59TH YEAR. NO. 23368

LONDON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

CONDEMNNS BEEF IN CITY STORAGE 3 YEARS

City Will Sell Real Estate In London South

BUYS TRACTION RIGHT-OF-WAY AT $5,000 COST

Property Runs From Grand Avenue to Chester Street, Nearly Six Blocks.

WILL OPEN NEW STREET

Building Lots To Be Sold To Pay Cost of Land and New Street.

Purchase by the city of the right-of-way of the old Traction Company Railway, extending for six blocks in London South, was announced by City Engineer Brazier Wednesday morning.

The property, which varies in width from 32 1/2 feet to 200 feet, runs from Grand avenue to Chester street.

The consideration paid by the city was $5,000, and according to the engineer a new street will be surveyed along the old right-of-way, thereby opening up much property in South London. Building lots will be laid out abutting this new thoroughfare, and the city will go in the real estate business to dispose of them to citizens.

Mr. Brazier informed The Advertiser Wednesday that when these lots are graded, and the new street completed, the city will be enabled to sell them with forty feet frontage each, realizing sufficient proceeds to repay the original expenditure and also to cover the cost of the new street.

Price Paid a Bargain.
This street when completed will have a minimum width of 66 feet, said the city engineer. "The price paid was a bargain, but only the city could take the property over and make it pay, because it is low ground, and must be built up in places before it will be suitable for residences."

"The city will fill it in before selling the lots, and will get back the money expended by the sale. The deal whereby the city assumes ownership was consummated last week, and involves a stretch of property in South London six blocks long. The city had an opportunity to purchase this land some time ago, but the deal hung fire for more than a year."

"In connection with opening up this area, we are getting in touch with the board of education in order to bring about a direct continuation of Belgrave avenue. The board owns some property necessary to bring this about, which I presume they have been holding for the city. This does not involve the new street."

City to Sell Lots.
"When the new street is completed the city will own some very valuable building lots," continued Mr. Brazier, "as this is in the heart of a most desirable residential section of London. These lots will be parceled out and sold by the city."

"The new street will be 66 minimum width and wider where the property permits. It will run north and south in a fairly straight line. Some time ago the city purchased the Traction Company right-of-way from the bridge to Grand avenue, across Carfax Crescent, thereby widening the latter thoroughfare to 70 feet."

The city engineer has prepared a plan of the purchased property, with a survey of the lots to be sold, which was ratified by No. 2 committee of the city council last week. Before attempting to dispose of any lots, earth filling from roads to be paved in London South will be dumped upon them, bringing these lots up to a level suitable for building purposes.

French Poetess Gets 20 Years Hard Labor

PARIS, France, June 21.—Mme. Marie Bessarabo, poetess and playwright, was found guilty today of the pre-meditated murder of her husband, Georges, whose body was found concealed in a trunk at Nancy two years ago. The court found there were extenuating circumstances. The daughter of her first husband, who also was on trial, was found not guilty. Mme. Bessarabo was sentenced to twenty years at hard labor.

AIM TO BOOST EXPORT TRADE

Canadian Manufacturers' Association Devotes Entire Session to Subject.

Closer Connection Between Canada and West Indies Urged by Col. Cantley.

St. Andrew's, N. B., June 21.—(Canadian Press).—For the first time in history the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here today devoted practically an entire session to the subject of export trade. Thomas Dodd, treasurer, advocated the Canadian manufacturers' should be identified with a common name, or trade mark. He said that as a young manufacturing country Canada did not realize the prestige which a name took to itself when it came to signify a high value of goods. He instanced the use made of trade marks by British exporters. Canadian manufacturers, he said, were developing a high class of goods. The future should be visualized and care taken that a certain name or mark be synonymous with that quality.

The need of producing the right article at the right price was emphasized by a following speaker. For instance, to sell stoves in South Africa, the article should be one which would show the blaze, to meet the prejudices of the Hottentots, who did most of the cooking of the country. A certain type of oil stove was marked well in Japan. Salesmanship would at once increase the export trade of Canada, other speakers believed. The South American markets were pointed to as offering a great opportunity. Germany and Australia had been ousted from those markets and were not yet back. Canadians were especially welcome there.

One member related that he sold goods in Peru which he knew nothing of. An outline of the Canadian government trade organization was given by C. H. Payne of the department of trade and commerce, Ottawa.

That the smaller ships of the Canadian Merchant Marine be sold, and that the government acquire four passenger ships with refrigerator accommodation for the West Indies trade was asked for by Col. Thomas Cantley, New Glasgow, in a resolution submitted to the association today. He was referred to the committee on resolutions. Col. Cantley urged a closer connection between Canada and the West Indies, hoping that some day they would be part of the Dominion conference, thus rounding out a self-sustaining country.

Discovers Starving Seaman On Wrecked Schooner

Demented by Privation.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 21.—A thirty-foot schooner, battered and mastless, was discovered today ashore on West Island, in the outer harbor here. On board the hulk was Osmund Erickson, who said his address was the sea. When Edward Egbert, a summer resident, found the wreck, Erickson, he said, was eating grass.

Erickson, who was suffering from starvation, was unable to tell where the vessel had come from. He was brought to this city and held until an investigation could be made. According to the police, his memory was impaired by the privations he had undergone.

The schooner, the name of which could not be determined, carried a crudely arranged jury mast to replace two masts that had apparently been carried away by a storm. This mast was about six feet high and pieces of old clothing had been used for sails. The hull had been mended in several places with bits of zinc and tin.

MAKE FINANCIAL STATEMENT ON 5 HYDRO TOWNS

Power Commission States Position of Municipalities Served From Woodstock.

RATE MUCH REDUCED

Ingersoll Charges Drop From 11 Cents to 4 Cents Per Kilowatt Hour.

Toronto, June 21.—Detailed official statements were issued today by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario concerning the financial position of five municipalities served from the Woodstock transformer station, which is 95 miles from Niagara Falls.

Woodstock has been taking hydro-electric energy since 1912. The first rates quoted by the provincial commission to consumers averaged 6.5c per kilowatt hour for domestic lighting, and 4.3c for commercial. This was materially lower than the previous charges. The hydro rates have been reduced from year to year until they now stand at 2.4c domestic, 1.8c commercial, and 15.63c per horsepower for industrial energy. The price charged to the municipality for delivered power has declined from $26 to $21, mainly because the load has increased from $15 to 1.13 horsepower.

The total revenue collected from consumers since 1912 has been $492,675.43. If the first hydro rates had been continued without reduction, the people would have paid up to Dec. 31 last $764,193.63. The dividend which has come to them by rate reduction has had a money value of $271,518.20.

The revenue for 1921 was $77,893.78. Including a renewal charge of $8,752, the expenditure was $69,470.21, leaving a surplus for the year of $8,423.57. This surplus was equivalent to $4.91 per horsepower on the entire Woodstock load. The assets are $309,036.30; the liabilities, $89,573.70. There is an accumulated surplus greater by $9,000 than the total liabilities, and the reserve funds exceed $120,000. The population of Woodstock is just under 10,000.

Ingersoll's System.
For eleven years the town of Ingersoll has been taking hydro-electric service. In that period the kilowatt hour rates have been reduced from an average of 8.3c domestic and 7.4c commercial to 2.5c and 2.2c respectively. The load in 1912 was 384 horsepower. Last year it averaged 581.9 horsepower, and the price of delivered power has dropped in the ten-year period from $28 to $23. The actual saving to consumers by rate reduction has been $151,586.37.

Last year the Ingersoll system had a revenue of $46,033.30. The expenditure, including a renewal reserve charge of $3,995, was $44,974.33, leaving a surplus of $1,058.97. The total assets are $196,772.73. The balance of liability is $85,791.15, which leaves $110,981.58 in surplus and reserve funds.

Tillsonburg's Success.
Before "hydro" came to Tillsonburg in August, 1911, the service rate was 11c per kilowatt hour, with a meter charge of 25c per month. The first rates quoted by the provincial commission averaged 9.5c domestic and 7.5c commercial.

AYERS SENTENCED TO 12-YEAR TERM AS WYOMING BANK BANDIT

London Man Convicted by Jury at Sarnia; Cases of McMullen, Yohn and Anderson Adjourned Until Fall Assizes at Request of Defense.

Sarnia, June 21.—As dramatically as they have proceeded throughout, the Wyoming bank robbery trials terminated in the Lambton County court this morning, when Judge A. E. Taylor sentenced William Ayers of London to a 12-year term in the Kingston Penitentiary, and ordered that his alleged accomplices, also Londoners, Edward A. McMullen, John ("Casey") Yohn, and George ("Curly") Anderson, be remanded again to jail to await the pleasure of the next supreme court assizes in September or the general sessions of the peace the following December.

All the prisoners were arrested in London in May, and charged with holding up and robbing the Wyoming branch of the Bank of Toronto of about $11,000 cash on the afternoon of Oct. 20 last.

McMullen, alleged director of the gang's movements, was the first to face the court, and on Friday last was saved from the penitentiary, at least for the time being, when one juror refused to believe that he was implicated in the robbery. Ayers was convicted Tuesday as being the man who led the way from the bank subsequent to the actual hold-up, with a gun in either hand. This morning William R. Meredith, counsel with Norman Newton, for Yohn and Anderson, appealed to the bench for an order of postponement upon the strength of the fact that all members of the jury panel had remained in court throughout the trials and would not, therefore, be contended, be in a position to allow the other prisoners a fair and unprejudiced hearing.

Adjourns Cases.
Despite the strenuous objection raised by Crown Attorney F. W. Willson, the other cases were adjourned by Judge Taylor "in the interests of justice for the men," as he termed it.

