ways Sided With War Party and Was Not Averse to Conflict With Russia or Italy—His Death, it is Thought, Will Tend Toward More Friendly Relations Among Powers.

Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 28.—Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and the Princess of Serbie, his morganatic wife, were not dead in the main street of the Bosnian capital by a student today, while they were making their usual progress through the city on their usual visit to the annexed provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The archduke was lifted in the face of the princess was shot through the abdomen and throat. Their wounds proved mortal within a few minutes after reaching the palace, to which they were carried with all speed.

They responsible for the assassination. It is believed that it should prove effective, but that it will probably be defeated with a bomb and the other with a revolver. The bomb was thrown at a royal automobile as it was proceeding to the town hall, where it was to be held, but the archduke saw the deadly missile coming and turned it off his arm. It hit outside the car and exploded, slightly wounding two side clerks in a second car and half a dozen spectators.

It was on the return of the procession that the tragedy was added to the long list of those that have saddened the eyes of the recent history of the Hapsburgs. As the royal automobile reached the main point in the route to the place an eighth grade student, Gavrilo Princip, sprang out of the crowd and fired a shot at the archduke with an automatic pistol at the archduke's side.

Both fell, mortally wounded. Princip and a fellow conspirator, an impostor from Trebinje, a name of the assassin, were captured. They were both sentenced to death. The assassins were interrogated by the police during the course of the afternoon. Both seemed to glory in their deed, and Princip said he had studied for a time at Belgrade. He declared he had intended to kill some eminent person from nationalistic standpoint who knew the automobile would slacken speed. The presence of the princess in the car caused him to alter his original intention. Then his nerve returned and he emptied his pistol at the imperial heir. He denied that he had any accomplices.

The assassination, if no change is made hereafter, now passes to Archduke Charles Francis, son of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand, and the wife of the emperor, who married Princess Zita of Austria. They have one son and one daughter.

London, June 28.—The fact that Archduke Francis Ferdinand met his death in the capital of Bosnia, the annexation of Austria to Austria-Hungary, and his initiative, and that the crime was committed by Slavs, who have bitterly resented this extension of Austrian territory at the expense of Serbia, leads to the belief that the crime was an act of revenge for this successful coup of 1908.

At the time, the annexation of Bosnia seemed a sensible and a necessary step, and it was to drag the powers into the off-ended European war through Russia, and the Slavs against the archduke was never overcome, although he asserted himself in showing the dominant position in their empire, which was actually been secured by the monarchs in Austria-Hungary, Germany and Magyar, of having favored the Slavs against their interests.

The archduke's death is certain to have considerable effect upon the European situation. Rightly or wrongly, it is a sensation which has been anticipated for the further extension of Austrian territory toward the Gulf of Salonika, which would, if attempted, lead to a conflict with Austria, which would be his again cause a rupture between the dual monarchy and Russia.

TROOPS IN 'BATTLE' ARRAYS AT SUSSEX

Annual Sham Fight Occurs Today

Invading Force Camped Last Night at Jeffrey's Corner

Hon. Colonel Sam Hughes Swooped Down on the Camp Yesterday and Made a Brief Inspection—Minister of War Didn't Wait in Town for Any Bouquets, but Hurried Away to Charlottetown After Conference with Mr. Fowler.

(Special to The Telegraph)

Camp Sussex, N. B., July 2.—With only a few miles stretching between two hostile forces are camped tonight near Sussex. The red troops, defending the important arsenal in town are bivouaced just a short distance from the big camp grounds, while the blue invading force have established a one-night camp about half a mile from Jeffrey's Corner, some eight miles from Sussex.

Each is ably picketed and guarded lest there be a night attack, but no conflict is expected until soon after daybreak tomorrow, when the enemy's forces will undoubtedly advance full strength upon the defending troops.

The Invading Army.

The invaders have temporarily secured control of the line of march inland from the coast. They are under command of Colonel H. H. McLean and comprise the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th.

Excitement prevailed in camp for a while this morning when it was known that Canada's minister of war, and estimates, Colonel Hon. Sam Hughes had swept down on the camp. He was met by the invading force and an inspection. The minister did not stay very long. He arrived at 1 o'clock, drove to the camp, made his inspection, and left about 2 o'clock on the C. P. E. going east. But all was in readiness for his arrival and he conducted an inspection of the camp during his brief visit, expressing himself as quite well satisfied with the condition of things as he had found them. He seemed very much impressed with the drill, appearance and deportment of the men and it may be that the big stretch of camp grounds which he had been led to visit, and the fact that he had seen the invading force in a position at a cost of some more thousands, and so pondering the decision not to stay too long in a town where his name had not become a word, he left—popular as a household name, he was in it and it was taken on his way to Charlottetown.

Before leaving Sussex, the minister had a brief conference with George W. Fowler, M. P., and Col. Victor Williams in full.

Army Service Corps' Inspection.

