charge has been withdrawn by the authorities.

Dublin is Quiet

Dublin, long accustomed to tragedy, has settled back with two days of outward calm, which has, however, an indefinable and unhealthy quality, cloaking much behind the scenes, and there is activity in both camps. When the daylight hours pass almost without incident, the curfew hours has come to be the signal for the Crown forces to commence unceremonious searches of all sorts of premises, the seizure of any wanted documents and arrests of suspected persons.

Many Arrests Made

These arrests are becoming almost indiscriminate, but in many cases the detention ends with a quiz at headquarters which shows the absence of connection with the Republican movement. As no class of residences, even the first-class hotels, is exempt from these searches there has been a marked diminution of cross-channel traffic and an almost total cessation of tourist travel.

Reports from various parts of the country today recounted a widespread seizure of bicycles, which the authorities at Dublin are endeavoring to move on the part of activities to enforce the motor licensing restrictions.

The search of Liberty Hall was thorough. The walls were opened and the floor torn up, and it is alleged arms, ammunition, bombs and trunks were found. A large quantity of documents and flags were carried into the street and burned.

LUNENBURG MAN HAS JUST HEARD OF RUSS. SOVIET

Lives at the Extreme Upper End of North America Where News Comes Slow.

NATIVES THOUGHT WORLD WAS ENDING

Public House Keeper Quelled Excitement by "Nearer My God to Thee."

Special to The Standard.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—Not until about four weeks ago did William P. McLennan, of Lunenburg, N. S., hear the word Bolshevik or know that Russia is now governed or misgoverned by a Soviet system, or even suspect that there is such a thing as a Soviet in the scheme of creation. Although he calls Lunenburg "home," Mr. McLennan has been away from that Blue-nose shipbuilding and seafaring base for many a year. When he stopped over here he was on his way back to the other edge of the American continent—Cape Prince of Wales, which lies within thirty-three miles of Siberia and forms one side of the gateway leading from Behring Sea into the desolate Arctic Ocean. From there he reached Vancouver ten days or so ago, in company with Dr. J. E. Dutcher, medical officer of the Lord River Tin Mining Co. of Cape Prince of Wales.

"And what is the latest news from Cape Prince of Wales?" Mr. McLennan was asked. "The latest news is that the isolation of the place is suggested by his answer, for his news is eleven months old.

End-of-the-World Panic.

"There was a great panic up there last December," he replied. "The fear that the world was to end on December 17 spread all over the far north country and Eskimo and white alike caught the contagion.

"The natives were fully convinced of approaching annihilation and prepared accordingly for the great catastrophe. Some buried their traps and household treasures and even prepared their graves, although who was to put them away they did not explain. One business-like half-breed, Big Mike, persuaded many of them to hang over to him all their possessions. He was later compelled to return them.

"The passing of December 16 was such as to strengthen the general fear. A high wind was blowing, so strong that stones were caught up and hurled through the air. That is no uncommon thing in an Arctic breeze. Our bunkhouse was bombarded with stones all the night and many windows broken, although no one was killed or injured. The natives all went a bit crazy, but they were not the only ones. Sirock Charlie, a white man who runs the public house, herded most of the natives into his big room and started the phonograph playing "Nearer My God to Thee," while they sang hymns and prayed the night through. Sirock has been in there twenty-seven years.

SINN FEINERS PLOTTED RUIN OF LIVERPOOL

Over 125 Irishmen Involved in Plan to Blow up All Import Docks.

FIRES WERE TO AID THE SCHEME

Manchester Power Plant Was Also to be Wrecked at Same Time.

London, Nov. 24.—Alleged plans of the Sinn Feiners for blowing up the Liverpool docks and the Manchester power and water plants are said to show that they were made in military fashion after detailed reports with drawings had been forwarded to the "Irish Republican Army" officers by spies at each place that was destined for destruction. The plans, which are said to have been captured when the documents relating to the spreading of typhoid and glanders were captured, were made public tonight after the statement of Sir Hamar Greenwood in the House of Commons.

An Elaborate Scheme.

The Liverpool plans called for twenty-three tons of twenty-five cnginers and seventy-five private and 800 pounds of a high explosive for attacking 21 points, most of them dock gates, with a view to stranding ships. Diversions suggested in the report would consist of numerous fires in cotton and other warehouses, starting half hour before the other operations.

In Manchester.

Apparently every precaution was taken for dealing with the "enemy forces"—the police of both Liverpool and Manchester. The latter plan dealt with the destruction of the street car power plant in Manchester, serving both industries and tram lines, with hammers and explosives, and also the Clayton Valley pumping station, which furnishes water to a large part of the city.

U. S. ELECTIONS KEPT HUNTERS FROM PROVINCE

Moose, Deer and Bear Fall Victims to Hunters from Province and States.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 24.—Although the present hunting season has seen many non-resident sportsmen in and out of the woods, returning with one or more moose and deer, the month of November has not been a specially good one for the province because of the Presidential election, which kept the majority of the hunters at home. Up to date the number of moose shot by outside hunters, the records of which have been sent to this city, has reached 60, while 55 deer have also fallen victim to their guns.

The number of hunters who have succeeded in getting either moose or deer, they landed five specimens of black bear.

Local guides state that while the number of hunters from outside points is not yet as large as it was last year, they expect the number will be increased after the first snowfall. Some parties are still in the woods, while others are making arrangements for a return two to three days' stay there.

The largest herd of antlers to arrive in this city this year was that of a moose killed on the Upper Tobique, with a spread of antlers of over 64 inches. Compared with last year, this is six or seven inches more than the biggest spread reported to have been secured in the province.

SMALL ESTATE TO DEMAND DOUGHTY'S RETURN TO TORONTO

Ready, if Necessary, to Spend Entire Fortune to Bring Him Back for Trial.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—"If it is necessary we will spend the entire small estate to bring Doughty back to Toronto," was the emphatic statement of Frank J. Hughes, today, counsel for Mrs. A. J. Small and the Capital Trust Company, the committee in charge of the Small estate.

"We took the view that we could not afford to throw away one cent. Oregon was far away, but we decided it was worth the chance of trying, anyway, and now we're glad we did," said Mr. Hughes. The small estate, of course, paid the expenses of all these trips.

Condemns Irish Policy of Premier

RT. HON. H. H. ASQUITH

In the House of Commons yesterday the Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith condemned the reprisal policy of the British Government regarding Ireland.

FEAR SYDNEY STRIKE WILL SPREAD MORE

Breakers Employed on Railway Trains May Prove Cause of New Troubles.

LOCKED OUT MEN BEGINNING TO WORRY

If Strike Spreads it May Have Serious Effect on Shipping from Cape Breton.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 24.—Officials of the steel plant, where a strike is on at present, tonight said that the situation still remained unchanged. There is nothing new for them to report. Three locomotives have been in operation today and it looks as if they will have the same number on the job tomorrow.