There was a tense moment in court when shortly before 11 o'clock Ayers

JUDGE DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST SIR H. M. ALLAN

Follows Precedent Set in Case of Former General Manager of Merchants Bank

Montreal, June 21.—Without argument of counsel being heard, Judge Cusson this morning summarily dismissed the charge laid against Sir H. Montagu Allan by the minister of finance that he had sent a false report to the government of the Merchants Bank financial standing for the month of October, 1921. In the trial the judge followed the precedent he set in the charge against L. C. Macarow, former general manager, which was later taken up by the minister of justice with the result that an indictment was formulated against him by Premier Taschereau in his capacity of attorney general. A true bill being returned and Mr. Macarow sent for trial before a jury in the court of sessions.

To Try Out Twin Trail For Motorists Idea On Alexander Street, London

An innovation for London motorists in the form of a "twin trail," will be constructed on Alexander street by Robert Greene, acting in conjunction with the city council. The twin trail consists of two strips of concrete to be laid in the center of the road, and along it autos will travel, the two parallel strips accommodating the wheels.

Under an agreement submitted to the city council by the city solicitor, Mr. Greene, who is introducing the twin trail to Londoners, will construct and maintain the twin trail for a term of two years.

THINK VALERA MAN WILL WIN IN WATERFORD

Parties Believe Only Unprecedented Event Can Defeat Burgess in Irish Election.

CHIEF OF LIEUTENANTS

Failure of Childers in Kildare Outstanding Feature of Contest.

Dublin, June 21.—The approximate representation of the various parties in the Parliament chosen at last Friday's election, as shown by returns up to this afternoon, is as follows:

Coalition treaty, 54.
Coalition Republican, 33.
Labor, 14.
Farmers, 5.
Independents, 10.
One distinguished survivor probably will be Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), chief of Eamon De Valera's lieutenants, who, although he is not yet elected in Waterford, can only be defeated by some unprecedented overturn in the count.

Mary McSwiney Survives.
Results announced this morning show the removal of many of the best-known personalities in the Dail Eireann. Of the six women members, all anti-treaty, only Mary MacSwiney survived in the contests, and Mrs. Kate O'Callaghan was returned unopposed.

Mrs. Pearce, whose two sons were executed for their part in the Easter week rebellion, was defeated in County Dublin. The figures show that she received comparatively few transfers of votes.

Seanus Robinson, one of the leaders of the army dissidents, lost out in Waterford. Most conspicuous among the defeats was that of Erskine Childers in Kildare. He received only 578 votes, fewer than any other candidate in the whole elections.

It was announced this morning that in Galway the pro-treaty candidates on the Sinn Fein panel, F. J. Hogan, O. O. Malle, Professor Whelehan and George Nicholls, were elected. Mr. Hogan is minister of agriculture in the Dail cabinet.

Commenting on the election results the Irish Times says: "Publication of the constitution has certainly not tended to promote a solid coalition. It is expected that developments soon will arise which will reveal the situation more strong not alone on the political but also on the military side."

The Republican wing will probably endeavor to consolidate its force pending the advent of adult suffrage, upon which it has always pinned its faith, and meantime confine itself to opposition to the constitution which it regards as more pernicious than the treaty. In that event, the resumed proceedings of the second dail, which is to meet again on June 30, are likely to prove highly interesting, but it is to the provincial Parliament that the bulk of the people are looking for the lead."

A BRILLIANT Strathroy nuptial event, of wide interest in the Dominion, was the marriage at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon of Emily Clare, only daughter of Judge D. C. Ross and Mrs. Ross, and granddaughter of the late Sir George W. Ross, to Grant S. Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Newton of Strathroy.

Numbers of guests were present from London, and among those from outside points were Hon. W. C. Kennedy, minister of railways, and Mrs. Kennedy, and Senator F. F. Pardee, who came from Ottawa in the minister's private car for the happy event. The ceremony, which took place in St. John's Church, was performed by the rector, Rev. George Pugsley. The church was transformed into a veritable bower with palms, ferns, syringa blossoms, rose-colored peonies and quantities of roses. Reserved for guests were marked by bouquets of peonies and roses tied with white tulle. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was girlish and lovely in an exquisite nuptial robe of white kitten's ear crepe, with garniture of brocade chiffon and garlands of pearls, the long court train of cloth of silver shot with rose, and lined with white crepe, caught at the shoulders with pearl ornaments. Her veil was gracefully draped and bound to her head with a circlet of pearls.

CLEAR COURT AT DELORME TRIAL

Judge Monet Orders Attendants To Put Women Spectators Out.

Detective Rioux Testifies Regarding Moral Sanity of Prisoner.

Montreal, June 21.—During the proceedings this morning of the hearing to establish the mental condition of Adelard Delorme, charged with murdering his half-brother Raoul, Judge Monet ordered the court room cleared of women and girls, as it was imperative to take up the question of moral insanity. Under the circumstances his lordship did not consider the courtroom a proper place for female spectators. Amidst much protesting, the room was accordingly cleared. The principal witness this morning was Detective Rioux of the provincial police, who was examined by both Mr. Monette, counsel for the prisoner, and Mr. Walsh, representing the crown, concerning his contact and acquaintance with Delorme. Rioux's evidence dealt mainly with inquiries of Delorme as to a lady friend of his (Rioux).

Roy Jardine, a newspaperman, who obtained the celebrated interview in which Adelard Delorme advocated the hanging of the slaver in public in a specially-erected arena, was the principal witness Tuesday afternoon before Mr. Justice Monet.

In reply to questions the witness said that he had seen Delorme and spoken to him between the time of the murder and the prisoner's arrest. The witness was permitted by the crown prosecutor to refer to a clipping, dated Jan. 17, regarding an interview which Delorme gave to Jardine. Jardine described telephoning Delorme who invited him to the house at 190 St. Hubert street.

"We discussed the case," he said. "Mr. Walsh: 'In English, assisted by a French dictionary which Delorme produced in order to get some words correct.' The interview was one which he stated he was very anxious to have published."

Mr. Jardine then proceeded to

HEALTH BOARD HALTS SALE BY "SPECULATORS"

Officers Laud Action of Manager S. Gillies in Demanding Inspection.

FINDS MEAT MUMMIFIED

Dr. Tamlin's Prompt Action Prevents Disposal For "Human Food."

Holding 25 quarters of beef in the London Cold Storage and Warehousing Company since 1919, presumably in the hope of selling them at increased prices, persons, termed "speculators," by Sanitary Inspector Richard Sanders, have had their plans nipped in the bud by officers of the board of health, who have condemned this meat as unfit for human consumption.

This action in no way reflects upon the London Cold Storage and Warehousing Company, which merely acted as custodian of the meat for private parties. In fact, Dr. C. S. Tamlin, veterinary inspector of London, who along with Sanitary Inspector Sanders and Lieut.-Col. John Wilson, government veterinary officer, examined the meat, lauds the course followed by Manager S. Gillies, who called in the inspector to pronounce their verdict on the meat.

Sanitary Inspector Sanders informed The Advertiser that, in his opinion, the owners of the three-year-old meat purposed selling it to the public as food, and that Manager Gillies' action prevented them from carrying out their purpose.

In his report to the board of health Tuesday night, Dr. Tamlin stated that he was requested by Manager Gillies to examine the meat, which was "deteriorated and mummified, being unfit for use as human food."

In Storage Three Years.
"It certainly was high," Sanitary Inspector Sanders informed The Advertiser, "and most of it had been in storage since 1919. It was owned by speculators who hoped to make some money. I have not the slightest doubt but that Mr. Gillies' action in calling in Dr. Tamlin saved the public from having this meat unloaded on them. I was there when Dr. Tamlin and Colonel Wilson cut into the meat, and it was pretty bad."

Paying tribute to Manager Gillies, whom he declares has always worked in conjunction with the board of health in enforcing the law, Dr. Tamlin stated Wednesday that he had ordered the meat not to be sold as human food.

"The meat was deteriorated and mummified, being unfit for human consumption," he declared. "It was two to three years old. Manager Gillies, of the London Cold Storage Company, sent for me Monday and asked me to pass on this beef. Had he not done so it would have been there yet. He was merely the custodian of the meat, and no blame whatever can be attached to him. He wanted some disposition made of this meat and sent for me."

"Who owned the meat?" asked The Advertiser.

Lauds Gillies' Action.
"I would rather not say," replied the inspector. "I would rather that you would not mention this thing in the papers, as I would not want anything said to antagonize so good a public health man as Manager Gillies. That meat may be sold as animal food for foxes if the owners want to take a chance on it. I have nothing to do with animal food."

Manager Gillies of the cold storage plant was then interviewed for a statement regarding the 1919 vintage beef.

"Desiring an opinion on the condition of the meat, I called in Dr. Tamlin," Mr. Gillies declared Wednesday afternoon. "I did this because I did not want to store it any longer. It was immaterial to us, as the meat belonged to private parties, and publication of the facts will do us no harm. I was interested in this meat only because I wanted to get it out of there. Dr. Tamlin often examines meat stored here."

"The meat has not been destroyed," he concluded in answer to a query. "And may be sold to proprietors of fox farms to be used as animal food."

HOPE U.S. WILL SEND MISSION TO THE HAGUE

European Powers To Send Invitation To Americans.
RUSSIANS STILL PUZZLE
Attitude of Soviet Delegates Appears To Be Unchanged.

THE HAGUE, June 20.—France's unexpectedly prompt and hearty agreement to meet the Russians on June 25 clears up the last possible misapprehension regarding the purely technical character of the conference, and, in the meantime, the question whether the United States would not do well to reconsider its refusal to take part in the negotiations.

There is reason to believe that the invitations of the powers will be promptly renewed in case the United States shows the slightest favorable inclination to accept. The fact is that the limitations placed on the conference are such that they seem automatically to eliminate practically all the American objections as expressed in the formal refusal of the American secretary of state. The American position was this:

"While reluctant to abstain from any opportunity for helpfulness to the conference at The Hague seems merely a continuation of the Geneva meeting under another name and destined under the Russian attitude changes to meet the same difficulties. We proposed a joint inquiry into the Russian economic situation and possible remedies as being an indispensable prelude to granting credits, but we found the invitation to The Hague lacking in clarity."