An inspection of the Army Service Corps was made yesterday by Col. Edgar of Ottawa, and the usual satisfactory showing was made by this unit, and in the branch of the service. The inspecting officer seemed well pleased with the efficiency of the St. John corps, and in the march-part on Sunday last carried off signal honors both in appearance and marching and excited most favorable comment in this regard.

Col. Jones of Ottawa, conducted an inspection of the medical units in camp.

Winnipeg Crew and Toronto Rower Have Good Chance for Big Henley Prizes

BRITISH DEFEATED

Two American and a German Crew Survive in Preliminaries of Grand Challenge Cup—Contests to Be Decided Today.

(Associated Press.)

Henley-On-Thames, England, July 2.—The Grand Challenge Cup, the "blue ribbon" of English rowing, is going abroad this year for the fifth time in nine years. The probabilities are that America will be its resting-place for the coming year, after which it must be returned to the stewards of the Henley Regatta to be competed for again.

In the first series of heats for the Grand Challenge Cup in the Royal Regatta today the English crews were eliminated. The Winnipeg crew had an easy victory over the Thames Rowing Club; the Havard crew eight oarsmen of London; the Union Boat Club eight of Boston defeated the London Rowing Club, and the German crew, of Major Geo. H. Parker, who is related to some prominent politicians in Sanbury county, managed to secure the contract and associated with him were the Messrs. Hibbard, of Upper Canada; Lyon Cohen, of Montreal, and A. D. Gaul, of the same place.

Mr. Polley, in his evidence, said that Cohen was president and Gaul secretary of the company. Among the sub-contractors on the Hibbard section are Luther Smith, Conservative candidate in Queens-Sunbury in the last federal election; James Fleming, brother of Premier Fleming, and P. McLeod, brother of the ex-provincial secretary, Hon. H. F. McLeod, is also prominently connected with the Hibbard party.

Tells of New Loan to Gould Investors.

From the form today the Harvard men are favorites, although, with the exception of Mayence, the others were not so.

The London papers gave unstinted praise to the American victories, employing such headlines as "An American Henley," "A British Debacle," "The Harvard-Leander race," says the Pall Mall Gazette, "stands out as one of the best and most thrilling performances ever witnessed on the Henley course, the best showing that an American eight has yet made at Henley."

The Grand Challenge Cup was won in 1904, 1907 and 1909 by a Belgian crew; in 1912 it was carried to New South Wales by an eight representing the Sydney Rowing Club.

Robert Dibble, Don Rowing Club, Toronto, the American amateur sculling champion, won his way to the finals for the diamond shells. He rowed a clean race and handily defeated the Englishman, J. L. Tann.

James H. Ayes, Union Boat Club, Boston, the only representative of the United States left in the contest for the diamonds after the first round, was beaten by the Italian Giuseppe Sinigaglia. The Italian's tactics in his race with Ayes, although it made no difference as far as the result was concerned, were severely criticized. He took his opponent's station and gave Ayes his wash, which is considered ungentlemanlike at Henley, and there were cries of "play the game."

Dibble will meet Sinigaglia in the consolation heat, but will not be in the semi-finals, and C. M. Stuart, Trinity Hall, Cambridge, will row against E. G. Williams, Village Club.

Evidence of Manager of Hibbard Construction Co., Shows That Some of the Progress Estimates were Unsigned by an Engineer—St. John Standard Misrepresented Evidence of Herman Corbett, Regarding His Father's Request Not to be Subpoenaed.

(Special to The Telegraph)

Fredericton, July 2.—There was nothing of startling interest in the evidence before the royal commission this afternoon. William V. Polley, manager of the Hibbard Construction Co., which has a contract of sixty-two and a half miles of the Valley railway, was on the stand all the afternoon and his evidence is not completed yet.

This section of the railway has been popularly known as the political section as it was said to be understood that the government reserved the right to name the contractor upon this portion of the railway. The evidence in a lawsuit in Montreal rather bars out this statement.

Major Geo. H. Parker, who is related to some prominent politicians in Sanbury county, managed to secure the contract and associated with him were the Messrs. Hibbard, of Upper Canada; Lyon Cohen, of Montreal, and A. D. Gaul, of the same place.

The progress estimates submitted by the Hibbard Construction Co. for the first two months of the year were guaranteed for $448,307.96. This leaves a wide margin of $207,831.31 for other expenses and when it is remembered that the company had made a loan in May and June and July previous for $300,000 from the Provincial Trust Company it will be seen that the railway had a large surplus of cash.

Ontario Coroner's Jury Finds He Did Not "Exercise Due Care."

Thornhill, Ont., July 2.—A strong verdict was brought in today by the coroner's jury in the case of Mabel Marsh, who was killed a week ago by an automobile driven by John B. Whaley. The jury said:

"We believe that said John B. Whaley did not exercise due care in driving his car at the time of the accident or subsequently."

This case has many unusual features. The one outstanding point of the whole investigation was the fact that Whaley, after the accident, had been asked to stop the car and go back, but he did not do so. He was told repeatedly by the two men with him in the automobile that a girl had been struck. One of them even tried to stop the machine, but Whaley drove madly away from the scene.

