NAVAL BALLOONISTS ARE HAMPERED BY SEVERE STORM

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE IN IRELAND ARE SUSPENDED

LEAGUE ACTIVITIES IN FIRST YEAR OF LIFE OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED

Secretariat of World Organization Issues Document Outlining Work Accomplished—Measures Range From Those Destined to Prevent War to Those of Purely Humanitarian Character.

Paris, Jan. 10.—The secretariat of the League of Nations today issued an official document entitled "the work accomplished by the League of Nations during the first year of its existence, January 10, 1920, to January 20, 1921," enumerating the various questions settled or discussed by the league. It mentions first the establishment of a permanent international court of justice; second the work accomplished in the limitation of armaments, and third, the creation of an international commission to study uses of the blockade as an economic weapon. The three foregoing are mentioned as "measures destined to prevent war." Under the heading "efforts at political conciliation," the document refers to the question of the Aland Islands upon which the league commission will report within three weeks.

Humanitarian Measures.

As measures destined to remedy the economic crisis, the report says, the creation of an economic and financial organization in accordance with the conclusions of the Brussels financial conference and the organization of a transit commission were foremost in the league's work. Concerning humanitarian measures, the report goes on, the league elaborated a series of projects, including an appeal for funds to fight typhus, the acceptance of responsibilities for opium traffic control and also the white slave traffic, caused the United States, Brazil and Spain to accept mediation in Armenia and effected the repatriation of more than a hundred thousand war prisoners.

Missions Accomplished.

Regarding the execution of the peace treaty the league points out the following missions accomplished:

1. Administration of the Saar Valley.
2. Direction of the affairs of the free city of Danzig.
3. Rejection of the German Government's conclusions and note asking another plebiscite in Eupen and Malmedy and the final awarding of the territories to Belgium.
4. The establishment of a permanent mandate commission to administer the affairs of former German colonies.
5. Acceptance of responsibility for the protection of minorities.
6. The registering of 69 treaties in accordance with the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles.

SNOWSTORM IS DELAYING TRIP OF BALLOONISTS TO THE 'OUTSIDE'

Old-Timers Believe Travelers Can Make But Ten Miles Daily.

EXPECTED THURSDAY

Correspondents and Photographers Send Out Scouting Parties.

Mattice, Jan. 10.—By F. G. Leudrum, staff correspondent of the Associated Press and Canadian Press, Limited, Copyrighted.—The morning of the fifteenth day of the American balloonists' trip from Moose Factory, James Bay, to the railway line, finds correspondents here still in an "as you were" position, so far as news of their whereabouts is concerned.

Mattice is in the grip of a snowstorm this morning, and with the wind blowing from the west oldtimers here indicate the storm may be severe. The trail down the Missanabie is bound to be affected, and the travelers will be hampered in their movements to a certain extent.

That the Americans are pushing ahead as fast as circumstances will permit is not doubted here, but some veterans of the trail contend that ten miles daily will be good going for inexperienced men. If this average progress has not been bettered then the naval officers will not be here for a few days, Thursday at the earliest.

Motion Picture Man Ready.

Sam Sainsbury, of Toronto, an independent motion picture photographer, came in from the east with two assistants and ten dogs, and this morning the party left for the trail. Mr. Sainsbury said he did not expect to have to travel more than thirty miles, but he did not get a half mile along the railway track when one of the runners of a sleigh caught in a switch and was broken, necessitating a return to the station here.

Reports here from the Cochrane end of the route from the north state that no word of the returning airmen had been received up to this morning. The Buffalo Journal's correspondent, who went some distance down the Abitibi, is back in town. He has left a scout posted on the Abitibi with orders to race for Cochrane should the party come in that way.

REPORT IS DENIED.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Official denial of the story that Sergt. L. MacLaughlin of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police had been instructed to demand an explanation from the American balloonists on their arrival at Mattice, as to why they had landed in Canada, was made by headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here this morning.

It was stated by Commissioner Perry of the Mounted Police that no such instructions had been issued to Sergt. MacLaughlin. He had been sent up to Mattice with a number of telegrams for the men, some of which came from Washington. Another mounted policeman had been sent to Cochrane, also with messages. No action of the kind intimated in the newspaper story was contemplated by the Mounted Police, and nothing more than this would be done.

GUN FIGHT BETWEEN BANDITS AND POLICE ENDS IN ONE DEATH

Battle Staged in Detroit Early Today.

Detroit, Jan. 10.—One man was killed and two others wounded during a gunfight between two policemen and five suspected bandits in an automobile early today. The battle lasted twelve minutes, fifty shots being exchanged. The automobile, which was riddled, contained a small safe unopened.

VALUABLE DOG POISONED.

Peekskill, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Twenty valuable dogs, most of them hunters, belonging to wealthy summer colonists, have been poisoned in this section during the last ten days.

MEN WILL LEARN SECRET OF COOKING AT THIS COLLEGE

State College, Pa., Jan. 10.—Men students are to invade the sacred domain of women at Pennsylvania State College—they are going to learn how to cook. The home economics department announced today that a course in cooking for men is to be inaugurated.

It will be known as "domestic science 53—cookery for men" and will include a study of the nutritive values, selection and preparation of simple foods "with special emphasis upon those suitable for camping."

The men will have a one-hour lecture and three-hours-a-week practice in the cooking laboratory on the women's side of the campus.

Asks That Quebec Premier Enforce Temperance Laws

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Commenting upon the rumors regarding contemplated legislation by the Provincial Government of Quebec, at its present session, with regard to the further restriction of the liquor traffic in that province, Rev. Father Joachim, writing in the Notre Dame Hull, Parish Bulletin, has the following to say: "We have one hope to express this year with regard to the temperance question, viz., that the Quebec Provincial Government will carry out the promise solemnly made by the premier, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, on November 22, when addressing a banquet held by the Liberal Association at Montreal. Here is the promise: "There is one statement which I would make in the name of the Government. No matter what laws may be passed by the Legislature, we shall see to it that these laws are respected. Upon the executive of this province rests the responsibility of seeing to it that the law is observed in every respect, and it will do so with all the force at its command."

"To this the people of the province respond 'Amen.'"

REDS WILL NOT TAKE ANY HOSTILE ACTION AGAINST GEORGIANS

Constantinople, Jan. 10.—The Bolsheviki, it is reported, have decided not to take any hostile action against Georgia, as they are unable to carry on their foreign trade through Batum. They also consider that they indirectly control Georgia, as that country is absolutely dependent upon Batum for oil, and this economic weapon is deemed adequate to protect Bolshevik interests.

Springbank Park Crowded Sunday With Picnic Parties

Citizens Open Lunch Boxes Under the Hot January Sun and Comment On Swirling Dust—Baseball in Full Swing On Sandlot Diamonds Saturday.

With a January sun shedding its oppressive rays on the heat-baked city pavements Sunday, hundreds of citizens sought relief from the sultry weather by moving themselves and their families to that slightly cooler breathing-space, Springbank Park. Cars were crowded with picnickers and their lunch-boxes, and by early afternoon the grounds had taken on a gala appearance.

Merry parties gathered in the shade of the big evergreen trees and enjoyed the novelty of a lunch out-of-doors, while pairs of young lovers sat coyly on the steps of the pavilion. The situation would have been ideal but for the clouds of dust. These greatly detracted from the pleasure of the day, the unfortunate citizens finding that they had only escaped scorching in the city to be nearly choked to death in the country. Great difficulty was experienced in keeping the lemonade, sandwiches and other delicacies free from the gritty particles.

Saturday afternoon was rather a festive occasion. The temperature was not quite so extreme, and outdoor sports were thoroughly enjoyed. The lively crack of the horsehide baseball on the stout ash sticks resounded on the still January air, to be followed at intervals by the enthusiastic "tooting" of "fans," who were in mid-season form.

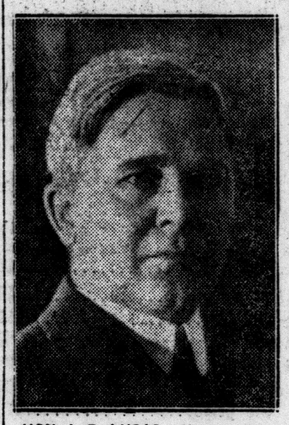

The golf links had their share of devotees, as well as the other forms of summer sport, although, to be truthful, no tennis tournaments were reported. Angling was as popular as ever, and one fisherman who had the temerity to continue his efforts on the Sabbath landed two fine specimens of Thames trout.

A noticeable feature of the season was the entire absence of suitable clothing. Heavy ulsters, gloves, spats and ear-muffs seemed terribly out of place beneath a bright blue sky and the dusty streets. Not a single sport shirt was to be seen, and even straw hats were a minus quantity.

Gentlemen who still retained their pure wool, full length heavies were noticeable by their singular behavior on the streets. More than one citizen formed a new conception of how the "shimmy" was invented.

Several robins and killdeer were seen on the London Hunt golf course Saturday afternoon.

SOON TO LEAVE HYDRO COMMISSION

HON. I. B. LUCAS, attorney-general for Ontario in the Hearst cabinet, whose resignation from the Ontario hydro commission is expected soon. He is not a member of the Legislature, and is not the appointee of the Drury Government.

TURKS ATTACK IN EFFORT TO REGAIN AINTAB

Heavy Fighting in Progress — French Prepare to Counter-Attack.

Constantinople, Jan. 10.—The Turks are reported to have made several attacks in an attempt to regain Aintab and the French are said to be withdrawing to stronger positions preparatory to a counter-attack. . . Meanwhile, heavy fighting is in progress.

A Constantinople dispatch of December 10 said the French had obtained a foothold in Aintab.

PRES. KELLY OF G. T. R. SEES PROSPEROUS TIMES AHEAD FOR CANADA

Declares Grand Trunk Is Experiencing Great Prosperity at Present Time.

President Howard G. Kelly of the G. T. R. passed through this city at noon today, en route from Chicago to Montreal. When interviewed by The Advertiser, Mr. Kelly expressed the greatest confidence that, despite the present business depression, prosperous times were in store in the near future for Canada.

Mr. Kelly felt particularly elated concerning splendid conditions, which, he claimed, existed all over the G. T. R. system. Although business had fallen off to a great extent on the American lines, the Grand Trunk never was busier, he said. Both through freight and local traffic was exceedingly heavy. The past year, he said, was the most prosperous in the history of the road. Nearly three times the total business of the year 1910 was handled during 1920.

The G. T. R., he stated, is not retrenching. In no department, he claimed, has this policy been carried out. In the car shops of the system there has been some instances of staff cutting, but this was done for economical purposes. If there was more work to be done in the car department more men would be employed.

He denied the rumors that there are to be several changes made among the high officials of the road. Everyone, he said, were working harmoniously. The officials were like one big family, he claimed.

CONSIDER O. B. U. PLAN.

Boston, Jan. 10.—A proposal to form "one big union" in the shoe and leather making industry in New England was ready today for consideration by workers in the several centres of manufacture in this section. Delegates from various local unions not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, voted in favor of the plan at a convention in Lynn yesterday, and all report the resolutions adopted to their individual organizations for action.

Police Department To Ask Big Increase in Its Appropriation

Will Mean Much Better Police Protection for City—Mayor Gives Inaugural Address.

That the police department will ask an increase of 100 per cent in its appropriation for this year was intimated by Mayor Little in his inaugural address to the council today.

"The control of the department is, of course, in the hands of the police commission," he said. "I believe—and I know that the majority of the citizens agree with me—that a largely increased force is demanded at the present time. The chief constable is already preparing a report for admission to the commission, and I merely wish to point out that the council will in all probability be asked for almost double the amount provided last year, and they should be most ready to provide the necessary funds."

The mayor saw in the return of nine former members of the council an indorsation of the 1920 work, and he urged his colleagues, including the three new members, to co-operate to the same extent this year, in addition to the police department appropriation, earlier elections, support of Western University, grade separation, paving of street railway tracks, assessment, adoption of a civic pension scheme, mothers' pensions and a juvenile court would be other problems they must consider during the year, he said.

His address follows:

"Gentlemen,—It is a significant fact that all the members of the council of 1920 who offered themselves for re-election have been returned. I think we may take it as a vote of confidence on the part of the people, and it should lead us to endeavor at all times to act in the best interest of the city as a whole—as I believe did the council of 1920.

"At the beginning of last year I appealed to you to assist me in carrying on the work of the council in a businesslike way. May I here repeat that request? And to our new colleagues I would suggest that they immediately acquaint themselves with the provisions of the procedure bylaw, as this is what governs our work in the council.

Bylaws.

"Two of the money bylaws submitted to the people received the indorsation of the electors—those authorizing the grant of $50,000 each to the Children's Memorial Hospital and the Home for Incurables. These will come before the committee in the regular way before final reading.

"May I point out that for the first time this year saw the preparation of the City of London bill shortly before the municipal election, and it has therefore been shown that there is no opposition to any of the clauses which it is proposed to bring before the private bills committee and the Legislature.

"Preparation of this bill before the elections should make unnecessary submission of so many bylaws to the people, such as was the case a year ago. I believe that all matters concerning

NEW WIRELESS STATION WILL HAVE RANGE COVERING WORLD

Sainte Assise, Department of Seine-et-Marne, France, Jan. 10.—Loris Deschamps, undersecretary of state for posts and telegraphs, laid the cornerstone yesterday of what is designed to be the most powerful radio station in the world, capable of transmitting with two sending instruments 24,000 words hourly or receiving and deciphering simultaneously 60,000 words hourly on five instruments. The alternating system will be used.

The Lafayette station, which now is the most powerful, has a maximum range of 15,000 miles, but experience has shown, according to the ministry of telegraphs, that it cannot be depended upon for more than 4,500 miles regularly, being unable, for instance, to work satisfactorily with Argentina. The Sainte Assise station, when completed in 1923, will, it is calculated, work easily and regularly with all stations in the world.

The station will be erected for the Compagnie Generale Telegraphie. The company has a working agreement with the American Radio Corporation. The striking physical features of the plant will be sixteen steel towers 820 feet high. A number of special telegraph wires will connect the station with the central telegraph offices.

BURGLARS PAY THREE WEEK-END VISITS

Steal Two $100 Victory Bonds From William Leff.

ALSO ROB HOUSE

Premises of Imperial Oil Company Ransacked, But Nothing Taken.

Thieves were busy over the week-end in London, no fewer than three places being entered by them.

Two bonds, valued at $100 each, were taken from the safe in a warehouse owned by William Leff, and located at 555 Bathurst street, Sunday night. They were fifteen-year bonds, payable at 5½ per cent interest on November 1, 1934. One was numbered T.A.1857 and the other T.A.1858. The safe had been left open, so that the robbers had an easy task securing them. Police have notified all banks to be on the lookout for the certificates, as all the coupons were attached.

While George O'Brien and his wife, who reside at 60 Cavendish street, were at church Sunday evening, someone entered their house and stole a watch and fob, a pair of cuff links and a Mons star, numbered 400259. Th ehpolice are investigating the matter.

On Saturday night or early Sunday morning the office of the Imperial Oil Company, 841 York street, was entered and although holes were bored around the locks of the desk drawers and the whole office ransacked thoroughly, no valuables were taken.

A woman reported Saturday night that she had been held up at the corner of York and Clarence streets, but after an investigation was made the police decided that she was suffering from a vivid imagination.

Rumors of a butcher shop in West London being robbed and of a farmer being relieved of $400 while he was on the market Saturday, proved to be without foundation.

NO ACTION AGAINST NATURAL GAS COMPANY AT THE PRESENT TIME

Westminster Township People Refuse To Pay Increased Prices.

No action against the Southern Ontario Gas Company is contemplated at present by J. M. McEvoy, on behalf of the people of Westminster Township, despite reports to the contrary, was the information given out at Mr. McEvoy's office this morning.

Although the people have protested against the increase of the price of gas from 45 cents to 85 cents per thousand, and have refused to pay bills for gas at 70 cents per thousand feet, no legal action has been taken as yet.

"The situation stands practically as it has stood for some time," was the statement made at the law office.

TANKER PUTS INTO PORT.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 10.—Short of fuel oil, and in need of some minor engine repairs, the American tanker Polarine, in ballast from Copenhagen for New York put into port today.

Women Growing Taller Due To Outdoor Life

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—Women are growing taller and heavier, according to Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, director of physical education at the University of Pennsylvania, and formerly of McGill University, Montreal.

Dr. McKenzie attributed this increase in stature and weight to the increased interest in sports and outdoor life.

RANEY IS AWAITING INFORMATION BEFORE ORDERING INQUEST

Attorney-General Non-Committal On Action Following Toronto Deaths.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—"I have not been advised of the facts of the cases, but I will go into the circumstances," said Attorney General Raney this morning, when asked if an inquest would be ordered into the circumstances surrounding the mysterious death of Miss Monica Kenny and Mrs. Bond, the two young women who collapsed and died within a few minutes after receiving a blood treatment in the office of Dr. J. H. McConnell, 1653 Dundas street west.

"Will you order the chief coroner to hold an inquest?" Mr. Raney was asked.

"I cannot say until I have gone into the facts."

"Has the chief coroner, Dr. A. J. Johnson, communicated with you yet about these cases?"

"Not yet. It is a matter that will have to be looked into."

STARTLING FACTS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

The age-old dream of the alchemist, that one day he would discover the secret of the transmutation of metals, may yet prove possible of realization, if further development of recent physical discoveries eventually lead in the direction they now indicate. Such would be the inference from Professor J. C. McLennan's statement at one of his recent lectures at the physics building of Toronto University, that recent investigations seem to indicate that all substances are built up from elemental atoms of hydrogen. Photo shows Professor J. C. McLennan.

