

INDIANS DYING FAST IN NORTH

Factor Brabant Says at Present Rate They Will Soon Be All Extirminated.

Slowly, but surely, the Indians of the far north are dying off. At the present rate of extinction the historic red man will before many years pass from the North American continent as the farm-famed buffalo, which shared with him the plains in time past, has done.

Mr. Brabant has his headquarters at Fort Rae, on the northern arm of Great Slave lake, more than a thousand miles from Edmonton. He has just returned from Winnipeg, where he was attending the annual meeting of the factors of the company. In a few days he will leave again for the northern post.

For the past twelve years the factor has been in charge of the company's posts in the north. He is a man of about 50 years of age and has spent the last 25 years at various posts in the employ of the company and was stationed at Fort Smith in 1910, when the epidemic of measles swept the north country.

The number of Indians died from that cause in the years 1901-2 was appalling. Since then the grippe has been claiming a large number of victims each year, and at Fort Smith the hunters have decreased from 50 of five years ago to 20 at the present time.

Affecting the Company. This decrease of Indians is having its effect upon the Hudson's Bay Co. and since the rabbits have left during the last two years great privations are being felt by the different tribes. The past winter, although milder than usual, has seen many tribes brought to sore straits to keep alive.

78 Deaths at Fort Rae. At Fort Rae 78 deaths have taken place this winter. The tribe there consists of approximately 500 people and are among the best cared for Indians in the north, being in constant touch with the Hudson Bay company, the missions and the R.N.W.M.P.

Steps to improve conditions have been taken within the last five years by the government and a physician is now stationed at Fort Rae and free medicine is being distributed by the government, but for some reason the disease cannot be kept from re-appearing.

Missions Doing Good Work. The Catholic and English church missions are giving attention to an education and training that is having a good effect as it makes the girls better fitted to look after their homes and the boys to become better able to attend to the wants of their families.

When asked if the Indians were careful as to their sanitary conditions Mr. Brabant said that this was not the cause of their sickness, as they were never very long in one place and as a result were not troubled with uncleanness.

Smoking is also having its effect. The Indian has always smoked, but he pointed out that they are learning earlier than they formerly did. The boy now learn to smoke at an early age and smoke incessantly.

Intermarriage Not Common. When the subject of intermarriage in families was broached, it was pointed out that that was not as common as people thought, but in some cases it was the cause of disease, and he had seen cases of this nature resulting from close intermarriages.

The Indian is careless about hunting and when he is sick does not take any precautions against exposing himself. When game is scarce, as it is now, he is forced to hunt even when he is ill.

The missions are turning out strong, healthy children, and are taking in as many as they can possibly get. The two missions can handle 500 children and they are constantly coming and going.

At Point of Starvation. At Fort Simpson this winter the Indians were brought to the point of starvation and if the representatives of the government had not assisted hundreds would have perished. They had no food and fish was very scarce. The families are small in the north, only 2 or 3 children on an average. The cause of this low birth rate, Mr. Brabant stated, was the lack of food and sickness.

B. C. Insurance Commission. Nelson, B. C., April 8.—The Provincial Royal commission on fire insurance concluded its sessions for the interior today. Four new witnesses were examined at the morning session on the subject of local rates and the commission sat again in the afternoon, but no witnesses presented themselves.

CHILD BORN ON TRAIN

Young Mother Attempted to Conceal the Birth.

Moosé Jaw, Sask., April 8.—An unusual story, revealing distressing circumstances, was unfolded this morning, when the No. 1 westbound C.P.R. train pulled into the depot, and from it a twenty-year old girl and a new born infant were removed in an ambulance. The infant was born on the train between this point and Regina, but the girl concealed the fact until the sleeping car porter's attention was drawn to noises proceeding from the toilet room, which on investigation he found to be the wallings of a new born baby which was wrapped in a towel and placed in a cup-board. The girl at first denied all knowledge, but subsequently admitted the pregnancy. She was travelling to Calgary, Alberta.

