NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATS NOMINATE DR. WOODROW WILSON FOR GOVERNOR

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 15.—Today's New Jersey Democratic state convention nominated Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of the Princeton University, for the office of governor of the state. Dr. Wilson's nomination was brought about largely through the influence of ex-Senator Jas. Smith, Jr. of Essex county, who is an undisputed Democratic leader of the state. Besides this support Dr. Wilson had with him a number of independent Democrats who believed that because of his standing as a publicist he would make an unusually strong candidate.

RAIN QUENCHES FOREST FIRES NEAR AMHERST

Amherst, N. S., Sept. 15.—(Special)—A destructive forest fire, that has been raging in the central part of the province for some days, has been brought under control by the timely rains. The fire broke out on Saturday in the Chapman settlement of Cumberland county and swept over 1,000 acres of valuable timber property. Over 100 fire fighters were out in force yesterday but could do little to prevent the spread of the conflagration, although several houses that were threatened were saved from destruction by their efforts. The rain last night continued long enough to prevent further damage.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 17, 1910

EAST AND WEST

The Minister of Public Works has among his occasional critics, some who are disposed to fear that Federal aid given to projects such as the Hudson Bay railroad, and the improvement of western waterways and harbors, will interfere unduly with the expansion of eastern Canadian ports, in which we are all so deeply interested.

Growth of trade and commerce in Canada must be along natural lines, remembering that it is the settled policy of the administration, as long ago defined by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to keep Canadian trade in Canadian channels.

The success or non-success of the Hudson Bay Railway and of other western projects is a matter that will be clearer some years hence; but, however that may turn out, the increased acreage yearly brought under cultivation in the West, and the great stream of population continually flowing into that territory, must mean, for a generation to come, a tremendous increase in the traffic flowing between East and West.

What is the cause of the disappearance of the Stars and Stripes from the ports of the world? Thirty years ago American ships were noted for their record passage, for speed and all round sailing they had no equal.

Year by year it has become increasingly clear that the expansion of St. John as a winter port has been along sound lines and it is more than ever a matter for congratulation that, thanks to the present

Minister of Public Works, the work of harbor expansion here has been officially recognized as a national duty in the performance of which not only this city and province, but the Dominion as a whole is interested and to the continuation of which along progressive lines, the country as a whole is definitely committed.

MEN OF PLAIN SPEECH

Thousands of St. John people crowded several of the city churches last Sunday to hear some of the foremost men in the Church of England in our day. Some, perhaps, went through curiosity, but more, doubtless, in search of some new and strengthening word from these great captains of the Gospel.

It has been asserted in some quarters that there is in the Church of England today a tendency either towards unbelief or towards symbolism. One could not readily discover excuse for that assertion in any of the more striking addresses made by our visitors to last Sabbath.

The Bishop of London himself, chief among the visitors, is in the view of the wayfarer, who thinks of religion rather than of creeds, a twentieth century crusader, dealing manfully and with unflinching courage, with tenderness and yet with daring, with the great problems and the small, with the high things and the mean, that come into the everyday lives of the rich and the poor, the hale and the sick, the righteous and the sinners, among the people to whom he ministers.

In every century, in every decade, there spring up in every church tendencies which, were they not resisted, would surely weaken the religious efficiency of the organization. Our generation is not peculiar in this matter, though some believe it to be so because they perceive that it is marked by a freer range of thought, a more daring analysis of all things on the part of an increasing number of the thoughtful men of the time.

THE TARIFF AND SHIPPING

The tariff reformers in England still speak of commercial decadence and the decline of England's commerce. Not only do the stars in their courses fight against them, but England's ships and sailors on every sea are proving them lying and foolish prophets. Two-thirds of the carrying trade of the world was conveyed last year under the Union Jack.

What is the cause of the disappearance of the Stars and Stripes from the ports of the world? Thirty years ago American ships were noted for their record passage, for speed and all round sailing they had no equal. They divided with Britain the carrying trade of the world, and received a fair proportion of that trade, for in many cases shippers preferred them on account of their speed.

