

SUFFRAGETTES ON MARCH TO ALBANY

GENERAL ROSALIE GARDNER JONES

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 28—Tired and footsore, but still enthusiastic and glowing in the fact that they reached their destination two days ahead of the schedule, the little band of suffragette pilgrims, who walked 174 miles from New York to present a message to Governor-elect Sulzer, advocating votes for women, arrived in Albany shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Daily Hints For the Cook

MOLASSES CAKES

This recipe will make about two dozen cakes: 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lard, 1 cup molasses, 1/2 teaspoon of ginger, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 1 cup sour milk, two tablespoons soda, 2 tablespoons of boiling water, 2 1/2 cups of flour. Ovens may be added if desired. Put into a warm bowl the sugar, lard (which should be measured scantily), molasses, ginger, salt, cinnamon. Set the bowl on the back part of stove until ingredients have become warm, then remove to a table, add the egg, unbeaten, and beat all thoroughly. Now add the milk and soda, dissolved in the boiling water. Stir well and then beat in the flour. Bake in buttered muffin tins in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes.

"LITTLE SQUASH PIES"

Make a plain pastry with 2 cups pastry flour, 1/2 teaspoon each salt and baking powder, and 1/2 cup shortening. Roll to a sheet, spread with 3 or 4 tablespoons creamed butter, then fold in three layers and again roll into this sheet with this paste cover ten small-patty pans, tucking in and fluting the crust on the edge as for custard or squash pies. By covering I mean invert the pans and cover outside. Prick bottom a little. Fill with squash mixture and let bake in a

SAW LUMBER ALL WINTER

Some Maine Mills to Keep Up Operations THE WORK AT VAN BUREN

The Agitation in Northern Aroostook For New Bridge Across the St. John River—Canadian Logs All The Year Round

(Bangor Commercial) The Jordan Lumber Co. of Old Town, which has just announced that it will operate its long lumber mill in Millford during the winter months, is following the very few firms in the state that have decided that logs can be profitably cut into lumber in the winter as well as in the summer.

Last winter the Van Buren Lumber Co., which has one of the largest plants on the St. John river in the village of Van Buren, ran all winter long, and part of the time was running night and day in order to take advantage of a good lumber market. The market had been strengthening steadily, and the head of the Van Buren Lumber Co. announced only a short time ago that both the shingle and the lumber mill would be operated right through the cold weather running the year around.

It is an entirely new departure for the Jordan Lumber Co., and will be for the first time in the history of the company, which operates three plants, two in Millford, and one in Old Town. It will also be a new venture on the Penobscot river, where the mills usually run until the cold weather closes their mill ponds, and shuts things down generally.

At Van Buren the logs which are used by the Van Buren Lumber Co. are cut and railed on the line of the International railroad between St. Leonard's and Campbellton and hauled by rail into St. Leonard's. Thence they are hauled across the international bridge between Van Buren and St. Leonard's, and Van Buren to the mill, where they are manufactured.

The present agitation in northern Aroostook for a railroad bridge connecting the Bangor & Aroostook and the lines on the other side of the St. John river, and the international boundary brought about by the lumber interests in this section, who are anxious to eliminate the haul by team across the river. They say that with a railroad bridge they will be able to get a supply of logs from the Canadian side all year around.

At Millford the Jordan Lumber Co. has made preparations for the winter's saving by piling several million feet of logs on Indian Island, opposite the mill. As soon as the ice in the river is of sufficient strength to stand the heavy loading they will be hauled across the river to the sawmill where they will be manufactured into long lumber.

If the supply of logs can be made available and the demand makes it profitable it may be long before a great many of Maine's sawmills are putting in full time and a mill running the year around will be the rule rather than the exception.

Little Beauty Chats By BLANCHE BEACON

What Constitutes a Pretty Ear? I do not wish to seem impertinent, but the more question I must ask. Here it is. Are your ears the correct measurement? You can find the answer to this question by measuring your ears with a tape measure. For your information, I will say that the ideal ear is two and

LOOK in your mirror, lady fair, and see if you possess perfect ears. Before you do this, however, cast your eye over the following paragraph, and find out the distinguishing points of the ear admired by artists and sculptors. Unless you do this, you might look at your ears until you were tired and be none the wiser. I am told that the ideal ear must be

A delicate pink, small in size and shaped half inches long and one and a half inches like a sea-shell. But this is not enough, wide. If the ear wishes to be called perfect, it must be placed correctly at the side of the head. Are your ears set midway between the nose, as the ears, black and alab have front and the back of the head? They a naughty way of growing larger, year are? That is good. Look again and see by year. They show poor judgment, do if the tops of your ears are on a line with they not? This is the reason why we so the top of your nose and the lobe tips on seldom see a middle-aged woman or man a level with the tip of your saucy nose. with small ears. The remedy? Alas! If all is well so far, notice whether your ears are set vertically on the head. I do. Some day before long I will tell you a hope you possess this mark of ear beauty, simple way to make outstanding ears be as ears that are placed slant on the sides close to the head.

