ALLIES TO LAUNCH NEW WARFARE ON SUBMARINES

OTTAWA REPORT SAYS DEVONSHIRE DESIRES ELECTION

BOLDER WARFARE AGAINST U-BOATS, PLAN OF ALLIES

New and More Aggressive Methods Will Be Used To Meet New Campaign of Horror Started By the Enemy Submarines.

BY CARL D. GROAT.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

Washington, Aug. 13. — Germany, starting a new campaign of horror on the seas, will be met by a stiffer Allied policy.

The United States will soon furnish scores of new destroyers as the initial contribution to this new struggle. She and her allies may be forced into a bold aggressive warfare against the U-boats.

New Horror Methods.

Germany's new horror methods are doubly evidenced. Her apparent capture of the captain and four American gunners of the tanker Campana in the Bay of Biscay, led the authorities to fear Germany may repeat the Fryatt case, justifying execution on the ground that a private ship resisting a submarine is a privateer.

New Naval Steps.

Secondly, the Belgian Prince incident showed similar Teuton tendency toward a new schrecklickeit. Men from that vessel were placed aboard the submarine, and then the U-boat submerged, drowning the men on deck. That new naval steps against Germany are planned is shown by the fact that Japan is throwing new units into the Allied sea zone.

BRITISH AIRMEN BAGGED A BRACE OF HUN RAIDERS

Two of German Squadron Are Destroyed by Albion's Naval Airplanes.

A GOOD DEFENCE SYSTEM

Holiday Crowds Are Principal Sufferers in Sunday Swoop Upon Southend.

London, Aug. 13—Two of the German machines which yesterday evening raided the English southeast coast watering places, were destroyed by British naval airplanes, the official statement issued by the Government today says that one of the machines was a Gotha airplane and the other a seaplane.

London, Aug. 13.—Reports from the various local correspondents indicate the probability that the German airplane raid on Sunday would have been much more serious but for the preparedness of the British defence. British airplanes, at the first intimation of the enemy's approach, climbed upward at a terrific pace at daring angles, with the result that before the Germans arrived fleets of British machines were in waiting.

Scattered the Germans.

The activity of the airplanes and the excellent fire from anti-aircraft guns appears to have nullified the attempted operations of the invaders virtually everywhere except at Southend. There are many stories of scattered flights by the Germans to avoid risking engagements with the defenders. The weather, was bright and fine, with a strong westerly wind, which, perhaps, was less forcible at the great height the raiders traveled.

Holiday Crowd Bombed.

It appears that the largest section of the invading squadron operated over the Thames Estuary, but the circumstances which resulted in Southend being the chief victim are not apparent. The town was full of holiday makers, numbers of whom were only visitors for the day. Many of these were on the way to the railway station to take a train for London when the bombing began, and there were many casualties among them. One bomb alone killed seven persons and wounded many others.

Avoided Fights.

Elsewhere the people who remained in the street instead of taking cover were the chief sufferers. Hundreds were thrown to the ground by the concussions, but all escaped serious injury. Reports from Deal, Ramsgate and other coast towns say that the main result of the air raid warning was to draw crowds to the sea fronts to watch the invaders. Thanks to the promptness of the British airplanes in attacking the raiders, all these places escaped, and the onlookers saw aerial battles, though at a dim distance, one of these fights seem to have been prolonged, or, as far as is known, to have resulted seriously for the invaders, whose plan seemed to be to avoid fights in order to insure a safe return to their base.

BULGARS DEPENDENT ON CLOSE TIES WITH HUNS, IS FERDINAND'S OPINION

Berlin, Aug. 12, via Amsterdam.—In the course of an interview with a Stuttgart editor, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who has been visiting the King of Wurttemberg, said he believed the desires for expansion would continue to assert themselves in liberated Russia, and also that the smallest states must constantly be on their guard.

The economic future of his own country, the Bulgarian king said, was dependent upon a close association with Germany and Austria-Hungary, which countries would prove ready markets for Bulgaria's agricultural products. The olive and lemon industries, he added, especially were suited for development on a large scale, which would make Bulgaria an active competitor of Italy as a shipper of tropical and semi-tropical fruits.

The Bulgarian monarch said he firmly believed that Asia Minor would be a profitable field of economic endeavor, its exploitation merely awaiting the introduction of adequate transportation facilities. The Bulgarian king blamed the Italian king and French influence for Italy's withdrawal from the Triple Alliance.

GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL TO BREAK LINE OF FRENCH

Effort To Recapture a Lost Trench Fails, With Heavy Losses.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The Germans attacked last night on the Aisne front in an effort to recapture trenches taken by the French on Saturday. Today's official statement says they were repulsed with losses.

The announcement follows:

"Between Cerny and Craonne the enemy's artillery developed pronounced activity, especially in the sector south of Ailles. The Germans attacked in vain at the point at which we captured trenches on August 11. They were repulsed with losses and obtained no result.

"In the Champagne, east of Rheims, in the regions of the Casque and the Teton, and on the left bank of the Meuse, there were spirited artillery actions. Two surprise attacks by the enemy, at Caurieres Wood and Bezonvaux, were repulsed by our fire. Elsewhere the night was calm.

"Two German airplanes and a captive balloon were brought down yesterday by our pilots. Three other enemy machines were forced to land, having been severely damaged."

SPECIAL AUTOMOBILE LAST EXTRA PRIZE THAT WILL BE GIVEN

Great Stimulus Noted for Final Big Drive—Contest Department Cleaned Out of Receipt Books by Great Demand on Saturday — Things Will Hum This Week.

The Special Automobile Prize has made a big "Hit" with the candidates. Ever since the contest started the question has been "What will be the big special inducement," or "We are going to wait for something better." Now, the "something better" has arrived, and it will be the last special prize in the contest.

It is quite evident that the candidates all realize this is the supreme moment. The big drive is on. It is now or never, and those who get busy this week are the ones who stand the greatest chance of coming out winners in this, the biggest newspaper circulation enterprise that was ever attempted in Canada.

Receipt Books Run Out.

There was not a receipt book left in the contest department Saturday night. This is evidence of the drive that will be made this week. Here is the chance for some one candidate, who thought he had no chance whatever of winning the Grand Prize, to get out and hustle and win a special prize of an automobile, and while doing this pile up a sufficient vote to win one of the regular prizes as well.

The big winners at the close of the contest will be those who made the most of their time when the votes ran high. It will be too late to make up for lost time when the judges announce the prize winners and someone else is announced the winner of the prize of your choice. The candidates who expect to be in the prize-winning list should make every minute count this week. There will be time enough to rest after you have been declared the winner of the prize you are working for.

Mrs. C. Kuntz, District No. 1.

Miss A. Carley, District No. 3.

YOURS IF YOU WORK.

The prize you have your eye on is yours if you will only work for it. Why not grasp the opportunity of winning this special prize automobile also? The winner is not disqualified from winning one of the regular prizes—in fact, he or she will stand a far better chance of being one of the big prize winners.

Hustle, Mr. Candidate, as you have never hustled before. See how many million votes you can get by 8:30 p.m. next Saturday. All subscriptions secured this week have a two-fold value. They not only count toward the special automobile prize, but they count toward the regular prizes, consisting of the big McLaughlin Car, the Chevrolets, the Pianos, the Bedroom Sets, the Cabinets of Silver, etc., etc.

CONTEST NOTES.

The contest department was completely cleaned out of receipt books Saturday morning, consequently many candidates will be disappointed this morning on not receiving the receipt books requested. The printing department of The Advertiser has promised to let us have some by noon today, which will be immediately mailed to the different candidates.

One thousand dollars in gold will be given, if at any time during the contest a better vote offer is given. This special prize is the last and this should be conclusive evidence to those who are holding back anticipating a better offer. So don't fool yourself, Mr. Candidate, your opportunity is now, not after the judges have announced the winners.

Mrs. Cristiana (Ayers) Kuntz, who was a close competitor for the special free trip prize given last week, now holds third place in district No. 1. Mrs. Kuntz does not find subscription getting for The Advertiser a difficult task, as her next published standing will show.

Miss Alice Carley, District No. 3, is making a splendid showing and the response that her friends are giving her is evidence that Miss Carley has not been idle during the contest.

JASSY IN DANGER

Diplomatists Have Left Rumanian Capital and Gone to Odessa.

London, Aug. 12.—A dispatch to the Times from Odessa, dated Saturday, says the diplomatic body at Jassy, Rumania, was expected in Odessa yesterday, the situation being regarded in Jassy as dangerous. It is not expected the diplomatists will stay in Odessa long. It is believed they will go either to Kherson or to Ekaterinoslav.

BOURASSA GETS AFTER RIOTERS; SCORES VIOLENCE

The Nationalist Leader Warns Against Active Hostility To Compulsion.

ORATOR ATTACKS CHURCH

Lafortune Declares Quebec Clergy Does Not Care For the People.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—A change in the attitude of the Nationalists in Quebec was charged by Paul Lafortune, an anti-conscription orator last night, who said they had been told for 15 years to defend their rights and were now told to be calm. He said those who sought to put the people on their guard against conscription were denounced as "revolutionaries."

The clergy, the Liberals, including Mayor Martin, Laurier and Gouin, came in for severe criticism. What did the clergy care for the people, even Cardinal Begin and Archbishop Bruchesi? asked Mr. Lafortune. When it was a matter of the clergy going to be conscripted they protested loudly, but the poor workmen did not matter. Mr. Lafortune said the attack on Lord Atholstan's house was well done.

On Saturday Le Devoir published an article signed by Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist chief, in which the rioting and resistance of the military service act counselled by anti-conscription orators was described as "sterile violence."

Mr. Bourassa argues "To fire on a recruiting officer is a useless crime and a manifest injustice and those who advise such methods are either criminals or irresponsibles. A number of Protestant historians have accepted the theory that the Gunpowder Plot was provoked, if not organized by Cecil, in order to secure justification for an anti-Catholic propaganda, and there are perhaps amongst us people capable of forcing French-Canadians to acts of violence in order to cause a general explosion of wrath against us throughout the English-speaking Canada, but no French-Canadian has the right to make these abominable calculations.

Fears Martial Law.

"Instead of destroying the menace of conscription, those counselling resistance hasten its application. To advise violent resistance in the name of the interests alone of the Province of Quebec is to turn loose the fanatics who seek conscription for the purpose of falling upon the—Frenchmen. A great quantity of anti-conscriptionists of the English tongue would at once join our enemies to crush all attempts at insurrection and at the first acts of violence martial law would be proclaimed. Our worst enemies are the flatterers and plotters, the first having striven to close the eyes and ears of the people, and to preach a servile loyalism, and an imaginary duty to England and France, while the second attempts to convince the people that they can escape the consequences by murder and material depredations."

LABOR-PACIFISTS MAY BRING ON ENGLISH GENERAL ELECTION OVER THE STOCKHOLM CRISIS

If Conference of 21st Supports Henderson, Lloyd George May Ask King To Dissolve Parliament.

London, Aug. 13.—A statement by Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader, and minister without portfolio in the British War Council, who resigned Saturday, was expected to be made this morning in Parliament, and it was assumed that Premier George would reply immediately. It was reported that Mr. Henderson would demand the production of all communications between the British and Russian governments with reference to the Stockholm conference with a view to showing that the premier put a wrong interpretation on the Russian telegram he quoted in a letter to Mr. Henderson.

Kerensky Against It.

If the House of Commons indorses the demand a secret session is likely to be held for the communication of certain documents, reference being made in morning newspapers to a telegram which it is stated M. Kerensky, the Russian premier, sent to Albert Thomas, French minister of munitions, declaring that the Russian Government not only was not interested in the Stockholm meeting, but that Premier Kerensky himself hoped the conference would not be held.

The Other Side.

Russian Delegates Erlich and Rousanoff, now in London, without referring specifically to this alleged telegram, have given to the Daily News a statement to the effect that there is no evidence that Premier Kerensky and the Russian Government oppose the conference, and declaring they received from the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates less than a week ago a request to hasten arrangements for the conference. They say the telegram received by the British Government from Petrograd does not alter its position in the least degree and affirm the Russian Government cannot officially support the conference, but certainly does not oppose it.

May Mean Election.

It seems to be the general opinion of Parliamentary writers that things will not be straightened without trouble. The possible dissolution of Parliament to ascertain the country's feelings by a general election is suggested by the Daily News, which supports Mr. Henderson and, which says the Government is approaching a serious crisis. If the Labor conference to be held on the 21st upholds Mr. Henderson and indorses the vote at the Labor convention Friday to attend the Stockholm meeting, all Labor ministers, who number seven, must withdraw from the Government, the paper says. In such circumstances, according to the premier's friends, he will immediately advise the King to dissolve Parliament. On the other hand, the Daily News says that if the conference on the 21st fails to support Henderson, the crisis will be ended.

CUT DOWN MOTORING TO SAVE THE GASOLINE FOR WAR PURPOSES

American Govt. Gives Warning of Possible Drastic Action.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Warning of the possibility of drastic action by the American Government to stop excessive pleasure use of automobiles, during the war in order that the gasoline needs of the United States and its allies may be met, is given in a statement issued by Director Van H. Manning of the Bureau of Mines, today in which he asks the co-operation of automobile owners in stopping the practice.

Enough gasoline to care for the requirements of America and perhaps that of its allies will be saved, in the opinion of Mr. Manning, "if automobile owners of the country will stop unnecessary and extravagant pleasure riding and if owners and dealers handle this fuel in a careful and economical manner."

London, Aug. 13.—"There is nothing special to report from the Franco-Belgian front," says today's official communication.

DEVONSHIRE WANTS ELECTION BEFORE SIGNING DRAFT BILL IS RUMOR AT THE CAPITAL; MORE RECONSTRUCTION TALK

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Canadian Northern legislation and not the conscription bill comes up in the Commons this afternoon. The conscription bill passed the Senate nearly a week ago, but the measure has not been taken up in the Commons for final consideration.

Dame Rumor Aroused.

The failure of the Government to bring the measure in has created considerable comment and aroused various rumors. It is pointed out that there has been some very wild talk by a number of irresponsibles in Quebec during the past few days. Municipal and provincial laws have not been enforced against them.

Devnoshire Holds Back.

The wildest possible rumors have been circulated because of the delay. It is whispered that His Excellency does not desire to sign the bill when it has passed until after an election has been held. This is not credited among thinking men.

Reconstruction Guesses.

Members are conjecturing upon reconstruction. Even the conscriptionist Liberals who have returned from the western convention do not believe that any sort of national government is now possible until after an election. So that reconstruction would appear to be limited to Conservative forces. The premier spent the week on the St. Lawrence at the summer home of Hon. Dr. Reid.

NO PASSPORTS FOR BRITISH DELEGATES TO PEACE CONFAB

Permission Will Not Be Granted To Attend Stockholm Conference.

London, Aug. 13.—Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman in the House of Commons, told the members of the Lower House this afternoon that the Government had decided that permission to attend the international Socialist conference at Stockholm would not be granted to British delegates.

Mr. Bonar Law said: "The law offices of the crown have advised the Government that it is not legal for any persons resident in his majesty's dominions to engage in a conference with enemy subjects. Therefore, permission to attend the Stockholm conference will not be granted.

"The same decision has been made by the governments of the United States, France and Italy with which his majesty's government has been in communication."

FRENCH WANT REPARATION.

Paris, Aug. 13.—After a prolonged discussion, the permanent administrative committee of the French Socialist party has adopted a resolution stating, among other things, that French Socialist delegates will go to the Stockholm conference to demand that the governments which still refuse to make known their war aims and whether they are prepared to make reparation in accordance with the rights of the people be made to do so by Socialist action.

GERMANS MAY BACK OUT.

Amsterdam, Aug. 13.—It is stated semi-officially in the Frankfurter Zeitung that the German Socialists may decline to participate in the Stockholm conference if the Entente Socialists insist on placing upon the program discussion of the question of responsibility for the war.

MISSIONARIES LOST WITH AMERICAN SHIP

City of Athens Hit a Mine Near Capetown, South Africa.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Five American passengers were lost when the American City of Athens struck a mine and went down near Capetown, South Africa, on August 10, according to today's state department dispatches. Ten other passengers and four of the crew also were lost, the dispatches say. The dispatches say four of the Americans were missionaries and named Mr. and Mrs. Naygard, Miss Robinson and Caroline Thompson. The latter is of the Methodist Mission Band. A Mr. Pointer of that Mission was saved. Nineteen other missionaries of an organization, with headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y., were saved.

FUND FOR 1ST BAND OVER THE $300 MARK

The fund for the band instruments for the original 1st Battalion is growing, and is past the $300 mark. All that is needed now is $50, and this will be forthcoming shortly. Several prominent citizens are taking an interest in the fund, and the amount asked for, $350, should be obtained this week. The gifts are:

Previously acknowledged	$277 00
J. C. Duffield	25 00
Total	$302 00

NO TELEGRAM FROM KAISER TO WILSON, IS GERMAN ANSWER TO U.S. AMBASSADOR

Admit, However, That Gerard Was Given Interview With Emperor.

Berlin, Aug. 13.—Via Amsterdam.—The semi-official Nordeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung denies the existence of the telegram alleged by James W. Gerard, the former American minister at Berlin, to have been sent by Emperor William to President Wilson in August, 1914, when the German emperor is quoted as having asserted that Belgium's neutrality "had to be violated by Germany on strategical grounds." The alleged telegram which has reached Berlin by way of Switzerland, has the emperor saying that King George sent him word through the emperor's brother, Prince Henry, that Great Britain would remain neutral if war broke out on the continent, involving Germany and France and Austria and Russia. The Nordeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says:

Denies Telegram.

"We are in a position to declare that no such telegram from the emperor exists. It is true that Mr. Gerard was given an audience on Aug. 10, 1914, in order to give him an opportunity of placing President Wilson's offer of mediation before the emperor.

"This proposal was made at the time when the armies of both sides had already crossed the frontier, and when it seemed out of the question to call a halt to events. The emperor could, therefore, only have his thanks conveyed to President Wilson for his offer and thereby remarked that, while the present moment was too early for mediation by the neutral powers the president's friendly proposal might later be returned to."

COSSACKS ASK KERENSKY TO POSTPONE ELECTIONS

Petrograd, Aug. 12.—The general allied council of Cossacks troops has addressed a memorandum to Premier Kerensky urging him to defer the elections for the constituent assembly until January. The plea of the Cossacks is made on the ground that a "population weakened by a long disorganization of power generally shows signs of inertia," and because a third of the Cossack population is at the front and cannot participate in the elections.

PLUMBERS OF AMERICA WILL STAND BY WILSON

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 13.—Standardization of wages and improved working conditions will be the main points to be considered by the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters of the United States and Canada at the annual convention which begins here today.

John R. Alpine of Chicago, who is general president, and fourth vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, stated that the association has decided to stand by President Wilson during the war.

SALAZAR KILLED

Former Aide of Villa Shot by Home Guards.

Juarez, Mexico, Aug. 13.—Jose Ynez Salazar, a revolutionary leader and former chief of staff to Francisco Villa, was shot and killed at the Nogales Ranch, a short distance from Ascension, Thursday. Americans arriving here today from Casas Grandes said Salazar had been killed by a small band of home guards who were organized to protect the Casas Grandes-Ascension district.

"SLACKER SOIL" SCARCE IN CITY, SAYS CHAIRMAN

Much of Unworked Acreage Is Not Fit To Grow Produce.

ODD CORNER GARDENS

These Swell Acreage Worked by Scores of Londoners This Summer.

"That looks as if there was a real shortage of food in Canada, doesn't it?" said the Ordinary Individual, with a wave of his hand at several vacant lots which bristled with weeds. The Ordinary Individual profanely demanded to be told the reason why the city didn't get busy and have something planted there. "Those are not the only vacant lots, either," he said, "there are hundreds more about the city which should be made to produce foodstuffs. Of course it is too late now."

But the Ordinary Individual was only partly right. There are hundreds of vacant lots lying idle about the city, but, and it's a very big "but" too, only a few of them were worth cultivating, the soil in the majority of cases being either completely ruined for the time-being at least, by refuse, tin cans, ashes, etc., which were deposited there before London had a garbage collection department, or it is too sandy or clay.

Fifty Acres Planted.

What the Ordinary Individual didn't know was that over fifty acres of vacant space is under cultivation, and promises to bring forth bumper crops.

Many citizens, riding around the streets in autos, or walking to and fro from work, pass vacant spaces, and remark that there is "slacker soil." These people should stop to consider that it would be criminal waste to plant where the soil is totally unfit for cultivation. They see only the weed patches, the cultivated soil being cleared of all obnoxious growths does not attract their attention. Ald. Sam Manness, chairman of the greater production committee, is greatly pleased with the results of the city's request in the spring that all vacant space be put under cultivation.

Gardens in Odd Corners.

Mr. Manness stated to The Advertiser that there are between four and five hundred acres of idle property within the city limits. He estimated that of this property about fifty acres is under cultivation, and is producing good results; some few more acres were planted but owing to poor soil the results obtained from them are not very good. As well as this there are about two hundred acres of space in backyards and odd corners planted.

Made a Fine Response.

"We are more than pleased with the results of our campaign for greater production in London," said Mr. Manness. "The way the people responded was simply magnificent. Every little odd corner apparently was planted with something. Potatoes seemed to be the most popular vegetable to grow."

Some citizens made real sacrifices to grow potatoes and other vegetables. Lawns were plowed up and backyards which had been the pride of households were ruthlessly spaded up and "murphys" planted.

120 Bushels to the Acre.

R. A. Finn of the department of agriculture, estimates that about 120 bushels of potatoes, or 80 bags, could be grown on the average city acre. Just what the yield of the average city acre was Mr. Finn could not say, owing to the prevalence of bugs and attacks by blight and the different degrees of success in keeping the potato patches free from these pests by the city gardeners. Had every one of London's four or five hundred vacant acres been in good condition approximately 26,000 bags might have been produced. As it is the vacant lot crop will be about 4,000 bags; probably the actual figure will exceed this.

Some Odd Schemes.

Some queer schemes for greater production were brought to light by Mr. Finn when he examined various plots around the city. One man had potatoes planted in layers in a heap of earth, and as the plants grew they shot out the sides of the heap. Another had a ball-shaped mass of earth, out of which potatoes were growing on all sides. Mr. Finn said that on the whole the backyard plots had produced a high yield per acre. Some trouble was experienced by some owners of plots, caused chiefly by lack of experience in growing potatoes, but these were in the minority.

KEEPERS OF DISORDERLY HOUSES, INMATES AND FREQUENTERS ARE FINED

As the result of a campaign inaugurated by the police to clean up all questionable houses, Elizabeth Dodson, 402 Lyle street, was fined $50 and costs or 21 days in jail for keeping a house of ill-fame, and Ada Robinson, 147 Wharncliffe road south, $25 and costs or 21 days in jail, when they appeared in police court today.

The Robinson woman was convicted only of keeping a disorderly house, and the penalty lessened as a consequence.

Beatrice Woods and Hattie Baxter, convicted of being inmates, and Ernest Lamby and James Bennett, frequenters, were each fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail, the four being arrested at Mrs. Dobson's house.

At Mrs. Robinson's place, Hattie Webber as an inmate, Edward Webb, William Robinson of this city, and Walter Cole, Shedden, as frequenters, each were fined $5 and costs or five days in jail.

The fines in all cases of those arrested at Mrs. Robinson's were made light, as there was no evidence to show that any immoral conduct had taken place.

At Mrs. Dobson's place, though, conditions were different, the evidence of three patrolmen being to the effect that conduct of the most immoral character was taking place there.