Something has certainly eaten out the heart of American daring on the high seas. Having the longest coast line of any country in the world, with some of the finest sea ports, harbors and rivers, exporting millions of bushels of wheat, millions of bales of cotton, gallons of oil and manufactured articles without number, her merchant marine has dwindled to the present pitiable condition.

There is no question but protection has blasted this industry. There are no articles to which protection can be applied which are not directly a factor in a myriad of other industries and indirectly so in all the countless branches of industry. Even to secure data upon which an estimate can be made of what is or what is not fair protection requires an accurate knowledge on the part of the framers of a tariff of every conceivable industry in all its varied relations.

But that is not all. The only remedies proposed today to build up a merchant marine worthy of the traditions of the past are subsidies and more discriminating duties. The habit of running to Washington for aid seems fixed. The doctrine of paternal care taking the place of self-help has transformed the former aggressive self-reliance into limp dependence. Ship-building companies whine for a subsidy or a grant of aid, and the spirit of the old days of the "Flying Cloud" and of the Salem ships and sailors is never heard of.

THE EXTREMISTS

"No advocate of reciprocity," says the Conservative Toronto News, "can show its benefits to Canada even on local grounds." The News thinks that every advantage from closer international trade relations would go to the United States, and says it is impossible that it should be otherwise.

Here we have the extreme view, put forward by an organ of the protected interests which desire a continuation and an increase of special legislation in order that the Canadian manufacturer may, under the cover of protectionist laws, deal with the Canadian consumer after the fashion of the railroading phrase which says that the proper freight charge is "all that the traffic will bear."

In dealing with the United States, as in dealing with other nations, any changes that may be made in the Canadian tariff will be made in the interest of the people of this country, and not because of any mere desire to promote trade with the Republic or any wish to curry favor with the people to the south of us.

When tariff making comes to be discussed, in Canada as in the United States, there is bound to be a great amount of dust-throwing by those special interests who fear any change in the tariff that may take from them the unjust profit they have enjoyed at the consumer's expense.

Something has certainly eaten out the heart of American daring on the high seas. Having the longest coast line of any country in the world, with some of the finest sea ports, harbors and rivers, tariff agreement with the United States will be a step toward separation from the Empire—but that cry is well recognized in this country now as born of a desire to prevent any lessening of the profits which the protected interests in this country derive from class legislation.

The News that no advocate of reciprocity can show its benefits to Canada even on local grounds. If the News will wait until it has seen what sort of reciprocity the United States is willing to agree upon, the value of its words will be measured much more easily.

From now until the Ideas of November many of our quiet, decent citizens will "play hobo," as the unregenerate call the sylvan sport of hunting. Perhaps the first advice to offer to Nimrods, seasoned and unseasoned, is not to shoot one of your fellows, mistaking him for a goose or "lucifer," a caribou or bear.

GOOD HUNTING

The one point which the mighty African hunter last year always insisted on was not to wound animals and lose them. However well a man may shoot at a small mark on a target, the conditions are different in the forest. Out of the thousands of men who go out every fall to hunt with the rifle, only a very few have any opportunities during the close season for rifle practice under conditions similar to those they will meet with in the forest.

There are, in the aldermanic report, several attempts to confuse the issue, at least that are unworthy of men in a responsible position. If there was to be a serious investigation of the Main street job and of the civic spending department, the way to set about it was to have the inquiry conducted by an impartial authority or tribunal outside the Council, and to engage competent counsel with power to call and cross-examine such witnesses as he desired and to act upon any or all information supplied to him openly or confidentially by the taxpayers.

As the matter stands today, the Hassam Company camps on the field. But the question is not settled, and echoes of it will be heard from this time until after the next civic election. In the meantime it will be necessary to ascertain by competent evidence what method, with respect to rolling the stone, was really followed by the Hassam Company in Fredericton; and it will be the part of wisdom at City Hall to see that the inspection of the remaining paving work to be done for the city shall be more than perfunctory.

