FLORENCEVILLE HEROES WARMLY RECEIVED

Interesting Items From the Busy Villages.

Florenceville had the pleasure of welcoming three of her returned soldiers this week. Privates Charles Boyer and Edward Perkins, and Lieutenant James Turner. The soldiers' committee, attended by a large crowd, met them at the station, where patriotic songs were rendered by the young people. On Thursday evening the committee gave a social for them at the residence of Cook Beyer. Speeches of welcome were made by Rev. Mr. Bishop, Rev. Mr. Wightman, and Mr. Joseph. Then the president of the committee, Rev. Mr. Manuel, called on the three returned men and each in turn spoke, briefly thanking the people for their hearty welcome home.

Later, refreshments were served by "New Women" assisted by the ladies of the village. The gathering broke up with the singing of the national anthem at a late hour.

Earle Melville, second son of Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Melville, of East Florenceville, died very suddenly Thursday evening following an operation for appendicitis. Earle was a very manly boy and much regret is felt at his death. The cause is particularly sad as his father, Lieut. Colonel Melville, is himself in a Montreal hospital undergoing an operation and cannot be at home.

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. D. McCain on Jan. 13. Between 30 and 40 were present. Refreshments were served during the course of the evening by members of the Institute, and a good, jolly, yet instructive evening was spent. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Beecher McCain's on Feb. 14.

The Women's Institute will hold a Paeor concert at Mrs. Lorne Simonson's house in the near future. Refreshments will be on sale. There will be a good program, so we hope for a good large crowd.

Mrs. Tom Bover has a fine bouncing boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Perley of Fredericton were visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. D. McCain, during the Christmas season.

Verna Jackson of Cabano spent a few days with her friend, Vivian Gray.

On Friday evening Jan. 3rd Doris Peters had a party for the young folks in honor of Verna Jackson.

On Sat. Jan. 4, Mrs. Gray gave a party for the young people. Those present were Muriel McCain, Doris Peters, Helen and Mildred McCain, Verna Jackson, Arnold Estey, Raymond McCain.

Canon Smithers of Fredericton held a service in the Episcopal church, East Florenceville, on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 19. A rector is appointed for this parish and will take over his duties in February.

James Davis, released from his military duties, is again at his post in the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Joseph Pinsky has moved to Montreal and Mr. Fowler has bought and now occupies the house on the corner.

On Saturday evening, Jan. 18, Mrs. Edward McCain entertained a party of young people at her house. A very enjoyable time is reported. Always sure of a royal good time at that house.

Much regret is felt at the death of Gordon, second son of Wilmot Hunter, which occurred about 2:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. He has had a long illness suffering from heart trouble, but he bore it all with patience and fortitude. He leaves a sorrowing father, step-mother and four brothers to mourn their loss. He was a member of the Methodist church, and a prominent Sunday school worker. The funeral services conducted by Rev. Wightman in the Methodist church at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon. F. A.

A Well-Intentioned Suggestion

Mr. Editor: I understand the Farmer's Telephone Co. is about to issue a new Directory, which certainly is needed, as many people now have phones whose names are not on the present book. I would suggest to the compilers that the same surnames be placed together and not mixed up with other names as they are now. For instance, in the present book there are five Rideouts, then thirteen other names before the next Rideouts, and between the first list of Shaws there are eighteen other names before another Shaw. Would it not be proper also to have the Christian names in full instead of as now Ed, Tom, Will, Penn, Shed, etc. Wishing the Company whose enterprise certainly deserves credit, every success, I am, Subscriber.

TOWN COUNCIL PASSED BY-LAWS

At Friday's Meeting Good Headway is Made With Important Work

At Friday's meeting of the Town Council most of the evening was devoted to the Rules of Procedure which are the rules that will govern the conduct of the council meeting. Good headway was also made with the passing of the By-Laws. Three of these are of considerable interest to the public.

By-Law No. 3, relates to public exhibitions of all kinds. Hereafter any circus and menagerie will have to pay a tax of $50 a day. Any out-door show or exhibition will pay a tax of $5 per day.

On any show, exhibition, play or concert in a public hall in which the performers are five or less there is levied a tax of $3 for the first day and $2 for each subsequent day. If the performers number six or more the tax is $5 and $3 respectively.

The foregoing are applicable only to those who reside outside the country. For bona-fide residents of the county there is a different scale of taxation. A merry-go-round under such conditions will be taxed $5 per day and any kind of a show in a public hall will be taxed $2 for the first day and $1 for each subsequent day.

A moving picture house may be run every legal day of the year for a tax of $50, or it may run two days a week, only, for $25 a year. In addition, if there are vaudeville performers, three in number or less, there will be a tax of $2 for the first day and a tax of $1 for each following day. A higher tax is provided for a greater number of performers. No lotteries or drawings for prizes will be allowed. No children under 14 shall be allowed to attend evening performances or picture shows, unless accompanied by parent or guardian, or with the written permission of such parent or guardian.

By-Law No. 4, regulates billiard rooms and similar places of amusement. Briefly stated a pool-room with one table will pay $15 tax and $10 for an additional table.

Children under 14 shall not be allowed to play at a pool table, unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

By-Law No. 5, relates to dog taxation. Hereafter the owner, keeper or harbinger of each dog in the town of Hartland must pay a tax of $1 for each male and $5 for each female dog.

Those who are affected by the above by-laws are warned that they go into effect from Jan. 23, 1916. The wording of the by-laws in the records of the town is much more lengthy than is here epitomized, and cover a great many points. The town clerk, the town treasurer or any alderman will give full information pending the time when the by-laws can be printed in book form, a copy of which will be accessible to any rate payer.

The council will hold its next session on the first Monday in February.

Primitive Baptist Conference.

