ASQUITH RETURNED.

London, July 19.—The following additional returns have been received from the contested districts: Fifeshire, east division—Right Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, Liberal, 4,332; G. Gilmour, Conservative, 3,616; Liberal majority, 716. At the election of 1892 Mr. Asquith, who is the sitting member, and who was Secretary of State for Home Affairs under the Rosebery Government, had a majority of 294. Consequently the Liberal majority in this district has been increased by 422 votes Northumberland-Wansbrek division -C. Fenwick, Liberal, and sitting member, 5,629; J. J. Harris, Unionist, 2,422; Liberal majority, 3,207. At the last election the Liberal majority was only

2,776, showing a gain of 431 votes. Durham, Bishop Auckland division-J. M. Paulton, Liberal, 5,032; Markham, Conservative, 3,735; Liberal majority, 1,297. The Liberal majority at the election of 1892 in this district was 3,077, showing a loss of 1,780 votes.
Lincolnshire—Sleaford division—The Right Hon. Henry Chaplain, Conservative, 4,653; Fox, Liberal, 2,687; Conservative majority, 1.966. THE SITUATION. London, July 18 .far gives the following result:

The Unionists have gained 16 seats and the Liberals 10. The tide of Unionist success flows on with persistency. The result in Hythe, which was announced about midnight, completed the long list of successes in the English boroughs, which are now all polled. Whatever prospective comfort the Liberals draw from the remaining English counties and Scottish and Welsh electorate must needs be chastened by the defeats and qualified by the successes heretofore recorded in those quarters. The popularity of Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, lately Secretary of State for War, enabled him to retain the Stirling burghs with an increased majority, but the Liberals have qualms regarding East Fifeshire, represented in the last Par-liament by the Right Hon. Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, and Mid-Lothian, Mr. Gladstone's old district, in both of which constituencies polling took place today. The result will not be known until midday tomorrow. The Unionists, who are cock-a-whoop, believe they have wrested Mr. Gladstone's old seat from the Libert like. stone's old seat from the Liberals and wiped out Mr. Asquith's majority of 294 given him in 1892. The worst blow that the Liberals received today was the announcement of the defeat of Right Hon. John Morley, formerly Chief Secretary for Ireland. The party leaders had little, if any hope, that he would be returned, but under the present circumstances they are grasping at straws, knowing full well what a bad effect the defeat of members of the late Government will have upon the elections yet to be held Cardiff, heretofore a Liberal strong-Cardiff, heretofore a Liberal strong-hold, today rejected Sir E. J. Reed (Lib.) an authority on naval ship-building, in favor of J. M. Maclean (Con.), the owner of the Western Mail, a local daily newspaper. Sir E. J. Reed had represented Cardiff since 1880. There was a heavy falling off in the Liberal vote in parts of Livernool, and Liberal vote in parts of Liverpool, and in one district—the Exchange division—the party lost a seat to the Liberal-Unionist. In the West Derby, West Toxteth and East Toxteth divisions the decline in the Liberal poll was particularly noticeable. The reduction of Mr. T. P. O'Connor's majority in the Scottish division of Liverpool, is ascribed chiefly to the lukewarmness of the priests, owing to Mr. O'Connor's attitude on the education question, and the opposition of the Sun, his newspaper, to Cardinal Vaughan in connection with the London school board elections.

The defeat of Sam Woods, the Liberal and Labor candidate, in the Ince division of Lancashire, is noteworthy. Mr. Woods was the author of the amendment against the contracting-out clause of the Employers' Liability Bill, which the House of Commons carried, and which resulted in the House of Lord, wrecking the measure. The Unionists contend that his defeat proves that the workingmen are not opposed to clause, and that the action of the Tories was justified. A majority of the returns was announced in the daytime. Sir William Harcourt is actively cam-paigning in the west division of Monmouthshire since his defeat in Derby.

The Government to Deprive Mr. Laurier's Brother of His Position .

As Postmaster in a Small Village-Morning Session of the House.

(Special to the "Alvertiser.") Ottawa, July 19.—The House of Commons met this morning bright and early at 10 o'clock. Mr Foster moved the second reading of the bill amending the Companies' Act which extends the time of holding real estate in Manitoba from seven to tvelve years, in conformity with legislation recently passed by that Province. The Opposition held that companies incorporated here must obtain their powers as to how to deal with lands in the Province in which the lant lies. On a division the motion carried by 50 to 24. Mr. Edwards caused a great deal of laughter by voting on both sides, and when asked by the Speaker found great difficulty in making plain how he intended to vote.

On a motion to ge into committee of ways and means, Colonel Prior brought up the question of British Columbia representation in the Cabinet. The great distance from Ottawa was one reason. The fact that Prince Edward Island has a Cabinet member was another reason. It was all very well for Premier Bowell to hope for the day when localities would not be considered in choosing a Government, but they found gentlemen taken into the Government because they were French-Canadians, Nova Scotians or Orangemen. The ablest men were not always chosen. Mr. Daly, whose opinion Mr. Prior said was looked up to with confidence by the Western people, was industrious, but not able to look after such a vast territory in a way the people of British Columbia had a right to expect. Mr. Prior gave some figures as to the revenue, tonnage, trade and importance of British Columbia, but apologized for want of some figures, because these had been stolen from his desk. This raised a laugh, and Mr. Foster, replying, suggested that if Mr. Prior could not keep his own documents better it might be urged that he, at all events, would not be qualified to have charge of public documents as a Min-ister. Seriously speaking, Mr. Foster believed that ideal Cabinets, drawn from all parts down, irrespective of local claims, and solely on account of fitness, could not be realized in our day. He bore testimony to the carefulness and attention to work which Mr. Daly puts upon matters connected with the Western country. Mr. Devlin complimented Mr. Daly, but disagreed with Mr. Foster's invitation to Mr. Prior to wait and hope. He believed the smaller Provinces of Mr. Daly's portfolio, placing Immigration and Dominion Lands under one Minister, and Indians and Mounted Police under another.

Sir Richard Cartwright suggested that Col. Prior should not only strive to get a Cabinet Minister for his Province, but a controller.

Mr. Mills wound up the debate in a semi-humorous vein, and the matter dropped. Mr. Lavergne drew the attention of the House to the change in the postoffice in the village of St. Lin, the birthplace of the leader of the Opposition, whereby the brother of the Hon. Mr. Laurier is being squeezed out of the position of postmaster. He moved an amendment setting rorth that large expense was entailed on removing the postoffice from the store of the postmaster; that the postal revenue there was only $787; that a rental of $300 a year was to be paid for a new postal building, which was never before rented at more than $60 a year, and that it constituted an unjustifiable expenditure of public money. Mr. Ouimet defended so large an expenditure in this small village on the ground that it was a growing place. He announced that before any more public buildings were erected a general scheme would be devised by which all places would be served in their turn, according to their importance.

Mr. Mills indignantly denounced the taking of the postoffice out of the general store as a disgrace to men in public life, the object being to wound the feelings of the Liberal leader by depriving his brother of $300 a year as postmaster.

Mr. Ouimet said he never knew of the effect of this change on Mr. Laurier's brother.

Mr. Mills replied that he himself informed a prominent supporter of the Minister, and he must have told him. He described it as a dishonorable thing to descend to the use of such weapons in party warfare. No one on either side of the House had such a mean disposition that they would stoop so low as to countenance such political vindictiveness. Sir Adolphe Caron said his present intention was not to remove the postmaster.

Mr. Choquette pointed out that by removing the postoffice from the mer-chant's store, where it now stood, they were forcing the postmaster out.

Mr. McMullen denounced the affair as a transparent job, because in places with double the postal revenue the rental paid for accommodation was only $40 to $60 a year, as against $300 in this case.

Mr. Tarte thought some more open means might be employed to strike at the Liberal leader.