THE MAINE ELECTIONS

As foreshadowed in these columns a day or two ago, the unexpected has happened in the adjoining state of Maine. Much had liquor will flow in this prohibition state over the result of Monday's elections.

THE VERDICT OF THE ALDERMEN

After some weeks of investigation by a committee of aldermen, a report was submitted on Tuesday evening to the Council, setting forth the opinions and findings of the judge and jury who have been trying themselves for neglect of their public duties.

manic report upon it now, the verdict of the aldermen will not be displeasing, because, although it is highly self-contradictory, it asserts in the main that the aldermen, the civic officials, the Hassam Paving Company, and all hands excepting only Mr. James Carleton and the newspapers, have attended strictly to their business and are in no serious degree blameworthy.

But, on the other hand, to all citizens who have given close attention to the Main street matter and to the administration of the spending departments of the city, the verdict of the aldermen will be at once inconclusive, contradictory, at odds with the facts and the evidence, and therefore very unsatisfactory.

There are some things which an observing public will not readily forget. Some of them are: That the city intended to have, and is paying for, a concrete foundation in Main street, but that it is not getting what it paid for.

That unless Mr. Carleton had resigned in protest, and had thus concentrated public and official attention on the Main street job, there is reason to believe that the whole work would have been as unsatisfactory as was that portion which was so roundly condemned not only by the inspector but by the Mayor and the aldermen generally.

That while the Hassam method has now been officially endorsed by the city, the city does not know, officially or unofficially, what the Hassam method is; the engineer was unable to tell what it is; and other evidence concerning it was so obviously contradictory as to leave this interesting question in doubt.

That the main proposition in the aldermanic report of investigation is based upon the contention that the Hassam people did not intend or desire to roll the broken stone before the grouting mixture had been applied; whereas, it has been asserted freely and frequently that in Fredericton when the Hassam company put regularly another contract, the stone was thoroughly rolled before the mixture was applied; that it was, apparently, at one time the intention to bring evidence to show what the Hassam method was in Fredericton, but that for some reason that very pertinent line of inquiry was not followed home.

As the matter stands today, the Hassam Company camps on the field. But the question is not settled, and echoes of it will be heard from this time until after the next civic election. In the meantime it will be necessary to ascertain by competent evidence what method, with respect to rolling the stone, was really followed by the Hassam Company in Fredericton; and it will be the part of wisdom at City Hall to see that the inspection of the remaining paving work to be done for the city shall be more than perfunctory.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE A SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY By Daniel Webster

I KNOW, although the idea has not been stated distinctly, there is to be, or is supposed possible that there will be, a southern confederacy. I do not mean, when I allude to this statement, that anyone seriously contemplates such a state of things. I do not mean to say that it is true; but I have heard it suggested elsewhere that the idea has been entertained that after the dissolution of this union a southern confederacy might be formed.

Sir, nobody can look over the face of this country at the present moment, nobody can see where its population is most dense and growing, without being ready to admit that ere long the strength of America will be in the valley of the Mississippi.

Moncton expects to have natural gas piped into the city limits early in 1911, and if this expectation is fulfilled there will be, in the already rapidly growing railway town, a very great additional industrial development.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Register-Extension, of Toronto, a leading organ of the English speaking Catholics of Canada, says editorially: "We feel somehow that Dr. Vaughan's denunciation of Protestantism as a soul-less religion, was a serious mistake. It is an offensive phrase and we have been objecting to offensive phrases. The expression means nothing and has merely served to stir up bad feeling and to create sentiments of resentment in the breasts of kindly and well-intentioned Protestants."

The appearance of typhoid fever at Campbellton should tend to direct public attention afresh to the serious nature of the situation bound to develop there as winter approaches. The brave and energetic men who have been exerting themselves to better the situation of the sufferers deserve at this time a great measure of public support, and any statements they may make as to the needs of the people there should be given close attention, for they are on the ground.

MRS. JAMES HOLT DEAD AT GREAT AGE OF 107 YEARS

Passed Away Yesterday After Brief Illness—Perhaps the Oldest Woman in All Canada—Her Recollections of Early Days Here—A Cheerful Companion.

