CHAUTAUQUA NOW THE CHIEF ISSUE

Dates are Aug. 21 to 27 and Every Quarantor Must Get Busy and Knockery Knock on Wood.

The guarantors of Chautauqua responding to the call to meet last Friday evening numbered only fifteen. There should have been in attendance more than eighty people. The few that gathered, however, proceeded to business and the various committees were appointed. The president is F. W. Smith, M.L.A., the vice-president, H. R. Nixon, treasurer, E. W. Laskey, secretary, Rex L. York. The advertising committee includes J. Sterling King, F. H. Stevens, and V. W. Noddin. The ground committee: J. F. Murdoch and H. D. Kowick. Entertainment: A. Y. Dickinson, D. W. Shaw, James Plummer. Parade committee: F. R. Kelley, H. N. Dickson, Dr. Macintosh, Guy McGinley, Allen Cummings, G. F. Seeley, Lyde Keld, Jay Small, D. J. Coughlin, Fred Boyer, G. B. Nixon. Children's day: Gage Montgomery, Anna Nixon, Winnifred Clark, Mrs. McGinley. Ticket committee: The executive with J. B. King and J. E. Albright. Police and usher committee to be appointed by the town marshal. All committees have power to add to their number as they see fit.

The Chautauqua program this year consists of seven days, afternoon and evening, and each program is a big event in itself. Of all the Chautauqua's that come this way none can compare with the feast of good things set forth in the program this year. These are of real worth and while entertaining to the last degree, every item is educative, instructive, inspiring, uplifting and should fill the people with purer and cleaner thoughts than many of the events of the last year have provided as mental pabulum.

So far there have been more people ready to deny Chautauqua than have shown a willingness to put a shoulder to the wheel and boost.

Many there are who apparently think they do not get sufficient cheap vulgarities for their money. Many others claim that the demands of the churches are not sufficiently met. And still others—the majority of the knockers—are those who have not themselves undertaken the responsibility of a guarantor, and are like the dog in the manger that cares not for the hay itself, but will bark to keep away the horse who is entitled to it.

If you don't feel disposed to help Chautauqua in any way, show yourself big and broad enough—reveal what vestige of soul you may have—and quit slamming.

A word to the guarantors: Times are better this year than they were last; every merchant in the land says the worst is over, crops are abundant and the prospects are good.

To operate Chautauqua costs in any case more than the guarantors hold themselves responsible for. Because last year we were satisfied with Chautauqua, because of our intense enthusiasm up to the moment of its close, more than 100 people gladly became guarantors for a return engagement this year. Let each remember that his signature given last autumn is entitled to as much respect now as it was then. "Go to it!" and make good. Attend committee meetings and cheerfully do the bit of work consigned you.

The Observer predicts that Chautauqua will go over this year, and go over big. There is going to be no slacking among the guarantors and the knockers are dead sure to get all that is coming to them.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Winnifred Clark will remain principal for another year. Mrs. Ray DeGrasse, who comes to us very highly recommended, with over six years experience in New Brunswick and in the West, serving part of the time as principal of a Superior School, and having first class superior license, will take charge of Grades 7 and 8. She made very high marks on Latin and has a good command of French having taught in a bilingual school. She will proceed at once to Sussex, to take a month's course in school garden work in order to take charge of the garden here, her department being the one directly interested. Hitherto the Principal has had to leave her department in care of other teachers in order to take these grades to the garden—a very unbusiness like arrangement.

Miss Marguerite Palmer also first class and studying up for her superior, has been given charge of Grades 5 and 6. She is also a good student and has had a very successful career.

After giving the matter much earnest and serious consideration, duly weighing the interests of the ratepayers as well as those of the pupils and parents, having consulted the principal and other teachers and examined the records of the school to some extent, the board of trustees has decided to act upon the recommendation of the secretary that the primary department consisting of Grades 1 and 2 be divided and placed under the care of two teachers instead of one. For some time past Mrs. Anna Murdoch Nixon has had about 60 little beginners and second year pupils. She has had wonderfully good success, but it is simply an impossibility for one teacher with not even an assistant, to go over all the instruction, as required and give that individual attention each little one requires, in order to make a good start, with as few as possible of wrong impressions or hazy ideas of their work, which hampers and retards their progress through succeeding grades as well as needlessly taking up much time of the teachers.

C. of E. LAWN PARTY

On the evening of August 2 the W. A. of the Church of England will hold a lawn party on the beautiful grounds of Mrs. Henry Tedlie. Tea will be served from 5 to 8 and the good eats provided by these ladies need no recommendation. There will be a musical program of unusual excellence and also a sale of fancy articles and cooked food. Given fair weather the event will be one of great pleasure. Admission fee, including supper will be 35 cents.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSE MAY SOON COME

The Annual Meeting Had Record Attendance and a Special Meeting to Discuss New Building is Called

At the annual school meeting held at the Neighborhood Theatre there were present 78 ratepayers who voted and there was a large number of spectators, including several ladies: who were much interested in the proceedings.

