French Troops Captured Block of Houses South of Somme—Russians Sweeping on in Caucasus and Italians Take Monte Cimon

BERLIN, July 25, via London, 4.35 p.m.—Russian troops succeeded in penetrating the German first line on a small part of the front defended by the troops under command of General Von Linsingen, according to the official statement issued to-day by the German army headquarters' staff.

Now North of Pozieres. London, July 25, 3.05 p.m.—The British troops have captured the greater part of the village of Pozieres, says the British official statement issued this afternoon. The Germans brought up reinforcements of infantry and guns but the counter attacks everywhere, the statement adds, were repulsed by the British.

Rushing Reinforcements. "In the last few days the enemy brought further reinforcements of infantry and guns to the Somme front. Throughout yesterday the hostile bombardment was fairly continuous and at times became very heavy.

"An attempt to attack our right flank was made yesterday afternoon, but it was frustrated by our artillery.

"Last night two further infantry attacks, preceded by a specially violent artillery fire were launched against the centre of our line. These attacks also were stopped by the concentrated fire of our guns.

Heavy German Losses. At no place did the enemy succeed in reaching the British trenches and his casualties in these fruitless attacks must have been severe.

"At other parts of the line there has been a good deal of hand to hand fighting, and our infantry worked their way forward in places.

"North of Pozieres, the greater part of which village is in our possession, the enemy continued to offer strong opposition, but here also, we gained some ground and captured two machine guns and a few more prisoners, including two battalion commanders."

French Success South of Somme. Paris, July 25, noon—On the south bank of the River Somme yesterday evening, French troops captured a block of houses south of Estrees and drove the Germans out of trenches north of Vermandovillers, says the French official statement issued this afternoon.

Between the Oise and the Aisne several German patrols were dispersed near Tracy-le-Val.

On the left bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, there was grenade fighting at Hill 304.

On the right bank of the Meuse a violent cannonading was in progress at Fleuhy and La Laufey.

A German attack on the French positions at Baschwiler in Alsace, is claimed to have failed.

Sub. Lieut. Hungessor, of the French aviation corps, brought down his 10th aeroplane.

Nearing Erzincan. Petrograd, July 25, via London 4.05 pm.—Some Russian detachments have already reached positions about ten miles from the Turkish fortified town of Erzincan, in Armenia, says the Russian official issued to-day.

Italians Take Monte Cimon. Rome, July 25, via London 3.45 p.m.—Italian troops have captured Monte Cimon from the Austrians, says the official Italian statement issued to-day.

SETTLEMENT OF IRISH PROBLEM NOT IN SIGHT

Nationalist Members in the House Angry With Mr. Asquith.

DIFFERENCE ON TWO POINTS Premier Bluntly Asks Redmond If He Will Allow Opportunity to Pass.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 25.—(New York Times cable)—The Daily Chronicle's parliament correspondent writes: "The attempt to bring about a provisional settlement of the Irish problem has failed. After yesterday's happenings, it is obviously useless to proceed with the bill embodying the terms of the agreement. Passion and resentment were displayed by the Nationalist members during the discussion between Premier Asquith and Mr. Redmond at question time, and when the Nationalist leader moved the adjournment of the House, and the labor members and radicals rose together with the Irish to support it, their cheers had a note of fierceness that recalled the stormy days of the Irish agitation.

Unionists to Blame Says Redmond. "When Mr. Redmond began his speech in support of his motion the house was densely packed. He spoke with restraint and moderation, but with tremendous effort. Responsibility for the breakdown he throws on the Unionist members of the cabinet, particularly Lord Lansdowne. He succeeded in establishing that the cabinet have departed from the terms of the original agreement. He is willing still to stand by that agreement, but will oppose at every stage a bill deviating from it. At the end of his speech came a threat to oppose the government in the future and a scornful allusion to its vacillation and indecision not only in re-

German Paper Admits Country's Plight is Grave

Germany a Besieged Fortress, It Claims, and All Depends Upon Besiegers as to When End Will Come.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 25.—(New York Sun cable)—Grave admissions of Germany's plight is contained in a review of the war up to date in the Frankfurter Zeitung, which says in part: "Germany is a besieged fortress. Therefore everything depends upon the besiegers as to when an end will be made of the bloody work. That Germany will never haul down its flag we know very well; but our enemies do not know it. Yet the phrase 'holding out' is beginning to gain its real significance."