Magistrate Graydon, in passing sentence in each case, warned the women that if arrested again they would be charged under the criminal code, which carried a term of imprisonment, instead of under the city bylaw.

FORMER LONDONER KILLED ON RAILWAY

Alexander Ard, a former Londoner, was killed on the Hartford, New Haven and New York Railway, near Avon, Conn., last Wednesday, according to word received here today. His wife died in Avon two years ago, and he is survived by three sons and two daughters. They are: Albert, in France; Wilbert and Harry, in Avon; Mrs. J. Hart, New Jersey, and Mrs. F. Tambling, Elias street, this city.

Mr. Ard was a member of Lorne Lodge, No. 282, A. F. and A. M., Glencoe, Ont., and of Avon Grange, No. 179. At the funeral the pallbearers were three members from each society.

MISS HICKEY GOING TO FRANCE WITH A PITTSBURG HOSPITAL

Miss Katherine Hickey, a former resident of this city, now a graduate nurse of Pittsburg, has been spending a few days at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Robert Angus, before going to France.

Miss Hickey has joined the University of Pittsburg Base Hospital, No. 127, Red Cross 6489, as first assistant to the head nurse. There are 250 people in all going with the unit, comprising 65 nurses, 25 doctors and others. The unit has received from private sources $250,000.

BEEFLESS DAYS A MOCKERY TO CANADIANS UNLESS EXPORT TO U. S. IS STOPPED AT ONCE

Cattle Buyer Reports Seeing 35 Cars of Ontario Cattle Going Over Border at Bridgeburg — Calves Are Also Likely To Be Slaughtered.

"The inauguration of beefless days will have little effect upon the conservation of food. It will not be instrumental in the shipping of a larger supply of meat to our soldiers, and it will not lower prices of meat to any extent so long as hundreds of heads of Canadian cattle are shipped daily to Buffalo that the people of the United States may reap the benefit of our cattle production."

In the above statement, a well-known cattle buyer, just returned from southeastern points, voiced the general sentiment of local butchers and restaurant owners in regard to the effect beefless days will have on meat prices and the conservation of meat throughout the Dominion.

35 Cars Over Border.

"Only yesterday," the cattle buyer continued, "I saw 35 carloads of first-class Canadian beef pass through Bridgeburg en route for Buffalo. Food Controller Hanna announces that Canada is soon to have beefless days, but believe me it will do little good so long as an embargo—a war tax—is not placed upon all cattle going over the border. We cannot buy American beef, The people of the United States are just as good nationally as we are, but still I cannot see why the cattle that Canadians raise in Canada cannot be eaten by Canadians or by the warring nations of Europe who, outside of ourselves, are entitled to the benefit of our cattle propagation, much more than are any other peoples."

Save Calves; Stop Export.

Many cattle men of the vicinity are of the opinion that the "beefless and baconless" days would have a far-reaching effect for the benefit of the Allies as well as for that of the Dominion, were the shipping of cattle to the States discontinued. Some complaint was registered by them because there were no restrictions against the slaughtering of calves of six to nine weeks old. They pointed out that veal will be more in demand now that beef is prohibited at cafes certain days, and this swollen demand will effect the beef market insomuch that it will necessitate the killing of more calves, who would otherwise grow to be beef.

No Decrease Expected.

The price of meat will not decline to any material extent because of beefless days, according to local butchers. A slight decline is looked for, but cattle values will be about the same as last year, taking into consideration the advance of beef since September, 1916.

Last Saturday was the biggest day of the season for local butchers, as Londoners flocked to the meat shops in small crowds and bought meat seemingly with the anticipation of having one last feast before having to stop eating it altogether. Dealers in fish state that the demand for all varieties of the finny tribe was the largest ever.

Swamped With Buyers.

"People seemed to have got together following the announcement that more fish should be eaten and an influx of purchasers almost swamped us all day Saturday," stated one fish vendor.

Mayor Stevenson stated that large quantities of fish would be obtained at the lowest wholesale price from the eastern coast, and distributed throughout the city at 2 to 3 per cent distributing rate.

A difference of opinion exists among cattle buyers as to whether beef and meat in general will drop this fall because of the surplus fodder to feed the animals on, and the inauguration of meatless days. Some think that because of the latter circumstances beef will decline. They say that the farmer will have plenty to feed his cattle on and that a larger production will result in consequence. Others declare that because of the surplus fodder the farmer will hold his cattle until he can sell at a high price.

APPLES LIKELY TO BE PLENTIFUL IN SPITE OF FAILURE

Nova Scotia Crop Must Be Consumed Here.

EMBARGO STOPS EXPORT

750,000 Barrels Will Be Shut Off From Natural Market in England.

With the object of determining just what effect the British embargo on fruit will have upon internal trade in Canada, The Advertiser has interviewed F. H. Grindley of the fruit branch at Ottawa. This branch is already making an effort to stimulate public interest in fruit.

Up To Nova Scotia.

"The effect of the embargo may not be so serious as it appears at first thought," said Mr. Grindley. "It is true that there will be 150,000 barrels of Nova Scotian apples shut off from their natural market, but as there happens to be a very light apple crop in Ontario, it will be necessary for Nova Scotia to cater to many markets in Canada which Ontario would ordinarily fill. I refer particularly to such markets as Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, and the large prairie centres as far west as Regina and Saskatoon. These cities usually consume the bulk of the Western Ontario apple crop, which will this year be only 20 per cent of normal. Consequently it will be 'up to' Nova Scotia to fill that gap."

Apples To Be Plentiful.

"Is there any special need for fruit publicity if the Ontario crop is short?" asked The Advertiser.

"Even with a short crop, I still think that the quantity of apples for consumption in Canada will be considerable. This, as I have just explained, is due to the embargo. Strenuous efforts are being made by Nova Scotia to have the embargo lifted. If they succeed, the apple crop will be easily distributed and consumed. If the embargo remains in effect, the Canadian consuming public must eat more apples. That is exactly how the situation stands now."

REQUESTS FOR PETITIONS COME FROM MANY PLACES IN ONTARIO

Requests from all over Ontario have come to Mrs. H. A. Boomer for petitions on which to sign their name for the return of the men who went with the first contingent. All these have received petition forms as far as possible.

Of the many hundreds who have been appealed to, only one urges the difficulty which confronts those to whom the petition has been sent. This is the lack of available men to fill the places of the gallant men for whom the appeal is made. Only one stronger appeal is put forth and that is for others to come forward to take the place of these Canadian men for a brief respite after three long years of service. Those who have not yet signed their names can do so either at The Advertiser office or Hambly's book store, Richmond street.

McCLARY EMPLOYEES PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK

About six hundred of the members of the McClary Welfare Association sojourned to Springbank on Saturday afternoon. Old King Sol was in one of his best humors, for the weather was perfectly delightful, and everyone seemed to spend a most enjoyable time. Lindsay; chairman, Mr. George Tapp; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Geo. E. Moll.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A REPLY TO LAYMAN.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

When "Layman," in the public press assails the faith of venerated scientists as a "vile product," my own lingering and quiescent Methodism makes me uncomfortably self-conscious.

And, apart from "Layman's" ill-directed acidities, it is time to suggest that the public peace and the peace of God be not so viciously assailed by vulgar personalities which enlighten no one, and which come with no divine grace from pulpiteers who profess the gentlemanly character of Jesus, while flinging bitter invectives against those who seek his truth according to their light.

Sir Oliver Lodge, Alfred Russell Wallace, Sir William Crookes, and many other benefactors of the race, men of untarnished integrity and keenest intellect, have been impelled to embrace the spiritualistic belief.

They may be mistaken. But there can be nothing vile about their faith. And if such scientific minds, after long years of patient investigation, have been unwillingly won not merely to a belief in, but, they aver, to an unmistakable knowledge of the persistence of personality after death and intimate communication with their departed friends, we who have not had sufficient opportunity to learn the technique of what may prove to be a new science have nothing to gain by shouting offensive impertinences against these brave men who have fearlessly embraced an unpopular faith.

"Layman" refers to broad church teaching as a "vagary of intellectual pride." The term "Broad Church" I find reliably defined as "A party in the Church of England advocating liberty of faith and practices and toleration of doctrine and forms within the communion; also holding the teaching of any church or of the whole church body."

And may I say to "Layman" that while "Liberal" politics and Conservative theology may be cherished in one mind, to some of us it seems unfortunate that they must needs be always kept in watertight compartments in the one brain, each hermetically sealed against being tinctured by the other. If only the "Liberalism" of such a mind were to impregnate its religious prejudices, how happy would be its new birth.

Still, what boots it, if politics be the science (yet immature) which shall one day enable us to obey the Master's command: "Feed my lambs"?

"Layman" makes some curious hits with his slapsticks among the "vagaries of theological pride." He eschews religious tolerance or the broad church position at the close of a letter, earlier in which he displays sufficient "intellectual pride" to say that the plenary inspiration of the earlier Jewish books is now to him obsolete and absurd! His theory of plenary inspiration is very accommodating when it permits him to characterize his "inspired" writers as obsolete and absurd! Yet this anti-broad-churchman is truly orthodox in complaining that spiritualists exercise his own fast and loose attitude towards the plenary doctrine!

Like most of us who quote old saws to bolster our prejudices, he in one breath commits the fault and charges it against spiritualists that they attempt to "run with the hare and chase with the hounds."

After investigating spiritualism for a number of years I cannot avoid a belief in the reality of certain of its phenomena. I do not pretend to understand what I have seen, though I have read most of the theories advanced by trained minds on various sides of the question.

In a word, I do not yet feel that the cause of the phenomena must necessarily be the one assigned to it by spiritualists. Their explanation may be correct. And I cannot for the life of me see why we should not hope that they are correct.

True, there is much pretence and fakery connected with spiritualism, almost as much as an unbiased investigator will find in orthodox pulpits and pews. But that need not debar us from bowing reverently in the presence of reality we do not comprehend, either in church or seance or wheresoever "two or three are gathered together" in earnest comradeship for the purpose of communing with the ever-present mystery and miracle which may be observed in every moment and atom of life.

The greater our reverence and the more profound our worship, the keener will be our pity or scorn for fakery and flumdummery, especially for that affectation of sacredness concerning a dead past, which can see no robust sacredness in the present, a cloak of affectation behind which timid unbelievers are so alarmed when brave souls abandon themselves to faith in the living present, to faith in the loving care which ever hovers over those who have faith in life instead of fear.

There is but one reality which confronts us at every turn. It invites our ceaseless investigation, welcomes our sincere doubts and ever rewards them at length with greater mastery of the truth.

ROBBERY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

"Saturday Night" says the workers in the steel mills in Sault Ste. Marie were robbed of $9,000 by prohibition. Is this the law for poor foreigners who perhaps did not hear of this law? A woman was fined $200 for carrying a bottle. Yours truly,

I. BROWN.

WINNIPEG FLIER KILLED AT DESERONTO SCHOOL

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 12. — Aviator Martin, from Winnipeg, who was at one of the camps at Deseronto, lost his life near there yesterday, when his machine fell 1,000 feet to the ground. Death was instantaneous. The machine was totally destroyed.

PLACING STAKES TO SAVE LAND WHICH IS GOING INTO LAKE

Government at a Late Date Commences Work.

MANY HOUSES MOVED

Since Early Spring 80 Feet of Orchard Beach Has Gone Into Erie.

The continuous pounding of a giant hammer, driving large stakes into the sandy bottom of the edge of Lake Erie is lately being heard every 30 seconds for eight hours of the day, by residents of Orchard Beach, Port Stanley.

As a protection for the cottagers of Orchard Beach and as a means of retaining the land upon which the cottages are situated, the government has begun hammering the huge stakes in order that the swollen waters of the lake may to some extent be prevented from claiming their monthly toll of land.

Don't Mind the Noise.

The periodical bang of the huge hammer is not exactly pleasant to an ear however hardened to the sound of noise, but if the work of the device will insure the retention of the resorters' land the noise will be only secondary to the relief of those whose territory has become endangered.

Since the beginning of spring 80 feet of land has been claimed by the combined forces of waves and rain. The loss of the land from a monetary point of view is nothing to be compared with the expense which has been undergone by the cottagers in moving their bungalows to positions of greater safety.

Must Move or Lose Houses.

One London woman, an owner of two cottages, was compelled to move her houses to the extreme end of her property, allowing approximately 40 feet for front lawns on each of them. Gradually the lawns became smaller and now with only four feet between the cottages and the brink of the lake she faces the proposition of moving them to another lot some 200 feet distant or the alternative of allowing her cottages to drop into the lake.

The work of the driving gang is progressing rapidly and very shortly it is expected that all the residents of the beach will be immune to the damaging waters.

SIR WILLIAM M. CLARK, FORMER LIEUT.-GOV., DIES AT PROUTS POINT

Noted as Lawyer, Writer, Businessman and Philanthropist.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—Sir William Mortimer Cark, lieutenant-governor of Ontario from 1903 to 1908, died at Prout's Point on Saturday, and his body was brought to Toronto today by his two daughters. He had been in failing heath since July, and went to Prout's Point in the hope of regaining his health.

Sir William Mortimer Clark was born at Aberdeen, Scotland, on May 24, 1836, and received his education at the Aberdeen grammar school, Marischal College and Aberdeen and Edinburgh Universities. He was married in 1866 to Helen Gordon, who was one of the promoters of the female immigrants' receiving home. In 1859 Sir William was writer to Her Majesty's signet, and in 1887 was made a Q. C. From April, 1903, to September, 1908, he was lieutenant-governor of Ontario. In 1907 he received his knighthood. Sir William was known as a writer and traveler, having made several trips to the Orient and written several sketches on his experiences while traveling. He was connected with many prominent Canadian business concerns and was interested in many educational and philanthropic institutions.

AUTOISTS TRAPPED ON G.T.R. CROSSING BUT ESCAPE INJURY

Party at Stratford Has a Narrow Shave.

STRATFORD, Aug. 12.—Fred Calvert and a party of motorists had a narrow escape from injury Saturday afternoon when the front of their auto was struck by an outgoing freight train on the Owen Sound branch of the Grand Trunk. Fortunately only a front wheel was taken off the auto.

Mr. Calvert was going east on Ontario street, and did not notice the train until he was almost on the track. Realizing that he would not have time to cross, he brought the car to a standstill just on the tracks, and attempted to back down. However, he was not soon enough, and the front of the car was struck. One wheel was torn off the car, and the mudguards broken. The occupants of the car, except Mr. Calvert jumped from the car before it was struck.

THOMAS LOCKART, OXFORD EX-WARDEN, DIES IN WINNIPEG

Prominent East Zorra Man Passes Away in West.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 12.—A telegram received from Winnipeg announced the death there last night of Thomas Lockhart, a former warden of Oxford County, and at one time one of the best-known men in the county. He was born in Peterboro 70 years ago and came to Oxford with his parents at the age of 4 years. He attended school here and afterwards took a business college course in Toronto, later still attending Woodstock College. Two years ago he went to Manitoba.

Mr. Lockhart was for many years a member of the East Zorra township council, and was warden of the county in 1904. He was also an auditor of East Zorra, and was for some time president of the Farmers' Fire Insurance Company of Bright. He was a member of the Sixteenth Line Baptist Church and was in politics a staunch Liberal. About nine years ago he was elected president of the North Oxford Liberal Association. He was the eldest son of a family of thirteen and is survived by seven sisters and two brothers. The funeral will be held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Davis, Vansittart avenue, on Tuesday.

FRENCH ADMIRALTY CHANGES.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Rear-Admiral Salaun, commanding the naval division of the expeditionary corps of the army of the east, has been made director of submarine warfare. Rear-Admiral Marvelleux du Vignaux, who has held the post of director of submarine warfare, will take Rear-Admiral Salauns' place in the eastern theatre.

BRITISH ARE FORCED FROM PART OF WOOD, HOLD OTHER GAINS

Bloody Hand-to-Hand Fighting Around Ypres Is Rule.

GERMAN LOSS ENORMOUS

Sacrifice Great Numbers in Effort To Recapture Important Heights.

[OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The British official communication issued this evening says:

"The number of prisoners captured in the successful attack of the 10th and in subsequent operations east of Ypres has reached a total of 454, including nine officers. In the same operations we also captured six German guns.

"An attempted enemy raid this morning south of Armentieres was successfully repulsed by the Portuguese with bombs and rifle fire.

"In spite of repeated storms and strong westerly winds, which greatly favored the enemy, our airplanes carried out much successful work yesterday. In air fighting three German machines were downed and four others were driven down out of control. Two of our airplanes were forced to land behind the enemy line and three other British machines are missing."

Weather Again Bad.

Last night the weather on the battle front in Flanders was wet and stormy, says today's early statement.

Fighting between the British and Germans took place east of Givenchy-lez-La Bassee, seven miles north of Lens, where the British occupied the near lip of a mine crater and drove off German counter-assaults. The British official statement announcing this operation follows:

"The weather was wet and stormy. During the night fighting occurred for possession of a mine crater east of Givenchy-lez-La Bassee. We established ourselves on the near lip of the crater and drove off counter-attacks.

"The hostile artillery showed great activity last night east and north of Ypres (Belgium)."

Pressed Back Slightly.

The official statement from British headquarters in France issued Saturday night reads:

"This morning the enemy again attacked our new positions on the Ypres-Menin road, and after heavy fighting, pressed back our line slightly in the Glencorse wood. In the neighborhood of the Ypres railway we gained ground on the right bank of the Steenbeeke. A further 124 prisoners were captured by us in the course of the day.

Full Day's Aerial Work.

"Yesterday (Friday) for the first time in over ten days a full day's flying was possible. Enemy aircraft showed itself in a great many places, attempting to prevent our artillery work and attacking our bombing machines. In spite of their efforts a great deal of observation work was carried out by us. A large number of photographs were taken, many targets on the ground were engaged effectively with machine gun fire, and in the course of the day and night six and a half tons of bombs were dropped on enemy airdromes, ammunition depots and other points of military importance. Fighting was very severe all day, and the enemy was encountered in large formation.

Sixteen Enemy Machines.

"Ten German machines were brought down by our airplanes, five others were driven down out of control and another was driven down out of control by gunfire. Twelve of our machines are missing."

The text of Saturday's earlier statement reads:

"Fierce fighting took place yesterday (Friday) evening for possession of the important ground captured by us earlier in the day east of Ypres. On six separate occasions the enemy troops advanced to the assault, and on each occasion were beaten back by our rifle and artillery fire. We hold all our positions, and in addition have gained further ground in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Menin road.

"We raided the enemy's trenches last night south of Armentieres."

[EYEWITNESS STORY.]

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Aug. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Hand-to-hand fighting of the most furious nature, in which bayonets and clubbed rifles were utilized, developed in the Glencorse wood yesterday as a result of a German counter-attack by which the enemy retook the southeastern portion of this elevation. Glencorse wood was the southern extremity of the line taken by the British in Friday's offensive, and owing to the fact that it overlooked the surrounding country, the Germans determined to regain it at any cost.

Driven to Death in Droves.

Yesterday's counter-attack was most determined. The Germans preceded their infantry advance by an intense bombardment from guns of all calibres, and then sent troops forward under a heavy barrage. The Germans were met by a strong fire by the British artillery, and as they approached the wood, were mowed down in large numbers by machine gun fire. But in the expenditure of life did not enter into the German calculations. They were willing to pay the price for this important position, and the infantry was hurled forward through a rain of death until the wood itself was reached.

Bayonets and Clubbed Guns.

Two British battalions, the Queen's Royal West Surreys and the Bedfords, made a valiant fight against the numerically superior forces of the enemy, and were forced gradually to withdraw, battling every inch of their way with their bayonets and their rifles used as clubs.

In the northwest portion of the wood, however, they made such a determined stand that the enemy was unable to continue his advance, and the British retained possession of it.

The German losses were exceedingly heavy, being greatly in excess of the British casualties.

The Westhoek ridge position which the British took on Friday morning has been held against numerous German counter-attacks, and the line now extends along the forward crest of the ridge, with its left on the Ypres-Roulers railway, and with the right merging into the Glencorse wood.

Enemy Taken By Surprise.

German prisoners say that they were taken by surprise in Friday's offensive, and that the British were upon them before they were aware that an attack was impending.

The fighting along the ridge and in the Glencorse wood on Friday was most bitter and sanguinary, a large part of the ridge being taken with the bayonet. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the defenders. At one strongly-defended point the Germans withstood the British for three hours with machine gun fire, and then the position was rushed by the attackers, the Germans being forced out.

Glencorse wood also was filled with machine guns, and the Queen's and Bedfords who finally captured it, had to fight their way through a veritable hail of lead.

CREW ON U. S. SCHOONER ARE LANDED SAFELY

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 12.—The captain and the six members of the crew of the American schooner John Hays Hammond, victim of a German submarine July 27, while on a voyage from England to Iceland, arrived here today on an American steamship. Cable dispatches telling of the loss of the schooner had said nothing of the fate of the crew. The men said they were picked up by a British destroyer, 360 miles northwest of the Irish coast, after 24 hours in their lifeboat.

STANDARD OIL TANKER SUNK BY SUBMARINE; CAPTAIN A PRISONER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The navy department today, through the committee on public information, issued the following statement:

The Standard Oil tanker Campana, American steamer, was sunk by a submarine on the morning of August 6, 140 miles west of Ile de Re. Forty-seven survivors reached land in safety. It is believed that the captain of the steamer, and four of the armed guard are prisoners on board the German submarine.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Campana was formerly the steamship Dunholme. She was built in 1901 at West Hartlepool, England, and was registered at 3,313 tons gross; 2,133 tons net. She was 353 feet long with a beam of 47 feet.

AMERICAN STEAMER LOST OFF AFRICAN COAST

Ottawa Man Among Passengers Who Are All Rescued.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 12.—The loss of the American steamship City of Athens and the rescue and landing at an African port of all the passengers was announced in a cable message received tonight in this city from a South African port. No details of the mishap were given. The message simply stated: "All passengers saved; everything lost."

The steamer was bound from an American port and had seven missionaries on board, representing a local religious organization. Among the passengers were Douglas Hume of Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Hornby and baby of this city.

The City of Athens registered 9,000 tons and was owned by the American Navigation Company.

WANT SPRUCE FOR PLANES.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 13.—Members of the Allied aircraft commission are in Portland today to confer with lumber manufacturers relative to increasing their production of spruce lumber for airplane stock.

The commission includes Lieut.-Col. L. W. B. Rees of the British army; Major Raffaelle Perefetti of the Italian army; Capt. Henri Dourif of the French army, and F. T. Allen of Portland, representing the National Council of Defence.

SEVERAL FOE ATTACKS BEATEN IN MACEDONIA

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The official French statement from Macedonia says:

"Army of the east, August 11: The enemy attempted several attacks near Lake Doiran, in the Cerna bend, and in the region between Lakes Presba and Ochrida. All the attacks were beaten back. The British troops in the region of Krastali carried out a successful raid on Bulgarian trenches."

Too Ill To Walk Upright—Operation Advised—Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story:

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shovelled dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. M. O. COAL FLOWING INTO DISTRICT FOR THE WINTER

400 Cars a Day Being Carried Over Niagara Frontier Into Ontario.

200 GO INTO STORAGE

Grand Trunk Has Enormous Reserve, 50,000 Tons Accumulated Now.

Measures to guard against a coal shortage this winter are being carried out on an exhaustive scale by the Grand Trunk, this company alone having over 50,000 tons of a reserve stock in this district on hand, 24,000 of this being stored in the city.

Nearly 400 carloads of coal are coming into the province daily by way of the Niagara frontier and a large proportion of this is reaching the dealers.

200 Cars Go Into Reserve.

The present daily coal consumption throughout the province is less than 200 carloads daily at the present time, so that a similar amount is going into a reserve stock every day.