Mr. Ouimet-If that was the effect I would abandon the whole thing. I would not be held up to the country as capable of waging such warfare. In reply to Mr. Foster, Mr. Laurier said the affair could not be defended on public grounds because it was a

NEW RAILWAY AT THE FALLS. Niagra Falls, Ont., July 18.-The completed portion of the new Gorge Railway on the American side of the river, from the Buttery elevator, a few hundred feet north of the railway suspension bridge, to Lewiston, was opened this afternoon, the management giving a complimentary and first ride over the line to a few businessmen of Buffalo, line to a few businessmen of Buffalo, Niagara Falls and vicinity. A slight accident occurred today. As the five well-filled cars, drawn by a small steam engine, was passing under the bridge near Lewiston the train gave a joht, and a man who got frightened erry, Knox. the bank, which is about 50 feet at this point, to the water, but he escaped with a few scratches. The train started after the alarmed man got aboard again, and continued on its journey to was declared open to this point. It will be operated by steam until the electrical equipment is placed.

TRADE IN CANADA

Shows No Marked Alteration Since a Week Ago.

Midsummer Quietude Prevails-Crop Prospects Somewhat Improved.

Toronto, July 18.-Messrs. R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of business in Canada says: The general trade situation at Montreal does not show any material alteration since a week ago, and a feeling of seasonable quiet, more or less pronounced, prevails in most lines. The bulk of the orders for certain lines of drygoods is now booked and with retailers there is not much doing, while collections are not as good as a fortnight ago.

Dairy products have not improved in price, but some considerable sales of old hay, of which there are considerable stocks, reported at advanced prices, and the new crop a good one, is being got in good order. Business at Toronto is quiet, with no particular change since last week. The late rains have improved harvest prospects, but there still exists some uncertainty as to the outcome. Merchants are in consequence inclined to be cautious. The business in whole-sale circles is of a sorting up character, and it will be a few weeks before any activity is expected. Prices, how-ever, remain firm for all the staples, and remittances are said to be fairly satisfactory. Crop prospects in Mani-toba are excellent, so say dispatches from Canadian Pacific officials, and if expectations are realized, Toronto merchants are likely to do a large trade with the Western Province.

The cattle export trade is demoralized this week in consequence of the glut in the British markets and lower cables. The suspension of the Banque du Peuple has created a good deal of uncertainty in financial circles. The failures for this week are 37, as against 44 for the same week of last year.

Live News in a Line.

The reports circulated that the Cu-ban insurgent leader Antonio Maceo had been wounded and captured by Spanish troops is untrue.

The executive committee of the Trunk Lines Association met on Thursday in New York and voted to abolish all contracts with shippers of freight. It was announced that the west bound passenger agreement was ready to be put into effect.

A manifesto will be issued by General Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, for the boycott of all national banks. It will be addressed to the Knights of Labor, the Farmers' Alliance, the People's Party, Reform Club and kindred societies.

Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, of Toronto, was one of the speakers at the Young Baptists' Convention, which opened in Baltimore on Thursday. His topic was "Culture for Service." Rev. Roland D. Grant, D.D., of Portland, Oregon, spoke on "The Junior Society-the Hope of the Movement."

FATAL CAVE-IN.

Two Men Killed, One Fatally Hurt, Two Maimed.

Newark, N. J., July 18.-Two men were killed, one fatally injured and two others frightfully maimed by the cave-in of 400 feet of earth in a sewer excavation at Harrison at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon.

The dead are: Denis Ryan, Newark; George Villaude, Newark. The injured are: James McDonald, Newark, both legs broken and internally injured, will die; James Larrady, 19 years old, of Monroe street, scalp cut, left arm broken, taken to the hospital; Thomas Brennan, 50 years old, cut about the

The killed and injured men were working twelve feet below the surface in a sewer on Jersey street, near Fourth, with sixteen others. Without warning 400 feet of earth gave way, carrying down bracing timbers and rock upon the laborers. Eleven of the men were saved from death by a shelf formed by the timbers.

A CURE FOR GRASSHOPPERS. Novel Machines Which Kill Them-Minnesota Farmers Using Them.

Winona, Minn., July 19.—Prof. Lugger, the State Department entomologist, has in operation in the Red River Valley and in Chicago and Pine counties 400 "hopper dosers." The hopper doser is a machine about eight feet long and two feet wide. It is made on the plan of a dust pan, of tin, and sits on three runners, on which it is pulled over the stubble by a team of horses. At the rear of the pan there is a trough the entire length of the machine in which there is an inferior grade of coal oil, while on the back of the machine there is a sheet of canvas. The grasshoppers jump into this pan in try-ing to get out of the way. Those that fall into the oil and are immersed in the fluid die at once, while those that are merely touched by the oil may live two or three minutes. Canvas at the back of the machine prevents the grasshoppers from jumping clear over it. They strike against the canvas and fall back into the oil. It costs the State $105 to make each of these machines. They can be made by any tinsmith, and are given to the farmers in hopper infested communities in order to encourage them getting rid of the pest. Prof. Lugger claims that with his 400 machines he kills off an average of 800 to 1,200 bushels of grasshoppers every day.

-A united meeting of the members of the Scotch societies of this city will be held at Jones' auction rooms on Saturday night to complete arrangements for the annual picnic at Port Stanley on Friday next.

Meeting of the Pan-American Congress in Toronto.

About 1,000 Delegates Attend the First Session.

Warm Welcome Accorded to and Grace fully Acknowledged by the Wisitors.

Toronto, July 18.—The Pan-American Congress of Religion and Education formally opened this afternoon at the Horticultural Gardens pavilion. Numerous distinguished visitors have arrived to participate in the programme, and more are now expected daily. The attendance of delegates at the opening gathering today numbered about 1,000, and included many men of prominence. in religious and educative circles.

Mayor Warring Kennedy gave a cor-dial address of welcome this afternoon on behalf of the city at the opening meeting. Rev. Dr. Sims, formerly with D. L. Moody in Chicago, welcomed the delegation on behalf of the Toronto Ministerial Association. Rev. Dr. Samuel G. Smith, president of the congress, in thanking the previous speakers for their words of welcome, referred to the way in which the British and American flags were intertwined in the decorations, and expressed the hope that not until began the crack of doom would the two be rent asunder. They were all Englishmen, with the They were all Englishmen, with the same language, of the same race, and with the same institutions, the same sympathies and the same future. A hundred years ago the Englishmen of the United States started out for themselves, and they thought they had done selves, and they thought they had done very well. If any other three millions had made a better job than they had in the last hundred years he would like to know of it. They had not only multiplied in the orthodox manner, but they had tried to swallow the nations of the earth, and with the determina-tion of their Teutonic blood were struggling with their problems. It was to help in the solution of these problems that they were gathered today.

Rev. Father Ryan, on behalf of the Roman Catholic priesthood of the city, joined in the welcome extended by Mayor Kennedy and others.

Mrs. Charles Henrotin, of Chicago, dwelt on the importance of women being represented in the congress, a fea-ture which would probably have been missing from such a gathering a generation back, but which was an apt illustration of the tendency of the age. She spoke in terms of admiration of Queen Victoria as a representative woman in the highest sense, and claimed Mrs. Cleveland as one of America's representative women. Rabbi Elzas, now of Charleston, S.C. formerly of Toronto, spoke on behalf of the Jewish delegates and visitors. The afternoon proceedings closed with brief addresses from Rev. Dr. H. W. Bennett, of Akron, Ohio, who expressed much surprise at the warmth of the welcome Toronto had given the delegates, and with a speech by Mrs. Lydia Von Finklestein Mountford, of Jerusalem. A feature of the day was the elaborate and enjoyable musical programme arranged and carried out in connection with the proceedings. Three thousand people gathered in the Horticultural Pavilion tonight, when the first business session of congress was held. Rev. Prof. Clark, of Trinity University, Toronto, occupied the chair.

LOST AT SEA. San Francisco, July 18 .- The British bark Florence, which left Newcastle, Australia, on Jan. 25, for Panama, has not yet reached her destination, and she has been given up as lost. Nothing has been heard of her since she sailed from the colonial port a month Re-insurance was freely offered at 90 per cent.

ONTARIO DENTISTS. Toronto, July 18.—The Ontario Dental Society met here on Tuesday and elected the following officers: Dr. W. A. Legge, of Ottawa, president; W. A. Brownlee, Mount Forest, vice-president; Dr. J. A. Marshall, Belleville, secretary, and C. P. Lennox, Toronto, tressurer. treasurer. The executive committee consists of the officers, with Drs. G. E. Hanna, J. A. Smith, A. U. Clark, J. B. Willmott, and J. H. Husband.

