Letter from China

Dr. W. R. Morse Writes Interestingly of His Work in the Mission Hospital at Suifee

This afternoon there were twenty-four baptisms at the church, among them our old teacher and our wash woman. This morning they all gave their testimonials before the church. One man is a mute, and his testimony in public, as near as I could make it out was to stand up before the audience, and place his folded hands before his face and bow three times. This was to represent his former worship of idols. Then, with his arm stretched to full extent forward, with the palm toward the audience, and with fingers extended, pass that hand several times forward and backward before his face. This is a strong negative with the Chinese. His face certainly indicated in no uncertain phase his disgust. Then his face changed in a twinkling, and placing his index finger on his chest, thus singling out himself. Then he crossed his two fore fingers in the shape of a cross before his face, he bowed, and then pointed straight in the air with a glad smile, thus showing he accepted the Cross as a sign of religion, and called heaven to witness his vow. It was quite dramatic. Then of course others testified to his character and beliefs. He can also write. So there is no more question in regard to his sincerity than of a person who has a full eight-octave voice. In fact we believe he is a sincere, earnest chap. A former priest was also baptized. Several of the school girls and some women were also received.

This week a Japanese warship, or rather a river gun-boat, came here to Suifee. Yesterday I was much surprised to have Dr. Yetow, of the Japanese Imperial Navy, send his card to me at the hospital. I found him as finely and neatly dressed (in foreign clothes) and as nice looking a young chap as one seldom meets. He spoke English fairly well, I took him around the hospital, and brought him over to the house, and introduced him to Anna and Dr. Tompkins. He said next year he would make us a longer visit.

Last week it was an English speaking German; this week an English-speaking Japanese, and there are quite a large number of Chinese here in Suifee who speak English. It all goes to show how big and important our country is.

This week a young fellow in his teens came to me with a finger cut off "clean as a whistle." I asked him how he came to have such an accident. "Oh," he said, "I cut it off myself." "Why?" I asked. "Well," he said "I had been gambling and lost money." Then he swore an oath not to gamble again, and to show his strength of mind and sincere determination, cut off his finger as a witness for all to see. This is not an uncommon thing in China; but I doubt if it cures his gambling. The men and women, girls and boys al-

now. The Reference Committee called me before them and asked me what I thought of the prospect of opening a medical department in the West China Union University at Chentu, and have our Society represented there. The Reference Committee recommended me for the position to go to Chentu next September. The Conference confirmed the recommendation, so I am, subject to the approval of the Board of Managers in Boston, appointed to the Medical Department of the West China Union University at Chentu. I have the hospital at Suifee until after the summer and yet have to begin lectures in September. I see where "yours truly" loses weight and accumulates gray hair. I will try to get a suspension of sentence for time to study. "There are many slips between the cup and the lips." Something can easily happen to change the appointment. I have also been appointed to the University Senate to represent our mission in that body, in conjunction with one other member of our mission. I am hoping to go on board the boat tomorrow, sleep there and leave for Suifee early in the morning and hope to arrive in two days' time. I will be glad to see wife and baby again, you may be sure. I am enclosing my report made at the Conference. Until March 9th, 1913 when the first patient entered the hospital I held a free clinic with an average of forty odd per day. The regular dispensary work also began on March 9th at the Chapel on North Street. Also had private patients at the Hospital Office. This latter is increasing and over ten a day is a common occurrence now. Since opening the hospital the work has not been closed either for summer vacation or anything else, and at the present Conference time, is being carried on by my assistants. The total number of inpatients from March 9th, 1913, to Dec. 24th, 1913, was 317. In handling this number of patients, in a building, with the present hospital buildings, the limit of accommodation is, I think, reached, while the limit of good hygiene is very far exceeded. But, oh, what a satisfaction and pleasure it has been. Our gratitude and thanks are beyond words. Speaking of crowding, we have had at one time seven single beds, each occupied by two persons, four on the floor, one in the gate house. Another room (12 x 15 ft., two small windows) occupied by four to six patients. We have had in our dispensary 268 operations at the hospital, not including many minor ones tabulated as "treatments to inpatients," viz., 3645. Some of the principal operations were intestinal tumors, mastoid, amputation of patient, distal section of auxiliary glands, amputation of limbs, skin grafting, removal of cataracts from eye. Much bone surgery, accouchments, many fistulas, broken bones, bullet wounds, etc.

