Malaspina Skipper Tells of Capture on Pacific

American Vessel, He Says, Ignored All Challenges to Stop and Rifle was Pointed at Commander of Canadian Craft.

(Canadian Press)

Victoria, B. C., April 28.—"What the hell do you want?" Captain John Courage of Seattle is alleged to have shouted at Captain Newcombe of the Canadian fisheries vessel Malaspina, at the same time pointing a rifle at him, when the Malaspina overtook the schooner Siloam, in charge of Captain Courage, off Cape Cook, on last Tuesday.

The Malaspina arrived here yesterday, and Captain Newcombe related the details of the incident. One of the Siloam's crew pulled Captain Courage's rifle down, he said, but the latter refused to surrender when the Malaspina ran alongside. Captain Newcombe ordered four members of his crew to fire with rifles.

The first volley was deliberately sent wide, and when the Siloam still persisted in her efforts to get away, a volley was fired into the pilot house. Courage rushed out of the pilot house shouting that a man had been killed, and the Siloam was then holed.

The crew of the Siloam put the wounded man into a dory with his belongings, and he was transferred to the Malaspina and given immediate attention. Courage and his three men returned to the Siloam, which was being taken in tow.

The fishing vessel was rescued and the four men were taken aboard the Malaspina. It was out of the question to continue the chase at that time. Captain Newcombe said. Captain Courage was in charge of the Yallant, which sailed, when he was in command of the William McLife, about eleven years ago.

PEONS PONCE ON LANDLORDS IN MEXICO AND SLASH OFF HEADS

Mexico City, April 28.—All of the large land owners of the districts of Ocoyoacac and Lerma, situated between Mexico and Toluca, are being terrorized by a group of assassins who are making a practice of capturing the wealthy hacendados and cutting off their heads, according to the newspaper "El Democrata." The latter is charged to be composed of peasants who are attempting to obtain revenge for the suffering caused by certain powerful land owners.

The first murder took place about a month ago, when Ramon Aparicio, one of the landed proprietors, was surprised by a group of ten men while travelling to his home, accompanied by several servants. Aparicio was lured and killed by his assassins, and his head was cut off and sent to the hacienda of Diego Irujo, who was surrounded by the assassins, who first poisoned all the slaves and peons, and then entered the room of Irujo and administered the same punishment to him as had been dealt out to Aparicio. A proclamation was placed upon the body, which said: "The brothers of the enslaved peasants punish their tyrants. All those who suffer under the despotic yoke of the land owners should ally themselves with us, as we demand nothing more than an oath of loyalty, a promise of mutual aid and a large dose of valor and decision."

The following week the assassins entered the hacienda of Mauricio Perez, but, as he was not at home, his nine-year-old daughter was captured and beheaded in the courtyard of the house. A few days later they attempted to stop a picnic party in an automobile, but the chauffeur speeded and the party succeeded in escaping, after being fired upon.

The inhabitants of the region are in deadly fear for their lives and are afraid to venture on the roads alone.

DON'T SEE MUCH IN OFFER MADE BY DE VALERA

Generally Regarded as Embodying Points of Old Position.

Dublin Government Circles Do Not See any Great Change—Home Minister of Free State to Give Out Something on the Matter Today.

(Canadian Press)

Dublin, April 28.—Eamon De Valera's statement of the conditions on which the Irish republicans are willing to negotiate peace sheds little new light on the political situation. In the opinion of Free State Government circles, it does not contain a definite offer suspending hostilities as evidence of the irregulars' "good will."

De Valera's proclamation contains six proposals which are generally regarded as embodying the points of his old position. He asserts that the Irish people constitute "the ultimate court of appeal for deciding disputed questions of national identity and policy," and declares in substance that persons holding republican principles should not be excluded from the councils of the Government.

This position, set forth in article 4, is taken in some quarters as expressing the desire that the oath of allegiance prescribed by the treaty with Great Britain, may be waived. The article says that "no class of individuals who subscribe to the principles of national right, order and good citizenship contained in the program can be justly excluded by any political oath, or other device from a proper share in the government of the nation."

It is stated that De Valera has made a statement which will be read to the police, and that he has declared that his wife had deserted him and that he had married another woman.

FIVE MEMBERS OF FAMILY ARE MURDERED IN THEIR HOME

Parents, Daughter and Her Two Children—Estranged Husband One of Three Arrested

Official Word OF NEW STATUS OF DUKE'S BRIDE

(Canadian Press)

Haworth, Okla., April 28.—Five members of the family of Tom Hansell were murdered last night. Officers declined to discuss the arrests other than to say they were taken into custody because of letters recently received by Hansell and members of his family.

The five persons, two of them children, were slain as they slept on Thursday night in a frame house near here. The assassins, it is believed, cut holes through the front door and shot the victims to death.

Isabel, Okla., April 28.—J. W. Pope was captured by a posse near Clarksville, Texas yesterday in connection with the slaying of his estranged wife, her two children and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hansell, his parents-in-law, at the home of the latter, near Haworth. Pope disclaims any knowledge of the killings.

According to Dr. Abbot, as reported by the World, the heat of the sun upon the earth has lessened by three to four per cent during the last fifteen months. G. W. V. A. IS SIX YEARS ORGANIZED Dominion Command Anniversary This Month—Needed More Than Ever, Says MacNeil.

Ottawa, April 28.—The Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association today is marking the sixth anniversary of its establishment as a national institution. The association was brought into existence by the amalgamation of some 200 returned soldiers' organizations at a national convention in Winnipeg six years ago this month.

MacNeil, Dominion secretary today said that he believed there was a far greater need at the present time for the G. W. V. A. than there had been for any year since its formation.

He said that the great proportion of the membership of the organization had already been formed in the district commands but that the association would soon be able to demonstrate its full strength.

WERE EXCITED AT CHURCH MEETING

Presbyterian Minister Interrupted Another and There Were Cries of "Put Him Out."

Brookville, Ont., April 28.—Cries of "put him out" were raised at a meeting held here last night under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, when Rev. D. A. Cowan, local Presbyterian minister, interrupted one of the speakers, Rev. W. G. Brown, of Red Deer, upon several occasions in the course of his address in spite of repeated amendments, Rev. D. A. G. McGillivray, of Guelph, a member of the union committee, declared that the proposed bill for the incorporation of the union church of Canada, "retains the essential elements of coercion, its very heart, its very purpose, is to eliminate, to wipe out the Presbyterian church as such from the Dominion of Canada."

BRITISH BOYS FIND IT HARD TO GET WORK

Commissioner Lamb of the Salvation Army Tells why 10,000 are Being Brought to Canada.

New York, April 28.—(Canadian Press)—Social and economic conditions in Great Britain are such that boys leaving school each year cannot be absorbed into the industrial life, said Commissioner David Lamb, international secretary of the Salvation Army, on his arrival here on the S. S. "The Salvation Army expects to bring 10,000 of these boys to Canada. Nearly 200 have arrived or are on the way to the Dominion at the present time. They were embarked at Southampton yesterday.

The commissioner said that the cause of the situation in Great Britain is traceable to the fact that trade is bad and that partly disabled ex-service men are retained to do boys' work.

WILD TIME AT A FOOTBALL MATCH IN ENGLAND

London, April 28.—The great new stadium for the association football final to decide the championship between England and Wales, was the scene of disorders this afternoon, when the vast crowd became unruly just before the game was scheduled to begin. The stadium, with a capacity for 120,000, was nearly full, and the excitement of the occasion was such that the police were obliged to clear the field of the crowd by closing the gates. The invasion of the field was apparently started by the desire of some of the crowd to get better positions from which to see the game.

After nearly an hour of anxious work the police cleared the field and the game was started. It had been in progress only thirteen minutes, however, when the spectators broke through the cordons of police about the field and the game was stopped with the crowd entirely out of hand. It was another quarter of an hour before the police could again clear the field sufficiently for the game to be resumed.

Evidence of the nature of the crowd was seen at two o'clock when the turnstiles were closed after the stadium had been virtually filled. The thousands waiting at the entrance threw themselves against the gates and broke through, the police being unable to stem the tide. Many women fainted and fifteen minutes after the doors were stormed, forty casualties were reported.

Bolton Wanderers today won the English Football Association cup by defeating West Ham in the final of the series by two to nothing. Leeds defeated Hull, 2 to 1, in the final of the Northern Rugby Union Cup game at Wakefield today.

CHARGE WOMAN WITH CRUELTY TO AN ANIMAL

Mrs. George Chatterton was in the police court this morning charged with cruelty to animals, namely throwing hot water on a dog. W. M. Ryan appeared for the defense and S. M. Wetmore, secretary of the S. P. C., and his assistant, Frank D. Thorne, appeared for the prosecution.

A juvenile said he had seen the dog since it was scalded and it seemed to be all right now.

David McKay, of Metcalf street, said he owned the dog. He had heard that the dog was scalded and had seen it trying to lick its back. The dog's back had been burned by water. He had asked Mrs. Chatterton why she had scalded the dog, and she had said she had no right to scald it. He had said she didn't know it was his dog. She thought it was Mr. Green's dog. To Mr. Ryan he said he did not get the dog from Green. He had doctored the dog himself. The dog had been out the next day.

Mr. Ryan produced a little child who, he said, had been bitten by a Newfoundland dog. The case was postponed until Monday at four o'clock.