Letter on Whaley acted as foreman of the jury which started the investigation of the fatal accident of which he had been the cause. He is now facing the charge of manslaughter.

HALIFAX AVIATOR DROWNED IN RIVER AT WINDSOR, N. S.

Joseph Purcell's Balloon Landed in the Avon, and He Perished While Trying to Swim Ashore.

Halifax, N. S., July 2.—Joseph Stanley Purcell, the Halifax aviator and balloonist, tragically ended his career at 7:12 this evening by being drowned in the River Avon at Windsor, while making a descent from a balloon, the ascension of which had been postponed from the sports programme of the day before, owing to inclement weather.

The victim of the accident was descending from a balloon which had risen to a height of several hundred yards, when a wind carried him over the river, but not far enough to make him land on the other side. When it was seen that Purcell was likely to be driven back to sea, a boat was sent out to his rescue. He was a strong swimmer and had immediately struck out to reach one of the shores when he was within twenty yards from the Avon side shore he was suddenly assailed by a strong wind and was not seen again. Search was immediately commenced for his body, but it was not located.

Canadians Arrive in Fine Fettle—Thirty of Them Entered for King's Prize.

London, July 2.—All the members of the Canadian Bisley team arrived at midnight on Wednesday, the Scotians having made a record trip of ten days from Montreal, including a call at Havre. They were met by several Canadian and some leading English riflemen, and proceeded at once to Bisley, the customs officials having passed their baggage without examination, him over the river.

The English shots are delighted that the Ross rifle difficulty has been adjusted, as there is a general feeling that Bisley would not be Bisley if the Canadian pavilion were not occupied.

Government Will Now Cut Out Sags and Momentum Grades in Transcontinental and Operation of Line Will be Delayed a Year by the Changes—Tariff Changes in Effect.

(Special to The Telegraph)

Ottawa, July 2.—Major R. W. Leonard, who for the past two years and a half has been in charge of the work of the National Transcontinental Commission, has retired from the position, and an order-in-council has been passed transferring the duties of the commission to the minister of railways. The transfer is made under the provisions of an act passed at the last session of parliament enabling the government to dispense with the commission entirely and complete the undertaking under the direct management of the railway department.

Major Leonard had already announced it was necessary to find a way out of the calamity which threatened, and that therefore the Unionists would give the amending bill a second reading and introduce amendments during the committee stage.

The Duke of Abercorn, speaking today as an Ulster Volunteer, said he looked upon the bill as the only loophole he could see for the avoidance of a most useful bill.

The Marquis of Londonderry, chairman of the Ulster Unionist Council, said that the bill was a horrible one but that he would support it in order to avoid civil war.

The Marquis of Salisbury announced he would support the amending bill for the same reason, much as he disliked it. He expressed the hope that Lord Willoughby De Broke could be induced, in the hope of settlement, to drop his amendment for the rejection of the bill.

The Earl of Halsbury, once the most irreconcilable of the "die hards" hoped for nothing, for nothing could be more urgent, he said, than the necessity of making some sacrifices in order to avoid civil war.

London, July 2.—The debate in the house of lords today on the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill was characterized by general recognition on the part of the Unionists that some means of settlement must be found and that the amending bill offered the only chance of accomplishing this.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, the Unionist leader, had already announced it was necessary to find a way out of the calamity which threatened, and that therefore the Unionists would give the amending bill a second reading and introduce amendments during the committee stage.

Annual Sham Fight Occurs Today

Invading Force Camped Last Night at Jeffrey's Corner

Hon. Colonel Sam Hughes Swooped Down on the Camp Yesterday and Made a Brief Inspection—Minister of War Didn't Wait in Town for Any Bouquets, but Hurried Away to Charlottetown After Conference with Mr. Fowler.

(Special to The Telegraph)

Camp Sussex, N. B., July 2.—With only a few miles stretching between two hostile forces are camped tonight near Sussex. The red troops, defending the important arsenal in town are bivouaced just a short distance from the big camp grounds, while the blue invading force have established a one-night camp about half a mile from Jeffrey's Corner, some eight miles from Sussex.

Excitement prevailed in camp for a while this morning when it was known that Canada's minister of war, and estimates, Colonel Hon. Sam Hughes had swept down on the camp. KINGS COUNTY MAN WHO HAS MADE GOOD VISITING HIS OLD HOME HERE

Robert M. Raymond, formerly of New Brunswick and now a successful engineer in the United States, is visiting relatives in Kings county. He and Mrs. Raymond arrived on Saturday at St. John and visited his cousin, Mr. Archibald Raymond, and left to see his brothers George and John Raymond and his sister Miss Helen Raymond, at Central Norton. He will also visit his sister, Mrs. Edith Raymond, at Kingsport, Kingston (N. B.).

