EUENOS ATRES, May 9 .- The report that a revolution has broken out in the Argentine Republic has no foundation.

Mr. Gladstone's Weakness Increasing London, May 9. - Mr. Gladstone's weakness as the result of a recent cold is increasing, and he is constantly under the care of a physician.

Rather Fight Than Pay Taxes. CAPE Town, May 9 .- Advices from Pretoria, Transvaal, say that Mugato and blind. He did not intend to desert his other native chiefs, having refused to pay taxes and defied the Government, war will be declared upon them. The Staats artillery has been ordered in readiness to march to Zoutapansberg.

Mr. Mundella Will Not Resign.

LONDON, May 9.-Mr. A. J. Mundella, president of the Board of Trade, having consulted with the law officers of the crown in regard to his connection with the New Zealand Loan Company and the public criticism thereof, has decided not to resign his place in the Cabinet.

Great Decline in Emigration.

Lendon, May 9 .- The Board of Trade returns show that emigration to Canada declined from 8,557 in April, 1893, to 3,524 in April, 1894. For the first four months of 1894 emigration to Canada declined to

The exports to Canada for April show a decrease of 19 per cent, and for the four months 21 per cent. The chief decline is in railboad iron, steel, cotton and woolen Slander Suit-One Farthing Damages. Lendon, May 9 .- The suit for siander broughe by Mr. Robert Household, auditor of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, against Lord Clauds Hamilton, one of the directors, was beautinded to-day. The plaintiff contended that Lord Claude Hamilton accused hom of dishonorabie conduct at the Grand Truck meeting in April, 1893, when the plaintid was a candidate for a directorship. Mr. Household admitted that he accused the directors of the Grand Trunk Railway of issuing delusive and deceptive reports. The defendant contended that his statements were made honestly and that he believed them to be true. The verdict was I farthing (1/2 cent) damage for plaintiff.

Methodist Church To Be Built in Rome.

Rome, May 9 .- The corner-stone of the new Methodist Episcopal Church and College was laid this afternoon with imposing ceremonies, in the presence of a distinguished gathering, including delegates from the evangelical churches of all countries, and a large number of ladies. The Rev. W. Burt, president of the Methodist Church in Italy, presided. A large box containing the history of the building and of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Italy was placed inside the stone, and as the stone descended Bishop Newman invoked the divine blessing upon the struc-

London, May 9.—Great proparations are being made for the Y. M. C. A. jubilee, which is to be celebrated here in about three weeks. Among the 2,000 delegates 500 delegates being present. A rumor is who will attend the convention will be 100 flying around that although the term of from the United States and Canada, 320 Grand Chief Arthur does not expire until Sweden, 100 from France, 19 from the end of the meeting. Austria, and many others from India, China, Japan and Turkey. Prince Ocar, of Sweden will come with the Norwegian delegation, and Count Bernstorff with the the Germans. The celebration will be observed throughout the United Kingdom, and on3rd June 1,200 jubilee sermons will be preached in England, Scotland and Wales. The Lord Mayor and corporation of London will invite the Y. M. C. A. delegates to a reception, for which an appropriation of £1,000 has been made. There will be a thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Cathedral, a demonstration in Albert Hall, whose capacity of 10,000 is expected to be filled, and at the close a visit to Windsor, where the delegates will enjoy privileges never before extended to the public by the

To Unknown Regions.

LONDON, May 9 .- Dr. Donaldson Smith, of Philadelphia, who explored Somaliland, on the African coast of the Gulf of Aden, in 1893, starts on June 1 on a scientific expedition to the unknown region between 200 miles west of Berbera, the chief town on the coast, and Lake Rudolph, where traces of ancient civilization are believed to exist. Dr. Smith will be accompanied by Gillett, the explorer. Great Liberal Gathering.

LONDON, May 9 .- The National Liberal Club gave a reception to the Ministry this evening. About every Liberal and Radical of any reputation or influence was among the 4,500 persons present. The speech of the evening was made by the Premier. The Government had but a narrow margin of supporters in the House of Commons, Lord Rosebery said, and certainly was in a critical position. It was said that a considerable section of the Irish party would vote against the Ministry. What, however, had any section of Irishmen with the cause of home rule at heart to gain by putting the Government in the minority? Such an ill-judged policy might arise from a fit of anger, but there was no reason for anger between the Government and the Parnellite party. (Hear, hear.) If, on the other hand, the blow should be dealt in cold blood, the Government were determined to fight the battle to the end. Whether the majority should be 20 or 10, or only 2, the Government would persevere. (Cheers.) Sir William Harcourt referred to the reports of his illness. He asked if he looked like a dying man, and added that he never consulted doctors. He was not aware that he was blind or half

Lord Rosebery continued: "The responsibility of office is not agreeable to all of us. It is an arduous, even thankless task, but we are bound to remember not ourselves but these who placed us there; bound to remember the arduous work done by the Liberals of the country; bound to remember the sacrifices they made to place us on the front bench, and we are determined to deserve the confidence that you placed in us. We may forfeit it, we may cease to possess it, but while we do possess it, as we believe we do now, we will fight the battle to the end, the combat to the conclusion." (Cheers.)

Later, in the library, Lord Rosebery said: "We have no reason to lose faith in W Historia. The grand regent, Mr. J. our cause or position. We entered office with the certain prospect of beginning to realize our cause. First we had to face the fact of the advanced age of our great 6,923 from 18,259 the figures of 1893. leader. His age has told. He stands aside, but the expectation of our opponents one-half, but to Australia it increased regarding that contingency was signally alightly. The total emigration is decreased disappointed. They hoped that within a week after Mr. Gladstone's resigna-tion the Government would fall to pieces, but we find no intention to fall to pieces. They also expected that a party formed of so many groups would soon become a minority. We admit the possibility, but the group now threatening The imports for April increased 32 per to desert us will play an ill-judged and possibly disastrous part toward their cause of 1894 is 96 per cent. Fish increased in the four months £170,000; wood, £13,000; is their affair. Ours is that the Liberal Government shall not forsake the helm because the storm happens to lower."

The other speakers were Lord Herschell, Campbell-Bannerman, Prof. Bryce, Shaw-Lefevre, Henry Fowler Sir George Otto Trevelyan.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

The Scheme to Shut Canadian Labor Out of the States.

REV. DR. COLLYER ON "THE WORKINGMAN." The Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer chose as the subject of his sermon Sunday morning, at the Church of the Messiah, Park avenue and Thirty-fourth street, New York, "The Workingman." Dr. Collyer said in part: "In the grand poem of the creation, which $1,500 or $3,000. stands as the prelude to the sacred books, the seer says, God made a garden in Eden, and took the man he had made in the garden.' The first man was a gardener. The workingman is then standing in the vanguard of all that is to be done for the winning of the world from the curse of thorns and briars. And when I notice," he said, "how plentiful those that smite the anvil are in the ancestry of the Greeleys, the Longfellows and the Beechers, I seem to see my grand old Tubal Cain, and but for those he instructed we might have had no such precise preacher as the man who made Plymouth Church famous, or poem as the Village Blacksmith, or journal as my dear old friend created. The good workingman, machinist, millwright, carpenter, mason and weaver -these workmen are noble in their own right, when they are noble men; and the man who builds a strong and true wall on weekdays, stands nearer to the true soul of goodness than the minister, who, by reason of laziness, preaches a poor sermon on Sunday."

the Lake Carriers' Association. Mr. Connell said he had been engaged in the lake carrying trade for the past fourteen years and as soon as the Canadians began to enter the trade wages were reduced and now the vessels were employing that class of men altogether. Wages were reduced and the Americans driven off the lakes.

