Body of Mrs. Blaine Recovered

The body of Mrs. A. C. Blaine, of Cranbrook, B. C., nee Lila B. Baker, was recovered on Monday afternoon after five weeks of searching, her body being identified by her rings only. The remains were interred in the Cranbrook cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

Deceased was born in Millgrove in 1887, but had been a resident of Waterdown and Hamilton before going to Cranbrook, B. C. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Besides her husband, two boys, six and eight years of age; her mother, Mrs. A. E. Baker, Waterdown; four sisters, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Fred Blessinger, Mrs. George Simmons and Mrs. Edward Johnson; and three brothers, Delmar, Cameron and Seymour, are left to mourn her demise.

John Prudham

Mr. John Prudham, one of our most highly respected citizens, passed away at his home here on Sunday evening last, after an illness of several months duration.

Mr. Prudham was born at Cumminsville, Halton county, December 25, 1859, a son of the late John Prudham, Sr. and Elizabeth Foster. As a youth he worked on his father's farm, and attending school at the same time. He began life early as a salesman for the old firm of J. O. Wisner & Son, of Brantford, selling drill machinery, and at the same time handling a line of rakes, mowers and binder twine for the A. Harris & Sons Co., also of Brantford. After the amalgamation of the above firms under the name of the Massey-Harris Co. Mr. Prudham came to Waterdown in 1890 as their local agent, retiring about a year ago.

As a salesman Mr. Prudham has had a most active and successful career. In 1889 he was awarded a gold watch and chain for selling the largest number of cultivators, and at another time was awarded a similar present for doing the largest volume of business with the least assistance. On his retirement from business he was remembered by the officials of the Massey-Harris Co. with a beautiful 78 piece silver cabinet as a token of their appreciation of his able and honorable service.

Mr. Prudham was married in 1890 to Miss Martha Tansley of Carlisle, who with one son, J. H. Prudham, of Galt, are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father.

The late Mr. Prudham has always been a thoroughly manly and upright in character, ever known as one of the substantial men of the community, honored for his unimpeachable business integrity, and beloved by all for his genial and kindly disposition.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon from his late home to Waterdown cemetery, a large number attending to pay a last tribute of respect. Services at the home and grave were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Poole. The pallbearers were F. W. Crooker, W. S. Griffin, E. Blagden, C. W. Dewitt, G. E. Horning and R. Armitage. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

The automobile industry is doing much for labor. It gives direct employment to about 2,000,000 people, besides doing considerably in the way of lessening the number of people wanting jobs.

Base Ball

(By the Sporting Editor)

The Waterdown Juniors are beginning to show real mid-season form taking Flamoro Centre into camp on Saturday last. Capt. Featherston again showing that he is there with the stuff on the little old pill, the Flamoro Tigers being unable to connect at all with his offerings. Baker for Flamoro is a hard boy to beat, but once he gets peeved he may as well be playing on the bench.

The teams are now tied for first place, and a battle royal can be looked for at their next meeting, which will be at Flamoro Centre, but if Featherston is right and the rest of the boys playing the ball that they can play, they should not worry about the outcome.

The seniors had a close call in the Wabasso game with the Hamilton Colts last Saturday. Nowstedt pitching for the W. A. A. having things a little too easy, and getting a little careless, walked four men—result, 4 runs, making the score 5 to 4. This is the best score and best game played up to date. The Waterdown team have always played their games from the front, they have yet to show how they can perform when playing behind. No doubt they can give a good account of themselves, as they have been playing errorless ball lately. Only three more games to win and they pass on to the semi-finals.

The score by innings.

The Juniors motored to Oakville on Thursday last and trimmed Jimmie Markle's Colts by a score of 9 to 6. Ribson getting a homer, but failed to touch all the bases, and was called out—Moral: touch all the bases, boys.

At the Glenwood Garden Party on Wednesday afternoon the Juniors walked off with all the honors, defeating the Millgrove Seniors by the score of 16 to 10, and the Dundas team 4 to 2.

