SAINT JOHN, N. B., DECEMBER 30, 1926.

STAND TOGETHER

ONCE more we have leaders of the two political parties in this province calling upon their followers to forget partizanship in the interests of the community. At the annual banquet of the Saint John Commercial Travelers' Association last evening Hon. P. J. Veniot and Premier Baxter dwelt forcibly upon the necessity of members of all parties getting together and presenting a united front to the end that the recommendations of the Duncan Commission may be supplemented by satisfactory legislation. Let us hope their words | IT is announced that the customs department of will be heeded, and that throughout the Maritime Provinces there will be but one voice when our interests are at stake in Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Veniot made the important announce ment that legislation will be introduced in Parliament to nationalize the ports of Saint John and Halifax. The need of this legislation could not be better emphasised than by the congestion which exists at this moment in the harbor of Saint John. action by the department will be welcome. Too We must have increased facilities and centralized harbor control if the port is not to be further damaged in reputation and more of our business of course, another and very serious problem, which transferred to American ports.

The Maritime Provinces have two able members in the Federal Government. These, supported tested during the past year ninety-nine per cent. by all the representatives from the Maritimes, in were made from denatured alcohol, and therefore relation to the recommendations of the Duncan poisonous. is still unlikely to make much difference, because history has proved over and over again that when the forces of a state face the dangers of battle the clergy have invariably clamored for the opportunity to demonstrate that manliness and godliness are not incompatible, and to share the perils and trials of soldiers, to bring them comfort and to inspire them by example of courage and fidelity. There are always hundreds of such, and it is these men who have ever snatched brands from the burning in numbers far greater than have their more pacific brethren, well-intentioned though the latter be. None will contend that bellicosity is any part of a priest's equipment, but there is no. need for him to be a fire-eater in order to become a beloved ministering figure like Woodbine Willie.

Incidentally, can it be that the presence of that gallant and reverend gentleman in the United States has anything to do with the resolution of the budding theologians at Milwaukee? But one may expect that as these young men acquire knowledge and wisdom they will be found, if war should come, on the battlefield, putting "fags" into the mouths of the dying and pouring absolution into their ears. LIQUOR AND POISON

Canada will enforce the regulation under which a vessel clearing from a Canadian port for a foreign country with liquor must prove that the cargo was really landed in that country before the department will release the double excise bond. It is pointed out that this will make it much more difficult to smuggle liquor by sea or lake into the United States or bring it back into Canada. Such many people are making easy money through the smuggling and distribution of liquor. There is, of course, another and very serious problem, which is illustrated by a despatch from New York to in an early ending of the world. the effect that of 26,000 samples of seized liquor Doctrine of Kismet.

Mohammed declared all believers in Allah would attain Paradise and all unbelievers would be turned away. By his doctrine of Kismet, or fate, he meant to show that Allah guided the destinies of the faithful, but at the same time left an element of self-determination in human life. Constant prayer and visits to holy places are necessary for Mohammedans to assure themselves that they will not slip back into the ranks of the unbelievers. In a land where the grape is not easily cultivated, Mohammed had no special diffiin establishing prohibition as one of the culty essential tenets of his faith.

country that our cause is just. We have reason to believe that we already enjoy the full sympathy of the majority of Western members, who view the whole matter from a national standpoint; and a grim record would prove a warning, but apparthere is as yet no reason to fear that any, unless be disposed to resist legislation called for by the Duncan report. Premier Veniot, it is true, said in a recent address that there may be a hard fight; and if that fear should be realized there is all the more reason for presenting a united front.

Hon. Mr. Veniot, in the course of his address, referred to the West Indies treaty, and intimated that interests opposed to it are moving quietly but determinedly in opposition. This is a matter to which every Board of Trade in the Maritime Provinces should give attention. Enlarged trade with the West Indies should benefit the Maritimes more than any other part of Canada.