"I know that the men of the Sydney and Louisburg railway will not litter between the striking railway men at the steel plant and the company," was the emphatic statement made this evening by Lechlan McLean, general superintendent of the Sydney and Louisburg Railway.

Strictly Neutral

"We are strictly neutral in the dispute, and I know the men will assume the same attitude. There has been no intimation of such an action anyway, and I don't think there is any prospect of it. Our men are linked up with the same brotherhood as the striking railwaymen are linked up with, just as the Canadian National Railway employees are. There is no danger of a walkout," he concluded.

This will put at ease various rumors going abroad that the Sydney and Louisburg men who handle the rolling stock were coming out in sympathy. However, in face of this assurance, the sabbing of jobs by men recognized as amateurs, while it may not lead to a sympathetic strike, still labor leaders predict that strike-breaking methods are something to be looked for if the present situation continues. Leaders of the railway strike have shown no great concern over the action of the company in placing amateurs to man the locomotives.

Fear More Trouble

However, prominent labor leaders in other circles look with anxiety at this sudden turn of affairs and make no bones about predicting strike-breaking methods. There is no immediate danger of the Sydney and Louisburg men going out in sympathy with Mr. McLean's statement tonight. Should such an eventuality come to pass it would mean that no coal could be shipped into Sydney or to the bunkers of the Dominion Coal Company. It would also lead to the going out of the men employed at the mines of the latter company. Action of this kind would paralyze industry in the whole of Cape Breton, and would have far-reaching effects both within and without the province.

SMALL ESTATE TO DEMAND DOUGHTY'S RETURN TO TORONTO

Ready, if Necessary, to Spend Entire Fortune to Bring Him Back for Trial.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—"If it is necessary we will spend the entire small estate to bring Doughty back to Toronto," was the emphatic statement of Frank J. Hughes, today, counsel for Mrs. A. J. Small and the Capital Trust Company, the committee in charge of the Small estate.

"We took the view that we could not afford to throw away one cent. Oregon was far away, but we decided it was worth the chance of trying, anyway, and now we're glad we did," said Mr. Hughes. The small estate, of course, paid the expenses of all these trips.

CROWN FORCES CRUSH IRISH TERROR REIGN

So Declares Sir Hamar Greenwood in Reply to Attack of Hon. Mr. Asquith.

IRISH PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Absolutely No Reprisals Made by Soldiers Declares the Secretary for Ireland.

London, Nov. 24.—The eagerly awaited debate in the House of Commons on the Irish question was inaugurated this afternoon, when former Premier Asquith, leader of the Opposition, moved his resolution, expressing abhorrence of the recent Dublin assassinations, condemnation of reprisals, and urging the taking of immediate steps to bring about Irish pacification. The motion was a composition resolution, combining the Independent Liberal labor motions and sponsored by Mr. Asquith, Donald MacLean and Arthur Henderson.

Condemns Policy of Reprisals.

Mr. Asquith, amplifying the subjects set forth in the resolution condemned what he termed the Government's policy of reprisals, which he said had driven moderate Nationalist opinion in Ireland "into an attitude, if not of sympathy with, at least of supine indifference to anarchic action."

The former Premier declared there was only one way for escape, and that the first step lay with the Government. This, he said, was to discontinue the reprisals. He believed, he said, that an overwhelming majority of the Irish people and of the Crown forces had no sympathy with reprisals.

Condemns Sunday Murders

It was difficult, said Mr. Asquith, to speak with restraint of Sunday's assassinations in Dublin. "They were cruel, cold-blooded murder," he continued, "and can only have been the work of men who have lost all sense of humanity and honor. The gravity of such crimes as these—I am afraid it's a mistake to say they are decreasing—makes it all the more necessary that the executive shall be able to encounter them with a clear front and clean hands."

THE GENEROUS, GREY PLEADS WITH IRELAND

Better Quit Ireland Entirely, He Declares, Than Continue in Present Murderous State.

MUST HAVE ONE NAVAL POLICY ONLY

Admits Murder of British Officers Last Sunday Has Complicated Matters Greatly.

With Britain and Ireland so close together and under modern conditions of air and submarine the continued existence of two navies is absolutely inconsistent with the safety of either country that there should be divided naval authority. He admitted that after what had happened in Ireland in the past few weeks he would hardly advocate a practicable union, as he did recently, that Ireland should be left to say what form of government she desired. But the time might come when the government would have to consider that method of procedure again.

He would have it clearly understood in Ireland that Great Britain would not go on indefinitely being unassured in the position of either concerning Nationalist Ireland or concerning Ulster, and the greatest lever the government could bring to bear to secure a settlement would be to make it perfectly clear that the ultimate responsibility for the government of Ireland rested with the Irish people, and that the government could not continue indefinitely to govern any part of Ireland by force.

PILES Are Generally Caused By CONSTIPATION

There are few, if any, complaints more common than hemorrhoids, or piles, as they are commonly called, and scarcely any which cause more trouble, annoyance and misery. Ninety per cent. are troubled with them at some time or other, owing to allowing the bowels to become in a constipated condition. Piles are classed under three headings, i. e. itching, bleeding and protruding, and the excruciating pain which accompanies them cause misery which is beyond description. Ointments and suppositories may help and relieve for a while, but to get rid of them, it is necessary to have a free, easy and natural motion of the bowels, at least once or twice a day, and by doing this the cause will be quickly removed.

After The "Flu" Four Children Had Whooping Cough

Whooping Cough, although usually a disease of childhood, is by no means confined to that period, but may occur at any time of life. It is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

Whooping Cough starts with sneezing, watering of the eyes, irritation of the throat, feverishness and cough. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble, as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and pleura that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs. Mrs. M. Rouse, Imperial, Sask., writes: "After the 'flu,' last fall, my four children took whooping cough, and one of them developed bronchitis. After using two or three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup they were greatly relieved of their nasty coughs. It is an especially good remedy for children, and is so nice they take it readily, and ask for more." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c. and 60c. a bottle at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Toronto, Ont.

REVIVE TALK OF PROVINCE OF N. ONTARIO

Residents Claim Money Collected is Not Spent on the Northern Interests.

Fort William, Ont., Nov. 24.—F. H. Keefer, K. C., M. P. for the riding of Port Arthur, spoke today before the convention of the Central Canada Colonization and Highway Association, advocating secession from the Province of Ontario and the formation of a new province, to consist of the whole northern portion of the province, including the district of Patricia. The speaker, who was introduced by Chairman A. Pitt, took issue with the government of the province on the expenditure of money collected in this northern district, saying that two million dollars was collected from it, over and above what was expended on it through grants for roads and other government services.

Compares With Others Well. He claimed that financially and from the standpoint of population and territory the proposed new province would compare favorably with other new provinces at the time of their formation. Mr. Keefer was accorded a kindly hearing, but no resolution dealing with the matter is likely to be brought before the convention, as all resolutions that will be considered at the present session were in the hands of the committee by November 15.