E. C. Morgan, the senior trustee, was in the chair and J. Sterling King, the secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting.

The auditor's report was not then ready and on motion it was decided to have this prepared and published in an early issue of the Observer. With it will also be published in detail the secretary's report showing the receipts and expenditures.

The assessment for the year was made $5,000, which is $2,000 less than last year. A new department will necessarily be opened up so that the school will re-open with six teachers.

A Plummer was elected trustee to fill the vacancy made by the expiration of the term of Trustee Morgan, who steadfastly refused to let his name go in for nomination again. A communication was read from W. D. Keith in which he tendered his resignation from the Board. G. B. Nixon was elected to fill his place. The names of F. A. Afton and C. W. McQuarrie were also in nomination, Mr. Afton running a close second in both cases.

The matter of a new building was discussed and the trustees were instructed to get all possible data and to call a special meeting within three weeks.

Caldwell Speech ... Gal. 1.
This Interesting Clash in Parliament
Will Interest Observer Readers
Because of its Local Bearing

It was a Monday night—June 26—and in the last stages of a prolonged session. No doubt all parties concerned were feeling more or less peevish. But our Tom Caldwell was bound to have his say and he said it with characteristic vigor. The question concerned the election in Carleton-Victoria last December, when, it will be recalled, there was a subdivision of polls, made unknown to the Progressive candidate, and for which he claims to have been made fully acquainted with at a late date, and that for which he received proper lists only after a threat of injunction.

The following discussion is taken in full from the pages of Hansard: On the Orders of the Day: Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. speaker, before proceeding to the Orders of the Day I wish to refer to some remarks made by the hon. member for St. John and Albert (Mr. Baxter) on Saturday in which he misquoted what I said in the House on June 12.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL:—and then proceeded to read a document—

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL:—and then proceeded to read a document in which doubt was cast upon my veracity. Mr. SPEAKER: Order. The hon. gentleman is entitled to put a question and make a personal explanation before the Orders of the Day are called, but he must avoid attacking any other hon. member. He may state the facts which perturb his mind and then let the House judge of the matter; but he must not attack any other gentleman. I understand the hon. member wishes to make a personal explanation. He may proceed to that explanation without, however, attacking another hon. member.

Mr. CALDWELL: I had no intention of attacking anybody. I simply wanted to clear up a statement made by the hon. member from St. John on Saturday as a question of privilege. In that connection I want to read the statement the hon. member attributed to me and then read what I actually said, leaving the House to judge as to whether the hon. member quoted me correctly. He was speaking of a statement I made in the House on June 12; it was with regard to an amendment I moved to the Dominion Election Act on that day. The hon. member was referring to a statement I made about a returning officer in my riding during the recent elections, and this is what he said: "He was charged."

"That is the returning officer, he meant—"

"He was charged with having made electoral subdivisions which were not warranted by law."

Now I wish to quote what I actually did say:

"Last fall, I learned quite accidentally one evening, just two weeks prior to the election, that five new polls had been established in my riding. That is the only reference I made to the establishing of the new polls. I did not say they were established illegally because I knew better. While I am not a lawyer possibly I know the Elections Act quite as well as my hon. friend from St. John, due to the fact that I was in this House when it was passed. I opposed some of the provisions of that act very strenuously and was convicted last fall that I was justified in doing so."

Mr. SPEAKER: I think the hon. gentleman has stated his case fully.

Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. Speaker, I am speaking of personal questions brought up when Orders of the Day are called, that it is the usage in both Houses of the Canadian Parliament to make personal explanations and ask questions of the Government. They make them in reference to an inaccurate report of their speeches in the official report, or in newspapers, but they must not engage in discussion or further explanation. The hon. gentleman has stated that he has been misquoted. He has read what he said in the House and what the hon. member for St. John had said. Now the House must judge of the incident, which is closed and no further argument can be allowed.

Mr. CALDWELL: May I be allowed to quote further from the hon. gentleman's speech to show that he made a misstatement later on in his remarks.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. Orders of the Day.

Mr. CALDWELL: Have I not a right, Mr. Speaker, to quote further from the hon. gentleman's speech to correct another misstatement?

Mr. SPEAKER: I do not think it is really necessary. The hon. member has presented his case from his point of view. He has given a quotation of his own statement, and has also quoted a statement by the hon. member from St. John. Now the incident is closed.

