MEETS DISASTER

Another British Force Overwhelmed by the Boers

Only 18 Miles From Pretoria—Lord Roberts Says the Casualties Will Turn Out Heavy.

London, July 12—Lord Roberts reports to the War Office, under date of Pretoria, July 12, as follows:

"The enemy, having failed in their attack upon the right rear, as mentioned in my telegram of July 9, made a determined attack upon our right flank yesterday, and, I regret to say, succeeded in capturing Nitrals' Nek, which was garrisoned by a squadron of the Scots Greys, with two guns of the battery of the Royal Artillery and five companies of the Lincolnshire Regiment.

"The enemy attacked in superior numbers at dawn, seizing the hill commanding the nek, brought a heavy gun fire to bear upon the small garrison.

"Nitrals' Nek is about eighteen miles from here, near where the road crosses the Crocodile River. It was held by us in order to maintain the road and telegraphic communication with Rustenburg.

"The fighting lasted more or less through the day, and immediately on receiving information, early this morning, of the enemy's strength, I despatched reinforcements from here, under Col. Godfrey, of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. Before, however, they reached the spot, the garrison had been overpowered and the guns and a greater portion of the squadron of Greys had been captured, owing to the horses being shot; also about 90 men of the Lincolnshire Regiment.

"A list of the casualties has not been received, but I fear they are heavy.

"Simultaneously an attack was made on our outpost near Durdodorp, south of the town, in which the Seventh Dragoons were engaged. The regiment was handled with considerable skill by Lieut. Col. Low, and kept the enemy in check until they retired on their support, and would probably have suffered but slight loss had not our troops mistaken some Boers in the bushes for our men.

"Smith-Dorrien had a successful engagement with the enemy yesterday near Krugerdrorp and inflicted heavy loss on them.

"Buller reports that the Boers who were destroying his line of railway near Faberston were driven off yesterday after a short action.

"Hart reports from Heidelberg that the surrendering of the Boer arms and ammunition continues in that district."

LOOKING VERY SERIOUS.

London, Friday, July 13, 4 p.m.—Lord Roberts' despatch reporting still another unfortunate occurrence throws a serious light upon the state of affairs in South Africa. There has been some comment recently regarding the virtual absence of progress by the immense army under command of Lord Roberts, but few could have been found to believe that the scattered Boers were able to inflict such a defeat so near Pretoria. Instead of the surrender of all of the remaining Boers being imminent, as recent telegrams had hinted, it seems they have been making a concerted attempt to surround or recapture Pretoria, with so much success that in the region which was supposed to be purified, and in which no attack was expected, they succeeded in inflicting a serious defeat and capturing two guns and some 200 men. It is evident that General Buller has a considerable force, seeing that he is able to press Lord Roberts' lines at a half-dozen points around Pretoria, from the Springs to the southwest of the city, northward to Middleburg and Durdodorp, and thence southward to Nitrals' Nek and Krugerdrorp. Lord Roberts omits to give the name of the commander concerned, giving rise to belief that the mishap be not more grave than his information at present implies, it proves that the situation is still serious, and that there is no possibility of any troops being spared from South Africa for China; but, on the contrary, that it will still take a long time to clear the country of the Boers.

ALL ARE PLEASED

Over the Success of the Orange Celebration Here.

It was the Biggest Ever Held in Chatham—Essex Turn Next Year.

"Yes," said Marshal Tom Martin, "there were a few Orangemen in town yesterday, just what you could notice. We are satisfied and we think the citizens are. It was the largest Orange demonstration Chatham ever had."

"Were the visitors satisfied?" "They were, all of them. They were well pleased. The decorations were not what they might have been. People, at least some of them, seemed afraid to decorate, but they needn't have been. It wouldn't have hurt them. Why, lots of subscribers to our funds for the celebration were Catholics. They know it meant business for the city and nobody's any the worse friends because we had our little blow-out."

"To show you the way the visitors felt, I may say that after the procession County Master Marshall Thompson, of Windsor, and Bros. Dempsey and Moore, of Detroit, visited our lodge room and made speeches congratulating us. They said they more than pleased and hoped to have the privilege of coming here again before long."

"How long before you will hold another Twelfth here?" "Well, about four years. Every four years is often enough. Leamington wants us next year, but it is likely we will go wherever the Essex brethren decide. They have always stuck to us. Whomever we have had a celebration they came with us, and it is only right when they hold one that we should reciprocate."

THE PARADE.

At two o'clock the gigantic procession, extending a mile in length, was formed on Tecumseh Park and paraded over the route mapped out. It was marshaled by Thomas Martin and County Master Neeley.

The order of the procession was as follows:

Excelsior Band.
Lanes of the Oranges Lodges in carriages.

Prentice Lodge, Dover Centre, 22 strong.

Essex Brass Band.
Essex Britons and Orangemen, 70 strong.

Staples Lodge, 40 strong.
Imeson Lodge, Tilbury South, 40 strong.

Glenwood Lodge, No. 1335.
Blenheim Lodge, No. 1722.

Individual Orange visitors and strangers.

THE ADDRESSES.

On arriving again at Tecumseh Park after the parade a large concourse of people gathered around the band stand, where short and spirited addresses were delivered, interspersed by inspiring selections by the various bands.

Wm. Simpson, of Ridgetown, District Master and Deputy County Master, who presided, stated he had received a large number of communications from speakers who were unable to be present, regretting their absence and wishing the celebration every success.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Thos. Kerr, of Thamesville; Marshal Thompson, County Master of Essex; ex-Mayor Essery, of London, and Mayor Smith of Chatham, who, on behalf of the corporation, briefly welcomed the visitors. The speaking was interspersed by two capital patriotic songs by Bro. Husted, Master of Tilbury Centre.

