KOLECON furnishes to coal just what coal lacks to make a perfect combustion, and by using it the coal is all burned, and the air of the room remains sweet and pure. By the use of Kolecon a fire can be kept burning continuously, and the ashes will rake out free and soft.
 When Kolecon is used, the smoke and soot are consumed.
 No clinkers or half-burned coal are possible when using Kolecon, even the ashes become an almost impalpable powder, which is easily drawn away when necessary.

Kolecon will make a poor quality coal do the service of the best qualities.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Ruth Cameron

"The fate of the American drama is in the hands of American women."

This is the statement of a leading New York theatrical manager.

It is founded on an accurate count made at the doors of five large New York
playhouses for one week.

The proportion of women at the theatres—mind you, not the matinees, but the evening performances of these plays—was from sixty-eight to eighty-nine per cent.

That means that we, the women of America, are the backbone of the dramatic audiences, and that consequently plays are written and staged with an eye to suiting us.

Just as much as if we went to the manager and said: "This is the kind of play we like and this is the kind we won't tolerate."

Such a big responsibility, isn't it?
Such a big one and so widely diffused, unfortunately, that it is difficult for women as individuals to realize just how they can put their shoulders to it.

At an afternoon tea the other day I heard a certain play being discussed.

It is the kind of play which the American woman most emphatically ought to turn her thumbs down.

And yet the two women who had been to the play praised the acting in such glowing terms that half a dozen other women avowed their intention of attending.

"Of course, it's not a play for chilren, my dear," said one of the women who had seen it, "but you are old enough and know enough of the world not to mind that sort of thing, and the acting is really splendid."

I don't absolutely know the outcome, but doubtless the ladies went and their dollars swelled the mighty voice of the box office that told the manager that this was the kind of a play American women liked.

And doubtless, now he is looking about for other plays of that type, and if he puts his star in one next year it will be at the request of the American women.

The manager of one of the biggest vaudeville circuits in this country has barred from his stages all mother-in-law jokes "because women don't like that sort of thing."

You see, every woman that witheld her laughter helped banish that joke.

If they would, they might do the same for all the infinitely more objectionable jokes founded on drunkenness that are tolerated everywhere on our stage. And in my mind they could scarcely do a greater thing for their sons.

By making the jokes on the stage which make light of drunkenness and immorality flat by failing to laugh at them.

By never attending intentionally immoral plays and musical comedies whose sole charm is their indecency of dress and allusion, no matter how good the staging or how excellent the acting.

By not advertising these plays by talking about them (even against them).

By giving hearty support and applause to wholesome plays and clean vaudeville.

These are some of the ways in which you, an individual woman, can rightly play your part as censor of the American stage.

Ruth Cameron

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. I will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Ruth Cameron

Household Notes.

A handy adjunct to the medicine chest is the small silver teaspoon which has a cleverly designed handle in the form of a corkscrew; this makes it quite possible to open a tight fitting cork when in a hurry without difficulty.

"Red" meats are less liable to contamination than fish or chicken. The latter should not be eaten if there is the least suspicion of odor about them. Beef slightly tainted, though disagreeable, will not produce ptomaine poisoning.

A loaf of bread will keep fresh much longer if placed in a covered stone crock. Wrap in a large cloth to exclude air and keep the crock in a cool place. It is nicer than a tin vessel and much better than keeping the bread in a refrigerator.

To prevent spotting the cloths, put some bluing out on a piece of white cloth, gather up the corners and tie together. Dip this bag in the water and squeeze it until the water is blue enough. In this way the clothes will never become spotted.

A room that is used constantly should have ventilators to purify the air. There are various patent arrangements; but the simplest form is to run a deep piece of glass on grooves inside one of the windows, which is always kept open behind it.

Never put bluing in cotton underwear, as it turns it yellow. Soak first in cold water, then rub with soap and tightly and let the garment soak for half an hour. Rub lightly on a board, rinse and hang firmly so the garment sags less in drying.

Milk will clean piano keys satisfactorily. It will take out ink spots of long standing. Used in starch, it will give a satisfactory gloss. It will remove discolorations from gilt mirrors and picture frames. Used with bluing for lace curtains, it will make them look like new.

Fascinating are boxes which are found in the shops just now. Covered with paper or cretonne in holiday design these boxes will do duty not only for holding the Christmas gift, but for handkerchiefs, gloves, wigs, ribbons and a thousand whatnots during the rest of the year.

Speaking of passepartout, this is most useful in the kitchen for labeling jars and cans. The gummed flaps of envelopes which have come through the mail unsealed are excellent, too. One woman, a physician's wife, has learned the value of adhesive plaster for labels. It sticks splendidly.

Now that bamboo furniture is used so universally a suggestion about cleaning it may not go unnoticed. This should be done with soap and warm water, to which salt has been added. And the mixture must be put on with a brush and then wiped off with clean cloths until the article is dry and glistens. Ordinary laundry soap will remove the natural gloss of the wood and leave it dull if salt is not added.

Education by Bioscope.

Geography and Natural History Made Graphic and Interesting—New Work For Schoolmistress.

A movement is afoot to introduce "realism" into education by means of the cinematograph.

Members and officials of the Board

Makes Home Baking Easy

ROYAL

of Education of the L.C.C. Education Committee, and the heads of colleges and schools in London, have been invited to attend a series of forthcoming demonstrations organised by "The Bioscopia" during which it will be shown how geography and natural history can be taught and made interesting by "moving pictures."

The future schoolteacher, it seems, will have to be a cinematograph operator as well, and instead of using his blackboard or studying text books to guide his pupils in their studies, he will turn on the bioscope and lead them through a sort of educational fairyland.

