The First Row.—The Electron.—A meeting of the friends of Mr. Chabot took place hast evening at St. Rochs, in the Chapel des Morts, attached to the Church, a ruther ansuitable place for an election meetings. Soon after the nonmencement of business, the supports of Mr. Legare came in, in considerable numbers, and compelled the other party to retire; having then placed Mr. C. Lee in the chair, as veral persons addressed the assembly. Both par ties seem confident of success.—Quebes Mircury.

The day fixed for nominating the Candidates at the approaching Election of a representative for this City, as will have beer, seen by the Proclamation of the Returning Officer is our grevious number, is the 18th instant. Mr. Legare has not yet publicly announced his intention of coming forward, but from the active canvassing in his favour, and as his friends confidently assert, with a prospect of success, we take it for certain that he will. An anonymous address to the electors, recommending strongly Mr. Chabot, has been put in circulation, in which "the Tories" and "nos ensemis" are therailly rated, savouring very much of the honorable Superintendent's motto of "droits egasz, justice agale," it must be acknowledged, —Queber Mercury.

THE MOUNTED POLICE.—Who can explain the condu of the Tory journals of Montreal ! It is but a few months since they swore, in an Address to the People of Canada, and animostics, in order constitutionally to defend a cause common to them and the French Canadians. They swore to their great foods that they would adopt no violent proceedings to obtain their air. They find an air so truly divested of their ancient prejudices, so contrits for the past, that one was tempted to believe them sincers; but they will of hymograph being removed, we saw that timera the veil of hypogray being removed, we see the tiger's claws. The approach of the Municipal Elections, lets us claws. The approach of the numerous new them in all their deformity.

These journals, to accure adherents to a niovement rather anti-Ministerialist than Annexationist, promised by all means to respect order, peace, and the Constitution; nevertheless, it is easy to perceive how they are preparing the people, or rather the canaille, for the approaching Elections. Under the supposition that the Dragonas of Captain Fortis will be employed to maintain order, and the lighter of homest and respectable citizens, and protect the rights of honest and respectable citizens, if it be intended to intended them, there is never and sticks, these journals call on this Cocciny all the fury of which the Election mandages are applied. irers are capable. The Cou the Election murderers are example, the organ of the present movement, says, "the example, the organ of the present movement, says, "the example, the organ of the present movement, says, "the people ought not allow themselves to be builted by a band of loafers." It goes further, It affirms that the existence of the corps is illegal, and that every one has the same right as them to carry arms, and use them. The Genetic sind its correspondents are still more violent. It seems to us that the authorities should put an end to this system of instructions the meanle upon the rights of the

We predict to the Annexationists of Montreal, that if they wish to destroy their cause with the French Ceinclina, they have only to speak and use violence at the Municipal Elections—an odious system borrowed from

We translate the above from the Ministerial organ, for the benefit of our readers, It suggests a few considerations. We learn from the language of the article that the Prairie Hens are siry or Dragoons, and that Forfin is a Captoin. We were not previously aware that the Prairie Hens were incorporated as Militia, and we have not seen Captain Fortin's name gazetted. Upon these points, we desire information from the official organ. We learn further, that, as we anticipated, these Prairie Hene are kept together, to influence the electoral balance, when a little rough weight is needed; and we are told that if we continue to growl at the Prairie Hens, we shall rain the cause of Annexation with the French Canadians. It is well that we should French Canadism. It is well that we should understand each other, so that hereafter, if any easualty occurs, the represent may rest with the Government. We repeat that the Fortins were illegally raised, organized, equipped, and armed. That being an illegal force, we, the people of Mox-treal, should treat them as brigands, if they pressure to dictate to, or molest any, cities. We know of no law in Canada, which, it was the property of the control of an armed treatment of an armed treatment of an armed treatment of an armed treatment. feel very warmly attached to Captain Fortin-

We cannot speak as to the future, but reasoning from analogy, we infer that some signal chastisement will be inflicted on Captain Fortin and his Cavalry, if he or his men take any share in the approaching

Our Toryism. The organ of the Ministers has been pleased to style us Tory Annexationists, intending thereby impute to us political opinions, which the Coloists would do well to shun.

