The Most Important of the Year's Political Events in England-To Put an End to Dual Ownership—The Tories' Recapture

NEW YORK, March 30 .- Mr. G. W. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: By far the most important of the year's political events in England is Mr. Balfour's Irish Land Purchase bill. It has been received with a chorus of discordant criticisms by the Gladstonians and the Parnellites. One journal calls it abominable, another idiotic, a third ugly, a fourth criminal. There is er that the stock of available adjectives will speedily be used up. Unluckily these criticisms proceed on different lines. Mr. Davitt, who is for land nationalization that is, confiscation—denounces it as another bill for the relief of Irish landlords, Mr. Parnell insists that it will benefit the Irish tenant at the expense of the English taxpayer. One group of opponents describes the bill as Socialistic, another as an attempt to wring more millions from the poor starving peasantry, one as a bribe to agrarian discontent, another as a concession to the English garrison. The more sober heads of the party see that these criticisms are mutually destructive, and are making efforts to agree on some one ground of opposition, thus, far without success. Mr. Gladstone himself, more wary than his English followers, admitted that the measure was comprehensive and showed careful study of a difficult subject.

was comprehensive and showed careful study of a difficult subject. Mr. Parnell left the House while Mr. Balof a difficult subject.

Mr. Parnell left the House while Mr. Balfour's speech was only half finished, in order to confide to the Irish wires his opinion that the bill is full of danger. So it is, of danger to Home Rule most of all. No such attempt to settle the land question has been made before. If accepted, it will put an end to that dual ownership of the soil which is a fruitful cause of trouble. It will transfer the land from landlord to tenant on terms which make it easier for the tenant to own than to hire. His rent is reduced at a stroke 20 per cent. more for the first five years, then 10 per cent. more for forty-five years, at the expiration of which the title passes to him or to his heirs. In other words, a tenant now paying $100 a year, pays $80 for five years and $70 for forty-five years, and then becomes owner in fee simple. The State advances the money, a land department is created and funds are provided out of various sources, amounting altogether to $155,000,000, to be increased as installments of rent and interest are paid in. No landlord is compelled to sell, but if he steal whe receives the agreed value of his estate.

Railway to Washington, D.C., on Tuesday, April 8, 1890.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina has decided that no city or town has a right to foster manufacturing enterprises by exempting them from taxes. This decision was not based on any statutory law, but on common law, which is the same in all English-speaking countries, and the ground the judge took was that it is a violation of justice to discriminate in favor of one interest and against others in the matter of taxation. In all probability the same decision would be given in Canada were the matter raised as a question of common law.

INCITING THE ORANGEMEN.

A Belfast Orator Tells Them of Their Dangers and Duties. In Bond-street Congregational Church vesterday afternoon Rev. Mr. McKee of Belfast preached a special sermon to Orangemen from the text, I. Cor., xiii., 16: Watch ye; stand fast in the faith; acquit your elves like men; be strong. "The Orangemen of to-day," he said, "The Orangemen of to-day," he said, "have great reason for rejoicing. Their lot is cast in pleasant places. They do not have to contend with such foes as did their fore-fathers. Their position, however, is none the less important. It is a proud and responsible position also, and every man should stand faithfully by the principles of the order. An Orangemen should exercise great watchfulness, for there is a mighty foe at hand; a cruel and relentless foe, ready to light the fires of Smithfield again, and fill the land with sorrow and fear. Watch ye, therefore, brethren, that the Church of Rome be not

HOW SLOSSON NEARLY LOST. An Attack of Indigestion Temporarily

CHICAGO, March 30.—The thrilling story of how mear Slosson came to losing his great billiard match with Schaefer is just out, and the blood-curding details will cause people to shudder. It appears that less than an hour before Slosson walked into the hall to splay he was prostrated with a violent attack of indigestion that very nearly robbed him of the power to see the billiard balls or ply his cue. He had gulped down his dinner within 15 minutes time, and 5 minutes later the indigestion came on. The hurriedity eaten food appeared to stick in one solid lump in his chest. His blood became languid in circulation and black spots floated before his eyes. This optical aliment would have retined his chance of winning. "I'll lose that game, une," he cried in alarn to Mrs. Slosson, "unless can get rid of this distress. I couldn't hit is a ball now."

As a last resort Slosson drank down two goblets of water that was as hot as he could stand it and swallow. Then he paced the floor energetically, to six his sluggifially moving blood into healthy activity. In 10 minutes the indigestion passed away and his system resumed its normal healthy state.

W. P. Arnall, confectioner, Yonge-street, assigned to E. R. Clarkson recently. The creditors have since been paid in full and a surplus handed to Mr. Arnall. This speaks volumes as to Mr. Clarkson's careful management of the estate.

John Spiers, woolen manufacturer of Almonte, Ont., offers creditors 50c on the dollar; William Coxall of Colborne, who suffered heavy loss by fire, will be granted an extension on $5350 liabilities; T. Kelly of Peterboro carried too heavy a stock; he has settled with his creditors at 75 cents on the dollar on $18,000 liabilities.

It is not often that a baker in a country village owes $50,000, but this is the case with E. St. Cye of Nicolet, Que., who has just assigned.

Guignas & Co., sash and sloor manufacturers of Montreal, have assigned with hisbilities of $47,000, and Dame Marie Dessault, carpenter, has assigned with $50,000 liabilities.

Monetary Times: The Quebec lumber firm of John S. Murphy & Co., which did business at Durham and Strathroy, Ont., and on Lake St. John in the adjoining province, are in difficulty. They had made losses by consignments and from other causes, and while they had assets valued at $151,630, they owed some $219,000. A demand to assign was made upon them by Simpson, Mason & Co., of Lendon, England, and they have accordingly assigned; W. H. Wilson, a former member of the firm, has also assigned his estate with labilities of $273,000.

Bryson & Co., Toronto, have bought the drygoods stock of W. Partelana, Ottawa, amounting to $3000, at 75 cents on the dollar.

An adjourned meeting of the creditors of the Polson Iron Works Company will be held Wednes, and D. A Gomer, furniture dealer, Canabruck.

DEAD STOCK IN REAL ESTATE—Boomed to death in the outskirts. The successful merchant avoids locking up capital in dead stock, and would not touch goods at any price that glut the market.

An immediate increase of half a million to our population would be insufficient to An immediate increase of half a million to our population would be insufficient to make practical use of the large tracts of lots recently blocked out in the outskirts of the city, hence a forced but sluggish market, for the next ten or twenty years, with capital locked up in waste fields where we had fruitful farms and profitable market gardens. The moonshine will soon be knocked out of this crazy and ultimately ruinous boom.