On January 4th, 1916, the Primitive Baptist conference met in quarterly session at Hartfield, York Co., N. B., with a fair representation of ministers. Congregations were not as large as common owing to the prevailing heavy snow storm. Session closed on Monday evening with good interest.

THE BATTLE OF RIGBY RIDGE

So many people have suggested that I owe it to my many friends to publish a statement of the whole affair concerning my "shooting" which you referred to in an earlier edition, that I am requesting that you will kindly allow me space for the following, which I have written as though I were the third person in order to cut out the personal pronoun.

In 1916 a number of people living on the north road from Coldstream demanded a short-cut permanent road at an angle of 45 degrees across the farms of Mrs. Robt. Blackie, Henry F. Nevers and Mrs. Roy Rigby, joining the river road on the farm of the late Morris Jordan.

Mrs. Blackie depended on strangers to work her farm, Mr. Nevers was, and still is, a helpless cripple, Roy Rigby was enlisted for overseas service, Morris Jordan was neutral because he would only lose the size of a good building lot, and at the same time have a government road on what was already part of his private driveway.

This left three lone women to contend for their rights.

Rigby got leave from Valcartier Camp and went over the ground with the local and the chief supervisors, received the assurance that it was only a ruse in order to get money voted to fix the original road, particularly the Rideout hill, as the Council would not tax the Parish for the large sum of money necessary for damages for a new road when so much smaller amount would fix the hill on the old road.

However, Rigby had not long been overseas when he learned that valuations had been put on to assess damages which were $1,110 and the Councillors showed their regard for the interests of the Parish by having that amount voted, and how much more for the attendant expenses records are not at present available. It was probably considered in the interests of the then Minister of Public Works to have this favor shown the few people who asked for the new road. If so, it availed him little for his Government was upset.

The change of Government of course made a change in Supervisors, and Rigby leaving England to join the 5th C. Machine Gun Co. at the front, had the confidence that all would be well at home. All summer of 1917 nothing was done, then came a time late in fall that no letters were received for over six weeks, and coming back to the horse lines after a week of particularly hot work, where 50 per cent of his Company were casualties, and only three out of seven left of his own gun crew, physically dead-tired, glad of a short respite from the continual smell of blood, and sights that we try to forget, just the time when a cheerful letter from home would charge a fellow with new, keen life and purpose, he received six letters from home and the first he opened contained a woeful tale of new worry on account of the new Supervisor undertaking to open this new proposed road; how it was being rail roaded through with out lawful notice that would have given the owners of the farms a chance to make any protest; that Mrs. Blackie, Nevers, and herself, had refused the money offered by the Supervisor, Henry Tedlie, and finally when Tedlie persisted in selling the road for turnpiking, Mrs. Rigby had to get up on her line fence to prevent Tedlie removing it, and Mrs. Nevers had to guard at the far end of the proposed road to prevent it being opened there.

Before Tedlie could get back another day Mrs. Rigby got in touch with Mr. Veniot, Minister of Public Works, and he ordered Tedlie, by wire, to desist. Mr. Veniot then had kindly come in person which resulted, after the Government Engineer had made a survey to ascertain levels, in finding that no advantage was to be had in the new road. The fences, however, were removed from the site of the new proposed road one stormy day in January 1918, but Mr. Veniot ordered the fences all replaced on the 1st of April 1918.

Joe Pearson then succeeded Mr. Tedlie as Supervisor, and during the summer just past, made a good road of the so called "almost impassible hill" by the small expenditure of $78.50.

Rigby received his discharge from overseas service on Oct. 3 last, and learning there was still to be an attempt to open the new proposed road to the public as a permanent highway, in an underhand way, regardless of the fact that Mrs. Blackie, Nevers and Rigby were one and all willing that a winter road should be opened up if it were done lawfully, and came through where it had for probably a hundred other winters.

As the opening of the permanent road would be literally an unlawful act, it would be a good chance to do some thing that would very likely cause the offending party to take the matter into Court, and learn once for all that the road was illegal, so Rigby prepared for action accordingly by removing the lead bullets from a half dozen large calibre rifle cartridges and substituted light wooden ones.

Joe Pearson is the Supervisor of the division in which Rigby lives, so Fred Clark, who is Supervisor of the adjoining division, evidently figured that no reasonable man would open the road, took the matter in his own hands, and taking advantage of a certain section in the new road law, went before a Magistrate and got himself sworn in as special constable, for the purpose of removing obstacles from the highway in another Supervisors division.

Now the morning of the 13th seemed to be the very day Clark would be likely to undertake to remove the obstacles he had in view. About 9 o'clock in the morning Rigby noticed a body of the enemy, comprising three double teams and six men, advancing down the steep slope across the adjoining Nevers farm. Evidently they had succeeded already taking two line fences and cutting asunder Nevers's heavy woven wire lane fence with little or no resistance yet it was quite noticeable that their approach on the Rigby line fence was being negotiated with all due caution and stealthiness, all bells being removed and no chains hanging loose.

Rigby immediately requested his Chief of Staff (wife) to signal for the support (Mrs. Nevers) and without waiting for ordnance deployed to the right to intercept the enemy where their line of advance would intersect the fence. As close quarters seemed desirable both forces continued their movements until they met at the fence.

Clark had his transports drawn up in column of section formation Geo. Bubar leading the van; Horace Clark, nephew in support; and Cecil Orser, son-in-law, well in reserve.

Armed with an axe and leading the Fisher Brigade, who were also well armed with trenching tools, Clark made a whirlwind assault on the trees and fences, refusing to enter into parley with Rigby, on terms, lawfulness of his act, his authority, or anything else until he had gained his objective.

Rigby promised to shoot the first horse that came through the fence and retire to Headquarters to bring up his ordnance, and was cheered on the action by the laughing comment of his Chief of Staff "Be 'keerful Si, there's too much snow fer me to bring the wheelbarrow."