It's a Wise Infant---This Little Nineteen-Thirteen Precocious Child

By J. R. HAMILTON Former Advertising Manager Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

FOR SOME reason we have always had a picture in our minds of the Old Year as a shriveled old man and the New Year as a little Child. Why we continue to do this, no one seems to know. It must be a matter of habit, for in this wise Twentieth Century our New Year Cherubs usually have the eyes of a Machiavelli and the Horns of Old Nick.

People grow shrewder with each passing year. And in this Nation of Commercialism they are truly wise.

Merchants for example, used to talk years ago about judicious advertising to get the people.

Now the tables are turned, and almost anywhere you go you hear the people talking about judicious buying to get the merchants.

The woman who doesn't study her advertising as carefully as her husband reads his Stock Reports is almost an unknown quantity. And the merchant in these days who doesn't give her the advertising to study spends most of his Winter in dusting the cobwebs and his summer in Keeping out the flies.

Buyer and Seller have both become shrewd at the game.

And better than that, they have come to understand that they are both working with and for each other all the time.

The Shrewd merchant speaks of "my customers," and he fights for them everywhere.

The Shrewd buyer speaks of "my store" and she stands by it through thick and thin.

So it has come about that the thousands of families who take this paper have come to look for their merchants advertising in this paper every week, and the man who isn't here is soon forgotten.

And this is as it should be. For just as the merchant backs up his customers and the customers back up their stores, so does this paper back up its readers and its stores.

There are thousands of you people reading this paper today. We have given you the best news to be had; we have presented this as attractively as possible; all the best merchants in this city have given you the best merchandise to be had, and have presented it as attractively as possible in their advertisements. So our three interests are actually one. Therefore let us keep them one throughout the year.

These merchants will supply you the best values they have. You supply them with the best attention you have, and we shall supply the best medium in this city, for uniting the interests of you both.

Judicious advertising and judicious buying should always go hand in hand.

Commissioner Tells Council It Was Intended to Deter Wholesale Dismissal—Increase For All Had Been Intended

On the petition of Chief of Police W. W. Clark, Judge McLeod issued, on Saturday evening, an injunction restraining the city from putting into effect the common council's resolution of December 23, authorizing the reduction of the police force to one man after January 1. The injunction also restrains the common council from interfering with the chief of police as any member of the force in the execution of his or their duty, and especially the commissioner of public safety, until January 1 next.

In his affidavit the chief sets forth his appointment, the fact that he has been advised that the reduction of the force would be an invasion of his rights and cause serious and irreparable injury to him as chief and to the city by jeopardizing the lives and property of the citizens as a result of his being deprived of a police force. The affidavit also refers to the difficulties which would arise in connection with the funds of the Police Relief Association, which now amount to $7,000.

Copies of the injunction were served on Mayor Prink, Commissioner McLellan and Commissioner Agar on Saturday evening and copies were to be served on the other commissioners today.

Commissioner McLellan made a statement at the meeting of the council this afternoon. He said that following a consultation with the local members of the legislature it was decided by the council that no action would be taken on the resolution to reduce the force and a resolution to that effect would have been moved today.

The action of the chief made such a step unnecessary as the original resolution lay in abeyance until the court had decided the matter. The fact remained that, without any such action by the chief there would have been no reduction of the force until the meeting of the legislature when an answer would have been given to the city's request.

"That the chief has any individual complaint to make, even if the reduction had taken place," he says, "does not plainly appear to me as he would have remained in the employ of the city and enjoyed his salary just the same."

"The chief has gone out of his way to make appear as if the commission, through me, had been hunting for his head but I deny him to prove that I have ever expressed any such desire."

After dismissing the objections raised by the chief and disclaiming any idea of humiliating or degrading him, the commissioner went on to say that he, the commissioner, was practically the only friend the chief had in the council. He had been his intention, he said, to retain all the members of the present force, the chief included, but at advanced salaries. He had sympathized with the position of the chief but wished to have him under the direction of the council so that the commissioner could make what suggestions they thought best for the force.

The action taken by the chief had also been intended from him any sympathy which might have existed, and he would not say what course would be taken in the future. He was especially inclined to feel this way as he knew that the chief had been advised by his best friends to do no such action, as it would mean his own decapitation.

ANOTHER I. C. R. INQUIRY

Moncton, Dec. 30.—Inquiry into certain charges against C. C. Weldon, chief clerk of the I. C. R. was begun this morning before Commissioner G. Hazen Alder. The latter first allowed press representatives in remarking that he did not think reference to alleged participation should be published but that if other charges were gone into, a report might be given. Soon afterwards, after consulting with Mr. Weldon, the commissioner requested your correspondent to leave the room.