During court proceedings this morning the magistrate complained that the blue pencil was drawn through references to him as "Judge" in the newspaper. He complained that he had been appointed a judge and sat as a judge.

MUSICAL TREAT

The people of West St. John were treated with a great musical treat last evening by St. David's Church choir, who sang the sacred cantata "The Last Words of Christ," by Debussy in Carleton Methodist Church. There was a large audience and all the singers seemed to be at their best, and the excellent chorus work was something that will not be forgotten. The solo work was well rendered by Mrs. L. M. LeLachur, Miss Ermine Climo, E. H. Bowman and J. M. Logan. E. C. Girvan was again in good form, with the solo "Beyond the Dawn," and the fine work of Bayard Currie at the organ will not soon be forgotten by the people of Carleton.

CITY MARSHAL STRUCK

One of the city marshals reported to City Hall this morning that, while in the discharge of his duties on the West Side this morning he was struck in the face by a man. He said that he was interviewing a woman about a water assessment bill when the man, who was not interested in the transaction struck him. He was told to get in touch with a policeman and lay a charge against the alleged assailant.

GUARD THE FORESTS

Permit to Go Into Woods After Next Monday

So Far 700 Persons Have Been Authorized to Give the Required Permission—Caution Against Forest Fires.

Frederickton, N. B., April 28.—Final decision to take what is regarded as a most pronounced forward step for the protection of New Brunswick's forest resources has led the Department of Lands and Mines to inaugurate a system of registration for persons entering the forests of the province during the period that hazard from fire is the greatest.

Previously when a proclamation was published in the Royal Gazette announcing that all forest land in New Brunswick had been proclaimed a "protected area" and that commencing on May 1 and extending until November 1 all persons entering the forests for the purposes of travelling, camping, fishing or even planting trees, must be registered.

However, information which has recently come to the Forest Service branch of the Department of Lands and Mines from its representatives throughout the province indicates that in many sections of New Brunswick the woods are already becoming dry, that the change from season to season has been unusually rapid and that the forest fire hazard is already imminent.

Therefore, before the registration rush along the preparations for the introduction of the new regulations and on and after May 1—next Tuesday—presumably, it was suggested that persons who are in the woods in any part of this province without the necessary certificate of registration will be subject to penalties ranging from $10 to $100. The only persons who are exempt from the provisions of the new regulations and who do not require a certificate of registration are licensees and owners of lands entered upon and their employes, fire wardens, fire fighters, land surveyors, holders of licenses for hunting, fishing, mining, and other purposes and persons accompanied by registered guides. The name of the applicant, his destination, purpose and duration of trip, together with dates, will be required for registration purposes before a certificate can be issued and the result of the system of registration will be that when forest fires start in any section of the province the information on the registers of those issuing certificates should show the names of the affected portions of the forests at the time the fire starts. Knowledge that such a system is being instituted is believed to have an excellent effect in impressing upon those entering the forests the necessity of exercising the utmost care in the use of matches, candles, etc.

So far 700 fire wardens, county councilors, game license vendors and other persons have been authorized to register applicants and issue certificates, and it is expected that within the next few days the number will be increased to probably 800 as stores where fishing tackle, hunting and camping equipment are sold are applying for and being granted permission to become registrars and empowers to issue certificates.

Seventy-five per cent of the forest fires in 1922, which caused a high loss from the province, are believed to have been caused by the carelessness of persons who entered the woods in the western end of the province, the fisherman and the picnicker. With great quantities of spruce budworm killed lumber increases in the western end of the province the utmost care be taken to protect the forests.

CUT OFF THE ST. PIERRE SUPPLY FROM STATES?

(Special despatch to The New York Tribune)

Ottawa, Ont., April 26.—Canada, as a source of liquor supply for the thirty of the United States soon will become history if plans now under way materialize. The Dominion has signified its intention of stepping in and damming the flow of "wet goods" that flow its way over the international boundary to Uncle Sam's domain.

W. L. Mecklen King, the Premier, has announced that the government is exercising every possible care to see that the regulations are carried out. He said that up to the present it had not been possible to devise more effective means to stop rum running over the border. He was willing to subject the attention of Sir Lester Gouin, Minister of Justice, and asking for immediate action.

Liquor traffic on the border was brought to the attention of the government by a base for rum runners, a member, who asked that the Dominion Government adopt more effective measures to stop rum running. Much of the Canadian government's newspapers worth cited United States newspapers reported to show that Canada was being used as a base for rum runners.

Though no definite statement has been made as to just how the government will stop the flow of liquor to the States, it was announced tonight that members of the Canadian parliament will get in touch with Washington Department of Justice officials and endeavor to work out an international plan of liquor law enforcement. According to information received here, prominent dry workers will visit Ottawa shortly to give information to the Canadian enforcement workers.

St. Pierre, one of the chief sources of supply, soon may be cut off, for members of the Canadian government are preparing to ask the British government to take this action. Much of the liquor sent to this island is re-shipped to the United States. The Canadian government co-operate in shutting off the flow to the United States.

THE LOCAL MILLS

Delay in the opening of operations in some of the North End lumber mills, it was said today, was due to a difference between employers and the workmen as to the wages to be paid. "My Boy was Starving to Death"

"As He Was Getting No Nourishment He Was Gradually Wasting Away."

"Here's a story which will interest every mother. Before my boy was born, I was in such delicate health that the doctor didn't think I would survive the ordeal. For weeks after, so I couldn't feed him and the poor little fellow was left to the care of friends. He wasn't naturally strong, but because he was so weak, I was forced to keep anything on his food and his poor little stomach became so weakened that he couldn't keep anything on it. As he was getting no nourishment from his food, he was gradually wasting away. Finally, in desperation, we sent for a child specialist and he said that my boy was starving to death. He gave him some medicine and advised a certain diet. This went on for four or five years and the boy still continued weak and very looking. He could not play like other children without having to lie down and rest. My sister who lives on a farm near the sea, said that she could fix him up if I would send him to her. While I hated being separated from him, I was ready to make any sacrifice to get him strong. He was away from me for three months and it was with feelings of great excitement that I awaited his return as my sister had written me that I would be surprised when I saw my boy. When my sister got off the train, I could not believe that it was my own boy that she was leading by the hand. I never saw such a change in any child. He was fat and rosy and full of life with a happy smile! 'What on earth have you done to him,' I said. 'Why,' she replied, 'I simply made him live out of doors, gave him good food—and here's the secret. I gave him three bottles of Carrol before he had taken half a bottle his whole appearance had changed. He got heavier, his face took on a colour and he would run round for hours at a time.' The change in my boy is the most wonderful event in my life. I am sure a regular 'fan' for Carrol and never lose a chance to boost it. As I write I am looking out of the window and when I see that poor, active, healthy child running round, I cannot believe that he was once a 'penny' delicate boy."

Carrol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it has done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund you money.

Just look again at these cushions from the Hassler protected car—smooth as ever after 13,000 miles!

The Hassler's not only took up shocks, and saved the cushions—the whole car—from shock, but they arrested rebounds, also.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay grey! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wey's" Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

New Arrivals in Spring Suits

Present a Pleasing Opportunity For Selection

At this season when every woman is looking around for something new and becoming to wear, a suit showing such as we have here will prove of decided interest.

Whether you wish a suit for dressy occasions, for travelling, for business or for sports wear, you will find our present stocks amply provided with modes of latest vogue.

Tweeds are showing in neat and practical semi-tailored styles with pocketed skirts and belted coats. A nice variety of favorite mixtures to select from—and they are very moderately priced. $18.75 to $35.00

Plain navy blue Suits are in fine tricotines and Polret twills. Many of them are fashioned with youthful box coats or smart jackets; however, for figures of a more mature type, coats with longer lines and slightly fitted are showing. Newest models are plain, braid trimmed or embroidered and in some cases have very smart costume blouses to match or harmonize. Plenty of large sizes in the collection. Prices range from $32.00 to $97.50.

New Spring Coats Offer Much Diversity

The big, loose, wrappy style of coat seems to be holding first and favored place this season. They are here in many new guises—every one attractive and in good taste. Many with graceful wide collars shirred in at back of neck.

Sand shades, greys and tans are among the most talked of colors; however, those who prefer something darker will find navy blues, French blues, browns and blacks.

Full backs and blouse styles are in general demand—and as for trimmings, braids, tucks and ornamental buttons are noticeably new.

We are showing a special line of lightweight velour coats in sand shade. These have tucking on shoulders and back and are lined to the waist. Almost every size. A very remarkable value, $16.75 each. Others in velvynes, Polret twills, velours and camel hair effects. Sizes up to 48 in. $27.75, $36.50 and up (Costume Department, 2nd floor)

Motoring Coats Take Their Turn

For even $26.75 she may sport a Rolls Royceey Bannockburn Tweed looking rather swifthy with its knotted weave. Or she may find herself more becoming in an Indistinct Plaid, another Overseas Tweed. Plenty of color tones in Tans, Greys, Greens.

Kiddie to Flapper Coats

Big Sister's Homespun pride or her Polo may be duplicated for girls of younger years. So with Herringbones and Chevrons at prices from $5 to $13. A bright red Reaser is but $5, brass buttons, arm chevrons and all. Navy Chevrot Reefers for Tots of two to seven, $6.75. Lots of belted styles and without, gathered backs and many shades of Blues and Tans.