Mr. Raymond has had a varied and interesting career, having visited a great many parts of the globe in the course of his work as an engineer. He is a pupil of the late Dr. G. U. Hays in Central Norton. He afterwards attended the Kings county grammar school in Kingsport, where he graduated in arts from the U. N. B., taking honors in modern languages. Later he took a course in mining, engineering at Columbia University, New York.

His first practical work was with Professor Bartlett in the Maine state assay office. After years' experience in the office of the U. S. Geological Survey in South Carolina, he went from there to Great Falls, Montana, where he entered the employ of a large mining and exploration company of London, England.

His next position was as superintendent of a gold mine in Arizona, where he remained for ten years. He then went to the U. S. Geological Survey, South Africa.

The outbreak of the Boer war in 1899 paralyzed mining operations in that country and at the request of the U. S. Geological Survey, Mr. Raymond proceeded to investigate silver mines in China. From China he went to Mexico to superintend the silver mines at San Mateo, where he stayed for 10,000 feet above sea level. Here mining operations were brought to a close on account of the civil war in Mexico and he was obliged to leave the country and went to New York.

Since he was obliged to leave Mexico, Mr. Raymond has been examining mines in Argentina, Chile, and Peru.

When he was a student at the U. N. B., among others who attended were Mr. Justice Grimmer and Mr. Archibald Raymond of this city, Allen Davidson of Newcastle, and Rev. W. J. Wilkinson of Springfield. Mr. Raymond left the province more than sixty years ago and he has visited his old home several times during that time.

Pessimism and Politics Retard New Brunswick's Agricultural Growth

F. Maclure Sclanders Speaks of Needs of This Province in Light of His Observations in the West—Wider Markets, Business Methods in Improving Stock and Recognition of Agriculture as Being Greatest Industry and Considered Apart From Politics, His Recommendations After Visit Here.

F. Maclure Sclanders, F. R. G. S., F. R. H. S., publicity commissioner of Saskatchewan, recently spent some weeks in the province, and when asked regarding his impressions of the advantages of New Brunswick as compared with the West, he gave out the following:

"It would seem that in its now current acceptance of the term 'plains', applies to any tract of land which is to be cleared with benzine and other oil products. The blotting paper is to be cleaned with benzine and it is dried with coffee stains with several drops of ammonia.

"The general intelligence of New Brunswick is of an exceedingly high order. All over the North American continent the sons of this God's Corner of the earth fill the high places—places to which there is but one passport—quality of mind, and which are not obtainable by transplanting one's blood.

"What can the business man do for the farmer? Well, in the first place, let him contemplate the needs of the province as one great enterprise embracing numerous departments of which agriculture is, by far, the most important. When this mental attitude is achieved, the way is easy.

"Now, the farmer largely taints his function in the production of produce. The disposal and profitable distribution of such produce devolves upon the business man. It is his duty to create permanent market channels in one or more of which farm prices are always more than adequate to the farmer's needs.

"The farmer at prices unjustly low recognized that such a condition does not involve hardship for the farmer, but simply to create conditions which will restrain him to reasonable profits. Toward this end, our best market, governed by a fair-minded and fearless market board has already done splendid work.

"That your produce prices are at present as high if not higher than in any other province in Canada, is by no means the very best agricultural prosperity. It is the very limited production, which is economically rotten. Even were your production increased ten-fold, the price to the farmer would still be profitable.

"I do not regret the deed," he said. "I had nothing to do with the bomb attack. When I heard the explosion I exclaimed: 'There are still people who feel and think as I do.' This strengthened my resolve still further.

Henri Bourassa, at Dominion Day Banquet in London, Says French-Canadians Just British Government to Send Them Governor-Generals Who Will Deal Out Even-Handed Justice.

(Montreal Gazette Cable.) London, July 2.—Prince Alexander of Teck, the new governor-general designate of Canada, made a most favorable impression at the Canadian dinner to celebrate Dominion Day, held at Connaught rooms, Great Queen street, last night, with Hon. George H. Pretye in the chair.

The passage in the prince's speech which was most cheered was that in which he dealt with the signs of permanence and prosperity which Canada had shown during the present time of financial stringency.

A laugh ensued when the prince declared that no picture of western progress could be too gorgeously painted, if only it was painted in oils.

Rebels Have No Organization and Armies Spoken of are Mere Marauding Bands, He Says—Home Until Brighter Times in Republic—His Description of Comic Opera Battles

Thursday, July 2. "Mexico is in a state of utter turmoil, business of every description is tied up completely and the mines throughout the republic are closed down.

"I arrived in Mexico City the next day without any further disturbances, although we were expecting to be attacked by the large towns.

"During the months in which I was conspicuous, I came in contact with many of the leaders, both federal and rebel. I witnessed three of the so-called battles, but they were all comic operas.

A MIMIC BATTLE

"For eight days and eight nights the 'battle' was carried on. The hotel in which I was staying was situated on the line between the two forces, and we sat out every night listening to the crack and roar of rifles, but strange to say, although one force was behind us and the other in front, we never heard the whir of a bullet past us.

NEW BRUNSWICK FARMERS.

