

INVESTIGATIONS WILL BE THOROUGH.

Coroner's Jury and Company Enquiring Into the Accident at Grimsby Crossing.

A thief was the indirect cause of the Grimsby disaster early on Saturday morning, when the Grand Trunk express crashed into a slight load of people, returning from a dance at Winona, hurrying five to their death.

The Times to-day received the following despatch from its Grimsby correspondent: Further particulars of the awful catastrophe took place on the ill-fated Grimsby crossing of the Grand Trunk on Saturday morning, are afloat through, little by little.

HAMMERED TO DEATH.

Awful Fate of Mother and Daughter at Seattle.

Murdered and Their Bodies Thrown Into Water in Bathroom.

Husband and Father Also Found in Bath Drowned.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18.—With their heads submerged in water in a bath room of their room, W. L. Seelye, an attorney, his wife and daughter, Miss Rene, were found yesterday by E. W. Zibbell and Guy M. Smeizer.

Mrs. Seelye and her daughter had been murdered with blows inflicted with some blunt instrument, believed to have been a hammer.

Mr. Seelye and his family came here more than a year ago from St. Joseph, Mo. Previous to that time they lived in Ottawa, Ill., where Mr. Seelye was deputy United States marshal and a bank examiner during the administration of Cleveland.

Seelye was an uncle of M. F. Coe, of Pomeroy, recently appointed by the Governor to the Washington Supreme Court bench. He has a brother, Charles, at Pomeroy, Wash., and another, Frank, at Hood River. Charles discredited a story that his brother was in financial straits by saying that recently he had received $8,000 from the settlement of his father's estate.

Yesterday morning Smeizer and Zibbell, who discovered the bodies, went to the Seelye home determined to find out what was the matter. They tried the doors and windows, and finally climbed over a transom of the back door and got into the house.

An empty chloroform bottle was on the stand in the bath room. Clutched in one hand of Seelye, which was beneath the water, was a pocket handkerchief, which, although soaked in water, still carried a faint trace of the odor of chloroform.

ginal intention, on account of a couple of the horse blankets having been stolen. The Grand Trunk flyer was three minutes late when it reached the crossing. A strong gale was blowing from the east, and, being enveloped in smog, as the party were, the approaching train bore down on them unobserved or unseen, until the train had started to cross. Then, Wilson, when too late, tried to pull the animals sideways, to the east, in an endeavor, no doubt, to avoid the full force of impact on the centre of the sleigh. That it was struck and hurled while at an angle, is borne out by the direction in which the bodies of the killed were found.

The day crossing watchman's little house stands to the east, and some feet back from the roadway, and against this, three, at least, of the bodies must have been crushed, the gashes being all in and around the heads, as if by force of impact. Nothing much remained by Saturday noon, in the vicinity of the accident, to show that five people not many hours previously had met a terrible fate.

CREW LOST?

Newfoundland Fishing Vessel Wrecked—Where is Crew?

New York, Jan. 18.—When daylight today came to the assistance of the life-savers who were patrolling the beach east of Fire Island, searching for the bodies of the crew of the Newfoundland fishing schooner Swallow, which was beaten to pieces early yesterday on the treacherous sands in that neighborhood, the hull of the wrecked fisherman, or what was left of it, was made out a mile west of Oak Island.

It is believed that the storm would have made escape from the diminutive craft impossible for the men on board of her. The fisherman was loaded with salt herring, which she was bringing from Newfoundland to New York.

WELLAND.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Welland, Jan. 18.—It has been learned from the Welland Realty Company that building will be commenced on five new factories in the spring.

Fight With Sailors.

Villefranche, Jan. 18.—Three American sailors from the battleships at present in Villefranche Harbor had an encounter this morning with a gang of local ruffians. A party of three comrades came to their rescue before anybody was seriously hurt, and by the time the police arrived four out of the five assailants were prisoners in the hands of the blue-jackets.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION WILL ENQUIRE ABOUT FOREIGNERS.

The regular weekly meeting of the Hamilton Ministerial Association was held this morning in the board room of Centenary Church.

Communications were received from the Montreal Protestant Ministerial Association and the general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, asking the association to unite with them in an effort to get Thanksgiving Day held on Thursday instead of Monday.

A resolution was passed approving of the request for a reduction of licenses, and the president, Rev. Richard Whiting, was appointed to appear before the Markets Committee to-night in support of the resolution.

Rev. T. H. Henderson read a paper on "The Means of Church Extension." The two great means he specified as a holy living of the members of the church and the power of the holy spirit.

Professor Orr, of Glasgow, Scotland, will speak on April 12 before the association.

George Hurst was fined $10 and costs or 21 days on charges of being drunk and committing wilful damage in breaking doors at his boarding house.

Edward Burke, 73 John street north, and Joseph McDonald, Ancestor, were fined $2 for being drunk on Saturday.

It is expected that Crown Attorney Washington will receive the extradition warrant for B. B. Bond from the Minister of Justice to-day, and in that event Detective Jacobs will take Bond back as a prisoner this evening on the 8 o'clock train for Buffalo, arriving in Nashville to-morrow evening.

The $8,000 taken from the prisoner, and which was held by the local police, was handed over to Mr. Randolph Curroll, the cashier of the First National Bank of Nashville, on the occasion of his last trip up here, and the expenses of the lawyers in the case were settled by the bank.

A pastoral letter from His Lordship Bishop Dowling was read yesterday in the Catholic churches of the Hamilton Diocese, announcing that a special collection would be taken up at all the masses next Sunday for the Italian earthquake sufferers.

AN AGED WOMAN FATALLY BURNED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tulk the Victim, and Her Daughter is Seriously Injured.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tulk, 80 years of age, was probably fatally burned this morning at her home, 168 Jackson street east, while her daughter was also badly burned trying to smother with rugs the flames in which the old lady's body was enveloped.

Mrs. Turk is at her home under the care of Dr. Sullivan and is in a critical condition, largely due to shock and collapse, and her daughter is under the care of Dr. Sullivan, but has a good chance to recover as she is not suffering so severely from shock.

Mrs. Turk was in her room at about 10 o'clock this morning and was standing with her back to a small "jumbo" coal stove which was in the centre of the room. The sides of this stove were red hot and suddenly the old lady's dress caught fire. The flames spread quickly and the first Mrs. Tulk knew of her predicament was when the fire scorched her head and face. She rushed out of her room screaming and ran downstairs. Her daughter ran to the foot of the stairs alarmed by her mother's screams and she saw the awful plight of the old lady. With great presence of mind and courage she grabbed her mother and rolled her in some floor rugs and tramped the blaze out, but in smothering the flames her own clothing took fire and her face was badly burned, also partly of her body scorched.

Neighbors were called in and sent for Dr. Sullivan. He at once set about relieving the pain of the burns.

This afternoon Dr. Sullivan stated to the Times that Mrs. Tulk's chances of recovering were very slim as in addition to some severe superficial burns she was almost unconscious from collapse brought on by the shock of her nerves when she saw the flames around her and felt them scorching her flesh.

Mrs. Turk is eighty-five years of age and is the widow of the late John Tulk. She has lived for many years at the house at 168 Jackson street and her daughter works at a dress-making establishment in the city.

MRS. WM. WILSON, Who also lost her life without a moment's warning.

SAID TRADE WAS A FRAUD.

Woman Found Guilty of False Pretence This Morning.

And the Magistrate Will Think the Case Over.

Boarder Fined For Breaking Doors at Landlord's House.

Ruben Rosenhead, who conducts a tailor shop and clothes cleaning establishment at Cannon and James streets, has been stung on several deals. He is the man who bought a half share in "Bitter Hand," the famous race horse, from a man who did not own it.

He was also complainant in the police court against a farmer who sold him a layer of good peaches on top of a basket which was full of peels underneath.

On Saturday afternoon Detective Couter served a summons on Ruben's wife, charging her with obtaining a cutter from the McLaughlin Canning Co. by false pretences.

At court this morning W. T. Evans appeared for Mrs. Rosenhead and, pleading not guilty, elected to be tried by the magistrate.

Bert Axon, of the complainant firm, said that in the fall Mrs. Rosenhead called and wanted to have a cutter she got a year ago exchanged for a new one as it was too low to drive her horse in.

He said he knew nothing of any deal of this kind, and she went away. At the time the firm held her husband's note for $30, and had received from the first cutter $23 cash in addition to the note.

W. Gage corroborated this. Mr. Gage, a former agent of the company, said that Rosenhead proposed the trade to him some time ago, and he said the firm might trade for a cash consideration. Axon was recalled, and said that Mrs. Rosenhead called last Monday and said she had arranged to get a new cutter, costing $60, for the old one and $5 in cash. He took her word for it, and gave her the new cutter and took the $5 cash and the $5. Later he found that this deal had not been authorized, and an information was laid, charging Mrs. Rosenhead with getting the cutter by fraud.

Mrs. Rosenhead told the same story to the court that she told to the clerk at the show rooms. Her husband corroborated the story.

His Worship found Mrs. Rosenhead guilty, but as the prosecution and defence were so highly differed the magistrate decided to think the matter over till to-morrow morning to decide upon the punishment. He advised the defendant in the meantime to pay the crown attorney's fee and set things right with the carriage company.

George Hurst was fined $10 and costs or 21 days on charges of being drunk and committing wilful damage in breaking doors at his boarding house.

Edward Burke, 73 John street north, and Joseph McDonald, Ancestor, were fined $2 for being drunk on Saturday.

PANAMA CANAL.

U. S. Government Suing N. Y. Papers For Criticising It.

New York, Jan. 18.—The nature of the proceedings which have been instituted against the New York World by the Indianapolis News because of their criticisms of the method by which the purchase of the Panama Canal was purchased, was not disclosed in the brief hearing in court here to-day. Acting under instructions believed to have been issued by authority of U. S. Government, U. S. District Attorney Stimson had subpoenaed Wm. B. McLaughlin, sporting editor of the World, and J. Angus Shaw, Secretary of the Press publishing company, to testify before a federal grand jury to-day in an action which was not described in the subpoenaes. It was believed, however, to be the outcome of President Roosevelt's message to congress, in which he protected against the linking of the name of Chas. F. Taft, brother of the President-elect, and J. Douglas Robinson, the president's brother-in-law, in criticism of the canal purchase.