Taking up a setting position on a fence sixty yards from the enemy he observed them digging in the snowbank on the Rigby side of the line, and Rigby opened fire by directing a heavy shell well to the front and a couple of hundred yards beyond. The Fisher Brigade fled in disorder seeking the protection of the transport. Clark gallantly stood alone, but it was quite noticeable that the snow shook from his shovel. The second "light shell" striking six feet in front of Clark was too much, flinging his shovel over the line fence and calling for his shattered forces to follow he disappeared on the southern horizon at a gate that would make Tom Longboat green with envy. Rigby then laid down a barrage, consisting of four shots, covering the breach in the fence, the transport deprived of a leader, about turned, and Rigby's support arriving and ordering them off her land, caused all notion of reorganization to banish for they beat a hasty retreat.

Clark frantically sought the protection of the Sheriff, and accommodatingly entered action against Rigby, and at the trial Clark condemned himself with his own evidence.

The Judge ruled there was no highway and Clark was a common trespasser and Rigby justified in the defence of his property.

Had the trial proceeded, however, the defence were prepared to prove beyond a doubt that only light wooden bullets were used that would not penetrate cloth at thirty yards, and had to be shot at an angle of over a thousand yards in order to make them reach sixty yards.

Deceased Pastor of Johnville.

After an illness extending over six months, Rev. Richard J. Coughlan, the beloved pastor of Johnville was called to his reward from the St. John Infirmary, where he has been a patient for several months. He was 41 years of age.

After taking ill, Fr. Coughlan went to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal and the Carney Hospital, Boston, where he had the treatment of leading specialists. On his return home, there was little if any improvement in his condition and his health gradually declined.

During his residence at Johnville he proved a faithful and devoted pastor and his early demise will cause profound regret in that parish as well as in his native city and other places.

Courteous, considerate and loyal to his friends, Fr. Coughlan's many excellent qualities will long be remembered by a host of admirers. By his death the diocese of St. John loses a model pastor and Carleton county one who was deeply interested in its welfare. Rev. F. F. Walker, of the Cathedral staff, has been the acting pastor of the Johnville parish, during the illness of Fr. Coughlan.

United Farmers at Bath.

The United Farmers of Bath held a very business-like meeting this month. Everyone was enthusiastic over the strides made by the U. F. in the last year and are looking forward to greater progress in the future, hoping for the time when they can get in closer touch with the consumer and manufacturer. By these means the middlemen, the towns, the villages, our local markets, can be cut out. Farm implements can be bought cheaper, expenses of farming lessened. Buy direct from the Farmer, means a cheaper living for the wage earned.

Hoping you can find a little corner in your paper for these few words.

Bath Branch of the United Farmers. A. E. S. Secretary.

Kidney Disease Overcome.

Mr. James Prouse, cattle dealer, Ashcroft, Sask., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from kidney disease, at times I was bed with backache, and derangements of the digestive organs. During that time I was treated by four different doctors. One day I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac about the Kidney-Liver Pills and began to use them. Altogether I used six boxes. All I need say is that I feel well now and attribute this condition to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who so kindly extended their help and sympathy through the illness and death of a beloved husband, son and brother.

No Chance For The Germs.

Disease germs cannot live in rich, red blood. It is people in low vitality that fall victims to germ diseases. By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you enrich the blood, increase vitality and prevent disease germs from finding lodgment in your body. There's wisdom in prevention. It's easier to keep well than to get well.

In Memorium

In loving memory of Bertha Fern Drake, who died January 26, 1918.

She is not dead the child of our affection but gone into that school where Christ himself doth rule.

REAL VALUE

is based, not on the price paid for a commodity, but on the benefit derived. That is why Zam-Buk is the cheapest skin healer on the market—because the benefit derived is 95% greater than can be got from ordinary ointments. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk is all medicine—100%. Ordinary ointments are 5% medicine and the balance animal fat.

The superiority of Zam-Buk is proved by the many cases of chronic skin trouble and old sores which yield to the power of Zam-Buk after all other treatments have failed.

The unusual power of penetration which Zam-Buk possesses enables it to reach the underlying tissues, where skin troubles have their "root." Then the germicidal properties in Zam-Buk destroy all germs. Until this is done healing can never be thorough. The reason why sores that have been treated with ordinary ointments break out again is because the remedy has never got to the seat of the trouble, but has only healed over the outer skin. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, uproots skin disease, and the cure is complete and permanent.

Zam-Buk should always be used for eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, chingles, abscesses, ulcers, blood-poisoning, bad leg, piles, cuts, burns and scalds. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 506, Box 3 for $1.25.

We feel that this will be a more satisfactory way of doing business, to you and us. We believe we have come to stay, and to this end we have installed an up-to-date charging plant, which is operated by Mr. S. S. We have purchased some of the best tools to work with including patent Grease Pail, a large combination set of dies for auto work, a three wheeled Jack, and expect to instal a power drill. Prohibition Success

Rev. W. D. Wilson, chief prohibition inspector for New Brunswick province, has expressed himself as being highly pleased with the success of the Prohibition Act in the last year. He said that there was no better enforcement in any other province, and this was about the only province where no friction was evident. A new sub-inspector has been added to the force in St. John, for duty in West St. John. Asked regarding the report that Chief Finlay, of Fredericton, was to take a position on his staff, Mr. Wilson said he had made him an offer some time ago, but did not now expect that the chief would accept it. Mr. Wilson told of an interesting case some time ago. The sub-inspector at Grand Falls was sick, but it was learned that a carload of liquor, shipped under the name of other goods was at St. Leonard's. Learning that the New Brunswick officials were after them, the owners had it shifted across the United States border to Van Buren. Mr. Wilson was confident that it was destined for this province, so he got in touch with High Sheriff Dunn, of Houlton, and he, with his deputy, went to Van Buren and seized the whole carload.