"What the child misses in his book," we are told, "is the realism; descriptions alone are but dry bones. There is not a portion of the globe, from the polar regions to the plains of Africa, that has not been visited by the cinematograph. He has explored the Amazon and the Nile, has toiled up the peaks of the great mountain chains, and tracked wild animals to their lairs. There is no city of importance where he has not been with his camera, nor public event of recent years at which he has not been present."

It looks, then, as though the school in the future will hold no terrors for the child. He will be up with the lark in the morning to rush off for the first "moving picture" lesson, and instead of being tired and unsympathetic, will doubtless ask for more.

Educates Her Youth.

Afterwards Germany Helps Them to Get Employment.

Education in Germany has now reached a very high level of efficiency, and the nation's interest in its youth by no means ceases with the termination of school days. Before the German boy leaves school his teacher enters into communication with the parents, who are supplied with a pamphlet showing the chances and conditions in the various trades carried on in the neighborhood. The children visit the labor bureau from time to time until a position is secured for them. Once established in a workshop, the boy attends continuation schools for four or six hours a week. There are inducements to parents to place their boys in unskilled trades, where the immediate earnings are from 5 shillings to 12 shillings a week.

If the boy takes up an unskilled trade he will join a general continuation course to stimulate his general intelligence; if he wants to be a shoemaker, a confectioner, or a compositor, he will join a technical course arranged with a special view to his trade; if he is a stonemason, a cabinetmaker, or a joiner, he will attend the building continuation school; there are also commercial classes for the clerk or bookkeeper. In Munich there are completely separate courses for chemists, saddlers, cooper, metal workers, watchmakers, lithographers, jewelers, to name only a few, each with its expert craftsmen to teach the practice and theory while composition, arithmetic, bookkeeping and drawing are taught also by special teachers for the purposes of the special trade.

We Wouldn't Recognize It.

It has been asserted that an ordinary tea drinker would not recognize the beverage if given a cup brewed from the leaves that afford solace to the imperial family of China, certainly if extraordinary care can change the flavor of a thing, the imperial tea must be, at least, different.

All tea intended for use by the imperial household is raised in a garden surrounded by a high stone wall, so that no unauthorized person can approach the plants. Only the tenderest buds are gathered, and the persons who collect these leaves must abstain from eating fish, that the delicate aroma of the tea may not be affected. Furthermore, the pickers must bathe three times each day, and wear costumes especially provided, as well as gloves.

Some of the British officers messes, famous for their wines and liquors, exercise almost as much care when their liquid supplies are to be renewed. The officers charged with the grave duty of selecting the beverage must abstain from tobacco and any but the most dainty food for weeks before undertaking to pass upon the respective merits of the various vintages and brands which are to receive the honor of consideration.

March Rod and Gun.

An exploration trip a little out of common forms the leading story in the March issue of Rod and Gun, in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont. In this story Dr. Luther Harvey describes a trip to Moose Factory and the very strenuous work he and his guide encountered during their return by way of the Abitibi River. It is a story that will delight the hearts of all good sportsmen.

A paper on the Ancient and Honorable Brotherhood of Sportsmen holds up the highest qualifications for the members of the Noble Brotherhood and describes some of the fine conduct necessary on the part of those who would join the exclusive ranks. Snow Trailing a White-Tail Buck is a gem of a story, and it does not detract at all from its interest to know that the buck is still at large and will require all the hunter's mettle to overcome his instinct and cunning. In the Conservation of the Ducks, Mrs. J. A. McKinnon raises a number of questions of the deepest possible interest to many sportsmen who indulge in a day with the ducks. There are many other good things in the number, including the decision of Judge Hewson on the settler's rights to big game, the conferences of the North American Fish and Game Protective Association, a review of the New Brunswick game season, the Manitoba Game Laws, the destruction of Wolves, etcetera, affording sufficient wide reading to interest any and every sportsman concerned in the many game problems raised throughout the Dominion.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its forms can be cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR

WE CALL
Robin Hood Flour
"The Flour that is Different"

We must stand ready to prove it and also prove that the difference is so marked, so worth while, that you will feel this is the flour you ought to use.

That is exactly where we do stand.

We ask you to take no risk. Buy a bag of ROBIN HOOD and give it two fair trials. If it does not prove perfectly satisfactory, so satisfactory that you, too, say, "It is really the flour that is different," you may take it to your grocer and he will give you back your money.

Will you make the trial on your next flour order?

Mr. Harvey Proposes Amendments.

We notice that the Hon. J. Harvey proposes this afternoon to move some amendments limiting the discretion which the Crown Lands Amendment Bill, now in the Legislative Council, proposes to lodge with the Executive Council. We hope he may succeed in his object. He also proposes that there shall be a full disclosure of the principals interested in applications, when the application is made by an agent. This is a most commendable proposal, and should be insisted on whether the applicant is disclosed as an agent or not. Some day, and it may be nearer than is expected, the public will be startled at learning the names of some of the parties interested in the immense areas which have been granted on the Labrador. Tracts have been granted in blocks of millions of acres at a time, and the public do not know anything like all the beneficiaries of the grants. When territories one-fifth the area of Newfoundland are granted to men of small means, there is room for the disclosure of the persons associated with them. No such blocks should be granted unless subject to the ratification of the Legislature. Then the whole transaction could be brought within the full glare of publicity. Then the public could find out who were behind the deals, and a stop would be put to much that is doubtful and questionable at present.

The bill before the Legislative Council increases enormously the powers of discretion of the Executive in exercising powers over timber and pulp limits granted and to be granted. This leads us to propound two questions:

Ought members of the Executive, or their brothers, or associates, or servants to be interested in timber limits over which such powers are to be exercised?