W. F. Smith, Esq., solicitor for the Sloan estate, is offering for sale under the will of the late Samuel Sloan, late of Harwich, on Saturday, August 4, at the Grand Central Hotel, one hundred acres of the best land in the county of Kent. This property is fully described in the Weekly issue of The Planet.

J. M. Bray, youngest son of John L. Bray, M. D., arrived in the city this morning from Amherst, N. S., to spend his vacation.

TWELFTHLETS.

The crowd was a most orderly one. Pat Keenan was right in the procession.

Bothwell will invite the brethren for next year.

The Chatham L. O. L. took in eleven new members before the twelfth. More are still to come.

Bro. Alex. Longmore looked after the ladies in carriages in a manner that showed he was the man for the position.

County Master Neeley enjoys the honor of heading the largest Orange celebration ever held in the county.

The local ladies' lodge, with Mrs. Sissons, as mistress, looked after the visiting ladies from Comber most hospitably.

Ald. John Liddy got his orange necktie photographed.

Tom Martin says it was the most orderly procession he ever saw.

The report that one of the local hotels was under a boycott was not true.

The city brethren expect to come out all right financially, when the subscriptions are all paid up.

NEW RADIAL ROAD

The Construction of One to be Commenced at Once.

First Section to Run From Chatham to Charing Cross, Cedar Springs and Eriess.

It will be news to most people to learn that an electric radial road centering in Chatham, is to be commenced almost at once, but such, we are assured, as a fact.

Already American capital has been interested and bonds floated and the railroad is not only in sight, but as assured fact, so it is said. Three American capitalists who had been broached on the subject, came to Chatham about a week ago, and looked into the matter of building the road. They were exceedingly favorably impressed and already have committed themselves as far as to contract for the purchase of steel rails and other material for the road. It will be built as far as Charing Cross this summer, and next year it will be continued to the lake at Cedar Springs and on to the Eau. The old charter has been secured from George C. Rankin, by Angus Sinclair, formerly of Chatham. The price, as said to have been only $350. A certain amount of stock will be offered here, but the capitalists will retain the controlling interest. They will not broach the council until everything is ready to begin operations.

A citizen who professes to know, says that the work on the King street pavement will be stopped next week, and the laying of the street railway begun.

BLOODY CONFLICT.

Chinese Had One Between Them selves in Peking.

Washington, July 13—The department of state has received a dispatch from Consul-General Goodnow at Shanghai, saying that the governor of Shantung wires that the boxers and soldiers were bombarding the legations for a final attack upon July 7. He is extremely anxious for the safety of the ministers and friendly Chinese in Peking. The consular staff fears of the worst are generally unopposed.

The state department has also received a dispatch from Consul McWade, at Canton, saying that Li Hung Chang has engaged quarters on the Chinese steamer Anping, so that the date of his departure for the north is as yet undecided.

SITUATION DESPERATE.

New York, July 13—A dispatch to the Journal from Chee Foo, July 9, says: "The situation at Tien Tsin is desperate. The commanders are calling for more troops, but the troubles brewing elsewhere render it improbable that they can be sent."

Germany has been obliged to withdraw from Taku troops that were to have been hurried to the aid of Tien Tsin. The reason for this is a report that a large body of boxers is marching on Kiao Chou, German territory.

So far as can be gathered the foreign troops will have difficulty in getting out of Tien Tsin. They are fighting incessantly, day and night, and the losses must be heavy, for the Chinese keep up a well-directed bombardment with heavy guns.

It is certain that Tien Tsin will be abandoned as soon as retreat is possible.

A dispatch to the Journal from Shanghai says: The victory of Fuhkien has received despatches from Peking dated July 7, announcing that Gen. Nish, with 8,000 men, has reached there from Lutai by making a long detour to the north. He met and defeated Prince Tuan's army and rescued Prince Ching, but lost 2,500 men in the operation.

He is now trying to rescue Gen. Yung-Lu and thus save what may be left of legations in Peking. Nish is favorable to the foreigners.

Great joy reigns in Che Foo, inspired by the safe arrival of every white missionary and every native preacher in the Tien Tsin district hitherto unaccounted for.

HURT IN CHICAGO.

On July 3rd Will Wagoner, son of Capt. Wagoner, accidentally fell into the hold of the Frank D. Ewen while the boat was lying at dock in Chicago. Mr. Wagoner sustained a severe scalp wound and had his knee cap broken. He was brought to Chatham to-day and taken to the Public General Hospital. His comrade, Patrick Doyle, accompanied him.

DELEGATE FROM SASSAFRAS COUNTY.