Miss Bessie Wright of Andover visited friends in town last week.

WELL SATISFIED WITH BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Emile Malette, Montpelier, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for some time and am well satisfied with them. They are surely the best medicine I know of for little ones." What Mrs. Malette says thousands of other mothers say. Once they have used the Tablets for their children they would use nothing else. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative: are absolutely free from opiates, narcotics or other harmful drugs and may be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety and good results. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Burnt Land Brook

This community was greatly shocked last Thursday when the news spread that William Elbridge Everett was dead. He was hauling hay and when about six miles from home while standing beside the lead, he fell over, dying instantly from heart trouble. The news flashed over the wire to many places calling the different members of the family. His oldest son, who lives in Fort Fairfield, was in Boston and arrived Saturday night one daughter, Mrs. Avar Kearney, came from Fort Fairfield, and another, Mrs. George Jenkins and her husband from Van Buren Maine. Grace and Merritt Johnson grand children, came from Fredericton.

The funeral was held on Sunday Rev. Neil McLean, Plaster Rock, and Rev. C. S. Young, Lower Millstream, officiating.

Mr. Young had been pastor of the U. B. church here for nearly six years and came from the lower part of the Province to attend.

There was a large gathering, many coming from distant places—Four Falls, Forest Glen, Three Brooks, Riley Brook, Plaster Rock and Everett were represented as well as nearer places.

A strange coincidence is that Sunday was the anniversary of the funeral of his son Samuel who died three years ago, the first break in a family of twelve children. Since then two sons have passed away. Rupert paid the supreme sacrifice for his country in France, and Percy was killed only eight weeks before while sawing wood.

Mr. Everett leaves to mourn a widow and nine children. Besides those mentioned there are Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Orton, Mrs. Charles Charters, Saak, Mrs. Frank Kelly, Mrs. Allen McInnes, Lloyd and Murray of this place. All were present at the funeral except Mrs. Charters. There are also 33 grand children and 5 great grand children. Two sisters, Mrs. Edith Inman, Plaster Rock, and Mrs. James Jenkins of this place, and one brother H. P. Everett of Marysville survive, besides a large number of other relatives.

The hymns sung were Asleep in Jesus, Will the Circle Be Unbroken? and When my Life Work is Ended.

No person in the place will be so greatly missed. As deacon of the church and superintendent and teacher in the Sunday school, he was always in his place, and there seems to be no one to take up the work he has laid down. He was known far and wide as a man of sterling worth and principle, a liberal giver to the work he loved, always ready by prayer and exhortation in the service of the Master. His place will be hard to fill.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N.S., says: "I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with hastily cooked in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Soldiers' Memorial Proposition

Dear Editor: At the January sitting of the County Council at Woodstock, a delegation from the town council composed of the Mayor and seven of the prominent citizens of the town waited on the County Council asking for a grant. The purpose was to erect a monument to the memory of departed heroes who laid down their lives during the great war in defence of their country. You are no doubt well aware that several localities throughout the county are agitating the erection of monuments in their own sections, suitable for their especial requirements. Now, Sir, in order that misdirected energy be arrested and the money raised for such purposes be expended in such a way that will answer the same purpose and still be a lasting benefit to future generations. The thought was expressed at the council Board and seemed to meet with general approval, that an annex to the Fisher Memorial Hospital be built (which will soon be needed). This to be dedicated as a special memorial to all the men who enlisted and crossed the ocean for the purpose of fighting for the liberties which were bought for us with the blood of our forefathers and that a room in that part of the hospital be set apart for the souvenirs captured from the enemy; that a record of all who laid down their lives and particulars of the battle, date, etc., and those who were fortunate to return, the date of sailing, or some such thing be kept in a book. Or, better still, each locality might raise a special fund and pay for a memorial window, the names of the men who laid down their lives in said war, inscribed thereon, and thus answering a twofold purpose.

The expenditure of money, to my mind, would be more satisfactory than to invest in a monument of either stone or bronze, 25 per cent of the cost going to dealer, and a like sum to the builder, and after it is erected, it is of no particular benefit to humanity.

Trusting, Mr. Editor, you will give space in your valuable paper for this expression of thought and that others might be heard from on the subject, I remain, a supporter of the best method of perpetuating the memory of those who through self-sacrifice were willing to lay down their lives in the defence of righteousness.

Many Candidates are Named

The Woodstock Press thinks there may be a merry time whenever a provincial election is called. It says:

In the event of a general provincial election in May, it looks as if three parties will take the field. The general opinion is that Hon. B. F. Smith of East Florenceville, E. C. Morgan of Hartland and W. S. Sutton of Woodstock will carry the opposition banner; Guy Welch of Bristol, A. D. McCain of East Florenceville and John S. Leighton or F. O. Creighton of Woodstock will be government nominees; Robert L. Simms of Woodstock, independent Liberal. The United Farmers at a meeting of the executive here last week discussed the question of putting three men in the field. No names have been mentioned as yet, but the intention is to nominate a Conservative member of the United Farmers, a Liberal member, both to be farmers living in the country, and a man from town who is a farmer on a small scale, a member, or a sympathizer with the object of the association.

Raising More Grain in Place of Potatoes

It is expected that New Brunswick potato growers, providing that they do not find themselves in the same boat as their competitors across the Maine border will benefit by a movement now in progress in Aroostook county to greatly reduce their potato acreage and raise more grain. The high cost of fertilizer and labor and unsatisfactory prices for the tubers are given as the reason for the proposed change. Aroostook raises from 17,000,000 to 22,000,000 bushels of potatoes yearly. The growers there claim they must have $3 a barrel or quit the industry. Many farmers are cancelling orders for fertilizer which is quoted at from $69 to $96 a ton. Formerly it sold at from $25 to $40 a ton.