Should an increase of powers be granted to the Executive when one member or more of the Executive, or their brothers, or their associates, or their servants are interested in timber or pulp lands as to which the Executive Council may be called upon to exercise a discretion in favor of the beneficiaries?

Men Went Adrift.

Wm. Costello of Plymouth Road and John Jervis of Quidi Vidi Road, left their homes at 4 a.m. to-day without food and without taking breakfast, to go outside the narrows, shooting sea birds. They went in an open dory, intending to return at 8 a.m., but not showing up and it being very stormy, their friends became anxious and informed the police. I. G. Sullivan sent Head Const. Peet to investigate and informed the Marine and Fisheries Department who telephoned for a tug to search for the men. They, however, turned up in port at 1 p.m. after suffering severely in the storm but nothing the worse for their adventure.

Train Notes.

The west bound express arrived at Port aux Basques at 9 a.m. to-day. The local via Brigus arrived here at 1 p.m. bringing 50 passengers, including Walter Wills and wife, Dr. Chisholm and 20 men from Bell Island.

Marine Notes.

The Durango left Halifax at 7 p.m. yesterday for here. The Rappahannock, is set to leave London to-day for this port. The Almeriana leaves Liverpool on the 28th inst. for this port. The Tabasco leaves Halifax on the 28th inst. for this port. The S. S. Vitalia leaves New York for here direct to-morrow. The S. S. Rosalind leaves New York Saturday for Halifax and this port.

How to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair, you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent. of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try Salvia Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation to stimulate the hair roots, lighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Salvia Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold at our store, McMurdo & Company wholesale agents.

A LARGE FREIGHT.—The S. S. Stella Maris is taking a large freight for northern outports this trip. She will go as far as Twillingate.

BRUCE PASSENGERS.—The Bruce reached Port aux Basques at 1:30 p.m. yesterday from Louisburg with the following passengers in saloon: C. B. Blackie, J. Berry, F. F. Harris, Jas. R. Hayse, L. Murphy, E. P. Meagher, Miss Gosling, Miss Withers, Miss R. Tucker and H. Outerbridge.

MORE SMALL POX.—Eight new cases of small pox developed at Push-through within the past couple of days and Dr. O'Connell of St. Breton has been despatched to see to the quarantine regulations and look after the patients. The houses are quarantined and the disease, it has been ascertained, was brought to the place direct from Sydney.

SUFFERED PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Thos. Carew, of Freshwater Rd., fell from a loft in his barn yesterday and fractured the ankle of the left leg in two places. Dr. Cowperthwaite was called, dressed the limb and then ordered the man to Hospital, where he was taken in the ambulance. Mr. Carew is 75 years old and the accident to him is a painful one.

SNOW DAMAGES ROOF.—The weight of snow falling on the roof of Mr. Parsons garage, King's Road, broke a considerable section of it, a couple of nights ago and smashed off heavy uprights and girders. When the section of the roof fell in it was fortunate that no person was there or an accident might have occurred.

Certainly Ends Stomach Misery.

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, or Dyspepsia go in five minutes.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach. If you will take a little Diapepsin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness (like a lump of lead in stomach), Blisterness, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong Stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from Indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

Sad Drowning Accident

At the Drooke, Trepassy, on the 5th inst. a sad drowning accident occurred the victim being James (youngest son of James St. Croix). He left his home early in the afternoon a brave buoyant youth, full of life and vigor little dreaming that forever he was leaving his friends behind and never more would be return till brought as a lifeless form to the home from which he had gone so light hearted and happy but a quarter of an hour, when his dog which accompanied him came back and by whining piteously tried to tell James' father of the sad fatality which had befallen his son. Not a thought of anything entered the minds of his friends until the dog ran from the house to the cliff and back again making every sign which is possible for a dumb animal in order to intimate to his friends the loss of his dear master. His brother Patrick immediately hurried to the place where James had gone shooting. But, oh! imagine his feelings on seeing where he, James, had gone to the edge of the cliff which had been overhung by snow and which no doubt had given away at the moment he stepped on it, as it could easily be seen when he skated a few yards down then fell over a height of 80 feet, and was all in a moment hurled into eternity. Who can describe the sorrow of his people, and the gloom of the place when the news of his sad death was announced. Search was immediately made for his body in order to give it Christian burial, as all hope of finding him alive was abandoned, and his friends in the Drooke and other places near by laboured for hours shovelling snow from out the gulch where he had fallen, but up to night no discovery. Early on Friday morning the work of shovelling was again resumed, and Fr. Renouf, P. P. Trepassy, visited the place during the day and encouraged the men to work harder still for the rescue of the body of their fellow creature, but no success was met with that day; however perseverance grows the work, and God willed that the labour of those men should not go unrewarded. Early Saturday morning they managed a small skiff and after a few moments search Joe Perry (the hero of the Tolsey disaster) sighted his gun lying on the bottom in about five fathoms of water, which discovery inspired them with the thought that the body was somewhere near which proved true, as after a little while the body was drawn up from the bottom by Patrick Perry by means of a chain which books had been attached. Those who were present at the finding of the body say it was one of the saddest sights ever witnessed when the lifeless form was brought ashore and laid upon the beach, to see his aged father looking upon the cold, silent features of his darling son who was never to be his comfort during the remaining days of his life, but who so suddenly and unexpectedly had been called to that "Home" from which he can never return. Dr. Giovannetti was quickly sent for when the body was found, and said he though life was extinct ere he reached the water as a deep gash had been inflicted over the left eye supposed to be caused by striking the rocks when falling; likewise the sorrow of his affectionate brother is better imagined than written. Oh the cries of pity from his sister, moreover the youngest, would cause the hardest heart to open wide with sympathy, as she gazed on the lifeless corpse of her good, kind brother, knowing full well yet scarcely realizing that his early career had ended and that no more would she hear his loving voice or see him in their home. Oh, cruel death, how bitter are thy pangs. The blow was a sad one to his father, as on January 9th his loving wife was laid to rest in the cold, cold clay. He had scarcely begun to overcome his first sorrow when a more sad and terrible event fell on his home to deepen the remaining days of his life. Yet we know it was the Will of the Most High and therefore must not murmur but ask strength of God to bear the trial with patience and submission. James was a young man of 25, unmarried, and had gone to Sydney last August to seek employment owing to the failure of the fishery in his native place, after a month or so he gave up his situation and came to St. John's, where he was employed in the herring fishery where he remained till January 5th when he was summoned home at the request of his dying mother who wished to see him. He arrived just in time to see her as she died within 48 hours after his arrival. Poor youth he little thought how soon he was to follow her, but such are the ways of this wretched world, at the most unexpected hour we receive the summons which we must obey. Deceased leaves an aged father, 3 brothers, 6 sisters to mourn the loss of a dutiful son, kind, loving, sober and industrious brother, and a large circle of friends. Funeral took place at 1 p.m. Sunday, and all that

