H. J. B. WOODS, P.M.G.

THE FAIR IMPOSTOR.

CHAPTER XXIV.
THAT SILVER BROOCH.

"YES," he said. "Lilian is very beautiful, but hers is a different beauty from yours—"

"Now!" said Harold. "Why should not I speak the truth? You are beautiful; as everyone but a blind man can see. Why shouldn't I speak of what is as certain a fact as that the world is round?"

With her face all aflame she shook her head.

"I am unused to such compliments," she said; "to any, indeed. What am I to say? Of course, I am very much obliged, Mr. Woodleigh, and she laughed again.

Harold smiled, and nodded.

"That's right," he said, cheerfully; "I wanted to hear you laugh! I was worth being rude to get it. And if you are so obliged, you can show your gratitude by singing something for me—will you?"

"I don't think you deserve it," she said, still smiling. But she rose, nevertheless, and went to the piano.

Harold leaped his "stupid" head, as he called it, against the doorpost, and watched her as her white, slender fingers glided over the keys, and the exquisite voice rose softly into song.

"She is not beautiful only, she is lovely—lovely beautiful!" he thought. "What a hard world it is! That she, whom the winds should not have visited too angrily, should have suffered. She has suffered, too! Not a friend in the world—all alone, she said. Poor girl!"

"But she is not friendless now," he thought, with a sudden energy. "She has one friend, if he is only a fool. I'll be her friend, if she'll let me. But what can I do for her? Nothing! She is happy and contented, she says. Ah! and he sighed. "If she was only suffering from some wrong, with one of his candid frowns. "Above you! If you mean me, I feel so infinitely your inferior, that I am humbled when I come near you."

She looked up at him with a curious smile, and shook her head.

As she did so her brooch—a neat, little silver bird—fell from her throat to the ground. She bent and put out her hand to recover it, and in doing so touched his face, as he stooped also. The blood flew to both their faces as she drew her hand back; but when he looked up her face was pale.

He looked at the brooch for a moment, and then held it out to her in his open palm, and as she touched it with the tips of the soft, white hand, his fingers closed on hers.

With a sudden quiver she raised her eyes to his, a half-frightened questioning on them.

Some word trembled on Harold's lips; then he remembered Lilian, and, with a sudden effort, he let her draw her hand away, and, with tightly compressed lips, he turned aside.

With a long breath, either of relief or regret, she let her fingers touch the keys, to gain time and composure.

When she looked round afterward Harold was gone, and a minute afterward she heard the sound of his horse tearing up the lane.

Then the music ceased suddenly, her face went down and was hidden in her hands.

Harold rode like a man flying from some terrible temptation, but the look in those, soft, melting, brown eyes flew with and haunted him. That touch of her warm hand on his cheek, why had it sent the blood surging through him, and made his heart beat so wildly? Could it be possible that he loved her? He had only seen her twice or thrice—knew nothing of her, excepting that she was loath to mention the past. And Lilian!—what was to be done about Lilian? It was true that she showed no signs of accepting him if he proposed to her, but still he had promised, and a promise was sacred in Harold's eyes.

As he came in sight of the Hall, he pulled up. He had no appetite for dinner, and certainly had a great reluctance to meet Sir Talbot's questioning eyes and Lilian's calm regard; so he turned the horse towards the coast, and dashed off again—anywhere, to be alone and to think.

As for Ethel, she could not leap into the saddle and ride away with her perplexity and embarrassment; but she sat with her face hidden until the dame came in, and then had to meet the storm of questions and reproaches which the good lady poured out when she found that Harold had fled.

"What did he go so suddenly for?—didn't he say anything?—leave no message?—nothing?" she asked, staring perplexedly at the sweet face, with its downcast eyes.

"No," said Ethel, trying to smile; "he said nothing, left no message—and how hot it is! I think I should like to go for a stroll. It will be bright moonlight directly," and she escaped.

As she passed through the room again on her way out, the dame was not so absorbed by Harold's sudden disappearance as to fail to notice that her young companion had no wrap of any kind on.

"And the autumn nights on, too!" she said, indignantly. "There you shan't go, Miss Ethel, without something on your shoulders. Put that shawl of mine over you."

Ethel threw it round her, and looking down at her dress, laughed softly.

"I hope I shan't frighten anyone—I am all in white."

"They'll think it's an angel, dearie," said the dame, eyeing her admiringly. "There don't be long."

Ethel made some suitable reply and sauntered up the lane.

There was no danger of her meeting any harm; every soul in the place knew her, and respected her as they did the clergyman; and it was seldom indeed that strangers troubled the quaint place.

Sauntering along, with her face turned now and then dreamily to the moon, she took no notice of time and distance, and had come in sight of Woodleigh village before she was scarcely aware that she had left Higham.

The striking of the church clock roused and brought her to a standstill.

"Woodleigh Church!" she murmured, leaning on the gate and looking up at it as it stood in the moonlight. "And all this," turning on her elbow and looking toward the village, "will belong to him. High-born and wealthy, a noble in the land, how kind-hearted of him to come and spend an hour with an old servant and—a nameless, insignificant girl! They say great riches and high place spoil a man; they have not spoiled him. could spoil him; he is too true-hearted and good."

She put out her ungloved hand—the hand that had touched his face, and that he had held imprisoned in his, and looked at it with a strange, curious look for a moment, then put it too her lips.

It was almost unconsciously done, but the doing of it roused her. With a little, guilty flush she put her hand behind her.

Children Had Eczema
Treatment prescribed had no effect—DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure.
Mrs. Oscar Vanocot, St. Antoine, Sask., writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One son, while nursing, broke out with running watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail and would not eat and we thought we would lose him."
"Provisionally we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering."
"As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment. 50 cents a box, at all dealers of Edmansons, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"WHY, mother? Because I tell you to, Jack. That's enough. Haven't I told you I don't want you ever to ask me 'why' I tell you to do anything?"

Knowing the mother whose words I quote, to be a most estimable woman and devoted mother, I'm sure she would be horrified at anyone who would give her babies soothing syrup or paregoric or sleeping powders of any kind, to put their little bodies asleep.

