Everything Ready For a Big Day in Men's Overcoats Saturday Featuring Winter Ulsters and Chesterfields in a Huge Variety of New Patterns at Prices That Make Buying Unusually Profitable This Week End

WE'VE made great preparations to supply hundreds of men with Overcoats this week end, and there will be an unusually large collection displayed in the men's clothing department, featuring the authentic styles in such desirable winter coats as ulsters and Chesterfields. All cleverly tailored from fashionable materials with colors and patterns to suit the tastes of almost every man. Come Saturday, extra sales service, extra large assortment and special values.

Comfortable Winter Ulsters With a Marked Degree of Smartness in Material and Tailoring

THE ARRIVAL of November is usually followed by cold, stormy weather and finds many men unprepared with proper winter coats. The big, heavy ulster ranks supreme as a comfortable, cold weather overcoat. Its thick heavy material, its length, which comes below knees, and the big, high storm collar it has, are special features that are appreciative in cold weather. Even the very appearance of the ulster shown in this illustration suggests comfort and coziness. The following items describe the patterns and styles and the splendid Eaton values obtainable Saturday.

An exceptionally good looking ulster is tailored from navy blue fine nap cloth, with shawl collar that can be rolled up close to chin or worn open in front. The back has a half-belt and fits closely at waist, then flaring slightly to a length below the knees. Has twill serge body linings. Sizes 34 to 39. Price $12.50.

In very much the same style is a grey, fine nap cloth Ulster. A light-weight coat, but very warm. Sizes 34 to 39. Price $13.50.

Men's Shawl Collar Ulsters, about 50 inches long, with half-belt at waist. These are made of nap cloth in navy blue. Sizes 36 to 44. Price $12.50.

Ulsters made of a trifle finer weave blue nap cloth, are in the same style. Sizes 36 to 44. Price $13.50.

An Ulster that looks heavy and feels comfortably warm, and yet noted for its lightness of weight when on, is made of a soft, fluffy material, in self shade of grey. It is double-breasted, with convertible lapels that can be worn open or turned up to fit snugly over chin and neck. Fashionably styled with rather high, close-fitting waist. Sizes 36 to 44. Price $16.50.

Excellent tailored is a big, cold weather ulster made of thick, soft grey nap cloth material, with shawl collar of self material. Has smartly-shaped shoulders, and is extra well tailored throughout. Priced at $18.00.

Other prices of these long, warm and favored Ulsters, in the newest and choicest of the winter's patterns and colorings are from $13.50 to $25.00.

Men's Warm, Stylish and Serviceable Winter Chesterfields From $7.50 to $22.50

ONE MODEL in particular is specially commendable for its extremely low price. It's a black beaver cloth Chesterfield in single-breasted fly front style, with velvet collar. Has Italian cloth body linings and is neatly finished in every detail. Sizes 36 to 44. Exceptionally low priced at $7.50.

Tailored in smart style, suitable for young men, are Chesterfields that hang just below knees. They are single-breasted fly front models, with back rather form fitting at waist. One lot is made of black, dark grey and medium grey melton cloth with self collar; another lot is made of soft warm grey material and with velvet collars. Sizes 35 to 44. Price $15.00.

In similar style are warm, soft-finished Chesterfields, in plain black, dark grey, with indistinct fine stripes, and a dark grey, thick, soft, woolly material. All are stylishly tailored and strongly made to give extended service. Sizes 36 to 44. Price $18.00.

Another heavy winter Chesterfield is made of soft, woolly Whitney cloth, in single-breasted style, with vent in back and back shaped rather close to waist. Lapels are short; collar is of black velvet, and linings are of twill mohair. Sizes 36 to 44. Price $22.50.

LIBERALS FAVOR CORPORATION TAX

Sixth Ward Organization Says Poor People Pay Too Much.

THAT LOYALTY SPEECH

Refutation and Resentment of Remarks Attributed to Ald. McBrien.

Emphatic refutation and resentment against the charge alleged to have been made by Alderman McBrien that the Liberal party was a disloyal party was the keynote of an enthusiastic meeting of approximately 26 members of Ward 6 Liberal Association, who crowded into a small room at 234 Gladstone avenue last night and applauded time and again as speakers called upon the people of the Dominion and of Ontario to vote irrespective of party affiliations to oust the present administration from office at the next general election. They all predicted Liberal party success.

Alderman Maguire and Alderman Maguire were among the speakers. The former delivered a stirring speech, declaring that McBrien was a young man and was not wholly to blame in that he had merely repeated what he had read and learned from the "higher-ups." Cries of "Shame" and "Rotten" were heard when the speaker quoted from a paragraph of The Toronto News, which was intended to support his argument. He described the extravagance of the present Dominion Government in appointing additional civil service employes when economy was necessary. He cited the enlistment of a number of Liberals to prove that members of that party were loyal in time of need.

Alderman Maguire in a forceful address, after paying a rich tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and appealing to voters to support the best men and best policies, irrespective of party membership, declared that the first duty of Canadians now was the bringing of the war to a successful conclusion. But while that duty was first, he said, "we will not sit idly by and see men occupying high positions and taking advantage of those positions for selfish gain."

"It is a disgrace, I say," he declared, "to have men representing the people at this time who say they'd like to see holes shot in the British flag. It makes my blood boil to hear such a speech which we have heard quoted this evening."