Mr. Lockwood explained the condition of affairs on the lakes and said that American seamen wanted a law that would not permit ship brokers to furnish Canadian crews for American vessels.

Representative Daniels agreed with the stand taken by Mr. Lockwood.

NOTES. Mr. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, says the company's pay roll in 1892 was $8,800,000, and in 1893 about $8,700,000. These sums include the salaries or wages in the general engineering, mechanical and stationary depart-

CRASHED INTO AN ICEBERG,

And Sunk in Less Than an Hour-The Fliteen Men on Board Saved.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 9. - Capt. McMurty and fourteen men who manned the bark Ruth Palmer, of Dorchester, N. B., sunk on the Banks by a collision with an iceberg, arrived here to-day from St. Pierre by steamer St. Pierre. During a dense fog on April 25 the bark crashed into a monster berg, damaging her bow so badly that she commenced to fill at once, and in less than an hour the vessel went down.

The crew took to the boats just before the bark foundered, and after rowing 30 hours and suffering considerably from cold, a French brig, the Marie Gabrielle, reked them up and took them to St. Pierr, and theywere forwarded here by the French Coxey Warned to Comply with the Washington Sanitary Regulations.

Pueblo, Col., May 9 .- The Missouri Pacific Railway officials failed to check the Industrials in their journey eastward with the stolen Denver and Rio Grande engine and Missouri Pacific coal cars. At Olney, 39 miles east of Pueblo, a box car and an engine were ditched in a cut to stop the train, but the army built a track around the obstruction and continued on its way. At times the train went at the rate of 50 miles an hour. The company ordered that the water should be drawn from the tanks, but the army formed bucket brigades and scooped water from the irrigating canals and supplied the engine.

The Clyde Steamer Dock in New York Set on Fire by Blazing Cil-Loss, $100,000-Other Conflagrations.

NEW YORK, May 9 .- A barrel of oil on the pier of the Clyde Line at South and Oliver streets exploded this afternoon. There were many barrels of oil on the docks, and the fire immediately communicated to them, and a terrible explosion followed. In a few minutes all the docks from Oliver to Catharine streets were ablaze. The dock of the Long Island Railroad, No. 331, immediately caught fire, and the Catharine street ferry house also blazed up. Four alarms were sent out, and the firemen immediately devoted their energies to saving the ferry house from be-5. To allow organizers to appoint the medicoming a total wreck. The steamer Rosedale, which was in the slip by the Long Island pier, was towed out into the stream with five other steamers in time to prevent their taking fire. The fire was under control at 2 o'clock. Loss, $100,000.

Norway, Me., May 9.—About 1:39 p.m. fire was discovered in the box shop of C. B. Cummings. It soon communicated to the opera house, the finest block in the county, and in a few minutes the gale had carried the fire to the extreme eastern end of Main street, nearly three-quarters of a mile away. Lewiston and Portland sent steamers. To night almost the entire south side of Main street is in ashes, only two or three houses remaining standing. Besides a large number of business places destroyed there were 34 residences. The total loss will reach $300,000.

Novelties in Reading for the Early Summer Months.

Striking Articles in the Magazines for May.

The new book on Thrums, which J. M. Barrie has in hand., will probably be called 'The Sabbath Day."

The Review of Reviews for May contains as its leading article "A Character Sketch of Kossuth," "The Life Work of David Dudley Field," and an outline of the "Conventions and Summer Gatherings of 1894.' In the "Progress of the World," among the topics discussed are the ship canal, our position in the Pacific Ocean; the question of trans-Pacific cables; what England has done for Fiji; Hawaii's constitution-making; chaos in the Lower House; the tariff and income tax in the Senate; objections to Sarah Grand discusses "The Man the tax; New York's reform movement; of the Moment" in a trenchant prohibition abandoned in Iowa; Europe's paper. Nathan Straus provides a costly armaments; the Pope and the French Republic; what Lord Rosebery meant; policy of the new Government; Mr. Gladstone's address to his constituents, and some great lawyers who have lately died. New York: Review of Reviews.

XXX Dr. W. H. Russell, the veteran English war correspondent, has made a final revision of his reminiscences of the Crimean war, and the book will probably make its appearance within a short time.

× × × Scribner's for May is a "travel number." Mr. Edwin Lord Weeks takes us mountainclimbing in the Alps; Octave Thanet takes us among the Provincials-though one doesn't have to leave the city to find plenty of them: Mr. William Henry Bishop's story has its scene in Monte Carlo; Capt. Bourke, U. S. A., describes "The American Congo," the Rio Grande; and with Mr. George Bird Grinnell we go hunting the white goat in the Rockies. But there are stay-at-home articles for those who do not care to travel; and the number will suit all tastes.

Donahoe's Magazine (New York) has a composite article in its May issue, consisting of a short essay on E. L. Godkin's lament in the New York Evening Pest on the rule of the people in America, and opinions from various college presidents as to the attitude of educated men towards universal suffrage. The article is called-"Is Popular Government to Fail in America?" and is rather admirable in some respects. "The Romance of the Telegraph," by J. N. Taylor, is another interesting feature of this number, and an article on "Church Music and Its Abuses," by Rev. Gustave Graf, is principally, by the by, a laudation of Palestrina as the only fitting exponent of ecclesiastic music.

G. F. Putnam's Sons (New York) announce that they will issue at once, in their Questions of the Day Series, "Common Sense Applied to Woman Suffrage," a statement of the reasons which justify the demand to extend the suffrage to women, being fatal. with consideration of the against such enfranchisement, by Mary Putnam Jacobi, M.D.

When you wish to know in a general way what happened, you read the daily newspaper. When you want to know how it looked you buy Harper's Weekly.

Irresistible and constantly increasing must be the usefulness of Table Talk (Philadelphia) to all housekeepers, for with the appearance of the May issue they find much of fresh interest between its covers. Not only are the latest styles and devices for dining-room and kitchen, novelties and helps for mother and children, given, but it holds an unusual number of recipes, and a simple, practical and easily followed menu for every meal in the month. Published by Table Talk Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Price, $1 per year.

In the May number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly appears, under the char- handles of a trunk protruding over the edge acteristic heading "On the Spot," the first of a series of personal reminiscences of an artist at the front, in the Secession War of 1861.65. These reminiscences are copicusly illustrated with fac-similes of documents, sketches made on the field under fire, etc., and present aspects of the great struggle in a new and peculiarly vivid light. Mr. Cecil Charles, the well-known Latin-American newspaper correspondent, contributes to this number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly a timely Brazilian paper, on "The Revolt of the Fleet." Another feature is Dr. Sherwood-Dunn's comprehensive article on "Medical Education in France," superbly illustrated. Other illustrated articles are: "The Romance of O' Tama Chiovara," by Alice Howard Cady; "Cloisters and Corners," by Grace Ellery Channing; "A Day in Upsala," by Charles Edwardes; "Birds of Fact and Fable," by Nelly Hart Woodworth, and "Sugar-Beet Culture in Southern California," by Frederick M. Turner. Frank Leslie's Publishing House (Department B), 110 Fifth avenue, New York City.

"The Raiders; Being Some Passages in he Life of John Faa, Lord and Earl of Little Egypt," is a tale of the adventures of Patrick Heron, of Rathan, and pretty by modest, pure and respectable women." Mary Maxwell, in the reign of George I. and in the country called Galloway in Scotland. The story is by S. R. Crockett, author of the "Stickit Minister," and is most interesting. The wild clans and avers: broken septs of No Man's Land raid into Galloway and carry off much cattle as well young man rescues her, as is right. There Mischief, as Patrick calls the girl he loves, is very winsome. There is much humor sufficiency of pathos. There is such a demand for good stories nowadays that Mr. Crockett will be called on soon for another, to the list of those who are finding in Scotland an inexhaustible mine of good and merry tales. All the reader can do is to welcome these writers warmly and to enjoy their work. Mr. Crockett is already a success. Macmillan & Co., New York.