The convention, which is meeting under the presidency of Alfred Pitt, of Dryden, has already endorsed the formation of a union of municipalities, covering the four Western-most ridings of Ontario, Port Arthur, Fort William, Kenora and Ratny Liver.

Sympathetic Courts Greatest Need of Province for "Dry" Rule Enforcement.

(Continued from page 1) Bishop Richardson made an eloquent defence of the Prohibition Act. Judge Wilson also spoke strongly in favor of it and referred to the growth in a temperance sentiment which had taken place in the province since the enactment and repeal of the first prohibition measure in 1856.

"Our guest," was proposed by Rev. Z. Fast, Rev. Thomas Marshall, Baptist Church who referred to the fact that he had been associated with Mr. Wilson since a time prior to the appointment of the latter as secretary of the Prince Edward Island Alliance. Rev. W. D. Wilson. The chief inspector expressed thanks for the complimentary things which had been said about him. What had been accomplished in the past three years and eight months had been the work of one man alone but of all who had given their support. Since April 4, 1917, he had been looking forward to giving an account of his stewardship and he came un-daunted, full of courage and encouragement. Too much credit could not be said of the advisory board of the Alliance composed of Donald Fraser, of Plaster Rock, W. G. Clarke of Fredericton and Rev. Thomas Marshall of Fairville, which was appointed to aid him. Through the sanity and judgment of that body disaster often had been averted. In 1916 New Brunswick had the best prohibitory act of the Dominion but much had happened since then. The act now was not the best because the necessary amendments had not been passed.

Courts Must be Friends

The courts ought to be sympathetic. They should be the supporters of the act and not its critics. They should be impartial. Favor was not asked. What was wanted was fair play. One of the great necessities was a community conscience. Formerly much of the fighting had been done in the open and then it was known if an opponent were down. But in the past four years there had been much behind closed doors, fighting in which there had been no British fair play. There were many problems to face. One of his sub-inspectors from Madamawville had been shot. Some of the officials there caught many cases of liquor, they were getting not more than one in fifteen and not one case in fifty was being seized.

The counties bordered on Quebec and two hundred and fifty miles of frontier bordered on Maine. Some of the desperadoes of the world are there. It was not known what an inspector had to do. Some inspectors were facing death every day. He well could understand the situation of the inspector in Ontario the other day. When a man draws a weapon on another something is bound to happen. He thanked God that such an occurrence had not taken place in New Brunswick while he was chief inspector. One of his men had come to him and asked if he was to shoot if necessary.

The answer had been that he should ask a question of someone else. The man then asked for a revolver. The speaker said his answer to that request had been that he would furnish hand cuffs and baton but that if the inspector wanted a revolver he would have to get it himself. Mr. Brunswick had been a pronouncing success, not a failure. If he had not been kept on in some places while the recent crime wave swept across Canada many lives would have been lost.

CANADA TO GET MORE NEWS FROM BRITISH ISLES

New System Inaugurated for Direct Cable from London to Canada.

BEST OF EMPIRE STORIES FOR CANADA

Canadian Editors in London to Edit the Wires for Canadian Public.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—At a meeting of the Canadian Press shareholders, held here today, it was decided to establish direct British cable service of news, supplementing the present services used by the Canadian Press, and the board of directors was authorized to enter into an arrangement for the United States, which will bring news from any color or distortion, has been open to the objection that it did not carry all news from Great Britain that the Canadian people were particularly interested in.

The New Plan.

Under the new arrangement, the volume of news collected by the British Press Association, the co-operative organization of British newspapers, and also that gathered throughout the world by the Reuters agency, will be accessible to Canadian Press representatives and placed directly before the Canadian public, without passing any foreign channels. This development, which will greatly improve the service of all Canadian daily newspapers, is undertaken at considerable extra expense to the Canadian papers. Among those present at the meeting were the following: E. Norman Smith, Ottawa Journal (president); J. D. Black, Fredericton Gleaner; Frank B. Ellis, St. John Globe; G. Fred Pearson, Halifax Chronicle; A. D. MacNeil, Glace Bay Gazette; and J. F. B. Livesey, General Manager of Canadian Press, Limited.

EX-CHIEF HAS CASH AND RINGS HE DOESN'T WANT

Prisoner Who Left Them at Moncton Vanished Two Years Ago Quickly.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, N. B., Nov. 24.—How Moncton's ex-chief of police, Geo. R. Rideout, has apparently fallen heir to $1,733.99 and diamond rings estimated to be worth at least $1,500, makes an interesting story. In August, 1918, Ex-chief Rideout detained a stranger in Moncton named George Henry Moore under the Military Service Act. When questioned as to his registration card, Moore was unable to produce the document, but claimed he had registered at Bow River, Alberta. After being taken to police headquarters, Moore alleged that he could establish his identity if allowed to use the wires. He deposited with the chief of police $1,733.99 and four diamond rings as guarantee that he would return if allowed to go to the telegraph office.

Never Came Back

Moore's proposition was agreed to, but once he left the police building he was never seen again by the police. He disappeared from Moncton and he never heard of after, so far as his whereabouts is concerned. Ex-chief Rideout has been holding Moore's money and valuables ever since. Recently Chief Rideout resigned from the police force, and the City Council has taken up the question as to what became of the money and who is responsible for it. The receiver-general, and attorney-general of the province and the Moncton city solicitor have advised that they are in no way responsible for Moore's money, and the matter is one entirely between Moore and Rideout.

Sage Tea Darkens Hair To Any Shade

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wynook's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

BROWN FORCES CRUSH IRISH TERROR RE

So Declares Sir Hamar Wood in Reply to Address of Hon. Mr. Asquith

IRISH PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS FOR PE

Absolutely No Reprisals by Soldiers Declared Secretary for Ireland.

(Continued from page 1) Answering Mr. Asquith, Sir Hamar Wood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, was applauded and cheered on rising. "The vast majority of the Irish people are not in favor of my speech," he said. "They want peace and are getting peace, because the British Government is breaking the word of the Crown by breaking the word of the Irish people with the best of terms with the British Government and the police."

The Murder Bulletin. "The Murder Bulletin" is a document issued by the British Government, which contains the names of persons in England and the papers in England, some of the names of the London Liberal Federation, which is used by the bulletin and bears a charge of reprisals, so-called, circulated without any comment except this: "Display this prominently wherever you can." The High Commissioner (Mr. Asquith) is proud of that federation," Sir Hamar Wood declared.

Enjoy Gang Hospitality. Sir Hamar noted that Mr. Wood had referred to the comment of the United States correspondent that he had certain knowledge of the chief secretary, "that these enjoy the hospitality of the British Government in Ireland. The United States correspondent has printed the most notable words, but the last election in the States has been an adequate answer. Those who set up the Irish question as an issue with Anglo-American friendship were wrong with defeat."

