

$100,000 BRIBE FOR SENATOR

Inquiry Reveals Effort to Influence Legislators to Vote Against Race Track Bill.

Witness Tells of Offer to Pay Fortune for His Vote--Gardiner Implicated.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 18.—One hundred thousand dollars to vote against the anti-race track betting bills in 1908 was offered to State Senator Eugene M. Travis, of Brooklyn, so he wrote on the stand today, testifying before the legislative graft committee. A mysterious little man, whose name he does not recall, made the offer in the lobby of the senate, he said on behalf of former senator, Frank D. Gardner, and Gardner, he added, confirmed the offer in a subsequent telephone conversation.

Gardner is now under indictment charged with having attempted similarly though with a lesser amount, to influence Otto G. Foelker, of Brooklyn, now a congressman, but then a state senator. Foelker voted for the bill, as did Travis, and it was passed notwithstanding the efforts of the race track interests and the alleged use of a fund which previous testimony has placed at $200,000.

Travis' testimony and the committee's efforts to subpoena James R. Keene and Harry Payne Whitney, two millionaires, whose hobby is horse racing were the most interesting developments of today's hearing, resumed after an adjournment on Oct. 22. Efforts to find Messrs. Keene and Whitney have so far been without success and M. Linn Bruce, chairman of the committee is growing impatient. Both men have been mentioned in previous testimony as having been at a conference, Delmonico's at which the alleged corruption fund was raised and the committee is anxious to examine them.

Travis' testimony today added two new names to the list of senators "approached." The amount offered him, he explained, was to be paid in two instalments, $25,000 down and $75,000 after his vote had been cast.

"Did you ever hear of any other senator being approached?" he was asked. "Yes, I took lunch with Senator Fuller and Senator Carpenter one day and they told me they had been approached. Senator Gates also told me he had been called on the telephone."

"Would you know the man who approached you if you saw him again?" "Yes, I think so." "Was he a regular lobbyist?" "I think so. He was interested in other measures." Senator Carpenter, whom Travis mentioned was a Republican from Westchester. Senator Fuller was a Brooklyn Democrat. Senator Gates came from Madison county.

During the session on Nov. 18, Senator Gardner, a former state senator, denied any activity in influencing others against the bill, although he voted against it. Since denial was made by ex-senator Alfred J. Gilchrist, of Brooklyn. He said he voted against the bill because he believed it was unjust and unfair, and because there were many in his district who wanted to see the bill defeated. In answer to a broad question if he knew of any moneys paid anyone for voting against the bill, he said "No."

WOOLEN IMPORTERS CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Members of New York Firm Arrested and Accused of Bringing Goods from France Under False Invoices.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Isaac and Manning Phillips, members of the firm of I. and M. Phillips, Importers, in business at No. 18 West 18th street, were arrested today charged with having defrauded the government out of duty on woollen wearing apparel imported from France by means of false consular invoices. As the government is in possession of evidence concerning a number of alleged fraudulent importations, by the firm the prisoners were held for examination in $10,000 bail each.

A surety company furnished bonds and they were released. Assistant United States District Attorney C. C. Whitney, who has charge of the prosecution, says the Phillips firm have been acting as importers since 1907 and that the total of the duties out of which the government has been defrauded will reach $50,000. The case follows quickly on the proceedings against Jos. Brooke & Co., English woollen goods importers, whose branches in this country have been seized. No arrests were made in the Brooke's case, as the members of the firm reside abroad, but the government has attached the stock and brought suit to recover $200,000.

ILLNESS OF TOLSTOI TAKES SERIOUS TURN

Necessary To Administer Oxygen And Patient Loses Consciousness Frequently—Reconciliation Sought With Orthodox Church.

Astapova, Russia, Nov. 18.—After having remained practically unchanged throughout the day, the condition of Count Leo Tolstoi took an unfavorable turn today. Oxygen was administered to the patient, who frequently lost consciousness. Great anxiety was expressed by those at the bedside of the stricken novelist, but hopes have not been abandoned for his ultimate recovery.