What has happened to our Tennis club? The court stands partly finished, nothing further being done to it now for several weeks.

The Downey family, together with a large number of near relatives spent a pleasant afternoon on Saturday last picnicking at Wabasso Park. A lengthy program of sports had been arranged, and were keenly contested, especially the fat man's 100 dash, which was won by Mr. Frank Shadle in the fast time of 10 seconds. He was however given a tight run by Jacob Metzger, who, if he had not corked himself, would doubtless have won. An interesting game of ball was also played, and was umpired by Mr. John Kirk, Sr., whose decisions were disputed only 13 times. John says that this is the last time he will handle the indicator at a ball game. The score we believe was 1 to 0 in favor of the winning team.

A Substitute for Sugar

Numerous attempts have been made by politicians, scientists and others to solve the vexed question of the high cost of living. But the honor of doing so rightly belongs to one of Waterdown's bachelors, who anxious to make a name for himself and prove that he was the true friend of man, entertained a number of his bachelor friends at a luncheon the other evening.

It was at this social event that he discovered a substitute for sugar. Mine hoste spent money lavishly purchasing delicacies for the occasion. In fact the tables were fairly laden down with good things. The guests all being members of the Temperance society. Tea and water were the beverage employed to quench their thirst, tea being the favorite drink. Sugar was used unsparingly, in fact, it is said that one of the guests consumed three cups before detecting a peculiar bitter taste to the beverage. He at once entered a complaint, and then it was that mine host discovered that a frightful mistake had been made. Instead of placing, as he thought, sugar on the table, he had innocently substituted salts, with terrible results. We will here leave our readers to guess the rest.

Our advice to these bachelors is to get a wife. It is a well established fact that women are much better judges of sugar than men, and if they had one of them for a life partner, all danger of a re-occurrence of this terrible experience would be removed.

A visit to the office of one of the guests the next morning found that gentleman in anything but a happy frame of mind, and considerably under the weather. He vows to get even with the perpetrator of this fiendish trick. Christopher Columbus' discovery of America is not in it with this solution of the sugar situation.

Women's Institute to Meet

The Waterdown Women's Institute will meet in the Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon, August 4th at 2:30 o'clock. A good program has been arranged for that date. At the close of the Institute meeting the Community League will meet in the Parish Hall to transact important business, notice of which has been sent to all members. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

by the Edison Laboratories, and come in to hear the phonograph which stands behind it.

We have it in our store—the Official Laboratory Model specified in the challenge.

Read the "Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers." It's printed here, just as the Edison Laboratories sent it out.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Official Laboratory Model has proved its Realism in 4000 Comparison Tests, made before 3,500,000 people all over the United States and Canada. For instance, in Los Angeles recently, an audience of 1,500 people was unable to tell the difference between the living voice of Miss Marie Morrissey, world-famous contralto, and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

There's a way for you to test the wonderful Realism claimed for the Official Laboratory Model in this sweeping challenge. We give Mr. Edison's Realism Test. Come in and let us give it to you.

The price of the new Edison has advanced less than 15% since August 1, 1914. Mr. Edison has absorbed the bulk of the increased cost of material, skilled labor, and taxes. He is determined to keep the New Edison within the reach of everyone. But conditions may force a price-advance. Buy your New Edison now! Our Budget Plan makes it easy. It is system applied to spending. Ask about it.

A Historic Fugitive.

Peter Himadam has surrendered after evading capture by the police for nearly fourteen years. This Indian, with his brother-in-law, Simon Gun-a-Noot, was "wanted" for the murder of Alex. McIntosh and Max Leclair near Kispiox on June 19, 1906, but the authorities never laid their hands on the elusive native. Gun-a-Noot surrendered a few months ago and was acquitted after trial in Vancouver, so that Himadam is not taking any great chances in coming in now as the evidence against his brother-in-law was admittedly stronger than against him. It is doubtful if the crown will carry the case beyond the preliminary stages. Until he walked into Hazelton a few days ago, Peter had been out of touch with civilization since that fateful June morning, he says. He lived in the northern wilderness, supporting himself by trapping, trading his skins and furs with friendly Indians for food and clothing.