"After this war we are going to face a crisis. The most important question which will arise at that time will be the equalization of taxation. The immense corporations should be made to pay their fair share of taxes and not as now, where has been the rule have them forced upon the poor."

"In the coming election the opposition will attempt the 'loyalty cry' and the whipsaw campaign as it has been used before, but this time it won't get by. This isn't talking politics. It's talking what every citizen should be talking today. We must not lie dormant."

An appeal that Liberals arrive at a mutual understanding of the principles for which they fight was made by Gordon Waldron, who presided as chairman during the election of officers.

"We cannot go into an election with one element advocating protection, another in favor of free trade, and another in favor of the Australian process, which advocates politics and economies such as nationalization of railways and lands, fixed minimum wages, restriction of labor, pensions, mothers' bounties, and so on."

"We can't go into an election with one element favoring imperialism and militarism and another in favor of peace and disarmament and another in favor of the development of wealth in Canadian democracy."

"Nothing to my mind is more or more contemptible than the political discussions as they appear in the Ontario press. There is a political campaign across the border, yet the press of that country does not have the blackguardly foolish declarations made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

Other speakers were Dr. B. H. McConnel, Rev. W. W. Steinhilber, Louis Grotzky (who charged the present government with graft, extravagance and waste), E. E. Reid (who proposed the re-formation of the Liberal party), Harry Anderson (who accused the government of military mismanagement, ruthless expenditure, needless taxes, and appealed for support of the Liberal party), Joseph Singer (who urged strong organization and active effort by Liberals in Toronto), Bechly (president of the association), W. H. Adams and L. Gignere (private secretary to Sir Wilfrid Laurier).

Following are the officers elected for the coming year: Hon. presidents, Gordon Waldron, Sam Price, Dr. John Hunter, John Maloney and Major A. F. Hunter; president, C. Bechly (re-elected); vice-presidents, J. H. Wilkinson, Sam Wicks, W. McDougall and John O'Leary; secretary, E. W. Volter; treasurer, John Preston; auditors, Larkin Maloney and A. Innes; press correspondents, Harry Anderson; sergeant-at-arms, A. Pipe.

Proves Proof That Austria Uses Explosive Bullets in War

That the Austrians are using explosive bullets, and were making them in preparation for the present war as far back as 1912, is proven by Major W. D. Sharpe, medical officer of the 23rd Battalion, who went there the first year of the Serbian campaign. He has in his possession one of these explosive bullets, the only one in Canada. It is decorated with the Austrian double eagle and stamped "1912." It was one of 10,000 captured by the Serbians on an Austrian plique boat taken on the Danube River in front of Belgrade. The Austrians were using them on two machine guns, mounted on the deck of the steamer.

Within the bullet shown by Major Sharpe is a separate case containing a high explosive. It is connected with the front of the bullet by a needle. On striking any object such as a man's body, it explodes with great force and causes terrible wounds.

There was a large attendance, which included representatives of all the civic bodies. Captain Patterson leaves on Saturday for England to rejoin his regiment, having completely recovered from his wounds. He is a medical officer and was formerly connected with the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.

FAVORS MILITARY DRILL IN SCHOOLS

Board of Education Passes Recommendation After Much Discussion.

STRONGLY OPPOSED

Trustees Hunter, Vokes, Edmunds and Houston Put Up Hard Fight.

Military matters, so far as they relate to military drill in Toronto schools, occupied the attention of the board of education trustees at their meeting in the city hall last night, for two solid hours during which time the discussion raged fast and furious, and at certain stages was extremely humorous.

The trouble was precipitated thru the recommendation of a sub-committee to institute compulsory military drill in the schools, subject to the approval of the minister of education. At the last meeting of the management committee the matter proved very contentious and was finally carried by a majority of one. When the question came before the board of education, Trustee McTaggart rose to more clearly define his position. He was not opposed to military drill, "in fact, as to forming fours and so forth," he declared, "I was decidedly in favor of military training."

It was then discovered that the words "military training" were mentioned in one of the clauses in the recommendation, and Trustee Shaw, signifying his approval, this was immediately changed to read "military drill."

"This clause," that military drill be required of all boys and young men who attend the high schools, colleges, institutes or any other secondary school under government supervision, was the first one taken up.

Opposed Whole Business. Trustee Edmunds declared that he was opposed to the whole business. He said the curriculum was already overburdened and subjects were being carried in a most perfunctory manner. He thought it would be more advisable to take away a number of subjects than to add.

"Does this mean that we make compulsory the system that has been carried out for some time in high schools?" asked Trustee Noble. On being informed that such was the case, he declared himself in favor of the proposal.

In the course of his remarks opposing the recommendation, Trustee Hunter veered to some questions of more public interest. He referred to the success following the abolition of vodka in Russia, and the splendid stand taken by the provincial government in passing the temperance legislation.

"The time is coming," he said, "when the man seen with a pipe or cigar in his mouth will be classed as inefficient" (General laughter).

Dr. Hunter maintained that he was in favor of military efficiency, but the time to prepare men for that was at the age of 18.

The clause finally carried with Trustee Hunter, Vokes, Edmunds and Houston dissenting.

Alter Regulation.