Pavia, Dec. 30.—The will of Edouard Duhaillie, painter, leaves his residence as a museum of historical costumes. He also bequeathed $40,000 for the reconstruction of the house.

AN ERA OF REFORM

One of the very encouraging signs of the times in the United States is the reaction from too lenient methods of dealing with criminals high and low. The last year has witnessed a number of trials before judges and juries performed their duty so fearlessly as to excite surprise in the minds of people who had grown accustomed to miscarriage of justice. There has been developed a more healthy sentiment in favor of law enforcement, and it has influenced all who have to do with the administration of justice. There is still much to be desired, but the outlook is greatly improved. Not merely in relation to crimes of the more sordid character, but those which exploit the many for the enrichment of the few there has been an awakening. Entrenched privilege is not so secure as it was. The people have been asking questions. The Progressives are not the tools of a leader, but the representatives of a nation-wide protest against wrongs which must be righted. Much depends upon Mr. Woodrow Wilson. If he, as leader of the Democrats, does not institute great changes the next president after him will doubtless be a Progressive. Forces which have been actively at work for several years have not been seeking to exalt a man, but to improve the conditions of life for the masses of the people, and these forces will not be denied. The right of the individual to enrich himself at the expense of the people has been challenged in unmistakable terms, and a better day is at hand.

IN A NUTSHELL

Addressing the committee of the Ontario legislature appointed to consider the amendments of the assessment act, Mr. W. A. Douglas said: "In the whole history of the world it is ever known that any man deliberately stated to his workmen: 'If you raise the wages, make excellent improvements, or produce abundant goods, so as to add to the prosperity and welfare of the country, I will punish you; but, if you keep the land idle and raise nothing but worthless weeds, then I will give you the chance to win a fortune.' Can we conceive of a man, unless utterly bereft of reason, uttering such absurdities? And yet, in what way does our present method of taxation differ from that? For every acre cleared, for every rod of fencing added, for every building erected, for every factory established, the law prescribes that the taxation shall be increased. But if a man puts his land to the very worst use, holds it in idleness that he may deposit and impoverish his fellowmen, does he give him a chance to win a fortune? Instead of encouraging men to do their very best, we encourage them to do their very worst."

LESSON FROM AUSTRALIA

For more than thirty years the people of South Australia have been taking care of dependent children through the medium of a state Children's Council. Miss Edith Sellers tells the story in a recent issue of the Contemporary Review, and it is of especial interest and value to New Brunswick readers at this time, when a fourth attempt is to be made to secure legislation for child protection in this province. Miss Sellers writes: "No matter how poor and degraded a child may be, he or she does not rank as a pauper; he has nothing whatever to do with paupers or pauper authorities and he may not be lodged in a pauper's institution. If he is normal, indeed, he may not be lodged in an institution of any sort. For South Australians have set their hearts on having no paupers at all in their land; and they are firmly convinced that the only way they can escape having them is by bringing up the children for whom they are responsible in such a way as to secure their developing, so far as nature allows, into self-respecting, self-reliant, thrifty, hard-working men and women. And, as they have learned by experience that this can rarely be done in institutions, they insist on their being brought up in homes, real homes, workmen's cottages, just as they would be were they provided for by their own parents, instead of by the state. They insist, too, on their being brought up in the country, amidst wholesome surroundings, and under conditions which, while ensuring them against ill-treatment, give them the chance of leading free, happy, human lives, of making friends for themselves, while having their corners knocked off, and learning how to fight their own battles."

The Children's Council "is the official caretaker of all the children in the province who are maintained by the state, except those who are maintained together with their parents. It appoints local committees to act as caretakers of the children in a district, to watch over them, to see that they are properly clothed, housed and fed, that they go to school regularly, and that they are kindly treated." The Council has the power to take children from homes that are unfit, and fine or imprison them if they do not show respect and affection for their parents. The funeral of David Logan took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Wellington Andrews, 160 Victoria street. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. B. H. Nobles, pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church. The funeral was conducted by the Alexandra Temple of Honor and the order, headed by their band, preceded the hearse, while to show the respect and esteem in which Mr. Logan was held fully 500 people followed his body to his last resting place. Rev. B. H. Nobles conducted the service at the grave while Hazen Taylor, W. C. T. and Carey B. Black, W. C., conducted the service at the order. Interment was in Cedar Hill.

Sir William Ramsay Aims at Solution of Lighting and Heating Problems

Sir William Ramsay expresses the conviction that the mining and distribution of coal is no longer necessary to the production and distribution of heat. He would transform coal into gas in the mines. He would distribute this gas to consumers broadcast from the mines. He would make the entire cost of the coal just as the gas he would have the means of generating electricity, at the very pithead if desired, so that there would be a choice for the consumer between heat by pipe and heat by wire. All of the coal-carrying machinery, the machinery of the coal mines, would all of the cost of intermediate handling, all of the waste that is now sent to represent 50 per cent. of the coal just as the gas he would have the means of generating electricity, at the very pithead if desired, so that there would be a choice for the consumer between heat by pipe and heat by wire.

