FEAR DEATHS IN THE PITTSBURG RIOT WILL NUMBER A DOZEN

Fifty More Deputies Sworn in as More Trouble is Anticipated—Deputy Sheriff Met Death Boldly, Facing Mob—A Soldier's Brave Fight.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—As a smoke-begged sun rose over the dull gray houses and factories of McKees Rocks early today, nothing except two piles of brick and a street littered with broken glass indicated to the casual observer that last night one of the bloodiest riots in Pennsylvania since the days of the Homestead strike had occurred, costing five lives and at least seven mortal injuries, the result of a six weeks' old labor dispute between the Pressed Steel Car Company of Schenerville and its employees.

From midnight until dawn today county and state officials searched dark alleys and crowded, desolate tenements for additional wounded men and women. Before daylight it is predicted that the death list will total more than a dozen.

Woman and Boy Shot The state's toll is two dead, and one fatal injury. The county lost a deputy sheriff while the striking employees of the car company lost five of their leaders, two dead and three fatally injured. One woman, wife of a striker, for the sake of her husband's cause, was shot in the back and will not recover. A boy who stood beside her during a clash between the state troops and the infuriated mob of strike sympathizers, also in danger of death, having been shot with a rifle ball. Sheriff Humbert of Allegheny county has sworn in half a hundred additional deputies in anticipation of renewal of the rioting today. It is not unlikely that militia from the eastern part of Pennsylvania will be ordered to Pittsburg within the next twenty-four hours if conditions warrant.

Start Was Sudden Last night's rioting came suddenly and without warning at the close of a calm and peaceful Sunday. About 9 o'clock strikers were seen together at the Schenerville end of the bridge, a viaduct spanning the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie tracks. Suddenly it was rumored that a number of strikebreakers were being brought from the city into the plant. Pickets were immediately doubled. Every eye that came from the bridge was held up. This procedure had been going on for some time when a car carrying Deputy Sheriff Exler came along. He was returning from Pittsburg to the steel car plant. A revolver was placed at the motorist's head and the car was stopped.

A crowd of strikers ordered Exler to leave the car. Instead, it is said, he threw back his coat and showed his star. This was the signal for a fusillade of shots. Exler opened fire, and all the cartridges pleased the body on the car and took it to pieces. A bullet in his forehead was the direct cause of his death, although his head and body were terribly mangled and beaten by stones and clubs.

Soldiers Shot Hardly had the car bearing Exler's body started for the physician's office, than the mob sighted another car approaching the viaduct. As the car neared, the mob formed ten deep across the tracks. State troopers Williams, Smith, Jones, O'Donnell and Kitch were on the car. They had been on a brief furlough. When the mob boarded the car and seized the doctor, the men arose to make a fight. Then began a fusillade in which 500 hundred shots or more were fired. O'Donnell was the first to fall with a bullet through his left side. Trooper Kitch stood over his fallen comrade and gamely opened fire upon the mob with a revolver in each hand. He was shot in the chest at him but he escaped being shot, though he was terribly stoned and beaten after all his comrades had been wounded at his feet. Soon after O'Donnell was shot, Trooper Williams fell mortally wounded and rolled over on his back dead.

Word of the battle reached Lieut. Smith of the constabulary, and he ordered out his entire force of troopers. As they galloped toward the O'Donnell bridge, with carbines drawn, the mob broke and fled. By midnight McKees Rocks was quiet as during the early Sabbath afternoon.

Orders today were issued to the constabulary, deputy sheriffs and special police, to shoot at the first sign of trouble. The practice of the past several weeks of firing into the city has been discontinued from now on "shoot to kill" is the order.

Some men would never practice self-denial if they could not boast about it.

Spanish Forces in Bad Position London, Aug. 23.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Melilla, dated August 22, declares that the consular position is very severe and prevents the truth of the situation from becoming known by any Spanish route.

NEWCASTLE FIRE IS SEEN JUST IN TIME

Creeping up Side of Warehouse—More Scarlet Fever—Several Gifts to Newcastle Band.

Newcastle, Aug. 23.—(Special)—A fire was discovered on Sunday morning at 5.30 by Policeman Hill and extinguished by himself and Constable Allan Johnston. A large hole was burned through the back wall of Ritchie's warehouse and the flames were just beginning to run up the side near where a large quantity of pressed hay and pine boards were stored. There is no evidence of incendiarism, as a cigar butt is thought to have caused the fire.

Two new cases of scarlet fever were quarantined Saturday. A child of James Decher and one of Todd Graham's died of the fever last week.

The Newcastle brass band has been given $100 by John McKane, $100 by Hedley V. Parker and $50 by Mayor Miller.

Free Speech Case Continued, Greek Again on Stand

Off Till Friday Matter of Bail to be Argued This Afternoon—Greek Denies That Offer to Buy His Shop Was Made by McDougall's Brother.

At the opening of the McDougall case in the police court this morning, Mr. Sherren inquired if the prosecution was of a private or public nature.

Mr. Baxter replied that the information was sworn out by Fred Lucas, at St. John police office.

Mr. Sherren cited authorities to prove that Lucas could not act as a private citizen in instituting the proceedings, as some of the items alleged to be defamatory libel were of a private nature. He said that McDougall could have obtained counsel in this city, as he had been told so by a prominent St. John attorney.

Mr. Sherren cited authorities to prove that Lucas could not act as a private citizen in instituting the proceedings, as some of the items alleged to be defamatory libel were of a private nature. He said that McDougall could have obtained counsel in this city, as he had been told so by a prominent St. John attorney.

On being recalled to the stand, George Mirriss was interrogated as to what McDougall's brother conveyed, with him about in the depot on Saturday evening. He denied that McDougall's brother negotiated with him to purchase Mirriss' store here. The brother had asked him how his business was progressing. He did not mention his brother's name in the conversation. In the afternoon the brother entered Mirriss' store and had his shoes shined, and bought some cigars. After leaving the court, Mirriss said he was accompanied by his shop by McDougall's brother, but he had a poor memory, but was certain that the brother did not mention anything of the trial during the conversation.

Mr. Sherren objected that Mr. Baxter was treating Mirriss, who was a prosecution witness, as a witness from the opposite side.

The witness was ordered to reply to a query as to asking for a quantity of Free Speeches from Moncton. Mirriss stated that many of his shop customers write to Moncton for him. Some would enter his name and he would invite them to write for him. He stated that he would put the paper once or more each week, and he denied that he wrote anything for the purpose of the trial.

Mr. Sherren protested that Mr. Baxter was trying to intimidate the prosecution's own witness.

The judge intimated that Mirriss could be tried as a hostile witness.

With regard to meeting McDougall's brother on Saturday, Mirriss said he accompanied the brother in court merely as a friend. Mirriss said he wired once by C. P. R. to C. B. McDougall in Moncton, and McDougall would telephone from Moncton to him, the telephone being in an adjoining store. Mirriss said he spoke to no other McDougall concerning Free Speeches. The telephone conversations were only once or twice. He said he did not know if Mr. McDougall was in the Moncton end of the wire, as he could not see him. Mirriss said he was not sure if he was in the Moncton end of the wire, as he could not see him.

Mr. Sherren objected that Mr. Baxter was treating Mirriss, who was a prosecution witness, as a witness from the opposite side.

Mr. Baxter—"Was it a silent walk?" Mirriss—"No, we had an ice cream or soda and he said who are you, and I told him I was his agent."

Mr. Baxter—"It must have been a long time between drinks."

Mirriss stated that he did not meet McDougall's brother on the street. A youth directed him to McDougall's house.

Mr. Baxter interrupted to state that W. C. Loggie, who had been presumed to be a myth, was really in the flesh and was now in Calais.