The ignorance and superstition of the native doctors gives a wide field for western medicine and surgery. Among the first patients to arrive was a young boy, sent in by Openshaw, because he had swallowed a whistle. I couldn't find the place where it lodged, but when he coughed, it sounded like a miniature calliope. Being able to imitate the sound. Something myself, he and I one day got into a coughing bee, and with the result that he finally coughed up his whistle. Bullet wounds are common and serious, chiefly received in attacks from robbers. As a rule they recover, though sometimes it is a stiff fight. At the dispensary we have had a grand total of 9,214 treatments. Our main object, viz, the evangelization of these people, through the practice of medicine, is kept continually before us. Any failure in its efficacy may be due to the ignorance of the physician along the lines of the proper application of the best evangelistic methods. It certainly is not from lack of desire or lack of trying to do effective work.

Miss Haily of the C. I. M. and Mrs. Yen of our own church, do good work among the women, instructing them. Also Miss Page. Among the men we have a Chinese evangelist who does good work. Each patient on entering the hospital is sold or given a Bible or the first four books of the New Testament. Each Saturday the patients are "quizzed" on the lessons of the preceding five days. I try to tell them that our object is to keep clean hearts as well as clean bodies. At the dispensary the evangelist holds a daily service. Our staff of assistants is a splendid one, considering the time we have been working together. They possess the spirit of our mission in a whole-hearted and effective manner.

Of one thing I am certain, that all things are mechanical and pure success falls on barren soil, unless the song, we carry in our hearts, unless the smile of a heart full of Christ's love accompanies the pills and the knife.

January 5, 1914.
I am on my way to Kiating. Our Conference begins tomorrow. Came by boat, had a cold but pleasant trip.

Kiating, Jan 12.

New York Letter

New York, Apr. 13, 1914.
To the Editor of the Monitor:

Dear Sir:—Perhaps a few items from this city might interest some of your many readers, and so I will send you this letter for insertion in your columns. The Easter holidays have passed. The weather Easter Sunday was ideal. Clear, cool, and moderate temperatures gave an excellent opportunity for the ladies to the creations in dress and millinery. They certainly took advantage of it and everything was crowded.

Premier Borden arrived in the city on Thursday to spend the Easter vacation, and probably to obtain a much-needed rest. Great interest was excited in the matter of the four gunmen under sentence of death for the murder of Rosenthal. Frantic efforts were made to get Governor Glynn to grant a reprieve, and failing in this application was made to Justice Goff to grant a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Saturday afternoon was occupied in hearing counsel in behalf of the unfortunate young men. District Attorney Whitman appeared in behalf of the State, the result being the refusal of the Judge to entertain the application. Renewed pressure was then made upon the Governor, threatening letters sent, but all of no avail. The of the condemned men were Jews, and the Jewish Rabbi appealed to the Governor to defer the execution until after Monday, the beginning of the Passover week. This he refused to do, and so about six o'clock Monday morning the four were electrocuted at Sing Sing. Another chapter in this conspiracy remains to be completed, and this is the second trial of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant who was once convicted of being responsible for the crime and the conviction set aside by Court of Appeals. District Attorney Whitman will move in Court on Wednesday for a jury and a day set for the trial. No doubt Becker's counsel will make a strong plea for delay. Public opinion is very pronounced against the accused police official and the execution of the gunmen has apparently intensified it. Everybody says that to execute these fellows, born and brought up on the East Side of New York, a most fruitful source for criminals, the general surroundings being most favorable for their development, and permit the man higher up, whom they claim to have hired them to commit the crime, to escape a similar fate, would be a gross miscarriage of justice. When informed, in the tomb, that the extreme penalty had been carried out in the case of the gunmen, Becker made no reply. Eleven others under sentence of death are in the Sing Sing death house, among them Hans Schmidt, the slayer of Anne Aumuller. An appeal in his case will probably be finally disposed of.

The papers here are taking up a large share of their space in discussing the repeal of the Free Tolls Act. Hearst's papers are championing the cause of the opponents, and President Wilson is accused of trucking to Britain, and every effort is being made to influence the public mind against the proposal. It is now before the Senate and a fierce debate is on. Ultimately it is expected that the President's plan will be accepted by a narrow majority. Meantime whenever an election contest is on this matter is brought to the front and perilous Britain is a most excellent cry for the fellow seeking votes.

