

LITTLE HOPE OF AVERTING COAL TROUBLE

Lloyd George Approves Stand Taken by Trade Board President.

MINERS NOT LIKELY TO CHANGE PLANS

Government Busy Making Plans to Deal With Strike if it Comes.

London, Sept. 10.—Little hope was held out in official circles today that a solution of the coal crisis would be found in the near future. Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, had a conference with Premier Lloyd George this morning, and it is understood that Mr. Lloyd George expressed entire approval of the manner in which Sir Robert has acted.

It is stated that the Government does not intend to deviate from the terms offered by Sir Robert and that these still remain open to the miners.

Meanwhile, from Portsmouth, where the Trades Union Congress is in progress, comes word that the miners are resolute in their intention not to alter their claims. Active preparations are being made by heads of Government departments to deal with a strike situation should it arise.

Public Still Cheerful.

The public still declines to become inglorious over the coal position. None of the newspapers' comment is unduly bitter or pessimistic. Within a few hours of the close of yesterday's conference between the Board of Trade here and the miners' leaders a verbatim report of the conference was issued to the press from the Government, which seems to show that the Government, though it has nothing to lose by the fullest publicity.

What the Miners Say.

Portsmouth, England, Sept. 10.—The conference at London between Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, and the miners' leaders held in an effort to end the coal crisis was discussed at length here last night by the Miners' delegates to the Trades Union Congress and by a sub-committee of the "Triple Alliance" of Labor.

James Henry Thomas, as president of the congress, stated that the miners had nothing to add to the Government yesterday to the effect that the Government's offer did not change the situation or afford any hope of settlement. In a speech before the National T. Union, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, declared that the miners were fighting the battle of the working classes. "Therefore, in what ever way the test may come the wayward will not be found wanting in loyalty to their comrades."

PLEASED WITH HOSPITALITY OF CANADIANS

Lord Burnham Expresses Gratitude of Press Delegates to Canadian Newspapersmen

Quebec, Sept. 10.—In their recognition of Canada's contribution to Imperial unity and progress, delegates of the Second Imperial Press Conference struck the top note tonight when they expressed their gratitude for Canadian hospitality at the conclusion of a dinner given by the British and Colonial delegations to their confreres in the Chateau Frontenac.

In a lengthy speech, Lord Burnham expressed the gratitude of the British delegates to Canadian newspapersmen for their entertainment of the party in Canada. Chief amongst the presentations of souvenirs to a long list of people connected with the memorable tour came that made to C. F. Crandall, editor of the Montreal Star, who has acted throughout as honorary secretary of the conference. His work of organization and performance in the conduct of the tour was much praised.

G. Fred Pearson, of the Halifax Chronicle, and T. B. Ellis, St. John Globe, were among the names of Canadian newspapersmen which were bracketed as constituting the most active in the aggregation of Canadian publishers, who have contributed to the success of the conference. Lord Burnham, in summing up the feeling of the visitors, hoped that they would be given an opportunity of showing their appreciation of Canadian hospitality when Canadians were visiting other British countries.

The warmest praise was bestowed on the Canadian railways and the Canada steamship lines and their officials for their efficient performances.

JOHN DOUGHTY MAY BE IN EUROPE

Toronto, Sept. 10.—John Doughty, the missing private secretary of Andrew J. Small, the wealthy theatre owner, who disappeared from this city on December 2, last, is believed to be in Europe, and eight thousand circulars, which are now being printed in English, French, Italian and Spanish offering $15,000 reward for his arrest, state that he was charged with theft as well as kidnaping.

Paris, Sept. 10.—The conference of Ambassadors today decided to send a sharp note to Germany protesting against ships bound for Danzig being stopped in the Kiel Canal.

COLLAPSE OF MACSWINEY IS NEAR AT HAND

Prisoner Entering on Last Stage of His Self-Imposed Food Strike.

London, Sept. 10.—Mayor MacSwiney is entering the danger stage of his fast, one of the physicians in Guy's Hospital, a recognized authority on metabolism said. "Observation of previous cases of the same nature has taught that at the end of four weeks abstinence of food, a man begins to draw on his latent reserve of potential energy, so that unless the Lord Mayor resumes eating, any day may bring collapse and the end."

The physicians declared he thought it is extremely unlikely that nourishment in the form of soluble protein was being placed in the prisoner's drinking water, as except in an almost negligible quantity its presence would easily be detected. "The fact that the prisoner is taking water," added the physician, "fortifies him to a considerable degree."

MAJ.-GEN. BENSON, HALIFAX OFFICER, DIES IN VICTORIA

General in Charge of Military District During War and the Explosion.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 10.—Major General Thomas Benson, M. C., who settled in Victoria in 1913, passed away this morning at his home here. The General had a distinguished military career, retiring from the army as General Officer Commanding Military District No. 6, Halifax.

The burden of the war, problems on the Atlantic seaboard and the Halifax explosion were on him considerably, and he came to be held here, where he had been twice seriously on garrison duty. His health was never good, and he had been slowly sinking for some time.

CEMETERIES PLACES OF EXTRAVAGANCE

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 10.—Declaring that cemeteries have evolved from simple resting-places to extravagant shows, and that instead of being places of restfulness and beauty, they were usually places of vulgar and ugly display of monuments, H. B. Dunnington-Grubb, of Toronto, in an address before the International Association of Superintendents of Cemeteries, at the association's conference here yesterday dealt with "landscape gardening in cemeteries."

EVERY HARD COAL MINER WILL STRIKE

Vacation Movement; Leader Says Holidays Will be General in Three Days.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10.—Within three days' time every anthracite miner working will be on vacation, according to leaders of the vacation movement. This action, they say, will be the miners' answer to President Wilson's refusal to reopen the award of the anthracite commission, which failed to satisfy the workers.

Enoch Williams, chairman of the joint grievance committee of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal Company, and also leader of the insurgents in the Scranton district, said that the refusal of President Wilson to reopen the case will result in one of the hardest fought industrial struggles ever waged in the United States.

MONEY BOND COAL IS NOT FOR EUROPE

Railway Board Demands $10,000 Security Before Releasing Inverness Cargo.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—An important case was argued today by the Board of Railway Commissioners, when it released a cargo of 4,500 tons of Inverness coal in the steamship "Lydia" at Port Hastings, N. S., which has been there since August 27.

"On August 27th," says an official statement issued tonight, "the Chairman because of the fact that this cargo was destined for Europe, insisted that the United States port should get around the coal embargo, which does not prohibit the export of coal to the United States. He thereupon wired the collector of customs at Port Hastings to withhold clearance until further orders."

Admits Purchase for Europe
"Finally the owner of the ship came to Ottawa and admitted that the chairman's suspicions were correct and signed a document admitting that when they purchased the cargo it was intended to go to Europe."

"They had deposited $10,000 cash in the Royal Bank of Canada at Ottawa, to be returned to them if they prove to the satisfaction of the board that the coal was sold and delivered to a Canadian port, or to a Newfoundland port, or discharged and consumed in a United States port. Otherwise the $10,000 is to be confiscated by the Government of Canada. This will, it is hoped be the last attempt to export coal by the underground route."

Vessel Not Ashore
Sydney, N. S., Sept. 10.—The American steamer Lydia, released from Port Hastings, where she was laden with 4,500 tons of coal, is now ashore in the Strait of Canso, at Bear Head. The steamer was bound for American ports, where the cargo was to be disposed of. The steamer will have to be lightened before it can be refloated. The shipping department in Sydney tonight was unable to give any definite particulars concerning the vessel's grounding. No assistance will be given until some time late in the morning.

OPEN BREACH IN TEL. RATE FIGHT

Montreal, Sept. 10.—An open breach is apparent in the fight led by the Union of Canadian Municipalities against the proposed increase of rates applied for by the Bell Telephone Company.

At a meeting of the delegates of the Union here today, Chairman E. R. Decarie, of the Montreal Administrative Commission, who presided, declared that Toronto and Hamilton were acting independently of Montreal, this fact being emphasized by a communication from Hon. F. B. Curvell, chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, stating that as there was apparently lack of co-operation of the interests opposing the Telephone Company's proposed tariff it might be well to wait for the sitting of the board on September 21 before ordering an inspection of the company's books.

Chairman Decarie also told the meeting that there had been an active propaganda carried on in Toronto newspapers against Montreal and Montreal experts, and that efforts at conciliation on the part of Montreal had decided to light their own battles.

Toronto opinion is that Montreal more are responsible for the loss in earnings for the week ending September 7, were $3,991,000, an increase of $332,000.

Heavy Snowfalls In Alps Follow Quake; Isolated Villages

Four Persons Reported Killed in Avalanches That Came Down Hills.

Geneva, Sept. 10.—A severe earthquake shook the southern slopes of the Swiss and Italian Alps yesterday from Monte Rosa to Bernina Pass, causing avalanches. The shock was accompanied by heavy snowfalls and several Alpine villages are isolated. Four persons are reported to have been killed and many injured.

Slighter shocks also were reported in the Swiss Alps around Zermatt and Posztina, but there were no casualties.

BUS AND CAR IN SMASH; 35 ARE INJURED

Friday, the Thirteenth Day of Brooklyn Strike, Serious for Many.

New York, Sept. 10.—Today—Friday, and the thirteenth day of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit walkout was marked by the first serious accident since the strike began. Approximately 35 persons were injured, fifteen seriously, when a Coney Island light-rail bus with seventy men, women and children aboard, was in collision with a trolley car at Fifth Avenue and 68th street, Brooklyn. Police reserves and ambulances were called and first aid was rendered accident victims in a vacant lot near by.

A crowd of nearly four thousand collected. The driver of the car as well as the driver of the bus, were held on technical charges.

GENERAL WRANGLER IN GREAT BATTLE

Letts Refuse Pole Order to Withdraw to the Foch Line Now.

London, Sept. 10.—Stubborn fighting is proceeding between Russian Soviet forces and the troops of General Wrangel in the Oriskany region of the Crimean sector, says the official statement issued in Moscow, Thursday, and received here today, by wireless. On the other sections of the front the statement claims successes for the Soviet army.

Poles Advance Lines.
Warsaw, Sept. 9.—The Polish troops have advanced their lines, occupying Koszka, just to the south of Grodno, and five other towns.
A Bolshevik counter-attack was repulsed, and the Poles again advanced, dispersing seven Soviet infantry regiments.
The communique from Polish headquarters in which these operations are reported says there was no change in the Smolki sector.

Letts Refuse to Withdraw.
A note has been received by the Polish foreign office from Lithuania refusing to withdraw the Lithuanian forces to the Foch line, but asking that a conference be held in Mariampol, situated on the demarcation line. At the close of Thursday night's conference of the council of ministers, the secretary of Foreign Minister Sapieha announced that the Poles had replied, demanding withdrawal of the Lithuanians without further discussion. Providing the withdrawal should be effected, the secretary said, a conference would be held with the Lithuanians concerning boundaries, but not otherwise. The Lithuanians, he added, must also guarantee not to be friendly with Germany and Soviet Russia at the expense of Poland.
The Council of Ministers also considered the Ukrainian question Thursday, but no decision was reached.

"BALTIC" NEVER SENT MESSAGES ON MANNIX RUN

So New York Lawyer is Much Annoyed and Will Ask An Explanation.

New York, Sept. 10.—Assistant District Attorney Alexander I. Roke, who returned from Europe today on the steamer "Adriatic," said he intended to take up with Secretary of State Coby the refusal of the British Government to permit him to go to Ireland. Mr. Roke sailed on the Baltic at the same time as Archbishop Mannix, and said he had planned to go to Ireland to meet his wife and mother in law prior to a tour of Ireland, Belgium and France with them.

A number of citizens of the United States, he said, were put to much inconvenience because the liner was diverted to Liverpool and not permitted to touch Queenstown, the port to which they had booked.

Messages Not Sent
When he learned of this change, Mr. Roke said he filed and paid for two wireless messages, one to the representative of a New York newspaper at London, and the other to Mr. Davis, United States Ambassador to Great Britain. The next day the money was returned, he said, and he was told the messages could not be sent. A message to his wife, however, was sent. The messages refused told of the inconvenience to which he and other citizens of the United States were put, he explained.

The big exhibition will come to a close tonight, all exhibits will be in place, and Manager Charles Robinson states that the programme will be conducted today and tonight just the same as has been the order during the previous days. Nothing will be cut and those attending this, the final day, will witness everything as on the programme since the opening on last Saturday.

It has proved a strenuous time for the officials of the mammoth show, but the attendance and the congratulatory remarks passed by all the attendants is received with gratification by all those of the association who have worked so hard to make the exhibition the great success that it is.

The Attendance.

The total number of paid admissions yesterday was 10,531, making a total attendance for the six days 71,000 in comparison to 59,200 for the first six days of the exhibition held in 1914.

The total attendance of paid admission in 1914 was 59,200 and yesterday's total brings the attendance to date for six days at 71,000, which is 11,800 of an increase with one more day to come.

It is a good show that has pleased every attendant and the hard work accomplished by Manager Robinson and Secretary Porter has surely given good results.

Poultry Exhibition.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the fair, and which cannot afford to miss, is that of the N. B. Department of Agriculture in the Agricultural Hall. Here two good types of incubators are on display, along with the best types of very packages and packages for live chicks. There is also on display a good type of colony house. In this house some fifty odd five-day old chicks will be found. These chicks were hatched out in one of the incubators on display Monday morning, and are now cared for with the aid of a portable heater, kerosene heated. A small model of the Tolman poultry house is also included in the exhibit. A small flock of splendid Barred Rocks occupy the Tolman house.

Horticultural Exhibit.

Next to the poultry display, the attractive exhibit of the Horticultural Division of the N. B. Department of Agriculture is found. The display consists of two large stands of boxed New Brunswick apples and some very attractively arranged baskets and barrels of New Brunswick and Crimson Beauties. The Crimson Beauties were grown at Springhill, N. B., and the New Brunswick apples are of Mr. J. W. Clark's growing at Margaree. The space at the back wall is very attractively decorated with photographs of some of the Apple Shows and departmental displays of former years and various New Brunswick fruit farms.

Bee-Keeping Exhibit.