Outing (New York) for May offers plenty of seasonable sport with gun and rod. The frontispiece, "A Neat Double," illustrates "Spring Snipe Shooting," by Ed W. Sandys. The full page, "While the Sun Is on the Water," with H. Prescott Beach's Angler's Dilemma," by G. C. Audsley, and Kindler.

Warner. The editorial and record departments are strong and complete.

The North American Review for May opens with two timely articles on "The Way to Regulate Liquor Selling." The first by Gov. Tillman, of South Carolina, is in the nature of a defense of his conduct during the recent liquor riots in that State, and is entitled "Our Whisky Rebellion." The second, which deals with "Successful Public House Reform," is by the Right Rev. Francis John Jayne, Bishop of Chester, who is well known in England as one of the leading advocates of the Gothenburg system. Sir Charles W. Dilke, M.P., furnishes a valuable criticism of "Lord Rosebery's Administration," and the necessity for "A National Health Bureau" is ably advocated by Surgeon-General Sternberg. Two important articles on the organization known as the "A. P. A.," written respectively by George Parsons Lathrop and Bishop Doane, of Albany, are bracketed together under the title of "Hostility to Roman Catholics." NEW DEFINITION OF CRUELTY. A Man Suing for Divorce Because His Wile is a Bleached Blende. In the Superior Court of San Francisco there has been filed a complaint which brings up some points new to the law. The complaint, says the Argonaut, is in a suit for divorce which is pending between John B. Russell and Eva B. Russell. The grounds on which Mr. Russell desires his divorce are numerous. He itemizes crueity, and one of his specifications reads: "Bleached or artificially colored hair is easily distinguished as such, and does not appear natural nor does it deceive any person, but it is perfectly patent and notice? ably conspicuous. It is regarded by the majority of right-thinking persons as an indication of a loose, dissolute and wanton disposition and is regarded as, and commonly held to be, a practice never affected

After expressing this general view of the practice of women who bleach their hair, Mr. Russell takes up its particular application to him. In his document he

"Mrs. Russell is a brunette naturally. Her hair is of a chestnut-brown color, as Mary Maxwell. Patrick Heron and which, in its normal state, is modest and Silver Sand-the mystery of the book is becoming, and harmonizes with the natural Silver Sand-go after the girl, and the color of her skin and eyes. Since we married she has, against my wishes and are many hairbreadth escapes, and May protests, and with intent to vex, annoy, exasperate and shame me, dyed her hair and changed its shade to a conspicuous and quite as good as Barrie's, and there is a showy straw or canary color. As a consequence of this artificial coloring she has been obliged to paint her face to secure an artificial complexion in keeping with the for it is evident one more has been added artificial color of her hair. The combination has given her a giddy, fast and sporty appearance."

This, Mr. Russell deposes, constitutes cruelty, inasmuch as the bleaching "greatly mortified, shamed and humiliated him, and caused him great and grievous mental suffering."

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

"FENCING MASTER" TO MORROW NIGHT. Marie Tempest has the reputation of being one of the prettiest and daintiest little women on the stage. Just what it is about her that has made her popular wherever she is known no one has ever been able to accurately say. It is her grace of manner, her vivacity and witchery and charm of her personality. She came to New York some three or four seasons ago as the prima donna of the Duff Opera Company. At the age of 20 she went upon the stage. Her succers did not come all at once. She had to fight for it. But at last she found an opportunity to appear in "Dorothy," when that opera became the rage of London. She sang the part of Dorothy over 900 times. Shortly after that she came to America. Her career here has been a procession of triumphs. It was she who created the leading part earlier in the season in "The Algerian," but returned to the "Fencing Master" because the earlier opera was the more popular. "DR. BILL," MATINEE AND EVENING.

The attraction at the Grand to-day, matinee and evening, will be the wellknown comedy "Dr. Bill." An exchange says: "Much has been heard of the comedy of 'Dr. Bill,' and much was expected. No disappointment was expressed last night by the large audience assembled to see the New York success. There was the heartiest kind of laughter. Everybody seemed to leave the house thoroughly pleased with the doctor's mode of prescribing his new cure, laughter. He certainly gives good, old-fashioned doses of it. It is as funny a farcical comedy as we have ever had here. The situations and complications are numerous and create laughter from start to finish."

THE CPIN FORUM.

A Coming Event.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: At this season of the year, when scrubbing brush, duster, tack-lifter and washpail hold sway, the meeting that is not brought prominently to the attention of the public is likely to prove a disappointment to its premoters.

Because it is earnestly desired that an event soon to transpire in our midst may be enjoyed by our citizens generally, I shall, with your kind permission, make brief mention of it, trusting to later advertisements to give the precise details. The Dominion Woman's Christian Temperance Union - composed of auxiliary missions in the seven Provinces-was organized in 1885, and will hold its seventh convention this year. Three years ago the London union tried to secure the convention for our city, but failed. Last June while the session was convened in Winnipeg, a second request received favorable consideration, and our ladies were rejoiced to learn that they should have the privilege of entertaining their comrades, representing every section of our broad land. Later came the news that the executive had settled the dates of meeting for June 1 to 5 inclusive, with a

"Y" conference June 6. The president, Mrs. Ella F. Williams, of Montreal, also president of the W. F. M. S. of the Congregational Church, has enough enthusiasm and energy to make any gathering a success. As a recent paragraph remarks, "She is a born leader."

The president of the Maritime W. C. T.

U., Mrs. Edith Archibald, of Cape Breton, daughter of Sir Edward Archibald, late her British Majesty's Consul-General at Middlemiss Items: The station here was New York city, and wife of the son of broken into recently and $12 belonging to Senator Archibald, is a fine speaker, and will give an address the first evening of the convention.

But the attraction will be Mrs. J. F. Barney, of Rhode Island, a woman of rare faith courage and consecration. As superintendent of prison and jail work in the American National and International W. Prop. Renovo Co. C. T. U., she has made a name and reputation that extends far beyond the limits of the white ribbon sisterhood. To her we owe the inception of the movement for police matrons. Her earnest pleas and urgent efforts broke down barriers apparently impregnable. On Sunday afternoon, June 3, she will give an address and will lecture on Monday evening, June 4.

The day meetings will all be held in the Congregational Church, which the trustees have most generously placed at the disposal of the convention. All the meetings of the convention are public, and visitors of both sexes, and all ages, will receive a cordial welcome. For particulars as to evening meetings watch the advertising columns of this

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space granted. Sincerely,

WHY RAILWAY MEN ARE OUT OF WORK.

Because of dullness in trade, the great railway companies of Canada have been would be employed if receipts were good have been laid off in the shops at various points and along the entire Canadian system the force has been cut down. There is some talk, too, of a general reduction in wages.

A prime reason why Canadian railways find it hard to get along when times are dull lies in the fact that, unlike their competitors in the United States, they have to pay a duty on the coal they consume. This duty costs the Grand Trunk alone $500,000 a year, and as Sir Henry Tyler, president of the G. T. R., recently said it has been "placed on coal to benefit one little corner in Canada, in Nova Scotia, to the detriment of the whole of the rest of the Domin-

The duty is thus most oppressive to the railway companies, and to its continued imposition can safely be laid the forced economy which now compels the management to decrease the hands by many hundreds. Half a million dollars is a large sum to unnecessarily pay in taxation for a commodity that must be imported, and if this money could be kept in the coffers of the railway company it would undoubtedly increase the fund at its disposal for wages.