Dr. Usov, professor of internal diseases at Moscow university and Dr. Tikhonov, who treated Tolstoi for bronchitis in the Crimea in 1901, have been urgently summoned to Astapova. At 7 o'clock this evening Tolstoi's temperature was 97.88, pulse 110 and respiration 26. At that hour he was quite conscious, but sleepy and very weak. Still later in the evening after a clyster temperature had been taken which registered 98.2 degrees, the general feeling of the patient was better.

Dr. Berkenheim says the case is still hopeless though no means will avail to relieve the overtaxed heart through out the periods of unconsciousness. No details of the bed chamber escaped Tolstoi. Today he rebuked Dr. Berkenheim for entering and not greeting him. Agren, overbearing a hushed consultation regarding his ill-chosen Tolstoi said, "It is not painful." This morning he demanded that some one read to him disconnected sentences he could understand in a semi-conscious state, last night.

The Holy Synod is trying by all avenues to approach the bedside of Count Tolstoi. Today it ordered an aged monk, Joseph, a friend of Tolstoi, with whom he conversed at the Optina monastery last week, to come to Astapova. Joseph's health, however, did not permit of his making the journey, and therefore the abbot of Optina, accompanied by a monk, came in his stead.

They were not permitted to enter the sick room, however. This morning Tolstoi's eldest daughter, Tatiana, was permitted to see her father for a few minutes.

BOURASSA REPLIES TO SIR WILFRID

Nationalist Leader Says Contest of Future Will Be Between Imperialism and Autonomy—No Civil War.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Nov. 18.—Henri Bourassa, publishes a long article in Le Devoir tonight in reply to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's letter on the naval question. The Nationalist leader takes issue with the premier's arguments.

Proceeding to speak of the future, Mr. Bourassa says that there can be no mistaking the character of the contest. Let neither Conservatives or Liberals be deceived, he says. The fight of tomorrow which has been preparatory for the past ten years, will not be fought between two armies whose battle flags cover no longer an idea or a principle. The battle will be fought out between Imperialists and Autonomists. The problem will be posed squarely and fairly and the Canadian people will choose between two principles, and whatever may be the issue, there will be no civil war, as timid people are so prone to think.

Premier Asquith Opens Campaign Today—Both Parties Promise to be Confident.

London, Nov. 18.—Today's brief sessions of the House of Parliament are likely to prove to be the turning point in the history of the House of Lords as at present constituted. The older Conservatives view the march of events with anxious concern, and are loudly lamenting the disappearance of the hereditary peers, the basis of the upper chamber.

Much criticism and complaint is heard on the Conservative side that the government has precipitated elections at an inconvenient time. Both sides, however, profess the utmost confidence in the outcome of the appeal to the nation, arising from the struggle between the two houses, elective and elective bases will enter into the constitution of the House of Lords.

INHUMAN SON ADMITS MURDER OF HIS FATHER

Horrible Story Told By Young Idaho Farmer—Beat Parent Into Insensibility—Threw Body In Well.

Muncie, Idaho, Nov. 18.—"I thought he was dead," I loaded the body into the buggy and started for the old well. I had the body propped up on the seat. On the way father revived a little and threw his arms around my neck. Then I beat him over the head again until he was quiet. Just as I was about to throw the body into the well, he groaned and gave a long sigh.

This, according to the police, is part of the signed confession of Benjamin Smith, 22 years old, a farmer now in the Muncie jail. It was the climax of a remarkable recital of murder. Last night, Smith, his hands smeared with blood, staggered into the home of Oscar Shaw, and told a story of having been attacked by highwaymen. Smith's father was mysteriously missing and suspicious were aroused which led to his arrest. Under examination he finally said he would show the police where his father's body could be found. He led them away to an abandoned well and pointing said: "There he is."

ASK QUESTIONS ON CONGRESS

PROPOSE TO HAVE UNION FOR TRAMPS

Resolution Submitted At Federation Convention Regarding Pay For Vagrants—President Gompers Does Not Mean To Exclude Negro.

St. Louis, Nov. 18.—After a full session of heated debates, motions and counter motions, the electrical workers' union controversy between the Reid and the McNulty factions late today was referred to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. The case is in exactly the same position as it was at the beginning of the present convention. A resolution asking the convention to ratify the recent action of the executive council in reference to the amalgamation and affiliation of the White Rats and Actors' Union of America, was presented. It will be acted on next week.