OBITUARY.

JOHN F. DOOLEY.

It is with feelings of sincere regret we record the demise at the General Hospital last night of Master John F. Dooley. The deceased youth was the third eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dooley of Pleasantville. He had been unwell for over a year and his death was the result of an attack of tuberculosis and peritonitis. He was a young chap of the physique, was formerly a member of the C. O. U., was engaged in the woodworking business in the Empire Woodworking Coy. and his death cut short a career of much promise. One brother is in New York and two other brothers and a sister reside with their parents at Pleasantville. To his bereaved parents and relatives the Telegram extends its sympathy.

NETTIE MARTIN.

The death occurred yesterday evening of Miss Nettie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Martin of Till Cove, in her 17th year. The deceased young lady came to Bishop Spencer College in September last to study, contracted a cold, about 2 weeks ago and developed typhoid fever which resulted in her early demise. Besides her parents there are left to mourn her two brothers and three sisters, one sister is in Norway and a brother Mr. James Martin, is assistant in Bowring's Dry Goods store. Messrs. William and John Cornick of this city are uncles of the deceased. A sad feature of the death of Miss Martin is comprised in the fact that her parents cannot come on here owing to the difficulties of travel. In common with the many friends of the parents and relatives, we extend to them our sincere sympathy.

The Sealing Outlook.

The Northern Patch Disposed Of. Bad News From Gulf.
 The news received from the sealing fleet yesterday would go to show that the steel ships have disposed of the patch of seals which they were in and which according to Capt. Geo. Barbour numbered roughly 130,000 seals. The big patch found almost every spring must have been divided and as all the ships both steel and wooden have been accounted for and roughly they have secured about 120,000, so that the outlook is not at all encouraging. The usual stealing of pans was in evidence and Capt. Keen had taken from him 30 flags or about 3000 seals. Yesterday forenoon another message was received from Capt. Geo. Barbour of the Beothic, saying:

"All pans on board; total count, 21,000; all ships killed about 130,000. Erik, Diana and Neptune in this patch picking up seals; Diana 5,000; Bloodhound, 15,000; seals very scattered."
 During the afternoon Bowring Bros. had this wife from Capt. A. Keen, despatched at 5 p.m. Tuesday, carrying "24,000 on board; 30 pans stolen. Ergle, Ranger and Aurora in sight, doing nothing. Erik, Diana and Neptune, picking up scattered seals, Newfoundland with 5,000 gone east."
 The number of seals which the Neptune reported according to the message of Tuesday afternoon which was reported yesterday is 1,000. A very poor fare for this fine vessel. The Bloodhound has to date made a good showing in securing 15,000 seals. No figures have been given for the Ergle, Aurora, Algerine, Ranger or Erik, and the approximate totals to date are:

Florizel	24,000
Beothic	21,000
Bonaventure	18,000
Adventure	15,000
Bloodhound	15,000
Bellaventure	14,000
Diana	5,000
Newfoundland	5,000
Neptune	1,000
Total	118,000

The rest of the 130,000 in the patch being taken likely by the Diana, Newfoundland and Neptune.

BAD GULF NEWS.
 The Gulf news is bad as the following message to Bowring Bros. will testify. The Bloodhound has to date made a "House Harbor, Mar. 21—Harlaw at Byron Island yesterday, no seals; reported Viking and Southern Cross none Sunday; no sign of Kite and Labrador."

"CAMILLE DELANEY."
 In the case of the latter two steamers "no news may be good news" but it is feared they also have done little.

LATEST SEALING NEWS.
 Messrs. A. J. Harvey & Coy. had the following from the Bellaventure on 10:30 a.m. to-day:
 "Wednesday evening, Bellaventure reports on board 19,000. Supposed northern seals cut, I think there must be considerable seals left, steaming S. and E. to-day, all well."
 (Sgd.) J. B. KNEE.

Bowring Bros. received the following at the same time:
 "FLORIZEL, Wednesday 8 p.m.
 "No improvement on last report. Still in search of other patches. Ergle reports Aurora and Algerine near him. Ranger near us yesterday, taking a few seals. Our number, 24,000; 44 pans stolen."
 (Sgd.) A. KEAN.

Diphtheria Spreading.