The N. B. Dept. of Agriculture Bee-keeping Division, also has a very attractive exhibit. There honey and honey packages are very attractively

MANITOBA TO APPEAL HIGHER FREIGHT RATE

Winnipeg Board of Trade to Join Government in Action.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 10—Manitoba has taken definite action in the protest against the increased freight rates. After hearing expressions from all sections of the community against the award of the railway commission, the provincial government of Manitoba has decided to appeal against the increase. This morning Premier T. C. Norris wired Premier McLaughlin, asking that the operation of the increased freight charges be deferred until after the hearing of the appeal. The Manitoba Premier asked that a reply be sent immediately.

H. J. Symington, counsel for the province of Manitoba, will conduct the appeal. This morning the Winnipeg Board of Trade decided to join with the provincial government in its appeal against the increase.

VACCINATED AT THE FREE CLINIC

Ten children were vaccinated at the free clinic during the past week bringing the number vaccinated this year to approximately 300. Dr. Mabel Hanington was of the opinion yesterday that this practically completes the number of city children to be vaccinated, because the holiday and the fair has brought all the children in from the country. There will probably be a few strays tripping in during the month requiring vaccination. These are usually children of families who come into the city for the winter past season. In the case of these children only those who have been grade 1 before will be admitted to the schools. No new scholars will be admitted, as this procedure has been found to disrupt the class work already begun.

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVAL SERVICE Naval Prize Fund

1. Prize Money to members of the Canadian Naval Service is now available for distribution to those who are entitled under the Prize Proclamation of the 10th February, 1919. The amount of one full share earned by thirty months' sea service is 50 Shillings.

2. The minimum Sea Service required to participate in the distribution is one month, and it will greatly assist the distribution if none but those having the necessary qualifications apply.

3. The conditions for participation are briefly as follows:—Qualifying service is that rendered in an offensively armed sea-going ship of war or on a patrol flight duty over the sea for a minimum period of one month between the 4th of August, 1914, and 11th of November, 1918. (N. B. Examination and Boom Defence Service and Service in Transport Hospital Ships and Auxiliary and other vessels armed for defence only does not qualify. The qualifications for full rates is thirty months of such service, the rate for lesser periods being reduced proportionately. In the case of those who were killed in action or otherwise whilst on service, or who died or were invalided as the result of injuries received on service at sea, or who, having at least ten months' qualifying service, died or were invalided on account of disease attributable to sea service, their possible qualifying time is considered as having extended to the 11th of November, 1918.

4. Only Naval Officers and Men who served in R. C. N. or R. N. C. V. R. should apply to the Chief Accountant, Department of the Naval Service, Ottawa.

5. All claims should be in writing signed by the actual claimant and accompanied by Certificates of Service or Discharge, or failing those, other evidence of identity—personal application at the Department of the Naval Service is unnecessary.

6. In the case of Officers and Men with combined Service in the R. N. and R. C. N., the method of distribution of Prize Money to them is not as yet definitely settled with the Admiralty and they are requested to await a further press notice giving instructions as to applying and to whom.

7. No assignments of Prize Money can be recognized.

8. The foregoing applies only to those with service in the Canadian Naval Service. Members of the R. N. M., R. N. V. R. and Mercantile Marine, serving under Naval Engagements, should apply to the Accountant-General (the Navy Prize Branch), Cornwall House, Stamford Street, London, S. E. 1, England.

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVAL SERVICE Naval Prize Fund

1. Prize Money to members of the Canadian Naval Service is now available for distribution to those who are entitled under the Prize Proclamation of the 10th February, 1919. The amount of one full share earned by thirty months' sea service is 50 Shillings.

2. The minimum Sea Service required to participate in the distribution is one month, and it will greatly assist the distribution if none but those having the necessary qualifications apply.

3. The conditions for participation are briefly as follows:—Qualifying service is that rendered in an offensively armed sea-going ship of war or on a patrol flight duty over the sea for a minimum period of one month between the 4th of August, 1914, and 11th of November, 1918. (N. B. Examination and Boom Defence Service and Service in Transport Hospital Ships and Auxiliary and other vessels armed for defence only does not qualify. The qualifications for full rates is thirty months of such service, the rate for lesser periods being reduced proportionately. In the case of those who were killed in action or otherwise whilst on service, or who died or were invalided as the result of injuries received on service at sea, or who, having at least ten months' qualifying service, died or were invalided on account of disease attributable to sea service, their possible qualifying time is considered as having extended to the 11th of November, 1918.

4. Only Naval Officers and Men who served in R. C. N. or R. N. C. V. R. should apply to the Chief Accountant, Department of the Naval Service, Ottawa.

5. All claims should be in writing signed by the actual claimant and accompanied by Certificates of Service or Discharge, or failing those, other evidence of identity—personal application at the Department of the Naval Service is unnecessary.

6. In the case of Officers and Men with combined Service in the R. N. and R. C. N., the method of distribution of Prize Money to them is not as yet definitely settled with the Admiralty and they are requested to await a further press notice giving instructions as to applying and to whom.

7. No assignments of Prize Money can be recognized.

8. The foregoing applies only to those with service in the Canadian Naval Service. Members of the R. N. M., R. N. V. R. and Mercantile Marine, serving under Naval Engagements, should apply to the Accountant-General (the Navy Prize Branch), Cornwall House, Stamford Street, London, S. E. 1, England.

Members of the Royal Naval Reserve should apply to their Registrars, R. N. R.

9. Applications will be dealt with as rapidly as possible, but in view of the great number of payments to be made, cheques are not to be expected before three weeks after applications have been received in office. No further enquiries will be answered until all payments are despatched.

LLOYD GEORGE, WHENCE COMES HIS DOMINATION?

English Newspaper Man Discusses Personality of the Premier.

IS APPROACHABLE BY ANY PERSON

At His Best When With His Back to the Wall Fighting for Political Life.

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

By ALBERT E. CAVE.

(Character sketch of David Lloyd George, British Premier, written for Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service, by one of England's most prominent newspaper men. Mr. Cave has been in close touch with Mr. Lloyd George for the past fifteen years, and has had unequalled opportunities for studying the fascinating personality of Britain's leading statesman.)

London, Sept. 3.—At one of the vital crises of the war Lloyd George made a speech in Paris which caused a sensation throughout Europe, consideration amongst a section of the British Cabinet, and bitter condemnation from his critics in the House of Commons. It was a speech which might have been made by a Prime Minister deliberately riding for a fall.

After making that speech, Lloyd George returned to England and went down to the House without appreciable delay. During the first ten minutes of his defence, he was listened to in chilling silence; during the second ten minutes he aroused an occasional "hear, hear" and sometimes a suggestion—never more than a suggestion—of applause; at the end of the third ten minutes the House was aroused in enthusiasm. When he sat down the British House of Commons went mad. Members stood upon the historic green benches waving anything they could lay their hands on, cheering themselves hoarse. The scene lasted seven minutes, and the House had not fully recovered its normal composure when it resumed its deliberations the following day.

How did he do it? What is the secret of the remarkable domination which the Prime Minister is able to wield over the British people?

Not Great Orator.

Lloyd George is not an orator in the sense that John Bright and Charles Bradlaugh were orators. Gladstone towered above him in intellectual capacity. Asquith and Balfour are his greater Parliamentarians. Upon ordinary issues even Balfour, with his Scotch shrewdness, sense of humor, and directness of attack, has not succeeded where the Prime Minister succeeds only suspiciously and after. But upon great occasions, with his back to the wall, Lloyd George is a sight for Gods and men.

A good many years ago I used to attend regularly the sittings of the London County Council, in the early days when the Progressive party waged a holy crusade against the squalor and social inequalities of the Empire's capital city. John Burns was then, as he is now, an intimate personal friend. One day Burns called me down to introduce me to a distinguished American visitor in the person of William Jennings Bryan. I met Bryan and couldn't get away from him. He held me like a magnet. His personality was overpowering, and all compelling. I couldn't get away from William Jennings Bryan.

Can't Get Away From Him. And you can't get away from Lloyd George. You couldn't get away from Charles Bradlaugh. You can get away, quite easily, from Asquith, and Balfour, and Bonar Law. Even Gladstone did not compel you all the time. I suppose there were never two men whose views upon the fundamental things of life and death were more dissimilar than those of Lloyd George and Charles Bradlaugh. Yet Lloyd George emanates that indefinable something which can only be expressed in a trite phrase such as "the force of magnetic personality," just as Charles Bradlaugh did, and as, from my experience, William Jennings Bryan does.

Lloyd George is the most approachable man I know. In the privacy of his own room, either at Downing street or the House of Commons, he talks to you as though you were the man whose views he wishes to as-

Tell Your Friends About Nicotol—The Enemy of Tobacco

It improves any man's health to quit tobacco if he can escape the awful craving that usually attends quitting without such assistance as Nicotol gives. Did you ever have Smoker's cough? Try Nicotol in getting rid of the tobacco habit and see how quickly the cough will disappear. Nicotol is dispensed by most good druggists in this city.

certain, and respect, above all others. He talks to an audience in exactly the same way. In a great gathering of thousands, every individual man feels that the British Prime Minister is appealing to him. His language is terse and simple, and his sentences are short, but seldom jerky. If a man in the audience interrupts him he answers him back and he usually scores, but is never drawn away from the point he is seeking to establish. Of the things that go to make up Lloyd George's personality, a generous measure of mysticism is one. Love of rugged nature is another. His smiles are of mountains, valleys, rivers, streams, and the sun breaking through the clouds. He is a passionate patriot of his native Wales. He is fond of music, can sing, and likes to be sung to. Not long ago it was credibly reported that vocal selections by the "Brothers Geddes" were amongst the relaxations that pleased him most.

No Use for Tradition.

For tradition, precedent, and custom the British Prime Minister has no use. When John Burns became President of the Local Government Board, he disgusted the porter at his office door by allowing the entrance to visitors wearing other head gear than silk hats. Lloyd George's government is, with a few aristocratic exceptions, a government of "soft felt." The working men of England were gratified beyond measure when their Prime Minister left London for Spa, to settle the affairs of Europe, smoking a briar pipe filled with quite ordinary tobacco.

He is "one of us."

He is.

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all. Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada. Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer" Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monach, Germany. It is well known that Aspirin men in Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

HERE'S HEALTH FOR ALL! PHOSPHONOL

Don't waste your time trying to cure a chronic ailment by inferior drugs. Such complaints as lack of vigour, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, and stomach trouble, are due to weakened condition of the nerves. Weak nerves lead to all sorts of functional disorders. Without a plentiful supply of Nerve Force the power of every organ to perform its function is diminished or impaired. Lacking Nerve Force, all the functions being imperfectly performed, there begins a state of anarchy in the body, even the brain becomes affected, resulting in Insomnia, Brain Fag, and other Mental and Nerve Troubles. Scientists have proclaimed Phosphonol to be the quickest and surest Remedy to stiffen the nerves, and to produce Grey Matter. Phosphonol will restore Strength, Vigour, and Ambition. It goes at once to the weakened spot, and fortifies the organ, and restores it to Health. Your body needs new strength and Vitality, and that you must have to perform your duty in the world.

Phosphonol will restore Strength and Vitality and every weak and sluggish organ of your body. The blood courses through your veins with renewed Vigour. The Glow of health returns to your face, and you will feel the thrill of new life that comes with increased vitality and nerve power. Take opportunity by the forelock, get a box of Phosphonol from your Chemist today. The whole nervous system responds quickly and sympathetically, and immediately almost all the functions of the body begin to be performed healthfully and easily, and with their natural vigour. Be a Man of Nerve. Possess the Vigour of youth, it is within your grasp. Hundreds have benefited, by taking Phosphonol. You also will be, if you are fortunate enough to use it. Phosphonol is not in its experimental stage, having been made and sold for twenty years. If your Chemist hasn't got Phosphonol in stock, ask him to get it for you, or we will mail it to you by return of mail. Price $3.00 per box or 3 boxes for $5.00. Send postal note or registered mail. The Scobell Drug Co., 91 Youville Square, Montreal, Canada.

If your nerves are weak, your digestion poor, your liver sluggish, if you have rheumatism, if you are easily tired and depressed, if you lack confidence or will power, get Phosphonol and watch its result. Sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Co., Ltd., 100 King St.

GIFT WARSHIPS TO GO ON TOUR OF ST. LAWRENCE

Vessels Will Call at Halifax But May Not Come to St. John.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Canadian people are to be given early opportunity to see the war vessels presented by the British admiralty to the dominion—the cruiser Aurora and the destroyers Patriot and Patricia.

The fighting ships, as was announced some time ago, will leave for Halifax early in October, and are expected to arrive some time between October 15 and the end of the month. It has been decided that the little fleet will not be at once put into commission, but after a brief stay at Halifax the vessels will proceed up the St. Lawrence to Quebec, Trois Rivières and Montreal, and at these ports it is anticipated that they will receive a warm welcome.

After the visit to the St. Lawrence ports, the war vessels will be assigned to their regular duties, which will include the training of officers and men for the larger Canadian navy, which will come into existence later on. The officers in command and the other officers of the two destroyers are all Canadians.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. W. J. PLOMLEY

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—W. J. PloMLEY, Deputy Provincial Treasurer, died suddenly today. He had been ill about one week. He had been Deputy Provincial Treasurer for more than thirty-three years. He was born near Smithville, Ont., in 1859, and is survived by three sons.

STRUCK GAS AT PETERBORO Peterborough, Ont., Sept. 10.—While boring for a well in the main street of Lakelield last evening, the drill struck a pocket of gas forty-seven feet below the surface. Drilling operations were resumed today in the hope of striking a larger quantity of gas.

MANY SAILORS ARE DESERTING

Eight Men Reported to Have Left S.S. Chignecto and Three Deserted Bark at Alma

From reports received there appears to be a desertion epidemic in a number of the maritime province ports. Eight members of the R. M. S. P. liner Chignecto, recently in port have deserted the ship.

The sailors of the barque Inverclyde deserted at Alma, Albert county, and Captain Nyross, who is in command of the vessel, was obliged to get men to fill the places of deserters. The sailing of the barque was delayed until last Tuesday, when she was towed down to the mouth of the bay by the steamer Skidnum.

As far as can be learned few, if any, sailors are running away from the vessels in St. John.