Mr. CALDWELL: But I am rising

MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLHURST, P.Q.
"I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my Stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gall Stones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder."

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO."

Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-tives."

I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that my old friends often ask me what I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life very much."

to a question of privilege.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL: I have only explained one incident. The hon. member for St. John also charged that I had stated a falsehood in the House.

Mr. STEVENS: I rise to point of order.

Mr. SPEAKER: Is the hon. member speaking to a point of order?

Mr. STEVENS: My point of order is this: I bring to your attention the fact that when the hon. member for St. John first attempted to make his statement he was ruled out of order by you, Sir, and I think quite properly.

On the second occasion that he made his statement he was again ruled out of order, after proceeding for some short space, by the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole. Consequently he had not the opportunity of finishing his statement. Therefore, I submit to you, Sir, that it would be highly unfair to have another hon. member debate further the hon. member's statement which was not completed.

Mr. CALDWELL: May I speak to the point of order? I submit that it is quite a different thing to rule an hon. member out of order when he is replying to an attack by another hon. member and seeking to establish the fact that he was misquoted, and falsely accused of making a false statement in the House.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL: I will leave the House to judge if I am not taking the right course.

Mr. BAXTER: The hon. gentleman has already misquoted me. I was careful to say that I was quoting from a letter signed by the gentlemen he had attacked in the House. I made no statement about the hon. member himself because I have no personal knowledge of the circumstances.

Mr. SPEAKER: No hon. member can use the expression "false" or "falsely" in speaking of another hon. member. It is not parliamentary language and I would therefore ask the hon. member from Carleton, N.

B. to withdraw the expression.

Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. Speaker, I gladly withdraw the expression if it is misconstrued in any way. I desire to state, however, that I did not accuse the hon. member himself of making a false statement; I said he read a document "which falsely accused me of making a false statement in this House."

Mr. SPEAKER: I have given my ruling and I am now in the hands of the House. I rule that the incident is now closed. It has been fully explained by all parties.

Mr. CALDWELL: Before you leave the Chair, Mr. Speaker, I would like to continue the discussion which was proceeding when I was ruled out of order recently. I had stated that the hon. member from St. John and Albert (Mr. Baxter) quoted a statement I made on the 12th of June. I read what he said and I read what I said myself, and I am willing to leave the House to judge of the matter. In regard to the making of the list, I want to quote what the hon. member said. During the reading of this document he interjected this remark:

"There comes a very distinct issue of veracity between the hon. member and the returning officer. I know nothing of the circumstances. I do not know anything personally of the circumstances now, except as I have heard the statement made in the House and as I have, in my possession, a statement differing very widely in practically all respects, of the returning officer."

He has qualified that again by saying: "I cannot of course vouch for a single statement I am reading."

I am not in the same position as the hon. member for St. John. I am not going to make a statement I cannot vouch for in this case. I did not make a statement on the 12th June that I could not vouch for and could not prove in any court of the land and I do not propose to make a statement now which I cannot vouch for. I was quoting what I did say on that occasion with regard to preparing the list and will leave the House to judge whether the returning officer's statement differed from mine. I was speaking of the necessity for the polls created in my riding. I said:

"I went to the returning officer to inquire if it was a fact that those new polls had been established, because I had no notice of the enumerators, and he said that it was."

I asked him if he had his enumerators and who they were. He said: "No, I do not propose to appoint any."

I asked him how he proposed to get a list of those polls and to furnish it to the candidates on nomination day. He said that he did not propose to have a list for each polling division. He was subdividing one polling division into four. He said that he was going to have them all prepared as one list and revised as he saw fit. We will provide a copy of each poll for the deputy returning officer on election day, but no lists will be prepared for the candidates."

I want to quote from the document the hon. member read on Saturday night and I will leave the House to judge. The hon. member for St. John read from the document prepared by the returning officer as follows:

"He further says that he did not at that time want to appoint new registrars who would be unfamiliar with the duties, and that he proposed to allow the existing registrars to make up his list for the entire division in the usual way and then subdivide it geographically for the use of the deputy returning officer in the separate polling stations on election day."

That is identical with the statement I made on the 12th June. I wish to deal very briefly with this, because I do not wish to impose on the good nature of the House at this hour of the night and at this stage of the session, but I think it is due to myself that I should clear up this matter. This is also from the statement as read by the hon. member from what is supposed to be a document sent to him by the returning officer for my riding. He said that the hon. member's further statement that the hon. member threatened him with an injunction is quite surprising. At no time during the election did either candidate threaten him in any way, and so far as he was aware, the conduct of the election from the returning officer's standpoint was satisfactory to all parties concerned. He says that it

to shine with

was surprising to learn that the hon. member had to put an injunction on the election."