The girls of course, are taught house work, and fitted to conduct homes of their own. Miss Seller shows that the cost of maintaining the children is very small, that they turn out well, and that the death rate is very low, amounting to less than two per cent.

Why should the province of New Brunswick lag so far behind Australia in a matter which affects so very materially the future standard of citizenship in the province?

THE SIGNIFICANT PRESCRIPTION SIGN

It's quite interesting to know that the "R" usually seen on a prescription with a cross through the tail is only a modification of the alchemical sign of Jupiter who by the ancients was regarded as the mythological god of health. It also stands for the latin imperative word "Recipe." Take thou, under this sign your doctor writes for your health's sake. We follow his instructions to the letter. "We take" of each drug just as much as he orders and no more. The care we use in the filling of your prescription is significant. It is a sign of a signal safety service.

FIRST CREMATION IN BERLIN. Berlin, Dec. 29.—Berlin has made another step towards modernity, inaugurating its first crematorium. The building is the second of its kind in Prussia, and its predecessor was opened only a couple of months ago. As a matter of fact, cremation is thought to be a questionable proceeding by quite a large part of the population, as the regulations as to the formalities exacted before permission for cremation clearly testify. In Prussia a man may be cremated only if he states as his emphatic wish in his will, or when he signs a separate statement attested by a commissioner of oaths. The incineration fee is $12.50, and the cost of a shelf for the urn is only $5. The urn may cost anything from $5 to $250.

Washington, Dec. 29.—A display of pearls that probably literally "out-shone the wealth of Orymus and of Ind" marked the Eighteenth Century Christmas ball given by Mrs. William F. Draper on last Thursday night. Famous as a hostess because of the splendid coming-out ball for her daughter, Miss Margaret, and of most fortunate, Mrs. Draper surpassed herself in this evening's affair. Although the announcements as well as the Louis XV. costumes proclaimed its name, it will go down in social history as the "Pearl Ball." Probably never in America were so many and such marvelous pearls assembled in a ballroom at one time. The hostess, who possesses $500,000 worth of pearls, wore nearly all of them. Her gown in the Louis XV. fashion was crowned by a tiara of pear-shaped pearls, some of which were as large as small pebbles. Also she wore earrings and collar of pearls, a four-strand necklace and a long strand which hung from her shoulders nearly to the floor. The same sort of jewels formed her corsage ornament, and a stonemason fashioned them over her right hand and hip. The design of her costume was in representation of the dress of a lady of the court of Louis XV. Her gown was of white satin with broad stripes of black velvet. Mrs. Margaret Draper, dressed as a young woman of the court, wore the famous necklace whose separate jewels have come from the four quarters of the globe. The first jewel in the necklace was given to her by the Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy, who was the first unmarried woman in Washington society.

Other Magnificent Strands. Among other women who opened their jewel caskets to wear their pearls were Mrs. MacVaugh, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, whose pearls, like her emeralds, have been carefully selected by an expert who travels all over the world for the purpose. Mrs. Joseph Leiter wore the gift of Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, a companion strand to those of the Duchess of Suffolk, the late Lady Curzon, and the late Mrs. Campbell, of England, daughters of Mrs. Leiter. Mrs. Peter Gochet Gerry, who made a person of the fashion of Europe in search of the pearls for her strand; Madame Haug, Mrs. Richardson Clover and Miss Rudora Clover, all added to the beauty of the "Pearl Ball."

Most of the costumes were designed from paintings of the eighteenth century. The ballroom was decorated in the fashion of the French Yuletide entertainments of that period. The decorations of Beauty roses were used in the place of the red carnations of France. The music was by Mrs. Helen Taft and Mr. Robert Taft, being among the dancers. Miss Margaret Draper and her house guest, Miss Lavina Fish, of New York, were the guests of honor at a dinner given before the ball by Mrs. McManara and Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers. Out of compliment to her guest of honor, Mrs. Rogers transformed her home into an eighteenth century French garden, and even costumed her servants in the fashion of that period.

TEDDY McNAMARA IS WELCOMED TO ST. JOHN. Teddy McNamara, the irrepresible little Australian comedian, who started with such startling effect with the Polaris Juvenile Opera Company on its former visit here, is still with this unique organization and will be right in the spotlights when the company comes to the Opera House tonight. "Teddie is no longer a little boy, but is still youthful enough to make his remarkable comedy gift a matter of wonder to all who see him. So great has been his success that he is now compared with the best known comedy veterans of the American stage, and the comparison does not hurt young McNamara a bit. There are forty young artists with the company who will present "The Toy Maker" tonight and Tuesday. The balance of the week's programme will be announced later.

