Days of Pirate Craft Rivalled In New Tale From Rum Row

SHANGHAI FEAR PANIC REIGNS

CREW OF RUM SHIP DRANK AND FOUGHT WEEK AFTER WEEK

Three Broken Jaws, Arms in Slings and a Leg Broken.
VESSEL CAPTURED
A Madmen's Voyage Ends With Captain and Crew Locked Below.

(United Press.)
New York, Oct. 13.—Under close guard, the Norwegian steamer Sagatind is anchored off Sandy Hook today, with her captain and crew of 32 men locked below, and her decks strewn with 43,000 cases of whiskey.

The coast-guard cutter Seneca and Raritan, captured the rum ship 40 miles off the coast yesterday, after firing three shots across her bow. They found the whiskey jumbled about on the deck, two sailors roaring drunkenly in the wheelhouse, the other thirty members of the crew in their bunks, and the captain locked in his cabin.

Not a Whole Garmot.
All aboard were stupefied from liquor except three men who had broken jaws. One man, flushed with fever, called for water. His leg was broken three days before in a fight.

The rest of the crew, cursing and staggering from drink, were herded from the forecastle to the deck. Not a man among them had a whole garment on his body. Two of them had their arms in crude slings. They had been broken, they explained, in one of the nightly battles.

The captain was taken from his cabin, where he had locked himself with the ship's armament—twelve rifles and half a dozen pistols. He told revenue officers that his crew of Norwegian, Swedish and Russian had caroused and fought every day since the Sagatind cleared on September 18 from Antwerp.

His papers showed that the ship had left Antwerp with a cargo of 100,000 cases of assorted liquors, of which they had sold 47,000 since arriving in Rum Row. The clumsy iron safe in his cabin held $26,000 in U. S. money, the receipts of the sale of the whiskey.

MOSUL QUESTION HOLDS THREAT OF WAR WITH TURKEY

The National Assembly of That Country Has Been Convoked.
BRITAIN IS FIRM
Turkish Reply to the British Ultimatum Not Satisfactory in London.

(British United Press.)
London, Oct. 13.—A war between Britain and Turkey looms up as a possibility today, as an aftermath of the hostilities that have been going on for some weeks past along the Mosul frontier. The reply of the Turkish Government to the ultimatum forwarded by Great Britain, in which Turkey denies any breaking of the status quo, is regarded as unsatisfactory in official circles here, consisting merely of words and vague promises, similar to those given by the Turks at Geneva. It is further claimed that the Turks are confident in their assertions that the British force guarding the frontier has dwindled in increasing numbers across the border so that today only a combined infantry and aeroplane force can drive them out.

The British Government is in an accommodating mood, but they are determined to clear the Turge out of Mosul until the frontiers are delimited by the League of Nations, and they have shown that they are not averse to fighting if the Turges refuse to remain on the wrong side of the border.

Turkey Is Warlike.
Constantinople, Oct. 13.—Following receipt of a communication from the British commission in Iraq (Mesopotamia) on Saturday, the Turkish Council of Ministers at Ankara held a prolonged session and decided to convoke the National Assembly immediately. Alleged incursions of Turkish forces into the Mosul Vilayet of Iraq have been the subject of protest to the British Government. The Turkish Government, however, has denied violation of the status quo in Iraq.

London, Oct. 13.—An agency despatch from Constantinople says the situation concerning the dispute over the Iraq frontier is regarded as grave, and that the question of need for general mobilization has been reviewed by the Turkish Government.

More Hopeful Report.
London, Oct. 13.—The British foreign office concurs the reply of the Turkish representatives regarding alleged violations of the status quo in Iraq (Mesopotamia) is regarded as conciliatory in tone. The feeling is that the note does not make the situation unusually grave.

POOR DOCUMENT

LABOR COUNCIL ASKS MAYOR TO OBSERVE MANDATE

The Council of the Province urge upon them the necessity of delaying any grant for the present.

Mayor Speaks.

His Worship said that he wished to make it plain that it was with no intention of blocking the erection of a vocational school that he moved the resolution as he said he was in favor of such an institution. He did wish to have action deferred until such time as business was better and the taxpayers in a better position to carry the burden which would be imposed. The school board had put it up to the council, whether the building should be built and the council had ordered a plebiscite. He felt the council should have placed themselves on record as for or against the school without a plebiscite as they were the elected representatives of the citizens and if their acts did not meet with the approval of the voters there was the remedy. He felt that at the present time on a policy of economy and no bond issues without they were actually necessary he must oppose the building of the school at the present time. He felt the school law should be changed and the trustees elected by the people.

Mr. Harding for Building Now.

Commissioner Harding said he was opposed to the resolution. If the vocational school was a good thing, then we should go right ahead with it and the finances would take care of themselves. He felt the bills would be paid. He was with the Mayor in his policy of economy but it was a question of building of the vocational school was not true economy. Commissioner Wigmore said he proposed to amend the resolution. He felt the burden on the city was about as great as could be borne. He said that next year a number of properties would be absent from the tax list and this would mean that additional valuation must be found to make up the loss. He felt the Government would meet the wishes of the council and extend the time in which the grant would be available as they were as anxious at the city to keep down expenditures. Commissioner Harding said it was the hope that by now would bring new industries here and the vocational school would provide the trained hands to work in these factories.

Commissioner Bullock said he felt there was a need for something better in the way of vocational training than existed at present, but he would like to know if it would not be possible to go ahead with a part of the expenditure now and have the bigger program come along later. This was the way that colleges carried on and he thought the same thing might be applied to the vocational school.

Commissioner Frink said he could not see his way clear to carry the opposition that the voters by a plebiscite had said they wanted the vocational school. He felt that the initiative in having the plebiscite, but he ordered it on the recommendation of the chairman of the School Board, Hon. H. A. McKewen. That matter had been discussed in the press, and the people had an opportunity to inform themselves about the proposition.