The committee also proposed to alter the regulation regarding forms three and four, part of which now reads, "Organized play and games" to "organized play and games and for military boys, elementary military drill."

Chairman Houston opposed this, claiming that military drill for children in these forms was nothing less than absolute cruelty.

Trustee Hodgson pointed out that there were no children in the third form under 11 years of age, and the clause was then carried with the same dissenters.

The recommendation of the management committee, that the property committee be asked to grant the request of the committee on home missions and social service of the presbytery of Toronto, for the use of a room in Backville Street and Niagara Street Schools two nights each week for teaching English to foreigners, caused Trustee Noble to make a short speech. He wanted to see foreigners utilize the standard night schools, and stated that all sorts of things might be carried on without the authorities' knowledge. He hinted at plotting and fighting like Kilkenny cats.

Nobody agreed with the doctor, however, and the clause carried.

Members of "A. R." Club Hold Progressive Euchre

A social evening under the auspices of the "A. R." Club, an organization of men who because of some physical defect have been refused admission to the army, was held in Orange Hall, Eglinton avenue, last night. Members of the club and their lady friends to the number of over one hundred spent a pleasant evening, during which progressive euchre was played. A short musical program, which Mrs. F. H. McQueen and Mrs. F. Stevenson were the principal contributors, was much enjoyed. A delectable lunch was served by the ladies' social committee of the British Madras Society. Among those present were: E. W. Owens, M.L.A.; Robert Edgar, Sergeant-Crested, Capt. Joe Johnston, Sgt. J. W. Geddes and Pte. Cassman.

LIEUT. WHITTAKER DEAD.

Galt, Nov. 2.—Word was received here today that Lieut. Herbert Whittaker, who went to the front with a Calgary battalion, had died from wounds. He was formerly a member of the Bank of Commerce staff here.

STRONGLY OPPOSED TO CONSCRIPTION

Labor Council Asks That All Unions Tell Premier Borden of Stand.

MAY BE STRIKE SOON

Hat and Cap Workers Are Not Satisfied and Ask for Assistance.

Before proceeding with the business of the District Trades and Labor Council at its meeting in the Labor Temple last night, delegates on request of the executive committee, appointed Vice-President Walter Brown and Joe Marke to leave the meeting and wait on the board of education to protest against compulsory military training in the public schools. In their request the executive also recommended that the council ask the Dominion Trades Congress to write all the trades unions throughout the Dominion to protest to the prime minister against conscription. Should the board of education decline to comply with the protest the council will make it an issue at the next municipal election.

Labor conditions and the high cost of living were briefly dealt with. M. Garitsky, assistant general secretary of the United Hat and Cap Makers' Union of America was a visitor to the council. He intimated that several hundred organized workers in Toronto may be forced to walk out on strike shortly and appealed for moral support of the council and also financial assistance should the local need it.

A communication from a returned soldier suffering from consumption at a hospital at Gravenhurst asking that the council try and get the men who are up there better living conditions was investigated by Secretary Stevenson. The matter was taken to the hospital commission who informed the secretary that the inquiry had already been investigated, and that the men were being removed as quickly as possible to another sanitarium.

Delegate James Simpson informed the members that there is a tendency to reduce the wages of women working in munition factories, and stated that it would be a good thing for the council to engage someone to find out from the women the wages they are getting and what conditions they are working.

The council instructed the secretary to forward a resolution presented by the education committee to the board of education protesting again home-work for children, as they are of the opinion that the education should be confined to the schools. They also were of the opinion that automatic doors should be installed in all schools so that they could be opened by the principal in case of fire.

The milk drivers, who were recently organized, have signed agreement with the city to have their delivery routes altered from November 15 to April 1. They will also have 13 days holiday each year with pay.

Regarding the high cost of living campaign a letter will be forwarded to the board of control and the mayor, asking them to either see if they overlooked the public meeting to have been held to discuss the question, and if the matter of municipal coal yards and bakeries will be taken before the people on January 15.

A resolution will be forwarded to the police commissioners asking that the police be paid semi-monthly instead of monthly.

President James Richard occupied the chair and R. J. Stephenson was elected to act as secretary in place of Tom Stevenson, who is a delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention.

POLITICS and POLITICIANS

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—(Special)—The indications would point to the election in Canada within the first fifteen days of January. Hon. Mr. Cochrane and Hon. Mr. Rogers want it and it is believed that they have about got Sir Robert Borden to agree to it. These two ministers have certainly made all their arrangements up to the point of the premier's decisive action. Those who say that the election is on have the moves all outlined: that the new governor-general will be here at the latest by the twentieth of this month, that by the end of the month he would be sufficiently installed in office for the premier to lay his views before him and to ask for an immediate election; and, if consent is given, that parliament could be dissolved, and later on, the date fixed for an election to come off in the middle of January—making the actual campaign cover six weeks from the first of December. This is a rush program, especially for Sir Robert Borden, but many things seem to indicate that he is about to make the plunge. The whole cabinet have apparently got the premier to put Sir Sam Hughes out of business without actually putting him out of office; other changes in the government are in contemplation; the appointments of Messrs. McCurdy, Bennett, and Col. Clark are said to be but preliminary moves. Sir Thomas White is even said to have gone to England to outline things to the Duke of Devonshire before he sails for Canada. Liberal headquarters here are placid at the surface, but there is a lot of very quiet rush work of some kind under way. Conventions will soon be in order, and the word is said to have gone to the west to get ready. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will see his friends of Ontario while in Toronto. How the country will take such a proposal is the one uncertain feature in the calculation of those who discuss the matter.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 2.—(Special)—The statement is made here on the very best authority that Sir Robert L. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier have reached an understanding by which parliament will be extended, obviating the holding of an election within one year at least. As a matter of fact, those in the secrets of the parties say that the Liberals do not want an election and that the rank and file will easily accept the arrangement concluded between the two leaders.