FATHER AND SON DEAD. A hostile bereavement fell upon the home of Alexander C. McPhail, of Charlottetown, last week. On Monday a telegram was received announcing the death of his eldest son, Charles, in Boston. Mr. McPhail was, at the time, so ill that it was thought best to withhold from him the news of his son's death. The father passed away on Christmas morning. A remarkable incident connected with his death was the fact that, although not informed of his son's death, he told one of those watching by his bedside, shortly before passing away, "Charlie is dead." The elder Mr. McPhail was in his 89th year, and is survived by his widow and a large family of sons and daughters, two of the sons, James and Goodwill, residing at home. His son, Charles, above referred to, was 44 years of age, and leaves an only daughter, Margaret.

LONG LIVED FAMILY. Fredericton Mail.—Miss Eleanor Rainford celebrated her ninety-third birthday Christmas Day. Her sister Miss Elizabeth Rainford was eighty-four on Christmas Eve. Their brother William Rainford is upwards of eighty. They are children of the late Capt. Chas. Rainford of the 104th New Brunswick Regt., which took part in the War of 1812 and reside in the Parish of Kingsclear.

All Kinds and Qualities of Up-to-Date Corsets

A comprehensive display contributed to by leading makers. The woman who wants real corset comfort will find that our exhibit affords such a wide opportunity for choosing that the just right model is always to be found

Nemo "In-Curve Back" Self Reducing Corset, low bust, improved self-reducing front, fine white coutil. This model is fitted with gorges of Lastikop's cloth which permits perfect comfort while sitting, as the gorges expand and freely give plenty of room for the natural spread of body and limbs. These gorges will never lose their original elastic extension of the skirt at back. The two bands of Lastikop's webbing which confine and reduce the hips produce a perfect rounded effect—the new "In-Curve Back"—giving a most graceful contour and making it impossible for the corset edge or the ends of steels to show through even the closest fitting and most gaudy gown, $6.00.

Nemo Self-Reducing Corset with the famous Lastikop's Bandlet, for tall and medium stout figures, medium bust and under arm, long skirt, six Lastikop hose supports. The Bandlet fit snugly around the lower abdomen. While the double reducing straps produce a snug fit around the upper limbs with corresponding reduction of the figure. Another important feature is the employment of thin steel springs at the bottom of the corset, which tend still further to keep the Bandlet in its proper place, thereby producing a degree of hygienic and comfortable abdominal support never before attainable, $6.00.

Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, white coutil or batiste, for short stout figures, low bust and under arm. Very long skirt, with Lastikop's limb-shaping extensions, six Lastikop's hose supports, $4.75.

Nemo Corset, low and medium bust, white coutil, self-reducing bands and auto massage reducing straps supporting abdomen from underneath, four suspenders, $4.50.

Nemo Corset, low and medium bust, white coutil, self-reducing straps, elastic bands at back, $3.75.

Corset of Dr. Deimel's Linen Mesh, with medium bust, long hip. A soft, easy corset, lightly boned, yet giving the proper support; lace and ribbon trimmed, four suspenders, $3.85.

HERE ARE A FEW OTHER POPULAR STYLES. At $3.00, an extra long corset of fine French coutil, medium bust, six strong suspenders and drawstrings. A beautiful shaped model. At $2.25, medium low bust, very long skirt, drawstrings and hook, six suspenders, trimmed lace and ribbon. At $3.00, white only, a medium weight, medium length corset for slight figure, satin top, four suspenders. At $1.90, white only, a reinforced spoon front corset, both medium and low bust, long skirt, four suspenders. A strong double-boned corset suited to average or full figure. Corset Department, Second floor.

HENWOOD IS STILL IN JAIL. Asks That the Shadows of Prison Be Dispelled for One Day by Cheer-Givers.

(Denver News, Dec. 21.) A remedy for the Christmas cheer, who seeks to spread the joy of Yuletide among those whose Christmas would otherwise be dreary, has come to the News from Denver's county jail. It is a plea for the poor fellows behind the prison bars, whose imprisonment in the county jail has been an unending and hopeless to those who are discouraged and penniless. He pictures the loneliness and the despair that darken the Christmas day of those in jail of those who are far from the cheer of home; he tells of the poor fellow who is sent to prison without money and with few clothes, and who goes out with less, and he tells of the dreariness of the prison day without the solace of books or magazines. Henwood appeals to the people of Denver to dispel the dark and gloomy shadows of the prison by a bit of Christmas cheer sent to the poor fellows behind the bars.