IRISH PEACE PARLEYS ARE TERMINATED

Conferences Between Lloyd George and Rev. Michael O'Flanagan End.

London, Jan. 10.—Conferences between the Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of the Sinn Fein, and Premier Lloyd George, with a view to bringing about peace in Ireland have been broken off, and will not be resumed, says the Daily Mail. Before Father O'Flanagan returned to Ireland on Friday he had a long conversation with the premier, and the outcome is said to be described in official quarters as "not as satisfactory as could be hoped."

Peace negotiations have not altogether broken down, the newspaper adds, but Father O'Flanagan will not be a party to further exchanges.

ATTEMPT MADE TO MURDER OFFICERS NEAR DUBLIN

Dublin, Jan. 10.—A sensational attempt was made this morning to assassinate two officers, with the wife of one of them, who were riding in a touring car in the outskirts of Dublin. The car was riddled with bullets, but the driver speeded up and escaped with his passengers, only one of the occupants of the machine, one of the officers, being wounded. The identity of those in the car was not disclosed, but the car ultimately went to Dublin Castle.

LEYGUES GOVERNMENT IS STRENGTHENED BY SENATORIAL RESULTS

All Communist Candidates for French Senate Defeated.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Complete returns from Sunday's elections to the French show gains for the Centre, or Moderate parties, both the extreme Right and the Left losing seats. Conservatives of the Right elected three senators as against their present representation of eight while the radicals elected 43 as compared with their present 54 senators. The results for the 98 seats contested were as follows:

Conservatives 3, Republicans 39; Radicals and Radical Socialists 43, Republican Socialists 11.

The returns from the two districts, those from the reunion and Guadeloupe Islands have not been received. The united Socialist party and the Communist party failed to elect a single candidate.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Yesterday's elections in which one-third of the seats in the French Senate were filled, strengthened the position of the Government, according to the Echo de Paris, all members of the ministry, with the exception of Henri Rikard, minister of agriculture, who were candidates, being elected. Except for his case, possibly, it is said, there is no reason for changing the personnel of the cabinet.

George Leygues, president of the ministry, will probably be interpellated this week relative to the disarmament of Germany and other questions of foreign policy, but his adherents are confident the Chamber will postpone debate after M. Leygues meets David Lloyd George British prime minister, on January 19, and thus give M. Leygues the free hand he will require on that occasion.

Unbiased public opinion seems inclined to agree that the Government's strength has not been impaired, but a few ultra-moderate organs, such as the Figaro, maintain the elections show a tendency toward the right.

The majority of newspapers here consider that the loss of four seats by the Conservatives and nine by the Radicals cannot be taken as indicating any modification in politics, one way or another. The centre of gravity continues to be held by the Left and Centre, where M. Leygues finds most of his support.

The newly-formed communist party placed ten senatorial candidates in the field, but all were defeated.

LOCAL ICE MEN ARE NOT WORRYING OVER PRESENT MILD SPELL

February Is Month in Which Jack Frost Works Overtime to Supply Ice, They State—One Dealer Has Large Supply On Hand From Last Year.

Local icemen are very optimistic in regard to the supply of ice for the coming season despite the fact that so far the weatherman has shown little signs of making any serious effort toward providing the usual supply of this necessity of modern civilization for the forthcoming summer months.

Each of the local ice dealers who secure their supply from the Coves or the river, in reply to inquiries made by The Advertiser today, stated that they have a quantity left over from last year's big ice harvest.

One ice dealer stated that he still has between 1,000 and 1,500 tons left, while two others admitted that they had supplies on hand, but classed them as "small." In regard to the weather each of them declared that February is generally the best month for ice, the weatherman paying special attention, as a rule, to this phase of his work during that month.

Those dealers who secure their supply from the Coves point to the fact that there is ice there now, and that a few days of severe cold would very quickly increase the thickness.

"This is a very similar winter," said one iceman, "so far as weather conditions are concerned, to what we had two years ago, when very little ice formed, and as a result there was a shortage during the summer. That winter we waited day after day hoping that the ice would get thicker, and as a result were caught napping, but it was a lesson, which we shall not forget, and should the weather continue open, with little chance of more cold, we shall gather what ice there is irrespective of its thickness."

Dealers collecting their ice from the river were not quite so optimistic. They point out that no ice has formed on the river even in the quiet places. At the same time, however, they declare that "there is a lot of time yet for a very plentiful ice harvest. It does not take many days of real cold weather to make ice, and given two or three weeks of such weather we shall be able to fill our houses. February is generally the best month, the cold weather as a rule being more constant. I do not see any reason at the present time for worrying."

FAMOUS FEUDIST LAID TO REST BY MOUNTAIN'S SIDE

Logan, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Capt. Anderson ("Devil Anse") Hatfield, one time confederate army officer, and for many years thereafter one of the most famous and picturesque feudists in the mountains of West Virginia, who died Friday, was yesterday buried beside his two sons, Troy and Elias, in the family plot, 300 feet beneath the mountain range, which sheds its water into the Big Sandy on the one side and the Guyandotte on the other. The obsequies were attended by eleven surviving children, almost all of the forty grandchildren, several great-grandchildren, and about 75 direct descendants.

Cost of Living in U. S. Shows Slight Decline

Washington, Jan. 10.—Expenditures of the average family in the United States for rent, fuel and light not only resisted, but ran counter during the last six months of 1920, to the general tendency toward a lower level in prices, it was shown today in figures compiled by the department of labor's bureau of labor statistics.

The figures made public cover expenditures by average families in eight large cities. The average cost of living in these cities at the beginning of the new year was 99.2 per cent over the average cost in 1914, while at the end of last June it was 115.1 per cent. Using the 1914 costs as a basis, the percentage increased cost of the various items making up the average family budget in the eight cities were as follows in June and December: Wood—June 110.9, December 75.6 Clothing—June 191.3, December 159.5. Housing—June 41.6, December 49.5. Fuel and light—June 57.6, December 79.6. Furniture and furnishings—June 131.8, December 181.9.

FRENCH CRIMINALS MAKE COLOSSAL HAUL IN 1920

Paris, Jan. 10.—Twenty-four million francs in cash and securities and 10,000,000 francs worth of goods and valuables, half of which were recovered by the police, were the total amount obtained in Paris through burglaries, thefts and swindles by criminals during 1920, according to official figures made public by police headquarters today.

The ministry of finance alone lost 3,220,000 francs through swindles and forgeries.

CRIME WAVE BREAKS OUT AFRESH

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan 10.—New Jersey's crime broke out afresh today, when five well dressed, well educated bandits in an automobile held up five motor cars and escaped with several hundred dollars after a pistol fight with the police of three towns, who rushed to the scene in automobiles.

MURDERER'S IRON NERVE REMAINS EVEN ON MARCH TO THE GALLOWS

Joseph Arthur Currie Pays Penalty at Sudbury.

HOME IN CHATHAM

Body of Executed Man To Be Buried in Northern Cemetery.

Sudbury, Jan. 10.—Joseph Arthur Currie, a mulatto, aged 26, this morning paid the extreme penalty for the murder of Michael Donaghue, a 65-year-old trapper and prospector, on January 20 of last year. There was no untoward incident at the execution which took place at 8 o'clock at the jail.

Only the necessary officials were present. Currie maintained to the last the iron nerve which he has displayed ever since his arrest in Windsor in March last. At his trial he coolly related the details of how he murdered Donaghue with an axe, and his nerve never left him, even as he looked out the jail window at the building of the scaffold or on the silent death march from the jail to the scaffold in the yard this morning. Currie was much milder in his demeanor of late, however, and left a statement with his spiritual adviser, Rev. J. C. Cochrane, thanking all for the consideration shown him. Currie's body was turned over to Rev. J. C. Cochrane, and will be buried in a local cemetery. His home is in Chatham, Ont.

CHARLES H. BURGESS NEW GUELPH MAYOR

Three Aldermen Were in Race for Chief Magistrate's Post.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Jan. 10.—All speed records in electing a mayor of Guelph under the new form of civic administration, which has been in effect here for three years, were shattered at the inaugural meeting of the 1921 city council this morning when Ald. Charles H. Burgess was elected mayor on the first ballot. Three aldermen—Howard, Burgess and Brymer—were mentioned for the office, but Alderman Bryden withdrew on the first ballot. Ald Burgess secured ten votes, sufficient to win.

City Council for 1921 Gets Away to Harmonious Start at Session Today

Alderman John Bridge and Cameron Wilson Appointed to L. and P. S. Commission—Ex-Ald. O. I. Cunningham, Ald. G. B. Drake and J. H. Saunders on Board of Health.

City business for 1921 was officially opened at 11 o'clock this morning, when the city council held one of the most harmonious inaugural sessions in the history of the municipality. In previous years there have been jarring notes in the rendition of this opening overture, but today it was melody from which all harsh sounds were removed.

As was generally predicted, Ald. F. R. Watkinson was chosen as chairman for No. 1 committee, while Ald. C. G. Moorhead was elected to the head of No. 2 committee. The striking committee formed of the mayor, Ald. Moorhead, Brighton, J. C. Wilson and F. R. Watkinson, recommended that No. 1 committee consist of Ald. Bridge, Harley, Watkinson, J. C. Wilson, Wenige and Boss, and that No. 2 committee be composed of Ald. W. A. Wilson, Ashton, Drake and Moorhead, Watt and Brighton.

Ald. W. A. Wilson moved an amendment that Ald. Boss and Ald. Watt exchange places. This met with the approval of seven members of the coun-

C. W. M'GUIRE DIES SUDDENLY

Was Prominent Mason and Popular London Businessman.

Charles W. McGuire, one of London's most popular businessmen, died at his home, 799 Hellmuth avenue, on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. McGuire had been in St. Joseph's Hospital for some time in a critical condition due to heart trouble, but during the last week showed much improvement and was removed from the hospital to his home late on Saturday afternoon. Though very ill, Mr. McGuire's death came as a shock to his relatives and friends yesterday.

Born in Orangeville.

Mr. McGuire, was born in Orangeville, 53 years ago, but for a period of twenty years lived in this city, the last fifteen of which he held the position of manager of the Imperial Oil Company, and for several years prior to this time travelled for the same firm outside London. Mr. McGuire was prominent in Masonic circles, being a 32 degree Scottish Rite Mason. He was past potentate of the Mocha Temple, president of the Masonic Hall, London, Limited, and past master of Kilwinning Lodge. He was also a past president of the Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association.

It was through the efforts of Mr. McGuire that the mortgage of the Masonic Hall was burned in December at the annual installation banquet, Mr. Guire being in the hospital at this time was not able to be present at the ceremony, but a profusion of flowers decorated his room, a gift from the Blue Lodges of the city and the directors of the Masonic Hall.

Active in Campaigns.

Mr. McGuire took an active part in all local campaigns to raise money for charitable purposes, and gave freely of his time and money for any worthy cause.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Sells McGuire of this city; three sisters, Mrs. William Wilson, Alliston; Mrs. T. J. Robinson, Orangeville; Mrs. A. T. Glover of Regina, and two brothers, J. W. McGuire of Orangeville, and J. H. McGuire of Windsor. The fungral arrangements have not been completed.

RAILWAYMEN CONDUCT YORK STREET SERVICE

Services at the York Street Mission Sunday were conducted by employees of the Grand Trunk Railway. At both services the mission was filled to capacity. Joseph Henry and Fred Crockford were the speakers. Railway employees also provided the music for both services and occupied the choir seats. A quartet sang "Life's Railroad To Heaven." Evangelist Belcher was requested to ask the quartet to sing this sacred song again, the congregation appreciating it very much.

RECITAL PLEASES

Large Audience Hears Parnell Morris' Organ Program.

At his second monthly organ recital in Dundas Centre Church Saturday afternoon Parnell Morris played to a large audience of appreciative listeners. Mr. Morris' choice of selections was very happy, something to suit all tastes being presented.

Harold Jarvis, tenor, who assisted, was in fine voice, and especially in "A Loss of Sight" and "Fatal Eclipse" (Handel) rose to very high level. The lighter numbers were also very pleasing.

PROMINENT MASON DIES

CHARLES W. McGUIRE, who died on Sunday, was one of the most active members of the Craft in Ontario. He was a past potentate of Mocha Temple Shrine, and was always especially interested in civic and charitable projects.

POSTOFFICE STAFF STILL KEEPS BUSY

"Third Class Matter" Cluttering the Mail Like a Christmas Rush.

Two problems face London postoffice at the present time; one is the large amount of "third-class matter" that has to be disposed of at this season, and the other is the number of members of the staff that are on sick leave.

"Third-class matter" is the official designation for catalogues, circulars, leaflets and similar printed matter, which businessmen and others have a habit of unloading on a suffering public at the threshold of a new year. Much of this matter, it is supposed, finds its way into the W. P. B. of the recipient, but, on the other hand, a large proportion of it, particularly artistically gotten up catalogues, are treasured by housewives, who find inspiration therein for purchase of spring costumes and the thousand and one odds and ends which load the shelves of departmental stores.

Seed catalogues, in all their gorgeous coloring, are also welcomed by amateur gardeners who are fascinated by the size of the tomatoes and pumpkins depicted therein, and are lost in admiration at the magnificent pansies and peonies that bloom on every page.

About this time last year the "flu" fiend had taken a firm grip of the postal staff, no fewer than 30 of them being laid off, and although the present spell of indisposition is merely the aftermath of the busy "holiday" season, the office can ill afford to be short-handed when so much work has to be overtaken.

any new enterprises and expenditures should have the indorsation of the people, but I do not consider it necessary that expenditures which may be considered of a sectional nature should go before the people when it is possible to have opposition brought out during the municipal campaign, and thus secure a test of public opinion without the danger of any one class or section losing that to which it may in justice be entitled.

"May I be allowed here to repeat what I said a year ago in connection with the question of changing the date of the elections: 'It has been suggested, and, I think, wisely, that the council should be elected from the city at large, not to represent the four wards. If this were done, continuity of work might be secured through the election of six members of the council each year, to serve for two years. If the election were held earlier in the fall before the bad weather sets in, we should be able to bring out a larger vote. The new council and other civic boards might be in harness at least a month earlier, and this should result in a considerable saving to the city in the matter of interest alone. We are large borrowers from the bank until the first installment of our taxes is paid, and it is believed that a saving of $3,500 in interest would be made if we could have our estimates brought down and the tax rate struck one month earlier.' Last year we did succeed in moving forward the tax collection dates, and with considerable saving to the people. There is room for further improvement along this line, however.

Education.

"The Western University should receive your unqualified support. A resolution of the council of 1920 is submitted to you with a recommendation that support equally liberal to that of last year be given it.

"It may be of interest to you to know that at the present time 33 applicants are receiving free tuition at the Western University, and many of these would not be in a position to take advantage of a university course without the aid which has been made possible through the co-operation of the city council and the board of governors.

Grade Separation.

"This matter was brought before you last year, and largely through the efforts of a special committee, which Ald. Dr. Wilson was chairman, a subway at Rectory street, as a part of the general grade separation scheme is, we believe, now within our reach. Last year's council authorized the engagement of Mr. Cauchon of Ottawa to represent the city, and left the matter of an agreement between the city and the Grand Trunk to the mayor, Ald. Dr. Wilson and the solicitor. It would be well for this year's council to at least sustain this action.

Playgrounds.

"Last year a commencement was made but the council found itself unable to grant more than $10,000 to the playgrounds committee. This year it is our duty to see that the full $20,000, or half mill, voted by the electors, is provided. There is no doubt in the minds of any of us as to the value of these recreation spots.

Street Railway.

"To this vexed question the council has not as yet been able to find a solution. The road is still operated by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and it will be your duty to make some arrangements whereby improvements, such as street paving, may be carried out on streets where the company is operating, without any further delay.

Local Improvements.

"I think it should be our duty to see that every possible amount of work is done this year, and that a commencement be made as early as possible to give relief to the unemployment situation. Last year's council has already authorized the construction of certain works, and it will be your duty to consider the local improvement program for the present year as early as possible. We should see, too, that access is had to every part of the city. At the present time, unfortunately, some of our streets are practically impassable during several months of the year.

Assessment.

"Last year the council authorized the appointment of Mr. Richter to act with Mr. Grant in the matter of equalizing the assessment. This work has already been started but it will be the duty of No. 1 committee and the council to further it in every way possible.

Pension Scheme.

"This is a matter which has been in hand since the latter part of 1919, but has been held up owing to the pressure of other business which Mr. Richter has been looking after for us. I believe that an effort should be made to have a pension bylaw in operation, if possible, by the 1st of July of this year. The city of Winnipeg has just lately passed a bylaw which should be of great benefit to us, and I would urge that No. 1 committee take this matter in hand immediately, that provision may be made in the estimates if it is found possible to commence the operation of a scheme during the current year.

Mothers' Pensions.

"May I direct your attention to the fact that the mothers' pensions and allowances act is now in force, and under its provisions the municipality must pay half of the amount required by the local board, the Ontario Government find the balance. No. 1 committee should as early as possible, get a report from the local board, as provision will have to be made for their requirements in the estimates.

Juvenile Court.

"Last year's council was asked to go on record as being in favor of the establishment of a juvenile court in the city. This matter should be dealt with forthwith, and one or two members of the council deputed to interview the county council, which meets during the current month. I believe you will find that they will be only too ready to co-operate with the city for the establishment of such a court. At the same time, we should not allow ourselves to be stampeded by any organization or body who may be seeking to find a berth for someone. I have certain definite views on this question, which I should like the opportunity of presenting to No. 1 committee or the special committee, if you see fit to appoint one.

Housing.

"Before sanction of any further extension of the housing scheme, we should have a complete report from the commission as to what has already been done, and what has been the demand for houses completed by the commission.

Unemployment.

"This has been referred to above, but it is a matter of the gravest importance and everything possible should be done by the city to provide work for our own citizens.