And yet wasn't she doing something just as bad in administering the mental deadener of "Because I tell you to—don't ask why," to try to keep her boy's mind asleep?

To ask "why" seems to me a child's right, that should be as inalienable as man's right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

For to want to know "why" is as unalterably a healthy child's instinct as it is for water to seek its own level. And as dangerous to interfere with. The river whose natural course is cut off by man or nature will make itself a new channel, perhaps doing infinite harm thereby.

The childish "why" that is turned back upon itself by an authoritative "Because I say so," will find its own answer, perhaps doing as much harm as the river in the process.

"But I cannot always stop to tell my little girl why I want her to do a thing," protested one mother with whom I was discussing the question. "Suppose she was coming across the street and I saw an automobile rushing down upon her and told her to hurry. If she stopped to ask why, she would probably be killed."

There is plenty of truth in that argument, I admit. But I didn't say one must tell the child "why" if he obeyed. What's to prevent you from teaching your children to obey instantly and afterward allow them to ask "WHY?"

If you answer their "whys" fairly and squarely to the best of your ability, it ought to be very simple to teach them to trust you to that extent.

Explain to them that you must have implicit and immediate obedience, because you do not ask things without having some good reason, but that if they give that obedience you will be glad to explain the reason afterward.

"There are things it isn't easy to explain to a child," someone protests. I admit it. But there are a good many things about the bringing up of a child's body that are not particularly easy, and you seem to accomplish them. Is his mind less important?

Instant, willing obedience on the child's part, plus an honest attempt on your part to explain the "why" of your best behest in a way that will be understood.

Isn't that a better combination than outward unquestioning obedience and inward questioning and rebellion on the child's part, plus a stiff-necked assertion of your own right not to explain your commands, on your part?

ASK MURDO & CO. Makes Hair Grow.

McMurdo & Co. has an invigorator that will grow hair or money back. The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that seps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by McMurdo & Co. under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

People Indignant.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I think it is but just and proper that the many readers of your much esteemed and widely circulated Journal should know that there is much dissatisfaction prevailing in this section of the district at the appointment of a Placentia man, by the name of O'Reilly, to the position of second Tidewater, particularly so where many here could be found thoroughly competent, and who are far more entitled to it than any Placentia man. Seemingly Placentia men have a monopoly of all Government positions in Western Outports, for go where you will an O'Reilly bobs up serenely, while the native of the place is excluded. This is certainly most unfair and unjust. I am only putting it mildly when I say that the people here are most indignant at the selection that has been made.

Will Be a Second "Ranji."

Prince Gaekwar, who was the second highest scorer for the Gentlemen of England against Oxford University recently, is a younger son of His Highness the Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda, who will shortly arrive in Britain with gifts for His Majesty, reported to be of such splendor and value as to establish a record. The Gaekwar's sons have generally been educated at Oxford and the prince is being spoken of as a second "Ranji." His father is one of the wealthiest men living. He possesses the finest collection of rare and costly jewels in the world.

He is the owner of the most famous Diamond necklace in existence, composed of 200 brilliants of marvelous purity, and worth well over $1,000,000. Another of his wonderful treasures is a carpet, four yards square, composed of ropes of rubies, diamonds, and pearls, woven into a pattern of dazzling beauty. The gems in this carpet are valued at $4,000,000, and it is the product of three years' work of skilled artists and jewel-setters.

Six Crushed to Death

BENEATH CONCRETE WALL.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 15.—Six or seven Italian laborers are dead as the result of a collapse of a concrete caisson at the Pittsburg Reduction Works, at Massena. A new powerhouse is being erected.

The accident occurred at an early hour this morning while the men were working in a pit underneath the wall of concrete. It is thought that it had not "set" properly. When it collapsed it buried the workers beneath it.

At first the rumour spread that thirteen men had been killed, but investigation substantially reduced the number.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indecent questioning and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's GREAT FAMILY DOCTOR BOOK, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 50 stamps.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

To make a delightful summer breakfast dish, fry sliced apples in the pan from which the breakfast bacon has just been taken and serve them with the bacon laid around them.

The garbage can should be cleaned thoroughly at least once a week with hot suds, rubbed in with an old broom and then rinsed with a solution of washing soda or lye.

When starching colored summer fabrics, it is a good idea to use coffee starch, made by adding two cupful of perfectly clear coffee to the starch after it has been boiled.

New grass stains can be removed with cold water and ammonia. Any stains of long standing with alcohol. If the stains are on goods that may fade, apply molasses before wetting.

A cake made without butter needs a quick oven, a cake with butter, except dark spice cakes and fruit cakes need a moderately quick oven, and the spice cakes and fruit cakes need a slow oven.

As a guard against accident, when a valuable vase is filled with flowers, it should first be half filled with sand, after which pour in the water. It will prevent the vase tipping over.

Herb sandwiches are very palatable during the hot weather, being made of lettuce, pepper grass, water cress, peppermint and chives, all mixed together and covered with mayonnaise dressing.

To remove an obstinate sediment from a vessel, pour in half a cup of vinegar and put into this a heaping teaspoonful of salt. Let stand half day and then wash with warm water and soap.

Continued scrubbing with a brush will roughen a natural wood kitchen table. It may be cleaned even better without roughening it by using half a cut lemon and then rinsing with hot water.

When ice water is not available water may be cooled by placing it in a tin vessel and covering with coarse wet cloth. Place if possible where a breeze will blow on it, and it will cool by evaporation.

Equal parts of turpentine and ammonia will remove paint from clothing. Soak the spot in the mixture and then rub it hard; dip in soap suds and rub it again. Almost any paint stain can be removed in this way.

To make candied cherries, clip half the stem from each cherry, prick a hole in each with a clean needle, place in a wide mouthed bottle, put in a liberal quantity of crushed rock candy, fill with brandy and seal.

The Case for Peace.

Some remarkable articles appear in Public Opinion entitled The Case for Peace. According to the Times a committee has been formed to celebrate the hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. The suggestion was made by Mr. Mackenzie King, the Dominion Minister of Labor. Mr. Carnegie is the chairman, and Mr. Taft is to be made honorary President.