The same argument holds good with regard to manufacturers. In Ontario we pay $900,000 a year taxes on coal. Every unnecessary dollar taken out of the taxpayer for fuel means so much less for the payment of working expenses.

Some argue that if the United States is foolish enough to put a tax on Nova Scotia coal, we in Ontario should continue to labor under severe disadvantages. Why should there be any waiting? Remove this tax on fuel, and let the Canadian railways and the industries which are handicapped by its importation make the best of their ability in competition with their neighbors.

As the president of the Grand Trunk puts it, the tax on coal is an unnecessary burden on the railway, and those who are dependent on it for employment, as well as on the manufacturers. It is not necessary for revenue. It would not be defensible [if It were collected for revenue, but if we had no Curran bridge thievings or unnecessary expenditure for the maintenance of useless and effete institutions at Ottawa-the Senate, for example-not only the coal tax, but many other equally unnecessary imposts could be thrown off.

-Procrastination steals time and sandbags opportunity.

-It is one proof of the general satisfaction with the record of the Mowat Government, remarks the Hamilton Times, that the Conservatives in such important constituencies as Hamilton and North Wentworth resign the usual functions of an opposition, and let the F. P. A. or the Patrons assume the lead.

-There is a good deal of outery in this country against excessive partisanship, and there is justification for the outery, but what the country sorely needs in politics is party unity and party loyalty; organizations, each with definite principles presented in platforms to the people, and each loyal to those principles when it is given power to embody them in legislation .-

That is the British idea of party politics. The party that supports good and progressive government, and has for its ideal statesmen men like Mr. Gladstone, Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat, has noneed to apologise for its existence, and should not be led away by unstable adventurers.

TORONTO'S UNANIM !TY.

All the Toronto Conservative newspapers are united in their view that London should select the paid advocate of Toronto as their representative. This is natural. Toronto wants as many strings to her bow as possible. When did the Toronto Conservatives go outside of their bounds to choose a candidate for any office? And does anyone in that city to-day think of selecting a paid officer of London for a candidate for Legislative honors?

-Some men, not caring to work themselves, attempt to make a living by working other people. Your high tax advocate has a decided leaning to that description of

ALL MEN CAN VOTE.

By the time the false outcry about Sir Oliver Mowat's Registration Bill got to the Halifax (N. S.) Herald, it was interpreted to be a "registration law, which will disfranchise large numbers of young men in the cities and towns." In the first place the law only applies meanwhile to the cities; and in the next it gives a vote to every young man 21 years of age who is not too lazy to say so at the registration office. It is not by such rascall v misrepresentation as this is that Sir Oliver Mowat will be defeated if the electors of Ontario use their intelligence to size up the situa-

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE FOR GOOD. Those who oppose woman suffrage often do so on the ground that women would favor extravagant expenditures. It is contended they will act without due reflection, and that they can easily be influenced by their friends of the other sex to spend money foolishly. The New York World points out that a recent experience in Newburg, N. Y., where women voted. shows how ill-founded is this assertion. At a taxpayers' felection not long ago $50,-000 was voted to buy a lot and building and to fit up the latter for a city hall. The purchasing price was $32,000, leaving $18,000 for remodeling the building. At this stage of the business it was discovered by incutting down expenses. Many hands that terested log-rollers that the building would not do at all, and then they called another taxpayers' election to get $50,000 more, making $68,000, in order to tear down the old building and build a handsome city hall. This is one of unwearied service in the profession. He the commonest devices of the sharp politician to get public money to spend. But the women did not support the trick. They turned out in unexpected force, the very best women in the town, to register and to vote. They worked to bring the indifferent to the polls. It is said that 90 per cent of the nearly 250 women who voted, voted against the job. It was overwhelmingly defeated. This is an augury of safety in woman suffrage which deserves fair consideration in these dubious times.

> MONEY IN THE FARMERS' POCKETS. Whitby Ontario's Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John Dryden, referred to the good work done by the Traveling Dairy. He pointed out that while, according to Toronto market prices, creamery butter remained unchanged from 1892 to 1893, the price of dairy butter advanced on an average of 11 cents a pound. Mr. Dryden considers this due to the improved quality of our butter product, a result that he attributes to the labors of the Traveling Dairy. According to the Dominion census returns, about 50,000,000 pounds of dairy butter are produced annually in this Province. An increase in value of 12 cents on that quantity represents no less a gain than $750,000 to the farmers.

Mr. Dryden has all along been keenly alive to the desirability of securing for our butter as enviable a reputation as Canadian cheese has won in foreign markets. If this improvement continues, along with a better system of packing and transportation, it will not be long before his hopes are realized and a profitable trade of unknown possibilities opened up for farmers and their

Commenting upon Mr. Dryden's statement, the Toronto Evening News (Independent Conservative) says: "The claim does not lack justification, and the fact that this is so shows how much can be done towards the advancement of a great industry by means of intelligent Government

Mr. Dryden has the astuteness to discern the needs of the farmers at this juncture, and the success that meets all his efforts is the best proof of the practicability of his ideas. If the Minister had accomplished nothing more than the improvement referred to he would have earned the salary the Province pays him many times over.

TO BENEFIT FRUIT ORCHARDS. [Toronto Evening Star, Independent, May 2.] The traveling dairy conducted by the Ontario Government has done an immense amount of good for the farmers and is, perhaps, the most effectual method that could be adopted to convey to farmers and their wives practical information to enable them to supply a product that will compete in the British market with Danish butter. On the same principle, the project for establishing experimental fruit stations should be of benefit to the fruit growers. This is good so far as it goes, but should be extended, and more money provided to go into the diseases of trees. The proposal to group counties and establish these experiments in many sections is wise; to have one central farm would scarcely spread the information so well. for many farmers would travel a short distance who would not go across the Prov-

The Government is to be strongly commended for its decision.

THE RED PARLOR TRIUMPHS

(Montreal Witness.) Mr. Foster started out to please the farmers and make votes by a show of tariff reform; he has ended by submitting to red parlor influences, and it is probable that the character of the next election has been decided by the influences of Sir Adolphe Caron, whose methods of carrying elections

ONTARIO'S STATESMEN.

An Able Minister from Middlesex

The Career of Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education.

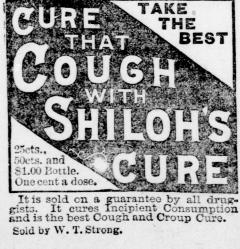

Hon. George William Ross, LL.B., M.P.P., is Minister of Education in the present Government of Ontario, and has held that important and responsible office from 1883, when his predecessor, the Hon. Mr. Crooks, retired from public life, up to the present date. Mr. Ross is of humble parentage, and was born near Nairn, in the county of Middlesex, Ont., on Sept. 19, 1841. He is entitled to the credit of having been the architect of his own fortunes and of having by his own industry, vigor, and persevering energy, fought his way upward from the humblest place in social rank to the present honorable and eminent position he occupies in the Government and Province of Ontario and before the whole country. The only original fortune with which to commence the battle of life and the ambitious struggle for eminence and distinction that Mr. Ross could claim was good physical constitution and a strong, active intellectual organization, with great capacity to receive knowledge and wonderful facility in acquiring it. Marvelous power of will, invincible determination and a persistence that never wearies, are strong characteristics of the man and have marked the whole course of his life.