The Yankee Girl. "How brilliant and mirthful the light of her eye, Like a star glancing out from the blue of the sky; And lightly and freely her dark tresses play O'er a brow and a bosom as lovely as they." The Yankee girl is not always blest with abundant health. There are unfortunately hundreds of Yankee girls and matrons who are dragging out an existence. They suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex. Life is a burden. Where can they obtain relief? The question is not hard to answer. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bring the brilliant and mirthful light back to their eyes and the blush of health to their cheeks. It cures all irregularities, weaknesses, nervous and general debility, spasms, St. Vitus' dance and kindred ailments.

HISKARD'S THE SCRAP BAG

The king of Middlesex is going to find a cool reception awaiting him in this town, or I'm no weather prophet! His first appearance, it may be asserted with a considerable degree of likelihood, will be made in a four-wheeler, but if he is calculating on paying half price for his cab, in view of the small amount of work to be required of the owners' horses, why, I'm afraid his Majesty is fooling himself, that's all. comes to claim the whole of London, any joyful, enthusiastic crowd eager to unhitch his horses, that they may have the pleasure of dragging his carriage along in triumph, why, I am going to be surprised as I have not been surprised since the day I was overtaken by a Mount Hope car actually going my way. I have been a landed propriefor myself for a great many years in Spain, and know how hard it is to be suddenly ordered off a nice little estate that one has up till then had every reason to believe was one's own. But what are you to do? The gentleman says his grandfather came from the north of Ireland in the middle of the sixteenth century with Christopher Columbus, who made him a present of the whole of Ontario as soon as the keel of his vessel toucsed land, and although the citizens of this town are downright mean sometimes about putting in their coppers on a subscription band concert night, and have sidewalks in winter that are good for nothing but little boys to skate on, I have no reason to believe there is a land owner in the city who would care to defraud another, or try to hang on to property, which, by the clearest evidence, is not rightfully his or her own. It's hard lines, though, and I don't mind giving real estate men a pointer, if they will take it. Compromise! that's what you must do. In fact, it's the only thing to do. You must induce this Colonel Lamothe to start up the old feudal system again. Y don't think the town will take kindly to the idea, but it can't be helped. The only way for you to keep in possession of the homes which have been yours so long is by becoming the vassals of this Lamothe person, who will then be your lord, down bareheaded with belt ungirt." I want to be there to see do it. So when giving out the tickets, don't forget the press. An indication of a very nice spirit on the part of the citizens of this town is the fact that though this crushing announcement has spread far and wide, it is noticed that inhabitants go on watering their grass and tending to their flower beds, just as heretofore. I am willing to stake a water sprinkler against a lawn mower there are towns in this part of the country which would be mad enough to want to get even with General Lamothe by letting the grass all wither up and everything go to seed. But not so, Londoners! And any town, village or city which has been known to look upon London with a jealous eye, or to speak slightingly of her manifold attractions, is now invited to gaze and profit by this display of a noble and unretaliating spirit, which will be to hand over to Major Lamothe his property as good

A woman says that she always chooses for servants girls who have projecting lower jaws. She finds those possessing this peculiarity of feature to be capable, neat, orderly and of a retiring disposition. On the other hand is the testimony of a family who had one servant for seventeen years and another for five that both had small, rather retreating lower jaws and were incomparable servants, having all the qualities ascribed to those with the opposite characteristic, besides being cevout, affectionate with children and intensely loyal to those whom they served. There is no absolute indication of character in chins any more than in noses or ears. There are more reliable tests of human nature than that. -Chicago Tribune.

THE LAST OF THE BLOUSES.

How They Differ Fron the Original

The blouse effects have been creeping downward until most of them have slipped from sight beneath our belts. Such an old friend, however, could not be deserted altogether, and we cling to it in a sort of half-hearted way before transferring our allegiance to the Marie Antoinette puffs and fichus.

But what a changed blouse it is! At For if there is any demonstration of the neck, where it used to start in all its welcome in this town to a man who glory, is now a perfectly pain yoke which extends down to the bust line. Then, at the bottom of the yoke one, or two, or three, as the case may be, box plaits are sewed. These fall stiffig to the waist, where they are turned under and belted in. Neither do they get any chance for escape at the sides, but are kept well in check by ornamentation-either some contrasting material or lace. No pretty, soft gathers are allowed anywhere! A blouse of to-day would be ashamed to recognize them.

A woman who wears a blouse has one consolation—there may be no graceful droop about it, but she knows her figure and that above all things is to be desired. The matron here pictured wears a gown of taffeta-lavender with figure of a darker shade. The high collar is of velvet. A front of point lace encircles the lower edge of the yoke, and outlines the figure at each side of three box plaits which form the blouse. Three points of the lace, one short and two long, hold the plaits of the skirt in place. Ribbon bows on the sleeves add to the adornment of the gown. The small hat worn with this costume is made of tea roses, with black feathers standing up stiffly in the back, and a spangled aigret in front.

have discovered a way to make plainest silk waist a thing of billowy beauty, admirably adapted to seaside The deep, pointed lace collarette which I wore in the winter, and which lay flat over the bodice, is the foundation of my new adornment. About the points of that I have ruffled pale cream chiffon, and the result is a bewildering pelerine which floats over my shoulders and down the front of my bodice from the plain lace as from a yoke. The other day I came in hot and sunburned. The Beauty, who was cool and lovely in lavender negligee, watched me pityingly until she saw me plunge my burned face into a bowl of cold water. Then she was horrified and stopped me. It is one of her rules never to wash her face in anything but boiling milk and water when it has been burned. She maintains that a bad case of sunburn, if taken in hand immediately, may be cured in a few hours by a face steaming, followed by applications of hot milk. When her hands and wrists are burned through rowing or playing tennis bare handed. she first washes them in water as hot as she can bear. Then she rubs lemon juice into them, draws on a pair of loose, heavy gloves and tries to forget how uncomfortable she is while they bleach out. Her negligee, by the way, is one of the prettiest I have ever seen. It is of lavender and white gingham, the white stripe being slightly crinkled after the style of seersucker. It hangs perfectly loose in both the back and front from the neck, a gathered Watteau plait giving fulness to the back. Lace is jaboted down to the hem in front, and lavender ribbons tie the gown together at intervals. She who discovers a new way to use denim is greater than she that taketh a city, I think. I have discovered a new way to use denim. I have a bicycle suit made of that homely material. It is tough enough to stand all sorts of wear; it is a good color; it is cheap, and, above all, it is becoming. It consists of a skirt and reefer jacket, worn with bloomers and white blouse. I can now shake the blue overalled laborer by the hand and call him brother. I have made the interesting discovery that when one takes her walks abroad her chief concern should be with her veils. If she is well, rosente and cleareyed the sheerest tulle with no dots at all -or dots like angels' visits, few and far between-will suit her best. Conspicuous dots accentuate her color and brilliancy and make her too striking. When she is dull-eyed and pallid, however, she needs plenty of dots to conceal defects and give her a semblance of brilliancy. Chiffon softens. Brown veiling gives a soft glow to the face, and lace borders add about twenty years to the apparent age of the wearer. "It is safe to allege that the average summer girl in this country has been doing all that she ought to do in the way of dancing, working and generally spending her vital powers in the autumn. winter and spring immediately preceding, and consequently when summer comes she needs physical, mental and moral ozone. But what does she prefer to do? Whither is she bent on leading her father by the nose with the assistance of her mother? If possible to one of the gayest watering places, where she hopes to bathe, play tennis, walk, talk and drive during the day; paddle, stroll or sit out during the evening, and dance until 12 o'clock at night at least two or three times a week. When autumn comes, and the leaf is about to fall, what has she to show for it? A little tan and a callous heart, a promised winter correspondence with the hotel clerk, new slang, some knack at banjo-playing and considerable uncertainty in her mind as to whom she is engaged, or whether she is engaged

EXPORTED CANADIANS. the million or so of immigrants se arrival in Canada the Domin-Government claims to have prooted had paid the duty of $50 per pita provided for in the Chinese Imigration Act, Mr. Foster would have ound himself able to place an extra 50,000,000 at the disposal of the spendg Departments. But had the Governent also been foresighted enough to rovide an export duty on citizens of anada who during the last twelve or fteen years have gone over to the Inited States, the Minister of Finance night have had a further sum to ratify the spending Departments of ot less than $75,000,000. In view of his pportunities, we are sure that the Minister must feel amazed at his modration. Carefully husbanded, the evenue from those two sources might ave paid off one-half of the national lebt, as our national debt now is!