The accumulation is being carried on in a systematic manner in order that the distribution may be equalized throughout the towns and cities.

For Smaller Places.

One noticeable feature is the increased number of cars consigned to the smaller towns and villages in order that they may accumulate a stock on an equal basis with the cities.

In addition to the heavy coal movements grain from the elevators at Goderich and Point Edward is being transported to the seaboard in greater quantities this summer than ever before.

MAJOR CAMERON TO COMMAND BATTERY

Goes To Petawawa in Charge of Men He Recruited.

Major N. K. Cameron, officer commanding the forestry and construction depot at Carling Heights Camp, today left for Petawawa to take command of his own battery, the 63rd, which he organized and commanded until a few months ago.

Major G. W. Nelson, officer in command of the 32nd Regiment draft-giving depot at Walkerton, succeeds him, and today took charge of the forestry and construction depot. The 32nd Depot at Walkerton has been closed.

Major Cameron was anxious to accompany his men to Petawawa earlier in the season, but his services were required here for other duties, and he is now able to rejoin his men and take command of the battery.

BACK OF ALLIES STANDS GOD, SAYS W. H. LIDDICOATT

During the absence of Dr. Barber on vacation, the services yesterday in the Colborne Street Methodist Church were in charge of W. H. Liddicoatt. In the morning he gave a most interesting address on "The Life of Isaac." In the evening, Mr. Liddicoatt spoke on "The Unreached Paradise," showing how each individual has some unattained paradise, hoped for and desired, but one never reached. His based his address on the work of Moses, who was given a glimpse of the Promised Land into which he could not enter. In the course of his address Mr. Liddicoatt referred to the kaiser as the modern example of one who had been led by his selfish pride to believe he would enter his paradise, that of world conqueror, but though he has had a glimpse of this land, he cannot enter it—for, back of the Allies, standeth God, keeping watch above his own. About two hundred soldiers were present at the morning service.

$200 TO BUY PRIZES FOR CITY'S EMPLOYEES

The picnic of the civic employees, to be held at Springbank next Saturday afternoon, promises to be one of the finest outings staged at the park this season, judging by the arrangements for an all-round good time that are being attended to by those in charge.

More than $200 was collected from the city employees to buy prizes for the winners of the sports. A first rate sporting program will be carried out, among the interesting events being some tugs-of-war by teams composed of picked men from the garbage department, the construction department, the road-makers' department and the city officials, making four teams to compete for the handsome prize which will be offered.

RAILWAY PAYS $500 FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

The suit brought by Mrs. Crow, Los Angeles, formerly in charge of the cafeteria at Port Stanley, against Sir Adam Beck and the London and Port Stanley Railway, has been settled out of court, it was announced today. Mrs. Crow asked damages for breach of contract, and the railway commission instructed Sir Adam Beck to settle it. The amount paid over to Mrs. Crow was $500, according to information received by The Advertiser.

She was given the money, and has departed. Another manager has been secured for the place.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL OF RICHARD GALPIN.

The funeral of Richard Galpin, whose death resulted from a fall from a window at Victoria Hospital Thursday, was held Sunday from the funeral parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke. The services were conducted by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson, under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Court Defiance, No. 7. The funeral was largely attended as Mr. Galpin was widely known. Floral tributes were numerous. Interment took place in Woodland Cemetery. The pallbearers, six Foresters, were: W. A. Reid, W. H. Brogley, A. E. Wyatt, William Richman, E. Reed and William Wood.

FUNERAL OF MRS. YOUNG.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy A. Young, whose death occurred on Friday, was held Sunday afternoon from her late residence, at 618 Talbot street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Foreman of St. Paul's Cathedral.

The pallbearers were three sons and three grandsons—J. M. Young and George Young of this city, Ferguson Young of Aylmer, J. Ellison Young and Messrs. Rosser and Ferguson of London Township.

DIED AT TORONTO.

Wingham, Aug. 13.—Mrs. W. J. Chapman of Toronto, and formerly of Wingham, died in Toronto Hospital last Thursday. The remains were brought here for burial. Deceased was in her 59th year, and leaves a husband, one son and two daughters. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Priest of Toronto, also formerly of Wingham. The pallbearers were Messrs. Greer, Buchanan, Pringle, Cosens, Pocock and Smith.

DEATH OF MRS. WARNER.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Warner died here today after an illness of five years. She was a widow and 81 years old. Funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

CITY BREVITIES

TO DISCUSS REPORTS.—The Board of works will meet on Tuesday evening, and will consider the various reports on street paving received from Prof. Marshall and Sir Adam Beck's experts. There will be a discussion on them.

SURPLUS EXPECTED. — The city council will have a surplus this year. The amount cannot be stated as yet, but it should at least amount to $15,000, it is stated at the city hall. It may be more. Last year the surplus was $21,000.

MAY LOSE GARDENS.—Ald. Sam Manness, chairman of the high cost of living commitee, is getting after some persons who have failed to live up to their agreement in caring for gardens. If they do not get busy, others will be given the plots.

LIEUT. CHENAY IN TOWN—Lieut. J. S. Chenay and his wife were in the city over the week-end, while en route to Ottawa. Lieut. Chenay is a former member of the staff of the 1st Division in France, who was brought home to join the staff of Gen. Hodgins at Ottawa.

BONDS YIELD 6 PER CENT. — The city has disposed of $750,000 in five-year debentures to Toronto buyers, getting a price that will yield about 6 per cent interest. This city has been more fortunate than many other municipalities in getting so satisfactory a price, city officials state.

DISCUSS COAL YARDS.—The coal yard bylaw will be discussed on Wednesday evening by the Finance Committee of the city council. The bylaw has been prepared by the solicitor, and the members of the trades council will look it over. The latter have secured an option on a suitable site on the London and Port Stanley Railway, which will be presented.

1,289 TAGS FOR DOGS.—Tags have been purchased by citizens for 1,289 dogs, giving a revenue of $2,815. There were 2,500 dogs reported, showing that there are quite a number of people who have not purchased tags. Inspector McCallum will issue summons at once for the delinquents. It is expected that the city will obtain about $4,000 from this source.

THE ROTARY PICNIC.—The Rotary Club will hold its annual picnic at Hazeldean, the country residence of Mrs. J. W. Little at Springbank on Wednesday afternoon. It is expected that fully 400 will attend. Frank Ashplant is arranging the program, which promises to be most interesting. The Rotarians will leave the Y. M. C. A. at 2:15 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

MEN AND HORSES GO TO GALT.—About twenty-five men from Carling Heights Camp left at 1:25 yesterday afternoon via C. P. R. for Galt, to take part in the military field day being held there today. A musicale ride is one of the features to be put on by the London men, and for this purpose about twenty-five horses were shipped as well.

CITY RAILWAY MUST PAY $4,600 TO KIN OF WORKMAN KILLED

Compensation Board Makes Award After Recent Fatality.

The workmen's compensation board has issued a ruling that the London and Port Stanley Railway Company must pay the sum of $4,600 to the family of R. Beedle, a workman employed by the railway, killed about six weeks ago while repairing cars.

The money has been paid over to the board, and will be handed over to the relatives at an early date.

The London and Port Stanley is covered by an insurance company for such accidents.

"SUNDAY DRUNKS" OF RUSSIANS CONTINUE

Two Russians pleaded guilty in police court today to intoxication, both admitting that it was only their usual Sunday drunk. Both were fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail.

One had found an outlet for his enthusiasm by beating up the landlord of his boarding house, but as the landlord said his boarder had done it only for fun, no further charge was laid.

The other said, "Not much drunk," but Patrolman Venner said he had arrested him after finding the Russian lying in a drunken stupor in a lane hugging a partly consumed bottle of imperial whisky.

"These Sunday drunks in the foreign colonies of this city are becoming too regular, and I will impose a greater penalty unless they cease," said the magistrate.

SUBMARINE METHODS ROUSE NORWAY'S WRATH

CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 12.—Popular indignation here against the German persecution of vessels in the Norwegian coastal trade has again been aroused by the case of the steamer Thorum, whose officers, pilot and crew testified in the naval court that they were inside the three-mile limit of the Norwegian coast when seized as a prize by a German submarine last May. The steamer recently was released by the German naval authorities and has returned to a Norwegian port.

The newspapers here severely criticize the Government for accepting the German note on the incident, which offers neither apology nor compensation for the time lost while the Thorum was held in a German port. It is expected that the incident will be brought up by interpellation in the Storthing.

KINGSVILLE HAS RARE SUMMER APPEAL

American Visitors So Delighted They Will Return Again.

KINGSVILLE, Aug. 11. — The fishery cruiser Vigilant was in port here on Friday and Saturday.

Leonard Scratch, of the hardware firm of Scratch & McDonald, was forced to go to Detroit to a specialist for the removal of a piece of steel from his eye.

The annual picnic of the Epiphany Church was held on Thursday at the Lakeside Park. The afternoon was enjoyably passed in games of various kinds. Ideal weather helped to make the outing most successful.

Miss Mary Thornton fell from a teeter at Lakeside Park, and was so badly shaken up that she had to be removed to her home in an auto. She is still confined to her bed.

A jolly party of camp-fire girls from Highland Park, Detroit, has been occupying the "Wren's Nest" on Erie avenue, Kingsville-on-the-Lake. The girls were chaperoned by Miss Thornton of Highland Park. This was their first visit to Kingsville, but so delighted are they that they will return here in future.

WELL-KNOWN MOLDER.

PRESTON, Aug. 10.—The Holy Name Society, C. M. B. A. Society and the members of the Ironmolders' Union attended the funeral of Joseph Eicheldinger, which was held from his late home, William street, at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Service was held at the Roman Catholic Church and interment made at the Roman Catholic Cemetery. Mr. Eicheldinger had been a resident of the town for many years and was well known. He was employed as a molder at Clare Bros., stove and furnace manufacturers.

VOLUNTEERS OF CITY SAVE CROPS BY TIMELY WORK

Farmers Grateful To Those Who Have Responded To Call.

GIRLS BACK TO CITY

Praise Treatment Accorded Them by First Men For Whom They Worked.

Although more than a hundred men have been placed on farms throughout the district since they were released by local manufacturers last week, there is still a great demand and the Government labor bureau is anxious to obtain every available man. An opportunity for automobile owners to aid the work has been made by the need for rapid transportation. Reginald Daly, son of F. W. Daly, has offered his car. After going through the district to obtain a list of those farmers who are most in need of help he has taken applicants at the bureau directly to the farms where they are needed, and the time formerly lost in waiting for trains is now used for harvesting the crops.

Three Months' Work.

Many of the situations which were at first thought good only for three weeks will now be held open for at least three months, so that applicants can be sure of employment throughout the summer and fall if they leave situations here to aid work on the farms. Most of the farmers at the present time are unwilling to engage men for a year, but it is likely when the fall work is completed many of them will make arangements to keep their help.

Some criticism of the movement has been made on the grounds that the men released are inexperienced in farm work and are more of a hindrance than a help, but it is stated at the employment bureau that this is not the case. The great majority of applicants have proved to be experienced or partly experienced in agricultural work and have been accepted by the farmers at regular rates of pay. Those applicants who are not skilled are sent to farmers who are anxious to obtain help whether it is experienced or not.

Girls Are Pleased.

The demand for fruit pickers is slackening for a time as the berry season is over, and it will be some weeks before thimbleberries and currants are ready for picking. The party of girls which was engaged at Arkona returned to the city Saturday night. They were highly pleased with the work, with the pay, and with the treatment they received. Those employed on the farm of W. H. Mundy, near the city, have also returned. They were tendered a banquet, before their departure, at which the employer expressed his gratitude for the help rendered in gathering the crop.

Fruit growers throughout the district characterize the season as one of the best ever experienced, and largely through the efforts of volunteer pickers none of the crops have been lost. Raspberries were plentiful, and the later small fruits promise to come up to the standard set by the earlier crops if they do not surpass it. Plums are plentiful on most of the farms, and pears are up to the average. Apples seem likely to be the only variety of fruit which will not be abundant. Hardly any trees throughout the country are bearing this year.

MOTOR BREAKDOWNS NUMEROUS ON SUNDAY

An unusually large amount of engine and tire trouble was experienced by many local autoists who journeyed home from Port Stanley last night. About every mile of the road to London from Port showed a tourist endeavoring to repair certain defects in his machine. Many small accidents occurred, two car owners coming into Port with their fenders and radiators badly smashed. No injuries were sustained as a result of collisions between cars, but many entered London with visible signs of having bumped into some obstacle during their return trip.

SERGT.-MAJOR SAUNDERS TO REPORT AT WINNIPEG

Company Sergt.-Major Saunders of the Canadian army gymnastic staff, at Carling Heights Camp, left today for Winnipeg, where he will report for duty with the gymnastic staff of that district.

Company Sergt.-Majors Whittle and Bannister of the C. A. G. S., at Camp Borden, reported this morning at the school of instruction, Carling Heights, and will become members of the staff here.

U. S. RECRUITS GO TO INFANTRY UNITS

Recruits reporting here from the British Recruiting Mission in the United States are to be allotted to the various infantry units in the district, provided they are fit for infantry, and not to other units, according to instructions issued in camp orders today, which state:

"The attention of militia headquarters has been directed to the fact that returns submitted by district headquarters show a considerable number of recruits for the C. E. F. from the United States are drafted into branches of the service other than infantry on their arrival at the districts. Instructions have now been issued that this practice must be discontinued at once, and all category "A" men should be attached to infantry units, and men will not be used to fill the ranks of the other branches of the service for which reinforcements are not so urgently required at the present time. Officers commanding mobilization centres will guide themselves accordingly."

WEDDING BELLS

GLEISSER—FISHBEIN.

The wedding was solemnized on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Fishbein, 428 Rectory street, of their daughter Bessie and Leo Gleisser of New York. The ceremony was performed by Rabbis Phillips and Solomon. Among the guests were: Mrs. Gleisser of Cleveland, mother of the groom; Mrs. Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fishbein and Mr. S. S. Fishbein of Detroit; Miss Lena Barron of Boston, and Mr. Gershon of Rodney. Mr. and Mrs. Gleisser will reside in New York.

DAWSON—USHER.

A pretty wedding took place Saturday evening at 126 York street, when Edna Usher of this city was united in marriage to Walter Dawson of Preston, the ceremony being conducted by Rev. R. J. Holmes.

A large number of guests from Hamilton and St. Marys were present and attended the luncheon given for the newly-married couple before their departure on their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson will reside in St. Marys, following the conclusion of their honeymoon.

DE SAULLES MURDER CASE

Trial of Woman Who Slew Husband To Be Held in October.

Mineola, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Blanche De Saulles, in the court of justice here charged with the murder of her divorced husband, John Longer De Saulles, when he declined to permit their 5-year-old son to return to her, will not be placed on trial for at least two months, according to District Attorney Charles R. Weeks. Mr. Weeks said today that the case would have to await its turn and that he did not plan to ask that it be advanced on the docket. There are two other murder cses on the docket to be tried ahead of Mrs. De Saulles, which, it was said, would mean her case would not come up before the October term of court.

"EACH FOR ALL; ALL FOR EACH"

Motto On Banner Now Being Carried in Processions by Winnipeg Returned Soldiers.

FARM TRACTORS WITH HEADLIGHTS WILL WORK 24 HOURS A DAY

"Working day and night" will be a phrase with a literal meaning to the farmers in this district within a few days. Tractors in use on the farms in the vicinity are to be equipped with automobile lights and will be used twenty hours in every twenty-four instead of ten, as now. The lights arrived at the office of the department of agriculture here today and will be sent out immediately. The tractors are being used on farms near Parkhill, Glanworth, Strathroy and Lobo at present, in the majority of cases as motive power for plows.

CITIZEN TAKES ORPHAN FOR WEEK TO SUMMER HOME

Kind Act Recommended To Others, and May Become General Practice.

A public-spirited citizen has inaugurated a movement that should grow in popularity.

He and his family have a cottage at Port, and he noticed that the youngsters were enjoying the outing so much, that he decided to take an orphan from one of the homes in the city to the lakeside for a week. He went to the Protestant Orphans' Home, and was given a little girl, and she will spend a week at the lakeside, with this gentleman and his family, as their guests. When her week is up, another will be taken.

"I have an idea that the scheme will be worth extending," he stated to The Advertiser. "I am going to try and interest others in the idea. Surely there are enough Londoners at the Port willing to take a youngster for a week. It would mean so much to them, and would be little trouble and expense to each man. I am trying it out, and if it works as I expect it will, I am going to advocate the movement for all I am worth. It is getting pretty well along in the season to do much this year, but it is not too late to get the scheme working for next summer. There is no reason why every child in these homes should not have a holiday."

PROVINCE CANNOT CONTROL COMPANIES ORGANIZED OUTSIDE

Act of 1914 Is Declared To Be Ultra Vires by Court.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—A black eye was judicially handed to the Province of Ontario at Osgoode Hall today when Mr. Justice Masten gave judgment holding that the Ontario extra provincial corporations act of 1914 is ultra vires and invalid in its clauses. The purport of the act, he finds, is to exert control over all companies incorporated outside the province. While this is permissible as regards foreign companies, it is held that it is beyond the powers of the province to make such a regulation with regard to companies chartered by the dominion.

GREECE NOW AT WAR WITH CENTRAL POWERS

London, Aug. 13.—In reply to a question in the House of Commons today, Foreign Secretary Balfour said Greece was now definitely at war with Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria.

DUART LANDMARK BEING RAZED NOW

Block, Relic of Palmy Days, Being Torn Down.

DUART, Aug. 12. — While patching the roof on the Covenanted Baptist meeting-house, the ladder shifted and A. F. O'Brien fell to the ground, sustaining a badly sprained ankle and wrist, besides being bruised about the side. The victim of the accident is at his home, where he will be laid up for some time.

Another of Duart's ancient landmarks is being destroyed in the tearing down of the old McCallum block. The building dates back many years, and recalls the time when the village was in its palmiest days. These were the days prior to the advent of the Canada Southern Railroad, when Duart vied with Morpeth as the marketplace for Orford and Howard townships, goods being teamed in from the G. T. R. at Bothwell and the lake dock at Clearville.

HEAVY SENTENCE IMPOSED.

GALT, Aug. 12. — When arrested in Toronto for deserting his wife here, Herbert Gottlieb, a young man of 22 years, was found to have in his possession a loaded revolver, and this fact and also that he has a bad record brought for him a sentence of one year and 364 days in the Central Reformatory. He had planned leaving Toronto for the west on Monday. Gottlieb has served three years for housebreaking, at Hamilton, and three months in Detroit for theft.

LEADING MILITARY CRITIC OF GERMANY SHOWS UP FALSITY

Invasion of Belgium Unwarranted, But Lucky.

ANALYZES WHOLE MOVE

For Some Reason, This Article Is Circulated in German Press.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 12.—Lieut.-Gen. Baron von Freytag-Loringhoven, chief of the supplementary general staff of the German army, in an article printed in a German newspaper, admits the falsity of the the German pretension that the violation of Belgian neutrality in the campaign of August, 1914, was due to military and defensive necessity provoked by alleged preparations of the French to invade Germany through Belgium. Gen. von Freytag-Loringhoven writes that, on the contrary, the French originally started to concentrate their armies along their own eastern frontier, and made a belated change in their plan only after the German offensive was set in motion through Belgium, and the Germans profited greatly from the resulting confusion and delay.

Stories of French troops marching through Belgium during the initial days of the war, and of airplane and automobile attacks from Belgium territory, and other fairy tales which figured so largely in German justification of the invasion of Belgium, are not mentioned in Gen. von Freytag-Loringhoven's article.

French Had to Shift.

After describing the advance of the bulk of the German force westward, consisting of four armies comprising its centre and right wing, through neutral Belgium and Luxemburg, beginning August 18, 1914, he says:

"The French main concentration was originally accomplished between Belfort and the Belgian frontier, and the first indication that they contemplated a German advance through Belgium resulted in a shift to the left. . . . . The Entente Allies recognized only on August 17 that strong German forces also were advancing in a wide enveloping movement on the left bank of the Meuse, where previously they had assumed that only an army of cavalry, strengthened by some infantry, was present.

Fifth Army Halted.

"In consequence of the original erroneous concentration directed toward the east, the French fifth army did not succeed in advancing beyond the line of Dinant-Charleroi by August 22, and was forced to content itself with holding the passages of the Rivers Sambre and Meuse."

The article proceeds to describe the disastrous effect of the sweep of that unexpected German flood upon successive French armies, and the advance to the Marne. Gen. von Freytag-Loringhoven declares that the Germans retreated from the Marne because they were too weak to break through the French lines, but he argues that although final success was missed there, Germany, by seizing the opportunity of a daring advance through Belgium, avoided war on her own territory.

The newspaper says that the article of Gen. von Freytag-Loringhoven, who is Germany's leading military historian, and writes on the basis of the official general staff records, is circulated semi-officially in the German press.

ONLY FIVE DAYS AT FRONT.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 12. — Mrs. Charles Jennings on Saturday received a letter from the chaplain of the battalion to which her husband, the late Sergt.-Major Charles Jennings, was attached. In part, he said: "Just a line to assure you of my sorrow in the death of your husband. He was killed instantly while taking part in a recent advance and is buried not far from where he fell. The location of the grave is on record and can easily be found after the war, on application to the registration office in London, England."

Sergt.-Major Jennings was a South African veteran and went overseas with C Company, 168th Battalion. He was rejected many times in England, but finally got to the front, only to be killed five days later.

TWO SERGEANTS RETURN TO TRAIN CONSCRIPT ARMY

Guelph Men Will Act as Instructors in the Event of Compulsion.

MOTHER AND SON MEET

One Son Killed at Front and Father Died Since Battle of the Somme.

In a party of 36 wounded and invalided soldiers who arrived in the city at 1 o'clock this afternoon via C. P. R., were eleven Londoners and two Guelph sergeants, returned to act as instructors in the event of a conscript army being formed.

Among the London men were Louis O'Connell, 404 Adelaide street, and Harold V. Wilson, 381 St. James street, both former 33rd Battalion men. The latter was invalided.

Pte. O'Connell was wounded during terrific German shell fire concentrated at a point on the Somme on September 22nd last. He and his brother, Sergt.-Major Charles O'Connell, went into the battle together, Charles being killed within an hour of the time that Louis was wounded.

A Pathetic Reunion.

The father died since, and the meeting of the mother, who had no one left in the world but her wounded soldier boy, was one of most pathetic, but at the same time joyous occasions witnessed during the many home comings of soldiers.

The other London men, all invalided home due to illness or found medically unfit, were: James Robinson, 505 Ontario street; J. Sandham, 135th Battalion, 657 Dundas street; F. W. Thomas, general delivery; Frank C. Wright, 456 Quebec street; E. Leonard, 83 Langarth street; W. C. Dorey, 666 Oxford street; A. G. Devereaux, 293 Hill street; A. E. Cowell, 9 Barrington, and R. E. Beadle, general delivery.

Sergeants for Instruction.

The two men returned for instructional duty in the case of conscription were Sergts. J. Pipis and A. C. Shank, both of Guelph.

Among the wounded men from out of town were: C. Clark, Windsor; Sergt. W. Wiltshire, Hespeler, and J. Cunningham, Chatham. Clark was wounded on three separate occasions, but on recovering each time from wounds returned to duty. He was wounded at Messines, Ypres and the Somme. Sergt. Wiltshire got an explosive bullet in the wrist while his company was going into action at Courcelette on September 18 last. Cunningham was shot in the leg at the second battle of Ypres as he was going over the parapet of a German trench.