At this point I rose to a point of order and I said:

Mr. CALDWELL: "I rise to a question of privilege. I never said that I had to put on an injunction; but I had to threaten to do so, and I can prove this by the attorney whom I employed."

I wish to read a telegram from an attorney whom I employed on that occasion. I wired him on Saturday night to verify the threatened injunction and this is the telegram which I received from my attorney. This gentleman is well known to the members of the House from the maritime provinces and his veracity would not be impugned. His name is W. P. Jones, barrister, of Woodstock, N. B.: Woodstock, N. B., June 25, 1922.

Thomas W. Caldwell, M. P.,
House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont.

Last Dominion election you instructed me to apply for an injunction against the returning officer unless lists of new polls established by him were furnished without further delay. I telephoned returning officer that I would take legal action if lists not supplied. He referred me to Hayward his solicitor who undertook to furnish same."

W. P. Jones.

Now, in that statement read by the hon. member Saturday night and in his comments he stated the returning officer had submitted these things to the Chief Electoral Officer and had his sanction to do this. The returning officer also showed me these letters from the Chief Electoral Officer in his office, which showed that he had spent more time in corresponding with the Chief Electoral Officer to get authority to evade the Election Act than it would have taken to have made the lists because he had had several interchanges of letters with the Chief Electoral Officer, and he read them to me in his office. I said, "I do not care what the Chief Electoral Officer told you to do about the list. He has authority to instruct you to establish a new polling division. You must make the list according to law, and I want to quote what the law says about appointing officers and making lists."

"I was not finding much fault because he did not appoint new registrars. It might have caused some inconvenience, but I was particular that we should have the lists and have them according to law. I want to read what the law says about appointing registrars and making lists."

"Rule (2) immediately after the receipt of the writ the returning officer shall appoint by writing, in Form No. 5 one person only to be registrar of voters for each rural division. Whenever a competent person can be secured who is a resident within the limits of the polling division such person shall be appointed and only in case of necessity shall a registrar be selected from an outside polling division."

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one remedy, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed, your hearing may be permanently lost. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

NEWSPAPERMEN HAVE A ROUGH DRIVE

John A. Fisher, editor and proprietor of The Picton Advocate was among the newspapermen who recently visited Hartland. Of his trip he says: "The St. John is a river of many scenic beauties. It unfolds panorama after panorama. Leaving St. John we ran beside it for a number of miles and went back to it again before reaching Woodstock. At Woodstock we took automobiles and drove thirteen miles along the St. John to Hartland. This drive afforded a fine sample of river scenery, the banks rising from the river bed and containing rich farm land with here and there woodland to offer variety. Truth to tell, however, we had to take our scenery on the fly, for that was the wildest drive since the days of John Glyn. Each and every auto load asserted emphatically that their driver was the original speed demon and that they only touched the very highest spots of the road. We do not know what the grand idea was but it was to show what discomfort there is in going at a forty-mile city over rough road it was admirably successful.

At Hartland we were given a great welcome. The mayor was there to make a speech and, better still, a ladies' organization was right on the job with a luncheon of salads and other good things. Hartland is a rather pretty village of 1250 in the centre of a prosperous farming country. The important fact that lingers in our memory, in truth about the only thing in the mayor's eloquent address that we really took in, is that within a minute's walk from the centre of the town there is a salmon pool, where fishermen congregate daily and where a 26 pounder was landed last year with fly and line. Some day we are going back to Hartland and catch the mate to that 26 pounder.

BY FREDERICTON

Jim Lavigne, who came here with the reputation of being the home run king of the Upper St. John Valley in 1911, was released by the Fredericton Baseball Club yesterday and left last evening for his home at Hartland.

While an earnest worker Lavigne fell down badly on his fielding at third base, his weakness on handling bunts being especially noticeable, and he also failed to bat up to expectations. His batting average for the games he played with Fredericton was .265 while his fielding fell off to .784—Gleaner.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements. Other indications are yellow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthy action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, burning, down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The burning feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

GRAMHAM-BURPEE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Graham at Tapley Mills when their only daughter Stella E. was united in marriage to Robert Ambros Burpee of Jacksonville. Miss Muriel Adams of Woodstock was bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Stanley Graham, brother of the bride. Little Thelma Allen was flower girl, dressed in white silk. Mandelsohn's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Helen McKibbin of Woodstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. V. Bragdon under an arch of maple leaves and wild flowers, in the presence of about 70 guests. The single ring service was used. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of white satin with bead trimmings, and veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations, with travelling suit of navy blue tricot and hat to match. Bridesmaid was dressed in pink organdie, large white hat and carried bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Several guests were from Maine including Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. London of Hodgdon, Messrs. Allen and George and Mrs. A. L. Bragg of Staceyville, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Dunphy and daughter of Island Falls.