An Early City Budget

A bulletin issued by the Bureau of Municipal Research sets the annual cost of running the City of Toronto, inclusive of local improvements, at $18,000,000. This figure out at $38 a year for each man, woman and child in the municipality, or $190 for the average family.

the purpose of setting forth some ideas of a businesslike character on carrying on the city's finances and planning future expenditure. The obvious and awkward first question is whether one should begin to plan for the year's business before the year begins or after it is partly finished.

As practical and necessary improvements upon the present loose system of the city, the bureau offers some suggestions which, if adopted, would constitute the second greatest reform the city hall has seen in a lifetime.

A classified balance sheet would indicate to the voters the comparative state of affairs with other years, for this is perhaps about all the average citizen could get out of the documents.

The advantages of having the budget in February instead of May need not be enlarged upon. A great saving could be effected by having the taxes collected earlier than at present, and citizens would probably prefer to pay their instalments at wider intervals commencing earlier in the year.

LEGISLATOR SENTENCED TO A TERM IN PRISON

Herbert Pierce, Member for Wadena, Sask., Accepted a Bribe.

DECLARES INNOCENCE Eighteen Months' Term and Five Hundred Dollar Fine Imposed.

Regina, Nov. 2.—Herbert C. Pierce, Liberal member of the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan for Wadena, was sentenced today to 18 months' imprisonment without hard labor in Regina jail and to pay a fine of $500 or in default serve an additional six months in jail.

Pierce at the last sitting of the supreme court was found guilty by a jury on a charge of having received a bribe from the Saskatchewan Licensed Victuallers' Association for his influence in having temporary legislation to abolish the bar withdrawn from the house in 1915.

Sentence was passed by Chief Justice Sir Frederick Haultain, who presided at the trial.

The chief justice asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him.

"Nothing, your lordship, except that I am innocent," replied Pierce.

"If myself am absolutely convinced of the justice of the verdict, and I believe there are others guilty with you, I believe there was a conspiracy at that time to corrupt the members of the legislature, and that you not only yourself accepted the bribe, but acted as agent for others," said the judge.

A HUNGRY BUT UNREPENTANT PRODIGAL

SOLDIERS CALLING FOR CONSCRIPTION

Every Canadian in France and Flanders Today is an Enthusiastic Conscriptor.

EMPIRE CLUB APPROVES

Heartily Applauds Lieut.-Col. Guthrie's Demand That Measure Be Applied Here.

The Empire Club vigorously applauded a demand for conscription in Canada made by Lieut.-Col. Percy A. Guthrie, veteran of the first contingent, and seconded by W. F. Maclean, M.P., at luncheon in the St. Charles Hotel yesterday.

"Every man in France and Flanders today is a conscripter," said the returned colonel. "I trust that this feeling will sweep over Canada from coast to coast, and that within six months you will come out flat-footed, plus-holus for the one idea that appeals to the fighting men of Canada whom I represent—that is conscription for Canada."

This declaration followed an impassioned appeal for race unity in Canada. "The young sons of old France and old England got together at Valenciennes. Once their blood mingled in streams of emity. Today on the battlefields of France and Flanders they mingle in streams of comradeship. If the soldierman can forget his differences when he is about to give up his life for his King, surely you can get together when you are not facing the supreme sacrifice. If you do not do so you are leaving undone something which you ought to do."

In terms of glowing eloquence, Lieut.-Col. Guthrie told of the call coming to Canada and of the response of how at Ypres Canada had come to its own, when after the poisonous gas clouds had swept away the Franco-Algerian troops, 140,000 Huns swept forward and they thought on a clear road to Calais. "But there was one thing which they had forgotten. The waves of advancing Huns swept and broke against the wall of Canadian steel. Currie's men were there and Penne's Own."

Tales of Heroism. Having sketched the general glory of Canadian deeds of war, Lieut.-Col. Guthrie told in detail of their heroism: of Costigan of the 10th who had pulled the speaker back when he had leaped up the trench wall to lead a "nobbling" attack and taken his place only to fall back shot in the head, of how Costigan had come back and in charging German trenches had found two girls warm in their own blood, girls who had been kept there by German officers, who had cut the girls' throats when they retreated lest the girls should tell of their treatment. He told of Mercereau and Joe Boulogne and Geggie, whose name is known in Toronto, and the woman of North York who had stood by him when the Hesperian went down. He longed to tell a dozen other similar stories, but time prevented.

He told of the night of Festubert, when they waited in the mud of the trenches for the hour at which they were to advance, for all knew of the order that read, "Break thru. Don't expect to come back." "Eighty-one battalion had to be sacrificed. There was the honor. There were no questions of Orange or Catholic then, no talk of bilingualism. Neither should there be now.