The paper concludes: "Europe has become a melting pot in which the nations are being tried for the true metal that is in them, and we know Germany has more of it than all the others."

Big Push is Not Yet; Coming Next Spring

Just Bleeding the Enemy Now, Says High British Official—Germany's Naval Losses Heavy, and They May Invade Denmark.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 25.—A Washington despatch to the Herald says: "In a letter just received here from a high official of the British Government, it is set forth that whatever comment the Germans make concerning the present allied drive in the western front, it now is only a temporary push. The real drive, it was said, will not come before April or May, 1917. "Bleeding the New Army." "It is a mistaken idea that this is the drive that will end the war." "It is the official. 'We are just blooding the new army, killing plenty of Germans in the effort and gaining ground. By next year we shall have a million or more seasoned men who will know what war is. Reports continue to reach me that the German losses in the great Jutland battle were far heavier than were reported. We are certain that they lost the Kaiser, and the Kronprinz, two of the newest super-dreadnoughts of the German Empire, which were built since the war began."

May Move on Denmark. There is at last a feeling in Germany among the working classes that they have been deceived by their rulers. Also I want you to remember this: "The Germans are ready for a movement on Denmark. There have been many outward symptoms of it. Don't forget Herr Ballin's words: "We don't mind how much gold we pay to Denmark, as we can always go and fetch it back whenever we wish to do so."

STEAMER GROUND

St. Johns, Nfld., July 25.—The Norwegian steamer Athos, from Bathurst N.B., for St. Nazaire, France, with lumber, put into Trepassy yesterday with her forepeak filled with water. She struck near Cape Race Sunday, but later floated and reached port without assistance.

MUNITIONS INSPECTOR DEAD

Kingston, July 25.—Patrick Tobin, Portmouth, aged 30, died in the Hotel Dieu after a short illness. For some time he had been inspecting shells in the munitions factory in Brockville, and on the 13th of July came home to pay a visit. While in the city he was taken seriously ill.

HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY IS TALKING AGAIN

Encourages His Soldiers to Fight Strongly Against the British.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 25.—A despatch from Bern, by way of Pontarlier, France, given out to-day by the Wireless press says: "Another speech by Emperor William, during his recent visit to the Somme front is being discussed in Berlin. The Emperor said: "Comrades! It is your special privilege to fight against the English which means that you are fighting against a nation that has sworn to defeat Germany. The English built up during the years before the war the combination of countries which at a given signal fell upon us, attacked the most peaceful and peace-loving people in the world. The English led us to believe they were our friends when they were actually plotting our destruction." "English diplomacy brought about the war and now an English offensive is intended to carry the operations to German soil, into our towns and villages, to the peril and undoing of our helpless women and children. Your duty is to break the English offensive; to prove once more that Germany is invincible, and reduce to despair the relentless enemies of our country that they will sue for peace on terms honorable and profitable to Germany." "From Conservative circles in Berlin comes the announcement that when the reichstag reassembles in the autumn an interpellation will be addressed to the imperial chancellor asking why inspiring speeches by the emperor at the front are withheld from general publication."

TROPICAL HEAT IN MONTREAL

By Special Wire to the Courier. Montreal, July 25.—Tropical conditions continue here and numbers of heat prostrations are reported daily. Thousands of men, women and children sleep in the parks every night. At noon to-day the thermometer registered ninety and was still rising. Last night Emile Desjardins, Develles avenue, fell unconscious at the corner of Notre Dame and Guy streets. He was removed to the Westmount hospital. M. Fortier, a farmer from Valleyfield, was overcome in St. James street. He was taken in an ambulance to the Notre Dame Hospital. A horse belonging to John Hirt, fell in the middle of the car track in front of 204 West St. Cathedral street yesterday. Street car traffic was held up for nearly half an hour while men worked trying to get the horse to his feet. The animal was too far gone, however, and died in a short time.