The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents, consisting of silver, cut glass, china, pyrex, linen and number of substantial cheques.

The happy couple after a sumptuous meal was served, left by car for their new home in Jacksonville, where some three hundred people were waiting, giving them a very warm and noisy reception. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

HAYDEN-GEE

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gee of Summerfield when their daughter Nellie Margaret was united in marriage to Alvin Reid Hayden of Knoxford on Wednesday, June 28. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. R. Chown, B. A., of Florenceville in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Hazel Green of Summerfield.

The bride looked charming, being becomingly attired in white silk and bridal veil and carried a beautiful bouquet. Little Miss Audrey Gee, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast.

The numerous and costly gifts bestowed the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Gee will reside at Knoxford.

KATHLEEN EVORA LUNN

Much regret was felt by the people of Summerfield and the surrounding country upon hearing of the sudden and unexpected death of Kathleen Evora Lunn, eldest daughter of the late Coleman and Mrs. Lunn. During the past winter she was laid aside with serious illness necessitating the performance of two operations. She, however, after many weeks of severe suffering, which she patiently endured, rallied and regaining her strength, she seemed to be in the enjoyment of excellent health, as evidenced by her cheerfulness and activity. On Thursday she was suddenly taken ill and notwithstanding all the medical skill and careful nursing could do for her she passed away on Monday, June 26, after but a few days illness.

Kathleen was a bright little girl of nine years and her early decease has left a profound impression upon all who knew her. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. R. Chown and were largely attended. Entombment was made in the cemetery beside the remains of her father who but a few months before passed away. She leaves to mourn, beside her widowed mother, five brothers and two sisters, for whom much sympathy is felt in this another hour of sorrow and sore bereavement.

Railway News

Guelph. — Realizing that some effort should be made to preserve the old C. P. R. station building, the first house built in Guelph, which is located on a piece of ground at the foot of Woolwich Street, and which is fast going to ruin, the civic improvement committee of Guelph decided to make a move towards having improvements carried out to preserve the building.

Galt. — General Manager M. W. Kirkwood of the Lake Erie & Northern and Grand River Railways has announced that early in July work would be started on the new Union Depot on Main street. The plans have been finally approved and tenders have been called for. The building, which will be of rug brick construction, one storey in height, but later it is intended to add another story, to accommodate the general offices now located in Scott's Block.

Moose Jaw. — The roof is now on the Dominion Express Company's new building, west of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company office building, and the work is being rushed with great speed. As soon as the Express Company building is in shape to be occupied, the old building will be removed and the work of installing the new tracks will be commenced.

In front of the new depot the concrete roadway is laid in squares of ten feet. The city electricians have completed the installation of the two electric light standards at the outer edges of the sidewalks on both sides of the roadway.

Galt. — After 40 years of continuous and faithful service as an employee of the C. P. R., Alex. McKean, city ticket agent here for the past 16 years, joined the list of the superannuated and his place was taken by John Campbell, for many years a permanent resident of Galt, at one time depot and freight agent, but for the past several years travelling passenger agent.

Mr. McKean commenced his railroad career in the freight audit department at Winnipeg, was agent at High Bluff, Manitoba, for a couple of years and for 17 years successfully conducted a mercantile business in Mount Forest, handling railway, steamship, telegraph and express services. It was from Mount Forest that he came to Galt in 1906.

Vancouver. — Vancouver's first transcontinental railway train entered the city thirty-five years ago, when prospectors were made who have now reached full realization. In the address of welcome to Henry Abbott, who was then superintendent of the Pacific Division of the C. P. R., Mayor M. A. Maclean drew a word-picture of Vancouver in the future which is now a fact.

Vancouver's first train was drawn by an old wood-burning type engine and included a baggage, colonist sleeper and pullman and drawing-room cars of the latest type at that date. The engine was draped in evergreens and bore placards bearing inscriptions "From Ocean to Ocean" and many mottoes declaring the achievements of the men who undertook the construction of the C. P. R.

P. Barnhardt was conductor and P. Richter, engineer. The celebration of the arrival of the train was carried on far into the night, the city band serenading officials of the C. P. R. and a torchlight procession being staged through the city.

