COSSACKS WERE BADLY ROUTED

The Japanese put Them to Flight with Loss of 140 Men.

Fierce Fighting Near Kin-Chou—Further News From the Far East.

London, Monday, May 23.—The Daily Telegraph this morning prints the following despatch, dated May 19, from its correspondent at the Japanese headquarters, which the despatch does not locate: "There has been no change in the position here for the past ten days. Our advanced division is in touch with the enemy near Moa-Tien Pass, where the Liao Yang road traverses the defile. The Russian line extends from Hai-Cheng to the west of Moa-Tien Pass."

JAP TRANSPORTS.
The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Kobe, Japan, cables the following: "Returning from Corea through the Yellow Sea this (last) week, I saw Japanese transports in every direction. They were travelling without escort. Sometimes as many as ten at a time were counted."

THE NEW JAP LOAN.
"After repeated conferences between the bankers, the ministers and elder statesmen of Japan, the bankers have accepted the terms of the new popular loan of $50,000,000. It will be issued at 92, bear 5 per cent. and run for seven years. The former loan was based at 95 and is to run for five years."

STRUCK BY A SHELL.
"During the reconnaissance of Port Arthur made by Admiral Togo on Friday of last week, a shell hit the torpedo boat destroyer Akatsuki, killing one officer and 24 men."

ALEXIEFF URGED TO STAY.
The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "I am informed on good authority that Vice-Admiral Alexieff tendered his resignation to the Emperor, giving ill-health as the reason for his desire to be relieved, but that the Emperor persuaded him in a gracious telegram to remain at his post."

SKRYDLOFF AT VLADIVOSTOK.
Vice-Admiral Skrydloff arrived here at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. There was a great outpouring of the townspeople. Admiral Skrydloff's reception was the heartiest everywhere. The Japanese cruisers reported as being between Goman and Vladivostok so far have not been sighted. The opening of Vladivostok to trade has as yet had no effect in reviving business which is at a complete standstill. The town is in an excellent condition and the general health of the people is good."

A SIGNIFICANT SPEECH.
The Standard's correspondent at Tokio, telegraphing under date of May 21, says: "Addressing a meeting of financiers to-day, on the importance of securing the sympathy of the civilized world in the present momentous crisis, Marquis Ito strongly urged the importance of Japan being contented to enforce her legitimate claims, never a moment wavering in frank and unadorned recognition of the legitimate claims and interests of other nations. The speech is considered significant as foreshadowing Japan's future policy with regard to Corea and Manchuria."

RUSSIANS IN COREA.
A Fu San, Corea, despatch of May 21, says: "From Chinese sources it is rumored that 2,000 Russians have been seen near Lianan, and thirteen miles west, but none have been observed on the main road to Liao Chang. The Russians are scouting on all sides, but are disinclined to fight unless they are in far superior numbers. The recent landing of the Japanese force at Taku Shan guarantees lines of communication."

MADE IN CANADA

The Made in Canada Exhibition is still booming. The ladies will keep the fair going to-day and to-morrow, and will close to-morrow evening with a grand band concert by the 24th Regimental Band.

The lunch counters were kept busy all day Saturday and the ladies are looking forward to a good day to-morrow in their lunch and ice cream trade.

One of the features for this evening will be the repetition of the Historical March.

The following is the program of music to be rendered by the 24th Regimental Band at the Made in Canada. Exhibit to-morrow evening:—

MAGNIFICENT NEW ARMORY

Plans Submitted and Approved by Officers and Member for Kent.

Location Finally Amicably Arranged—Soldiers and Bandmen Fare well.

The officers of the 24th Regiment held a special meeting at the drill shed on Saturday evening, on the request of Geo. Stephens, M. P., at which the member for Kent and Architect Rutley were present.

The meeting was called relative to the location of and arrangements for the new barracks to be erected on Tecumseh Park. Those present: Lieut.-Col. Rankin, who presided; Adjutant W. A. Coltart; Capt. Fred. Stone, J. S. Black and J. S. Turner; Lieutenants A. E. Jewett, H. D. Smith, O. L. Lewis, N. D. Harper, H. W. Anderson and others.

The plans of the Government architect were submitted by Mr. Stephens and enthusiastically received by the officers. They include, in addition to the spacious armories, rooms, library and lecture hall, a magnificent drill hall and auditorium 180 by 60 feet.

This auditorium is surrounded by a large balcony and can be utilized for promenades, concerts and drills.

The large band room is situated in the front of the building, facing the park, and the turret will be surrounded by an open-air balcony, from which the bands may play on summer evenings.