The proceedings were halted by an order obtained by counsel for the World's editor calling upon Mr. Stimson to show cause why the subpoenaes should not be quashed.

A GIRL IN A THOUSAND

"Well, what's in the wind, anyhow—scintillating on the day you're going to be married?" "Ah, that's no joke at all, my dear boy. All in good time, you know. But I'm afraid the hour has come to say au revoir."

He even wondered what this Odell might be like, and some absurd phantoms rushed into his mind again. Miss Madge perhaps had a history—many women have, especially when possessed of so much beauty; it was not an utter absurdity that she might even have been married, and, bitterly repenting the step, endeavored to keep the imbrication of a husband at a distance, since he inspired her only with disgust.

At any rate, he meant to remember that name, and, perhaps, at some future time, spring it upon the lady in question, and watch results. So he quitted the guest-book and turned his eyes upon the night clerk.

VIENNA'S EPIDEMIC. Children Under Five Years of Age the Principal Victims. Vienna, Jan. 17.—A malignant epidemic of spinal paralysis, which affects children, and is called poliomyelitis, has broken out here. The children attacked are mostly under five years of age. They are suddenly seized with a high fever and delirium. The following day they are unable to move their hands and feet. Massage and treatments of electricity sometimes bring relief in a week, but often the limbs remain paralyzed and the muscles atrophy and the children are doomed to be cripples for life.

BLACK HEATH WOMEN. The Black Heath branch of the Women's Institute held its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday, January 13, at Bramble Farm, the home of Mrs. Thomas Gawley. Although there was a true frosty January atmosphere, the good sleighing and the musical interest brought out a crowd of twenty-five. The vice-president occupied the chair, and the meeting opened by all joining heartily in "Best Be the Tie That Binds."

SURPRISED THEIR PASTOR. On Friday evening, January 15th, about forty people from Rock Chapel appointment took advantage of the sleighing, and visited the Methodist parsonage at Tapscott, spending a very pleasant evening with their pastor, Rev. H. Brand, and his family. After enjoying refreshments, which they brought in their well filled baskets, they entered heartily into the entertainment, consisting of a variety of games, music and singing. Before leaving Mr. W. H. Van-Duzer expressed the sentiments of the visitors about their delightful evening spent. Mr. Brand reciprocated, and hoped it would not be the last event of the sort. The relation of the pastor and his people is most pleasant and cordial.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT. Mrs. Jones—carefully counting the contents of her husband's envelope! I see your five cents this week; what did you do with it, sir? Mr. Jones—Well—er—I spent it for a glass of beer. Mrs. Jones—Don't lie to me, sir. I know the truth at last. You were playing the races.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

MONDAY, JAN. 18, 1909.

EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW.

In his address on taking the chair as President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Champ had something to say on the relations of capital and labor, and his remarks were so reasonable and pointed that they should be taken into consideration not only by employers and employed, but by the lawmakers of the country whose duty it is to provide for enforcement of the principles of equity, regardless of a man's wealth or station.

Mr. Champ freely concedes the reasonableness of the law permitting the association of workmen for their protection and the promotion of their interests. It is not to be denied that there have been, and are likely always to be, employers who are not willing to be employed, but by the lawmakers of the country whose duty it is to provide for enforcement of the principles of equity, regardless of a man's wealth or station.

Perhaps nobody will challenge the statement that the limit of concessions which associated employers, or associated employees, should be permitted to force from the other, should not exceed the terms which a perfectly moral and considerate single employer or employee would give freely as a matter of pure justice as between man and man in individual bargaining. To demand more would be to seek to do injustice. Right is not to be sought to do injustice. Right is to be sought to do justice.

That the truth of this has been generally felt is shown by the carelessness with which we have built up a system of laws hedging about associations of capital, and placed limitations upon it. For it is well to get rid of the foolish idea that we "create corporations" for the benefit of the man whose money is employed therein. The law forces incorporation upon them, in order that they may be directed, restricted and regulated in the interests of the general public. Now, if we require of capital, as a set-off for granting it the legal powers which association gives, that it incorporate and submit itself to the laws which society finds to be beneficial, why should associations of labor not also be required to incorporate and shoulder their share of responsibility, as well as exercise wide powers? Is it not reasonable that responsibility should go with power?

That is the question which Mr. Champ asks; and it is one that should be asked by every man who seeks the well-being of his country. It would be intolerable to deny workmen the right to associate, while we permit capital to do so. It is no less unjust to compel capital to assume great responsibilities and submit to stringent regulations, while labor exercising all the power which association gives is not required to submit to the control of society, is exempted from incorporating or assuming any responsibility for its associated acts, and is subject to practically no legal regulations.

The situation is not unlike what results from despotism. A benevolent despotism may work well; but it is ever a source of danger. To-morrow it may not be benevolent; then it is harmful, unjust. No one will contend that much good has not accrued to labor by association; no one will deny that it has not prevented and undone wastes, although many times and oft by wasteful and unscientific means. But few will have the hardihood to say that it has never committed excesses; that it has invariably administered equity. As a fact, untrammelled, it shows the same errors, weaknesses and injustices as unrestrained capital would show. Human nature is much the same whether in factory or office.

It is this anomalous condition that Mr. Champ would improve. He would not destroy or injure the labor machine; far from that, he would add a balance wheel and governor as aids to its usefulness and permanency. In the course of his remarks he had something to say, too, about the influence of agitators from without our country, and the too-little-recognized variation in the capacity of workmen in some lines. Perhaps the former danger would be lessened if Canadian labor organizations asserted their Canadianism and freely showed their good faith by seeking incorporation and accepting responsibility commensurate with their powers. The latter will come—must come in time; the better men will not always be content to occupy the lower level. And when labor accepts Mr. Champ's advice and takes its proper and proper place, it will probably not find much difficulty in having its label legally recognized.

in those resorting to it. The case is not made a whit better by the suggestion that the Cataract Company may be allowed to present its side of the matter to these aldermen of the secret conference. The question affects the bona fides of the aldermen and the proper way of doing public business; it is not one between the Cataract Company and the Hydro-Electric agents. Under Mayor Stewart establishing and causing would have created no astonishment; but it was hoped that the day of better things—of Hamilton first—had come, and that the council of 1909 would eschew all that sort of thing. It is so far satisfactory that Mayor McLaren feels constrained to disclaim calling the secret meeting; and it is to be hoped that confidence in the new council will not again be so rudely shaken. Perhaps, indeed, some of the aldermen at the secret conference may not even have understood how they were being "used" by the Hamilton interests in the plot. The least they can do, however, is to disown and repudiate the plotters and their works and seek to retrieve the situation by declaring against such machinations and for the transaction of all business affecting the city as a council and not as groups of partisans or tools of other agencies. No hole-and-corner meetings; no cliques and secret caucuses. Honor demands that much.

Perhaps nobody will challenge the statement that the limit of concessions which associated employers, or associated employees, should be permitted to force from the other, should not exceed the terms which a perfectly moral and considerate single employer or employee would give freely as a matter of pure justice as between man and man in individual bargaining. To demand more would be to seek to do injustice. Right is not to be sought to do injustice. Right is to be sought to do justice.

HISTORY OF CANADIAN JOURNALISM.

To commemorate the jubilee of the Canadian Press Association; that body has published a handsome volume of 208 pages, entitled, "History of Canadian Journalism." Recorder of history itself up till now there has been no attempt, in any adequate way, to preserve the historical facts connected with the press of Canada, and this work of the Association will accordingly be all the more prized and all the more valuable. While giving a very complete sketch of the rise and progress of the Press Association, the volume does not stop there, but in special articles, deals in an interesting way with the press of the country, past and present. It contains contributions from Mr. Goldwin Smith (formerly a vice-president of the Association) Mr. J. W. Bengough, Mr. John Reade, F. R. S. C., Montreal, Mr. J. E. B. McCready, Charlottetown; Mr. Arthur Wallis, Toronto; Mr. Robert Sellar, Hamilton; Mr. J. P. Robertson, Winnipeg; Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, Toronto; Mr. R. E. Gosnell, Victoria; and Mr. J. K. McInnes, Regina. Mr. Sellar's reminiscences of the Toronto press, raise the late Mr. Gordon Brown, of the Globe, brother of the late Hon. Geo. Brown, to his proper place as a newspaper man. Contrary to the general belief, Mr. Sellar gives Gordon the principal credit for making the Globe the leading newspaper in Canada. He was who, by his energy, made it not only a great political paper, but also made it a "newspaper," leading all the competitors in those days in the matter of news. His brother, the Hon. George, spent little time, we are told, in the office. His energies were principally employed in the political field, leaving the newspaper work to his brother Gordon. Of Goldwin Smith, the book speaks almost lovingly, as a great newspaper writer and as a man who has conferred an honor upon Canada by his residence within its borders.

The Association was organized in Kingston in 1850. Mr. William Gillespie, then proprietor and editor of the Hamilton Spectator, being the chief figure in its formation. As a somewhat peculiar coincidence, it may be mentioned that the late editor of the Spectator, Mr. J. Robson Cameron, was not only not a member of the Association, but he from time to time attacked it in bitter terms, and took delight in holding it up to the ridicule of the public. The late Mr. J. C. Buchanan, city editor of the Hamilton Times, was for three years Secretary-Treasurer of the Association. In 1875 the Association met in Hamilton, President Hough in the chair. At the close, the record states that "The party were entertained by Mr. John Eastwood, of the Times. They also went to the house of Mr. George Tackett, where Mr. Somerville, (Mr. James Somerville, then of the Dundas Banner) made a happy speech. The visited Hon. Isaac Buchanan at "Auchmar," and Mr. James Turner at "Highfield." The book is copiously illustrated with full page engravings of Goldwin Smith, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and Wm. Gillespie founder of the Canadian Press Association, and half-dozen photographs of editors like Messrs. Wilson, Pense, Blackett Robinson, Geo. Pottallo, Dr. Dewar, J. T. Clark, R. V. Somerville, T. H. Preston, Wm. Buckingham, H. P. Moore, M. A. James, Col. J. B. MacLean, John A. Cooper, Robert Holmes, W. S. Dingman, D. McGillicuddy, H. J. Pettipiece, J. S. Brierley, Wm. Watt, C. D. Barr, the late John Cameron, E. Jackson and many others.

Orders for the book may be sent in care of John R. Bone, Secretary Canadian Press Association, Daily Star, Toronto. The price is $2 a copy, postage 15 cents extra.