The Observer says: "If the idea of celebrating the hundred years of peace is taken up with sufficient insight and earnestness under both flags a remarkable opportunity may lead to very memorable results."

The Times says: "It was on Christmas Eve, after a long and sometimes acrimonious discussion, with much risk of the negotiations proving futile, that the Treaty of Ghent was signed, and that John Quincy Adams could write next day, as he saw the end of his labours, the day of all others in the year most congenial to preaching peace and goodwill to men. It will be a hundred years in 1914 since at the banquet given by the Municipality to the diplomatists he was able to propose the toast of the City of Ghent as 'the City of Peace,' and to express the hope that it would be the last occasion on which it would be necessary to conclude a treaty of peace between the two nations. One cannot say that the settlement was hailed with enthusiasm or even much satisfaction in either country. Few foresaw its beneficent consequences. The Ghent Treaty was a fresh proof of the instinct common to both for terminating disputes by legal methods."

The reference to the Hague Tribunal of the fishery dispute between the British and the Americans is the latest proof of the capacity of the two great divisions of the English-speaking people to settle intractable disputes by the sanction of evidence and argument before a Tribunal of Reason.

The other articles, three in number, of an interesting and striking character are entitled—

1. "War and Manhood," by David Starr Jordan, President of Stanford University;
2. "Two Hindrances to Peace," by Charles W. Elliot, President Emeritus of Harvard University;
3. "The Moral Equivalent of War," by Prof. William James, of Harvard University.

LARK HARBOR REPORT.—Boats are doing fair at Lark Harbor the past few days.

The Labrador Fishery.

The s.s. Invermore arrived here at noon to-day and from Capt. Parsons we received a detailed report of the Labrador fishery. On the whole the fishing is poor. It is true that between Cuthroat and Sedlick Bay there are about 450 schooners doing well with the fish. At White Bears Geo. Bishop, of Conception Bay, has 400 qtls., and Edward Murphy, St. John's, 200; Alex. Bannister, of Trinity, at Iron Bound Islands has 400, and J. Batten for 400 qtls. also. Several others there have from 200 to 350. The best places for fish so far have been at Iron Bound Islands, Cape Harrison and White Bears. At Cape Mugford there are a few schooners with good trips. Edmund Kean, of Wesleyville, has 300 qtls. At Cuthroat (lower) Jabez Winsor has 250, and at Manatuk Baxter Burry has 450 qtls. The Blackwoods have left Watch Islands and gone down the shore. Jacob Winsor is gone down from the Straits to Mugford with 300 barrels. The bulk of the schooners that are gone north had nothing up to the 15th August. On the upper part of the coast there is an improvement in most places with hook and line when bait can be had. R. McRae's crew at Grady are getting a total of 200 qtls. a day whenever they can get squid. For so many men this is not considered very good. The fishermen are doing well on the whole with hook and line from Battle Harbor to Iron Bound Islands whenever they can get bait, and Capt. Parsons thinks that those who stuck to the work will, if the weather holds civil, get saving voyages. There are, Capt. Parsons says, at present time not 50 schooners at this side of Hopedale. The Stella Maris reports that large shoals of fish have been seen on the bottom in the vicinity of Mugford and at Sedlick Bay. At Turnavik West Capt. Bartlett has 150 qtls. At Macovick, Dunn, of Harbor Grace, has only 300 qtls. for four traps, and was doing nothing when the Stella Maris came up. There were ten schooners there all with much less than Dunn. At Ironbound Islands the schooners have from 200 to 400 qtls. Mercer, of Bay Roberts, there, has 400. There are twenty schooners at Macovick. At Ragged Islands there are six traps with a total catch of only 300 qtls. amongst them.

Cape Harrison—There are twenty schooners here with from 200 to 250 qtls.
 Sloop Cove—Capt. Kennedy here reports for 450; fifteen others 300 to 400, and are getting from 10 to 15 qtls. a day in traps.
 Holton—Very little improvement; traps getting from 20 to 30 qtls. a day.

Horse Harbor and Emily—Boats 40 to 60 qtls. on hook and line and jiggers.

White Bears—Traps 250 to 300; boats 100 to 120 qtls.

Smokey and Indian Harbor—Boats 15 to 25 qtls.

Indian Islands and George's Islands—The same.

Pack's Harbor—Boats 30 to 50 qtls.

Long Island—Boats 15 to 20 qtls.; doing nothing when steamer came up.

Grady—Boats 30 to 40 qtls.; getting 3 to 5 qtls. a day.

Black Island—Boats 25 to 50 qtls.; catching 2 to 6 qtls. a day. Mercer here has 1,200 qtls. ashore.

Grady—Mr. McRae expects to make up a cargo by Saturday, the 20th, to ship to market.

Dominio—Traps 15 to 25 qtls.; getting from 2 to 3 qtls. now a day.

Spotted Islands—Traps 40 to 100 qtls.; boats 15 to 25 and getting now 2 to 3 qtls. a day.

Griffin's Harbor—Traps 100 to 300 qtls. Bishop, of Conception Bay, has for 500 qtls.

Black Tickle—One crew here, Hampton with three traps, has 360 qtls.; boats 20 to 30.

Sandy Islands—Nil. The thirty crews there have only 400 amongst them all.

From Batteau to Spear Harbor there is no improvement since last report. The average for this section would be about 20 qtls. for a room.

Capt. W. Winsor of the Stella Maris gave the following report of the coast below Hopedale to Cape Parsons: From Hopedale to Daver's Island (near Port Manners) and covering about 200 miles of coast the fishery is a failure. From Port Manners to Mugford there is good fishing. From Mugford north to Sedlick very little has been done. Have not heard from north of Sedlick Bay, but there are about 300 schooners gone there fishing. About 100 schooners were wind-bound at Black Island for three weeks. Bad weather, fog and N.E. cold winds. Schooners will be down very late this year. Those that are gone north of Davis' Inlet, says Capt. Winsor, will, I believe, secure saving trips. No ice since middle of July.