Mayor Potts expressed the opinion that there should be something in the school law to provide that trustees appointed by the council who opposed the wishes of the council could be removed from office.

Resolution was carried, Mayor Potts and Commissioners Wigmore and Bullock voting in favor and Commissioners Harding and Frink against.

Commissioner Wigmore then moved

A communication from the Trades and Labor Council, enclosing a resolution passed at a special meeting, favoring the immediate building of the vocational school, was read as follows:

At a special meeting of the St. John Trades and Labor Council the following resolution was passed: Whereas it has been brought to the attention of our council through press reports that His Worship Mayor Potts has given notice that he will move a resolution asking for a postponement of the erection of a vocational school in the city, and Whereas the labor movement of the Province of New Brunswick has for some years advocated the erection of the said school, believing in the benefit that will accrue to the workmen, their children and the general public as a whole, Resolved that the Trades and Labor Council of St. John heartily endorse the action of the school board of this city in proceeding with the erection of the said school.

Resolved that this council respectfully request His Worship Mayor Potts to carry out the mandate of the people as given last April in favor of the erection of a vocational school in this city.

The communication was ordered received and filed and a copy of the resolution passed by the council at the morning session forwarded to the Mayor.

The Civic Power Commission voted that so far as they knew the Bill of Pious Waterhouse and Company was not in the hands of the Auditor for auditing the books and accounts of the Commission was correct and it was ordered paid.

Tenders for line material were received from the Northern Electric Company, Irving Smith, Canadian General Electric Company and H. M. Hopper, and referred to the Civic Power Commission for a report.

Commissioner Wigmore brought up the matter of the sewer in Carleton Mill Pond. It was explained by G. M. Bullock, city engineer, that the estimate of $42,000 provided for all the sewers now existing in this mill pond. On the suggestion of Mayor Potts action was deferred until Monday next.

His Worship said that until the matter of the vocational school had been decided he could not say what he would do in regard to this work, although he regarded it as more important than the vocational school.

A communication from the department of national defence had been filed and had any objection to the leasing of a shed on Fort Howe for a meat curing and sausage factory was ordered filed.

SISTER TELLS SAD NEWS OF FATHER'S DEATH

At the General Public Hospital this afternoon, Allan Currie, it was reported, is resting comfortably. He was hurt in the motorcycle accident the other day, in which his father was killed.

The young man was told of his father's death on Sunday afternoon by his youngest sister, Ruth, while the other members of the family were grouped around his bed in the General Public Hospital. Since the fatal accident Allan Currie, in his waking moment, had said "one law for the rich and another for the poor," and the jury agreed with him, and gave the murderers sentences of 25 years, which means, with good behavior, about 12 years.

Loeb-Leopold Sentence Saves Two Murderers

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The remarkable verdict in the Leopold-Leopold murder case already is bearing fruit. Nicholas Guido and Tony Demio, who strangled James R. Burke to death for a few dollars, set up the plea of youth as a mitigating circumstance and got by with it. They were guilty of murder, but their attorney set up the plea that there should not be "one law for the rich and another for the poor," and the jury agreed with him, and gave the murderers sentences of 25 years, which means, with good behavior, about 12 years.

SAFETY MOVE.

Commissioner Bullock announced this morning that he was having placed on the public wharf, Indian town, a life buoy for use in case of accident.

BEAVERBROOK NOW SAID TO BE IN GAME

All Parties Seeking to Bring About Working Agreements—Afraid of "Ramsay."

London, Oct. 12.—(British United Press)—Labor has followed the example of the Conservatives in making a bid to the Liberals for a working agreement during the election, and is trying to arrange with those Liberals who voted with Labor on the Campbell issue and generally supported Macdonald throughout the last session to withdraw their candidates in those ridings where a three-cornered fight is scheduled.

Labor continues to assert that Beaverbrook is arranging for a meeting of the 14 others who were when he left England and Ireland with his father, Prof. Hardy, of New York University, and his mother, revealed for the first time that he intends to take Holy Orders in the Episcopal Church. He said that on this, his second trip abroad, he had added Hebrew to the same languages he speaks.

Hardy expects to use his master's degree at Columbia and to enter a theological seminary. He expects to maintain his reputation as a political prodigy by becoming ordained at the age of 20. He is now in and out of the knickerbockers which he wore when he entered Columbia, and looks a good deal more mature.

He said that he had seen a pair of black ducks at Black Mallards or dusky ducks as they are often called, at several points along the river. It is at this unusual circumstance but sportsmen give credit to the migratory bird laws.

Ships Menaced by Vagrant Mines

Dover, England, Oct. 12.—There are still several explosive mines, relics of the war, floating about in the Baltic Sea and in the English Channel, according to reports which are being filed almost weekly by captains of vessels which ply in these waters. A ship coming from Antwerp recently reported the mine off the Goodwin Lightship in the Channel, and two others were reported nearby by the captain of a sailing frigate from Russia.

TRIFTS MURDER RECALLED.

The unsolved mystery of the death of Frederick H. Trifts was referred to the court in the grand jury room today by the attorney general Lewis Bevis, who is on trial on the charge of murdering Trifts. He said he last, if he had not been arrested in the city in connection with the death of Trifts, he would not have been arrested here under the name of Karl Broderick in connection with a break about the same time as the Trifts tragedy.

CHIEF FORESTER BACK FROM EUROPE

Leland S. Webb reports on British, French, German and Scandinavian Forests.

(Special to The Times-Star.)
Frederick Oct. 12.—Leland S. Webb, Acting Chief Forester of the Province of New Brunswick, arrived here today after a tour of inspection about three months in Europe investigating modern scientific methods of forest management.