THE LATE MRS. JAMES HOLT

Thursday, Sept. 15. After having attained her 107th birthday on March 15 last, Mrs. Ann Holt, widow of James Holt, formerly of Carleton, passed peacefully away yesterday morning about 4 o'clock in the Mater Misericordiae Home. She was the oldest woman in this city, and probably the oldest resident in all Canada, and with her death another of the few remaining links which bound the present generation to former times has been snapped. Deceased was one of the most widely known residents of the city, and her death will bring keen regret to many. She was survived by five sons and one daughter. She will be buried from the home this afternoon.

THE SUPERNUMERARY FUND OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

Methodism has always aimed at providing an allowance for ministers who by reason of age are not able to take charges. To this fund they are compelled to make annual payments so long as they are in active work. At the recent annual conference they agreed to pay, after the conference of 1911, at the rate of three per cent of their salaries. The fund allows a retired minister $10 per year for every year in active service. So that a minister retiring after thirty years' work is entitled to $300 per year. But for some years past the fund has not been able to meet its full claims. Last year it paid only 86 per cent of them. And some years it has not done as well as that. Every circuit is assessed a certain amount each year. And for many years the amount assessed has been paid in every instance. Another source of income is interest from an invested capital. Now the total income comes, roughly speaking, in about equal amounts from the three above-named sources. It has been decided to increase the invested capital by at least $50,000. Nova Scotia conference is to raise $23,000, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island conference is to raise $20,000 and Newfoundland conference the balance of $7,000.

DIG FAIR CLOSE WEDNESDAY NIGHT IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Total Attendance More Than 50,000 Greater Than Ever Before

Nearly 9,000 People Visited the Grounds Wednesday, Notwithstanding the Threatening Weather--Banks Had Busy Day--Some of the Heaviest Prize Winners--A Comparative Statement.

Thursday, Sept. 15. The Dominion Exhibition of 1910 is now a thing of the past. The show closed last evening after ten successful days, at least so far as attendance goes. The total attendance for the period was 122,589, which is an increase over 1908 of 52,794 and is 51,576 ahead of 1906, the largest number registered in any previous exhibition. It will be some time before the financial result of the fair will be known as there is considerable work yet to be done by the officials in winding up the affairs. The banks were given a busy day, the branch in the exhibition building alone cashing checks for prize money for over $6,000 and this was only a portion of the prize money paid out yesterday. Yesterday's attendance was 8,311, which is considered very good in view of the disagreeable weather conditions. Most of those on the grounds yesterday did not put in appearance until the evening when the weather cleared somewhat.

The Dragons. There were very few people on the grounds during the morning, but early after dinner quite a number arrived and the performance of the Royal Canadian Dragons and the other features before the grand stand were watched by many. The heavy mist during the latter part of the afternoon kept the majority in the buildings, though some braved the elements to take in the shows along the pike. In the evening there was a little rush as the people arrived to witness the last performance of the Dragons and the performance of the Royal Canadian Dragons and the other features before the grand stand. PROF. ROBERTSON BRINGS CHEER TO NEWFOUNDLANDERS

Says Present Acreage of Cleared Land Can Easily Double Its Products. St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 14—A new era in the life of Newfoundland is opened up by the report of Prof. Robertson, a famous Canadian agriculturist, who has just completed a fortnight of inspection of various parts of the island, inspecting the agricultural possibilities here. He states that it is greatly surprising that in the farming opportunities the island presents, and believes that the present acreage of cleared land can double the value of farming products easily and greatly increase the comfort and prosperity of the colony, which no longer will have to depend entirely upon fisheries and lumbering for progress. Prof. Robertson has delivered several lectures on farming which, with his encouraging reports made to the government, has aroused considerable enthusiasm throughout the island, and is expected to stimulate progress greatly.