Just before adjournment President Gompers took occasion to say that an incorrect inference had been drawn by the newspapers from his speech last night, concerning the negro question. He denied that he wanted negroes eliminated from labor unions, and said the impression he intended to convey was that the condition of the negroes as a class, made their case a difficult one to handle. A resolution for unionizing tramps, referred to as migratory laborers, was presented by Andrew Furuseth, of San Francisco. The resolution demanded that these laborers be paid in cash, instead of scrip, or orders on company stores.

A resolution offered by James Murray, of the Texas state federation, asks the government to exclude Mexican labor from this country. The convention adjourned until Monday.

Government Must Explain Appearance of Speaker in Official Robes—Offering of Homage.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Nov. 18.—A great deal of interest, not to say excitement, is evinced by members of parliament as to what action will be taken in connection with the recent Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, at which the speaker of the Commons appeared in his official robes and the 65th Regiment of Montreal paraded under full arms. Another matter which occasioned comment was a telegram from the acting administrator of Canada, Mr. Justice Grouard, to Cardinal Vanuetti, conveying the "homage" of Canada to his eminence. Dr. Sproule, M. P. for East Grey, who is the most prominent Orangeman in Canada today gave notice of a number of questions to the clerk of the House. The first relates to the action of the speaker. Dr. Sproule asks if, since parliament prorogued, the speaker attended in his official robes or apparel, and if so, where and when. He desires to know if it was not the duty of the speaker in appearing at any function dressed in his official robes to be preceded or accompanied by the sergeant at arms, carrying the mace which is the emblem of the authority of the House. If so, is there any precedent to justify it.

THE FAMOUS TELEGRAM

Coming to the telegram of Judge Grouard, the member for East Grey, asks: "How or by what commission or otherwise was Justice Grouard appointed the deputy of the governor general, or the administrator of the government last summer or fall? If so, what authority did the commission confer upon him? Did the administrator of the government send a telegram or message to Cardinal Vanuetti on his arrival in the country? If so, what were the contents? If so, by whose advice and authority was it done? Was he acting under the advice of his constitutional advisers?" Continued On Page Two WHITE FLIES OVER PHILA. NAVY YARD English Aviator Braves Chilling Wind and Crosses Delaware Into New Jersey— Flew Close to Warships.

QUESTIONS ASKED REGARDING CONGRESS Continued From Page One. Another of Dr. Spruille's questions is whether or not there were guards of honor furnished from the militia or from the permanent force of Canada at Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal, on any occasion during the summer or fall to honor any distinguished individual.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—Graham White, the English aviator, passed over the Philadelphia navy yard and crossed the Delaware River into New Jersey in his Farman biplane today, when he made three flights at the aviation meet of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania. Despite the chilling wind, which swept the course, at Point Breeze, the aviator showed a wonderful control of his machine. On his first flight he circled the mile track six times.

By whose authority, and how were they equipped? Col. Hughes. Col. Sam Hughes, M. P. for Halifax, another prominent Orangeman, filed with the clerk today similar questions. He also asks if the government of Canada authorized the decoration of any government building in Montreal during the past summer, and if so, on what occasion?

BIG GAME HUNTERS ARE SUCCESSFUL Hampton Station, Nov. 17.—Mandfred Roberts, of Hampton Village, shot a fine moose yesterday. The animal was taken to St. John today by Walter Conway.

What was the nature of the decorations? On what occasions does the British flag fly from such buildings? After asking if any non-military individuals wore state uniforms at non-state functions he inquires: Had such officers the authority of the government for so acting? He further asks if the administrator of the government forwarded the honours of Canada to any visitor to Canadian shores last summer, and if so, had he the authority of the government for so doing?

Yesterday morning James Ross of Hampton Station, shot a buck deer with fine antlers near Beaver Dam. The deer dressed to 137 lbs.

It is expected to have it ready for occupation by next spring, when the Hughsons intend to come on and take possession.

EVIDENCE OF ALD. POTTS CONCLUDES MARKET ENQUIRY

Practice of Collecting Tolls in Lump Sums Originated by City Officials and Exercised for Twenty Years—Indignant Because Matter Was Aired in His Absence.