S. E. Kiser. I have just come up from Squashville, where the prohibition cause is a-flourishing like sixty—stronger than the ever-living. I'm attendin' the convention as our county's delegate. And, I swan! some of these places there's sinners' liquidation. Air the durnedest, blamdest, finest lookin' hells I ever see— But just why they call 'em buffetts is a thing that bothers me. Brought my wife along up with me, so's to let 'er see the town— Just the trip that she's been medidin' for she's terribly run down. And the doctor recommended that a change'd be the thing. So she set 'er mind on comin'—how the liquor flows! I jing! Seems as though the beer and whiskey that they sell here in a day might float six or seven steamboats if 'twas used the proper way! But a-boddy does get thusty trampin' up and trampin' down. And the water's simply awful people git in this here town! How they do stick on the prices when you call for lemonade— It's a squer people's scheme makes it that way, I'm afraid! O it's awful and it's sinful that these gilded dens should run— But since they've got 'em comin' when we'll close 'em, every one! Cousin Dan's folks insisted, when we come, we'd get to stay Right with them, and so we haven't any tavern bills to pay. Gosh, but they've been doin' splendid since they've got 'em livin' here— Dan! tells me that he's makin' six or seven thousen' clear. And he says they've got some tunnels here he wants to take me through. And a lot of other wonders that are well worth seein', too. My! How they do rip things endways in this town—and how it's grew! Since the last time I was here—in eight—Dan! says he's fixed it so's that we'll go down to-night— Him and me—and git our supper at some place that's been doin' splendid. Danno why it should be that way, but I s'pose he knows what's best— All I've got to do, he says, is go along—he'll do the rest. Yes, this water's simply awful that we have to drink up here— Cousin Dan's folks don't hardly ever eat without their beer— O it fairly makes me tremble, thinkin' what they're comin' to. Havin' such stuff on the table—it's an awful thing to do. And we're goin'—me and Dan!—down to look around a mite— Danno why the folks he mentions, though, should all be out of sight.

Hudson, Mich., July 13.—The trial of John Morrison, proprietor of the Morrison House at South Bend, Ind., which was burned early on the morning of June 20, on a charge of murder and arson, resumed today at South Bend, and Louis C. Stuart, of this city, lost their lives, while other guests received injuries from shock and contact with the fire from which they will never recover. Ever since the morning of the burning of the hotel Johnston's brother, the police, the coroner and the newspaper reporters of South Bend have been investigating the cause of the fire. On Saturday Johnston made affidavit charging Morrison with incendiarism and murder, and the arrest of the hotel man promptly followed. The evidence upon which the warrant was issued consists chiefly of the stories told by Mrs. Chase, an employee of the hotel, Frederick Myers, of Adrian, and by others. May Chase says that on the night of the fire she was in the basement of the hotel, preparing to leave town with man named McGill, of Kendallville, Ind. While there, Morrison, she says, entered the basement, and, ordering her away, stored her winter clothes. Soon afterward she saw flames in the flue of the dumb waiter. Myers testified that he saw Morrison and his wife peering out from the day before the hotel was burned. Morrison is 73 years old, and takes his arrest coolly. When asked what he had to say in his own defense against him he smiled. He says he had gone into the basement because he had been told that the Chase girl and McGill were there. After ordering them away he returned to his bed and knew nothing of the fire until alarmed. The trunk-packing he explained by saying that Mrs. Morrison was storing her winter clothes. He accounts for the explosion by claiming that it was caused by escaping gas.

A STIR AT LANSING

V. R. Canfield, Merchant and Churchman, Arrested on Charge of Forgery.

Lansing, Mich., July 13.—A decided sensation was created yesterday morning, when it became known that Volney B. Canfield, the prominent merchant and churchman of this city, was arrested late last night on complaint of officials of the board of education on a charge of raising the figures on the weigh checks furnished the city. The specific charge is forgery. It is claimed that the practice has extended over a series of years, and that the aggregate amount unlawfully charged and collected is large. Canfield has been the contractor for a number of years. After raising the slip furnished the city, it is claimed he would borrow the weighmaster's stubs, on the pretense of checking up his books, and then raise the stubs to correspond with the slip. Canfield has been long prominent in business and church circles of the city.

SHEEP AT EARLY PASTURE.

Some Points From a Practical Breeder Worth Heeding. After shearing, sheep need careful attention. If a cold rain should come up, they will suffer greatly. When compelled to sleep upon the cold, wet ground they are liable to take a heavy cold, which, while perhaps not dangerous, enfeebles their system, and it may take several days or weeks for them to regain their wonted strength. If mature sheep are troubled with ticks and lambs run with the flock, most of the ticks in two or three weeks after shearing will have left the old sheep to live upon the tender skin and amid the longer wool of the lambs. They will be saved by dipping the lambs. In locally infested cases, a second dipping will prove advantageous, unless the old sheep were dipped at the first application. Ticks multiply very rapidly and even if a few escape death their progeny will cause the whole flock untold discomfort. More food will be needed by the sheep to keep in a normal condition. The coarse-wooled sheep are more susceptible to this pest than the fine-wooled as the oil and gum of the latter do not offer a suitable home for them. Many flocks are infested with this pest each year by using a coarse-wooled ram whose fleece is infested by them. Use great care in this matter and if examination shows the presence of ticks, dip the ram twice, at intervals of two weeks, so that any eggs which may hatch will be destroyed before admitting him to the flock. A sheep at pasture will sleep upon the highest ground or knolls, thereby enriching the usually poorest portion of the fields. They should be fed salt at least once a week—twice would be better. The more frequently they are visited the better. Observe their condition and divide the flock if some are feeble, giving the weak ones a ration of grain. If possible, they should have free access to running water, although if compelled, they can do without water longer without harm than any other class of domestic animals. Where dogs are liable to be troublesome, bells should be attached by a strap to the necks of several of the flock. This not only aids in frightening away the dogs, but gives the alarm when an attack does occur. Contradiction of Terms. Young John Green was a very literal, matter-of-fact fellow, who, after he had graduated at the High School, and taken a year's course in short-hand, obtained a situation as a secretary in a large mercantile establishment. One day his employer, who had a good opinion of John's literary abilities, called him and said: "Green, I want you to write a circular letter to our customers, telling them squarely what we are going to do for them in the matter of that big consignments of percales." John went away to write the letter, but the task troubled him. By and by he came back. "Didn't you tell me, sir, to write a good square letter to the customers?" "Yes." "And didn't you also tell me that it was to be a circular letter?" "Why, yes." "Well, sir, how can it be square and circular at the same time? That isn't good geometry, is it, sir?" "Oh!" said the merchant, looking steadily at John. "I forgot the geometry. Perhaps you had better tell them roundly what we are going to do—not squarely! Can you do that?" "Oh, yes, said John. This time he performed his task without any trouble. Moisture in Soil. Plants will starve in any soil, however fertile, unless water is present to dissolve the food elements and prepare them for the plants' use. The soils that are most thoroughly pulverized and divided into fine particles are the best. The mechanical arrangement of the soil grains (resting lightly and uniformly one against the other) is secured, are capable, as a rule, of holding the highest percentage of moisture. This moisture, in turn, draws from the soil the highest percentage of food, and a soil in this condition obtains much more value a given quantity of fertilizer than a soil of coarser or more uneven texture, and a consequent lessened capacity to retain water. Manures usually increase the moisture content of a soil, by improving the mechanical arrangement of the soil grains, and in this way become a means to make its own food. Manures better available to the plant, besides unlocking fertility in the soil itself not before available to the plant because of insufficient moisture to dissolve it.—The Market Basket.