McMullen Silk Dresses Here

The very ones you have heard of being so low for Paris styling. Looking at two only, you find for a Navy Canton with a wide arm, full sleeve, trimmed here and about the round neck with the same band of silver stitching and white heading that runs down the sides of the blouse. No more than $24.75, the same as an Old Blue Taffeta having a pleated ruffle sleeve and a large motif, heretofore the upper right of blouse and lower left of skirt, created by silver stitching and Chinese embroidery.

Even the busiest woman now has them—

nails lovely in soft even cuticle

HOW embarrassing it is to see critical eyes fasten upon the one essential for perfect grooming that you just had to let go before you hurried out.

You need never suffer this discomfort again because of ill-groomed nails. For with Cutex even the busiest woman has time to have lovely nails, nicely polished and always framed in smooth even cuticle.

The first step in any manicure must always be the care of the cuticle. Just dip the tip of the orange wood stick wrapped in cotton into the dainty little bottle of Cutex Cuticle Remover. Then gently press back the cuticle on each nail. You can actually see the rough dry edges soften. Rinse the fingers and just wipe away the loosened ridges. Instantly your nails are framed in a lovely even rim of soft cuticle. To keep

This lovely rim a whole week, gently smooth a little cream into each nail rim every night.

Then for the finishing touch that is so bewitching when the cuticle is perfectly kept, Cutex has developed recently a marvelous new polish. This new Liquid Polish gives a gleaming brilliance without any buffing at all. It goes on evenly and dries instantly, leaving the nails glistening for a whole week.

You can get these Cutex articles, as well as the Cutex cake and powder Polishes, at all drug or departmental stores, or the complete Cutex Manicure Sets in four sizes, 60c, $1.00, $1.50 and $3.00.

The Breaking Point

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

And Nina, always reached by that argument of how things looked, now said she reluctantly acquiesced. But a night or two after David and Lucy had started for the seashore, Nina came in like a whirlwind, and routed the family peace immediately.

"Father!" she said. "You just must speak to Jim. He's taken our car twice at night without asking for it, and the last night he broke a spring. Let it simply crash."

"Taken your car?" Mrs. Wheeler exclaimed.

"Yes, I hate telling on him, but I spoke to him after the first time, and he done it again."

Mrs. Wheeler glanced at her husband, who was staring at Nina.

"Don't worry," he said grimly. "He'll do it again."

"If we only had a car of our own—"

Mrs. Wheeler protested feebly.

"You know what I think about that matter. I'm not going to have him toy-riding over the country, breaking his neck and getting into trouble. I've seen him drive Wallace Sayre's car, and he drives like a fool or a madman. It was an old dispute and a bitter one. Mr. Wheeler got up, whistled for the dog, and went out. His wife turned to Nina.

"I wish you wouldn't bring these things to your father, Nina," she said. "He's been very nervous lately, and he isn't always fair to Jim."

"Well, it's time Jim is fair to Leslie," Nina said, with family frankness. "I'll tell you something, mother. Jim has a girl somewhere, in town probably. He takes her driving. I found a glove in the car. And he must be crazy about her, or he'd never do what he's done."

"Do you know who it is?"

"No. Somebody he's ashamed of, probably, or he wouldn't be so clandestine about it."

"Nina?"

"Well, it looks like it's Jim's ex-girl. He's not a little boy. He'll go through his shady period, like the rest."

That night it was Mrs. Wheeler's turn to lie awake. Again and again she went over Nina's words, and her troubled mind found a basis in fact for them. Jim had been getting money from her, to supplement his small salary; he had been going out a great

"That stodgy old house," she said, "and two old people! A general housework girl, and you cooking on her Thursdays out! I wish you joy of it!"

"I wonder," Elizabeth said calmly, "whether it ever occurs to you that I may put love above house and servants? Or that my life is my own, to live exactly as I please? Because that is what I intend to do."

"Look here, Elizabeth, I want to talk to you. Are you going to live in this—this hole all your life?"

"None of your business," Elizabeth said hotly. "Really, Nina, I do think you might be more careful of what you say."

"Oh, it's a dear old hole," Nina said negligently. "But hole it is, nevertheless. Why does the world mother doesn't manage her servants—but no matter about that now. Elizabeth, there's a talk about you and Dick Livingstone, and it makes me furious. When I think that you can have Wallace Sayre by lifting your finger—"

"And that I don't intend to lift my finger," Elizabeth interrupted.

"Then you're a fool. And it's Dick Livingstone?"

"It is, Nina."

Nina's ambitious soul was harrowed.

years older than the girl, walk away with her.

Not that she gave up entirely. She knew the town, and his tendency toward over-statement. And so she made a desperate attempt, that afternoon, to tempt Elizabeth. She took her through the green-houses, and then through the upper floors of the house. She showed her pictures of her boat at Miami, and of the house at 179 the head. Elizabeth was politely interested and completely unresponsive.

"When you think," Mrs. Sayre said at last, "that Wallie will have to assume a great many burdens one of these days, you can understand how anxious I am to have him marry the right sort of girl."

She thought Elizabeth flushed slightly.

"But of course he will."

Mrs. Sayre tried a new direction.

"He will have all I have, my dear, and it is a great responsibility. Used properly, money can be an agent of great good. Wallie's wife can be a power, if she so chooses. She can look after the poor. I have a long list of pensioners, but I am too old to add personal service."

"That would be wonderful," Elizabeth said gravely. For a moment she wished Dick were rich. There was so much to be done with money, and how well he would know how to do it. She was thoughtful on the way down-stairs and Mrs. Sayre felt some small satisfaction—things might come right after all. Now if Wallie would only do his part—just with the proper persistence.

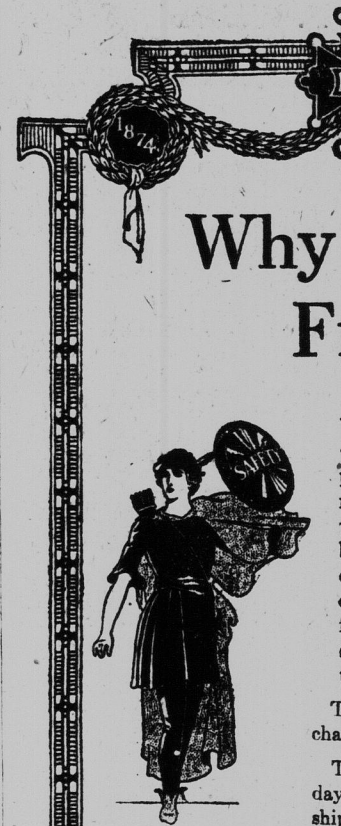

It was that night that Jim Wheeler brought the tragedy on the Wheeler household that was to lie heavy on it for many a day.

There had been a little dinner, one of those small, informal affairs where Mrs. Wheeler, having found in the market the first of the trying chickens and some fine green peas, bought them first, and then set down to the table.

Why do Men Fraternize?

MAN has ever feared his inability to cope with life's problems ALONE—he has ever realized the advantages of Fraternity. Through the centuries brotherly fellowship has lightened and lives it has lightened burdens—until today, as never before, Fraternity is recognized as a vital and essential factor in the common weal.

The spirit of Fraternity has not changed.

The Fraternal Society of yesterday afforded pleasant companionship and much service. Affliction or death brought an abundant measure of human sympathy and support—financial distress a helping hand.

And it continues and expands. The Fraternal Society of today has the same basic principles as of old—but the Life Insurance Department of the Fraternal Society of today must be conducted with strict attention to actuarial science and the proper provision for reserves as demanded by the various Governments and such a Society is the Independent Order of Foresters.

That Fraternity is the outgrowth of deep seated needs of Humanity is evidenced by the fact that in North America alone there are over two hundred societies with over ten million members.

phone to invite her friends. Mr. Oglethorpe, the clergyman, and his wife accepted cheerfully. Harrison Miller, resignedly. The Mrs. Wheeler drew a long, resolute breath and invited Mrs. Sayre. When that lady accepted with alacrity Mrs. Wheeler hastily revised her menu, telephoned the florist for flowers, and spent a long half hour with Annie over plates and finger bowls.

Jim was not coming home, and Elizabeth was dining with Nina. Mrs. Wheeler bustled about the house contentedly. Everything was going well after all. Before long there would be a car, and Jim would spend more time at home. Nina and Leslie were happy again. And Elizabeth—not a good match perhaps, but a marriage for love, if ever there was one.

She sat at the foot of her table that night, rather too watchful of Annie, but supremely content. She had herself scoured the loving cup to the last degree of brightness and it stood, full of flowers, in the centre of the cloth.

At Nina's was a smaller but similar group. All over the village at that time in the evening were similar groups, gathered around flowers and candles, neatly served, cheerful and undramatic groups, with the house doors closed and dogs waiting patiently outside in the long spring twilight.

Elizabeth was watching Nina. Just so, she was deciding, would she some day preside at her own board. Perhaps before so very long, too. A little separation, letters to watch for and anxious cry, and Leslie came in. The telephone rang, and Leslie answered it. He did not come back; instead they heard the house door close, and soon after the rumble of the car as it left the garage. It stopped at the door, and Leslie came in.

"Jim sorry," he said, "but I guess Elizabeth will have to go home. You'd better come along, Mrs. Wheeler."

"What is it? Is somebody sick?" Elizabeth gasped.