Woodstock, Ontario. — In the death of Charles Garden, C.R., which occurred at the residence of Col. F. H. J. Dibbles recently, there passed away the last male member in his generation of a family associated with the history and progress of Woodstock for well-nigh a century. Mr. Garden was connected with the building of the C. P. R. through the Rockies. He was one of the advance guard of the exploration party. The route of this party was via the N. P. R. to Bismark, Dakota, up the Missouri to Benton and thence by trail to Calgary and up the Bow. Only one party came over the Rockies summit. Mr. Garden was transit man and the party consisted of fifteen men. They came through the Vermillion, south of Kickinghorse and made their way to what is now called "Golden." They built "The Cache" which has ever since remained, with, of course, extensive restorations and is now known as Moodie's Home. In 1884-5, Mr. Garden worked on C. P. R. construction near Lake Superior on White River, Peninsula

FEELS IT HIS DUTY TO TELL FACTS IN CASE

DARTMOUTH CITIZEN SAYS HE SUFFERED FOR YEARS FROM INDIGESTION BUT WAS FINALLY RESTORED COMPLETELY BY TAKING TANLAC.

In telling how Tanlac helped me I feel I am only doing my public duty," declared Peter Neilsen, highly respected citizen of Dartmouth, N. S. "For nearly fifteen years I was troubled with indigestion. My food would form gas that caused me sharp pains across my chest and almost cut off my breath. My kidneys also were out of order. I had a pain in the small of my back and if I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again.

"Of late years my chief trouble was rheumatism. Some times I could not use my arms and shoulders. Then it seemed to settle in my legs. I got so bad I could not walk to business.

"Finally I decided to try Tanlac and today I am a well man. My rheumatism is gone and I am able to walk back and forth to work. My indigestion has been overcome and I feel just fine. I think Tanlac is a wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Harbor, and it was at this time that the first through C. P. R. train went to Vancouver. He was later engaged on construction on the Deloraine branch to the Coal Mines for the C. P. R. He had charge of location and construction on Souris Branch and was for some years in office work in Winnipeg. In 1897 he was on the location of the Crow's Nest branch, locating the loop and tunnel at Michael Creek.

Quebec. — Probably the most fragile and interesting consignment yet given into the keeping of the Dominion Express Company is one which will come shortly on a Canadian Pacific Steamships freighter from London.

Two tiny baby kangaroos are to be passengers on the ship and will brave the North Atlantic on their long journey from the London Zoo to Toronto which is their ultimate destination.

The tiny passengers are coming over with the compliments of the London Zoo authorities who were indebted to Toronto last season for the addition of two very young Canadian beavers to their collection. The kangaroos will be accompanied by a special attendant, who will strive to do his best for the little tots and land them in good condition.

Port Arthur. — The International Union of Hungry Hoboes, in so far as its membership affects Port Arthur and Fort William will suffer a depletion in its ranks this summer. At Navilus the first station east of Port Arthur, there are located a couple of plain clothes policemen who are gathering the 'bobs into the long arms of the law. One day the officers brought seven knights of the road into Port Arthur. Hunting was good during next day, too, when a party of nine arrived on Number One to keep the others company. In Port Arthur Police Court each was fined $20 or one month in prison. They were taken to the jail. When 3 bobs drop off a freight at Navilus he is least expecting to meet a guardian of the law. That is why it is stated the Canadian Pacific Railway has put constables there to gather in the members of the ride-for-nothing clan.

Vancouver. — The Canadian Pacific Railway has inaugurated its new

that either the member for St. John or the returning officer in my riding would like to stand within the bounds of that riding and say there were not men fit to be registrars in any of those polling subdivisions. I know the people in those subdivisions very well and I do think I know a crook in one of those new subdivisions. It is just possible that was the reason there was no registrar appointed in that division. I wish to read rule (3) with regard to preparing lists and furnishing them to the candidate. Rule (3) of section 2 provides:

"Each registrar shall complete, date at his place of residence and certify as in form No. 18 to this act such copies of the voters' lists on the 15th day before the polling day and not other. It appears to be all right looking at it from two of the most public and conspicuous places within such polling division and another he shall retain for revision. He shall on that day fixed for the nomination of candidates deliver or send by registered mail to each of the candidates a copy of such lists."

must be made fifteen days prior to an election and not otherwise, the returning officer, according to the statement read in the House by the hon. member for St. John and Albert, admitted that he did not propose to make these separate lists before election day or that he did not intend to have any for the candidates, but that he proposed to have one for the deputy returning officer on election day. There is a good deal more that I would like to have said, had it been earlier in the day or earlier in the session; but I want to repeat what I said at the beginning. I have not made a statement in connection with this that I cannot prove either in this House or outside of it. In fact, I think I am safe in saying that since I have been a member I have never made in this House a statement that I could not prove. Should it occur to the hon. member for St. John and Albert to wish me to prove the truth of some of the statements that I have made during this session, I shall be only too pleased to accommodate him.