Mr. Sherren—"Yes, he may be across the border, but he was in Moncton only a few days ago, to get away from you and your prosecution, probably."

Mr. Baxter—"Loggie would probably conduct the 'hefamous' sheet across the border and forward them to this side."

TRAIN DOWN GULCH, NO ONE HURT

Plunge of Forty Feet Through Burning Bridge—Anglican Church Destroyed—Canadian News.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 23.—(Special)—That the age of miracles is not yet past is demonstrated by the experience of a great Northern passenger train from Grand Forks for Spokane yesterday morning. Locomotive, mail car, combination baggage and express, and passenger coaches with a burning bridge into gulch, some forty feet below, but without killing or fatally injuring any one. The train is a wreck, and the financial loss exceeds $25,000.

Elk Lake, Aug. 23.—The Anglican church here was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning with the adjoining dwelling of Mr. Seymour, formerly school teacher here. Morning service was in progress when the fire was discovered. Thanks to presence of mind of the rector, Rev. Mr. Mayes, and good sense of the congregation there was no panic. The loss on the church is about $2,000, insured.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Enquiry here regarding Harry Eckly, alleged former Toronto man, killed in rioting in Pittsburg, shows that Harry Eckly, nephew of Edmund Eckley, of 645 Spadina Avenue, lived in Toronto a number of years ago, but his relatives have not heard from him for long time.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 23.—Crop conditions continue ideal though grain is ripening a little on account of the heat. Saturday was the hottest day of the year, 91 to 96. The first car of new wheat was loaded at Glenboro on Saturday. It graded No. 1 northwestern.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Independent cement was the exceptional feature in a generally quiet and weak stock market this morning. It opened with small sales at 185-14 and rose rapidly to 193, then falling back to 188. Other sales were C. P. R. 185, R. & N. 2-4, Pennant 15, Preferred 89, Dominion Iron 45, Detroit Union 69-12, Duluth Superior 60-12, Crown Reserve 90.

Will Get the Principal Now In Probate Court—Wheatley Estate Matter is Dealt With Today.

In the probate court this morning in the estate of Mary Cowan Wheatley, application was made for a return of citation to pass the accounts of the active executor, Alexander L. Law. The will provided that a provision be made for the estate should be paid to the grandson, James Vivian George William McMorris, son of Robert James McMorris, and the remainder to the grand daughter, Miss M. D. when, or upon attaining the age of 21 years, he should receive the capital.

The grand daughter now obtained the degree the accounts were passed and the remainder of the estate was ordered to be paid to the grandson, Homer D. Forbes is executor.

Will Be Sent to Kent County Mrs. Elizabeth Sheehan was brought to the police headquarters this morning by a constable. She had been lingering in the vicinity of the jail and court buildings and children. The husband died in Charlotte street. The woman was married eleven years ago in New England to James Sheehan and the couple had five children with her. She has been at her parent's home, Cameron's Mills, Kent county for a year, and leaving one child with her sister, came to St. John several days ago and was in a King street boarding house.

Recently she lodged a complaint with the police to the effect that she had been assaulted. Dr. D. E. Berryman examined the woman as to her sanity and advised that she be returned to Kent county.

Still Searching for Mrs. Benson There is still no trace of Mrs. Wm. Benson, who has been missing from her home in Belleisle since Wednesday morning last. Since early this morning 200 people have been searching.

Some believe her dead, some think that she is lost in the woods, and others declare that she is hiding somewhere not far from her home.

Launches Collide A collision of launches, which caused a flurry of excitement, occurred at Millidgeville last evening about 9 o'clock. The boats were the gasoline launch Bonnet, owned by Messrs. Gandy and Allison, and the smaller gasoline launch Swastika, owned by Frank Hamm and Orie Mullin. The accident took place a few hundred yards from the shore and was not generally known until the Swastika came into the wharf, her hull was damaged.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 23.—Miss Marjorie Morgan died this morning from burns suffered when the houseboat Wawa, owned by her father Lucius H. Morgan, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Miss Morgan was 19 years old.

CLERGUE BRINGS WORD OF MORE MEN AT HIS BACK

Algoma Steel Company English and Scotch Capital, He Says—That is Needed—No Chance of McGuigan as Manager.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—(Special)—F. H. Clergue of the Algoma Steel Co., who has just returned from Europe is in the city and says the future of his organization is now assured.

"We have succeeded, he says, 'in getting all the money we needed, and just when we needed it most, having now one of the strongest combinations of financiers behind us that could possibly be procured. Englishmen and Scotchmen have put vast sums into American enterprises.'"

Clergue says there is no possibility of F. H. McGuigan accepting the position of manager of the Algoma Steel Co.

Handicaps for the American Derby at Readville are Made up.

Readville, Mass., Aug. 23.—Uhlans 2:08.34, owned by Charles Saunders, of Salem, Mass., was today given the scratch mark in the trotting division of the $50,000 American derby. This event will be decided at the Readville race track Aug. 31, the opening day of the grand circuit. In classifying the horses for this richest annual light harness horse prize in the world, Uhlans was rated at 2:07 speed for the dash of one and one-half miles. Those horses rated 45 feet will be at advanced marks, allowing 45 feet to each second allowed. This differs from the system of last year's initial event. Then, the slowest horse was placed on scratch, the fastest horses being assigned places in the year, according to their marks. Thus last year's race was longer than that of this year.

The horses with the slowest ratings—those in the 2:10 class—will trot nearly one-eighth of a mile less than Uhlans.

In the pacing division of the derby, the Ed, the grip, champion for Canada, was selected as scratch horse, with rated 2:05 speed for the one and one-half miles. The slowest pacers are rated at 2:10, placing the leading horses a little less than the distance in the trotting division ahead of the Ed.

For the class in connection with the Massachusetts stakes, valued at $10,000, seventeen trotters remain eligible, including Margin, winner of the M. and M. at Detroit, and a $10,000 stake at Kalamazoo this season; Marie N., Star of Ed Green's stable, and Jack McKerron. The open classes for the grand circuit meet have filled satisfactorily.

Carriage Firms Unite Montreal, Aug. 23.—A merger of the leading carriage factories in Canada has been formed, with a capital of $4,000,000, $2,000,000 preferred and $2,000,000 common stock, with a bond issue as well. THE SHAH, AHMED MIEZA

Rome, Aug. 23.—On the deposition, on July 19 last of Mohammed Ali Mirza, his son the youthful Ahmed Mirza, was proclaimed Shah by the representatives of the Persian nation, who met in extraordinary session at Teheran. Their action was the result of the disorders which had occurred in the whole country, culminating in the seizure of the capital by the nationalists and constitutionalists whose advances the shah had proved himself powerless to resist.

The young shah is twelve years of age. He has been told in cable advices how the boy wept at the prospect of being separated from his parents. On July 23, however, he went from the palace of Sultabad to the royal palace in Teheran, where on the following day he was solemnly enthroned. Meanwhile his father and mother remained in the Russian legation, whither they had fled for refuge on the entry of the revolutionary forces into the capital. Preparations for the marriage of the new shah are already under way, according to recent cable dispatches, which have also told of the father's attempt to assassinate the young ruler.

BEAUTIFUL PARISIAN IMPORTED GOWN.

This beautiful gown is fashioned of a soft, lustrous cloth. It is built on graceful lines, the high bell being in one with the skirt, and the blouse is of a brown satin to match the skirt. The long sleeves have horizontal tucks, and a fluting of big fibred net at the bands. There is a fluting of the waist material at the left side. The net fluting appears on the left shoulder, the other peeping through the bodice at the bust line.