CALGARY HORSE SHOW THE BEST IN THE WEST

Splendid Class of Horses Shown in Practically Every Event. The Saddle Horses Ever Shown—Edmonton Stallion Dies From Running Nail Into Its Brain.

Calgary, April 8.—What everyone says is generally the truth, and the consensus of opinion from the visitors from east to west is that the Horse Show, which closed tonight, was by far the best ever held in the West. Judge Carlisle, who was judge of heavy horses, says he never saw a better showing of animals west of the Missouri river. Secretary Abbott, of the Winnipeg Hunt Club, says he never saw a better collection of saddle animals in any ring.

The attendance has kept up to the capacity of the building all through the exhibition, and next year it will either be a case of a new building or buy your seats a month ahead.

In the afternoon, the programme was arranged especially for children, and it was a holiday in town for the youngsters. The features of the exhibition by the youngsters were the riding of the nine year old son of Count De Rouleux, who put his horse over the first jump like a veteran, but on the second he was thrown and slightly hurt. Little Willie Millar, however, rode her pony like an experienced winner. The jumping events were very interesting to both afternoon and evening shows, and the popular horses and riders were enthusiastically cheered.

In the afternoon, Elrit in the class for ponies under 14.2 won over the other ponies in fine fashion. Maximus, with the little De Rouleux boy, threw his rider. Blacque, a grey animal, entered by Murray Edwards, was the surprise of the entire class, and Clear, owned by J. Young, Gleichen, was second, with Faughalough third.

Leon, Best Single Pacer. Leon, the single pacer, owned by I. G. Battle, was the best in the class. Flosie Wilkes, owned by Quensel, of Maple Creek, was second, with Fred Johnston's Prompt, third. Journalist was classed among the firsts, and was the best jumper. He is owned by W. J. Watson of Calgary. Tobie, Count De Rouleux's horse, was second, with Corn Rose, owned by Count De Charmace, third.

Fred Lowe's Cadez was the grand champion saddle horse. Hustler and Journalist reserve champions. Black Bird took the Hunt Club special prize. Somers Girl was second, Brownie third.

Needs, Best Single Trotter. Dr. Lisley had great success with his mare, Needs, taking first in the single trotters and also as physician's driver.

The show closed with two very interesting jumping events, in the first conformation went in the count at 80 per cent, and 10 per cent, for performance. Whistler was first, Journalist second. In the other competition conformation only went for 60 per cent and jumping at 40. Stoneway was first, Elrit second.

Tom Carr, the $1,500 two year old stallion, owned by Walter Sporie, Edmonton, which took first prize here, reared in his stall today and ran a nail into his brain and died.

BIG FIRE IN GALT, ONT. Opera House, Block Destroyed—Will Not Be Rebuilt. Galt, Ont., April 8.—Scott's opera house block was completely destroyed by fire today. The losses are as follows: Block owned by Jas. Scott, value $30,000, insurance $10,000; tenants, Lockhardt & Co., plumbers, loss $1,500, insured; A. G. Buree, painter and wall papers, loss $1,000, insured; Horton, butcher, loss $300, no insurance; F. A. MacDonald, grocer, loss $1,000, insured; W. Hunter, sporting goods, loss $500, no insurance. It is not believed the opera house will be rebuilt. The building blocked Main street west and public feeling favors the extension of the street.

Cleary, of Balgonie, who arrived in this city this evening, is a C.P.R. night operator in place of Voyeur, who was today sentenced to jail for asserting his post, was also arrested tonight on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. His arrest makes the third C.P.R. night operator arrested here this week.

TOTAL REVENUE IS OVER $100,000,000

Returns for Year Ending March 31st Constitute Remarkable Financial Record.

Ottawa, Ont., April 8.—The returns of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion received by the finance department up to midnight of March 31st and published in the regular monthly financial statement today bear out the forecast made a few days ago, that the total revenue for the fiscal year, when all the returns are in, be over one hundred million and the surplus of revenue over all ordinary revenues, will be close to the twenty million mark, both figures constituting a remarkable new record in the financial administration of the country.