The New York State Legislature having refused to pass Mayor Mitchell's police bill, the city of New York has lost its opportunity of securing the services of Col. Goethals, now Governor of the Canal Zone, for Police Commissioner. This is a very unfortunate thing for Goethals, as it deprives it of the services of a man of wonderful ability and one who would be above any unworthy influence whatever. Under his authority the evils illustrated in the Becker case would never occur. What makes it more than passing strange is that the people have been clamoring for such police control for many years, and now when it was within reach threw it down. After the defeat of his bills the Mayor appointed Arthur Woods, Police Commissioner for the term of his administration. Legislation has been secured in New Jersey for the construction of a bridge across the Hudson River and two tunnels under it. All of these will be required to meet the ever-increasing stream of travel.

The "Vaterland" of the Hamburg-American Steamship line is expected in New York the 21st of May, on her first voyage. She is fifty-eight thousand tons, nine hundred feet long and one hundred feet wide, the largest ship in the world. A few days after the "Aquitania," of the Cunard Line, is due in her maiden trip. She is very little below the Vaterland in size, and the second largest ship afloat. In view of the competition between these great corporations now existing some one will have under construction a larger one than the "Vaterland" soon. Large sums of money are to be spent at once in removing obstacles and deepening channels as well as for extending docks to meet the wants of these marine monsters. Miss Eleanor Wilson, the president's youngest daughter, has been here purchasing her bridal outfit in view of her approaching marriage with Secretary of the Treasury W.G. McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo is famous as the man who had charge of the construction of the Hudson Tunnels. He is a widower about fifty-three years of age, and a man of great executive ability. Miss Wilson is about twenty-four years old. The date of the wedding is not yet announced, but will probably be in May.

DeLesseps, son of the distinguished Frenchman who undertook the construction of the Panama Canal, and his wife, who is a daughter of Sir William McKenzie of the Canadian railway firm of McKenzie and Mann, left New York last week on the S. S. Calameres of the United Fruit Line to visit the scene of his father's failure near the Panama Canal. Everything here indicates the approach of Spring. The flower beds in the public squares are laid out—tulips and hyacinths growing, and gardens are receiving their seed. Lawns are green, buds bursting on the trees, all pointing to the near proximity to summer.

But I must not trespass further upon your space with these rambling notes.

Very Sincerely,
P.

INCREASED NUMBER OF STATE-ROOMS ON THE "PRINCE GEORGE" AND "PRINCE ARTHUR" OF THE YAR-MOUTH LINE.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Boston & Yarmouth Steamship Company, Limited, to handle satisfactorily the large volume of summer tourist travel. The number of state-rooms on the "Prince George" has been increased from sixty to one hundred and twenty; and the new rooms are all on the main and upper decks. All are outside rooms, comfortable and airy. This steamship is already in commission, and the same improvements are now being made on the "Prince Arthur" at Bath, Maine.

The present four-trip-per-week service is proving of great benefit to shippers by enabling them to reach the Boston markets four days in the week, and the travelling public find the additional trips very convenient to travel to and from Boston.

The Yarmouth Line can certainly be commended for the unexcelled service now provided for its patrons.

Middleton Fruit Grower's Experience

Captain F. A. Brown Tells Readers of the Co-operative News His Plan of Spraying and the Result.

(Berwick Register.)
I could not reply to your request as to my orchard before, being from home.

For four years my orchard has been practically free from black spot (or scale), bud moth, caterpillars and other attendant pests I have never been troubled with to any extent, which I attribute to systematic spraying by my brother who had charge in the past.

My personal experience dates from 1909, so that I have had five years of experience.

FERTILIZER TO THE ACRE.
1909 five hundred pounds Acid Phosphate, two hundred pounds Potash, one hundred pounds Nitrate.

1910, three hundred and fifty pounds Acid Phosphate, one hundred pounds Potash, fifty pounds Nitrate. This year no crop to speak of.

1911, three hundred and fifty pounds Acid Phosphate, one hundred pounds Potash. Trees having made such good growth and foliage being so dark, I omitted the Nitrate for this year.