JOHN IRVIN AT THE EVERY DAY CLUB

Makes Strong Plea for Children's Aid Society - Comparison of Interest

In an admirable address at the Every Day Club last evening John Irvin, K. C., of Brimington, paid a very high tribute to the citizens of St. John for what had been accomplished in past years and made a very strong plea for the addition of a Children's Aid Society with the law behind it, as a necessary addition to the splendid institutions related to the humanities which are already in existence. Mr. Irvin contrasted the St. John of forty years ago with that of today, and noted the obstacles overcome, the foresight which planned for years ahead and provided the funds to produce the facilities for the great traffic of the present time. He predicted a great future for the city, as one of the imperial gates through which would flow the commerce of a great dominion. Turning then to the institutions provided so generously for the spiritual, moral and intellectual welfare of the people, Mr. Irvin went on to speak of the various organizations, institutions, hospitals and homes designed to meet the special needs of the community and help in securing such a law for New Brunswick. In this connection he emphasized the power of thought. When many people are thinking of the same thing they are creating a force which produces results. All the great revolutions in the world were caused by thought, and there never was a time in the world's history when thought was producing so many splendid agencies for man's betterment. Legislation and organization for child protection was one of them, and the speaker made an eloquent plea for the boys and for sympathy and support for the Every Day Club in its work. The president of the club, noting the fact that eighteen boys were grouped together near the platform, observed that on Friday evening he had seen eighteen larger boys in the Boys' Industrial Home. He suggested that more interest might well be taken in the lads before they arrive at the door of the reformatory. C. S. Humpers referred briefly to some boys who had been influenced for good in the club, and the opportunity afforded for helpfulness to the many who spent their evenings in the room. As many as fifty were there of an evening, besides thirty or more young men. Two solos were sung by George E. Knight, and one by Elmer A. Bolding. Mr. Knight will be the speaker next Sunday evening. On Wednesday evening there will be a special entertainment for the boys of the club.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY: HOME AND ABROAD

Bowling Archie Walsh. Boston American. - Archie Walsh's strong desire to engage in special matches and the lure of Maine has led East Boston to a good bowler. For several years Archie has made it a point to visit the Pine Tree State many times each season. His youth, grit and his ability to trim the "ball" has won him the admiration of thousands of fans in Portland, Bangor, Lewiston and several other cities. For this reason he has always been in big demand by the promoters of that state.

Baseball Big German Stadium. Berlin, Dec. 29. Thirty thousand athletes will parade before the Kaiser on June 8, the occasion of the dedication of the stadium now being constructed on Grunewald race course, just outside Berlin, for Olympic games in 1916.

Hockey Saturday's Matches. The Montreal Canadiens defeated the Toronto team 5 to 3 in their game in Montreal on Saturday night. Quebec defeated Ottawa 7 to 3 in Quebec on Saturday. The Boston Athletic Association hockey team defeated the St. Nicholas team of New York 4 to 3 in Boston on Saturday night.

The Ottawa University hockey team was defeated by the Cleveland A. C. team 10 to 3 in Cleveland on Saturday. The Toronto University hockey team defeated the Crescent of Brooklyn 6 to 4 in New York on Saturday. The Toronto Tommies were defeated by the Montreal Wanderers 7 to 4 in Toronto on Saturday.

The New Edinburgh team on Saturday defeated the St. Michaels 9 to 3. The Blue After Vernon. Los Angeles, Dec. 28. The fact that every while heavyweight boxer has tried to get into the Palmer-McCarthy affair can be taken as pretty good evidence that the New Year's Day contest at Vernon is attracting a lot of attention.

Los Angeles, Dec. 29. In regard to another battle between Willie Ritchie and Ad Wolgast, Billy Nolan, manager of Ritchie, the lightweight champion, has this to say: "There are three opponents who, I believe will prove big attractions in a contest with Willie Ritchie, the present lightweight champion of the world-Packey McFarland, Joe Rivers and Ad Wolgast. Ritchie will battle any one of the three. Already we have received offers to meet all of them. To date, the largest guarantee was for a battle with Joe Rivers. "Of the three men, I favor Wolgast. Ritchie has met and defeated him on two occasions and certainly can do so again in much shorter time. Possibly Rivers or McFarland may give more trouble. This cannot be judged until the men have met. "Now for Max Baer, Jones and Wolgast."

After returning to Los Angeles, some 500 miles from the scene of the battle, where they thought it safe to make any kind of a statement without fear of contradiction, we heard of their ramblings, denying that there was a foul blow committed, or even that Wolgast was any to the floor. "However, there were some two dozen cameras that were snapping everything that looked like a movement on the principals in the Daily City Arena. Doubtless Jones and Wolgast will come to see our show at the Empress Theatre in Los Angeles.

"Personally, I will apiece for their benefit on the occasion and will show them the foul blow plainly shown on the canvas in the theatre; also Ad Wolgast on his own eyes. They proved to their satisfaction, nothing would suit me better than to call their attention to that most-just sum of $25,000 that they wish to wager on the outcome of another battle between the victor and the vanquished.