"She's been in an automobile accident. Steady now, Elizabeth! He's hurt, but he's going to be all right."

The Wheeler house, when they got there, was brightly lit. Annie was crying in the hall, and in the living room Mrs. Sayre stood alone, a strange figure in a gaudy dress, but with her face strong and calm.

"They've gone to the hospital in my car," she said. "They'll be there now any minute, and Mr. Oglethorpe will telephone at once. You are to wait before starting in."

They all knew what that meant. It might be too late to start in. Nina cried hysterically, but Elizabeth could not cry. She stood dry-eyed, by the telephone, listening to Mrs. Sayre and Leslie, but hard bearing them. They had got Dick Livingstone and he had gone on in Mrs. Sayre's car. She had begged Wallie to tell Jim to be careful in it. It had too much to do with the tragedy on the Wheeler household that was to lie heavy on it for many a day.

There had been a little dinner, one of those small, informal affairs where Mrs. Wheeler, having found in the market the first of the trying chickens and some fine green peas, bought them first, and then set down to the table.

ing her hands and kneeling on the floor beside her bed. . . . It was not until the next day that they knew that Jim had not been alone. A girl who was with him had been pinned under the car and had died instantly. Jim had woven his bit in the pattern and passed on. The girl was negligible; she was, she had been, that was all. But Jim's death added the last element to the impending catastrophe. It sent Dick west alone. For several days after his visit to the Livingstone ranch Louis Basset made no move to go to the cabin. He wandered around the town, made promiscuous acquaintances and led up the caustic conversations with such older residents as he could find, to the Clerk and the Livingstone family. Of the latter he learned nothing of the former, not much that he had not known before.

HER HEART SKIPPED EVERY THIRD BEAT

Mrs. James Burleigh, 348 King St. E., Chatham, Ont., writes: "I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me."

I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time.

I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat.

I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

When I think of the misery and suffering I have through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you.

Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "It was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more."

A lady who uses it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses.

Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Get to any active drug store and go to a bottle of Bon-Opto-tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow it to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. It is sold in this city by all good druggists."

I Set Out to Find the Secret of Iron Muscles Like These

And Found That a Slight Change in Your Daily Meals Will Often Astonishingly Increase Your Strength, Energy, Endurance and Physical and Mental Power.

Years ago, I made up my mind that there must be some vital secret which explained the great difference between the muscular strength, health and power of strong and weak people.

The secret of this matter, which outlined the duties of the house committee was accepted by Miss Melkieleh, reported expenses of $866.22 and receipts of $817.99, which included ten numbers of $100 in donations and $147.48 extra receipts from the carnival.

She told of the child which had been cared for on the roof had gone home as the special funds had been raised and there was no one to take charge of him. It was feared that the boy would be related to the treatment on the health centre roof.

On Miss Melkieleh's recommendation authority was given to asphaltize the side walk leading to the health centre, and it was decided not to be too expensive, to buy matting, grates and linoleum for the stairs.

Dr. Roberts regretted the men of the board were not more largely represented in the meeting.

BEGINNING OF LONDON SEASON

Promise of Quite a Gay and Successful One

Bonar Law Gives Commons a Shock - Memories of Gavenchus - Fine Work of Augustus John, Artist.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London, April 22.—Very rapidly people are getting back to London after their Easter holiday, the West End is filling up again, and the usual signs show that the beginning of the season is at hand. It promises to be quite a gay and successful one, because of the absence of the King and Queen, during their Italian visit, will be compensated for by two royal weddings. April and May, if the weather is at all tolerable, are really the best months of the year in London. Already the parks and gardens are becoming glorious with spring beauty, and the morning crowd in the Row, mounted and afoot under the budding trees, grows more lively and fashionable. Among the old familiar figures on horseback, as well known to park habitués as Knightsbridge Baracks themselves, are many new ones. Sir Eric Geddes is always out, catering determinedly to keep his weight down, and occasionally is seen the slim, romantic figure of that superb cavalier, Cunningham Graham, bestriding an Arab horse with flowing tail and mane. Lord Dunmore, V. C., rides regularly with his pretty daughter, dark-haired, dark-eyed Lady Marjorie Murray. Leslie Urquhart, old magnate, forms a small squadron with his four sons. Later in the day come Miss Fay Compton, Miss Dorothy Dickson, and Miss Toots Toots, with the actors who take

There is no shoe which looks more unightly, when not polished, than a tan shoe. If you go out in the rain when your tan shoes are soiled, stains may be left in the leather which it may be impossible to remove. No tan shoe can look well which is stained and discolored. But you must be careful in the kind of tan polish you use. Tan-O preserves the fine texture and natural color of the leather, keeps it soft and pliable and adds to its wearing qualities.

The House Shocked.

Outwardly Bonar Law was looking all the better for his Torquay trip when Parliament met this week, but the House was shocked at the weakness of his voice. He is not as husky as he was, but he had much difficulty in making himself heard. It will occasion no surprise if, after the introduction of the budget, the Prime Minister is advised to take a few weeks' holiday. It is a subject of constant comment in the political clubs that Mr. Law has to bear far too much of the burden of debate in Parliament. But though the treasury bench is very weak in this respect, Mr. Baldwin is a host in himself, and from what I know of him the Chancellor of the Exchequer would thoroughly enjoy leading the House for a spell.

Lord Carnarvon. I met a Fleet street musical critic the other day who played Ruggie thirty years ago and more with Lord Carnarvon. In the days when, as Lord Carnarvon, he was completing his education in long pre-war Germany, Lord Carnarvon played forward in the Harover team of that era, in which my musical friend was a fast three-quarter, and for some seasons it held an unbeaten record. Of course, in those days, no Germans thought of playing the Ruggie game, though they took keen interest in the matches between the Britishers. Sometimes the Ruggie men had rough-and-tumble encounters with the Junker Prussian officers owing to the latter's habit of wanting all the pavement to themselves. But the Ruggie men found that the Junkers did not like facing a fist, and though several challenges to duels were received these were treated with scorn. All through his London life my friend retained Lord Carnarvon's friendship, and describes him as a real Admiral Critchton—equally sound as a Egyptologist, bibliomaniac, or at weighing up the S. P. odds just before a big race. At that he seems to have been almost without a companion.

Only five years ago the fortunes of the Big War balanced themselves precariously at Greenwich. Five years ago Territorial machine-guns, while their comrades blazed away through the front windows, were holding German raiders at bay with revolvers at the back doors of pill-boxes. Recently I met one who shares in that desperate epic, and has returned after revisiting the scene of the battle. It is perhaps the least changed of all the big battle terrain on the western front. The opposing lines of shallow trenches are still there, unfilled, blooming now with spring flowers. The thick coils of rusty wire in front still clutch vigils and dead bones, and the ground is heavily littered with the debris of scientific murder.

The grim grey memorial of the 65th West Lancashire Division, on a crest near the huge Red Dragon crater, commands the battlefield, over which broods an ominous sense of death. A bleak and desolate spot it is—ruined pastures and wild moorland crossed by sinister roads. The curious tourist still strikes his boot against live bombs and dead bones, and seems to hear a ghostly whistle of bullets in the air. Even a glorious spring day, of blue sky and bright sun, Greenwich shuddered at its own memories.

Private Mark Tapley. But my ex-service friend, who has got a job in Paris since the war, was at Greenwich three years before death made his final count. He was with one of the Liverpool battalions, holding the line behind the front transport lines behind Bethune. The full private who rode up after dark on the night of the battle, was an optimist whose name ought to have been Mark Tapley. One night he batteries were pumping shells into the little town between Bethune and the line, through which his limber passed on the way up, and he had spotted on house, deserted in a hurry by the French civilians, with an Al piano in it. His plan was to "win" that piano on his way back, and have a sing-song on transport lines. He was just as cheerful next night. His comrades, as they passed the ration bags along the trench in the darkness, asked whether he had got his piano all right. "No," said the optimist jocularly, "a Jerry shell had nipped it. I plumped on top—but I got one of the wires, and what makes an Al cheese-cutter!"

Made in Manchester. A mighty huffness of big game, who has penetrated deeper into the African forests than any other white woman, has been telling me about her experiences. A local chief waited on her with his five wives. Each of the latter brought her a present—five poultry, fruit, and what not. A return compliment was evidently expected, and the five women went off delighted with five muslin curtains that had been intended for the decoration of an up-country bungalow. A week later they returned, their packages disfigured in some degree by muslin chemicals. Stitched across the bodies of each, and cut from the selvage, was the neatly printed slogan, "Made in Manchester."

The same lady had another adventure which might have had serious consequences. Out after wild boar she springing out of her hammock she bowled him over at the first shot. He proved to be the sacred pig of a local tribe. There was no end of a fuss, and a full-dress official inquiry was held. The pow-wow lasted five days, and eventually the medicine man of the tribe undertook to provide a new sacred pig at the eminently reasonable figure of ten manilla. The chieftain who negotiated this arrangement cut a slightly ludicrous figure on his departure. He was wearing a top-hat, a well-worn frock-coat and little else. His wife was seated in an evening before hitting what he wanted, which should dispose of the silly talk about John's lack of concentration and ability to work hard. Stephen McKenna Returns. Meditatively lounging at an adjoining table to mine the other day was a lean tall young man, well browned by the sun of warmer climes, than there it was Stephen McKenna, novelist, who some months ago left these shores on a tramp steamer for a prolonged tour of the West Indies and has been back in town only a few days. Tours abroad are his relaxation days. Tours abroad are his relaxation days. He will begin one pretty soon. His method is to shut himself up in his secluded rooms in Lincoln's Inn—where the solicitors browse in their chambers—refuse all invitations, deny himself to all callers, forget the world and its affairs, and bury himself only for an hour's walk to the park daily, and manages to get a book completed in two or three months. Most other novelists of note take eight or nine.