An Actor In Khaki.

A good story is told of a young actor enlisted in Canada, and in his difficulty what was more natural than that he should turn to his profession for help, for he had been trained with the greatest actors in the land. He practiced in seclusion, and one day, when his trained recruits had been drafted and a new catch had appeared, he strode to the job in the full panoply of the Cockney drill sergeant, pungent with the wit and wisdom of the Mile End Red. He never had a greater success in any part, and if his points were not applauded they were promptly erased.

Oil-Burning Locomotives.

Oil-burning locomotives are now used in twenty-one states, on fifty-three railroads and on 32,000 miles of track in this country. They consume 12,000,000 barrels of oil yearly.

Carrying a Load.

Many a man who objects to carrying a bundle home from a dry goods store goes home from his club loaded.

TWO FAMOUS GRAVES.

Charles O'Malley Is Buried In Toronto Cemetery.

Two graves of special literary interest are to be found in Canada, each linking us up with the British Isles. One is to be seen in the Necropolis, in Toronto, where rests the dust of the original of Lever's Charles O'Malley. The covering is an unique one—a coffin-shaped stone of Irish granite, decorated at the corners with shamrocks beautifully worked in relief. It bears the following inscription, now nearly undecipherable:

"Francis Gettias Keogh Cohortis XXIX. Dux Obi. Jan. 19. MDCCCLIV. Aetatis suae lx."

Keogh, as an officer in an Irish regiment, is said to have had such a remarkable series of experiences that Lever utilized them as his famous character in the rattling and rollicking story of "Charles O'Malley," in which, according to a Saturday Reviewer, "pistol shots circulated as freely as claret, the one being generally a consequence of the other." Keogh retired from the army and went to the United States after the book appeared, living with friends in Buffalo. A then resident of Toronto, Matthew Codd, took a deep interest in Keogh, either from a personal knowledge of the family, or knowing that he was the original of the O'Malley character. When Keogh fell ill in Buffalo, Codd had him brought to Toronto, where he died, and was buried in the Codd plot.

This reminder of Lever recalls the visit of the novelist to Canada, when he walked through the streets of Quebec, clad in moccasins and feathers, in addition to his ordinary attire.

The other grave of literary interest happens to be in Quebec.

In the historic Protestant Cemetery adjoining St. Matthew's Church, is the tomb of Thomas Scott, the oldest brother of Sir Walter.

Many references to his brother, Thomas, occur in the various "Lives and Letters" of the Knight of Abbotsford. During his school days in Edinburgh Thomas acted as guardian of his younger and physically weaker brother, and they stood side by side in the scraps that marked Scottish high school life late in the eighteenth century. After recounting one of these boyish adventures Sir Walter wrote: "Of five brothers, all healthy and promising, in a degree far beyond one whose infancy was visited by personal infirmity, and whose health after this period seemed long very precarious, I am, nevertheless, the only survivor. The best-loved, and the best deserving to be loved, died before his day in a distant and foreign land."

The "distant and foreign land" was Canada, where Thomas Scott was stationed, in Quebec, as paymaster of the 70th Regiment.

It will be remembered that Thomas was for long thought to be the author of the Waverley Novels. One of Sir Walter's letters to "My dear Tom" reads: "I cannot acquiesce in your plan of settling in Canada. Should you remain there, you must consider your family as settlers in that state, and as I cannot believe that it will remain very long separated from America, I should almost think this equal to depriving them of the advantages of British subjects." Sir Walter was certainly no prophet in this matter. Thomas ended his days in the distant colony, as a British subject, and his tomb is one of the many interesting links between the Mother Country and her Western daughter.

No Apples for Australia.