Severe Ice Storm.

Last Friday a severe sleet storm swept over the country and left trees, fences and buildings heavily coated with ice. A great amount of damage was done to the lines of the Farmers' and N. B. telephone companies, and to the Western Union. Wires were down in all directions and all telephone and telegraphic service was interrupted. Crews worked all day Sunday repairing the damage, and in a remarkably short time all the companies were giving their usual good service.

It is not often that such a storm visits these parts, but similar conditions are of frequent recurrence in more southerly sections.

Grand Falls Couple Seeks Divorce.

In the Divorce Court at Fredericton this week the case of Ernestine Mignault vs. Charles Mignault of Grand Falls comes up.

The plaintiff before marriage to the defendant was Mrs. Legacy. They were married in Grand Falls by Father Joyner, in 1914. There is no issue of the marriage. For eight years previous to the marriage the defendant acted as an employee of the plaintiff in a mercantile business and after marriage became manager of it. Divorce a mensa et thoro is asked for on the grounds of mismanagement of the business, drunkenness and cruelty.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of Drive Eric Haywood, 12th Brig., C.F.A., who gave his life for his King and country Nov. 9, 1916, aged 24 years and four months:

Four years have passed—our hearts still sore—
As time goes on we miss him more.
He left his home for Freedom's cause;
Among the first—he did not pause.

"Somewhere in France" he sleeps tonight.
Above his grave the stars shine bright.
He was a soldier, brave and true;
He gave his life—all he could do.

Arranging for Horse Races

Horse-owners in Hartland and vicinity have been trying all winter to arrange for some races but efforts have so far failed. The Retail Merchants' Association of Hartland, Centreville and other towns are reminded that everything that tends to bring people to their towns, brings trade as a direct result, and has a tendency to build up the flow of trade towards the town. People fondly remember the places where they have had a good time and have been well treated. There should be some sport these beautiful winter days, for all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

Some very promising horseflesh is owned right here in town, a willing contender for the championship being W. E. Thornton with his bay mare Cassie W. and her record of 2:18. Ray DeWitt feels that his gracefully-stepping mare, Lady Bell, with her record of 2:14, can beat any of them, with the possible exception of James Plummer's Irving Hart which has a record of 2:09. James Grandemire has a fast-going bay stallion in Dell Canter, 2:17, while Howard Kennedy has a green five-year-old mare that may lick them all.

A number of fast ones are also owned in Lakeville, Centreville and other places and it would be good business for the various villages to arrange weekly meets for the remainder of the winter. Time is moving and the winter will soon be gone, so action in the matter should be speedy.

Big Attractions Coming to Andover

While in St. John this week N. J. Wootton, the energetic manager of the Specialty moving picture house of Andover, succeeded in hooking two very special attractions. The first will appear Wednesday, Feb. 6 and is "The Barrier," a powerful photo play from the famous novel of Rex E. Beach. Andover and all the countryside will hail with gladness the coming of the supreme triumph of D. W. Griffiths in his now world-famous "Hearts of the World." At heavy expense Mr. Wootton has secured this superb attraction for the Specialty on Saturday, Feb. 15 and Monday, Feb. 17. The full symphony orchestra will be there, also. This alone is worth going a long distance to hear. It will be recalled that Mr. Griffiths produced "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance."

$350,000,000 Worth of Food

must be shipped to Europe at once, says Herbert Hoover, Food Controller. The United States Congress has voted $100,000,000.00 this week for food for Europe. Most of this will come from the United States and Canada.

The next year will see the greatest demand for farm products there has ever been. There are unlimited ships to take this food to Europe. Prices will be in keeping with the demand.

The farmer who has the crops to sell is the farmer who will get his share of this demand. The farmer who has his fertilizer will have good crops, but he must not take any chances on delay in preparing his ground, buying his seed and getting his fertilizer.

The planting season now seems a long way off, but when the time comes it is altogether too short.

There is a general shortage of fertilizer and fertilizer materials, and the late buyer shall surely be disappointed.

An Open Letter to My Customers :

Now that the war is over business should be better than ever. Everything needed for men's sustenance will be required in large quantities.

There are armies to be fed—armies of Allies, armies of Prisoners, armies of disabled men, multitudes of destitute people throughout Central Europe, Russia, The Balkans, etc., need food. It will be a year or two before the supply of food will meet the world's demands. That means continued prosperity on the farms. Eggs, Butter and Poultry, Hay and Oats will never again be down to the prices they used to be. And on the other hand the things the farmer has to buy are not going to tumble in a hurry. Don't put off buying expecting things are going to be cheap. The things you require are needed more in Europe than here. But wages will keep up as men of all occupations are needed and one thing will even up the other. Although prices have been high since the war commenced people in Canada have never made so much money or found it easier to get along. We are stocking up with new Spring Goods! Come and see Us!

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a cask barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental depression, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION
"Pape's Diaphepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.
Pape's Diaphepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent box of Pape's Diaphepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF
Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glazes with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD
Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

A Chance Acquaintance
By Florence Lillian Henderson

Nellie Morse had seen the young man only twice, but she was pleased when he lifted his hat, and she smilingly replied to his courtesy. The first time was when, crossing the street, she saw the handle of the little basket she was carrying parted and some supplies from the delicatessen store were scattered far and wide.
The young man had gathered up the various articles, both had laughed merrily over the mishap, betraying Nellie's fondness for Swiss cheese, rye bread and pickles. Now they met again, and both were glad to pass the salutation of something more than strangers.
"If you have struck up an acquaintance with your neighbor, Mr. Philip Dexter, the art engraver," spoke a pleasant voice—that of Mrs. Rhoades, landlady of the house where Nellie and numerous other young women earning their living as stenographers and clerks had their abode.
"Oh, is that his name?" said Nellie, a trifle flushed.
"Yes, he rooms across the court, directly opposite your apartment." Nellie got her own supper on her little gas stove that evening. Then she went into her bedroom adjoining the little closet that did for a kitchen, and did not turn on the light. She sat down by the window, half-frosted over, and looked across the court.
"How strange, how near and almost romantic," soliloquized Nellie, smiling at the folly of a passing fancy. "That must be Mr. Dexter's room, the frost on the window obscures all view. Yes, that must be the brave rescuer of my delicatessen dainties," added Nellie, as a shadow fell across the windowpane. "Why, he is drawing."