"If Wolgast, thinks he can defeat Willie Ritchie in a third battle, I accept the match on the terms as published by Wolgast. Let the challenger post the cash and I will be arranged very shortly. However, I will state that I doubt the sincerity of such a bet. It was the last bet of a loser, and to substantiate my belief Wolgast and Jones will resort to some subterfuge to escape being called and shown up in the proper light.

"Let them post their money. The match will be made after our theatrical contracts terminate. Ritchie fought a hard battle and was winning handsily. No one knew better than Tom Jones and Ad Wolgast what would happen to the latter had the battle proceeded any further. One foul may be an accident. After being warned for the first offence by the referee, Wolgast followed the next blow with another foul.

"If that is not deliberate I do not know the definition of the word. If it was not so, Wolgast was in such a dazed condition that a knockout was inevitable. The referee man won and is ready again to prove that he is Wolgast's superior for the third time.

STRIKING EXAMPLE OF BENEFITS OF INSURANCE ACT Lloyd George in Masterly Speech Drives Vain Home-The Consumptive Blacksmith's Case

London, Dec. 30.-In a recent speech in which he denounced England's land system the chancellor, Lloyd George, took occasion to draw an interesting picture of the benefits to be derived from the new government insurance act.

With all his extraordinary gifts of playing on the feelings of an audience he pictured the conditions of a poor laborer and a poor blacksmith who, already reeling from the anaesthetics under the scalpel, takes from his pocket for the descendants of the Welsh blacksmith, seized by this terrible scourge, he had to leave his work on Oct. 16, and was admitted into a general London hospital.

"They discovered that he was suffering from tuberculosis, and recommended complete rest on the back for at least two years with the best of hygienic conditions obtainable. Now what is the use of saying that to a poor fellow who was a blacksmith earning probably twenty-five or thirty shillings a week?

"You say to him: 'You have got to rest for two years under the best hygienic conditions,' but he says: 'I have not a penny and my last four and eightpence was taken by a Welshman.'

"Now what is to be done with him? The insurance act comes along the next day and he gets out of the hospital because he can keep him there only for a few weeks-and they are going to make provision for him. He will be kept for two years under the best conditions that the latest scientific inventions can discover. It will cost £200. It will all be found, and he will be cured, and this is the act they have calculated all over the country."

Then the chancellor turned to the maternity benefit and said: "The insurance act comes along the next day and he gets out of the hospital because he can keep him there only for a few weeks-and they are going to make provision for him. He will be kept for two years under the best conditions that the latest scientific inventions can discover. It will cost £200. It will all be found, and he will be cured, and this is the act they have calculated all over the country."

On the other hand, several of the medical members of the government's advisory committee, who resigned at the request of the British Medical Association, have now decided to rejoin that committee, ignoring the association and are hastening to join the band of doctors for administrative insurance act.

YOUNG MAN MISSING FOR A WHOLE WEEK

Arthur DeLong Not Seen Since Last Monday and Relatives and Friends Are Anxious

From the time he left his boarding house in Charlotte street just one week ago today, on Monday evening about 9:30 o'clock, no word has been received from Arthur M. DeLong, a young man who has been seen or heard of him, and his relatives and friends are in anxiety lest something serious has befallen him. No reason can be given for his disappearance and no guess can be hazarded as to where he might have gone. His previous movements had not indicated any intention that he was to leave the city. He took no extra clothing with him except a vest and a pair of trousers which he carried with him over his arm, and he left his money behind him.

DeLong, who is about twenty-one years of age, has for about ten years or more made his home with his aunt, Mrs. Joseph F. Saunders, proprietress of the Waverly Hotel in Charlotte street, who treated him with every kindness and brought him up as a mother, for his own parents are dead. He had been in the employ of the Union Bakery in Charlotte street for some time and was held in esteem by the management. He had no trouble with anyone connected with that establishment which might be responsible for his disappearance and owed no money of any consequence there or elsewhere. Why he should leave a comfortable home and relatives and friends by whom he was so well liked is a matter which cannot easily be understood, unless perhaps his belated him.

On Monday evening last he sent to the office of the bakery the amount of his day's collections and word to the effect that he was leaving the employ of that concern. He went out with a friend and came back fairly early. About 9:30 o'clock he was seen going downtown with a pair of trousers and a vest over one arm, and since then Mrs. Saunders has been unable to trace his movements. He left his overcoat and money in his room. She does not know whether he is alive or dead but has feared that the accident must have happened to him which might mean her never seeing him alive again.

Young DeLong is a bright, cheerful fellow who had many friends about the city. He is of fair complexion, reddish cheeks, of medium height, with curly, wavy hair, and usually wore dark clothes. Mrs. Saunders would greatly appreciate any information which would throw some light upon his disappearance, or which might help to establish the knowledge as to whether he is alive or dead.

ST. JOHN MAN INVESTS

Moncton Transcript:—It is reported that H. H. Peters of St. John who spent a day or two in the city last week has made quite an investment in Moncton real estate. A. H. Jones, real estate agent, said that it was a fact that Mr. Peters had bought some inside property, but did not care to give any further information at present.