THE MESSAGE

By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Wheat of Fortune," "The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

There was no trouble at the entrance to the compound. The guards were Moore recruited from the seaboard provinces, well-paid hirelings whom the Blue Man could safely order to kill any obstinate members of his own tribe. Were they Arabs, they might have suspected Warden's accent, but the patois they used was almost unrecognizable among the desert folk. Warden spoke with a harsh distinctness.

"Go, one of you," he said, "and tell the glorious successor of the Prophet that the daughter of Beni Kalli awaits his pleasure."

The chief man among the guards came forward and peered at them. His glance fell on the shrinking form by the side of this stalwart Bedawi.

"The wall," he said, "even now the Holy One asked why she tarried. Who art thou, brother?"

"What, then, must the renowned son of Mahmood suffer further delay?" cried Warden, even more loudly.

He risked a good deal because some Arab might be within earshot, and there are Northern Africa that no European throat can reproduce.

But his fearlessness was justified. A snarling voice reached them where they stood.

"Bring the girl hither," it growled, and the two were allowed to pass instantly.

Warden's heart throbbed a little faster as he half dragged the cowering negress across the courtyard. She knew what was going to happen, and she was only a child, and her fear was great for her father and herself. She could not believe that this giant Christian, the man whom she had seen working daily among the Nile Mullahs, could really accomplish what he was undertaking. So she whimpered with fright, and would have run back shrieking if Warden had not caught her arm and whispered a few words of encouragement.

The prophet's habit of concealing himself as much as possible from his adherents was now more helpful than a hundred armed men. He was supposed to pass day and night in meditation. "None had seen him eat or sleep. To carry out this habit he seldom appeared from behind the thick mats which veiled the front of the room he occupied.

A lamp was burning within. When Warden lifted a corner of one of the mats he saw a grotesque and ghoul-like figure seated cross-legged on a praying carpet. Two red-rimmed, glittering black eyes gazed fixedly at him, and a hand sought under a cushion for a weapon, since none dared to pass that screen without direct instructions. Warden turned quickly and pushed the girl forward.

"Beni Kalli was slow in fulfilling your wishes, O worthy of honor," he exclaimed, bowing low yet advancing the while, and never relaxing his grip on the unhappy negress. Her manifest reluctance explained his action. The Blue Man appreciated the rough ways of an Arab.

"There are means to make him speedy," he chuckled, rising.

That was what Warden wanted. In raising himself, the mullah was momentarily off his guard. In the next instant he was lying with his face on the floor, and a strong hand was across his mouth pulling his head back until his neck was almost dislocated, while the blade of a sharp knife rested most suggestively across his throat.

"Turn the lamp low," said Warden to the girl. His voice was quiet and reassuring, but she was so completely unnerved that she nearly put out the light, which would have been awkward. Happily, she avoided that blunder.

"Now listen, you dog!" muttered Warden, slightly relieving the tension on the Blue Man's spinal column. "Do as I bid, and I shall spare your life. Say but a

SATURDAY'S EVIDENCE IN THE McDougall Case

In the police court Saturday the preliminary hearing in the case of C. Bruce McDougall, charged with defamatory libel, was begun. Dr. A. W. MacRae and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., appeared for the prosecution and J. C. Sherren, of Moncton, for the defence. The court room was filled with people who for the most part followed the developments closely. Mr. Sherren, on behalf of his client, offered bail with the prisoner's two brothers for surety but the magistrate refused to grant it on the ground that the crown was ready to go on with its case. The court was adjourned about 12 o'clock till this morning at 11 o'clock.

Night Detective Lucas and George Merriess were the only two witnesses examined and the prosecution took the first step towards establishing the connection of the defendant with the paper Free Speech. The testimony of Lucas was merely formal and adduced to prove the innuendoes in the libels complained of. Copies of Free Speech containing references to Dr. MacRae, Mayor Bullock, D. Mullin, K. C., and A. J. H. Frink were admitted in evidence subject to an objection entered by Mr. Sherren.

The examination of Merriess brought out some interesting information. He is one of the two Greeks arrested for selling Free Speech and he related particulars of his connection with it. He said he went to Moncton about a week after June 1. While there he saw defendant at his house and talked to him about Free Speech and how well the papers were selling in St. John. Warden did not fail to impress on the quaking wretch in his grasp that he was receiving more clemency than he deserved, and warned him sternly against ever again treating a European with contempt. He could feel the thrill of mortal terror that shook the mullah when he learned the identity of his assailant. It was good that the tyrant should know what fear was, yet the time passed with him until Beni Kalli, more than doubting that the Seyyid's scheme had failed, lifted a mat and thrust an armed sword into the wretch's back. The girl uttered a cry of relief at the sight of her father, but Warden silenced her with a word.

He added to the Hausa, who immediately began to tie the mullah's legs and arms with leather thongs, using the whole of the animal's head as a noose. The animals were led into the courtyard and their attendants received the dreaded mullah's exceedingly curt order that they were to be handed over to Beni Kalli, his daughter, and the Arab, Abdul Ben Izart, for a journey which they were taking on business. Owing to the fact that Beni Kalli was slow in fulfilling your wishes, O worthy of honor," he exclaimed, bowing low yet advancing the while, and never relaxing his grip on the unhappy negress. Her manifest reluctance explained his action. The Blue Man appreciated the rough ways of an Arab.

"There are means to make him speedy," he chuckled, rising.

That was what Warden wanted. In raising himself, the mullah was momentarily off his guard. In the next instant he was lying with his face on the floor, and a strong hand was across his mouth pulling his head back until his neck was almost dislocated, while the blade of a sharp knife rested most suggestively across his throat.

"Turn the lamp low," said Warden to the girl. His voice was quiet and reassuring, but she was so completely unnerved that she nearly put out the light, which would have been awkward. Happily, she avoided that blunder.

"Now listen, you dog!" muttered Warden, slightly relieving the tension on the Blue Man's spinal column. "Do as I bid, and I shall spare your life. Say but a

MONACELLI'S TRIAL ON OCTOBER 19

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 21.—The same keen interest was shown in the Legacie murder case this morning as was in evidence yesterday and many spectators were present.

Magistrate Dibblee presided. Stipendiary Magistrate Holyoke was also present, and Hon. Mr. McLeod represented the crown, Chris Nichols was interpreter, and T. C. L. Ketchum stenographer.

Sandy Monacelli, the prisoner, came into the court room in the custody of Chief Kelly. He was dressed in a light suit of clothes, wore a soft hat, and was without a necktie. He did not at all seem nervous during the examination. The revolver used was a 32 short double action Young America.

The first witness was Deputy-Sheriff Armstrong, who said he was called to Beechwood at 1:30 on Sunday morning, arriving about 4 o'clock. He went to Mr. Wallace's house. The revolver shown was given to him by Dr. Ross, the five shells all discharged.

Dr. Ross was in the house before he arrived and the injured man had been removed to the train which took him to Woodstock hospital.

Herbert Lindsay, sworn, said he was constable for this county. He knew the prisoner. The first time he saw him was the night of the arrest. He went into the car about 9 o'clock. An Italian, Dominick, was with them. The prisoner came at 10:45 to the cars and whistled. Dominick told the prisoner to go to the other door. Prisoner went to the door. W. W. Melville arrested Sandy and he was handed over to Sheriff Tompkins, who took him to Woodstock jail.