Mr. Webb resumed his official duties in the Department of Lands and Mines from that country at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Webb sailed from Canada early in July. He held the Oxford Forestry course in England, and with that body proceeded to France, where he spent some time in the hardwood areas in the north of France. Later he proceeded to Germany, where he spent some time in the Black Forest. From that country he went to Scandinavia, spending considerable time in Sweden and less time in Norway. He then returned to England and proceeded to the north of Scotland, where he also examined conditions. Except in France he investigated the soft wood forests and not the coniferous forests.

The conditions in the countries visited were in general similar to those in New Brunswick, except in northern Sweden and Norway. The chief difference was the closeness of the forests to the markets and industries and population, which made it possible to utilize practically all the material which goes to waste in the woods in New Brunswick.

In Sweden Mr. Webb found conditions the most like those in New Brunswick. The rivers much rougher than those in this province are driven, but the logs are used to much smaller dimensions. Tops up to three inches are taken out for pulp wood. All material possible in south Sweden is burned for charcoal, which is used in their own steel industry. Instead of this. This practically results in the forests being left clean after logging operations.

As he went north in Sweden, however, Mr. Webb found that material was left in the woods just as it is here, because the distance from the steel works is great and it is unprofitable to burn charcoal, and there was no way in which to utilize the waste. In short, Mr. Webb found that utilization depended upon access to market.

All markets dull. The chief countries visited forest services were found highly developed. Sweden has a forestry school at Stockholm and a school for ranger training, all officials receiving careful training.

Market conditions were found dull in all countries visited, and the depression in the lumber business was apparently world-wide. Mr. Webb also observed that there is a steady increase of crown lands in this province displayed a corresponding irritation toward state regulation and administration. In some countries private forests were in great Britain, a Forest Commission is buying up large areas of unutilized land and planting forests.

BACKS ST. JOHN IN RATES MATTER

Sympathy with the city in its efforts to have the discrimination in marine insurance rates removed was expressed in a communication received this morning by the Board of Trade from the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

C. P. Steamships Writes for Safety of Navigation Here.

One paragraph reads as follows: "We fully realize that the facilities in the port of St. John and Bay of Fundy are well maintained and make navigation safe and we think it will not be long before the underwriters will realize this and make the same concessions in hull insurance as granted to Halifax."

CHOIR CHANGES AT ST. PETER'S

If the plans of Rev. James Cloran, C. Sec. R., pastor of St. Peter's church, materialize, he will have one of the best choirs in Eastern Canada. He has now a class of 20 boys training to sing soprano in the choir and has called a meeting of all present and past members of the choir to meet on Saturday evening for a reorganization. Plans will be determined at the coming season and especially for an appropriate programme for Christmas. The election of officers will take place at the end of this week.

Father Cloran, who is talented in music and has wide experience in choir work since his youth. He will pay special attention to the Gregorian chant but will also have prepared compositions by the modern masters. Since the departure of Mr. Delaire, the organist, Mrs. Mac Quilhan has been substituting and has now received the permanent appointment. Father Cloran has also arranged for a choir composed of High School girls to sing at the high masses during the week, and a choir of ladies for the evening services during the week. On Sundays and feast days the male choir will sing.

INSTITUTIONS BENEFIT BY WILL

Probate of the will of Miss Hannah Donovan was granted this morning before Judge McInerney. There were several legatees, as follows: $200 to the Sisters of the Immaculate Conception; $200 to the Monastery of the Sacred Heart of Jesus; $200 to the Roman Catholic Bishop of St. John; $100 to colored missions; $100 to St. Patrick's Industrial School. AWAY TO POST ON STAGE IN STATES

Arthur Walsh, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Main street, left on Saturday night for New York and according to a telegram received this morning had arrived at his destination. Mr. Walsh is to leave New York on Wednesday for Baltimore where he will embark on a steamer bound for Miami, Fla. to join a dramatic stock company, which is to play at the Temple Theatre in Miami. Mr. Walsh has had considerable experience in character roles although, being versatile, he may also be given straight parts. Many roles in the city which have enjoyed his performance with the Carroll players as well as in amateur production will unite in wishing him success. Since leaving here last spring he had considerable experience in theatrical production in the United States.

MET THEATRE FRIENDS IN N. Y.

John Cavanaugh returned home today after an extended trip to Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other cities. While in New York he saw the recent big fire at Brooklyn pier and told of the way a large corps of police handled some hundreds of Coolies, who were being moved to a place of safety. He had an opportunity to see Leslie Adams, who was leading man with the Carroll players in 1922, and saw him perform in "The Haunted House," a production staged by Brooklyn at his theatre at the corner of Broadway and 42nd street. In Brooklyn he called on the Carroll players who are at the Avenue Theatre. Among those who were here last season were: James Coats, Edna Preston, George Coles and Fred Taylor. Mr. Cavanaugh is a keen interest in St. John and flooded him with questions regarding conditions here and about many personal friends.

RECALLS DOUGLAS AVENUE CASE

Sergeant Detective Power, when questioned this afternoon regarding the murder of Policeman Fulton, said that he was one of three young men arrested in McAdam on the morning after the murder of Frederick H. Trifts on suspicion of breaking and entering the Douglas Avenue Service Station on the same night the murder was committed. Sergeant Power said that he, his brother and one named White were caught in McAdam. Bevis brother proved an alibi, but the other two pleaded guilty and were given a suspended sentence. All were then held for investigation in connection with the murder. It was learned that after the break in the service station the three proceeded to Fairville, where they boarded a fast freight. As this left some hours before the murder could have been committed, they were allowed to depart.

HOCKEY TEAMS ADMITTED.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—The Boston Hockey Club and a Montreal club were admitted to National Hockey League at a meeting of the league directors yesterday, thus bringing the number of teams which will operate in the league this winter to six. Both clubs paid $15,000 each for their franchise. The playing season will start about December 1 and end about March 1. The definite date will depend largely on whether the annual meeting decides on a fifteen home game season or a twenty game season.