To these arguments the answer must now be made that The Hague meeting obviously affords an opportunity for helpfulness, for it is much more than a continuation of the Geneva meeting, and any concrete study looking to the elimination of difficulties found to subsist between Russia and the western powers is bound to be helpful. Besides, the disarmament of Europe will be impossible until the Russian problem is settled.

It cannot be too strongly repeated that although The Hague is the offspring of Geneva, it bears absolutely no resemblance to it. As to the Russian attitude the only way to find out if it can be changed is to try, and in any case the conditions of the conference are now as clear as they can possibly be made. They are:

The Hague is a conference, not of diplomats, but of experts.

Its purpose is to study the difficulties between Russia and the western powers with a view to arrive at concrete solutions.

RETAIL GROCERS PLAN ASSOCIATION

Western Ontario Merchants Meet at Tecumseh House to Further Scheme.

More than 60 grocers from the surrounding towns and cities are meeting in the Tecumseh Hotel this afternoon for the purpose of reorganizing what is known as the Western Ontario Retail Grocers' Association.

This is the first convention that the retail grocers of Western Ontario have had in over twenty years when a meeting was held in Hamilton. At that time the association was a strong one, and was well represented by the grocers in this part of the province, but through affiliation with a similar organization the Western Ontario grocers gradually became disorganized and the annual conventions ceased.

This afternoon the grocers are endeavoring to unite all the grocers, wholesale and retail, into one compact body in order to better buying conditions for the individual merchant, and to give every grocer the benefits derived from a large organization.

All the grocers in the city are attending. Harry Rabinovich acting as chairman.

Addresses are to be given by Edward Adams and A. M. Smith, wholesale grocers, and also by a representative from Perrin's and McCormick's candy and biscuit factories.

Since the load has mounted from 177 to 410.5 horsepower, the price of delivered energy has decreased from $32 to $30, despite increased generating costs at Niagara Falls.

The population of the town is 2,964.

Revenue in 1921 was $26,875.09; expenditure, including a renewal charge of $2,008, was $24,622.33, leaving a surplus on the year's operations of $2,252.76. The assets are $91,117.46; liabilities, $32,084.37, leaving in reserves and surplus funds $59,033.09.

Beachville began operations in 1912 with a load of 35 horsepower, which has since increased to 251.9 horsepower. The rate for delivered energy has declined from $3.89 to $3.00 despite the increased generating costs at Niagara Falls. Although the population is under 600, and the village is 9 1/2 miles from Niagara Falls, the rates to consumers average only 6.8c per kilowatt hour for domestic lighting, and 4.6c for commercial. This is a rate considerably less than the present rate in Toronto, and the present rate in many American cities served by private corporations.

Last year the revenue was $9,893.36. The expenditure, including a contribution to renewal funds, was $9,943.19, indicating a loss for the year of $49.83. That the loss is not serious is shown by the balance sheet. The Beachville system has assets of $24,902.54, and a total liability of $2,549.60. The accumulated surplus is greater than the value of the plant. The sum of the renewals reserve and the village's equity in the co-operative hydro-electric reserve is greater than the balance of liability.

A very capable refreshment committee is headed by Miss Hilda Rowell, and the picnicers left the city confident they were to enjoy the most successful annual picnic yet held.

KIWANIS SPLIT OVER QUESTION ABOUT DOCTORS

Will Bar Graduates of Non-Accredited Schools From Membership.

LATE FOR INVOCATION
President Delivers Straight Talk to Tardy Convention Delegates.

Toronto, June 21.—The first real division of the floor of the International Kiwanis convention meeting here came this morning on a resolution which would bar from membership of those people whose work prevents them from spending their whole time in study. Western University will offer at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night, a short course of study of the International Organization of the Government of Canada.

There exists at present a Labor Education Association of Ontario, but since the coming of Albert Mansbridge, who spoke recently in the college institute on the advantages of working people by the Workers' Educational Association, feeling has been expressed that such an organization in London would be of inestimable value, and it is felt by the executive of Western University that the course of study they offer is a step in this direction.

If the offer is accepted by the Trades and Labor Council a professor will be brought from Toronto to conduct the course, which would deal with Canada from the point of view of its trades and industries, means of transportation, political institutions, its position as a part of the British Empire, and its relations, past, present and prospective, to foreign countries.

Although the course offered is a short one there is every possibility of extending it if so desired, as the subject is wide in its scope and one which permits of much discussion.

Sandwich Priest Dies While Praying in Church

Rev. Father Semande, C.S.B., Succumbs During Early Morning Invocation.

Windsor, Ont., June 21.—Kneeling in prayer at Assumption Church at Sandwich, shortly after 7:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. Father Semande, C.S.B., assistant pastor at the church, was heard by members of the congregation to utter a groan, and was seen to fall over—dead.

Death was due to heart disease. He was carried into the parish house, where life was found to be extinct.

Father Semande had been ailing for about two months. Yesterday, according to Rev. Father E. Burns, C.S.B., pastor of the church, he complained of two slight attacks of heart trouble, but nothing serious was anticipated. Father Semande arose as usual early this morning to say his 7 o'clock mass. He appeared to be in good spirits, and at the conclusion of the mass went to the back of the church to make his thanksgiving.

Rorn in Lonsdaleville, near here, 67 years ago. Father Semande was educated at Assumption College, and ordained priest at Assumption Church 40 years ago. He was one of the oldest members of the community of St. Basil.

WOODMEN OF WORLD HOLD BANQUET AT PORT STANLEY

100 Delegates Expected From Winnipeg, Toronto and Other Points.

Members of the Woodman of the World from all over the Dominion will attend a meeting of that organization at Port Stanley Wednesday night.

More than 100 delegates from Winnipeg, Toronto and other points in Canada are expected to be present. Tuesday night initiation services were conducted by the London branch of the W. O. W., and five new members were taken into the lodge. The speakers of the evening praised highly the splendid work of the drill corps during the initiation ceremony.

Not to Restrict Nominations.

"Kiwanis in the future is going to stand or fall just as it is today. I desire the best. Men selected for leadership in Kiwanis must be of the highest type, men not only of judgment and ability, but men with ideals and vision. Such men cannot be selected in a haphazard way, nor can they be selected in the turmoil of a convention, and unless some machinery is set up by which candidates for office can be suggested we are not going to get the best men or best results."

"I therefore suggest that the convention adopt a caucus plan for selecting candidates. I am going to submit at the first business meeting of the convention a resolution carrying out this plan, and will ask the resolutions committee to report same in its first report to the convention so that if we are going to have a legally constituted caucus for the selection of candidates, we may know at once whether it is agreeable to the convention body."

"I do not want this idea to get abroad, nor is it my purpose even if the caucus form of selecting candidates is authorized, that such a selection by the caucus will in any manner prevent candidates from being nominated by the delegates. The caucus idea is solely for the purpose of being a medium of selecting what is felt to be the best men for the various offices, and I believe that if the caucus idea is adopted it will once for all do away with the criticisms that have heretofore been made that candidates were selected by a small group of men."

Miss Phyllis Kennedy, president of the city union, is at the head of the picnic committee.

AYERS IS GIVEN 12-YEAR TERM

was escorted in for sentence. Questioned if he had anything to say before sentence should be passed upon him, the prisoner conferred a few moments with his attorneys and replied in a firm, steady voice: "No, sir."

He received the sentence seemingly with remarkable calm. There were many in the courtroom who expected that he would make some statement; with reference to the robbery.

Judge Taylor, explaining that although from the evidence adduced he had concluded that Ayers was not the instigator of the deed, he could not allow that to influence him greatly as an example had to be set for those who might consider that the looting of banks was "easy money."

Attorney Meredith executed an eloquent appeal for the prisoner. He agreed with his honor that the robbery was a serious crime, but asked that the sentence be imposed to consider the fact that it was the first offence for the convicted man, who had previously an excellent record, had gained nothing from the robbery, and was in a good way to reform.

Met Stronger Will.

"Ayers," he said, "had no doubt been induced to enter the dangerous enterprise by a will stronger than his own."

Removed immediately to the cells Ayers conversed a few minutes with his brother Frank. Observing the crown witness, Mrs. Olive Myrtle Koehler, who "squealed" on the four men standing in the corridor of the court, the latter questioned her. "Now are you satisfied?" Mrs. Koehler made no reply.

More than an hour elapsed while the judge considered the request from the defence for a postponement of the trial in the case of Ayers and John, Crown Attorney Wilson maintained a vigorous objection to such a ruling.

It has not yet been decided whether the other prisoners will appear in September or December.

In his plea to the bench, Crown Attorney Willson admitted that Ayers had a clear record, but held that the records of crime in Lambton county had no such parallel as the Wyoming job. The people of the county had come to hope, he stated, that the time would come when such a robbery would be an impossibility, and asked "that punishment be made sufficiently severe to fit the crime."

Attorney Meredith contended that it was "not the wish of the people of Lambton, but a matter of justice." He suggested, further, that a feeling detrimental to the prisoners had been created in the county by published in the newspapers prior to and during the trial.

Following these addresses by Mr. Meredith, counsel for the defence, and Crown Attorney F. W. Willson, the case was finally placed in the hands of the jury at 5 o'clock last night.

After the jurors had been out for several minutes they were recalled at the request of Attorney Meredith, while His Honor Judge Taylor, presiding, corrected an omission in the charge respecting the refusal of Mrs. Bessie Hunt, a crown witness, to define more closely her identification of Ayers.

"Once aroused the jealousy of a woman," declared Attorney Meredith, in his appeal to the jury, "and you must look for trouble. Seldom, if ever, will a man come forward and injure another just for spite. Not so with a woman influenced by jealousy or slight. Gentlemen of the jury never injure a woman."

Cites Time Lapse.

Telling the jurors that identification evidence must be based on opportunity for observation and emphasizing the time that had elapsed between the opportunity and the identification, Mr. Meredith observed, "a case is no stronger than the evidence upon which it is based." Proceeding to attempt to demolish the credibility of the "squealer," defence counsel asked, "did you ever hear such nonsense in a court of justice as the story told by Mrs. Olive Myrtle Koehler? If her story is correct these men should be in an asylum," he commented.