PAUL'S BIRTHPLACE BESIEGED BY TURKS

Constantinople, Sept. 10.—Tarsus the birthplace of St. Paul, which is located about twenty miles southwest of Adana, is being besieged by the Turks and the French garrison, and the 25,000 inhabitants of the place are short of food, according to a letter received here from Prof. Paul Nilson, who is in charge of St. Paul's Institute there. The Turks are fighting from the shelter of fig and orange groves on the plain surrounding the city, relying on their rifle fire to hold the French garrison within the walls.

MEIGHEN IN SHERBROOKE, SEPT. 21ST.

Advertisement for Empire Feeds: It Pays to Feed Empire Feeds! Cattlemen, farmers and dairymen have learned that it is profitable to buy stock feeds by proteins and that the feed containing the proper amount of proteins is the feed that brings results. Another consideration steps in, however, and that is, that beyond a certain point, protein ingredients may be present in too great quantity for the animal to use, and there is waste.

Advertisement for Empire Feeds: EMPIRE FEEDS are rightly balanced. Empire Dairy and Hog Feeds contain not less than 16% proteins (guaranteed), which will be used for the nourishment of the animal, without waste. We aim to put up feeds that will pay the user. Only good sound grains and other ingredients are used, and certainly no filler or other useless stuff will ever enter into EMPIRE FEEDS. Try a quantity for a fair testing time. We will abide by the resulting improvement in your stock. Ask your dealer for the honest feeds—EMPIRE BRANDS. "Costs More, but—It's Worth More."

What Republicans Offer In Place of the League

Senator Harding's mention of putting "teeth" in his proposed reconstructed Hague Tribunal evokes only jeers from the Democratic friends of the League of Nations. "Political dentists," observes the New York World (Dem.) "will tell him that without a League only false teeth are possible now," and the Richmond Journal's (Dem.) title for an editorial on the subject is "Harding's False-Teeth Proposal." On the other hand prominent Republican newspapers are enthusiastically over the Republican candidate's plan, the New York Tribune declaring that while the Harding program "promises no millennium, it is definite and affirmative, whereas the Cox program is vague and negative."

So that the public may more fully understand just what is offered by both parties, THE LITERARY DIGEST in its issue of September 11th, publishes an enlightening article, drawn from editorial statements by American newspapers, comprehensive, unbiased, and deeply interesting. Read it and you will be able to vote more intelligently at the coming election.

Accident At Machias Track

Special to The Standard. Bangor, Me., Sept. 10.—Two races were on the card of the Washington County Fair today and both good. In the second heat of the 2 1/4 class Rightaway, a pacer of the Worthen and Richardson stables of St. Albans, who had finished third in the first heat, was gathering for a dash at the three quarter pole when he stumbled and fell throwing Dana Worthen, his driver, over his head. Worthen was not injured, but the horse's shoulder was broken and he had to be killed. Rightaway was by Mexican Chief and had won every start this year including the Bangor and Waterville fairs, had a mark of 2:15 3/4, made at Bangor, and was valued at more than $2,000.

Position of League Leaders Unchanged

Dodgers Imbued With a Fighting Spirit That Will Stand Them Well in Close Fight.

New York, Sept. 10.—The major league pennant chasers underwent no change of position today for the first time this week. The Brooklyn National League leaders gained three points on Cincinnati and New York, both of which did not play, while the New York Americans obtained revenge on the Cleveland leaders for yesterday's defeat. The Indians have no game advantage over Chicago, which won from Boston, and are only three percentage points ahead of the White Sox. The Yankees are eight points behind Cleveland, and if they win the odd game of the series tomorrow they will possess a half-game advantage on the Indians, but by a freak of figures will be one point behind them. The ability of the Brooklyn Nationals to come through with a four-run rally in the eleventh inning today to win from St. Louis, after tying the Westerners in the ninth, shows that the Dodgers are imbued with a fighting spirit that will stand them well in the close race. Brooklyn's fourth straight victory put them a full game, or four points, ahead of Cincinnati, and three games, or 22 points ahead of New York.

Touz And Roy Volo In Royal Battle

Racing of Quality Pulled off at Moosepath Race Track Yesterday.

The two days' rain which caused postponement of the races at Moosepath initiated against the good of the game in this city. Yesterday was the first day the track was in shape for racing since Monday. Horses that were to have started in the final days' programme were obliged to move out of St. John Thursday night in order to meet engagements at other places, and, as a result, there were not as many starters in yesterday's events as there otherwise would have been. The racing Friday was racing of quality, however, and those present witnessed classy "goes" in the two events scheduled. The Pros for All was a battle royal between Touz, owned and driven by S. E. Rice, St. John and Roy Volo, owned and driven by Bert Lint, Fredericton. The 2:23 trot went five heats and was contested all the way. Native Worthy, with Brickley driving won the first two circuits with Finisher, Ryan up, close at the finish tape. In the next three heats the Finisher settled down and acted well showing great bursts of speed which carried him through for first money. Summary:

FREDERICTON TEAM PLAY HERE TODAY

Afternoon and Evening Games With St. Peters Will Be Contested.

The Fredericton baseball team will be here this afternoon for two games with the St. Peter's, playing exhibitions in the afternoon and evening. The Green shirts will have their strongest line up on hand, while the visitors have a good "rep," so the fans should witness an excellent brand of baseball. Some of the games this season have marred by unnecessary disputes and letting of umpires by certain play control of the games, and if they properly exercised their power and brook exercised their power from the field captain, they would find themselves better off. They wouldn't then be getting into deep water with not only the players but also with the public.

WORTHY CHIEF WINS COLT RACE

SPORT—WORTHY CHIEF—Hartford, Conn., Sept. 10.—The colt race, unfinished at Thursday's Grand Circuit meeting, was declared complete by the judges with Worthy Chief, Crossman driving, the winner, Jane the Great, Cox, was second and Sister Bertha, Serrill, third. Each of the colts had won a heat Thursday.

MISS TORONTO II WON GOLD TROPHY

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Miss Toronto II, won the Canadian international gold challenge trophy on the exhibition course here yesterday, when she bested Helma II in the final heat for the trophy. Although rough weather prevailed, Miss Toronto finished the thirty miles in 49:21. day—J. T. Day, Owen Sound, 65. Putting 18 holes, second day—C. A. Bozart, Toronto; second, F. H. Kilburn, Owen Sound.

HIT BY AN AUTOMOBILE

Allan Mitchell, a twelve year old Hampton lad, was knocked down and run over by an automobile about 11 o'clock last night in Hampton. He sustained injuries as well as several bruises to his body. The victim of the accident was rushed in an auto to the General Public Hospital in this city. His condition is quite serious.

Ruth Hit His 48th

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 10.—"Babe" Ruth hit his 48th home run of the season in the first inning of the second game of the New York-Cleveland series here today, driving in Pipp ahead of him. The ball sailed over the right field wall.

Americans Won From Canadians

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Duck of Devonshire trophy, presented for annual competition between the teams of the Senior Golf Associations of Canada and the United States, goes back to the American side for another year. In the match between Canada and the United States played at the Royal Ottawa Course this afternoon, the American team won by a score of 29 to 15.

The Americans won nine of the 17 games, while the Canadians took seven, one being halved.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF CANADA AND U. S.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—President Hickey, of the American Association, today completed arrangements for a post-season series of games between the St. Paul Club, pennant winners of the American Association race, and the flag-winning club of the International League, which probably will be either Toronto or Baltimore. The series will open in International League territory October 5, and after four games have been played, the clubs will return to St. Paul for the final contests. The club winning the series must take five of nine games. The series, President Hickey said, will be for the minor league championship of Canada and the United States.

In 4 Trips Across America Essex 4 Times Breaks Record

Carrying U. S. Mail Between San Francisco and New York It Sets a Mark for Consistency of Performance and Reliability Never Equalled by Any Travelling Machine.

The first test of an automobile carrying U. S. Mail across the American continent was made with the light weight, moderate priced Essex. And it resulted in establishing the Essex as holder of the trans-continental record both ways.

The performance while of momentous importance in the world of speed and automobile sportsmanship—is of greater value to the motorist. For it removes all doubt about the reliability of light weight in the most difficult and hardest road service.

Records Prove What Owners Know
Ocean to ocean automobile travel has not become so common as not to be of interest to all motorists regardless of the time required in making the trip.

Doesn't It Prove What You Want?
But Essex reveals how those costly car qualities are a part also of its advantages.

WHERE IS MR. KING?

Having deliberately forced an election upon the constituency, it would seem to most people that the least that the Hon. Mackenzie King could do would be to come down here and do something to help the man who has been elected to be made the goal for him. Mr. King, however, has taken good care to be otherwise engaged. He has been busy, and unless he suddenly changes his plans, St. John's elect will see him not during the campaign.

period, the Government escaped without a single challenge regarding the manner of their spending. The business of the country has been well managed, and the Government is sincerely anxious to reduce expenditures when and where possible.

A Dominion revenue ample enough to cover expenditures this year may be open to reduction next year, when war expenditures should be less. But it would be good financial policy to adopt the British method of utilizing the period of high prices to get in sums to be devoted to debt reduction. Unless we keep pace with other nations in this, our present advantage of a smaller debt, per capita, may disappear, especially if imports continue to exceed our exports.

RUSSIA CLIMBING DOWN?

The incidents of the last week or two rather indicate that Soviet Russia has begun to climb down—as the result, however, not of argument and remonstrance, but of force applied to it on the battlefield. In the reply it has sent to the joint message of Great Britain and Italy from Lucerne, Moscow offers, as a "concession" in the Russian terms of peace the "civic militia" proposal, which it is still contending, was of itself of the nature of a "concession to Poland."

The assumption is made by the Soviet Government, and is repeated by M. Kameneff in transmitting the message to Mr. Balfour, that all difficulties have thereby been cleared away, and now there remains "no obstacle to the resumption of negotiations for the establishment of normal commercial and political relations between Russia and Great Britain." From being dilatory and evasive, the Russian diplomatists have suddenly shown a disposition for haste, and, among other things, haste in jumping to conclusions. There can be no doubt that the desire thus revealed to hurry on peace is due to the change in the military situation. But the facts of the political situation have also altered materially since Russia chose to reject the Allied proposal for a truce during negotiations; and Moscow can not really expect that it can pick up the thread of discussion exactly where it was broken off.

It is not the least use to send him them. Mr. Wigmore can get them, and the people know it, and that he will get them they also know equally well. For that reason they will see to it that Dr. Emery remains quietly at home.

A LARGE DOMINION REVENUE.

Estimates from Ottawa predict that the luxury and sales taxes will add sufficient to the Dominion revenue to give an income of $600,000,000. This sum would undoubtedly be sufficient to meet all costs of Government for 1920-21, and perhaps leave a surplus for debt reduction. The promise of the Premier Minister, later reaffirmed by Premier Meighen, that the Government intends to pay its way, is in a fair way of fulfillment. The Prime Minister declared, in his speech at Stirling that part of his Government's policy is to wipe out any tax that is not absolutely necessary, and it may be that if the sales and luxury taxes are so productive, some amelioration may be allowed in other taxes.

The drop in refiners' price of sugar in New York to 15 cents indicates fairly well that the bottom is really out of the American sugar market. This great decline means that the Canadian refiners cannot long maintain the 22-cent price, at which they "stabilize" the price of sugar. According to trade statistics at Ottawa, during the four months ending on July 21, sugar imports amount to 384,960,000 pounds of raws, valued at $37,435,000, or an average of 9.74 cents a pound. This was sugar bought after last December, but apparently, as statistics to the end of March, 1920, show that 1,081,900,000 pounds were imported into Canada, at a valuation of $68,343,000, or an average of 6.32 cents. Now if the sugar imported up to the end of July cost the refiners only 9.74 cents, how is it that the 22-cent price can be fixed on account of the high cost of recently brought sugar? The drop in sugar began early in August, and the refiners have probably not made new contracts on the high price basis since then. The trade figures show that about 7 cents a pound is allowed as the spread on the refiners' cost, the wholesale and retail charges, in moving sugar to the consumer. If the refiners bought at 10 cents, sugar should be retailing now at less than 29 cents. The exports show a value of about 17 cents a pound. If the American refinery costs of raw sugar are on a par with the Canadian, the 15-cent level in New York is no more than a generous selling basis. The officials of the Board of Commerce who went to Montreal and reported a decrease of two cents a pound should have been in a position to state to the public the quantities of raw and refined sugars on hand, their cost, and a fair selling price. The drop of two cents does not at all indicate what the real situation is.

In Maine, where there is a state election next Monday, the people are being told that Canada is to send an army to help Poland. The idea of the report is that it will turn the voters against the idea of the United States becoming a member of the League of Nations and being made liable for like costly and unprofitable enterprises. The people of the United States next November will give their judgment on the League of Nations issue, and will be effective. Judging by this Maine story, it may not be based on the best grounds.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The Meighen Tariff Policy.
 (Vancouver World.)

Where the Meighen Government stands in relation to the tariff has been put tersely and squarely by the premier himself. The tariff will be maintained for revenue but it will fulfil a further function as well. In the Premier's own language, "the policy of the Government is to give Canadian industries of every kind just enough advantage in the Canadian market as to make it pay better to stay here and expand them to diminish their plants or leave."

This is a fairly good definition of what most people understand by a "scientific tariff." It is not a tariff designed to make fortunes for the capitalists, or to give them opportunities of collaring markets wherein the public must buy or go without. It is a tariff intended to produce revenue and at the same time to maintain industry against foreign competition which otherwise would strangle it. It is protection, of course, but it is "scientific" protection designed not for class benefit but for the general advantage. On much the same lines was Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's tariff reform policy for Great Britain conceived—with the addition of the Imperial preference element.

The Premier lays stress on a tariff effect which probably be seen in the investigation which the Borden Government instituted but failed to carry out. If this investigation be directed towards suggesting changes in the tariff on the basis of the policy the Premier has outlined its results should prove outstandingly valuable. "To provide revenue, to safeguard industry," is not a bad tariff slogan.

A Profiteer's Punishment.