SPECIAL EVENTS
IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Rallies Held Yesterday in Several of the St. John Churches.

Successful and inspirational rallies were held in many Sunday schools of the city yesterday. At Knox church at the morning service Rev. R. Moorehead Legate preached an eloquent and instructive sermon appropriate to rally day in the course of which he emphasized the need of spiritual as well as secular training for children. His text was Matthew 10: 14, "Suffer little children to come unto Me."

The Sunday school rally in the afternoon was attended by a large number of scholars and members of the congregation. P. A. Corrigan, the superintendent, presided and the programme prepared by the Presbyterian Church was carried out impressively. Responsive readings and special hymns were given and Mr. Legate led the school in the prayer repeated in union. The primary class sang a hymn and was led by Miss Florence Cummings, primary superintendent. The address on "Who are our neighbors and how may we help one another?" was given by Mr. Legate. The presentation of promotion certificates to the scholars from the various departments of the school followed the rally programme, and during the service a special collection was taken.

Queen Square Methodist. At the rally in the Queen Square Methodist church the order of service provided by the General Board of Religious Education of the Methodist Church was in general way observed. William Hawker, the oldest member of the school, led in the opening prayer. William McCowan sang a solo; Rev. Walter Small, returned missionary to China, gave an address on the topic prescribed, "Who are our neighbors, and how may we help one another?" He spoke of modern science and means of intercommunication as reducing the world to small proportions and bringing nations hither and yon into very close touch. He spoke especially of China as being a near neighbor geographically, and emphasized the necessity of being near neighbors in the matter of generosity and Christian spirit. China was awakening and might become a dangerous foe or a staunch friend. That would depend on the treatment China received, he said.

He also exhibited several daily Chinese garments as samples of the artistic skill of ordinary men and boys. The little folk were intensely interested when Mr. Small introduced his daughter, Charlotte, dressed in Chinese costume. Mr. Small's address was listened to with keen interest by young and old.

The following scholars from the juvenile classes were presented prizes for attendance during the year at morning public worship: Thomas Riley, Gladys Potter, Arthur Clayton, Mary Hanmon, Florence Hanmon, Constance Baines, Louise Lingley, Kenneth Thompson, Elsie Baines. The prizes were presented by Rev. N. McLaughlin, pastor. N. A. Rogers, superintendent, and his staff were delighted with the increased activity the school is assuming. The attendance yesterday was 167. Dr. Harry Dunlop presided at the piano during singing.

German Street Baptist. In the German street Baptist church a programme that was combined, promotion exercises and Little Miss Dorothy Gillen presiding. The address to the primary department to the children taking charge and Little Miss Dorothy Gillen presiding. The address to the primary graduates was given by S. H. Davis. There were six pupils that received diplomas, having completed the entire course of the intermediate school. These were Pearl Godwin, Doris Brown and Martha Sprague, Watson DeMille, William Metz and Kenneth Lewis. Dr. S. S. Poole, the pastor, gave the address to the intermediate graduates.

Portland Methodist church held a "Go to Church" celebration yesterday with large congregations carrying out the idea in a practical manner at both services. Flowers profusely decorated the edifice. Rev. H. A. Goodwin, pastor of the church, preached on "Some practical things about the Sunday school and church." Miss Phyllis MacGowan was the soloist in the morning and assisted in the choral music, conducted by H. W. Bromfield. Miss Lilian Brownfield was organist and played several solo selections for prelude and interludes.

The Sunday school rallied in large numbers in the afternoon filling the auditorium of the church. S. S. Kirk, superintendent, presided, Robert H. Maxwell read the Scriptures, Miss E. Hunt sang a solo; Miss Helen Kennedy, Arthur Thomas, Miss Thelma Cameron and John Gowman recited. Rev. H. A. Goodwin gave a short valedictory address to the teachers and students of the school. Miss Carrie McIntyre, teacher of the primary department, conducted the Bible study drill. Miss Jean Henderson presented a new pew holder should be a self-appointed committee to invite and welcome strangers to the church and to his particular pew.

St. Paul's. In St. Paul's church yesterday the Harvest Festival was observed and large congregations attended the services. The special preacher in the morning was His Lordship Bishop Schofield, of Columbia and in the evening, Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, the rector, gave an appropriate address. The church was very beautifully decorated with fruits, vegetables and flowers. All of the harvest decorations had been grown in the parish, most of them having come from the Sandy Point Road gardens.

The choral portions of the service were under the direction of the organist and choir leader, James F. Browne. In the morning the communion service was sung, Ilse's choral setting being used. The morning soloists were Miss Audrey Hunter and Chester Bourne. In the evening the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis of Tours were sung and the anthem was Barnaby's "O Lord How Manifold."

Emmott Street. The rally week observances for the Emmott street congregation had an impressive close in the special services held yesterday. In the morning the special preacher was Rev. G. B. MacDonnell, pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church, whose theme was "Some Points in Christian Soteriology." In the evening Rev. E. E. Styles spoke on "The Centrality of the Cross," taking for his text I Corinthians 2: 2. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at the close of the evening service. This evening the Y. P. S. of the church will hold its first regular meeting and are to be given on the first Monday of each month. His subject tonight will be "The Need of Methodism."

ONE OF NEW YORK'S "FINEST"

Newspapers make much of New York's "finest." Their police are always in the news, because in a city so large as New York and so cosmopolitan, there is much for the police to do. Here you see traffic stopped on Fifth Avenue while a news photographer poses a uniformed band.

SUNDAY IN ST. JOHN CHURCHES

New Pastor in One—Special Matters in Pulpit References.