Counsel presumed that it was McMillen that the woman wanted to "get" and that she had wanted the other men into it to fill out the story. If the latter had been concerned in the robbery and had told Mrs. Koehler, they deserved all that was coming to them, he said. There was no doubt, however, he added, that McMillen had had immoral relations with Mrs. Koehler.

Touching upon the threat to shoot Mrs. Koehler, he asked that if it were so that McMillen had "double-crossed" his companions then why had they not threatened to shoot him?

During his address to the jury town attorney Willson held that the evidence submitted by the defence has shown that Ayers was not in London at the time of the robbery.

"We have shown that he was in Wyoming," he said, "or why should disinterested witnesses come forward to say that he was?"

He cited as another peculiar incident the fact that Ayers was arrested in McMillen's car, showing that they were seemingly close friends.

Admitting that the "alibi" furnished had possibilities, he questioned whether the jurors could believe the evidence of the defense witnesses, "the two loose ends from California," as he termed them.

"They stuck by these boys wonderfully," he concluded, "only it was at night only."

Judge Taylor, in his charge to the jury, said it appeared peculiar to him that no witness could identify more than one or two of the accused men, although they had been shown photographs of four men, and remarked on the difficulties of positive identification after a period of seven months. On that, however, the jury must be entirely guided by its own beliefs. He had been unable to find any ruling that should be adopted as to the identification of prisoners, but at the same time he could not rule out the evidence submitted. The jury must take it at its face value.

The inference from the evidence of Robert Willson was that Mrs. Koehler knew of the inside story before Christmas and she did not go down to Port Stanley until the New Year.

PARK OWNERS HALT PAVEMENT

Petition Against Improvement Holds Up West London Belt.

Ald. Douglass Annoyed Over Action of Property Owners.

Because owners of property abutting on Dundas street, between the bridge and Wharncliffe have petitioned against a pavement on this thoroughfare, a complete belt of pavement through London West and back to the city proper has been made possible for this year.

The majority for this pavement belt for London West was assured when the city council decided Monday to construct sheet asphalt pavements on Wharncliffe road from Dundas to Oxford streets, and on Oxford street, from Wharncliffe road to the River Thames.

These pavements will be constructed this year, provided that city gas and water mains are all permanently laid in time for gangs to get to work, and that the London Street Railway Company agrees to pave its track allowance on Wharncliffe road.

Ald. H. H. Douglass, who represents West London on the city council, and who is sponsoring the pavement improvements inaugurated in his district this year, does not take kindly to the action of property owners on Dundas street from the bridge to Wharncliffe road who petitioned against the pavement.

He contends that this is a much-needed thoroughfare, being the main route to Tecumseh Park and Mount Pleasant Cemetery. However, the owners of the park have petitioned against this pavement, and rather than force it upon the ratepayers, this strip of the pavement belt was held up.

"It is a shame not to pave Dundas street from the bridge to Wharncliffe road," said Ald. Douglass. "There is not much use doing the other pavements if this one is going to spoil the belt."

That ball park is a good-paying proposition," commented Ald. O. I. Cunningham. "I do not see why the owners should petition against such an improvement as this pavement."

Other pavements in London for which bylaws have also been passed this week include: Hamilton road, from Egerton to St. Julien streets; Princess avenue, from Quebec to Charlotte streets; Talbot street, from Oxford street to Cambridge Creek, and Dundas street, from Ashland avenue east to the city limits.

These pavements will be completed by day labor under the direction of City Engineer H. A. Brazier, who hopes to construct them all this year. Some of the above improvements were petitioned against, but as the petitions were not sufficiently signed they will be proceeded with this season.

No bylaws were prepared for pavements where the majority of the owners petitioned against such improvements.

MOTHERS PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK PARK

Victoria School Club Stages Amusing Program of Sports.

More than a hundred members of Victoria Mothers' Club rallied for the annual picnic held at Springbank Park Tuesday afternoon, at which Principal E. H. McKone and Mrs. McKone and several of the teachers of the staff were also present. Mrs. A. Cross, late president, and Mrs. W. Westcott, were general convokers and to them a generous share of credit was due for the satisfactory arrangements.

Mrs. Westcott, Mrs. C. Spearin and Mrs. W. Yorkick had charge of the amusing program of sports, entered into with much enthusiasm by the mothers. In the candle race, the prize-winners were Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Hancock. Mrs. W. Roughly carried off the honors in a "Time" race, and Mrs. Foster managed to thread a needle before all other competitors. Mrs. C. Carrothers coming second in the hop, step and jump event. Mrs. Baskett and Mrs. Bryant led Mrs. C. Austin and Mrs. F. R. Hardie demonstrated the greatest skill and taste in doll dressing, and Mrs. G. Wenige and Mrs. Hancock came first in the endurance tests of the soda biscuit contest. Much mirth was provoked by the snow-shoeing race, in which the winners were Mrs. Austin and Mrs. Bryant.

Mrs. Bryant figured as a "Mysterious Lady," who was detected by Mrs. Hill.

The club embraced the opportunity of presenting Mrs. Cross with a handsome cup and saucer, paying the month's dues, and taking a vote on the most popular lady at the picnic. Mrs. Cross carried off the honors.

ST. GEORGE'S CLUB PICNIC.

St. George's Mothers' Club enjoyed a happy outing at Springbank Park Tuesday afternoon, thus bringing the season to a close. The members of the new executive were on duty with the retiring officers, and a number of the teachers of the school joined the picnic in time for the tempting picnic tea.

Allege Baseball Guessing Contests Hurtful To Morals

WINNIPEG, June 21.—That baseball guessing contests, which are being carried on through the medium of labor and sporting papers on a large scale in Winnipeg at the present time, are linked closely with powerful liquor interests and influences which would destroy Sabbath observance legislation was the charge preferred at the Manitoba Methodist conference here yesterday.

It was also declared that the extent to which the "gambling spirit" had been developed by these contests was ruining the finest instincts in men, causing them to neglect their debts, allow insurance policies to lapse and comforts of their home to be neglected.

It was urged that all such guessings be made illegal.

London, June 21.—Canadian Press Cable—Sir Joseph Cook, Australian high commissioner in London, speaking today before the Sheffield Institute of Mining Engineers, said the problem of the age was the development of power. Our Obligation.

REFERENCE has been made in these columns previously to the fact that every consideration should be given the case of returned men who have not been able to get started, or attain as good positions as they had before they enlisted and went overseas.

A letter comes from a reader in a town near London, calling attention to a case that has come to the attention of some of the good people there. A young man who had been overseas for some years came back in fair health, at times indifferent, from the exposure and hardship to which he had been subjected. He seemed to improve for a short time, and was married a year or so ago, and the young couple started in to keep house. Inside of six months his troubles began to come to the surface. His condition became worse, until finally he was not able to work steadily, and had to give up the position he had. At only odd times was he able to get out and work.

His wife decided to take her share of the load, and for the first time in her life started out to work in order to make ends meet at the house. A note by the husband to an old friend shows the misery of his heart in this new turn: "To think it has come to this, me home here in the house and going out to work. Oh, how I hate myself for having brought this upon her." The rest of the letter runs along in a similar way, and depicts a misery that is too deep for words, and a hurt that does not like to be pardoned before the community as an object for charity.

The trouble with all these cases is that as we move farther away from the date of the war, our sympathy becomes somewhat of a warped thing. It is not as great as it was, either personally or nationally. This young man to whom reference is made in the letter is one of many. Before he went overseas he had prospects of a fair position, and the same chance for promotion that stands before any other man. He had his health and his ability to get out and work and do things.

What has his country taken from him? The price has been practically everything except his life. He went the limit in the matter of service when men were needed, and when we used to sit up nights wondering how long it would be before some power would arise to stop the advance of the Germans.

Now, we are not making any appeal for assistance for this case. The point is far bigger than any one case. Simply this: There is so much said now about the tremendous debt in dollars this country owes because it participated in the world war that one would almost draw the inference that our part in the war should have been over the day the armistice was signed. As a matter of fact it will be some generations before the war is paid for in dollars and cents. The men to whom we owe the greatest debt are right here now, and the country and the individuals in the country have a chance to discharge that debt to some degree. The fact that a man rendered service overseas does not receive the consideration now that it should, nor the consideration that was shown to the claim a year or two ago. The people themselves, apart entirely from what a government may or may not do, have a duty undischarged, and the only way in which it can ever be discharged is by consideration and fair treatment of returned men who need help. It is a sacred obligation that this generation cannot pass on to the next.

The Art of Writing.
A MEETING was held in South Renfrew a few days ago under the auspices of the trustees and ratepayers, at which an address was given by Mr. Sessworth. Questions were asked during the session, one of them being as to whether writing was as well taught in the schools today as in years gone past. The field secretary of the association, Mr. Sessworth, answered that more people could write now than could 25 years ago. "But I must say," he added, "that few write so well."

By way of explanation, he added that the success of a teacher is usually judged by the number of pupils who pass their examinations, and for that reason subjects such as reading and writing are not stressed, as they do not count so high in the test.

Observation would lead one to believe that there is some point to what this speaker said. Some will go so far as to tell you that writing is a lost art in the schools of the present time, and it is a fact that there was more character exhibited in the handwriting of a generation ago than there is today. Letters come to this office from men who are around seventy years of age. The writing in many cases has a strength that stands out as indicative of the mind of the person writing. The formation of many of the letters shows strength of character and the ability to think well.

The average pupil leaving school today is not a good writer. Newspapers get many of their junior reporters from the high schools and colleges, and it is the exception to

READ YOUR CHARACTER

NO. 246—SELLING THE DOWN-STROKE "B."

Again you have an inquiry from a prospective customer. This time the handwriting is characterized by that type of "B" and "d" in which the stem of the letter is made, not in the conventional fashion with a loop, but with a single down-stroke.

Now, aside from any information which may be gleaned from the wording of the letter, can you tell your salesman anything that will help him when he calls upon this prospect to explain your proposition?