THE TIMES AND THE REPORT

A QUARTER of a century ago the London Times was to the British newspaper-reading public-a public not so wide as today-an oracle deluded into believing that annexation were posit were almost sacrilege to dispute. Now, in spite sible. The less of this there is, the better for of the growing popularity of profaner prints and relations between Canada and the United States. the gibes of Lloyd George, who labelled it "the Non-Britons cannot be expected to realize how threepenny edition of the Daily Mail," the Times | distasteful is that kind of talk to Britons. yet maintains its pre-eminence of authoritative editorial pronouncement amounting at times to accepted inspiration. This gives importance to its leading article entitled "A Kiss for Cinderella," after the perennially popular children's play, which forecasts a thrill of happiness for the neglected. children of Canadian Confederation as the outcome of the Duncan Commission report.

The Times accepts the hopeful view held by the Maritimes that Ottawa will act on Sir Andrew's recommendations in a manner satisfactory to us. Evidently the Times has analyzed the opposition couched in terms of caution, and has discovered its base elements, discarding them as they deserve, because it sees "the new Western Provinces coming freely to the assistance of the Maritimes, and the whole Dominion accepting burdens in order that the life blood of commerce may quicken in its number of extremities throughout Canada." Assuredly it is to the West that the Maritimes must look for aid freely offered to overcome resistance on the part of certain central interests. Probably resistance will fade away when it is seen how strong are the forces arrayed on the side of justice. Moreover, it may influence those ill-disposed to Maritime claims when they realize that London is watching them-not that London would take part in Canadian affairs; not that it is necessary or desirable that London should make the slightest gesture that might be construed as interference or advice; but because it is known that actions are being weighed and assayed by an impartial public. Publicity is an enormous factor in securing justice.

COLD STORAGE

T is announced that a cold storage company with a million dollars capital has been incorporated and will erect a plant in Halifax. It was announced recently from Toronto that a concern known as the Canadian Rail and Harbor Terminal Company had completed arrangements for the erection of cold storage and terminal warehouse facilities all across Canada. The cities mentioned were Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. The plant in Toronto has already been erected, and one is under construction in Montreal; while the Toronto despatch said that angements would be made to bring Winnipeg inco the chain. The despatch from Halifax indicates that a plant will be erected there. Such a plant would be of great advantage to the fisheries of Nova Scotia. It is explained that the pooling of shipments to make up carload lots is one of the services to be extended to manufacturers and others. Freight charges will thus be reduced, while cartage, traffic service and free insurance are mentioned as other advantages of the scheme. It is said that this will do much to promote the export trade in butter, cheese, eggs, flour and other products and that the transportation companies will be associated with the project.

The Toledo Blade says: "Two things stand in the way of Canadian annexation. One is that Canada does not want to be annexed and the other that the United States does not want to annex her. The same situation has often kept a man and woman from getting married." The Toledo Blade is perfectly correct as regards Canada and, speaking of the really sound and thoughtful element of the United States, it is equally right. The trouble is that now and again some visionary-or possibly some money-mad financial interest-sees possible-and usually personal-advantage in advocating annexation. They raise a bally-hoo wherein writers of the Mr. Bean of Boston type join, and a proportion of the element, that is neither sound nor thoughtful, is

Other Views WANTS MORE BRIDGES.

(Ottawa Citizen) MEANS may eventually be found to keep the St. Lawrence river open through the winter. It would be no more remarkable than the discovery of means to communicate between Canada and Great Britain without any visible connecting medium, by radio-telegraphy. But without any such excursions into the realms of prophecy, rea-sons for going ahead with plans for the bridging of the St. Lawrence to the court of the bridging of the St. Lawrence to the south of Ottawa are abundantly plain. Within the next fifty years, that grand river will probably be spanned by several highway bridges.

RESEARCH WORK NEEDED.

(Toronto Globe) THE Government can help to extend and regularize employment by undertaking research work on a proper scale. It can show the way to new and almost unlimited avenues of employment, and can help to bring about a balance between supply and demand of products and thus level the peaks and hollows in the employment chart. Can-ada is pitifully behind other progressive countries in all branches of research work. Money spent in development of this kind would mean much more to those depending on employment for a living than a small payment for idle time.