TYPHOID OUTBREAK IN CAMPBELLTON

Campbellton, N. B., Sept. 13—Typhoid fever has broken out here and this evening it is estimated that there are at least thirty cases, while several, who were here working and felt the illness coming on, went to their homes. The emergency hospital is crowded with patients and the relief committee are being called upon daily to provide mattresses, springs and bedding for the fever-stricken who are unable to gain admission to the hospital. The work of building is being rapidly pushed and good progress is being made, but a serious problem faces the relief committee in the providing of homes for the poor for this winter. Every contractor has accepted about as much work as he can attend to, and it is almost impossible to let further contracts. The scarcity of finished lumber is also retarding the work of rebuilding.

MONTREAL CHOIR LEADER DROPS DEAD IN SUNDAY PROCESSION. Montreal, Sept. 12—(Special)—While leading his choir in the procession on Sunday afternoon, and when in the act of commencing to sing "Pitieu, Mon Dieu," Denis Poliquin, leader of St. James' church choir fell dead into the arms of the cure, who was walking beside him. Poliquin had marched with the parade from the French church and had led his choir at different intervals along the route. When he reached St. Hubert street he passed the word along for the choir to start singing, and had just uttered the words "Pitieu, Mon Dieu" when he was noticed to stagger and fall. Few persons realized that he had dropped dead and the procession continued. Those who saw Poliquin fall evidently thought he had fainted. About two years ago his wife dropped dead in their home.

EMS OF PROSE

ERN CONFEDRACY Daniel Webster. March" speech in the U. S. senate, March 7, 1850. has not been stated distinctly, there possible that there will be, a southern mean, when I allude to this statement, plates such a state of things. I do not ut I have heard it suggested elsewhere that after the dissolution of this might be formed. I am sorry, sir, that alk of, or dreamed of, in the wildest. But the idea so far as it exists must the slave states to one side and the free y express myself too strongly, perhaps, in the moral as well as the physical a separation of these states, those that ent and those that are slave-holding to possibility. We could not separate the e were to draw it. We could not sit line of separation that would satisfy. There are natural causes that would there are social and domestic relations we would and which we should not if buyers of motor cars to have a horn that will make a more unearthly sound than that owned, controlled, and operated by any of their neighbors. There is no great point in this argument for uniformity of sounds, anyway. If the Ottawa alderman is in a state of a nervous collapse because of the honking, he would be even worse if it was pitched all in one key. The variety itself should be a relief to him. Moncton expects to have natural gas piped into the city limits early in 1911, and if this expectation is fulfilled there will be, in the already rapidly growing railway town, a very great additional industrial development. There will now be a general, and no doubt a sustained, demand that Mr. James Carleton become a candidate for a seat in the next Council. His election would be a fitting answer to the aldermanic report of the aldermanic investigation. And he will be elected if he is willing to serve. Commander Roper, R. N., chief of staff of the Canadian naval department, says that the proposed Canadian cruisers and destroyers will form a most useful addition to the Imperial navy, and are, under existing conditions, preferable to Dreadnoughts, of which Britain at present has a sufficient number. Some of the wilder Conservative politicians whose habit it is to assail the Laurier naval policy should paste in their hats the statements of this expert. The appearance of typhoid fever at Campbellton should tend to direct public attention afresh to the serious nature of the situation bound to develop there as winter approaches. The brave and energetic men who have been exerting themselves to better the situation of the fire sufferers deserve at this time a great measure of public support, and any statements they may make as to the needs of the people there should be given close attention, for they are on the ground.

A HARD-HITTING RETORT. (M. A. P.) When Wellington appeared in France at the Court of Restoration, the marshals of the empire turned their backs on him. The king apologized to him for their rudeness. "N'importe, sire, 'est leur habitude," was Wellington's reply. The long, wide scarves to be worn about the neck have been received with delight. They are in many effects, many being richly beaded.

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES

MAY PRICES FOR EGGS

Published by the Department of Labor contains facts concerning the sale of eggs—'strictly fresh'—which are here pictured. Just why it should cost more to buy one dozen eggs in Vancouver than to buy two dozen eggs in Moncton is a question in which Vancouver people may be interested.