The fact that one new senator has already been appointed from Ontario, and that the three remaining vacancies are to be filled from Nova Scotia and Manitoba does not look hopeful for Hamilton getting a senator immediately. The blunder made by placing partisanship before the city's interests, and sending two "wooden men" to represent us in the popular house was a very serious one. And the business men who have to deal with Government matters realize it keenly.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A man named Thorogood has been sentenced at Owen Sound for bigamy. "Thorogood" seems to be a misnomer.

Arguments which sink deeply into the public mind are being furnished daily for the abolition of the deadly level crossing.

Now, Messieurs Aldermen, are you a Council sworn and devoted to Hamilton, or will you be an aggregation of calblers? It is early in the year yet. Choose ye!

Senator Kerr has been chosen as the new Speaker for the Senate. The choice is a good one. Senator Kerr is by training well qualified to discharge the duties of the position.

The inquest into the Grimsby disaster will be held on Wednesday afternoon, when a searching inquiry will be made into the cause of the fatality. Until then it will be well to defer conclusions on the subject.

City Engineer Rust, of Toronto, declares that Toronto is "the dearest place in Canada in which to live." It is probably right. And Toronto's civic government is making sure that it will be a still dearer place in which to live.

The British torpedo-boat destroyer, Tartar, steaming under actual war conditions, made over 38 knots an hour. That, in the language of the street, is "going some." The marine knot is 6,080 feet. The Tartar, therefore, made over 43 1/2 miles an hour.

If "Saturday Night's" argument for the restoration of the "n" in "honor" means anything, it is that it fancies the "Frenchified" form would lead Canadians to be more moral—more scrupulously honest. But we hardly think any such "cool" idea ever entered the writer's noddle.

Partisans of ex-Mayor Stewart who boast that he is still as good as head of the Council exhibit as little understanding of Mayor McLaren as they do respect for propriety. His Worship is not to be made the creature of Stewart or any other man.

According to the United States Government statistics, Uncle Sam's immigration and emigration reports show an excess of the latter for the year ending Oct. 31st, resulting in a net loss of population of 46,756. How happy some people should be by these figures!

The Standard Oil suit is likely to make a record for costliness. It is estimated that it has already absorbed nearly $10,000,000. What a snap for the lawyers! No wonder their feelings are divided between the rich United States Government and the not-so-rich Oil Trust!

Frank Law, the mining broker, charged with conspiracy to defraud the public in connection with the flotation of the stock of the "Highland Mary" and other mines, has been found guilty by the jury. An appeal will be taken on his behalf, it being alleged that the Attorney-General's Department had promised him immunity as the price of giving evidence against another.

The Dominion Parliament will open on Wednesday next, and the members are already beginning to gather at Ottawa. Old suits are being aired to get rid of their scent of moth balls, and "plugs" of the vintage of 1890 are being polished up or exchanged for new ones. The Government has the programme of the session well advanced, and there will be no excuse for the members delaying business and lengthening the session.

The numerous Hamilton friends of Mr. J. Alfred Goodearie, the popular general manager of the Turbine Steamship Co., will be glad to know that they will be no change as far as his position is concerned by the steamboat merger, in which Mr. John C. Eaton controls the Hamilton-Toronto boat lines. Mr. Goodearie is a gentleman of wide experience and very capable, has a splendid record as a business getter, and is well thought of in marine and other circles.

Laymen have no right to assume to superior knowledge of the law than the judges on the bench, but it is not improbable that Justice Tetterton's decision in that Grest-Pottery case will lead many to readily agree that "the law is an ass." An allegation made at a public meeting and spread broadcast throughout the country represents a man as seeking to induce an official to become a party to violating the ballot box. Under the law, we are now told no crime has been imputed, therefore, if the statement was false no slander was uttered! Perhaps Col. Pottery was just throwing a rose-scented bouquet of compliments at Mr. Grest!

Old Country Storm. (English Exchange). The snowstorm was the worst experienced since 1881, and the present generation has never before seen such scenes in the streets of London. One remarkable feature of the storm was that no corner of the three kingdoms escaped. It is estimated that the snowfall varied from between fifty and 150 tons an acre, and it was accompanied by the lowest temperature on record. Snow plows in many country districts were absolutely useless, so deep were the drifts. In Scotland trains were literally buried in the snow, and passengers experienced great hardship and inconvenience. The blizzard was followed by a day of intense darkness.

OUR EXCHANGES.

Tied Up. (Toronto Star). Meanwhile the busy guessers who are selling the Intercolonial had better look the thing up and see if it isn't tied up with the British, North America Act.

The Frost. (Galt Reporter). The frost is down about two feet, eighteen inches. Last year at this time the earth was frozen to a depth of five feet.

Whip Him. (London Advertiser). Justice Magee advocates the lash for the wife-beater. There would be simple justice in treating the wife-beater just as he treats his wife.

More Trouble. (Toronto News). A woman in England proved that she was old enough for a pension by producing a bundle of old love letters. Hitherto love letters have been kept only for sentimental and breach of promise case reasons. Thus do old age pensions add a new terror to life.

Law's Fate. (London Free Press). The conviction of Frank Law, the Toronto mining broker, is a telling blow at the practice which has made some crafty men suddenly rich and that at the same time has harmed legitimate Cobalt trading. If Law goes to the penitentiary for a few years at least, his victims are not likely to lament.

Paid Their Share. (Bramford Expositor). The Toronto Telegram would exclude Bramford and Hamilton from the power union because they "have not borne the burden and heat of the day." This "burden" was a cash contribution for the purposes of investigation. It may be added that Bramford bore its portion as did also Hamilton. And as for the "heat of the day" the power campaign here was as hot as anyone could wish.

SCARING THE BRITON. Canada Not Asking That Her Loyalty be Subsidized. (Saturday Night). The average Canadian who reads the despatch quoting the words of the London Daily Mail will scarcely know what that journal wants him to be patient about. He is not aware that he has a grievance; that he has waited long, and has not seen any result. Nor is he conscious of having had his opinions stifled or in any way influenced by the speeches of Lord Milner delivered to a few people of his own way of thinking while he was here. It is quite evident, however, that a small group of Britishers and a small group of Canadians are busy helping to stir to fashion and fat rewards when tariff reform comes—the attempt to picture this country in this light is one that can scarcely prove pleasing to Canadians.

There is no crisis anywhere in sight so far as one can see from any of the hills surrounding Toronto. Almost any of the oldest inhabitants will testify that he never knew the country so entirely at its ease, and indulging in so few conjectures as to what is unfolding in the mist of the year ahead.

Very few among us show any concern about the agitation in Great Britain on tariff reform. Most of us regard it as a domestic matter in which we have no inclination to meddle. Some of us are not quite sure that inter-national relations will become more fond if put on the basis of bargain and agreement.

Great Britain gives Canadian products a preference in her markets. It should be given because the United Kingdom has become convinced of the soundness of the policy in so far as she herself is concerned. It should not be granted through fear of losing Canada. We do not want to be accused of taxing anybody's bread. We do not want to lose, in the future, responsibility for domestic conditions in England, which may be charged against the change of policy at present proposed, for we do not expect Great Britain to become a paradise after tariff reform.

SURPRISE PARTY. A very pleasant affair in the nature of a surprise party took place on Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. J. Barron, 3 Pine street, when about 20 couples of young folks made a rush visit. When Mrs. Barron saw that her visitors were in for a jolly time, she gave them a hearty welcome. The evening was spent in progressive euchre, Mrs. J. Barron and Casson Cameron winning first prizes and Miss Abbott and Fred Beckman the lousy prizes. Dancing was indulged in till the early morning hours, after which supper was served. The crowd voted Mrs. Barron an excellent hostess.

FROM THE DEAD.

W. T. STEAD IN COMMUNICATION WITH HIS SON. English Editor Tells That He Has Received Many Messages From the Spirit World—Spirits Anxious to Establish Communication With Mortals.

New York, Jan. 17.—A cable despatch to the Sun from London says: "New and wonderful letters are coming me almost daily from my boy Willie, who died a year ago," said William T. Stead, the veteran editor, today. Mr. Stead seemed in perfect health, talked rationally and looked happy.

"I have no time now," he continued, "to tell you everything. I will leave London for the sea-shore in half an hour, but in the near future I will show you some of Willie's letters. They were written by my own passive right hand, which moves absolutely automatically. I exercise no will-power in the matter either to hold the pen or to move it.

"Willie's letters are simply splendid. They are exactly like him and full of his characteristic spirit. He talks with me at great length and tells me everything he sees, hears, feels and what his hopes are respecting himself and other members of the family. He says that the spirit world is quite as anxious to establish communication with this world as we are with it.

"For many years I have known that spirit communications were a reality. I declared my faith to this effect at a time when I knew that the assertion would injure me in all my worldly relations. My declaration of faith did injure me. It tended to discredit me in business and placed me under suspicion among many of my friends whom I valued most highly. The loss to me was great, but it was quite insignificant when compared with my inexpressible gain. I would not give one of the letters written me by my

TREASURE ISLAND.

ROMANTIC TALE OF SEARCH FOR GOLD IN SOLOMON GROUP. "Blood Brother" to Chief a Fakir and Organizer of Brokers' Expedition Committed Suicide.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 17.—A romantic story of a vain search for a treasure island in the Solomon group by an expedition from Sydney on one schooner, when the vessel was wrecked by the steamer Avon, just arrived. A story like a romance by Stevenson, with its main character a white man, who had become blood brother to an islander and king of tons of hidden gold, all lost when search was made twenty years after, and of discovery and suicide among the treasure hunters.

The Wheatshed, which had returned to Sydney, was dispatched by a syndicate formed there on an agreement whereby Mr. Mason, the organizer, agreed to have the captain, who twenty years before had aided a chief of Maori to power and by cutting their arms and intermingling blood, had become the chief's blood brother, direct the expedition to a large amount of gold discovered by natives, and "in his capacity as sovereign's blood brother secure sole right of trading throughout the country."

"After arising from place to place in the Solomons, conferences being held with many of the native chiefs, the captain finally said his blood brother had been slain by dynamite in his absence, after depositing the captain and leaving him among the natives. Mason, the organizer, succeeded on the way back to Sydney."