You can, merely from the way in which the "B" and the "d" are formed. This prospect is one who has what we speak of loosely as a general way as "character." Whether a man or a woman, the salesman will not find this prospect the kind who is easily influenced by the will power or forcefulness of another. This prospect will not sign the order merely because the salesman urges it.

It is a case in which the salesman will have to present his story clearly and logically, in a practical way, explaining its constructive advantages, and then allow the prospect to make his or her decision on the strength of it. The right time may be taken to suggest the decision, but it will do more harm than good to try actually to force that decision, particularly to force it prematurely.

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

JUNE 21, 1897.

The patriotic service yesterday, under the direction of the Sons of England, was entered into with great heartiness in London. Divine service was held in the largest available building, and over 1,000 men marched in the society parade.

All the city aldermen marched, excepting Ald. Bennett, who is in Scotland, and Ald. Taylor, who has been confined to his room for the past few days. Capt. John Brown, acting as marshal, ably handled the big parade, and about 3 o'clock the start was made in the following order:

WEATHER—APPETITE

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

ARM weather usually brings with it a loss of appetite, especially in the case of the office man or other sedentary worker. Most of us over-eat in summer, or else we cram our bodies with foods containing in themselves too much heat.

Foods contain varying amounts of heat units, or calories. Therefore, at this season, unless you select your food with some care, you are liable to supply your old furnace with enough heat for midwinter instead of summer.

Too often we measure our food by the square inch—eat through our eyes,

The BOOKSHELF

THE VANISHING OF BETTY VARIAN. By Carolyn Wells. George H. Doran Company, Publishers, New York.

NO ONE had the faintest premonition of coming tragedy on that lovely summer afternoon when the picnic started out from Highland House, the picturesque old pile high up on a point of rock jutting out into the sea and connected with the mainland only by a narrow strip, which the Varians had taken for the season.

It was a very small party, given for the Varians' only daughter, Betty. The Varians, being newcomers, knew only a few of the habitués of Headland Harbor. But Rodney Grannis had met Betty Varian, and they had fallen in love with each other, to the great displeasure of Frederick Varian, Betty's father.

That very morning the father and daughter had quarreled about Grannis, and he had been forbidden to come to the house. So, of course, he was not among the picnicers, who had all gone some distance down the steep and difficult path which was the one way of getting to or from Headland House, when Betty suddenly declared she had forgotten her camera, and ran back to fetch it.

The others waited for her until their patience was exhausted, and at last her father went after her. He, too, failed to reappear, and presently one of the young men in the party, Ted Landon, and Claire Blackwood, a pretty widow, went in search of the delinquents.

They found Frederick Varian—found him on the floor of the hall, dead, with a bullet through his heart. And Betty had vanished.

Both father and daughter had entered the house in full sight of the rest of the party, watching from the path below. All the servants had gone to a circus in a nearby town, and the house was deserted. There was no sign of an intruder; the cliff overlooking the sea, and was absolutely unscalable; the only path was clearly to be seen by the watching party. For any one to enter or leave the house unnoticed seemed impossible.

This is but the beginning of an involving and perplexing mystery, which baffles all investigators until it is solved at last by the indefatigable Pennington Wise and his less indefatigable assistant, Zizi.

It cannot be said that the solution is entirely plausible, and the tale belongs to the jig-saw puzzle type of plot story. But it is entertaining and succeeds in its two principal objects—those of holding and puzzling the reader.

TODAY'S word is MORIBUND.

It's pronounced—mor-i-bund, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—in a dying state; near death.

It comes from—Latin "moriri," to die.

It's used like this—"Many people believe a new political alignment in England to be near and that both old party organizations are moribund."

Our Own Country

CANADA'S FIRST ROAD.

Q.—Where was Canada's first road?
A.—The first road built in Canada was in Nova Scotia, or Acadia, as it was then known, from Digby Gap to the fort at Annapolis, as a military road, a score of miles in length, under Champlain's directions.

ALBERTA IRRIGATION.
Q.—What is the extent of irrigation in Alberta?

A.—Irrigation in Alberta includes nearly a million acres in the southern part of the province, and many other projects are planned under the government aid scheme.

Yesterday the 60th anniversary of Queen Victoria's coronation broke over the camp a little cool and somewhat threatening. Fleecy clouds drifted across the sky, but as morning advanced the warm and welcome rays of the sun beamed upon the soldiers, and dispelled the fears of a wet day. Crowds of people began to gather on the heights at 8:30, and at 9 o'clock the brigades were drawn up and marched down on the hillside, where they were halted and where Rev. Canon Richardson delivered an eloquent sermon.

The afternoon in camp was a quiet one. During its early hours there were few visitors about, but between 3 and 5 o'clock thousands of people traversed the grounds from end to end. The inspection by Lieut.-Col. Smith and his staff brightened up the men.

One of London's popular young men, Mr. Fred Beltz, left yesterday morning for South Bend, Ind., where his marriage to Miss Maude Oren of that city will take place on Wednesday, June 23. Mr. Fred White, city, will stand up with him.

CAMPERS

ONTARIO'S forest wealth is dwindling. Every year forest fires take disastrous toll. Careless campers cause eleven per cent. of Ontario's forest fires. Last summer 112 cases of neglected camp fires were reported. This summer be careful.

Save Ontario's Forests They're Yours

When you build your fire to make tea, fry bacon or add cheer to pipe and story-telling time, use a woodsman's precautions.

The real woodsman builds his fire on an old fireplace, if there be one handy. Failing that he scrapes away all litter, moss and fibrous rotted wood down to the mineral soil, or the bare rock, and preferably some place close to the water. He knows that if fire gets into the moss or the upper woody layer of forest soil, or in a half-rotted log or stump, it "holds over," burns away unnoticed underneath, and unless followed up and carefully put out, is liable to break into a flame later. He knows how hard it is to put such deep-smouldering fire out. So he makes his cooking fire surprisingly small and compact, and chooses a spot that is absolutely safe.

It is a mark of his finished woodsmanship how thoroughly he drowns his fire out with plenty of water when he is through with it. Save the forests. You may want to camp again.

DON'T

DON'T take chances with fire in Ontario's forests.

DON'T throw away cigarette or cigar butts, pipe "heels" or burnt matches until you are dead sure they are out.

DON'T neglect to drown out your fire with lots of water.

DON'T build your camp fire against a rotten log or stump—nor on windy points: nor near moss patches: nor at the base of a tree.

DON'T forget that the upper layer of ground in the forest consists of partially rotted wood which will burn.

43 FARMERS IN CONVOY TOURING THREE COUNTIES

Middlesex Junior Farmers' Body Seeks Demonstrations of Practical Agriculture.

Agrarians Have Busy Day Under Direction of R. A. Finn of London.

BY JOHN J. McLELLAN.

Goderich, June 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—In presenting the review of the work of the divorce committee of the Senate for the present session, Hon. W. F. Proudfoot, chairman, strongly urged that action be taken next session to establish divorce courts for Ontario and Quebec. It was evident, he claimed, that divorce applications would continue to increase, and the work was getting beyond the Senate. He also pointed out that divorce was not confined to the wealthy classes.

reformation pays were two of the features of this trip. On the farm of Mr. Laithwaite, a Canadian Press reporter, possibly the first made in Canada, has been made with maple and, according to the owner, it pays with two cords to the acre in winter time, at a value of $2.00 per cord.

The reformation has not been tried on an immense scale, but the attempt has proven, Mr. Laithwaite told the association, that it can be done and can be made to pay. A favorable impression was taken away on reformation by the Middlesex agrarians.

Evolves New Ideas. The last exhibit was Mr. Laithwaite's fruit orchard, and Jersey herd. In fruit farming Mr. Laithwaite has been somewhat of an experimenter, and he has evolved new ideas on fruit tree culture, which he reviewed for his guests.

One of the things that his research has afforded, especially struck the visitors. It was the novel idea of leaving fruit trees without pruning, at least in the summer time if not altogether.

After leaving the Laithwaite farm, the party headed their cars for Goderich, where they will stay the night, resuming in the morning.

Owing to delay one of today's projected visits was postponed until tomorrow, when it is proposed to go to the farm of S. Bisset near Goderich, to see a large Holstein herd and dairy, R. R. Sloan's apple orchard, the Theford dairy district, the Akron fruit district, Stutz's Hereford herd, Fralick's Angus cattle at the Fraleigh farm and Brantford Brothers' farm where Clydesdale horses will be put on parade.

Plans Itinerary. R. A. Finn, assisted by A. E. Springstead, the two department of agriculture representatives at London, planned the itinerary and are supervising the journey. They were assisted today by E. Stothers, the Huron county representative stationed at Clinton.

All arrangements for the trip were carried off with a nicely except that the party did not run true to schedule, being a little late. Tonight the party are taking the hotel accommodation at Goderich.

The members of the association making the tour are: Lyman Ireland, Allen McNeil, Clarence Pearson, L. W. Douglas, Edward Mitchell, from Strathroy; Ross Sadler, John Fox, A. K. Sadler, from Lambeth; Emerson Hodgson, Lawrence Eaton, Dirmid McTaggart, from Appin; Morley Jones, Hector Fletcher, Wilfrid Jones, Duncan MacCallum, from Mount Brydges; H. M. Walters, C. G. Jones, R. N. Allen, John Holdsworth, Wilfrid Lamont, Archie Clunes, D. Drummond, Joseph MacIntyre, Orville Smith, Ray Chisholm, Walden Keyes, Gordon Beattie, Fred Bennett, Harold Rock, L. A. Becker, Thomas Douglas, Gordon MacIntyre, Hector Fletcher, Lyle Richardson, W. C. Westlake, Clarke Dickson, J. C. Cody, all from London and villages of Middlesex.

In the reforested land a bit of diversion was caused during the day while the Middlesex Junior Farmers' Association made their way through the young woods.