Nothing has pleased me more this week than the very sensible manly will of Rev. Dr. Adrian Fortescue, the first resident Roman Catholic priest at Leitchworth Garden City. He left only the comparatively modest sum of four thousand pounds, in which persons who are not interested. But there was one clause in this reverend father's last will and testament which speaks volumes for his humanity and Catholic taste. To a lady in Hert's he left "My cat John." "Knowing she will care for him as long as he lives." How this phrase distinguishes Dr. Fortescue from that wide category of persons who call a cat "M!" And what a splendid name for a priest's cat—"John!" One visualizes that fondly sedate and dignified marmalade molly, with a fine tail—and sees a vista of long and intimate association at Leitchworth. Hilary Belleo dislikes, not only cats, but those that like them. It is the one thing for which, I am unable to forgive the author of "The Path to Rome." Any thoughtful person would rather have the compliment of that cat legacy—"knowing that she will care for him as long as he lives" than any share in the real estate.

Baker's Cocoa. is the ideal drink for growing children. Not only does its delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food. Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet. But its quality must be good and no cocoa can quite so well meet the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as "BAKER'S". MADE IN CANADA BY WALTER BAKER & CO. LIMITED. DANCE AND BRIDGE GREATLY ENJOYED. The last of the winter season dances of the Millidgeville Summer Club was held last night at the Venetian Gardens and was a very pleasant occasion. There were many dancers and many bridge players and both dancing and bridge were much enjoyed. Mrs. G. Sherman Dearborn was the general convenor and the arrangements were admirable. Special door prizes were given, also bridge prizes and the winners were as follows: Door prize, ladies, Mrs. G. Sherman Dearborn; gentlemen, L. H. Martineau; bridge prizes, ladies, Mrs. F. E. Williams; gentlemen, George Roberts. The next dance arranged by the club will be held at Millidgeville, but the exact date has not been decided. The Summer Club and the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club are co-operating to make great summer dances at Millidgeville still more successful than in previous years. The Yacht Club will hold its dinghy races on the same day as the day for the Summer Club dances and the races will be finished just before the dances. It is expected that both the races and the dances will gain greater patronage by this arrangement. The annual meeting of the club will take place in the second week in May and definite plans for the summer season will probably be made at that time.

They caught him at Broadway and Fifty-fifth Street. On the way back one of the detec-

PAPAL HONOR FOR ABBE CASGRAIN

High Decoration Conferred Upon Him Through Bishop LeBlanc—A Distinguished Career.

(New Freeman) The many friends of L'Abbe Philippe Casgrain, a resident at the Bishop's Palace, St. John, until the close of the winter port season, not only in St. John, but throughout Canada and in various parts of the world, will learn with pleasure that he has just been made the recipient of a distinguished Papal honor, the decoration "Pro Ecclesia Et Pontifice," with the accompanying insignia.

Official notification of the awarding of the honor, by His Holiness Pope Pius XI, was received by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc during the week through the medium of the following letter:— "Superior Council of the Propagation of the Faith, Palace of the Propagation of the Faith, Rome, April 11, 1923.

"Illustrious and Right Reverend, "Lord Bishop—In your letter to the Superior Council forwarding the very generous offering collected in your diocese for the propagation of the faith, you particularly mentioned the contribution of L'Abbe Philippe Casgrain and expressed the wish that some privilege should be granted to this deserving priest. I made your desire known to His Holiness, who was graciously pleased to confer upon L'Abbe Philippe Casgrain the Cross Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice, and I now forward this decoration, together with the Papal Document which accompanies it, and beg Your Lordship to bestow them upon the worthy recipient. At the same time, I gladly avail myself of this opportunity to express my congratulations to the people of your diocese who have been among the first to send help to our foreign missions and I wish to express to them my deep gratitude for their generosity and noble example. Such action, on their part, affords us great consolation as the needs of our foreign missions are, indeed, very great and urgent. The donors may rest assured that God will repay them a hundredfold. I commend myself to Your Lordship's prayers and, begging your benediction, I remain your devoted servant in Christ. "JOSEPH NOGARA, Priest, Secretary."

MARY PICKFORD IN 1917 RECEIVED $10,000 A WEEK

New York, April 28.—Mary Pickford got a salary of $10,000 a week from Adolf Zukor as long ago as 1917. Alexander Lichtman, head of the Al Lichtman Corporation and Proprietor of Pictures-Lasky Corporation, testified at the hearing by the federal trade commission to determine whether the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, six affiliated companies and six individuals constitute a motion picture trust.

He said the Famous Players firm failed in 1914 to organize a great distributing company, but later the Famous Players Corporation was formed.

In 1916, he said, Zukor became dissatisfied with the arrangement with Paramount, asserting he was paying out money enough to produce the pictures he wanted, and was threatened with the loss of some of his great stars, especially Mary Pickford.

A merger was completed in 1917, he testified, between the Famous Players Corporation, the Biograph Company, Inc., and the Lasky Company, when the Paramount was releasing 194 pictures a week. Zukor was paying Mary Pickford a salary of $10,000 a week.

OTTAWA VIEW OF THE ELECTION

Eagerness to Get Into Fray May Speed Federal Prorogation.

(Special to The Times)

Ottawa, April 28.—Ever since Premier Drury announced that a general election would be held in Ontario in June, corridors in the federal house have buzzed with talk about the probable outcome and also about what effect that contest will have upon the operation of the Dominion of the Senate in this parliament. On the first question there has been nothing but hazy conjecture, but on the second there is evident agreement that the rapid approach of a lively campaign in Ontario will tend to abbreviate deliberations in this capital. The chief reason advanced for this is that members of all three parties, especially the Conservatives, evince a keen desire to get into the provincial fray and already show impatience with any needless talk either in the house or in committee. For a time it was the habit to set June 15 as the date of federal prorogation but June 1 is more often heard now.

There is the expected diversity of opinion as to who will come out "on top" in the Ontario polling, and what ever conclusions had been reached by members of the three parties previous to Thursday of this week were upset by Premier Drury's apparent reluctance to drop the U. F. O. pilot. In some quarters Premier Drury's evident repudiation of his "broadening out" policy is held to be a blow to those who expect the return of the agrarians to power in Ontario. In others it is argued that this interview between the Premier and Mr. Morrison is "a non-flag" and meant for "back home" consumption and that the light in the window has not been blown out but merely shaded. In Conservative groups it is, of course, contended that Mr. Ferguson has the only chance of going back with a group large enough to form a government; and in liberal circles it is declared that Mr. Hay's position is daily being strengthened and that to the extent that Premier Drury refuses to "broaden out" will the liberal position be additionally strengthened.

THEIR CHILD DEAD.
Much sympathy will be felt for Hon. J. E. Michael and Mrs. Michael of administration in the death of their young daughter, Jacqueline, which occurred on Monday.

L. W. SIMMS IS MADE PRESIDENT

St. John Man Heads Religious Educational Council of Canada—Meeting in Toronto.

Toronto, April 28.—Canada is a blazing trail in inter-denominational Sunday school co-operation and is still a long way ahead of the U. S. in this matter," declared Dr. H. S. The annual meeting of the religious educational council of Canada yesterday elected L. W. Simms, of St. John, N. B., as president. Interesting reports were presented. That of the secretary shows 11,000 embraced the work, with 1,100,000 scholars, 110,000 volunteer officers and sixty men and women full time leaders employed, and $100,000 expended by the various denominations in providing supervision and $60,000 co-operative agencies. A total of well above $200,000 is spent annually. Reports were also brought in by the various committees.

It Takes All Kinds To Make a World

About this time of year the heart of the general public—that is, the portion that does not anticipate the joys of making a change in its domicile—goes out to those who are making a wreck of the interior of their houses in anticipation of the joys of a new home. Anything that can be done to facilitate the operation, is—as a rule—generally carried out.

From time to time reports have been current that certain people have been planning a shift of habitation on May 1, have been unable to get permission from the tenant in the house to which they were moving to get any of their belongings removed, and have had to move on the date. This is bad enough, but a case which came to light this May is regarded as the high-water mark of obstinacy.

A family proposed moving from the lower flat of a house into the flat upstairs. The family which had occupied the upstairs portion of the house had gone to other quarters and the man on the lower floor thought that he would be able to move his things up gradually all this week. But he hadn't counted on the lady who had occupied his new home. She had moved out, taking the key with her and absolutely refused to hand it over until the end of this month.

Technically, she could not be compelled to do otherwise, bearing in mind the rental charges, but even the offer of the new tenant to relieve her of the last two weeks' rent did not move her to compassion. She is still obstinate.

Life is like that!