1912, four hundred pounds Acid Phosphate, one hundred pounds potash, fifty pounds Nitrate. Heavy crop of good clean apples. This is my first year of thinning out and I found it out much to my advantage.

1913, eight hundred pounds of Slag and no Potash and no Nitrate, except for the young trees. Good crop and no scab whatever.

Now as to spraying: In 1913 I sprayed three times with motor sprayer. My first spray was on April 29th. Pressure, two hundred pounds. The buds were then about as large as the end of my little finger and just opening. I soaked every part of the tree, limbs, trunk and ground.

Second spray was on May 16th and 17th, blossoms fairly well opening; again I soaked the tree and every part of the limbs, trunk and ground around about them.

Third spray was on June 8th and 9th, the blossoms falling. This time as the leaves were large I sprayed up and down so as to spray the under part of the leaves as well as the upper, also the trunk and the ground about the trees. After this I watched carefully the fruit which set well and also watched the weather conditions, prepared to again spray if necessary, but I found it was not required, for my crop turned out in an excellent condition and entirely free from scale rust spots, etc.

In company with my friend, G. C. Miller, of Middleton, I visited a number of orchards in Harmony, Torbrook, South Farmington and as far as Bridgetown; orchards that had been sprayed practically the same dates, and in every case these orchards had good clean apples.

The mixture I used was Lime Sulphur one to thirty and each spray two and one-half pounds of Arsenate of Lead (Smith's). I may add that I ploughed orchard in the fall, cultivated every two weeks with disc harrow and old fashioned tooth or spike harrow; July first, sowed cover crop, clover and vetches.

This year I intend to thin out as much as possible and get rid of No. 3's.

I believe that by thinning we can and will get rid of these No. 3's and the quicker we get at it the better. This year we made fairly well on No. 3's, but should the coming year give a big harvest and the No. 2's be in proportion we will find that we will be up against it badly.

We have heard at the Fruit Growers Association time and again; This Valley is the one spot under heaven where the best apples in the world grow. This is partly true and partly rot.

As a matter of fact, there are certain varieties of apples that can be grown to advantage. Whatever variety we grow we must have them of the very best; picked in the very best manner; packed in the very best manner; nothing less will do.

The United Fruit Companies is in the position to place them on the best markets with the least expense. Now it is up to us by dint of hard work and the use of our brains to give to them (The U. F. C's) the best possible products or else go out of business. What say you gentlemen?

I remain yours truly,
F. A. BROWN,
Middleton, N. S., March 21, 1914.

Meeting of the Annapolis Rural Deanery

The Clergy and Lay-representatives to Synod of this Deanery met at Clementsport on Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing a representative on the Board of Governors of Kings College, Windsor. The retiring governor, Mr. H. L. Jones, of Weymouth, was present and gave a very encouraging report of happenings in connection with the College. He has represented this Deanery on the College Board for a number of years, and was again unanimously re-elected.

The Clergy then met "in chapter" continuing so throughout Tuesday. Besides routine work three papers were read and fully discussed. The next meeting will be held at Granville Ferry the third week in July, when the Bishop hopes to be present.

The Clergy present were: Rev. H. How, Annapolis Royal; W. S. H. Morris, Middleton; E. Underwood, Bridgetown; J. Reeks, Round Hill; J. Lockward, Clementsport; W. Driffield, Digby; M. Taylor, Weymouth. The Rev. C. W. Neish, Granville Ferry, was unavoidably absent.

Bridgetown School Notes

A meeting of the School Board was held in the Council Chamber, on Thursday evening last to take into consideration the resignation of Mr. Harry Bustin, B. A., of the position of Principal of the school, which he has held for ten years. Mr. Bustin having stated that his decision in the matter was final, his resignation was, on motion, accepted.

Miss Mildred Wheelock who served the school during 1912-13 as teacher of grades five and six, kindly took the place, during the present year, of Miss Beatrice Troop, who was called away by sickness in her home. Miss Wheelock having expressed her unwillingness to continue for another year, Miss Laura Graves was chosen as teacher of grades five and six.

Miss Constance Lloyd, who has had charge of grade two for two years, has resigned the position, and Miss Mollie Connell was chosen to fill this vacancy.