Mr. J. B. M. BAXTER (St. John City and Counties of St. John and Albert): Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to detain the House at any length on such an unimportant matter. Had I been permitted to read in full, as I endeavored to do, the letter which I received from the man who had been attacked by hon. friend (Mr. Caldwell), that would probably have ended the incident. As I read the whole letter with the exception of the last paragraph, I am not going to bother the House with the rest of it. The hon. member challenges me to a number of things, and all I wish to remark is simply this. I will not discuss the case further. I assured the House already that I interfered only because I was applied to by a man who claimed that he had been unjustly referred to by the hon. member and who wanted to have his case put before the House. The hon. member has admitted that he had read the correspondence with the Chief Electoral Officer. He was not, however, frank enough to tell the House that he had read it, and it is clear now that whatever this returning officer did, whether it may seem to be irregular as regards the law or not, was sanctioned by the Chief Electoral Officer. I will not go into the matter further. The only other observation that I wish to make is that the hon. member has given us his measure to-night. He has absolutely convinced me, in plain and direct terms, of having falsely represented him. When he attempted to prove that he read, not from my own statement, but from my quotation from the letter from the returning officer, language that I made it clear I was not responsible for except as the vehicle to convey it to the House. When the hon. member used that language with regard to me, that I had spoken falsely, I—

Mr. CALDWELL: I rise to a question of privilege. I did not state that the hon. member had made a false statement. I stated that he read a document which falsely accused me. I reiterate that.

Mr. BAXTER: I adhere to my original statement of the matter, and my final comment on it is that the hon. member has shown respect neither for the amenities of personal contact, nor for the dignity of this House, in not withdrawing the statement that he made in regard to the matter. There is no question—the ears of hon. members are sharp enough to hear it.

It was said, and it would have been resented in a much more violent way by myself had it been made outside the walls of this Chamber.

Mr. CALDWELL: With regard to the statement that the returning officer was instructed to do certain things and that he was justified in doing what he did, I want to say that he did not do what the Chief Electoral Officer instructed him to do, but proceeded to furnish me with the lists after I had threatened to get an injunction.

With regard to the last statement of the hon. member for St. John and Albert I can take up his offer outside whenever he wants to.

Mr. SPEAKER: I will ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to see that no disorder takes place in the lobby.

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP HARTLAND

Many women will profit by the following statement of one of their sex: "I was afraid to eat on account of stomach trouble. Even rice did not agree. After taking Adler-ka I can eat anything." Adler-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach or sour stomach. Guards against appendicitis. It brings out poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Hartland Drug Co., Ltd.

BASE BALL

(Intended for last week)
The management of the Baseball Club will soon call a meeting to make definite plans for the summer. It is expected that the Driving Club will make arrangements whereby the Athletic Association will use the race track for the games. In talking with Bert Carson, who has been the moving spirit and is one of the officials of the Baseball Club, a representative of the Observer was told that the Driving Club was taking up the question of their track being used, with the Woodstock Driving Club, to find out what arrangements the Woodstock Club makes with the Woodstock (Baseball) Club. It is likely that the same arrangements which holds in Woodstock will be adopted here. In the meantime summer is hastening on its way and it is imperative that whatever is done be done quickly. The baseballers are anxious to play and the public is just as anxious to see them play. And at the first game all Edmundston will root for the home team.

A BUSINESS COUPE OF STEEL

Dodge Brothers offer to the business public of America an entirely new principle in Coupe body construction.

From framework to window mouldings the body is built of steel. It is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed. This design anticipates every possible requirement of commercial travel. It insures unusual quietness—unusual grace—unusual stamina. It has made it possible to give the Coupe that same lustrous baked-on enamel finish for which Dodge Brothers open cars have long been famous.

The upholstery is of genuine leather—leather that will wash and wear. The seat is wide and comfortable. Carrying compartments are accessible and spacious. The car is equipped with a heater, dome light, window levers, windshield cleaner, cord tires, Yale door locks, and every other appointment necessary to the owner's comfort and protection.

Built inside and out to withstand the wear and tear of everyday use, it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which you are accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers cars.

It is the Business Coupe which business people the world over have been expecting—from Dodge Brothers.

LUMBERING ON THE ST. JOHN RIVER, PAST AND PRESENT

By J. Fraser Gregory, President of Murray and Gregory Ltd.

As the drives get further down river more logs are found stranded along the shores and logs of other operators mixed with theirs, and horses are put to work hauling them into the water again, commonly called sacking. As every crew is working independently, the marks on the logs are watched carefully by the men and boss to see that only the logs belonging to themselves are handled.

Often one crew would overtake another on the river, when an effort might be made by the crew catching up to drive through, or possibly the crews might join forces and bring the two drives along together, the expenses being shared by the operators in what they might consider a fair proportion.