The Actual Receipts. The actual receipts returned to the finance department up to and including March 31st, 1910, are estimated at over two million dollars, and will still be received before the year is finally closed, thus bringing the total revenue close to a hundred and one million. This will be an increase of about sixteen millions of dollars as compared with the preceding fiscal year.

The expenditure on consolidated fund account is expected to reach about eighty-one millions, a decrease of three millions as compared with 1908-9 and a net betterment of nineteen millions.

Of the total increase in revenue, about thirteen millions is due to customs. The expenditure on capital account for year, as shown by the returns received up to the end of the month, is $11,461,86, and next year it will be twenty millions as on account of the National Transcontinental Railway.

Progress for Children. The charges for the year, including railway subsidies and bounties, will probably be $35,500,000. Exclusive of the one extension on the National Transcontinental Railway Canada has paid during the past fiscal year out of revenue every item of expenditure, but both capital and consolidated fund account, with nearly five millions still to the good to apply to the N. T. R. construction account.

The total net debt of the Dominion at the end of the month was $257,976,719, a decrease during the month of $21,982,108.

Four to be Sent From Canada to Imperial Cadet Association. Ottawa, April 8.—The department of militia and defence has decided to send four cadets to the Imperial Cadet association, London, England, to take part in the Boys' Bisley on May 24. The department has decided to hold a miniature competition of the Canadian Rifle league prior to the selection of cadets. The average score in this competition will be made up to their average in the February and March competition and the cadets making the highest score will be selected, providing they are otherwise eligible. Cadets for the 1910 series must be under 18 years of age and junior under 16, on July 1, 1910, and all must be enrolled as members of the gazetted cadet corps.

Lady Sarah Wilson is to be remembered on account of her experience during the siege of Mafeking when she was with General Baden-Powell during the trying times experienced with the little garrison.

TO DISSOLVE MERGER

Evidence Completed in Case Against the Union Pacific. New York, April 8.—Taking of testimony in the suit instituted by the U. S. government to dissolve the so-called Union Pacific merger was terminated before special examiner Williamson of this city, by the filing of an immense mass of statistics compiled from the annual reports of the various railroads involved in the litigation. F. D. Dunne and Nelson H. Loomis, counsel for the Union Pacific railroad, rested for the defence with the proviso that they might file a corrected statement should the figures submitted by the government be found to be inaccurate. The records covering thousands of pages will be printed.

C.P.R. Orders Rolling Stock. Montreal, April 8.—Large quantities of rolling stock are being ordered by the Canadian Pacific in preparation for an anticipated heavy rush of business next fall. They have now over two million dollars worth of box cars ordered from the Canada Car and Foundry company, in addition to the large number of freight cars ordered at the Angus shops.

TWO NEW SHIPS OF WAR FOR U.S.

House of Representatives Authorize New Battleships—No Cabinet Resignations.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Two battleships of the first class were authorized in the House early this evening. The entire naval construction plan of the navy department and President Taft went through with a majority of 51.

The outcome of the fight on the battleships was a victory over the opponents of a greater navy who sought to shirk themselves behind the president's demand for economy in public expenditures.

The president made it clear to those with whom he conferred on the subject, that his idea of economy did not extend to the point of leaving the country defenceless. The record of the House on the subject of the battleships was a victory over the opponents of a greater navy who sought to shirk themselves behind the president's demand for economy in public expenditures.

Are Not Resigning. Unless Secretary of State Knox and Secretary MacVeagh are to be considered as deliberate defilers with no extenuating circumstances, these two high officials of the present cabinet have no thought of resigning or of their connection with the administration.

Mr. Knox and Mr. MacVeagh both today decided emphatically and unequivocally and heartily, the printed stories that they intend to resign in the near future, or so far as they can be concerned, to be considered as without foundation.

SHOT WIFE TWICE IN HEAD.