The other men who returned, all invalided, were:

W. C. Garroway; S. Goodwin, Woodstock; J. Basher, David Donaldson and C. Taft, Galt; J. T. Downes, W. Pilkington, J. Stone and W. J. Jowett, of Windsor; J. Burke, Walkerton; W. H. Cole, Aylmer; J. L. Cook, Fergus; W. E. Tough, Kitchener; John Hancock, Strathroy; W. Holt, Bluevale; A. D. Muir, Seaforth, and E. S. Wells, Essex.

The men were welcomed at the depot by a large gathering of friends and relatives.

A Better Arrangement.

By an improved arrangement the men assigned to permanent base duty were brought in motor cars through the downtown streets instead of being diverted and sent up Oxford street as on the last three occasions. There were plenty of cars on hand and today's reception of men was found to be much more satisfactory than when part were forced to march to the barracks on their arrival.

The A. M. C. Pipe Band headed the first section of twelve men for the Convalescent Hospital. The other 24, headed by the Special Service Corps Bugle Band, brought up the rear of the procession, this section turning north at Dundas and Waterloo streets for the barracks.

U. S. GOVERNMENT TO NAME COAL PRICES, INSURING JUSTICE FOR THE CONSUMERS

Will Establish Rules for Production, Shipment and Distribution.

New York, Aug. 13.—That the first definite price fixing move to be undertaken by the United States Government will relate to coal is now practically certain, and action that will reveal the policy to be pursued is expected this week, says a Washington dispatch published here today. Under the food law the president, through the federal trade commission, has the following powers: To fix the price of coal wherever sold and to establish rules for its production, shipment and distribution.

To take over the plant of any dealer who refuses to conform to such prices and operate it for the Government.

To require all production of coal in the country or in any particular area to sell their product to the Government, which through some agency—the trade commission probably—can sell coal to the public at prices determined by the Government, the prices to be based upon "fair and just profit over and above the cost of production," as fixed by the commission.

The pooling alternative authorized in the law, it is believed, will be followed by the president and trade commission at the outset, there being no intention to take over the coal mines, except in cases of producers who might deliberately seek to defy the Government.

WATFORD IS OBSERVING CIVIC HOLIDAY TODAY

WATFORD, Aug. 12.—Monday, August 13, is Watford's civic holiday. A large number will spend the day at the different Lake Huron points.

On Friday evening more than a hundred friends of Mrs. W. J. Hastings met in the basement of the Methodist Church to say farewell before she leaves for Regina on Monday. Addresses from the Missionary Society, congregation and Ladies' Aid were read and a purse of $25 was presented to the guest of honor. Mrs. Hastings is 78 years of age, and has lived all her life in Watford. She leaves a wide circle of friends to regret her departure.

BATTERY AND COLUMN MAY RETURN TO CITY FOR WINTER MONTHS

63rd and No. 3 Section Are Expected from Petawawa.

SURPLUS OF GUNNERS

Not Required Overseas and Will Not Be Shipped To Serve as Infantry.

That the 63rd Battery and No. 3 Section, Division Ammunition Column, would return to this city to spend the winter was the statement made unofficially in military circles today. Officers and men from the two units concerned while on leave in this city also share in the same opinion, and are looking forward to spending the winter in London.

Surplus of Artillery.

While under ordinary conditions these two units would be dispatched overseas at the close of their summer training at Petawawa Camp, it is not considered likely they will leave Canada this year. There are apparently enough artillerymen in England to supply the Canadian units at the front for some time, and as a result of this the last drafts of men that proceeded overseas were converted from artillerymen to infantrymen a short time after their arrival there.

This action resulted in quite a howl being raised on both sides of the water, and proved unsatisfactory to the men and to everybody who had any interest in the work of the artillery lads. The slip-shod methods which allowed men to be recruited for artillery, when they were needed in the infantry branch, also allowed them to be trained at great expense as gunners and drivers, and then to be untrained, and trained again as infantrymen, at additional expense and loss of time.

Must Come to City.

As it is apparently not considered wise to repeat that performance in this case, and send the men over as infantry and as it is seemingly impossible to send them as artillery since they are not required in England, the only alternative will be to winter them here.

Five permanent buildings were erected for the use of the 63rd Battery on Carling Heights this summer, and at that time it was expected that they would be quartered here all summer. These plans were changed, however, and the buildings are being put to other uses. The quarters could be made ready and available in the fall, if required for the battery.

Major Cameron, officer commanding the 63rd Battery, and Lieut. L. Clark, in command of No. 3 Section, D.A.C., and their men, made a favorable impression while at Queen's Pork in this city, and the citizens would be glad to welcome them back to London in the fall.

TRAINLOAD OF AGENTS PASS THROUGH CITY

A trainload of Canada Life agents and representatives passed through London today en route to a trip up the lakes and to camp for ten days. The agents that are qualified for this trip are the ones that wrote $100,000 of new business, and some 25 agents wrote the desired amount. Their train is all decorated and everything possible is done by the Canada Life Company to make the trip enjoyable.

The only life insurance firm to write the amount in Western Ontario are Daniel Black & Son of Dutton, Ont., who wrote $113,000.

TURKS PREPARING TO LOOT JERUSALEM AND LEAVE LAND A DESERT

Will First Squeeze Every Ounce of Money From Natives.

Cairo, Egypt, Friday, July 20—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The situation in Palestine this summer is the most serious since the war began. A scheme for the looting of Jerusalem is already being executed, and throughout the countryside the Turk has embarked on a calculated policy of plundering and killing the native inhabitants, so that if they are forced to vacate the country they will leave behind them a desert. The only thing that can save them, the only hope that buoys them up, is that the British armies now hammering at the gates of the Holy Land may soon drive out the Turks.

Young Turks Cruel.

Information about conditions in Palestine reaches here from many sources, some more or less direct, but most of them rather roundabout. The following statement of the present situation is given to the Associated Press by an official in touch with all these sources:

"The attitude of the Young Turks toward the unfortunate non-Turkish races within their empire has always been harsh and oppressive. During the war it has been an open campaign of robbery, exploitation and massacre, for the Young Turks, realizing that the partition of the lands under their rule is unavoidable, have determined to get as much as they can out of the inhabitants while they are still in possession.

The Armenian Atrocities.

"The stupendous wickedness of the extermination of the Armenian nation cannot be dismissed as a mere device of oriental statecraft, or as a particular measure aimed at one particular race, for it is the Turkish policy towards not only Armenians, but Arabs, Greeks and Jews, in fact, all peoples who are subjects of the Turks but are not themselves of Turkish blood.

"While there was some prospect of being able to retain, or even enlarge, their empire, the Turks, although treating their subject races badly, did not actually seek to destroy them. Today, knowing themselves doomed, it is their calculated policy to kill off the bulk of the inhabitants of Palestine and extort the last ounce of money and goods from them, so that if they are forced to vacate the country they will leave behind them a desert, a poverty-stricken and depopulated land.

"Their policy is not consistent with military or economic needs, and it is not supported by even the slenderest pretexts for its necessity. It is dictated solely by a savage brutality. The Turk has in the past shown some aptitude for diplomacy, if little for statesmanship, but the modern Young Turk of the committee of Union and Progress is an infinitely worse tyrant than his predecessors, and all the native savagery and blood lust that are his heritage now find vent in deliberate and organized crimes. He works untrammeled by diplomatic convention and reckless of consequences. Germany has exercised no restraining influence, and, indeed, shares largely in the Ottoman guilt."

DOUBLE FOOD PORTIONS FOR NEWLY-MARRIED

Berlin, via London, Aug. 13.—The municipal food bureau of Strassburg announces that newly-married couples will be entitled to draw double the amount of food indicated on their food cards. The privilege is accorded them for a period of six weeks.

SEAMEN'S OPPOSITION.

BRITAIN'S Seamen's and Firemen's Union, through its secretary, has announced that it would refuse absolutely to carry delegates to the Stockholm peace conference. It is not alone in its opposition by any means, but its protest is the strongest made against the attendance of Britishers.

The attitude is not surprising. The great majority of workmen in Britain have no first-hand knowledge of the hideous cruelties practiced by the enemy. Some few have seen women and children maimed or killed by air raiders, but most of them have only read of these things; of the atrocities in Belgium, France, Serbia and on the high seas.

But the vileness of the German war-making is brought closer home to the seamen. They are pursuing their labors day by day, knowing that at any minute they may feel the shock of a torpedo and be left struggling with the icy waters. Thousands of them have helped to rescue crews and passengers, victims of the submarines, who have been left to their fate by the foe. They have seen dead babies clasped in their mothers' arms and live babies held in the arms of their dead mothers. They know, many of them from actual experience, that there is no action too treacherous, too low or too inhuman for the Germans, and they, therefore, refuse to hold any conference with these creatures until victory is certain and the future of the despoiled nations assured.

It is somewhat disconcerting to read that the resolution to send delegates to this Stockholm conference received such a big majority from the British Laborites, especially in view of the fact that most of their leaders were so strongly opposed to it, and it is to be feared France and Belgium will not be inclined to regard the action favorably. It may have a good effect in Russia, but is there not too much pandering to Russia now? France and Belgium stand firmly at the side of Britain for victory; Russia may be standing in one position today and the opposite tomorrow. It would be better to avoid anything which might discourage the neighboring allies, even if Russia should not be pleased.

LET HOOVER DO IT.

THE EDITOR of The Advertiser has received a letter from the office of Herbert Hoover, the United States food controller, offering to supply this paper, free of charge, a service of illustrations bearing on conservation of food, and showing methods of treating kitchen problems economically. With this service would be sent written suggestions for conserving scarce foods and substituting for them more plentiful ones.

No similar offer, be it noted, has arrived from Canada's food controller, nor has there been any intimation that one was to be made in the future.

Is it to be left to Herbert Hoover to educate the Canadian public as well as the American in ways of economy? Has W. J. Hanna nothing more to suggest than "more fish" and "beefless days?"

A FIGHT FOR FREEDOM AND HARMONY.

THE war in Europe, involving the whole world, and the greatest ever fought for humanity and freedom, is not the only one ever fought for the same cause, although it is earnestly hoped that it will be the last one necessary to be fought. We take the following extract from "The Day of Sir Wilfrid Laurier," by Oscar D. Skelton:

"It was when matters were at this acute stage that Wilfrid Laurier came forward to do for this province and his country a service which could be accomplished only by a man of rarely balanced judgment, of firm grasp of essential principles, of wide reading and familiarity with the political ideals of other lands, and, above all, of matchless courage. Rarely, if ever, has there been delivered in Canada a speech of such momentous importance, or one so firmly based on the first principles with which Canadian statesmen too rarely concern themselves, as that which he addressed to Le Club Canadien, a group of young Liberals in Quebec City in June, 1877.

"The subject of the address was political Liberalism. The speaker cleared away many misunderstandings. Liberalism did not mean Catholic Liberalism; it had nothing to do with opinions on religion. Nor did it mean Liberalism of the type still prevalent on the continent of Europe, revolutionary, semi-Socialist, openly anti-clerical; the type which had been given brief currency by the young men of 20, who, thirty years before had lent the Liberal party an undeserved reputation for anti-clericalism. No, the Liberals of Canada found their models and their inspiration in the Liberalism of England, in the men who had fought the battles of orderly freedom and responsible self-government against privilege and self-interest. As to the church, no true Liberal wished to deny its officers the right which every citizen enjoyed, of taking a part in his country's politics; they had opposed, and would continue to oppose, every attempt of politicians in clerical garb to crush freedom of speech by spiritual terrorism. The right of ecclesiastical interference in politics ceased where it encroached upon the electors' independence. Any attempt to found a Catholic party was not only a crime against the country but was bound to injure the church itself; it would lead inevitably to the formation of a Protestant party among the majority. On individual freedom alone could a sound national political system be built up, just as on colonial freedom alone had it been possible to build up a lasting imperial system.'

"The speech was received with enthusiasm throughout the country. Its renunciation at once of anti-clericalism and of ultra-montanism, its moderation and its fearlessness rallied Liberalism to its true standard, and marked out clearly the lines within which party and priest alike should act in the interest of church and of country. It was a masterstroke, both for freedom and for harmony."

"We are today sometimes prone to overlook the services of those who in England or in Canada fought for us the battles of political freedom. We tend to forget the services of the political leaders of the thirties and forties, who won freedom from class and racial domination, the services of the leaders of the sixties and seventies, who won freedom of thought and speech, against heavy odds. It has taken a European war to make us realize how precious are those liberties, how many great peoples are still without them, and the height of our debt of gratitude alike to those who won them for us in the past, and to those who preserve them for us in the present."

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?

A WRITER suggests that if Germany could win the war, the Germans "would not need to do any more work other than their military work. They could compel other countries to pay enough blackmail to keep them going." Yes, the great cry among all classes now in Germany is for heavy indemnities, otherwise the country is ruined. The war of 1870 was paid for by France, and this war is lost by Prussia unless the damages can be collected from the Entente. England must be destroyed and the rest crippled so that Germany may survive.

There are a good many people, perhaps, who do not seriously allow that a victory for Germany in Europe would enable her to conquer Canada or compel the United States to pay an indemnity for peace. But if Germany could by any chance force Great Britain to the wall, she would exact from the vanquished not only an immense sum of money, but the whole British fleet as well. The war lords would then be in a position to blockade and even invade the Canadian and American coasts. Besides landing strong forces in Mexico and invading the United States from there, they would probably enlist the Mexicans in a plan to recover their lost territory in the Southwestern States. It is quite likely, also, that they could land in Canada and so attack the Eastern States more directly from that quarter. But Mexico, beyond any doubt, would be either an ally of the Huns or their second Belgium, more probably the former, or both. The defeat of the Entente in Europe and on the seas would certainly be an evil day for America. Its populations would soon be as prostrate under the feet of the Hohenzollerns as Austria, Turkey and the German people themselves now are.

UNJUSTIFIED CONSIDERATION.

CHICAGO'S school board defeated a motion to have a leaf torn out of 130,000 public school spelling books which lauds the kaiser, and is entitled "The Kaiser in the Making." The principal objector to the motion was a woman, who said the action would offend German-Americans in the city.

If these German-Americans are worthy of consideration, they do not want their children to be taught that the world's greatest criminal and murderer is a person to be admired and to follow. If they still cling to Prussianism and worship at the feet of Wilhelm, they are not good citizens of the United States, and have no claim to preferential treatment. Surely the retention of the page is a greater insult to Americans than its elimination could be to the hyphenates.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A porkless day in politics would help some.

Erie Beach has a heavy herring run, but that need not arouse hopes of cheap fish.

Peru objects to the Germans sinking her ships. Only Holland, Spain and Scandinavia take it quietly.

Those Brockville men who provided a motor accident for a visiting Detroit policeman were making it too homelike.

Speaking about "beefless" days, let us all pray that this will mean the cutting out of "beefing" as well as "beef."

More coal strikes in Alberta. Were any of those I. W. W. men exported across the border by the United States? It looks like it.

Nearly all auto thieves around here seem to abandon the car when the gasoline plays out. Shock of hearing the price of a new supply brings them to their senses.

London's pavement foundations are reported as first class, though they are probably not as dense and resisting as some headpieces with which they have come, theoretically, in contact.

The new secretary of state of the Vatican says, touching the war: "We believe that there are rights which justice must respect." If that is so, the Vatican condemns Germany utterly.

If men in military uniforms are forbidden to attend political meetings or become active politically, the same law must be applied to officers. There are the same reasons, and Canada must not differentiate.

KISSES AND COLLATERAL.

[By Archie Cameron New.]

Walter Brent checked his satchel, gave another impatient glance at the dispatch board, and walked across the deserted station to the news stand.

"See that New York train's an hour and a half late again," he remarked cryptically to the drowsy proprietor, who nodded a sleepy assent. "Give me a copy of the Tattler. Is there any eating place near here?"

"'Bout half a block down the street," answered the other briefly, handing Brent the magazine, then settling back into his chair with a significant yawn.

Brent looked at him hesitatingly, then walked out of the station. Raising his umbrella, for its was raining hard, he trudged down the quiet street, until he halted in front of a dimly-lit lunchroom. He paused a moment in surprise, for a very pretty and dainty young girl was standing on tip toes extinguishing the front light, but as he entered she left the light burning, and smilingly demanded his order, then disappeared in the direction of the kitchen in the rear. Brent settled himself in a chair, and opened the magazine, and did not notice a young man, who appeared at the rear door, scowled at him, and then withdrew again.

"Huh!" grunted the latter in a low tone to the young girl at the stove. "Looks like he's settled down for a stay. I was goin' to close down after Joe came. What'd he order, sis?"

"I'm glad he came," answered the girl, dropping an egg into the steaming pan, and ignoring his question. "Now I won't have to wait on that bum."

"Ah, see here," protested her brother peevishly. "Joe's no bum. Besides, look at th' trade he brings in. And, darn it, we need th' money bad enough."

"I don't care if he brought the whole town in," snapped the girl. "He's a beast, and you know it. Tries his best to kiss me every time he comes in. If you were any kind of a brother you'd beat him. And he's always drunk. If he comes in tonight you'll wait on him."

A bang in the dining-room outside was heard, and the young man turned on his sister quickly.

"Stop your hollerin'," he ordered. "That's Joe now."

As Joe lurched into the lunchroom and staggered past Brent's table, the latter disgustedly shrank away from him. Then the drunken "Taxi Joe" slunk into a seat, and, grasping in his hand a saltcellar, he beat a tattoo on the table.

Soon the girl emerged from the kitchen with Brent's order, and as she passed Joe she stepped out of his way as he made a grab for her arm. Brent noticed her agitation as she set the dishes down in front of him, and his fists clenched under the table. In response to her polite and musical query if he would have anything else, he absently gave a negative nod, and she started back for the kitchen.

This time, as she passed the drunk's table, she was not quick enough to dodge his restraining hand, and he pulled her over to him.

"Please, Joe," she pleaded, but her whisper reached Brent's ears, and he started involuntarily to his feet, then waited, as she added: "What do you want tonight?"

"A kiss—a sweet little kiss," came the maudlin answer. "C'mon now. Ah, now, you don't wanta scream! It'd ruin your place, y' know it. Th' least little bit of noise an' the cops'd pinch y' in a minit. Now, y' gonna kiss me or scream?" And he leered into her face.

"Wait!" pleaded the girl, her face ashy-white. "I've got to get this gentleman something. When I come back I'll kiss you." And she darted away to the kitchen, and once in safety she sank quivering into a rocker and cried openly. Her brother, drowsily dawdling on a nearby couch, began to snore loudly.

Ten minutes slipped by before she rose hastily from her chair and hurried into the lunchroom. At the door she paused in astonishment, for both the stranger and Joe were gone! Returning to the kitchen she roused her brother, and they ran together to the door, but the stranger, with his scarcely-tasted meal yet unpaid for, was nowhere in sight, nor was Joe, but the quest of the watchers was, for a new gust of rain drove them inside, and locking the doors they extinguished the lights and retired.

Half an hour later, just as the girl had slipped off to sleep, a loud rapping at the front door beneath her room summoned her, attired in a simple dressing gown, downstairs. At the front door a beefy policeman accosted her.

"Mis' Lucy," he said, shaking off the rain, "we got a young guy up at th' lockup, who says he owes yeh forty cents. Here it is," and the officer slipped some coins in her hands. "Says he was eatin' in here 'while ago. Big, handsome, young feller, brown hair, an' all dressed up. Know 'im?"

"Y—es," she faltered. "But why—is he—locked up?"

"Fer fightin'," was the brief reply. "I caught 'em down th' street. He had his coat around Joe's mouth and was beatin' th' life outa him—you know Joe, th' one that runs a taxi. He's at th' hospittle."

At the mention of "Joe," the color receded from Lucy's face, leaving it deathly pale.

"Did—do you know what they were fighting about?" she inquired nervously.

"'Bout a woman, I guess," replied the bluecoat. "Th' young un' was callin' Joe a skunk fer mistreatin' a fine little lady. Joe never answered. Never had no front teeth left t' answer with."

Lucy thought quickly.

"Mr. Giles," she asked, hurriedly. "How much collateral do you want to let that young man out tonight?" Then she checked a reply from the policeman's lips. "No, I mean it. He—he came in here to kill time till his train came. He—I know he's too nice to be locked up. How much? Can I pledge this place? It's mine."

The officer again demurred, but finally melted before her winning eyes and accompanied her to the station-house where she pledged her lunchroom for Brent's appearance in the morning. Rather than accept thanks, however, and partially ashamed because she was the innocent cause of his confinement, she left hurriedly before Brent was released and returned home.

About 11 o'clock the following morning Lucy Marston was taken with sudden panic when Patrolman Giles entered and approached her with a paper.

"Sorry, Miss Lucy," he began, apologetically, "but I have orders t' take possession of th' receipts till a sheriff's sale is ordered. Your bird's escaped. Never showed up this mornin', an' your lunchroom's forfeited."

"What's all this?" her brother yelled; but, with hands shaking with fear, she commanded him to be quiet and turned to the officer.

"There must be some mistake," she said vehemently. "There must be. He's a gentleman, I know that. He must——" she gritted, her teeth determinedly. "Go ahead. Take possession. But I'm sure he'll turn up today—some time."

But noon came and went and there was no tidings of Brent. All through the tedious afternoon she kept her vigil at the front door, but no sign of Brent appeared to soothe her feverish nerves. At 5 o'clock she was alarmed again when another officer entered the lunchroom and went up to Giles and spoke to him in a low voice, then both started to leave.

"They've called me off, Miss Lucy," volunteered Giles. "I don't know what's happened.

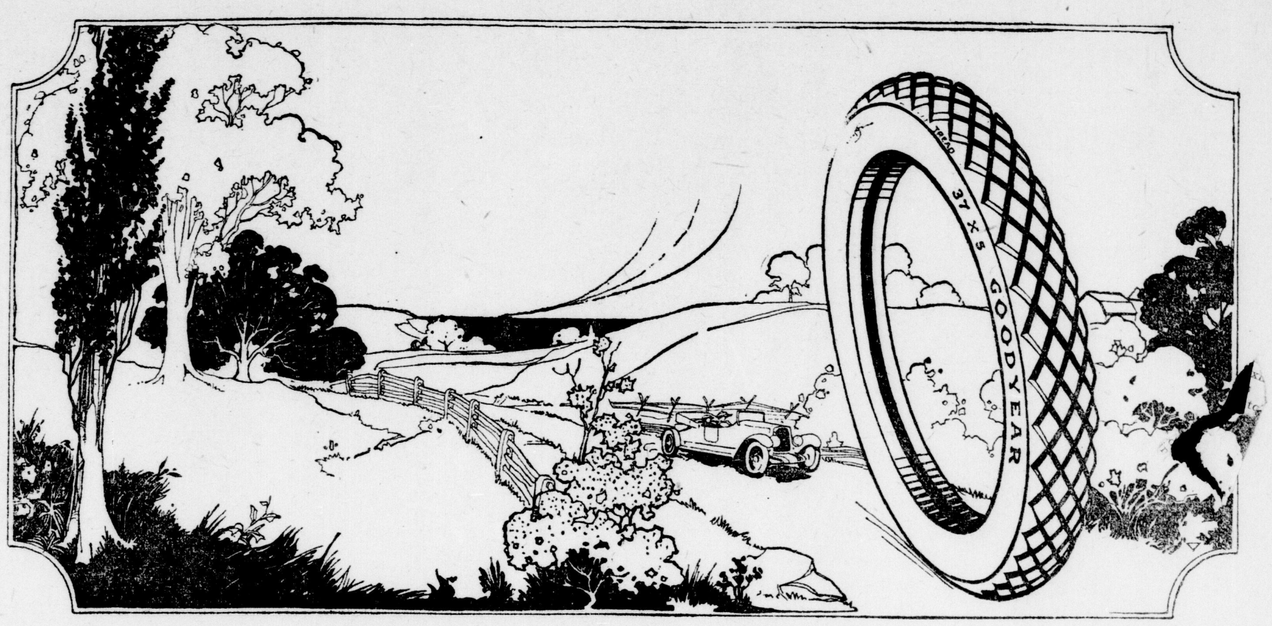

Her brother was in the kitchen, and she was adjusting the fire under the big coffee steamer back of the long counter, when the door opened and Brent rushed in.