It will be necessary to provide in the estimates for any increased cost of work authorized during the winter, and this should be borne in mind by the several committees of the council. It is a matter of vital importance that every possible public work be gone on with at the earliest moment.

City of London Bill.

"This, too, I have referred to above, but would point out that any changes which this year's council may desire to make in the application which has been forwarded to Toronto should be made at once. It is unnecessary to enumerate the several clauses of the bill, as they are already familiar to most of you.

Town Planning.

"As you are doubtless aware, necessary legislation has not yet been secured, but there is no reason why the council should not appoint an advisory committee on town planning as was done last year. Let us hope, however, that there may be more harmony and more progress than has been the case in the past.

Police Department.

"The control of this department is, of course, in the hands of the police commission. I believe (and I know that the majority of the citizens agree with me) that a largely increased force is demanded at the present time. The chief constable is already preparing a report for submission to the commission, and I merely wish to point out that the council will in all probability be asked for almost double the amount provided last year, and they should be most ready to find the necessary funds.

Fire Protection.

"I believe No. 1 committee should have an immediate survey made, that adequate protection in the way of hydrants, etc., may be given in all parts of the city. I am afraid that it will be found that several of our schools have not the protection in the way of hydrants which they should have and this matter is one of the most vital importance.

New City Offices.

"While I believe the people as a whole are in favor of the carrying out of the old Federal Square idea, at the same time we know that we cannot now expect any assistance from the Government along this line. To build a city hall such as is demanded by a city of the importance of London would entail an expenditure of probably $2,000,000, and I do not believe that this should be gone on with at the present time. Our taxes are high and we should endeavor to see that no expenditure is made that is not absolutely necessary. At the same time, it is a disgrace that the work of the various departments of the city should be carried on under conditions such as prevail at present.

"I would suggest that a special committee inquire into the feasibility of co-operating with the utilities commission with a view to putting another story on their building and completing the balance of the property we now occupy with a building similar to that erected by them. I believe this could be done with the money already on hand towards the erection of a city hall, and we would have an administration building which would be quite satisfactory for many years to come, and at the same time a credit to London. When the situation clears, if it is thought desirable to go ahead with the erection of a city hall on the south side of Dundas street, the administration or office building could be disposed of at probably a considerable profit. I leave this matter for your consideration.

"In conclusion, may I ask for the same co-operation, not only from the members of the city council, but from the several civic bodies, as was accorded me last year, for it is only in this way that the best results may be obtained.

The Cause of Gout
Rheumatism
According to medical men such as Garrod, Minkowski, Hans, Vogt and Reach, the cause of gout is due to an excessive accumulation of uric acid in the blood. The same effect happens in rheumatism.
When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; when you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, ask your druggist for An-uric (anti-uric acid) tablets; or send Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial package. An-uric is more potent than lithia.

TORONTO YOUTH MAY GO HOME IF HE CAN GET MONEY FOR FARE

Seven Citizens Fined Usual $2 for Breaches of M. V. A.

John Grant, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of vagrancy, will be able to leave his dingy cell if he can secure railroad fare to Toronto, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon told him in police court this morning.

Three weeks ago the boy came to London in search of work, he said. When he failed in his mission, and had but 70 cents left in his pocket, a constable arrested him. The police will write to his relatives in Toronto in an effort to secure his transportation to the Queen City.

The following were fined $2 and costs each for violating the motor vehicles act: H. Cullier, J. D. Smith, Charles Wakeling, John C. Robinson, H. Heremer, O. R. Moore and William McDowell. Clarence Eggett was fined $2 and costs for riding a bicycle on a footpath. One drunk paid the usual $10 and costs.

The case of William Martin, charged with a breach of the wives' maintenance act, was adjourned to January 17.

SPEAKS ON WORK OF S. C. A.

Rev. Thomas Joplin Addresses Large Congregation in St. Andrew's Church.

Rev. Thomas Joplin, field secretary of the Shantymen's Christian Association, spoke to a large congregation at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday evening on the work of the association since its incorporation in 1912. The association was founded by William Henderson in 1908, and since then, this inter-denominational organization has been sending missionaries to preach the gospel and distribute tracts to the men in lumber, mining and construction camps throughout Canada and the United States.

Work is being carried on in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and among the coal miners in Kentucky.

Rev. Joplin's visit to the city is for the purpose of raising funds to carry out this Christian work.

PREACHES FIRST SERMON

Rev. A. S. H. Cree, Newly-Appointed Rector of St. Luke's and Church of Redeemer, Delivers Seasonable Message.

Rev. A. S. H. Cree, the newly-appointed rector of the St. Luke's Church, Broughdale and the Church of the Redeemer, preached his first sermon in St. Luke's Church on Sunday. Rev. Archdeacon J. B. Richardson was present at the united services of the two churches, and assisted the new rector. Hugh Crosby of Huron College, who will be assistant to Rev. Mr. Cree, also took part in the service.

Prior to his sermon, Mr. Cree referred briefly to his new parish, and said he undertook the work of the united churches with great pleasure. The subject of Mr. Cree's sermon was the visit of the [illegible] to the Infant Child at Bethlehem.

ADDITIONAL CLASSES

For Evening Students Found Necessary at Technical School.

"So large has been the registration for certain of the evening classes at the Technical School that it has been found necessary to organize additional classes in the following subjects: Automobile mechanics, carpentry and joinery, machine shop operations, dress-making, millinery, and cooking, said Principal H. B. Beal in reply to an inquiry today.

"It has also been decided to keep registration for these and other evening classes open for another week. Owing to the rush for registration it has not been possible yet to compile the figures in connection with the various classes for publication, but it is far ahead of any previous term."

POLICE RAID POOLROOMS

Second Visit Made Saturday Night—No Arrests Made.

Police squads raided all the local poolrooms on Saturday night, it being their second search of the kind for contraband goods, such as revolvers, liquor and dope. Although it was carried out by surprise, no one was arrested. Although there may not be another such raid for some time, it is said that the police will not be inactive, for plans of another nature may be carried out.

City Briefs

MEETING POSTPONED.—Owing to a meeting of the Canadian Club on Wednesday there will be no meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this week, it was announced today.

NO CASES FOR SPRING ASSIZES.—To date no cases, either civil or criminal, have been entered for the assize court which opens at the courthouse on January 24.

RAISED $800.—The appeal on behalf of the Chinese famine fund on Sunday met with a generous response in Talbot Street Baptist Church. Contributions amounted to over $800.

CHARGED WITH STEALING WHISKEY.—William C. Oldridge will appear in the county court on Tuesday charged with stealing a quantity of whiskey, it was stated at the courthouse today.

ALLOWED TO GO.—Robert Roberts, charged by his wife Alice D. Roberts with assault, was allowed to go by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon this morning after both parties had a conference with him in his office.

NAMES OMITTED.—In a publish report of the installation of officers of Edith Cavell, L. O. B. A., No. 285, the names of Mrs. H. Grosvenor, chaplain, and Mrs. William Hunt, committeewoman, were inadvertently omitted.

WILL REPRESENT LONDON. — London's Hydro-Electric Power Commission will be represented at the annual convention of the Association of Municipal Electrical Utilities, which will take place in Toronto on January 27, 28 and 29, by General-Manager E. V. Buchanan and Engineer J. W. Peart of the public utilities commission.

FUNERAL OF CHESTER GLASS ON WEDNESDAY.—The remains of Chester Glass who died suddenly in New York will be brought to this city for interment on Wednesday in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The funeral service will be held at George E. Logan's undertaking parlors at 10 o'clock. Rev. Dean L. N. Tucker will conduct the services.

SANG FOR CURRENT TOPIC CLUB.—Harold Jarvis, tenor, of Detroit, who was a week-end visitor in the city, entertained the members of the Current Topic Club on Saturday evening to a couple of vocal numbers at their regular meeting, held at the home of Dr. B. F. Keillor, Stanley street, when D. C. McNaughton gave a paper on "A Criticism of Our Local Charities." A. E. Cowley, the president, occupied the chair.

FIRST MEETING. — Wednesday or Thursday will witness the first meeting of the public utilities commission for 1921. The principal business will be the outlining of work for the year in connection with the hydro department, the waterworks department, the parks and playgrounds. Action by the city council at its meeting tonight in regard to the public playgrounds will largely decide the course of action by the public utilities commission in this matter.

BOARD OF EDUCATION COMMITTEES.—No. 2 committee of the 1921 board of education will hold its first meeting of the year on Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The business will be principally outlining the year's work, the consideration of any matters referred to it by the board, and routine matters. Trustee Harry Hayman is chairman of the committee. No. 1 committee, of which Trustee Ed Smith is chairman, will meet on Wednesday at 4:30 p.m.

DR. BRITTON TO SPEAK.—Dr. Britton of the municipal research bureau of Toronto will address a joint meeting of the members' council of the Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Club, the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club, on Tuesday evening, January 18, on the subject of improved municipal government. The research bureau of Toronto was formed for the purpose of discovering and formulating improved systems of municipal government.

CONSERVATORY RECITAL. — The recital at Conservatory Hall was given last Saturday afternoon by the following pupils: Margaret Steven, Sanford Granger, Mary Buchner, Frances North, Lillian Edmondson, Sybil Hill, Annette Linton, Armand Manness, Gordon Smith, Della Peckham, Elsie Murphy, Alan Arnold, Ernest McIntosh and Hymie Ginsberger, pupils of Miss Munroe. Miss Burns, Miss Coleman, Miss Roedding, Miss Kerr, Miss Gibson and Mr. Sidney Martin.

MOTOR SHOW.—The big Western Ontario National Motor Show will be held in London from Monday, January 31, to February 5, inclusive, and the display of cars will be complete, from the humble flivver to the most beautiful and luxurious of limousines. Every taste will be catered to, and Manager T. C. Kirby announces that every available inch of space has been taken, with the waiting list growing daily. Success is already assured, and the show committee, Messrs. Hodgins, Rowed and McLaughlin, is sparing no pains to make the show a record one.

BUILDING TAKES A SPURT.—Building figures took a spurt today which make it assured that they will surpass the record of January 1920. Elliot Marr & Co. have been given a permit to remodel their warehouse on King street at a cost of $10,000. The contract has been given to R. G. Wilson & Son. The housing commission took out permits to erect two one-story brick veneer dwellings on Emery street for William Hawkins and J. L. Robertson at a cost of $4,025 each. This makes a total of twelve permits since the first of the year, for an aggregate amount of $23,330.

MOTORCYCLE REPORTED STOLEN —Theft of a motorcycle from a resident of Westminster Township was reported to the county police this morning, and it is expected that before many hours elapse a juvenile resident of the township will be arrested on a charge of stealing it. According to the county authorities, they were notified that the motorcycle had been sold and that it was a stolen one. They recovered it, and on interviewing a lad who was thought to have been implicated in the matter, were told by him, they say, that another boy took it. He is reported to have told them the name of the alleged culprit.

MUST HAVE NON-GLARE DEVICE. —Every motor-car owner of this city has been forwarded a 1921 license application form, according to C. E. Bernard, secretary of the London Motor Club. The application forms contain two questions which have never been previously asked on application forms, and it is essential that these questions be answered. The first inquires if the car for which the license is to be issued is equipped with an approved device for the elimination of headlight glares. The second asks the name of the device. Unless the car is properly equipped with such devices no license will be issued. The new number plates will be issued on January 15. Mr. Bernard is requesting that all application forms should be filled before presentation.

LATEST APPLIANCES USED BY BURGLARS IN SAFE ROBBERY

Electric Drills and Acetylene Torches to Cut Steel Combinations.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Burglars stole $31,000 worth of diamonds and other jewelry from the safe of Pacquette & Hughes, manufacturing jewelers, over the week-end, using electric-driven drills and acetylene blow torches.

The robbery was discovered this morning by Mrs. Gates Pacquette and Robert Hughes. There are four large holes drilled through the combinations of both outside and inside doors. The door of the inside safe was badly burnt and the shelves were scorched.

"We had over $31,000 worth of jewelry, including $5,000 of loose diamonds, $15,000 of diamond jewelry, besides other stone jewelry," said Mr. Pacquette today. "Our stock is covered by $20,000 insurance, taken out two months ago."

MICHIGAN AUTO NUMBER FOUND IN THE THAMES

Thrown There by Auto Bandits Last Week?

NEAR CLARK'S BRIDGE

And Theory, Therefore, Is Deemed Quite Probable.

Did the car which was used by the bandits, who carried out the pair of hold-ups last week, bear Michigan license number 67-832?

This is the question which only the gunmen know at present as no one saw the markers on the car. However, a marker bearing the above number is at the bottom of the river a few feet west of the Wellington street bridge. Several residents in that district noticed it on Sunday, the brightness of the sun making it possible to observe it, although it was on the bed of the river with several feet of water covering it.

After the robbery in West London was perpetrated at 10 o'clock at night the bandits headed directly for St. Thomas, else they would not have been able to rob the Erie Cafe in St. Thomas at 12 o'clock. In the Railway City, the information was given that the car used by the thugs was a Michigan one.

It is quite possible that the robbers' car went over the Wellington street bridge on its way to St. Thomas, therefore it is more than probable that the license marker which is at the bottom of the river is one thrown away by the occupants of the car.

LOSE MANY GALLONS OF VALUABLE OIL

Contents of Tank Car Finally Find Outlet in River.

When workmen at the McClary Manufacturing Company foundry Saturday prematurely opened the outlet valves of a tank car, and could not close them later, thousands of gallons of oil ran out into a coal pile near by, and from thence into the River Thames.

The fluid ran out all day Sunday, and owing to its great weight the outlet could not be plugged, and faulty mechanism prevented shutting of the valves. However, some of the oil on the ground and in the coal was salvaged, and will be filtered. The damage is estimated at $1,000.

CRIME WAVE HAS NOT REACHED THE COUNTY YET

Deputy Sheriff Watterworth Says 1921 Has Made Good Start.

London's crime wave has not extended to the county yet, Deputy Sheriff B. F. Watterworth was pleased to be able to state this morning. Lately Middlesex has had a fairly clean sheet; in fact this year has made a better beginning, so far as crime goes, than several of the preceding ones.

Today the theft of a motorcycle in Westminster Township was reported and an assault case in Mount Brydges, but these have been the only ripples on an otherwise calm sea.

POOLROOM PROPRIETORS

Each Fined $10 for Allowing Youths Under Age to Loiter on Premises.

Minors who enter poolrooms and cause the proprietors to be fined because they are there, must suffer as much as the owners, Alex. Clinton, a colored lad, aged 17, discovered when he was charged with being a vagrant, and remanded to jail for a few days by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon this morning.

Last week, Clinton confessed, he did not work at all, and put in time by loitering in Cusolito's poolroom on Dundas street. The owner, Dominick Cusolito, was not quite sure that the lad was of age and inquired about him. Clinton told him that he was 18 years old. Later Sergt. William McCullough came to the poolroom, but his question received a different answer. Clinton was not of age.

Cusolito was fined $10 and costs, and was warned by the magistrate that in future if he doubted a boy's word the proper course to pursue was to question the parents.

Clinton smiled throughout the proceedings, but the smile faded from his face when he was convicted of being a vagrant and led away to Governor Carter's hostel.

Tony Capidoni, 366 Hamilton road, was assessed $10 and costs because he failed to protect himself by asking a 15-year-old boy's parents how old his young customer was. The boy said that he was going to go back to work this afternoon, and because it was the first time he had been in any trouble he was allowed to go.

ANNUAL MEETING

Frank Mayston Elected President of All Saints' Church Choir.

The annual meeting of All Saints' Church choir was held on Friday evening. An excellent report of the past year's activities was given, and the officers elected as follows: Honorary president, Rev. A. A. Bice; president, Frank Mayston; secretary, Miss I. Bell; treasurer, Miss L. Kirkpatrick; social committee, A. Wood, O. Conley, B. Parker, B. Sedman, Miss G. Hogg and Miss D. Tucker; vestment committee, F. Fitzgerald, G. Matthews, A. Dibsdale and Mrs. T. Hobbs; librarians, Mr. Hogg and Mr. Conley.

CERTIFY TO ELECTION.

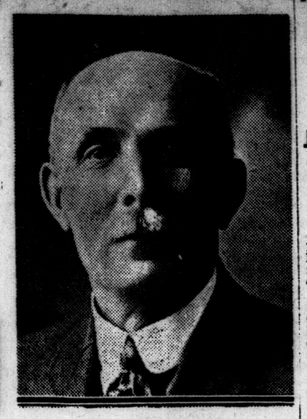

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 10.—Michigan's fifteen presidential electors met here today to certify to the election of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge for president and vice-president, respectively, by the voters of Michigan. The ceremony of ratification, which is provided for by the United States electoral system is merely a formality, the electors officially casting their votes in accordance with the result of the electoral vote in their district.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

ALD. F. R. WATKINSON, who was this morning elected chairman of No. 1 committee, city council.

ALD. C. G. MOORHEAD, chairman of No. 2 committee, city council.

Dandelions and Pansies

Toronto may boast of red-breasted robins chirping merrily in January, but London is prepared to go one better. Robins may or may not be harbingers of spring, but dandelions blooming in the open are positive evidence that winter has passed. H. Findiater, depot agent of the Canadian Express Company of this city, discovered three dandelions in full bloom on a Grey street lawn early this morning. As proof of his unusual find he plucked one of the blossoms and later turned it over to The Advertiser.

William Gibson, a florist, who resides in the vicinity of London, picked a bouquet of pansies from his pansy bed on January 3.

Obituary

THOMAS R. MOSCRIP DIES.

Thomas R. Moscrip, formerly of St. Marys, died at his home, 651 William street, Sunday afternoon. He was in his 64th year, and had resided in London for several years past. Interment will be at St. Marys on Tuesday.