CANADIAN FARM PRODUCTS. Often we hear it said that the National Policy is a boon to Canadian farmers in keeping out of the country the product of American farms. But the trade statistics published by the Minister of Trade and Commerce do not support the claim. On the contrary, they show that we every year bring in large quantities of farm products from the United States, to be consumed here. Take breadstuffs, for example. The value of imports in 1890 was $8,416,865; in 1891, $6,920,562; in 1892, $10.131,315; in 1893, $6,841,513, and in 1894, $9,863,697. And of this aggregate of $42,173,952 worth of breadstuffs imported from the United States in five years, all was dutiable but a few paltry lots valued at $310,276, or about three fourths of 1 per cent of the whole. In the same five years our exports of breadstuffs to the United States were valued at $5,684,627 in 1890, at $4,539,733 in 1891, at $3,463,166 in 1892, at $1,977,261 in 1893, and at $1,095,791 in 1894. This is what the boasted policy of reciprocity in tariffs has resulted in to Canada, and evidently enough. There is not much more left for it to do.

IRRESPONSIBILITY.

The common pleas division of the High Court of Justice at Toronto on Saturday in a very elaborate judgment justified by previous decisions decided that Mrs. Agnes Hartford's action for damages was properly dismissed by the trial judge on the ground that the proximate cause of the injury to Mrs. Hartford by a live wire of the Toronto Electric Light Company was eaused by a boy who chopped a branch off a tree which fell upon the telephone wire and the wire of the Holmes Protective Company and brought them to the ground and into contact with the live electric wire. The judgment is a sort of legal "This is the house that Jack built," but nevertheless involves very serious possibilities to the public other than poor Mrs. Hartford, and relieves the electric light and other public monopolies from what would seem to the ordinary citizen to be their just responsibilities in the use of the public highways. The accident and consequent injury to Mrs. Hartford could not have happened by the action of the boy if there had been on the public streets of Toronto no wires of the Telephone Company or the Holmes Protective Company, and no live wire of the Electric Light Company. The legal effect of the boy cutting off the branch may possibly be the absurd one that the boy is responsible for all the numerous injurious consequences to the companies and to Mrs. Hartford. That companies public or private using the highways should be held legally responsible for injuries arising from the condition and state of their appliances absolutely and without excuse would appear to be in the public interests if British subjects have now any rights whatever in the Queen's highways. The decision referred to apparently treats the matter as depending upon whether or not the companies were guilty of negligence. It might fairly be said that the real question was whether Mrs. Hartford's legal rights in her use of a public street of Toronto were infringed by an illegal obstruction. We assume, of course, that a live electric wire on the surface of the street is an illegal obstruction and that the owners of such wire are responsible for its where-

CAN CANADA PRODUCE RAISINS? Would it be possible, either in Western Ontario, or in British Columbia, to raise grapes for the production of raisins? Hitherto it has not been thought possible to do so, but that should not stand in the way of experiments. At one time it was believed that peaches could not be grown north of the great lakes. In Greece, the production of raisins is the chief source of wealth. Great Britain imports from 60 to 70 tons of Greek raisins in a year-so much for the national dish of plum pudding!and in consequence of the removal of the duty on Greek raisins, Russia has in recent times increased her import of raisins from Greece from three thousand to twenty-one thousand tons. There is plenty of market for raisins. All depends on the quality.

One of the chief features of the preparation of European raisins is the drying of the grape. Among the better sorts are those known as the Malaga, muscatel, or "gum raisins." These are dried upon the vines, as unlike most fruits, the grape does not drop when ripe. The stem to each bunch when ripe is twisted or partly severed, and the grapes soon shrivel by the evaporation of the water they contain, and become sweeter by the consequent concentration of the pulp. When dried the bunches are taken off and carefully placed in boxes, with sheets of paper separating the layers. These raisins, better than any other sort, retain the freshness and bloom of the fruit, and when fresh have less of the saccharine exudation which is found upon most of the varieties. The common kinds of raisins are prepared by drying the ripe grapes after they are picked, either in the sun or in heated rooms, and while they are drying dipping them into a lye of wood ashes and vanilla, of specific gravity 1.110, to every four gallons of which is added a pint of oil and a handful of salt. The effect of this is to cause a saccharine exudation to take place, which forms concretions upon the raisins and coats them with a thin varnish. The best raisins of this kind are hung on lines to dry in the sun, and as they begin to shrivel they are dipped in the lye once or twice and hung up again to complete the drying.

THE SIXTH SESSION. On the orders of the day Sir Richard Cartwright drew attention to the proposal of the Government to hold a sixth session, a thing unprecedented, and if the session was of ordinary length the life of the Parliament would have expired. A junior member of the Administration, the Controller of Customs, had from his place dissented from and denounced the policy of the Government. It was utterly unknown in British practice that he should continue to remain a member of the Administration, or else the Premier demands his resignation. This was a crucial test of the sincerity of the Government, and they had a right to inquire of the leader of the House, who represents the Premier, as to what course he intended to pursue. What would be thought of a junior lord of the treasury, or an under secretary of state, if he dissented from the policy of the Marquis of Salisbury, the First Minister in England, after the Government had announced an important policy from which the junior member dissented? The Government were fond of quoting British precedents, and Sir Richard Cartwright challenged them to quote any precedent as to this grave constitutional question. He moved that the House do now adjourn.

APOLOGIZING FOR WALLACE. Sir Hibbert Tupper characterized the course of the Opposition as extraordinary, and complained that no notice of this matter had been given. He denied that the Controller of Customs had repudiated the policy of the Government. A sixth session was undoubtedly unusual and extraordinary, but the question the Government had to deal with-the school question-was an unusual one. He twitted Sir Richard Cartwright with not having ventilated his own views on the school question. If the question was to be discussed, they should have the facts before them. This school question may possibly be decided without the introduction of legislaton by the Government. Should it be necessary-and necessary it would be if Manitoba did not act—then the Controller of Customs would have to support it or retire from the Adminis-

Mr. Mills said the Government course in announcing a policy in advance was extraordinary. Mr. Wallace was exactly in the same position as if a bill had been brought down, because the policy of the Government had been clearly enunciated and defined. The self-respect of the Controller and of his chief made it necessary for the Controller to retire. After Messrs. Davin and Casey had spoken against and for the views of the Opposition, Mr. Devlin protested against the attack of the Controller of Customs on the bishops in connection with Bishop Gravel's letter, and against his reference to the late Archbishop Tache as guilty of being a party to a

THE MANITOBA CASE Mr. Martin, replying to the Minister of Justice, saw no ground for the expectation of a settlement of the question in the direction indicated by the Dominion Government. There was no hope of it. The action of the Manitoba Government had been deliberate, and was found in the reply to the remedial order. He was mistaken if the people and Legislature of Manitona recede from their attitude. The letter he had written had been referred to. He stood by everything in that letter. If, instead of ordering Manitoba to restore the system of schools in vogue prior to 1890. Manitoba had been differently approached, he believed the Province would have been prepared to go into the question and give to the minority such a measure of relief, if the minority were reasonable in their demands, as would have been satisfactory to the Dominion at large. Unfortunately the Dominion Government did not adopt that course, but an optoba would not be allowed by the people if they desired-and he was sure they did not desire—to recede from their position. If, as Mr. Ouimet stated in his letter, all the minority desired was an opportunty to give such religious instruction in the schools to their children as they thought proper, without interfering in any degree with the School Act of 1890 or its administration, he undertook to state for himself that he thought there was justice in their claim. He was opposed to religious exercises in the public schools, and always had been. Many even of the Protestants of Manitoba did not consider the present exercises satisfactory, but that more religious instruction should be allowed. He had stated in his letter that the introduction of religious exercises which were satisfactory only to a portion of the community was tyranny, and he could not justify the refusal of the Legislature to extend that religious instruction or exercises to such an extent as would be satisfactory to any component part of the population of Manitoba. If the Government repealed the remedial order and did justice to Manitoba in the premises, he believed Manitoba would respond and do justice under the circumstances.