"Guess you think I'm worse than drunk," he gasped, breathlessly. "Don't you, Miss Marston? I came back to thank you. It may have looked bad for me to leave as I did, but I had to leave for New York to put through a big deal there this morning. But I hurried right back, squared things up at the station-house and came right here. I thank you—so much."

"Don't," came Lucy's whispered answer, as she dropped her eyes. "I'm the one to thank you. I—I guess I'm silly, but I knew you'd come back."

"Miss Marston—Lucy," he said, reaching across the counter and taking her hands in his. "I thank you for that. But don't thank me. I couldn't let the beast kiss you—and I couldn't let him ruin your place. So I dragged him out first, then beat him. But—I—I can't blame him much for wanting to kiss you. I'd like to make a life job of that myself. How about one now—for collateral?"

"Well," she whispered, "you're different. I wouldn't mind kiss——," but he stifled her sentence with his lips.

The Crowning Result

INCOMPARABLY the greater number of motorists determine any tire's efficiency by the mileage and endurance it shows.

To them, this is the paramount virtue. It is the "sine qua non" of tire-buying.

True, they appreciate security, appearance, liveliness; but transcending all other desirable qualities they seek and demand greater mileage and the resulting lower tire costs.

This is the one quality that constitutes the crowning recommendation for Goodyear Tires.

While Goodyear has led in the efforts to magnify riding-ease and security it is above all in this direction—in multiplying the miles delivered upon the road—that Goodyear tire-making knowledge and achievements represent a tremendous forward step.

For Goodyear Tires positively do yield that greater mileage—the motorist's actual return for the money he invests—which business minded men have set as their standard in tire purchasing.

Two causes co-operate in enabling Goodyear Tires to outserve, outlast, and outvalue so indisputably.

Primarily the prolonged usefulness, the slow and grudging wear, the brimming value of these tires come as result of Goodyear construction.

Goodyear Tires in the No-Hook type are protected against blow-outs by our On-Air cure, against rim-cutting by our No-Rim-Cut feature, against loose treads by our Rubber Rivets, against insecurity by our Braided Piano-Wire base, against skidding by our All-Weather Tread.

Most motorists have neither the time nor the inclination to analyze the effect of these superior features. But they are actually interested in the greater mileage and heightened efficiency these features lend.

They appreciate even more the merit of Goodyear endeavour when they become acquainted with the work of the Goodyear Service Station Dealer.

It is the work of the Goodyear Service Station Dealer to extend the goodness, the stamina, the vitality—in a word, the mileage—that is built into Goodyear Tires.

His work covers many phases. It involves doing many duties you might otherwise neglect. Rendered at no extra cost to you, this service will save your tires, your time, your money, your temper, your clothes.

He, and the thousand or more Goodyear Service Station Dealers who co-operate with him, stand ready beneath the emblem shown here.

Look for this emblem of Goodyear Service. Drive your car up to it. Let the Goodyear dealer demonstrate his willingness, his expertness, his money-saving service. Stop at this emblem when next it catches your eye.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE WAY IT GOES.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The attached item appeared in the Mail and Empire this morning, and think it would be very appropriate to our London city council. Hope you will see fit to insert it in the columns of your paper. Yours truly,

SUBSCRIBER.

Street Planning.

First Alderman—"Here's a fine-looking street."

Second Ditto—"You're right; what's the best thing to do with it?"

"Let's have it dug up for a sewer."

"But wouldn't it be proper to pave it first?"

"Of course; I thought you would understand that. Then, after it is paved and a drain put in, we'll have it repaved."

"All in readiness to be dug up again for the gas-pipe? I see you understand the principles of municipal economy. And after we have had it repaved for the second time, then what?"

"Well, then it will be ready for widening. There's nothing I admire so much as system in the care and improvement of our roadways."

WHY SENATOR CLORAN DENOUNCED THE BILL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I have been asked by many of my fellow citizens why I so vigorously opposed and vehemently denounced the passage of Bill 75, now known as the compulsory military service act, in the Senate.

Will you kindly allow me to give an answer to all concerned through your columns?

I opposed and denounced the bill on four grounds:

1st. On the ground that under Section 3, Clause 2, the bill violated the sanctity of the marriage tie and suppressed the rights of the marriage state for the purposes of this act.

2nd. On the ground that under Section 5, Clause 6, it suppressed the liberty of the British subject by abrogating the habeas corpus act, the foundation of the magna charta and the bulwark of British liberty against King and Parliament; except under martial law.

3rd. On the ground that under Section 16, Clause 2, the right of free speech on public questions and national issues is denied to the people of Canada, under heavy penalties, ranging from one to five years in the penitentiary.

4th. On the ground that under the schedule of exemptions the bills deals a fatal and deadly blow at the existence of Christian churches which have to depend on a full complement of ministers for religious services in church and educational purposes.

These are the reasons which actuated me in my opposition to the passage of this bill in the Senate, and which I feel confident will actuate the vast bulk of the electorate of Canada when casting their vote in the coming Federal election.

You will notice that in my opposition to this bill, as drafted, I do not oppose the principle of conscription. On the contrary I will most heartily indorse it when the people of Canada have sanctioned it.

Yours truly, H. J. CLORAN.
The Senate, Ottawa, Aug. 12, 1917.

A REPLY TO FARMER.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I desire an opportunity to support much and to condemn a little of "Farmer's" letter in The Advertiser of yesterday (Thursday).

I am altogether in favor of conscription, and would vote for it at every opportunity, but first it would be necessary to have a complete definition of the term. If I am to be conscripted, my life and my strength is all I have to give; the other fellow must also give his all, no matter what or how much. When I vote for conscription, I shall be the first to go. An election is not the way. We vote for a member, for his general usefulness, not because of his stand on one particular or important measure. Referendum is the only right course.

"Farmer" says labor is at a premium. This is not so. Labor is today producing wheat, potatoes, etc., for a smaller share per bushel than at any time in the world's history. "Farmer" says there are many acres in his county laying waste, and this should be made to produce all it can. I ask "Farmer" why? To enrich Flavelle and his ilk? To produce wheat and potatoes here and save barley in Britain for whisky? Flavelle, whisky or farm laborers, which?

In early spring I was living in a town west of London, and sent my name and address to the "back to the land" advocates, stating I was born on a farm, raised on a farm, had done all kinds of farm work, was prepared to go to a farm two days a week for four weeks during spring or summer, find my own transportation, and pay my own board, do a fair day's work according to my ability, provided the farmer paid to the Patriotic or Red Cross a sum equal to my earnings per hour during the other four days—but not one single applicant!

My brand of patriotism is not wanted on the farm. PATRIOT.

DROWNED WHEN HIS CANOE UPSET

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—Gordon Hodgins, a well-known Ottawa paddler, who competed in the Woodruff war canoe crew in yesterday's regatta at Rockliffe, met death by drowning at River Park today. He and a friend named Bowen were paddling when they noticed a youngster in difficulty. Bowen dove to save the boy, and as he did so the canoe tipped over. Bowen rescued the little fellow, but while he was doing so Hodgins went down. Bowen managed to grasp him by the head, but lost his grip. Hodgins was 19 years of age.

U.S. WILL CONTROL WHEAT AND FLOUR BY DRASTIC MEANS

Government Prepared to Take Over Whole 1917 Harvest.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The food administration announced this evening its plan for controlling wheat, flour and bread, revealing that the Government is prepared to take over the whole 1917 wheat harvest if necessary to conserve the supply, obtain just prices for America's fighting forces, and their allies, and reduce costs to the general public in the United States.

Establishing of buying agencies at all elevators and mills, fixing of a price to be considered fair, regulation of the middleman, of grain exchanges, with the elimination of trading in futures, are the chief features of the plan. The licensing will begin September 1.

The minimum price of $2 for wheat, fixed by Congress, doesn't become effective until next year, but the administration purpose to exercise a thorough control over this year's crop through powers conferred under the food and export control bills.

BIG CARADOC PARTY WILL BE HELD AUG. 15

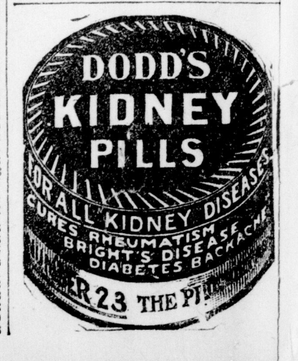

Big Program Arranged for Event With Outside Talent.

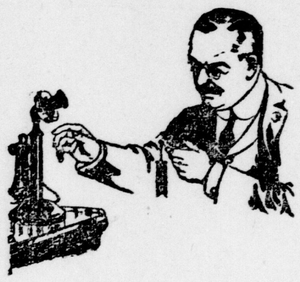

STRATHROY, Aug. 12.—North Caradoc's monster garden party will be held on the church lawn on Wednesday evening, Aug. 15. A good program has been arranged. Among the artists engaged are Harold Jarvis, famous tenor, and Miss Mary Lyon, reader, of Detroit; Donald Wright, Strathroy; Sam Munroe, London's Juvenile Harry Lauder. The A. M. C. kilties band of London will provide music for the occasion.

Dr. and Mrs. James M. Waters and son Moir, of Rutlam, Central India, are guests of North Caradoc friends during the month of August.

Delays in Telephone Service.

THE war has produced no substitute for copper, and has made unprecedented demands upon the world's supply.

¶ And war's demands upon labor, skilled and unskilled, were never so great as now.

¶ Business has been speeded up to an unheard-of degree—its demands are insistent, urgent.

¶ Telephone workers and telephone equipment are both at a premium. As fast as they are to be had they are put to work in an endeavor to keep up the quality of our service, local and long distance.

¶ But in spite of everything we can do there are delays which, in normal times, were unknown. Long distance users are having to wait as never before for the completion of their calls.

¶ To add to the difficulties of an abnormal situation, a series of terrific electric storms has kept a large part of our construction staff busy on repairs, holding up urgent new construction.

¶ We ask that our patrons keep in mind the abnormal conditions as above. We are doing what we can to avoid delays and to keep up the quality of our service.

That Wart Cure.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I found myself in trouble I thought best to come to you for help.

Seeing a cure for warts given by some reader some time ago I cut it out, but have lost the clipping, and as my husband has so many warts on the back of one of his hands I was going to get the cure made up, but was unable to find the clipping. I will ask you to print it again, if convenient. WIFE.

Ans.—I, too, have lost the clipping apparently, and I am hoping that the sender of the original will see this, and out of the goodness of her heart let us have it again.

2. Parents or guardians have legal control of a girl until her eighteenth birthday is past, and she must have misstated her age or a license would not have been issued. Judging from what you say, however, in such a case a girl would not be compelled to leave her husband—at least I am sure that a magistrate would rule thus if it was explained to him.

Teddy Sailor's Friend.

"Teddy."—The name of the sailor lad will be looked after, I assure you. How queer to think of him so far away, yet addressing him, London. Was your writing "hasty"? But considering your reason, I am sure it was pardonable—the haste, I mean! Just a smile between you and me.

Photos and Pickles.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have that song that I asked for several times, so I'm sending it along with another. I would like to send you my "Soldier Boy's" photo, but I'm afraid it may miscarry, and I wouldn't want to lose it. He is a nice, pleasant-looking boy, and I'm real proud of him. I didn't think I would be writing so soon again to the page, but I wanted to send the letters along.

Will you please print a recipe for canning beans the way you do mustard pickles? I think it was printed last summer, but I lost mine, and oblige. MRS. S. E. B.

Ans.—I'll be content with your description of the "adopted" lad, and leave the photo in your care. Am printing the letters from your "lonelies," but how about their return? Did you change your address? I remember your writing that you were about to move.

Perhaps this is the bean recipe you wish: One peck butter beans cut small, cook one-half hour in salt and water; to 3 pints of cider vinegar add 3 pounds sugar, bring to a boil; 1 cup mustard, 1 cup flour, 2 tablespoons turmeric, 2 tablespoons celery seed; mix together in cold vinegar, add to boiling mixture, stir constantly, add beans and cook five minutes.

From Blenheim Reader.

"Blenheim."—I have received a money order for the sum of $1.50 from a Blenheim reader, to send a parcel overseas to an inclosed address. Just as soon as I can possibly do so, the same will go forward as requested.

Welcome, Wee One.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is the first time I have written, so please be easy on me. I would like the name and address of two real lonely soldiers, as I would like to cheer them up a bit.

What are the meanings of Leon, Velma, Anita?

Here are some good books for girls to read: Freckles, A Girl of the Limberlost, The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come, Shepherd of the Hills, Rose of the Wilderness. Do you like reading, Miss Grey? I just love it.

Where are "Mrs. Homebird," "Calamity Ann" and "Beautiful Doll?" Please tell me what you think of my writing. May I come again?

PETTTY BABY.

Ans.—The name of Leon or Leona, like the masculine Leonidas, signifies "lion-like." Velma is a varied form of Wilma, which is an abbreviation of Wilhelmina, meaning resolute defender (a feminine of Wilhelm or William); Anita, a name of which Ann (meaning grace) is the foundation.

Yes, "Baby," to me reading is one of the best pleasures in life, so we agree there! I am sorry if our old-time writers have deserted us completely. A little bird on a telegraph wire whispered to me that our "Ann" had changed her name. Maybe she'll be writing in for recipes before long!

You write very neatly and daintily indeed, for a wee one.

Again?—Yes, of course.

Contemptible Fellow.

My Dear Miss Grey,—I am a silent reader of your page and believe me I would rather go without my dinner than to miss reading The Advertiser every day.

What is your opinion of a young man that tells all the young girls he meets that he was fighting in France and is home wounded, and when the girls believe him, he tells the boys of the fun he had with the girls, for Miss Grey, he never was in France.

Your opinion of my writing. I will come again sometime, if I may.

PEACHES AND CREAM.

Ans.—If I knew a young man—I suppose we have to give him that title—who told such contemptible falsehoods, he certainly would not have the chance to tell me another, and I'd not hesitate to make known the reason why. Such action is too mean for words.

Your writing is excellent.

Better Than "Boughten."

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed where someone asked for a recipe for fruit biscuit, and I hope she will try the one you will find inclosed; we always liked them better than those bought from biscuit manufacturers. I notice many useful hints and good recipes on your page, but I suppose you often have room for a few more so long as they can be recommended. I am inclosing some I know to be good. For boxes for the boys at the front these fruit biscuits, also the ginger snaps would be very nice providing they are packed in tin boxes, tightly covered, and nothing else put in that same box.

Trusting some may find some useful hints or recipes from the inclosed collection. H. Y. C.

Ans.—Rest assured new recipes of the tried and true brand are ever welcome. You will find yours reproduced in our "Cook Book." The other clippings are also apreciated.

Advertiser Patterns

A Smart Sports Dress.

Waist 2090, Skirt 2079.

Combining lady's waist pattern 2090 and lady's skirt 2079. In figured shantung, or any of the new striped "sports" fabrics, this will make a splendid outing dress. The waist may have sleeves in wrist or elbow length, and you will surely want the pockets on the skirt. The waist pattern is cut in seven sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. It requires 3 yards of 36-inch material for a 38-inch size. The skirt is cut in seven sizes, 22, 24, 26, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure, and requires 3¼ yards of 44-inch material for a 24-inch size. It measures 2⅞ yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern, in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.

Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below:

Name .....

Town .....

Province .....

Age (If child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

CAUTION: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure you need only mark 33, 34 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 25, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from date of application.

THE ONE-PIECE DINNER

The preparation of the "one-piece" meal uses possibly two pots and one platter, as against five pots and five serving dishes, besides individual serving dishes in the preparation of the conventional dinner. Why not, then, for all these reasons, incorporate it into our weekly menu?

These few examples of typical one-piece foreign dishes may serve to revive or inspire the creation of more strictly American dishes on this order.

Gnocci, that nourishing dish from Italy, may be called the best example of the modified dumpling dish. It is made as follows: Three pounds of old potatoes, 1 pound of flour, ½ cupful of grated Parmesan cheese, 1 cupful of finely-chopped cooked ham, 1 pound of fresh tomatoes, or ½ pound of finely-chopped carrots, celery, onion, butter, salt and pepper.

Gnocci consists of the dumpling and its sauce. To make the dumpling, boil potatoes in their skins; peel and pound on a large board with the flour until the material has reached the consistency of a soft dough. Roll into long narrow strips, then cut crosswise into sections about an inch long. Drop the cubes into rapidly boiling salted water. When they rise to the surface they are cooked. They must be removed carefully on to a wide platter. The sauce is then poured over them.

The sauce is made by browning the chopped onion, carrot and celery in butter; then adding the tomato pulp, chopped ham and seasonings, and cooking very gently for twenty minutes. Pour the sauce over the gnocci, then the grated cheese. This serves five persons; the approximate cost is about 50 cents at present prices.

Goulash is typical of many meat dishes of the "one-piece" type:

Two pounds of flank or rump beef cut into one-inch cubes, 1 pint of cubes of raw potato, 1 pint of carrot cubes, 2 onions, 1 pint of strained tomato sauce, fat, salt, pepper, 1 bay leaf, 2 cloves, 8 allspice, 1 saltspoonful of thyme, 1 tablespoonful of finely-chopped parsley, half clove of garlic, chopped.

Slice the onions fine, fry in a frying pan with fat from the meat, or with two tablespoonfuls of lard. Brown well; then add flour, and turn. Add the tomato sauce, the meat, and enough boiling water to cover. Tie the spices in a cheesecloth square, and add. Cover the pan and let cook very slowly for about half an hour. Now add the potatoes and carrots and the chopped parsley and garlic, stirring well.

Continue simmering for another half hour. Remove the spices. Serve very hot, dusting a little paprika on top if liked. Serves six persons; the approximate present cost is 70 cents.

Indian Curry is a dish which can utilize leftovers of mutton or chicken, but which is better made from the fresh meat in this manner:

Two pounds of neck or shoulder of mutton cut into 1½-inch strips, 2 tablespoonfuls of melted butter, 2 small onions, 2 tablespoonfuls of grated cocoanut, 2 large apples thinly sliced, 1 teaspoonful of salt, ½ teaspoonful of white pepper, 1 saltspoonful of grated nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful of curry powder (scant), 1 quart of mutton broth (strained), 4 ounces of uncooked rice.

First slice the onion and brown it in fat; add the meat, and brown, dusting with flour. Place in a casserole, and add the cocoanut, apple, stock and seasoning. The curry powder could be mixed separately in a small cupful of the hot broth before adding. Cook for fifteen minutes. Uncover, and add the rice. Simmer either on the back of the stove or in the oven for another hour. There should be no floating gravy, merely rich moisture. If preferred the rice may be cooked separately and merely served around the curry. This will serve six; the approximate cost is 60 cents.

Chop Suey is liked by many and would be more popular if its ingredients were more widely known. It is very simple to make, and even if the bean sprouts cannot be obtained a good imitation can be made at home:

Two pounds of pork (shoulder or any inexpensive piece), 1 cupful of celery in one-inch section, 1 cupful (scant) of thinly sliced onions, 1 cupful of bean sprouts, 1 cupful of mushrooms (preferably tops only), salt, pepper, Soy sauce (at any grocer's).

Use the fat of the pork to try out in the pan. Use only an iron skillet, very hot; brown the pork dice in the fat thoroughly at a high degree of heat; remove excess fat if any. Flour, and add boiling water to cover, then season; add the onions, mushrooms, celery and sprouts, or double the amount of celery if the sprouts are unobtainable. Cover and cook slowly for an hour and a half. Serve with rice separate or poured over a platter of rice. Shredded ham or chicken is often laid on top. The soy sauce is dark, with a peculiar meatlike odor, and should be added, as we add catsup, to taste. This serves six; the approximate cost is 75 cents.

War-Time Recipes From The Advertiser Cook-Book

Muffins.

One cupful milk, one-half teaspoonful each of butter and lard melted, a little salt, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, flour to make batter like cake. Bake in quick oven.

Cornmeal Muffins.

Two eggs, two tablespoonfuls granulated sugar, one cupful sweet milk, one cupful of granulated cornmeal, one and one-half cupfuls sifted flour, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, and a pinch of salt.

Wheat Muffins.

One pint sour milk, one-fourth teaspoonful soda, one and one-half teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one tablespoonful buttter, one beaten egg, flour enough to make stiff as cake batter. Grease muffin tins; fill half-full and bake in a quick oven. Sweet milk without the soda may be used. Add an extra teaspoonful of baking powder.

Breakfast Gems.

One heaping pint flour, one teaspoonful baking powder, one teaspoonful salt, butter half the size of an egg, one teacupful water. Bake fifteen minutes.

Graham Gems.

One cupful sour milk, one-half teaspoonful soda, one tablespoonful sugar, pinch of salt; add graham flour to make stiff batter. Drop in greased gem pans and bake quickly. This amount makes eight gems.

Waffles.

Mix one quart each milk and flour, five tablespoonfuls yeast, and a teaspoonful of salt. Set this over night as a sponge. In the morning add two eggs and a tablespoonful of melted butter, and bake in waffle-irons.

Rice and Cornmeal Waffles.

Mix a cupful of cold-boiled rice, half-cupful each flour and cornmeal, two well-beaten eggs and milk to make soft batter. Add a tablespoonful melted butter, one and one-half teaspoonfuls baking powder, and a teaspoonful of salt. Beat smooth and bake in waffle-irons, greasing your irons.

Griddle Cakes.

Take one cupful flour, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, and a sprinkle of salt. Sift the dry ingredients together into a bowl. Beat an egg, add a scant cupful of milk and stir in gradually the dry ingredients, to make a smooth batter. Place an iron or soapstone griddle over the fire and grease it with a little dripping. When the fat begins to smoke dip out the batter with a tablespoon or ladle, and pour it on the griddle to form cakes. When the cakes are full of bubbles, turn them so that both sides may be brown. Serve on hot plates, with syrup, or butter and sugar, or place them in layers with butter, sugar and cinnamon between.

The cakes may be varied by adding half-cupful of cold boiled rice, hominy, wheatea, oatmeal or canned corn, to the ingredients called for. By using a half-cupful of cornmeal, rye, graham flour or bread crumbs, instead of the flour called for in the recipe, various kinds of griddle cakes may be made.

Buckwheat Cakes.

Take a quart of buckwheat flour, a teaspoonful of salt, a handful of Indian meal, two tablespoonfuls of molasses. Add four tablespoonfuls of yeast and enough warm water to make a thin batter. Beat well and set to rise in a warm place. Let rise till morning and bake quickly on a hot iron.

Breakfast Cakes.

Take one quart bread crumbs; pour enough boiling water over to soak them. Add quart buttermilk, three eggs, one-half teaspoonful salt, tablespoonful of lard, teaspoonful soda. Stir well and thicken with flour to the right thickness for griddle cakes.