She held her breath with a strange sensation as, across the broad frosted upper pane a quick, deft hand, manipulating tool or pencil, began sketching the profile of a human face.
"Why!" exclaimed Nellie, "It's me!" Yes, Nellie had a saucy, unreformable stray lock that always came out of place across her forehead. She had a rousseau chin, as well. There could be no doubt that the artistic hand at work was dimming faithfully from memory her own features.
And then the room across the court evidently warmed up, and slowly, but effectively, the fair face faded into nothingness, and, with a slight sigh, Nellie sentimentally wondered if the fleeting interest of the young man had likewise faded into this air.

Life had been stern and hard to Nellie. Left an orphan, she had been compelled to work for a living. More lately, too, she had contributed to the partial support of a married and deserted sister. That sister was now seeking a legal separation from a more than unworthy husband, who had persecuted her sorely, who was even being sought for by the police for his crimes, and who was a haunting menace to the two loyal sisters, and Winifred Allen was practically in hiding until she gave her husband no further claim upon her.

Nellie came home one evening about a week later. The room was cold and damp, the heat having been shut off since morning, and the windows were coated with steam. She had just taken off her wraps when the door of the room opened quickly, closed and was locked with a click, and Richard Allen stood glaring at her.
"Didn't expect me?" sneered Allen.
"Well, I've located you. Now, for the other one. Where is my wife hiding?"
"How dare you intrude?" began Nellie, but the other closed her with a murderous gleam in his cold eyes.
"No dramatics!" he said, sharply. "I'm hunted and I'm desperate. I want to see Winifred, and I'm going to. I'll give you just five minutes to decide to take me to her, or I'll slit that pretty white throat of yours, and beggs afterwards, if I find her. Do some thinking, and do it quick, for I'm in dead earnest."

Nellie shuddered and thrilled. She knew the neckless, cruel nature of the man. She shrank to the window and leaned her forehead against the pane, trying to think of some way to handle this refugee from justice. Nellie gasped as she lifted her eyes. The upper sash was partially clear. She saw, seated near the window in his room across the way, Philip Dexter. She moved her hand to attract his attention. Then, deftly, rapidly, on the lower, unobscured sash she traced with her finger the word—
"Come—come quick!"

"What are you up to there?" grated out Allen harshly, springing forward, hissing with anger.
Nellie darted for the little kitchen closet. She slammed its door, slung against the furious visitor, and shut to it as he endeavored to pull it open. He went out on the porch as Nellie let go of the inside knob. At that moment Philip Dexter burst into the room.
There was a fierce struggle between the two men, but Nellie ran out and shrieked for help. Richard Allen went into the hands of the police, where he belonged, and out of harm's way.

Comedy—the chance meeting on the street. Near tragedy—Nellie's rescue, and after that—sweet romance, and love, and two earnest young souls merged into one.

VICTORY LOAN NECESSARY IF PEACE COMES OR NOT

Don't let the German peace propaganda interfere with the success of the Victory Loan.
Canada's war expenditure to-day is greater than ever before. There are 75,000 more Canadian soldiers overseas than there were a year ago. They are still going over as fast as Canada can send them.
And then the peace to-morrow, it would probably take from 12 to 18 months to bring all the Canadians back.
They would have to be kept in the meantime.
Pay and allowances alone cost over $14,000,000 a month.
Transportation expense would probably amount to $15,000,000.
To demobilize the Canadian troops would undoubtedly cost over $250,000,000 are needed through the Victory Loan, no matter what comes or goes.
Canadian industry and the Army both need strong financial support.

By Twists Teacher's Words.
A Greenacre young woman teacher in the Peru (Ind.) high school a few days ago had a vision of her job leaving because of a violent protest lodged against her by a patron. The teachers were at a meeting when the protest of calling her boy "a scurvy elephant" was heard. The teacher was dumfounded when he heard the charge, and could not recall making any such remark. The corps of teachers went to work to attempt to unravel the mystery. "Pinsel" said. The teacher had told the boy "He was a disturbing element" and the boy mistook what she said for "A scurvy elephant"—Indianapolis News.

Gravel or Stone in the Bladder Can Be Remedied

Among the most agonizing of diseases arising from kidney derangements is Stone in the Bladder or Gravel.
Persons who suffer from these dreaded afflictions generally become irritable and nervous. Read this message! Gin Pills have brought relief to thousands of persons whose cases seemed almost hopeless. Testimonials by the hundreds recommend Gin Pills as the great remedy for Gravel or Stone in the Bladder. Try them! Surely what they have done for others, they will do for you.
Here is the substance of a testimonial received from a gentleman, whose name will be given on request:
"For a long time this man suffered excruciating pain, and at times positive torture from stone in the bladder. He tried many remedies without finding relief, and an X-ray photograph failed to locate the stone. He was in a terrible state of mind, and his wife was in a state of despair. He read Gin Pills, with the result that before long he passed the stone and obtained a restful sleep from his previous agonies.
This man is a mechanic of about 35 years of age, with a wife and little girl to look after. Think what it has meant to him to become strong and well again!
In order to convince you of the merits of Gin Pills, a sample box will be sent to you free, if you write us for it. Address:

NOT CALCULATED TO CHEER

Invitation to Prospective Soldiers at Purchase Cemetery Late Criticized as in Poor Taste.