(Philadelphia Record.)
 We Americans pride ourselves upon our superior sense of humor, but France appears to have the advantage of us. In Paris they have recently employed that saving grace in the most grotesque of saving ways. Instead of putting profiteers in irons, they have brought iron to bear upon them. A certain graffer, convicted of extortion, was fined 50,000 francs, and compelled, in addition, to walk at his own expense in all the Paris newspapers, three times a month for six months, the text of the judge's decision. The advertisements, presumably, are still running, and so, from his accounts, is the culprit. All Paris laughed him out of the city.

A BIT OF VERSE

"IN THE COOL OF THE EVENING."
 Alfred Noyes.
 In the cool of the evening, when the low sweet whistles waken,
 When the laborers turn their homeward, and the weary have their will,
 When the censers of the roses o'er the forest isles are shaken,
 Is it but the wind that cometh o'er the far green hill?
 For they say 'tis but the sunset winds that wander through the heather,
 Rustle all the meadow grass and bend the dewy fern;
 They say 'tis but the winds that bow the reeds to prayer together,
 And fill the shaken pods with fire along the shadowy burn.
 In the beauty of the twilight, in the Garden that he loveth,
 They have veiled His lovely vesture with the darkness of a name,
 Through His Garden, through His Garden, it is but the wind that moveth.
 No more! But O the miracle, the miracle is the same.

Political Points.
 "And whom did you vote for, Miss Sophy?"
 "Well, you see, the Republican was simply stunningly good-looking. But the Democrat had always been perfectly splendid to my family, so I marked both ballots, closed my eyes, shuffled them, put one in the box and tore up the other. Nothing could be fairer than that."—Life.

A Real Difference.
 "Mamma," asked seven-year-old Charles, "do you see the difference between high church and low church?"
 "I know," exclaimed his little five-year-old sister.
 "Well, what's the difference?" asked their mother.
 "One says 'Amen,' and the other says 'Amen,'" she replied.

Do It Well.
 "Friend Melby, I am pleased that thou hast got such a fine organ in thy church."
 "But," said the clergyman, "I thought you were strongly opposed to having an organ in a church."
 "So I am," said Friend Obadiah, "but then if thou wilt worship the Lord by

BY LEE PAPE

I went in the house this afternoon and some lady was in the parlor talking to ma, me thinking, Heck, company. And ma called me in, saying, Benny, this lady was your nurse when you were a little baby. You don't remember her, do you?
 No mam, I sed. Wich I didnt. Being a exter fat lady, saying. So this is dear little Benny my sweet baby. And wat did she do but quick lean over and give me a farse kiss rite in the face before I could dodge. Me wiping it off with my hand thinking Heck, darn it.
 Well, well, my darling little baby, and how is the adorable little dimple rite in the middle of your back that I use to love to kiss? sed the fat lady.
 Me jest standing there feeling shocked, and the fat lady sed, O, dont tell me it izent there any more?
 I bleeve he still has it, sed ma, and the fat lady sed, O, I shall never die happy till I kiss that dimple once agen.
 Wich I started to feel nerviss as anything, thinking, Heck, jimminy crickets, good nite.
 Well maybe Benny will be kind enuff to let you kiss it jest for old time sake, will you, Benny? sed ma.
 No sir, no mam, I will not, no sir, wats you think I am, I should say not, G wizz, heck, I sed.
 Benny, is that gentlemanly? sed ma.
 Suteh an outbrake, sed the fat lady.
 Well holey smokes, gosh, leed. And I went out agen quick so she wouldnt get a chance to try to do it by force.

WEDDINGS.

Deiver-Hazlewood.
Special to The Standard.
Moncton, N. B., Sept. 9.—The marriage of Douglas P. Deiver of this city, formerly of Chatham, N. B., to Miss Transvaleta Hazlewood, of St. John, took place last evening at the Central Methodist parsonage, Rev. W. H. Barracough officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Myrtle Deiver which the groom was supported by Percy S. Wiseman. After a wedding trip to St. John Mr. and Mrs. Deiver will reside in Moncton.

Burns-Baker.
Moncton, Sept. 9.—Miss Gertrude Eleanor Baker, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Baker of this city, was married on the sixth inst at Lowell, Mass., to John Edward Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Burns will reside in Lowell.

Linder-Wilson.
A very pretty wedding event, which was attended by a large gathering of guests, took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Argyle, Carleton Co., on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 7th, when Miss Catherine J. Wilson was united in marriage to Mr. Raymond M. Linder of Knowltonville, N. B. Rev. K. C. MacLennan officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Howell. After the ceremony the guests retired to a large improvised dining room, where the tables were loaded with good things, and a most sumptuous supper was served.

The bride taught school for a number of years and was a general favorite in the community. Her popularity was well expressed by the great array of gifts which were so profusely heaped upon her. The groom, who was overseas, where a brother's life was sacrificed in the great war, is well spoken of and his good sense and sane judgment is now evident in that he has retained his love for home consumption. All wish for the newly wedded couple much happiness and prosperity. They are to make their home at East Glasville, N. B.

Cook-Swim.
Hartland, N. B., Sept. 1.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mayor and Mrs. W. D. Keith, High street, this afternoon, when Miss Elsa Swim became the bride of Roy Page Cook, of East Coldstream. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Tettes, in the presence of a few relatives and immediate friends. After the ceremony the young couple took the express for a brief tour to Fredericton and St. John. The bride was unattended and wore a travelling suit of navy blue serge and a black hat. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Kenneth W. Keith. The bride, who is a daughter of Edward Swim of Coldstream, has lived with Mr. and Mrs. Keith for five years and has a host of friends in the community. The groom, only son of the late Mrs. Nina Cook of East Coldstream, is one of the most prosperous young farmers in Carleton County. The bride received a number of beautiful presents, among which was a very substantial check.

Bruce-White.
A very pretty wedding took place at St. James' Church (Anglican), Centreville, N. B., on Wednesday, Sept. 8th, 1920, when Miss Mildred L. White, eldest daughter of Mrs. G. L. White and the late Mr. G. L. White, sometime M. L. A. for Carleton Co., N. B., was united in marriage to Mr. William M. Bruce of Montague, P. E. I., and manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Centreville, N. B.

The church was tastefully adorned with beautiful floral decorations by friends of the bride. The bride, carrying a bouquet of roses, entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "wedding march," played effectively by her cousin, Miss Molly K. Cady, and was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Harold White.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Rees-Jones, rector of the parish. The bride was charmingly attired in a travelling suit of navy blue tricot with hat to match and also wore Alaska sable furs, the gift of the bridegroom. From the church the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where luncheon was served. The happy couple were recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce left for St. John and Prince Edward Island to spend their honeymoon and will return to Centreville, where they will make their home.

Decision of The Railway Board

Matters in Connection With Recent Freight Rate Hearing at Ottawa Decided on is Report.

The Board of Trade has received a copy of the decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners in connection with the recent freight rate hearing in Ottawa. Chairman Curvell in his judgment thus refers to the request made by the Maritime Province representatives that in any advance which might be made the proportion of arbitraries east of Montreal in existence prior to the year 1915, should be maintained: "I fear, however," remarks Mr. Curvell, "we have not sufficient information at the present time to justify us in attempting to deal with this question, therefore, in arriving at my decision I have not taken this into consideration, but always reserving the right of the Maritime people to apply to the Board, and also reserving the right to render a decision on the sugar application, now before us, regardless of what the general decision may be hereafter."

SALVATION ARMY HARVEST SALE
Conducted Successfully in No. 2 Barracks, Main Street Last Evening.

The Harvest Sale of Gifts conducted by the Salvation Army at No. 2 barracks, Main street last night, was the most successful ever held, the amount raised far exceeding that of previous years. Envoys Goodwin was in charge, the auction of vegetables and goods donated being conducted by Sergeant Sparks and Mrs. Goodwin will leave on Monday for Toronto where they will enter the Salvation Army Training College. In their two months they have made many friends in St. John who will regret to see them leave the city. Miss Smith, who has been at No. 2, Main street, will also go to the training college at Toronto.

FRYATT'S SHIP SOLD AT AUCTION

London, Sept. 10.—The steamship Brussels, Capt. Fryatt's ship, was sold at auction at the Baltic Shipping Exchange in London for £2,100. The purchaser was T. B. Stott, of the firm of T. B. Stott & Co., ship owners, of Liverpool. The vessel was sold as she lay. The purchaser said he had not decided what he would do with her. Many ship owners attended the sale, but bidding for the historic ship was not spirited. H. G. Kelloc, head of the firm of Kelloc & Co., conducted the sale, and in his call for bids appealed to the sentiments rather than to the commercial feeling of the bidders. Sir Ernest Glover representing the Ministry of Shipping, attended the sale and said a request had been received from the Belgian Government that a portion of the Brussels should be given to them for incorporation in a memorial to Captain Fryatt, which Belgium was erecting in Zeebrugge. The Government, it was announced, will apply the sum derived from the sale of the Brussels to some charitable purpose connected with Captain Fryatt's name.

OBITUARY.

John Phillipson
The death of John Phillipson occurred at his home, 117 St. Patrick street, Thursday evening, following a brief illness, at the age of 84 years. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Eva, and one son, George, a brother, residing in England, also survives. The funeral will occur Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from No. 3 Citadel, Brindley street, Adj. Wills officiating.

SPECIAL MEETING MONDAY AFTERNOON

Board of Health Will Hear Delegation of Milk Dealers — Several Matters to be Discussed.

A special meeting of the Board of Health will be held on Monday afternoon to hear a delegation of city milk dealers. The matter of several instances of offences against the pure milk regulations will be brought before this meeting as well as a general discussion of the milk situation in its relation to public health. Messrs. Riley, Humphrey, Porter and Geider appeared before the Board yesterday but the conference had to be postponed on account of the absence of one of the members of the Board.

NO PLACE FOR DEAD HORSES

Board of Health Committee Will Take Hold of Matter.

The need of a proper incinerator for the disposal of garbage and other unwholesome matter that is so prevalent in the city has been felt for some time but the want has been accentuated since the destruction by fire of the fertilizer plant at East St. John. As there is no place for the cremation of dead horses and offal this question came before the regular meeting of the Board of Health yesterday and a committee was appointed to look into the matter of finding a suitable place for the disposal of dead horses and offal. The need has arisen and it means that eventually a public incinerator will have to be available. The exigencies of public health demand this.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. John McCluskey was held yesterday morning from her late residence, 32 St. Patrick street, to the Cathedral, where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Raymond McCarthy. The funeral was attended by many friends and the burial and spiritual offerings were very numerous.

The body of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Avie Gaudet was interred yesterday morning in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Emerize, infant of Mr. and Mrs. Louise Veniot, was held yesterday afternoon from the parents' residence, Randolph, to Holy Cross cemetery.

The funeral of Reginald Bowen, who died in the General Public Hospital, was held yesterday afternoon from the Seaman's Institute. Service was conducted by Rev. R. T. McKim, and interment was in Fernhill.

THE GROCERY BILL.

The grocery bill is a monthly contribution to the high cost of living which makes father peep in a heart-felt and enthusiastic manner.

Groceries are bought by people for the purpose of prolonging life and keeping the stomach from becoming restless and disatisfied. If it were not for the countless thousands of grocery stores which dot the landscape and carry everything from lamp wicks to leaf land, the public health would be as far below par as the Mexican dime.

The ease and rapidity with which people can order groceries over the telephone and have them delivered to their homes is one of the greatest blessings which we enjoy.

A few years ago the Grocery Bill did not bother anybody who intended to pay it. Groceries of all kinds were plentiful, and a round silver dollar would buy enough to

AT THE CENTRE OF DEMOCRACY

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.
The International Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 5 is "The Building of the Temple," 1 Kings, 6:1-11.

In old Jerusalem there is one spot that makes it a "City of Peace." Whether I used to go, last year, to escape the wrangling and the discussion upon political questions that made life tense for a newspaper man, in the streets and squares of Jerusalem, and in the hotels, there was always a more or less still and restful atmosphere. But on Mount Moriah, the site of the temple, there was always peace. No questions of Zionism intruded there. The nationalistic discussions of the Syrians were not heard. Christian needs did not quarrel there. It was all quiet and serene, with no sound louder than the cooling of the pigeons.

No Jews ever ventured within this area of the former temple, lest they should by mistake set foot upon the holy of holies. Christians of the East do not enter, because of their hostility to the Moslems. No one but Moslem worshippers, and occasional westerners—a British or Australian soldier on leave, an American relief worker, or the rare traveller—may be seen within the large rock area which now embraces the Mosque of Omar, a building of great beauty and solemnity, wherein even a Christian, stirred by the memories of the sacred spot, finds it easy to worship. These few high arches, within a separate enclosure on the eastern side of Jerusalem, are the very center and shrine of Monotheism. It is here that the hearts of all devout Jews, when they pray for the peace of Jerusalem.

Stones of Splendor—and of Sorrow.

Three great temples in turn crowned the rock. The first, Solomon's temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, and the second, Herod's Temple, which was destroyed by the Romans, and the third, the Dome of the Rock, which was built by the Moslems. The Dome of the Rock is a magnificent structure, and its interior is a masterpiece of Islamic art. The Dome of the Rock is a magnificent structure, and its interior is a masterpiece of Islamic art.

The Light Through the Window.

Our majestic Biblical narrative concludes, "And the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord." When the Ark is in the temple, the house is functioning. And only when, in the Spirit and Law of God, shine forth from a church or a life, like a light through a stained glass window.

A few evenings ago, in a small New York town, I noticed a practice that might well become general. Passing a church, I saw the large stained glass window, which was a representation of Jesus in Gethsemane, lighted from within. There was no service in the church. The light burned only to reveal the beauty of the stained glass window, which was a representation of Jesus in Gethsemane, lighted from within. There was no service in the church.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.

Difficulties are meant to rouse, not discourage.—Channing.

Joy is the spiritual fruit of remembering the goodness of God.—John Douglas Adam.

May every morning seem to say, "This is something happen to my, And God sends love to you."—Henry van Dyke.

If you hit the mark, you must aim a little above it; every arrow that flies finds the attraction of the earth.—H. W. Longfellow.

Blessed is everyone that feareth Jehovah, that walketh in His way.—Ps. 128:1.

INSIDE OF THE INNERMOST.