At the meeting of the market investigating committee last evening, Ald. Potts stated that he expected the reasons leading to the investigation being started would be revealed before long, and that when the people saw what was at the bottom of the rumpus it would not be against him that their wrath would be directed. He protested that it was an act of discourtesy to him to bring up the matter while he was away on civil business. Last year when he was away some of his brother aldermen had tried to put-up a game on him, but he had some thought that showed they had been accustomed to such charges for a long time.

Q. Then you extended the practice? A. Well, I charged them as Akeryer said. They did not kick. I thought that showed they had been accustomed to such charges for a long time. Q. Did you think the market officials were aware of this? A. Well, I think any businessman would have done as I did. The market officials must have known that this practice had been going on for years.

charged anything for space in the cent. stands. We took a lump sum on some of the stalls. Those people like Mr. Babbirk, we were charging straight fees. When Akeryer came in we found he began to charge these people in the stands for space. Previous to Akeryer's time I never charged the commission men anything for rent. Afterwards I thought I was entitled to do what Akeryer had been doing.

Practiced For 20 Years. In his evidence last night Ald. Potts declared that the collector of tolls had enjoyed and exercised the rights of making what arrangements he could with stallholders for 20 years past. He said that prior to 1906 he had made arrangements with a number of occupants of the market whereby they paid him a lump sum in lieu of tolls.

Q. You did not attempt to conceal what you were doing? You went to these men openly? A. Certainly, I had no thought of wrong doing. I may say I think the city has gained by these practices. It has been able to get a larger price for the market stalls.

St. John, Nov. 18.—Money conditions appear to be fairly easy. There has been no change in the Bank of England rate since last writing and Paris and other continental points show very little fluctuation in discount rates. In New York there still appears to be a good supply of the money in the market but as there is no demand for these funds, it is not possible to judge how extensive the supply is.

Q. In the report of the evidence your explanation as to Mr. Wisely's want of understanding of what constituted the privileges of the collector of tolls does not appear to agree with other testimony? A.—Previous to Akeryer coming in, the city had never exercised any control over stalls outside the market stalls. The year he became was the first year the city sold stands.

Q. You feel that the city hasn't lost anything? A. On the contrary I say that the city has made money. It wouldn't have got as much if it had collected the tolls in its own account. Q.—Have you done anything to induce any party to forego bidding at the auction, in order that he might buy?

The New York market the past week has presented many good trading opportunities. Fluctuations in the leading stocks of nearly four points have been in evidence. Many of the leading brokerage houses express the opinion that the present market is considerable of a mystery. The volume of the sales per day is not large, running on an average from 400,000 to 500,000 shares, the principal volume of trading being in the leaders such as Union Pacific, Steel and Reading. Practically every morning finds the London closing from 3/4 to 3/8 of a point above the New York closing of the night before.

Q.—Can you give specific instances? A.—The collector had the right of making what arrangements he could with the occupants of stalls for the last 20 years or more. He had the location and the collector of tolls made the terms.

Q.—You feel that the city hasn't lost anything? A. On the contrary I say that the city has made money. It wouldn't have got as much if it had collected the tolls in its own account. Q.—Have you done anything to induce any party to forego bidding at the auction, in order that he might buy?

There has been very little activity and a very narrow range of fluctuations in Montreal stocks during the past week. The market has been quiet for some time past. There have been months seems to be particularly easy, selling in very small lots as low as 22 1/2. Toronto Street seems to have taken its place in the stock market holding firm around 22 1/2. Cement seems to be easier on the strength of a rumor that there was to be a cut in prices. This stock selling at 86 for the present and a point or two after the directors' meeting on Monday at which the regular dividend of 8 per cent. was declared. Rumors of a prospective 10 per cent. dividend, which originated in New York, but the price of this stock is over 202, but it did not hold in face of the facts.

Q.—What was the arrangement made in lieu of tolls? A.—The idea was to get a sum that would fully cover the tolls. Some times it is hard to get the fees from a man. We did not consider we were charging rent, but we thought a man who was paying 50 cents a week in tolls, yet occupied a stand as good as a man paying $1.50, ought to be charged more.