Arrangements for the usual School Examinations will be announced later.

Five infant foxes, four of them black and one silver grey, at the Berwick Fox Farm, were put to death last week by an unnatural mother, entailing a loss of $35,000.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1914.

Several copies of "The Straits Times" have been brought to the office

by John Ervin, Esq., K. C.

This paper is published in Singapore,

a city on the most southern extremity of Continental Asia, bordered by the Straits of Malacca, through which the great steamships from East to West and West and East are continually passing. The papers contain, each, fourteen large pages, are well

edited and decidedly English in tone and make up. They give evidence of a very mixed population, as is naturally to be expected from the proximity of the city to India, China, Japan and the numerous islands of the East Indies. We have made a few clippings which we think will be interesting. They have an Eastern flavor, and yet they show that the people at our Antipodes are occupied with the same problems as confront

the Western World, and are looking to the same source for their solution.

THE BRITISH NAVY.

The simple truth is that in the matter of armaments Britain has no choice of policy. While she holds India, Australia, South Africa and even little Malaya she cannot let her security become so weak that the security of her road to these great possessions will be in doubt. Austria is building warships, Italy is doing the same, and Germany has no longer that the British fleet can no longer sail away from the North Sea without anxiety. We look forward eagerly to the time when other nations will be prepared to go as far as Britain has gone already by offering to call a halt in the dreadful contest for superior murdering power. But we are not prepared to be the victims when murder is toward. If the policy of the men who waited upon Mr. Asquith were adopted, the last fragment of hope for an abatement in the struggle to become predominant would disappear. A year or two would pass, amid bald talk about economy, and then the nation would suddenly discover the reality of its danger. Some menace to a British interest would cause protest, and the answer would be insolent. Then once more, and in blind haste and fear, there would be building of warships and drilling of men; but it might be too late. Not from the quarrel of a nation out-distanced but from the strong talk of the strong shall we get that which we all desire—a sane and just convention under which all the great nations will relax their efforts and listen to reason. We are all eager for peace. Not those only who go on deputations and talk

TWO EGGS IN ONE.

Mr. E. L. Balcom of Paradise, has a hen that laid an egg which is a great curiosity, and we would like to know if anyone ever heard of a greater freak of nature. It was quite large, about the size of a goose egg, and there being only one yolk short. It contained almost two complete eggs,

the centre was a perfect egg, surrounded by the white of an egg, and then the outside shell, making two shells, two whites and one yolk.

Come along with your smart head, and see if you can beat this!

CARD OF THANKS.

Allow me, through the columns of your paper, to express my heartiest

thanks to the people of the Arlington

Baptist church for the beautiful parlor lamp and forks, which were presented to me on Saturday evening, for my services as organist. May every success attend them, is the sincere wish of

MRS. HARRY HINES.

Lime. In order to derive the full benefit from the Slag, Potash (and in some cases Nitrogen)

must be used with it, since the same underly-vars. The statue was the work of Mr. Sidney Marsh, whose fee is stated to have been over £3,000, and weighs about five tons. It was cast at Farn-borough from cannon sent from India, and left for the Albert Dock

early on November 18 on a wagon drawn by six horses, with four men in charge. But its height, over eighteen feet, proved a difficulty, as the railway bridges in South London are not built to allow such a vehicle to pass. The Thames tunnels could not take it, and the free ferry was impossible at Woolwich. At last, after some forty miles journey, the statue reached the Victoria Dock, and on November 20, was floated down, with a huge crane, to the Albert

Dock and embarked safely during the afternoon.

THE B. & F. BIBLE SOCIETY.

On November 18 and 19, one hun-dered and sixty-three cases of the Scriptures, weighing altogether fifteen tons, were sent out from the Bible House in Queen Victoria street,

London, E. C. The immediate destinations of these cases were: Constantinople, Barbados, Kilindini

(British East Africa), Toronto, Halifax (Nova Scotia), Johannesburg,

Montreal, Sierra Leone, Lagos, Ka-

gadad, Trinidad, Demerara, Shanghai, and Singapore.

THE VAST SIGNIFICANCE OF

FORIGN MISSIONS.

A picture of a great world-conflict was drawn by Lord William Cecil, in a thought-compelling address on missionary matters at St. Paul's Cathedral on December 1.