Mr. McCarthy held that it was not in accordance with administrative unity that one section of the Administration should be pressing one way and another pressing another way. Mr. Dickey, Secretary of State, was not prepared to express an opinion, and would like more time.

Sir Richard Cartwright—Then in order to give the Government time I will withdraw the motion. Motion withdrawn. PROROGATION.

Mr. Foster asked Mr. Laurier if he thought they could prorogue on Saturday or Monday at the latest. Mr. Laurier-What about the Hudson Bay Bill? Mr. Foster said the bill, of which notice had been given, would be introduced, but it was merely a little change in regard to the contract as regards the transport subsidy. Superannuation Bill would be dropped, as well as the Salmon Bill. Mr. Laurier, on condition that there was nothing new or important in the bill, did not see why prorogation should not take place as suggested. The Opposition had several important mat-ters to bring up, but they would leave them over till Jan. 4. Mr. McCarthy stated that as the Hudon Bay Act stood now, we were bound to pay over to the company $80,000 a Scotland is perhaps better furnished in the plantation of trees than any other country in the world.

The Question of a Sixth Session Discussed-

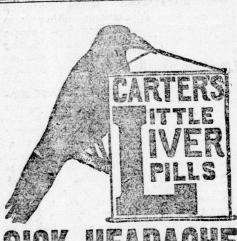

whether these services were performed

Mr. Mulock commented on the practice of introducing new bills two or three days before prorogation. In the evening session a number of bills were put hrough with little or no discussion. The bill revising the charter of the Lake Manitoba Railway and Canal Company was passed trough committee and read the third time and passed without comment. This is the measure strenuously opposed in the railway committee by the Hudson Bay Company, and a great fight over it may be fought in the Senate. IN THE SENATE. In the Senate, on the second reading of the bill to amend the Customs Act, Sir Mackenzie Bowelll said he proposed during the coming recess to consider an amerdment to the Customs Law whereby the board of appraisers and the governmental head of the Department of Customs would be relieved of the duty of deciding cases of dispute in reference to questions of selzure and infractions of the Customs Law. His idea was to have all such cases of irregularity and dispute as soon as reported to the department referred to an independent judicial tribunal for decision. This would relieve the head of the department from any suspicion of partiality, and would prevent serious and unfounded charges being made. Senator Scott called attention to the fact that the present bill did not meet the requests of the boards of trade, that a board of customs experts should be appointed with a view of securing a more uniform appraisement of customs duties. He approved of the Premier's suggestion of a speedy appeal from the decision of the appraisers to an independent judicial tribunal. The bill was read a second time, as was a bill to amend the Penitentiary Act.

TARIFF CHANGES. According to a notice of motion given by the Minister of Finance tonight, it is proposed to add two new items to the tariff respectively-fresh salmon and sawed lumber. The first section will be known as 199 A, as follows: "Salmon, fresh, not elsewhere specified, one-half cent per pound, provided that such salmon may be imported free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor in Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that fresh salmon may be imported into the United States from Canada free of duty. The second clause added, to be known as 362 A, reads as follows: "Sawed board planks and deals, planed and dressed on one side or both sides, when the edges thereof are jointed or tongued and grooved, 20 per cent ad valorem. Provided that said lumber may be imported free of duty upon proclamation of the Governor in Council. which may appears to his satisfaction that similar lumber from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty."

LEATHER TIRES FOR BICYCLES. Two Frenchmen of Rheims have re-cently completed an invention which they claim will in a measure revolutionize the present pneumatic tire. They build their wheels by substituting an outer pneumatic tube made of leather for the rubber tubes now in use. Their invention has been taken up by the Ministry of War, who are now perfecting the idea with a view to supply all the military cycles with tires that will not give out easily.

The resistance of leather is considerably greater than that of rubber, and it will better stand the pressure from within and the exterior agent of destruction, such as nails, hoops, roots, or sharp pebbles. It is not absolutely imperforable, but it is at least as good as the finest steel band which was experi-mentally placed between the outer and inner tubes, and which was pierced by needles and tacks. Leather offers the greatest impenetrability in relation to its thickness without impairing the necessary elasticity. It is further improved by a preparation which ren-ders it impermeable to water. The leather tire is easily repaired in case of erforation—any cobbler can sew it up his repair is permanent and not get out of order. advantages claimed for the ire are: Greater lightness, it get out of shape as does rubit will not slip on asphalt nt or wet roads. The new maor the tire seems to meet with couragement on the part of ary authorities of France.

THE SARATOGA REGATTA.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 18.—The greatest regatta in the history of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen closed this afternoon with one of those exciting finishes between eightoared shells that set oarsmen wild with delirious joy, and even stirred the blood in the veins of landsmen who can't tell the difference between a pair-oar and double sculls. The only mishap of the day was in the senior singles. Hackett, of Rat Portage, Ont., ran into Rumohr, of Toronto, at the turn, and was disqualified after he had finished first. As Rumohr was obliged to pull for the nearest shore and empty the water out of his boat, he was given a chance to row again with McDowell, of Chicago, who came in second. When the remains of the unfortunate woman were discovered, the two boys were playing cards. The only reason given by the lads for their crime was that Mrs. Coombs whipped the youngest of them.

THE BISMARCK OF BULGARIA. Sofia, July 18.-Stefan N. Stambuloff, ex-Premier of Bulgaria, died at halfpast three o'clock this morning from the effects of wounds inflicted upon him Monday evening while he was returning to his home from the Union Club. Only 40 years of age, he had carned for himself the title of "The Bismarck of Bulgaria," and his last His death has intensified the bitter feeling that exists between his partisans and the supporters of the present Government, and it has been freely charged that Prince Ferdinand and his Ministers were directly responsible for his assassination. The funeral has been fixed for Saturday.

BRAVERY AT CHITRAL. London, July 18.—Capt. Whitechurch has been awarded the Victoria Cross for bravery during the siege of Chitral. On March 3 he took part in a reconnoissance from the Chitral fort, and was attacked by a large body of Umra Khan's troops. Capt. Baird, of the British force, was wounded and lost to view when Capt. Whitechurch reappeared carrying the wounded man on his back. With this burden he fought his way back to the fort, being obliged to drop the wounded man several times in order to lead bayonet charges against the stone walls from behind which the enemy kept up a galling fire upon the British.

When Capt. Baird died, on the following morning, he strongly urged Dr. Robertson, the British political egent, to record the bravery displayed by Capt. Whitechurch. Col. Kelly, who relieved the Chitral garrison after accomplishing a brilliant military achievment in leading a flying column from Gilgit to Chitral, passing over the snow-covered Shandar Pass, some 12,000 to 14,000 feet above the level of the sea, in bitterly cold weather, has been made a C. B. (Commander of the Bath), and has been appointed aide-de-camp to the Queen, with the rank of brevet colonel. The other officers who distinguished themselves during Chitral campaign have received the Distinguished vice Order and have been promoted.

ALARMISTS BUSY. London, July 18.-The Post will tomorrow say that the eastern question has so often suddenly developed crises that the situation caused by the assassination of Stambuloff cannot be regarded without alarm. The Standard will hold that Prince Ferdinand and his Government are morally answerable for the murder of M. Stambuloff. It will imply its doubt as to whether Prince Ferdinand will have the courage to return to Bulgaria and face the situation his own presumption and passion for intrigue has created. paper will say that it will not be surprised at the Czar insisting upon the abdication of the prince. The Daily News will tomorrow publish a dispatch from Vienna saying it is reported from Sona that it is believed that Prince Ferdinand will not return to Bulgaria. The whole national party is incensed against him as being in a measure directly responsible for the death of M. Stambuloff. The Russophiles are discussing the question of proclaiming his son Roris ruler of Bulgaria, under a Russian regency. It is rumored that the Min-ister of War has been authorized to proclaim a state of siege. The dispatch adds that M. Stambuloff had worn a coat of mail for several years. This coat shows the traces of many blows that were leveled at its wearer by would-be assassins. Berlin, July 19.-The press here has renewed its attack upon Prince Ferdinand. The papers regard the situation as being one that demands the greatest vigilance on the part of diplomats, especially those of the great powers controlling the world's peace.