Just as the heart of the Jewish question today lies deeper than any question of political Zionism, so the real significance of the story of the building of the temple of Solomon lies in that part of the narrative especially assigned for today's Lesson—the installation of the Ark of the Covenant in the completed building. A church is only building until it has the Presence.

Not the lavish and sumptuous design and material of the structure, but the solemnity of the spirit, the glory of the Covenant, built at Sinai, housed in the Tabernacle, and carried through the wilderness, gave its real significance to the temple of Solomon. Any king or millionaire may erect a beautiful building and call it a church; but no mere money or power can make it a temple of God. It is Christianity's conviction that a church is only building until it has the Presence.

AT THE CENTER OF DEMOCRACY.

The truth is older than the story that tells it, and applies directly to the times in which we live. At the heart of a nation there must be religion, even as in the sanctuary of the Jewish temple there was the Ark. Democracy must have at its center the Ark of spiritual faith. Brotherhood is only a corollary of Fatherhood. Except God be at the core of a nation's life, all its ramifying parts will be out of relation one with another.

Everybody knows this. The average person thinks right upon fundamentalism. I am lecturing over a wire here this summer upon present-day world conditions, whenever I touch upon the spiritual significance of the situation, eyes light up and eyes become more eager. There's a response everywhere to the highest interpretation of the facts of the times. Kings and peasants, philoso-

The Tuxis and Trail Ranger Boys of the day are now beginning to use the C. E. R. T. seasonal programme is going to commence, as with the beginning of school the boys are brought together again after being scattered for the holidays.

Arrangements are now under way to get things started the end of this month or the first week of the next, and it has been decided to hold a Tuxis Boys Conference in St. John on October 2nd to 5th. This conference will be for the boys of St. John, Kings, Queens, Westmorland and Albert counties.

C. E. R. T. boys will be glad to learn that their national leader, Mr. Taylor Stratton, is planning to visit St. John the end of this month.

How Long Can a Bird Fly?
It is said that the longest continuous bird flight in the world is made by the golden plover, averaging a distance of 2,400 miles between Nova Scotia and South America, without pause or rest in 48 hours. This bird nests along the Arctic coast of North America. As soon as the plover is able to care for themselves they migrate, by way of the Labrador coast, to the Atlantic, to Nova Scotia, from which they stage a straight southerly swoop to the Argentine.

After six months' vacation in the south, the golden plover finds its way back to the Arctic by an entirely different route, going northwesterly across South America and the Gulf of Mexico to the coasts of Louisiana and Texas, thence up the Mississippi valley and more northerly streams to the Arctic.

Equally wonderful in its way is the flight of the golden plover of the Pacific coast from Alaska, 2,000 miles across the trackless, islandless sea, to Hawaii.

The black poll warbler and cliff swallow, both nesting northward to Alaska, are winter pushovers in Brazil and the Argentine. The former wings his rapid progress by long night flights over land and water from one feeding station to another. The latter is direct. The swallow, on the contrary, travels by day and, although starting several weeks earlier than the warbler, is behind the latter in reaching his destination.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

The Horse Shoe.
There is scarcely a farmer who has not hung a horse-shoe over his barn door to bring him good luck. This is such an old superstition that one is inclined to believe that it dates back to the infancy of the human mind.

Not only has the worker in iron and horse-shoe held a prominent place in mythology of the bygone ages, but over the whole world iron objects and particularly horse-shoes have always had many strange superstitions attached to them. Well-to-do farmers were sure to rub about any one he struck with iron in any form, while even a key, scissors, knife, etc., placed in a child's cradle, would prevent it from being stolen by the witch in exchange for another baby of wierd description, it was believed.

An authority on legends says that the belief of the good horse-shoe grew out of the ancient Jewish rite of sprinkling blood on the lintel and sides of the door at the time of the Passover, so that Jehovah might pass over the Israelites when he smote Egypt. The horse-shoe came to represent, roughly, the sides and top of the door.

There is an old Spanish proverb about the horse-shoe which goes: "For want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse was lost, for want of a horse the rider was lost, being overthrown by the enemy." And the proverb adds that the fate of a nation might have depended upon that horseman all for the want of a little care about a horse shoe and a horse-shoe nail.

The Big Majority of Women Get Married Between The Age of 16 and 22.

sentiment, delicacy and style and a girl with a B in her name is likely to be tender and refined. I shows pride and A means vigor and 8 spots will and smiles and smartness.

Well they're no doubt that the guy is on the right side and has given the matter a good deal of thought, but is he the first that invented this idea? I will tell the world in the negative. I been looking this problem over for several yrs. and probably got into it deeper than this wise cracker. Because in the 1st. place I can think faster than a Frenchman even if I talk a whole lot slower, but I want going to give the discovery to the world till I had it down. Pat and Mike, but now that this here Prog has split the original idea it looks like I couldn't afford to wait no longer, but better tell the world of my research before this point hope in and cap all the credit.

Well then in the 1st. place I spent the last 25 yrs. studying the character they may have different ideas about it and some of them like it rare and medium and well done and etc. in conclusion, in regards to the mates with a B in their name, I will ask the world if they's anybody that hasn't got one outside of Thor, Woodrow Wilson and even at that, if you stick the word President ahead of it, why he is just like all the rest of us.

"E" Girls Prone to Marry.

Now in regards to the girls of the approaching sex with a E in their name, I have found out after my yrs. of study that the big majority of women with the letter E in their name got married between the age of 16 and 22. They are always worried about how their hair looks, though nobody else cares nothing about it. They wear a much smaller shoe than the B men, but they wear a whole lot more of them. Most of them don't play golf as good as a E man. They are a whole lot more likely to break their hearts if things goes wrong. The most of them hates to see a E man throw cigar ashes on the living room floor. If a E woman has chided him by saying near a mate but that she will think they are close. A E woman must generally always order the groceries but won't pay the bill.

Now in regards to a man with a U in their name. Most of them was divorced when the wife name was U and won't stand for no other, where as you take a female with a U and you will find the large majority of them is Irish or Ruby. People with a U in their name is likely to get angry every 3 or 4 days and want something to eat. They most generally wear either stockings or socks. They are likely to be sentimental and when somebody asks them to marry them they will either say yes or no.

I have got a whole lot more information about the different letters in the alphabet and will give them in a later essay but in the mean while don't let this Prog think that he has beat me to the subject.

When a Boy Gets to 14 or 15 Yrs. Old They Must Get Put on Long Trousers as Their Legs Look Fussy Without Them.

400 of people that has got a E in their name and found the following, male and female. A male with a E in their name is likely to be a E whistler when they get to be 20 yrs. old. The whistlers may be dark or light according to the hair, but if they don't shave every day in a white hairy whistler will become a mop-top. Their teeth needs cleaning every low morning and I wouldn't even have them to woid the tooth brush over their hips side about every third evening or so. When people with a E in their name picks up a paper or a magazine or a book, they always read it right side up and from left to right. You won't never see a E man tying on their stomach with a book parked on their heads try. I got to read it.

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"GAME" AND "SIMILAR."

These two words, "game" and "similar" differ in meaning although they are used sometimes, by writers and speakers who are exactly ordinary, as though they had the same meaning. I called on that woman, and found her wearing the same hat as I was heard not long ago. A man's thought would have shown the weaker how ridiculous the statement was. What she meant to say was "I called on that woman, and found her wearing a hat similar to mine."

"Same" means "identical in nature; not different; similar in kind or quality" and "similar" means "bearing resemblance to one another or to something else; like, but not completely identical." (Standard Dictionary.)

The "Literary Digest" said recently, in illustrating the proper use of the two words: "A male blew today with a velocity of sixty miles an hour is similar to, but is not the same as, one that blew with a velocity."

Province, Well Stocked, Attempting to Avoid Division With Rest of Poland.

GERMAN INFLUENCE IS WANING FAST

Separatist Movement Reduced to Campaign for Local Economic Control.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Posen, Sept. 10.—The separatist movement in the former German province of Poland which by its Warsaw critics is compared to the secession movement of the South in the United States, is found by the commission of the Polish Diet, sent to investigate conditions on the spot, to exist undoubtedly in a form "highly dangerous to the unity and integrity of the state."

Whatever may have been the original hopes of the leaders of the movement, and whether they first planned, as the Warsaw critics assert, to detach this rich, important section of the new republic from the united fatherland which they have lost, hopes of controlling, your correspondent finds that now their pretensions run no further than the establishment of the Posen province on a footing similar to that formerly held by Bavaria in the German empire, with an autonomous administration in internal affairs and separate control of its home army.

Home Army at Front.
Even those hopes are steadily diminishing as the Polish victory over the Bolsheviks grows and the prestige of the central government at Warsaw increases. The home army raised not only for the defense of the common country, but also to support Posen's aspirations, is now practically all outside of Posen territory and with the rest of the Polish army in a common campaign against the Bolsheviks. The outside politicians who came to Posen to help organize the movement stepped aside, and even the local leaders lost greatly in prestige and authority, unprejudiced observers here believe.

The movement aims down to the fact assertion of Posen's right to run its own affairs so far as food control and local administration are concerned. Without insistence upon any changes in the constitutional status, that is virtually the present condition of affairs. Posen authorities have maintained for months a separate frontier against the rest of Poland, with a set of export regulations designed to prevent foodstuffs, etc., being drained from the province. They established their own price control measures, which kept the price level in Posen about half that of the former Russian or Austrian sections of the country, and maintained an administrative business atmosphere within their bounds, which is as different from that of Warsaw as Warsaw is from Danzig or Lublin.

There is nothing pro-German or un-Polish in that. The Poles in Posen, in fact, from the long struggle against the Prussian assimilation campaign, are probably more deeply anti-German than their compatriots across from the boundaries of Austria and Russia. The movement seems based partly on sectional pride in efficiency acquired in the hard school of Prussian domination, and a feeling that the superior well-being of the Posen district will suffer if compelled to take pot luck with other parts of Poland in administrative and business respects, which have developed since the establishment of United Poland, between the national democrats who are strong in Posen and the politicians from Cracow and Warsaw who now dominate the central government in Warsaw.

German Influence Vanishes.

German influence in Posen has admittedly disappeared entirely since the establishment of Poland. One of the most prominent Germans remaining in Posen said that he and his friends had not ventured even to express an opinion in Polish politics, so strong was the feeling against everything Prussian. The German population of the city has fallen to 8,000 at an outside estimate. The city is rapidly becoming entirely Polish. The Germans are stronger numerically among the agricultural population, particularly in the regions toward the western frontier, but even there have had nothing to say politically.

The Polishization of towns like Bentschen, a frontier station on the main route to Berlin, is especially noteworthy. Germany has now almost ceased to be spoken in that town, which, in the statement of the Paris conference, was included in Poland only after considerable debate.

One of the best testimonials of the disappearance of German influence in Posen is given by the fate of the Posen German newspapers, which before the war were the leading organs in the province. They have now sunk to an insignificant circulation and even smaller influence.

The province and city appear decidedly prosperous compared with other parts of Poland visited. A fairly abundant harvest is expected, and it has suffered nothing from the Bolshevik invasion and loss from army requisitions than the Russian or Austrian provinces. This comparative plenty will give an additional impetus during the coming year to the movement to maintain an economic frontier against the rest of Poland, whose food needs, if given free rein, would inflict upon the Posen district the same food difficulties under which the bulk of Poland is expected to suffer for another year.

TREMENDOUS CROPS IN UNITED STATES

Government Forecasts Show Bumper Yields in Grains and Root Produce.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The greatest corn crop in the history of the United States is in prospect for this year's harvest. Forecasts of production, based on September first conditions, was placed at 3,131,000,000 bushels today by the Department of Agriculture.

Such a yield would exceed by six million bushels the previous largest crop on record, which was in 1912. A crop of even larger proportions will be harvested if frosts hold off until late and permit maturity of much late corn now rated as of doubtful promise.

Tobacco a Record.

Tobacco also is a record crop this year and will probably exceed the best previous production by 14,000,000 pounds. Forecast of production places this year's crop at 1,863,000,000 pounds.

August growing conditions proved highly beneficial to most of the important crops and, as a result, production forecasts generally were higher in today's Government report than the forecasts of a month ago. Corn improved to the extent of 138,000,000 bushels; oats 40,000,000 bushels, while potatoes, 11,000,000 bushels, sweet potatoes 1,000,000 bushels; tobacco,

MILLIONS STARVING IN CHINA

Movement Under Way to Provide Necessary Transportation of Food to Famine Districts.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)

Peking, Sept. 10.—Reports of an eyewitness received by the United States legation indicate that 20,000,000 are starving in Sui-Li, Hu-Nan and Shantung in spite of an abundant Manchurian harvest, adequate to supply the starving areas if provided with a transportation and a distribution organization. Present relief measures are confined to local authorities in Peking, who have taken steps to cope with the famine situation.

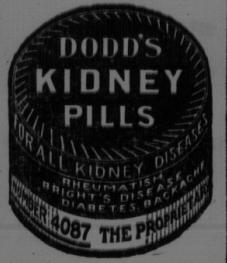

Forming Relief Society.

The foreign community in Peking is discussing the formation of an international relief society, through which to make a world appeal for funds to finance the organization of rail and river, highway transportation under international distributing committees. The famine situation is regarded as remediable, provided prompt counter-steps are taken.

H. C. L. Reduction

It was easy to talk about the high cost of living and of the steps which should be taken to reduce it, said the premier, but could any one say that reduction of the duties on necessities of life would do it. What were necessities of life, could one tax one thing and not another? Those who weighed and advocated the reduction of duties on some things and not on others would find that if the duties were taken of some things they would have to be taken off all. No one thing could stand alone. If the necessities of life were untaxed, what was left to provide the necessary revenues. From the standpoint of the commercial integrity of the country, it cannot be done, said Mr. Meighan.

10,000,000 pounds, and apples 10,000,000 bushels. Spring wheat, however, suffered a loss of 25,000,000 bushels because of drought and frost lost 2,500,000 bushels from the same cause.