LESLIE ST. C. CATER.

Leslie St. Claire Cater, only son of Henry S. Cater, died at the home of his father, 604 King street, on Sunday, after a long illness. Mr. Cater was 30 years of age and was born in this city. Ten years ago he removed to Detroit, where he was employed as a traveler for a plate glass company.

Mr. Cater is survived by his father and step-mother and three sisters—Mrs. William Priest and Miss Gladys Cater of Detroit, and Miss Harriet of this city. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon from his father's residence to Woodland Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF WM. HEATHFIELD.

The funeral of William Heathfield, who died on Wednesday, was held on Saturday afternoon from his residence, 1069 Pine street, to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. R. D. Mess conducted the services. The funeral was largely attended by Orangemen, in which order Mr. Heathfield belonged. The pallbearers were J. J. Spring, G. Tupholme, L. Hill, R. Perkins, S. Smithers and G. R. Keyes.

TECHNICAL EVIDENCE IS SUBMITTED AT TELEPHONE HEARING

Commissioners Demand More Specific Information.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Canadian Press.—More evidence, much of it of a technical character, was submitted to the board of railway commissioners by the Bell Telephone Company this morning in support of its application for an increase in rates. There was also cross-examination of witnesses put on the stand by the company with the object of demonstrating that prices charged the Bell Company by the Northern Electric Company are too high. In this connection counsel for opposing interests pressed for more details than is given in the statements submitted by the Northern Electric, more particularly as to the percentage of loading and labor expenses.

George H. Montgomery, counsel for the Northern Electric Company, put in a plea that the information as submitted was as complete as could reasonably be expected, particularly in view of the fact that the Northern Electric Company is not a party to the inquiry, and does not come under the jurisdiction of the board. Assistant Commissioner McLean, who is presiding over the hearing, after consultation with his colleagues, declared that more specific information must be submitted. It was finally agreed that a consultation should be held by all parties concerned in order to arrive at an agreement as to the information that would be satisfactory to opponents of the application.

Several Bell Telephone Company officials who gave evidence agreed in declaring that in all the dealings between the Bell Telephone Company and the Northern Electric every possible effort was made to secure equipment at minimum cost.

PAN-AMERICAN LABOR CONFERENCE OPENS IN CAPITAL OF MEXICO

Mexico City, Jan. 10.—Delegates from labor organizations of the United States, Mexico and sixteen South and Central American republics were here today for the opening session of the third Pan-American Federation of Labor conference. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and fourteen other representatives of United States labor organizations made up the delegation from the United States.

It was expected the conference could be brought to a conclusion before the end of the week. The purpose of the gathering, according to Mr. Gompers, was "to promote good relations among the laborers of the United States, Mexico and South and Central America."

The first Pan-American federation conference was held in Laredo, Texas, in November, 1918, while the second occurred in New York City in July, 1919.

FAILURE TO RETURN INCOME TAX FORMS MEANS FINE OF $100

Ten Days Is Limit of Time Allowance for Filling In.

The prospect of a $100 fine is facing a few hundred Londoners in Wards Three and Four, who have not yet sent back their income forms mailed from the city assessment offices January 3. Ten days is allowed, which makes Thursday, January 13, the final day for returning them. A few mailed later than the others will have an additional day of grace. The penalty for failure to comply with the law is a fine of $100 and $10 for each day the delay continues.

UNFILLED STEEL ORDERS.

New York, Jan. 10.—The monthly tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation, made public here today, showed 8,148,122 tons of unfilled orders on hand December 31. This is a decrease from last month's unfilled orders, which totalled 9,821,481 tons.

INSPECTOR ARRIVED EARLY AND GRABBED ALL THE 'NOSE PAINT'

J. E. Keenleyside Was Early Bird At G. T. R. Station Today.

Nineteen cases of imperial "nose paint," labeled "paint," was what License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside got for being one of the early birds at the Grand Trunk station this morning.

This consignment, which was billed as coming from McArthur, Irwin & Co., a Montreal paint and dye firm, to H. Gill of Exeter, originally consisted of 25 cases. Where the other six cases went the authorities here are at a loss to know. The shipment had been in five large crates, each crate containing five cases. One of these five had been completely destroyed, and from a fourth one case had been taken.

Early this morning, Inspector Keenleyside received word that a suspicious-looking shipment was coming, and at 7:30 o'clock he met the freight train from which the "hooch" was to be transferred to the Huron and Bruce line. He confiscated the liquor.

The goods were worth $750 and alleged to be 75 gallons of the real paint, the bill showed.

THE MORMON HEAVEN

Theme of Sunday Discourse by Elder Jensen.

"The Mormon Heaven" was the theme of Elder Nephi Jensen at the Star Theatre last night. Elder Jensen is a former Utah lawyer, and now president of the Canadian mission. He spoke in part as follows:

"We are not seeking any mansions in the skies. The earth will be our future home. This doctrine is taught in the beatitude: 'Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.' You will notice Jesus did not say the meek 'do' inherit the earth. If he had said this he would have contradicted the human experience. For the proud and haughty now possess the earth. The beatitude promises the earth to the meek in the hereafter.

"But we do not go to our permanent future home at death, as is taught in the orthodox churches. At death we go to paradise, which is a place of probation and preparation for the final judgment. In paradise the gospel is preached. People who have not heard the truth here will have the opportunity there of believing and repenting."

SAVED FROM FINE

Tony Loschiavo, Poolroom Proprietor, Caught With Revolver in Own Place of Business.

Tony Loschiavo's proof that he was a British citizen and the fact that he was in his own place of business saved him from a fine in police court this morning when he was charged with carrying concealed weapons.

According to Loschiavo some peculiar things that had occurred around his place and the appearance of numerous strange faces, led him to bring to his poolroom on Hamilton road a pistol which he had kept at home for ten years. He was going to put it away in a drawer, but business was booming, and so he didn't have time to do so before an officer arrived.

While the gun was in his pocket he had gone into a nearby barber shop. His offence would have been more serious if he had been caught in there, the magistrate told him.

The defendant said that he had lived in this country eighteen years, had taken out naturalization papers three years ago and had an unblemished record.

CITY COUNCIL

work of the board in the past, but merely wanted to increase its usefulness for the future. Mrs. E. B. Smith and C. H. Beard were the speakers. A communication was received from the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine recommending that Dr. G. L. Jepson be one of the appointees.

Ald. J. C. Wilson, seconded by Ald. Bridge moved the appointment of Ex-Ald. O. I. Cunningham, Dr. G. L. Jepson and Ald. G. B. Drake. Ald. Moorhead moved that J. H. Saunders, last year's chairman be reappointed and Ald. Brighton moved that Mrs. Partridge, one of last year's members be appointed again. The first vote gave Cunningham and Drake each eleven votes, Jepson and Drake each six votes and Mrs. Partridge one vote, eliminating her from the running. A second vote gave Cunningham twelve votes, Drake eleven votes and Jepson and Saunders each six votes. Mayor Little broke the tie by declaring Ex-Ald. Cunningham, Ald. Drake and J. H. Saunders appointed.

Ald. J. C. Wilson, seconded by Watkinson moved the appointment of a special committee consisting of Ald. J. C. Wilson, G. B. Drake and F. E. Harley to confer with other interested bodies on the possibility of electrifying the London, Huron and Bruce line of the G. T. R. Ald. W. A. Wilson contended that it was a matter for the Dominion Government and that Major Cronyn should be approached in regard to it. The question was referred to No. 1 committee.

New City Hall.

Another important motion brought in by Ald. Moorhead and Drake was that the erection of a new city hall be considered by a special committee. This also was referred to No. 1 committee as was one by Ald. W. A. Wilson and Ald. John Ashton to petition the Legislature to change the date of municipal elections to the first Monday in December and nominations the third Friday of November.

Ald. Wilson also brought in another motion which dealt with the "crime wave." He urged that a motorcycle force of one or two men be formed immediately and "armed with sharpshooters," so that they could overhaul any automobile, and that $100 be offered for the first "hold-up" man caught. The mayor ruled that as the matter was in the hands of the police commission, the motion was out of order.

Proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. A. A. Bice, one of the newly elected school trustees. Replying to the vote of thanks for performing this office he expressed the best wishes for the success of the aldermen in their work for a year, and jocularly remarked that he hoped harmony would prevail at least to the extent where there would be no bottle throwing.

Mayor's Address.

Confirmation of the minutes of the last 1920 session was the next order of business, and this was followed by the reading of the mayor's address, which was referred to both No. 1 and No. 2 committee for consideration. The report of the striking committee was then brought in, and the following appointments were made:

Representatives to Children's Aid Society Board—Ald. Watt and Wenige.

Board of Health—Ex-Ald. O. I. Cunningham, Ald. G. B. Drake, J. H. Saunders.

Members of the Western Universiay Senate—John Dearness, Dr. F. R. Eccles and Dr. W. H. Moorhouse.

Governor of Western University—Dr. H. A. McCallum.

London Railway Commission—Ald. J. C. Wilson, Ald. John Bridge.

Directors L. and P. S. R. Company—Ald. Drake, Brighton, Watkinson, Ashton, W. A. Wilson, Watt, Wenige and the mayor.

Public Library Board—Dr. A. O. Jeffery.

Western Fair Board Representatives—Ald. Bridge, Drake, Harley, W. A. Wilson and Moorhead.

Housing Commission—R. H. Hessel and D. J. Tallant.

Representatives on Soldiers' Aid Commission—Ald. F. E. Harley.

With the appointments made today, the railway commission will consist of Sir Adam Beck, Philip Pocock, Mayor Little, Ald. J. C. Wilson and Ald. John Bridge.

The board of health will be composed of ex-Ald. Cunningham, Ald. Drake, J. H. Saunders, Mayor Little and Dr. Downham.

The housing commission will consist of Mayor Little, E. R. Dennis, J. W. Cunliffe, R. H. Hessel and D. J. Tallant. Victor Jackson, a member of last year, drops out.

PASTOR OF GREEK CHURCH DIES.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Rev. Basil Lambrides, pastor of St. Sophia's Greek Catholic Church here, died Saturday, after a brief illness. Members of the pastor's family described him as an ardent admirer of former Premier Venizelos, and the overturn of the Venizelos Government by the Royalists undoubtedly was an influence in bringing about his death. He was 57 years of age.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—
When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests
No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister.
As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house, ready for instant use.
It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).
MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

RUPTURE KILLS 7,000 ANNUALLY
Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.
But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.
The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.
Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO. Block 413, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

EVERYBODY HELP.

Police Chief Birrell, with the somewhat limited means at his command, is doing his best to cope with lawlessness in London. All the activity and responsibility, however, in combatting thieves, gamblers, gunmen and whiskey peddlers should not rest with the police department. The individual citizen can and should help by promptly and accurately notifying the police of crime whether he is the victim or not, by taking the precaution to lock up houses, stores, shops, by using safety first measures in the handling of large sums of money. In many stores and homes valuables and cash are exposed in a way that is a glaring temptation to thieves. A little more application of common sense in the protection of property on the part of the general public will help greatly towards lessening lawlessness.

OLD STUFF.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, leader of the Conservative party, in an interview today, stated that now the U. F. O. Government had had an opportunity to get settled in office, his followers would no longer feel any qualms about attacking Premier Drury's administration in the most ruthless manner, "There will be exposure," he said this morning, "which will both interest and surprise the public."

"The present administration has indulged in a perfect orgy of expenditure," he added, "more especially with regard to roads."

"When the U. F. O. Government came into power they announced that the people were going to rule, and that there would be a real democracy, with no patronage, no caucus domination and no extravagance. Yet patronage is rampant in its most vicious form all over the province."

Nobody will be deceived by this roar of G. Howard's. It's old, old stuff, long a trick of leaders of discredited administrations who endeavor to "come back." Ferguson's blare and bluster is merely an attempt to draw attention from the timber limits disclosures. It is not "exposures" of the Drury Government he holds up his sleeve that is responsible for the above ferocious shriek. The exposures the Conservative leader is really interested in are those made by the Riddell-Latchford Commission.

MRS. STEVENSON'S LIFE.

The life of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who died some five years ago, has just appeared, written by her sister. She was a wonderful woman, whom, said her loving husband, "the great Artificer made my mate." They were well mated.

She seems to have appealed to the unconventional Stevenson by her free, independent ways, her understanding and practice of art and her camaraderie. It did not detract from her charm in the romantic eyes of Stevenson that she came from the wild west of California and had been born in Indiana. He was already in love with America as expressed in Hawthorne and Whitman, and as represented by W. H. Low and others of his artist friends in Paris. Fanny Osborne completed the conquest of Stevenson by America. His "Across the Plains," a record of his journey to marry her after a two years' hungry separation, constitutes a volume of American notes that stands in sharp contrast to those of Dickens and Kipling.

Mrs. Stevenson had herself gifts as a writer. Many may perhaps enjoy her journal of their life and travels in the South Seas better than the more elaborated account published by her husband. Her practical sagacity was shown in her discovery of the infectious character of colds. Noticing that her consumptive Louis caught cold from visitors themselves suffering, she was a watchful dragon barring out even an intimate friend or a doctor if he came with a cold. Orthodox science had not then established the truth of her theory.

In spite of far worse health for a time after his marriage than before, Stevenson only then began to do his great work. Her care and sympathy alike were helpful. When they had plotted out the grim tale of "Thrawn Janet" together in a windy Scotch attic with the rain on the roof, they "crept down the stairs clinging hand in hand like two scared children." Her loving and caressing criticism caused the first draft of "Jekyll and Hyde" to be thrown into the fire, though Stevenson thought it the best thing he had ever done. He rewrote the book and made it indeed a masterpiece.

She was ten years the senior of the two. Yet Stevenson ever regarded their marriage as "the most successful in the world." It might be compared to that of the Brownings. In the latter case the invalid was the wife, who was six years older. Shakespeare got in just between the two with a wife eight years in advance of him on the pathway of life. One of these marriages was an elopement, another perhaps somewhat compulsory, and Stevenson's had to be preceded by a divorce for Mrs. Osborne. So far as history tells, Mrs. Shakespeare may have been a cipher, though her husband stuck to her and she to him. Mrs. Browning was a great poet and lover, Mrs. Stevenson was a woman "nobly planned to help, to comfort and command."

IMMIGRATION.

In view of prevalent unemployment it is important to note that the number of general laborers and mechanics coming to Canada this year is almost as great as that of farmers and farm laborers. Sixty thousand of those entering between March and October were classified as to occupation.

Eighteen thousand five hundred were farmers and farm laborers (with their wives and children they made up altogether 26,300 people for the farm) as against 17,100 mechanics and laborers who with their families, made up 26,200 people for the cities.

Ontario's share in solving the immigration problem must be large, for she receives nearly one-half of the immigrants. Of 95,000 people who emigrated to Canada between the 1st of April and the end of September, over 40,000 settled in Ontario.

THE LATE CHESTER GLASS.

The announcement of the death of Chester Glass in New York City came with startling suddenness. He left this city last Tuesday apparently in the best of health and spirits. Mr. Glass was born in this city sixty-four years ago, the only son of the late David Glass, Q.C., his mother being a daughter of the late Henry Dalton and a sister of Lady Carling.

Chester Glass received his education in this city and upon being called to the Bar at Osgoode Hall, entered into partnership with his father in the practice of law. During these early years of his practice he took a trip around the world, and wrote a very readable book of his extensive travels. At this time, too, he took an active part in the Young Liberal Club, established in the days of Colonel John Walker and was president of that organization. His father established the Agricultural Loan Company and the English Loan Company. He was very prominent politically and carried East Middlesex as a Conservative. Owing to the Pacific Scandal he opposed the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald, led the bolting members and delivered one of the ablest speeches during the debate. He was afterwards elected as a Reformer and represented East Middlesex in the House of Commons for some time.

When the first boom in the West was on both the father and son went to Winnipeg and engaged in the practice of law. David Glass became city solicitor and speaker of the Manitoba Legislature. They later went to Spokane and prospered far beyond the average.

About twenty-five years ago Chester Glass removed to New York City. He practiced law there for some years, being an expert in mining law. At the time of his death he was one of the directors of a company, likely to revolutionize the coal trade, and financed by the great banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Although a naturalized American citizen his heart was British to the last. He wrote a series of letters to the New York Times, strongly favoring and urging the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations. These letters were very able and were reproduced in the London Advertiser. He believed it would not be long until Woodrow Wilson would be acknowledged the best president the United States ever had, not excepting Washington and Lincoln. He thoroughly admired President Wilson's writings as well as his actions.

His only son served overseas, and his only daughter is married and lives in Washington. His sister, Miss Glass, after his wife's death, a few years ago, lived with him in New York City. Mr. Glass was a high-minded, polished gentleman, who had secured a high place in New York City among legal and financial circles. The greater number of men of his high character and his ability in several directions in a centre like New York City, the better will it be for the friendly relations of Great Britain and America and the best interests of the world.

A TAX ON CATS.

[Minneapolis News.]

"Why not?" is the proper comment upon the Minnesota Game Protective League's proposal to place a tax on cats. If the yellow pup, who worships, amuses and guards the freckle-nosed boy, must be taxed, why not place a similar levy upon the kitty cuddled by the flaxen-haired little girl? Cats are fine pets, and their traditional employment in exterminating mice endears them to the feminine heart. But since women got the vote they cannot consistently ask for special consideration in matters of taxation. If Towser is taxed, Tabby must take the same medicine.

BLACK AND WHITE IN CHICAGO.

[New Orleans Times-Picayune.]