The Regatta came off at Bell Island on Saturday. The D. I. S. boat, Hawk, won the first race, and the Wabana boat, Blanche, won the second; the Fortuna was not in it. The field sports were put off till next Wednesday.

The Bell Island Regatta, 1910.

GREAT INTEREST—QUICKEST TIME ON RECORD—AN IMMENSE SUCCESS.

Saturday, the day appointed for the Bell Island Regatta, opened unfavorably. In fact so continuous was the rain in the early morning that no one thought to see the boats glide placidly over the course before the shades of over the course before the shades of expected happened and at 1 p.m. the first race started. The committee having met at 11 a.m. in the D. A. A. boat house and decided to go ahead with the races.

The first race—the Amateurs—was between the Hawk (the Dominion Club's boat) and the Blanche (the Wabana Club's boat). In this the Dominion boat easily romped home winners, their stalwart crew comprising Messrs. Rees, Hann, Pride, Tucker and Dwyer.

The next race was the District Race, in which crews from the Mines, Bell Island, and Fortune Harbor entered. The Bell Island crew in the Blanche steered by Mr. Andrew Murphy won by about 5 lengths, breaking the record for the quickest time the course was ever rowed. Time 7 mins. 15 seconds.

The Rival footballers from the Dominion and Wabana Clubs next appeared in the Hawk and Blanche, respectively. The Wabana's stroked by Mr. N. Burke, came off victors.

Next came what may be termed the surprise of the day when the Wabana miners defeated the Bell Island miners. The victors made excellent time in the Dominion boat Hawk.

In the double scull race the Hawk again showed her superiority. Messrs. Butler and Kelly bringing her first to the stake.

The all-comers race was the final, in which crews from Horse Cove and Bell Island competed, the islanders winning easily in the Blanche.

Owing to scarcity of crews the Mechanical and Juvenile Races were struck off the programme.

The Regatta concluded at 6 p.m., and at 8.30 the Regatta Ball took place in St. Joseph's Hall, which proved very enjoyable.

Owing to the postponement of the Regatta from the morning to the afternoon the field sports were postponed till Wednesday afternoon, when an interesting programme will be run off by the following committee:—Messrs. J. P. Burke, Lind, R. Pine, J. M. Greene, T. Hughes, G. Roberts and A. Heath.

Coffin on Ship's Bridge

Captain's Three-Week Vigil by Dead Wife's Side.

There arrived in Falmouth Harbor on Aug. 6th a ship whose captain had steered for twenty-two days with his dead wife at his side.

This was the Liverpool barque Samaritan, commanded by Capt. C. H. Parker, which had accomplished the voyage from Adelaide to Falmouth in 107 days. Towards the close of a happy voyage the captain's wife was seized with fever, and after several days' illness died on July 17.

Both the husband and his seventeen year old daughter were reluctant to commit the body to the deep, and it was decided to place the corpse in a coffin. This was made by the carpenter and placed in the lifeboat on the bridge, close to the steering wheel. There it reposed for the remainder of the voyage, the captain and his daughter taking it in turns to watch by it.

Captain and Mrs. Parker had been voyaging together for over twenty years, during the last five of which their daughter had been with them. Mrs. Parker's body is to be buried in Falmouth Cemetery.

NOTES OF TRAVEL AND CURSORY OBSERVATIONS

By Rev. G. W. Rideout.

ARTICLE I. Leaving Trenton, New Jersey, we came into New York, the city of nearly four millions, and then by steamer to Boston, called the "Hub" for various reasons, but perhaps because of its circuitous labyrinth streets where a visitor can find no difficulty in getting lost; and next by Plant Line steamer Halifax bound for Halifax and Hawkesbury, Cape Breton. The steamer gave us all a good shaking up, and the much read about Bay of Fundy showed its temper by a boisterous northeaster, considerably multiplying folks who didn't feel well and reducing the number at the dining table. The ship in consequence of this "blow" was many hours late in getting in where I wished to make connections for Sydney and the Bruce; so at Point Tupper we were tossed ashore to wait for 2.40 train in the morning. It was now 8 p.m. Many talked of spending the six hours in the R. R. Station, but we hunted up a place where for a very small sum a nice tea was had and a very comfortable bed, and an alarm clock set to call us at 2 a.m. True to its mission the alarm went off and we were in good time for an early start for Sydney by this train. The road ran through some bare country but soon came into the Bras d'Or Lakes district, and for miles we skirted the lovely waters, and after a while we swung into Sydney too late by far to connect with the Bruce and two days to wait for her; but "where there's a will there's a way," we looked round and found that the good ship Sygna, Capt. Gunderson, was sailing that evening for Bell Isle and hastened to secure passage on her, as we were more than anxious to get on Newfoundland soil without delay. We sailed, and in 26 hours, after a most delightful voyage, got to Wabana Sunday morning and spent the day with our old school chum, Mr. J. B. M., one of the leading merchants of that wonderful Isle. We were astounded at the developments which had taken place here. Here on an island for years and centuries is only but a few days ago, he had an order for five houses which he expects to build in record time, and with good mechanics and a man with the ability to handle them, as Mr. Linnhan has, I have no doubt but he will accomplish the work in record time. Mr. Linnhan is a native of St. Mary's. There are also Murphy & McFarlane, of Placentia, doing a large contracting business and have their office at 563 6th Ave., N. Y. City. Mr. Murphy in the old days before the mail steamers were plying on the Bays of Newfoundland, ran the mail around in a sailing packet, and can tell many interesting stories of his experiences. We have many other prominent Newfoundlanders in New York, among them lawyers and brokers, but as I am not personally acquainted with them all, I will not, to use a slang expression, "butt in."

Appreciative Letter From Brooklyn, N.Y.