THE LATE ALFRED EVERETT

Alfred Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Everett, whose death occurred in Moncton at his home, 1279 St. Denis street, on Thursday last, was twenty-four years of age, and besides his father and mother, is survived by two sisters, Misses Bessie and Edith. The family removed from St. John to Moncton about two years ago. Alfred was employed with the Mortimer Company, engravers, up to the time of his illness last summer. He was of a bright, pleasant disposition, and was well liked both by his old friends in this city and by those who knew him in Moncton. The funeral was held there today and interment was made in Mount Royal cemetery.

THE GOLDEN RULE

An immigrant special passed through the city late yesterday afternoon from Halifax bound for western points. In one of the cars was a young English woman who had come out from Bristol to join her husband and who had the misfortune to lose all her money but fifteen cents. She wanted to go to St. Stephen where her husband is employed, but could not do so as she had not the funds, nor was there a Boston train leaving last night to make connections. Gordon Kennedy, an employee of the I. C. R. about the Union Depot, hearing of her plight performed a charitable act in having his wife take her to their home in Charlotte street, where she remained until this morning and then left for St. Stephen on the early Boston train, expressing heartfelt gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy for their kindness.

He will represent the Montreal firm in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

CUTS HOUSE IN TWO; PUTS STORY IN THE MIDDLE

Mr. Sparks Original Method of Improving Courtesy Bay Property—Sells to Advantage

A new method of increasing the capacity of a house has been invented, and put in practice by Thomas Sparks, junior of Courtesy church. In these days when the population of St. John is crowding the housing capacity, any suggestions regarding better giving more accommodation for the same number of buildings should be received with deep interest by other property owners, and it is a possibility that some of them may benefit by Mr. Sparks' originality. His method, after all, is a simple one. He has a house, a single story, which he has divided into two, horizontally, by jacking up the upper part and inserting another story in the middle. In the past the common method has been to add another story on the top, but this means the destruction of the roof and the expense of constructing another, or else added room has been gained by building an "ell," but this means the expense of new foundations as well as a new roof in addition to inevitable cost of the walls. Altogether convenience and economy, Mr. Sparks seems to have struck a plan which has all the others looking like amateur attempts.

That the scheme is both practical and profitable is shown by the fact that Mr. Sparks has since sold the building so improved at a substantial profit.

Last summer Mr. Sparks purchased the McLaughlin house, with two lots, on the Red Head road near Norton Griffiths & Company's new office. Later on he discovered that his house encroached on another lot, and he decided to move the building. When this was accomplished he thought another story would add to the value of the building, which was then only one and a half in height. Mr. Sparks had been bound down by precedents or hoary traditions, and when he set out to accomplish his object he was not afraid to do a little original thinking. The result of his cogitation was the plan outlined. He set to work and saved the house in two, making the cut under the eaves. The top section was then jacked up to the proper height to allow his added second story in the building, and this was done with neatness and dispatch while neighboring passers-by looked on and wondered. Among some of the most interested spectators were the engineers of Norton Griffiths & Company, who frankly confessed that, in all their world-wide experience, they had never seen a surgical operation of that particular kind performed.

When his labors were completed, Mr. Sparks' originality was justified and rewarded in the possession of a neat two and a half story dwelling fitted for two families at a small advance in cost over the little one readily affair which he had purchased. The improved property caught the eye of Rupert Taylor, of Vieuxville, who took an option on it and received the completed purchase at a price which left Mr. Sparks a satisfactory profit on his operations.

Captain Cook reports having had a pretty rough passage, as reported by the crew. The passengers who landed here were mostly for the west and were sent through this morning, the work of discharging the record cargo was begun this morning. The Corsikan will load here for the other side.

IN POLICE COURT ON CHARGE OF STEALING

James A. McDonald Case Goes Over Till Friday—Bail Fixed at $2,000

James A. McDonald, formerly St. John manager for the P. E. Collier Publishing Co., was arraigned before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning on the charge of stealing about $40 from his employers. He did not plead, but asked for an adjournment to secure counsel. H. J. Smith appeared for the prosecution, and said that he was awaiting the arrival of some papers from the head office of the company, and that he expected them today. He informed the court that there might be additional charges amounting to several hundred dollars. His Honor adjourned the case until Friday morning at ten o'clock. McDonald applied for bail, and His Honor said that he would allow it, fixing the amount at $2,000. McDonald said he would secure the necessary amount this afternoon. He was arrested in Sussex on Saturday afternoon by Detective Kilien on a warrant sworn out by Charles Reilly, the present manager of the local agency. He is charged with stealing the sum of $21.25 on May 1, collected from Dr. F. S. Saways, $10 on August 1, collected from Stanley C. Carson, and $9 on August 8, collected from H. J. Smith.