The New Brunswick farmer gets a lot of advice, but he seems to take very little of it. Whether this is the fault of the advice or the farmer is not yet wholly clear.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 4, 1914. The New Brunswick farmer gets a lot of advice, but he seems to take very little of it.

Most of our farmers at the present time feel the need for capital, or if they have sufficient money for expansion, do not feel warranted in investing it in the soil.

These questions lie at the root of prosperity in New Brunswick. At the present day we do not grow enough food-stuffs to feed ourselves or our cattle.

The local government's relation to agriculture needs revision. Most of the money nominally devoted to agriculture by the government is eaten up by bureaucratic expenses.

It is not a matter of degree, but of kind, that the present plan is a failure. It is not a matter of degree, but of kind, that the present plan is a failure.

It has any real faith in the enterprise itself. It is time for a fresh start, for plans which would recognize from the start the intense importance of agriculture to the province.

IN ONTARIO. The expected happened in Ontario Monday, when the Ontario Legislature was dissolved a few weeks ago the standing of the parties was:

Conservatives 85 Liberals 19 Labor (no party) 1

Evanture was a Liberal, but his party disowned him because he sought a bribe. The new Legislature will have 111 members, an increase of five through the creation of new constituencies.

The Ottawa Citizen said two days ago that the temperance party of Ontario would be on trial on election day, and that all Canada would be watching them to see whether they voted for temperance as for party.

large proportion of the population, though no one knows whether they are a minority or a majority. In the third place there are persons who take the ground that since the city has adopted the policy of encouraging improvements it is well to test that policy fully and wisely to restore the tax upon improvements until the necessity for doing so is too clear to admit of serious question.

It appears to have been this element in the council which held the balance of power when the question came up some months ago. There are in the fourth place the out-and-out opponents of the Vancouver plan, who consider its practical operation to be both unjust and unfortunate.

It does not seem possible to identify any one of these four opinions with any particular class or section of the population. One of the newspapers, some eight months ago, canvassed the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and found them nearly equally divided upon the subject.

The Ottawa Citizen said two days ago that the temperance party of Ontario would be on trial on election day, and that all Canada would be watching them to see whether they voted for temperance as for party.

common. Mr. Fowler's criticism was made because in his military madman Colonel Hughes proposes to pay upwards of $200,000 for New Brunswick property which the Conservative member—a New Brunswick farmer familiar with the property—declared to be worth no more than one-eighth that sum.

Colonel Hughes proposes to purchase the land from the New Brunswick government for $2 an acre for use as a military training ground. It is land which Mr. Fowler declared the provincial authorities desired to get rid of because it is "absolutely no use," having been swept by fire that rendered it useless for raising timber, which was all it was ever good for.

It is bad enough, of course, that there should be this initial waste, but the purchase price is the least of the expenditures which Colonel Hughes will make in connection with this New Brunswick move in his campaign of militarism.

THE CHURCH AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS. The advice tendered to the preachers not to interfere in public affairs rests upon two wrong notions—a wrong notion of the preacher's work and a wrong notion of public affairs.

The wrong notion of the preacher's work is that he should spend all week preparing a couple of sermons for Sunday—sermons which are expostions of doctrine, are wholly concerned with future life, and carefully avoid any reference to the practical difficulties of this life.

The wrong notion of public affairs is that they are something which should be left to the politicians and business men to deal with. The preacher is the man who knows all about the troubles and anxieties and all the serious affairs of his people.

LOOKING AFTER ITS FRIENDS

How the Borden Government Rewarded One of Its Supporters From the Public Treasury

Ottawa, June 27.—A remarkable story out contained these items: Allowance for living expenses, $250; ferry fare, five cents; horse hire, $1; paid for use of room for holding inquiries, forty cents. Several other items were also included, as well as the $15 in each case.

Though the order-in-council was supposed to provide a payment of only $15 per day, plus expenses, Mr. Duchemin charged $15 for each of the six cases which were held on the one day and by charged up also the same items of expense, however, is not what the important thing is. The important thing is that Mr. Duchemin charged the same amount for each of the six cases.

Mr. Duchemin was one of the Nova Scotia commissioners appointed by the Borden government to investigate charges against Dominion office-holders. On Sept. 6, 1912, he held court at Big Bras (N. S.). His court sat for three hours—from 8 p. m. to 6 p. m., as stated by D. D. Mackenzie, M. P. for Cape Breton North (Unrevised Hansard, Page 6388), and during the three hours, charges against six office-holders were investigated.

Under the order-in-council which authorized his appointment as a Borden commissioner, Mr. Duchemin was entitled to $15 plus his expenses for the day. "But, I find," said Mr. Mackenzie, "that he submitted to the department six different bills, with a full charge in every one of the bills, charging for that afternoon $129.56, while $20 would be about what he was entitled to."

Mr. Duchemin, of course, is a faithful Conservative. He supports the present government on the platform and through the editorial columns of a Nova Scotia newspaper. A Conservative from Premier Borden's own province, he is looked upon by the public as a man who would not be expected to be a traitor to his government.