A MINISTER DEPOSED

He was Accused of Falsehood, Deception and Unbecoming Conduct. Bay City, Mich., July 13.—At a meeting of the Saginaw Valley Association of the Baptist church held in his city Rev. W. P. Squires was deposed from the ministry of the Baptist denomination. Squires is the man who, in defiance of the Baptist convention of last summer, invited into his pulpit and allowed to administer the ordinances, Rev. Allan Marshall, who had been deposed. A committee which had been previously appointed reported the following charges against Squires: (1) Offering the use of his pulpit to a notoriously immoral and bad man. (2) Falsehood and deception. (3) Maligning and falsely accusing his brethren and threatening them with lawsuits. (4) Conduct and disposition which render him wholly unfit to be a minister of the gospel.

DEBASED SAVAGES

New Britain Natives Killed and Ate Unlucky Bushmen. Victoria, B. C., July 13.—Bushmen from Cape Oxford, according to a letter from Sydney, were killed and eaten by cannibals on the coast of New Britain. The German government is taking steps to punish the cannibals. The natives who were made victims had been trading and when they reached the landing in their canoes they were fired upon. Many were killed, and their bodies carried ashore. But the most horrifying part was when several men were captured alive and dragged to the actual scene of the feast their bodies were to provide. They were clubbed and afterwards roasted or baked and eaten. The victims were not all killed at once, some of them witnessing the killing of their comrades.

Affection

Breathes from children as fragrance from flowers. The little lips are always puckered to give or take a kiss. In homes where there are children, love reaches its fairest and sweetest proportions. In childless homes the kiss of wife and husband grows formal, and presently is neglected; the springs of love in the heart become choked for want of use and exercise. Childlessness is a great sorrow to many women. It is like a curse from Nature, who bids all create but a misfortune. Often the conditions which cause childlessness are removable. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has brought joy to many a woman by giving her the happiness of motherhood. It gives to the womanly organs vigor and vitality, removes local obstructions, and practically does away with the pains and pangs of maternity. There is no alcohol or narcotic in "Favorite Prescription." At home never written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest, thirteen pound girls that ever came into a home," writes Mrs. M. Vastine of 67 South Liberty St., Galesburg, Ill. "I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' Before I had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I was a new woman. I cannot make you describe my heart-felt gratitude. To keep the bowels regular use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Sons of Scotland Will Cancel Their Games

Owing to the Action of the City Council in the Holiday Matter.

"No," said P. D. McKellar, most emphatically, this morning, "the Sons of Scotland will not hold any games this year. A great number of citizens have been over to interview me, arguing that the games be put on. The business men seem to realize that the games would become a great advantage to the city. Quite a number have offered to interest themselves in any way, financially or otherwise, but I have told all that we wouldn't accept charity. Our intention was to put on these games at our own expense. If citizens thought that the games were an influence for good, and would guarantee the society against loss up to $250, Camp Carlyle would consider the proposition at their meeting to-morrow night. If such a proposition is made it is probable that the games will be held, as the Sons of Scotland are desirous of conferring all the benefits on the city they possibly can. Unless we receive some assurance of this description to indemnify us against loss, there will be no games, as we haven't the slightest doubt but that civic holiday will conflict with and injure us."

THE RENEGADES.

European Officers Said to be Directing the Chinese.

Little Doubt but That all Foreigners in Pekin Have Been Massacred.