E. H. Harriman, writing to Yale Daily News, says high school students are more useful in railroading than college graduates. Four young men of Owen Sound were sentenced to 6 months in jail for theft of 5 turkeys. Dr. L. J. Lemieux, M. L. A., may succeed Turgeon in the Quebec cabinet.

DUNDAS NEWS.

Dundas, Jan. 18.—The Young People's Society of the Baptist Church will take up the study of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," commencing on Thursday evening.

The Methodist Church was crowded last evening the service being a memorial one, in which reference was made to the recent deaths of three well-known members, Mrs. Samuel Burrows, Wm. Powell and J. M. Reynolds.

INVESTIGATIONS WILL BE THOROUGH.

The horses had fallen. From the distance indicated, the engine driver must have stopped his train within a length of two and must have done his utmost to avert the collision. That he bore down upon them with the flying Mogul was not his fault. The sleigh only pulled into the path of the headlight.

FUNERALS OF THE VICTIMS. Six children survive the Wilsons. The eldest, a girl of thirteen, has just lately undergone a severe operation on one of her limbs. Two smaller children, one the baby, who so miraculously escaped, are left behind by the Teeters.

It is just about four years since Mr. Elijah Teeter, father of George Teeter, was caught on this crossing while driving an empty freight wagon over the horses were killed, and Teeter flung into the roadway. He died shortly afterwards from the effects of the accident.

Nothing else is being talked about in Grimsby and the surrounding district, and the feeling for those who lost their lives, and their sorrowing relatives, is deep and sincere.

OFFICIALS INVESTIGATE. A large body of G. T. R. officials were at Grimsby station on Sunday afternoon, making diligent inquiries, and their photographer was busy taking snaps of the surroundings.

Although the Grand Trunk issued no official statement, Assistant Superintendent Moore, in the absence of Superintendent Gillen, when interviewed, said: "Our advisers indicate that all the necessary signals were given, and the whistles were given for the crossing, and as far as we are concerned we are not responsible for the accident."

Mr. J. D. Macdonald, District Passenger Agent, also cleared the skirts of the company from blame.

"It was a clear night, and they should have seen the headlight or heard the whistle. The crossing sign was there, and people should not go over a crossing until they are sure it's clear. I know the locality, and I don't think there should be any difficulty in seeing an approaching train."

Engineer Henderson and Conductor Morrison were in charge of the train. They are two of the oldest and most capable trainmen on the run.

A RIGID INVESTIGATION. A coroner's jury will make a rigid investigation of the cause of the accident, and inquire into the record of this fatal crossing. The inquest was opened on Saturday, and will be continued on Wednesday afternoon, when Crown Attorney Brennan will be present.

Dr. J. M. Jory, who is coroner, also holds the position of surgeon to the Grand Trunk. He was first called as coroner, but when Reeve Mitchell, of Grimsby, who is looking after the interests of the stricken families, ascertained Dr. Jory's dual position, he asked that Dr. Alexander, of Grimsby, be called instead. Dr. Jory was quite willing to be excused.

DIED IN OPERATING ROOM. Gordon Nelson, the fifth victim of the accident, who passed away in the City Hospital, on Saturday morning, where he was taken to be operated on, died in the operating room five minutes after the anaesthetic was administered, and before the doctors had time to operate. Little hope was held out for his recovery from the beginning. There was a pathetic scene at the hospital when the boy's mother arrived. She walked many miles through the snow to see her son, but he never regained consciousness.

WILL LIKELY RECOVER. Miss Lottie Teeter, the only survivor of the accident, is recovering from her little niece, Baby Teeter, will likely recover, although her condition is serious. She rested easily last night at St. Joseph's Hospital, where she was taken on Saturday, and it was announced to-day that she would likely pull through. She is suffering from slight concussion of the brain.

Miss Morris, a trained nurse, on her way to New York, was the heroine who worked in the bitter cold, attending to the injuries of the victims. She was a passenger on the train. Miss Morris accompanied Miss Teeter to this city, and later left for New York.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE. The Dominion Railway Commission will make an investigation of the accident, it is understood, in view of the number of people who have met death at this crossing in the last ten or twelve years.

ESCAPED TERRIBLE FATE. The dance which the victims attended was held in the Institute Hall at Winona under the management of Frank Tobin. Mr. Tobin and some of the guests played a little longer, but they were anxious to get home. Some of the Grimsby people and Wilsons left, were Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth, Charles Harper, George Jeffrey and the Misses Jeffrey.

BURROWING IN DRIFTS. Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 17.—A blinding snowstorm, driven across the prairies and through the woods by a wind of 41 miles an hour, today enveloped Western Canada in the wildest blizzard the country has experienced in recent years. Train service is practically at a standstill. Passenger and freight trains are tunnelling their way out through dense snowdrifts in Saskatchewan and Alberta, while in Manitoba all the short lines are tied up and snowplows are being driven with double power. Coast express trains have been buried for almost eighteen hours in snowdrifts near Swift Current, Saskatchewan, and the snow is blown back on the right of way faster than the crews can cut it off, choking progress entirely.

Hundreds of homesteaders are buried in their huts and were forced to tunnel their way to the stock sheds.

Statistics published by the Journal Official show that the population of France is again increasing. The figures for the first six months in 1908, now compiled, show that the births exceed the deaths by 11,000. During the corresponding period of the previous year the deaths exceeded the births by 55,000.

DEBATING.

Young Men's Club Discuss Formation of a League.

At a largely attended meeting of the presidents of the young men's debating societies throughout the city held on Saturday evening in the Fireside Club rooms of Centenary Church the advisability of forming a city debating league was discussed. The idea is to divide the city into four districts comprised of three teams, the winners of each district to meet in a final public debate to be held possibly in Association Hall, James L. Jolley presided and outlined in a brief address the benefits to be derived by the forming of a league. He stated that the Canadian Club thought favorably of the idea, and would show its interest by presenting a suitable trophy for competition. R. J. Menary, who acted as secretary, suggested that the matter be laid before the first regular meeting of the various clubs desiring to enter the league. This was agreed and another meeting will be held on Wednesday to receive reports and elect officers.

BUILT BY POLITICIANS

W. R. Lawson Criticizes Proposed Hydro-Electric Line.

London, Jan. 17.—Mr. W. R. Lawson writes a strong article to the Financial Times with reference to the Ontario electrical power scheme. He declares that if the Government is persistent in its hydro-electrical scheme it will mean wasteful duplication and unfair competition. The Government, he says, is to be built by politicians, non-electrical engineers and dummy contractors.

CENTRAL Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Dr. Williamson, of Emerald Street Methodist Church, addressed the men's meeting at the Central Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. His subject was "How to Make the Most of Life." He pointed out the great mistake made so frequently by young men of thinking that the best things in life were secured through selfish endeavors. Selfishness brought nothing but disappointment and dissatisfaction. Mr. Jack Pett sang the bass solo "The Will Be Done," in splendid voice. Rev. Mr. Sycamore is the speaker for next Sunday afternoon.

BOYS' NOTES.

The Boys' Club held a conference on Saturday night in the interests of the committee work of the department. Papers were read by the chairman or members of each committee on the work of their committee, after which a five minute discussion took place. Many valuable suggestions were offered in connection with the committee work, and the department as a whole will undoubtedly be greatly benefited from the conference. Mr. John Bainbridge, president of the Cabinet, conducted the conference and made some helpful suggestions.

The boys' meeting yesterday at 4:15 was held in Knox Church Sunday School, about fifty being present. The meeting was full of interest. Messrs. Alvin Wilson and E. Smith were the speakers, and presented their suggestions in a powerful manner, speaking from a boy's standpoint of ordinary life. The boys' meeting will be held in the East Hamilton Y. M. C. A. at 4:15. All boys are invited.

EAST HAMILTON NOTES.

There was a good attendance at the men's meeting at the East End Branch yesterday afternoon when Mr. Shaw gave a helpful address, taking his text from Judges v. 23. He said if the Christians did their duty the evils that are around us would be stamped out. He called on the Christians present to do their duty. Mr. Rogers sang a solo very effectively. These meetings are held in the East Hamilton building every Sunday afternoon at 4:15 and are open to all men.

LICENSE REDUCTION.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—The question of a reduction of tavern licenses is now before the City Council, and will soon be decided one way or the other. The Citizens' Campaign Committee have asked for a reduction in the number to 20; and as this would still leave the number in Hamilton much in excess of Toronto or London, one can scarcely conceive of the request being refused. The effort to have the number reduced is no sudden impulse upon the part of a few. It was a pleasure during the election campaign to be associated with so many earnestly disinterested men from all churches and from both political parties, working for what they believed to be the best interests of the city. There is always a danger of the electors thinking their part finished as soon as the ballots are cast.

As I see it, even the aldermen who were not specially elected to obtain a reduction, now represent all the electors in their respective wards; and as no doubt they are anxious to give the people what they want, they must try and reconcile the views of those who want a reduction and those who would like to see the licenses reduced to a number more nearly on a par with other cities—say one-half the present number.

I therefore believe it to be the duty of the electors in every ward to let their representative know just what they think is best. After all, it is recognized by every one that a license is a privilege granted to those who obtain it. It is not recognized on almost every hand that the desire to see the number of licenses reduced is continually gaining ground? Those of us who believe such a reduction to be in the best interests of the city should surely continue in every legitimate way to work for it.

Yours truly, Henry Bannell, President Citizens' Campaign Committee. At a general meeting a committee was appointed to prepare this letter. Mr. Peter Bertram has written the foregoing draft, and other members of the committee have approved of it.—T. J. Shanks.

OBITUARY.

Death of Harry Skinner—Mrs. Taylor's Sudden Call.

After a lengthy illness, Mr. Harry Skinner passed away at an early hour on Sunday morning at his late residence, 22 Park street south. Deceased had been a resident of this city the greater part of his life, and was well known, having conducted a bicycle business on John street north for some years. He is survived by a widow, one son, Albert, and one daughter, Miss Edith Lillian. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from his late residence. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all.

The death of Walter George Greathold occurred at the City Hospital on Saturday evening. Deceased was born in Yorkshire, England, on July 27, 1851, and had been a resident of this city for the past four years. He was a painter by trade. A widow, five sons and two daughters survive him. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. from the residence of his son, 49 Burlington street, near the corner of St. Joseph's Church, thence to Hamilton Cemetery.