The growth is so thick in this section that two crows, as if they were fledglings, became entangled in the brush. Spying them, one half of the association broke away to hunt the jackdaws, the prize falling to C. G. Jones of Mount Brydges, who carried it home tomorrow as a "souvenir de la guerre."

Free Another Crow. Another crow was also taken into captivity, but he didn't pass the Hocking test for a good layer, which the members had taught to them while at the poultry ranch of Keith Revell, so he was allowed to go.

The western cattle herd seen at the farm of Shipley Stewart, near Ailsa Craig, being importations from the West, were rather more accustomed to cowboys than to Fords, so when the convoy drew up beside the orchard, where the herd had parked themselves, they fled wildly.

It was related by Mr. Stewart that the cattle could be approached only in an open field by someone on horseback, and one wore the loop of a broken lariat on its neck as witness at least of the statement that they were accustomed to cowboys. To capture these animals minus lasso is necessary to herd them into a barn.

In the neighborhood of Ailsa Craig it was noticed by members of the party that much of the land was being turned into grazing land. In one instance 1,000 acres that had once formed four farms was pointed out by Mr. Stewart. On this land the farm buildings had been allowed to fall into decay by the owners and the land allowed to grow grass. Ranches of 1,000 acres for grazing, the party thought, were a new thing in Western Ontario.

Cars Left Behind. The itinerary covered this year was new to the leaders and much trouble was caused by lack of knowledge of the roads. Trouble, too, occurred on account of the fact that many times certain cars would be left behind.

Finally it was determined upon by A. E. Springstead, assistant agricultural representative, that the cars should have special markings to distinguish themselves and each other. Accordingly, at Clinton, he purchased some cheesecloth to deck the cars with. It was draped about and the bother was eliminated, but when the party reached the farm of William Abbott, he declared he believed that it was a wedding and a June bride coming down the road to his place. Execution of the chicken at the home of Keith Revell was a spectacle witnessed with considerable zest by the party. Nothing so crude as an axe was employed.

Instead, the bird was strung up to a tree—it was like a lynching party, though the poor chick had committed no offense, he was a martyr to science—and a knife was inserted into his mouth and the veins cut in his throat. Then the knife was given a turn into the brain, paralysis of the feather muscles and death followed.

The paralysis of the feather muscles enabled the chicken to be plucked with ease and in a few minutes the amazed onlookers were told by Mr. Revell.

Had Bad Luck. Duncan MacCallum of Mount Brydges was the only member of the party to whom fortune was unkind in the matter of motor cars. His vehicle sustained a blow-out and a puncture within an hour.

Three cheers and a tiger were the reward of Keith Revell for the serving of refreshments to the party. This was an unexpected boon to the motorists who had come on dusty roads some 75 miles or so.

On behalf of the association he was thanked by A. E. Springstead, who made a short speech.

At the home of George Laithwaite a Goderich photographer secured a picture of the entire group, which the association believes should have a wide circulation.

One of the interesting things that the tourists came across during the length of their course was a mammoth bull at the Smith Brothers farm, not far from Exeter. It is five years old, and its size caused gasps of wonder to come from the observers, farmers though they were.

When the party arrived in Goderich tonight the Lambeth contingent of Ross Sadler, John Fox and A. R. Sadler and certain others of the Strathroy members wished to witness a ball game between Zurich and Goderich, then in progress.

They, much to their regret, were turned back by a uniformed policeman at the gate for no particular reason. They complied with the wishes of the law, however, and adjourned to a bluff overlooking Lake Huron to open their picnic baskets which they had brought with them, finding therein considerable solace.

teens he emigrated with his parents and other members of the family to what was then called "the green fields of America." They settled for a time in Toronto Township. He was married in Guelph in 1855, and the following year the family moved up to the "Queen's Bush," the old folks settling on lot 28, con. 12, Normanby, while John settled on lots 16 and 17, con. 14. He sold lot 16 a few years later and retained lot 17, where he resided for 66 years.

TWO C.P.R. FREIGHT CARS JUMP TRACK

CHATHAM, June 20.—Two C. P. R. freight cars jumped the track in the C. P. R. freight yards between Center and Wellington streets shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The car trucks tore up the tracks and completely smashed a switch. One car crashed into yard engine No. 6102 that was standing on a siding and damaged the outer jacket on a cylinder head.

Switching was practically at a standstill until an auxiliary crew arrived from London and cleared up the wreckage. The cars were loaded with Gray-Dort cars, and were consigned to points in Eastern Ontario.

SIDE LIGHTS AT OTTAWA

BY RANDOLPH J. CHURCHILL, Staff Correspondent The London Advertiser.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa, June 20.—Fearing that the efforts of the Progressive Party to secure further reductions in the tariff on farm implements might bear fruit when the budget resolutions are considered further in committee, a deputation consisting of T. Bradshaw of Toronto, president of the Massey-Harris Company; J. G. Hosack of Toronto and W. J. Verity of the Verity Plow Company of Brantford, waited upon the government Monday to register a protest against further cuts.

The members of the deputation, which was met by W. G. Raymond, member for Brantford, explained to the various ministers interviewed, including Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, that the implement manufacturers were willing to abide by the government's decision to make a two and a half per cent reduction in the tariff, because they believed the financial position of the country called for some sacrifice on everyone's part, but they stated a further cut of 5 per cent on some Babe Drowns in Well As Parents Pick Cherries.

BLENHEIM, June 20.—While mother and father were on a distant part of the farm picking cherries, the 3-year-old daughter of Sam McCord, who lives three miles east of here, fell into a deep well and was drowned. Her grandmother discovered the body in the well, but life was extinct. A pail was found in the well, and it is believed the little one was trying to draw up water as she had seen her parents do.

implements as suggested by the Progressives would spell ruin for the industry in Canada.

They did not believe that any further cut should be made as the tariff wall afforded less protection to implement manufacturing than to any other industry. They received the assurance from Mr. Raymond and others that any attempt in committee to cut the tariff further would be strenuously opposed.

In an effort to delay and possibly to ward off the proposed tax on beet sugar it has been suggested to Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, that if the tax of 24½ per cent carries in committee that it be made subject to orders-in-council, so that it need not be enforced until the government has had time to investigate the standing and the profits of the Dominion Sugar Company during the past few years.

The suggestion originated with W. D. Euler, Liberal member for North Waterloo, who has become one of the greatest champions of the sugar beet industry. He is backed in his stand by Hon. James Murdoch, member for Kent; B. W. Fansher, member for East Lambton, and R. V. Heasler, member for West Lambton.

Mr. Euler pointed out to the finance minister that the sugar factory in Kitchener was closed last winter when the company was supposed to be making large profits, because it could not pay the price demanded by the farmers whom they depended upon for beets. If the proposed tax was enforced he could not see that the factory could again be put into operation.

THE annual picnic of the Progressives of Huron South will be held near Clinton, July 20. Miss Agnes MacPhail, William Black, member for the riding, and Andrew Hicks, the local member, will be the speakers. It is expected that owing to the success of the Progressive movement in that county, as exemplified by its representation on the two governments, that one of the largest gatherings in the history of South Huron will be held.

HYATT AVENUE AID HOLDS BERRY FETE

Perfect Weather, Bountiful Supper, Good Program Contribute To Success.

With perfect weather and the best day in all the season for strawberries the Hyatt Avenue Aid held Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Aid of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church in the Sunday school and church grounds was an unqualified success.

A bountiful supper with all manner of substantial things and quantities of strawberries and cream was served at long tables spread in the schoolroom, beautifully decorated with spring, under the converser-ship of the aid president, Mrs. T. Dickson.

Out on the lawn an inviting booth was erected, where ice cream, cake, candy, cold drinks and other goodies were dispensed by Mrs. R. E. Elliott, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Tutt, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Burns and Mrs. J. H. Moyer.

Mrs. H. E. Stelk arranged the program, which was a delightful feature of the occasion, including readings by Mr. Edward Stanley, Lucan, and Miss Mortimer; solos by Mrs. Albert Barrows and Master Mervin Turner, boy soprano, Master Jack Dean, and numbers by a girls' quartet from Hale Street Methodist Church. Rev. Johnston McCormick acted as chairman. During the evening Harold Pudney's orchestra, stationed outdoors, discoursed an evening program.

WITH THE BRIDES

GIVLIN-SHINE.

A pretty wedding took place in St. James' Catholic Church, Searford, at 9 a.m., Monday, June 19, when Margaret, daughter of Mrs. John Shine, was united in marriage to Mr. Owen Givlin, son of Mr. John Givlin, of Santa Rosa, California. The bride looked charming in a white satin gown. She wore the traditional veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was led to the altar by her mother, Mrs. John Shine. Mrs. O'Connell played Lohengrin's wedding march. Miss Hughes, who acted as bridesmaid, was groomed in mauve and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The nuptial mass was sung by Rev. J. M. Eckert of New York State. The groom was supported by Mr. George Holland of St. Columban. Mr. and Mrs. Givlin left in the afternoon for California.

She carried a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Wm. Ferguson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a smart gown of jade georgette and

NOBODY'S CAKE RECIPE.

Dear Cynthia—It has been such a long time since I slipped a note into your Mail-Box. Do you happen to have a little spare room for this one? I sure enjoy reading your letters, but never saw a remedy for goitre or thick neck, but I am glad to say, I have found one. A very simple remedy, guaranteed to cure, and mine is nearly all disappeared. Such a change in a person as well and it is a harmless treatment. If anyone would like it my address is with Miss Grey. I am also sending a cake recipe. It is so easily made.

Lightning Cake.
Two cups flour, scant 2 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons melted butter, a little salt. Break egg in cup, fill up with sweet milk, put all together and bake 3 minutes. Grease a tin and bake in moderate oven. A teaspoon of coloring makes it look nice, a cup of sugar if icing is not used.

May I come again sometime, Miss Grey? Am sending my love. I will sign my name.

NOBODY.

I am glad you have found a remedy for your goitre. Nobody, and hope you will be the means of giving someone else relief. Thanks for the hospital note and the cake recipe. We will be looking for a letter from you soon again. Nobody.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, who is on her way home after representing the London Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E., at the annual meeting of the national in Vancouver, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Len Parker in Venice, California.