August growing conditions proved highly beneficial to most of the important crops and, as a result, production forecasts generally were higher in today's Government report than the forecasts of a month ago. Corn improved to the extent of 138,000,000 bushels; oats 40,000,000 bushels, while potatoes, 11,000,000 bushels, sweet potatoes 1,000,000 bushels; tobacco,

An Open Letter to My Friends

LET EVERY PERSON VOTE

ELECTION DAY SEPTEMBER 20th

HON. R. W. WIGMORE
Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue.

To the Electors of St. John-Albert:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Because of the very limited time at my disposal it will be utterly impossible for me to call upon you personally for the purpose of soliciting your support in the coming election. I will endeavor in the few days yet remaining to hurriedly visit some of the nearer points, but you will appreciate with matters of organization, with departmental duties, and with other demands on my time much must be left undone. This condition is, as you may well believe, a matter of great regret to me, but has been brought about by the somewhat unexpected action of a small group, opposed to the present national Liberal-Conservative Government, and is not, I am convinced, the policy favored by the great majority of the old-time Liberal Party. My opponents have determined to force an election for effect only and not through any real hope of success. Yet, even under such circumstances, it becomes not merely desirable, but extremely necessary, that all who feel kindly disposed toward myself shall turn out and cast their ballots on September twentieth. It will be in the interests of this constituency, and of the province as a whole, that as Cabinet Representative from New Brunswick I shall be returned with a sufficiently large majority to justify me in speaking as a true representative of our people. I, therefore, respectfully request your whole-hearted support in the approaching contest, assuring you that in return my very best efforts will be always exerted in your interests.

As you may well believe I experienced certain diffidence about accepting the honor which our present Premier, Hon. Arthur Meighan, tendered me, feeling that my political experience might not prove sufficient for the satisfactory performance of the duties of this office. However, it now becomes my earnest desire to justify the confidence which the Prime Minister has reposed in me. And I can assure you that in Hon. Mr. Meighan Canada has found a leader, progressive, daring and competent, with well-defined ideas of what he believes to be in the best interests of this nation and determined to apply those ideas to every phase of our administration.

Respectfully Yours

RUPERT W. WIGMORE.

Rural Population. Speaking of the reduction of rural population in Canada, the Premier claimed that the figures showed that even while there had been a slight decrease, the situation was not nearly so grave as in other countries and that there was no need for alarm. One of the best reasons why the condition of the farmer was better today than formerly was the increase in the value of farm property. He pointed out that the system of taxation in force could not be unfair to the farmer when increases had been as great as an average of 45 per cent. from 1910 to 1919 throughout the Dominion.

In Ontario there had been an increase of 40 per cent. in the value of the land actually farmed. This advance would not come if the taxation was unfair.

Those who indulge in uncalled for extravagance have, from the beginning of time, been objects of condemnation. And rightly so. But before denouncing others should we not make sure that we, too, are not culpable. Do we practice true thrift, for example, in the buying of shoes; or have we fallen into the common error of judging value by price and not by quality. The gospel of thrift as preached to-day does not, as a rule encourage true economy. It encourages, rather, the buying of cheap and inferior articles which economists know is one of the worst forms of extravagance. Value, not price, is the only basis on which real economy is to be judged. From a value viewpoint Hartt shoes are a real economy. Their great durability, excellent fitting qualities, lasting shapeliness and beauty of design are evidence of the painstaking care of the makers. Anyone who has worn them will tell you that they give the utmost in comfort wear and appearance. Every Hartt shoe carries a double guarantee—the maker's and that of an honest reliable dealer. If you don't know where to buy Hartt shoes write us direct. "GOOD SHOES ARE AN ECONOMY," The Hartt Boot & Shoe Company, Limited FREDERICTON, N.B. Canada's Best Shoemakers'.

Weekly Chat

Answers To Letters

Dear Girls and Boys— Well, the start to school has been made by most of you and the worst is over. Next thing to do is to look forward to the little holidays which come occasionally during the term. But I must not get started on that subject for I will be apt to give you more advice and you must think you had enough in last week's chat, however, you follow says he profited, so I feel well repaid. Another little friend writes of having the task of feeding the hens, chickens, ducks, cats and dogs about her place and with a good many of such she claims to be quite busy. We can all understand that, but what impressed me most was that she claimed it was a pleasure to feed these dumb friends because they were always hungry and enjoyed everything she gave them. Wouldn't it be a treat to the cooks and house-makers if all boys and girls, men and women showed that same attitude about their pets? So many little folks I have run across who don't like this or that to eat and they like such and such if it is cooked according to their taste. Then they like something else if they like it, and so on, proving that they are very busy. When this girl reached the stage when she could not appreciate such good wholesome suppers as little girls should have, and as she was able to give her grandfather a sign and she said: "I have seen the time when that plate of bread would have looked better to me than all the turkey in the world." Of course his little grand-daughter didn't think he could really mean that until he told her his story. When he was a small boy many years before the country was new and the wheat was all ground by mills run and very severe, the streams froze and for weeks the people had no flour. The nearest market was a drive of a hundred miles away, so the trip could not be taken in such cold weather and the people just had to wait many weeks before they could get flour. When they did get it, they were so thankful and the bread really so good that never again had he or any of those people complained of having "just bread" to eat. They got their flour by turkey and their good things from just a few trees and a few fields. That became very true when they were deprived of bread. No matter how good a thing is, you get very tired of it if you have it without bread, and the folks cover the rest of your grandfather told her mother that she would never again complain of having "just bread." How many of you feel like that little girl did before she heard the story? Do you often complain about "just bread and butter and milk?" These things are what you need to eat to make you grow into a healthy grown-up. You have all heard of bread being called the "staff of life" and little do we realize how true that is until we have the grandfathers experience of having to do without it. Per- haps that so many lessons in this world can only be learned through bitter experience, but let this one sink into our hearts and minds that hereafter we may be very thankful for the daily bread which is provided for us. Next week our chat will have something very interesting to all scholars. Watch for it and read it very carefully. As ever, the kiddies' friend.

SANDY B.—You haven't written for a long time, so last week's letter was a pleasant surprise. Such a busy fellow as you must be with all those jobs to do. I feel quite honored when you give me part of your valuable work and best of all to have you say you like it, that is the secret of success. Will hope for another note some day.

CHARLES M.—That must have been a dandy trip alright and no wonder you want to go again. Of course I like to know of such good times and trust many others will come your way.

OLGA T.—You are probably quite well acquainted with the new pup by this time and is he easy to teach? When young some of them can be trained to do very clever things, but of course the teacher should be patient for they have to guess at your meaning and have no way of asking the why and wherefore.

GORDON B.—How nice that you like your new home so much. It is always interesting moving to a new place and meeting new friends. You will like school too I hope, and it doesn't take a good fellow long to feel at home among strange scholars. Best wishes for you anyway.

GERTRUDE B.—The same wishes for brother are sent to you also. You write a very neat little letter and I am sure the scholars about your age in the new school will be no better writers than you are. Write again soon.

FLORENCE H.—With so many little animals and poultry to feed, you must be quite busy at meal times anyway. Yes, it is a pleasure to feed such hungry little creatures for they seem so grateful and chuckle a thank you right through their meal. Do little folks always feel that way too?

FRANK W.—I am glad that the chat in last week's page helped one at least to go to school in the right humor. Keep right on feeling that way Frank, and the term will be a happy one for you and others who know you.

ELLA S.—That was a short and sweet note alright and perhaps long-ones are to follow. Thanks for the appreciation you expressed anyway.

ETHEL G.—What a lot of berries you have picked. I think that was a splendid way of making pocket money, and by keeping account of all you picked you can account for your vacation money. Keep right on feeling that way before you see the answers to day.

HENRY C.—Very sorry indeed to hear of your accident and hope you are at least comfortable by now. Am glad the contents of our C. C. helped perhaps you over your worry moments. Before you saw the answers to day?

ANNIE T.—Welcome to our jolly club, we are very pleased to have you among the many other little friends. Hope to have a letter from you soon telling about yourself, your play and your pets, if you have any. That is our only way of becoming acquainted with each other in the C. C.

MURIEL H.—It seems sad that you cannot see our page except during the holidays. Could father or someone tear out the C. C. for you after the paper has been read? You always seem so interested I want you to be in touch with our club all the time and hope some plan will develop whereby you can. Of course I was glad to have you back and how nice that you enjoyed your trip, even though you had a little sick spell.

UNCLE DICK. THE GRANDFATHER CLOCK. Our clock has such a merry face. And from his corner in the hall, He watches me go in and out, Upstairs and down I hear his call. He tells me when 'tis time to rise, He rings so loudly when it's eight, And feel as if a friend is near, When I come down to breakfast late. He talks to me throughout the day With chinking tick and ringing chime, And tells the hours for work or play, For dinner, tea, or supper time. And even if I wake at night, All in the lonely dark, I hear And oh, I'm sure he looks at me The dear old clock who never sleeps, Lucy Diamond.

No Chance for Argument. "There seems to be a doubt as to whether Sir Walter Scott wrote the line: 'One crowded hour of glorious life,' etc., said the Practiced Person. "Anyhow, whoever did write it never wrote it in a Toronto street car during the rush hours."

CHILDREN'S CORNER

BEDTIME PENCIL PICTURES. Includes a drawing of a boy and a girl with numbers 1-10 and the text 'GOSH! IT'S GONE!' and 'BERTHA and her mother went to the railroad station this afternoon to meet her little cousin who was coming to visit them. In the waiting room Bertha saw a funny little man on one of the benches with a large 'X' beside him. A friend of the little man's who had been talking to him, noticed her and called her name and with a grin he took the 'X' and hid it. After a few minutes the little man awoke from his nap and found the 'X' was gone! He thought it had been stolen, and if you'll follow the dots you'll see what it was he was so concerned about.'

THE WESTMONT BOYS' CLUB STORIES

The Pool of Mystery. By Jack Humphrey. CHAPTER I. The Boys Go On a Hike. Saturday dawned clear and fair and the hot August sun peering in at the window of John Temple's bedroom was the only incentive needed to send him flying out of bed, and into his dressing gown. Light of heart he cleared the stairs to the kitchen where his mother was preparing the morning meal. "Good morning," she said, drawing up her chair to the table, you haven't got too much time if you expect to go with the other boys." Jimmy tackled the heaped up plate of crisp griddle cakes she set before him, and while eating he talked over his plans for the day which consisted of an all day hike with his fellow members of the Westmont Boys' Club, into the woods in back of the mill pond. Having appeased his hunger, Jimmy grabbed his lunch which his mother had prepared, and after kissing her good-bye, he hurried out of the house. The club headquarters had been agreed on as the starting point, and when Jimmy arrived, he found all the other fellows assembled. Carrying their lunches in their hands, or slung on their backs, the happy company soon left the town behind, exchanging the heat and glare for the comparative coolness of the woods. "Phew," gasped Tubby Williams nipping his forehead vigorously, "I wish it would cool off a bit, I'm being roasted to death." "Oh this is good for you," one of the boys said, amidst the laughter of the others, "you ought to be several pounds lighter now by the way you are sweating."

MOVING DAY AFFORDED HER A FINE OPPORTUNITY TO TRY OUT A STUNT SHE HAD SEEN IN A VAUDEVILLE SHOW. Includes a drawing of a girl on a chair with the text 'TH' GUY IN TH' SHOW HAD THREE TABLES' and 'Tomboy Taylor'.

Puzzles

Numbered Word. I am a word of ten letters, the name of something now being held in different towns. My 2 1 10 are beasts of burden; My 3 8 7 is to strike; My 5 6 7 1 is a mouthful; My 7 3 6 10 1 is yours.

Transposed Letters. Jack was an artist and wanted to draw. But his landlord, sharp as a wren, said, "Your rent is up, so pay your rent. Or out you shall go with your..." The missing words have the same five letters.

Missing Letter. EAR OR A REAM SAIL Y. Insert one letter of the alphabet four times among the above letters and you will have a complete sentence.

Riddles. 1. What is it we should always keep, even after we have given it to another? 2. When is a ship in love? 3. Why are bakers always in want of a stuttering boy? 4. Why are blacksmiths the most frequent lawbreakers? 5. Why is painting rabbits on bald heads a profitable business?

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES. 1. September. 2. Ermine, Monkey, Beaver, Zebra, Ostrich. 3. Berries—1, Blackberry; 2, Mulberry; 3, Dewberry; 4, Gooseberry; 5, Raspberry; 6, Strawberry; 7, Hollyberry; 8, Elderberry; 9, Blueberry; 10, Juneberry; 11, Thimbleberry; 12, Pigeonberry.

GIRLHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS WOMEN. "Who can that be upstairs playing the piano and singing?" Madame Lind hurried to see—the music stopped.

DIRTY-FACED WALLY. It surely was a great disgrace. That Wally wouldn't wash his face, Mr. Mother's pleadings were in vain. His mother's pleadings were in vain. And so from day to day, alas! He grew from white to gray, then black!

Birthday Greetings. To the following boys and girls whose birthdays occur in the week beginning today, Uncle Dick extends his warmest wishes and hopes every one will enjoy a happy and successful year at school: Grace Marshall, City; Ethel McAllister, Porterville; Medley Schofield, Avonmore; Ruby Poole, Ormoco; John Anderson, City; Lena Everett, North Devon; Alice M. Keswick, Hartland; Rosevea M. Loring, Burger Ridge; Grace Cuthbert, Grand Bay; Catherine Sheppard, City; Minnie Melville, Peel; Florence Robinson, City; Marjorie Lindon, Newcastle; Kathleen McKenna, Sussex; Muriel Crawford, City; Grace A. QUEER SOLDIERS ARE THESE. Spiders and webs are so closely connected that it sounds odd to hear of spiders that have no webs. These are the great sea spiders, some of which measure two feet across the legs. They are, indeed, practically all legs, the body being merely a sort of hinge upon which the legs work. "Where do they put their food?" you may ask. Well, strange as it seems, most of this spider's stomach and digestive apparatus is in its legs. That is, they contain the organs which other animals carry in their bodies. Another queer insect is the rose spider, which takes up its dwelling inside a rose and waits for unwary insects to settle there. It thinks nothing of tackling a butterfly or moth several times as large as itself. But among the larger spiders are some which go in for very big game. One monster—a West Indian spider of ferocious habits—makes a practice of capturing and eating lizards, while another, an American spider, actually attacks and kills fish. A very gymnastic creature is the jumping spider, which makes tremendous leaps with unerring precision. One of its feats is to slip into the shade anything that is more human than itself, and it has been known to leap from a high stem of grass and alight on the under side of a horizontally spread leaf below. It performs this apparently impossible feat by leaping so as to just clear the edge of the leaf, catches the edge with its claws as it passes, and swings itself completely round to the lower side. A human athlete can do some marvelous things, but he would never attempt a task like that.