Mrs. Maria Elwell, widow of the late Michael Elwell, passed away yesterday in her 85th year at the residence of her daughter, 172 Catharine street. Deceased was born in Staffordshire, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past forty-one years. She was a lovable old lady, and her death, although not unexpected, will be a shock to her many friends who are residing in St. Mark's Church since its inception. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Charles McGinnis, Maywood, Ill.; Mrs. Harry Harvey, city, and two sons, Joseph and John Elwell, of this city. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of J. W. Taylor, died on Saturday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of two months. She was operated upon a short time ago, and was apparently doing well. Her death was unexpected. Deceased was 32 years of age. She leaves a husband and two children. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 8:30 a. m. from her late residence, 9 Cannon street west.

Much sympathy will be extended to the bereaved family of Mrs. Louisa Eliza Judd, who died early this morning at the residence of her son, Frank Judd, 267 King street west. Deceased was 62 years old. She was survived by three sons, W. H., of St. Mary's; Frank, of this city; and H. J., of Ingersoll; also two daughters, Mrs. George Beauchamp, city, and Mrs. Arthur White, Sackville. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning to the G. T. R. station, thence via the 9 o'clock train, to St. Mary's, where the interment will take place.

The funeral of the late Alexander Hannah took place from the residence of his brother, Catharine street, on Saturday east, on Saturday at 2:30 p. m., and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Philpott conducted the services at the house and grave. The pall-bearers were: Fred, Bert, John Haman, James Englehart, Harry Shattsworth and John McNab.

The Winnipeg Free Press contains the following relative to a former well-known Hamilton lady: In the death of Mrs. James Burridge, which occurred at the home, 392 Kennedy street, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the city has lost one of its oldest residents, for thirty years of its life of a city of Winnipeg's age. She passed away Saturday afternoon, in the presence of all the members of her family. Mrs. Burridge was born at Hamilton, Ont., 48 years ago, and came to Winnipeg with her husband in 1870, the latter to represent the Garney Stove Company, of Hamilton, and resided here ever since. Besides a bereaved husband, the surviving members of the family are Dr. A. J. Burridge, of the city; Mrs. J. P. Brisson, Brandon; Mrs. I. Walter Martin, Mrs. F. A. Fry, and Miss Martha Burridge, of the city.

The Rev. Hamilton Wible, pastor of Zion Church, of which Mrs. Burridge was a beloved member, conducted the funeral service at the home, assisted by the Rev. Andrew Gordon. The pall-bearers were Sampson Walker, A. Monkman, James Egan, W. J. Guest, J. G. White, and E. H. Neville.

Many Hamilton people will remember Mrs. Burridge and family. One of the daughters married Mr. I. Walter Martin, a brother of Mr. H. A. Martin, of this city.

A case of horrible depravity was revealed in the Winnipeg Provincial Police Court on Saturday, when the Child Welfare Society applied for the custody of a Polish girl under fourteen years of age. It was shown that her own mother had placed her in a house of prostitution and was accepting the money obtained.

MASS AT REGGIO. WAS ALL RIGHT.

Effort to Live as Jesus Would is Declared Success.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—The two-week effort of 1,800 young people of this city to live as Jesus would live came to a close to-day with a big mass meeting. Scores of those who made the trial declared that the test had been a success and indicated that Christians could live most Christlike lives. It was proposed that although the official test was closed, there should be no abatement in the effort to do as Jesus would at all times and that the effort to make the movement worldwide should go forward.

HISTORIC ROME THREATENED.

Paris, it seems, has been distressed over the proposal to remove the old book sellers along the quays on the left bank of the Seine, but it seems, according to the London Morning Post correspondent, has for some time been agitated about a much larger question—the modernization of the whole city. In the modernizing process zeal appears to enter more largely than discretion, and it is threatened with the loss of much of its outward charm and even some of its interest. Of course, in so far as the scheme relates to the provision of more housing accommodation it is not of much interest to visitors except in so far as it must tend to lower the rents in Rome; but it threatens to alter the aspect of areas familiar to every one who knows the city at all and therefore is in reality not a merely local matter.

Briefly, the Romans are irritated because the expert chosen to prepare the new scheme is a Sardinian with comparatively little experience of Rome and also because the present municipal council, before which such a scheme must naturally come, is mainly composed of non-Romans. They are provoked by the haste with which a scheme of such wide effects is being hustled through.

It is proposed among other things to pull down a great many houses in the very heart of the city itself, and the eagerness to get on with this part of the work has caused it to be said on all sides apparently that certain speculators are trying to make money out of the ruins of mediæval Rome. One authority points out that in some of the sites where it is proposed to build the new suburbs catacombs exist, and that if these are built either the catacombs will disappear or it will be the history of Korah over again—the ground will cleave asunder and the earth open her mouth and swallow up the dwellers in the new houses that apparently must then and all their goods.

Again, with regard to the intramural changes, it is proposed to cut the historic passage uniting the Vatican with the castle of St. Angelo; to drive a tunnel from the Piazza di Spagna to the Villa Borghese beneath the Villa Medici—an immensely costly proceeding, it is argued, and one probably involving the sacrifice of part of the Medici Garden, which, however, belongs to the French Academy; to destroy the church of the Crociferi (Crutched Friars), and to modernize and transform the Via dei Coronari—this partly because it is said to be unhealthy.

The more cultivated classes are one and all opposed to the destructive parts of these proposals, while the business men assail them on the ground of extravagance. Roman, apparently having learned from former experiences that the estimated and the actual cost of an undertaking are not always identical.

A number of German reactionaries are trying to bring about the downfall of Chancellor Von Bismarck. Castro, the deposed President of Venezuela, has announced that he intends returning to his native land as soon as his health will permit.

ON WHICH SIDE Wants to Know Where to Place Himself When He Walks with a Lady. "Can anybody tell me for sure," said this young man, "on which side of the lady I should place myself when we walk in the public street?" "I have a very clear notion about this myself. I say that the gentleman should walk at the lady's left hand, she at his right, for this reason: "It is the custom in this country for people meeting to turn to the right. Now, in doing this, a man with a woman on his right arm would present himself as a shield against crowding or intrusion from anybody passing from the opposite direction; if there was a collision or crowding on the passing side the man would be there to take the shock, and the woman would be held always safe away from it, or even from the ruffling of her apparel. "But people tell me 'I'm foolish. They say the man ought always to walk on the side of the woman toward the curb, no matter on which side of her that brings him, whether on the right or the left. The danger, they say, is on the curb side, where the traffic is, the horses and trucks and wagons and carriages and automobiles, and the mud spatters. "I think the idea is wrong, and then the man's keeping always on the curb side involves more sea-changing. See what happens when they cross the street and walk on the other side. Then the man has to run around her, doesn't he? Change position then to get on the outside, and what is more ridiculous than to see a man prancing around a lady to change from one side to the other to get next the curb? "No, sir; I don't see the curb theory at all. My idea is that the man should walk with the lady at his right side always, that in this way he can be her best protection and feeder. But I would really like to have somebody tell me which is right for sure."—N. Y. Sun.

BRITAIN'S DREADNOUGHTS

Only One Old Vessel on the Nore Division.

A New Ship, Lord Nelson, Placed in Commission.

First French Battleship of Dreadnought Type Launched.

London, Jan. 18.—Just as Great Britain was the first to have a Dreadnought, so she is before all other nations in having a fleet of these, the most modern of fighting ships. With the commissioning of the new battleship, Lord Nelson, and her assignment to the Nore division of the Home Fleet, the first line of defence against a possible attack from across the North Sea, that fleet, in the words of a British Admiral, became "a combination of strength and homogeneity unequalled, ship for ship, in the world's fleets."

A year ago the Nore division, which is under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir Francis Bridgeman, consisted of the Dreadnought, which had hardly completed her trials, the Bulwark, London, Magnificent, Majestic and Victorious. During the year the new battleship Agamemnon and the armored cruisers Indomitable and Inflexible, which are all intended and purposes built to replace the older vessels, and last week the Lord Nelson relieved the Magnificent, leaving the Victorious the only representative of the pre-Dreadnought era in Admiral Bridgeman's command.

Before midsummer it is anticipated the fleet will be further strengthened by the Dreadnought battleships Temeraire, Bellerophon and Superb.

British shipbuilders are elated over the prospect of obtaining contracts for Argentine naval craft, bids for which have been invited. The shipbuilding industry is at such a low ebb on account of depression in the mercantile line that most of the yards are running part time and many men are without work.

Argentina proposes to build two battleships which are to be somewhat stronger than those now being built for Brazil. They are to be of 20,000 tons and will carry a dozen twelve-inch guns. The Argentine Government has also asked tenders for several torpedo-boat destroyers.

The Republic of Argentina is reported to have made a proposal to Brazil that each Government take one of the two ships the Brazilian Government is now building here and cancel the order for a third battleship, thus equalizing the naval preparations of the two countries. Brazil declined to accept the proposal.

FRANCE'S FIRST DREADNOUGHT. New York, Jan. 17.—A cable despatch to the Sun from Paris says that the Voltair, France's first Dreadnought, was launched at Toulon today. She is the first launched of six similar ships the building of which began early in 1907. She will have turbine engines and carry four guns of 305 millimetres, twelve of 210, sixteen of 75 and eight of 47 millimetres. The cost will be $10,800,000.

The Voltair's armor is not as thick as the Dreadnought's. The five other battleships now in course of construction will be of equal weight, respectively the Diderot, Condorcet, Vergniaud, Mirabeau and Danton.

CREW PERISHED.

Newfoundland Schooner Wrecked Off Long Island.

New York, Jan. 17.—In a biting, driving snowstorm off the Long Island shore the schooner Swallow, of St. John's, Nfld., and her crew were lost today, according to evidence furnished by a turbulent sea which has strewn the beach east of Fire Island for several miles with bits of wreckage from the ship itself and from her cargo. On some of this flotsam appears the name, "Swallow, St. John's, Nfld.," and this told the beachcombers who found the wreckage what vessel it was that had pounded herself to pieces in a few short hours in the howling gale. Of the crew, probably five or six, judging from the schooner's size, there was no trace. But the wild rage of the sea, the thick, driving snow with its stinging and cold, led no doubt in the minds of the beachcomers to the crew's fate. No human power could have aided them.

It is supposed the Swallow, presumably a fishing boat, was found from Newfoundland and was carrying a cargo of frozen herring, and that she carried a deckload of lumber to help make the trip pay. Caught in the storm, the crew probably lost their bearings, and struck on one of the many sandbars a mile or so off shore, near the Blue Point station. There the wind and heavy seas pounded the vessel to pieces in a short time and the men aboard were speedily lost in the sea.