Dr. Demore Ross, sworn, said: I am a practitioner in Florenceville. I was called to Wallace's home on the morning of the murder. I saw Nick lying on a lounge. There were two wounds, one on the left side near the hip, and one between the neck and shoulder. The wound on the arm was a slight one. I dressed the wounds. One shot had gone into the bladder. I then telephoned to Superintendent King, who got a special train and sent him to Woodstock. I saw that the prisoner was a friend and customer of his. I found it on the floor between the window and the stove in the kitchen. The shells were in it, but the shells had been fired. I did not attend the murdered man at the hospital. I gave the revolver to Sheriff Tompkins.

Solicitor-General—That will close the evidence for the prosecution.

Magistrate Dibblee—Hearing heard the evidence you are not bound to say anything, but whatever said will be taken down in evidence. Do you wish to say anything at the trial. I advise you to say nothing. Do you wish to make any statement?

Monacelli—I have nothing to say, but I would like to have time to get my witnesses.

Magistrate Dibblee—The evidence is sufficient, and I will commit you to the county jail until the next session of the court to be held in this county on Oct. 19 next.

The prisoner was then removed to the jail by Chief Kelly.

SUMMER COMPLAINT AND DIARRHOEA

RACE FIGHT IN MONTREAL STREET

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Twenty-five Jews and French-Canadians attacked one another in St. Lawrence street Saturday night, arousing a race feeling that led to two hours of street fighting near the corner of St. Lawrence and Demontigny streets, while 500 people jostled together on the pavement watching the riotous proceedings.

It was the angriest street scene that Montrealers have witnessed for a long time and it has produced a harvest of indignation that will be unloaded in the records of the court by the Hebrews, who are loud in their protests, owing to the fact that only Jews were arrested while the French-Canadians who, they claim, started the fighting by pulling an old man's lengthy whiskers, were allowed to escape. Street cars and vehicles were blocked in St. Lawrence street while the fighting lasted, innocent spectators were dragged into the fracas and had their coats pulled off, their shirts torn and their faces bruised by fist blows and falls in the street. Only one policeman was on the scene to cope with the fight as the start, this being Desmarreux, whose strength and weight-throwing abilities are renowned in the French-Canadian cities. But he had all he could do to handle the situation and the only result was the arrest of three Jews who claim they are innocent of disturbing the peace, whereas the French-Canadians all managed to escape. The fighting started shortly after five in the afternoon and lasted until after 9 o'clock.

WILL AUDIT THE MONCTON ACCOUNTS

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 21.—At a meeting of the civic finance committee this morning it was decided that pursuant to the request of Magistrate Kay the city auditor be instructed at the next visit to make an accurate audit of the civic and police court books and records and adopt a system of bookkeeping for the office which will be in the best interests of the city. There was a warm discussion over the intimation made by a local newspaper that lawyers for the prosecution in the Kay inquiry were denied access to the city books and the city clerk read lengthy correspondence on the subject between himself and the complainant, George L. Harris. The city clerk also referred to an intimation made in George W. Fowler's address yesterday that the audit might be beneficial in other civic departments and said he was ready to have an audit at any time.

NO SIGN OF LOST CHILD ON SUNDAY

Stellarton, N. S., Aug. 22.—This was the fifth day since the disappearance of the two-year-old child of a Belgian miner from his father's house into the woods and it has not been found.

Two thousand men, in organized formation, tramped the woods from 9 till after 3 o'clock today and they came back this afternoon with the same story that has been told daily since last Tuesday—"No sign of the child."

The searchers today were drawn from the towns of Trenton, New Glasgow, Westville, Lourdes and Stellarton. They returned discouraged and the organized search will end, though tomorrow many will likely go out again individually. The search has been thorough, conducted by Mr. Mavor Campbell, of Stellarton. The child can hardly be alive now.

MAHOAGNY ROAD FIRE

Early yesterday morning the house belonging to Fred Moore on the Mahogany road with most of its contents was completely destroyed by fire. The flames were seen from Fairville and the department turned out with their hose cart. Unfortunately the house was situated outside the fire limits and the hose was found useless. The firemen went on, however, to the scene to help the owner save his property. By that time the flames had made such headway that it was found impossible to enter any of the rooms.

As near as can be ascertained the family were asleep when the house caught fire. They were awakened by the smoke and got out just in time, being barely able to save a few pieces of furniture from the lower story. The fire seems to have started in the kitchen. Mr. Moore places his loss at about $1,200. There was some insurance.

FORESTERS' OUTING AT WELSFORD SATURDAY

Saturday was a red letter day in the history of the Foresters of Welford in this city. About 1,000 people attended the annual blueberry picnic at Welford and saw Past High Chief Ranger Duncan G. Lingley, chamberlain of the city, decorated with the medals of the Legion of Honor and a magnificent jewel by the High Standing Committee. All the usual picnic games were indulged in. The High Court Banquet was present and furnished music. The picnic left the city on two trains. At 9 o'clock the band went up but the majority of those who attended went up at 1 o'clock. When the last train reached Welford the band was formed, consisting of the members of the High Standing Committee, with an escort of Royal Foresters. The new Foresters Legion of March was a point directly in front of the pavilion where a circle was formed by the High Chief Ranger George W. Merriess and Past High Chief Ranger D. G. Lingley in the centre. The band was massed inside the circle and played "Hail to the Chief."

After the music ceased H. C. R. Merriess addressed P. H. C. R. Lingley. He stated that some time ago the High Court of New Brunswick had recommended to the Supreme Court that the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor be presented to Mr. Lingley. This recommendation, he said, had been endorsed and it then became his pleasant duty to make the presentation. This part of the ceremony was completed by H. C. R. Merriess pinning the Grand Cross on the chest of Mr. Lingley. The Grand Cross of gold and enamel on a wreath surrounded by a royal blue ribbon, with three clasps. The inscription is as follows: "Presented to Duncan G. Lingley, P. H. C. R., New Brunswick, for distinguished services to the order, 1909."

H. C. R. Merriess next presented to Chamberlain Lingley the jewel from the members of the High Standing Committee. This is in the form of a gold and white enamel nine pointed star. The background is gold and there are five pointed blue enamel stars between the points of the large star. In the centre of the large star there is a moose head in gold on a red field enclosed in a belt of blue surrounded by a royal gold crown.

The jewel will be worn pendant from a royal blue ribbon round the neck with a wide sash of royal blue worn from the left shoulder.

The members of the High Standing Committee present were: G. W. Merriess, H. C. R.; G. A. Fryer, H. V. C.; P. W. Emmons, H. S.; J. V. Russell, H. T.; B. M. Mullin, H. P. Physician; A. Wilson, H. Counsellor; and H. W. Woods, P. H. R.

After the double ceremony was over all dispersed to enjoy themselves on the grounds.

The decorations which had been put up by James McKenna were much admired. A handsome arch had been placed at the entrance to the grounds and there was a profusion of bunting with many artistic effects. The tables were returned unopened to the host office authorities.

The hotel proprietors say that they feel sorry over the matter. In one instance when the first bundle was received a week ago Friday the proprietor naturally enough was curious to know what it contained so he opened it to show to those who had come. He opened it but as soon as he saw it contained about twenty-five copies of Free Speech he tied it up and sent it back to the post office at once with a message to the effect that he would have nothing to do with it.

Last Friday when a similar bundle ar

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LOOK FOR PERIOD OF DULLNESS

J. S. Bache & Co's Financial Letter—The Importance of Harriman.

New York, Aug. 22.—The excessive enthusiasm of the smaller contingent worked up in pyramid form, as indicated last week might be the case, and concentrating on Union Pacific, carried prices to the danger point. The mere withdrawal at this moment of the larger interests was sufficient, and prices have been tumbling, recovering and tumbling again, ever since.