Absolutely No Reprisals. As regards the reprisals charge, the chief secretary declared there was a single authentic instance of a thing called a reprisal having place under an officer. He cited the instance of soldiers who looted a house in Ireland, and a lieutenant of whom they were found had started their work. Sir Hamar drew a veil and threatened to kill any man who did not cease shooting, with the result that the man stopped.

Soldiers More Effective. The Crown forces, declared the secretary, were daily growing in force. It was from the fact that they were being murdered, but because they were asserting the authority of the Crown. Extracts from a document, he said, had been captured were read to show that 500 had been spent in organizing headquarters staff of the Republican army since July. This, he said, was the centre of the matter, and that it was from this centre some cases £100, "per skull" police and military had been Specific instructions for the fact of executing high explosives had been discovered, the Chief Secretary declared, and two carefully plans for the destruction of power house in Manchester. The docks in Liverpool had been for the Liverpool case, he said, and details were instructions regarding at 21 points, involving the right of the British Government to suspend other documents of the present policy of the British Government. Sir Hamar quoted from a high Republican source to the effect that the British Government a very effective method of rapping the Republican army's movements. The officer said a serious case was cropping up, and a situation setting in in many cases officer added that if the vote were disrupted, all was lost.

Never Such a Campaign. Sir Hamar concluded by stating that no country in the world had dealt with such a campaign of outrage and outrage as England had with in Ireland, but said the most was succeeding in its effort to stamp it out. The Star Poles had disappeared, he declared, in back-room meetings for propounding the boycott had been broken, sister intimidation was going, striking had ended, and the "publican army" was being broken.

The Chief Secretary appealed to show every consideration and by resolution for the soldiers, civil servants and the members of parliament and a battle against assassination against the Irish people. The secretary appealed especially the Catholic church in Ireland, "I said, by appeals from every ally, against this fight against assassination."

CROWN FORCES CRUSH IRISH TERROR REIGN

So Declares Sir Hamar Greenwood in Reply to Attack of Hon. Mr. Asquith.

IRISH PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Absolutely No Reprisals Made by Soldiers Declares the Secretary for Ireland.

(Continued from page 1) Answering Mr. Asquith, Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, was applauded and cheered on rising. "The vast majority of the people of Ireland are not in favor of murder," he said. "They want peace and they are getting peace, because the forces of the Crown are breaking the terror."

The Murder Bulletin "The murder gang in Ireland, he continued, 'is a document known as the Irish Republican Bulletin, and that murder gangs send the bulletin to persons in England and the newspapers in England, some of them publish it. What amazes me is that the London Liberal Federation has actually used the bulletin and based on it a charge of reprisals, so-called, and circulated it without any comment, except this: 'Display this prominently wherever you can.'"

Enjoy Gang Hospitality "Enjoy Gang Hospitality," Sir Hamar noted, the Mr. Asquith had referred to the comments of a United States correspondent. "We have certain knowledge," continued the chief secretary, "that some of these enjoy the hospitality of the murder gang itself in Ireland. They send their newspaper matter to the United States to hurt Anglo-American friendship and do the best to damage the British Empire."

Absolutely No Reprisals "As regards the reprisals charge, the chief secretary declared there was not a single authenticated case of anything called a reprisal having taken place under an officer. He cited an instance of soldiers who lost their heads because of the murder of a lieutenant of whom they were very fond and had started firing. Another officer, said Sir Hamar, drew a revolver and threatened to kill any soldier who did not cease shooting, with the result that the man stopped. Soldiers More Effective "The Crown forces, declared the chief secretary, were daily growing more effective. It was true that more of them were being murdered, but that was because they were asserting the authority of the Crown. Extracts from a document, he said, had been recently captured were read to show that 27,500 had been spent in organizing the headquarters staff of the Republican army since July. This, he said, was the centre of the 'murder gang,' and that it was from this centre that in some cases £100, 'per skull' of the police and military had been paid."

The Liverpool Plot "Special instructions for the manufacture of certain high explosives had been discovered," the Chief Secretary declared, and two carefully detailed plans for the destruction of a large power house in Manchester and of docks in Liverpool had been found. In the Liverpool case, he said, among the details were instructions regarding action at 21 points, involving the use of eight hundred pounds of gelignite. Reading other documents showing the present policy of the government, Sir Hamar quoted a statement from a high Republican army officer to the effect that the enemy had found a very effective method of disrupting the Republican army's movements. The officer said a sort of terror was creeping in and disorganization setting in in many cases. The officer added that if the volunteers were disrupted, all was lost."

Never Such a Campaign "Sir Hamar concluded by claiming that no country in the world had to deal with such a campaign of murder and outrage as England had to deal with in Ireland, but said the government was succeeding in its efforts to stamp it out. The Sinn Fein forces had disappeared, he declared, except in back-room meetings for propaganda, the boycott had been broken, its ugly sister intimidation was going; hunger-striking had ended, and the 'Irish Republican army' was being broken up. The Chief Secretary appealed to the House to show every consideration by word and by resolution for the police, soldiers, civil servants and judges. He declared, were obeying the orders of parliament and fighting a battle against assassination and not against the Irish people. The secretary appealed especially to the 'great Catholic church in Ireland,' which, he said, by appeals from every altar could greatly assist in this fight against assassination."

TWO MILK VENDORS IN POLICE COURT

Michael Tobias and James Jeffreys Charged With Selling Below Standard.

Two milk vendors, Michael Tobias and James Jeffreys, who were charged by the Board of Health with selling milk in August last below the standard in butter fat, were found guilty and fined yesterday afternoon by Police Magistrate Ritchie. His Honor pointed out that the certificate of analysis produced showed that the milk sold was below the standard, and that it was possible that action may also be taken against the man from whom the milk vendors claimed to have purchased the milk. He also stated that if any offenders appeared before him again on a similar charge he would consider fining them the maximum amount of $100. The Board of Health was very ably represented by Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K.C., who, in the course of his address to the court, pointed public against the sale of milk of an inferior quality.

Lazaro Concert Musical Treat

Lyric Tenor With Strongly Dramatic Voice Scores a Great Hit.

From the opening bars of "O Paradiso" to the thrilling climax of Rodolfo's aria from La Boheme, Hippolito Lazaro last evening crowded into an hour and a half more pure and unalloyed enjoyment than a St. John audience has experienced in years. In a programme which ran the gamut of human emotions, his wonderful voice rising through the Imperial, so completely dominated his hearers, that the singer was compelled to respond time after time in scores numbers. And it is not credit of St. John that the theatre was scarcely more than half filled. The appearance in this city of an artist such as this should be an event of much greater importance than was indicated by the attendance last evening. While the formal programme included groups of songs in Italian, Spanish, French and English, it was readily apparent that M. Lazaro experiences difficulties with our language, necessitating a careful reading of the words which detracted somewhat from the abandon characterizing his other numbers. Nor is he thoroughly at home in French, as was evidenced in the Carmen number. But such slight weaknesses as this were forgotten in the magnificence of the L'Africaine, Rigoletto, La Favorita and Tosca arias. By request, and to the great pleasure of his audience, M. Lazaro gave as an encore number the ever popular La Donna e Mobile, and even those best acquainted with Rigoletto were free to confess that in his interpretation of it new charm was revealed.