EQUAL IT IF YOU CAN.

You can search the world over, and for an even thousand dollars not find a remedy that destroys as many pains or aches as a 25c. bottle of Nerville. Stronger by five times than ordinary liniments and more penetrating, it soothes away inflammation and nerve-pain instantly. Just try Nerville for toothache, earache, sore muscles and lumbago—you rub in the Nerville and rub out the pain. Internally it cures cramps, stomach pains and sick headaches, all minor ills, and children's sickness. It cures as fast as the doctor and costs but a quarter a bottle.

NO RACE SUICIDE HERE.

Queen of Spain's Bet With the Princess of Wales. London, Jan. 17.—The London social letter of the Liverpool Post, which is written by a well-known John Bull, says: "The King on Sunday night declared that the Queen of Spain had made a bet with the Princess of Wales, the stake being a fan, that she [the Queen] would have a larger family than the Princess, who now has six children. The King has a much higher approval of large families than apparently the majority of his subjects have."

At Earlscourt, James Hunt was sentenced to 5 years and Gordon Schultz to 18 months for burglary.

FRENCH SENATE.

Bound to Declare Its Opinion on Treaty With Canada.

Paris, Jan. 17.—Now that the Senatorial elections are over there is a strong demand for immediate discussion of the Franco-Canadian treaty. The Journal des Debats publishes the latest and, so far, the most outspoken article in this sense. It points out that at present the Franco-Canadian commercial relations are governed by a modus vivendi to which Canada agreed only when given some ground for hoping soon to see a special convention established in its place. Thus the Senate is taxed with something tantamount to a breach of faith, and in consequence the Journal des Debats considers that the House is bound to declare its opinion very shortly, unless it wishes to transgress against international polity.

The danger that the advantages offered France may fall to Germany is once more insisted upon, and the Journal des Debats also points out that there is a personal aspect to the question, since during the elections in Canada, Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that he considered the signing of the treaty one of the greatest achievements of his party.

WORLD OF FASHION.

The Waist Will be Defined in New Spring Models.

London, Jan. 17.—According to an expert therein, who writes to-day, a terrible tragedy has darkened the world of fashion, for the report has gone around that the waist will be defined in the new spring models. This expert, who has just returned from the French capital, says Paris is extremely mysterious in regard to the spring models. Numerous small dressmakers are waiting about the gay city wondering what the autocrat of fashion has decreed. On everyone's lips is the query, waist or no waist? They must possess their souls in patience for a couple of more weeks. The managers of the chief fashion stores of the west end of London maintain similar reserve. They do not want to say that they believe skirts would be fuller, but the question of waist must be left in abeyance.

Meanwhile one reads that the Merry Widow hat is as dead as a door nail, and that the Busby reigns in its stead.

READY FOR SESSION.

The Members Beginning to Arrive at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—Members of Parliament are beginning to arrive in the capital for the session. A large delegation of western members reached here today, coming a few days before the opening on Wednesday next in order to locate rooms before the sessional rush for accommodation starts. All the British Columbia members are now here, and about half the members from the three prairie Provinces. The Government has its sessional programme in good shape to meet Parliament. The estimates are ready for presentation to the Commons, and Government bills are drafted and in shape for early consideration. It is expected that the session will be a comparatively short one of about four months.

HID IN CAR.

New Scheme to Smuggle Celestials Into United States.

Montreal, Jan. 17.—While customs inspectors were examining a car bound for Albany, N. Y., to-day they found the seal broken. The car was loaded with theatrical scenery, but on closer inspection it was also found to contain two Chinese carefully stowed away among the scenery. It is thought that this scheme of exporting Chinese to the United States has been tried before, but in future it will be watched.

CASTORIA.

The Kid You Have Always Bought. A puff of flame shot up from the rear of the most extensive automobile storage and repair plant in Boston, located near Park Square, shortly before dawn to-day, and half an hour later over 400 automobiles, valued at $750,000, were a mass of tangled steel and iron. The flames swept through the building with such rapidity that only two machines were saved. A coal famine is near at hand around Moose Jaw, Sask.

FRANK LAW FOUND GUILTY.

VERDICT REACHED AFTER EIGHT MINUTES' DELIBERATION.

Hints at Some Powerful Reason for Crown's Attitude — The Case Comes Before the Court of Appeal To-day.

Toronto, Jan. 17.—Frank Law is guilty. The jury which tried him in the sessions on Saturday afternoon came to that conclusion after only eight minutes' deliberation, and in returning their verdict did not attach the recommendation to mercy which many people expected. The verdict did not visibly move the prisoner, but it caused his wife, who throughout the trial has been a faithful and pathetic figure, to cry out and reel from the court room, only to return a moment later when she had conquered her emotions to resume her place by his side.

This is the latest development in the prosecution of the mining firm of Law & Company on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public, arising out of the flotation of the Highland Mary and other mines. The action was commenced under clauses of the Companies Act in the Police Court a year ago. Mr. Law's partner and principal, Wm. Lockhart Russell, has thus far managed to evade the arm of justice of the Provincial Attorney-General's Department.

Mr. Law's cash bail of $10,000 was not renewed, and he was taken into custody. The object of this procedure was to enable the appeal which was entered to come before the Court of Appeal on Monday. The ground of appeal to be argued on is as to whether the Crown can order and sustain the prosecution of Mr. Law after an officer from the Attorney-General's Department had promised him immunity as the price of giving evidence against his partner.

Asked after the trial if he had anything to say to the public, Mr. Law replied: "I have been treated in a dirty fashion. I am convicted, while Russell is allowed to go free. He was the moving spirit in the work, and I did his bidding. Yet his brother and his lawyer, and the court, and you do not convict, and never as much as offer me their hand and say they feel sorry. I suppose I can bear the penalty, and they want nothing to do with me now. That's what hurts me."

COUNSEL ATTACKS THE CROWN.

Mr. Law's counsel, Mr. G. T. Blackstock, K. C., made a very impassioned address on his behalf, but it was confined to arguing that the Crown had acted in bad faith towards Mr. Law, which he asked the jury to rectify. After reading the stenographic report in which Inspector Rogers, of the Attorney-General's Detective Department, promised Mr. Law immunity if he would testify, Mr. Blackstock said: "I have never heard of such a proceeding such as we have here under the circumstances. This statement shows that the statement of Law is borne out. I once more ask whether it is possible with such an entanglement as that of the later proceedings with their case. It fills me with amazement." Mr. Blackstock argued that Law was a simple, innocent man occupying a clerk's position under Wm. Lockhart Russell, who he said, was the master mind in the affair, and who had got the bulk of the profits. In closing his address he again reverted to his original plea, saying: "The Crown wanted Law's aid and they lured him into giving evidence. I don't know what he did, but he was lured, and the Crown's refusal to stand by their undertakings fills me with the suspicion that there is some powerful reason for their action."

Mr. H. L. Drayton, K. C., in presenting the Crown's case, replied to Mr. Blackstock's argument that Mr. Law was ignorant of the real facts of many of the properties he advertised in glowing terms by saying that though he might have been ignorant of the first, that is, the property of Winchester, which he had committed the entire management of his own great estate as well as large trust funds, the whole had been entirely disposed. For upwards of a half century Lord Amherst had been a collector of books, manuscripts and tapestries. Dillington Hall was a storehouse of historic treasures—Gobelins, Sevres, Sèvres, Limoges, Majolica and the most complete collection in the world of books and manuscripts illustrating the history of printing from the earliest times. These books and manuscripts were estimated to be worth three-quarters of a million, but no figure could represent the loving care Lord Amherst spent in gathering them. When the crash came there was nothing to be done but sell, and Lord Amherst saw the art treasures he had spent his lifetime in bringing from the ends of the earth go under the hammer. "Amherst's sale was a tragedy, selling heart's blood," said a collector who was present. Not a book or manuscript, not a print or vase but was dear to his heart.

When the auctioneer's hammer fell on the last lot for reason for living had ceased for Lord Amherst of Hackney. He survived just six weeks.

MISSING HEIRESS.

Story of Miss Charlesworth's Death a Myth.

London, Jan. 17.—Miss Violet Gordon Charlesworth, the alleged heiress, whose mysterious disappearance a short time ago caused a great deal of excitement, and her intimate association with extensive stock deals, has been found and identified at Oban, Scotland.

It was reported that Miss Charlesworth, who lived with her parents in Bogata, St. Asaph, Wales, was killed while automobiling in the neighborhood of Penmaenmawr, with her sister and the chauffeur, about two weeks ago, but the truth of the story was doubted. A day or two ago a torn telegram addressed to Violet Charlesworth was found in a room in a hotel at Tobermory, Scotland, and it was ascertained that the occupant of the room, who answered the description of Miss Charlesworth, had gone to Oban. She was located there to-day.

MINISTER'S CRIMES.

BIGAMIST AND BETRAYER OF YOUNG WOMEN.

Detectives Searching for Rev. Evan T. Evans, Formerly of Sarnia, Who Married and Deserted Miss Davis of New York.

Windsor, Jan. 17.—Detectives from Canada, the United States and Scotland Yard are diligently searching for Rev. Evan T. Evans, up to a short time ago attached to St. John's Episcopal Church, Sarnia. Rev. Mr. Evans came to Sarnia, Canada, some eighteen months ago, posing as a bachelor, he at once became extremely popular with the ladies of his congregation. To one of them, Miss Nellie St. Clair Davis, his attentions were most marked.

On Sept. 26 last Miss Davis quietly left home, and Evans did likewise 24 hours later. The two met in a town in Niagara county, N. Y., and were married, afterwards proceeding to Cleveland, where the clergyman succeeded in inducing his bride to turn over to him a large sum in cash which she had. Then he sent the girl back to her home in Sarnia, after exacting a promise that she would keep the wedding a secret until he could secure another parish.

This was the last anyone in Sarnia saw or heard of the clergyman. No word came from him, and under the stress of her secret and failure to receive the promised letters young Mrs. Evans sickened and died. This was only a few weeks ago.