Chicago has carried through its boast that it would double its negro population in the decade. The increase is 148.5 per cent, as against 21 per cent for the whites. The negroes have grown proportionately in numbers more than seven times as fast as the whites. Total negroes in Chicago, 109,594, which carries it above Baltimore, and possibly Washington, with New York probably its chief competitor. The changed conditions in this country are shown by the fact that the two cities with the largest negro population are now in the North—Chicago and New York, and that the next two, Baltimore and Washington, are in the so-called "border states," with possibly another northern city sixth, Philadelphia. The only southern city with comes anywhere near these is New Orleans, which may show a slight falling off in the number of its negroes, like the neighboring counties of Louisiana and Mississippi.

From Here and There

QUEER NAMES.

[Manchester Guardian.]

The appearance in the divorce court of a witness who, when sworn, had to admit that his rightful name was Jolly Death, makes one wonder how children thus burdened can be expected to honor their parents. The registers at Somerset House contain other appalling entries, such as: Boadicea Basher, Happy Jiggins, Haystack Brown, Anno Domini Davis, Judas Iscariot Burton, Ananias Cutting, Odious Heaton, Bovril Simpson, Sardine Box, Joscoe Ann Reynolds, River Jordan, Not Wanted Smith, One-Too-Many Simpson. Mrs. Andrew Lang relates that she once knew a courier whose children were named after the places where the father happened to be when he hard of their births. "There were a St. Petersburg and a Naples, Kattegat and Skagerrak were the twins, while the only daughter was named Vienna."

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

[Chicago Tribune.]

The smoke nuisance is almost altogether bad firing. To cure it does not take millions in new furnaces or smoke devices. It takes a little conscience on the part of the men who feed the fireboxes. At present these men are wasting millions of dollars yearly, and this waste they help to pay for. The heat which goes off in gases through bad firing, doing no one any good, adds to the high cost of living for every one of us, including the careless fireman. The unconsumed soot blackens our clothing and our dwellings, costing thousands of dollars in unnecessary laundry work. It fouls our buildings, gets into our lungs, darkens our sky, and makes Chicago less attractive to the visitors we wish to bring to our shops and markets. In short, the man who fires carelessly is a public nuisance and a bad citizen who is cheating himself, his family and his neighbors of their right to fair treatment and a decent place of habitation.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

The results in the various municipalities of the voting upon the question of daylight saving are interesting. Toronto favors its adoption this year by a substantial majority, and Kitchener, Kingston and St. Catharines have all recorded a verdict in its favor. Galt and Guelph, where the question was also subbmitted to the electorate, have voted it down. From these varied results it is obvious that a sharp difference of opinion still prevails as to the merits of the measure. The fact that the railways and the government remain on standard time makes it very awkward for those municipalities which adopt advanced time; but, notwithstanding this great disadvantage, we find Toronto and other large industrial centres willing to submit to the confusion again this year. Daylight saving must make a very strong appeal under these circumstances. Hamilton is to be congratulated on the fact that in this city, at least, we shall be saved from the inconvenience and anomaly of a double standard of time. Our previous experiences in this direction do not suggest the desirability of a repetition of the experiment.

ORIGIN OF THE BARBER POLE.

[Exchange.]

Slowly the barber pole, "signe of ye shaving shop," is disappearing. Before it goes, let's learn how it originated. It is an old business—barbering. Ezekiel, who wrote one of the prophetical books of the Old Testament, speaks of it. The barber was an institution of note in the days of ancient Greece. He flourished mightily in the Middle Ages in Europe.

And he encroached a bit on the surgeon and the dentist. That caused a strife that did not end until the French Revolution. Until then the barber "let blood" and drew teeth. From that practice came his sign, intended to let the public know that the artist could "breathe a vein" as well as shave a beard.

The spiral ribbons of the barber pole were used to indicate the bandages used before and after letting blood. And, years and years ago, the ball on the top of the pole was a copper basin with a gap on one side. That was placed about the customer's neck while being lathered to save his clothes from being soiled.

The basin is extinct, the blood-letting over, and barber poles themselves are not so prominent as once they were. But who will say that the barber's sign doesn't stick out like a drug-store on a wet and stormy night?

DECREASING FISH SUPPLY.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

The government fishery report for last month is a very discouraging one. It shows a decrease in the value of the sea catch of fish in the Atlantic and Pacific waters of the Dominion of nearly a million dollars as compared with that of November a year ago. In November, 1919, the coastal fisheries of Canada totaled 441,650 cwts, with a value of $2,138,513, while for November, 1920, the figures are only 382,208 cwts, valued at $1,155,153. It is satisfactory to see that there was an increase in the catch of herring and halibut, but there was a falling off in the catch of cod, haddock, hake and pollock on the Atlantic coast, of over 30,000 cwt, which is much to be regretted, though probably due to the stormy weather encountered by fishermen on this coast during a large part of the season. By far the largest falling off, however, has been on the Pacific coast, where the catch of salmon has been 167,000 cwts less than in November, 1919, a reduction which, it is to be feared, is largely due to the wasteful fishing of recent years, due to the erroneous supposition that the supply was practically inexhaustible. However true it may be that certain ocean-spawning fish, such as the cod, may be practically inexhaustible, it is a well-known fact that the supply of salmon has been exhausted in many rivers in the memory of the present generation of men. This, of course, is due to the fact that salmon are captured on both coasts while on their way to their spawning-grounds. It does not appear, however, that over-fishing has had anything to do with the reduced catch last month of cod, haddock, etc., and hence a more extensive prosecution of the fishery for these species and a greater encouragement of it by the government is extremely desirable. These fish feed and support themselves, and man has only to catch and use them. They ought to be the very cheapest and most plentiful, as they are among the choicest and most nutritious of our foods.

HOME THE HEART OF FARM BUSINESS.

[Farm and Ranch Review.]

The home is the place where all big business is born, and if the home is chaotic, poorly equipped and worse managed, then the chance for any great business enterprise to be created in there is very slim. This is just as true of a farm home as any other, and the farmer who must bring to bear upon his various undertakings all the mental and physical activity of which he is capable, cannot afford to neglect the home atmosphere. If he is to attack the various problems that constantly confront him with the greatest amount of energy of which he is capable, then the home where he and his family meet to discuss these problems must be conducive to the greatest mental and physical activity on the part of all concerned, and in order that the household machinery may run with the least friction and loss of strength and energy, it is necessary that the home be modern. Such improvements as water, light and heat are considered very expensive to install, but when the comfort of a home thus equipped is taken into account, crediting it not only with the greater convenience it affords, the lesser amount of work necessary for its upkeep, but also the mental rest to be attained in such a home, the initial cost dwindles into insignificance. Any up-to-date farmer who values the health, strength, comfort, and convenience of the members of his household, and the mental stimulus arising from bodily comfort, cannot afford to remain inactive when it comes to modernizing his home.

Poetry and Jest

A SONG FOR THE NEW YEAR.

A song for the New Year! Exultant its hours,
The dust of defeat had not sullied its flowers,
But fancy hath dipped them in rosea dew,
And brought them, all blooming, in beauty, to you!

A song for the New Year! A clarion strong;
Achievement through service, refreshment through song!
No mountain too mighty for faith to remove;
No labor too lowly, transfigured by love!

A song for the New Year! A message of joy;
May never a discord its music alloy!
But, growing in sweetness and melody clear,
May it ever inspirit and strengthen and cheer!

THINGS I HAVE LIVED TO SEE.

[Hannibal Harris.]

How things have changed since I was a boy,
What different means we now employ
To plow the land and the grain to sow,
To what we did long years ago.

Where I followed the single-furrow plow
The tractor turns three furrows now,
And where the grain was sown by hand
A drill is used to seed the land.

The binder works where cradles swung
On the old home farm when I was young,
And with a machine the horses mow
Where swung the scythe those years ago.

In horseless carriage I swiftly go
Where the pioneer went with his oxen slow.
One scarce believes, but it is true,
That men now soar where the eagle flew.

And in my chair I sit today
And talk to my friends who are miles away,
All that I have to do is to call
Into a contrivance on the wall.

And these are things I've lived to see,
That I scarcely dreamed could ever be;
I wonder will the boy of today
When he grows old have the same to say.

STRENGTH FOR YOUNG MOTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restores Health and Strength.

Lansing, Mich.—"After the birth of my child I was not able to stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not get up. I suffered such pains in my back I could not work or hardly take care of my baby. One of my neighbors recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I got better right away and was soon a new woman and could work hard, and I can recommend these remedies to other young mothers who are weak and ailing as I was."—Mrs. ORA O. BOWERS, 621 S. Hosmer Street, Lansing, Mich.

Women who are in Mrs. Bowers' condition should not continue to suffer from weakness and pain—but profit from her experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience is at your service.

SoPure, SoRich, SoConvenient

You Need No Other Milk Supply

The Label is Red and White

MILK delivered the Carnation way offers you many advantages. It reaches your table as fresh and pure as milk can be. The fresh whole milk is brought to the Carnation condenseries, which lie right in the heart of Canada's finest dairy counties, and part of the water is taken away by evaporation. It is then sealed in clean, new containers.

And its safety is doubly assured by sterilization.

This freshness, purity and safety are alone vital reasons why you will prefer to use Carnation Milk.

But you will like it also for its wonderful convenience.

You can keep as much of it as you like on your pantry shelves and open it as you need fresh milk. You always have milk "on time" for breakfast—never "run short" of milk for the children to drink—are never without milk to make custards, puddings or sauces to serve unexpected guests.

And you have milk that can be used as cream for coffee, tea, cereals and fruit.

For ordinary use, cooking and baking, you must add water to Carnation Milk—at least an equal part—to restore it to milk of natural consistency and richness.

You can use Carnation for all your cooking—there is no sugar, no preservative of any kind or anything else in Carnation Milk.

Ask your grocer—the Carnation Milkman—to send you several tall cans (16 oz. size) or a case of 48 cans. One week's trial of this modern convenient milk supply and you will never want to go back to ordinary milk.

How Carnation Milk is kept safe and pure—why it adds a new richness to all dishes prepared with milk—what new, delightful dishes can be prepared with Carnation—all are told in a 32-page booklet "The Story of Carnation Milk"—the book of 100 Tested Recipes, free for the asking. A number of assistants will include Miss Margaret McCrimmon, Miss Ora White, Miss Jean Waugh, Miss Gladys Vandermade, Miss Connie Weld, Mrs. Hamilton Bingle, Miss Carrie Pitchett, Miss Eula White, Mrs. Eric Reid, Mrs. Archie Becher and Mrs. Egleton. Mrs. E. H. Johnston is convener of the "At Home," which promises to be one of the most delightful of its kind and very largely attended.

YEO—CLARKE.

On New Year's Day a very pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of London Street Methodist Church, Windsor, with Rev. A. E. Moorehouse officiating, when Sarah Helen Clark, second daughter of Mr. A. J. Clark of Windsor, became the bride of Stanley Dibb Yeo, of London, son of W. D. Yeo. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Myrtle A. Clark, while Mr. Gordon Young was the groomsman. The happy couple received many beautiful presents.

McGUIRE—LAMON.

Ferndale, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Lamon, Windsor, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday evening last, when their only daughter, Thelma, was united in marriage to Donald A. McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murdock McGuire of Goderich. The house was beautifully decorated throughout with ferns, roses and carnations, and the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Robt. Hicks, took place before a bank of palms and ferns arranged in the drawing-room.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a French gown of kitten's ear crepe embroidered in pearls, with long bridal veil, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of sweetheart roses and pink buds. Miss Ethyl Nudds of Hamilton, who acted as bridesmaid, was prettily frocked in turquoise blue trimmed with fur. A black net hat and armful of American Beauty roses completed her costume. Mr. G. Johnston of Windsor attended the groom. During the signing of the register, Miss Pearl Page of London, wearing a becoming gown of silver cloth with crystal trimming, sang "The Crown," while Miss Guilds played the wedding music.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver, to the bridesmaid a cameo necklace, and to the best man a silver cigarette case.

A reception and supper followed the ceremony, the bride's table being prettily arranged with streamers of white satin ribbon and pink roses, and centred with the wedding cake. The bride's cake, made in the form of a double heart, was cut at a side table.

Mr. and Mrs. McGuire left on a honeymoon trip to points east and on their return will reside in Detroit. The bride's traveling costume was a suit of navy tricotine with hat to match and black fox furs. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. H. Griffith and Mrs. J. Jones of London.

CONTRACT LET FOR CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL AT TRUST MEETING

Work Will Commence At Once, Says John Putherbough, the Contractor.

At a meeting of the children's hospital trust held at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon with Col. Wm. Gartshore, the chairman, presiding, definite action was at last taken in letting the contract for the building of the new hospital to John Putherbough of this city. The children's hospital trust, the members of which include C. R. Hunt, C. R. Somerville, W. F. D. Jarvis, Dr. W. J. Tillmann and Gen. H. A. Panet feels at liberty to go ahead and let the contract for the new building, because the people of London supported the institution so splendidly at the last election.

Mr. Putherbough, in whose hands the building has now been left, says that work on it will be commenced at once, it being possible to excavate and lay foundations at this time of the year. The hospital will be built on the Ottaway property just east of the new medical school and opposite Victoria Hospital.

MUSIC CLUB CONCERT.

A very delightful artist's concert is promised by the Women's Music Club for next Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, when the program will be given by Campbell McInness, the distinguished baritone, who visited the city last year. He will be assisted by George Reeves, the Toronto pianist, about whom so much is being said favorably. Last year Mr. McInness' program was a delightful one, largely made up of folk songs and childhood melodies. This year he is giving something heavier, and among the numbers will be the well-known Schuman group, "The Poet's Love," and by special request he will sing "Forsaken."

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CIII.—Exposure Threatened.

Fred Delaunay—my erstwhile lover—and the French widow sat for a moment in a silence that was tense, facing each other with hatred in their eyes and hearts.

A man like Fred—despite his surface gallantry—always has a certain amount of antagonism for the weaker sex rooted in him. He despises women. They are his toys, his playthings.

But when they become dangerous—as Julie was becoming now—he hates them.

"You'll summon the police?" he sneered, all the prettiness gone from his manner. "These are hard words, indeed!"

Julie did not move an inch. Her eyes were levelled directly on him.

"Hard words are what you understand. I mean them, too."

The man opposite her flung back his head and gave a grating laugh.

"You can't. I know too much about you, and your little games, my pretty lady."

"Blackmail! You're true to form, Freddie, just as I thought. But you can't harm me." She smiled an enigmatic little smile.

He leaned towards her.

"I grant you have little to lose. All the same, some of my information about you may be interesting to—the police!"

She did not wince. Not a hint of fear appeared in her bright eyes.

"You can do your worst, I defy you. You're a cad, Fred Delaunay—and I utterly despise you."

He bowed in mock gratitude.

"Mightily obliged, I'm sure."

Then, glancing at me:

"This mutual exchange of compliments must be highly entertaining for Anne—I beg your pardon—Mrs. Saunders."

He rose as if to go.

"There's no point in my remaining with you, since you're so abusive." He faced Julie for a moment. "Excuse me, please."

She thrust herself across his path.

"You can't escape from this hotel tonight," she said, a veiled look of triumph on her pretty face. "My detective-pal is hanging round, 'shadowing' you. If you make any attempt to clear out, you'll find yourself under arrest."

He showed a flicker of alarm.

"Tomorrow morning, first thing, you take a train to town, accompanied by me and this 'pal' of mine. Oh, yes, you do. There's no getting out of it. We go with you to the bank and you withdraw your twenty-five hundred dollars—Anne's money—and close the account and give the cash back where it belongs. Do you hear?"

"I hear. I should think the whole hotel would hear, too, if you don't lower your voice." This very frigidly.

"Don't try to be haughty. It won't work with me." Julie moved closer to him. "As for 'squealing' on me to the police, there's not a single legal charge that you can bring against me. I, however, know enough about you, Fred Delaunay, to make New York or any other decent town too hot for you!"

She drew a quick breath.

"I'm going to give you a fair chance, all the same—for the sake of a sneaking sort of liking that I used to have for you! We women are sentimental idiots!"

Fred instantly determined to follow up this softened mood, and profit by it. He definitely turned his back on me, and lowered his voice in addressing Julie to an almost caressing note.

They talked together for a few moments. Then Fred walked away.

A triumphant little smile curved the Frenchwoman's lips.

"You'll get your twenty-five hundred back tomorrow, all right, Anne. I've put the fear of death into him! He's a moral coward, Fred Delaunay! I've 'got him with the goods, and he'll have to pay! He understands that now."

She caught me by the arm, giving me a solicitious look.

"Poor little Anne! You look quite pale! I'd forgotten that you're more sensitive than Freddie, and I don't mind a 'scene—we've been brought up in a harder school than you, dear."

"I—I feel as though I'd hate to touch the money." My lips were trembling, and my knees felt weak.

"You little goose! Besides, it isn't all your money. Didn't you borrow a thousand of it to lend to precious Freddie?"

I nodded.

"Then don't be silly. Take it back. And consider yourself extraordinarily lucky to get it. If it hadn't been for me—why, Anne, you're unfit to run 'round the world alone! You'll be 'done' by any prepossessing rogue that comes along! Oh, I beg your pardon—I forgot for the moment that you're a married lady and have a sensible fellow to look after you. You need him!"

A wan smile came to my lips.

"We'll go upstairs now, and examine the famous trousseau," she continued, in a lighter vein. "My dear, I'm enchanted with your success tonight. You looked too lovely. All you need is correct dressing, Anne—and a female friend behind you—such as myself—"

She broke off suddenly, for Margery Langhorne was seen approaching.

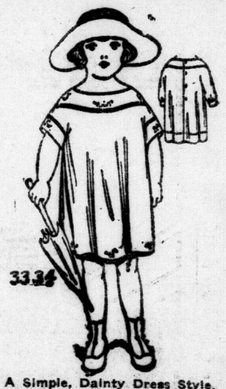

Julie whispered, meaningly:

"Beware of that Langhorne woman! She's a cat! She adores your Neil! And she is dangerous!"