The prices of eggs do not show such anomalous variations as do those of some other commodities. Of nineteen places in Ontario that are reported upon, only one paid over 25c per dozen for strictly fresh eggs in May, and that place was Port Arthur, whose prosperous citizens found themselves able to pay 35c. Sault Ste. Marie was the next highest, at 25c. Then came Hamilton at 24c. Toronto and Windsor were equal at 23c. Nine places in Ontario paid 20c., which was the lowest figure reported for that Province. In the West, Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw, and Edmonton were equal at 25c., and Calgary, Nelson, New Westminster, and Victoria were also equal at 35c. Vancouver stood alone at 40c. a dozen for eggs, Westville, N. S., shared with Moncton the lowest price reported, 15c. per dozen; while Charlottetown, P. E. I., was only a point higher at 19c. St. John, N. B., folks paid 20c. per dozen, while those of Halifax paid 24c., or twenty per cent. more, this being the same price that Montrealers had to pay. These tables of the Labor Department are compiled with great care from information specially collected under conditions that assure as great accuracy as is possible in such matters. They afford comparisons of the greatest interest to those who have to pay housekeeping bills.

Presbyterian Congregations Under Charge of S. Farley Assemble in Large Numbers to Farewell Him

Norton, N. B., Sept. 13.—Never in the history of the congregation of the Presbyterian churches of Norton and Campbell Settlement has there been a more unique social gathering taken place than that which met in the public hall at Norton last evening for the purpose of showing in a slight degree at least the esteem in which Mr. Kelly was held by those who had the opportunity of knowing him well.

The chairman spoke at some length, paying tribute to the high character of the work which Mr. Kelly had done in his life, and the high tribute to Mr. Kelly, Dr. Gillmore would be the poorer and Digby the richer by his departure from here. After a graceful reference to Mr. Kelly Dr. Gillmore called upon Mr. Moran, who read the address.

The address was accompanied by a handsome leather solid suit case. When Mr. Kelly arose to reply he was mentioned by name by the speaker, visibly affected; he took place in St. Martins since his boyhood. He has spent all his time here since then, with the exception of a short time at Albert county, where he had taught school in Albert county.

Speeches were made by James Rourke, ex-M. P., P. A. F. Bentley, M. P., P. C. M. Howard, ex-M. P., Jacob Titus, W. E. Skillen and Michael Moran, all of whom spoke in high terms of Mr. Kelly and wished him and his family every success in his new home.

Among those present were George Patterson, Edmund Lewis, Herbert Jackson, Wellington Vail, Harry Caine, John Dimock, and Capt. David Smith. The company was treated with light refreshments. The proceedings closed about 10 with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

John Black, jr., manager of the Bank of B. N. A. here, received word on Saturday from headquarters to be ready to report showing for the date at the Ottawa branch of the bank. He has exchanged places with C. A. K. Kirk, the accountant of that branch. This is a decided promotion for Mr. Black. He has been in charge of the bank for eight or nine months, during which he has made many friends in social, as well as business circles. His departure will be very generally regretted. It is believed that after a short time Mr. Black will be given the management of a branch more important than the one here.

At a largely attended meeting of citizens at the St. Martins Hotel, with W. Barker as the chief speaker, Mr. Moran, principal of the St. Martins high school was formerly introduced. The chairman, on behalf of the people of St. Martins, attended to Mr. Carman a hearty welcome.

"THE DEED IS THE MAN"

The Dream is the babe in the Lovell nest, And the rollicking boy at play, The Dream is the youth with the old, old zest.

Then the Dream strides forth to the distant goal, That has dazzled since life began; For the Dream is the child of the rampant soul.

But the Deed is the man, The Dream is the peak that is seen afar, And the wish for the eagle's wings; The star is the song to the beckoning star.

That the world walk fondly sings, Then the Deed comes crowned with the strength and skill, That doth perfect a golden plan; For the Dream is the child of the sovereign will— But the Deed is the man.

The Dream is the mask that would make men fair, And the boast that would count them brave; The Dream is the honors that heroes wear, And the glory that high hearts crave.