Robinson-Keith Wedding in Sussex

Sussex, N. B., April 28.—A wedding of much social interest was solemnized today at 1 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keith, Church street, when their second daughter, Helen, became the wife of Eldon Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Rev. D. J. McPherson of the United Baptist Church performed the ceremony, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The drawing room, where the ceremony took place, was artistically decorated with quantities of roses, snap dragon and ferns.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked very winsome in a smart imported suit of navy serge, trimmed with money fur and taupe silk embroidery. Her hat was of golden brown vicca with quill trimmings. She also wore a stole of grey squirrel and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Isabel Keith of Moncton, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. Immediately after the ceremony lunch was served. In the centre of the bride's table was a silver basket containing daffodils. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left on the 2 o'clock train for Halifax on a brief wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Sussex and have taken rooms with Mrs. John Scott until their home will be ready for them in the autumn.

Both bride and groom are very popular and received many beautiful gifts. Among the out of town guests invited to the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Robinson, Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Welling, Miss Bird Triles, Miss Lillian Triles, Miss Louise Alward, Miss Frances Alward, Miss Margaret Pondridge, Mrs. S. McDonald and Miss S. Calgary, April 28.—"Manitoba has deserted, and we will have to get along without her," said H. W. Wood, president of the U. F. "I presume that Alberta and Saskatchewan will go ahead with the wheat board without Manitoba," he said.

MOTORS
And Their Care

For Holding Bolts in Place.
Well-tempered split washers are advised to keep bolts tight, and to keep them from rattling loose.

To Eliminate Brake-Rod Rattles.
The chatter and noise of loose or worn brake rods can be eliminated by sliding a section of rubber hose over the one nearest to the frame of the car.

When Tires Wear Unevenly.
The bearings are very likely broken if the tires wear unevenly, or wear so thin that the remaining rubber is not enough to absorb the ordinary shocks of travel.

Handy Equipment.
A rubber mallet for hammering polished surfaces should be part of the tools of every car. This tool is found invaluable for taking out dents in the fenders or similar disfigurements.

Increases Efficiency.
Be sure that all hose connections are changed once a year. Hot water rots the rubber, loosens up the fabric which gets in the way of the water, cutting down the efficiency of the cooling system.

Replacement of Rings.
When replacing rings, the best fitting rings should be used at the top, so that the oil below cannot be consumed by the high temperature of the exploding gas. The replacement of the rings is the reverse of the removal.

Causes of Tire Wear.
A prematurely worn tread may be attributed to the following causes: Wheel out of alignment or wobbly wheel, bent axle, grabby brakes and clutch, spinning of wheels, skidding, underinflation or overinflation, fender out, chain bruises, and car-track wear.

Tools for the Car.
The list of equipment especially valuable to be carried along in the automobile when touring long distances in country remote from garages includes:
Tire pump. Oil can.
Small-vise. Iron bar.
Tire chains. Tow rope.
Valve tools. Tire iron.
Rim wrench. Two jacks.
Pipe wrench. Grease gun.
Socket wrench. Trouble lamp.
Monkey wrench. Two hammers.
Pressure gauge. Two wood blocks.
Vulcanizer outfit. Two pairs of pliers.
Fine sandpaper, and an assortment of files, screw drivers, nuts, bolts, cotter keys, axle keys, screws, etc.

When Using the Jack.
Because the base of an ordinary jack is small, every precaution should be taken to have the car carefully blocked to avoid a serious accident caused by the jack tipping over. A heavy wooden block cut the same length as the jack tread separation, due to the fact that an extra hinging motion is developed in the tire, this resulting in the friction or cushion being stretched beyond its elastic strength and breaking.

Push rods should be examined when the engine is hot.
An excessive amount of oil in the distributor or breaker will short-circuit these units, and it is therefore essential that they be kept clean.
Too high a temperature will dry out the rubber in tires, while too low will stiffen it.
Universals should be kept thoroughly lubricated, or they will develop excessive wear.

An emergency cotter pin can be made from a common hair pin by a few twists of the pliers.

A half-and-half mixture of kerosene and engine oil is an excellent lubricant for small exposed parts.

Tires which are not properly inflated will cause the body of the car to sway from side to side unnecessarily.

By using a solution of soda and water, rust that has accumulated in the jacket walls can, to a large degree, be removed.

Always follow up an emergency repair with a permanent one just as soon as possible.

Do not use a non-skid tire on one rear wheel and a plain tread on the other wheel.

HALE OLD ENGLISHMAN
RODE TRICYCLE AT 94
Made Light of Bad Weather and Perils Of Motor Traffic

London, April 10.—(By Mail)—That old age can be lived out cheerfully and happily in our modern times, the example of Sydney Godge, formerly Conservative M. P. for Stockport, proves, says "The London Daily Mail." To within a few weeks of his death, which took place at the age of ninety-four, he rode a tricycle, making light of bad weather and motor traffic alike. He was, in fact, such another hale veteran as Frederick Harrison, who died at the age of ninety-one early this year, and whose last words, a dialogue on the sadness and joy of old age, are to be published next week.

A wise writer wished that "Shakespeare had lived to portray the old man, not lean and slumped, but well favored and booted, keen in life's interests and happy in promoting the welfare and enjoyment of others." But Shakespeare's age was not, as our own time has been, a period of great old men. Lord Fisher and Lord Roberts, for example, were two of the most commanding figures of the war period, though neither attained anywhere near the nineties. Sir William Osler once declared that a very large proportion of the evils of the world might be traced to sexagenarians and such ancients, but even he, by the evidence of facts, was forced to confess that "occasionally there is a sexagenarian whose mind stands out of the reach of the body's decay."

POLICE CHIEF CHARGED WITH WHIPPING WOMEN

Lumberton, N. C., April 28.—B. M. Lawson, Chief of Police Fairmount, and John Hedgepeth and Jule Broegden of Proctorville have been ordered to appear in court here for preliminary hearing on nine charges, ranging from first degree burglary to simple assault, as a result of the alleged whipping of two white women on the night of April 14.

Mrs. H. F. Purvis and Mrs. Mary Watson told Recorder W. B. Ivy, according to his statement, that they were seized in Mrs. Watson's home by a white-robed masked band, carried to a negro churchyard, forced to lie across logs and were whipped on the naked flesh with a leather strap. They were told, they said, that their captors were members of the Ku Klux Klan, and the whipping was explained as being due to treatment Mrs. Purvis was charged with giving her husband while he was ill.
All of the men denied the charges against them.

Note the Improvement In Power and Pick-up

The development of the new Champion marks an almost revolutionary advance in spark plug manufacture.
You will note the difference and the betterment in the way your car performs, from the day you equip every cylinder with this new plug.
You will experience more power, and snappier, quicker pick-up. The logy-sluggish feeling will be gone. You will even note a saving in gas and oil.
Until you get Champions in your car—a full set—you cannot realize, of course, how much better they are.
Champion's wonderful new core makes all the difference. This core is the product of science.
It was developed in Champion laboratories after years of tireless research and experiment. There it was brought to its present perfection.
That is why dependable Champions last longer than other spark plugs. But all spark plugs lose efficiency in service.
They do not ignite the mixture with sufficient intensity. The charge does not burn fast enough.
This wastes gas and oil. It lowers power. Often it leads to serious injury to the engine.
But all this is overcome if Champions are installed in every cylinder at least once a year. Engine performance is wonderfully improved. Oil and gas are saved. Serious trouble is avoided.
More than 30,000,000 new Champions have gone into service in the past year—enough to equip 60 per cent of all America's motor cars.
The difference in this Champion,—the improvement a set makes in car performance—are so important that you are not justified in driving your old plugs another day.
For your own protection, be sure you get the Champion with the Double-Ribbed core,—and install a set at the first opportunity.

Old Students Often Found Reading Law At Inns of Court

Names of Men Who Started in 1840 and Vanished Out of Courses in London Still Found Upon Rolls.

London, April 1.—(By Mail).—The news that a resident of Oxford is entering the University at the age of seventy reminds one of the strange histories that are often to be found in the books of the Inns of Court.

Recalls "The Westminster Gazette." Hidden away among the rolls of one of the Inns are to be found the names of students who entered as far back as 1840. Nothing has since been heard of them. Technically, however, they are members of the Inn and if they were to turn up one dining night would be entitled to don their gowns and take their seats once more within those centuries-old walls from which Queen Elizabeth looks down on the unchanging scene of her former revels.

What has become of these long-lost law students who have so unaccountably forsaken their intended profession? Vistas of long years of study have apparently disintegrated them and turned their energies into other avenues. Hundreds of Bar students never get called, and an even greater number of those who are called never practise.

In curious contrast to this story of relinquished hopes is the number of men who enter the Inns of Court when the span of life is half past. Youth is not the only spirit that feigns not to embark for new seas. If you peeped into one of the halls during dinner you could probably count one gray head among every six or seven.

At one of the Inns there is a young barrister whose father is yet a student and if you were privileged to look through the lists of the ancient and honorable societies you would find there today, among the mere students, the names of distinguished soldiers, sailors, and politicians, at least one millionaire-shipowner, and more than one novelist of world-wide fame.

Why do these people suddenly conceive the idea of going to the bar? The truth is that in a dozen walks of life the mere status of a barrister is found to be a pulsant aid. For instance to become eligible for a particular appointment in an insurance company it seems to be virtually essential, for no apparent reason that one should first acquire the dignity of a wig and gown.

Boy of 7, Pal 13, and 'Look-out,' Are Captured by Occupant of Apartment.