Rainy River Engineer Will Face Charge of Murder if Wife Dies. Rainy River, April 8.—Engineer J. Barron, Five Roses, in jail here with a murder charge probably impending. It appears that Mrs. Byrne, who was a great favorite of the community, was shot at the home of Mrs. Barrett, the wife of a C.N.R. fireman, and while Mrs. Barrett was out by the street she was shot in the head. Byrne then fled, but a pursuit quickly organized and he was shot in the back. He was taken to the hospital, but he died.

$15,000,000 COAL CO. WEST OF EDMONTON

Western Canada Land Company Refers to Coal Fields Held by This Company, Which Has Extensive Land Interests in This Western Country. Canadian Associated Press. London, April 8.—At a meeting of the Western Canada Land company, Sir John G. Macdonald, president, said the small amount of land sold had been the result of the deliberate action of the directors, who were encouraged to hold the land by the satisfactory development of Western Canada. This section, justly estimated at 200,000 acres of eastern land, is 60 per cent, profit and had accepted option on 540,000 acres, at a price of $15 per acre. They, however, did not intend to sell any more below $10 or $15 per acre. Referring to the sale of the land, he said that the company's coal field west of Edmonton, the capital thereof would be 300,000 acres. He said that the company would calculate what would be the value of their lands then.

FLETT RESENTS CHARGE

Says That Alleged Inference in Canada by U. S. Agitators is a Bogey. Ottawa, April 8.—This alleged interference in labor matters by people of the United States offensively called agitators is a bogey that exists only in the imagination of those who will willingly desire to misrepresent the actual conditions of affairs here. It is a fair sample of what he is capable of, to use a sporting phrase, my coal heaver could give him cash and spend and get him every cent.

LEGISLATOR'S HOLD ORGIE

Trenton, N. J., April 8.—Governor Fort will be asked to investigate the disgraceful proceedings which marked the close of the last legislature when some of the members and some of the officers of the assembly entertained women in one of the offices of the capitol indulging in liquor and the wildest kind of orgies. Producers of the city are greatly incensed at the reports of the affairs which have taken out and will ask the government to act.

SEEDING IN SASKATCHEWAN

Will Be General Next Week—Ideal Seed Bed Prepared.

Regina, Sask., April 8.—Seeding throughout Saskatchewan will, it is expected, be general next week. In many districts farmers have already made considerable progress in wheat, but many have occupied themselves with preparation work, preferring to wait until April is well advanced before commencing seeding. Conditions are reported as exceptionally favorable for seeding operations. The rainfall of the past week and the extra cultivation which the farmers have been enabled to give their land owing to the early breakup of winter, has made the seed bed ideal for giving the crop a good start. While no figures are yet obtainable it is expected that the acreage under crop this year will show a big increase over last year, probably 25 per cent.

It Will Require 9,000 Enumerators for Dominion Census. Ottawa, April 8.—Archibald Blue, special census commissioner and other officials connected with the Dominion census have begun preparing for the census of Canada, which will be taken next year. It is expected that 9,000 officials will be employed.

Several witnesses gave evidence in favor of the general character of Lawyer Priboff and Dr. Navonoff, the lovers of the countess who are accused of complicity in the murder. DUTY ON FRUIT TO REMAIN IN FORCE

Hon. Mr. Fielding Says There Will Be No Remission For The Present.

Ottawa, April 8.—The House of Commons had a fairly big sitting today. With H. H. Miller's anti-race track gambling bill out of the way, some degree of progress was made with legislation. The currency bill was given a third reading. There was a discussion upon the question of the remission of duty on early fruits and vegetables from the United States, the Minister of Finance announcing, however, that nothing would be done at present.

The postmaster general intimated that the outside post office service was to be brought under the civil service act with consequent revision of salaries. He will go into this matter during the recess. The St. Lawrence power transmission bill was again talked out. A big fight is expected over it on Monday.