Mrs. Frank McCormick was the hostess Monday afternoon of a charming tea given at her home on Central avenue. At the tea hour Mrs. Gordon Ingram poured at the attractive table adorned with roses, and Mrs. Harvey Skeay cut the ices.

Miss Bertha Sutton has arrived in town from "Loch Sloy," Winona, where she has been spending the past month and is the guest of Mrs. A. McPherson, Grosvenor street. Miss Sutton recently returned from Pekin, China, where she was attached for a couple of years to the staff of the Rockefeller Hospital.

G. L. Connor, chartered accountant of Chicago, has been paying a brief visit to his uncle, Mr. Alfred Connor of Birr, on his way to his former home in Belfast, Ireland. Before sailing from New York, he will visit in Toronto, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Washington. He expects to reach Ireland early in July.

The home of Mrs. J. Martin, 554 1/2 Waterloo street, was the scene of a merry event this week, when Miss Jean Studebaker, a June bride-elect, was surprised by forty young friends with a miscellaneous shower. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Miss Queenie Hill, sister of the groom-to-be and Miss Dorothy Styles sang appropriate songs, which were greatly appreciated. G. Thompson, J. Martin and Miss Lewin playing violin solos. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and dancing, the hostess serving a tempt-

Mrs. Joseph Marshall entertained the members of the Women's Christian Association at her quaint country home, "Cedar Terrace," London Township, the end of last week, the guests hearing with interest the story of the place as they enjoyed the lovely lawns and gardens. "Cedar Terrace," according to the hostess, is one of the oldest, if not the oldest house, in the city or vicinity, being built in the early thirties. Mrs. Harry Marshall and Mrs. Marshall-Hawkins assisted the hostess at the tea hour.

Miss Florence Widden was the hostess on Monday evening at a charmingly arranged miscellaneous shower at her home in Wortley road, in honor of Miss Mary Rouson, whose marriage to Mr. Sydney G. Elliott takes place this month. Much excitement prevailed while the bride-to-be followed the white ribbons that led to the hiding places of many dainty and useful gifts. After the presents had been admired the remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent in music. A dainty supper was served.

Another delightful affair in honor of Miss Peggy Gemmill, whose marriage takes place this week, was the tea and recipe shower given by Miss Catherine Campbell at her home in St. George street Tuesday afternoon. The tea table, decked with peonies, was presided over by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. John Gemmill. The guests included Misses Rose Saunders, Geraldine Webster, Winifred Pearson, Katharine Sabine, Tenie Tilden, Gertrude Fraser, Marjorie Dexter, Eileen Boomer, Beatrice Taylor, Margaret Reid, Mary Granger, Edith Jameson and Kathleen James.

BOOK I: THE ROBE

CHAPTER I

HE was born with a gift of laughter and a sense that the world was mad. And that was all his patrimony. His very paternity was obscure, although the village of Gavrilac had long since dispelled the cloud of mystery that hung about it. Those simple Brittany folk were not so simple as to be deceived by a pretended relationship which did not even possess the virtue of originality. When a nobleman announces himself the grandfather of an infant fetched no man knew whence, and thereafter cares for the lad's rearing and education, the most unsophisticated of country folk perfectly understand the situation. And so the good people of Gavrilac permitted themselves no illusions on the score of the real relationship between Andre-Louis Moreau—as the lad had been named—and Quintin de Keradiou, Lord of Gavrilac.

Andre-Louis had made the most of his opportunities. You behold him at the age of four-and-twenty stuffed with learning enough to produce an sion, his writings afford us very ample evidence. Of his gift of oratory he had already achieved a certain fame for it in the Literary Chamber of Rennes—one of those clubs in which the intellectual youth of France foregathered to study and discuss the new philosophies that were permeating social life. But the fame he had acquired there was hardly enviable. He was too impish, too caustic, too much disposed to thought his colleagues to ridicule their sublimist theories for the regeneration of mankind. Himself he protested that he merely held them up to the mirror of truth, and that it was not his fault if when reflected there they looked ridiculous.

All that he achieved by this was to exasperate, and his expulsion from a society grown mistrustful of him must already have followed but for his friend, Philippe de Vilmorin, a divinity student of Rennes, who, himself, was one of the most popular members of the Literary Chamber.

Coming to Gavrilac on a November morning, Philippe found in that

WHEN Phil Frog heard Mr. Peer about the Man-in-the-Moon, he was amazed. "The very idea of us not knowing it!" he declared. "Why, last night the moon looked so nice and round and shiny Fannie and I and the children all got out and sang a song of thanks when we were sure we saw Mr. Peerabout then."

Nancy shook her head. "No," she said. "You didn't see Mr. Peerabout. Old Comet-Legs, the fairy who is jealous of him, pushed him off the moon. The Weatherman is running the moon until Mr. Peerabout is found."

"Well, I declare!" croaked Phil. "I'll have to help, that's sure, for honestly I don't know what we'd do without a moon."

"When there's a nice moon we're not afraid of losing our lives. We can see when Oscar Owl is looking for us, and Marty Mink snoops along the bank on the lookout for a nice, fat pollywog."

Just then Polly Pollywog, who'd been listening, spoke up. "What does the Moon-Man look like?" she asked. "Anything like frogs or pollywogs?" "No," exclaimed Nick. "He looks like us. He has a head and arms and legs and feet." But Polly was too excited to listen. "Oh, I saw something," she cried out. "I know where Mr. Peerabout is. I saw him hiding in the tall grass near the bank. He's got arms and legs and a head, and he's all ragged, too. I'll take you there." So off they all started. "There he is," cried Polly. "Right there."

And what do you think? Nancy picked up Kitty Brown's rag doll. "No, Polly," said she kindly. "This isn't the Moon-Man. He's lost yet. But you can keep on looking. I'm afraid when he fell he got his head bumped and lost his memory."

"But no curiosity," said Andre-Louis. "You haven't thought of that."

"I wonder what you mean, Cousin Andre."

"Well you may," laughed Philippe. "For no one ever knows." His glance straying across the terrace settled upon a carriage that was drawn up before the door of the chateau. The footman displayed the resplendent blue-and-gold livery of the Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr.

"Why?" he exclaimed. "Is it M. de La Tour d'Azyr who is with your uncle?"

"It is, monsieur," said she, a world of mystery in voice and eyes, of which M. de Vilmorin observed nothing.

He bowed low, hat in hand and turned to depart towards the house. Mademoiselle, after a moment's blank pause, laughed rippingly. "Now where is he going in such a hurry?"

"To see M. de La Tour d'Azyr as well as your uncle, I should say."

"But he cannot. Did I not say that they are very closely engaged?"

"You don't ask me why, Andre."

"Since obviously you are all eager to tell, why should I ask?"

"If you are caustic I shall not tell you even if you ask. Oh, yes, I will. I am the object of this visit."

And she looked at him with sparkling eyes and lips parted in laughter. "The next, you would seem to imply, is obvious. But I am a dolt, if you please; for it is not obvious to me."

"Why, stupid, he comes to ask my hand in marriage."

"Unbelievable," said Andre-Louis, and stared at her, chap-fallen.

How To Serve Cool Drinks ---Quickly

ONE afternoon when you're called upon to serve a cool drink to unexpected visitors, and have nothing prepared, you can easily make a refreshing and unique beverage by combining ginger ale and grape juice. Mix a pint of ginger ale with a cup of grape juice in a shaker, pour them from one pitcher to another several times. Iced tea can be added by using one pint ginger ale, one pint grape juice and one pint tea. Serve with cracked ice.

Here are two other hot weather drinks that require more preparation:

Fruit Punch. One pineapple, 1 quart water, 1 quart raspberries or strawberries, 6 oranges, 3 cups lemon syrup, cracked ice. Grate pineapple. Put water and pineapple in a smooth saucepan and boil three minutes. Strain. Add juice pressed from quart of fruit, orange juice and lemon syrup. Pour over cracked ice and serve.

Loganberry Cup. One quart loganberry juice, 1 pint ginger ale, 1 pint tea, 2 lemons, 1 cup sugar.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Stir sugar into hot tea. When sugar is dissolved add remaining ingredients and pour over cracked ice.

There are two things to remember in serving iced drinks. Always strain lemon or orange juice before adding to other juices, and with chips of ice in the glasses.

Radio Radiations

BY THE RADIO EDITOR.

DOG days are poor days for radio reception.

The best results are obtained during the winter months.

This fact is illustrated graphically in the chart which shows the strength of signals received at Washington (the dotted line) and Norfolk (solid line), located respectively at distances of 110 and 150 miles.

These curves were recorded over a period of approximately two years.

Both of these stations were operating on a wave length of 1,000 meters. Had they used a shorter length, 360 meters for example, the variation in signal strength would have been considerably greater.

Not only are the signals weaker during the summer months than during the winter, but the amount of interference due to natural causes (static) is greatly increased.

Radio cannot fully come into its own until some means of counteracting or offsetting these natural effects have been devised. On the shorter wave lengths, the rise and fall of signal strength is also very marked at sunset and sunrise. The best results are recorded between 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 a.m. during the winter.

Winter nighttime conditions are responsible for the record-breaking reception of low-power stations at great distances.

British naval vessels off the coasts of Australia heard a low-power telephone station on the Pacific coast last winter.

But dog days are hot days. And reception is comparatively poor.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, tired feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

Liberal Members Present
Finance Minister With Solid Silver Tea Service.

PREMIER PAYS TRIBUTE

Emphasizes Splendor of His Mind and Heart For 40
Long Years.

OTTAWA, June 20.—(By Canadian Press).—Before the house met this afternoon Liberal members of the house gathered together to pay tribute to Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, for his 40 years of faithful service in public life.

In their behalf Rt. Hon. William L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, presented Mr. Fielding with a solid silver tea service, and in so doing spoke of the splendid qualities of mind and heart shown by the recipient during his public career.