Mr. Ross is one of the finest examples we have ever met with of what is sometimes expressively called self-made men. As a boy he received from the schools, as they existed in the old settlements of Canada, a good, practical elementary education. On this basis, by his own unaided efforts, he succeeded in 1857 in obtaining a third class teachers' certificate, and for many years he devoted himself to the work of teaching school, never, however, neglecting to continue with persevering energy the improvement of his own mental status, and in 1859 he secured a second class certificate, and in 1867 a first class county board certificate. Two years later he took a course in the Normal School, Toronto, and in 1871, won a first-class Provincial certificate. This enabled him in the latter year to accept the appointment of inspector of public schools for the county of Lambton, and subsequently a similar office for the towns of Petrolea and Strathroy. While inspector for East Lambton in 1875, Mr. Ross was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain and complimentary address by the teachers of the district, testifying of his zeal in educational work and his able and was also presented with a well-merited address by the county council. He took a very active part in the creation of county model schools, and afterwards prepared the Syllabus lectures, and was for a time inspector of model schools. From 1876 to 1880 he was a member of the central committee, and proved there to be a faithful advocate of the teachers' interests. He was also in favor of but one text book on the same subject in the public schools, and in this he was manifestly right. At one time Mr. Ross was engaged in journalism, for a time publishing the Strathroy Age, and at another was part proprietor of the Huron Expositor. As an editor and public writer, he showed In his recent nomination speech at peculiar aptness and ability for the task. He was also connected with educational journalism, for which he was specially qualified. Among his multifarious studies, he gave his attention to that of law, though he never practiced as a lawyer, he passed several of the preliminary examinations, and in 1879 he wrote for and obtained the degree of LL.B. He has been for many years one of the great leaders of the temperance cause and of the prohibitory movement in Canada. In 1879 he was elected most worthy patriarch of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance of North America, and for two years presided over their deliberations in Washington and in Cincinnati.

> hard worker and an eloquent orator in the Reform cause, and has rendered the party For Making a Delicious Health most efficient service. As a public speaker, it has been said, Mr. Ross has a remarkable faculty of grouping his facts and presenting his arguments in clear logical order. He is quick at repartee, possesses a retentive memory, and a contagious enthusiasm which frequently expresses itself in genuine eloquence. He has the ardor and impulsiveness of a Celt (he is of Highland origin) combined with much prudence and sound judgment. He is a living example of the power of continuity of purpose and indomitable will when linked with intelligence and high motive.' He was first elected representative of West Middlesex in the House of Commons in 1872. Two years afterwards he was returned by acclamation; he was again returned in the years 1878 and 1882, though in the following year he was unseated for bribery by agents. In 1883, he Was, as already stated, appointed Minister of Education for Ontario and the next month was elected to the Legislature for West Middlesex, which seat he still holds. During the ten years he has held office in the Mowat Cabinet he has been the subject of many violent attacks, some of them, perhaps, not without reason, but, on the whole, he has discharged the onerous and sometimes delicate duties of his charge, with that vigor, energy, efficiency and clear, sound judgment which the public have reason to expect from a Minister so richly endowed intellectually, and with so much experience in educational matters. Were he to retire from office it would be a great loss to the Government, to this Province and to the cause of education, for it would be well nigh impossible to supply his place with any man equally well qualified in all respects with Mr. Ross. He has been twice married; first to Christina, fourth daughter of Mr. Duncan Campbell, of Middlesex, who died in 1872; his second wife was Miss Boston, of Lobo, county of Middlesex, whom he married in 1875.

For many years Mr. Ross has been a

Dr. Weldon's Bill to Disfranchise Bribers Discussed.

The Senate Deals With a Peculiar Divorce Case.

Petition From Cardinal Taschereau and Other Church Dignitaries, Setting Forth Grievances for Which They Ask Redress.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) OTTAWA, May 9 .- When the House met to-day it went into committee on Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise bribers. Mr. Byron last evening. A portion of the road | Jeanotte, who was strenuous in his opposition to a similar bill last year, again criticised the measure adversely, as did also Mr. Dupont.

Hon. David Mills (Bothwell) pointed out that the bill was unworkable and impracticable as it stood. It was of some value, but it would be of much greater value if the Government provided the $500 deposit required before any petition alleging extensive bribery at an election could be investigated by a court. It was not likely that any 25 persons would be found ready to put up $500 out of pure public spirit. Mr. Weldon admitted the force of this, but thought perhaps in a case of notorious and outrageous bribery it might be done. Messrs. Jeanotte and Amyot made long speeches in opposition to the bill, and then Mr. Jeanotte again took the floor and spoke for an hour and a half up to 6 o'clock. The point of order was taken several times that he was discussing the principle of the bill, and not clause 2. The House appeared to be amused and did not seem inclined to take the bill seriously. At 8 o'clock Mr. Jeanotte again took the floor amid laughter and cheers, and continued his talk against time. He moved an amendment to clause 2, providing that the petition to the court must give the names of those charged with bribery. Mr. Denison, of Toronto, was acting chairman, and Mr. Jeanotte would occassionally lapse into English in order to address a question to the chair. When a point of order was taken that Mr. Jeanotte was not speaking to the clause under discussion the chairman looked a little foolish, being unable to say whether the point was well taken or not and would rise helplessly to his feet and say "I hope the honorable gentleman will keep to the clause before the chair." Mr. Jeanotte's amendment was declared lost. The filibustering was, however, carried CAYUGA, Ont., May 9.-A large and on by Mr. Belley, who moved an amendenthusiastic meeting of the Liberals of ment calling on the petitioners to give the

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock. NOTES.

Sir John Thompson presented to the House to-day and Mr. Bowell to the Senate the petition of Cardinal Taschereau and all disallowance of an act of the Manitoba beavy. Legislature, passed two months ago, amending the public schools act by deprivmaking assessments for school purposes near Loons, Tenn. other than for public schools; (2) to give directions and make provisions for the relief of the Roman Catholics of Manitoba: (3) to provide redress for the grievances of the Roman Catholics of the Northwest. grievances already made public. It says preserve their rights in their integrity. Before the Senate divorce committee, in the case of W. S. Piper, of Port Arthur, the facts were somewhat interesting. In 1886, while in Winnipeg on a visit he fell in love with a Miss McKenzie, who, without waiting for him to propose to her, passed over the track at midnight, asked him to marry her at once. Two days later was fixed as the date, but on the day previous she disappeared from Winnipeg, and it was subsequently found that she had gone to Selkirk with another man. Piper returned home a sad man. A week later he received a letter from her, asking him to meet her and that she would marry him. He met her at Port Arthur, and they were married. That evening after tea at the hotel she told him she had married to please her friends, and that she did not wish to live with him. He remonstrated to no purpose, and she left him. Evidence was given of her subsequent misconduct with a commercial traveler. The committee decided to report in favor of the divorce.

The Price of Salmon. VICTORIA, B. C., May 9.—The salmon canners of British Columbia held a conference here, and have devised a scheme whereby the salmon packs this year will be limited from a certain quantity from each cannery. Affixed price at which sales will be made was also determined on lines similar to those upon which San Francisco canners work on the rates in Eastern Canada on canned fruit and vegetables. It is expected that the canners' action will prevent the disposal of salmon at such ruinously low prices as those current at present.

TIP MUST DIE.

The Big Elephant Has Killed Eight Men and His Viciousness Increases.

NEW YORK, May 9.-Tip, the big elephant in Central Park, was to-day sentenced to death by the board of park commissioners. He was presented to the city by Adam Forepaugh in 1888. During the six years he was with Forepaugh he killed eight men, and he is now so vicious that it is considered necessary to kill him.