"Have two things to say," said Mr. Maclean, in moving a vote of thanks to the speaker. "The first is that as a Canadian and a member of parliament I am for conscription. (Applause.) And the second is that I am in favor of drilling the youth of this country right away. Nothing else would impress the enemy so much, nothing else would have so favorable an effect for the empire in exacting terms of peace."

A resolution of sympathy was adopted by a standing vote to be sent to Hon. Mr. Duff, minister of agriculture for the province, owing to the death of his son, who was recently killed in action in France.

WILL BOW TO INEVITABLE. Montreal, Nov. 2.—Although there is no editorial comment as yet in the French papers, they all publish specials from Ottawa to the effect that the bilingual agitators will bow to the inevitable, all going so far as to say that the so-called victory of the old school commission at Ottawa will have to carry out bylaw 17.

Sworn Statement From a Man Who Has Unbounded Confidence in Dr. Chase's Ointment

There is no longer any debate as to the best treatment for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. But since about one person in every four suffers more or less from this annoying ailment it is necessary to keep on telling people about Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Wm. Shaw, Island Brook, Quebec, writes: "I am writing this to let you know the benefit I have derived from your Ointment. I have suffered more or less for years with this annoying ailment. I got so bad, I was completely laid up with them. I went to one local doctor and asked him if he had anything that was good for piles, and he recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and took it home and used it according to directions, and for over one year I have not been troubled with piles. I had tried other remedies before, but they only gave me temporary relief, and that one box of your Ointment did more for me than all the

LICENSE EVERYONE WHO DRIVES CAR

One of Recommendations Made by Special Traffic Committee. HOLD INJURED LIABLE. Would Have Responsibility Rest Upon Person Who is Quick at Intuition.

Quite a large portion of the report of the special traffic committee appointed some months ago at a public meeting, held in the council chamber, deals with motors and motorists, and in view of the numerous accidents which have occurred recently in which motorists have been involved the recommendations are especially interesting.

The committee consists of W. C. McLean (chairman), W. C. Coulter, P. E. Doollittle, J. H. Forrest, R. B. Morley, Arthur Hewitt and T. N. Phelps.

The first recommendation is that every driver of a car should be required to have a permit, which could be cancelled or suspended upon repeated convictions for minor offences or for the committing of a serious offence under the criminal code.

"That intending passengers for street cars be prohibited from standing in the roadway for an unreasonable time before the street car arrives at the stopping point."

DRIVE IN WEST WILL CONTINUE

"Our offensive will continue through the winter when conditions are at all favorable."

"From documents recently found on prisoners, there is no question but that there is a great deterioration in the enemy's morale and material, altho they have been able to maintain the number of their divisions. This has been accomplished by withdrawing regiments from old divisions to form new ones. You see, in defence warfare, eight or nine battalions can form an effective division, whereas 11 or 12 are required for offensive work. On the defensive a small number of battalions can hold a great amount of line. This is possible thru the use of machine guns, whereas on the offensive the men must be individually armed with rifles."

"I am confident the actual new organizations of the Germans are not more than ten divisions. Others were formed as indicated by withdrawing battalions from old divisions."

Baseball Want Carrigan at the Helm

The New Boston Owners Want to Retain Bill Carrigan as Manager

Purchasers of World's Championship Baseball Club Are Well Known in the Theatrical World.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Although there are still some details to be gone over the sale of the "Boston American League Baseball Club" has been completed to Lawrence Weber, Hugh Ward, Harry H. Frazee and M. Anderson, theatrical producers, by Joe J. Lanning. Discussion of terms and conditions were entered into and decided in a satisfactory way.

All the new owners are men well known in the theatrical world. Weber has produced plays in New York and Chicago for several years. He owns several theatres here and in Chicago, and has made several parts of the country. Frazee has been associated with Weber in several deals, many of which were handled by Frazee. Ward is the Australian representative of the J. J. Williamson Theatrical Company, which produces all the high-class plays in Australia. He is an American, but makes his home in Australia, and has just now only on a short business trip. Anderson is associated with Frazee in the Longacre Theatre.

Most of the negotiations for the club were carried on by Frazee and Ward. Weber remaining in the background. Asked last night if he was not the real purchaser of the club, Weber denied this, but admitted that he was deeply interested in the venture, as were the others named.

Frazee is to operate the club, and will try to retain Bill Carrigan as the manager, although Carrigan does not want the job. According to the same information, the negotiations for the sale have been going on since the world series, and were only completed yesterday.

Frazee telephoned Weber from Boston last night that he had reached a satisfactory agreement with Lanning, and that the transfer of the club would be made immediately. Weber asked that the proceedings be delayed until the meeting to-day. Upon this advice Frazee and Ward left Boston at midnight, and will arrive early this morning.

Weber refused to make known just what were the terms. He seemed pleased that the deal was a neat complete as it is, but would not enter into any discussion as to the cost of the club. Lanning some time ago suggested that $800,000 was not too high a price to ask for the Red Sox and Fenway Park, but there are few who think this amount was excessive.