Special Terms Given to Foundation Members With Privileges of Dormitories in Building for Visiting Canadians—List of Favored Subscribers Closes July 25.

A Canadian club in London (Eng.) is soon to be an actual existence, according to news from Captain E. de P. O'Kelly, secretary of the movement. This is the outcome of a meeting recently held at the Savoy Hotel. Events have moved rapidly since then. There has been obtained in Albemarle street near Piccadilly, where work is being already carried out for their conversion into premises suitable for a first class London club.

The club house is situated in Albemarle street, and contains the usual club rooms with about twenty bedrooms for the use of members. The present premises will accommodate a large number of members, but arrangements will be made for rebuilding them at the end of two years should the membership of the club increase to such an extent as to warrant it. Negotiations are in progress to acquire the adjoining premises, which will then be available for lady members.

It is anticipated that when the objects of the club become known and fully appreciated in Canada there will be no difficulty in obtaining the support of at least 5,000 members, which number would be more than sufficient to warrant the building of a fine club house in any London area which would then become a centre for Canadians from all parts.

For ordinary members the subscription will be as follows: Town members, 3 guineas per annum; country members, 5 guineas per annum; Dominion members, 1 guinea per annum.

Stirring Address of Bishop Burt.

Buffalo, July 1.—The ninth international convention of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church, opened tonight with a general meeting attended by 5,000 delegates from 117 countries.

Other speakers were Rev. J. W. Aiken, of Toronto (Ont.), and Bishop William A. Quayle, of St. Paul.

Applications for foundation membership which should be addressed to the honorary secretary of the Canadian Club, 166 Piccadilly, London, W., must give full particulars of the Candidate's rank, profession, occupation, and residence, and be forwarded so as to reach London not later than July 25, accompanied by a draft on London of £25, being one guinea for each of the first year's subscription, and £5 for the subscription of one club debutant.

It is reasonable to believe that the speed possibilities of human invention have not yet been reached. ANOTHER WITNESS IS IN THE UNITED STATES

Jas. H. Corbett Doesn't Want to Testify Against Flemming

Big Contractor, Who is Charged With Paying $10,000 to Premier to Secure His Contract, Crossed the Border About the Time the Royal Commission Was Named—Son Testifies to Father's Whereabouts After Strenuous Objection by Premier's Counsel—Commission Decides Contractors Must Tell of Their Dealings With Government—Would Recommend Cancelling of Contracts if They Fail to Do So.

Fredericton, June 30.—The Public Interest predominates. The Public Interest swept aside the objections of M. G. Teed today to evidence that seemed to have some bearing upon the production of facts before the Royal Commission. The rulings of the chairman, Judge McKewen, and Commissioner Fisher, in particular, were very important, broad and decisive.

The occasion came somewhat unexpectedly to all concerned in the inquiry, Hermann Corbett, a member of the firm of Jas. H. Corbett & Sons, contractors upon the Valley railway, was about closing his testimony when Mr. Corbett asked him where his father was. One question after another in rapid succession concerning the man whom Mr. Dugal in his charges said paid James K. Flemming $10,000 in order to obtain his contract on the railway aroused all the objective force in the premier's counsel, Mr. Teed, who failed, however, to convince the commission that the evidence was not relevant.

AN IMPORTANT RULING.
In the course of the discussion Chairman McKewen laid down the broad principle that any person who was doing business with the province of New Brunswick should appear and give evidence if he was required to do so.

Commissioner Fisher took an equal firm stand that the public interest demanded that the facts should be got at.

From the evidence of Jas. H. Corbett's son, and the statements of Mr. Corbett, it was shown that the big railway contractor did not want to appear before the Royal Commission and give his evidence and that he had sent a letter to his son requesting him to see Mr. Corbett and ask him not to subpoena him. This Corbett Junior did but Mr. Corbett sent the messenger all the way to St. Catharines (Ont.) with the summons just made.

It also transpired when the commission ruled that the contents of the letter must be given in evidence, that Jas. H. Corbett had asked his son also to see James K. Flemming, but he did not tell him what to say to Mr. Flemming nor did Corbett Junior see him.

The suggestion conveyed in the chairman's remarks that the commission might make a recommendation to the government in case any person whose evidence was needed refused to come and give it was not pursued.

The evidence shows that Mr. Corbett left Canada about the same time as the Royal Commission got to work and has not returned since.

NOT CONTRACT WITHOUT DEPOSIT.
Some other evidence of an interesting nature was given by William J. Scott, who had the sleeper and lumber contracts. Scott was required to put up a deposit but did not do so and still obtained his contract, though it transpired he had a partner, George F. Burt, of Hartland, Carleton county, whom he got rid of afterward by paying him $15,000.

This was Scott's evidence but he was not sure about his figures and will be recalled when it is understood that evidence will be given as to the exact amount Burt received in salary and for letting go of his share of the profits upon the contract.