MOSES WAS FIRST BIG LABOR LEADER, SAYS W. H. STEWART

Addressed Women's University Club Saturday Night On "Trade Unionism."

A very fine talk on "Trade Unionism" was given on Saturday evening by W. H. Stewart of the trades and labor council before the University Women's Club at the Western U. arts building. Dealing with his subject in a practical way, the speaker told of the progress of trade unionism from its beginning to the present day, referring more especially to the guilds and trade unions of England. Mr. Stewart claimed Moses as the first great labor leader, when he organized the children of Israel, who were working under the most terrible of conditions in Egypt, and led them forth to the Promised Land.

The very bad condition under which labor was carried on in England under the feudal system of the middle ages was touched upon, as well as the early organization of the trade guilds in that country. He referred especially to the educational influence which these guilds had had on the old land, telling how nearly all the scholarships to Cambridge and Oxford and other English universities were endowed by these trade guilds, and how the majority of the English technical schools had been built by money raised by the guilds.

Women and Trade Unions.

Referring to women in trade unions, the speaker told of how some of the finest trade organization work had been done by women. He spoke of how woman had been used against man in the labor world by employers, who hired women for less pay just because they were women. He mentioned especially the splendid teachers' organizations and invited the women to come and attend the trades and labor council meetings.

"If there is any policy of ours with which you do not agree, then it is up to you to come to our meetings and voice your views. In the matter of securing better wages, you will find collective bargaining better than individual bargaining."

Short Paper.

Previous to the talk a short paper on "The Struggle Between Trade Unionism and Industrial Unionism of the Present Time" was read.

A letter from the Local Council of Women, asking the club to affiliate with that organization, was read, but was tabled until it was found out whether the Dominion Federation of University Women, of which the local club is a branch, were affiliated with the National Council of Women. Miss Minhinnick was elected the club's representative on the Dominion Federation executive in place of Miss Bessie Mossop, who has left the city.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the end of the month, when Miss Whitton of the Dominion Social Service Council will give an address on "Guild Socialism, Syndicalism and the Soviet."

At the close of Saturday night's meeting coffee was served in the women's room upstairs, the committee in charge of the meeting including Miss Ethel Stockwell, Miss Doris Liddicoatt, Miss Smith and Miss Skelton.

Puppy Stories

THE CURIOUS PUP.

Part Three.

There! Poor Nibbles was frozen as hard as a rock. All the cold feeling had left him now, but of course he could not move his head, his paws or even wag his little stub of a tail. He might just as well be dead, he thought. It was strange that he wasn't dead, but although he was as helpless as ever he could be he was very much alive inside, and his little mind was working swiftly.

The balloon, like the bad old thing it was, had planned all this, Nibbles thought. It had carried him high above the clouds and into the cold regions, where everything was frozen hard. How he wished he had never climbed into the basket.

Suddenly there was a grating sound. The balloon came to a stop. Out shot the balloon ropes, and the first thing Nibbles knew the balloon was tied fast to a great big icicle that was sticking out of a mountain of ice.

"Ho, ho!" cried a crusty old voice. "What have we here? Upon my soul, a pup! Frozen as hard as an icicle, too! You are to blame for this, Mr. Balloon, you are up to your old tricks again. For shame!"

And with that the little old man—for it was a little old man, all dressed in white from head to foot, and with icicles hanging from his snowy hair and beard—picked the frozen pup from the bottom of the basket and looked him over. Next he sounded Nibbles' heart to see if it was still beating.

"He is alive and well inside," the crusty old man declared joyfully. "I'll carry him off to my children, and we will do our best to thaw him out."

"He climbed into my basket when no one was around. He deserves to be frozen," the balloon whispered in its soft, mean, breezy voice.

"As if that's any offence! I have a notion to keep you tied to that icicle for all the rest of your days," said the little old man, angrily.

"If you do I'll sail away with your ice mountain," the balloon threatened.

"I'll pull it down onto all the people in the world."

"Phew!" the little old man answered. "Just try and see if you can!"

The balloon did try. It fretted and fumed and blew and bubbled, but it could not get itself free from the icicle, so what chance had it to pull over the great ice mountain.

"You can't fool old Jack Frost," laughed the little man. "I freeze things up tight when I freeze—I make sure of my prisoners."

So this little old man was Jack Frost! Nibbles listened in dismay.

"Well, it's time I took this pup to be thawed out by my children, March Wind and April Shower," Jack Frost said, and with that he started off with the frozen pup under his arm.

Ans.—Many thanks for such a generous mite, Agnes; also for the good wishes.

Witch Hazel Returns.

Dear Miss Grey,—I came back again because you urged me so cordially. I have cut out Molly Make-Believe's letter for my own scrapbook, and I want to tell her that it was very wonderful to see my letter so highly praised. I haven't been able to roam the woods lately, chiefly because I have been roaming the wilderness of London's shops in search of gifts. So I have been studying a little human nature instead of the wild kind. It is really delightful to make mental notes of all one sees and hears on the streets, and in the stores, and to play at mind reading and character study. There are such curious and amusing people to see, everywhere one goes, and it is very interesting to speculate on who they all are and where they are going. Of course, we see many folks who excite our pity and make our helpless hearts yearn over them, for Christmas certainly draws us closer together and makes us remember how very, very little difference there is between the high and the low. For we think that He, whom the rich and the poor may worship alike was born in a stable in Bethlehem, and that He cares nothing for titles or wealth. Now, Miss Grey, I did not mean to sermonize. Best wishes for the season, your runaway.

WITCH HAZEL.

Ans.—We are very glad to receive another of your very interesting letters. Please do not stay away so long next time, Witch Hazel, as we all enjoy your letters so much. If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I shall fill your request.

MAINES LEADS MINORS IN ATTEMPT FOR CONCESSIONS FROM MAJORS

The Whole Administration of Baseball Hinges On What Happens This Week in Chi —Moguls Already Gathering.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The advance guard of major and minor baseball magnates who will confer here next week to weave the fabric of government under which baseball will be administered in the future began arriving here today.

A week of hard work of planning for baseball's future and for the impending season is faced by the moguls.

Schedules To Be Drawn.

Schedule committees of the American and National Leagues made up the advance guard. The plan of the 1921 playing season is to be drafted and got out of the way before the joint meeting of major and minor league magnates convenes next week.

The minor league delegation also is assembling and laying plans for forcing from the majors certain desired concessions in the new national agreement. One faction of the minors, led by George H. Maines, president of the Michigan-Ontario League, is preparing to put up a vigorous battle against the major-minor agreement as drafted by a major league attorney.

Class AA Leagues Back.

The minors also are staging something of a fracas among themselves. The class AA leagues, having removed the salary limit, are opposing restoration of the draft, one of the features of the proposed agreement. Some of the smaller minor leagues are in favor of the draft proposal. The question of the draft apparently will be one of the chief bones of contention at next week's meetings.

The outcome of the forthcoming meetings is expected to be a set of rules under which Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's new high commissioner, will be empowered to administer the affairs of the national pastime. Certain amendments clarifying the rights and status of the minor leagues, with reference to their relations to the majors, however, are likely to be wrung from the big league magnates.

L. C. I. GIRLS ON HIKE

The L. C. I. Girls' Athletic Association took a "hike" under the direction of Miss Dorothy McCann Saturday, going first to the Kennels and returning by way of the old Proof Line. The party ended up at the King street Y. W. C. A. for a self-serve supper, after which they were addressed by Prof. Mel G. Brock of Western University, who outlined the big interscholastic athletic and literary program now being worked out. The address aroused much enthusiasm in its outline of the closer relationship of all schools the program will usher in.

STRATFORD TEAM HAVE FIVE GAMES THIS WEEK

STRATFORD, Jan. 9.—The local hockey team has a busy week ahead of them, five games being scheduled, three at home and two away. On Tuesday New Hamburg Intermediates come here and the Midgets go to Waterloo. Thursday night the Avons go into their first game against Mitchell here, and on Friday night the Midgets meet Kitchener here. The Thursday evening the return game will be played with New Hamburg Intermediates.

All three teams are shaping up fine.

GUELPH KIDS PUT UP STIFF ARGUMENT AGAINST MIDGETS

Morenz and Carson Again Mainstays of Much-Touted Classic City Crew.

GUELPH, Jan. 8.—The Stratford Midgets made their initial debut before a crowd of Guelph hockey enthusiasts here tonight when, in a Junior O. H. A. fixture they trimmed the local youngsters 6 to 3.

The fast sextette from the Classic City found the Guelph lads a tough proposition and had to exert themselves to the limit to pull off a win. Despite mild weather the ice was in splendid shape and the game was lightning fast from start to finish.

Morenz of the Midgets was the star of the evening, while his team mate, Carson, also played a great game. Coach Dick Carroll of the Kitchener seniors, who has been training the Guelph juniors was greatly pleased with the showing the team made against the much-heralded Stratford aggregation.

The teams:

Whole Pack of Bantams on Trail of New Champion

Even Jack Sharkey, K. O.'d Twice in Last Few Weeks, Wants a Title Chance.

It invariably follows when a new ruler ascends the boxing hights the particular division in which the elevation occurs receives a stimulus.

Such a reawakening of interest and activity may be expected of the bantamweight class now that Joe Lynch has replaced Pete Herman. Lynch has not been in possession of the title for a week as yet, still contenders in different parts of the country are deluging him with challengers. Pal Moore, Joe Burman, Carl Tremaine and the irrepressible Jack Sharkey—the last named despite his knockout of a few weeks back—are already on the new champion's trail.

Wants To Take a Rest.

Lynch, just now, is not concerned with the challenges hurled at him. He is occupied with plans for an extended vacation. The new champion declares that when he returns to the ring he will give all his qualified rivals a chance at the title. If he adheres to that plan the conquerer of Herman is assured a busy career in the immediate future.

Just how long Lynch will retain his title is a matter of considerable comment. A number incline to the belief that he is too large of frame to remain long in the ring's midget class. It is a dread to all small boxers particularly when they attain the championship hights, this matter of increasing size and the natural addition of weight.

The belief is general that, unless Lynch wants to sacrifice his strength or endanger his health, he must soon vacate the bantamweight ranks and compete as a featherweight. Excessive weight reducing exercises will keep him at the 118-pound notch, no doubt, and permit him to accumulate the reward which now attaches to his ring career with the possession of the title.

No Need of It.

On the other hand, the work required for this task is dangerous to a point which should discourage it for the sake of keeping him a bantamweight in stature, when he probably would experience a similar success as a heavier boxer.

Lynch's manager, Eddie Mead, who has been associated with the champion since he started his ring career, scouts the theory that Lynch is too big. The boxer's appearances are deceptive, he says. Admitting the truth of Manager Mead's assertion, then there is no reason to believe that Lynch will be deposed of his newly-won laurels in the immediate future. The lad who vanquished Herman outranks the country's present crop of bantamweight boxers. There is every indication, too, that Lynch will be numbered among the division's most popular leaders. He is of the active and combative type, not the passive careful school typified in his predecessor.

ACADIANS COME FROM BEHIND IN THIRD GAME AND STAVE OFF TORONTO CHALLENGERS

Glidden Varnish Had the Stuff Brushed On For 10-Point Lead At End of Second Game—Locals Rolled 939 in Last.

Visions of the Glidden Varnish Five, which invaded the city Saturday night in quest of the McCallum Trophy, tucking the silverware in a packing box labelled Toronto, were strong at the end of the second game. The quintet from the Queen City, where the cup has been wont to gather dust, had a ten-point lead to go in for the final effort. Albright and Stewart were the only ones of the invaders to keep up a pace in the third game, however, and the steady, though not brilliant, trundling of the Acadians pulled them up to a 939 total, against 869 spilled by the challengers. Wilson with 226 led the noise-making, and Bell and Benedict got right behind him with 195 and 201 respectively.

In a doubles after the main event, Farley and Albright, a Toronto pair, took Wilson and Jones over the bumps for three straight wins.

TWO NAP GARDENERS HAD 8 PUTOUTS IN ONE GAME LAST YEAR

Speaker and Jamieson Absorbed That Many One Afternoon.

(By Ernest J. Lanigan).

Cleveland possessed the only two outfielders able to absorb eight flies in nine inning games last year. Charley Jamieson, left fielder, having a record of this kind against Washington on July 27, and Tris Speaker, centre fielder, making a carbon copy of the performance on September 5. Seven putouts was the limit of the activities of a right fielder on the junior circuit in a game of regulation length in 1920, with only one man thus active. He was Ira Flagstead of the Tigers and he turned the trick on May 6 in the game with the Browns.

There was no game in the American last year in which the suburbanites didn't get a putout. Sixteen were played in which only one fly was raked in by three meadowmen, the Athletics figuring in five, the Tigers and Yankees in three, the Browns in two and the Red Sox, Senators and Indians in one.

The high mark in assists for outfielders was reached by Tris Speaker on April 25, when he had four in the game with St. Louis. Against the White Sox, on September 21, Tilly Walker of the A's, assisted three times from his position in left.

Detroit's outfielders made 14 catches against Boston on July 14 and thirteen days later Washington's suburbanites did the same thing against Cleveland.

These were the busy days for the American League outfielders in 1920 in nine inning games:

Man's glory is his strength

MAN'S ability to perform feats of strength to do things other men could not do has always been his stepping stone to power and position.

Every man wants to be a leader in his own line of work or sphere in life.

Unless a man is a genius or superman he can only attain his objective when he has strength—to have strength he must have health—to have health he must be full blooded, his heart strong and his nerves steady.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have assisted many a man who was facing a crucial test and was not at the moment just feeling his best.

How about yourself? Are you facing some task requiring all your strength and "Your Nerve"?

Do as hundreds of others have done, have a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at hand and take them according to directions.

They have helped other men past the trying or testing time and may enable you to carry on and win and keep the position you so much desire.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by

Headaches
Make Life Miserable

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains; sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed, the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keep the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is proof enough to show that it will climinate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Lanain, Owen Sound, Ont., writes: "My system was run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head, which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health, so I took another, and am glad to say that it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends, who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

LONDON WOMAN PICKED RIGHT UP FROM START

Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Was Amazed At the Way Tanlac Overcame Her Trouble—Sleeps Like a Child All Night Now.

According to the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have used it, there is nothing more invigorating than Tanlac to persons suffering from the after-effects of influenza, la grippe, typhoid, pneumonia, or a serious operation, or who are in a rundown condition. Another striking instance of this is the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Gray of 12 Elmwood avenue, London, Ont., Canada, who made the following statement:

"For two years I was in a very bad state of health and my appetite was so poor that I had no interest whatever in mealtimes. I was constipated most of the time, and suffered from the most dreadful headaches, which so affected my nerves that I could hardly stand the children around me. At such times, too, I would have spells of dizziness, when I would nearly topple over. I had rheumatism badly in my knees and ankles, which pained me so badly that sometimes when downtown I could hardly get home. I was very weak, and it was only by frequently resting that I was able to do the housework. I just felt tired and languid all the time, and it was misery to try and get around, and I was really desperate to know what to do.

"I had read so much in the London papers of the great good that people were deriving from Tanlac that I decided to try it, too, and I must confess that I was amazed at the good results which I got from even the first bottle. I began to pick up right from the start, and soon had an appetite such as I had not known for years. I was able to take good nourishing food and I put on flesh rapidly. I am never troubled with headaches or dizziness now. The rheumatism seems to have left me entirely, so that I haven't an ache or a pain left in my body. I sleep like a child all night, and get up in the mornings feeling fully rested and strong enough for any task. Tanlac is a most wonderful medicine and I am delighted to have the chance to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Next Games.

Wednesday—St. Pats at Hamilton and Canadiens at Ottawa.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—Furnishing the greatest surprise of the professional hockey season, Canadiens, tail-enders in the National Hockey League standing, defeated the champion Ottawas Saturday night at the Mount Royal arena here by 5 to 4 after a gruelling exhibition of hockey. Although the champions tied the score twice and showed in front for a short time in the second period they were outplayed the greater part of the time.

"Newsy" Lalonde was the outstanding player on the ice, engineering the majority of the attacks and accounting for three of the five goals, scoring two himself and assisting in the goal scored by Arbour in the opening of the second period. At the commencement of each period Canadiens started with almost an entirely forward line and this again was invariably changed before the period was more than half completed. Ottawa could not do this, and moreover suffered a good deal from penalties and accidents.

The only demonstration occurred during the third period, when Lalonde scored a goal that was disallowed by Referee Smeaton. The ruling of the official brought cheering and booing in turn. Lalonde showed a display of temper and grabbed Smeaton in the heat of argument, but got away with it without a penalty. The penalties were minor ones, with one exception, that being when Boucher tossed Berlinquette by a deliberate trip and was given a major, Ottawa being forced to play a man short while the penalty lasted.

HAMILTON BEATS ST. PATS RIGHT AT HOME

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—In their first appearance at the Toronto Arena, Hamilton's professional hockey team Saturday night defeated St. Patricks by 3 to 2, after five minutes' overtime play. The teams were well matched and the game was a good exhibition. St. Patricks seemed to be in better condition than their opponents, but this was not sufficient to depress the scale in their favor. This was the Tigers' third game within a week. Vernon Forbes was in the nets for St. Patricks, and was a vast improvement over Mitchell. Stewart, the Amherst, N.S., player, did not make train connection at Montreal and was not in time for the game.