TWO DEATHS RECORDED.
 Diphtheria has spread so rapidly within the past few days that there is good reason now to fear an epidemic of the disease. A boy named Mitchell, 10 years old of Spencer Street, developed it this morning as did Susie Jacobs, aged 20, of Prescott St. Both these cases have been sent to Hospital. Two deaths have resulted from the malady within the past 24 hours. Maud Lilly, aged 21, of Casey Street, died yesterday and was buried in the afternoon at the General Protestant Cemetery. Annie Dume, aged 7, of Topsail Road, also succumbed to the disease this morning. The increase of the fell disease at such an alarming rate should compel the authorities to take active steps to rid the city of this dangerous malady.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

His Grace Archbishop Howley occupied the pulpit at the Cathedral last night and preached the Lenten sermon set down for the Wednesday evenings. The text was taken from St. John in the Apocalypse, chap. 21st, verse 3rd—"Behold the Tabernacle of God with men and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people and God himself with them shall be their God." His Grace applied those words of revelation to the Church the establishment of which on earth under the teaching of the Apostles followed all the figurative allusions and prophecies made under the Mosaic dispensation. In the olden times from the beginning Almighty God had spoken to his chosen people through Adam, Noah, Abraham and Moses. All those communications with man were a foreshadowing of His intention to dwell "among men in the Tabernacles" which was fulfilled in the Catholic Churches where Our Divine Lord was ever present in the Sacrament of the Eucharist. Referring to his previous sermon His Grace again dwelt on the necessity of doing penance as inculcated by John the Baptist and by Jesus Christ Himself. The Israelites were told that the "Kingdom of Heaven was at hand." The Kingdom of Heaven was the new Christian dispensation so long promised to the Jews but about which they had an erroneous idea. The Kingdom of Heaven is the warning referred to by John the Baptist as the Christian Church established by Christ and His Apostles. The Tabernacle of God with men seen by St. John in his vision. In the material Church Christ dwells with his people in the Tabernacle to-day. The Churches are always open and it is edifying to see the crowds that attend, especially during Lent. There were it was said to say great numbers who kept away and remained in a life of sin and forgetfulness of God. All should do their best and use all the influence they could to bring such people back to their duty and a realization of their duty, for now is the acceptable time, now is the hour of salvation. The above is only a poor synopsis of His Grace's beautiful and touching sermon.

Temperance Petition

Presented in the Assembly Yesterday—Crowds Attend, Including Clergymen of All Denominations.

Before the Assembly opened yesterday the entrance was crowded with men who filled the place to the steps, and when the doors were opened the galleries could not contain all present and many had to remain outside. All the seats were filled and many stood in the aisles. Inside the bar of the House were clergymen of all denominations and many prominent and representative citizens. The petition was signed by His Grace Archbishop Howley, Mayor Ellis, Jas. S. Bell, H. P. Cowperthwaite, F. R. Matthews, L. Curtis, J. K. Curtis, J. W. Bayliss, Camp White, R. F. Monsignor Roche, Fr. Sheehan, J. J. Green, J. McDermott, Fr. Gough, Peter N. Kelly, H. P. Kitchen, Jos. F. Pippy, Col. Rees and Capt. Cave, S.A.; Rev. Dean St. John, M. Fenwick, G. R. Golden, J. S. Sutherland, C. H. Barton, G. H. Hewitt, H. Uphill, J. Britton and a large number of citizens of St. John's East and West, the residents of the district, containing in all about 3,800 signatures.

Mr. Edward Morris, the Premier, in presenting the petition said that he had been informed by those who had left the petition with him that not a petition with 500 names had miscarried during the morning. He esteemed it an honor to be entrusted with the conduct of the presentation of the petition. No matter what views they might hold on the Temperance question, a petition so largely and enthusiastically signed should receive the careful consideration of the whole House. During his 28 years of experience he had never known any petition presented to the House on the temperance question to be regarded as a party measure. It was entirely free from any party color, so that every representative might vote entirely free and according to his own conscience and conviction. He regretted that a petition of such importance had not been presented at an earlier date, so that greater and wider opportunity might be given members of both sides to carefully enquire into all the circumstances surrounding its presentation as well as the principles which it contained. All, he knew, wished to lessen the temptation for those who may drink to excess. He deprecated the excessive use of drink and held that it was the duty of the Legislature to hedge the traffic round with such restrictions as would conduce to the safety of the public and the individual, and the same thing he would like to sound a note of warning. They might admire temperance principles and be influenced by them, so to speak, but it would be unfair and unjust to let it get abroad that our people are drunkards. On the contrary our people were a very sober people. He was sorry to admit that there were people who gave way to the evil influence of liquor, but our people as a whole were as sober as any people in the known civilized world. We were a poor people also but we compared favorably with other countries from a temperance standpoint. The drink bill of Great Britain last year amounted to £170,000, 60 sterling, or $17 per head of the population. Our revenue from liquor last year was $250,000, and our drink petition depicted the poverty and wretchedness apparent in our midst through drunkenness, and promised the petition his best support.