"MORE AND BETTER SETTLERS." (Manitoba Free Press)

"MR. FORKE is engaged on a scheme to bring more and better settlers to Canada." He is very anxious to get the largest possible number of people from Great Britain and also from the preferred countries of Europe—from the Scandinavian countries and from France. Immigration figures for the present year show that is where the additional effort needs to be made, since the immigrants are coming fairly freely from the countries of Central Europe.

FAIR ELECTION LISTS.

(London, Ont., Free Press)

THE cost to the candidates for revision in large urban constituency is almost as heavy as for the campaign itself. It is an unfair burden on the candidates and one they should not be asked to carry. The very foundation-stone of representative government is fair lists and honest elections. It should be the responsibility of the government, not the candidates, to see that there should be a compilation which is as accurate and as fair as possible

THE REAL REASON.

(Financial Times) THE prosperity of the United States is viewed with economic rather than political philosophy by the New York World when it says: "The real reason we are prosperous is not because we have an unprecedented tariff, but because we live in a land of unprecedented natural resources; to which an unprecedented war has brought most of the floating capital of the world."

RISKY BUSINESS. (St. Thomas Times-Journal)

THE average man and woman will doubt very much the wisdom of giving official sanction to jail weddings when the man has to spend several years behind prison bars. This is one of the queer practices we have copied from the United States. Little of good can be said for it.

best pupils to Spain to learn from Mohammedan teachers the principal practical arts of the day, shipbuilding, military science, medicine, law, architecture and other professions. It seemed for a time as if the Moslems were going to control Europe intellectually where they had failed to do so with their armies.

Freedom of Will.

Then, the rigid character of the tenets bequeathed by Mohammed began to assert itself. The fundamentalists among the Mohammedan clergy attacked the modern tendencies. Under the inspiration especially of Al-Ghazali, in the twelfth century, Mohammedanism turned to the Ash'arite doctrine as the only orthodox one on the disputed question of freedom of the will. The Ash'arite creed proclaimed that God creates power in the man and creates the choice of an act and the act itself. Man, therefore, does nothing except "acquire" the act. Here was the principle of Kismet carried to fundamentalist extremes. No room was left for self-determination as Mohammed had left it. Al-

Ghazali carried with him the leaders of the hierarchy when he declared the truth reaches mankind only through revelation and when he said the faithful must discard Aristotle and all philosophy and accept only the orthodox interpretations of the Koran.

Allah Fails Them.

Thereafter, Mohammedanism lost ground, slowly but persistently. The fine possibilities of crea-tive activity shown in the early centuries by the Moslems fell away. They were driven from Spain, then their hold on North Africa became withered and at the end of the recent World War, they retired permanently from their eastern European foothold. Allah had failed to do for the Moham-medans what they previously had done for themselves. At the present time a new modernist movement is developing in the Mohamme 'an church but its outcome is not promising. rks are trying to discard the conservative actionaries and replace them with

Selling Public Service

(Financial Post)

A PROMINENT public service executivé said A not long ago that one of the difficulties com-panies sometimes suffered in their public relations was due to the fact that "we know too much about our business and the public knows too little about it."

Very often one gets too close to his own proposition to give the other fellow the proper view of it. He just takes it for granted that the other fellow sees it as he does—its so plain and simple. But the public service proposition is not plain and simple. It is often very complicated and confus-ing to the laity. It takes a lot of intensive, sys-tematic analyzing and explaining to make it as plain and simple to the public as it should be. It is the prime duty of the public service company to stop short of nothing to see that its case is understood by the public. Confidence and goodwill that are gained in advance of information, knowledge, understanding, are not worth very much, for they won't last.

Will a Man Get a Better Wife if His Mother Does the Picking?-The Successful Business Man Whose Wife Has Refused to Rise With Him-Should a Woman of 30 Marry a Man She Respects But Doesn't Love?