If the cause of foreign missions failed, he said, it could be but a little while before the whole cause of Christianity in every European country must receive a serious attack.

One of the most important problems was the entry into our civilization of the vast Far Eastern world, presented as it did the amalgamation of Asia and Europe into one vast civilization. There must be some common ethical principle which would dominate this vast civilization. Was it to be Christianity, or was it to be Materialism? Western civilization acted as a very destructive agent on the faith and belief of these Eastern peoples, and after all this destruction

there must be construction. Apparently the decisive battle was not to be fought on European territory, but in China, Korea, and Japan, and later on in India. As the Eastern peoples had accepted Western thought they had to choose as their basis either materialism, which had been hammered out by the Western philosopher with all his crude and terrible deductions, or they had to accept

Christianity. That was the reason, why a race which was essentially religious and essentially moral like the Chinese was anxious that Christianity should spread through China.

The "Kentucky Belle" is the title of a bright and amusing play that is being prepared by the members of the B. A. A. and will be presented to a Bridgetown audience in the very near future.

A correspondent in the West rural of the County in writing the Monitor says the possibilities of getting additional subscribers to the Monitor, says: "I will have to tell you there isn't two families in this place that don't take the Monitor."

The Acadia College Glee Club were passengers on St. John last Saturday, where they gave their last concert of their trip Friday night. One of their number, Mr. Rex Harlow stopped off at Bridgetown, and spent Sunday and Monday at his home here.

L. H. Outhouse has sold out his grocery business on Granville street, to Mr. C. L. Wood of Shelburne Mills, the transfer to take place about the middle of May. We trust that Mr. Outhouse may see his way clear to remain a citizen of Bridgetown.

A number of rural mail boxes have arrived at the Bridgetown Post Office for the new route which is soon to be inaugurated between Bridgetown and Paradise on both sides of the river. This will be a daily route and will be known at the Bridgetown office as R. F. D. No. 4.

A comedy play in three acts entitled "Ferguson of Troy" will be presented in Oakdene Hall, Bar River, on Wednesday evening, May 6th. The play will be given by local talent, and they will be assisted by Miss Annie L. Clarke, soloist, and the Hillside Orchestra. Keep the date in mind and make plans to be present and enjoy yourself. See posters for particulars.

Canada carried off the honors in the eighteenth annual Marathon race of the Boston Athletic Association held in Boston on Monday. The distance was twenty-five miles, and a quarter million people gathered along the route. James Duffy of Hamilton, Ont., was the winner, with Edward Fabre of Montreal, second. Duffy's time was 2.25.01. Fabre, second, time 2.25.10.

The Municipal Council met in semi-annual session at the Court House here yesterday at ten o'clock. Warden W. G. Clarke presided, and all the Councillors were present. The principal matters up for discussion were the revision of the by-laws of the Municipality, and the granting of an appropriation for the Cottage Hospital at Middleton. Both items were laid over for further consideration at today's session. The Councillors visited the County Hospital and Home at the close of yesterday afternoon's session. It is expected the Council will adjourn today at noon.

The lecture room of the Methodist church was filled with an appreciative audience on Friday evening last, the occasion being a lecture by our popular and erudite stipendiary magistrate, John Irvin, Esq., K. C. Squire Irvin chose as his theme a lecture recently delivered in Halifax before the Historical Society, and still more recently before the Literary Society of Paradise, the subject of which was "Early History of Bridgetown, and old time customs of rural districts of Nova Scotia; also a sketch of the military career of Col. Poyntz, a former resident of Bridgetown." Space will not permit of any lengthy report of the lecture, but it must be stated that amongst all the excellent literary evenings provided by the Epworth League, this lecture afforded one of the most instructive and interesting. Councillor E. A. Hicks presided at the meeting and presented to Mr. Irvin a hearty vote of thanks of the audience. Many are suggesting that the subject matter of the lecture be published in pamphlet form, so that the general public might be able to avail themselves of the data it contains, and thus preserve so valuable and valuable a document.

SWP

Don't experiment when you paint your house. All experimenting has been done for you, and the result of years of experience in making Paint and of innumerable practical and scientific tests is SWP, Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared).

