Lord Leverhulme Justifies and the Twelve Hour... Benefit if Machines Work...

New York, Nov. 23.—Sweating machine, not the man, is the economic principle on which Lord Leverhulme, the great British manufacturer, sees the six-hour day for workmen. This schedule his firm has determined to introduce in their factories in Detroit, Canada, and elsewhere, hoping thereby to get their workmen and themselves Lord Leverhulme, who arrived to see the arrangements in connection with his visit to the United States, conducted a little missionary work in favor of the introduction in this country of the plan, which he declared will prove economically advantageous and profitable in any industry in which the overhead charges for plant equipment equal or exceed the cost of the plan.

Inquest On Death Of John J. McNeely

Last Night Jury Found Evidence Precaution Had Been Taken by Physician and Dentist as No Blame is Attached.

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into where, and by what means John J. McNeely met his death, find that the said John J. McNeely died in the office of Dr. Fenwick Bonnell, German street, in the city of St. John, county of St. John, on November 23, 1939, while having an anesthetic administered by a registered physician of the province who investigated the case with every precaution was taken by the physician and dentist, in whose office the operation was held, and no blame is attached to them."

"We have no recommendations to make regarding anesthetics, as these are in the hands of the medical profession to decide, would recommend that a suitable room be provided by those in charge of coroners' courts, where an anesthetic administered at a general average. He described the condition of Mr. McNeely's teeth when the man called to see him on any day. All the time the man was in his office he was very nervous. After his office he had calmed down, no appointment was made for the following morning and he advised the patient not to eat any food that morning. Shortly after nine o'clock Saturday morning the witness had arrived at the office and was shortly joined by Dr. Kelley, the McNeely family physician. Mr. McNeely when he arrived was very much excited and was frightened. Dr. Kelley administered the chloroform, giving it drop by drop later when the patient showed signs of consciousness he gave a few more drops. When the patient dropped in a coma he was muttering all the time some remarks about his regular work. After the anesthetic was administered the patient stopped breathing and both Dr. Kelley and the witness turned in trying to stimulate his respiration. The office assistant who helped with cold applications to the head and neck, Dr. G. A. B. Adams was summoned but he could not be cured, and Dr. George Baxter was called in. When he arrived he pronounced the patient dead. Dr. Kelley had decided upon chloroform rather than ether as more suitable in this particular case, either having the tendency to fill the throat with phlegm which would suffocate the patient. Dr. George O. Baxter, Union street, said that when he went into Dr. Kelley's office in response to a hurried call, the patient there was dead and far as he could judge, had died from shock, practically the few of getting into the dentist's chair. He had administered chloroform and knew that more people die from the effect

SWEATING THE MACHINE, NOT THE MAN, IS THE ECONOMIC PRINCIPLE OF BRITISH MANUFACTURER

Lord Leverhulme Justifies the Six Hour Day for Workmen and the Twelve Hour Day for Machinery—This Schedule to be Introduced in All His Factories—Economic Benefit if Machines Wear Out Under Extreme Production.

New York, Nov. 25.—Sweating the machine, not the man, is the economic principle on which Lord Leverhulme, the greatest British manufacturer, justifies the six-hour day for workmen and the twelve-hour day for machinery. This schedule his firm has determined to introduce in its factories in Great Britain, Canada, and elsewhere, hoping thereby to protect its workmen and themselves.

Lord Leverhulme, who arrived today at the Massachusetts on one of his periodical visits to the United States, came to conduct a little missionary work in favor of the introduction in this country of the plan, which, he declares, will prove economically advantageous and profitable in any industry in which the overhead charges for plant and equipments equal or exceed the wage bill.

Describing the main features of the plan as well as of the long and established system of "co-partnership" or profit-sharing in his several soap factories, Lord Leverhulme pointed out that the scheme for hours must not be confounded with a flat six-hour day, but consisted in employing his working forces, men and women, in two shifts, each working on a thirty-six hour week basis, while the machinery is kept going the full twelve hours a day. The plan, he declared, was to get the greatest possible production out of the machinery, the expensive element in soap production, while granting the working forces a shorter day and a greater opportunity for recreation and self-improvement. "We want," he declared, "to wear out our machinery as rapidly as possible, but to conserve our human material. It is an economic benefit if a machine wears out under extreme production, an economic disadvantage if men and women are worn out by long hours. Under the scheme the morning shifts in the Leverhulme factories would work from seven to one six days a week, the afternoon shift working slightly longer hours in order to gain the time for the customary British Saturday half-holiday. His hopes of introducing the plan last summer in his English factories had been defeated by the attitude of some labor unions which feared the effects of increased production, and by existing factory laws in England, but he was confident that the plan would soon be in effect and would justify itself as much as his earlier venture into "co-partnership" had done.