He is fastened only by a chain around one foot, and no animal trainer dare approach him to fasten him more securely. If he should become enraged he might, therefore, easily break away and charge with deadly effect on the big crowd that Pitcher's Castoria.

Mass Meeting of Royalists - Protest Against the Course of the Provisional Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9.—The President transmitted to Congress to-day a dispatch from Minister Willis, dated Honolulu, April 14, in which he incloses a set of resolutions adopted by a mass meeting of Royalists on April 9. It is stated to have been quiet and orderly and the number of persons present is estimated at from 2,000 to 3,000.

The resolutions declare that the convention called by the Provisional Government for the purpose of promulgating a constitution requires all voters to first take an oath of allegiance to the Provisional Government and to oppose the re-establishthis as an unreasonable restriction upon the people, and say that as there is near the people, and say that as there is near the people is not because the people in the people in the people in the people is not because the people in the people in the people in the people is not because the people in the peopl people, and say that as there is now pending before the Government of the United States a protest of the Constitutional Government of Hawaii against the action of those by whom that Government was deposed on Jan. 17 last, they therefore decline to register or take any part in the election of delegates to this convention, until a final reply has been received to this protest addressed to the United States.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fraudulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless

Remedies on the Public. TORONTO, May 7 .- This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their YOUNG & CO. worthless ideas. The unequaled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduc-tion of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2 50. To be had of all dealers.

partment in twenty years. The Nicaragua Trouble.

New York, May 9.-The banana steamer John Wilson, arrived here this morning from Bluefields, having left the Mosquito port on May 1. Among her passengers was Antor Arbeiter, a missionary of the Moravian Church. According to this gentleman the situation in Bluefields is decidedly critical. He said he had positive information that notwithstanding the presence of English and American men-ofwar, and notwithstanding orders to the contrary, the Nicaraguan Government is daily bringing troops and munitions of war into the territory. The soldiers infest the city, and their arms are stacked up in houses the occupants of which are loyal to

CLOTHING

Seems to suit the times as well as the public. The very moderate prices put on our suits are a great impetus to the selling. There is no excuse for either man or boy being shabbily dressed nowadays. Clothing, as sold by us places good clothes within the reach

Our Special

This week is a Dress Suit, composed of double-breasted frock coat of black worsted, with vest and pants of same material. Coat faced with silk and the whole suit lined and made in best possible manner. This suit is fit for any clergyman or professional man to wear, and at our price of $15 is a very DECIDED BARGAIN, as it is well worth $25 in regular way.

Is quite an important branch of our business, and one in which we claim to do extra well for the buyer- There are only three houses in London engaged in tailoring that buy their imported goods personally in Europe, and we are one of the three. All requisites for our tailoring department are bought at the source of production, and are sold by us about as cheap as a great many of the merchant tailers buy them. It, therefore, stands to reason that we can sell ORDERED SUITS from $3 to $8 cheaper thantailors, who have to buy their supplies in this country. You make a note of this fact, and when you want a suit come in and see us. See our prices and examine the materials, and your own good sense will show you that there is a BIG SAVING in buying from R. J.

CLOTHING.

Every mother is interested in finding out the best and cheapest place to buy her boy's suit. OUR 2-PIECE ALL-WOOL SUIT at $2, in sizes from 22t to 28, should commend itself to every woman. It looks well and it WILL WEAR WELL. Make no mistake. There is no store in Londen that sells as good.

At $2 50

We have a wonderful 2 piece all-woo good looker and good wearer.

> A circular has just been read in the secret conclaves of the P. P. A. of this city, signed by J. C. Madill, grand president (Sarnia), and Jackson Little, grand secretary (Toronto). The grand president says he has been busy organizing lodges. Despite his recent denial that he had organized no lodges in Quebec while he was touring there, Mr. Madill now says that he spent a "successful month" in that Province and organized lodges in Montreal. The grand president says his "beloved order" is now in its "hour of trial," and he announces that he is the servant of the lodges in "F., P. and P.," whatever that may mean. The grand president counsels the members to indorse no one who has not 'the interests of our order thoroughly at heart." Some time ago it was reported that E. J. MacRoberts, of this city, grand treasurer of the P. P. A., had resigned, but the grand president now asserts that there have been no resignations. The circular has been sent out in an envelope bearing the statement that "if not found," it is to be "returned to the Dominion Educational Bureau, drawer 2607, Toronte."

WHERE IS DAVID CHAMBERS?

The Janitor of King Street Echool Missing-Has He Met With a Mishap? Where is David Chambers, of 16 York street, janitor of the King street school? Mr. and Mrs. Chambers arose at 5:30 this morning. He proceeded to the school, which is just behind his house, taking the keys with him to open the place. It was his custom to breakfast before going to the school, but this morning he went away without eating. His wife expected him back, and after waiting for about 25 minutes went to look for him. When she reached the school she found it locked up and just as it was the night tefore. There was no sign of her husband. She notified friends and the police and a diligent search has been kept up ever since. Mrs. Chambers went herself to Mount Pleasant cemetery, as the missing man had previously expressed a wish to visit that place and some time before had started to walk with her there but was too fatigued to complete the journey.

Mr. Chambers is 90 years of age and very feeble. He has been janitor of the school for years. His wife, who is 80 years of age, is utterly unable to account for his disappearance, and it is feared he has fallen into the river or met with some mishap.

To Miss Margot Tennant-450 Presents-Notables Honor Rim.

LONDON, May 10 .- Right Hon. Herbert Henry Asquith, Secretary of State for Home Affairs, was married in St. George's Church, Hanover Square, at noon to-day to Miss Margot Tennant, daughter of Sir Charles Tennant, of Glasgow. The ceremony was a most brilliant affair. Children acted as bridesmaids. Among them were: Violet Asquith, daughter of Mr. Asquith by a former marriage; Miss Dorothy Drew, granddaughter of Mr. Gladstone, and Miss Muriel White, daughter of Henry White, formerly secretary of the United States legation. Burdon Haldane, M.P., was best nan. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Rochester, in the presence of a company of the best known people in Lon-

The presents to the bride were numerous and costly. Mr. Asquith presented her with an enameled necklace of pearls and diamonds and several rings set with diamonds and other precious stones. The Prince and Princess of Wales presented a diamond and sapphire brooch. Mr. Gladstone gave a set of his own works, and Lord Rothschild, a bracelet, with a cluster of diamonds, the center stone of which was a pink diamond. From Barons Ferdinand Alfred Gustave and Alphonse Rothschild have been arranged with the other clabs at the following figures: Galt, $25; Guelph.

LONDON, May 10 .- The object of the welcome which is to be extended to the American officers on board the United States warship Chicago is to promote international good feeling and to express the men hold for Capt. Mahan, the author of "Sea Power in History."
The people of Gravesend, on one side of the Thames, and the inhabitants of the Tilbury district on the other side of the river, are doing their utmost to show their appreciation of the visit of the cruiser Chicago. On both sides of the river the 4:30 this morning, where he will spend two Stars and Stripes have been flung to the breeze at every possible point, and at Gravesend, in particular, the United States flag is to be seen floating everywhere. Crowds of people have assembled on both sides of the river, and the boatmen are making small fortunes by carrying people around the cruiser. The banquet on May 24 will be attended by many notables.