Attractive Home Decorations For Our Readers

Mantelpiece.—Many houses still contain the high, old-fashioned, wooden mantelpieces, painted to imitate yellow-grained black marble, and a sore affliction to the eyes. A little paint may convert an eye-sore into an ornament. Ebonize the entire surface, and paint a spray of flowers in each panel, taking care to select blossoms whose tints harmonize with the decorations of the room. In a chamber furnished with white and blue, a mantelpiece of this kind would be pretty painted white, with the panels outlined in blue. If desired, some geometrical design or figure in outline can be painted in each panel. Above the mantelpiece fasten two shelves, the upper one shorter than the lower, supporting them on brackets. In this manner a very unsightly mantel may be converted into a very pretty and attractive one.

Screen.—If your house is small and your family large, a folding-screen in each bedroom is an important addition. Very pretty and inexpensive ones may be made by covering a wooden frame with coarse canvas, and on this arrange pictures cut from illustrated papers. When the canvas is entirely covered, varnish the whole, and be happy in the knowledge that you have added a useful adjunct to your bedroom furniture, as well, perhaps, as provided hours of amusement for sick children in hunting out the various pictures.

Window Draperies.—A novel and pretty window curtain has been made easily and cheaply by the practice of a little taste and ingenuity. Its material was the yellow silk ribbon which is used to tie bundles of cigars. This was made into squares, which were joined together by bands of antique lace insertion until the full length was reached. The top and bottom were then hemmed, and the lower end ornamented with a border of white lace and a row of fringe.

Mirrors.—If through ill-fortune a looking-glass is broken, it is easy to utilize its larger fragments. These may be cut into square or diamond shape, and inserted in plush frames, or painted or gilded wooden frames. Thus utilized, a misfortune may be converted into an advantage in decoration.

Sofa Pillows.—Where there are easy chairs, and sofas, or lounges, a beautiful sofa pillow adds much to the effect in the decoration of a room. There should be a plentiful supply of these useful articles, as they afford opportunities for ladies to exercise their ingenuity in working out beautiful designs. These vary, from the plain pillow made of denim, with cord at the edges, both for finish and for durability, to the more expensive plush and silk pillows worked with the needle. Ordinary butchers' linen may be taken, a square design of drawn work made in the centre, and a ruffle may be made around the edges of red and white taffeta ribbon in alternate rows. The back of the pillow may also be of linen.

A sofa pillow may also be made of crimson denim, with dark blue fleur-de-lis embroidered upon it in dark blue silk, which may be finished with a crimson cord. The back should be made of dark blue denim. This cover describes one which would answer for a Pennsylvania university. Other colors may be used to represent any other college. Inexpensive sofa pillows may also be made of huck toweling embroidered in wash silks in white, pink, light green, light and dark yellow and black. A ruffle may be added of bright red silk, and the back of the pillow made of toweling. A very inexpensive sofa pillow may be made of squares of silk, ribbon and velvet, each square slightly padded to give a raised effect. The edges of the pillow may be finished with narrow ruffles or silk cord. This variety of pillows offers great opportunity for ingenuity in using remnants of silk and velvet, and they are deservedly popular.

Quite an attractive pillow may be made of white linen, on which autographs of friends or of a class may be written in lead pencil, and outlined in several shades of green embroidery silk, or any other color which suits the fancy of the designer. The pillow may be square or octagonal in shape. A dainty pillow of this kind may be filled with dried rose leaves.

Trim off the outside fat from a forequarter of loin of mutton. Place in kettle, cover with boiling water and cook until tender, allowing fifteen minutes to the pound. Serve with caper sauce made from the water in which the mutton was boiled. Reserve the remainder of the water for soup.

To make caper sauce melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, stir in four tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, then add one and one-half cups of the boiling liquid and stir and cook for ten minutes, then add one-fourth cup of capers.

VERSE
NEW AND OLD

THE OLD RED CRADLE.

(This song was requested by "Brownie," and "Friend of the Mail-Box" supplies a copy.)

Take me back to the days when the old cradle rocked,
In the sunshine of years that have fled,
To the good old trusty days when the door was never locked,
And we judged our neighbor's truth by what he said.
I remember when my years I had numbered almost seven,
And the old red cradle stood against the wall,
I was youngest of the five, and two were gone to heaven,
But the old red cradle rocked us all.

Chorus—
Rocking, rocking, gently rocking
In time with the tick of the clock on the wall,
One by one the seconds marking,
The old red cradle rocked us all.

By its side father paused with a little time to spare,
And the care lines would soften on his brow,
Ah! 'twas but a little while that I knew a father's care.
But I fancy in my dreams I see him now
And if ere there came a day when my cheeks were flushed,
When I did not mind my porridge or my play, and hot,
I would clamber up its side and the pain would be forgot,
When the old red cradle rocked away.

Chorus—
Aye, it cradled one and all, brothers, sisters, in it lay,
And it gave me the sweetest rest I've known,
But tonight the tears will flow, I let them have their way,
For the passing years are leaving me alone.
By my mother it was rocked when the evening meal was laid,
And again I seem to see her as she smiled;
When the rest were all in bed, 'twas then she knelt and prayed
By the old red cradle and her child.

Chorus—
But the cradle long has gone, and the burdens that it bore,
One by one have been gathered to the fold,
But the flock is incomplete, for it numbers only four,
With a dear one now left straying in the cold,
Heaven grant again we may in each other's arms be locked,
Where no bitter tears of parting ever fall.
God forbid that one be lost that the old red cradle rocked,
For the dear old cradle rocked us all.

Braised Oxtail.

Have the butcher cut the tail into small pieces. Wash and drain, then roll in flour. Place 3 tablespoonfuls of shortening in a deep saucepan. Add the oxtails and brown well. Add 1 pint of boiling water. Cook until the meat is tender, usually about 1½ hours. Thirty minutes before serving add: Eight small potatoes, 4 large carrots, 1 cupful of lima beans, 1 onion chopped fine. Cook until the vegetables are tender, then season to taste with salt and paprika. Garnish with points of toast and finely chopped green peppers.

Note.—This braise may be baked in casserole after browning the oxtail.

RIDGETOWN TOURNEY SET FOR WEDNESDAY

RIDGETOWN, Aug. 11.—The third annual Scotch doubles tournament of the Ridgetown Bowling Club will be held on the greens on Wednesday, August 15. The management promise fifteen of the best greens in Western Ontario, all well lighted and no expense is being spared to make this the best tournament yet. There are two events, the first competition is the Hoffman cup, and in the second competition three sets of good prizes are offered. Among the umpires are A. E. Barbour, M. Hefferman, A. M. Hunt, London; W. E. Maxwell, St. Thomas, and others representing different towns.

SHAMROCKS WIN.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—Shamrocks won the second of the home-and-home series of games here Saturday when they defeated the Nationals 8 to 6. It was one of the best exhibitions of lacrosse seen in Montreal for some seasons. "Newsy" Lalonde was suffering from an injured knee, and the Nationals were without his services.

RUBE MARQUARD VICTIM OF JOKE

Rube Marquard is sore all through. He is married and therefore doesn't expect to be called to war.

Nevertheless, just to be patriotic, Rube went to a surgeon and was rejected before he had more than told his identity. "What for?" protested Rube. "Because," explained the surgeon, "we don't count left-handed pitchers as normal."

Some hours later, Rube discovered that some of the other Brooklyn players had framed it with the surgeon.

GRAND CIRCUIT OPENS ON CLEVELAND TRACK

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—The second Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall track this season opens today and continues through the week, Saturday being held in reserve in case rain causes a postponement during the five days of racing. Horsemen predict this will be the biggest and most successful meeting of the Grand Circuit schedule, with five races per day practically assured.

Originally 21 races were scheduled, but the entry list was so heavy track officials have decided to split four of the largest events, making a list of 25 races. In each of the split events the horses will race for the same amount of money that would have been hung up had the entry list been smaller and one section started.

Today's program follows:

2:09 trotting, 3 heats, $1,200; 2:07 pacing, 3 heats, $1,200; 2-year-old trotting (new sweepstakes), 2 in 3, added money; 2:17 pacing, 3 heats, $1,000.

OTTAWA WINS LACROSSE

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—In the final game of their home-and-home series, the Ottawa lacrosse team defeated that of Cornwall at Lansdowne Park Saturday afternoon by a score of 20 to 4. The rejuvenated Senators, who appear to have improved immensely under Hutton's coaching, fairly dazzled the visitors with their speed and combination. They scored seven straight goals in the first quarter, after which Hutton took some of his regulars off. Cornwall did not tally until the fourth session, when they beat out Goalkeeper Benedict four times. Tom Learmont, the Princess Pat man, was one of the Ottawa stars, scoring four goals. The Cornwall team was without several of its regulars, including Fred Degan and Somerville, while the Ottawas were stronger than at any time this season.

Anglican Tennis

ST. GEORGE'S 11, ST. MATTHEW'S 2.

At the asylum courts on Saturday St. Matthew's Tennis Club played a return tournament with St. George's Tennis Club, which resulted in a decisive win for the latter. The scores were as follows:

Margrette (St. G.) won from Henderson (St. M.), 6—1.

LEAFS' AVERAGES

The Leafs took part in nine games since last Monday's averages were published, and Larry's boys did some tall clouting. The big Frenchman still has his batting eye with him, and improved his mark by four points. Larry leads the Leafs, and is the International League's real hitting leader.

Frank Truesdale is romping along at a great clip. He collected 19 hits in the 9 games, and is second to Lajoie on the Leafs' roster. Truesdale picked up 15 points during the week, and is a very valuable asset to the club. Joe Schultz's trip across the border to take examination for the United States army did not hurt him. Joe improved his average by 6 points.

Russell Blackburn is hitting the ball with vigor and improves weekly. Eight points was his lift this time. Jacobson tacked on three, and Whiteman a like number.

Murray, the new infielder, took part in three games and only collected one hit.

The averages, including Thursday's game, are:

Player	G.	A.B.	R.	H.	Aver.	Last Wk.
Lajoie	107	411	56	155	.377	.373

Most Valuable Ball Players Are Named

Cicotte of Chicago, Cobb of Detroit and Alexander of Phillies Stand Out.

New York, Aug. 11. — Rating the members of a ball club according to their value is a tough problem for any-one to tackle, because the value of a player often fluctuates.

There have been several vivid examples of this during the present season, for a number of pastimers who were not expected to shine with particular brilliancy have come to the front.

The question of who is the most valuable ball player on a club, if applied to Detroit, would be simple. The answer is Cobb. But whether they be pitchers, catchers, infielders or outfielders, the fact remains that there are few Cobbs, or near Cobbs.

Take the five leading clubs in the two big leagues this year and apply the elimination tests to individual players. The problem is a brain twister to say the least, but it is probably a safe bet that if the matter was left to a vote by the fans, the players who would stand out brightest would probably be the following:

American League — Eddie Cicotee, Chicago; Babe Ruth, Boston; Ty Cobb, Detroit; Tris Speaker, Cleveland, and Frank Baker, New York.

National League — Ferdie Schupp, New York; Fred Toney, Cincinnati; Grover Alexander, Philadelphia ;Wal- Grover Alexander, Philadelphia ; Wal- Chicago.

The fact that a winning pitcher always stands out brighter in the limelight than any other player, if he is really a star, accounts for the naming of so many pitchers here. And the work of the aforementioned pitchers this year has been really wonderful. There are other players on each of the above-named clubs who would come in for a lot of support if the fans were given a vote.

Swede Risberg has won his way into the hearts of White Sox fans. They attribute much of the success of the Sox infield to the little short-stopper. Carl Mays, another pitcher, has been a pillar on the Boston team; Bernie Boland has helped keep the Tigers going when it seemed as if they must surely rank with the weakest of American League teams, while Wallie Pipp, Yankee frst baseman, and Jim Bagby, Indian pitcher, are bright stars.

In the National League Eddie Roush, Heinie Zimmerman, Eppe Rixey, Pep Hornsby and Fred Merkle have proven of great value to their respective clubs. Roush has been a bright star with the Reds; Zimmerman is bidding for rank as the greatest of first baseman; Rixey's work on the mound, with that of the Great Alex, helped keep the Phillies fighting until mid-season, while Hornsby has become an idol in St. Louis.

It is not the idea here to name the most valuable players by any means. But the players mentioned are those who have stood out prominently in the winning drives made by their clubs. And the player who succeeds in keeping his name before the public is the one who takes the cake with the bugs. Furthermore, he has to be good in order to keep his moniker under the limelight.

CURRENT COMMENT On Live Happenings of the SPORT WORLD

ACCORDING TO RUMORS Trainer Eddie Whyte of Sir John S. Hendrie's stable, has received a big offer to train for an American stable. He will likely accept the offer.

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY RINKS have entered for the Dominion lawn bowling tourney which comences at Toronto today. This is a record for any tournament ever held in America.

GROVER ALEXANDER, STAR PITCHER of the Phillies, is not showing anything like the form that he displayed last year. In 1916 he broke the pitching record for one season set by Johnson, Wadell and other great flingers. Last Thursday he was pounded off the rubber by the Pirates.

GEORGE GOULDING AND GEORGE BONHAG are matched to walk for the International Championship at the Canadian National Exhibition on Sports Day, Saturday, September 8th. Ernie Webb and Don Linden, together with an American judge yet to be elected, will likely referee.

FRANCIS OUIMET, CHAMPION GOLFER, has been passed by the medical board for the United States army. He will claim exemption on the ground that he would be of more use to his country playing exhibition games for the Red Cross than going to the front.

EEL DIRECT ADDED ANOTHER to her string when she took the 2:13 pace at Dexter Park on Friday. Eel Direct bettered her own time.

THE WHITE SOX SUFFERED serious loss the other day when Buck Weaver, their star third base man, broke his finger in the game at Washington. At this critical time of the series the Sox are certain to miss Weaver very much.

UMPIRES WOULD NOT BE DRAFTED if fans, players and managers were on the tribunals. They would exempt the "umps" on the ground that they have poor eyesight.

NOT EVERYTHING IS HIGHER on account of the war. When Comiskey bought Joe Jackson and Eddie Collins they were batting about .350. At the present time they are pounding along near the .270 mark.

BENNY LEONARD'S WIN from Johnny Kilbane pleased many people, but no one was happier than Abe Attell, from whom Kilbane took the featherweight crown.

DISBROW, CLARKE AND FRED HORNEY will drive at Detroit during the Michigan State Fair. With a trio like this on the track there should be some speedy driving exhibited.

THE WEEKLY BATTING AVERAGES give Ty Cobb a lead of 35 points over Tris Speaker. Ray Chapman of Cleveland and Cobb are tied for stolen bases. Each has 36 to his credit.

THE LATEST REPORTS GIVE Wahoo Sam Crawford a record of .177. This is rather a steep drop for a man whose average for years was over .300.

WALTER JOHNSON IS STILL the strike-out king of his league. He has whiffed out 124 batters this year. Leonard has fanned 105, Ruth 99, Cicotte 98 and Stanley Coveleskie 90.

DETROIT IS THE BEST offensive team in the country. The Tigers have scored 439 runs, made 902 hits, stolen 117 bases and dumped or lifted 143 sacrifice hits.

ALL IN READINESS FOR ASYLUM TOURNAMENT

All is in readiness for the big bowling tourney at the asylum greens, which commences at 9 a.m. on Tuesday morning. The first and second highest rinks will play off for the Robinson trophy, while the third and forth rinks will play off for third and fourth prizes. The fifth highest rink will take the fifth prize. The finals will be games of fifteen ends. The Robinson trophy, donated by Dr. Robinson of the asylum, is open for competition after the play on Tuesday. Any rink which is playing Tuesday may challenge the winners for a match, which will be played immediately. The asylum greens are in fine shape, and some fine sport is expected.

SAM HORN SKIPS R. CLUB WINNER

Sam Horn skipped the winning rink at the London Rowing Club's Saturday afternoon tourney. Eighteen rinks were in the play, and Skip Horn's crew defeated them with a score of won 3, plus 20. J. W. Griffith was a close second, winning 3 plus 19. The Rowing Club's green is popular with the city ball rollers, and a good turnout is always the order of things.

ONE ON THE "UMPS"

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—During one of the recent games between the Yankees and Indians at Cleveland, Ray Chapman "put one over" on Umpire Connolly, and it must rank as entirely novel in baseball. Chapman reached first on a pass and went to second when Speaker bunted safely. Then he asked Connolly to call time. Tommy obliged, thinking the player had been injured. Chapman then ran back to first base and held a conference with Speaker. Connolly was so dumfounded at this strange performance that he made no attempt to chase Chapman back, though the rules do not allow a player to hold up a game in this way. After the game Connolly admitted that he had been the victim of an unfair request, and said he would not have permitted it had he known why Chapman asked for time. It was a new one on Bill Donovan after he had spent more than twenty years in the game.

LAUR'S RINK WINS AT THISTLE CLUB

Ten rinks bowled on Saturday at the Thistle Club's usual Saturday tourney. Charlie Laur's rink won out with a score of won 3, plus 31, although J. C. McDonald's rink also won all their games, but with a small plus score. The usual Monday evening tourney will be put on tonight and a good turnout is expected, as the greens are now in fine shape.

KAUFMAN TEAMS WIN

KITCHENER, Aug. 11.—The two rubber shop teams won their games today in their race for the championship of the City Baseball League, the Kaufmans whitewashing their opponents in a close game, 1 to 0.

The scores: R.H.E.
Buffalo Forge 0 4 0
Kaufman Rubber 1 5 2
Batteries—Augerman and Mahn, Norvay and Dunbrook.

Dominion Rubber 7 14 1
Union Jacks 2 4 6
Batteries — Coleman and Manski, Schwartwaelder and Seibel.
Umpire—Dr. Lounsbury.

OTTAWA SWEPT REGATTA PRIZES

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—The annual regatta of the northern division, Canadian Canoe Association, took place on the Ottawa River Saturday, resulting in a sweep for the Ottawa-New Edinburg crews. They won six out of eight events, including both war canoe races, senior singles, senior tandems and fours. Ernie Dunn, who holds the C. A. A. championship, again captured the senior singles. In both war canoe races, Britannias finished second, and the Rideaus third. No records were made.

The eight-oared race, supplemented for exhibition purposes, was spoiled when the Gatineau Point ferry ran down Billy Harrison's Ottawa Rowing Club crew. The steamer cut a hole in the sectional eight, and thery Percy Robarts, the bow oar, into the water, injuring him slightly. Passing boats rescued the oarsmen without further mishaps.

BARROW'S TEAMS PREPARE FOR DRIVE

The sixteen-player limit in the International League expires on Wednesday, and the Toronto, Newark, Providence and Baltimore teams are planning a hot drive through the remainder of the schedule. The second-division teams are so for behind those in the first flight that there is little likelihood of their regaining lost ground.

After Wednesday next it will be possible for the Barrow league teams to carry as many as twenty-two players. Lajoie has been angling for a couple of pitchers for some time, and his efforts promise to bear fruit at once. The surprisingly good form shown by Al. Leake of late has made a big difference to the Leafs. Given a little good pitching, they will thump out enough runs to win a very large percentage of their games. Newark will use Bruno Haas again, and Jack Dunn has several irons in the fire. Haas has been under suspension. Providence has been promised help from the Boston Red Sox.

SAM McVEY WINS.

PANAMA, Aug. 12.—Sam McVey and Jim Johnson, negro heavyweight pugilists, fought 20 rounds here today, McVey winning the decision. The contest was one-sided, Johnson being on the defensive throughout.

LAJOIE REFUSES OFFERS BY MAJOR LEAGUES

Two National and One American League Club Want Him.

Toronto, Aug. 13. — Will Manager Larry Lajoie of the Leafs be drafted? That's what's been troubling the local ball club for some time. Larry has received three offers to go to the major leagues and play first base, two of them being from St. Louis and Boston in the National League, and the other from the New York Americans.

To all these offers Larry has turned a deaf ear. The Toronto manager's reasons are that when he was with Cleveland he wasn't his own boss. With Toronto it is different. He has complete charge of the players as is shown in the Smith and Graham cases, and while he has a good ball team, Larry says he will have a better one next year. Therefore the only way Larry will be enticed away from the Leafs is to be drafted, like Joe Kelley was by the Braves.

ARMIES LOCKED IN A[N] INTENSE STRUGGLE I[N] RUMANIAN CAMPAIG[N]

Russ-Rumanians Repulse the Teutons and Counter-Attack.

CAPTURE 1,200 PRISONERS

Take Offensive in Southeastern Moldavia, and Smash Enemy.

SHIFT OF COMMANDERS.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 12.—Gen. Balodeff, commanding the southwestern front, has been appointed to the command of the Russian armies on the western (Russian) front. Gen. Dinikine, at present commanding the troops on the western front, has been transferred to the command of the southwest front.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 12.—Desperate engagements are being fought by the Russo-Rumanian forces and Austro-German armies all along the Rumanian front. In the centre of this front, according to today's Russian official statement, the Russians and Rumanians yesterday repulsed strong Teuton attacks along the Fokshani-Marasechti railroad, then counter-atttacked and captured 1,200 Germans, only to retire later in the evening.

In Southeastern Moldavia the Russians took the offensive, smashed the Teuton lines and captured a number of prisoners and four guns. In Western Moldavia the Austro-Germans after battles of great intensity forced the Rumanians to retire to Ocna.

The text of the Russian statement follows:

"Rumanian front: In the region of the Upper Dobra River and north of the Doftena River, fighting continues with variable successes, west of the Ocna-Grozesni line, during the whole of yesterday, battles of great intensity took place. The Austro-Germans launched stubborn attacks, chiefly in the direction of Ocna. Towards evening the Rumanians were forced to retire to Ocna along the Moshoreli road and to the west of Grozesni.

"In the direction of Fokshani, the Austro-Germans yesterday launched stubborn attacks along the Fokshani-Marasechti railroad line. Our troops and the Rumanian troops, in spite of the considerable superiority of enemy forces, stubbornly defended their positions and made counter-attacks, during which about 1,200 German prisoners were captured. Towards evening, under strong pressure of enemy forces, our troops and the Rumanians retired to the villages of Marasechti and Furtzeni.

"In the region of the mouth of the River Buzou, our troops, having assumed the offensive, captured, as the result of their rapid onslaught, part of the enemy positions, taking a number of prisoners, four cannon and eight machine guns."

TEUTONS TAKE MANY PRISONERS.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—Via London.—Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces in the fighting in Central Rumania yesterday took more than 6,700 Russian and Rumanian prisoners, and captured eighteen cannon and 61 machine guns. The German general staff reports that the Austro-Germans did not lose a foot of ground.

The statement reads:

"Eastern theatre: Army group of Archduke Joseph: Austro-Hungarian divisions captured the dominating height positions and the village of Grozesni. The enemy brought into battle fresh forces against our troops, which are advancing in the Oituz valley, and bled themselves to death in oft-repeated bitter counter-attacks without success.

Yields Not a Foot.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The battles north of Fokshani continue. Between the River Sereth and the railway line to Ajudulnou, the Russians and Rumanians yesterday again attacked our lines with strong forces. We did not lose a foot of ground. Over 130 officers and more than 6,650 men were taken prisoners, and 18 cannon and 61 machine guns were captured.

"From the Sereth to the Danube the artillery activity increased considerably. A Russian attack at the mouth of the Buzou was repulsed.

"Macedonian front: The situation is unchanged."

DUTCH PAPER SUSPENDED FOR SLAMMING GERMANY

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12. — The Endhoven Dagblad has been suspended for a week by the general commanding the Dutch province of North Brabant for publishing on July 30 an anti-German article about the sinking of Dutch fishing vessels. The general in a letter says:

"In view of the strict neutrality of Holland I consider it unpermissible to apply to one of the belligerents such an epithet as was used."

BARNES, LABORITE, TAKES HENDERSON'S PLACE IN CABINET

Labor Ministers Resent the Latter's Attitude.