J. D. Taylor, Conservative member for New Westminster, made a long speech on British Columbia post office matters. In connection with the patronage, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, in reply, said he consulted Mr. Jardine in making some appointments and changes, but that could hardly be called wrong.

Mr. Taylor said the patronage of the constituency was worth more than the salary of a cabinet minister, and it was the public, in the end, who paid this. Hon. Mr. Lemieux thought Mr. Taylor, when he was cooler, would not insist on the charge.

Mr. Fielding announced when the house adjourned that the private bills and the navy bill would be taken up at Monday's sitting of the House. Farmers column. In the Senate.

In the Senate today, in moving the adoption of the supply bill, Sir Richard Cartwright stated that the amount involved was $1,636,000 and was necessary for the completion of the improvements at Fort William and Port Arthur. Respecting the B.N.A. Mining Company. To incorporate the Saskatchewan Central Railway Company. To incorporate the Pine Pass Railway Company.

COLORADO MILLIONAIRE DEAD

Thomas F. Walsh Passes Away at Washington. Washington, April 8.—Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado millionaire, died here at 11:30 o'clock tonight. Mr. Walsh's wife, his daughter, Mrs. Edward McLean, and his son-in-law, Edward McLean, were at his bedside when the end came. Death was due to a complication of diseases, from which Mr. Walsh had suffered for some time past. His fatal illness dated from the time about a month ago, when he was stricken in San Antonio, Texas.

Accompanied by Mrs. Walsh, the famous millionaire, who even then realized his condition, expressed a desire to return to Washington, and see once more his young grandson, less than a year old, who through the death of Mr. Walsh becomes one of the richest infants in the world. From the time that he returned to Washington, Mr. Walsh was fully aware that death would be the outcome of his illness. He remained cheerful, however, and spent daily receiving his old friends in the sick-room.

Recently he had several striking spells but it was not until today that his relatives were forced to a realization that the end was near.

MR. BORDEN AND MR. FOSTER.

According to Ottawa despatches Mr. Borden has decided to get rid of some of his lieutenants before meeting the representatives of the party in convention. There is other evidence to indicate that the despatches are correct. The Toronto News, which seems to have been adopted by Mr. Borden or has been adopted by Mr. Borden, has been tendering him advice in this direction for some time. It demanded with some vigor and persistence the execution of Mr. Foster, and more recently has been assailing Mr. Monk as not only useless but as being a menace to Mr. Borden's position and peace of mind.

Mr. Borden values his position he would do well to eliminate certain of his Parliamentary colleagues from positions of influence in the party before they braves gather in council. Most, if not all of these undesired lieutenants Mr. Borden inherited from the era of disruption which followed the passing of Sir John Macdonald. Like the general of Napoleon, the chief was no sooner gone than the marshals began a struggle for mastery among themselves. Mr. Borden was brought in, it is understood, by Sir Charles Tupper, in hope that under a new leader, the warring elements might cease, or at least act with the harmony and co-operation necessary to present a tolerable front to the foe.

Mr. Foster is now grey in the wars. He came into Parliament in the days of Sir John. He was taken into the cabinet and given control of one of the most important departments of the public service. He was perhaps justified in expecting that when the leader passed he would be next in line. But other factions were too powerful for him.

Mr. Foster is no novice in Parliament and the regularity with which the absence of Mr. Borden resulted in a conflict between the members most loyal to him and the group of the old guard who stood with Mr. Foster could hardly have been the result of accident or of inexperience. In these and other ways it has seemed to be the purpose of Mr. Foster to scatter thorns in the way of Mr. Borden, with the hope of driving him from the leadership.

That in each event the vacant position could never go to Mr. Foster that gentleman himself may be forgiven for not understanding. One is not a good judge of his own limitations, especially one who has gained so much distinction as Mr. Foster.