Mr. Bennett spoke at some length on the petition which, he held, needed careful and serious consideration and on which all should give, as he had intended to, a fearless and candid opinion. He held that the working classes of St. John's were sober and industrious and compared favorably with similar people in other parts of this country or in the world. The people lived better lives than they did 20 years ago, and he held this was brought about by the moral suasion and philanthropic efforts of those who were prominent in doing good in the community. He praised the various temperance organizations and other institutions for opening club rooms, helping thereby the cause of temperance; believed that enthusiastic temperance workers were satisfied with last year's law, curtailing the closing hours of the saloons and congregated saloon keepers for the strict manner in which they carried out the law. He contended that if the business of the saloon keeper was legal, and that they had to do certain things under certain conditions recognized by authority, and that they brought in certain articles from which revenues were received and used to the upkeep of public institutions, and if that business was under the patronage and upkeep of the law, it had its rights and privileges, and these should be safeguarded. He thought it unfair to legalize a business on one hand and throttle it on the other. He spoke in the interest of fair play. He was a strong believer in temperance reform and would advocate it from a moral standpoint. The petition was numerously signed, but he held they were in the House not alone to represent those who had signed it but those who had not. He appreciated the bona fides of the movers in this matter, but it could not think alike, and a question of serious import should be thoroughly debated and thoroughly investigated. When they had the ideas of all, they could determine whether they would not be justified in abolishing the traffic entirely or have it carried on under licenses which were restricted in every possible way. He could deal more fully with the question when it came before the House in the form of a Bill.

Hon. Mr. Morrison heartily favored the petition, and thought that Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan, who was the moving spirit in the matter, deserved the accolade he received as he entered the precincts of the Assembly. He praised all the gentlemen, cleric as well as lay, who had identified themselves with the matter; regretted it had not been taken up before, and hoped that before it came as a Bill before the House that the revenue gentlemen interested in the matter might relax their labors but would get all the signatures possible, so that when the bill was brought forward there would be such a tremendous expression of opinion that it would convince the Assembly that the people wanted what they asked for, which was, that men who worked all day could go to their homes and not see open public houses on their way to bring them up. He admitted our people, especially those of the outports, were sober on the whole; but it was also true a large number were addicted to the moderate use of liquor and it was those who would be benefited. He would not listen to the plea that the revenue would suffer by restricting the traffic. Some $250,000 or $300,000 was received in duty from liquor, but if the million dollars spent in a liquor were spent in the ordinary way in purchasing goods, the country would be getting in duties $323,000 early, with more comfortable homes, better clad families, less expense for police, poor house and penitentiaries and a general impetus to trade. He believed that ever since the late local option contest there was a great change in sentiment, and thought that if another poll were held St. John's could be declared a "dry" town. He favored prohibition if found advisable and would give the Bill when it comes up his hearty support.

Mr. Whiteway was most pronounced in his advocacy of the petition which he looked upon as a mandate from the citizens for an earlier closing. He considered the business detrimental to the interests of the people for whose betterment they in the Assembly had the right to make laws. He thought, therefore, that all should support the petition, and hoped that total prohibition would soon be made a live issue. He hoped then that they would receive little more consistent help from both the temperance people and the churches; he hoped that then the churches would be more consistent than in the past. They were not consistent, he claimed, if they accepted members deprived of the right to sell liquor. He would earnestly support the petition.

Mr. Parsons pointed out that he came from a prohibition district, but yet he knew of the dangers of the liquor traffic. Grocery and other stores closed at 9 p.m. and could there be any harm in closing the saloons at the same hour? He thought it would be good and he would heartily support the petition.

Mr. Howley recognized the benefits to be derived by the worker from tables of temperance and praised these working in his behalf, but he did not think it was the duty of a Legislature to legislate for the morality of the people. He would support a petition which would aim at saving those who deserved to be placed on the "Black List." The legislation that should be enforced was that which would prohibit the sale of liquor to those who could not take a drink and set it alone. This he believed would give better results. It was one of the things which did a man good to see persons in a community irrespective of creed, position, politics, nationality or other considerations, honest and disinterested, desirous of improving the condition of their fellows. He believed in the objects sought to be attained but could not see eye to eye with the promoters as to the means they had taken to reach the end in view.

Mr. Kent—Every one should form a fair opinion on matters of this kind, and those who did not would be lacking in their duty to the community in which they lived. The petition was large and influential signed and should receive the best consideration of members of the House. It aimed at securing a moral reform in the community, it was hoped by acceding to the prayer of the petition. He (Mr. Kent) was not one of those who believed that it was unlawful or wrong in itself to deal in intoxicating liquors but he held very strongly that it was the duty of every good citizen to take all precautions to prevent in every way the absence of such and to warn the inexperienced of the dangers that surround it, and the duty of the Assembly was to legislate along lines of that kind. The question of closing the saloons at 9 p.m. had been only recently considered and he thought that shortly they would have brought in a measure of legislation which every member should vote according to his conscience, and if the objects to be attained are for the welfare of citizens generally it was the duty of all to vote for the measure. He thought good would result from any reasonable restriction placed upon the abuse of the use of liquor. He would reserve further observations on the matter un-

Worst Case Of Eczema

Cure only came when doctors gave up and DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT was used.

Mrs. Wm. Miller, St. Catharines, Ont., writes—"My daughter Mary, when six years old, contracted eczema and for three years the disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst that had ever come under my notice, and she apparently suffered what a pen could ever describe. I had three different doctors attend her all to no purpose. Finally I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment and to my surprise she immediately began to improve and was completely cured of that long standing disease. That was four years ago when we lived at Cornwall, Ont., and as not a symptom has shown itself since, the cure must be permanent."

The record of cures which Dr. Chase's Ointment has to its credit have placed it alone as the standard cure for eczema and all forms of itching skin disease. Do not be satisfied with imitations or substitutes, 60 cents a box at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Why Do Children Like Zam-Buk?

A Chat With Mothers.

"Whenever my children have any sore places, cuts, or skin troubles, they ask for Zam-Buk. They can always depend upon it doing what is needed."

So says Mrs. A. Alice, of 170 Chatham Street, Montreal.