Rev. Charles Smith Says No! To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In the report given by your issue of the have her released from jail. Miss McDer- 9th inst., I find my name associated with the troubles of Rev. David Ryan, and it is alleged that I personally receive the Rev. David Ryan's allowance from the superannuation fund of the Methodist Church, and pply it towards the payment of his debts. Now this is simply untrue. The said Mr. Ryan never was in debt to me; nor have I ever been appointed by any church court, or by Mr. Ryan himself, to receive his superannuation allowance, and disburse it for the payment of his debts. If any cleric of the name of Smith was at any time in the past granted such a dispensation by Mr. Ryan himself, then be it known once for all, it was not the present paster of the Colborne Street Church of this city.

Further, let me add, that the Rev. David Ryan, having been suspended for a limited time at the last annual gathering of our London Conference, from all functions and privileges of the conference as one of its superannuated ministers, it therefore follows most obviously that so long as such suspension is in force there is no such thing for him as a superannuated allowance. Thanking you for this space, I am, CHARLES SMITH, Pastor Colberne Street Methodist Church.

"Turn to the Right.

"And for that you would have me sell her!" the woman cried with a rude intensity of passion which struck me like a blow. "For shame! For shame, man! You per-suaded her to leave her home and her riends, and the country where she was known; and now you would have me sell her! Shame on you! Go!" she added scornfully. "Go this instant and get your scornfully. "Go this instant and get your men. The king, say you? The king! I tell you I would not have her finger ache to save all your kings !"

She flounced away with that, and I retired crestfallen; wondering much at the fidelity which Providence, doubtless for the well-being of the gentle, possibly for the good of all, has implanted in the humble.

Finding Simon, to whom I had scarce patience to speak, waiting on the stairs below, I dispatched him to Maignan, to bid him come to me with his men. Meanwhile watched the house myself until their arrival, and then, going up, found that Franchette had been as good as her word. Mademoiselle, with a sullen mien, and a red spot in either cheek, consented to escend, and, preceded by a couple of links, which Maignan had thoughtfully provided, as escorted safely to my lodgings; where I stowed her in the rooms below my own, thich I had designed for her. At the door she turned and bowed to me, her face on fire.

"So far, sir, you have got your way," she id, breathing quickly. "Do not flatter said, breathing quickly. "Do not flatter yourself, however, you will get it farther even by bribing my woman!'

CHAPTER XXIII.

I stood for a moment on the stairs, wondering what I should do in an emergency to which the Marquis's message of the afternoon attached so pressing a character. Had it not been for that I might have waited until the morning, and felt tolerably certain of finding mademoiselle in a more reasonable mood then. But as it was I dared not wait. I dared not risk the delay, and I came quickly to the conclusion that the only course open to me was to go at once to M. de Rambouillet, and tell him frankly how the matter stood.

Maignan had posted one of his men at the open doorway leading into the street, and fixed his own quarters on the landing at the top, whence he could overlook an intruder without being seen himself. Satisfied with the arrangement, I left Rambouillet's man to reinforce him, and took with me Simon Fieix, of whose conduct in regard to mademoiselle I entertained the gravest doubts. The night, I found on reaching the street, was cold, the sky where it was visible between the eaves was bright with stars. A sharp wind was blowing, too, compelling us to wrap our cloaks round us and hurry on at a good pace which agreed well with the excitement of my thoughts. Assured that had mademoiselle been complaisant I might have seen my mission accomplished within the hour, it was impossible I should not feel impatient with one who, to gratify a whim, played with the secrets of a kingdom as if they were counters, and risked in passing ill-humor the results of weeks of preparation. And I was impatient, and with her. But my resentment fell so far short of the occasion that I wondered uneasily at my own easiness, and felt more annoyed with myself for failing to be properly annoyed with her, than inclined to lay the blame where it was due. It was in vain I told myself contemptuously that she was a woman, and that women were not accountable. I felt that the real secret and motive of my indulgence lay, not in this, but in the suspicion, which her reference to the favor given me on my departure from Rosny had converted almost into a certainty, that I was myself the cause of her sudden ill-humor.

might have followed this train of thought farther, and to very pertinent con-clusions. But on reaching M. de Rambeuillet's lodging I was diverted from it by the abnormally quiet aspect of the house, on the steps of which half a dozen servants might commonly be seen lourging. Now the doors were closed, no lights shone through the windows, and the hall sounded empty and desolate when I knocked. Not a lackev hurried to receive me then: but the slip-shod tread of the old porter, as he came with allantern to open, alone broke the silence. I waited eagerly wondering what all this could mean; and when the man at last opened, and, recognizing my face, begged my pardon if he had kept me waiting I asked him impatiently what was the

"And where is the Marquis?" I added, stepping inside to be out of the wind, and loosening my cloak. 6 Have you not heard, sir?" the man asked, holding up his lantern to my face.

He was an old, wizened, lean fellow. "It is a break-up, sir, I am afraid, this time."

"A break-up?" I rejoined, peevishly.
"Speak out, man! What is the matter? I

You have not heard the news, sir? That the Duke of Mercoeur and Marshal Retz, with all their people left Blois this after-

"No?" I answered, somewhat startled.

Whither are they gone?"
"To Paris, it is said, sir,—to join the "But do you mean that they have deserted the king?" lasked.

"For certain, sir!" he answered. Not the Duke of Mercoeur ?" I exclaimed.

"Why, man; he is the king's brother-in-law. He owes exerything to him.'

Well, he is gone, sir' the old man answered positively. "The news was brought to M. le Marquis about four o'clock or a little after. He got his people together, and started after them to try and persuade them to return. Or so it is said." As quickly as I could, I reviewed the situation in my mind. If this strange news were true, and men like Mercoeur, who had every reason to stand by the king, as well as Retz, who had long been suspected of disaffection, were abandoning the Court, the danger must be coming close indeed. The king must feel his throne already tottering, and be glad to grasp any means of supporting it. Under such circumstances it seemed to be my paramount duty to reach him; to gain his ear if possible, and at all risks; that I and not Bruhl, Navarre not Turenne, might profit by the first impulse of Bidding the porter shut the door and keep close, I hurried to the Castle, and was coming very sore. Swayne's Ointment presently more than confirmed in my stops the itching and bleeding, heals resolution. For to my surprise I found the ulceration and in most cases removes the Court in much the same state as M. de Rambouillet's house. There were double guards indeed at the gates, who let me pass after scrutinizing me narrowly; but the courtyard, which should have been at this hour ablaze with torches and crowded with lackeys and grooms, was a dark wilderness, in which half a dozen links trembled mournfully. Passing through the doors I found things within in the same state: the hall ill lit and desolate; the staircase manned only by a few whispering groups, Tobacco, 5, 10 & 20c Plugs. who scanned me as I passed; the ante-chambers almost empty, or occupied by the grey uniforms of the Switzer guards. Where I had looked to see courtiers assembling to meet their sovereign and assure him of their fidelity, I found only gloomy faces, watchful eyes, and mouths ominously closed. An air of constraint and foreboding rested on all. A single footstep sounded hollowly. The long corridors, which had so lately rung with laughter and the rattle of dice, seemed already devoted to the silence and desolation which awaited them when the Court should depart. Where any spoke I caught the name of Guise; and I could have fancied that his mighty shadow lay upon the place and cursed it. Entering the chamber, I found matters little better there. His Majesty was not present, nor were any of the Court ladies: but half a dozen gentlemen, among whom I recognized Revol, one of the king's secretaries, stood near the alcove. They looked up on my entrance, as though expecting news, and then, seeing who it was, looked away again impatiently. The Duke of Nevers was walking moodily two and fro before one of the windows, his hands clasped behind his back: while Biron and Crillon, reconciled by the common peril, talked loudly on the hearth. I hesitated moment, uncertain how to proceed, for I was not yet so old at Court as to feel at home there. But, at last making up my mind, I walked boldly up to Crillon and requested his good offices to procure me an immediate audience of the king.