It has long been apparent that Mr. Borden would be better off without Mr. Foster, great as the loss of his debating talent would be. But that he has chosen either a fitting time or a just occasion on which to abandon the old veteran is doubtful. Mr. Foster is a sick man. For the time at least he is unable to defend himself either in the House or to the members of the party. It certainly proves nothing either as to Mr. Borden's courage or his chivalry that he selects such an occasion to notify Mr. Foster of his reduction to the ranks. Nor is there any apparent reason why the reduction should be made now rather than at an earlier time or at a later time.

There has been nothing in the conduct of Mr. Foster during the present session more dangerous to the leader than that of previous sessions. Had it been otherwise, the humiliation might still have been postponed a few weeks in hope that Mr. Foster would have been in better health of body and mind. All reports to the contrary, too, the country understands thoroughly the real cause of Mr. Foster's abandonment. The report of the Royal Commission made it impossible for him to again become finance minister of Canada. But Mr. Borden refused to retire Mr. Foster from the front of the party in consequence of that report. He defended him in the House and in the country. He fought through an election campaign with Mr. Foster as his alternative to Mr. Fielding. All that he could do to prevent Mr. Foster in the treasury department was done. He cannot be abandoning him now because of the conduct for which he formerly defended him. He can only be doing so because Mr. Borden recognizes he cannot make progress with Mr. Foster in the front rank. The veteran fails, therefore, not for what he has done but because of what his leader cannot do. Whatever Mr. Foster deserves he does not deserve this. Had his retirement been demanded when the report of the Commission made his conduct plain, and when in the full enjoyment of health and strength of mind and body he was in position to take care of himself, he could have had little complaint to make. But that was not done. Instead he was defended through thick and thin by the leader who now demands his retirement. Mr. Borden was entirely willing to defend Mr. Foster while Mr. Foster was able to speak. It is only when he is broken in health that the bitter news of his humiliation is announced. Mr. Borden must show that this act of unnecessary cruelty has other than a personal motive if he expects it to improve his standing with the public. Until he does so he must be suspected of striking a fallen comrade merely in revenge or in hope of making his own position the more secure.

Fruit growers in the Niagara district of Ontario protest against fruit from the United States being allowed to enter the West free of duty. This does not necessarily mean that these men sell much fruit in the West. In this part of it at least they certainly do not. It is not now demanded for the protection of the Canadian producer only. It is demanded as well on what is not produced in Canada at all. Witness the outcry against the reductions agreed to in the negotiations with Washington. In that case the object seems to be not to protect the Canadian producer but to inflict hardship on the Canadian consumer without protecting or benefiting anybody. This aside, what right in morals or economy can a few hundred men in Ontario have to compel the million or so people living on the prairies to buy their fruit at prices they see fit to fix or to go without fruit? Our products are sold in competition with the world. If the Niagara fruit-growers cannot do the same they had better get out of the fruit business. Certainly we owe them nothing that we should be taxed to make them prosperous in spite of the laws of production and trade.

cuttle through the winter for the higher prices which prevail in the spring market. The margin of profit should be higher here where grain has farther to travel to the seaboard, and is consequently worth less money. Farmers with suitable buildings should be able to make something by turning their rough grain into beef for the local markets in late winter, spring and early summer.

THE REPORT.

(Thursday's Daily.)

The report of Mr. Francis is not very complimentary, nor very pleasant reading. Clearly it is not designed to tickle our pride with flattery about the way our civic affairs have been run. About the only ground for congratulation in it is that no taint of official dishonesty was found and that some officials have been doing good work under very trying circumstances. Beyond this, chagrin rather than satisfaction is the sentiment it must provide. He tells us in effect that the power house must be torn down and rebuilt before it will be safe; that in it we have a "Museum of machinery" comprising "A monument to the enterprise of manufacturers' agents" which must be reconstructed—whatever that may mean in work and expense; that we have been "gold-bricked" in the purchase of supplies for operating the plant; and that the whole commissioner system as operated here must be overhauled if we are to escape a spectacular and disastrous break-down of the municipal ownership policy.