STATEMENT OF PREMIER

Scores Henderson for Withholding Russian Statement From Meeting.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—George Nicoll Barnes, minister of pensions, who has attended the meetings of the war cabinet since Arthur Henderson started on his mission to Russia, probably will succeed Mr. Henderson as Labor representative in the war cabinet.

The press agencies say that the other Labor ministers in the Government unanimously opposed Mr. Henderson's course, and that Labor's support of the Government is not likely to be affected by his resignation.

Premier Lloyd George, in a letter accepting Mr. Henderson's resignation, said the members of the British cabinet were taken completely by surprise by his attitude at the Labor conference.

The cabinet ministers, the premier said, were completely opposed to the Stockholm meeting, and Mr. Henderson should have informed them of his change in views. The delegates to the Labor conference, he added, were justified in assuming that Mr. Henderson's advice represented the Government view.

Kept Conference in Dark.

Premier Lloyd George also blamed Mr. Henderson for omitting to read the message from Premier Kerensky of Russia, thus leaving the convention without an important vital fact which must have affected its judgment.

W. A. Appleton, secretary of the Federation of Trades Unions, issued a statement Saturday criticizing Mr. Henderson's attitude.

"By insisting upon attendance at the Stockholm conference," says the statement, "Mr. Henderson destroyed the unity of the Allied democracy, jeopardized the unity of the British movement, and affronted the colonial and American movements. He has given his enemies the chance for which they were always seeking during the three years of the war, and has placed the Government of which he is a member in a very equivocal position. One wonders why."

A large number of workmen in the Bristol Channel shipyards have issued a manifesto declaring their unions acted without their knowledge in deciding on representation at Stockholm.

A Moral Surrender.

The Sunday Observer says that the action at the labor conference on Friday of Arthur Henderson, the resigned minister without portfolio in the British cabinet, confronts the Government with a crisis on the solution of which will depend the winning or the losing of the war. "Mr. Henderson," the newspaper says, "has raised the flag of moral surrender."

The Observer then proceeds to analyze the situation in Russia and says: "The council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates has not a shadow of right to speak for Russia. Neither Mr. Henderson nor the Independent Labor Party has the right to speak for Great Britain. If the attempt to arrogate such right goes further there must be an instant repudiation.

CONSCRIPTION WILL BE ENFORCED, SAYS MILITIA DEPT. CHIEF

To Be Put Into Action At Once —To Train In Canada.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Aug. 12.—"The conscription bill will be put into force right away."

This was the emphatic announcement of Sir Edward Kemp, minister of militia, at Camp Borden yesterday. He added that he did not think the Senate amendments would cause much delay.

Sir Edward was visiting Camp Borden for the first time this season, and a story given out by a Conservative party press agent who accompanied him contains this paragraph:

"With the prospect of a large body of troops shortly to be mobilized in Canada for training, and the need to relieve ocean transport by conducting that training as far as possible in Canada, the question of training facilities becomes important. Camp Borden is the central training ground for Ontario, and having regard to its situation, extent and equipment, it has come to be regarded as the principal training ground for the whole dominion."

MORE LURID TALK

Montreal, Aug. 12.—Paul Laforune, one of the young "fire-eating" anti-conscriptionists of the nightly open-air meetings, at a small gathering on the Champs de Mars tonight, referred to the attempted destruction by dynamite of Lord Atholstan's summer residence at Cartierville while Lord Atholstan and his family were asleep in the house. He said:

"The affair at Cartierville shows that we are not cowards. What was done at Cartierville was well done, and I am not afraid to say so."

Fernand Villeneuve, the 18-year-old advocate of killing any persons who would attempt to put conscription into face, declared tonight that if the governor-general signed the bill the people would do what their forefathers in 1837 had done, and the affair at Cartierville would be only a "peanut to what would come."

23 PERSONS KILLED, 50 INJURED IN AIR RAID UPON ENGLAND

Twenty German Airplanes Bomb Essex and Kent.

SOUTHEND IS DAMAGED

Most of the Victims Women and Children, As In the Former Raids.

London, Aug. 12.—Twenty-three persons, including nine women and six children, were killed and fifty persons were injured at Southend, in Essex, 40 miles east of London, by bombs dropped by German raiders today, says an official statement issued tonight.

Considerable damage to property was caused at Southend by the nearly forty bombs dropped upon the town. Two men were injured at Rochford, but four bombs dropped on Margate in Kent did little damage. The latest statement follows:

"Enemy raiders caused considerable damage at Southend, where they dropped about forty bombs. The casualties thus for reported are:

"Killed, eight men, nine women, six children. About fifty persons were injured.

"At Rochford, two men were injured, but no damage is reported. At Margate four bombs were dropped. One uninhabited house was demolished, but there were no casualties."

And earlier bulletin said:

"About twenty German airplanes raided the southeast coast of England this evening. British aviators pursued the raiders out to sea."

London, Aug. 12.—Unofficial telegrams received from Southend shortly before midnight say the deaths there now are known to have been mostly those of women and children. The enemy airplanes were over the town about ten minutes, firing aerial torpedoes as well as dropping bombs. Seventeen houses along one street were damaged without a single casualty.

MAKING SUPERMEN OF BRITISH YOUTH IS ENGLAND'S TASK AS WAR PROGRESSES

"Use Your Eye and Brain," New Motto—Bayonet, Bullet, Bomb, Best Weapons.

A Place in England, Aug. 1.—By Mail.—British military authorities are convinced that the day of the superman has arrived, and that the part he is to play in ending the war and regenerating the world cannot be overestimated.

A representative of the Associated Press, who was permitted to visit a great training school as the guest of the foreign office, obtained an insight to the remarkable change brought about in the British viewpoint during the past three years.

Developing Youth.

The British not only are putting forth all their energy in further perfecting their fighting forces, but are actually and earnestly devoting themselves to the development of their youth in a manner calculated to fit them for any and all eventualities which may arise in the years to come. If the Germans cherished the idea of eliminating Britain, as a world power, Britain, it is said, far from being beaten, now sees with a clearer vision than ever before and is preparing to turn the scales against her adversary in such a way as they may never again swing back.

Learning Self Mastery.

While statesmen are being made or unmade with the changing fortunes of war, the great silent forces of a nation proud of its traditions and thoroughly aroused to its own shortcomings, are constantly marching, in an almost endless chain, from training schools to battlefronts and back again. Stretched over many miles of rolling hills, carpeted with green foliage, is the school wherein hundreds of thousands of British youths are being taught to master themselves, as one of their instructors expressed it, "so that they be better prepared to master their enemy and live their lives as they would live them."

The New Motto.

"Use your eye and your brain," is the new British watchword which is being instilled into the British youth with all the force at the command of his superiors.

"We are training our men to believe in themselves," said the general commanding the school. "Each must not only feel that he is better equipped physically and mentally than his antagonist, but he must be able to demonstrate it. That is the lesson we have learned from the world war."

As the average Britisher is naturally a sportsman, his games are being made to play an important part in his training. In shooting, bombing and all the various arts of warfare these are proving invaluable to him.

Athletes Good Soldiers.

"I have been very much impressed with the fact that most men who are prominent in our games distinguish themselves at the front," declared the general. "They are keen, thoughtful and clear-sighted, and for that reason become the best fighters."

Unlike the armies of other belligerents, the British are discarding what are termed weapons of frightfulness, and instructing their young manhood in the use of what they are pleased to call the "Three B's"—the bullet, the bayonet and the bomb.

Rifle and Bayonet.

"Experience has shown us that the rifle and the bayonet are the best defence weapons with which to arm a man," asserted one officer. "If he has the proper physical and mental training, and knows how to handle his rifle and his bayonet, he is certainly the match, if not the superior, of his adversary."

With a single eye to their task, the British have established elaborate systems of trenches wherein the young men are taught every conceivable method of present-day warfare. Young officers and others recommended for promotion are regularly brought back from the front for intensive training of from ten to twenty days, so that they may return to the front and instruct their respective units. In this way, the British argue, their men never become "stale," and are ever fit and ready for any emergency.

Message to United States.

The message the British would impart to their American allies was summarized as follows:

Train your young men to be physically and mentally strong; train them to think for themselves—make them supermen, in the modern sense—and the world will be made safe for democracy."

RADICAL LENINE STILL IN PETROGRAD, IS REPORT

PETROGRAD, Aug. 12.—Despite the reports that Nikolai Lenine had escaped from the country, the Maximalists in convention here are alleged to have made the open declaration that the Russian Radical Socialist leader still is in hiding in Petrograd and in daily communication with his followers.

In view of this declaration, says the Bourse Gazette, the Petrograd authorities charged with an investigation of the recent rioting in the capital have begun proceedings to force disclosure of his whereabouts. The Maximalists elected Lenine honorary-chairman of the convention.

CANADIANS PROJECT SEA OF POISON GAS INTO ENEMY LINES

Cleaning Out Cellars and Dugouts at St. Laurent.

EFFECT REPORTED DEADLY

Prisoner Relates Death of Ninety Men in His Battalion.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, Aug. 12.—(By Stuart Lyon, special correspondent of the Canadian Press).—Gas was again projected successfully early this (Sunday) morning into the enemy positions in the northern part of St. Laurent, where many dugouts and occupied cellars were known to be. A prisoner, who was captured on this part of the front, says that the recent gas attack resulted in over 90 casualties to the men of his battalion alone. The German mask does not seem to be a very effective protection. Chemists of Germany are constantly experimenting in new and more deadly forms of gas.

The war of airplanes continues on an increasing scale. The number of machines engaged in night raiding is growing, and aviators are using machine guns freely. In a raid into Belgium by airmen on this front 27 machines took part. The Germans used 36 machines in a raid undertaken on the same day.

More Searchlights Used.

The result of all this is a great increase in the use of searchlights and anti-aircraft guns of various sorts. An uncanny effect is produced by the searchlights turned upon every bit of cloud that comes sweeping over at a low altitude, and that may provide concealment for "the terror that flies by night."

To their other activities, our aviators add the pursuit of motor lorry convoys in enemy territory. On Friday an airman, by firing on a group of lorries, caused the leading lorry to swerve and crash into a tree. The artillery and trench mortars, our own and the enemy's were very active all along the line today.

Try to Deceive Camera.

Recent raids into the enemy's territory prove that on this sector the Germans have adopted generally new methods of holding their lines to those I observed at the opening of the battle of Flanders. Whenever heavy artillery fire is directed on a trench with the object of destroying it, the enemy vacate their dugouts, leave their trenches and take shelter in the shell holes behind their former front. These shell holes are covered with the wire netting into which tufts of fresh grass and weeds are worked and woven at night with the object of deceiving the camera the next day when our aerial photographers go over to check up the work of the guns.

Better Weather for Gunners.

A marked improvement in the weather has enabled the artillery to resume the work of the smashing of enemy defences.

Recently captured prisoners and documents emphasize the growing scarcity of enemy material. A general notice printed daily in the orders of the Ypres group of armies states that all ammunition "empties" and cartridge cases, slings and fuse covers must be returned at once from battery positions, and that anyone careless in this respect is guilty of severe neglect of duty. Even a few months ago great piles of empties were found in the captured positions.

RUSSIA DENOUNCES GERMAN INHUMANITY TO WAR PRISONERS

Central Committee Issues a Statement Revealing Nasty Facts.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 12.—The central committee which is dealing with the affairs of war prisoners issued a statement today "in high protest against the refined barbarity which Germany is displaying towards Russian prisoners."

The statement says that Germany is not fulfilling her promises regarding the internment in neutral countries of sick prisoners; that she is illegally retaining military prisoners unfit for service, and that she is placing restrictions on the men communicating with their homes, and intercepting letters asking assistance from the Red Cross. It also says that the rations of the prisoners have been reduced to unheard-of proportions, and that they include adulterated products injurious to the men. In addition, prisoners are compelled to undertake superhuman labor.

It is asserted in the statement that Germany abstains from replying to proposals for the exchange of civilian prisoners and hostages, for the alleviation of the lot of war prisoners on the basis of reciprocity or for the exchange of tuberculous prisoners, or for the sending of sisters of charity to nurse them.

WOMEN HELPING IN HARVESTING CROPS OF BUMPER VARIETY

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 12.—Farmers of Elgin County have commenced to thresh their wheat. John Pressery of Yarmouth threshed on Saturday and secured an average yield of 30 bushels per acre.

The weather is ideal for getting in the crops, and the farmers are working from sunrise to sunset. Many of the women-folk of the farmers are rendering considerable assistance in the harvest.

EXPECTING RELICTS FROM MYSTERY SHIP SUNK 53 YEARS AGO

Port Huron Marine Clerk Will Have Unique Souvenirs.

SARNIA, Aug. 12.—W. D. Beneway, marine clerk of the customs office at Port Huron, expects daily to receive relics of the ill-fated schooner Pewaubick, the "mystery ship" of the Great Lakes, which foundered off Alpena harbor, 53 years ago, carrying to their death all on board, and over half a million dollars' worth of copper sank with the ship. It is said that eighteen men have been drowned in an attempt to salvage the cargo, and bring the fortune to the surface, the wreck lying in 180 feet of water. An Ohio engineer, backed by a stock company, recently perfected a device with which he descended to the ship and brought up parts of the contents, including a woman's trunk, containing silks and dresses. Human bones and other trinkets were also found.

The great water pressure has been the insurmountable obstacle which confronted the hunters.

INTER-BOARD AUTO PARTY.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 12.—The members of the East Elgin board of agriculture have arranged an automobile excursion to the board of West Elgin on Thursday, August 23. The party will have luncheon at old Port Talbot.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

THE LOCAL MARKET

With the exception of dairy produce a general decline of the most seasonable products featured the market on Saturday.

Considerable fluctuation in the value of potatoes has been shown for the last five market days, causing much speculation as to whether a permanent decline or advance will take place. Local growers state that a drop is looked for as soon as the home-grown spuds are offered in larger abundance.

Following the slight advance of tubers on Saturday to $1.75 per bushel the comparatively poor demand caused a small reaction and the value of the potatoes declined to $1.50 and $1.65 per bushel.

Present indications are that Saturday's advance in eggs will remain for some time. The retail price of 44c to 45c per dozen is out of all proportion with the time of the season, but the meatless-day project and the high cost of meat doubtless had a marked effect upon prices.

String beans dropped today to 5c and 6c per quart, the offering being exceptionally large, and the demand poor.

Hay is slow at $8 to $10 per ton, and will likely be so the remainder of the month, because the surplus fodder which could not be stored is now sold.

Straw declined from $9.50 and $10 per ton to $9 straight.

This week will mark the conclusion of the raspberry, cherry and currant seasons. Raspberries this year have been a great disappointment to local housewives, the lowest offering throughout the season being 17c per box.

Live stock and butchers' meats are stationary, the demand is fairly slow, however, and is expected to become still slower with the inauguration of beefless days.

Oats sell briskly from $2.30 to $2.35 per cwt. But the offering is small at present.

Wheat made its first seasonable appearance on Saturday, selling at $2.15 per bushel. A big offering of wheat is expected next week.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Anouncement in general terms of the Government plans to rule the wheat and flour business of the country, made no important difference in the wheat market today. Prices showed a slightly increased tendency to ease off, but a downward slant of late has been the plain course of prices. For a long time, too, the amount of trading done has been hardly more than enough to establish quotations. This morning business, if possible, was even more limited in volume, and the pit was virtually deserted.

After opening 1c lower, at $2 14 for September, the market recovered to $2 15. No other option but September was dealt in to any extent whatever.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—Receipts at the stockyards today were 4.525 cattle, 277 calves, 1,238 hogs and 1,937 sheep. Large receipts affected the trading, which was rather slow at the start, and prices were lower.

Hogs—Fed and watered, per cwt, $17 25.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The receipts at the west end cattle market for the week have been 1,700 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 2,600 hogs and 700 calves. This morning the receipts were heavy, amounting to 1,350 cattle, 1,500 sheep and lambs, 1,400 hogs and 500 calves. The market was weak and a general decline of 50c per 100 lbs ensued. Trading was slow in some lines, and a number of sheep and hogs were left on the market. There was a better demand for cattle, but on the whole the market seemed rather dull. There was a sharp break in the price of sheep, and the best fetched from 12c to 13c per lb. We quote prices per 100 lbs as follows:

Choice steers, $9 75@10 25; good, $9@9 50; medium, $7 25@8; choice butcher cows, $7 50@7 75; medium, $6@6 50; choice butcher bulls, $8 50@9; good, $8; medium, $5 50@6 50; canners' cattle, $5@5 50.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 13—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Tobaccos, motors, shippings and a few of the equipments were appreciably higher at the active opening of today's market, some of the first-named issued establishing new records. Great Northern and Northern Pacific led the rails at gains of a point each, with half a point for Union Pacific. The more prominent industrials, including steels, were irregular, but developed general firmness later. Copper and kindred shares showed no material change.

Noon.—Aside from slight additional gains in the motors and specialties, no chances of more than fractional limits occurred among the leaders during the balance of the forenoon, trading gradually falling to slender proportions. New Haven and Pittsburg Coal were inclined to heaviness, and other minor rails met with steady pressure. Dealings were further restricted by the uncertain monef market, last Saturday's bank statement showing a very large contraction of reserves. Liberty bonds were firmer, at 99.68 to 99.82.

1:30 p.m.—Industrials made further advances in the dull afternoon, motors again leading. Steels also improved, notably American Steel Foundries and Harvester, while sugars featured the specialties.

HIGHER PRICES GENERAL FOR ALL DAIRY PRODUCTS

District Markets Reveal Upward Lift to Butter and Eggs.

Sarnia, Aug. 11.—The Saturday market in this city was one of the most extensive since its inception, and for once the supply was nearly equal to the demand. There was no startling change in quotations, prices being practically on a par with last week's lists. New wheat sold at $2.30 per bushel, while old wheat brought $2.35. Oats remained firm at 75c, and barley at $1. Bran and shorts were listed at $32 and $45 per ton respectively. Hay ranged from $10 to $12. Flour wholesaled at $12.70 and $13.20, and retailed at $13.70 and $14.20. Dairy products showed a slight increase, butter selling at 40c, and eggs at 45c. Chickens brought 25c per pound. Pork, dressed, sold at 20c. Dressed beef, 15c to 18c, and live hogs, $16. Vegetables were offered in abundance, and sales of these products were brisk. Washed wool was quoted at 62c to 67c, and unwashed, 52c to 57c.

ST. MARYS QUOTATIONS.

St. Marys, Aug. 11.—The Saturday market quotations were as follows: Wheat, standard, $2.25; oats, 70c; barley, $1; peas, $3; flour, per cwt., $6.25 to $7; bran, per ton, $32; shorts, per ton, $42; honey, in 10-pound can lots, 12c to 13c per pound; dairy butter, per pound, 32c; eggs, per dozen, 35c; new potatoes, per peck, 40c to 50c; raspberries, per box, 17c to 18c; wool, unwashed, per pound, 60c; do., washed, per pound, 70c; hides, per pound, 16c to 17c; hay, per ton, $8 to $10; live hogs advanced to $16 per cwt.

LIVE HOGS ADVANCE.

Chatham, Aug. 11.—An advance in the price of hogs has been recorded locally, local buyers now offering $16 a cwt. for porkers.

RECORD WOODSTOCK MARKET.

Woodstock, Aug. 11.—Today's market was a record one in point of vegetable offerings from farms and gardens in the immediate vicinity of the city. Potatoes, although plentiful, remained at last week's price of 50c a peck. Cabbages and cauliflower sold for 5c, 10c and 15c each. Other vegetables offered included peas, beans, carrots, beets, onions, radish, celery, etc. Fruit was not nearly equal in quantity to the demand. Butter ruled at 42c a pound, and some vendors asked as much as 45c. Eggs were 40c a dozen. Dressed fowl could be had at prices ranging from 30c to $1.50 each. Ducks sold for about $1 each in most cases. Trade in butcher meats was more brisk. Ruling prices were: Beef, 16c to 30c; veal, 18c to 30c; lamb and fresh pork, 28c to 30c; bacon, 40c. Hay declined to $10 and $11 a ton.

$13 FOR NEW HAY.

Kitchener, Aug. 11.—The market today was featured by the ample supply of vegetables and raspberries, although the latter was soon disposed of, 18c being the average price.

Vegetables offered included cabbage, lettuce, beets and others. New potatoes sold at 25c to 60c a basket, according to the size. Chickens brought 35c a pound. Forty cents was generally paid for butter, although 38c was paid for some. Eggs sold at 42c. Thirteen dollars a ton was asked for new hay.

EGGS SHOW ADVANCE.

Ingersoll, Aug. 11.—The continued fine weather did not tend to increase the attendance at the market Saturday. Practically all of the farmers of the surrounding districts were busily engaged in their wheat fields and the representation at the market was very small. Without exception, women attended. The price of eggs showed a slight advance, 38c being the ruling figure, with 40c asked. Butter was firm at 45c, and the few pairs of chickens offered sold at 25c a pound. There were a few boxes of raspberries which sold at 17c a box.

SMALL FRUITS FEATURED.

Stratford, Aug. 11.—The offering of small fruits again featured the weekly market today. By the box raspberries sold at 20c, while a five-quart pail brought from $1 to $1.20. Black currants sold at 18c to 20c a quart.

Prices of butter and eggs were slightly higher today. Butter was generally quoted at 40c. While this top was reached a week ago, there was a low price of 38c. Eggs were 39c to 40c, as against 38c to 40c last week.

New potatoes are coming in quite freely and there will be more of them as time goes on. Today the price was down to 50c and 55c a peck, as against 60c and 70c last week.

In the market gardeners' section, business was reported as very brisk. There were some fine tomatoes on hand at 20c a pound.

An increase of 25c was reported in the price of live hogs today, quotations being $16 to $16.15.

New hay is selling now at $6 to $8, as against $8 to $9 a week ago.

Embro, Aug. 11.—Eggs are up to 37c a dozen trade, 36c a dozen cash; creamery butter, 42c lb.; dairy butter, 38c lb. and scarce; factory cheese, 30c lb.; tomatoes, 12½c lb.; black currants, $2 a large basket; new potatoes, 65c peck; flour, $6.50 cwt.; oats, $2.55 cwt.; bran, $1.75; red and white currants, 8c basket; gooseberries, 8c basket; red raspberries, $1.50 for 8-quart pail; onions, 5c bunch.

MOTORS WRECKED BUT OCCUPANTS ARE UNINJURED

Smash Near Cedar Springs Brings Lucky Escape.

CHATHAM, Aug. 12.—Traveling at a moderate rate of speed, two automobiles, driven in opposite directions by George Marshall, a returned soldier of this city, and Casmir Dillon of Merlin, collided near Cedar Springs, late Friday night. The occupants of the two cars escaped unhurt, though both cars were badly wrecked. It is said that the accident was caused as a result of one of the cars traveling without any headlights.

LIQUOR RAID CONDUCTED.

CHATHAM, Aug. 11.—Albert Van Dusen, colored, appeared in the city police court Saturday on a charge of having a quantity of liquor on his premises, Market street, an unauthorized place. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded by Magistrate Arnold until Monday next. The premises, which have been under surveillance for some time, was the scene of a raid by License Inspector T. M. French with the local police, resulting in a case of whisky being found.

FINISH ROAD INSPECTION.

CHATHAM, Aug. 12.—Warden Miller, with Engineer Huber of the provincial highways department, have completed a tour of the county roads, preparatory to recommendations being made for the general repair of the roads by the county council this year. To carry on this work, the council will appoint a road inspector at a special meeting, which will be held on the 16th of September.