A missionary, writing from the West Coast of Africa, says: "One boy who was treated for a bad case of ulcer, came back recently and said, 'I like best that green medicine.' The 'green medicine' was Zam-Buk. Now why should children, all the world over, show such a marked preference for Zam-Buk?"

Children like Zam-Buk because, as soon as applied to a burn, a cut, or a sore, it stops the pain and then, gradually, but surely, it heals. As soon as the pain of a wound or sore is relieved a child can go on with its play and leave Zam-Buk to finish off the healing.

Mothers might look a little more deeply into the action of Zam-Buk. First, it is highly antiseptic. As soon as applied it stops all danger of festering, blood-poisoning and inflammation. "Second, it is soothing. It cools the wound or sore; allays the irritation; stops the pain and smarting. Then, thirdly, it stimulates the cells, beneath the injured part, to healthy action, and causes the speedy creation of new, healthy tissue."

Just try Zam-Buk for cuts, or burns, or cold sores, or eczema, or ulcers, rashes, bad leg, piles, varicose ulcers, or any inflamed or diseased condition of the skin. Its effect will highly satisfy you. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price. Refuse harmful imitations and cheap worthless substitutes.

the time when the Bill would be brought forward.

Mr. Shea had intended to reserve any observations he might have to make until the Bill came before the House, but in view of the importance of the petition he thought he would be only doing justice to himself and his constituents by expressing his sentiments in the premises. He was not prepared to say if the petition would have his support, for the reason that he would have to feel confident that the majority of those who had returned to the Assembly were in favour of the petition. He was in their hands. Personally it was a matter of indifference to him, but if he felt that the great mass of the people were in favour of the early closing last year the House dealt in a very liberal manner with a temperance motion for early closing and temperance people were satisfied, and as far as he (Mr. Shea) was aware of nothing that had occurred to prove the necessity of bringing this new legislation so hurriedly forward for their consideration again. He did not think the legislation enacted last year had had a fair trial. He had the utmost respect for those behind the movement; they were total abstinents, and their business was to annihilate the liquor traffic. The question was put before the city about two years ago, was decided upon, and if the gentlemen who had charge of the petition did not get what they wanted now, they would seek year after year for legislation to restrict that business as far as possible. He asked if the House was justified in going so far with legislation. They have special duties to perform as legislators, and they should bear in mind that while they represented charitable and temperance people, they also represented the whole people, and should protect and conserve their rights also as citizens. While they recognized the legality of the saloon, the people who had that business also possessed rights and privileges from the Legislature, and if their business was curtailed year in and year out they were unduly interfered with the rights and privileges of that class. He recognized and deprecated the baneful effects of overindulgence in strong drink, but they could not forget that they had a duty to perform to a large class of moderate drinkers who made use of spirits, and as long as these people were here, and that the revenue received contributed from them, they could not, nor should they be, overlooked. When the bill came forward they would be prepared to deal with it, but as for him, he put himself in the hands of the people who sent him to the Assembly, and if a majority was in favor of the petition he would give it his hearty support.

Bay de Verde Note

On the occasion of their Feast Day, March 19th, the club of the R. C. Schools, Bay de Verde, gave an entertainment in St. John's Hall which was a great success. The programme, which lasted over two hours, was a varied one and included songs, recitations, action songs, dances, etc. After the opening an address was read by the principal of the school, and the two girls in the class, on behalf of all children, made a presentation to Donnelly of a little souvenir of their Feast Day. The closing item was very pretty operetta, entitled "The Irish May Day," the rendition of which deserves special mention. Children, most of whom were young, took their parts well and afforded much amusement, even an Irish servant—Bridget.

When "God Save the King" had been sung, Rev. M. Donnelly in a little speech thanked the children for the pleasure given him, and expressed his gratitude to the members of O'Rourke and Miss Brady for the limited patronage with which they also made reference to the fact that the parents of these children should be especially thankful to the teachers for the education thus given to little ones.

 OTTAWA, March 22.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Sir Wilfred Laurier said: "The attention of the Government and the whole people of Canada could not fail to be attracted by the proposition now being discussed by Sir Edward Grey and President Taft for a Treaty of arbitration between Britain and the States, which would secure for their peoples the blessings of perpetual peace. Whilst the Government of Canada could have no direct voice in the negotiations, he safely asserted that there was no part of the British Empire where such would be more welcome than in Canada, which was so closely connected with the States, geographically, and by ever increasing trade regulations, but still more intimately connected with Britain by the strongest holds of devoted allegiance."

Answering a question in the House of Commons to-day concerning the additional duty imposed by the United States on British spirits, Mr. Hobhouse, Financial Secretary, said that in the opinion of the British Government the allowance made to exporters of spirits did not justify the increase of duty under the American tariff laws. The British Ambassador at Washington had been instructed to make representation to the United States Government in accordance with these views.

Seventeen native policemen, members of the party which accompanied Stanford Smith, the British Administrator of Papua, New Guinea, on an expedition into the interior of that great island, have been drowned from rafts in the Strickland River. The expedition cut through 300 miles of jungle for five days, without food or fire. Smith was reported by mistake to have been murdered by natives. The discoveries made by him are said to be valuable.

Bay de Verde Notes.

On the occasion of their pastor's Feast Day, March 19th, the children of the R. C. Schools, Bay de Verde, gave an entertainment in St. Joseph's Hall which was a great success. The programme, which lasted over two hours, was a varied one and included solos, recitations, action songs, dialogues, etc. After the opening chorus an address was read by the senior girl of the school, and the two finest solos in the class, on behalf of all the children, made a presentation to Fr. Donnelly of a little souvenir of his Feast Day. The closing item was a very pretty operetta, entitled "The Irish May Day," the rendition of which deserves special mention. The children, most of whom were very young, took their parts well and afforded much amusement, especially an Irish servant—Bridget.