The report is that of an expert, not a judge. It says where certain things are wrong and recommends certain general changes which would produce better results. But it does not pronounce judgment, nor even trace out the evidence on which judgment could be pronounced. As to why the conditions found to exist do exist it leaves the Council to ascertain in detail and to take what administrative action may seem to be called for in the individual case. It is clearly intended to provide the Council with a working basis on which to prosecute inquiry into the several points rather than as a resume of how the deplorable conditions were brought about. It equips the Council with an authoritative statement of what is, leaving the Council to find out why it is and to take such action as may then seem necessary to prevent a recurrence. Without such a report the report would do little good. It might do much harm. Its tendency must be to unsettle the public mind and to create suspicion where perhaps none is deserved. Its influence upon the credit of the City, too, is worth thinking about. We must go into the money markets yearly for more capital with which to extend our utilities as possible. The ratepayers are entitled to an opportunity to peruse the report at leisure and would no doubt approve the cost of making this possible.

Mr. Foster is able to sit up and tell a reporter he is not dead yet, politically or physically, while in that gentleman's absence Mr. Monk's friends speak to the same effect on his behalf. Kicking these gentlemen out of the party they have served longer and with less reward than himself is not the easy task Mr. Borden may have been led to suppose. It is altogether possible that the leader may throw himself off his feet in the attempt.

Mr. Aquish has a majority of 106 in the House of Commons. That probably explains why Opposition papers have been doing all the worrying about the Government being able to hold on.

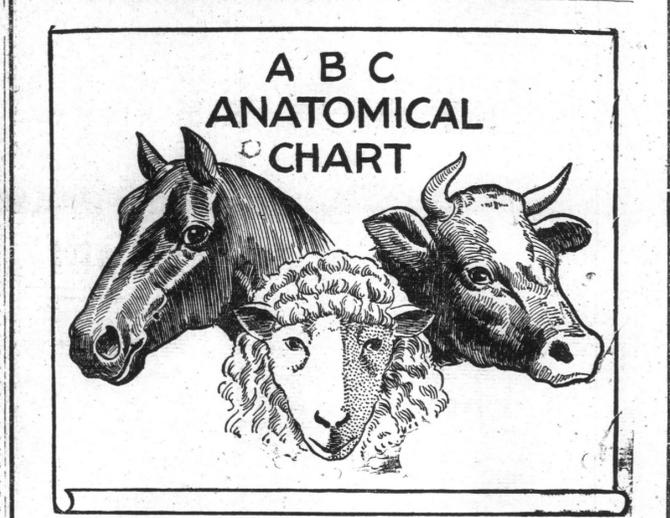

The promoters have fixed upon 1914 as the date for the Siskik Centennial. Now all that is lacking is the money. Tuesday evening's demonstration in the council chamber made clear that there is a sharp cleavage of public opinion and of private interest as well over the question of whether the market shall be removed to the new site or left where it is. On the one hand were owners of property near the present site, and parties who conduct business in that vicinity. These claimed that the proximity of the market was a powerful factor both in business and in fixing the value of property. To remove it they said would interfere unjustly with their business enterprises and depreciate the value of the property thereabouts. On the other hand it was urged that these arguments should have been advanced last fall when it was proposed to buy the new site was sufficient warning that if bought it would be used, and that the protesting parties have not now any just ground of complaint if through negligence allowed the purchase to go through or if they were not numerous enough to prevent it. The easiest and fairest way out of the tangle is to go straight ahead; to submit the bylaw for the money necessary to erect the building. If the bylaw carries, then the ratepayers must be supposed to want the market on the First Street site, for it has already been decided by ballot that if a building is erected now it is to be located there. If the bylaw is rejected that will be an indication that they want matters left as they are for the present. The rejection would not, of course, mean that the ratepayers were averse to a building being erected on the present site.