A very pleasing addition to the programme was a special solo by Max Terr, accompanist, and no better compliment could be paid to his skill, his command of the instrument, and his graceful and original technique than the fact that a St. John audience demanded a double encore. Mr. Terr's numbers were Dr. Automata and La Jongleuse by Moszkowski, and Marche Militaire by Poldini.

The Programme. Mr. Lazaro's programme was as follows: 1. Aria—"O Paradiso" from L'Africaine. (Meyerboer) 2. (a)—"This Flower" You gave to Me" from Carmen. (Bisetti) (b)—Ariette. (Vidal) 3. Spanish songs. (a) La Partida. (Alvarez) (b) Grassia. (Alvarez) (c) Espagnolita. (Penella) 4. Aria—"Spiritus Gentilis" from La Favorita. (Donizetti) 5. English songs. (a) Love, I Have Won you (Landon Ronald) (b) The Jasmine Forsakes Its Fragrance. (Elliott Jobery) (c) At Daventry (Chas. W. Cadman) Encore numbers were: "Questa o Quella." (Risoletto) "La Donna e Mobile." (Risoletto) "Clavellito." (By Valverde) "E lucevan le Stelle." (Tosca) Rodolfo's Aria. (La Boheme) "O bocca dolorosa." (Sibella)

A COMPELLING APPEAL.

The appeal of the Canadian Red Cross Society for contributions to the British Empire War Relief Fund, with which to combat disease and distress in the war-stricken areas of Europe and Asia should not be permitted to fall on deaf ears.

It may sound exaggerated to say that Europe today is facing a greater loss in human life than she suffered during the war, but such a statement is amply justified.

Active hostilities caused untold misery, but the greatest tragedy the world has ever seen has been enacted since the armistice. The people have been waiting two years for some settlement of the great questions raised by the war, and of the conditions which the struggle brought about.

Those who predicted that the American Committee on Ireland would prove to be either a farce or an organ for Sinn Fein propaganda have been long to wait for their justification.

unscrupulous official, but we will do Mr. Wilson the justice of saying that we believe he has always acted with honesty and singleness of purpose in the performance of his duties, which is a great deal more than can be said of some of his subordinates.

The appointment of a successor to Mr. Wilson must engage the attention of the Government at an early date, and considerable care should be exercised in the choice of the new official.

The committee on Ireland would prove to be either a farce or an organ for Sinn Fein propaganda have been long to wait for their justification.

As the Mail and Empire says, the horror of the committee at these sensational developments can be left to the imagination.

AMAZING STORY BY CONAN DOYLE

(Mail and Empire.) In Conan Doyle's "The Phenomena of Materialization," he says in a recent article in the "Observer" Strand that is likely to be remembered for many generations.

Conan Doyle's article is a digest of "The Phenomena of Materialization," but nobody ever made the thorough investigations that are said to have been made by the German professor.

What precautions were taken against fraud are described by Doyle as follows: "The key of the seance room was kept in Mme. Bisson's own pocket, and she was never to exchange into a special dress when she emerged."

What did they see, and what did the cameras record? Among other things, "the oozed from the medium's mouth, not eyes and skin this extraordinary gelatinous material."

This ectoplasm, we gather, has the power—the power being supplied by the will of a spirit—to wholly detach itself from the body of the medium, from which it is drawn, and then by some mysterious process it builds itself up into a separate entity.

Dominion Income Tax Proceedings

Several Cases Heard in Police Court Yesterday—Will be Resumed Today.

Hearing in the case of those charged with conspiracy in not complying with the Dominion Income Tax Act, and by King later returned for the year 1918 was proceeded with yesterday afternoon at the police court before Magistrate Ritchie.

The first case to be called yesterday was that of Dr. J. M. Broderick, L. P. D. Tilley, counsel for the Department of Finance, read an affidavit setting out that three communications and a registered letter had been forwarded to the defendant requesting him to file the necessary statement, and no such return had been received up to the time of the issue of the summons.

Dr. Broderick Testifies.

Dr. Broderick, in the course of his testimony stated that he had previously explained the matter to Mr. Sharpe, the defendant admitted that for the reasons stated he had not made a return for 1918, although the department had requested him to do so. Mr. Tilley pointed out that if the defendant took the attitude that he could not make a return owing to the absence of books, that all professional men could claim a similar privilege; and asked for an adjournment until today at 2:30 p.m., which was granted, in order that Mr. Sharpe may be examined in the matter.

H. Colby Smith.

G. Earle Logan then informed the court that he was appearing for H. Colby Smith, who desired to change his plea of guilty to one of "not guilty." The reason for doing so was that the defendant had subsequently found on going back to his office that he had complied with the law by mailing his return for the year in question sometime in 1919. This return was mailed, but the envelope was not registered. This matter will be further heard this afternoon.

James H. Pullen.

The next case to be called was that of James H. Pullen, represented by G. Earle Logan, who asked that the matter be dismissed on the ground that the defendant had filed out a return which was banded to Mr. Sharpe. The latter then looked at the return and it was unsatisfactory and returned it to Mr. Pullen, who promised to furnish another return, but had not done so up to the time of the issue of the summons. Since then, however, Mr. Pullen completed another form and filed it.

Mr. Tilley drew the court's attention to the fact that if a man incompletely filled out a tax return form, and it had been handed back to him for further information, which was essential, then the person in question should furnish the desired answers in order that the department could determine for what amount, if any, he were assessable. It was necessary, explained counsel for the officials to have this information which was called for under the Dominion Income Tax Act, and four communications had been forwarded in every instance to the defendant's asking for complete statements before action had been taken by way of summons by the department.

This matter was also adjourned until this afternoon when a decision will be rendered.

Thomas J. Phillips.

Thomas J. Phillips, who also appeared yesterday, repeated his former testimony to the effect that in 1918 he was under considerable financial difficulty to make both ends meet, and being in such circumstances his income was not taxable. He was not aware that in the circumstance he was called upon to make a return, and the law at that time was a new one. His Honor stated that he felt that he would have to consider the defendant guilty, and asked him if he were prepared to pay the minimum fine of $100, to which Mr. Phillips replied that he was not. This case will come up this afternoon.

William Baxter.

In explanation of the reason why he had not filed a return for 1918, William Baxter stated that he could not honestly and conscientiously fill out the form which was sent to him at the time without further information. He called upon the federal tax officer here in the matter. Subsequently he had suffered from influenza, the doctor had ordered a rest and he was now out of business. Magistrate Ritchie suggested that possibly Mr. Baxter could file a return for 1918 now. In reply counsel for the department stated that he would be glad to submit to the department any statement made by the defendants, in cases of a deserving nature; and all evidence submitted here in such matters will be forwarded to Ottawa in order that the cases may be dealt with by the department on their own merits, where the defendant has pleaded guilty and a fine has been struck. Adjournment was made until this afternoon, when Mr. Baxter will again appear.