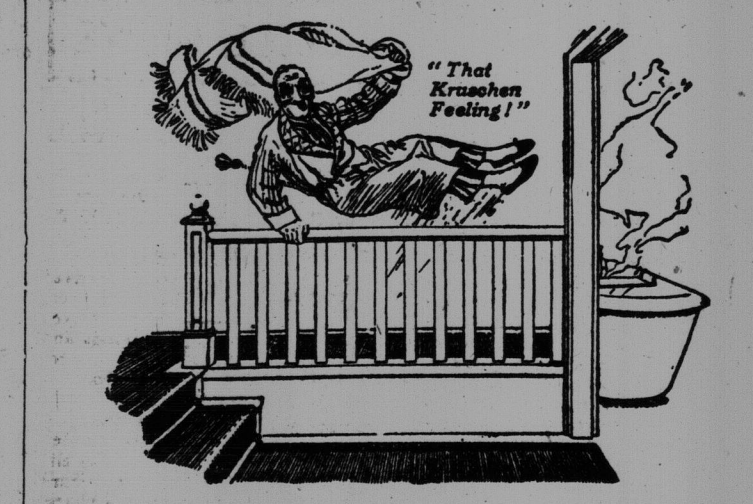

Previous to his sermon on "Doing the Will of God," last evening in Centenary Church, Rev. R. G. Fulton, pastor, and urged his congregation to rally in the church work. "It is discouraging, yes, discouraging to have someone reply to a request, to do some work, I am too busy, when I know that that person is going to play bridge all afternoon or evening or engage in some other frivolity. It is equally so to be told that some club is claiming the attention of the church members," he said.

Rev. Mr. Fulton said that he did not often speak at such length on such matters, but he felt deeply the need of his people rallying to the work of such a large church as Centenary. Each pew holder should be a self-appointed committee to invite and welcome strangers to the church and to his particular pew.

Top o' the Morning!

Do you like getting up in the morning? Usually, of course, you find it "tired to lie in bed" — unless it's your birthday, perhaps, or something particularly jolly is going to happen. Frankly, this business of getting up is a bit of an effort.

But once you are out of bed — how do you feel then? Are you brimful of healthy, cheerful energy, glad to be alive in the best of all possible worlds? Or is the first conscious thought, "Kruschen's another weary day to be got through somehow?"

Doubtless you, like many others, find it difficult to shake off that first-thing-in-the-morning feeling of depression — of dissatisfaction with your life. If so, isn't your life that's to blame — it's your liver.

Learn how to live, restore your spirits, Kruschen shows the way. Buy your first six months' bottle now, and make "getting up time" the liveliest hour of the day.

IF— (Kipling)

(The poem Rudyard Kipling placed first in his book for the Queen's Dolls' House.)

If you keep your head when all about you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;

If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you, If you can wait when all other men are waiting;

If you are calm when all about you are hot and mad, If you are true when all others are untrue;

If you can dream and not make dreams your master; If you can think and not make thoughts your aim;

If you can meet with triumph and disaster, If you can go without a word about it;

If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken, When those you love are all against you;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss;

If you can lose and never breathe a word about your loss;

If you can turn your back upon your friends, When wrong's underfoot;

If you can meet with triumph and disaster, If you can go without a word about it;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss;

If you can lose and never breathe a word about your loss;

If you can turn your back upon your friends, When wrong's underfoot;

If you can meet with triumph and disaster, If you can go without a word about it;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss;

If you can lose and never breathe a word about your loss;

If you can meet with triumph and disaster, If you can go without a word about it;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss;

DEATHS

Anatole France.
Tours, France, Oct. 12.—Anatole France is dead. His end came peacefully today. From August last the state of the great French writer's health had caused anxiety. Gradually his condition became worse, only a few days ago he himself expressed the conviction that he had but a few hours of life remaining. Owing to his advanced age, eighty years, there was no expectation of his recovery, but almost up to the end he retained his interest in those around him, and was able at times to converse briefly.

France's real name was Jacques Anstole Tilioult. He was born in Paris on April 16, 1844, the son of a book seller, and educated at Stanislaus College. For more than half a century he was famous as a critic, essayist and novelist, possessing a style "compound of a theologian, rare epithets and startling forms of expression." He was a skeptic in religion, metaphysics, morals, politics, aesthetics and science.

THE OX TEAM.
(New York Herald-Tribune.)
The elder generation's inevitable remark about the good old days may be annoying as a rule, but there are moments when it is hauntingly pathetic. Mr. Ezra Meeker, who opened the Oregon Trail in 1842, has just recounted it at the slightly unreasonable age of ninety-four in a plane driven by Lieutenant Kelly. "But it wasn't in the westward, a long and unrelenting struggle with the companions of keeping alive against the shadowy background of the unexpected and the unknown, and a few hours' abrupt adventure with the uncertainties of mechanical invention. There are some who hold that flying is the greatest sport in the world. But it isn't in the world with the ox team."

When Lieutenant Kelly last year flew the continent without a stop the achievement was immediately compared to that of breaking the Oregon Trail, for the sufficient reason that the two were so profoundly different. Civilization has its startling triumphs of courage, endurance and ingenuity; but it has lost the old triumph of mere living against difficulties. It gets its thrills out of speed; the old days got their thrills out of slowness, which is the reason why so many men annually make themselves expensively uncomfortable in the Canadian woods and elsewhere for the illogical pleasure of it. They are trying to recapture the background of the unexpected and the unknown, and a few hours' abrupt adventure with the uncertainties of mechanical invention. There are some who hold that flying is the greatest sport in the world. But it isn't in the world with the ox team.