During the week a dividend of 2 per cent. has been declared on Canadian Car common. This dividend is not in the nature of a regular dividend, but is said to be the payment of surplus of earnings to shareholders. While mergers seem to have become somewhat quiet of late, reorganization of some of the larger companies is being undertaken by Montreal promoters.

ENGLISHMAN WON BECK CUP Lieut. Walyma of Royal Horse Artillery First in Jumping Competition at Horse Show—Two Canadian Winners.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The fifth day's programme at the horse show yesterday included the first of the championships which will be continued Saturday. This was for hackney stallions for a cup worth $250 and there were six candidates, open to those that had won a first and second prize in classes decided at the present show. The trophy went to the chestnut sire, Oxford owned by William White, of New Centreville, Penn., who had captured a blue last Monday. Land of Burns, from Clarence M. Mackay's stud at Roslyn, L. I., that had won the first event today among the hackneys of a larger size, got the reserve ribbon.

After this the standard bred trotting stallions, 4 years or over, were passed upon. Of the six entered Albin Winter, 2:02 1/2, that won the famous American trotting Derby at Reading, Mass., in 1908, was easily the most notable. He was bought by Louis W. Winans, of Hove, Eng., that fall for $20,000, and taken to Austria, where he was trained by A. C. Henstock, but not started. Last winter he was brought back here with Willy Silko and other fast campaigners, but met with a slight accident early in the grand circuit and did not fill any of his engagements.

Both Fashionably Bred. He showed well yesterday and there was no gainsaying his right to the first prize. Mognazia from Crickenton farm, Galt, Ont., owned by Miss Katharine L. Wilks, was placed second. Both these young sires are fashionably bred and are by grandsons of George Wilkes.

The afternoon was a busy one and the feature was an international jumping contest for the Canadian jumping cup, presented by Hon. Adam Beck, a prominent Ontario breeder. The event brought out a field of 29 and proved a very brilliant affair that took place when the garden was in the height of its glory with a crush of society folks and their attendants. England triumphed over the cup which went to The SAINT JOHN, SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 19, 1910.

A SUCCESSION OF BLUNDERS.

If the series of diplomatic blunders which the Laurier Government has had with the United States since 1896 in regard to Reciprocity is to be taken as evidence, our ambitious treaty mongers have yet much to learn. They began in 1896 by sending certain of their members to Washington to spy out, as it were, the promised land, and report their findings. Then in 1897 they removed the duty on imported corn, and binder twine, and lowered it on certain other articles of considerable export from the United States, and, having thus emptied their pockets of desirable quid pro quo exchanges, they approached the United States treaty commissioners. It will be remembered that Mr. John Charlton, M. P., who knew as much about trade matters in the United States as the whole cabinet combined, bitterly attacked this wanton weakening of our hands. But in vain. Mr. Fielding and Mr. Laurier knew how to take the United States diplomats; they would play the generous role and compel a generous response. Well, they conferred at Quebec and they conferred in Washington, and they came back with a blank refusal instead of a generous response. Thereafter, and ever since, Uncle Sam has sent into Canada his corn and his binder twine free, and much of his steel and iron and oil, at reduced rates, Canada has sent into the United States nothing free or at reduced rates as a result of that abortive attempt of our budding diplomats.

The next bout was scheduled for early 1910. The United States had passed the Payne Aldrich bill, with its retaliatory clauses on pulp and paper coming from Canada, and its penal clause of 25 per cent. of the value on all dutiable imports coming from any country, which by law or regulation discriminated in any degree against any article of export from the United States. The diplomats had in the meantime made a not very important, and, certainly as regards Canada's interests, a not very favorable treaty with France. In this, Canada gave France the intermediate rates upon a list of French exports, in return for the French minimum tariff upon a specified list of Canadian exports. It was a bargain entirely between Canada and France, in which each paid the other for certain supposed advantages. Very few of these French exports were of a kind that the United States could supply; but a few of them were of such a kind. It was pointed out to Mr. Fielding that he ran the risk of the United States menace in the ratification of the French treaty. He took the ground that the United States had really no kick;—they gave us no compensation and had no right to enjoy rates that France paid for. He declared that Canada would go straight ahead, ratify the treaty, and if the United States pressed matters to the extreme, he would meet them.