H. L. McGowan.

H. L. McGowan informed the court that he was satisfied that he had made a return for 1918. The envelope containing the statement, the defendant testified, was sent by ordinary mail and the envelope containing same was addressed to A. W. Sharpe, on

St. George's Church Men Were Guests

Ladies of Congregation Were Hosts Last Evening and Programme Was Enjoyed.

The men of St. George's church were the guests of the ladies of the congregation in the school-room last evening. After serving a most excellent supper, the ladies retired, leaving the men to enjoy a social chat. A novel means of introduction was used. Each man present was called by name, stood, and was introduced to those present. The rector, Rev. W. H. Sampson, delivered a short address, in the course of which he expressed the hope that this would not be the last of such gatherings, and that the work of the new parish hall would be completed at a very early date, in order to provide better accommodation. A hearty vote of thanks to the ladies was rendered by P. J. Legge and carried by a standing vote. The meeting closed with the singing of the "National Anthem."

QUEEN MOTHER OLGA REGENT OF GREECE HEROIC CHARACTER

Disgusted With Her Son's Court She Returned to Russia as Mark of Displeasure.

Queen Mother Olga of Greece, widow of former King Constantine, and widow of King George, assassinated at Salonica in 1913, will on Thursday assume the regency, it is announced by cable from Athens. Queen Olga was born and christened Olga Constantinova, a grand duchess of Russia, at Pawlowsk, Aug. 22, 1851, the daughter of Grand Duke Constantine Nicolaievitch, the sailor brother of Alexander II, Czar of Russia. She was married at Petrograd, Oct. 15, 1867, to King George of Greece, who was assassinated at Salonica in March, 1913, and is the mother of the exiled King Constantine, and grand-mother of the just deceased King Alexander.

Always Enemy of ex-Kaiser
She was always a particular enemy of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and has always entertained the most violent prejudice against everything Prussian, and is able to trace the cause of her marriage to King George in 1867, until the present day, she has never visited the Court of Berlin, although she has frequently passed through that city while travelling between Paris and St. Petersburg. The marriage of her eldest son, King Constantine, to the Kaiser's sister, Sophia, was very distasteful to her, and, intensely Russian, her relations with her Prussian daughter-in-law have always been the reverse of cordial, and now, since the beginning of the late war, they were so strained that the atmosphere of the court of Athens was distinctly unpleasant, no unpleasant indeed that Queen Olga

My daughter, a woman bath no age, and her coquetry are eternal, wherein a woman triumphs for the delight of her vanity. You, she is shameless!

Behold at seven, she seeks to please, and maketh her husband to seek the heart and dandle the eyes of woman. Behold at one year, she bath length his toys upon the ground and shattereth them, with crowings and gurglings of triumph. He clutcheth the hair of his nurse and is filled with his own conceit. He cheweth his toes and is pleased with himself. And his kisses are fragrant with stale milk.

Behold, at ten, the small boy standeth upon his head, and maketh terrifying faces for the amusement of his beloved. He fighteth with his fists and parteth with his teeth for her admiration. He bringeth her burnt offerings of toads and beetles and showeth his affection by pulling her hair. Yes, he is so smart. And his kisses are sticky with lollipops and fragrant with currant jam.

Behold, at twenty, the youth seeketh prowess in the football game and breaketh his limbs, cheerfully, for woman's delight. He arrangeth his hair like unto a chrysanthemum, and adorneth himself with garments of glaring checks, and of gaudy purple, and cravats of violent hues. His boasteth of his wild and reckless life and of his "dark dark past." His vermilion present, and of his intimate friendship with prize-fighters and chorus girls. Yes, he is exceeding flashy! And his kisses are fragrant with raspberry sundaes and stale pipe-smoke.

Behold, at thirty, he striveth to shock her and to startle her with his sorrow and his cynicism. He readeth Nietzsche and Freud and is filled with world-weariness. He weareth a ribbon in his eyeglass and pompadoureth his hair that his brow may rival the Woolworth Building. He sneereth at love and daunteth pessimism and defiance in the face of woman. He saith, "I am NOT a marrying man!" Yes, he is VERY devilish! And his kisses are fragrant with Russian cigarettes, and exceeding tender, withal.

Behold, at forty, he seeketh to dazzle her with the trophies of his success and conquest. He boasteth of the bears which he hath shot and of the women who have "broken his heart." He flasheth his motor-car upon her, and regaleth her with costly dishes. He maketh a rabbit and is puffed up. He showeth her HOW to cook. He INSTRUCTETH her in all things. He is so wise. And his kisses are fragrant with gaviards and homewreath.

Behold, at fifty, he seeketh to delight her with his prowess at golf. He talketh of nothing but his "score"; he showeth her how he made his "famous stroke." He sporteth white flannels and a "poo" in his button-hole. He learneth the new dance-steps, and will dance with none but debutantes. He braggeth of the "cold plunge" which he taketh every morning. And his kisses are fragrant with the sweetness of the "alou-teenth hole."

Behold, at sixty, he arrangeth his hair carefully across his bald-spot. He arrayeth himself in cravats of baby-blue and watermelon pink. He goeth to his "gym," and digreth in his garden, and boasteth of his "walking-record," of his diet, and his "collections." He saith, "I am full of PIPP!" And his kisses are fragrant with peppermint lozenges.

Oh, vanity of vanities, all is NOT feminine vanity. At every age, man seeketh to be a Charmer; and woman is his audience. He arrayeth himself in his chorus, and his applause. He saith, "I am full of PIPP!" and his kisses are fragrant with himself flatteringly mirrored in a woman's eyes!

MRS. W. J. WOODS DEAD

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 24.—The death occurred Tuesday evening of Mrs. W. J. Woods, in the sixty-fourth year of her age, after a lingering illness. She was the daughter of the late John and Elizabeth McLaren, St. John, but had been residing in Moncton for the past thirty years. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn one daughter, Mrs. Vaughan McLellan, Moncton.

SHOT AT HIS DOOR

Dublin, Nov. 22.—Patrick Mathews, who was seriously wounded at Sliabh na Stronnachta in a previous condition. He was wounded in the shoulder, thigh and knee. It was learned today that two lorries of armed men arrived at Mathews' house and knocked on the door. When Mathews opened the door he was asked if he was a Sinn Feiner. He replied that he was a Laborite whereupon the men opened fire.

Toiled Among the Suffering.