With the lowering into the grave of the body the people of Sarnia generally hoped that the scandal would be hushed for all time, but it is again revived by the statement now made that the sixteen-year-old daughter of one of Evans' former parishioners charges her downfall to the missing clergyman. The latest developments have decided the church authorities to take action in the case, and the matter has been turned over to the police with a full description of Evans. The authorities of Niagara county, New York, where Evans' bigamous marriage occurred, are also to be urged to act. Evans has a wife and four children in Landreth, Wales, but this fact only became known after search of his effects left behind at Sarnia, had disclosed letters from across the sea.

LOVED HIS BOOKS.

Pathetic Ending of Lord Amherst, a Great Collector.

London, Jan. 17.—The sudden death last night of Lord Amherst of Hackney brings to a tragic end the pathetic story of the misfortunes that overwhelmed the last days of the worthy man. He was past seventy when he learned of the through the rasality of a solicitor, through whom he had committed the entire management of his own great estate as well as large trust funds, the whole had been entirely disposed. For upwards of a half century Lord Amherst had been a collector of books, manuscripts and tapestries. Dillington Hall was a storehouse of historic treasures—Gobelins, Sevres, Sèvres, Limoges, Majolica and the most complete collection in the world of books and manuscripts illustrating the history of printing from the earliest times.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 17.—George Crandall died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from the effects of exposure to the frost on Thursday night last. He was conveyed to the hospital and everything possible done to save his life.

GROUNDLESS FEARS.

Toronto Man, Who Thought He Was Wanted by Police, Surrendered.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 17.—Robert Reynolds, a Toronto baker, aged 41, walked into police headquarters in Detroit yesterday and gave himself up. He said that a month ago in Toronto he broke a big plate glass window and left home and had been a fugitive from justice ever since. He imagined the police were hot on his trail from city to city, and was therefore astounded when the detectives telegraphed to Toronto and found the police there didn't want him. He was told to go home to his wife and children.

SAVED BY MIRACLE.

Proclaiming Wonderful Rescue of Little Boy at Reggio.

Reggio, Jan. 16.—Another miraculous rescue has taken place, resulting in the recovery of a five-year-old boy after having been interred since Reggio was overthrown. The result of this rescue is to stimulate the efforts of relief parties in their search for others who may still be living.

The boy is the son of a porter, who made his own escape, but believed his boy must be dead. After seeing the ruins of his house he did not even search for the boy, but a woman, passing the wrecked house a few days after the earthquake thought she heard a weak cry. It soon ceased, however, and the woman with her sister went to Naples. Returning to this place, and hearing of wonderful escapes, she drew the attention of Colonel Corapi, who was in charge of a relief party, to the porter's house, which was little more than a heap of stones and dust. The soldiers examined the wreckage and called out a number of times.

After a breathless suspense, a faint sound was heard, unmistakably human. This was enough. The soldiers attacked the debris with a fierce energy, and within a few hours a small opening was made, through which a fireman entered.

In a moment he returned and passed through the opening a little boy, who was not only conscious, but showed few signs of privation. He was taken to a hospital, where he has become the pet of all, and a little hero, the women declaring that he was saved by a miracle, as the child persists in saying that throughout he was fed by his mother with bread and oranges.

The mother, however, was killed on the day of the earthquake. The whole neighborhood is already proclaiming that this is the first authentic miracle, and their strong belief is exciting the soldiers to continue the search.

GROUNDLESS FEARS.

MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN.

Two of the City Churches Had Special Services.

Deaconess Day in Wesley Methodist Church Yesterday.

Impressive Sermon by Rev. R. Whiting Last Night.

Emerald Street Methodist Church began its missionary campaign yesterday. In the morning Rev. J. Couch, M. A. B. D., pastor of Gore Street Church, was the preacher. He chose for his text "What think ye of Christ?" The sermon was largely based on the one great thought, that a proper estimate of Christ was the chief corner stone of all civilization and true greatness of every kind. This also was necessary for the great work of evangelizing the world, and without it everything was failure. The sermon produced a fine impression.

In the evening a laymen's platform meeting was held, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Williamson, presiding. The opening services, and introduced the speakers. Ex-Mayor Moss, of Dundas, was the first to speak. After referring to the great missionary work undertaken by the churches, he gave three reasons why everybody should liberally support missions. The first was the generalness of the work itself—the most important of all work, the salvation of the world. The second was gratitude for what we had received. The only reason we are not heathens and cannibals is that others sent the Gospel to us. We ought therefore in gratitude to send it on to those without it. The third was for our own safety. The question to-day is not so much will the heathen be saved if they do not hear of Christ, as will we be saved if we do not send them the light of the Gospel?

Ald. W. H. Cooper compared the churches to a dove, and the missionary work and reaching out a helping hand to save their fellows to the rich man in the Gospel who was clothed in purple and fine linen and fared sumptuously every day, while Lazarus, full of sores and poor, was without proper care, at his gate. It is pure selfishness to live and enjoy the blessings of the Gospel and then do nothing for those who are destitute. The laymen were awaking to the great importance of this work. He gave statistics of the members' aid and contributions of Hamilton's churches, and contrasted these small gifts with the enormous amount of money paid over the bars and at the theatres of the city; as also for useless luxuries. He urged everybody to contribute liberally to so important and worthy an object. Both addresses were greatly appreciated by the congregation.

MISSIONARY DAY.

In Sonoma Street Methodist Church yesterday the missionary anniversary services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Fitzpatrick, of Toronto. A large congregation attended in the evening, and the sermon was a powerful and inspiring one. The subject was: "That missionary miracle—the feeding of the five thousand." The speaker went on to show that the Bible is a missionary book. The Lord noticed that the multitude were hungry, and said to His disciples, "Give ye them to eat." The Lord was moved to compassion towards them because they were as sheep. The call that should reach the heart of every Christian is the call of the hungry millions that are out in darkness, in sin, and away from the Lord, making a mute appeal to the church of Christ to feed their hungry souls.

In India there are seven hundred thousand villages, and only one missionary to every four hundred villages. Eighty hundred million souls in the world today have not heard the story of the cross. Eighty thousand are dying every day. Every time a clock ticks it tolls the death of an immortal soul for whom God gave His life and died for whom He said, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

DEACONESS DAY.

Miss McCarthey, one of the Deaconesses under the supervision of the Methodist Church in the city, spoke on behalf of the organization of which she is a member yesterday morning in Wesley Church. There was a good attendance and Miss McCarthey gave a vivid description of the work. She mentioned many cases of distress, where whole families are in dire want, and need immediate assistance. In some cases Miss McCarthey pointed out that it was sympathy that many of the poor need more than bread, to give them courage to fight life's battles. She spoke of the immigration problem. At present the organizations of charity are unable to cope with the foreign element. They come here with low ideals and morals, and the civilized will either have to raise the ideals of these people or have their own lowered.

CENTENARY CHURCH.

The public services yesterday morning and evening were of special interest. In connection with the devotional part in the morning the choir rendered "Unto Thee Have I Cried," by Elvey, and Mr. McIntosh sang, "Arie, He Callest Thee;" by Roeckel. The sermon by Rev. R. Whiting was a strong plea for the nobility and honest toil. His theme was "The Song of the Well," from a passage in the Book of Numbers in connection with the story of Israel in the wilderness. There was a great deal of originality and practical truth in the exposition of this part of an old story. On the one side he saw the weary monotony of the toilers drawing water all through the centuries from this old well for a common purpose. On the other hand may be seen the fact that princes and nobles, had given their faithful services in the digging this same well for the common people.

The theme of the evening was, "While the light lasts." Christ is the light of the world, he said. The sun shines for a great purpose. The Sun of Righteousness came with a supreme purpose. "I am come that ye might have life." Beasts of prey go out in the darkness and hide from the light; so sin in high places and low places shuns the light of investigation and truth. Things of beauty welcome and glory in the light. So it is that human lives, wholesome and useful, rejoice in all things that pertain to the uplifting of men and the glory of God. The sun driveth away darkness. The light of Gospel truth driveth before it pagan superstition, with all its darkness and misery, so that millions once in moral darkness now rejoice in the light of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ. But as the light of day is bound by the darkness of night, we are warned to work while it is called to-day. There are times of gloom in the history of the church and in every human life.

The full-orbed glory of the Reformation was preceded by the gloom of the dark ages, and so it is that great revivals are preceded by times of moral barrenness, just as sure as winter precedes summer. God is always the same, but man is not, hence the great value of opportunity. We show we believe in the value of sunlight, by working earnestly during the day. We show we believe in Christ by doing His will.

"THE END OF THE WORLD."

The minister of the Unitarian Church, Rev. W. Deios Smith, spoke on the subject, "The End of the World," last evening. In the introduction to his theme, the speaker referred to the terrified populace of Messina recently, when the earthquake caused many to think that the end of the world had come. The vision that came before their imaginations doubtless was due to their instructions. The vivid word pictures of the Bible flashed before them.

The teaching that the end of the world will come as described in the New Testament, the speaker said, is a phase of New Testament eschatology, or doctrine of the "last things." Present day scholars, that is, those of this generation, are devoting considerable attention to this eschatological theme, since it is believed that it offers a key to the correct interpretation of much biblical literature, especially that of the New Testament.

In view of this fact, Mr. Smith gave a general outline of the origin and development of these ideas as incorporated in the New Testament literature, showing that to a large extent they were current in the time of Jesus and Paul and that both, to a great degree, shared them.

The expression, "End of the World," as given in our authorized version, really means "end of the age." Jesus and Paul both evidently believed that that catastrophic end would come soon. It might come within the life time of some then present with the life time of some of those without it. Hence, in the teachings of Jesus and Paul must be viewed, is it likely, then, that their teaching in every respect could be expected to hold good universally and for all time? The sayings of Jesus and of every great soul should be accepted for what they are worth, said the preacher. Some are transient and of limited application; others are permanent and universal.

Music and the Drama

The Imperial Opera Company, with 60 people from the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, will be seen at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday evenings, in the Chinese-English musical comedy, "San Toy." This was one of the company's biggest successes during its long run in Toronto, and it will be presented here in the same elaborate manner. In fact, the performance will be even better as Sam Collins, who will be remembered as Li in the first production of "San Toy" given here, has been specially engaged for the part for this tour. Another familiar face in the cast is Helen Mostyn, the big comedian, seen here in "The Country Girl and the Singalee." A pleasing feature of the engagement is the fact that the same prices as Toronto, one dollar, being the highest, will prevail here. Seats are now on sale and the box office will remain open till 6:30 o'clock each evening.