In the basement a fine shooting gallery is to be installed and preparations made for the installation of swimming baths.

The size of the new Drill Hall precludes the possibility of its erection on the location previously selected, and the officers heartily concurred with the choice of Mr. Stephens, in view of the excellent building he had secured for them.

Capt. Fred. Stone accordingly moved, seconded by Lieut. H. D. Smith, that the officers read and their formal resolution and unanimously approve of the plans submitted, with the addition of the basement promised, and that the location be changed in accordance with the size of the building to the southerly end of the Park; and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Minister of Militia, Minister of Public Works and the sitting member.

The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Stephens assured the officers that the contracts would be let within the next three weeks and work commenced immediately. He is also taking up for the officers the matter of establishing a provisional school here.

LAID TO REST

The remains of the late J. R. Reid were reverently laid to rest in the Maple Leaf cemetery yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. The funeral was a very large one and was conducted by the K. O. T. M., of which order deceased was an esteemed member.

Rev. G. H. Cobbedick, pastor of the Park Street Methodist Church, conducted the service at the house and at the cemetery. He spoke very highly of the deceased gentleman and gave words of encouragement to the family in their sad affliction.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were a pillow from the family, a wreath from the Non-Coms. of B. company, a wreath from the editorial staff of The Planet, a design from the Bowling Club, wreath from K. O. T. M., wreath from Park St. Sunday School, and many others.

The K. O. T. M. marched at the head of the procession and the pall bearers were six of the deceased's brother Sir Knights, J. M. Pike, W. S. Marshall, J. M. Northwood, A. E. Pitkey, G. K. Atkinson and Geo. W. Cowan. The relatives from a distance present were five sons, John and Wm. of Detroit; Charles, of Cleveland; and Rollie, of Winnipeg.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT WAS CHARMING

Exquisite Display by the Students of St. Joseph's Separate School.

Dainty Drawing by the Clever Pupils—A Delightful Exhibit.

A general exhibit of pupils' work is being held at the Separate school to-day, and it is an exhibit of exceptional merit, reflecting, as it does, great credit on both the teachers in their ability to train the young minds to do so well, and on the scholars who evidently, to judge from results, must have put their strictest attention and energy into their work.

The exhibit was held in the central hall of the school and was very tastefully arranged. Streamers and bunting were strung artistically from the ceilings, the work of the pupils being tastefully hung on nets fastened to the wall and also placed on little tables in the hallway.

There were compositions illustrated with colored drawings, and pen and ink sketches. Among the latter might be named those by Edith Pridhomme, Eva Jacques, Claude Liddy, Hector Pinsonneault and Rena Stevens. Also a number of smaller sketches by Ursula Pender, Mary La France, Addie Crowe, and many other pupils.

Specimens of pupils' drawing from each class was displayed on the small tables, and was of exceptional merit, not only in their attention to detail but also in their cleanly and neat appearance. The specimens of writing were very fine, also the muscular movement writing specimens showed great skill in pupils so young.

Other exhibits of equal merit were the colored maps and examination papers of different rooms. The colored picture stories of the lower class rooms were very cleverly done and looked very pretty against the white walls of the hall.

In the various rooms the black-board decorations were very fine, being pictures in colored crayon work of birds, flowers, leaves and objects symbolic of the seasons, days, etc. In the fourth class, one of the pupils, Ursula Pender, has drawn a picture deserving of great praise.

Lunch will be served all day to-morrow at the "Made in Canada" exhibition. Come and bring your guests with you.

All negotiations are off between the City and County in reference to deciding the share each shall pay of Administration of Justice, maintenance of Harrison Hall and other matters in which the two are jointly interested. EARLY BLAZE

The firemen were called out last night about 12 o'clock to Drader's street establishment on Thames street. The roof of the building had caught fire from the fire room and had got considerable headway before it was noticed. P. C. James Dodson noticed the blaze first and telephoned the alarm to the Hall. Almost at the same time some one pulled box 15. The fire was confined to the roof and although considerable damage was done the shop was not shot down. The firemen worked for an hour with two lines of hose and succeeded in saving the building.

CURIOUS BIBLES.

Some Strange Inaccuracies or Expressions of Quaintness That in Olden Times Crept Into the Text.