There is little doubt that the advance would have been checked by wise managers in any event, in the interests of the whole country, because a wild outburst of speculation and the surety consequent collapse would have been a most paralyzing to all business interests. The event to accentuate the decline has been the apprehension about Mr. Harriman's health. The importance of one man to a whole country's prosperity has often been the subject of these columns, and if the United States were deprived of the great ability of Mr. Harriman, an ability the effects of which in its quick rebuilding are evident on every hand—the deprivation would be a serious one not for a long time resuscitated. It may be affirmed with confidence that when Mr. Harriman a year or more ago saved the Erie Railroad, then on the verge of bankruptcy, from disruption, with his own money and single-handed, he averted from the United States a period of three years of hard times, and inaugurating instead an era of quick recovery to prosperity. There were other important roads in Erie's plight, and the downfall would have been the signal—the first of the row of bricks—for one after the other to drop into bankruptcy. Those who experienced the time of 1903-1906, know what this means. A country strewn with the wrecks of great industries, the soil and stress of slow recovery, the hardship of years of plodding poverty. Many able observers, especially in England, expected that the conditions to follow the 1907 panic. The turning point was the exigency of Erie in the spring of 1908, when $5,000,000 of Erie notes were falling due, and pessimists surrounding the sick bed. Appeals were made to corporations and individuals. Only one responded. In saving Erie, Mr. Harriman saved the whole structure of business rehabilitation.

Following the disruption which has taken place in prices, it would be natural to expect after the market has quieted down to lower levels, that a period of some weeks of rest and dullness would ensue. We shall probably have such a period, but it is impossible to say whether it will have much duration, in view of the large amounts of money in the hands of traders and the speculative public. Many people have been waiting for a reaction, but will continue to wait for further lowering of prices. However much decline there may be, it is evident that the general conditions of the country will make for higher figures later, and those buying carefully selected stocks from the investment standpoint will not be disappointed.

HERBERT C. TILLEY
Even those who only knew Mr. Herbert C. Tilley by reputation express genuine sorrow at his death. He was a spirit at work to sympathize with all mankind, knowing no distinction of race or creed or class. Mr. Tilley early associated himself with institutions whose aim is social betterment, and his work and influence bore good fruit. Whoever came into personal contact with him learned to respect his motives and his conduct, and to value the work he did. There was no ostentatious display, but a patient performance of tasks that to the great majority of persons would be unbecoming and irksome. Mr. Tilley did his duty as he saw it, with absolute faith in the Power that sustained and inspired him. For several years the hand of fate has lain heavily upon him, but he never lost his lively interest in those concerns which had commanded his loving service. He leaves to those who mourn the memory of a life well spent, though all too brief, and the assurance that his influence will continue to bear fruit for human welfare. They have also the assurance that so far as friendly sympathy may assume a personal grief, this consolation is a very marked degree is theirs.

CONQUEST OF THE AIR
That was a wonderful sight at Betheny, near Rheims, in France, when six aeroplanes rose one after another and together circled in the air above the cheering crowds. The French nation has shown more enthusiasm than any other in the effort to conquer the air, and when Herbert crossed the Straits of Dover in his monoplane national interest and pride were aroused to the highest pitch. The world watches with eagerness the experiments at Rheims, which will have a marked influence upon future developments in aviation. The time is not far distant when short flights in aeroplanes will be commonplace, and when everybody will be eager to experience the thrill of novelty associated with a safe flight through the air. The automobile will presently have a powerful rival as a means of giving pleasure to the rich. A biplane or a monoplane will become a necessary part of the millionaire's outfit. The progress made in a year has been marvellous, and he would be presumptuous who would at this stage set a limit for the triumphs of even the next decade.

HAS WELLMAN SUCCEEDED
Is Walter Wellman near the north pole in his great airship? A despatch last week stated that he had left Spitzbergen in the airship, bound for the pole. The message came from Hammerfest, Norway. It is true the aircraft has probably either reached the coveted goal or made another failure. He has estimated that he would be able to make the distance in two to five days. The New York Evening Post says concerning him and his expedition: "For four years Walter Wellman has been devoting his time to preparations for an undertaking to reach the North Pole in an airship. He was at Spitzbergen in 1906 with a balloon, but postponed his departure on account of the lateness of the season. In 1907 a start was made in the airship America, but the vessel encountered a storm and was driven back. He left New York on May 12 of this year for Spitzbergen to complete his preparations for the start made three days ago. Recently he estimated that under favorable conditions the Pole could be reached in from two to five days. Before leaving this country in May, the aeronaut said the capital for his undertaking had been supplied entirely by Americans interested in the enterprise on scientific and patriotic grounds. He was to use the same airship he had when he made the previous short flight at Spitzbergen. Its name is 'America.' The owners of the Chicago Record-Herald turned over to him, free of charge, the former enterprise. The 'America,' the second largest airship ever built, about three-fifths the size of Count Zeppelin's largest craft, and twice the size of the largest French ships, with a lifting capacity of nearly ten tons, was reconstructed and improved by the chief engineer, Van-

EAGER FOR HARRIMAN
New York, Aug. 22.—Perhaps never in the history of this country and certainly not in years has so much public interest centered in the homecoming of one man as that which evoked concerning Edward H. Harriman, who is due in New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. on Tuesday morning of this week. The Kaiser Wilhelm II. was 1,200 miles east of Sandy Hook at midnight last and having mislaid his way at St. John, he was taken to North River at about 8 a. m. Tuesday morning. The general understanding has been that one of the tugs of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will meet with the incoming North German Lloyd liner down the bay and take Mr. Harriman off so that he may continue with as little interruption as possible to his country place at Arden (N. Y.).

man, in the expedition work shops at Paris. On board were to be a crew of three men, 6,000 pounds of gasoline for the engines, food for a year, sledges, sledges, a lifeboat, and all the requisites of a sleighing party, should it be necessary to resort to that method of travel. One member of the prospective crew was Vaniman, who is an American. He was in charge of the ship's engines on her trial voyage in 1907. The name of the third member was not announced.

Seven lives were sacrificed at Indianapolis last week in the effort to make new speed records for automobiles. The state should prohibit such exhibitions. The five thousand people who witnessed Saturday's tragedy must have felt that they were in a sense contributory to the loss of life. The American people are perhaps the most reckless in the world in matters of this kind. There was nothing of public advantage to be gained by this mad racing, and the time has come for public action to prevent further needless sacrifice of human life.

The police yesterday made a seizure of liquor in a north end resort for Sunday seclusioners and simulators. The good work should not be confined to the north end. There are several places in the south end which are frequented on Sunday by men who would not be suspected of a wild desire to enquire after the health of the inmates. To the man on the street these places are well known. It is more difficult for the police to learn about them, but patience and a little shrewd enquiry would not go unrewarded.

A Winnipeg despatch tells of the arrival of ten thousand harvesters and of the need of thousands more. The farmers are described as "frantic to get their grain cut." In this connection the Toronto News observes:—"The stages of the annual wheat-fern hand excursion are here. First, loud outcries that the laborers are too few. Second, loud outcries that the laborers are misbehaving on their way westward. Third, loud outcries that too many were sent."

The Standard says:—"It has been suggested to the Standard that for a permanent steamship service running directly between St. John and Cuba, a federal subsidy will be needed." The federal government had this matter brought to its attention and the department of trade and commerce has been making enquiry relative to this whole matter of trade with Cuba.

This season appears to be witnessing a considerable revival of interest in aquatic sports in St. John. There should be a far more general interest in amateur athletic sports of all kinds. Public recognition is necessary if young men are to be encouraged to compete.