PICKPOCKET LIFTS $200 WALLET FROM BUTTER BUYER AT GALT

GALT, Aug. 12.—Pickpockets operated on the Galt market Saturday. Geo. Coleman, a New Dundee butter man, being "touched" for his pocketbook, which he carried in his hip-pocket and which contained in the neighborhood of $200. Mr. Coleman did not miss the money until he went to make some change, but a woman reported that she saw two men in the aisle between the tables, which is for salespeople only. She gave a description of the pair to Chief Gorman, who is working on the case.

NO SLACKENING IN CASH GRAIN DEMAND

Winnipeg Prices for Wheat One Cent Better.

DULL TRADE SATURDAY

Small Business Done, But Future Prices Firm Up at Close.

Winnipeg, Aug. 11.—Trade was dull today, and narrow. There was no slackening in the demand for cash wheat and oats, and prices were 1c better for some grades of wheat. Offerings continued light. Prices were rather easier in the trading for future delivery, but firmed up at the close. The volume of business done was small.

Cash wheat closed at $2.40 for No. 1 and No. 2 northern, and from 1c to 2c higher for some of the lower grades. October oats closed 66c, ¾c lower; December at 2⅞c, unchanged. October flax was $3.35½, ½c lower; November, $3.28, 3c off; December, $3.29, unchanged.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 do., $2.40; No. 3 do., $2.37; No. 4, $2.29; No. 5, $2.10; No. 6, $1.85; feed, $1.72; No. 4 special, $2.29; No. 5 special, $2.10; No. 6 special, $1.85.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 69c; No. 3 C. W., 68c; extra No. 1 feed, 68c; No. 1 feed, 65c; No. 2 feed, 63c; do., on track, 67⅜c.

Barley—No. 3 C. W., $1.24; No. 4 C. W., $1.20; rejected, $1.13; feed, $1.13.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.34½; No. 2 C. W., $3.27½; No. 3 C. W., $3.16½; do., on track, $3.32½.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.55@2.60, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.37.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 80c.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—There were no new developments in the local grain market today, business in all lines being quiet and prices about steady.

Stocks: Wheat, 2,085,924 bushels; corn, 32,527; oats, 3,755,883; barley, 225,617; rye, 53,975.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2.35@2.40.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 83@84c; Canadian western, No. 3, 82@83c; extra No. 1 feed, 81@82c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.26.

FLOUR.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $12.90; second patents, $12.40; strong bakers, $12; Ontario winter, 90 per cent patents, $11.20, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $36 per ton; shorts, $45 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—Trade in flour was quiet, but the undertone to the market was firm, owing to the somewhat scarcity of good milling and the high prices demanded for the same. The condition of the market for millfeed was unchanged, prices being strong, with a continued good inquiry from all sources for supplies and light offerings.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $13; seconds, $12.50; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $13; straight rollers, $12.40@12.55; do., bags, $6@6.15.

Rolled Oats—Barrels, $9@9.25; do., bags, $4.40@4.50.

MAN WHO BUILT TECUMSEH HOUSE DIED AT HEPWORTH

William Driffl, aged 79, for 21 years a resident of this city, and the contractor who built the Tecumseh House, died at Hepworth on August 5. After leaving London he went farming in Blanshard Township, near St. Marys. There he lived until 43 years ago, when he moved to Hepworth, which at that time was a dense forest, with only a blazed trail on which to travel. All supplies had to be hauled from Owen Sound. He opened a store, and was postmaster of Hepworth for years. His wife died 30 years ago. The following children survive: Mrs. James Scott of Wilson Creek, Wish.; Charles of High River, Alta.; Mrs. Edward Brigham of Emo, Ont.; Mrs. J. L. Card of North Battleford, and William of Hepworth.

The funeral, held to Boyd's Cemetery, was conducted by Rev. S. S. Hardy, formerly of London.

OVER 500 ATTENDED SECOND PICNIC OF LANGEMARCK LODGE

Fine Program of Sports Featured Outing at Springbank.

A large crowd, perfect weather and a splendid program made the second annual picnic of Langemarck Lodge, L.O.L., Saturday afternoon one of the finest that has been held at Springbank this season. The crowd, consisting of over 500 members of the lodge, practically all participated in the sporting events.

A baseball game between teams captained by Messrs. Sproull and Baldwin was a feature. The team of W. Sproull won out. Percy Percil umpired. The sports were greatly enjoyed, the features being an amusing chicken race for the women and a fat men's hundred yard dash.

The picnic began at 3 o'clock and ended late in the evening with a dance.

The success of the outing is due to a committee composed of S. Arbuckle, chairman; and W. Sproull, R. Stringer, George Keys, J. Mills and H. Collins.

J. H. Spring, the secretary of the lodge, looked after the sports, which were run off as follows:

Girls 6 and under—1 F. Mills, 2 M. Johnson, 3 A. Barnes.

Boys 6 and under—1 G. Withworth, 2 J. Heathfield, 3 B. Ball.

Girls 7 to 9 years—1 M. McIntosh, 2 J. Flitton, 3 A. Ball.

RELIEF OF DERRY COMMEMORATED BY LOCAL ORANGEMEN

Big Picnic at Part and Parade at Ingersoll.

Over 100 local Orangemen went down to Ingersoll yesterday afternoon to attend the special service held in commemoration of the relief of Derry. Over 400 brethren from London, St. Thomas, St. Marys, Ingersoll and district points were present and paraded to St. James' Anglican Church, where a fine sermon was preached by Rev. Harry Ashby, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, this city. In speaking of the great war he mentioned that over 80,000 Orangemen are now in khaki doing their share towards stamping out Hun brutality and preserving liberty for the rest of the world. During the service a solo by Wor. Sir Kt. Creighton, of St. Marys, was much enjoyed. The St. Thomas flute band headed the parade to the church, and then back to the hall after the service. Here luncheon was served and a fine address given by Sir Knight Mulvenny, of St. Thomas, county preceptor of Elgin and Middlesex. The big parade at Ingersoll was in charge of Sir Kt. Sloody and everything went off without a hitch.

On Saturday a picnic of local Black Knights was held at Port Stanley in honor of the anniversary of Derry. Over 400 Orangemen went down to the lakeside and a fine program of sports was run off. The outing was held under the auspices of County Black Chapter East Middlesex Royal Black Knights of Ireland. The parade was headed by the London Fife and Drum Band, and at Port Stanley rousing addresses were made by Sir Kt. George Geoghagan, county preceptor, and Past County Preceptor Joseph Murray.

Harold Jarvis, the famous tenor, who will sing at every performance at the Majestic theatre this week, except Wednesday evening. He is under obligations to fulfill a previously arranged engagement that evening, but Manager Logan will provide a singer to replace Mr. Jarvis for the Wednesday evening performance. Mr. Jarvis sang Sunday in Detroit at the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church and returned to the city early today.

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday Mr. Jarvis sings "Tommy Atkins," from the "Gaiety Girl," and "My Ain Folk," a Scotch song. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday he will sing "Up From Somerset" and an Irish ballad.

CLEAN LIVING IS SORROW FOR SATAN, SAYS SGT. EDWARDS

Rapid-Fire Sermon by Soldier Evangelist in South London.

"Any clean-living, godfearing young man or woman is one of the great sorrows of Satan," declared Sergt.-Major Harry Edwards in a 50-minute rapid-fire sermon at the Ridout Street Methodist Church Sunday evening. "The preacher who preaches the unadulterated gospel of Jesus Christ is another.

"Triumphs for the devil," he declared, "are weather too hot for church, but just right for the theatre, and a quarter for the show and a penny for the church."

He said it was a great achievement for the Prince of Darkness when he entered the Garden of Eden and beguiled Eve, and also later when he persuaded Cain that he was his brother's keeper. The capture of the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah was another great victory.

A Day of Sorrow.

"It was a day of sorrow for Satan when Christ was born in Bethlehem, and a blow for him when the wise men did not betray the Babe to old Herod. It was anguish to the old serpent when the Holy Spirit descended and proclaimed that Jesus was the Son of God. His prestige was assailed when he saw Jesus giving sight to the blind, raising the fallen and healing the sick, and he ground his teeth in rage when he saw his subjects deserting and following Christ.

"Don't get the idea that the devil is going to quit because he is getting his bumps. He is continually thinking out new plans to get revenge. He was right there among the bunch who cried out, 'Crucify Him, crucify Him,' and he thought everything was coming his way when he saw them lay Jesus on the cross. He got a real jolt, though, when he found that Christ had triumphed over sin and the grave.

Was in a Rage.

"He gnashed his teeth in rage when he saw Jesus ascending unto his Father in heaven, and he stood trembling with fear and rage when he heard that angel tell the eleven that all the world should know that: 'This same Jesus that was taken from you up into heaven shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven.' That is the greatest sorrow in the present life of Satan. He knows that Jesus is coming again, and when He comes, the devil is to quit business. He is trying to get all the revenge he can now, and you are the pawn in the game. I mean your immortal soul. It knows that Jesus paid the price and purchased your soul, and the devil is trying to steal it. He is calling a special council to devise ways and means of cheating Jesus Christ of what he has bought. He has specialists in ways of sin in his privy council. All have something new to entice men and women from God. When the devil can get a man or woman to begrudge a penny for the church and give a dollar cheerfully for the theatre, that is one of his triumphs. When one of the devil's specialists can persuade a church member to stay away from church because it is too hot, but it's not too hot for the show, that's another triumph for him. The greatest asset that Satan has today is the easy-going church members who are so easily disturbed by the slightest climatic change."

"The Mansfield of the Screen" in the photoplay, "The Truant Soul," adapted for screen presentation from Victor Rousseau's famous novel, "The Hidden Menace." At the Patricia Théatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

Photoplay News

PATRICIA.

"The Truant Soul' was the most difficult work I have ever undertaken," declares Henry B. Walthall in discussing his great Essanay super feature production. "That it should be at the same time my best work is the happiest incident of my life."

In this gripping drama from the pen of the noted novelist, Victor Rousseau, Henry B. Walthall has eclipsed his position as the foremost photoplay actor in the world. As the famous surgeon of the novel, harassed by humanity's hidden menace, he has revealed a superart, which has bewildered his millions of followers.

In the following interview, Mr. Walthall analyzes his great achievement:

"There are two chief characteristics in Rousseau's character, Dr. John Lancaster," he said. "First, he was a genius, and hence a man of fine sensibilities; and, second, he was a fiend—a man whose depravity knew no depths. My problem, therefore, was to portray the role of a souless degenerate and still maintain those fine characteristics which a genius cannot lose.

"There has been such combination in life. Edgar Allen Poe is said to have possessed it, for one. But to dramatize it at first seemed impossible to me. Then followed work, work, work—the most exacting I ever put into the study of a role."

At the Patricia Thursday, Friday and Saturday next.

William Russell, the Mutual-American Star, in "The Masked Heart," at the Patricia Today.

William Russell, the dashing young star who familiarized himself to picture fans all over the country in romantic roles, is given credit for having developed the screen "knockout" to a perfection never before thought possible.

One of Mr. Russell's many professional assets is his remarkable boxing skill—said to equal that of the best heavyweights in the business. Many of the Russell productions have afforded the star an opportunity to display this talent, but the difficulty has been to find men capable of acting and at the same time giving Russell a fair argument in fight scenes.

In "The Masked Heart," a new Mutual-American production, Mr. Russell as Philip Greycourt, is forced to defend a woman from the unwelcome attentions of a big bruiser, and he does it with a right swing that apparently lifts the bad man off his feet, dropping him unconscious.

The blow appears to have the weight of a piledriver behind it and it has, but not at the moment that it connects with the bad man's jaw. Mr. Russell and the recipient of that punch rehearsed it for a week or two before the scene was filmed, and when actual "shooting" of the picture took place, Russell could hit the big fellow an apparently terrific blow without striking him hard enough to brush off a fly.

At the Patricia today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

BILL READ THIRD TIME

Income Tax and C. N. R. Purchase Will Be Up This Week.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—Legislation was advanced by the Government on Saturday in a thin House. The bill bringing the control of the Intercolonial Railway rates under the railway commission was read the third time, as were the justice department measures limiting the jury panel, and an improvement on the liquor control law.

It was announced that the income tax measure and the Canadian Northern acquisition bill would be dealt with this week.

There was also third reading for an insurance bill, making it an offence for anyone without a license to carry on an insurance business. The penalties are fines ranging from $50 to $100 and imprisonment from three to six months.

There was a demund that bankers be forbidden to write insurance. F. B. Carvell stated that there was one banker in New Brunswick who did a large insurance business and who would not give bank accommodation unless persons became customers for his insurance business.

Common Practice, Says Glass.

Frank Glass of Middlesex declared that this was a common practice with bank managers.

The minister of justice expressed surprise and said that he could not bring in legislation along the lines suggested without a careful examination of the conditions. He introduced another amendment to the law, making it an offence for an insurance agent to give rebates. He stated that rebating had been forbidden since 1910, but this bill doubled the penalty for offences, making the fine not less than $100 for the first offence and not more than $200 for the second. The person accepting the rebate is made liable to punishment, as well as the agent who gives it. Agents violating the act are made liable to a penalty of $500. The former act applied to foreign and federal companies, and it is now extended to provincial companies.

Does Not Reduce Rates.

Frank Carvel said that the measure was aimed at the agent who was willing to divide his first premium with the person taking the insurance. It does not affect the rates of the insurance companies or anything else except the pocket of the agent, and he could not see that the law was justified.

Judge Doherty said that since 1910 there has been legislation against rebating.

On the bill proposing to give federal aid to make provincial prohibition effective Sir Wilfrid Laurier noted that the bill allowed importation of liquor into dry provinces when designed for other purposes than drinking. He stated that where there was local prohibition the drug stores were the chief offenders against the law. The way the bill was drawn opened the door to abuses.

In answer to questions the minister of justice stated that the person instituting prosecutions under the act would have to establish that liquor was brought in, in violation of the provincial law, and was intended for use as a beverage. The trial would show whether the liquor was sold for use as a beverage.

Stop Ads Through Mails.

Mr. Armstrong, of Lambton, said the legislation was an advance and congratulated the minister of justice. He declared that the Province of Ontario and any of the other provinces had the power to forbid the importation of liquor, but they failed to exercise it. He felt it was improper that the post-office department should allow the distribution of liquor-adverting matter.

Mr. Lemieux asked if the member would propose to forbid the use of the mails to the Montreal Gazette, La Patrie and other newspapers that printed liquor advertising.

R. B. Bennett said that was what was being done in the United States.

Mr. Lemieux said that if the Province of Ontario forbid the circulation of newspapers containing liquor advertisements it would shut every Montreal newspaper, with the exception of the Weekly Witness, out of circulation in that province.

Mr. Bennett said that such law would suppress the advertisements, not necessarily the papers.

The bill got third reading.

GIRL ARRESTED FOR GIVING LIQUOR TO AMERICAN SOLDIER

CAPT. W. M. BISHOP OF OWEN SOUND IS AWARDED GREAT V.C.

Sent Three Foe Machines Down, and Engaged a Fourth.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The intrepidity of Capt. William Bishop, a Canadian, and a member of the Royal Flying Corps, in attacking a German airdrome single-handed, has been rewarded by the bestowal upon him of the Victoria Cross, the most prized of the British valor medals. The Official Gazette gives the following resume of the action which brought Capt. Bishop the Victoria Cross:

"Capt. Bishop flew first to an enemy airdrome. Finding no enemy machine about, he flew to another airdrome three miles distant, and about twelve miles inside the German lines. Seven machines, some with their engines running, were on the ground. He attacked these from a height of fifty feet, killing one of the mechanics.

"One of the machines got off the ground, but Capt. Bishop, at a height of sixty feet, fired fifteen rounds into it at close range, and it crashed to the ground. A second machine got off the ground, into which he fired thirty rounds, at 150 yards. It fell into a tree. Two more machines rose from the airdrome, one of which he engaged at a height of 1,000 feet, sending it crashing to the ground. He then emptied a whole drum of cartridges into the fourth hostile machine and flew back to his station.

"Four hostile scouts were 1,000 feet above him, for a mile during his return journey, but they would not attack. His machine was badly shot about by machine gun fire from the ground."

Capt. Bishop, an Owen Sound boy, is a brother of Major R. W. Bishop of military headquarters, this city. He is the only man alive who wears the three most coveted decorations of the British army—the Victoria Cross, Military Cross and Distinguished Service Order.

He was an R. M. C. cadet when war was declared, and was attached to the staff of Lieut.-Col. Ibbotson Leonard when the 7th Canadian Mounted Rifles was mustered in London. He trained here with that unit until the 2nd Divisional Cavalry, under Col. Leonard's command, was formed, when he became a troop commander of the latter unit, crossing to England with Col. Leonard. In the old country he transferred to the Flying Corps, where he has made such a brilliant record, winning first promotion from flight lieutenant to flight commander (captain), and the three highest honors of the British arms.

The unofficial announcement of his winning of the Victoria Cross was made some time ago.

DOUBLE DROWNING IN SMALL STREAM; RESCUER PERISHES

Girl and Woman Who Went to Assistance Die.

AUBURN, Aug. 12.—Two lives were lost, one in a futile attempt at rescue, in a small creek running through the Govier farm, two miles from Auburn, on Saturday afternoon. The dead are Mrs. H. Govier and Elsie Lockhart, 11-year-old daughter of Thomas Lockhart of Auburn.

In company with four others, Elsie Lockhart, who was visiting at the Govier home, went to the creek to bathe. It is believed that she slipped into a deep hole and went down without a sound. When the other children left the water they noticed the absence of Elsie, and ran frantically to the farmouse for Mrs. Govier. Mrs. Govier ran to the creek, and, fully dressed, dashed into the water in an effort to find the missing child. She, too, fell into one of the many treacherous holes in the stream, and was drowned.

It was an hour before any men were found, and half an hour later both bodies were recovered from the stream by the use of garden rakes.

Mrs. Govier is survived by her husband and two children.

SUFFERED SINCE SHE WAS A GIRL FIFTEEN YEARS OLD, SHE SAYS

Nothing But Tanlac Ever Gave Her Any Relief.

STRONGER THAN IN YEARS

"It Certainly Is the Finest Medicine I Ever Took," She Declares.

"It seems too good to be true that this Tanlac has ended my trouble," said Mrs. Mamie Smith, of 56 Tiverton street, Toronto, the other day.

"I have been worried by my disordered stomach," she continued, "ever since I was a fifteen-year-old girl, and kept getting worse all the time in spite of all I could do. I was never hungry and would hardly eat enough to keep me alive. I had to force down every mouthful, and the little I would eat hardly nourished me at all. Soon after leaving the table gas would rise on my stomach, and bloat me up something awful, and make me miserable for hours. I had a faint, sickish feeling most all the time, and I would get so weak and no account I could hardly stay on my feet. My nerves were all unstrung, and I had such a terrible pain in my side I couldn't lie down at times nor rest in any position, and I seldom was able to sleep more than half the night through without waking.

"After reading so much about Tanlac I decided to try it, and by the time I had finished my second bottle my stomach trouble had entirely disappeared. I can eat anything I want and all I want, and am never troubled with gas, those terrible pains in my side have vanished, my nerves are quiet, and I can sleep like a healthy child all night, my stomach is toned up and I feel stronger and better than I have in years. I never have a symptom of indigestion or any other trouble now and it is certainly the finest medicine I ever took, and the only one that gave me any relief."

Tanlac is sold in London under the direction of a special representative, and by one regular established agency in every town.

TWO FRENCH AIRMEN CARRY REPRISAL TO FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN

One of Most Important Cities in Germany Bombed.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Two French aviators yesterday dropped bombs on Frankfort-on-the-Main, one of the most important cities of the German Empire, having a population of more than 300,000. A French official statement announcing the raid says it was in retaliation for the German bombardment of Nancy and the region north of Paris.

Both French machines returned undamaged. The text of the announcement reads:

"In reprisal for the German bombardments of Nancy and the region north of Paris, two of our machines, piloted by Lieut. Mesergues and Sub-Lieut. Beaumont, yesterday dropped bombs on Frankfort-on-the-Main. Both machines returned undamaged.

"It is confirmed that a German aviator was brought down August 9 on the Belgian front. Yesterday a German machine was shot down by machine gun fire northeast of Vauxaillon."

FIVE MEET DEATH WHEN G. T. LIMITED STRIKES AUTOMOBILE

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 12. — Five persons were instantly killed and another injured when the International Limited (G. T. R.) struck an automobile yesterday evening at what is known at Wharf road, about 300 yards east of Bowmanville station. Six persons, five men and one woman, were riding in the automobile, which was driven by Herman Fletcher of this town. Originally the party comprised four men. Just before the party reached the crossing they overtook Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker and invited them to ride. A minute later the car was halted by a freight train blocking the road.

The trainmen divided the train to let the automobile pass, and just then the flyer came along. The train, which was running at a speed of fifty miles or more an hour, struck the automobile and carried it for about 150 yards before it could be stopped.

Five of the occupants were instantly killed. The sixth, Frank Walker, who was sitting on the side of the car with his feet on the running board, attempted to move his wife, but failed, and jumped off in time to save his life. The dead are:

Mrs. Frank Walker, Toronto.
James Mormovic, married, Oshawa.
James Connolly, married, Oshawa.
Wm. Johnston, single, Oshawa.
Herman Fletcher, married, Oshawa.

S. WINNIPEG LIBERALS CALL A MASS MEETING OVER CONSCRIPTION

Fear Rogers Would Be Considered Only Candidate.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—Alarmed at a better outlook for Hon. Robert Rogers in the South Winnipeg seat, a number of Liberals have called a mass meeting for this week to discuss the outcome of the recent Liberal convention. Isaac Pitblado, counsel for the west in the famous freight rates case, is the prime mover, and if all goes well, he will undoubtedly be Rogers' opponent.

Hon. Robert Rogers will be in Winnipeg this week and his friends are cheerful. They claim he will be the only conscriptionist candidate in the field.

Many of those who signed the petition as "Liberals" have not been identified with the Liberal party for years.

There is no sympathy for the movement in the Centre or North Winnipeg ridings. The labor element largely predominates there, and it must be admitted the country constituencies, judged by press comment, are well satisfied with the policy outlined at the Liberal convention.

One reason is Manitoba, like other provinces, has been depleted of harvest labor. All agencies for this purpose have fallen down. No male or female help is available. A great many formerly engaged in this work are employed in large city enterprises and cannot be spared. Farmers after being urged to extend crop areas now find themselves in a helpless state for the harvest, which will be on this week in many districts.

It is stated that plans are nearing completion for a meeting next Tuesday night of the executive and relief committee of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, at which, according to expectations of officials of the association, impetus will be given plans for a non-partisan win-the-wa rconvention representative of Western Canada.

Mexicans Discover Prospective Base for German U-Boats

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—What is believed to have been a German information forwarding station has been discovered by Mexican officers on Lobos Island, a lighthouse station off the Mexican coast northeast of Tuxpam. The Mexican authorities believe the station might have been converted into a submarine or naval base had it not been located by them.

The Government is conducting a rigid investigation. Its agents are scouring the coast in search of other wireless plants.

Have you a building job on your hands?

Now that prices are high it is more than ever important that you give careful consideration to the roof you are going to put on. You can save real money and get a better roof by using

Certain-teed Roofing

Thru quality and sheer merit as a roofing material CERTAIN-TEED is now being used as the preferable type of roofing for sky-scrapers, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

It is economical to buy, inexpensive to lay and costs practically nothing to maintain. It is weather-tight, light weight, clean, sanitary and fire-retardant. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes

The name CERTAIN-TEED on a can of paint or varnish is the same guarantee of quality and satisfaction it is on a roll of roofing or a bundle of shingles. Made for all uses and in all colors.