Medical Staff in Germany is Feeling Pinch

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 25.—The medical staff of the German army is feeling the effect of the British blockade in a shortage of necessary surgical supplies, according to Dr. Carl Eggers, a New York surgeon, who reached here to-day from Copenhagen aboard the Steamship United States. Dr. Eggers was a member of the American physicians' expedition to Germany that left here in April. The shortage, according to Dr. Eggers, consists mainly of rubber gloves, surgical catgut and plaster. The German submarine merchant fleet, of which the Deutschland is now in American waters, he added, is looked to as a means of relieving this shortage. "The work of the German surgeons has been remarkable," Dr. Eggers said. "There has been but few deaths resulting from neglected wounds."

The United States brought 396 passengers and some diplomatic mail.

VII.—Art and the Broncho

By O. HENRY

THE artist of the wilderness had come a painter. Genius whose coronations alone are democratic, had woven a chapter of chaparral for the brow of Lony Briscoe.

It was a picture of a cowboy on a rearing horse, the artist of the wilderness had come a painter. Genius whose coronations alone are democratic, had woven a chapter of chaparral for the brow of Lony Briscoe.

The painting—one might almost say panorama—was designed to portray a typical western scene. The artist of the wilderness had come a painter. Genius whose coronations alone are democratic, had woven a chapter of chaparral for the brow of Lony Briscoe.

Between two plastered pillars in the commodious hallway near the door of the chamber of representatives stood the painting. Citizens and lawmakers passed there by twos and groups and sometimes crowds to gaze upon it.

Senator Kinney and Mullens came to an understanding in the matter of irrigation and art while partaking of long lunches in the cafe of the Empire hotel.

"But you don't get the point," said Senator Mullens, "I have my doubts as to what the picture is intended to represent, a bullfight or a Japanese allegory, but I want this legislature to make an appropriation to purchase it."

"Say it again," said Kinney, leaning his head thoughtfully. "Of the old, original Lucien Briscoe?"

"Five hundred!" interrupted Kinney as he hammered on his glass for a lead pencil and looked around for a waiter.

On a March afternoon the lobby dashed with a whoop, into town. The cowpunchers had adjusted their garb suitably from that prescribed for the men of the town.

During the three days that yet intervened before the coming of the date fixed for the introduction of the bill, the centaur lobby did valiant service.

"Jud Shelby, while admitting the excellence of the scene, resolutely refused himself to open admiration of the landscape, to the end that the entire picture received its meed of praise."

They loafed in front of the painting with tireless zeal.

Infantile Paralysis Attacks Two Victims at Todmorden

Toronto, July 25.—Two cases of infantile paralysis have been discovered at Todmorden, northeast of the city, the victims being a two-year-old boy, named Thompson, and a three-year-old girl, named Tutton.

Like soap, which are usually given prisoners, even in jails, Dr. Taylor says are not given the prisoners at Ruhleben.

The report of Dr. Taylor says that the writer is satisfied the camp officials are aware of what can be done to better the conditions of the prisoners, but that they have not the authority to make the needed improvements.

Praises Mr. Gerard. The Daily Graphic, commenting editorially on Dr. Taylor's report, says:

"To his many humanitarian services the American ambassador, Mr. Gerard, has added another by remarkably outspoken letter descriptive of the miseries of British prisoners in Ruhleben. The letter makes painful reading. Its importance lies in the fact of its being the impartial report of a power still on friendly terms with Germany. What its effect may be on his own relations with the German government, Mr. Gerard clearly cares little. He is more concerned for the sufferers at Ruhleben than with placating the friendship of the nation to which he is accredited.