There is an exactness in the formula, and a thoroughness in the mixing and grinding of the pure ingredients that insures perfect painting results. A gallon of SWP will cover more surface than you ever thought possible and will wear so long and hold its color so well that its use is genuine economy.

In the passing of Mrs David McClelland, which took place at her home in Deep Brook on Friday, April 17th, our community loses a woman held in affection by many.

For eleven years she had borne with wonderful fortitude and cheerless painful infirmities of the body. Though her steps grew very feeble her hands were filled with little helpful tasks almost until the end.

She was a valued member of the Deep Brook Dorcas Society and the kind attention shown by the rural office and attendance in a body at the funeral service, is greatly appreciated by her family.

Mrs. McClelland was the mother of twelve children, eleven of whom survive her to regard her memory with affection, good, wise and faithful. Rev. J. S. McFadden conducted a triumphant and comforting funeral service on Sunday afternoon, 19th, a large company being present.

Upper Granville

Mr Charles Hogan and wife have removed from Granville to Boston, where they purpose residing indefinitely.

Mr Moses is a recent purchaser of the farm at the town's western limit previously owned by Mr Arthur Marshall. Other changes in farm ownership not far distant are rumored.

Winter, loath to leave, has treated us this week with snow and sleet storms. Just now little of the beautiful remains and a milder temperature with singing of birds bids us hope and believe Spring is really here.

The bridge over the mill brook near the Fash and Newcombe residences can be said to be in rather a dangerous condition, especially on dark nights. A new railing with the annual road work in view would be a welcome improvement, and surely appreciated by the traveling public.

Port Wade

Capt. J. W. Snow is at Yarmouth getting the second vessel ready for sea.

Ralph Apt went to Montreal last Wednesday, having secured a position near that city.

Granville, Boy Marris in Regina

LONGLEY-MORTON. (From the Regina Evening Leader)

St. Andrew's church, Lumsden, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, March 19th, when Mary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs Archibald Morton, of Wascana, was united in marriage to Fletcher Longley, M. D. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Russell, pastor of St. Andrew's, and the Rev. William Patterson, a former pastor. As the bride entered the church, escorted by her father, Lohengrin's wedding march was played. She looked lovely in her wedding gown of rich cream tulle, made en train. The bodice of cream pleated tulle was arranged with a beautiful lace garniture and the edge of the decolletage was sewn with pearls, a handsome pearl and Rhinestone ornament completing the dainty gown with which was worn a tulle veil and wrap of orange blossoms. The bride's bouquet was of Madonna lilies, cream roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Margaret Morton, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a pretty gown of pale yellow chiffon and shadow lace and a large black velvet hat trimmed with a yellow tulle butterfly. She carried a lovely sheaf of dale pink roses. Mr. John E. Chisholm, of Moose Jaw, supported the bridegroom.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Binning sang a beautiful hymn, and as the happy couple left the church, the Mendelssohn Wedding March was played by Miss Rowell.

A reception was held by the bride's parents at their residence which was charmingly decorated with pink and white carnations. A buffet luncheon was served to the guests. Dr. and Mrs. Longley left on the 4.47 train for Regina and later will reside in Govan. Mrs. Longley travelled in a smart suit of dark heliotrope with broadened velvet blouse of lighter shade.

Dr. Longley presented a pearl crescent brooch to the bridesmaid and gold pins, with pearl true-lover knots to Mrs. Binning and Miss Rowell. The bride was one of the most popular young ladies in the district where she resided. She was an honor graduate of Ottawa Ladies' College and a general favorite on the programme of local entertainments, as a reader, her services at such being much in demand. She was active in the Young Peoples' Societies of St. Andrew's Church and was presented with a beautiful hymn book and address by the organization.

(Dr. Longley is a son of Mr I. J. Longley of Granville.—Ed. Mon.)

The vessel owners of the Maritime Provinces are forming themselves into an association styled the Maritime Ship Owners' Protective Association.

Advertisement for a concrete root cellar. Includes an illustration of a root cellar and text describing its benefits for storing produce. Text: "A Concrete Root Cellar is one of the farmer's greatest money makers. It makes money by keeping produce in good condition until it can be taken to market, or until better prices can be obtained. It maintains a cool, even temperature that keeps produce perfect." Also includes contact information for the Farmer's Information Bureau and Canada Cement Company Limited.