That the Australian embargo will prevent the importation by Australia of any apples from British Columbia this year is the word contained in a cable received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from D. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Melbourne. Mailed advices from Mr. Ross, just received, explain that in a recent interview the Commonwealth Minister of Commerce expressed a desire to maintain the established trading connections between Canada and Australia, but the Minister held out but little prospect of the embargo being lifted during 1918. Mr. Ross says that up to the time of writing not a single case of Australian apples had been exported, apart from a contract made with the Imperial authorities for 1,800 tons of evaporated apples.

That Is the Question.

A Calgary lady has brought suit against that corporation for damages allegedly done a fashionable walking dress through tar oozing from the pavement. The defence naturally raises the question how a fashionable walking dress could come in contact with the pavement.

Fish Safe on Sundays.

Under the direction of the Lord's Day Alliance, prosecutions are being initiated at Fiesherston against visitors who are unaware that in Ontario it is a crime to fish on Sundays.

Not at Athens.

There will be no exhibit by Canadian manufacturers at the Athens Fair this year. It has been decided the notice was too short for anything but a Canadian Government exhibit, but arrangements are being made between the Government and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for future exhibits to be made at short notice in connection with the Dominion's bid for European trade.

Ten Commandments That Should Be Remembered

The Canadian Reconstruction Association urges observance of the following "Ten Commandments for Canadian Trade" as a means towards a safer trade situation and the development of Canadian resources:

1. Buy Canadian products. In doing so, you develop the home market, encourage factory expansion, provide employment for new populations, and create bigger and better markets for all kinds of farm products.

2. Import only necessities, and then only if similar Canadian articles or substitutes are not available.

3. Produce to the limit in field and factory. Increased production means new wealth, and is essential to the success of any effort to reduce imports and promote export trade.

4. Co-operate, conserve, specialize, standardize. These are the means to maximum production of high quality goods at minimum cost.

5. Develop export markets. Foreign business gives stability to trade, it reduces unit costs, benefits domestic consumers, gives employment to factories and workers in times of depression, and corrects adverse exchange by improving the trade balance.

6. Utilize Canadian services. Ship by Canadian carriers through Canadian ports. Patronize Canadian railways, Canadian steamships, and Canadian banks. Place insurance in Canadian companies. Employ Canadian architects, engineers, scientists, and other experts. Spend vacations in Canada.

7. Manufacture raw materials to final stages in Canada. Hundreds of millions of dollars are lost annually to the Dominion, and especially to Canadian wage-earners, by the exportation of raw materials and semi-manufactured products.

8. Use science for the determination and development of natural resources. Industrial research will reveal new wealth, improve industrial processes, and help to relieve our economic dependence upon outside sources for fuel, iron and other essentials.

9. Make quality the hall-mark of Canadian products. In return for public support of the home market, Canadian manufacturers should provide products that compare favorably with imported goods, and Canadian workers should recognize good workmanship and maximum production as their standards.

10. Be fair to capital. Canadian money should be encouraged to invest at home, and foreign capital attracted to promote Canadian industrial expansion.

Ontario's Minerals.

A drop of $25,000,000 in Ontario's metallic mineral production during 1919 is the feature of a preliminary report for the year issued by the Bureau of Mines. The value of metals produced during the twelve months amounted to $41,510,000, compared with $66,178,059 for the preceding twelve months. A scrutiny of the details of the statement, however, shows that the reduction is accounted for almost entirely by the small production of silver, nickel and copper matte, and the reduction in the market value of the latter metals. The falling off in the output of silver was compensated for to some extent by the high prices, but even at that, the value of the mines' output was, roughly, $4,500,000 below that of 1918.

Metallic nickel was produced to a much greater extent and provided an increase of nearly two million dollars in value.

While silver production in Ontario continues to decrease, even with the treating of low-grade ores made possible by high prices, the gold mining industry continues to grow. The 1919 output of 505,963 ounces, worth $10,451,688, was the largest to date. Ontario is rapidly becoming a great gold producing province, the output last year being greater than that of any other province or any state of the American Union, with the exception of California.