The daughters are Mrs. Louise Boucher, of Leominster, Mass.; Mrs. John McKenna, of Naapogan, N. B.; and Mrs. Thiburse Poulin, of Pogoquoche, N. B. Mr. Thomas also leaves a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The funeral took place at Tracadie, N. B., from the Catholic church. Care Of Wounds

Most boys come in with bruised or cut fingers, particularly during the baseball and football season—and the Mann youngsters have no exception. So Mrs. Mann generally was prepared with a liberal assortment of finger stalls or covers. They should be made to fit all sizes of fingers. White cotton or wash gloves may be used. Sew on narrow tapes for tying around the wrist and place in the medicine chest for emergency. When the finger is cut or mashed or bruised, wash it very clean and

WILL STUDY WEIRD ROCK CUTTINGS

Rock writings in caves ten miles north east of here are to be studied with a view to determining whether they are the work of Indians, as heretofore supposed, or of ancient Chinese. Gee Ding, Chinese student at the University of Nevada, made a visit to the caves recently and expressed belief that the writings are Chinese and depicted a story of ancient Buddhist priests at the attempt to circumnavigate the globe and of the landing on this continent. It is legend in China, according to Gee Ding, that long ago, perhaps thousands of years back, five ships under command of Buddhist priests set sail and never returned. Gee Ding believes it may be possible the writings were made by these people.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads. That is to discover them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how many blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. To solve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clear and in their natural condition.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. F. H. Wetmore, of Hampton, will be at home on Saturdays. Mrs. Wetmore is establishing a permanent at home day. She was not holding a post-nuptial reception last Saturday, as would be inferred from previous announcements.

Mrs. Gerald M. Hoyt, formerly Miss Olive Whippley Goding, 36 Sydney street, this city, who was one of last June's brides, received for the first time since her marriage at her new home in Bridgetown, N. S., last Thursday afternoon and evening. Although the storm which raged that day undoubtedly deterred many from extending their formal welcomes to the bride, the house was nevertheless well filled with guests all afternoon and in the evening as well, when numerous gentlemen callers were received. The Hoyts have taken over Rev. Mr. Langille's cottage for the winter, a charmingly laid out residence, in Wallace Nutting in appointment. The decorations in the tea room upon the occasion of the reception were autumn leaves, ferns and thorn-apples, imparting a cozy fall-season effect aided by a blazing log fire in an old-fashioned chimney corner.

Little Mary Stevens opened the door for the guests and Miss Margaret Barker, of St. John, ushered. Mrs. Elias Messenger, grandmother of Mr. Hoyt, and Mrs. Hicks, wife of Mayor Henry Hicks, poured during the afternoon. Mrs. Messenger and Mrs. K. B. Ewan presided in the evening. The young ladies who assisted in serving were Miss D. Lloyd, Miss Ethel Daniel, Miss Lou Troop, Miss Iva Pickett, Miss Frances Fowler and Miss Ellen Fay. Mrs. G. M. Hoyt, Bridgetown, and Mrs. W. H. Goding, mothers of the newly wed householders, assisted in receiving and entertaining the numerous callers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kennedy and Miss Edith Dunbar and Mr. Arthur Clinch were a motor party at the Clifton House over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left yesterday for a further trip on their honeymoon through the province.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. McDonald and family, with their guests from London, Eg. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McDonald and Miss Jessie McDonald, the parents and sister of Mr. McDonald, spent the week-end at their country home at Westfield.

The house was prettily decorated with autumn tints, the gifts being wrapped in fancy papers to add to the artistic scheme of the effective coloring of the trimmings, which included beautiful maple leaves and many kinds of offerings from the woods, in all their autumn glory. There were 20 guests present. The gifts were useful and ornamental. Mrs. Hare served delicious refreshments, assisted by some of the young guests.

St. John Delegates Home After W. A. Meeting in Hamilton.

Mrs. George F. Smith, Fredericton diocesan president, and Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, president of the St. John's (Stone) church branch of the Women's Auxiliary, returned to the city on Saturday after attending the triennial meeting of the Dominion W. A., which convened in Hamilton. Of the other delegates from this diocese, Mrs. James F. Robertson and Mrs. John M. Hay are expected home in a few days, while Mrs. W. D. Forster will not be back until the end of the month. Mrs. Smith stated last night that the Dominion triennial meeting had been most successful. Every diocese, except that of the Kennebec River, had been represented and there were delegates in attendance from all parts of Canada, from Halifax to Victoria. The outstanding feature of the meeting was the decision to undertake the responsibility for missionary work among the white settlers in the west, which undertaking obliges the W. A. to raise $10,000 above its usual budget.

Mrs. Smith was re-elected the vice-president for the Maritime Provinces and Mrs. C. D. Schofield, wife of Bishop Schofield, was newly elected as vice-president for British Columbia. The other vice-presidents chosen were Mrs. Matheson, of Battledore, to represent the northwest and Mrs. Leather, of Hamilton, to represent Quebec and Ontario. Mrs. E. Hare, of Montreal, was chosen as the new president, succeeding Mrs. Patterson Hall.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN HEARS VARIED REPORTS

At the opening sessions of the National Council of Women at Toronto last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, wife of Bishop Schofield, now in the city, delivered the opening speech in reply to greetings from many distinguished women leaders. She spoke especially of the need of good fellowship, struck by Mrs. Phillip North Moore, representative from the United States. The vice-presidential reports were given by Mrs. Schofield, British Columbia; Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, New Brunswick; Mrs. Trueman, Nova Scotia; Mrs. O. Edwards, Alberta; Mrs. Stanfield and Mrs. Stapleford, Saskatchewan, and Dr. Augusta Gulm, Toronto.

Honorary life membership in the National Council was conferred upon Mrs. Phillip North Moore. The same honor was conferred upon Mrs. Archibald of Halifax; Dr. A. Stowe Gulm and Mrs. Diaganm, both of Toronto; Mrs. O. C. Edwards, of MacLeod, Alberta, and Mrs. Adam Shortt, of Ottawa. Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, one of the earliest members of the Council, was given a signal honor in having the life membership of the International Council of Women presented to her by Dr. Grace Ritchie, of England. Professor Garrie Derrick, of McGill University, Montreal, presented Mrs. Phillip North Moore her honorary membership. Delegates entertained.