TWO STEAMERS DAMAGED
North Sydney, N. S., Aug. 22.—It is unusual for two steamers of the same line to put into the same port on the same day in a damaged condition, but that is what happened yesterday when the steamers Sandens and Winnifred arrived with their bottoms damaged as a result of having been ashore at Southwest Point, Anticosti, on Thursday morning. The Winnifred left Campbellton on Wednesday and an hour after sailing a dense fog set in. Captain Kelly proceeded slowly but, despite his caution, he struck on Southwest Point, Anticosti, where he remained for more than three hours. The bottom of her deck was thrown overboard, and the Winnifred floated off unassisted. She is making but little way.

ROBBED ON WAY TO HOSPITAL
Branford, Ont., Aug. 23.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Harry Taylor, grandson of the late Chas. R. C. Stinson, who died in Guelph. Taylor, it is alleged, while escorting his grandfather to the hospital stole a watch valued with diamonds and valued at $500 and $180 in cash. The watch was a presentation made to the deceased horseman by wealthy friends several years ago.

OBITUARY
Capt. W. H. Harding
The death of Captain Wm. H. Harding occurred suddenly at 6 o'clock last evening at 127 Duke street. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure. He was a brother of the late Sheriff Harding and was the last one of a prominent family. He is survived by one nephew, William Harding, of St. John west, two nieces, Mrs. L. B. Thomson, of Germain street, and Mrs. Fred H. Barr, of Waterloo street. There are also three nephews in the United States.

Geo. Cabot Lodge
Tucker Island, Mass., Aug. 22.—Geo. Cabot Lodge, son of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, died here today. Heart failure caused by an acute attack of indigestion resulted in his death. The attack was sudden, being preceded by no serious illness. With his son when he died was Senator Lodge, who owns this island, and who has been here for two weeks seeking rest.

Dennis Quigley
News has been received of the death of Dennis Quigley, formerly of Newcastle, at the home of his son Allan, Sinaluta, Saskatchewan, of paralysis. His remains were interred beside those of his wife at Wolsely. Mrs. Quigley was formerly Miss Kehoe, of Newcastle, and pre-deceased her husband twelve years. Two sons, Allan, of Sinaluta, and Thomas, of Sedley Seymour, of Indian Head (Sask.), survive, as well as two sisters, Misses Kate and Mary, of Newcastle (N. B.), and four brothers, Dr. R. F. of St. John; John, of Oklahoma City (Okla.); Michael, of Atchison (Kansas), and Lawrence, of Concord (Kansas). Mr. Quigley held the position of grain inspector at Sinaluta for a number of years and owned extensive farming lands, which were considered of great value.

YARMOUTH TO BUILD STEEL STEAMERS
Truro News.—Having lost the distinction of owning more shipping in proportion to population than any other town on the continent, through the retirement of the steamer Yarmouth, N. S., has decided to build steel steamers to regain the title and property that was hers before the Nova Scotia square rigger was practically driven from the seas. Where once were built the sailing ships that were to be found on the seven seas, there is now being constructed the first steel steamer ever built in the maritime provinces. Hull, boilers and engines are all the product of Yarmouth, and every Yarmouthian hopes that she is the forerunner of a fleet that will make the port as famous in this era of steam as it was in the days of canvas.

TABERNACLE CHURCH PASTOR RESIGNS CHARGE

The congregation of Tabernacle Baptist church, Haymarket square, were surprised and grieved when at yesterday morning's service their pastor, Rev. J. W. Kierstead, read his resignation. The reason assigned was ill health, he having suffered for some time from a severe pain in the head and Mr. Kierstead wishes his resignation to take effect from the first Sunday in September. He has occupied the pulpit for two years and six months. After the service was over some of the members of the congregation approached Mr. Kierstead and asked him if he would reconsider his resignation if they would grant him six months leave of absence, in the meantime the congregation to find a pulpit supply. To this, however, Mr. Kierstead would not consent as he felt that he might not be able to resume work at the end of that time. He also felt that when he regained his health he might like to change his field of labor.

Mr. Kierstead said last night that he had been in failing health for some time and since the hot weather set in he had been getting worse. So serious did his condition become that last Wednesday when he consulted his physician he was told that if he wished to avoid serious complications he would have to give up work right away. Rev. Mr. Kierstead's decision to retire will be heard of with sincere regret. Among his own congregation he was recognized as an indefatigable worker, while his personal qualities made him very popular. In the community generally he was looked upon as a man who was always working for the best welfare of the city.

C. P. R.'s PROPOSED COLONY IN WEST

Dr. Faber Looking into the Matter Now—Important Immigration Scheme. Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 23.—Dr. Paul Faber, general immigration agent for the C. P. R. with headquarters in New York and Montreal, accompanied by Professor Barnido Attalio, inspector of immigration for the United States and Canada, and again in the west on an inspection trip. The object of the trip is to ascertain the conditions in the various provinces with a view to the location of a large party of immigrants from Italy, Holland, Switzerland, Austria, Germany and other countries, and numbering many thousands. The men drove around Edmonton, looking over the country with a view to establishing a colony in this district. In British Columbia they will set aside a block of land which will be occupied by some of the best horticulturists in Canada. The scheme is one in which a large number of prominent farmers are interested. By the first of next year the first colony will be on the way to this country. This colony will be located in the irrigation belt near Calgary and will consist of Italian, experienced farmers who will make the growing of sugar beets the most important of the numerous industries which they propose to start in that section.

REV. DR. COHOON IS NEW PRESIDENT OF THE BAPTIST CONVENTION

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 22.—The Maritime United Baptist convention convened on Saturday in the First Baptist church. The meeting is large, but not the largest that has been held. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. Dr. Cohoon; vice-presidents, Colonel Vines, D. L. and Rev. S. H. Corn walls; the secretaryship now ably filled by Rev. J. H. McDonald, is held for three years; the assistant secretaries appointed being H. G. Kennedy and R. J. Colpitta. Statistical secretary, H. C. Creed; treasurer, H. S. Freeman; committee on resolutions, Dr. McLeod, H. H. Saunders, A. W. Cross, A. W. Sterns, C. R. H. Starr, C. F. Ridout, Dr. Crowell, O. N. Chipman and P. E. Bishop; committee on correspondence, E. J. Grant, Dr. Kempton, W. M. Smallman. The reports on home missions and French evangelization were read. In moving the adoption of the latter report, Rev. Mr. Cohoon, of St. John, expressed the opinion that the Baptists of these provinces do not feel a sufficiently large responsibility with regard to the Grand Ligne mission, a matter to be regretted. The report of the committee on temperance and moral reform was read by Mr. Schurman in the absence of Mr. Beales, by whom it was prepared. It caused a lively discussion.

MARCONI LOSS AT GRACE BAY

Grace Bay, N. S., Aug. 21.—The operating room, condenser room and all the buildings under that roof were completely destroyed by fire at the Marconi station about 6.15 this morning. The blaze started in the sparking room, just how it is hard to state, but when discovered it was too late to do anything to stop the progress of the fire. An alarm was sent to Grace Bay and the Dominion Coal Company apparatus went immediately over, but nothing could be done to save the buildings. The power house, and consequently the power necessary to send the wireless messages, was not in any way injured. The dwelling houses are all safe and so are all the barns and other buildings. None was injured. Where the building was standing is now a mass of red hot cinders and no one can get anywhere near the scene of the fire owing to the intense heat. The loss will total some thousands of dollars and it will be some time before the buildings can be replaced. It is understood, however, that the building was insured. It is just possible that Mr. Marconi may come to Cape Breton in the near future.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Aug. 21.—(Special)—During a heavy electrical storm last night a number of prominent citizens, including F. H. Beer, of Beer & Goff, his son Dr. Beer, S. C. Moore, of Hazard & Moore, and Major Charles Leigh, had a narrow escape. They had been shooting at Wisener's Mills, twelve miles from the city, and in the evening were resting in their club house. The house was struck by lightning and almost demolished. All the men were more or less shocked. Major Leigh bearing today on his arm a livid scar as a souvenir.