Let us examine this language, that our position nay be fairly understood-we shall not shroud fuelves in the clouds of Responsible Governnent, chattering about speculative Reforms and contemplated Progress; we shall express oureather to advance the social happiness and material prosperity of the Colonists, than to govern stitute the glory and greatness of a race. That zation, and that she was upheld by that Provience against banded Europe, and not from her wn strength to discharge that mission. If holding these opinions constitutes Toryism, we are Tories. As Englishmen, selecting this Colony as our pandoned none of our privileges as freeborn Englishmen, and that we are competent to the discharge of every political function, accorded to us by confidence of our fellow-citizens. If this is Toryism, we are Tories. We stand upon an equal footing with all other itizens, and we desire that perfect equality should exist in this Colony, for we are a Democracy, vithout a single element of native growth of a Monarchical character.

We desire the application of the Elective priniple to every branch of the Government, and to very man holding office under that Government. If this is Toryism, we are Pories.

We desire the exclusion from each branch of the Legislature of every man holding any office of molument, in order to protect the community from the frauds of Ministers, and the cerruptions of the Administration.

If this is the language of Tory humbug, we are Tory humbugs.

We do not assent to the doctrine that the uneducated tenant should have the privilege of a vote, when the educated clerk, who has a deeper stake in the well-being of society, is denied that right; we cannot comprehend why the possession of forty shillings a-year should enable a man to rank above his neighbor, when the principle becomes ridiculous in its application.

We hold that the people have a perfect right to select any citizen as their representative, whether he be a rich man or a poor man—that the possession of wealth, no matter what its extent, does descendants of the glorious stock from whence they sprung-that a common origin, a common nguage, and the same attachment to the princiles of freedom, point them and England out as lestined to give laws to the world, and eventually rescue Europe from the thraidom of despots,

We are Annexationists, as much from necessity choice, because it affords a simple and safe cape from the complicated political, religious, and social obstacles which beset our path, because it would give us a written constitution-preserve us from a war of races, enlarge our fields of comnerce, foster manufacturing interests, augment he value of real estate, and elevate our laboring classes from their present degraded and depressed

If holding these opinions confers upon us the designation of Tories we confess we are Tories, and we trust our Toryism will become so diffused, that it will ultimately become the political creed of the country.

Mr. Hineks Conspiracy Case.

To the Annexationists, the breaking up of one Cabinet, or the formation of another, is not of much moment, for the people are plundered all the same, whether the Hincks party of the Sher-wood party prevail. We seek not a change of nistration, but a change in the system, ubstituting a wholesome control over the public of the existing frauds and corruptions which are demoralizing the land. In the meantime, we chronicle the events of the day, bringing before our readers those instances where the features of our Colonial rule are signalized by a more than common disregard of truth, honor, and justice. Our attention was attracted to the case of Mr. Stanton, when he was dismissed from office, from Stanton, when he was dismissed from office, from one or two incidents connected with the transaction; but we preserved allence, being unwilling to offer any opinion until the facts were public. We are now in a position to speak—and we unhesitatingly assert that a more dishonorable, unjust, and flagitious act was never before perpe trated in Canada. That it violates the first pr ples of morality, and offers a premium to perjury, bribery, and flaud. Mr. Stanton held a nitu in Toronto as Collector of the Customs. The Ministry predetermined to take his office from him, and confer it on one of their friends, no doubt, (un anti-Americanics,) a life, Mendel of Brockville. Before any proceedings were instituted against Mr. Stanton, Mr. Meudel made his arrangements to leave Brockville for Toronto a we know of no law in Canada, which, beneatly interpreted, way ants the creation of an armord force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the will of a Propagation force, to be wished at the wind of the freedom in tolerating the presence, within the freedom in tolerating the presence, within the freedom in tolerating the presence, within the propagation for a force unknown to the law. He may clothe, arm, feed, and if rogues, let them pocket the purses of the and, if rogues, let them pocket the purses of the nich men—this would be a practical application of the principle, palpable to the sealest intellect. We do not assert that Francis Finders is a scountage of the public officer, paid out of the public money, should dare to bring together in this city, a gang of loafers; that he should arm them with earbines and sabres, and mount them on homehack. In de-letter they are honest men or rogues, and, upon counting up the votes, it was found that 102 electors had recorded their votes, and the Poll stood as follows:—