Immigrants from the United States are calculated to bring 125 million dollars into the country this summer. That, of course, is very much more than emigrating Canadians will take to the United States. Yet we hear no one storming about the "adverse balance of trade" on this score. Money, the least useful instrumentally of all commodities, is the one protectionists are willing to have "dumped" upon them. Foodstuffs, clothing, implements—their want none of these from the hands of the foreigner. But money is welcome to them from whatever source. The lure of money is the root of much that is peculiar in economics as well as in morals.

A conference has been held at Ottawa, supposedly for the purpose of settling the much disputed question of the boundary between the authority of the Dominion and that of the Provinces, regarding the incorporation of companies and other matters. Naturally no settlement was reached. Probably none was expected. Probably none was desired by some members of the conference. While it continues to be "good politics" for a Provincial Government to get itself into a quarrel with the Dominion over some fancied grievance, there is not much likelihood of this boundary line being explicitly defined. It is getting pretty nearly time for general elections in some Provinces, and we may expect in those quarters the premonitory symptoms of a fresh outbreak of Fed-

In the vital sense, of course, to commercial development owing to one another. Just as the notion was vanishing, that a conferred a favor on a man who lent him money on abundant so the idea that one part of the country was commercially dependent on the other was losing ground. It commerce was the basis of political strength, it was incumbent on who lived under one political to promote the maximum of business relations. It was, therefore, as much the business of the West to understand the East, as it was the duty of the East to learn of the West. Knowing something was different from knowing about a man might know all about a man had never seen. But it was the who had run the capital and sowed in its waters who really the river.

Canada has been handicapped race of little faiths, who, if they lived in anything, believed the country was unable to be a position of the United States, or a inferior dependent of a distant "that faith without works" was and works without faith was nation was obvious from the step the joining by steel of the West the East. The few who believe prairies would become the rest of vast Canadian "wealth" were when they planned works. I in the belief that it would be a lions before a railway could be north of Lake Superior, and spent three months in the "wilderness" canoe route between Port Arthur Fort Garry, which has become a delightful most secluded way the voyagers of the early eighteenth century followed when they first to the amazing valley of the Saskatchewan.

Libelled by Ignorant Men. The West was libelled by men did not know it. He, himself, heard a Toronto man solemnly the passengers on an Atlantic the West, and it would be appropriate if some meetings of those who become rich through nothing but opened with prayers for humility. Still, the impulse to exploit West came from the East. The of civilization had always been ward, and when at last it had pleted its round, the other side of civilization had brought a "ye backward" to the Pacific coast; we gave a peculiar quality to the commercial-political relations between the sections of Canada, one of v looked toward the rising sun for Old World, while the other was setting the Old World by way of settling the Old World by way of settling the Old World.

To Lender's Advantage. Canada West borrowed from Canada primarily because Canada borrowed from Europe. But the er lent for his own advantage another's. Indeed, the man who by lending money was under an obligation to those who, by sub the earth in its unfamiliar "new" human nature expressed itself in hunger and the pioneer life. would always be transference of such such commodities as wheat until more intensive agriculture, better appreciation of industrial abilities, produced a new era of order provinces.

Working for East. Even so, the West was working for the East in a way that was really realized. For instance, Canadian Northern alone, in the seven years, spent seven millions on equipment manufacturing Nova Scotia. A few eastern thought that as the East had the first railways to the West, the West had achieved an assured party. "We should have a large meaning enormous" expediting public works—surely, a near view. The way to put your capital in the East was to create business penditures in those places where would most quickly produce the revenue, and that provides the activities in other centres of nation.

Take the most recent example which he was familiar. Between Eston and Calgary—315 miles—crow flies—was the greatest wheat-growing territory in the Canadian Northern world, a line, this year. From seven miles, completed in 1906, over two lion bushes in the country, Port Arthur and the East. grew up with wonderful rapidity districts like that. In every town many thousands of dollars worth goods manufactured in the East.

East Will Profit. Though the West will develop manufacturing enterprises, it would sell more and more to the East by that that increases the East as well as by increasing to the East to receive double. He sponsors a monopoly of goods manufactured in the East. The multiplication of railways between Eastern and Western C