A few weeks after Mr. Taft lifted the "big stick," demanded concessions in default of which he would penalize Canada by imposing, in addition to the average tariff of 42 per cent., 25 per cent., ad valorem, as penalty, thus making the impost against Canadian goods an average of 67 per cent. It was an unrighteous and brutal demand, made upon a neighbor which treated the United States to an average tariff of 28 per cent., gave them a free list of $93,000,000 in exchange for one of $33,000,000, and bought from them per capita $25 worth of goods for every $1 worth purchased by them. The "big stick" prevailed. Mr. Fielding at Mr. Taft's behest, hurried off to Albany to a Sunday conference. Later he fled himself to Washington, where the killing was completed. Canada was compelled to pay a fine of $254,000 per year, in customs loss and to give the United States a list of concessions of very considerable importance and, what is singular and inexplicable, to pledge her promise to enter into speedy negotiations for an extended treaty of reciprocity.

The second bout thus ended. The first was a draw and no one was hurt. The second was an ugly scrimmage, in which our knights of the ring came back badly battered, and with a big yearly bill for repairs to be settled by the country. The third bout is now in process. It is said to be a very friendly contest, with gloves thickly padded, and the scientific parry and thrust carried out to the accompaniment of smiles and banquets. But the singular feature of this encounter is that all Canada is nervous and distrustful of our champions, and by public and private messages, is calling them off. The iron interests, the coal interests, the manufacturing interests, the boards of trade, the transport interests and the sea ports are all adjuring them to quit and quit at once. Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. Eymon Jones, and other warm partisans of the Government, are beseeching them to get to cover before they sustain fatal injuries, and those that are silently but earnestly writing and wiring them not to persist are legion. One second only appears to be ready to coach and sponge the contestants,—the Rev. James A. MacDonald, who, it is some satisfaction to know, may, in the event of fatal injuries when the bout is resumed, be on hand to administer ghostly comfort.

It is all so intense a comedy that were it not so serious we should wish to see the play out. For there is a serious side to it. Important interests of business are at stake, and these interests are disturbed, anxious, and becoming disorganized, ignorant of what will be done, but menaced with contingencies which would affect and maybe ruin them, they know not what to do or where they will land. The banks which finance them are uncertain, and so will not countenance commitments. With no call and no mandate these diplomatic gentlemen have, as a personal matter, undertaken negotiations which affect generally all the great interests of Canada, and especially a trade of $383,000,000, as needlessly and as lightly as children would carry on a mischievous prank. They have humiliated Canada by playing to the political necessities of an administration and a section of a party in the United States, and in the very midst of it found that they were negotiating with the wrong people. For the result of the recent elections in the United States has wrested the conduct of affairs from the present administration, and a new control is soon to be installed at Washington, and a new proprietor is even now on his way to the White House. Audiences in pit and galleries have often been amused by the pitiful plight of the ardent suitor on the stage, who, after having poured forth his long tale of love and devotion, suddenly discovers that he has mistaken the maid for the mistress. Messrs. Patterson and Fielding are both old enough and experienced enough to know better, but in this case they have been caught in a similar position. They can't complain if they are laughed at.

LUNACY AND DIVORCE.

The medical view of the divorce problem was presented to the British Divorce Commission, which met recently, after a recess of some four months. Dr. T. S. Clouston, Edinburgh; Dr. Robert Jones and Dr. T. B. Hyslop, were nominated as representatives of the British Medical Association to present the present state of medical knowledge on the subject. Dr. Clouston, president of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, physician superintendent of the Royal Asylum, Edinburgh, and lecturer on mental diseases, Edinburgh University, said he was of opinion that there were certain forms of mental diseases where the law should be so altered as to redress the present hardships to husbands and wives, but especially to provide for the better care and guardianship of children and prevent the high birth rate of children with an undue liability to mental disease. In his opinion divorces should be allowed in most cases within from three to five years after the commencement of the mental disease.