A Serious Complaint. Little Jimmy, the five year old son of a candidate for a local office, was told that his father had got the nomination. Running into the house, he exclaimed, "Oh, mamma! Mr. Jones says papa's got the nomination, 's that worse than the measles?"

HUNGARY'S INDUSTRIES UNDER FRENCH CONTROL

Agreement to Protect Trade Treaty Signed — Economic "Society of Nations" in Central Europe Indicated by Latest Manoeuvres.

By WYTHE WILLIAMS
Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.

Paris, Sept. 7.—I learn from trustworthy sources here that the details of the commercial accord recently concluded between France and Hungary, as published yesterday in the London Daily Herald, are, for most part, exact. The publication of the accord, which was the first definite news given to the French of this agreement, is exciting much comment in the Paris press, which has been following closely the political manoeuvres now going on in central Europe, in which French diplomacy is intimately concerned.

By the treaty signed by M. Poincaré for France and M. Halmos, delegate for Hungary, the French, in return for Hungary's good faith, will get control of the Hungarian steel mills, the principal factories, the credit bank—the greatest Hungarian financial institution—Danube shipping and the port of Budapest.

In addition Hungary puts at the disposal of the French and the Entente

Mlle. Forzane is the undisputed queen of half a dozen Deauville seasons, and an equal number of grand duels and even princely unions. It is reported that during the war Mlle. Forzane was supported by the Allies, inasmuch as her latest flame was royalty of a little nation overrun by the enemy and, therefore, she was dependent upon the Allies for keep and upkeep.

Yet this year Mlle. Forzane—even though prosperous—threatened to be supplanted by the younger and more dazzling Emilie d'Alencon. Actresses of the musical stage also came in for much attention. Mlle. Parys and Mustinguet sharing honors. Mlle. Chennal was there too—but she only sang opera—and the Marseillaise—so she passed comparatively unnoticed in the throng.

BIZARRE SEASON AT DEANVILLE

Agitation Begun to Place Restrictions on Resort in Future Seasons.

Deauville, France, Sept. 10.—(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.)

Deauville "season" has officially ended. Throughout, it has presented such a new startling and according to majority opinion, disgusting picture of life after the war that agitation has now begun to put restrictions upon it in future years.

It is considered that back in the good, old days prior to 1914, Deauville was sufficiently Babylonian—and Bacchic—to let it rest at that. When the curtain rang up at Deauville this year, it was expected there would be at least an occasional reminder of the past six years, when Deauville and the like, gave way to more important matters.

Nothing of the sort!

For better criticism, for perverse and ordinary immorality, for bizarre worship, for cinema and better had we not the Deauville of 1920 been unique. The suggestion now is that Deauville must be forced to remember the war, and that proprietors of hotels, casinos, and other attractions shall adopt several towns of the devastated regions—to share their gains, garnered from all corners of the earth—and thus give them an international grandfathering that will insure immediate restriction.

There were comparatively few authentic Parisians, or real mondaines at Paris society at Deauville this year. All those tied at the beginning of the season before the horde of nouveau riches and demimondaines that completely filled the promenade of Rue Contant Biron and the Casino.

The chief necessity at Deauville this year was wealthy norms at the best hotels costing 500 francs a day. So the crowd consisted mainly of importers, metallurgists, commissionaires—Argentin's cold-storage merchants, Mexicans, Uruguayans, Dutch, Greeks, Rumanians, Scandinavians, English, Russians, Spaniards—and arms manufacturers—Italians, Japanese, Swiss and Americans.

Umbrella Carriers a Fad.

In brief it has been a real Babylonia about the only French heard was that of the local rickshaws. Women have appeared the daytime in gowns quite as décolleté as those usually seen in the Salle de Baccarat. Among the styles adopted by these women and by the famous demimondaines is to have umbrella carriers in the persons of little negroes, clad in white and red; also to be borne by two negroes in an Oriental palanquin or swing chair—their feet bare and on silken cushions, the hair literally and liberally decked with gold.

The day of the Grand Prix, the Maharajah of Kapurthala entered the paddock on the back of a little white elephant, the driver dressed in gold, bearing at the end of his staff a fringed flag.

But the most popular novelty of the season, originated by Dutch artist named van Dongen, consists of painting flowers and other designs upon the skin. The design of the wearer's dress is carried out in colors upon the back, breast and arms. One woman appeared on the beach each morning wearing a million-franc diamond necklace; another wore rows of diamonds in her heels. A gentleman refraining for the moment from gambling in the casino, was seen on the promenade carrying four diamond pins in his scarf. Fat ladies bounded about in gauze robes of the sort a child might wear. Dancing and the jazz in the morning ended at night, then began again at night and ended with day. Much of it was done on the beach in skin-tight one-piece bathing suits. Also on the polo fields and tennis courts, between games and sets, jazz and dance was in order.

As to gambling the proprietor of one establishment remarked: "I am content. Things have gone fairly well, with an average gain of a million-franc diamond necklace; and a half on the day of the Grand Prix. It would have been better had we not been forced to close at 4 o'clock in the morning." At the main casino a million francs on the tables at one time, was a most bagatelle.

And among the celebrities present.

FOR WOMEN A MUSEMENTS

SWATHED EFFECT TAKES TITLE ROLE

Evening Gowns Are of the Clinging Variety—Bouffant Styles for Debutantes Alone

New York, Sept. 8.—Evening gowns of the fall and winter season seem to promise more scope for individuality than the street and afternoon dresses, which so dogmatically declare their slinkiness is absolutely the only silhouette.

It is true that the swathed effect takes title role even in evening gowns, but there are a few exceptions. The very top-notch evening gown is merely a very few yards of shiny material bound round and round the figure.

Such a model of jet over a fitted underslip of the same color is the piece de resistance of a Fifth Avenue house which specializes in "clothes for after six."

Complaining with the venue for some covering over the epidermis, they float over the hips and are caught in a wired bow as wide as the entire frock. The streamers of this shaft float to the floor. A carriage of footed artificial roses is the only touch of color on the gown.

A similar figure-revealing gown is shown of electric blue spangles over the same shade of velvet. A pair of Oriental-hued beads falls from the bodice, shoulder straps, and over the hips. A huge bow is worn from the left shoulder.

The more bouffant evening gowns are shown for the debutante, who has not sufficient maturity of bearing and face to wear the Theda Bara gown. A charming model is shown of coral satin. Bands of deep-toned maroon finish the top of the bodice and are used for shoulder straps.

The Turkish harem effect is retained by the shirred skirt, huge combinations of net or lace with tulle and softer silks are much in the vogue for these gowned and puffed subtrinitia dresses. Bright shades of flame, canary, emerald, and turquoise and peacock blue abound in the debutante gowns, while black, lacca, navy, jet and satin are the more mature woman's favorites.

SONS OF ENGLAND RESENT CABLE OF MEDERIC MARTIN

Montreal, Sept. 10.—That the cablegram sent by Mayor Martin of this city to Premier David Lloyd George of Great Britain on Wednesday in the matter of Mayor MacSwiney, does not represent the sentiments of the population of greater Montreal, was the spirit of a second cable sent this morning by St. Lambert's Sons of England Society.

Mayor Martin asked for leniency for the mayor of Cork on a hunger strike in Britain just in the name of the population of the metropolis of Canada, and the population of the entire Dominion, irrespective of creed or race. The Sons of England Society repudiates the sentiments expressed in Mayor Martin's telegram and denies that he represents them in any way in the matter.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 10.—Ard, at Caronia, Liverpool, at 7:15, Norfolk.

Daily Fashion Hint
Prepared Especially For This Newspaper

STREET WEAR FROCK
This practical and modish dress is fashioned in check novelty suiting combined with black velvet. The skirt is attached to a fitted underbody, the blouse being plaited at either side to form a pannu effect at the front. About the lower edge of the blouse is a band of the velvet. The removable collar is of the same satin. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 48-inch novelty material, 1 1/2 yard 36-inch velvet and 2 yards lining for underbody and gorse.

THE VILLAGES.

(By Martha Haskell Clark, in Good Housekeeping.)
I can not hope that sorrow's foot forever and a day
Will pass my little House of Love where tattered sunbeams stray.
But when she lays her hand at last upon the swinging latch,
And steps where happy years have stilled beneath our spring-sweet thatch.

Grant, oh, God, this heart's best prayer,
That somewhere it may be
Where little, small-town sympathy may fold and comfort me.

The little, small-town sympathy that greets me at the door
In blue-checked gingham aprons, and flour upon its hands,
That hakes and brews, and sweeps and dusts that wafeful sweeps and shovels.

The little, small-town sympathy that greets me at the door
In blue-checked gingham aprons, and flour upon its hands,
That hakes and brews, and sweeps and dusts that wafeful sweeps and shovels.

They Cries, God, are builded high with seven stone or stonier,
But their hearts may ache, and lives may drop unheeded and alone,
And souls may dwell unknown, unloved, a stage-walk between—
Not so the quiet, home-sweet lives that form the village green.

Let others reap the spindlers, Lord, but give instead to me
The homely round of living blest with small-town sympathy.

The little, small-town sympathy that greets me at the door
In blue-checked gingham aprons, and flour upon its hands,
That hakes and brews, and sweeps and dusts that wafeful sweeps and shovels.

From tiny hamlets houses down a marketplace street
That leads to French or tea-dimmed ways its own bruised feet have trod,
The little, small-town sympathy—the very soul of God.

With the over-increasing cost of living, it has become necessary to find more and more means of saving. The housewife is the person on whom most of the responsibility of economizing rests. The use of some of the cheaper grades of flour instead of the highly expensive first patent is another means of saving that may be added to the already long list.

During the war, all members of the community were forced to use Government standard flour which was of lower grade than most people had been accustomed to. Nevertheless, most of the bakers succeeded in furnishing bread so good that few people would have considered it distinctly inferior had it not been for the difference in color. Too much attention has, however, always been paid to color in flour and bread.

Bread that is really very pale is not so healthful as bread made of some what lower grade of flour and the war-time bread was really superior as a food to the extremely white product in use previously. Lower grades of flour somewhat similar to the Government standard flour can always be purchased but are not usually in much demand on account of their inferior color. These second and third grade flours, however, contain a higher percentage of protein and assimilable phosphates. These features are distinctly advantageous.

While the lower grades of flour may require some slight modifications in the baking method in order to produce the best possible bread, these changes are not serious and, as a rule, no difficulty whatever will be experienced in handling such flours. When we consider the low price of the cheaper grades of flour and their high nutritive value, we see two distinct advantages in using them. The claim made for the white flours are near- ly always much exaggerated and the public would do well to insist on obtaining the really superior materials which are sold as inferior.

Chatham

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 9.—The Canadian Forestry Association's Exhibition car, in charge of G. G. Birch, assistant secretary, was at Chatham on Tuesday, and was visited by a large number of people that evening. The numerous exhibits were of a most interesting nature and included maple sugar groves, showing old and new ways of making sugar. Numerous wood products including stockings and other articles of clothing that could easily be taken for wool products. The car was at Newcastle yesterday, when the citizens of the shiretown had an opportunity to inspect the exhibits.

The ceremonies in connection with the graduation of the first class of student nurses of the Hotel Dieu Hospital was held in the Assembly Hall of St. Michael's Academy Tuesday evening. Despite the inclement weather, there was a large attendance who greatly enjoyed the programme. Music was furnished by the Academy orchestra, and addresses were made by Bishop O'Leary, Mr. O'Keefe and Doctors Marven, Duffy, Losier, Loggie, McGrath and Nicholson of the hospital staff. The valedictory was delivered by Miss Beatrice Kouch and the class history given by Miss Kathleen Hay. The six young ladies who received their diplomas and medals were Beatrice Kouch, Frances G. Shanahan, Mary L. Nowlan, Mary McEneaney, Mary A. Dolan and Kathleen Hay. The graduates and their friends were the guests of the Ladies' Hospital Aid at the Knights of Columbus Rooms, later in the evening, where a most enjoyable time was spent.

The S. S. Clare Hugo Skinner, 3,100 tons register, said to be the largest vessel that has ever visited this port, is loading lumber at Barcollis for Mr. S. C. Neale. The vessel was formerly a German collier that was handed over to the British Government. Captain Archibald Gray Fraser, Allan McEneaney, Ass. Perley and Noonan

BEAUTIFUL GOWNS ARE REMODELLED

Movie Stars Will Not Wear a Costume a Second Time—$20,000 Spent for One.

What becomes of all the beautiful clothes that the beautiful movie stars garb themselves in for all of their photoplays?

Each year there is spent a large fortune for wardrobe alone in the picture business. It would be folly even to estimate the amount, because to do so would mean taking the producer's word in most cases and—well, you know press agents!

However, the fact remains that innumerable costly gowns are worn by stars for one photoplay only, all of which leads to wonder where the beautiful clothes go when Miss Star fades out of the picture in the final clinch.

There are several answers. First, fashioning audiences do not like to see a star appear in two different productions wearing the same costume. It makes it seem as if she had only one dress to her name. And men in the audience like to see a beautiful star, sixty per cent of which is accompanied by clothes. But the principal reason that elaborate gowns, regardless of cost, are seen only once on the screen is because photoplayers are superstitious.

It is believed by picture actors and actresses that if they wear cast-off wardrobe, some great harm will come to them during the making of a production. Although often as high as $20,000 are spent in wardrobe on a single photoplay, yet seldom is one of these costumes worn again in another picture. The main lavish wardrobe purchasers for the screen are Cecil B. DeMille, D. W. Griffith and Allan Dwan. For "In the Heart of a Fool," a Dwan production which the Metro-Flower Photoplay Production will present in September, $20,000 was expended in clothes for the feminine players alone.