MUNITIONS AND BRAINS WILL SNATCH VICTORY FOR BRITISH

Lloyd George Declares in a Speech in the Commons That British Resourcefulness and Intelligence Will Vanquish an Apparently Irresistible Foe

London, July 25.—After a speech by Winston Spencer Churchill in the House of Commons yesterday, criticizing Premier Asquith for not reviewing the war situation, David Lloyd George, Secretary for War, replied, saying that it would be premature to survey a military situation and the prospects in the middle of a battle.

"The prospects are good," the War Secretary said, "our Generals are more than satisfied and proud of the valor of our men they are leading. Great as British infantry were in Wellington and Napoleon's day, they never have been greater than now. "One thrills with pride when one thinks one belongs to the same race. They are pressing back the formidable foe, who devoted his best brains to the study of war for generations. I feel confident that victory is assured to us." Continuing, Mr. Lloyd George said:

Learn Great Lesson.
"Numbers and all other resources are on our side. There was only one fear—that years of training and thought on the part of a great military power might be something that might be insuperable. Our men have demonstrated that it is not so and that British resourcefulness and intelligence are, as in fields of commerce in the past, when they have been able to snatch victory out of what appeared to be complete commercial disaster, going to snatch victory again in a few months from what appeared at one moment to be something that was invincible.

"There is no doubt at all that the lesson of this battle is that we have simply to press on with all our resources and with the material at our command, and victory will be ours."

CONDUCTOR KILLED,
FELL OFF HIS CAR.

Lost His Balance and Landed in Ditch Beside Track

Chatham, July 25.—George Clark, conductor on the Pain Court division of the C. W. and L. E. Railway, was killed about 10 o'clock last night when he fell from the rear platform of his car at a point where the railway tracks curve on to the Baldon Road. Definite information is not available, but it is presumed that Clark lost his balance and toppled from the car into a ditch at the side of the track. He died in a short time. Coroner Gray was called and an inquest will be opened in the morning. The deceased conductor lived on Poplar street. He was about 60 years of age and is survived by his widow and a grown-up family. He had been employed by the railway for the past five years and had worked for some time past as spare conductor and motorman.

Toronto, May 25.—Fifteen cases of infantile paralysis in Ontario have been reported to the Provincial Board of Health. There are three in Todmorden, one in Newmarket, four in Windsor, four in Ford, two in Walkerville and one in the Township of North Tilbury. It has come to the knowledge of Major J. W. S. McCullough, Chief Officer of Health, that in some instances physicians have not reported cases of infantile paralysis, as required by law. Warning is, therefore, given by the Provincial Board of Health that doctors who thus fail to comply with the provisions of the statute will find themselves summoned to the Police court to answer for their negligence.

PRINCESS PRESENTS COLOURS TO CANADIANS
At Kensington Gardens, on July 5th, the Princess Louise presented a silk banner and a silver shield to the Canadian troops, a gift from the women and children of the United Kingdom. Major-General Steele, Commander of the Canadians, is seen accepting the flag.

71ST BATTERY SENDS DRAFTS OVERSEAS

Any Man Wishing to Leave
Canada Quickly Advised to Join.

The 71st Battery stationed at St. Catharines, of which Lieut. Waterous is a representative, sent their first draft of 50 men overseas Thursday July 20th. As the battery is a depot battery, it is anticipated that another draft will be sent in the near future, so that any men who wish to leave Canada quickly will have an opportunity by joining the 71st battery. At present 50 more recruits are urgently needed to fill up the gap in the ranks caused by the departure of the draft. Men who join this unit are certain to find congenial company and those who wish to enlist in pairs or groups will be allowed to remain in the same sub-section to enjoy others company.