ROBT REID OF G. T. P. COMMISSION DEAD

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Word reached Ottawa today that Robert Reid, a commissioner for the construction of the National Transcontinental railway, died Saturday night in Ogunquit (Me.). He left Ottawa ten days ago in apparently good health to visit his family, who were spending the summer in Maine. Apoplexy was the cause of his death. Mr. Reid was fifty-three years old. He was a native of London (Ont.), where he was a large manufacturer. He was appointed to the National Transcontinental commission on its formation in 1904. He leaves two unmarried daughters and a son, who is a student at McGill. Colin McInane, of the railway commission, has gone to convey the body to London, where the funeral will be held. Mr. Reid's salary was $7,000 a year.

IN PITTSBURG RIOTS FIVE ARE KILLED, MANY HURT

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—Three state troopers and two deputy sheriffs were shot and killed tonight in a wild riot at the Pressed Steel Car plant in Schoenerville, whose employees are now on strike. At least a score of persons were seriously wounded, ten fatally. The rioting followed a day of quiet and occurred without warning. At midnight the following partial list of dead and injured was made up from reports received from the morgue, hospitals and physicians' offices: John L. Williams, state trooper. Harry Exler, deputy sheriff. Three foreigners. John C. Smith, state trooper. Lucien Jones, state trooper. Seven foreigners. B. H. Cogan, Jr., of Stoneham is wearing a pair of shoes made from tanned turkie skin. The skin from which the shoes were made was originally on exhibition at the shoe and leather fair.

DOCTORS FROM ALL CANADA MEET TODAY IN WINNIPEG

Annual Meeting of Canadian Medical Association to Be Followed By Gathering of British Body—Legislation to Permit Graduate Doctors' to Practice Anywhere in Canada.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association opened here this morning and will be in session until Wednesday afternoon. The British Association for the Advancement of Science will meet on Wednesday morning and be in session until the following Wednesday. During this period the city will be astir with visitors and the many social features to be carried out will create a festive season. There will be six evening lectures, many of them illustrated by experiments, delivered by eminent scientific and medical men, and to these the public will be invited. For the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association, many physicians have arrived from all parts of Canada, Great Britain and the United States. In all 300 are expected. The officials of the association are:—Dr. Blanchard, Winnipeg, president; Dr. H. B. Small, Ottawa, treasurer; Dr. Geo. Elliott, Toronto, secretary. Dr. Chown is the chairman of the local committee in charge of arrangements, and Dr. W. Harvey Smith is the secretary. Among those here are three of the past presidents, Dr. John Stewart, of Halifax; Dr. Montisambert, of Ottawa, and Dr. Powell, of Ottawa. Dr. Wm. Mayo, from Rochester, will read a paper on Tuesday afternoon. Physicians from places outside of Canada include: Dr. Augustus D. Waller, F. R. S., director of the physiological laboratory of the University of London; Prof. N. H. Alcock, London; Dr. J. E. McWesney, Dublin; Dr. Louis B. Wilson, Rochester; Dr. Benson, of Douglas, an eminent oculist. One of the most important matters to be discussed will be with regard to proposed legislation to permit graduate doctors to practice anywhere in the Dominion. Such legislation has been the ideal of the association for years, and within the last year there has been an understanding in regard to the matter between groups of provinces. The question is a live one and will be of exceptional interest.

'STICK' DAVENPORT

The famous backward and forward equestrian rider, with the Great Norris & Rowe Circus that will exhibit at St. John Tuesday, Aug. 24. James Adams three years ago. The manager is good and the performance yesterday was splendid. The rain poured in the afternoon and some drops came through the immense spread of canvas. This made the work of the artists more difficult and it made the audience a little nervous, but the show went on in grand style all the same. Norris and Rowe's circus, which will be the attraction on the Shamrock grounds tomorrow afternoon and evening, the Halifax Herald says:— The greater Norris & Rowe circus showed in Halifax yesterday afternoon and again in the evening. The big tent was full in the afternoon and at night it was crowded to overflowing. This brings up a piece of circus history of two years ago. Norris & Rowe were here in 1907 and the tremendous audiences they had were the biggest in their whole season of 42 weeks—and it was a most successful season all through. The popularity of this great show is based on merit. The performances yesterday were splendid. The rain poured in the afternoon and some drops came through the immense spread of canvas. This made the work of the artists more difficult and it made the audience a little nervous, but the show went on in grand style all the same. Norris and Rowe's circus is like a home institution to Halifax, for the general press representative, J. J. Myers, is the husband of a popular lady of this city. Mr. Myers married a daughter of

MAY ROBSON IN OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

At the Opera House, beginning August 23, for one week, L. S. Sire will present May Robson in her great success, The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary. Miss Robson has played Aunt Mary eighty-nine consecutive weeks without a break. From coast to coast the cities have endorsed it one of the best comedies ever put on the stage. The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary has been presented in every large city from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean. The same cast and production will be seen here as presented at the Garden Theatre, New York, two years ago. Whoever sees this rollicking comedy and does not enjoy it must indeed be lacking in reliability, for it is full of merriment of a good wholesome sort. To see Aunt Mary is to love her, so sweetly and wholesomely is the character shown by Miss Robson. You will laugh with her and you will cry with her, and the end you will go away wishing you were lucky enough to have such an Aunt Mary of your own.

SURPRISE FOR NICKEL PATRONS

Since it has been learned that the Bush Family String Quintette can stay at the Nickel another week a most elaborate programme has been arranged in which the Nickel orchestra will be an important factor. The quintette and orchestra with additional musicians will be seated upon the stage in regular grand concert fashion and with such exceptional instrumentation the following programme will certainly be an unusual treat: Overture—Poet and Peasant (Suppe)—Quintette and orchestra; Turkish Patrol (Michaelis)—Quintette and orchestra. Transient—Reverie—(Schumann)—The Bush Family Quintette. Scene de Ballet—Bolero—(De Beriot)—Violin solo, Master Bush. This programme will be heard three times in the evening and in the afternoon the Bush Family will perform their own programme alone with additional bits of a popular character. De Witt Cairns will be heard both afternoon and evening in an exquisite ballad, Besse. His stay will necessarily be short as he soon returns to his studies in Boston. The Nickel's picture programme is unusually good, the leading film being the latest Kalem feature, Out of Work, a rural drama laid in New Hampshire.

STRONG OPENING BILL AT 'STAR' TONIGHT

Over in the tidy Star Theatre, Union Hill, North End, regular patrons will be treated to another unsurpassed programme of pictures tonight and tomorrow, indeed the Star's programmes are creating much comment among keen people. The film that will please best will be the Vitagraph comedy feature, "At a Georgia Wedding," which is of late issue and brimful of the most contagious merriment. It is the ludicrous story of a wedding among the slave folks previous to the war. "The Barber's Revenge," a strong Pathé drama and "The Two Cousins," a hypnotic drama with lots of surprises. Miss Annie Edwards will continue in illustrated ballads and is a prime favorite.

YOUNG MOTHER SOUGHT DEATH

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Dependent over the loss of a child, Mrs. Agnes Campbell, wife of Wm. Campbell, 302 Wilton avenue, went to her room yesterday afternoon and turning on the gas, lay down to die. When all over come by the fumes she changed her mind and, staggering downstairs to her landlady, Mrs. Robert Souter, begged her to send for a doctor. Dr. Glendenning was called and the woman was sent to the general hospital, where she will recover. She is only eighteen years of age.