London, Friday, July 13, 4.10 a. m.—A terrible veil of silence enshrouds Pekin, and there is nobody but believes the worst has happened. It is taken for granted that all the powers have exhausted every means to get direct news from the legations, and the fact that their efforts have been vain leads to but one interpretation. The Chinese representative in Berlin denies the statement that Li-Hung-Chang had sent to him a hopeful telegram. He says that, on the contrary, no direct telegram has been received by him from Li-Hung-Chang for some time past. The day's news is again restricted to the usual crop of untrustworthy Shanghai rumors, the most serious of which, reported by the correspondent of the Associated Press, is to the effect that Europeans direct the Chinese military operations. The correspondent asserts that Captain Bailey, of H. M. S. Aurora, distinctly saw a man in European garb directing the Chinese artillery operations outside of Tien Tsin. Foreign refugees from Tien Tsin openly accuse a European official, whose name the Express correspondent suppresses, and Colonel Von Hanneken, who was formerly employed to drill the Chinese troops, of being parties to a plot to procure the escape of Gen. Chang and themselves from Tien Tsin before the bombardment, leaving the other foreigners to their fate. Statements are in circulation in Shanghai, accusing the Russians of indiscriminate slaughter of friendly Chinese non-combatants, without regard to age or sex. It is asserted that the Buddhist priests throughout the Empire are propagating Prince Tuan's anti-foreign gospel. News is circulated through the Yang-Tao Valley that Gen. Mahas inflicted a crushing defeat upon the allies at Tien Tsin, and that the foreign army has been cut to pieces east of Pekin. The actual impotence for the moment of the allied forces naturally gives color to these stories with the worst result. The Shanghai correspondent of the Express gives Tien Tsin advice to July 8, when the superior range of the Japanese artillery enabled them to relieve the Russians, who were hard pressed at the railway station.

CHINESE REPORTS.
 The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail says the following story regarding the position in Pekin emanates from Chinese official sources:—"The two remaining legations, the British and Russian, were attacked in force on the evening of July 6, Prince Tuan being in command. The attack was divided. Prince Tuan commanded the centre, the right wing was led by Prince Thai Yin and the left by Prince Yin Lin. The attack commenced with artillery fighting, which was severe, and lasted until seven o'clock in the morning, by which time both legations were destroyed and all the foreigners were dead, while the streets around the legations were full of the dead bodies of both foreigners and Chinese. Upon hearing of the attack Prince Chang and Gen. Wang Wen Shao went with troops to the assistance of the foreigners, but they were outnumbered and defeated. Both Prince Chang and Gen. Wang Wen Shao were killed. Two foreigners are said to have escaped through the gates—one with a heavy sword wound in his head. Prince Tuan, in celebration of the victory, distributed 100,000 taels and huge quantities of rice to the Boxers. The Canton correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, writing July 11, says: Li Hung-Chang has decided to remain here, and the American gunboat, which was awaiting to convey him to Pekin, will sail to-morrow. It is reported that a Chinese merchant here had received a letter from Pekin, dated June 30, saying the legations were demolished and the foreigners killed."

BOTHWELL.

July 13.—The farmers are bringing their hogs in to-day, and the town looked quite business-like, there being a lot of farmers in.
 The Orangemen marched to the station yesterday, where they played till train came in to take them to Chatham. A great number of Bothwell folk went to Chatham.
 The Chatham League baseball team played a game with our Bothwell boys and defeated them by a score of 18 to 4.
 Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLean, gave a number of the young ladies and gentlemen a party on Wednesday evening. The young folks met early and played tennis till dark. Then they went in the house and played games and sang till midnight. Supper was then served, and the party ended by singing God Save the Queen.

It should't require much persuasion to induce one to buy clothing now. It needs no argument to prove that the day of low priced trashy clothing is near its close.

We Have No Time

To pick our neighbors to pieces. In the first place it is not business, in the second place it is not gentlemanly and in the third place we are kept too busy looking after our own business, but

We Will Take Time

To inform our narrow minded friends that there are several grades of Halifax Tweeds manufactured in Canada which they are evidently not aware of, and we find it necessary doing a big trade to carry the three grades, namely:

- Boys' 2 pc. Halifax Tweed suits, regularly sold at $2.00, our sale price $1.48
- Boys' 2 pc. Halifax Tweed suits, regularly sold at $2.50, our sale price $1.98
- Boys' 2 pc. Worsted Halifax Tweed suits, regularly sold at $3.00, our sale price $2.48
- Boys' 3 pc. Halifax Tweed suits, regularly sold at $3.50, our sale price $2.95
- Boys' 3 pc. Worsted Halifax Tweed suits, regularly sold at $4.50, our sale price $3.48

We Would Advise

Our Friends to be better posted in future before they commence to holler. The buying public of Chatham and vicinity appreciate our methods of doing business which is evidenced every day and week by big increases in our sales.

EXAMINATION NOTES. The relief of making was nothing to the relief some of the entrance candidates now feel. Grace Irving is at the head of the McKeough school candidates, with a total of 773 marks out of a possible 1100. The Board of Examiners, without assuming authority in the matter, does not recommend the awarding of the VonGuertel gold medal on the results of the late examinations, nor the award of the W. C. T. U. $5 gold piece for the best paper in physiology and temperance. The marks of all unsuccessful candidates will be mailed to them at once. The results from the other centres may be expected on Monday next. While the Board of Examiners declined to give The Planet for publication the standing of the students in connection with the Central school, it is learned that Irene Paterson headed the school with a phenomenally high percentage, Willie McGeorge proving a close second.

LEAMINGTON. July 13.—Messrs. Peart & Ruthven will open up a very pretty cafe in the McSween block next door to E. S. Hatcher's store. They will be ready for business Saturday and expect to do a large trade. Our chief of police has been very busy of late looking after the offenders against public morals, etc. No less than eleven offenders, all men, have been hauled up in the last two weeks, and the fines added considerably to the coffers of the town. He has his eye on some who go as far as the law allows them but should they overstep they will surely be taken in. He expects to have something to do in enforcing the early closing by-law. Mr. Spears, an old gentleman residing here, on his way home yesterday accidentally got a bad fall. Beyond a severe cut a few bruises he was unharmed. The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church purpose having an excursion to Belle Isle Park, Detroit, about the latter part of July. Judge Horne will hold court of revision on the cases appealed from the decision of the court of revision held by the Learnington council. As far as we know there is but one appeal. Cyrus Wigle, who spends his winter in Florida looking after a fine orange grove he owns there, returned to Leamington last Tuesday. He will remain during the summer months. A public meeting was held in the hall Thursday night by Rev. T. G. Scherer, R. A., secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance. In the afternoon a meeting was held to organize for the purpose of more effectively carrying on the work and aims of the society. The Pulford property is becoming very much sought after and is now nearly gone. Of course it is very valuable and no mistake can be made in purchasing it. The latest purchaser is W. Hepinstall who bought the brick block occupied by Wm. Smith, furniture dealer. The price paid is said to be $3,000.