A reception was given to the delegates to the National Council of Women at Toronto last Thursday afternoon following the official opening of the convention at the King Edward Hotel. His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Coakburn received the delegates at the Government House. In the evening Mayor Hiltz of Toronto and members of the city council held a reception at city hall. of woven gold tissue, the gift of which will be seen through the old Brussels lace which Miss Wendell will wear as a veil. After a long series of lean years, attributed to the ex-service disregard of such accessories and the feminine necessity to economize, the umbrella trade is experiencing wonderful prosperity. It is not so much due to our rainy summers as the "dumpy," which is carried by all ladies nowadays with any pretension to fashion. Originally it was a useful motoring device. But, like those flowing veils once affected by women for motoring, non-motorists eagerly adopted it, and now our umbrella factories are unable to get adequate hands to cope with the popular demand for "dumpsies." Women buy half a dozen in a year. It shows how much more, fashion rules the feminine mind than mere utility.

TO COLLECT FOR SUPPER.

It was announced in the Cathedral yesterday that the collectors for the Harvest Supper to be held in the Y. M. C. I. in November in aid of the High School building fund, would start on their rounds this week. The parishioners were asked to be generous as possible in their donations so that the affair might be as successful this year as it had been in the past.

LONGSHOREMEN MEET.

A postponed meeting of the Longshoremen's Association was held in their hall Water street, yesterday afternoon. President Robert Carlin reported that only routine business was transacted.

LOVELY DRESSES AT LONDON WEDDING

(From Times-Star London Letter.)
London, Sept. 25.—When the guests assemble at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, for the wedding of Miss Wendell and Lord Galloway on Oct. 14, they will be compelled to admire the bride's choice of dresses for her ten bridesmaids. Shot silver lace, backed with bright red, is the material of which the bridesmaid's frocks will be made, the sashes low on the hips to be of some bright red embellishment matching the newest red carnation, which is not quite crimson and not exactly scarlet. Instead of the usual veils and wreaths, which most brides choose for their maids, Miss Wendell has decided on the new swathed turban effect. This kind of headdress will make its appearance throughout the winter in ballrooms and in the theatre. For her own simple gown, Lord Galloway's bride will have ivory satin charmeuse, and her train will be

PRINCE OF WALES
WILL OPEN ROAD

A Part of the Famous Watling Street of Pre-Roman Period.

London, Oct. 13.—The announcement that the Prince of Wales, upon returning from his American and Canadian trip, will on Nov. 19 formally reconstruct the road between Dartford and Strood, draws attention to one of the oldest and most celebrated highways in Europe.

The motorist who today comes upon London from Canterbury travelling the same road, the famous Watling street, which Roman soldiers took on, on conquest bent, they marched through England, Jewish marauders in their day burned and plundered the countryside which it served. Traders from Gaul trudged over its stones long before the medieval age, in fact, the whole panorama of English history would be unfolded if this ancient way could speak.

And this old road which the Prince of Wales will again throw open to the public in November is what it has ever been, the most convenient route between London and the ports of France.

FATHER CLORAN ADDRESSES KNIGHTS

Columbus Day is Observed—Also Speaks of the Catholic Press.

In observance of Columbus Day, Rev. James A. Cloran, C. S. R., rector of St. Peter's church, addressed a large gathering of Knights of Columbus in their hall, Coburg street. He spoke of the age of chivalry.

Father Cloran then led his auditors through this period up to the present day and proceeded to dissect the present day civilization and analyze it piece by piece. The result of this dissection was an appeal from the lecturer for the Knights of Columbus to live up to the highest ideals of their order and faith. In the frequent reception of Holy Communion the knight of today would find the strength necessary to reach this ideal, he said. There were many opportunities for Catholics to succeed here, as there were any place on the continent. The trouble was that the opportunities were not pursued and seized, he said. A Catholic must first of all be a good practical Catholic. He must then be industrious. With the many chances for advancement at the present time he realized that it was rather hard for the young people to be really industrious, but, if they wished to succeed then there was one thing they must do, work.

In addition they must be virtuous. The man that was known to be morally corrupt would not command the respect of the citizens, and as for the evil of drink, they must leave it absolutely alone.

The man, continued the lecturer, who could show the people that he was a good living Catholic, who was virtuous, who was industrious, who was obedient to church, state and superior, and who was sober, could succeed and would, because these things, becoming generally known, as they were bound to, people would have confidence in him and his work.

It was up to the Knights of Columbus to show the way out of the state into which present day civilization had fallen, he concluded.

M. E. Agar moved a vote of thanks to Father Cloran. This was seconded by R. L. Grannan and tendered by Grand Knight James L. Sagrue, who was in the chair. Rev. J. J. McDermott, Rev. C. P. Carleton and Rev. F. P. Walker, spoke briefly.

Just before adjournment Grand Knight Sagrue extended the congratulations of the St. John Council to their Brother Knight, Hon. R. J. Ritchie, who was yesterday celebrating his eighty-first birthday.

The Catholic Press.

To support and read the Catholic press, which he described as a bulwark against the flood of evil publications inimical to faith and morals abroad in the world today, was urged upon the people of St. Peter's parish at the mass yesterday by Rev. James A. Cloran.

SIR DOUGLAS IS DEAN OF FACULTY

N. B. Law School Opening is to Take Place Tomorrow Evening.

The annual opening exercises of the University of New Brunswick Law School will be held Tuesday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the courtroom in the Masonic Building, Germain street, and the executive of the faculty have planned to make these exercises the most impressive of their kind in the history of the school and its predecessor, King's College Law School. Included among the interesting events on the evening's programme will be addresses by Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen and Hon. J. R. Armstrong.