To Editor Evening Telegram, St. John's, Nfld. Dear Mr. Editor,—As I am in constant receipt of your valuable paper which my friends in Newfoundland send me every week, and which I receive with great pleasure, I have long intended to write you my heartiest congratulations on publishing such a practical and moral paper as the Evening Telegram. When at home I always read the Evening Telegram, and now when I come home from business on Saturday evening I am always glad to see that the Evening Telegram has arrived. It gives me all the past week's news of Newfoundland. I am glad to see by your paper the progress that has been made in the country the past few years, and I am sure if I was to visit Newfoundland now I would notice very much, and I feel certain that before another year has elapsed, I will have that pleasure. The pulp mills at Grand Falls must, I know, be a fine help to the country, and the work of constructing it must have been a great piece of engineering. On the whole I am sure there are a great many changes and improvements right throughout the island. The New York papers, the Herald and Telegram, have mentioned that fact only a few days ago. They also stated, as of course we already know, that Newfoundland is the most independent Colony in the world and that is a Newfoundlander's road to success, his love for independence. I personally know of a great many Newfoundlanders here in New York, who have met with success within the last few years. For instance there is Mr. J. J. Hart, of St. John's, whose home is in Astoria, Long Island, who is a very successful contractor and real estate broker. Mr. Hart has been in business for himself the past seventeen years, and is at present building a magnificent cottage for a home for himself and family, which will, when completed, cost about $15,000. There is also Mr. A. J. Linnhan, another very successful contractor, who was for some years Superintendent of the firm of J. R. Corbin, but recently started his own business and is making rapid progress. When I last saw Mr. L., which Methodist General Conference.

Strong Address on Wealthy Churches and Pulpit Appointments by the General Superintendent, Rev. Dr. Carman.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 16.—The eighth quadrennial meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Church was opened here yesterday. Powerful church services, characterized by the opening day, the Rev. Henry Haigh, of England, preaching in the morning and the Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of Toronto, at night. Business sessions opened yesterday morning with the election of the Rev. Dr. Moore, of Toronto, to the office of secretary. The feature of the afternoon was the address of the General Superintendent, Dr. Carman. In it he launched upon many of the important church issues of the day. Speaking of certain recent doctrinal differences, he pleaded strongly for the tenets of orthodoxy. Church union, he stated, found in him a friend provided that the obstacles to be overcome in its consummation were not too great. "But the problems to be solved before it could become an accomplished fact were so stupendous that perhaps we would do better to remain as we are. At any rate it cannot come for some time."

S. S. Mongolian Here.

The S. S. Mongolian, Capt. Williams, arrived here from Liverpool at 3 a.m. yesterday seven and a half days on the passage. The ship brought 500 tons of cargo, 17 packages of mail and the following passengers:—Mr. T. W. Goodman, Mr. Mouston, Miss E. J. Hutchinson, Miss B. L. Hutchinson, Dr. MacRae, Rev. J. McDermott, Rev. E. O'Brien, Mr. J. Outerbridge, Mr. Outerbridge, Jr., Mr. J. O'Reilly, Miss Paget, Mr. Frank Spedding, Mrs. Spedding, Miss Steadman, Miss C. P. M. Tod, Sir James Winter, Mrs. Wood, Miss Nora Wood, Mr. Gerald W. Ayre, Mr. F. Fraser Bond, Rev. S. T. Courtney, Miss T. Duncan, Mr. G. Elliott, Mr. H. Angel, Mrs. Angel, Mr. A. H. R. Fraser, Miss Fraser, Mr. W. Frew. Of the 103 passengers in second cabin 87 are on the way to Halifax. There are nearly 200 emigrants on board going to Western Canada. They are of different nationalities viz., British, German, Russian, Swedes, Italians and Poles. The Mongolian will sail for Halifax and Philadelphia to-night.

Bruce Passengers.

The S. S. Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 7 a.m. yesterday with the following passengers:—G. W. and Mrs. Burleigh, D. W. Clarke, C. E. Small, C. J. Henderson, B. K. Stevenson, L. Becker, T. McLean, G. R. and Mrs. Marshall, R. Moulton, R. Church, J. F. Chetwynd, Mrs. and Miss S. E. Rodway, Mrs. A. J. Aquesse, W. J. McPherson, A. J. Marshall, G. W. Baird, Miss A. M. Joy, J. W. Jennings, R. N. and Mrs. Martyn, G. W. Morris, Dr. W. W. Parker, J. and Mrs. McPherson, R. Bayley, Chas. Hanham, J. Glenshening.

B.I.S. Meeting.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Benevolent Irish Society took place yesterday. Hon. J. D. Ryan occupied the chair. Five new members were admitted. The reports of the various committees submitted showed that the society is in a flourishing condition. Several matters of importance were discussed. The committee in charge of the rooms is preparing an interesting series of attractions for the fall months.

McMurdo's Store News

Monday, August 22. Kolynos Tooth Paste has a distinctive flavor, a flavor unlike that of any dentifrice we have, and decidedly pleasant. It is a most efficient germicide and cleanses the mouth and gums perfectly. Most people whose teeth are repaired with gold find that the ordinary tooth paste blackens and tarnishes the metal. Kolynos, on the other hand, polishes it beautifully, and in this respect is superior to almost everything else of the kind. Price 30 cents a tube. Dr. Bovel's famous remedies can all be had from us. Price 25c. each.

Roosevelt Defeated.

New York, Aug. 16.—Mr. Roosevelt's name was presented for the temporary chairmanship of the Republican State Convention at the meeting of the Republican State Committee, to-day, and he was defeated for that honor by a vote of 20 to 15. Vice-President Jas. S. Sherman was named as temporary chairman of the coming state convention.

St. Joseph's Institute.

At the monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Institute, held recently a vote of thanks was tendered John Browning, Esq., for his generous gift of 150 lbs. of biscuits for the picnic. Dr. Kitchen specially thanked the officers and members of the Institute who worked so well to make the picnic a success.

Biplane Outclassed Carrier Pigeons.

Amiens, France, August 16.—The first aerial race between birds and man's production took place in the course of the great aerial cross-country competition and was easily won by man. A flock of forty-seven carrier pigeons, was released at Douai yesterday at the same instant that Leblanc in his Farman biplane started from the mark on his fifty mile flight to Amiens. Rushing without a tremor through the calm air, the biplane soon outdistanced the birds, and when Leblanc reached Amiens the flock was not yet in sight, the first pigeon arriving six minutes and twenty seconds after. Before the last of the flock had come in Legagneux who had started at the same time as Leblanc but consumed nine minutes more on the trip, arrived, beating the last pigeon by twelve minutes. Civic Improvement League's Appeal to Citizens.