EXAMINATION NOTES. The relief of making was nothing to the relief some of the entrance candidates now feel. Grace Irving is at the head of the McKeough school candidates, with a total of 773 marks out of a possible 1100. The Board of Examiners, without assuming authority in the matter, does not recommend the awarding of the VonGuertel gold medal on the results of the late examinations, nor the award of the W. C. T. U. $5 gold piece for the best paper in physiology and temperance. The marks of all unsuccessful candidates will be mailed to them at once. The results from the other centres may be expected on Monday next. While the Board of Examiners declined to give The Planet for publication the standing of the students in connection with the Central school, it is learned that Irene Paterson headed the school with a phenomenally high percentage, Willie McGeorge proving a close second.

Our chief of police has been very busy of late looking after the offenders against public morals, etc. No less than eleven offenders, all men, have been hauled up in the last two weeks, and the fines added considerably to the coffers of the town. He has his eye on some who go as far as the law allows them but should they overstep they will surely be taken in. He expects to have something to do in enforcing the early closing by-law. A public meeting was held in the hall Thursday night by Rev. T. G. Scherer, R. A., secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance. In the afternoon a meeting was held to organize for the purpose of more effectively carrying on the work and aims of the society. The Pulford property is becoming very much sought after and is now nearly gone. Of course it is very valuable and no mistake can be made in purchasing it. The latest purchaser is W. Martin Martin has been awarded the contract by a Cincinnati syndicate of ladies, for the erection of a Port Lambton of a $3,000 summer residence. The building will be one of the finest summer residences along the St. Clair, and rumor says that several others are to be built at Port Lambton.—Wallaceburg Herald. That drawn, squinting expression, seen on the faces of many older people, is often erroneously attributed to age, or "life of care" or "raising a large family." Such alleged reasons may occasionally be valid ones, but the fact still remains that these unnatural facial conditions are often due to defective eyes and the need of right glasses to remove muscular and nervous strain. Save your nervous energy. Let good glasses do the work now imposed on over-taxed muscular and nerve force. Glasses to fit any eye, E. J. MacIntyre, leading optician, opposite Grand Opera House.

GOT HOMESICK. An interesting little story comes from Seaford. Little Henry, the eight year old son of F. H. Larkin, got homesick for Chatham, and one day while his father was away and his mother down town, he got his father's wheel and started to ride to this city. He reached Hensall about 18 miles distant from Seaford. There he went into a farmers to stay all night. Henry told the farmer who he was and that he was wheeling to Chatham to see his uncle, a friend of his, named Kenneth Urquhart. The farmer thought that the distance was too long for the little fellow to wheel, and communicated with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Larkin had been searching high and low for Henry, and the farmer's message relieved them greatly. Henry returned to Seaford in the morning.

HAIR RAISING.

Years Ago no One Would Believe What Possibilities We Know to be a Fact—Hair Can be Grown on Bald Heads.

The hardest to convince that baldness can be replaced by a new growth of hair, are the bald.

Why? Because hundreds of things have been used with no effect. Nothing that has ever been prepared would produce a permanent growth of hair on bald heads until the discovery of The Rose Hair Grower.

This preparation is the first to successfully demonstrate the hitherto impossible, growing hair on bald heads.

The originator, after perfecting the formula, found himself face to face with an incredulous public, who said: "No, no, too good to be true."

"Would like to believe it, but can't." "Nothing will cure my baldness."

"Good man, if true, you could not supply demand."

"Wishes to talk, been fooled to often."

Now these same people, who know what they are talking about, express themselves as follows—

Robert Rose, plumber, Parkdale, says,—"I have been bald for over 22 years, but after using The Rose Hair Grower for two months, I have a good growth of hair all over my head, and it is filling in at the sides nicely. I have much pleasure in sending you this reference, and will continue using your treatment."

W. Livingstone, druggist, 25 Howard St., Toronto, says, "This is to certify that I have seen the results of the use of The Rose Hair Grower. As a druggist with many years' experience in the city of Toronto, I have seen a multitude of hair tonics tried with varying results, but have never sold a hair grower that has been such a pronounced success as The Rose. Ladies and gentlemen amongst our best people in the city, to whom I recommend it, many of whom were bald, now have beautiful heads of hair. I have used it myself and now have a head of hair as thick as anyone could wish for."

The Rose Hair Grower stops falling of the hair with a few applications. It absolutely removes dandruff. Makes the hair soft and pliable. It is a perfect hair dressing, and the only preparation in the world that overcomes baldness.

LOVE'S TRIUMPH.

A STORY OF LOVE AND WAR.

BY MARY J. HOLMES,

Author of "Lena Rivers," "Edna Browning," "Tempest and Sunshine," Etc., Etc.