Without one instant's hesitation the hitherto pampered and indulged grand duchess pluckily set to work to remedy all this in a measure of possibility. The rugged stables would have been a mere joke to what she spent her time in cleaning up, and the almost manly education and instruction insisted upon by Grand Duke Constantine, the Nicholasievitch stood in good stead then, indeed, as did her flawless courage and perseverance. She toiled from morning till night, although suffering cruelly from homesickness which has never ceased to torture her for she is a Russian from Muscovy's inner heart, from the best "Holy Russia" has ever begotten, and, in spite of all that may be said, this is something very good. What her feelings were she never disclosed, being of that rare type which does not make confidants and deems it best to keep hidden from any possible remark or comment. Her little more severe features grew a little more reserved even than before, and that was all.

Ignored by Her Husband

As queen perhaps her greatest achievement in Athens was the founding of the Evangelismos and by a fortunate legacy secured the funds to build, equip and operate this very splendid hospital. Hellenic jealousy before the war wrought much havoc around the queen. She loved her own country passionately. She was always and at every hour of her life done her utmost to accomplish tenfold more than her duty. She has shielded, protected, excused, forgiven, helped and supported every one who crossed her road of mercy and self-forgetfulness. She was never consulted by her husband or her sons and was surrounded with people thoroughly ungrateful to her, excepting one charming daughter-in-law, Her Imperial Highness Grand Duchess Helena-Vladimirovna, wife of her son, Nicholas. Alone she has suffered, alone she pursued her course, asking no pity, no sympathy and no mercy, and, what is more difficult yet, bearing injustice and ungrateful without a murmur.

As Queen of Greece she was a notably handsome woman, the most queenly queen in Europe. Straight and tall as a lance, her stately head crowned by a mass of hair as fine as silk, which she drew away from her forehead and curled in heavy braids, with that extreme simplicity which characterized her every action, she possessed a forceful charm not often to be met with.

Ideal Juliet At Last Discovered

Phyllis Thomas Only Sixteen to Play Youthful Heroine in London Theatre.

By HUGH DRYDEN.
(Copyright, 1920, By Cross-Atlantic.)
London, Nov. 23.—However strong the spiritualistic movement may be in England, it will not yet support a theatre of its own. That is proved by the early withdrawal of two plays having "life after death" as their main theme. "The Daisy," a curious concoction from the Hungarian of Molnar, "failed to attract" after a few performances, and now "The Crossing," by Alcega Blackwood and Bortram Porcuth, was superseded at the Comedy, after a run of ten nights.

Every now and then we have a spasmodic Shakespeare boom. There seem to be the germs of a "repertory" theatre of Avon season in the pending revival of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Court Theatre, under the management of Bernard Fagan. A comedian new to Shakespeare, Alfreo Clark, will be the Bottom.

Meanwhile there is an excellent performance of "King Henry V." by the new Shakespeare Company, which won golden opinions at the Stratford-upon-Avon Festival last spring. It is giving a short series of matinees at the Strand Theatre. Murray Carrington, as the King, is excellent—soldierly without swagger, kingly without pose, and in his lighter movements gay and debonair.

"Tarzan of the Apes" has had such a boom, both in book and film form, that it was inevitable that an attempt would be made to put it on the stage. Fittingly enough it has been produced at a suburban theatre, the Brixton, since Tarzan's following has been mainly a lower middle-class one.

At last an ideal Juliet has been discovered—ideal, at any rate, in respect that it was inevitable that an attempt would be made to put it on the stage. Fittingly enough it has been produced at a suburban theatre, the Brixton, since Tarzan's following has been mainly a lower middle-class one.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate, is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmitin (Double strength). Take home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one teaspoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmitin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, SWOLLEN AND PAINFUL FEET
Due to Faulty Kidney Elimination

All signals of distress. The kidneys have too much work to perform. Uric acid accumulates in the system in the form of urate salts. Obtain at your nearest drug store that newest discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). "Anuric" is more potent than lithia and dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar. The best kidney remedy known.

HAMILTON, ONT.—"As Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets have been such a wonderful help to me I want to tell others who suffer with kidney trouble. I have suffered with rheumatism for the last five years, and I have only taken three bottles of the Anuric Tablets and three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and am nearly cured. I want to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to any sufferer with kidney trouble, or anyone run-down after having the 'flu.'"—MRS. ESTELLA GRANBY, No. 544 James Street, North.

looking it. Now, however, we are produced a Juliet still actually in her teens and only two years older than the reputed age of the original. Phyllis Thomas, who is a discovery of Charles Fry, is barely sixteen, and is to play Juliet early next month in London, supported by a regular Shakespearean company.

British Film Man Arrives.

Do You Count the Cost of Your Tea?

Good tea is really very cheap per cup, less than 1/4c. for the very finest.

The duty on tea coming into Canada from British possessions is 7c. per pound, and 10c. per pound from other countries.

You pay just as much duty on a pound of poor tea as on a pound of the very best—such as Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

You can therefore get much better value in a superior high quality tea than in poorer, cheap teas, because you pay the same duty on the poor as on the best.

This extra value is appreciated by most people, as the increasing sales of this fine quality, mountain grown Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea clearly prove.

Ask for it by the full name.

Sold only in our new sealed airtight cartons.

DENIES SALE OF WAR EQUIPMENT TOO LOW PRICES

Gov't Answers Charge That Excellent Articles Were Sold at Ridiculous Rates.

ALL GOODS WERE IN CONDEMNED CLASS

Some So Poor They Were Sold Only by Weight to Contractors.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Members of the Purchasing Commission of Canada are emphatic in their repudiation of statements made of Hamilton to the effect that military supplies had been sold at a ridiculously low price. A despatch from Hamilton last night stated that at a session of the convention of the Ontario Association of Managers of Homes for the Aged and Invalid, held in that city, it was reported that military boots had been sold at $1 per pair, flannel shirts at 10 cents each, woolen trousers at 90 cents per pair, undergarments at 35 cents per garment and outdoor mattresses at $1 each.

Discussing the report, J. B. Beade of the Purchasing Commission said that the prices quoted were wrong and that higher figures had been obtained in practically every case. "Our method of sale," he said, "is to advertise the articles to be sold and then call for tenders."

"Material sold to junk dealers has always been previously condemned as unserviceable. In the case of clothing, blankets, etc. they have always been worn or used and in some cases are sold by the pound as rags while in others a price per article is obtained. We know that junk dealers who buy these goods from us sometimes repair and resell them but we have no way of preventing that."

Charitable institutions "If the homes for the aged and infirm are starving for clothes and equipment," he continued, "it is not our fault as we have endeavored to get in touch with charitable institutions everywhere with the idea that they might be able to purchase our articles cheaply. We have a long list of such institutions and they are always advised of our sales. Clothing sold to junk dealers is usually sold by weight and presumably it is to be converted into rags and sent to the alcohol mills to be converted into cloth. Articles complained of from Hamilton were sold to junk dealers by tender and then only after all institutions had been notified."

MAXIM GORKY FLAYS LENIN AND TROTSKY

Declares Only Result of Their Rule is to Create Laziness and Carelessness.