Then the Deed gives battle to pride and self, As only a conqueror can; For the Dream is the child of the better self, But the Deed is the man.

No song was so sweet and no star so bright, As the Dream of the Nazarene; From Virgin's bosom to Calvary's height, It sang and it shone, serene. Then the Deed proclaimed Him King of His kind, As the blood of the martyr ran; For the Dream was the Child of the Master-mind— But the Deed was the Man! —James C. McNally, in the National Magazine.

ST. MARTINS PEOPLE HONOR MICHAEL KELLY

Presented With Suit Case and Address on Eve of His Departure for Digby to Reside.

St. Martins, Sept. 12.—By arrangement among themselves a large number of personal friends of Michael Kelly's met at his residence at 8 o'clock Saturday night to pay their respects to him and his family before their removal to Digby (N. S.). Dr. H. E. Gillmore, on being selected chairman, said the company had been collected together for the purpose of showing in a slight degree at least the esteem in which Mr. Kelly was held by those who had the opportunity of knowing him well.

The chairman spoke at some length, paying tribute to the high character of the work which Mr. Kelly had done in his life, and the high tribute to Mr. Kelly, Dr. Gillmore would be the poorer and Digby the richer by his departure from here. After a graceful reference to Mr. Kelly Dr. Gillmore called upon Mr. Moran, who read the address.

The address was accompanied by a handsome leather solid suit case. When Mr. Kelly arose to reply he was mentioned by name by the speaker, visibly affected; he took place in St. Martins since his boyhood. He has spent all his time here since then, with the exception of a short time at Albert county, where he had taught school in Albert county.

Speeches were made by James Rourke, ex-M. P., P. A. F. Bentley, M. P., P. C. M. Howard, ex-M. P., Jacob Titus, W. E. Skillen and Michael Moran, all of whom spoke in high terms of Mr. Kelly and wished him and his family every success in his new home.

Among those present were George Patterson, Edmund Lewis, Herbert Jackson, Wellington Vail, Harry Caine, John Dimock, and Capt. David Smith. The company was treated with light refreshments. The proceedings closed about 10 with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

John Black, jr., manager of the Bank of B. N. A. here, received word on Saturday from headquarters to be ready to report showing for the date at the Ottawa branch of the bank. He has exchanged places with C. A. K. Kirk, the accountant of that branch. This is a decided promotion for Mr. Black. He has been in charge of the bank for eight or nine months, during which he has made many friends in social, as well as business circles. His departure will be very generally regretted. It is believed that after a short time Mr. Black will be given the management of a branch more important than the one here.

At a largely attended meeting of citizens at the St. Martins Hotel, with W. Barker as the chief speaker, Mr. Moran, principal of the St. Martins high school was formerly introduced. The chairman, on behalf of the people of St. Martins, attended to Mr. Carman a hearty welcome.

"THE DEED IS THE MAN"

The Dream is the babe in the Lovell nest, And the rollicking boy at play, The Dream is the youth with the old, old zest.

Then the Dream strides forth to the distant goal, That has dazzled since life began; For the Dream is the child of the rampant soul.

But the Deed is the man, The Dream is the peak that is seen afar, And the wish for the eagle's wings; The star is the song to the beckoning star.

That the world walk fondly sings, Then the Deed comes crowned with the strength and skill, That doth perfect a golden plan; For the Dream is the child of the sovereign will— But the Deed is the man.

The Dream is the mask that would make men fair, And the boast that would count them brave; The Dream is the honors that heroes wear, And the glory that high hearts crave.

Then the Deed gives battle to pride and self, As only a conqueror can; For the Dream is the child of the better self, But the Deed is the man.

No song was so sweet and no star so bright, As the Dream of the Nazarene; From Virgin's bosom to Calvary's height, It sang and it shone, serene. Then the Deed proclaimed Him King of His kind, As the blood of the martyr ran; For the Dream was the Child of the Master-mind— But the Deed was the Man! —James C. McNally, in the National Magazine.