Dick Klein's tale of Jack Johnson's attempt to become a bull-fighter is most amusing. Among other things, Klein writes to Bob Edgren in The New York Times:

Johnson thought he'd like to be a bull-fighter. He was on the level with it and trained for six weeks. When he got into the Plaza del Toros he was doled up in a matador costume, he managed to kill his first bull with a single sword thrust. But his second bull didn't fall to a "Spad" forehead for Johnson to get his side of the bull's neck to stick the sword in, or when the bull would turn his head when he charged. Anyway, Jack missed him clean. The bull and Johnson got tangled up in Johnson's cloak. Jack got loose first and took it on the run across the bull ring, the bull after him.

BILINGUAL APPEAL NOT WELL BASED

Ontario Government Regulations Are Upheld by Privy Council.

LOSE ON ONE POINT

Act Giving Commission Powers of Trustees is Ultra Vires.

London, Nov. 2.—The privy council today dismissed the appeal of the board of trustees of the Catholic Separate Schools v. MacKell and others.

The privy council allowed the second appeal by the same parties, in which the Ottawa corporation, etc., were respondents.

Briefly, the first judgment holds that the regulations complained of were not ultra vires. The second judgment holds that the trustees were vested in the commission is ultra vires.

Judgment in Full. The following council judgment in full as affecting the validity of Regulation 17, the appeal having been heard originally by Lord Chancellor Buckmaster, Lord Sainsbury, Atkinson, Shaw and Parmoor:

This appeal raises an important question as to the validity of the circular of instruction issued by the department of education of Ontario on August 19, 1915.

The regulation, in some of its clauses, deals with all schools, but its heading refers only to English and French schools, which are defined as being those schools, whether separate or public, where French is a language of instruction or communication, and which have been marked out by the minister for instruction.

The supreme court of Ontario granted an injunction and their judgment was affirmed by the unanimous opinion of the appellate division.

In order to confer legislative authority upon inspectors, an act of Ontario has been passed during the session, declaring the regulations proposed were duly made and approved under the authority of the department of education, and became binding, according to the terms of the act.

tion of trustees, may be used as the medium of instruction on terms not less unfavorable than those of English. Their lordships are unable to agree with this view.

The schools must be conducted in accordance with regulation. Their lordships can find nothing in the statutes that had power to issue regulations the power of directing in what language education is to be given.

On wider ground their lordships appreciate the affection which French speaking residents feel for the French language, and it is regretted that also in majority supporters of English and French separate schools in Ottawa are of French origin, there are other supporters to whom French is not a language to be forgotten.

It therefore becomes necessary to examine closely the terms of the circular in order to ascertain the nature and extent of restrictions imposed. Unfortunately it is not easy to ascertain its true effect if it opens with a definition of English and French schools. It was argued on behalf of appellants that even this definition was not within the power of the department, but there is no weight in this objection.

Simplicity

The vital part of a typewriter is the type-bar action.

In the Underwood action there are only three parts, as compared with from thirteen to twenty-seven in other typewriters.

The key lever, a connecting link, and the type bar, form the working unit.

The type bars are instantly removable—a valuable and exclusive Underwood feature. And a type bar is removed and replaced without affecting the alignment in the slightest degree.

This principle of efficient simplicity is in evidence throughout the machine.

If you have never had a mechanical demonstration of the Underwood, you would find it mighty interesting. Our representative is at your service.

ON REGULATION SEVENTEEN

No Need for Further Legislation to Enforce the Act.

Premier Hearst, Hon. Dr. Pyne and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson agreed yesterday that the privy council's decision on the bilingual issue, in sustaining the legality of regulation 17, gave them the victory on the vital issue, government control of education, while the adverse decision of the council or the authority of the commission appointed by the government to administer the separate schools in Ottawa, a local matter, one of machinery that could be righted if necessary at the next sitting of the provincial legislature.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson, who was in charge of the education department during much of the controversy, after the text of the judgment had been received, gave out the following statement, which may be taken as indicating the position taken by the cabinet in the matter.

"Our position, we think, has been and still is that we are determined that every child attending school shall have the opportunity of learning the English language. We English that the

After the money had been turned over by the governor-in-council for expenditure, he never interfered with the expenditure of same. He said he had never had any complaint from the auditors as to the administration of the act or the expenditure of money.

GERMANS ATTEMPT ESCAPE. Special to The Toronto World. Kingston, Nov. 2.—Four German prisoners at Fort Henry made a bold attempt last night to escape by digging under the walls, but were caught by the guards.

They do not affect or diminish whatever the remedy the appellants have under provision one, and cannot operate to give the legislature of Ontario authority to legislate in matters excepted from their authority.

Accordingly, it would require an act of the imperial legislature prejudicially to affect any right or privilege reserved under provision one, and the regulations which are impeached do not include any practice, instruction or privilege to which the appellants are not entitled.

Classes Defined. Further, the class of persons to whom the right or privilege is reserved is defined in the regulations, and is not according to race or language in relation to the appellants, but according to religious belief and not according to race or language in relation to the appellants.

For their case it is that even to a class so determined there were preserved as trustees rights or privileges which include the right of deciding as to the means to be used as the means of instruction. The question, therefore, that arises is, what were the rights and privileges protected by the act, and were they invaded by the circular, according to its true meaning?