The Vossiche Zeitung demands that diplomatic relations with Bulgaria be severed. The National Zeitung predicts that tion of Egyptian finances. It shows that while the rate of interest has been cut almost in two, the debt of Egypt has increased by about $40,000,000 since the British occupation. The total bonded debt in 1895 is $508,945,299. About $298,062,000 of this is held in England. Mr. Penfield says the debt is almost overpowering, when applying it to an agricultural population of 7,000,000 in a country of only about $,000 square miles of tillable soil, when manual labor is worth but 20 cents a day. On 'Change. Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Kennett, Hopkins Company. Chicago, July 18 .- Wheat opened 1c lower on rains in the Northwest, weak cables, more favorable reports from the damaged districts, and what was construed to be a bearish utterance from the Price Current. At the bottom prominent local pears covered their short lines, and took the other side for a turn. Their heavy purchases followed. On the swells there was apparently free selling by them, which checked the advance, and closed the market weak. Exports very light, and closing cables weak, but the primary receipts, though increasing somewhat, are very small. Toledo tok another 50,000 bu cargo here today, and New York reported seven loads of spring wheat taken for export. The situation is getting more bullish daily, but trade is so light that a few local operators seem to dominate the market. Corn and oats weak. There was heavy selling early. Corn rallied a lit-tle later in the session on reports of 274,000 bu taken here for shipment, and 264,000 bu for export at the sea-board. Fort Worth, Tex., reports corn selling at 15c, f. o. b., for October de-

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Que., July 18.—In the complete absence of encouragement from the other side of the Atlantic the demand for live stock has this week been slow both in Toronto and on spot and values have shown tendency to decline. The weaker tone must be in part attributable to inferior quality of the offerings, although the disconcerting features in the general situation have no doubt been the most influential depressing factors. At the eastern abattoir the receipts this morning were 500 head of cattle, $50 sheep and lambs and 250 calves. For butchers' cattle prices ranged from 2c to 4c per lb. On export account business was very dull. A few head, however, were taken at 4c. Small meats were quiet at about Monday's prices. Following is the general range of quotations here:

Cattle—Butchers, choice, per lb, $$\frac{3}{2}$c to 4c, live weight; do medium to fair do, $$\frac{3}{2}$c to 4c, live $$$$$c 58eep—Common to good, $$3 to $4$; lambs, $2$ to $$\frac{3}{2}$c.

Sheep-Common to good, $3 to $4; lambs, $2 to $3 50. Calves-Good to choice, $7 to $10; common to fair, $2 to $6.

CHICAGO. Chicago, July 18.—There was a very good demand for desirable cattle today, and the best kinds were 10c higher. Only a moderate supply was on sale. There was a lively demand for hogs, and lightweights took an upward turn of 10c, while heavies were 5c higher The offerings were extremely small and the pens were cleared at an early hour. Receipts of sheep were light and a brisk trade took place at the strong prices. Cattle-Receipts, 8,500; extra, 1,400 to 1,500 lb steers, $5 90 @ $6; choice to prime, 1,300 to 1,600 Ib steers, $5 25 @ $5 85; good to choice steers, 1,200 to 1,300 lbs, $4 75 @ $5 20; common to medium steers, 900 to 4,200 lbs, $3 30 @ $4 70; bulls, choice to extra, $3 @ $3 75; bulls, poor to good, $1 75 @ $2 75; feeders, 900 to 1,100 lbs, $3 15 @ $4; stockers, 600 to 900 lbs, $2 25 @ $3 25; cows and heifers, extra, $4 @ $4 50; cows, fair to choice, @ $3 75; cows, poor to good canners, $1 50 @ $2 50; yeals, good to choice, $4 50 @ $5 50; veals, common to fair, $2 @ $2 45; Texas steers, $3 @ $4 75; Texas cows, bulls and stags, $2 25 @ $3 25; western range steers, $3 86 @ $4 40; western range heifers, $3 37 1-2 @ $3 70. Hogs—Receipts,14,000; heavy packing and shipping lots, $4 95 @ $5 25; common to choice mixed, $4 80 @ $5 50; choice assorted, $5 30 @ $5 45; light, $5 @ $5 45; pigs, $3 50 @ $5.

Sheep—Receipts, 9,000; inferior to choice, $2 @ $4 10; lambs, $3 @ $5 50. NEW YORK. New York, July 18 .- Beeves-Reccipts, 907; city dressed native sides, slow, at 6 3-4c@8 1-2c; Texas do, selling at 5c@6 1-2c. Calves-Receipts, 297; trade quiet, but prime veals and good heavy buttermilks were rated firm; common to good veals sold at $4 50@$6; best Bucks county, $6 50; grassers and buttermilks, $2 50@$3 25; fed do, $4 30; dressed calves in rather slack demand and a trifle easier, at 6 1-2c@9 1-2c for city dressed veals, with a few selected bringing 10c; 6 1-2c@8 1-2c for country dressed; 4 1-2c@6c for little calves; 4c@ 5 1-2c for dressed grassers and butter-

Sheep and Lambs-Receipts, 7,290; sheep were slow and barely steady; lambs of all grades were weak and rated 10c@25c lower, although really choice stock would have probably sold up to previous quotations; common to good sheep sold at $2 50@$4 per 100 lbs; ordinary to prime lambs, $3 75@$5 87 1-2; culls, $3 50; dressed mutton slow at 4 1-2c@7 1-2c; dressed lambs easier at 7c@11c; extra, 12c. Hogs-Receipts, 3,144; market firm, at $5 50@$5 80; a bunch of choice light pigs sold late at $6 10; country dressed firm at 7c@8c for medium to light hogs; choice lean pigs would doubtless sell at 8 1-2c.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. John Tanton and wite have returned from a trip to Duluth. Mr. Henry Fisher, city, sails on the Parisian tomorrow for England. Mr. W. H. Hayes, chief operator in the Bell Telephone Company's office is holiday.

-The wire for the Springbank electric line has arrived, and the work of stringing it has commenced. -The Young Liberal Fleet may take a trip to Toronto either during the week of the Industrial Fair or on London's civic holiday. -Mr. J. D. O'Neil, of Talbot street, will ship a carload of 36 horses to London, England, tomorrow. They are of the general purpose grade. -The lady's bicycle recently found by Detective Rider in a lot on Grey street has been claimed by the Detroit police. It was stolen from in front of a house in that city. -A correspondent thinks that "in the interests of morality, the promiscuous bathing at Port Stanley, such as may be seen almost any day, should not be permitted."

-Saginaw, Mich., is thinking of establishing a public market, and the city clerk of that place has written to the city clerk of London asking for information about the management of the market here. -Work on the new office of the city clerk is practically completed. The floor has been oiled, and it is expected that it will be dry enough for Mr. Kingston and his secretary to move in by Monday next. -Suspended sentence was this morning passed upon John Powers, charged with breaking into John Woolway's house in London West, for the purpose of robbery. Powers pleaded guilty to forcibly entering the place and was given a lecture by the court. He was under the influence of liquor when he committed the offense. -St. Andrew's and other Scotch societies of London and St. Thomas have united for the purpose of holding their annual picnic this year. Port Stanley has been again chosen as the most convenient place to enjoy themselves, and Friday, July 26, has been selcted as the date. May our Scotch friends have their usual good time. -Wm. Rosco, the man arrested at St.

Thomas for picking the pocket of Mrs. Leadbeater, of this city, on an L. E. and D. R. R. train, was arraigned yesterday and committed for trial. He will be tried by the county judge. Rosco has been recognized by Mr. O. C. Boughner as one of the two men who attempted to do him out of $10. -The death is announced at Chicago of Mr. George Barton Brown, the result of a cable car accident. Mr. Brown fell off a moving car and broke three ribs and burst several arteries. Deceased will be remembered by many old Londoners as a member of the Holman Opera troupe for eleven years. He went by the name of George Barton here.