Down in south Jersey they are wide awake. The hour of the Jersey clocks had not gone twice around the dial after 800 newly drafted men in a certain city had been called for physical examination when the postman brought to each of them an invitation to buy a cemetery lot. The invitation read as follows:
"Which is the better time to consider a matter of this character? Now, when there is ample time for calm, deliberate selection, or later, perhaps, when there is a necessity? Experience has proved the former the better course; there is a satisfactory lot in owning an unneeded plot, and in knowing you have relieved others of a responsibility."

There are possibilities for the humorist in this. If anyone feels like getting fun out of it. Probably it does not seem funny to the young men about to be taken from their work and their wonted ways of daily living to go into the trenches.
The clerk of the county is going to investigate the manner in which the names got out, and it may not be funny then for the people who sent out these cheerful invitations.
Somebody ought to investigate, while investigation is in order, the psychology of these Jersey gentlemen.

Electrons and Atoms
Atoms are minute particles of matter, each about one-thousandth part of an inch in diameter. They are so small that if the earth were made up of baseballs it would be a fair model of a drop of water made up of atoms. The electron is smaller still. It has a diameter of about one-hundred-thousandth that of an atom, so that if an atom were represented by a sphere 100 yards in diameter the electron would be about the size of a pin's head. It has been said that the electrons which form an atom can be compared to a swarm of gnats in a cathedral or other large building. As atoms are made up of electrons, so molecules are made up of atoms.

The Black Sheep

By GEORGE ELMER COBB

Religiously Jason Hall reproached Pierce Duntley when he gave up his position as a store clerk and joined a show. Duntley did not become an actor or performer, but to the grave, strict deacon the circus was an abomination and the thought a deep pit. He bluntly informed Duntley that he was on the downward path, and intimated that he should see to it that he did not also drag his wife and child to destruction.

"Better not interfere," advised Duntley in his official way. "I see a chance to make money, and I'm going to take it."

Edith, the wife and daughter, was grieved, but she accepted the situation uncomplainingly. She knew the restive spirit of this impulsive husband of hers, and hoped a brief experience would cure him of the roving habit. Each month Duntley came home for a couple of days. He dressed better and had great dreams of sometime owning a show of his own.

The deacon continued to protest. He called the behavior of his son-in-law "stupidly disgraceful." The censorious and narrow-minded father worked on poor Edith until, when Duntley came back from a long trip, he found the household effects in storage and Edith and the baby under the parental roof.

"Give me your nefarious calling, get back to honest work, and your wife will come back to you," said Jason Hall. "Otherwise, I shall see to it that there is a legal separation."

A coolness grew up between man and wife. Duntley flung away, angry, defiant, stubborn. A year went by and he did not reappear. Stories were related to the effect that Duntley had been seen at a picnic in the midst of a rollicking, wine-bibbling set of men and women. Another story was that Duntley had been manager for Mlle. Baturia, "the brilliant, meteoric trap-artist." In a quiet way, a divorce was secured. The deacon died, and Edith, taking her child, little Paul, with her, removed to a quiet country town.

One day Edith left little Paul in charge of the nurse for the day. Her plan was to visit a friend in a neighboring village.

"I'll take the baby down to my sister's, and spend the day there, if you don't object," said Mary.

Mrs. Duntley reached the next town, and found her friend away. She returned home, and went to the home of the sister of the nurse, to find them both chatting on the porch. Mary turned pale as she viewed her mistress.

"I found my friend absent," explained Mrs. Duntley, "and I thought I would come and take Paul home." The nurse exhibited embarrassment and was trembling all over. Abruptly she burst into tears.

"Oh, ma'am!" she sobbed, "the baby is not here."

"Not here?" cried Edith in quick alarm. "Has anything happened to Paul?"

"No, ma'am," dissented Mary wearily; "but, oh, you'll never forgive me, but a gentleman has taken a great fancy to Paul, and he asked me to let him have Paul with him for today."

"Where? Where?" gasped the agitated mother.

"At the hotel,"

"And you left my darling with a stranger?" cried Edith. "Wretched woman! Take me at once to my child. Who is this man?"

"He is—oh, ma'am, forgive me! forgive me! He is your husband—that was."

They made due haste to the hotel. Mary threw the room Duntley occupied. Its door was open. Pileated, peering, teeny imaged with tender masculine ones. On the floor was Paul, and near to him his father. The place was littered with toys.

Into the room Edith rushed and clasped the boy in her arms, as though from the jaws of peril. Pierce Duntley regarded her gravely. His face and bearing suggested a sedateness that had not formerly existed.

"You—you have changed," spoke Edith, rather abashed at the reproachful look her husband bestowed upon her.

"Somewhat," nodded Duntley. "Not that I was ever as bad as Father Hall fabled me. That wild orgie in the woods was simply a movie scene in which I figured. Mlle. Baturia, the dashing, trapezist whom I managed, was grandmother to eight children. But Father Hall was right—it was a trifling life and now I am part of a great humanitarian society, spreading education in the dark places of the earth. On that mission I leave for Hawaii next week, and I just had to see the dear little fellow here before I went away."

"Paul want good man come home with him," here cried out the little fellow, and ran back to his father and put his arms about his neck.

"No, little man! but I'm going to send all those toys home with you."

"That's a handsome man," said Pierce, sadly. "Couldn't you forget—there isn't much to forgive, except my old, roving ways—because of the love I have always cherished for you?"

She could not resist the sincere appeal. They were remarried, and Edith became a co-partner with Pierce in his great life work.