The premier spoke of Mr. Fielding's love for his native province of Nova Scotia, for Canada, for the empire, and of his good-will to the United States, "which has found expression in your many valiant efforts to bring about close reciprocal relations in trade," which "we believe to be to the advantage of both countries, if not also a gift to the cause of higher civilization itself."

"The country not less than yourself," the prime minister concluded, "is to be congratulated that today finds you in the midst of your labors, more, solicitous of Canada's well-being and more devoted to her interests than at any period of your long and distinguished political career. Years have served only to enhance the value of your counsels, the disinterestedness of your patriotism, the prestige of your name, and the affection of your friends."

In replying, Mr. Fielding showed much emotion. He recalled the day 40 years ago when he was first elected to public office, touching lightly on his political experience in the interval. There was a tendency, he added, to confound imperialism with jingoism. If imperialism meant jingoism and flag-waving, he was not an imperialist. But if imperialism meant veneration for that great institution, the British Empire, if it meant that one believed the British Empire to be one of the greatest institutions in the world, he was an imperialist.

Three Shots Fired From
Speeding Car At Italian
Fruit Merchants.

BRANTFORD, June 20.—Three shots were fired at Joe Schronni and Salvatore Schronni two well-known Italian fruit merchants, who have their place of business on Market street. They were making their way to the home of Salvatore Schronni at 75 Marlboro street. When they arrived in front of the courthouse they were assailed by persons unknown in a curtained Ford touring car, who fired three shots at them, presumably from a high-powered revolver, by the loud report of which the shooting occurred at 11:05 last night.

One of the mysterious incidents in connection with the shooting is that only recently a brother of the Schronnis was mysteriously assassinated while he was walking along one of the streets of Guelph, and as a result of this local Italians are very excited over the shooting of last night.

Local Italians claim that it is the nefarious work of a black-hand gang, and that they think that it is a case of vengeance, as the Schronnis took an active part in the search for the murderers of their brother. It is thought that it might be the same gang that tried to assassinate the brothers last night.

As soon as the shots were fired the lights on the car were shut off, and the car dashed down Wellington street at a high rate of speed. Detective Evelyn and a party of constables were at once dispatched to the scene in the police car, but no trace of the car and its occupants could be found.

CONFESSED AXE SLAYER GETS LIFE IMPRISONMENT

JACKSON, Mich., June 20.—George Straub, who confessed slaying Miss Alice Mallett, social worker, with an axe, pleaded guilty in the circuit court here today and was sentenced to life imprisonment in solitary confinement at hard labor in the Marquette State Penitentiary.

An advance guard of heavily-armed police cleared the way from Lansing to Jackson during the morning, and Straub was rushed through, appearing in the court before Judge Benjamin Williams, shortly after 9 o'clock.

The court, in a very formal manner, asked if the defendant pleaded guilty.

Straub, in a muffled voice, heaved out a "Yes."

Judge Williams immediately passed sentence and ordered that Straub be taken to the prison at once.

The state troopers then escorted the convicted murderer to the county jail, where they prepared for the trip to Marquette.

TRAIN WRECKED NEAR LEADVILLE

LEADVILLE, Col., June 20.—Passenger train No. 2 on the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad was wrecked between Saliba and Leadville today, according to telephone messages. A call for nurses and doctors has been received here. The train carried heavy through traffic from California.

You can understand the very urgent need of more money to continue the wonderful work that we have undertaken.

AGREEMENT TO BE SUSPENDED

Special House Committee Votes Hoist For Crow's Nest Pass Rates.

Extension Beyond Year May Be Made by Order-in-Council.

OTTAWA, June 21.—(By Canadian Press).—At the close of a session in private which lasted till past midnight this morning, the special house committee on railway costs voted to suspend the Crow's Nest Pass agreement for one year, with the option of suspension for a second year by order-in-council.

Under the terms of this suspension the reductions in rates on basic commodities, as offered by the railways yesterday, will, it is understood, come into force. These reductions include a cut of twenty per cent on grain while, on the other basic commodities, the cut is 16.6 per cent in the West and 20 per cent in the East.

An exception is made in the case of coal, in which a reduction is offered of 10, 15 and 20 cents a ton varying with the length of the haul. A proposal, it is announced, was made in the committee by the Western members that the Crow's Nest Pass agreement be suspended for one year in so far as basic commodities, other than grain, are concerned. On grain the Crow's Nest rates were to apply. This proposal also provided for an optional suspension for a second year by order-in-council. On a vote being called, the committee tied; the casting vote against the proposal was given by the chair.

The main motion, as previously outlined, was, it is stated, carried by a small majority.

The committee's report is liable to lead to some sharp fighting in the house.

Hunt Treasure Divining Rod Located!

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., June 20.—The quest for the Jesuit treasure box appears to be nearing an end. At the close of today's operations it was announced that practically all afternoon the clamshell scoop had been biting huge mouthfuls of sand from the bed of the River Wye directly above where the treasure chest has been located.

The accompanying photograph shows Edward Jeffrey (at right), inventor, and William Ney, operator, of the divining rod. Inset, a century-old skull dug up from the river bed.

CONSIDERS PLANS OF NEW SURVEYS

Town Planning Commission Defers Decision On Several Building Subdivisions.

Consideration of plans for proposed building surveys to be opened up in London, occupied most of the town planning commission's session, Tuesday afternoon.

Permission for the registration of McClary avenue, which although in use as a thoroughfare for over thirty years, has not been registered, was deferred pending preparation of a plan showing lots and houses fronting on this right of way.

McClary avenue was accepted by the city when that portion of Westminster township was annexed to London and was later given its present name.

Plans for Cove Park were submitted by City Engineer H. A. Brazier, but the commission took no action, as they include three proposed blind streets. These plans will be considered at the July meeting of the above body.

Although the matter of gas tanks on city property came up for discussion, no decision was reached, this item being laid over until a bylaw covering their installation is completed by the city solicitor.

Ald. L. S. Holmes presided at the meeting.

URGES POSTAL WORKERS TO HELP LABOR ALLIANCE

Tom Moore, President of Dominion Trades Congress, Addresses Hamilton Convention.

HAMILTON, June 20.—Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, addressed the Dominion Postal Clerks' Association in convention here this morning. He spoke on the need of organization and urged the members to work to strengthen their association and to co-operate with all other organized bodies.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, in his budget speech, stated that no nation could live unto itself alone, said Mr. Moore. This was very true, and it was equally true that no man could live unto himself alone, hence the need for organizing for the benefit of all. Some tried to make civil servants believe that they had no need to organize or affiliate with other labor bodies, but they were engaged in a commercial undertaking and the government was no better than private employers in providing improved working conditions for government servants.

Mr. Moore criticized the government for curtailing the bonus and urged the postal clerks to continue their fight to have it continued or to secure a better wage in lieu of it.

DECLARES PROGRESSIVES AIM AT CANADIAN UNITY

Drury Advocates Fiscal Policy Fair to Whole of Dominion.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 20.—(By Canadian Press).—"The Progressive movement is intensely Canadian. It will not tolerate any longer that game that has been played of setting one part of Canada against the other. That has been a dangerous game. We are going to find the things on which we agree and see that the Canadian nation is built up in that way," declared Premier E. C. Drury of Ontario, in speaking before the Canadian Club here yesterday on "What the Progressive Movement Stands For."

"There is a growing opinion," Premier Drury said, "that the fiscal policy of Canada has not been formed for the whole of Canada, but for certain parts of Canada."

He explained that one of the objects of the movement is to remodel the tariff in order to get free the basic industries of the country.

How Many Women Peel Their Faces At Home?

Any woman nowadays may quickly rejuvenate her complexion at home by a safe and painless peeling process. The days of expensive and dangerous "operations" are past, and each woman can be her own beauty doctor. It has been discovered that ordinary mercurized wax, applied like cold cream at night, will cause the thin veil of lifeless, sallow or blotchy cuticle to gently flake off in invisible, flour-like particles, revealing the fresh, vigorous and beautiful young skin underneath. The wax peels off only the unhealthy and unsightly outer film.

The process defies detection, and unveils a clear, white, lovely complexion which is, of course, a perfectly natural one. For this purpose many thousands of women are now using mercurized wax, which may be obtained at any drug store. Naturally the process also removes all such surface blemishes as freckles, blotches, pimples, tan, liver spots, etc. It makes the face look years younger.

Life and Character Reading.
JUNE 21.
The governing sign of this birth-date is Cancer, called the paradox sign of the twelve. A few harmonious people are found in it, who as far as known have not given any special attention to spiritual development, but, generally speaking, the genius of the Cancer sign, which means Crab, is exacting, difficult to explain. Those born under it have a persistent will, a clutch of determination, intuition and purpose.

Those born under Cancer will be gifted in many ways far above the average. If educated thoroughly, they have a very superior intelligence, and an attitude of learning new things and working out new principles. They have sympathy for the public good, and are generous.

Farms, farm implements, and farm stock will be well advertised today in the Want Ads, so it is advisable for any one looking for the above mentioned to use the Want Ads carefully.

RUNNERS

NEW YORK, June 20.—Out of the eastern contenders for the three-year-old thoroughbred crown, with the exception of J. S. Cadden's Snob II, whose foot injury followed a disappointing reversal of form, will be ready to face the barrier in the special $50,000 race at Latonia, Ky., next Saturday.

Benji Block arrived in Latonia yesterday with his beaten, but as yet undaunted Morvich. H. P. Whitney's Whiskaway, which took the measure of the Block colt Saturday at Aqueduct, and his stable mate, Olympus, it was announced today, will be shipped Wednesday to Kentucky, and on the same day Pillory, winner of the Fountains and Belmont stakes, will leave for Kentucky.

The chances of Olympus in the special were regarded as on a par with, if not better than Whiskaway's until he went down to defeat yesterday before Flying Cloud, third, Time 1:29 3/4. Flying Cloud, the conqueror of the Block colt now looms as the chief standard-bearer of the Whitney stable.