-The board of works this afternoon inpected the alterations recently made among the City Hall offices. They also visited the road roller in operation on York street and took a trip to the corner of Thames and King streets to look at the lot which it is proposed to bond and use as a storage place for civic machinery. Its location was not very favorably commented on by several of the aldermen, who think a more central situation more suitable.

-At this morning's Police Court Frederick G. Rumball, lumber merchant, York street, was charged with breaking a city bylaw by allowing a wagon to stand in front of his premises. Mr. Rumball, however, did not own the rig and knew nothing of it, and the case was dismissed. An employe of his is believed to have ordered the rig left on the street. He will be summoned. Mrs. Maria Rollins, charged with allowing a cow to run at large, escaped the usual fine. animal is vicious, and Mrs. Rollins promised to keep it in safe quarters henceforth. The case of Fred Fuller, charged with assaulting a colored girl named Mabel Williams, was adjourned until Monday at the request of Crown Attorney Magee. A wheelman was fined $1 for riding a few feet on a William street sidewalk. Another one, charged with breaking the park bylaw, was discharged. The police magistrate again remarked that $1 fines did not have much effect on the many riders, and intimated that a new course would have to be adopted in dealing with offenders. THE ASPHALT PAVEMENT.

It has been decided to do the work of paving Dundas and Richmond streets in conjunction with the work of changing the street railway system. Thus the time when the work will be commenced depends entirely upon the railway company's ability to get rails. It is possible that the company may be able to get a temporary supply-enough to do Dundas and Richmond streets-before their own shipment, which is expected to arrive by the middle of August. The company calculates that it will take seven weeks to electrify the line as far as the Fair Grounds. In this case some tall hustling will have to be done in order to get through in time.

The selection of a proper inspector of asphalt paving promises to be a rather difficult task. As London has not had any asphalt pavement heretofore, it is not likely that a competent overseer can be found in the city, although | two weeks under canvas at Port Stranmany without the least qualification or experience are applying for the position. Again, the inspector must be a man of integrity and above reproach. To get a man with all the proper qualifications will give the board of works something to ponder over.

The Barber Company, which secured the paving contract, was the only company tendering that did not have one or more representatives here log-rolling and lobbying.

AQUATIC. THE CANUCK BEATEN.

Saratoga, July 19.—The regatta programme of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen was completed at Saratoga Lake this morning by the rowing of the deciding heat in the senior single sculls by J. A. Rumhor, of the Toronto R. C., and A. S. McDowell, of the Delaware Rowing Club, of Chicago, Ill. The weather was fine and the water a trifle lumpy. At the signal both caught the water at the same time, but at the half McDowell quickened his stroke and forced ahead. The Chicagoan was first to make the turn, but on straightening out for home the Canadian spurted, and for a half mile the contestants were on even terms. At the finish the Chicagoan increased his stroke, and led his competitor across the finish line by two lengths. Time,

9 minutes 50 seconds. BAGEBALL. The Oxford Baseball Club, London, played a friendly game of ball with the Irish nine at Lucan on Wednesday afternoon, resulting in favor of the latter by a score of 25 to 18. The city club were used in a very gentlemanly

The Secret Out

"No," was the former's reply, and "Owi," that of the latter.
He whirled the bag about.

"I never have see ze filagree on him like zat!" now exclaimed the butler.
"By the powers, that's it," was, on the contrary, Peter's response.

Mr. Gryce laughed, and put the bag

"You don't agree," he said.
"You don't agree," he said.
"We do that," returned Peter.
Mr. Gryce would not be convinced.
He saw that if this was the bag that they had been in the hadit of seeing on the arm of the girl who had visited Miss Gretorex, that it had always been carried with the initial side in, and this again seemed a great improbability. He was about convinced that he was on a false trail. Disappointed and dissatisfied, he therefore cut the conversation short, and in a few minutes he was about to leave this house for the second time in anything but a happy frame of mind. But this time he did not go out by the side door. He was in the kitchen, and he naturally sought the kitchen exit. In doing this his eyes fell upon the gavel walk that ran about the house. "Humph!" was his mental ejaculation. But he saw something the next mo-ment—having by this time stepped into the yard-which called from him something more than an exclamation. This was a small plazza, built one or two steps from the ground, for the use, as it appeared, for the servants of the house. It was square in shape and had a high balustrade about it, terminating in pillars that supported the roof. It was the color of this balustrade that drew his attention. It was of a bright and peculiar brown and seemed to have been lately painted.

"Can it be that I have here found what I have been so long searching for?" he queried. And stepping upon the piazza, he ran his eye along the balustrade, with the most careful scrutiny. Suddenly he paused, looked closer, and gave utterance to a sound expressive of satisfaction and keen wonder. From the supporting pillar nearest the steps a portion of paint had been rubbed, of the size and shape of the smudge on Mildred Farley's dress; and dried into the thin coating yet remaining was a woolly fuzz, so evidently blue in color that even this old and experiencd worker amongst marvels was taken back, and thought looked as if it had traveled far that more conclusive.

It was with a very grave face that e stepped back into the kitchen. "Excuse me," said he, "but what a fine porch you have outside. I think I will come and visit you some evening next summer. Fun out there, eh?"
"Well, now, do you hear that?" laughed the good-natured Peter. "And how prettily it is painted; looks fresher than the rest of the house."

"Yis, the master intended using it at the time o' the wedding—what for I don't know—and it being well used up by that same fun ye wur axin about, the count there bought a pot o' paint wint over it on his own account. It didn't dry good like, and the master thanked the count, so he did, but didn't use the porch. I'm thinkin' he gave the count foive dollars for disappointin' him, do ye moind?"

And Peter, evidently thinking he had got the laugh on the butler this time, aughed heartily himself, long and

But Mr. Gryce did not laugh. A problem dark with mysteries was before him, and he had no disposition to mirth and but little patience with those who

CHAPTER XV.

It was indeed a serious discovery he had made; how serious he could not yet determine. That the girl who had brought home Miss Gretorex's dresses, and who had been with her on the very evening she was married was the same one who had been carried dead into Mrs. Olney's parlor at or near midnight of that same day, there could

But had she died here? It did not follow, though the fact that Miss Gretorex, or as she was now called, Mrs. Cameron, showed such a disposition to deny any acquaintanceship with the girl. seemed to argue the existence of something strangely unpleasant between them. Yet it need not have been anything connected with the tragic death of the girl. Ladies of Mrs. Cameron's stamp are invariably cowards when it comes to appearing in a police court, or before a magistrate as a witness. Even men sometimes shrink from this ordeal, and resort to every subterfuge to hide the fact that they know anything about a crime or the party suspected of it. And she had this excuse, that she was a bride and naturally hated any such unpleasant publicity in connection with her marthe desire of Molesworth to would, and reason and experience still communicate his position to the Camcommunicate his position to the Camerons! Was it purely on account of the medical case he mentioned? Mr. Gryce felt himself at liberty to doubt it. And the scream which had arisen from the house during the marriage ceremony? Whence had it come and the still the marriage. what did it mean? He had not realized its importance at the time, but now he felt that he must make every effort to discover both its source and occasion. Turning to the two men he remarked in his off-hand way:

"By the way, I heard something curious about the wedding here. A friend of mine told me that there was a big scream heard in the house, right in the middle of the ceremony. Was that "Out, monsieur," quoth Jean, "zat Marguerite scream all ze time, and she scream zen. Peter smiled indulgently.

"Is it Margaret, ye say? Whin will yez git over talkin' about her screamin' like a fool. Sure, she wasn't in the house at all. Every one of us knows that, and it's time ye did, too." Jean shrugged his shoulders disdain-

"It was ze voice of Marguerite, I know, him very well. I hear him many times, and I hear him zat time of ze wedding and always ze same."
"How the devil could she scream if she wasn't in the house?" "Do Marguerite say she was not in ze house?"

"No, but don't we know she wasn't!
Jim Dolan says she was in his little back room when the scream you spake of was heard. Haven't I told ye that over an' over again, ye spalpeen?"