Under this latter scheme, which has been in effect since 1907, every employee twenty-one years of age or over, who has been in the employ of the firm, is eligible to become a co-partner in the firm, his shares of stock in proportion to the amount of his wages, on which dividends slightly less than the ordinary shares, representing invested capital, are paid.

Lord Leverhulme, who has been in close touch with the industrial situation in England during the war, believes that conditions there are steadily improving.

of that oplate than from ether. No matter how careful the attendant in sudden death may occur in some cases. When he had entered the office, Dr. Bonnell and Dr. Kelley were fired out with their efforts to resuscitate the patient. In answer to Dr. Kelley the witness said that if he had been in attendance on the case he would have administered chloroform, the same as had been used.

Dr. Harry Louis Abramson, dominion pathologist, submitted autopsy examination of the deceased in which it was shown that the heart of the patient was enlarged and engorged with a fatty tissue fully a half inch thick; the spleen was enlarged and the kidneys were slightly diseased. The heart trouble he would characterize as chronic. He did not say the death was caused by the administering of anaesthetics, nor could he say that heart failure was the cause. There was a possibility of death by fright.

Dr. John J. Kelley said the deceased man had been a patient of his for several years. The man had been a sufferer from heart and throat trouble. He had administered the chloroform drop by drop, taking fully twenty minutes to give the first 60 drops; the second dose had been seven or eight drops. He and Dr. Bonnell had been feeling the patient's pulse all along. They noticed the stoppage of breath and the man ceased mumbling, which gave the first warning that something was wrong. He attributed the cause of death to shock or a spasm of the larynx. He did not think a hypodermic would have been better than the anaesthetic used.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Dr. Konev charged the jury which after some consideration, returned the verdict as above.

The inquest was held in the City Hall, West St. John.

POWER CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT ALL OF TUESDAY

Question of a Rate Base is the Crucial Point at Issue—Dr. J. B. M. Baxter Argued for the City.

Fredrickton, Nov. 25.—This morning in the Supreme Court Chambers here the Court of Appeal for New Brunswick has been hearing the much contested case between St. John City and the St. John Power Company, referred for adjudication by the Local Legislature.

The regular personnel of the Appeal Bench, Sir D. Hazen and Judges White and Grimmer, compose the appeal tribunal. For the city the counsel engaged are Attorney-General Baxter, K. C. and J. A. Sullivan, the well-known member of the Massachusetts bar, an expert on the law of public utilities and formerly corporation counsel and a member of the finance commission of Boston. Mr. Sullivan was, upon the motion of Mr. Baxter, allowed to appear before the Court and take his seat within the inner bar. The case for the Power Company is in the hands of P. R. Taylor, K. C.

The brief of St. John City refers to the appointment by the legislature of a commission of inquiry and the latter's report that the original cost of the Power Company property was two million eight hundred thousand dollars, the correctness of which finding was disputed, the court being now asked, among other things, to determine whether such findings by the commissioners is justified.

The question of a rate base is the crucial point at issue. The city says it should be on a valuation of $1,748,493. The Power Company claims that it would be nearer right to be upon a valuation of $6,000,000.

Dr. Baxter opened the case for the City of St. John and was followed by Mr. Sullivan, who concluded his argument this afternoon, being followed by Mr. Taylor.

Arguments were not completed when Court rose this afternoon.

Mrs. David Hipwell presided at yesterday's meeting which was held in the Orange Hall. After the singing of the hymn "Sunshine in my Soul," the president read the ninetieth Psalm, Mrs. Hipwell led in prayer, followed by others. A collection was taken for missions.

Mrs. Hipwell reported on the visit paid to the Reconstruction Hospital and said that the patients there were so bright and cheerful that benefit had been felt by the visitors. She advised other members to volunteer for this pleasant duty. Mrs. Ellison and Mrs. Seymour will go next week. Mrs. Taylor thanked the Union for flowers sent to her husband while ill and Miss Burrell sent a grateful message for flowers received during illness. Mrs. James I. Davis gave a most satisfactory report on her work at the General Public Hospital.

Mrs. Harold Acker, Lake Pleasant, N. S., writes: "I have three children, the eldest eight years and the baby ten months old. They all had a bad cough. I knew of quite a few persons who had used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup with good results, so I got three bottles. I am glad I did so, as it is a sure cure for coughs and colds. A home where there are children should never be without it. I highly recommend it to those who need a quick cure."

LEAGUE PROBLEMS.