Another class to whom any change in the law of divorce would be likely to apply were the persons who suffered from epilepsy. He absolutely disapproved of epileptics marrying on medical and eugenic grounds. It was a very hereditary disease, and epileptics almost certainly propagated insane, epileptic, and idiotic progeny. Summing up cases of those persons to whom in his opinion any changes in the law of divorce could possibly apply, on account of incurable mental disease or defect, he thought they might be put down as 41,000. He had no means of forming an opinion as to how many of the husbands or wives of those would be likely to apply for divorce, probably only a few.

Asked his opinion with regard to criminal lunatics detained during His Majesty's pleasure, he said there should be divorce. There were 800 such cases in Broadmoor, and 129 in Scotland, and about 150 in Ireland—over a thousand in the United Kingdom.

FORTUNES IN AVIATION.

So long as there is money to be made in aviation the already long list of fatalities, to which the name of Ralph Johnstone must now be added, will steadily increase. There are fortunes in aviation, as well as misfortunes. A compilation of the prizes won by aviators in the United States and Europe in the last year gives a total of $712,650. The amount is exclusive of money earned by exhibition or instruction, as it includes only the official prizes that were competed for under the rules of authorized organizations.

In the past twelve months, according to the tabulation, Paulham led all the other aviators with prize winnings that aggregated to $82,000. Morane was next, with earnings of $55,000. Latham gathered in $52,000. Rogier was next in the list, but he paid dearly for what he got, and was moved to retire from aviation exercises after sustaining a severe fall. Curtis is at the top of the list of winners in the United States. His prize money amounted to $16,000.

Lord Lansdowne, by outlining a Conservative policy for the reform of the House of Lords, has made a strategic move which will be an important factor in the British elections. He would reduce the membership of the second chamber, abolish the hereditary principle, and procure an adequate representation of the best elements of the existing House reinforced from outside either by the nomination or election of able men. This leaves the electorate to choose between ending the House of Lords, which is the Radical purpose, or of making it a useless body, with no option but to obey the dictates of the House of Commons, or of having a strong House, with the full powers of a branch of Parliament, and a moral standing that will make its votes respected. The Conservative party will go to the country with a definite programme, and with much brighter prospects of success.

(Manitoba Free Press.)

The city of Chicago, under the leadership of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, voted at a special election to submit itself to a direct tax for a municipal tuberculosis hospital. The board of directors of the new hospital, even before money was available for its use, took upon itself the task of establishing a complete system of dispensary and hospital care for its city. With from a half million to a million dollars yearly at its command, this sanatorium board is expected to demonstrate that the prevention of tuberculosis and the reduction of mortality from it to a practical minimum, are by no means impossible even in a large city.

Calgary, which has grown from 4633 in 1901 to 46,000 as estimated at present, is trying hard to get government by commission, but the aldermen have other views than the people. The insolence of elected persons, as Wall Wittman branded it, is difficult to escape from, but there is no way out of the difficulty but by electing aldermen who will do the will of the people. Even when that is attempted, the aldermen are not always to be depended on, as Hamilton can certify.

The Nova Scotia exhibition commission, facing a deficit of $14,580, has resolved to return to the policy of having special attractions at the annual gatherings. In this matter the experience of other exhibition organizations is repeated. The strictly moral nature of a show of farm beasts and vegetables is not so appealing to the multitude as other things.

The bachelor candidate for governor of Wisconsin has been elected, and, to redeem a pre-election pledge, must provide the executive mansion with a hostess before he assumes his gubernatorial duties. The number of aspirants for the honor is approximately estimated at 638, and, it is safe to say that 637 will be found working for the opposition candidate two years hence.

SEVENTY-NINE YEARS YOUNG

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" KEEPS HEALTH PERFECT

WILLIAM PARSONS, ESQ. to try "Fruit-a-tives," I hereby authorize its publication.

Obstinate Constipation, Paralysis of the Bowels and Stricture of the Bowels can never be cured by common purgatives, salts, senna, liver pills and all have positively no action on the bowels. They do not increase the secretion of Bile, which nature provides to move the bowels. They merely irritate the membranes lining the intestines. One may as well try to cure a headache by pounding one's head against a stone wall as to try to cure Constipation with common purgatives. "Fruit-a-tives" is the true liver stimulant. "Fruit-a-tives" is fruit juices and nerve tonics, and will always restore the liver to its proper condition and cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation.