He was thinking of his heavenly home, while the mother was thinking of the time when his widow, Mrs. Carleton, had said "was not long for earth" would be gone, and she could no longer do for him the little offices which gave her so much comfort. Since the dreadful days when she knew her boy was in prison, the widow had not felt so keen a pang as that which stirred her heartstrings now, when alone in her room she dropped in her quick defiant way into the high-backed chair, and, sitting stiff and straight, tried to face the future. It could not be that Isaac had only come home to die—God would not deal thus harshly with her. He had spared Eli and John. He had promoted them both, and He would not take Isaac from her. The boy was getting better, he was mending every day, or at least, she had thought so until Rose Mather came with her message of evil. Why could not Rose have stayed at home? Why need she come there and leave such a sting behind? The widow was growing very hard and wicked toward poor little thoughtless Rose, and her heart lay like a stone in her bosom, as for an hour or more she sat in her high-backed chair, thinking of the boy whose low breathings she could hear from the next room. He was sleeping, she thought, and she would steal softly to his side and see if it was written on his face that his days were numbered. But Isaac was not asleep, and he knew the moment his mother bent over him, and, turning toward her, he whispered: "I know why you are up so late, mother; and what you are here for. You are thinking of what Mrs. Carleton said and wondering if it is true. I guess 'tis mother, for I don't get any stronger, and my cough hurts me so. But I'm not a bit afraid to die now, with you beside me up to the very last minute. In Richmond it was different; and I prayed so hard that God would let me come back if only to drink of the well and then die on the grass beside it. He did let me come, and now we mustn't say anything if He does not let me stay but a little bit of a while. I've been thinking it over since Mrs. Mather went away, and at first it seemed hard that Eli and John should both have such good luck, and only 'Stub' be the one to suffer."

He said this last playfully, using his old nickname of "Stub," because he saw by the dim light burning on the table the bitter look of anguish upon his mother's face, and he would fain move it. At the mention of the name, which her more stalwart sons had given to her baby, the widow's chin quivered, and her rough hand smoothed the thin light hair, but she did not speak, and Isaac went on: "Then, too, I want to live till the war is over. I want to hear the joyful shouts, and see the bonfires they will kindle in the streets. There's a big box in the barn. I hid it there the morning I went away, and I said, when the peace comes we can burn that box, and the church bells will ring, and there'll be such rejoicings. Now, I must know I shan't be here to see it. But, mother, you'll burn the box—you and Susan, with Eli and John—and you'll think of me, who did what I could to bring the peace."

There was a choking sound like the swallowing of a great sob, and that was all the answer the widow made; only her hands moved faster through the threads of light brown hair, and her rigid form set up straighter, more rigid than ever. She was suffering the fiercest pangs she would ever know, for she was giving up Isaac. She was coming to the knowledge that he was really going from her—that Jimmie Carleton was right, and Isaac was not long for this world. When at last her mind reached that point, the tension of nerve gave way for a little, and her hot tears poured over the white face she kissed so tenderly.

The moon was looking in at the low west window, and the widow went back to her own bed, and Isaac, nestling down among his pillows, fell away to sleep, dreaming of the bonfire in the street, when the hidden box was burned, and, dreaming, too, of that other world which lies so near this one he could almost see the loving hands stretched out to welcome him.

After that night the widow's mouth shut together more firmly than ever, and the frown between her eyes was more marked and decided, while her manner to all save Isaac and Annie Graham was sharper and crispier than before. When Eli's letter came telling of his promotion and lauding Jimmie Carleton, whose generous act was a by-word in the company, her face relaxed a little, and she said to Annie Graham: "The Lord is good to my two oldest boys, but if He'd give me Isaac I wouldn't care for all the titles in Christendom."

As the warm weather came on, Isaac did not get up any more to sit by the open door, but lay all day on his bed, sometimes sleeping, sometimes thinking, and sometimes listening while Annie read to him from the Bible. Isaac was very fond of Annie. She had been George Graham's wife, and he envied so much desire to have her constantly with him at last she stayed altogether with Mrs. Simms, only going occasionally to the Mather mansion, where they missed her much. Rose was nothing without her, and had at first opposed her going to the Widow Simms. "If help was needed," she said, "she would hire some one, for Annie must not tire herself out just as she was beginning to grow plump and beautiful again."

But when Isaac said to her: "Please let Mrs. Graham come; it will not be long she'll have to stay, and she is so full of hope and faith that it makes me more willing to die and to go away alone across the Jordan," she withdrew her opposition, and Annie was free to go and come as she liked. It suited Annie just then, for she could not help feeling that there was a purpose in Mrs. Carleton's questioning her of her early history, and she hailed any excuse which removed her from the scrutiny with which since that conversation touching her early home and maiden name Mrs. Carleton had so evidently regarded her. Jimmie had written to her once, enclosing the unsealed note in a letter to Rose, and Annie's cheeks had been all ablaze as she read it, for she knew the mother's eyes were fastened upon her. It was nothing but a simple acknowledgment of some article Annie had made and sent to him in a box filled for all three of the soldiers, Will Mather, Tom and Jimmie. There was also mention made of Annie's kindly message, to the intent that she did think he was right in giving the office to Eli, and a wish expressed that she would write to him.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Every woman realizes the danger she has to go through between the ages of forty and fifty. We need not give any explanation here. Almost every woman knows the symptoms of CHANGE OF LIFE; they have been told so often. What we want to impress the most upon them, is the difference between the remedies for their cases. The woman who is now suffering from CHANGE OF LIFE might have heard of remedies to cure everything. She might have heard of old-fashioned liquid medicines sold to women, she might have heard of her friend taking these remedies without success, but she never has heard yet of any lady taking Dr. Coderre's Red Pills for CHANGE OF LIFE without having been at once benefited by their use.