HAVE TO KNOW MULE NATURE

Drivers of Patient Animals Realize They Have Peculiarities and Must Be Humored.

An old sea-bitten, hammer-headed, two-necked bell mare, slowly picking her way across the coral at the remount station at Camp Zachary Taylor, followed by a long string of mules waiting in single file, heads down and ears wagging, served as illustration for an officer attached to the big cantonment who had just finished remarking that "horse nature and mule nature and human nature were mighty contrary things any way you take them."

"Now, take those mules," he said. "The education of a pack mule is a thing that must begin early. He has just two purposes in life."

"One is to carry 225 pounds day after day patiently and uncomplainingly, and the other is to follow the bell mare of the train, regardless of where that animal may go. Well, there is in that corral an illustration of the effectiveness of our training. The old mare has started after a drink of water and there goes every dead-blast one of those fool mules after a drink of water."

Investigation revealed that the pack mule is not the only member of his family that has peculiarities that can be played upon or must be humored. It was learned that the larger mules, once teamed up or paired, must thereafter be worked together if each is not to suffer a loss in efficiency. Two strange mules will not work together as they will a few weeks later, after they have become well acquainted, and then if they are parted the whole process must be gone over with again.

GOOD COOK TO BE ENVIED

Always Sure of Popularity Is the Person Who Can Concoct Dishes That Are Appealing.

To prove that there is nothing intrinsically humble or shameful in cooking it is only necessary to mention a hunting or fishing party. The man who can turn out a palatable dish is envied and lauded. The college girl who can concoct midnight suppers over a can of frozen alcohol or a gas jet is sure of popularity. Many of the great of the earth have practiced cooking as an accomplishment. Louis XV, one of the extreme connoisseurs in the art of living, prided himself on his coffee. One of the most famous of table sauces was invented by a gentleman of Worcestershire. Many great ladies of the olden times used to exchange recipes. Sir Kenelm Digby, an adventurous and scholarly soul, left a fat volume full of them, ranging from simple apple sauce to the most refined elaboration of game.

It is not even necessary that cookery should aspire to the phase called "fancy" to be artistic. Above all, the sauce, that idol of the professional chef, should be de-throned from its bad eminence. The sauce is the mother of nightmares. The dish itself and not its accompaniments, is the thing. Cooking is not a cooking is cooking, and the gravy is not its goal.—Exchange.

Spruce Used in Airplanes

Because the government needs all the spruce for airplanes, the piano manufacturers of the country are having a hard time to get some boards for their instruments. Spruce is the best wood the piano manufacturers can get for this purpose and they have used it in immense quantities for many years.

But sounding boards and airplane beams call for the same quality of stock—clear, straight-grained, tough-fibered and free from blemishes. In their desire to assist the government in airplane construction the piano manufacturers have agreed to curtail their output 30 per cent during the war. They can get along with the spruce stock now on hand for some time, they say. Meanwhile they will try to find a substitute for spruce. Several of the big spruce producing mills in the Grays Harbor district of Washington and along the Columbia river in Oregon that always have made a specialty of piano stock now are giving their attention to airplane material.

Darkness Above the Sky.

The projectile of the gun with which the Germans have been shelling Paris from a distance of seventy-five miles most rise in its trajectory to a height of twenty-four miles above the earth. The Scientific American says it is probable that at that height there is so little air that the sky loses its blue appearance, because there is hardly enough of it to produce the refraction of light which gives it its luminosity.

"If we could accompany this shell on its course," continues the Scientific American, "we should probably find the sky growing darker and darker, until it becomes nearly black. In the black sky the sun would show as a ball of fire, while the stars which were not obliterated by the sun's light would also be visible. Below us we should have the reflection of sunlight from the earth and from the denser strata of the atmosphere."

Can Sleep Anywhere.

A soldier who enlisted and was sent to Houston, was sent out to the trenches for training, and while on duty he was granted two hours' rest. He was allowed to sleep on the firing step of the trench, which, he said, is nine inches wide. He said when he comes back he will be able to sleep on the window sill.

Eczema Cured Five Years Ago

A Treatment Which Has Proven a Wonderful Healer of the Skin—Certified Evidence of Lasting Cure.

The old notion that eczema is a disease of the blood is refuted time and time again by the cures that are daily being effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It matters not what the cause may have been, if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment regularly you will obtain relief and cure of eczema. Here is the proof: Mrs. Stephen Q. Thwaites, Box 205, Jordan, Ont., writes: "My brother had a bad case of eczema on his legs. He was troubled nearly all one fall and winter with it, and could not work for days at a time. He tried different salves and ointments, but none cured him. One day he tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it gave almost instant relief. He continued its use, but had not quite finished the second box when he was cured. It is now about five years since then, and it has never returned. We certainly can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and are very grateful for my brother's cure."

(Rev. S. F. Coffman, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites and the party to whom she refers, and her statements are correct.")

Mr. J. E. Jones, 228 University Avenue, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I had eczema in my hand for about five years. I tried a great many remedies, but found that while some of them checked it, none cured it permanently. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in six weeks my hand was completely better. I would not do without a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house if it cost $2 a box. I am giving my name to this firm so that it will get to those who suffer as I did."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmansons, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint you. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Henry T. Scholey was appointed chairman of the meeting. The matter was formally introduced and a co-operative scheme outlined by LeRoy T. Lee. Some discussion followed as to ways and means in which nearly all present took part. The plan seemed very feasible and seemed to receive the hearty approval of all the townspeople present. Provisional officers were appointed in the persons of LeRoy T. Lee as President, Glenn E. Wilson as Secretary and B. B. Estabrook as Treasurer. The company was to be able to issue stock to the amount of $5,000 in 500 shares of $10 each. B. E. Cliff, Dr. H. W. Pappert, Norris DeLong and J. C.