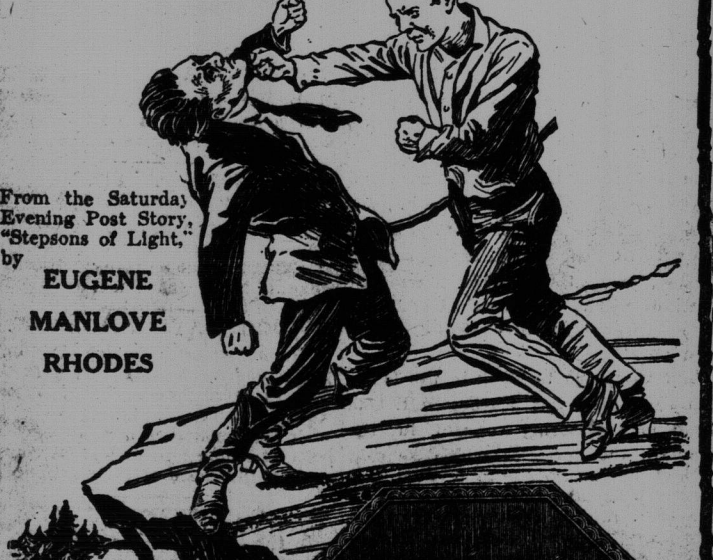

Sir Douglas, it was announced on Saturday, had been nominated as Dean of the Faculty to succeed Hon. H. A. McKewen whose resignation followed his appointment as chairman of the railway board. Judge Armstrong will speak on his recent trip to England and the administration of justice in the old country. Dr. Roy Campbell, K.C., registrar of the school, will preside.

Although one vacancy has occurred on the staff of the faculty during the last year through the death of Dr. M. G. Teed, K.C., there will be no additions to the staff, the late Mr. Teed's subject, Evidence, being taken over by Arthur N. Carter, lecturer on Sales.

BRINGS IN GOOD REPORTS ABOUT N.B.

W. J. Brown Has Optimistic News of Business Improvement.

"Conditions are on the upward trend in New Brunswick," was the opinion of William J. Brown who has just returned after a trip through the province in connection with the carrying out of the sales tax. His work caused him to visit all the manufacturers and he has found a general increase in business over the same period last year. He declared that the general feeling seemed to be among the manufacturers that the bottom had been reached and conditions would improve steadily from now on.

The campaign to "Buy in the Maritimes" he said, was bearing fruit. One large manufacturing concern in the province the name of which he said he was not at liberty to divulge, had increased its sales in St. John about 60 per cent during September over the corresponding period last year. He had found other manufacturers had also experienced an increase although perhaps not on as large a scale.

That marked interest is shown in the progress of the "Buy at Home and Maritime Mail" campaign by organized bodies throughout the Maritimes, is reported. Numerous communications are being received offering support. The latest offer was received on Saturday, from Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau of which J. Campbell is the secretary and publicity director. Mr. Campbell states that he is interested in the campaign, and wishes to help the work along, and requests that literature be forwarded to his office. He also asks for an outline of the campaign activities and an account of the ground covered. Hon. W. E. Foster, chairman of the executive on the matter, has written Mr. Campbell thanking him for his interest, and the progress of the campaign is forwarding the information requested.

CHILDREN'S AID REGRET HIS GOING

Pass Resolution of Appreciation of Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong.

The following is a copy of a resolution passed at the last meeting of the board of management of the Children's Aid Society. A copy will be sent to Canon Armstrong's address in Toronto.

"Whereas Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong has recently left the city of St. John for a wider field of usefulness in the City of Toronto, Ontario, and whereas from the year 1919 he had been identified with the efforts made in this community looking towards the better care of neglected and dependent children,

"And whereas since the organization of the Children's Aid Society he has been a member of the board of management in which capacity he has rendered notable service,

"And whereas, since 1919, in company with Rev. W. M. Drake he has acted as the commissioner under the Children's Protection Act for the disposal of our cases,

"Now therefore be it resolved that the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society in common with the whole body of our fellow citizens regret the removal from our city of one who by his untiring efforts and courtesy commended his office to all, but more especially to such as had at heart the highest interests of children,

"And be it further resolved that the very best wishes of the board follow the reverend gentleman into the important work in which he is now engaged; and that this resolution be inscribed on their minutes, and that a copy of the same be sent to Rev. Canon Armstrong's address in the City of Toronto."

WIFE'S EVIDENCE IS NOT CREDITED

When the case was called the defendant-acknowledged that he had been drunk, but denied assaulting his wife.

Policeman Quinn said he saw Austin standing with another colored man talking to two women at the corner of Union and Dock streets; that Austin took hold of one of the women by the throat and pushed her against a window.

Mrs. Austin said her husband had put his arms around her neck. In answer to Magistrate Henderson, she maintained that it had been a loving, gentle caress.

In event of the fine not being paid the sentences were to run concurrently.

DRESS WELL AND SUCCEED

Why?

Why dress well? Because it is a well known fact that the right clothes give a man more confidence. He is more likely to go places and associate with people when he is properly dressed than he otherwise would—his appearance gives him confidence in himself.

While it is admitted that clothes really do not make the man, still they have a lot to do with assisting his natural abilities, and helping him climb the ladder of success.

And yet it is not an expensive proposition to be well dressed. It is simply a matter of showing sound judgment in selection; to select clothes that are of a becoming pattern, that have the right style, and that have the interior workmanship to back up their appearance.

Clothes that for the past thirty-five years have been assisting men to climb the ladder of success are surely worthy of your careful inspection. Such are 'Scovill's Clothes.'

Come! Judge for yourself.