Some Practical Hints for Those who Live on Parked Thoroughfares. We append the following article from a Halifax paper, as it shows the interest that a League is taking in the civic improvement of Halifax. A circular is now being sent by the Civic Improvement League to the residents of these sections of our city streets which have "parked" sidewalks. It has been a matter of disappointment that, after the city fixed up these sidewalks so nicely, many citizens failed to give them any attention. There was a good chance, once the work was done, to keep everything looking tidy and beautiful, but too many failed to appreciate the opportunity. The League circular is designed to stimulate the interest of those who have hitherto been neglectful. Here it is: "Quite recently we had a letter from a friend of the League in which he said, among other things: 'I think private citizens should keep the grass on their own street fronts cut and trimmed. It is too much to ask the City to do that at present, but it is a small matter if each householder will look after his own front.' 'In closing the letter he says: 'I emphasize that which is simple and practicable—the cutting and trimming of the fronts by the householders.' 'Now this is something which, we believe, residents of "parked" thoroughfares, such as the one on which you reside, should think about. Some of them do, and you may be of the number. The others, we trust, will catch the spirit of the writer quoted.' 'There are some who will say it is the City's business to do this, not theirs. Well, the City's business is pretty extensive, and attention to all these details is probably not practicable at present. In any case, it is any more the City's business here than in Ottawa, Toronto, or other Canadian cities? There the people with one accord second the City's effort to make the city beautiful. They do it out of public spirit and sheer love of their city. It is a good thing to imitate them in this particular. Visitors will say nice things about us if we do. They will say uncomplimentary things about us if we don't. We believe you want Halifax to be well spoken of. 'If you find it impracticable to do the work yourself, we would suggest the advisability of the residents in a certain section of your street joining hands and engaging some competent man to attend to the matter once a week. The cost would be small and the result very satisfactory. 'We believe the suggestion for the residents of a street to co-operate and take a pride in their street is a good one. It has been done in other places the results have been good. 'The street authorities have a big problem in Halifax. To care for a street mileage that would be sufficient for a city of perhaps ten times the population is a difficult task to perform. The citizens should therefore, expect to co-operate with the street authorities. 'We believe you want to see Halifax a model city for cleanliness and neatness. We believe you are desirous that this city should command the admiration of every visitor with respect to every department of our civic life. Then we should all be glad to do these little things that help. 'If you and your neighbors would like to do something to make your street fronts look nicer, but do not

Back From Fogo.

The s.s. Fogota returned from Change Islands and intervening ports of call yesterday. As the weather was stormy going down Capt. Barbour was unable to call at the Wadhams or at Peckford's Island. Pleasant weather was experienced on the return trip. The ship brought a small quantity of freight and the following passengers in saloon: D. Walsh, E. Meehan, J. P. Flynn, S. Roberts, S. Bret, J. Mews, C. White, J. Goodyear, J. Davis, J. Goss, P. Holmwood, A. Barbour, J. Morgan, E. Monk, F. Garland, Miss Crawford, Miss Roper, Miss Barbour, Mrs. Parsons and 6 in steerage. A four months old baby died on the S. S. Mongolian Saturday evening last. The child is of Scotch parents who are on their way to the Canadian North West. The ship was stopped and the body consigned to the deep.

Disturbing Reports From Portugal.

Special to Evening Telegram. LISBON, August 21. The newspapers to-day print alarming reports of an alleged plot of the clerical party for the overthrow of the Portuguese Government and the establishment of a military dictatorship. The "Seculo" says the clerical party's strong and growing dissatisfaction with the Liberal Policy of the Government has culminated in the organization of a revolution to overthrow the administration and set up a military dictatorship, the first object of which will be to stamp out the republicans. The Edmundo says that several regiments have joined the movement and that the Duke of Oporto, the heir apparent of the Portuguese Throne, while at the Casino at Cascaes last night was apprised of this fact and took refuge in the fortress. The paper also says that alarm is general and that the military and naval forces are under arms night and day. While the Government refused to give out any information either confirming or denying the reports it continues to take the strongest precautions. King Manuel is at Bussaco near Coimbra. The Government is greatly disturbed over the active activity of the Republicans in preparing for the general election next Sunday.

Annexation of Corea.

Special to the Evening Telegram. TOKIO, August 21. Within a week the Hermit Kingdom and the Empire of Corea will become historical terms, 12,000,000 of people will be added to the population of Japan and territory as large as England will become part of the Japanese Empire's dominions. The Treaty of Portsmouth which settled the war between Japan and Russia reads that Japan shall have the "guidance, protection and control" of Corea and the last stage of this agreement is now becoming an actuality, after 3 years of experimenting to discover a practical method of conserving the nationality of the Korean Peninsula. To-day the Privy Council of Japan was summoned to meet at 10.30 tomorrow morning. This is regarded by well informed persons as practically the signal to complete the negotiations.

SHOULD BE ATTENDED TO.—We have been requested to draw the attention of the City Council to the condition of the road near the West End Cemetery. On the high road near the entrance is simply a "puddle" of mud and water.

H.M.S. Bedford Ashore

Special Evening Telegram. TOKIO, August 22. The British Cruiser Bedford ran ashore on the south west portion of Quelpart Island Sunday. Japanese warships have been sent to the assistance. The weather was bad at the time of the accident, the Bedford was sailing with the rest of the British Squadron from China for Hagsanaki. The Bedford is an armoured cruiser and was built in 1905 at a cost of three million five hundred thousand dollars. Quelpart Island belongs to Korea, it lies at the entrance of the Yellow Sea, 50 miles south of the Korean Peninsula.

Leaves for Ungava.