By "POLONIUS"

Openings, Nov. 27.—The news from Russia, overshadowing everything else and no one here doubts that the end of Bolshevism is near. Maxim Gorky, whose unselfishness and real interest in the welfare of the masses no one ever has doubted, appears to follow in the footsteps of Maximilian Harden in Germany and to have become the "enfant terrible" of the Bolshevik party. His popularity in Russia is so enormous that neither Lenin nor Trotsky dare touch him, although he is, when from his bed he hauls them over the coals. His latest Philippic is published in the Moscow paper "Pravda," which has just reached here.

"Everything," he says, "is now the property of the people, but this property is being destroyed more and more from day to day. The houses are being ruined, costly furniture is being used for fuel and priceless works of art are lost, but we produce anything, or do we carry on any work worthy of a free people? No, we work without soul, carelessly without energy, through out laziness and fight and sense of making work fruitful we waste the resources of our state. Of course, that is really hardly worth mentioning, particularly for us who claim that we want to regenerate the world through a new order of society. But have our present masters, who are incapable of working themselves and who do not wish to work, the slightest claim to call themselves educators?"

Only Result Laziness.

"These same masters will perhaps in a very near future not even this pair of trousers to put on. I do not think the workers of Europe are inclined to be very much impressed by these men. Revolutionary socialism is undoubtedly something exceedingly beautiful, but nevertheless we must work. All we have done hitherto is to create an atmosphere of laziness and criminal carelessness. Never have we worked as poorly or dishonestly as at present. To be true, lack of proper nourishment and the physical weakness resulting from it is partly the reason, but in the main it is due to our utter lack of the sense of responsibility."

It is of interest to notice that each of his attacks upon the Soviet Government and its leaders meets with an immediate response, and the effect of the article quoted above has the birth of a very strong opposition, with the very circle of the staunchest supporters of Lenin against the policy of the dictator. The object of this opposition is to compel the Soviet Government to adopt a very moderate policy.

Trotsky Threatened.

The position of Trotsky, it is said, is greatly threatened, since the major part within the Central Executive Committee has come strongly against him. This majority now maintains that an evolution in moderate direction will facilitate the endeavors to bring about a friendly understanding with the Western powers and accelerate the regeneration of Russia. Trotsky himself, in the meantime, storms and rages worse than ever. In a speech he has just made to the commanders of the Red armies, he said: "The entire capitalist world has now formed a league against the Soviet Government. We are passing through the most critical time. In all the wars Russia has fought, our chief enemy has always been France, and I want to hammer it into your minds that France is now preparing a great blow against us at Odessa, Novorossiysk and Nikolajew. It is more than likely that French troops are going to land and capture our cities. Our country is impoverished and bleeding from a thousand wounds, but we swear that we will fight until we have swept back every hostile force."

Awful Reign of Terror.

The Russian paper "Volia Rossia" gives a dreadful description of the reign of terror at Archangel and surrounding districts. Acting upon the orders of Trotsky, the commissioner Kedrov is massacring the population at Chokhlogor, on the northern Dvina River, he has just had 1,200 people belonging to the "Intelligentsia" shot down. The butchery was carried out with machine guns, and the sight of the shambles was so horrible that a number of Red soldiers present went insane. At Archangel a commission named Gov't Buying Personal Libraries to Restore Lost Works of Louvain University.

Louvain, Belgium, Nov. 24.—Personal libraries of German savants are being purchased to restock the shelves of the Louvain Library looted by the Germans in the war. The German professors are hard hit by heavy taxation and the high cost of living and many rare and valuable volumes have thus come into the market.

M. Louis Stahler, director of the Library Restoration Committee, told a correspondent of the London Daily News here that Louvain was very grateful for the consent of books from American well-wishers although, as he put it, the American collection being an "universal" than a "university" character. No building yet exists in Louvain adequate to receive the new library and the books thus far obtained, including 35,000 volumes from England, are scattered wherever temporary accommodation can be found for them.

By Trotsky is arresting and executing people night and day, among these a large number of women accused of having circulated rumors libeling the Bolsheviks.

DOMESTIC TRADE DECLINES WITH FALL IN STOCKS

Decline in Imports of Luxuries Brings New Trade Problem for Wall Street.

ATLANTIC GULF DOWN NINE POINTS

Money Easy With Call Loans Abundant at Six Per Cent.

New York, Nov. 24.—The reactionary trend of prices on the stock exchange today in which many leaders cancelled a substantial part of their recent recoveries, suggested that financial conditions imposed further revision of quoted values.

Dealings were much smaller than on any previous day of the week, but which tomorrow's holiday was probably responsible. The confidence manifested by the short interest, however, exactly had its justification in the ease with which the market receded.

Money conditions remained easy with an abundance of call loans at six per cent. and more liberal offerings of time funds and purchases of merchant's paper, but industrial and commercial advances merely confirmed the growing conviction of an inevitable slackening of trade.

Consumers on Strike. Further cancellations of merchandise were referred to by banking interests as one of the main factors confronting the domestic business situation and the sharp decline in imports of luxuries threw an interesting side light on the attitude of the buying public. The market was more cautious on finished contracts and sales of copper for home consumption were made at 14 cents, the lowest price in years.

An extreme decline of almost 9 points in Atlantic Gulf affected other shipowners by 2 to 4 1/2 points. Representative industrial shares rose 1 to 4 points with oil and motors and rails of the speculative and investment groups lost 1 to 2 1/2 points. In most cases rallies of 1 to 2 points ensued at the close. Pittsburgh and West Virginia making an actual gain of 5 1/2 points on large dealings. Sales amounted to 500,000 shares.

Foreign exchange markets were dull and mainly lower, the Shanghai rate reflecting the other decline in bar silver. In London, of the continental European markets, German and Spanish remittances were weaker.

Bonds were dull and featureless, most leading issues, including Liberties, showing nominal gains or losses. Total sales for value, $14,875,000. Of United States were unchanged on call.

ATLANTIC SUGAR SOARS AT MONTREAL TO 28 3-4 POINTS

Nearly 1,600 Shares Traded in During Day — Stock Remained Firmer.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—About a third of today's restricted turnover on the local stock exchange was furnished by Atlantic Sugar with dealings totaling 1,565 shares. Active buying resulted in an advance of the price to 28 3-4, of which advance 4 3-4 points were retained at 28 3-4 with closing bid at 27 and stock offered at 28. The prominence of the stock accompanied reports that plans for the financing of the company were being considered by the directors. A better demand for steamships and resultant advance in price to 5 1/2, which was retained at the close with 50 bid and 51 asked together with quiet strength in the paper group were other features of interest in today's market.

Papers Some Higher.

The papers were mostly inactive but prices were to the greater extent higher at the close. Abitibi added 1/2 point; Bronson a fraction; Wayagamack a fraction; Spanish preferred, a point and Howard Smith two points. Laurentide was not traded in to the extent of a board lot and Riddord lost a fraction. In the utilities, Canadian lost a fraction; Power was down a fraction, as also Detroit. Quebec was up half point, and Shawinigan was steady.