The following memorandum of some quaint editions of the Bible will be interesting to those who care to follow the history of the art of typography. It will also illustrate how, before the invention of printing, certain inaccuracies could creep into the sacred text, as, for example by the absorption of marginal glosses into the body of the manuscript and inadvertent substitution of words similar in appearance, but different in meaning. The archaic words of these old versions also illustrate the need of the Revised Version. The almost absolute accuracy of the present text is indicated by the fact that the standing offer of the University Press, of Oxford, of a guinea for the finding of a typographical error has not been taken up for a long while.

The "Breeches" Bible: "Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves Breeches." (Gen. III. 7.) Printed in 1560.

The "Bug" Bible: "So that thou shalt not need to be afraid for Bugges by night, nor for the arrow that flyeth by day." (Ps. XCI., 5.) Printed in 1561.

The "Treachle" Bible: "Is there not treachle at Gilead? Is there no physician there?" (Jer. VIII., 22.) Printed in 1568.

The "Rosin" Bible: "Is there no rosin in Gilead? Is there no physician there?" (Jer. VIII., 22.) Printed in 1609.

The "Placemaker's" Bible: "Blessed are the placemakers; for they shall be called the children of God." (Matt., V., 9.) Printed in 1561-2.

The "Vinegar" Bible: "The parable of the Vinegar," instead of the vineyard, appears in the chapter headed to Luke XX, in an Oxford edition of the Authorized Version, which was published in 1717.

The "Wicked" Bible: This extraordinary name had been given to an edition of the Authorized Bible, printed in London by Robert Baker and Martin Lucas in 1631. The negative was left out of the seventh commandment, and William Kilburne, writing in 1659, says that, owing to the zeal of Dr. Usher, the printer was fined £2,000 or £3,000.

The "Ears-to-ear" Bible: "Who hath ears to ear, let him hear." (Matt. XIII., 43.) Printed in 1810.

The "Standing-Fishes" Bible: "And it shall come to pass that the fishes will stand upon it, etc." (Ezek. XVIII., 10.) Printed in 1806.

The "Discharge" Bible: "I discharge thee before God." (I Tim., V., 21.) Printed in 1806.

The "Wife-hater" Bible: "If any man come to me, and hate not his father, * * * yes, and his own wife also," etc. (Luke, XIV., 26.) Printed in 1810.

The "Rebekah's-Camels" Bible: "And Rebekah arose, and her camels." (Gen. XXIV., 61.) Printed in 1823.

The "To-Remain" Bible: "Persecuted him that was born after the spirit to remain; even so it is now." (Gal., IV., 19.) This typographical error, which was perpetuated in the first Evc. Bible printed for the Bible Society, takes its chief importance from the curious circumstances under which it arose. A 12mo. Bible was being printed at Cambridge in 1805, and the proofreader, being in doubt as to whether or not he should remove a comma, applied to his superior, and the reply, penciled on the margin, "to remain," was transferred to the body of the text, and repeated in the Bible Society's Evc. edition of 1805-6, and also in another 12mo. edition of 1818.—The Sunday School Repository.

The Chinamen and Age.

In China old age is much venerated, and it is considered a compliment to inquire after your "honorable teeth," the conventional phrase employed in asking people their age. The Chinese admire a long beard, and estimate age by the length of it, because social usage only allows a man to grow old when he is a grandfather, or at least forty-five years old. "What is your honorable age?" a Chinaman asks when introduced to a new acquaintance. "My insignificant years do not number more than thirty," may be the modest reply. "Oh!" it is polite to exclaim in a tone of great surprise, "I should have taken you to be forty at the very least." And the other, even if a woman, will blush with pleasure at the insinuated flattery.

The respect which the Chinese pay to their parents, and to old people generally, is one of the things in which they differ with advantage from ourselves. Chinese children have not to be reminded that a parent is, after all, one of God's creatures. The Chinese never speak of old fogies, or make parents feel that they have over-stayed their welcome in the world. In speaking to a parent a child is taught to avoid all reference to old age, and every boy has held up to him as an example the conduct of Leon Lai-tze. This worthy, fearing that the recognition by his parents of the fact that he was seventy years old would remind them of their own great age, used to dress himself in a child's frock, and play about the room like an infant.

Water From a Tree.

In one of the Ogary Islands there is a tree of the laurel family that rains down occasionally, in the early morning, quite a copious shower of tear or water-drops from its tufted foliage. This water often collects at the foot of the tree, and forms a kind of pond from which the inhabitants of the neighborhood can supply themselves with a drinking beverage that is absolutely fresh and pure.

How Often.

"It takes three generations to make a gentleman, they say."

"Yes. The first makes the dough, the second makes high connections and the third makes an ass of itself."