Do you think she is right, and that when I marry I should let her FRITZ V. elect my wife for me?

ANSWER: It seems to me, Fritz, that a wife is pretty much a matter of personal taste, and that the man who is going to have to live with one should have the

have to live with one should have the privilege of choosing the girl who fires his fancy. Happiness in marriage doesn't de-pend on getting a wife who is thrifty and economical and industrious and a good cook, although all of these qualities are highly desirable in your life partner. But above and beyond all these is the intangible something that makes some one particular woman just IT for you. Just the only woman. Just your pre-

There is just something about her that appeals to you and that makes you love even her faults better than you would any other woman's virtues. She may not be beautiful, but she looks good to you. She may not be brilliant, but somehow you never tire of listening to her babble. She may not be very domestic, but even her heavy cake and soggy pies and the fact that she never can keep her accounts straight are just funny because they are part of her personality, somehow.

And this personal appeal is something mother cannot possibly understand, because no woman reacts to another woman's attrac-tions as a man does. In fact, women rarely like the same women that men do. A woman's woman is seldom popular with men, and it is nearly always a mystery to every mother to her dying day what her son saw in the girl he married that made him pick her out for a wife.

T is the unusual quiet that all New York notices. The rumbling wheels of traffic sink silently into the soft, unresisting blanket. Mother's selection of a wife for her darling boy would invariably be the nice, domestic girl around the corner, who was such a good cook, and so kind to her old grandfather, and who would have such a nice, tidy little fortune some day. Son's choice is, like as not, a bobbed-haired flapper, who knows more about dancing the Charleston than she does about keep-ing house, and who has never had an unselfish thought in her life.

Of course, mother has reason on her side, but the son has in-clination on his, and his chances for happiness are better if he follows his own desires than if he followed mother's counsel.

For there is always the chance that the flapper will flap over to the right side, and that she has more intelligence and heart than she seems to have, and that she will make the sort of a wife who fills the whole measure of her husband's needs.

But there is no chance whatever that a man will ever get a thrill out of his marriage to a woman he espoused just because his mother thought she was suitable. DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX-I married, when I was very young, a girl who at that time was just as well educated and as intelligent as I was. We had both had few advantages because we were poor, but I have gone on I have studied and read and improved myself, while my wife has stayed just where she was.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN. MANY CASES of heart disease have their origin in infection. Diphtheria injures the heart through the effects of the poisons on the nerves become infected, they should be treated become infected, they should be treated become infected, they should be treated I have been very successful, and my business connections throw me with cultivated people with whom my wife refuses to associate because she feels awkward and ill at ease. As a result, I am in the embarrassing position of being married, yet forced to go out alone, and my wife is most unhappy because she realizes that we are drifting farther apart each year. Is there any remedy for this situation? BUSINESS MAN. Is there any remedy for this situation?

ANSWER: I fear not, because now your wife is too old to change. It is only in novels that the dowdy little hen is suddenly metamorphosed into a queenly swan. In real life such miracles do not happen, and the woman who has allowed her range of interest to narrow down to her children and her house finds that she cannot change if she would. Moreover, she generally doesn't want to change, because all that she really cares for is within her four walls.

When we hear about some brilliant and ambitious self-made man who has left the plain little wife of his youth sitting alone by the hearthstone, has left the plain little wife of his youth sitting alone by the hearthstone, we lavish our sympathy upon her, but surely the tragedy is a double one, and the man who has outgrown his wife is just as much to be pitied as she is. He is just as lonely as she is, for she is no more a companion to him than he is to her and the husband's desolation in their growing apart is as great as his wife's.

This disaster befalls many American families, for in this land of opportunity there are innumerable men who rise to the heights from lowly beginnings. And only too often they leave their wives behind them.

Perhaps in many cases the wives could never have kept step with their husbands, but in many more they could have done so if they had only had more energy, if they had only been willing to make the sacrifices necessary instead of taking the line of least resistence and slumping into slovenliness of mind and body. The only remedy is preparedness. When a man realizes that he is on the upgrade, he should force his wife into keeping pace with him.