When "God Save the King" had been sung, Rev. V. Donnelly in a neat little speech thanked the children for the pleasure given him, and expressed his gratitude to the teachers, Miss O'Rourke and Miss Brady, for the unlimited patience with which they must have trained the children. He also made reference to the fact that the parents of these children should be especially thankful to the teachers for the education thus given their little ones.

Placentia Notes.

The annual yearly parade of the Star of the Sea Society took place on St. Patrick's Day at 10.30 a.m. they about 130 strong left the hall and attended Mass at the Sacred Heart Church, the Celebrant being Rev. V. P. Reardon. He preached an instructive sermon upon the life of that great Apostle St. Patrick. After Mass they headed by their band called upon the Spiritual Director, Rev. V. S. Reardon. The President, Mr. W. F. O'Reilly in a very short speech outlined the work done by the Society and also showed how the Society was standing at the present time. After closing his remarks the Spiritual Director addressed the members and in a few short words congratulated them upon the excellent showing of St. Patrick's Day, 1911. After leaving the Presbytery they paraded through the streets and then back to the hall where a meeting was held and the necessary business was gone through, after which it adjourned until the first Sunday in April.

On St. Patrick's Night in the Star Hall a concert took place, the hall was packed to its utmost capacity, so packed was the hall that there was no room to move about. That celebrated drama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was produced with the greatest satisfaction. The characters being as follows:—Joe Morgan, the drunkard, W. J. Walsh; Sample Switchell, a live Yankee, E. P. Fitzgibbon; Simon Slade, the landlord, Frank Murphy; Mr. Romaine, the philanthropist, V. Parsons; Harvey Green, the gambler, E. V. Greene; Frank Slade, the ex-ample, P. G. Kemp; Willie Hammond, the pride of the village, Roy Phippard; Mrs. Morgan, the drunkard's wife, Miss J. Hartigan; Mary Morgan, the drunkard's child, Miss K. Phippard; Mable Cartwright, a Yankee girl, Miss T. Keefe; Mrs. Slade, the landlord's wife, Miss M. Dwyer. The above named drama consisted of five acts and needless to say was performed as well as everybody did their best. The rest of the programme was as follows:—Song: Killarney, by Miss M. Whalen; Song: Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly, by E. P. Fitzgibbon; song: Four Leaf Shamrock, by Mrs. Dr. Lynch; Song: Old Ireland Across the Sea, by W. J. Walsh; Recitation: Hills of Ould Kilkenny, by James Bindon; Song: In Sweet Killarney, by Miss C. O'Reilly. We must congratulate those who took part in the concert, both those in the drama and those who took part in the songs, we also congratulate Mrs. Lynch upon the excellent music that she produced for the play; all performed their parts well—they could not have done better if they had tried. It will be repeated again on Easter Tuesday night so those who did not see it on St. Patrick's Night shall have an opportunity of yet seeing it.

On Sunday, 19th inst., a card tournament took place in the Star Hall for a beautiful pipe presented some time ago by Mr. F. J. Morris, the members, about sixty players took part and at the end of two and a half hours playing, which was the time limit, it was found that Messrs. W. Greene, D. Wyse, J. Fitzgibbon and J. Morley were tied with 21 games, and at the play off the latter came off victorious and is thus the lucky winner of such a beautiful trophy, and we offer him our congratulations upon his success.

Bible Society Meeting.

The Bible Society held their annual meeting at the Methodist College Hall last evening, His Excellency the Governor presided and was accompanied by Lady Williams and Adjt Goodridge, A. D. C. Amongst those present were—Rev. J. Thackeray, Dr. Curtis, Rev. J. W. Bartlett and Rev. J. Sutherland and many other prominent citizens and the hall was well filled. The meeting opened with a 15 min after which the Governor delivered an address on the introduction of Christianity into England. Rev. J. Thackeray then read the report for the past year; Mr. T. J. Duley, Treasurer, tabled the financial statements. Addresses were delivered by Revs. J. Sutherland and J. W. Bartlett on the subject of the Bible and the work of the Bible Societies in its distribution. The officers for the current year were then appointed:—

President—H. J. B. Woods.
 Clerical Sec.—Rev. J. Thackeray.
 Treasurer—T. J. Duley.
 Lay Secretary—F. W. Finrock.
 Colportage Sec.—J. Leamon.

A vote of thanks to His Excellency the Governor proposed by Rev. Dr. Curtis and seconded by W. Frew, was carried unanimously. The choir singing under the direction of Mr. King was an attractive feature. The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Lecture on Rome.

There was a large attendance at the Star Hall last night on the occasion of the lecture delivered by Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan on "Rome." Mr. J. J. Lacey introduced the lecturer who spoke for an hour. The audience was given a rare literary and historical treat. At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker. The sum taken on the door—$30—will be given to the St. Vincent de Paul Society for distribution amongst the poor.

Patients for Hospital.

The Health authorities yesterday had the Fever Hospital ready for the diphtheria patients, and in all 21 sufferers from the disease were taken there including 13 from Mount Cashel, 2 from the Teachers' Home, 4 from the General Hospital and 2 from residences in the city. The administration of anti-toxin proved to be a good preventive, for up to date no other boys at the orphanage have taken it; four have the disease, but the others are only in for observation and suffer mostly from sore throats. The apartments which they occupied at Mount Cashel were thoroughly fumigated and disinfected yesterday, and the place will be released from quarantine to-day. The disease is of a mild type and some of the patients are already recovering.