The unit expects to enter summer camp any day now, at Niagara-on-the-Lake, where horses will be supplied, that the men may have some instruction in one of the most important phases of artillery training, namely: horsemanship. Men who are familiar with and accustomed to horses are particularly needed and will have every chance to practice their skill. Mechanics and employed men such as cooks, tailors, saddlers and shoemakers are especially welcome. Any rammers, that men are being enlisted in the artillery to be later transferred to the infantry, are entirely without foundation. Once a man enters the service of the artillery, he remains a gunner or driver as long as he is capable of handling his work.

The artillery is divided into several branches from heavy artillery, the 3.2 howitzers, which hurl a 300 pound shell, to the trench mortar, a reversion of the type of bombard used as far back as the capture of Constantinople in 1453. The trench mortar is a small muzzle-loading gun which throws a shell a short distance. They are used in trench warfare for dropping shells into the centre of a trench which field artillery cannot do. They hurl shells weighing about 60 pounds which has fins on it to direct its flight and the course of the projectile can be plainly seen as it curves high into the air and lands in the Hun trenches, from which a loud boom can be heard as it explodes.

The field guns, the 18 pounders, are a wonderful piece of human invention, but it is claimed that the new gun which is now being brought into service at the front is much superior to the old one. The field artillery, of which branch the 71st battery is a representative, fire from concealed positions behind the cover of orchards and hedges and cannot be seen except from a very short distance. Some of these batteries are as far back as three thousand yards from the first line trenches and have been so well dug in that they have been in the same position for months without being discovered by the enemy.

The anti-aircraft gun is another branch of the artillery developed to combat the aeroplanes. The artillery has no walking to do as all men ride, the drivers on the horses and the gunners on the limbers. The course of training is varied and consequently does not become monotonous. There is always something new in the artillery. It is the scientific branch of the service, and new inventions are constantly brought into the service. As referred to above, a new gun is now being used in the field artillery, of which the 71st battery is a representative.

KYTE CHARGES A HELP TO ENEMY

Much Information Imparted
Says a British General.

Ottawa, July 25.—What a distinguished British general officer thinks of the recent fuse investigation which ended so disastrously for Messrs. Kyte and Carvell, is indicated in an extract from a letter he has sent to a member of the shell committee. He says: "What a sad exhibition of political rancour all this shell committee investigation has been. I cannot help thinking that action in the proper direction last year would have avoided it all. Quite apart from all other reasons for suppressing it, is the considerable amount of information given to the enemy of the condition of our supplies and it astonishes me that it should have been allowed to become public. "I hope you are well and that you have not been worried by the disgraceful attacks made on the members of the old committee than whom a more honest and patriotic body did not exist."

U. S. PURCHASE OF DANISH WEST INDIES COMING

Washington Expects Something Definite in the Near Future.

Washington, July 25.—Negotiations between the United States and Denmark for purchase of the Danish West Indies are understood to have reached a definite stage where some important development may soon become known. While the purchase has not been concluded, there were indications last night that some of the more formidable barriers to an agreement had been removed, giving the negotiations promise of a successful outcome.

It is understood that Denmark, feeling the pinch of war, desired to rid herself of the islands not only as a financial proposition, but to eliminate one troublesome element in maintaining her neutrality.

KEEP OUT THE WEEDS

Weeds unchecked will ruin the crop.
It isn't sufficient to plough and sow well in Spring and Fall and leave the rest to nature.

There are weeds to fight.

There are weeds in Business, too—weeds of competition and opposition—of public indifference from without, and of lack of enterprise from within—weeds that unchecked seriously retard business growth.

Cultivation is the only effective weed-killer. Keep cultivating and weeds never get a chance to thrive.

There is a combination plow and harrow, fertilizer and spray, for every business—an effective weed-killer that will keep out the weeds.

It is Advertising

It is not enough to plow and sow well with advertisements in Spring and Fall and leave the rest to human nature.

Human nature and the respect your customers bear you are not proof against the Summer weeds that can thrive on rest and apathy. You must keep busy in the hot weather—you must keep cultivating. Turn Summer dullness into activity by Summer Advertising. Plan Summer attractions and plant for a crop of Summer profits, and the Advertising cultivation will keep out the weeds.