·I know of one such case, that of a rising young lawyer whose wife was absorbing herself in her first baby, and who had stopped reading and was absorbing nerself in her first baby, and who had stopped reading and dropped her accomplishments. He said to her: "I am going to be a successful man. I am using every energy in climbing, and if you don't climb with me I am going to leave you. Be warned in time."

And she was. Now he is the Governor of his State, and she is a fit Governot's lady.

* * * * * * * * * *

DEAR MISS DIX—I have a chance to marry a man who would make me a splendid husband and give me a good home and a fine position in society. I like him and respect him, but I do not love him. Do you think I could learn to love him after I married him? I am 30 years old. ESTELLE.

ANSWER: Perhaps you might never be romantically in love with the man, for romantic love is a wind-blown orchid and not a perennial that grows up by the kitchen window.

But I see no reason why you should not come to feel for the man a warm attachment that is far more satisfactory and enduring than any passing gust of passion.

A man who marries a woman he doesn't love seldom falls in love with her, because all the circumstances of marriage tend to alienate a man from his wife, whereas all the conditions of marriage tend to anthate a man thoughts and interests and desires on her husband.

Therefore, it is far more safe for a woman to marry a man and trust to falling in love with him than it is for a man to marry a woman for whom he has no special fancy. DOROTHY DIX

PARIS 5% BONDS An Investment With Fortune-Making Possibilities (LOAN OF 1919) France is now pursuing a policy of deflation can have only one result: a rising exchange rate.

The recuperative powers of the French people were well established after the Franco-Prussian war. Although burdened with huge indemnities France quickly put her financial house in order and paid off all her obligations.

we were to consider the Canadian twenty-five cent piece as the country's monetary unit, as has been done with the English shilling in the above illustrations, then we may say that the value of 10,000 Canadian twenty-five pieces has increased by $375.00 since the Armistice.

E RECOMMEND City of Paris 5 % Bonds of 1919. We advise the immediate purchase of these securit-ies which may now be bought at a fraction of their normal exchange value.

These bonds are payable in French money (francs), just as Canadian municipal and American municipal bonds are payable in Canadian money (dollars) and American money (dollars).

French money (frances) because of the conditions arising out of the great war, is cheap in terms of Canadian or American money. Hence these City of Paris bonds are also cheap in terms of dollars.

Before the war French Government or Municipal Bonds were quoted at par. The French investor paid 10,000 frances for a 10,000-france bond.

Before the war French money or French francs were worth their full gold value. The par value of the French franc is 19.3 cents in terms of Canadian or American money. Consequently before the war 10,000 French francs were worth $1,930.00 in a dollar currency.

Today the French franc is considerably below par. It is worth around 4 cents. Consequently 10,000 French francs are worth around $400.00 in a dollar currency today. A few months ago the franc was worth only 1.93 cents; then 10,000 francs were worth only $193.00. But the franc is recovering rapidly. Its value is increasing. It is becoming dearer in terms of a dollar currency.

The total amount of the City of Paris 5% loan of 1919, the bonds of which we recommend to far-sighted investors, was issued in denominations of 500 frances. In other words all the bonds that make up the Loan are 600-france bonds.

City of Paris bonds are not quoted at par at the present time. Therefore to buy 10,000 france i.e. twenty 500-franc bonds, in the 5% Loan of 1919 the investor does not have to pay the exchange value of 10,000 france French money.

In the same manner as Canadian and American Govern-ment securities were a few years ago quoted below par, these Paris bonds are now selling below par in Paris. Not long ago a Canadian Government Victory bond was quoted at 92%. In other words a $1000-bond could be hought for $920.00.

Paris bonds are selling around 70% of their par value. A 500-frane bond costs about 350 france. Twenty 500-frane bonds or a unit of 10,000 france therefore costs 7,000 france.