Hamilton scored twice in the second period, and in the third Dye scored twice for St. Patricks, the second goal coming when only 30 seconds of play remained. The "babe" was temporarily the most popular man in Toronto and pandemonium reigned among the 6,000 spectators. St. Patricks' hopes were blasted, however, when, after five minutes' overtime, Couture beat Forbes for the winning goal. The line-up:

Suggest Coves for O.H.A. Team

The London Intermediates open here next Friday night with the Pan Drieds of Tillsonburg. There is no ice in sight, but there are five days, in which the weatherman can change his tactics and do his best instead of his awful worst of the past few weeks.

The Coves are in great shape now, and about the best chance the Intermediates will have to get their ice legs is to journey down there with the kids. It is possible that Coach Walden will call a practice for the Coves if ice is not here by Wednesday, and there are chances of a surface by Friday night. It would be the only hope. The Pan Drieds have had several good games against their juniors, have had numerous ice practices, and are quite certain to have ice this week before the game with any frost at all.

VARSITY'S WIN GAVE THEM CUP AND OPENING GAME

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—Varsity defeated De La Salle in an O. H. A. junior fixture here on Saturday by 4 to 3. As both teams were finalists in the contest for the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association Cup, it was agreed before the game was played that the one contest should do double duty and decide the S. P. A. title as well as the "prep" game in the O. H. A. It was a hot contest throughout. The first period ended with the score: Varsity 2, De La Salle 1; second period: Varsity 3, De La Salle 2, and final score Varsity 4, De La Salle 3.

LONDON NEEDS HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

Dr. H. A. McCallum Addresses Rotary Club.

TWENTIETH CENTURY

Belongs to the Children, Says Dean of Western Medical School.

There was a large attendance of Rotarians at their weekly luncheon to hear a series of interesting statements regarding the project of a children's hospital for London. Rotarian James Gray presided and called upon Dr. Hugh McCallum to address the meeting.

Dr. McCallum said that in no other city on this continent was there a children's hospital being erected as a war memorial. There had been no attempt to keep pace with the changing years. Elsewhere someone had said: "The 17th century was Versailles—its pomp and imperialism; the 18th was for man, the 19th was for humanity"; but, said the doctor, "the 20th is the century of the child and child life." The Daughters of the Empire had caught an inspiration to blend the ancient and the modern. The age-long cenotaph of the pagans was changed from an empty tomb to a structure containing living childhood.

The speaker pointed out that one of the foremost children's hospitals of the continent is situated at Toronto. Last year there were admitted to its beds nearly 5,000 children, and out of these Western Ontario furnished 60 patients, eight coming from Middlesex, including London. It was, therefore, impossible for Toronto's hospital to serve Western Ontario.

If London is to be the metropolis of Western Ontario it must have a children's hospital of 100 beds. Victoria and St. Joseph's hospitals have only 25 beds allocated to children, and last year these beds held over 1,000. If we had a separate hospital more than double the number of sick children could have been provided for.

The presence of such a hospital would mean the location here of the best kind of specialists in the different diseases of childhood, and our medical graduates and nurses would be better trained. While correcting many deformities and saving many lives its influence would enter many homes, rich and poor.

"There is no question of the success of this hospital, either in erection or maintenance," said the doctor, "but let us not be feeble in our effort nor chicken-hearted in courage, in carrying this project to a triumphant issue."

Dr. Jack Ferguson said that there was not a city of the size of London on the continent that was better equipped for caring for adults, nor another where children were so inadequately cared for.

Dr. Septimus Thomson also gave an interesting address on "Children's Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat." The meeting resolved to support the hospital project to the utmost.

At the beginning of the proceedings the Rotarians stood at silent attention for one minute in memory of their late member, Charley Maguire, and Rev. D. C. MacGregor offered prayer.

C. E. Bement of Lansing, Michigan, was a guest of the meeting and received this week's prize.

W. F. Marshall, Westervelt School, was admitted as a member.

PRISONER BURNS TO DEATH IN CELLS IN SWIFT CURRENT FIRE

City Hall in Western Town Is Completely Gutted.

Moose Jaw, Jan. 10.—The city hall at Swift Current was completely gutted by fire which was discovered at 6:30 o'clock this morning by the janitor. One man, an Austrian, who lost his life in the fire, was a prisoner in the police cells in the building, having been taken into custody at midnight. At 10 o'clock the fire had not spread to any other buildings.

Only portions of the walls of the hall remain standing.

CHINA AND JAPAN HAVE REACHED SETTLEMENT ON NIKOLAIEVEK INCIDENT

Tokio, Jan. 10.—Japan and China, according to newspaper reports, have concluded an agreement closing the incident at Nikolaievek, Siberia last spring, when a Chinese warship fired on Japanese subjects during the fighting, with Russian partisans, during which several hundred Japanese were reported to have been killed.

The Chinese Government and also the officers of the warship, the newspapers say, will apologize, and China will pay 30,000 yen as compensation to the families of the Japanese killed.

MORRISON TO ARGUE AGAINST ADMITTANCE FOREIGNERS TO U. S.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Labor officials favoring a prohibition against immigration to the United States were listed among those to testify today before the Senate immigration commission. Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, had requested a hearing, saying he desired to testify regarding the undesirability, from labor's standpoint, of admitting foreigners to the United States under present conditions, of unemployment and industrial reorganization.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.—At a special meeting of the Baptist ministers held this morning final arrangements were made for a one-day convention for all the leaders, teachers and Baptist ministers of Baptist churches in Middlesex County, to be held in Talbot Street Baptist Church on January 27. Rev. John McNeil of Toronto, will be the special speaker. An afternoon and evening session will be held, with a banquet at 6 o'clock.

MINISTER OF LABOR TAKES EXCEPTION TO CHURCH'S REMARKS

Claims Declarations Attributed to Mayor Are Incorrect.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—(Canadian Press).—A telegram informing Mayor Church of Toronto, that statements attributed to him and published in the newspapers in regard to the Federal Government's employment scheme are absolutely incorrect, was sent today by Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor. Mayor Church was quoted as saying that the Dominion Government did not intend to do anything for unemployment, and was just playing with the municipalities. This. the minister of labor states, is untrue, and he emphasizes the point that the Dominion Government is prepared to do exactly what it undertook in the matter of dealing with unemployment. The telegram is as follows:

"This morning's press quotes you as saying that the Dominion Government does not intend doing anything for unemployment, and is just playing with the municipalities, and that it has sent out a questionnaire to the provinces. If you are quoted correctly, would be glad to know on what information or authority you base such a statement, as it is wholly incorrect. Full information as to the Federal Government's proposal to pay one-third of emergency relief in any municipality, leaving the municipality to be the sole judge as to necessity for and extent of relief to be given, as the Federal Government is necessarily unable to ascertain details or merits of the individual cases, has been sent to the provincial premiers. Regulations and forms of application necessary to protect the public interest were printed on December 23, and distributed to employment service offices throughout Canada. Please be assured that the Federal Government meant exactly what it said, and if any delay or neglect is occurring, the responsibility for same is not with us."

U. S. CONGRESS WILL CONSIDER QUESTION OF DISARMAMENT

Subject Will Be Fully Discussed This Week.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—The subject of disarmament is expected to be prominently in the minds of members of the United States Congress this week.

Impetus to the discussion revolving around the general subject of reduction of seapower undoubtedly will be given by committee meetings. The chief of these meetings, according to indications today, will be the session tomorrow of the House naval affairs committee, at which Secretary Daniels has been asked to give available Government information as to the naval strength, present and projected, of the principal powers of the world.

The Senate foreign relations committee also may consider disarmament question as presented in resolutions recently.

OTTAWA POLICE ASK TORONTO AUTHORITIES TO SURRENDER MAN

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Inspector Joliat of the Ottawa police has wired the Toronto police asking for Fred Freeman, alias Edward Carson, who was arrested in Toronto on January 3, on a charge of vagrancy. Freeman, who is known in Ottawa as Edward Carson, escaped from the county jail on October 28, 1917, via a coal chute. He was sentenced to six months in jail on September 12, 1917, for stealing. Identification was established by fingerprints sent from Ottawa. Carson's companion, at the time of his escape from jail, was captured after a short chase.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—The tenacity with which Dominion Government securities are being held has been demonstrated during the past two or three sessions of the Toronto Stock Exchange and this morning trading in Victory bonds proved the feature of the morning's business. Prices of the various issues have been gradually advancing, and some are now selling at prices nearly as high as those established by the government during the past year. Gains of large fractions were again the order this morning.

Stocks showed a tendency to weaken, bu there were no chanes of gany importance.

Gold premiums at Lisbon, 140.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Bears had an advantage in the wheat market today, owing to the fact that this has been a traditional favorite date for calenar speculators to take to the selling side. A notable lack of buying power was evident. Besides, the Southwest reported fairly liberal country offerings to arrive, and a slow demand. Opening quotations, which ranged from unchanged figures to 1½c lower, were followed by a moderate setback all around and then something of a rally.

Big receipts tended to weaken the corn market. After opening ⅝c to ¾c down, including May at 74⅛@74¼c, values continued to sag.

Oats were easier with corn, starting ⅛c off and later descending a little more.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY MARKET REMAINS FIRM

Oats in Fair Demand—Potatoes Slow—Hog Prices Unchanged.

Considering the state of the roads and the fine weather there is not so much hay being brought to market as one might expect, and as a consequence the prices of this product remains firm at from $28 to $29 per ton. Two loads of straw were sold at $12 per ton.

Oats are in fair demand at $1.50 to $1.55 per cwt.

The price of hogs remains unchanged.

Potatoes are still slow at $1.50 to $1.60 per bag wholesale, and $1.75 retail.

Eggs are selling at 75c by the crate and 85c per dozen retail.

Poultry prices are keeping firm owing to the limited supply.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Jan. 10—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Selling of popular issues was promptly resumed at the opening of today's stock market, last Saturday's sharp reversal making further headway within the first half hour. Atlantic-Gulf fell almost 6 points to the new low record of 61½; Sears-Roebuck lost 3 points, Mexican Petroleum 2½, Royal Dutch 2⅝, and Baldwin Locomotive 1⅝. Steels and coppers eased perceptibly, rails again losing ground. Preliminary quotations for exchange on London were materially higher, approximating the recent maximum rates.

SUMMARY

PROPERTIES:

The Winnipeg Electric Railway Company does a power, lighting and gas business, and operates the entire Street Railway System of the City of Winnipeg, consisting of 120 miles. It has a hydro-electric development of 33,000 H.P. capacity and an auxiliary steam plant of 13,000 H.P. In addition the Company controls a large undeveloped water power capable of 170,000 H.P. development capacity. The franchises of the Company, we consider, are very satisfactory.

ASSETS:

The properties of the Company (exclusive of the value of the large undeveloped water power) were valued by the Public Utilities Commission of Manitoba at $24,369,431. This replacement value is equivalent to over $450 per share for the preferred stock or about $100 per share for the common stock.

EARNINGS:

Average annual net earnings for the three pre-war years ending December 31st, 1914 (which would have been available for dividends on the present issue of Preferred Stock) were $1,148,193

Average annual net earnings for the three years ending December 31st, 1919, under very adverse and war conditions (which would have been available for dividends on the present issue of Preferred Stock) were $496,637
Preferred Stock dividend $210,000
(Equal to almost two and one half times Preferred dividend).

Estimated net earnings for current fiscal year based on actual figures for first eight months are ... $630,000
(Equal to three times Preferred dividend).

The Public Utilities Commission authorized the Company to increase its street railway fares to 7c. cash or four tickets for 25c., and to increase the price of gas to $1.75 per 1000 feet as from September 1st, 1920, and made the following statement in connection therewith:—"To insure continuance of a satisfactory service the rate must be such as will be attractive to investors. In my judgment 8% is the proper rate to fix."

PURPOSE OF ISSUE:

The proceeds of this issue will be used to retire notes and bank loans. With these paid off it is expected that the Company will be in a position to recommence payment of dividends on its common stock within a reasonable time.

PRICE: 90 Yielding 7¾%
Carrying a bonus of 30% in Common Stock.

Payable as follows: $20 per share on application, $70 per share on February 1st, 1921. Shares carry dividends from January 1st.

GEDDES PRESENTS HISTORIC FLAG TO NEW YORK CHURCH

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Symbolic of the cordial relations existing between the United States and Great Britain the regimental colors of the Royal American Infantry were returned to the Trinity Church Corporation at special services held here today at Governors Island. The colors were presented by Major-General H. K. Bethel, British military attache at Washington, representing the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, to Dr. Wm. T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church. The historic flag, which dates from 1756, will hang with the colors of the first United States Infantry, the oldest service flag of the United States, in the chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion, on Governors Island.

The regiment was established by an order dated March 4, 1756, which stipulated that it would consist of four battalions, aggregating 4,400 men. The ranks were strictly confined to Americans, the personnel being recruited from Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The officers were either British, Scotch or Swiss.

When the regiment ceased to exist the colors passed to certain British families and finally to Lord Grenfell, who forwarded the flag to the British ambassador for presentation to Trinity Church.

The colors are blue with a white border, displaying a crown, the regimental insignia appearing on a blue field.

HAIG URGES VETERANS TO ATTEND MEETING

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—A cablegram from Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig was received here on Saturday by W. E. Turley, provincial secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, as follows:

"Earnestly hope Canada will be represented at the empire conference, Cape Town, February 23."

Secretary Turley stated that the cablegram had reference to a conference of veterans of the British Empire, which had first been suggested by the Canadian Great War Veterans' Association a year or more ago, and which suggestion had been adopted by the veteran organizations of Australia, South Africa and of the British Isles.

General Sir Arthur Currie had been asked by the Great War Veterans' Association to represent it, but in view of his duties as principal of McGill University, Montreal, it was thought he could not attend the conference, and someone else would have to be chosen.

TWELVE DROWN AS MOTOR LAUNCH SINKS

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 9.—A motor launch with 800 excursionists aboard sank yesterday in Hopkins River at Warrnambool, Victoria. Twelve persons were drowned.

LLOYD GEORGE TAKES OVER COUNTRY HOUSE

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Mr. Lloyd George has taken formal possession during the week-end of Chequers Court, at Aylesbury, Bucks, which is to be the official country residence of the prime minister. The estate of Chequers Court was recently presented to the British people by Colonel Sir Arthur Hamilton Lee, first baron of Fareham.

Among the guests at Chequers Court for the week-end were Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and Lords Reading, Milner and Riddell.

TWO DIE AFTER DRUG INJECTION

Toronto Women Succumb After Serum Treatment—Coroner Investigates.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—Two women died within a few minutes of each other, after having received a special blood treatment on Saturday afternoon in the office of Dr. J. H. McConnell, 1653 Dundas street west, this city, Miss Monica Kenney, 587 Palmerston avenue, a stenographer, and Mrs. Emily Bond, wife of Earl Bond, 211 Sackville street.

Both women had previously received the treatment, and had not shown any unfavorable results from it.

Dr. A. Jukes Johnson, chief coroner of Toronto, has not ordered an inquest. He has begun an investigation himself, however. Whether further steps will be taken in the matter will be for Attorney-General W. E. Raney to decide, as Chief Coroner Johnson will report to him the result of his investigation, possibly tomorrow.

The special blood treatment in question is alleged to have consisted of an injection of a solution which may have contained a drug known as "neodiarsenol," which is put up and sold by a local drug company. It is said the fatalities were the result of acid in this blood serum.

The two women were treated with the serum by Dr. McConnell, assisted by Dr. Percy Fred, 1087 Bathurst street, who is said to be an expert in the preparation of this treatment.

Dr. A. Jukes Johnson, in an interview, said several cases of a similar nature had come under his notice at a local military hospital He had written the Government urging prevention of the sale of this Canadian-made serum. Both Dr. McConnell and Dr. Fred had told him, Dr. Johnson said, that they had taken every precaution against a fatal termination when administering the serum. Dr. Johnson has some of the serum in his possession, and will probably have an analysis made to prevent any more occurrences of the kind.

Dr. R. R. McClenahan, director of the division of venereal diseases under the Provincial Board of Health, in an interview here tonight said:

"The matter is one which should have the fullest investigation. It is absolutely necessary in the interest of the work we are trying to do that the cause of death should be cleared up."

FRENCH-CANADIAN OPERA SINGER DIES

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—(By Canadian Press).—The death occurred on Saturday night at her residence here of Beatrice Lapalme, who for some years was the most famous grand opera singer of French-Canadian birth on the stage. She was born in Beloeil, Que., in 1881. She made her debut at Covent Gardens, London, in "La Boheme," and following engagements there went to Lyons, France, where she sang in Wagnerian roles.

Later she filled engagements at the Opera Comique, Paris.

Miss Lapalme had been living for some time past in Montreal, failing health cutting short her operatic career.

SMASHES STREET CAR; BLEEDS TO DEATH

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—Angered because the street car on which he wished to travel was not going in the direction he wanted, Romeo Mongeau, 25 of Longue Pointe, a suburb of Montreal, early this morning put his fist through one of the panes of glass in one of the doors of the car and suffered a cut artery which bled so severely that he died at noon today in the Notre Dame hospital.

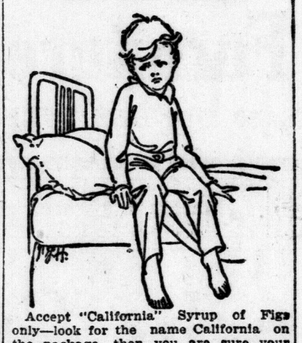

Mongeau after smashing the pane of glass ran some distance with the carmen in pursuit, then he took a taxicab to his house, his cut bleeding profusely all the way. When he reached home a doctor was called who immediately summoned an ambulance. It was seen at once that there was little chance of saving his life.

CANADA IS BEST, ROWELL STATES

Assembly Seemed Favorable To Admit Germany, Says Delegate.