New York, April 28.—Two boys, one 13, the other 7, were surprised in the act of robbing the apartment of James Bishop. A third boy, 12, the lookout, also was caught, and all three were taken to the East Sixty-seventh Street police station.

Frank Altenheim, 13, and James Duane, 12, were later paroled in the custody of their parents, Joe Koryns, 7, was sent to the Children's Society when his mother told the policeman who notified her of Joe's arrest, to "keep him."

Seated beside Matron Annie Nennie, Joe told the police, between gulps of apple pie, of the doings of his "gangs" which he says has been operating under the leadership of the Altenheim boy. He said that they took a pair of pliers, a monkey wrench and a flashlight from an automobile and that Altenheim proposed that they "pull off a job." He said that he and Altenheim climbed up the fire-escape in the rear of the apartment and Duane was left below to watch.

Joe said that they could not open the window with the pliers, so Altenheim broke the glass. They wanted only cash, he said, and so many were they that they did not notice the return of Mrs. Bishop. Altenheim, he said, then made a break for the fire-escape, but he was caught. Bishop followed Altenheim and caught him and Duane, he said.

The boys were turned over to Patrolman John Keeney. All were charged with juvenile delinquency.

Refreshments were served under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Charles Cooney and Mrs. G. Merryweather, and a pleasant social hour followed. Mrs. William Tobin, the president, was in the chair.

Together, Against The World

Edith Stevens, lovely girl rum runner, in her new article tells how the rum running life gets a hold on her—how a flaming desire comes over her to fling her whole soul into the tempestuous game of rum running—Exhilaration comes to her as she hears the stealthy noise of the ship's cargo being loaded—She watches the captains of the small boats "tally" with Casseese the mysterious packages that are whisked softly from one boat to another. Casseese calls her to take tally—one of the events that established her as Queen of the Rum Runners—Antonio and Edith feel they are now bound together by a common tie that puts them at bay against the rest of the world.

My Experiences as Queen of The Rum Runners

BY EDITH STEVENS

IV. Once I knew the true character of Antonio Casseese's business, the source of his wealth, instead of getting frightened and wanting to go home to mother, I became possessed with the desire to fling my whole soul into this dangerous game—rum-running. Almost from the beginning I had an ambition to become queen of the rum runners. I never shall forget my first exhilaration at hearing a rum cargo being taken aboard mysteriously, almost noiselessly. Like any first offender, I was being constantly annoyed by nagging doubts, misgivings and quills of conscience. I remember refusing to admit even to myself the illicit character of our undertakings. Constantly I would say to myself that we were not actually outside the law. Indeed, I never have admitted and never will admit that I did not do the right thing. We had been in Nassau five days. We were staying with the Ambraters, very wealthy wholesale liquor dealers. I cannot say that I relished my surroundings. Not that the Ambraters were not kind to me, but the companionship of the members of the household bored me. I craved action. I wanted to get into the thick of it. The fifth day of our sojourn was particularly gloomy. The skies were turned inside out with rain and fog, thunder, lightning, rain and more rain. Casseese had advised me to stay at home with an elderly woman. Rain and an old woman were two companions that never were feant for me. Casseese, Mr. Ambrater and the members of our crew went to the waterfront at nine o'clock. It was quite dark mysterious sibilant word at the end of each ten counts—"Tally."

My First Post.

Presently I went back to the salon, fearful that I might interfere unwittingly in this procedure. But to my surprise I soon was summoned to the deck by Antonio to keep tally while he watched the stowing away. This shows how sharp his eyes were. Notwithstanding his duties during the tallying, he had caught a glimpse of me on the deck while I had thought myself unobserved by anyone. He seemed to take it for granted that I had learned how to tally during my short period of spying. Later I learned that the system of tallying it an extremely delicate one. Rum dealers, selling or buying, are ever on the alert to steal or cheat even so little as one package of the precious goods. Indeed, I have seen desperate fights start when one party or the other would be accused of a wrong count. I have seen knives and other display of temper all arising from fancied or real insults regarding the tally. Casseese went below. For hours into the dead of night I stood—a woman between two crews. This was the beginning of a career that led me to my accession to a spectacular position, queen of the rum-runners. Swiftly the packages were passed. Not once was my tally questioned, grew desperately tired, but I was intrigued by the subtle mystery that I felt subconsciously, rather than recognized by what I saw. I knew instinctively what was in the packages, yet I did not want to ask or to know what was in them. Thus again I was endeavoring to hoodwink my then susceptible conscience. The schooner emptied her store and silently moved on. To my amazement a second schooner tied alongside, moving out of the shadows, seemingly from nowhere. Again the monotonous count of packages began. The captain of the second schooner seemed rather surprised when he heard a woman checking, but he asked no questions, and I made no explanations. He was not up to his standard day. He coached me to speak a trifle louder, as he wished to go below and still be able to bear the tally. Still a third schooner drew alongside and three o'clock in the morning arrived before the last package was hoisted like a yelling hymn of triumph. I listened intently, almost forgetting Casseese and his petulant behavior to me. To my astonishment I could make out the words of an old English song: "It's the rich as gets the pleasure. It's the poor as gets the blame. It's the same the whole world over; Ain't it all a blooming shame? These natives, I was told, had learned the song from their British employers. The more they can sing, the more work these natives can do. Falter and fainter as their lights hearted melody. I stood beside Casseese and I could see as morning was breaking that he was enraptured by the fantastic mood of the singers. Both of us were inspired by the beauty of the wailing night. Now we were contraband. Casseese had plunged a fortune into his post and its cargo. Now the world was against us. There was indeed a strong bond between us. We were partners in our loneliness. Casseese seemed to forget his boyish disapproval of the many courtesies showered upon me by men at the island. He looked at me and smiled with all his old time magnetism. "Are you as game as ever?" he asked. "Yes, I smiled back. And I was. But how much this game was to be tested in the next few days! I was desperately tired after the taking of the tally. I had not eaten for ten hours. While we had been standing listening to the singing, and straining our tired eyes into the night, Casseese had ordered the steward to cook some red snappers that he had caught that day. Although Casseese had told me he didn't intend to eat, he sat down to the table with me. Casseese mentioned the island about subjects agreeable to girls reared in luxurious surroundings. I didn't really recall much about the island, nor did I remember that he had been overly courteous and attentive to me. Indeed, Casseese had been present at all the conversations. But, in his true Italian fashion, he did not relish my even speaking to any man, socially, other than himself. Our chef, a southern cook, had taken on too much liquor during the day. He was not up to his standard that night or morning. Casseese, still persisting in abstaining from food, did not know that the fish was as raw and simply could not eat it. I have a very delicate appetite at best. Casseese, noting my inability to eat, asked me: "Aren't you going to eat? What is the matter?" "Nothing is the matter," I said, "I just seem to have lost my appetite." "Isn't the fish all right?" he queried.

Intoxicated state, had become enraged. He forgot himself as he answered, boldly the ocean—plate and all. "I had Sam cook the fish. He was the one who did it." Then the steward said a word that wasn't nice. Up jumped Casseese with a deep flush on his face. He glared at the steward and fairly growled at him. "What do you mean by using such a word in Miss Stevens' presence? How dare you! I'll show you how to conduct yourself!" With these words he picked up the fish and I thought he was going to throw the fish in the steward's face. "Don't, don't! Be careful!" I said quickly rising from the table and going over to where he stood. Antonio refrained from throwing the fish in the steward's face, but he did barely graze him as he hurried it out into the kitchen. More food was brought. I had just finished eating and had gone out on deck when the frightful screams were heard issuing from the scullery. The next minute we heard Sam call wildly: "Mr. Casseese! Mr. Casseese! He's going to kill me, he's going to kill me!" Admitted his terrifying screams, up came Sam, almost falling on to the deck, the whites of his eyeballs rolling about in deadly fear. Sam was only a boy and much smaller than the steward. Casseese was infuriated by the idea of the steward striking him. I couldn't stop Casseese. Down the stairs he rushed. I followed pell-mell, hoping to quiet the disturbance. I didn't know what might happen if Casseese struck the steward. I was afraid it would end in a terrible brawl all over the boat. But nothing could stay Antonio. Just as I got down after him, I saw him walley the steward. The steward fell from the scullery into the pantry. Casseese came back with me onto the deck where I tried to quiet his nerves. It was with relief to see that the crew thought Mr. Casseese to be in the right. But whatever they thought they would do a lot of thinking before they objected to anything that Antonio Casseese did. And let it be said to his credit that he was as quick to praise as he was to blame. For this the men admired him. By this time we were well out to sea. Above us the clouds were congregating. Next week Miss Stevens tells how Antonio's failure to keep an appointment for breakfast upon her return to New York gave her a dreadful premonition. A newspaper headline—"Millionaire Rum Runner Captured. Ship Seized"—told the story. Frankly she called all the jails in Long Island, and finally located Casseese.