Generally the tone of British and French papers is one of strong disappointment at the failure of the American Senate to ratify the Peace Treaty. Premier Lloyd George has expressed the view that one of the most pressing problems before the League of Nations is provision for the relief of Europe, where in some districts the people are menaced with starvation, and that without American cooperation an adequate solution of this problem is impossible.

business in. The Club offers to young men an opportunity to serve the interests of the city, and judging by the appearance of the meeting they intend to take advantage of it. Some of the older citizens who have been active in civic movements for a long time past were present, and they also will doubtless be helping in movements which we may gather from the remarks of President Stanley Elkin will be in line with but often outside the scope of the usual activities of the Board of Trade.

THE NATIONAL RAILWAYS.

Mr. Hanna, President of the Canadian National Railways, indulged an optimistic note in his recent address before a meeting of the associated Boards of Trade of Ontario. Having been identified with the Canadian Northern from its inception and seen it grow from a line of a hundred miles to a transcontinental system, calling into being seven hundred towns and cities in Canada, he speaks as a man who has reasons for the faith that is in him.

THE WATERFRONT TROUBLE.

The announcement that the S. S. Metagama has been ordered to Halifax justifies the efforts being made to effect a settlement of the dispute between the Railway and the Railway Freight Handlers over wages. Commissioner Thornton and officials of the Board of Trade yesterday made an effort to bring the parties to the dispute together, with apparently no success, but the attitude of both sides appears to have justified the City Council in inviting a conference at City Hall today.

THE NEW MOVEMENT.

The large and representative gathering at the Board of Trade rooms last evening when the new Commercial Club was officially launched on what promises to be an interesting career is sufficient evidence that the new organization fills a want in the communal life of St. John, and the enthusiasm manifested is assurance that the Club will make something more than a noise in its efforts to make St. John a better place to live in, and to do must begin to work them with no loss of time. Canada's coal assets are largely valuable, growing more so every day. How eagerly they would be utilized, were they to be found in France or Italy! That we can afford any longer to ignore them is the fault of folly.

WHAT THEY SAY

The Only Way. (New York Evening Sun.) Every intelligent leader is trying to rally his people under the unpopular but inevitable standard of hard work. Only by victory under this flag on the world scene sliding down into the putrescence of Bolshevism.

An Overseas Note. (London Chronicle.) The American nation is compounded of English, Scotch, Irish, Germans, Portuguese, Spanish, and the Jews, Poles, Southern Slavs, and many other races.

Education Doesn't Pay. (Nashville Banner.) Forty-four cadets have recently resigned from West Point. The reason given is that there is not enough pay in an officer's career. Which is true. Milk drivers and railroad engineers get as much as majors and colonels.

An Opportunity. (Times-Picayune.) At a time when Trotsky is calling for reinforcements the "Rads" in this country should welcome the opportunity to rush to his aid under the American government's expense via the deportation route.

Not in Accord. (Canton Register.) In renominating Victor Berger for Congressman Milwaukee Socialists have given notice they are not in accord with the Congressional idea of the proper way to conduct the affairs of the nation according to the federal constitution.

FURNITURE. No matter how beautiful a house is, if you took all the furniture out of the inside, nobody would want to live in it. This can be proved by looking at any empty house.

All clocks are ornamental except alarm clocks, but many clocks are not as useful as they use to be on account of having stopped and stay that way. The works of a clock are on the inside, and therefore ignorant people give the face and hands most of the credit. All a clock needs is to be wound up regular and not dropped.

Tables are useful to put things on when you don't know where else to put them. The dining room table would probably be missed the most. After supper many people make the dining room table ornamental by putting a lamp on it, but when you have to study your lessons on it you generally don't appreciate its ornamentalness.

THE NEW COMMERCIAL CLUB HELD OVERCROWDED MEETING

Enthusiastic Gathering of Citizens in Board of Trade Rooms Last Evening—Stanley E. Elkin, M. P. Elected President—Purpose of the Club Outlined—Great Results Expected from Live Wire Organization.

With the hall and anterooms of the Board of Trade building overcrowded, the new Commercial Club got away to a fair start last evening, when a large number of new members enrolled.

The purpose of the club is to get behind every movement to make St. John a better place to live in. During the Victory loan campaign some of them had been down in the mouth at times, but the way St. John had rallied and come over the top had developed a new feeling of confidence in the city and its capabilities.

It augured well for the future of the Club and the city to see so many representative business men present. Everybody felt St. John needed an awakening, a get-together movement.

The older men had done their part for St. John in the past, and were evidently ready to do more in the future. There was plenty of work for young and old to do for St. John. Their task would not be finished this year or the next.

Those who had brought the present movement into being wanted every body to send to the secretary a list of five or six of the things they thought should be done to make St. John a better place to live in.

The club would be non-political. Until it had established itself in the confidence of the community it would avoid contentious questions—subjects about which there might be differences of opinion.

It was decided to hold a banquet at the Victoria Hotel, if it had a new hotel business and commercial men would go away boosters for the city and give the city a good reputation all over the country.

Another thing St. John wanted was a modern office building. You could not find three offices in the city today.