AT THE SAVOY.

Augusta Daly's celebrated drama, "Frou-Frou," will be the bill all this week at the Savoy Theatre. This is a play of powerful human interest. The story is very similar to "The Marriage of William Ashe." Mrs. Ward's sensational story. The play was originally presented at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York city, with the magnetic Agnes Ethel, in the title role. The full strength of the company is required for this play. Little Dorothy Wilson will appear as Georgie Sartorys in "Frou-Frou." The scenery is said to be exceptionally beautiful and DuBois and his corps of assistants will doubtless supply sets that will delight the eye.

AT BENNETTS THEATRE.

Probably the best balanced bill of the season will be seen this week at the Bennett house, when the Ledpath Napanees, the famous Satecliffe troupe and other star attractions will appear. "The feature offering is a school-room act, much along the lines of Gas Edwards' School Boys and Girls, although the material is entirely different. The Napanees number nine people, including the well-known Hebrew boy comedian, Harry Fields. "Fun in a Schoolroom" is another attraction of the headline variety that should command attention. The New York papers speak of this as being one of the finest European novelties seen in many seasons. There are eight people in the troupe, and they make a very picturesque entrance, appearing in full Highland costume, playing the bagpipes. The serenade work is fast and pleasing. The balance of the bill contains a pleasing variety of high-class attractions, including James Francis Dooly and Corina Sales, in their brilliant comedy skit, "Pavement Patters." General LaVigne, the well-known comedy juggler; Cora Beach Turner and company, in a Western comedy sketch, entitled, "A Bluffer Bluffed." Oscar Lorraine, protean violinist, who promises music lovers a treat.

BIG SOCIAL EVENT.

The appearance of the Woodstock Opera Association at the Grand next Friday night should prove quite a social event. The company is made up of the best musical talent of Woodstock, which includes some fine voices. The organization comes highly recommended and has presented with considerable success in several of the Canadian towns a new comic opera, called "The Burra Burra." It is in this opera that the organization will make its debut in Hamilton and an excellent performance is promised, elaborately staged and costumed.

"AWAY DOWN EAST."

William A. Brady's excellent production of Lottie Blair Parker's delightful play, "Way Down East," which comes to the Grand next Saturday matinee and night, is one of the few rural dramas that has the true and indelible stamp of popularity. It attracts the theatre-goer and wins the theatre hundreds upon hundreds of those who are really seldom seen within a place of theatrical amusement. The main theme of "Way Down East" is the story of a New England woman, who, being deceived by a mock marriage, endeavors to rely upon her own ability for support and when all her trials seem to drag her down, she is saved by the manliness of a true friend. The story is unfolded in the picturesque surroundings of a New England village, and brings in all the quaint and lovable characters, which give such delightful local coloring to the play. The comedy is of the bright and clean kind that refreshes as well as amuses. The realistic effects, notably the marvelous blizzards, are exceedingly ingenious and effective. The company and production are practically the same as were seen here last season.

ORANGE VISIT.

On Wednesday evening last the members of Lady Victoria, No. 4, and Pioneer, No. 1, lodges, Loyal True Blues, visited by special car to Brantford to assist in the installation of officers. After the installation and a lengthy musical programme refreshments were served in a manner which did credit to the Brantford sisters.

An attempt will be made to manufacture paper from Florida pine stumps.

THOROGOOD GUILTY

Toronto Man Sentenced For Bigamy at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Jan. 16.—Walter Thorogood, twenty-five years of age, belonging to Toronto, appeared in the Police Court here this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy. Thorogood left his wife and child in Toronto, and came here in the spring. On Nov. 10th he married a Sydney girl, named Mary Jane Flavelle. His first wife's maiden name was Mary Grace Consey, and she informed the Toronto police that she had received no support from her husband. A warrant was issued for his arrest on this charge, and the inquiries which followed led to the discovery that the man had gone through the marriage ceremony with the latter. Thorogood fled to Toronto, and was arrested while coming home from church with his first wife. Mr. A. G. MacKay, who acted on behalf of the accused, said that the first wife took the blame upon herself for her separation from her husband, and apparently the latter had intended to go back to his wife, he had a right to marry again. There were mitigating circumstances in the case, which he did not care to go into fully in court.

Readers will remember the auction sale to-morrow (Tuesday) at 10.30 a. m. by Messrs. Burrows & Co. of the entire of the costly furnishings at the residence of the late Jacob T. Drescher, 46 Ontario avenue. The house will be offered for sale at 1 p. m. See advertisement.

An insane Swedish laborer, Anton Erlanson, who was brought here by his sister from Chicago to live with a brother, Charles Erlanson, at 5 Francis street, escaped from his sister at the G. T. R. depot last evening and although he was chased, he managed to get away.

The fire department had two runs yesterday; one in the morning at 11 to the Frost Wire Fence Company's plant, where an overheated gas stove did $15 damage by setting fire to the wall in the office, and one in the evening at 9.15 to the east end of Birch avenue and Barton streets, the residence of George Laking. An overheated furnace set fire to the rafters under the floor of the dining room at this place, and did $35 damage.

A BAD CASE OF CRUELTY.

Frank Carlberg Lashed Horse Which Had Broken Leg.

Frank Carlberg, a Swede, who has been in this country about twelve years, and who lives at the Commercial Hotel, was found guilty this morning by Magistrate Jelfs of having cruelly ill-treated a horse he was driving on Barton street yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, lashing it with a whip to make it run, while one of its front legs was dangling, held merely by a piece of skin, the bone having been broken off straight.

Before the evidence was taken Magistrate Jelfs asked crown Attorney Washington to prosecute in the matter, as the case seemed to be a very serious one.

William Nichol said he was walking on Barton street, west of Birch avenue, last evening, when he saw the two men lashing their horse. They were still lashing it when they came abreast of him, and he noticed that one of the horse's legs was broken and dangling loose, while blood was flowing freely.

Nichol said he ran out and stopped the rig, and made the men get out. He took the horse and whip away from Carlberg, and sent a passerby to telephone for the police. As Nichol was leaving the stand he was called back by Magistrate Jelfs, who said: "You are deserving of the thanks of the general public for interfering with these men. I'm sorry to say there are not many who would do what you would." C. Hughes, the man who went for the police, gave corroborative evidence.

Constable Gibbs said the horse was apparently suffering greatly, and was sweating and steaming. P. C. Burch said he telephoned to W. Carson, who owned the horse, and told him of the accident and then shot the horse.

Mr. Kerr called Carlberg, and the defendant stated that he was driving the horse at the time of the accident and Anderson had nothing to do with it. The horse was going all right till the radial tracks were reached, when it suddenly stopped and would not go till he struck it with the whip. He did not notice that its leg was broken till he saw blood flowing from the wound. Anderson was not called. Mr. Kerr said that the evidence seemed to show that the case was one of accident and not cruelty, but His Worship said that the men were drunk or they would have noticed the horse's leg being broken. He found Carlberg guilty of drunkenness and cruelty and found Anderson guilty of being drunk. He reserved his decision as to Anderson's guilt on the more serious charge, but said he was of the opinion that he was equally guilty as he would have noticed the accident to the horse if he had been sober. The men were allowed out on the same bail till to-morrow. His Worship intimated that a settlement of Carson's claim would help the prisoners greatly, and Mr. Kerr said they had already arranged to pay for the horse.

ACCIDENTS NUMEROUS

At the Level Crossings In and Around Hamilton.

G. T. R. Has Done Away With Some of Worst.

Steps Being Taken by City For Protection of Others.

Although no statistics are available as to the exact loss of life, the toll of death from level crossings in Hamilton and vicinity during the last ten years has been heavy and particularly is this true of the scene of the Grimby disaster on Saturday morning, where five people met death. It is said that nearly a dozen people have been killed there in ten years.

Few cities in Canada are more cut up with steam and electric roads than Hamilton, and the city officials say that, although a number of crossings are protected by flagmen and guards, there are many dangerous spots in the city limits.

One of Hamilton's worst level crossings, where the northern spur of the Grand Trunk crosses at Wellington and Ferris streets, was done away with two or three years ago, when after years of agitation, the Ferris street bridge was built. This crossing previous to this had a deadly record, the steep incline on either side of the crossing and the obstruction of the view both ways causing many fatal accidents.

"Level crossings are always dangerous," said City Engineer Barrow this morning, "and the big cities on the other side are spending immense sums of money to do away with them. So is Toronto. There are many dangerous crossings in Hamilton that should be protected. One of these is where the radial crosses near the Ferris street bridge. Several months ago the city engineer, Charles Erlanson, at 5 Francis street, escaped from his sister at the G. T. R. depot last evening and although he was chased, he managed to get away.

The fire department had two runs yesterday; one in the morning at 11 to the Frost Wire Fence Company's plant, where an overheated gas stove did $15 damage by setting fire to the wall in the office, and one in the evening at 9.15 to the east end of Birch avenue and Barton streets, the residence of George Laking. An overheated furnace set fire to the rafters under the floor of the dining room at this place, and did $35 damage.

The annual convention of Christians gathered to the name of the Lord, which started in the Gospel Hall, 100 MacNab street north, on Thursday evening, and continued there during Friday, and in the Association Hall on Saturday and Sunday, is drawing to a close.

The crossing at the head of Victoria avenue, near the T. H. & B. yards, where both T. H. & B. and G. T. R. tracks cross, is without protection, and is regarded as a dangerous place.

Barton street and Ferguson avenue and King street and Ferguson avenue, where the Grand Trunk and Street Rail way tracks cross on the level, are also regarded as dangerous places. The regulations call for the street cars to stop. The railways are now considering placing gates at Barton street and Ferguson avenue.

CHRISTIANS.

Annual Convention of Many Assemblies in This City.

The annual convention of Christians gathered to the name of the Lord, which started in the Gospel Hall, 100 MacNab street north, on Thursday evening, and continued there during Friday, and in the Association Hall on Saturday and Sunday, is drawing to a close.

On Thursday evening a prayer meeting was held in the Gospel Hall at 7.30. On Friday meetings were held in the same place at 10, 2.30 and 7. These meetings were addressed by some of the ministers of the city.

To-night at 7 o'clock in the Gospel Hall some of the brethren will address the children, and a meeting at 8 o'clock for all will close one of the most able and instructive conventions in Hamilton.

The score at half time was 18-8 in favor of the Rangers.