Mrs. M. M. Brown, 121 Cadding St., Providence, R.I., writes: "I do not believe that any woman ever suffered more than I did from female weakness and poverty of blood. I was all run-down and so weak that I was discouraged. I cannot say anything to good for Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, but they almost cured me very quickly and have not cost me much money."

Ladies should profit by the experience of others and cure themselves with Dr. Coderre's Red Pills, which are made for women only. Any intelligent woman will give this remedy the preference to cure all; they are good for old and young women. They can be taken at all times, under any conditions. Any woman who wishes to give a full description of her case to our Doctors, can write or come and see them at their offices, for our Doctors are entirely at the disposal of sick ladies. They charge nothing for their consultations at the office or by mail.

If you will send us your name on a postal card, we will mail you our Doctor's book, Pale and Weak Women. When a woman is constipated, if she wishes to obtain the best results from the Red Pills, she should take Dr. Coderre's Purgative Tablets at the same time. They sell at 50c a box. The combination of these two remedies will cure permanently and quickly. Be sure and read and follow the directions on the containers. This is very important.

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women are sold by all first-class druggists at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. If you cannot procure them where you live, or if you are afraid of imitations or substitutions, write to us sending the money and we will mail them to you the same day upon receipt of payment. Each box contains fifty Pills for 50c. Address all correspondence to THE FRANCO AMERICAN CHEMICAL CO. Boston, Mass. Office Montreal, Canada, 244 Tremont St. St. Louis, Mo., 274 St. Louis St.

WAR IS HONORABLE. In those who do their native rights maintain; In those who sword an iron barrier are; Between the lawless spoiler and the weak.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbial born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is especially true in the case of the railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You can hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is food, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irascibility, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active health, give most quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and enables you to eat. It is a strictly temperance medicine, containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

Given away. Dr. Pierce's great work, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free on receipt of stamps for expense of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper cover, binding, and stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. W. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

War made in earnest makes war to cease, And vigorous prosecution hastens peace.

Brave Men Fall. Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles and feel the result in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, run-down feeling, but "Electric Bitters" will give you strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease of life. Only 50c. Every bottle guaranteed by A. T. McCall & Co., druggists.

War is a terrible trade; but in the cause that is righteous, sweet is the smell of powder.—Longfellow.

In the Jaws of a Lion. The gallant Major Swaine tells of being knocked senseless by a lion that lacerated his arm. His thrilling escape from the jaws of death is only equaled by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved thousands from desperate throat and lung troubles. "All doctors said my wife would soon die of Consumption," writes L. G. Overstreet, of Elgin, Tenn., "but your wonderful medicine completely cured her, and saved her life." Satisfaction is guaranteed by A. T. McCall & Co., who give trial bottles free. Large bottles 50c. and $1. At A. T. McCall & Co.'s Drug Store.

Working Overtime. Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing indigestion, biliousness, constipation, Sick Headache and all Stomach, Liver and Bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c. at A. T. CIRCUS IN THE SOUTH.

Amusing instances of Attempts to Evade the Ticket Wagon. (From the Pittsburg News. "In the north," said the old circus man to a reporter, "the desire to get into the tent by crawling under the canvas is confined to the small boys. But in the south the entire colored population comes to the ground and hangs around day and night looking for an opportunity to get in free. And to crawl under the canvas seems to them the easiest way. Men and women camp around and around the tent looking for an unguarded point. We always put extra canvasmen on watch when we got to the south with our show. I have witnessed more than one man and woman in the act of crawling out of this despite of the negro to get into the circus without buying a ticket. They go literally circus-mad and when the show comes to town, and they won't do a tap of a toe until it leaves. One reason why they don't step up to the ticket wagon and hand out their coin is they never have any. There may be other reasons, but I have never inquired further into the subject.

"I was with old Adam Forepaugh one fall when he took his show to the south for an extended season. Two canvasmen nearly precipitated a riot for us at Lexington, Ky. They had been hired for the special purpose of keeping negroes from crawling under the tent, and they saw an opportunity to make a little money for themselves on the side. They were able to work their scheme through the fact that they were favorably stationed for it. One was on the outside at the connection between the main tent and the menagerie, and the other on the inside, within the connection. "A good crowd of negroes hanging about the show was a large number who came to town expecting to get in for ten or twenty-five cents. The outside canvasman gave out a quiet tip that if any one had any change in his pockets he could get into the show at cut rates. They began to crowd around him, tendering varied amounts of money from one cent up to forty-five. He accepted all tenders. He told them he would have to put them in one at a time. He did.

"The inside man was waiting for them. Just as soon as a black head would appear under the canvas he would grab it, drag the rest of the person owing it inside and shove him out of the other side of the narrow connection. From here it was a long way around to the man who got the money. If one of the dupes found his way back, which was uncertain, and wanted his money returned, he was promptly shoved under the canvas again and just as promptly kicked out on the other side. It was a kind of an endless chain.

"Why didn't the two men let them stay in? Well, old Adam Forepaugh was about, and if he saw an unusual number of negroes in the tent he would have once made the rounds to find where they were getting in. That was why. The show was about half raked started at the connection. A minute or two passed and we saw two canvasmen running for life around the hippodrome track with an angry yelling crowd of negroes after them. The audience enjoyed it immensely. Thought it was part of the show. We knew different. A lot of us jumped in and headed the negroes off. That gave the canvasmen time to escape. After we learned the cause of it we regretted our interference. We lost two promising canvasmen at Lexington."