Chauncey Johnson, Esq., late Warden of the District, 94 chauncey Johnson, L., of L. Origual, 99 charles Flynn, of L. Origual, 99 charles Flynn, of L. There is something in the act of enriching the judge who tries the accused at the cost of the

accuser, so revolting to our notions of right and wrong, that we may be pardoned if we use towards it the epithet atrocious. If Mr. Stanton had been accused of murder, we might as reasonably expect that the judge who tried him would convert Mr. Stanten's private fortune to his own use. The charge against Mr. Stanton, which involved the loss of his office, has not been furnished to the public-the Ministerial journals were instructed to say that he was a defaulter. He at once repelled the accusation-he published his accounts, and showed that so far from being a defaulter, he had a claim against the Governtheir guidance, not theories men who desire ment; but, whether they can prove that he was minded men to regard the elevation of the judge at the expense of the accused, otherwise than as an odious and revolting offence. We have dwelt is pre-eminent amongst the nations of the earth, upon this transaction, not because we know either tions, but because we think it a fitting opportuspread abroad upon the globe the germs of civilinity to expose to the people the deformities of the present system of Government. Under Elective institutions, if a public officer is a defaulter, the case is placed in the hands of the Law officers, and an open legal trial instituted. If the office i declared vacant, that vacancy is filled by a man elected by his fellow-citizens. Now we put the home, and regarding it as the destined abode of question to our opponents, and ask them, is it ourselves and our children, we hold that we have possible, under Elective institutions, to imagine not-for the people would spurn with disgust the application of the judge, to be installed in the office of the accused. As iar as our cause is concerned, we trust Mr. Hincks may continue Inspector-General, and that he may indulge in these Meudel freaks with every official in the Colony; and we hope every official in the Colony may apprehend an application of the same Sharp Gammon and Quirk practise, for they hug their chains, and it is a just retribution that their chains should gall them. We are mere spectators of the squabble for the public plunder, awaiting the hour

The Quebec Election. The Quebec canvass, for the election of a member of Parliament, has excited less interest here than the occasion warrants. Why 1—because his opponent has a lear lican institutions. All this we must say is very foolish-for no educated merchant in Quebec but must feel that Independence or Annexation cannot long be deferred—and whether it be near or remote, they are not justified in exposing the Colony to the vagaries of so insufficient a man as Mr. Chabot. The Annexation party have not yet reached that condition of organization and com-bination which a few months may create, but prostituting a windless of Elective institutions, in lieu when the scattered elements of their power are directed in one channel, they can, and ought to, enter every constituency which now elects a member of the Cabinet, and prepare for his defeat. Their success in such a case would leave the Colony without an Administration, and thus bring the question at issue to a speedy solution, while it would convince the public mind in England that the majority of our population truly esired a change in their political

The Municipal Elections in Toronto, Kin and several other places in Canada West, were reported on Saturday evening to have gone against the Ministerial faction. We shall probably reeive correct accounts to-day.

The Annexationists are confident that they can earry the Elections for the Municipality on the second of March. The Judicature

The article which appeared in the Toronto Globe of the 29th ultimo, and which we said rumour attributed to our Attorney-General, declared that the new Judicature Bill was not hurried through the Legislature; if such be the case, and for the sake of argument we will admit that it is then the Government has placed the Legislative character of its chosen men far lower than we even assigned.

The declaration that the Judicature Bill was only passed after due consideration, sweeps from the Ministerial feet the only ground of excuse for such unprecedented blundering as is exposed by the Act in quest on. To find men admitting that they were guilty of ecklessness and blunders, says much indeed for their candour; but, oh! how little for their mental training and ability, particularly when that recklessness and those blunders were committed not on the sput of the moment, without time for reflection, but after mature consideration. when the plunderers will be scourged from

The Toronto Ministerial journal does not admit society - but, even as spectators, we cannot be insensible to the promptings of humanity, and when that the Bill is wanting in any of its parts-but the Montreal Ministerial organ, in a recent article, we see truth, honor, and justice, not only violated, Doctor of Medicine, Matriculated Member of the University of Edicburgo, Licentiate of Apolicaries' Hall, London, Honovary Member of the London Hospital, Medicar Society, &c.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of muture happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised, and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their streadant disappointments. Excesses are also ways injurents; the gift which, when used in moderation, is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the profite source of mischief, and of greater or less it jury to the constitution and vital powers.

The particular excesses, on the nature and-consequences of which this Treative professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the humanificant than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatony and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contents of the work: the means of escape, as well as the miture of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attestion and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that, the unhappy vectim of excessive infulgence and vicious habits, whether arquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their may riable consequences, unwaisely entertains a fear of applying to a qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently, but erroneously, emeriained, that these complaints are beyond the reach of art, like restre thim, and prevent his seeking for assistance where alone it can be precured. In acting thus, the forgeit that accurate discrimination in as critining the causes of discness, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invarially characterize thim, for preventional pursuits, the utmost confidence should be extended. I had a cough for several weeks, that denied all that had been prescribed for me; and yet I got completely rid of it by taking about half u small beg of your Lozenges, which I find are the only ones that relieve the cough without derivaging the stousach or dignerive organe.