FATAL FEUD

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 21.—Reese Huck, a prominent farmer, was shot to death and four others were probably fatally wounded in a feud fight growing out of a controversy over a hog at Huntersville, 12 miles from here, tonight. If matrimony doesn't make a woman wise there is no hope for her.

The national baseball commission has adopted a rule to cover what rule 36 failed to do, as it has been shown that the old rule has been evaded. The new rule reads: "Whenever a major league club has sold a player to a minor league club with an option to repurchase and such option has been exercised by the major league club selling the player and the same club on the same player a second time on the straight sale and then repurchases the player, the purchased player must report to the major league club on or before the 23rd August, and if he fails to do so, the club may draft him from the regular drafting season from the club with which he is found playing."

The Remedies With a Record

Father Morrissey's "No. 10" For Throat and Lungs

During his many years of practice Father Morrissey successfully treated thousands who were suffering from Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Inflammation of the Lungs. His favorite prescription was a Cough Mixture and Lung Tonic that came to be called "Father Morrissey's No. 10."

Unlike the majority of cough mixtures, "Father Morrissey's No. 10" does not depend on such drugs as Opium and Morphine to deaden the irritation and give temporary relief—in fact, there is not a trace of any of these dangerous drugs in it.

Father Morrissey's "No. 7" For Kidney and Rheumatism

When the slightest exposure to dampness or cold brings rheumatic aches to joints or muscles, it's a sure sign that the blood is wrong. It's loaded with Uric Acid, poisonous and exceedingly irritating—formed from the worn out tissues and waste matter taken up by the blood from different parts of the body.

Read what it has done for these sufferers: Mrs. Tree, La Plati, N.B. I have been ailing for some time and in my condition I was unable to do any work. The steamship Manchester Merchant, Capt. Foale, arrived from Manchester (G. B.) this morning with a general cargo. The steamer had a fine passage across the Atlantic.

The annual picnic of the Tabernacle church and Sunday school will be held tomorrow at Watters' Landing. The steamer May Queen will leave Indiantown wharf at 10 o'clock. The usual amusements and sports will be conducted on the grounds. The picnickers will return to the city about 8 p. m.

Captain Loran A. McKinnon formerly master of steamer Seillac, met with a serious accident at Vancouver, B. C., a few weeks ago by having one of his feet badly crushed. He is chief officer of the steamer Belcarra. At last reports he was better, having had his leg bled four times, as blood poisoning had set in.

The military veterans are holding their annual excursion to Seaside today and it promises to be successful, although the weather is at times threatening. About ten buses and hundreds left Scott's Corner this morning at 9 o'clock heavily laden with excursionists and the same was the case at 1.30.

Four well-known young men of north end, Messrs. Patterson, Howard, Godard and Pausley, were treated to an involuntary dip in the river at Holderville last evening about 9.30. They were in canoe and one of the canoes, going in chine too much to one side, caused the craft to capsize. They were able to wade ashore.

British schooner Evelyn, Captain Berry, arrived in port yesterday from Barbados with a cargo of molasses. The captain reports a very long and tedious voyage. The vessel being becalmed off the Bermudas for several days. Last Friday morning, the schooner was off the Georges the ocean greyhound Mauritania passed within a quarter of a mile of the Evelyn, going at the rate of 25 knots an hour on her way to New York. Captain Berry said it was a wonderful sight to see the big ship going at full speed.

R. S. Somerville, telegraph editor of the Morning Star, and Mrs. Somerville are enjoying a brief vacation in the maritime provinces. They came by the I. C. JUDGE'S REWARD, STANDING ONE

Police Magistrate on Drink Question—Richibucto Man's Story Fails to Impress Court

Before Judge Ritchie this morning, Duncan Chamberlain sought to convince the judge that the reason for his presence in St. John street alley between two and three o'clock on Sunday morning was not so perplexing after all. He prefaced his harangue by saying he hailed from Richibucto and came "to town once every five years."

He witnessed the baseball game on Saturday afternoon, which was followed by a walk to the bridge at half-past five, and return with the object of obtaining employment in which, however, he was disappointed. On returning to the city he partook of a lunch and sought accommodation in two hotels without success, and had determined to remain either at his sister in Fairville or to "Sandy Brown's" on Fort Howe, when he espied the policeman approaching, and hid in the alley.

Patrolman Belyea testified that when accosted in the alley Chamberlain said he was night watchman on the I. C. R. elevator. Subsequently, he claimed to have walked from a point four miles out to the Marsh road, where he had been employed. Finally he said he boarded at a house on Fort Howe and, being reluctant to pass the policeman, entered the alley and lay on the ground. Chamberlain informed the court that he did not reach the city until ten o'clock on Saturday night, and held to his tale with much tenacity, but Patrolman Covay testified that he asked the Richibucto visitor to recover a small sum of money from a man who, he said, obtained it from him previously under the pretence of purchasing a bottle of Huggins for him, but had failed to reappear, subsequently Covay said he saw Chamberlain emerging from a hall.

John McGillean and Michael Mahoney, two of a quartette arrested in a box-car at noon on Saturday on I. C. R. property, denied that they were fighting, but admitted intoxication. Patrolman Stevens said Mahoney was cut and bleeding and asserted when arrested that McGillean was his antagonist in a fist encounter. To another allegation of indecency, McGillean pleaded not guilty and was remanded to await the advent of Samuel Dry, a witness. Mahoney was also remanded.

Frank McGinley and Archibald Quinn, the balance of the box car assemblage, were fined $8 or twenty days, and $8 or two months respectively for intoxication. James Harrington was remanded, and Alexander Brown was fined $4 for inebriation.

William Hanley was fined $8 or twenty days for intoxication on Saturday, and remanded on charge of indecency on King Square.

Robert Harris forfeited a deposit of $3, and Joseph McElhenney, accused of breaking and entering a box car on I. C. R. property on Saturday evening, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until to-morrow.

The judge alluded to the probably un-precise number of the prisoners arrested on the I. C. R., and stated that intoxicated men were toppling over each other every night in the principal streets of the city. He offered a reward of one week's salary if the name of a man who furnished information leading to the production of such a reward was a standing one, but it would be necessary for the drinker to submit to be photographed as a curiosity. The judge also deprecated the disturbance of intoxicated individuals to baseball games.

ST. JOHN WILL BE REPRESENTED

MORE HARVESTERS

C. P. R. Decide to Run Another Excursion from Here on September 8th.

The west still calls for help on the farms to gather the golden grain and the C. P. R. has decided to conduct another excursion from the maritime provinces to the wheat fields September 8 is the date chosen.

Mr. B. Howard, district passenger agent here, is busy now working out the details and further announcements may be expected soon. It is learned that while Ontario sent 4,000 men west to work at the crops, the number was below expectations and the second call on the east is made. The first excursion from here took about 2,800.

Bradley-Fitzgerald

A very pleasant event took place at an early hour this morning in the church of the Assumption, when John J. Bradley of Boston was united in marriage by the Rev. J. J. O'Donovan to Miss Margaret Ellen (Maude) Fitzgerald of St. John West. The bride wore a travelling suit of cream serge and a black Gainsborough hat. She was attended by her niece, Miss M. Loretto Fitzgerald who wore a dress of Copenhagen blue silk, with lace to match. Vincent Fitzgerald supported the groom. The good wishes of many friends were expressed by the numerous guests who were present. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left on the steamer Governor Cobb for their future home in Boston.

The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid an opal ring, and to the groomsmen a diamond stick-pin. Peter F. Mallett, of Yarmouth, has passed a successful examination before Captain Murphy as master of foreign going vessels.