W. S. Allison read the report of the nominating committee, and W. J. Mahoney declared the following officers elected: President—Stanley E. Elkin, M. P.

2nd Vice-President—C. H. Peters. Secretary—T. E. Simpson. Treasurer—W. S. Allison.

Executive Committee, fifteen members—R. D. Patterson, D. W. Ledingham, Ronald A. McAuliffe, W. J. Mahoney, T. P. Drummond, Harold Rising, R. S. Sims, J. A. Tilton, T. P. Regan, J. Firth Britain, L. J. Selden, E. C. Beattie, E. J. Terry, J. A. Grant, Thos. Nagle.

The constitution sets forth the purpose of the club to be the promotion of the commercial and social welfare of St. John, and members are expected to show as much interest in the work of their club as in their private affairs.

R. H. Bruce read the report of the nominating committee, and W. J. Mahoney declared the following officers elected: President—Stanley E. Elkin, M. P.

2nd Vice-President—C. H. Peters. Secretary—T. E. Simpson. Treasurer—W. S. Allison.

Impressive Service in Knox Church

Bronze Mural Tablet Installed to Memory of Late Sergt. Donald MacRae Noble—Service by Rev. Dr. Morrison and Address by Rev. Wm. Lawson.

A very fine bronze mural tablet was installed last evening in Knox Church to the memory of the late Sgt. Donald MacRae Noble, who died at Cambourne, England, May 5th, 1919, while on his way home after four years' service in France.

The inscription on the tablet is as follows: In loving memory of Donald MacRae Noble, Sergeant 2nd Canadian Ammunition Column. Died suddenly at Cambourne, England, May 5th, 1919, while on his way home after four years' service in France. Aged 35 years.

Very solemn and impressive service was held last evening in Knox Church to the memory of the late Sgt. Donald MacRae Noble, who died at Cambourne, England, May 5th, 1919, while on his way home after four years' service in France.

The service was conducted, at the request of the family, by the Reverend John A. Morrison, Ph.D., D. D. Dr. Morrison unveiled the tablet and offered a very beautiful dedicatory prayer.

The address was delivered by Rev. William Lawson, of Keswick, an old friend of the family, to whom the deceased was deeply attached.

Mr. Lawson said, in part: "O! Valiant hearts who to your glory came Through dust of conflict and through battle flame; Tranquil you lie, your knightly virtue proved, Your memory hallowed in the land you loved."

He came with a broken heart, to a loving as well as a stricken heart, to weave with tender hands and entwined my most fragrant wreath of affection from the memory of one beloved one whom from my close relation in the bond of friendship his budding youth called by his familiar name.

His faith in God and the best 'to be' if his life had to be given in the great cause were strong and clear, so when the 'one clear call' came for him to the hill of light and life evermore, he was ready to give up his life for the cause of his King in His Beauty and eternal sunshine, song, peace, and glory.

An interesting entertainment was given by the choir of St. Matthew's church, last evening in aid of the fund for the provision of choir music.

Commissioner Thornton presided, and under the direction of the choir master John Souta, the following programme was given: Solo, Mr. Gray; solo, Miss Cimo; reading, J. L. Robertson; solo, Mrs. Blake Peris; quartette by the Lancaster Ladies' Quartette, composed of Messrs. Murray Long, Brown, Osborne and Timont; solo, Miss Blenda Thompson; singing, Mrs. Horne; solo, Miss Muriel Turner; solo, Clarence Gervis; solo, Mrs. Murray Long; solo, Miss Jessie Farmer and Miss Edith Hutchinson. Refreshments were served.

POPULAR PRESENTATION. William Buchanan, an employee of the C. P. R. freight office, Mill street, was made the recipient of a very pretty upholstered chair and smoking set yesterday by his fellow employees. He is to be married this morning. The presentation was made by D. W. Newcombe.

BUTTON, BUTTON, WHO HAS THE BUTTTON? That's a question that is answered in just one word, and that word is Dykemans'. Or course you have no idea how much Buttons are being used for trimmings this year. No coat looks finished without some attractive buttons to set them off, and for skirts, well, some are showing so many that one can hardly count them, and so when you need buttons to match that piece of cloth, just slip into Dykemans' and if they are in the city, you'll find them there.

By the way, have you seen those pretty waltz now showing in the window? Some of the prettiest styles in Silks and Georgette Crepes you've ever laid eyes on, and at the price they're marked $7.50, they are certainly a wonder. Buy them for a Christmas Gift they are just the thing.

And talk about separate Skirts, Dykemans' brings you the values, no doubt about that. When you can get an all wool skirt made in the newest style in a novelty plaid effect for $9.90, there's no need to look any further. Tomorrow morning there will be some interesting news for you in this space, so don't miss it.