"When Jeem Doling say zat I must hear him." And so the obstinate man had the last word. Meanwhile Mr. Gryce was smiling on

And so on for five minutes more, while Mr. Gryce was asking himself what this scream, say it had been uttered by Mildred Farley, signified, and whether it pointed to the minute of her death or was occasioned by some fatal discovery which led her to future violence and self-destruction. That it was more the cry of fear than agony, his own memory told him; that death at that time and in the bride's apartment were facts that could scarcely have been hidden, and that for her to have taken the dose of poison in this have taken the dose of poison in this house at all, raised the question of how she could have come some time later under the protection of Dr. Molesworth, and been carried by him through the streets about Madison Square to the drug store and thence to her home. No. Mildred Farley had not perished in this house, unless—His very thoughts paused, his eye had fallen again on the gravel walk that ran en again on the gravel walk that ran by that very piazza that ran against the railing of which she had leaned, living or dead. There had been gravel under the shoe of Dr. Molesworth's horse. Was the mystery deeper than he supposed, and had Dr. Molesworth also been a visitor in this house on the

also been a visitor in this house on the fatal evening of his intended bride's death. It began to look as if he had.
With the thought, light began to break upon the horizon and something of the darkness which had veiled this impenetrable mystery to disappear. And yet how great were the difficulties in the way of proving this fact. None of the persons he was talking with had seen any such person as the doctor amongst the guests, nor had his appearance at the inquest called out any such witness from the public at large. And then, say he had been here, how fast he must have driven to have been down at Twenty-second street at the time he was. But, then, Mr. Gryce remembered that his horse had never seen anything finer or night, and when a man has a purpose mal. But what had his purpose been? To save Mildred Farley or to destroy Manifestly it was not to save her, or why had he lied about the place where he had found her and the way in which the bottle had been broken on the sidewalk in Twenty-second street? Look at it whichever way the detective would, reason and experience still pointed towards the doctor as the possible author of her death. And so the affair was still full of mysteries, and he felt as if he had but crossed the

A Woman Imprisoned for Breaking a Window Dies Ten Minutes After Being Pardoned.

Montreal, July 18 .- Mrs. Aaron Bradbury, who had been sentenced on Sept. 11, 1894, to 23 months' imprisonment in Montreal jail for having broken a plate glass window while under the influ-ence of liquor, had been suffering from a fistula for a long time.

After repeated applications, her petition for a pardon was at length granted, but was too late. The unfortunate woman died just ten minutes after the receipt of the good news.

Failure and Success.

It is often all the little things that constitute the wide difference between success and failure. Some men, earnest in purpose, capable in many ways, seem unable to discern the import of minor, nevertheless important elements, and neglect in consequence to grasp the opportunities that if ac-cepted would carry them on to victory. In the same way, people are imposed upon by mercenary druggists, who, to gain an additional profit, practice the dishonest method of substitution. Calling for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, they accept some worthless fiesh-eating substitute, only to be disappointed or suffer injury. Putnam's Corn Cure is the only reliable one.

The Position of the Hierarchy on the Manitoba School Question. (United Press Dispatch.)

Montreal, July 18.—The Roman Catholic hierarchy are firm on the Manitoba school question, but at the same time it may be taken for granted that they have a waiting policy. This much was made evident this afternoon by the two prelates, who have taken the pronounced stand on the question-Archbishop Langevin, of St. Boniface, and Bishop Gravel, of Nicolet.

Both prelates attended a fete at the Hochelaga Convent this afternoon, in company with Archbishop Fadre, Bishop Lorrain, of Pontiac, Bishop Lareque, of Sherbrooke, and a hundred Archbishop Langevin expressed the belief that fair play would triumph, and that the Catholics of Manitoba would obtain what they are entitled to. He said that some of the Catholics felt that they were not being justly treated. He had heard that the Manitoba Government contemplated making concessions for the sake of peace, but no advances had been made to him. As to the question of compromise the archbishop was firm. "We have taken the stand of no compromise, and I undertake to say now that I will stand

Pearl Smith, wife of Mr. Lemuel Smith, St. Thomas, took place Wednesday afternoon. Among the relatives present was Mrs. Dorman, of this city. -Major Guillott and Capt. Bartlet, of Windsor, leave at once for London to take a course in military tactics at the "D" School. Bugler Beals and Corp. Smith, also of Windsor, will do likewise. -The stock and plant of James Connor, pump maker, valued at $1,210 61, were placed on sale yesterday at Jones' auction rooms, but were withdrawn, the bid only reaching a low figure. -Two London West youths named Treavor Burgess and James Cooper were fined $1 each by Squire Lacey for disorderly conduct in the village. They were acting as seconds in a fight between two dogs. -Over seventy members of the London Bicycle Club had a run out to the Kingsmill farm in London township last night. The turnout included six lady cyclists. The evening was pleasantly spent in a social way.

-If London, Ont., isn't in a state of perturbation at the present time, it ought to be. A gentleman of Alton, Ill., named Col. W. P. Lamothe, is making arrangements for taking possession of that city two years hence, and turning down the title deeds of the inhabitants. As the people of London have two years' notice to quit, their case is not as hard as it otherwise would be; nevertheless, they have our deepest sympathy now that they are likely to be turned out of doors by the gentleman from Alton, Ill.-Goderich

THE METHODIST PICNIC. About a thousand people went to Port Stanley yesterday with the annual picnic of the Queen's Avenue and the Dundas Center Sunday schools. The weather at the lake was delightful for picnic purposes, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion beyond a slight hitch at the station gates at night.

"Those gates are not practical," said Mr. Spencer, of the Queen's Avenue Sunday school last evening, " and they are going to kill Port Stanley."

Mr. Spencer stated that he had made all arrangements beforehand to have the gates thrown open to allow the excursionists free access to the train. When the train drew up, the crowd were detained outside for over ten minutes, until Mr. Spencer could find an official from whom the gate-man would take his orders. The usual sports and games were indulged in during the day. THE BOARD OF WORKS. Business at No. 2 committee's regular meeting last evening was light.

Ald. Parnell acted as chairman in the absence of Ald. Wm. Heamsin, the other members present being Ald. O'Meara, Callahan, John Heaman and Nutkins, and City Engineer Graydon, Street Commissioner Owens and Secre-

Mrs. Foster, of Kent street, has just recovered from a serious attack of La Grippe. This is the second siege she has had of this influenza, the first of which attacked Mrs. Foster about three years ago, and left her with a very troublesome cough, accom-panied with chronic bronchitis, and a complication of other diseases, which made it almost impossible for her to attend church without disturbing the congregation by coughing, and, indeed, Mrs. Foster assures us that so bad were the spasms that she often feared she would burst a blood vessel during one of these severe attacks. It was very natural that under such circumstances numerous friends would recommend as many different "cure alls." She tried Cherry Pectoral, Tar, Linseed and other preparations, but was growing generally worse when a friend who had been benefited by Barkwell's Bronchial Balsam advised her to try that, and in a few days she was out of bed, and the best feature is that she is now entirely freed from all simptoms of the Bronchitis, of which she never hoped to be cured. Mr. Millar, a neighbor, also had a bad cough and was completely cured by the same preparation.

tary Bell. A petition was presented from L. H. Ingram and a number of other residents, asking for the macadamizing of Dufferin avenue, between Maitland and William streets. The document was presented to last year's council, and as doubt was expressed whether or not it could now be acted upon, the chairman was instructed to Mr. Johnston, agent of the Harrisburg Roller Company, requested a settlement between the city and company for the machine recently purchased. It has been in operation for ten days, and if the committee and a competent engineer find it working satisfactorily this afternoon, payment of the amount due will be ordered. R. Sumner's application for a position as inspector of asphalt pavements was filed for reference. Engineer Graydon's recommendation to relay the flagstone walks in the territory to be asphalted was up for consideration again, the engineer stating that the Barber Company had agreed to do the work at cost price. Ald. O'Meara opposed this, but consented to a suggestion to refer the matter to Mayor Little and Chairman Heaman to ascertain what the cost would probably be. The purchase of a lot for the storage of city machinery was referred to Mayor Little, Engineer Graydon and the chairman. They will first visit all city properties and ascertain if any are suitable for the purpose. The committee still has $25,000 of its appropriation on