But these garments are not thrown away or wholly wasted by any means—not at all the prevailing cost of dress goods! When a photoplay is finished the costumes are turned into the wardrobe department of the studio, where under the direction of a high-salaried mistress, they are recut into garments suitable for other productions. This lifts the curse of the superstition from them and results in a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of waste. But even by this method there often is bound to be great loss.

Carroll are attending the St. John exhibition.

Mrs. Frank Haines and children have returned to their homes in Prescot after spending the past three weeks with Miramichi relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whalen are enjoying a trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Mrs. Laura McGrath, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath, returned to Boston yesterday.

Mrs. F. R. Little and little daughter, Marion, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Dickson, have returned to Halifax.

L. F. Sewell, who recently opened optometry parlors here, is spending a few days in St. John, where he will attend a meeting of provincial optometrists at which it is probable that a New Brunswick Optometrical Association will be formed.

Mrs. A. J. McLean is attending the millinery openings in St. John this week.

Mrs. Jessie Simmonds has returned from Richibucto, where she spent the past three weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Haines.

Mrs. L. Harrigan and daughters, Nora and Helen, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. John Hutchinson, Douglastown, have returned to their home, Lowell, Mass.

Prof. D. L. Coyn has returned to Chatham to resume his duties at St. Thomas College.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moar are spending exhibition week at St. John. Miss Lillian Fitzpatrick has returned home after spending her vacation in Moncton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Rennie of Regina, who have been visiting Mrs. John Hutchinson have returned home.

Mrs. Michael Jardine is spending a few days in St. John.

Mr. Blair Neale is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Neale.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Thornton and children, and Miss Hogan of Amherst are the guests of Mrs. Margaret Gordon.

AS A WOMAN THINKETH

By HELEN HOWLAND

"I SIGH TO BE A LADY"

At my life,
I have yearned to be a "lady!"
Oh, dear, no! I don't mean merely "well-bred,"
Or fashionable, or "smart," or "modish," or "chic," or "polished."
I mean a "lady" in the sweet old, rucocoo, 1860 sense—
The sort of "lady" that every little girl dreams of being, and that every little boy dreams of marrying—some day—
The sort that reminds one of lavender, and lilies, and old lace.
And has "charming" MANNERS, and a "gracious" smile, and a "queenly" presence, and soft, white hands and illusions and dignity and reserve—
And all those things, so fascinating—to MEN!

I wish I could "greet" my friends, instead of just hailing them.
I wish I could "sweep" into a room, instead of just breezing in.
I wish I could "glide" at dinner, instead of merely "entertaining."
And could "proselyte" about, instead of rushing about.
I wish I could be "polite" in crowded street cars, and "courteous" in a mob, and could do the "After-you-my-dear-Alphonse"—oh, there I go!

And I must do as To-day's Daughter!
Bring me the rouge-pot, and anoint me with brilliantine and patchouli!
Cover me with pearl-powder, and array me in my backless evening gown!
Pull out my eyebrows and let my finger nails shine like unto electric lights.
Doll me up in Paradise feathers and deck me in near-pearl ear-rings.
For, if I disdain these things—then shall I WASH UNSEEN and FORGET!

In a world of darning women,
Where a matron must outshine her granddaughter, a debutante must outdress a show-girl!
And you cannot tell a working-girl from a society bud, nor a society bud from a Broadway star!

Heigh-ho! It takes TIME to be a "lady!"
But alas, I'm To-day's Daughter—trying to be dazzling,
Or smart, or chic, or original, or stunning—
Too busy talking, and massaging, and marcelling, and golfing, and motoring, and keeping up with the very "latest wrinkle!"
To bother with MANNERS, or etiquette (Funny old word!).
Or ANYTHING—except using the right beauty cream, and the right fork.

And yet, there is nothing so attractive to men, in all the world,
As a "lady!"
Oh, yes, I sigh to be a "lady!"
But I am To-day's Daughter,
And I dwell in the eternal fear of being "twenty minutes late!"
I WANT to be a "lady."
But I haven't the TIME!

RUSSIAN CHILDREN SEE "GOOD TIMES"

One thousand Russian children, refugees in the care of the American Red Cross saw "Good Times" at the New York Hippodrome recently. The children who wandered across Russia and Siberia in the days when the Bolsheviks were taking Petrograd, were gathered together by the Red Cross at Vladivostok and brought to New York by way of San Francisco and the Panama Canal. They were kept at Fort Wadsworth, near New York City for a week, while the ship which was to take them to Europe was made ready. The children were entertained at the big playhouse by the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

LONDON WONDERING WHAT BEAVERBROOK MEANT BY SPEECH

London, Sept. 10.—The London correspondent of the Yorkshire Post says that the Canadian, here are wondering if Lord Beaverbrook, when he said in Toronto: "It is my anxious hope that I may yet be of use as an interpreter between the dominion and the centre of the empire," had his eye upon the high commissionership. Today also is published two volumes of reminiscences by Colonel Repington, formerly military writer for the Times. One of the colonel's stories is that Lord Beaverbrook's peevage was being discussed a day or so ago, so after its conferment. Somebody remarked: "Max said that he was sure something was coming, as he cut his self shaving and his blood was blue."

ALEX JOHNSTON MAY JOIN EMPIRE STEEL MERGER NOW

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Mr. Alex Johnston, deputy minister of marine and fisheries, who has been offered an important post with the British Empire Steel Corporation, is out of the capital, and it is not likely that there will be any developments in connection with his prospective retirement from the public service until he returns next week. It is generally understood, however, that Mr. Johnston is practically certain to leave the department in the course of the next few weeks.

Ross, a director of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. A wire was received yesterday by the secretary of the Board of Trade that the official welcome to the delegates to the fifth annual congress of the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire, would be given on the evening of Friday, September 17, and urging all delegates to be present at the function. It is expected R. B. Emerson and R. E. Armstrong will be the St. John representatives.

LODGED A PROTEST. The Board of Trade yesterday received from the Wharfing Board of Trade a wire to the effect that they had lodged a protest against the recent judgment of the Board of Railway Commissioners in the freight rate case. The St. John board has not yet received a copy of the judgment, and will not take any action until it comes to hand.

WARMLY WELCOMED. William Marshall, formerly a foreman of the Telegraph Press room, and in that business in St. John for many years, and who for the past sixteen years has been connected with the Salvation Army as foreman of the press room for the War Cry in Toronto, has arrived in the city, after an absence of sixteen years. He is visiting his brother, David M. Marshall, of the Telegraph Press room staff, at his home, Little River. "Bibby," as his associates know him, has been on the sick bed since last spring, but his friends will be glad to know that he is improving, and although this is his first visit to St. John for sixteen years, he is happy to come back and meet old friends.

PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS IN FIRST GENERAL MEETING

Reports Received and Officers Elected — C. C. Kirby, St. John Was Chosen President—Banquet at Bond's Greatly Enjoyed—Address by President and D. F. Maxwell Explained Objects of the Organization.

The first general meeting of the Professional Engineers of the Province of New Brunswick was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms, with the president, C. C. Kirby, in the chair. The meeting was unique, in that it marked the first occasion in which the engineers of New Brunswick have met as a body in the interests of their profession. The attendance was province wide, and attended by engineers whose reputation extends to all parts of the dominion.

The meeting opened with reading of the minutes of a meeting held in St. John, 1919, when the formation of the association was decided on. The reports of the president, provisional council, the secretary-treasurer's report, and the registrar's report were adopted as read. The registrar reported 52 engineers registered as members of the association.

Election of Officers. The by-laws drawn up by the committee appointed for the purpose were then submitted to the meeting for approval, and the greater part of the afternoon was spent in their discussion. The majority of the sections submitted met with approval, several, however, were deleted or amended, and the by-laws as approved by the meeting were then adopted.

The election of officers then followed: President, C. C. Kirby, St. John; Vice-president, C. B. Brown, Moncton; Councilors: St. John district—J. A. Grant, 22; F. P. Vaughan, 21; Moncton district, S. B. Wass, 23; J. Edgington, 21; Fredericton district, B. M. Hill, 23; Chatham district, G. Stead, 22.

Nominating committee, St. John: G. G. Hare, G. G. Murdoch, Moncton, J. D. McBeath, E. G. Evans; Fredericton, H. M. Armstrong, N. W. Black; Chatham district, G. E. Martin, R. J. Sandover, S. J. Campbellton. Auditors—J. A. W. Waring, F. G. Goodspeed.

The Conditions. Following the election of officers, it was moved that the appreciation of the association be expressed by a vote of thanks to the editor of the Canadian Engineer, who had presented the meeting with 350 copies of the act incorporating their association.

A vote of thanks was also extended to the association's president, vice-president and councilors, for their services in having the act put through the house.

The president read a letter from the president of the Engineering Association of Alberta, stating what had been accomplished there and urging uniformity in the by-laws of the different provincial associations. He also spoke briefly on conditions in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario and Saskatchewan. He thought that the Quebec act should be amended in the interests of the engineers of New Brunswick. In the other two provinces, acts similar to this province were to be introduced on the opening of their respective legislatures.

Those Present. The list of members present at the meeting follows: St. John District—(St. John, Kings, Queens and Charlotte Counties). Those from St. John:—Harry F. Bennett, Allan R. Croolisbank, Chas. O. Foss, Fred G. Goodspeed, Jos. A. Grant, Alex. Gray, Geo. G. Hare, Wm. J. Johnston, Chas. G. Kirby, Gordon S. Macdonald, Henry F. Morrissey, Gilbert G. Murdoch, Edward J. Owens, Alex. G. Tapley, Edward A. Thomas, Frank P. Vaughan, Geo. H. Waring, James A. Waring, James A. Willis Waring, Samuel R. Weston, Barry Wilson, Guy W. Arnold, Sussex; David F. Maxwell, St. Stephen.

Moncton District—(Kent, Westmorland and Albert Counties). Those from Moncton were: Collingwood B. Brown, Jr., Fred O. Condon, Chas. H. F. Donkin, John Edgington, John A. Ellis, Edwin G. Evans, Fred B. Fripp, John D. McBeath, Fred B. Tapley, Grever C. Torrens, Silas B. Wass, Wm. A. Duff, Geo. E. McCoy, Kenneth S. Pickard, Sackville.

Fredericton District—(York, Sunbury, Carleton, Victoria and Madawaska Counties). Members from Fredericton: Maurice W. Black, Burton M. Hill, John Stephens. Chatham District. (Bedford, Gloucester and Northumberland Counties). From Chatham: Geo. E. Martin, Geoffrey Stead, R. J. Sandover, S. J. Campbellton.

Banquet at Bonds. At the close of the business session the members adjourned to Bond's for a banquet.

Following a delightful repast the toastmaster, G. G. Murdoch, proposed the King, to which fitting response was made.

In calling upon the president of the association, C. C. Kirby, to propose the toast, "The Engineering Profession," with which was coupled the St. John branch of Engineering Institute of Canada. Mr. Murdoch said the occasion was the first in the world at which a body of professional engineers met as a body to dine together and discuss matters of vital interest to their profession, he then called on Mr. Kirby to propose the toast.

Legislation on Profession. Mr. Kirby said he was sensible of the honor conferred upon him and had much pleasure in proposing the toast. He said, in part, that the effect of legislation upon the profession was to be closely followed by the members of the association so that the public might be made aware of that the profession was a close corporation and its members a responsible body.

The success of the association depended upon the loyal support and cooperation of its members. Its object was to raise the profession to a point that would make it a desirable one, both financially and socially. The first essential was the recognition by the public of engineering as a skilled profession, entitled to a reward commensurate with the services it rendered.

At the present time engineers were in many cases paid a bare living wage, in some cases even less, and yet were expected to bring to bear on their work a degree of foresight and ability not expected of others. Their work bore responsibilities which endured as was not the case in other professions.

Protecting Interests. Legislation had been enacted and the association formed with the purpose of protecting the interests of engineers of all branches of the profession, and the raising the standard of efficiency in the profession so that it would result to the public benefit.

The unsatisfactory status of men engaged in engineering, the speakers ascribed to the absence of any uniform system of grading positions; the lack of uniformity in titles of positions with respect to duties; inequalities in compensation for positions of the same grade; inadequate compensation for services rendered.

The classification of positions had been undertaken by the E. I. C., and the results attained, the first essential towards obtaining a recognition of a fair and just schedule of wages would shortly be made known to its members.

Toast to Members. D. F. Maxwell responded to the toast to the members in a brief and witty address. He congratulated the association on their choosing as president one who was eminently fitted for such a position. He hoped the public would not look on the association as a form of labor union for its primary object was the uplifting of the engineering profession, a profession that had never been properly recognized or appreciated by the public.

He spoke of the great responsibilities placed upon the profession, and the large amounts of money expended under their supervision. Notwithstanding this they had no representatives in parliament, nor had any of the profession been granted public honors for their great work.

He then spoke of the war record of the Canadian engineers, 1,000 of the C. E. I. C. volunteered early in the war, ten won the V.C., 100 were decorated, and 100 paid the supreme sacrifice.

Vote of Thanks. G. Stead moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Kirby for his splendid address. Speaking of the salaries paid the profession, he said that today a young railroador of three months' experience could command a salary of $2,100 a year, while the graduate of the leading engineering schools and with ten years or more of experience received $1,800.

The vote of thanks was seconded by C. O. Foss, who traced the development of the profession from the time of Frey-eight years back, when he picked up a rod and entered it, to the present day. He thought the profession was now about to receive to some extent the degree of appreciation it rightfully deserved.

Following the address of the last speaker, the dinner was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Hon. Arthur Meighen Coming Next Week

Premier of Canada Expected Here Thursday or Friday—Mr. Wigmore in Albert.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier of the Dominion of Canada, is likely to appear in St. John next Thursday or Friday in the interests of the Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, in the by-election coming on September 20. This was the announcement of Mr. Wigmore last evening. The Premier will come here from Windsor, Ont., where he speaks at the annual meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. It is expected he will be accompanied by the Hon. C. G. Ballantyne, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Next week Mr. Wigmore will spend Monday and Tuesday at Hillsboro and Albert, where he will address meetings in the interests of his candidature. The rest of his time will be occupied by the City of St. John fight. On Monday night there are a number of organization meetings in the city, where plans will be made for a lively fight.