The paragraph refers equally to public and separate schools, and directs that modifications shall be made in the course of study in both classes of schools, subject to the approval of the chief inspector in the case of French-speaking pupils. French where necessary may be used as a language of instruction and communication, but not beyond form one.

Except on approval of the chief inspector in the case of pupils beyond form one, no child is to be required to understand English, there are no provisions for a special course in English for French-speaking pupils and for French as a subject of study in public and separate schools.

Mr. Belcourt urged that as to regulate the use of the French language in separate Catholic schools and in some way inconsistent with the true right vested in the French-speaking population, but unless this was one of the purposes of the act of 1859, it is not to be inferred that the appellants' rights were invaded.

involve the right of determining the language to be used in schools. The right to manage must be subject to regulations, under which all schools must be carried on. There is nothing in the act to suggest the view that those regulations might include provisions to which the appellants object.

If, therefore, the regulation as to which the trustees of common schools were bound to carry on the class of school committed to their charge, did in fact, under the act of 1859, enable the trustees to exercise the power of trustees of the separate schools it would have been subject to any question as to interference with power of management, and does not arise as an independent question.

So far as teachers are concerned the number of duly qualified and is for the Board of education to impose what conditions they think fit as to the necessary qualifications of such teachers. The statute of 1859 the body for examining and giving certificates of qualifications was constituted by the act of 1859, and the act of 1859, including the local superintendant of the schools. It is argued that under the power of appointing a local superintendant a power conferred on the trustees, the provisions in the circular, which impose as necessary conditions of qualification of teachers, that they must possess a certificate of English, interfered with the trustees' rights in this respect.

These judgments, another phase in the long legal battle in the Ottawa Separate School case.

In a word, the first judgment moves all doubts held by the supporters of Samuel Genest as to the constitutionality of Regulation 17 of the Ontario Department of Education. The second judgment has reference to the appointment of the commission to manage the Ottawa Separate Schools, and finds it lacking in some of the details.

Since the enactment of Regulation 17, the Ottawa Separate School supporters, or at least a majority of them, led by Samuel Genest, chairman of the Ottawa Separate School Board, have carried on opposition to it, and used every means in their power to have the regulation rescinded.

the leader of the English-speaking section being named MacKell, the case was known generally as MacKell et al. v. the Ottawa Separate School Board.

Such was the position in the spring of 1915 when the Ontario Legislature met. During the session an act was passed taking the power of administering the separate schools of the City of Ottawa out of the hands of the board and putting it in the hands of a commission, composed of Denis Murphy, chairman; D'Arcy McGee and A. Charbonneau. The schools have been under the management of this commission ever since, but difficulties have been put in its way by Mr. Genest and his followers.

The main fight, that which has brought forth the present judgment from the privy council, centred around an action begun by Mr. Genest and others to have it declared that the appointment of a commission to manage the separate schools in Ottawa was ultra vires of the province. The case was heard in the courts of Ontario and when the separate school supporters lost in each hearing they appealed to the privy council.

Long Legal Fight. These judgments, another phase in the long legal battle in the Ottawa Separate School case.

Since the enactment of Regulation 17, the Ottawa Separate School supporters, or at least a majority of them, led by Samuel Genest, chairman of the Ottawa Separate School Board, have carried on opposition to it, and used every means in their power to have the regulation rescinded.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

THE Toronto World this morning commences a series of articles on the high cost of living. Interviews will be given each day with grocers, butchers, "middlemen" and wholesalers, as to their opinions on the increased cost of foodstuffs.

Have you any suggestions to make in connection with increased prices? Do you think of any way food prices could be reduced? The World and The Sunday World want readers to send in letters on this subject. Write what you have to say in not more than 200 words, on one side of the paper only, and address your letter to the "High Cost of Living Editor," Toronto World.

GROCCERS NOT TO BLAME FOR PRICES

Profits Made by Storekeepers Are No Greater Than in Normal Times.

CHARGES ARE REFUTED

According to East End Merchant, Producer and Middleman Are Responsible.

As an answer to accusations that the groceryman are responsible for the extortionate prices now charged for food, Thomas Cleo, a representative grocer and butcher, whose business at 1842 East Queen street caters to an average class of people in Toronto, submitted figures and statements in connection with his trade to refute the charges.

It was on the theory that it is not the grocer, but the so-called middleman, who transfers the foodstuffs from the producer to the grocer, who reaps the bigger profit that Mr. Cleo was questioned.

Mr. Cleo conducts a sanitary establishment of repairs, employs several clerks, operates one delivery wagon, handles the usual groceries and is patronized by a general class of people. He is the average grocer.

Mr. Cleo is of the opinion that the people could lower the high cost of living by buying rice, tapioca and other products of this kind in the place of potatoes, flour and those commodities which have now almost become luxuries. While there is no actual substitute for these two (potatoes and flour), the prices of which are mainly responsible for the high cost of living, he declares, yet the consumers could lower their cost by purchasing the two products he suggests.

Mr. Cleo says if the prices of flour and potatoes would drop the main cause of the grocers' and the consumer's troubles would be eliminated.

Expenses Doubled. The grocer stated that while the overhead expenses, such as lights and telephone, had remained the same, yet his operating expenses represented in the cost of purchasing and selling food, taxes, employees' wages, etc., had doubled in the last year. He said that if he did not own his establishment and was renting a store, he would be forced to retire from the grocery business.