"An audience? Do you mean you want to see him alone?" he said, raising his eyebrows and looking whimsically at Biron. "That is my petition, M. de Crillon," answered firmly, though my heart sank. "I am here on M. de Rambouillet's business, and I need to see his Majesty forthwith,"

A LITTLE SLAVE

Rescued from a New York Home That Was Worse Than a Dungeon. New York, May 9 - George Vanhove, a carpenter, living at No. 297 Fourth avenue, makes $19 a week. His oldest child, Lizzie, 12 years old, was committed to the Gerry Society last Friday in an emaciated condition, the result, according to Agent Deubert, of the society, of ill-treatment by the child. The girl was strong enough to tell Justice McMahon vesterday what work she had done every day for years. She used to rise before any one else in the house, make the fire and prepare the breakfast before ? o'clock. She dared not touch a mouthful till all the others had finished. Then she had to do all the washing, ironing and scrubbing, the doors being carefully locked so that no outsider could see the little thing

Broke Her Neck.

HOLLAND, Mich, May 9 .- Yesterday afternoon a 5-year-old daughter of George Nash fell from her chair striking her neck on the edge of a tub. When found she was dead, her neck having been broken.

Monument to Edwin Booth. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 9 .- The memorial monument at the grave of Edwin Booth at Mount Auburn was dedicated yesterday afternoon with impressive services. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., made an address in which he brought forward the beautiful simplicity and generosity of the dead tragedian. Those present were Edwina Booth Grossman, daughter of the deceased; Joseph Jefferson, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and Mrs. Ole Bull. The monument is a massive affair in the form of an Athenian monolith, and upon its face is a bas relief in bronze which presents Booth in the prime of life.

Huron Assizes.

GODERICH, May 9 .- The court for the trial of cases without a jury was opened by Justice Street yesterday, there being nine cases on the list. Charlesworth vs. Brown was an action for a guarantee on store goods supplied defendant and guaranteed by one Leitch. Judgment for plaintiff for $1,322 50 and full costs. Lambertus vs. Dalton, an action for trespass to land, and on a counter claim by defendant; judgment for plaintiff for $10 damages and costs, and an injunction granted to restrain defendant from further trespass. Walsh vs. Smith, an action on a building contract, was referred to the local master at Goderich. Griffiths vs. Dawson, an action for the unpaid purchase money on land, was decided in favor of plaintiff.

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

[By Charles Austin Bates.] The truthful advertising is the one that brings business, and most all advertising is truthful, just as most all men are truthful. Occasionally one meets a man who lies. That sort of a man writes lying advertisements. They may pay temporarily, but no permanent success was ever built on a foundation of humbug.

Most of advertisers are honest. At least they mean to be, Often each one of half a dozen dealers will insist that he has "the biggest and best stock in the city." Of course they can't all be right, but that is merely a form of words. Really it doesn't mean much of anything, either to the writer or the reader, and so does no harm -except that it wastes valuable space in the paper. The advertisement that pays best is the plain, honest, forceful talk, written just as if the writer was talking to the reader face to face-a statement of facts. There is nothing in the world so interesting as facts, especially the facts of business.

They should be written about entertainingly. People like to know how and where things are made. Not a technical description, but a hint here and there. For instance: "These goods were designed and woven in France; the cotton came from Alabama and the silk from China. Twice across the Atlantic and once across Asia and Europe, and here is the finished fabric for 75 cents a yard."

It creates an interest that a mere bald statement never would get. Knowledge, thought and truthfulness will generally produce a good advertisement, and a good advertisement in a good paper will always bring good results. The selection of the medium is the first and most important point. The writing comes after. Even a bad ad. in a good paper will bring some business. A good ad. in a poor paper is sheer waste. Rheumatism racks the system like a thumbscrew. It retreats before the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood. Love without limit is simply emotional Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

When a man becomes so bad that women desert him it is time for him to be heading toward a graveyard.

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman & VEGETABLE DIS-COVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3

FAME CAME TOO LATE.

She was full of such vague romantic dreams
Of what the unforeseen future would hold;
She had great aspirations of pet themes,
Awaited in patience her plans to mould.

And her life was a restless, weary search
For fame, which so long eluded her grasp;
The way so winding to its lefty perch,
Yet she onward pressed its glory to clasp.

At last death claimed her, so tired, worn and sad. So glad to rest from the relentless fray; The world awoke, and with praises went O'er she, who long had waited this day.

Too late, then, for the poor tried heart to know
Of applause, that trembled it was so great;
She could not hear it in her bed so low,
Life to her only one long helpless wait.

First Sow, Then Reap. Too little advertising is like sowing too little seed. A farmer in planting corn puts a number of grains into each hill, and is satisfied if one good healthy stalk comes from each planting. It's the constant advertiser that is bound to attract attention. It's the succession of bright, catchy advertisements that refuse to be ignored. That the proper time must be allowed for the fruit to grow, ripen and be gathered is as true as that wheat cannot be prepared the day after it is sown.

BARRACK NEWS.

Welseley Wrinkles-Talking of Camp-New Rifles-Corp. Hawthorne's Literary Venture-Association Football Wanted. The soldiers at Wolseley Barracks are a ree-and-easy set of fellows. With Sergt. Griffiths still among them they are sure to have a good laugh and lots of amusement every day, thus preventing a severe attack of the "blues." The chief topic now is the coming camp and if some good practical jokes cannot be played upon the raw boys from the back concessions it will not be for lack of scheming. Together with camp talk comes the threat from Corp. Tom Hawthorne, a practical printer, that he will fit out a small printing office and run a daily paper in opposition to the two city journals. Tommy is known at the school as a Manitoba; in other parts of the Dominion | yesterday for driving over a bridge faster | doubtless prove a success. Tommy has lost clever writer, and his undertaking will sleep lately trying to think of a name for the coming journal. Any suggestions will be thankfully received. Ten members of the school band will go to Toronto on Friday. They will take part in the grand military tournament to be held in the Queen city on May 16, 17 and 18, on the occasion of the opening of the new drill shed. The red coats are wearing broad smiles now. They have all been supplied with Martini-Metford rifles of the latest pattern, suitable for range practice at 1,800 yards. They are about half a pound heavier than the old rifles, and are fitted with an adjustable "sight," which can be removed for drill purposes. The new rifles are accompanied by a sword bayonet nine inches long-much neater and more comfortable than those formerly in use. The corps have also been supplied with new boots, which were made in England. They are bound to wear the soles being hob-nailed and the heels adorned with a steel plate. They are pronounced as 'comfortable.' A member of the Barracks Football Club says: "It is a pity that an association football team cannot be got up in London and represented in the Western Association League. At present the only association team is that at the Wolseley Barracks, the Asylum, London and other clubs having become defunct. The Collegiate Institute had a good team once but nothing is heard of it now. Surely football in London cannot be dead." Pte. Reddy left barracks on Tuesday and has failed to return. The boys rather think he won't come back until cold weather sets in.

Pte. O'Connell likes soldiering so well that he will try it for three years more. Pte. Morgan enlisted on Wednesday. The soldiers like the new barrack fence so well that the crack guard of the corps, commonly known as "Beauty," lined up alongside of it the other day and were photographed. Cards now on sale. Jack Holland is back again for a short course. If he can be coaxed to stay during the cricket season the team will be so much stronger.

Corp. Cockburn will act as drum-major when the Seventh play the Alert Baseball Club through the streets on Monday next. "Co" is now taking a course in physical culture and sewing buttons on his best