TORONTO, Jan. 9. — Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, one of the three Canadian delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland, returned to Toronto today. In an interview here tonight Hon. Mr. Rowell referred to the non-participation by the United States in the League of Nations, and stated that this had had no effect upon the formation and functioning of the assembly at Geneva.

"There was some apprehension in some quarters over the refusal of the United States to participate," said Hon. Mr. Rowell, "but the first meeting of the assembly changed all that. The correspondents for the United States were astonished at the success of the league conference."

Referring to complaints from the United States about Canada having a vote in the League assembly, Mr. Rowell said that Canada was accorded similar rights to those accorded other nations.

Admission of Germany.

On the question of the admission of Germany to the league "the general feeling in the assembly seemed favorable, so far as it found expression," Mr. Rowell said. "But," he added, "one of the conditions was that Germany must give sufficient guarantee of her sinere intention to perform her international obligations. France, no doubt, will challength Germany's admission on that point."

The news sent out that the Scandinavian countries had demanded immediate disarmament was incorrect, Mr. Rowell said. While in favor of disarmament the Scandinavian countries had not pressed the point.

Established Court.

Hon. Mr. Rowell said he thought the most important work performed by the League of Nations was the establishment of a court of international justice.

Touching lightly on general conditions in Europe, Mr. Rowell said he was glad to be back in Canada where the financial, siocial and industrial life was in such a markedly better state than any country he had visited while abroad. As to Canadian politics and his course in connection therewith Hon. Mr. Rowell said he did not wish to make any statement whatever.

Mr. Rowell has a number of invitations to give addresses in the course of a few days on the League of Nations. In these he will deal specially with the court of international justice, its constitution and responsibilites.

FOSTER ALSO HOME.

OTTAWA, Jan 9. — (By Canadian Press.)—Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, returned to Ottawa this evening accompanied by Lady Foster. They were met at the station by F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce, and drove at once to Sir George's residence on Somerset street.

To the newspapermen who met him on the station platform. Sir George stated that they had had a very rough passage across the Atlantic. Asked for a statement as to his trip to the League of Nations gathering, Sir George intimated that he would probably have something to say on that matter tomorrow.

Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell who returned on the same boat with Sir George, went direct to Toronto and was due to arrive there last evening. Hon. C. J. Doherty was to sail on the Adriatic on Janaury 5, and is expected to reach Ottawa about the end of the coming week. J. L. Payne, private secretary to Sir George Foster, and P. T. Ahearn, private secretary to Mr. Doherty, were members of the party reaching Ottawa this evening.

Says 50,000 Girls Fall Every Year

WINDSOR, Jan. 9.—The white slave traffic and its sister evils, immodest dress and the evils of the dance, were the subjects discussed by Mrs. (Dr.) A. T. Robinson at a meeting of the women of Walkerville held today in the Lincoln Road Methodist Church.

The speaker stated that over 50,000 young women in America are given over to a life of shame each year, these girls coming from some of the best homes in the country and who are innocently trapped into a life of degradation.

Mrs. Robinson warned the young girls not to pick up with strangers on the streets, and to value the purity of their soul and body above everything else.

UNITED FARMERS INDORSE DRURY

Recent Govt. Investigations Into Hydro Matters Are Considered Timely.

CHATHAM, Jan. 9.—Elliott Hardy of Louisville, Chatham Township, was re-elected president of the United Farmers of Kent, and T. J. Daley of Thamesville, secretary, at the annual meeting here yesterday afternoon. Other officers were: Samuel Montgomery, Dover Centre, vice-president; directors, J. J. Harris, Zone; Harry French, Camden; Ernest Sinclair, Orford; R. L. McKinley, Howard; Robert Wilson, Harwich; T. J. Clark, Raleigh; E. Wands, Tilbury East; Harry Wilcox, Rodney; Stanley Clements, Dover; John Forsythe, Chatham. The election of County Director Eastabrook to succeed A. Picard last November was unanimously indorsed.

Indorses Drury.

The meeting heartily indorsed the Government of Hon. E. C. Drury by adopting a resolution indorsing the principles of the premier and his cabinet in investigating the hydro radial schemes, hydro power and the timber limit scandal, and their high ideals in carrying on the general business of the province. The resolution also contains a clause indorsing the action of Hon. Manning Doherty, while in England, relative to the embargo on cattle.

Planning Campaign.

J. L. Dougherty, county representative of the department of agriculture, addressed the meeting in the interests of the better bull campaign which the department is now conducting in the county. The speaker pointed out the menace of the scrub bull to the cattle industry, and urged the co-operation of the United Farmers in the campaign. A resolution was passed in which the county organization placed itself on record as favoring the campaign knowing that it is in the best interests of the farmers.

Appendicitis Prevented, Life Lengthened, Health Maintained

Thousands Finding Wonderful Benefit in a Simple Home Remedy That Costs But a Quarter.

Doctors say if people kept their bowels in proper order there would be no such disease on record as appendicitis. It is due solely to neglect, and is therefore preventable.

If you have constipation, bad breath or headache you need medicine right away.

The moment you suspect your bowels are clogged you should take Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the smoothest regulator of them all. They move the bowels and cleanse the liver so smoothly you scarcely notice the effect. But you can get the action just the same. Taken at night you wake up next morning, clear-headed, hungry, rested, energetic, feeling like a different man.

Why don't you spend a quarter today and try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They work so easy, just as nature would order, never gripe or cause headache. Finest thing for folks that are out of sorts, depressed, lacking in color and spirits.

Folks that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills are never sick, never an ache or a pain —feel good all the time simply because their system is clean, regulated and healthy. This you can easily prove yourself.

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. —Advt.

MEDICAL TREATMENT FOR JOBLESS VETERANS

NAVAL SUPREMACY IMPOSSIBLE, CLAIM

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Viscount Rothermere, former secretary of state for the air forces, in an article today in the Sunday Pictorial, under the caption "The Folly of Big Battleships," submits a startling contention directly challenging the traditional policy of the British navy. The doctrine he propounds is that it is no longer possible for any nation to possess command of the sea. Lord Rothermere wholly condemns British participation in big battleship rivalry with the United States and Japan, because "they obviously are building against each other and not against us." He urges that Great Britain cannot afford to spend any money on naval construction at present. Furthermore, Lord Rothermere declares, "if the United States and Japan persist in pursuing antiquated forms of warfare that is no proof that the capital ship will survive," and concludes that no nation henceforth will enjoy naval supremacy. "That's a nasty pill but we must swallow it," Lord Rothermere says.

MONEY-GETTING NOT NECESSARILY EVIL

Should Be Sought For Good Purpose, Says J. M. Gunn.

That it is not wrong for a Christian to possess property, but that he should hold it in the capacity of a steward and use it for other ends than his own, was the conclusion from a discussion on "A Christian and His Property" at the meeting of St. Andrew's Church Men's Brotherhood Sunday.

The discussion was led by J. M. Gunn and participated in by many present, including Rev. F. H. Barron of Elkins, West Virginia, a former Londoner, visiting here. Mr. Gunn contended that there was no evil in the acquisition of money if it was to be used as a means to some good end, but that there was wrong in the accumulation of money as an end in itself.

"Money is the root of all evil" is the misquotation of one of the best-known verses in the Bible, said Mr. Gunn. The correct reading is "The love of money is the root of all evil." That "love of money" led to much wrong and harm which the mere possession of money itself would not lead to, was Mr. Gunn's contention.

Mr. Barron asserted that it was one of the most difficult things in the world to be rich and pious. The possession of worldly wealth tended to stultify the development of the soul, he said.

DIAMOND RING FOR JAMES C. CROMBIE

Former London Railway Man Is Honored At St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 9.—On his retirement from active duties on the Grand Trunk-Wabash, J. C. Crombie, late division superintendent, was presented last evening with a diamond ring by the employees of the road from Windsor to Black Rock and Niagara Falls. Every agent and nearly all the officials between these points came to St. Thomas, and all had many words of good wishes and esteem for the retiring superintendent. Among the veterans of the road present were: George Phemister, chief operator, Niagara Falls, and William Armstrong, dispatcher of St. Thomas. Both have been engaged for nearly half a century in the service of the company. An appreciative response came from Mr. Crombie. The Misses Weisbrod, who reside with Mr. Crombie, were given a cabinet of solver and a silver tea service. W. H. Mathews has succeeded Mr. Crombie.

MEMBERS OF 29TH BATTERY TO HOLD REUNION YEARLY

First Banquet at Tecumseh House Saturday a Delightful Affair.

Thirty-three comrades of the 29th Battery, C. E. F., gathered at the Tecumseh House Saturday evening for a social reunion under the presidency of Lieut. Jack Keast, and a most enjoyable time was spent following the disposal of the excellent repast provided by Mine Host Guy Ferguson in the retailing of reminiscences of battle, music and song.

A brief business session was held during the evening, at which it was decided to make the reunion an annual event, and an invitation was sent to former members of the 35th Battery, Toronto, which was brigaded with the 29th in the third division, to join in the celebration of this annual reunion. A representative of the 33rd was present as a guest.

The 29th Battery was composed of Western Ontario men, and there were present at the banquet ex-members from Windsor, Sarnia, Guelph and other places. Lieut. Jack Keast of Guelph was elected president for 1921, and Wm. Levan, Toronto, secretary-treasurer. The next annual reunion will be held in Guelph.

Major Victor Kent, of London, former commanding officer of the battery, was killed in France.

ATTENDANCE LARGEST IN CHURCH RECORDS

Five hundred members of Knox Presbyterian Church, South London, attended communion service Sunday evening, and the attendance at the morning service was almost as large, the record for the day being the largest in the history of the church. Fifty new members were received into the church. The pastor, Rev. T. A. Symington, was assisted at the evening service by Rev. J. G. Stuart, a former pastor.

SCORES MOTHERS WHO TRAIL TO PICTURE SHOWS

Dragging Children and Spending Money They Can Ill Afford, Says Bishop.

The Holy Name Society was addressed on two occasions yesterday by Bishop M. F. Fallon, first at the 8:30 mass, when over five hundred members received holy communion, and again in St. Peter's Parish Hall at the annual breakfast and election of officers.

The bishop, who occupied the pulpit at the 8:30 mass, stated that on the day after Christmas, following an old-established custom, the college of cardinals, through their dean, Cardinal Vanutelli, extended the season's greetings to the pope. The sovereign pontiff in responding to these congratulations pointed out that the world was at the present time afflicted by five plagues, namely, disregard for authority, the love of pleasure, hatred of man for man, dislike of work and forgetfulness of man's supernatural destiny.

Rule the Homes.

His lordship briefly dwelt upon each of these troubles in turn. In regard to the first, he said people did not need to go beyond their own homes to discover what disregard for authority meant. It was "little Jimmy and little Mary" who ruled the home these days, doing pretty much as they pleased and referring to their parents as "the old man" and the "old woman."

Next there was the hatred of man for man. One of the legacies of the great war was the bitter hatred of one nation for another; nations who had entered the war with the avowed object of securing the independence of small nations having themselves been the first to engage in the "game of grab."

"As for the love of pleasure," said the bishop, "we see it on every hand, day after day; mothers trailing their skirts to sensational picture shows and vile theatrical performances, dragging their children with them and spending money which they can ill afford."

Dislike for Work.

Dislike of work was another plague which was apparent to all. "I believe in the eight hour-day," remarked the speaker, "but very few men work the eight hours or give an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. In former years, for example, a bricklayer took pride in laying eleven hundred or twelve hundred bricks in a day. Were he to do so now he would be shot."

Then there was the supernatural side of daily life, the supreme consideration of all. Men were forgetting their destiny, that they were not like horses nor dogs nor cats, but that they possessed immortal souls.

In St. Peter's Hall, breakfast, provided by an anonymous donor, a member of the Holy Name Society, was served by ladies of the congregation. President Hayden occupied the chair. Bishop Fallon gave what he called "a little talk on the history of education in Upper Canada," in the course of which he outlined the Catholic aspect of the question.

After a historical resume he turned to the secondary education of today.

"For the past five or six years," declared the bishop, "I have been possessed by the conviction that Catholics have a constitutional right to the development of their schools in Ontario, up to and including the university. We have in operation in this city a fifth form, which is the lower school in the collegiate institute. Why not a middle and upper school? It is my duty to establish the constitutional rights of my people to the full development of educational means, and I am sure that in a short time this will be decided by the highest courts in the Empire. We are looking for a square deal."

The election of officers of the Holy Name Society followed the bishop's address. Dr. Best being elected president; John. B. Givins, vice-president; W. G. Mullins, treasurer, and Vincent Colgan, secretary.

At the evening service in the cathedral Bishop Fallon administered the sacrement of confirmation to a large number of adults. There was a crowded attendance.

CHURCH OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Empress Avenue Methodists Open New Sunday School Rooms.

Members of Empress Avenue Methodist Church yesterday celebrated the 50th anniversary of this congregation with a varied and extensive program. Attendance at both morning and evening services and at the reopening of the enlarged Sunday school building in the afternoon were large.

The church was opened on Sunday, July 31, 1870. For the next six years it was under the care of the old North Street Church, now the First Methodist, the services being conducted by local preachers and probationers. At the conference of 1876 the church was constituted an independent one, with the late Rev. J. E. Lanceley as pastor. Some fifteen ministers have succeeded him in turn, bringing the history of the church up to the present pastorate of Rev. Mr. Dewey.

"We had no choir in the early days," says the record, "not even an organ. Mr. Cooper, the day school teacher, led the singing and started the tunes by aid of a tuning fork. After a time a very small organ was purchased, and a Miss Hannaford played for us, some half a dozen forming the choir. Choir practice to us was unknown and unnecessary, because we had two specials which we sung every Sunday, viz.: 'Safely Through Another Week' and 'Oh, When Shall I Sweep Through the Gates?' The only change was when alternating between morning and evening."

Under the energetic pastorate of Rev. J. E. Lanceley the Sunday school building soon proved too small, and in 1878 it was enlarged, serving its purpose for over 40 years. For a long time the need of enlarged and more convenient quarters to carry on the work was keenly felt, and when the Kensington Mission School joined their forces some form of enlargement became a necessity. The work began in the late summer of last year, and the present commodious structure is the result.

It was during the pastorate of Rev. I. B. Wallwin that the church auditorium was enlarged and re-seated, and at the same time the present pipe organ was installed. In the autumn of 1908 Rev. Mr. Dewey started the organization of the orchestra which has a large and efficient membership.

Yesterday's preacher was Rev. Dr. B. N. Burns, who gave interesting discourses to crowded congregations both morning and evening. Dr. Burns' theme in the morning was "The Greatest Need and the Greatest Quest of Today—the Knowledge of God." "The three greatest needs of today, said the preacher, are: Brotherhood, which rests on the deeper spiritual fact of the fatherhood of God; morality, as the greatest fundamental of prosperity, and partnership with God in His plans for world reconstruction."

The preacher gave some very practical and helpful suggestions, illustrated by his personal and war experiences as to how one may know God in the daily duties of life.

At the reopening of the Sunday School in the afternoon, addresses were given by R. Green and Mr. Switzer, ex-superintendents. Vocal selections were given by Miss Luta Laymon, and the quartet and church orchestra also contributed a much-appreciated program.

At the morning service the choir was assisted by Miss Anna Cochrill, and in the evening by Carman Learn.

HIGH CLASS PROGRAM AT G. W. V. A. CONCERT

A large audience attended the G. W. V. A. band concert in a local theatre last night, under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. and Ladies' Auxiliary, with the object of providing a fund for returned soldiers out of employment. Dr. J. Cameron Wilson, who presided, said that it was a severe trial for men who had faced death in the trenches to see their wives and families on the verge of starvation. Thanks were expressed to the ladies and gentlemen who contributed to the program.

The concert was distinctly of a high-class nature, and the various selections, both vocal and instrumental, were heartily appreciated.

The following was the program: "O Canada"; march, "The Gladiators' Farewell," Blankenberg; operatic medley, "Echoes From the Opera," Mackie-Beyer; novelette, "Sparklets," Miles; old gem, "Songs of the Old Folks," Air by Lake; song, selected, Mr. Harry Carson; nocturne, Mr. Rosenhein, Ellenberg; song, selected, Miss Luta Laymon; selection, "Chu Chin Chow," Frederick Norton; Buoni Notte, Ethelbert Nevin.

The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Harry Carson.

CHURCH CROWDED TO HEAR HAROLD JARVIS

The announcement that Harold Jarvis would sing at Dundas Centre Church last evening was sufficient to completely fill the church before 7 o'clock. The pastor, W. E. Pescott, preached a gospel sermon full of appeal, calling on Mr. Jarvis at intervals to illustrate the particular truth in hand. Mr. Jarvis sang in all six times in fine manner, and with heart and understanding also. His enunciation was perfect.

THEOSOPHISTS HEAR REV. W. R. McINTOSH

"It is brother or brute, Jesus or the jungle," said Rev. W. R. McIntosh, pastor of King Street Presbyterian Church, speaking on the importance, urgency and greatness of the task of building a world of brothers, in an address on the subject of "Other Folks" before the London Theosophical Society Sunday evening.

There were three tasks before the builders of the new era of brotherhood, he stated. The first was to get acquainted with folks. Many problems were solved by the simple device of knowing people better. The next task was to appreciate folks, to see men of all classes equal, all made in the image of God. In the third place, one should master the art of getting along with other people. One should begin in the home, with the neighbors, with society in general, studying how to bring brotherhood into business, democratize industry, teaching the races not to fear the flag, but to love it, and coveting more the hearts of backward races, rather than their commerce.

ST. MARYS STORES ROBBED.

ST. MARYS, Jan. 9.—As a result of a juvenile crime wave which has struck the town, several stores have been broken into and various articles taken. It is reported that as the perpetrators were youthful and their relatives have made restitution suspended sentence will be considered when they appear before the juvenile judge.