At Grand Falls all the boats and equipment had to be transferred from the upper to the lower basin. It was perhaps the first chance the men had to get rum since they had gone into the woods in the fall, and there were many sharks about ready to take their money. No wonder there were many wild times at the Falls when the drives were coming out. Every boss was thankful when he got his crew started below the Falls and away from further temptation.

Day after day the drive continued, the water always getting lower, the days hotter, and the sack heavier—men getting footsore or worn out and obliged to quit, when they would fasten a couple of logs together into a catamaran and on it float down the river, navigating it as best they could to Fredericton or their homes. Between the first and middle of June the drive would get into the boom, a weary party, a mere remnant of the crew that had broken the landings but triumphant, for they had not hung up.

At Fredericton the bars and lumbermen's boarding-house keepers stood ready to fleece them, and many of them were soon parted from their hard earned money. The first boom was situated where the Glazier boom is to day at what was then called the "Short Ferry". In the earliest times there were no booms, but boats manned by expert river men watched the river day and night from Cliffs Point above Fredericton to Short Ferry below, and towed into safety any spars or timber that might be floating down. An Act to incorporate the Fredericton Boom Co. was passed on the 13th of April, 1844, in the seventh year of Queen Victoria's reign.

The incorporators were—John Glazier, Stephen Glazier, James Taylor, William J. Bedell, Jacob McKean, Isaac Kilburn, Duncan Glazier and Spafford Barker. The objects as expressed were: picking up, securing and rafting timber, logs, masts, spars, and other lumber. The capital of the Company was $8,000. There was a double liability clause in the charter and the rate fixed for rafting logs in the charter was two shilling and six pence per thousand. As first constructed there were no jam piers in the boom, but small sunken piers with chains and buoys attached to which the log boom was fastened.

This style of boom continued until 1863 when the first jam piers were built, the old method not having proved secure with the increased quantity of lumber.

The second boom to be built was the Sterling, then the Gill, and last of all in 1868 the Douglas boom above Fredericton. There were no sheer booms. Ordinary chain boom was used to sheer the logs as far as possible, the open gaps being watched by boats.

A few years before the incorporation of the Boom Co., the Glaziers undertook the securing and booming of the lumber on the river, but they got into financial difficulties and just previous to the formation of the company it was being done by John and Isaac Burpee.

Before following the lumber further, I will describe the method of logging and stream driving as conducted to day with the improvements we have over our predecessors.

In 1876 Levi H. Pond, an American from Michigan, came to Fredericton to demonstrate to the lumber a shear boom that he recently invented, and that was being used in his native State, with the expectation of selling his rights. The purpose of the boom is to direct the run of logs in a river so as to always keep them in the channel, and to prevent them piling up on bars, heads of islands, rocks, etc., also to direct their flow into booms; and adjustable, so that the river can be quickly opened to allow the passage of all kind of craft and promptly closed again.

The lumbermen of the day realized that if he could do all he said his invention was most valuable and would be the means of saving much money and time in stream driving and the securing of the lumber. A trial boom was built and experimented within the river and proved every claim that was made for it. Immediately a company was formed to build and operate shear booms on the river paying the inventor a royalty on every thousand of lumber that ran past them. The Fredericton Boom Co. agreed to pay the inventor a royalty for their use and this company continued until the patents expired. Mr. Pond made his home on the river until his death, a few years ago, and was continuously a contractor in connection with driving or the operation of his booms. This is in short the history of Pond's Patent Shear Boom, the best invention ever produced to assist in stream driving, and now used in every country. It is hard to describe this boom so that you will understand it, but I will try:

First let me say that the principle is exactly the same as that whereby a sailing vessel tacks or beats to windward. Instead of the wind, we have the water of the stream constantly flowing in one direction; instead of the sail, we have the rudders of the boom adjustable as the sails of the boat. We call them fins. Now the object of the boom is to direct the course of the logs in the stream. To accomplish this we have extended out from the shore, in a slanting position down river, a boom along which logs can slide as they strike it, flowing promiscuously down the stream, to the end of it, thus being carried across the river to clear an obstruction such as a rock or an island. How to keep the outer end of the boom in the desired position in the river without the aid of anchors or lines is the trick. To do it a string of logs is made the ends lapping over each other shingle fashion, so that a surface without obstruction is presented to the floating logs, the first boom log is made fast to the shore by a chain the string logs are toggled with chains and on the down river side at each toggle a half log or deal is hitched in at one end. This is called the fin, and by setting the whole number at the same angle to each boom log holding it in place by a stout spar each acts as a sail in the water and each does its share toward shoving the outer end of the boom up river as desired. The boom resembles a lot of letters "A", strung together by one side.