Rev. S. M. Stewart, the missionary at Ungava Bay, who has been spending a vacation in Ireland, England and Newfoundland, returns North by the S. S. Harmony this evening. He will leave the steamer at Cape Chidley where he expects to meet Esquimaux and skin canoes and make his headquarters after a six day's run if the weather is good. Whilst in England he was twice entertained by the Archbishop of Canterbury, who consoled with him on the hardship of his life in the Frozen North. Mr. Stewart retorted that there was more bother and trouble in keeping clean in England than in the cleanly North where daily baths and ablutions were not a daily necessity. His Grace laughingly recalled that Sir A. Shackleton had expressed similar views on his return from the Antarctic Polar Cap. Mr. Stewart is in love with his work in the North, and declares he enjoys better health there than he did in the temperate zone. Mr. Stewart's last stay north was somewhat lengthy. His previous holiday was in 1904 after a stay of about three years around Ungava. This time he hopes to remain two or three years. Before he took up the Ungava Mission Mr. Stewart was incumbent of the difficult and arduous mission of Flower's Cove. Mr. Stewart is an Irishman by birth, but he received his clerical training at Queen's College of this city under the Rev. Charles Knapp.

Florence Nightingale's Funeral.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Aug. 20. Florence Nightingale, the famous nurse of the Crimean War, who died Aug. 13th, was buried this afternoon beside the bodies of her father and mother in the churchyard of the little Hampshire village of East Wiltow. In accordance with her often expressed wish for a simple private funeral, the ceremony was of the quietest nature, the only reminder of the great services to the army and nation being the presence of a squad of the Grenadier Guards as bearers. Outside the family circle and a few friends there was nobody there. Public tribute was given to the Angel of the Crimean War at a memorial service at noon at St. Paul's Cathedral here, at which King George, Queen Mary and the Queen Mother, the War Office, the Admiralty and the greater part of the British public bodies and colonies were represented. The Cathedral was crowded and thousands of private persons who had come to do honor to the dead nurse were unable to find places in the church and stood outside during the ceremony.

The Orion Launched.

Special Evening Telegram. PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 20. The Orion, England's newest and greatest fighting machine, was launched here to-day in the presence of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain and a distinguished gathering of naval officers and representatives of the public. Compared with the armored cruiser Lion, of 26,350 tons, just launched, the Orion will displace only 22,500 tons, but her ten 13.5 in. guns and other deadly equipment of torpedoes renders her by far the most powerful battleship afloat. The new torpedo to be carried by the Orion weighs nearly a ton and its range will exceed 17,000 yards at a speed of 40 knots. The Orion will have a speed of 21 knots and will carry 4,000 tons of fuel, giving her an unusually wide radius of action.

Moissant's Last Try.

Special to the Evening Telegram. LONDON, Aug. 20. Our Historical Comedy of Errors.

(By D. W. Prowse.)

III. The main ingredient in all History is Truth. The Historian should hold the mirror up to nature, and give the very form and pressure of the time. Mindful of this important point, in my History of Newfoundland from the Records, after each chapter, I have given as an appendix extracts from contemporary documents so that the reader can verify my statements. I am constantly receiving communications from cranks of all kinds. I am warned against leaning to Popery, and on Saturday there was a letter in the Evening Telegram signed C. C., accusing me of making wilful misstatements about Sebastian Cabot. In all history there has rarely been such a bold, shameless impostor as this same Sebastian. He made the English believe that he was born in Bristol. In Venice he declared himself a Venetian. He imposed upon the great Emperor Charles V., and fully persuaded the illustrious Ruler that he was the discoverer of North America—a most outrageous fiction. The new Charter granted to John Cabot in 1498 describes "the land and isles discovered, by the said John." The Spanish Ambassador Ayala makes the same report. Soncino, another Venetian, writing just after John's arrival in August, 1497, describes in a very humorous way his voyage with a Burgundian and sixteen English Sailors, and his departure with the same on a second voyage. Sebastian was no more in Newfoundland than he was in the moon. In 1521 the Grocers Company flatly denied his claim, and Peter Marty, his life long friend, has to admit that the Spaniards considered him a liar and impostor. There can be no doubt that he was an able man and a skilled navigator. His voyage for the Spaniards to South America was very successful. All details about his birth and even of his death are obscure and doubtful. The one thing real about him is his bold mendacity—the biggest liar of his age. He is supposed to have died about the end of Queen Mary's reign. This would be sixty or sixty-one years after his father's voyage in 1497, as he was an active and vigorous man in 1558 how old could he have been in 1497? As to Messrs. Gosling and P. T. McGrath and their views that there were no residents in our Colony until Guy came, every fisherman in the Island agrees with me that from the very first there were winter crews. With a big fishery carried on in fifty harbours and 10,000 men, winter crews were an absolute necessity and I can prove their presence. Aug. 22, 1910. D. W. P.

Motor Car Collides With Bear on Highway.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 16.—A motor car driven by Edward L. Hopkins, of New York collided with a large black bear on the highway in the town of Lagrange, Tuesday morning, causing slight damage to the car, but giving both the motoring party and the bear a bad fright. The party, composed of Mr. Hopkins and his wife and their guests, John P. Passet, of New York and Miss Marian Gordon, of Philadelphia, were returning from a tour of Northern Maine, and at nine o'clock Tuesday morning were running through Lagrange at the rate of 35 miles an hour, when the bear rose up on its haunches directly in the middle of the road. Mr. Hopkins, who was driving, had his choice of ditching the car or striking the bear and decided to take a chance with the bear expecting to shove the animal to one side. Instead of brushing aside the bear, however, the bear fell sprawling upon the hood of the car in that position was carried some distance, growling and clawing, while the women of the party shrieked in terror. Finally the car struck a bad place in the road and bounded the bear off. The animal fell under one wheel, thus ditching the car. The occupants of the car were not hurt and soon had the machine righted. The bear was somewhat dazed, but quickly made off into the woods. The motor party reached Bangor just before noon and after a short stop continued on to New York.

Wise Picnickers

Take Along Grape-Nuts FOOD. Ready Cooked, Delicious and Nourishing. In making up lunch for picnickers, some form of substantial food that can not easily be injured in transit, should be supplied, and the most ideal article for that purpose is Grape-Nuts. This food comes in a 15 cents a package, is already thoroughly cooked and can be used either dry or with the addition of some milk or cream. Grape-Nuts food is used by some epicures in frying fish, for its adds a delightful flavour and is naturally superior to the ordinary crumbed crackers or corn meal for this purpose. In addition to the convenience of Grape-Nuts food, its highly concentrated food value should not be lost sight of. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Larceny of $70.

