Obstetictions.—Acadia street, Portland, is usually a quiet street, but there was a ripple of excitement there, Saturday night. It seems that during the previous three or four days, a Mrs. Ferson, blocked up the sidewalk with a other side of the street. She was re-pronstrated withby some of the justly indig-nant neighbors, but gave no satisfaction whatever. On Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, they took the matter into their own hands and threw the laths into the street. The noise awakened Mrs. Ferson, who instity descript agreed on