To cite an instance in which he sought to sell lower to the consumer, but had his efforts frustrated, Mr. Cleo referred to his experience in a deal with the H. J. Heinz Co., who sell pure food products, and whose office is located on Church street. The grocer some time ago sent in a large order and received in return a letter which stated that only 60 per cent. of the order could be filled. Later Mr. Cleo said he was forced to buy the other half of the order at higher prices. The letter was as follows:

"We are compelled to reduce your valued order given us for tomato products for delivery in October, 50 per cent, in this accordance with our terms of sale printed on the copy left you by our traveler.

"Our reason for taking this action is our inability to secure raw material on account of the unfavorable crop season throughout, followed by early severe frosts, which first cut down and finally cut off entirely our supply of tomatoes, leaving us considerably less than 50 per cent. of what we needed and anticipated receiving. Consequently, in giving you 50 per cent. of your order we are doing more than our actual obligations under our terms of sale.—The H. J. Heinz Co.,

Flour Heads List. Another example of the helplessness of the grocer was cited by Mr. Cleo, in declaring that he ordered 150 cases of salmon and received only one case. His order involved $785, as Mr. Cleo contends that the only way he can operate his business is to buy ahead and keep goods in stock. Last year he bought salmon at $2.50 a dozen, selling it at 35 cents a tin, and today is selling salmon at 25 cents a tin.

Potatoes, too, are much higher. Mr. Cleo says he is selling them at a lower price than the wholesale rate. He buys them at $2.25 a bag and sells them for 38 cents a peck. Last year at this time he was selling them two pecks for a quarter.

Fresh meat is just as cheap as it was last year, the bacon and ham are dearer, because of the high cost of labor. Mr. Cleo buys the best brands of side bacon for 28 cents, selling them at 35 cents, while the corresponding prices a year ago were 22 cents and 28 cents. Cooked ham last year cost him 29 cents and 38 cents, and he sold it for 38 and 37 cents, while today he buys for 36 cents and sells at 45 cents.

THE COAL SHORTAGE

Editor World: As I opened up the paper this morning I noticed in one section of your paper the cause of the shortage of coal in Toronto, and as I was up to a few weeks ago a mine operator, I think I am qualified to give a reason or two for this shortage.

I may state it is not the shortage of labor, as at this time of the year the farmers are available for the mines. But this year we must look to other causes. The most important one is the shortage of cars in the States.

I received a letter last week from the chairman of the Master Federation of Coal Operators, in which he states that they are receiving offers of 25 cents per ton more for coal this year than they have received for coal for the past five years. Why? Because the west, who have no storage, are without coal, in fact they are begging for coal, but if they offered $10 per ton they would be unable to get it.

This particular mine has a capacity of 2000 tons per day, but are only working from two to three days per week, no account of not being able to get the cars, and it would pay the people of Toronto to look well after their coal bins, as all indications point to another coal panic in the States.

However, I am not going to disagree altogether with the wrathful apartment house manager, as there is no question of a doubt that the people of Toronto are paying too much for their coal, even taking into consideration the advance which was made to the miners last May, and which in some cases was as low as 10 per cent. per ton, cut, and add on to that another 15 per cent. for overhead expenses, making a total of 76 cents per ton, f.o.b. mines.

So you see, there is a hold-up somewhere, and I believe the trouble starts in Buffalo, as the agents in that city are controlling the prices in Toronto. Don't think for one moment that the operator is making all the profit or you will be a long way off the mark; the agent is the one who makes the profit as he buys during the summer, when the operator will sell at a reduction to keep his plant going and the agent is able to offset the increase in price in winter. In any case I don't see any remedy unless a few of the larger consumers get together and buy their coal from the mines and have it shipped direct, which would eliminate the mine agent's profit and also the profit of the Toronto merchant.

BOARD BILLS GOING UP

Editor World: There is one class of persons in the country who are apt to regard the rising cost of living with indifference. I refer to the single men and women in the cities and towns, who are boarding in other people's houses. While their landladies are worrying themselves ill to make a margin of profit over expenses is daily diminishing, they never think of the fact that their board rates will very soon be raised. The rates that make it possible to provide them with meals at a profit a few months ago are scarcely sufficient to meet the trader's bills of today. If the government does not find a remedy for the rising prices of food very soon, board rates will have to start going up just as fast as the increasing cost of living.

CANADA SHOULD RETAIN ITS BREEDING CATTLE

Hon. J. E. Caron Deprecates Tendency to Sell to U. S. Quebec, Nov. 2.—That the time is opportune for the federal government to pass an order in council prohibiting the sale of breeding cattle from the Dominion to the United States, and that farmers should have a special minimum rate on railways on the transportation of farm implements, mail, manure, etc., was pointed out this afternoon by Hon. J. E. Caron, minister of agriculture for the Province of Quebec, in his testimony before the dominion's royal commission, in session at the parliament buildings.

The minister of agriculture gave a lucid and interesting address on the different phases of agriculture in this province. He laid great importance on the matter of having a measure passed by the Dominion Government to prohibit the export of cattle used for breeding purposes. He is not at all opposed to the export of other cattle used in the United States for food purposes, but the present state of affairs requires remedying, he declared.