John Knebold, an American miner working at Bell Island, was arrested at a boarding house in town yesterday by Sergeant Mackey charged with the larceny of $70 from J. Osmond, who was boarding at the same house with Knebold at Bell Island. Osmond came to town yesterday morning and reported to the police that on the previous day a tin box containing $70 had been stolen from his room. The police on questioning him found out that his fellow boarder, Knebold, left Bell Island on the day that the tin box with the money in it disappeared. Sergeant Mackey on being given a description of the man succeeded in locating him and bringing him to the lockup.

Labrador Report.

The s.s. Invermore arrived at Twillingate at 8 a.m. yesterday. The ship went to Hopedale and connected with the Stella Maris, which had been down to Cape Mugford. Capt. Parsons of the Invermore wired the following report to the R. N. Co. from Twillingate: "Arrived at Hopedale on the 18th; prevailing winds south and southeast. Light with fine weather all the trip. From Spear Harbor to Bateau nothing has been done. Black Tickle to Emily Harbor slight improvement. White Bears, Sloop Cove, Cape Harrison, Iron Bound Islands and Macovik, fair. Hopedale to Dawe's Island, fair; from Dawe's Island to Mugford, good fishing has been done. Cape Mugford to Sedlick Bay, very little done. Easterly winds, thick fog and heavy seas prevent fishing."

King's Wharf Founders

The eastern end of the King's wharf collapsed Saturday night last. A boat belonging to the Harbor Master, Capt. English, that was hanging there in davits was saved by the promptness of Mr. Joseph Pippy, who is in charge of the night boat. As soon as he heard the crash on the pier he got busy and managed to save the boat. The wharf kept sagging down for an hour when the shores finally gave way and a large portion of the bedding fell level with the surface of the harbor.

Dundee Delayed.

The S. S. Dundee was delayed at Port Blandford this morning owing to her propeller being out of order. Mr. A. D. Brown and Diver J. Butler went out by the express to Clode Sound last evening in order to effect repairs.

United Mine Workers Union Bankrupt.

Indianapolis, Aug. 17.—What has been suspected by many of the delegates to the miners' convention and feared by all to come to light in discussions and in reports of officers when it was discovered that the treasury is practically bankrupt, and the organization is in debt to locals for borrowed money to the amount of $125,000. In addition to this there is an overdraft of $2,000 unpaid, and to meet the expenses of this convention the miners must depend upon the assessments of the present week. This condition contrasted with that of five years ago, when the organization had a bank balance of nearly $1,000,000, is creating more discussion than the quarrel between Presidents Lewis and Walker, for the delegates declare that with $5,000 men idle and the treasury bankrupt there seems nothing in store for them but to return to work on the terms offered by the operators. An arraignment of President Thos. L. Lewis, international organizer and the Executive Board of the United Mine Workers, and a complaint about the disbursement of the funds, by Frank Feehan, President of the Pittsburgh district, occupied most of the session. Feehan made his attack while Secretary Edwin Perry was calling the roll by districts for the delegates to tell of conditions and to state how much their men could stand as a strike assessment. He declared that Pennsylvania should be made the battle ground of the organization and that the million spent in the Nova Scotia strike was misappropriated. He accused Lewis of meddling in the affairs of Illinois and causing the strike, which he said should be indorsed.

Nutritive Hypophosphites

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—"doesn't feel like doing anything"—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic. Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares overstudy, etc. Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

English Courts Better

AMERICA A CENTURY BEHIND.

Committee of American Lawyers Find British Justice Superior—Quick, Businesslike Handling.

London, Aug. 11.—"We in America are a century behind England in our criminal procedure, chiefly on account of our technicalities," is the keynote of the report to President Taft, of the Bar Association, and the American Institute of Law and Criminology, being prepared by John D. Lawson, of St. Louis, and Edwin R. Keedy, of Chicago, who were sent here to study the proceedings in the London and other criminal courts, and have been here three months.

The following are extracts from the report:—"England has a more businesslike way of procedure."

"Although they have outward evidences of form in the way of wigs, sheriffs and the like; they are really less formal than we.

Trust the Jurors.

"The most striking differences in the systems are the quick manner in England of selecting juries, and the short time between sentence and final judgment on appeal.

"One difference we noticed was the absence of challenging of jurors. England allows no fishing by cross-examination, apparently considering it no more necessary to examine a juror than a judge.

"We began our work by reading the newspaper accounts, then going to the police courts and following the cases through to the Court of Appeal. One such case was completed in six weeks. In another, a murder case, the date of hanging was fixed three months after the crime; all this, notwithstanding that every person convicted has the right of appeal.

Muzzle the Press.

"We think one reason for the American conditions is that the prosecuting officers are swayed by public opinion and are forced to take up new things and the old ones are pigeon-holed.

"Newspapers are responsible for some of the conditions found in the American courts. English papers are forbidden to express an opinion of a case after the trial commences. The result is that the reports from the London papers are frequently cited in court."

Gibbons Deplores Present Day Greed.

Cardinal Compares Time to Rome's Period of Decline.

New York, Aug. 8.—Cardinal Gibbons, watching the automobiles pass a Long Island country house on Saturday, moralized on the dangers of self-indulgence.

"I think," he said, "we are closely approaching the age of extravagance and inordinate pleasure enjoyed by Rome just before her fall. The cry is for more and more riches. The rich man is greedy for more, and it is the same everywhere.

"True, we have many generous ones among the rich; but this great desire for riches is making people very selfish.

"Then there is the desire for inordinate pleasures." Pointing after an auto he continued: "You see we have many more channels of pleasure than were known to the patricians of Augustus Caesar's time; yet there is the desire for new pleasures and more pleasures.

"I believe the gospel of Christ will save the present situation. There was no Christ, you remember, to save Rome?"