Burt has been engaged in Premier Flemming's department in connection with the crown lands and was associated with W. H. Berry in assisting in the work of classification.

Thus Carter gave the commission an opportunity to announce a personal inspection of the road. When Mr. Corbett wanted the engineer's profiles of the railway put in evidence the Anderson counsel sarcastically inquired if he would not like the road put in evidence.

"I wish it could be," said Mr. Corbett. "I wish the commissioners could see this information."

"We will," said Commissioner Fisher. "That is what the commission intends to do."

"I am very glad of that," replied Mr. Corbett.

William J. Scott.
Wm. J. Scott, contractor for sleepers, posts, etc., on the Valley railway, was not on the stand before the Royal Commission many minutes before Mr. Teed began to object to his evidence. This arose when Mr. Corbett asked if Geo. F. Burt, of Hartland, Carleton county, did not have an interest in his contract.

"Yes, he did," answered Scott, and then Mr. Teed objected.

Mr. Corbett—I do not see why Mr. Teed objects to this evidence. Chairman McKewen—How can it help us?
Mr. Corbett—I want to trace the money.
Mr. Teed, objecting vigorously to this course, Mr. Corbett said: "You do not want to say what I think or what I know." He then proceeded to ask:
Q.—To what extent was Mr. Burt interested?
A.—He had a half interest in the profits of the contract. How long did this arrangement continue?
Mr. Teed objected again and argued that these facts had no bearing on the inquiry, but the chairman said the facts should be stated so as to learn where the money went. It might be spent for influence or it might be spent quite properly.

THE C. N. R. DEAL

WHAT THE PEOPLE OF CANADA GIVE.

Endorsement of Mackenzie and Mann's note for over $360,000,000 without adequate security.

WHAT MACKENZIE AND MANN GIVE.

Not one cent of their own.

Mr. Corbett—But the evidence we already have makes it imperative to know the contents of this letter. This man James H. Corbett is partner in a half million dollar contract paid for out of the money provided by the government of New Brunswick, and we have a right to know why he won't come here to give evidence before the royal commission he is pointed by the provincial government. He has been charged with paying $10,000 to the premier of the province in order to obtain his contract.

WHAT THE PEOPLE OF CANADA GET.

$38,000,000 of stock which cost Mackenzie and Mann nothing and may be worth nothing; and a junior partnership in an insolvent concern.

WHAT MACKENZIE AND MANN GET.

Their debts paid by the people of Canada. Their profits secured by the government.

grounds that such evidence was not admissible under the ordinary rules of evidence and was quite vigorous in his protest.

Chairman McKewen—Under the rules of ordinary evidence in a civil case the contents of this letter would not be admissible.

Mr. Corbett—But the evidence we already have makes it imperative to know the contents of this letter. This man James H. Corbett is partner in a half million dollar contract paid for out of the money provided by the government of New Brunswick, and we have a right to know why he won't come here to give evidence before the royal commission he is pointed by the provincial government. He has been charged with paying $10,000 to the premier of the province in order to obtain his contract.

Chairman McKewen—I think the contents of this letter are very important. Mr. Corbett should not evade a summons to appear here, and we need not close our sessions until the usual comes. The commission might well recommend to the government that it should not go on with the work on this contract until Mr. Corbett appears.

Geo. W. Fowler—That, your honor, is a matter for your consideration.

Chairman McKewen—Of course, such a matter is entirely in the hands of the government.

The argument continued between Mr. Corbett and Mr. Carvell as to the admissibility of the contents of the letter, Mr. Corbett contending that by writing it he made it relevant and the witness burning the contents of the letter.

Chairman McKewen—For my part I think this evidence should be admitted. I think the witness should tell the contents of the letter.

Mr. Corbett—Witness, answer the question.

Mr. Corbett—He asked me to see you (Mr. Corbett) and request you not to subpoena him as a witness at the inquest and he also asked me to go and see Mr. Flemming.

Q.—How long since you heard from him?
A.—About two weeks ago. I think I had a telegram while in Boston.

Q.—Has he any other work in Canada at the present time?
A.—Yes, he has a contract on the Welland Canal.

Q.—Have you any knowledge of his whereabouts on June 4?
A.—I have no knowledge of Mr. Corbett's whereabouts on that date.

Q.—Are all your books of accounts with regard to this contract here?
A.—Yes, sir.

GOOD FINISH TO HOLIDAY SPORT IN SUBURBAN RESORTS

Weather Not Promising in Morning, But Afternoon Was Enjoyable in Country and Along River—Quiet in City.

As a holiday for the everyday working man Dominion Day was rather disappointing. With such a dull outlook in the early morning it had not been many of those who had made their plans in advance for a day in the country, dared the elements and carried them out much pleasure would have been missed.

About the city the day was very quiet. There were no baseball attractions to draw a crowd. However, the theatres and moving picture houses were well patronized. The out-of-door programmes of the St. John Power Boat Club and the R. Y. C. were very much curtailed, due to the inclemency of the weather.

