The average daily circulation the Montreal Evening Star is 12,154, being considerable larger than that of any other papers published in the City. The average circulation of the Evening Star in the City of Montreal is 10,200, exceeding by 2,000 copies a day, that of any other paper. This excess represents 2,000 families more than can be reached by any other Journal. Its Cir-culation is a living one, and is constantly increasing. From the way in which the Star has outstripped all competitors it is "THE PAPER OF THE PEOPLE."

when Wolfville could compete favourably with neighboring villages in enterprise and in general commercial activity, have certainly passed, if indeed they were present. The place is not remarkable for native energy, or push as it is sometimes called. No one could be so far astray as to assert his. At least such manifestations are not plainly visible. That there may be an inexhaust'ble supply latent, no one of course would feel himself justified in denying, but it is the external and the apparent with which we have to do at present. No! It is not trade that has brought Wolfville into her present prominence; Nor is it railway advantages, that build up so many country places; Nor is it the present Government. It is something that is, we may say, almost wholly unconnected with these. What is it then let us enquire? Undoubtedly outside of natural position and a fertile soil, the one answer must come namely, that it is both directly and indirectly owing to her educational institutions, and the advantage accruing therefrom. As this conclusion must be readily admitted, let us in a few words. therefrom. As this conclusion must be listener. College building is one of the fingst Educational buildings in appearance as well as in conveniences for class purposes, etcling in the province, if not in the Dominion; and the Ladies Seminary certainly is not surpassed.

This latter building is fully up to the age in every possible convenience, both tor those who have charge, and for those who take rooms. Comforts unimagined in most houses are to be found there in profession. For example—the mode of heating is altogether beyond comparison, better than the old stose and pipse method. The other buildings your the hill are well worthy of particular mention, as for instance the young men's boarding house, and the spacious dwelling houses of the resident and Professor Tufts, but space forbids our dwelling upon them. The enter buildings upon the miles after the proceeds and beause they find it necessary to feel their way carefully and trust as little as possible to chance or to the Prain and Water Lined Prosedents within the institutions corresponding to those without the week and the spacious dwelling houses of the institutions corresponding to those without the week cannot be the proceeds and beauses they find it necessary to feel their way carefully and trust as little as possible to chance or to the proceeds and beauses they find it necessary to feel their way car not themselves without results. Many are influenced by them to pursue their studies is evident, from the number who have joined the present freshman class who did not make their preparations in the Academy, as well as from the large class who did make that their preparatory school.

The class is much the largest that ever there are also improvements plainly visible. Several private houses, and houses

Tight Bearing Reins. The following is an extract from the last annual report of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Ani-

A hundred and fifty! That is a pretty large order; do you want them pain and those which are comparatively harmless, being well aware that the nameless, being well aware that the nearest and surest way of doing good is to state the truth moderately. There are, however, only too many reasons in favor of pursuing your opposition to tight bearing-reins. From time to time your Society has printed the opinions of celebrated horsemen against this abuse—Sir Francis Head, Field-Marshall Sir John Burgoyne, You Marshall Sir John Burgoyne, 'One hundred and twenty-five francs.' ield-Marshall Sir John Burgoyne, Youatt, Mayhew, Spooner, Pitchard, Fleming, and a host of others, have given powerful evidence, declaring tight bearing-reins to be the cause of disease as well as torture in proporti disease as well as torture in proportition to the extent and severity with which they have been applied. Large drawings have been printed to expose this evil; meetings have been held of London coachman against its continuation; and Mr. Plemer have the continuation; and Mr. Puff.'

this evil; meetings have been held of London coachman against its continuation; and Mr. Flower has thrown him self into the cause with the self-sacrifice of an apostle. Still the west end of London reveals the sickening fact that fashion prevails over humanity, as a visit to Rotten Row abundantly shows. The poor horses seen there, gagged back to their withers, and charing under torture, have unfortunately no power of speech by which to express their sufferings, yet they nevertheless signify by outward and visible signs the torture they are enduring. Your Committee rejoice to be able on this occasion to present to you a consensus of scientific testimony against this pernicious fashion in the following protest, which is overwhelming in its unanimity and condemnation of tight bearing-reins:

'Ve, the undersigned veterinary sur-

It gives me very much pleasuse to have an opportunity of subscribing my name to the protest of your society against the abuses of the bearing-rain. Eleven years' experience in the postmortem house and the dissecting room is the name of the declined. A year afterwards he received a chalenge from Mr. A. who stated that he, too, had now a wife and one child, and he supposed therefore the objection of Mr. B. was no longer valid.