At the present time we are selling City of Par-bonds of 1919 at the rate of $14.00 per 500-franc The price of twenty 500-franc bonds is therefore $2

These bonds are expected to go to par in ter-rance before very long owing to the increasing de in that event twenty 500-franc bonds will have ame value as 10,000 frances French money.

The franc should sell at 5 cents within the near i The value of 10,000 france French money will the $500.00. Every investment of $280.00 in Paris hade today will show a net profit of $220.00.

From 5 cents per franc to 10 cents per franc will natural step. The value of 10,000 francs will th $1,000.00. Twenty 500-franc City of Paris bond be worth $1,000.00. Today the same number of may be bought for $280.00. Every investment today will show a net profit of $720.00 when the is at 10 cents is at 10 cents.

At 15 cents per franc the value of a 500-franc bond quoted at par will be $75.00. Twenty 500-bonds will be worth $1,500.00. Today twenty franc bonds can be bought for $290.00, and this invest will therefore show a net profit of $1,320.00 when franc is worth 15 cents.

When the franc is again at par it will be worth 19.3 cents, consequently every 500-franc Paris bond quoted at par (560 francs per 500-franc bond) will be worth $96.50. Every investment made at the present price will have increased in value by $82.50.

City of Paris 5% bonds are gilt-edge municipal secur-fties, legal investments for trust funds and savings banks in France just as City of Toronto and City of Montreal bonds in Canada, and City of New York and City of Chicago bonds in the United States, are legal investments for trust funds and savings banks.

Listed on the principal stock exchanges in France and traded in throughout the financial centres of the world, City of Paris bonds always find a ready market. They can be sold again instantly for spot cash at any time through our house.

We recommend City of Paris 5% bonds not only for the opportunities for profits which they present, but also because of the attractive interest income they return. This interest is paid by means of coupons which can be cashed at any bank in the world at the prevailing rate of Every twenty 500-franc bonds (10,000 francs) of the City of Paris 5% Loan return an interest income of 500 francs per annum. This interest is paid semi-annually, 250 francs on February 1st and 250 francs on August 1st.

As the value of the franc rises these interest coupons also increase in value, thus giving investors a larger yield on the original investment.

The interest coupons can be converted into American or Canadian money at any bank in North America. We cash interest coupons for clients without charge.

Another exceptionally attractive feature of these

French Government bonds which had depreciated to 7% of their normal value during the period of depression, rapidly recovered their losses and soared above par. They will do the same again.

The record of the exchanges of other countries in recent years substantiates the belief that great nations always recover from the economic and financial depression caused by a war.

The Swiss franc, the English pound, the Swedish krone, the Dutch guilder and the Danish krone have risen to par. The Spanish peseta, the Japanese yen and the Norwegian krone are quoted so close to par as to make a purchase of them unattractive now.

It will be admitted that France's losses in the late war were greater than those of any of the countries men-tioned above, consequently the recovery of her money is taking longer, but there can be no doubt that 10,000 French francs will again be worth $1,930.00.

24 Bonds will be redeemed at	10,000 francs each.
36 Bonds will be redeemed at	5,000 france each.
2,490 Bonds will be redeemed at	1,000 francs each.

Every bond is numbered, and after each drawing takes place a list of bonds drawn to receive bonuses is published. We keep a record of all bonds sold by us, and in the event of a client's bond being drawn, he is immediately advised.

The fortune-making possibilities in Paris Bonds, because of their bonus feature caquire little comment. With the franc at only 5 cents the value of the 1,000,000-franc bonus would be $50,000,00. Yet a 500-franc bond which could receive this bonus can be purchased today for $14.00.

Those who have their bonds redeemed with any of the major bonuses will find themselves made comparatively wealthy through their investment of a few dollars today. These bonuses are fully described elsewhere.

That the French franc will return to its old gold value of 19.3 cents or $1,930.00 per 10,000 francs is the conten-tion of many of France's most prominent statesmen and financiers. An ex-premier has said "The franc will improve slowly but surely like the wine of our country."