Along the river.
Tuesday night a cold wind rose that as times blew with almost gale force, and it was accompanied by a thick mist and a drizzling rain. The prospects were not favorable to out of door engagements. Yesterday morning things were a little better. The day was cold but the sun shone through the clouds and the temperature went up to a higher point than it had previously reached during the day. A beautiful sunset was seen and the night was very clear, but it all came about twenty-four hours too late to suit the desires of holiday makers.

At the Ferns on the Bay Shore, the "Prentice Boys" held a most enjoyable garden party and basket picnic which attracted a large crowd.

Throng of visitors from the city made merry at suburban points yesterday. The river was the chief attraction, and whole flocks of motor boats cruised about, filled with pleasure party.

More than 800 visitors enjoyed the day at Westfield, and a message from the village, last night, said the air raged and reports from outlying points said that a large number of motor cars were seen during the day.

Baseball, foot races and canoeing were the chief sports indulged in. A ball by the Westfield Outing Association, last night, was attended by a record number of guests.

Few people journeyed to Musquash, and the day was not marked by any unusual events.

Lorneville attracted upwards of 100 people from the city, who spent the day in boating, baseball and other sports.

North Shore Weddings.
Newcastle, July 1.—At the manse, Redbank, yesterday, Rev. J. T. McCurdy, B. A., tied the nuptial knot for Robt. W. Sheppard, of Boom Road, and Miss Eva Harer, of Whitesville.

Miss Mary Annie Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirkpatrick, St. John, was married in St. James' church, Douglastown, yesterday to John Hugh Brophy, of Blackville. Rev. S. J. Cromby, of Blackville, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. G. Cormier, the wedding taking place within the sanctuary on the steps of the altar with a floral high mass. The bride was dressed in white brocaded satin with white picture hat and carried a white prayer book.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Kathleen M. Kirkpatrick, brother of the bride, acted as best man. A wedding breakfast was partaken of by the bridal party and their immediate friends and relatives and the officiating clergyman at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Brophy left for Newcastle to take the train for a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York. They will reside at Bathurst where Mr. Brophy has a responsible position with the Bathurst Lumber Company.

Lansdowne in More Peaceful Mood

Agrees to Pass Second Reading of Amending Bill

Says He Will Move Exclusion Amendments in Committee Stage—Belief Now That Settlement of Home Rule Question is in Sight in View of the Threatened Blaze in Ulster.

London, July 1.—When the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill came up today for second reading in the House of Lords, the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Unionist leader, announced that as Ireland was one vast armed camp it was necessary to find a way out of the calamity which was threatening. The Unionists therefore, he said, would give the amending bill a second reading and introduce amendments during the committee stage in regard to the areas to be excluded from the operations of the home rule bill.

Lord Lansdowne added that his action in passing the second reading of the amending bill would be misunderstood and misrepresented in many quarters, but there was no other way by which the breaking space could be obtained, with the prospect of averting the horrors of civil war. The amendments to be introduced in the committee stage would be intended solely to make the bill a really adequate exclusion bill.

With a touch of pathos he said: "The papers are so fast bound by the meshes of the parliament act that there is no other course open to them which would be likely to prove effective."

Most of the other speakers were equally conciliatory. The Nationalist exception was Lord Widdowburne De Broke, the leader of the "die hards" who moved the rejection of the bill.

The Archbishop of York, who said that while the country was not in an election but a settlement in some form, Irish self-government, he declared that the East of Ireland could not vote for in violation of the oath of the Ulster covenants.

Byrne Suggests a Settlement. Lord Byrne, in the course of the debate, expressed the hope that the amendments could be unsmoothed. He admitted that some form of exclusion was necessary, but declared that he did not attach much importance to the time limit.

A rumor was current today that 50,000 rifles had been landed on the coast of County Mayo and that the Nationalist volunteers. It could not be confirmed.

Lords in Conciliatory Mood. London, July 2.—The precise effect of the house of lords proposed amendments to the government's amending bill will not be known until the home rule bill reaches the committee stage next week, but favorable omens are drawn by the leading morning newspapers from the conciliatory tone of the speeches on both sides of the committee.

Lord Saxe and Selk, formerly lieutenant colonel of the Royal Scots Fusiliers and now controller of the King's Household, said the charge of tempting Lt. Col. Wiltaker, of the Second Yorkshire Regiment, who was sentenced to six months imprisonment, was a foul lie. He declared he had been deeply wronged by Justice Sir Charles Darling, who in his judgment said in reference to a letter from the present Lord Saxe and Selk: "The letter shows sad decadence from the traditions of a great family."

Lord Saxe and Selk today repudiated the "mischiefous idea that the possession of an illustrious ancestry debars a man from earning an honest living in trade or otherwise."

Judge Angers Noble Lord. The ancient scoundrels, which culminated last May in the conviction of nine British army officers and eight civilian employees of Lipton's, Limited, on the charge of being implicated in a conspiracy to offer or accept bribes in connection with the allotment of army contracts, had an echo in the House of Lords today.