Stomach Trouble "Indigestion" Relieved By Burdock Blood Bitters

The sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomach troubles who has to pick and choose his food is the most miserable of all mankind. Even the little that is eaten causes much torture, and is often cast up perfectly it does but little good. Before you can eat heartily and enjoy your food, you must put your stomach right so that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments. Mr. Wm. Kruschel, Morden, Man., writes:—"Some time ago I had quite a serious case of stomach trouble, indigestion. I could scarcely eat anything, outside of some light food, and even then I generally had pains after each meal. I tried many different medicines, but without any improvement. Burdock Blood Bitters was recommended. I had almost given up hope of ever being well. A neighbor recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, and I bought a bottle. I took a short time I felt much better, so I continued to use it until I was completely relieved. After all other medicines failed, B. B. B. is put up only by The T. J. BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and was so weak and tired, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the vegetable compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman in this world. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by a woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it has done for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial. Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women." C

They Are The Real Remedy

Quebec Man Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. Placide Fortin Says He Cannot Praise Dodd's Kidney Pills Enough. Laurierville, Que., April 27.—(Special)—"For a long time I have suffered with bad kidneys. I have taken all kinds of remedies and none of them have relieved me. My illness continued day after day. I always had had pains in my kidneys. I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after the first box, I felt that they were the real remedy that I was wanting. I am employed in a flour mill and my work is heavy and tiring for the kidneys. Now that I take your remedy I do not feel and fatigue after my day's work. This testimonial is sent by Mr. Placide Fortin, who is well-known and highly respected here. It is statements like the above that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy throughout Canada. No ordinary remedy could produce such results as these, because only Dodd's Kidney Pills contain the peculiar tonic and restorative elements needed by weakened and inactive kidneys. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford C. Laurence, Manawagonish road, were presented two Pyrex scallop dishes on Thursday evening by the Ladies Division of the Baxter Lodge, L. O. L., No. 92. They were only recently married. An enjoyable evening followed the presentation.

FOURNIER HAS SIGNED CONTRACT

Will Report to Dodgers Tomorrow—Is Regarded as a Valuable Asset to Club.

New York, April 28.—The Brooklyn National League Baseball Club today announced that first baseman Jacques Fournier, a holdout, who was traded by the St. Louis Nationals to Brooklyn for outfielder Myers last fall, will join the Brooklyn club on a two year contract. He will report Sunday to Manager Robinson. Fournier, who had been holding out for a better salary and other terms, is regarded as a valuable asset because of his hitting ability. For two years he was the Chicago White Sox first baseman and also was in the Pacific Coast League. President Ebbets also announced that he had offered $100,000 for short stop Boley, of the Baltimore Orioles, and that offers had been made to two other infielders whose names he refused to disclose.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The funeral of James L. Stewart was held yesterday afternoon in Chatham under the direction of the local lodge of the I. O. O. F. The funeral cortege was one of the largest seen there in years. Members of the North Shore Press Association attended in a body. Interment took place in Riverside cemetery. H. H. Hatfield of the firm of Hatfield, Porter, Gallagher, Ltd., leading potato shippers of New Brunswick, will appear before the House of Commons special committee next Wednesday to refute a statement that potato shipments are governed by a ring. He insists that the charge reflects on the integrity of the firms and that the shippers have lost thousands of dollars during the last two years. Arrangements have been made for a military rifle camp to be held in Sussex from June 29 to June 11. A cadet camp will be held from June 9 to 14. The announcement was made in Moncton yesterday by Lieut.-Col. H. C. Sparling, D. S. O.

U. S. LIQUOR PROBLEM

Washington, April 28.—Canadian Press.—Officials of the prohibition unit here expressed much satisfaction yesterday over reports that the Canadian Government would co-operate more fully than ever with the U. S. Government in efforts to stop smuggling from Canada into the U. S. London, April 28.—The British Government is considering the latest note from Washington with reference to liquor smuggling, but it is expected some time will be necessary before an answer can be made. It was said that the Government was very anxious to aid the U. S. in stopping the smuggling of liquor, and at the same time does not wish to do anything to interfere with British commerce, or which might involve the framing of new legislation.

Signallers Prepare For Annual Training

The officers and non-commissioned officers of No. 6 Signal Company, No. 6 Signal Battalion, Canadian Corps of Signal, met last evening in the armories and made arrangements for training. The officers will be at the armories on Monday night to receive recruits, and training will be held three nights a week.

The course of training covers a wide range, and includes wiring, telephony, telegraphy, wireless telegraphy and radio. The local company is equipped with a complete set of apparatus for the proper training of the men in these branches. The training has for its object the making of good signallers and also teaching the signaller something which will be useful in his civil life. It is especially good for those young men contemplating taking up the profession of electrical engineering. While getting this training for nothing, the recruit will also be earning something in the way of army pay. Several rooms in the armories have been fitted up with electrical and signalling apparatus. Some of the instruments recently invented have been installed and the equipment is up-to-date in every particular.

Wireless Course

For the wireless course a complete plant will be available and it will be installed in one of the towers of the armories and the signallers will be given practical work with this instrument. The training will be carried on every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings during the season. The officers of the local company are in command. Major F. J. Nisbet, company officers, Captain W. D. F. Henderson, Lieutenants H. L. Nixon, Robert Anderson, W. McPhail and Gordon Lordly. Major Nisbet said last evening that he hoped to have many boys, who were just leaving High School, join the company and he wished it to be known that officers were invited to visit the armories on any evening allotted to training and see for themselves just what advantages were offered to the boys who joined the signallers.

Police Guard Shops Of Dressmakers

Strike of "Midnettes" Cause of Much Concern

Paris, April 28.—The dressmakers strike here has reached such proportions that three policemen were assigned to guard the front doors of each fashionable shop in the centre of the city, while numerous other officers were assigned to the work of keeping the young woman and girl strikers moving. The clients of the shops are becoming impatient at the delay in the deliveries of spring dresses, ordered weeks ago, and this fact has led to several attempts by the shop owners to persuade the workers to return to work, and this fact has led to the threat of a lockout if they failed to resume work. The workers are meeting this threat with a declaration that they are prepared to stay on strike long enough to wreck the tourist trade upon which the shopkeepers have been counting. The Paris dressmakers and shop owners today issued an ultimatum to the striking "midnettes" that unless they return to work Monday they will be locked out for an indefinite period.

OXFORD RUNNERS CAPTURE RELAY IN BIG CARNIVAL

Defeat Pick of United States Track Stars, Beaten in Other Events—New Endurance King Brought Out in Pentathlon.

Philadelphia, April 28.—Capturing the college sprint medley relay championship yesterday from the pick of United States track stars, Oxford University's sturdy band of runners enabled Great Britain to share honors with the United States in the first day's events of the two day relay carnival under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin Field. The Brits, however, were forced to taste defeat in the only other event in which they participated, when C. B. E. Morgan barely finished sixth in the two mile international run, won by Walter Higgins, of Columbia, intercollegiate cross-country champion, in brilliant fashion. The pentathlon, emblematic of the all-round individual championship developed a new endurance king when C. West, negro star of Washington and Jefferson, who finished third to Legendre, of Georgetown last year, triumphed over a picked field. Oxford's victory over a dozen rivals in the sprint medley was somewhat unexpected, but justified the last minute decision of the British to enter this event instead of the distance medley. Taking the baton a scant foot in front, he kept stride with Newhall, of the Navy and Brooks of Georgetown, until the last turn before the stretch. Here Milligan cut loose with a sprint that seemed to leave his opponents standing still, and he broke the tape a good fifteen yards in front, in the fast time of 1:56 4-5. The inter-scholastic medley relay championship furnished keen international competition, with Phillips Exeter Academy, last year's winner, barely nosing out Hamilton Collegiate Institute of Canada, in a thrilling drive down the stretch between Barnes, the Canadian captain, and Prendergast, of Exeter. Summary: Interscholastic Medley Relay, (first man to run 440 yards, second 220 yards, third 660 yards, and fourth 880 yards); won by Phillips Exeter Academy, (O'Neill, Keller, O'Connell and Prendergast); second, Hamilton Collegiate (Ontario); third, Huntington school, Time 4:48 4-5. Two mile international race, won by Higgins, Columbia; second Thompson, Hamilton Collegiate; third, Booth, John Hopkins, Time 9:42 1-5. College sprint medley, (first man to run 440 yards, second and third men 220 yards, fourth man 880 yards). Won by Oxford University, (England), (Miller, Stevenson, Kenwick, and Milligan); second, Navy; third, Georgetown, Time 3:52 1-5.

LORD CECIL'S TOUR ENDED

New York, April 28.—The people of the U. S. accept the view that isolation is an impracticable ideal, said Lord Robert Cecil, British proponent of the League of Nations, last night before the Economic Club, in his farewell address in the U. S. He could not say, however, he added, that they accepted the proposition of the league.

The Citizens' Committee, who are arranging to send Hilton Belyea to the English Henley to compete in the Diamond Sculls, held a meeting last evening when plans were gone into thoroughly and arrangements completed. A pretentious programme for the raising of funds through the medium of four nightly out-door concerts in the second week in May was outlined by R. S. Sime, who was largely instrumental in the success attending the bond-selling campaign during the war years. Mr. Sime's proposals met with hearty endorsement from all present and a full slate of committees was drawn up to carry the proposition through to a successful conclusion. In outlining his plan, Mr. Sime affirmed his belief in the fact that the people of St. John were wholly back of the idea of the citizens in sending Hilton to the English Henley. Starting from that premise, he believed that if the idea were brought before the public in the proper manner, the citizens would see that sufficient funds were raised not only to allow the local sculler to try for the Diamond Sculls and defend his Canadian championship but also to try again for the United States national title early in August and also race Walter Hoover for the Philadelphia Gold Challenge Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur sculling championship, on Labor Day at Duluth.