Otterville, Ont., July 8th, 1910. "I am a seventy-nine year old man, and a great believer in, and user of "Fruit-a-tives." It is the only medicine I take, and I can truly say that "Fruit-a-tives" and exercise keep me in my present good health. Stricture of the Bowels, was the complaint I suffered from and I found "Fruit-a-tives" to do me more good than any other remedy. My doctor advised me to stick to "Fruit-a-tives" and I have done so with the best results.

I have been in business here for a good many years and have been a resident of Otterville for over 50 years, so that if you think this little reference from me will serve to induce some others to try "Fruit-a-tives," I hereby authorize its publication.

HE KNOWS WHAT FIXED HIM UP

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured S. D. Vickar's Lumbago.

He suffered three years, but the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy made Short Work of his trouble.

Edenbridge, Sask., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"It was one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills that fixed me up." This is the cheerful answer Mr. Sam D. Vickar is giving his inquiring neighbors in this district. Everybody around here knows that for three years he has been suffering from lumbago. Now he's strong and well again.

"My lumbago developed from a cold," Mr. Vickar goes on to say. "My head would ache, I was always tired and nervous. I had a bitter taste in my mouth in the morning, was troubled with dizzy spells and was always thirsty. The doctor told me I had lumbago, but did not help me very much. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills went straight to the root of the trouble. They cured his kidneys. The cured kidneys strained the uric acid out of the blood, and Mr. Vickar's lumbago vanished. Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick kidneys. They never fail to do that.

Sermon by Charles T. Russell, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle "What Manner of Man Is This? Even the Winds and the Waves Obey Him."

On the Atlantic, Nov. 13.—Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle is homeward bound. He declares that he greatly enjoyed his visit to Great Britain, where he preached in twelve of the principal cities in the United States and Canada. He greatly admired the reverential atmosphere of religious thought in Britain. Whether or not the people are ready more holy than their brethren in the United States and Canada, they are, he says, as a rule, more reverential in their demeanor—in their attitude toward Divine things.

Pastor Russell considers public opinion in Great Britain to be at least twenty years behind that of the States in respect to the Bible as a Divine revelation. This is much in their favor, he says. The Evolution theory and so-called Higher Criticism of the Bible, he says, wrought great havoc among the clergy and more educated people of America. He finds in Great Britain the same destructive sentiments at work, but they have not yet reached the masses with such force and poisoning power. Faith in God and in His Word, Pastor Russell has especially sought to inculcate. He feels greatly encouraged and hopes to see his friends and the public of Great Britain soon again in their own country.

His love for our British cousins has not, however, diminished his love and interest in God's people of America. If America, during which Jesus was here, may also be said that many of them are more independent and more courageous in their convictions respecting the Truth. The British friends should, he thinks, cultivate an independence of thought; while American Christians, losing none of their courage, should cultivate a spirit of reverence for God for His Word and for all holy things.

Pastor Russell is enjoying his usual good health and continues his literary work on the sea, as on the land. A representative of the American Press Association and a stenographer accompany him. Pastor Russell's address for today was from the following text:—"What manner of man is this? Even the winds and the waves obey him."—Matthew VIII, 27.

This text is taken from the Gospel narrative of the storm on the Sea of Galilee, during which Jesus was asleep in the hinder part of the vessel, until the sturdy seamen, appalled by the storm, cried to him, Master, carest thou not that we perished? Jesus arose and rebuked the storm and there was a great calm. When the fishermen disciples beheld this they said, What kind of person is this that even the winds and the sea obey him?

The speaker declared that although more than eighteen centuries had passed, the same question is going the rounds of men everywhere. "What manner of man is this?" Some of the best thinkers and noblest hearts of all nationalities, Jew and Gentile, agreed that Jesus of Nazareth was a wonderful man. It is still agreed, as in the days of his presence, that "never man spake like this man." Some, indeed, called him a deceiver. Others, he was an evil spirit. Others, going to the opposite extreme, declared that this great Jew was Jehovah himself, who for the time was masquerading as man.

"Wonderful Words of Life." Pastor Russell contends that the greatest of all Jews, as well as about other matters. When he prayed to the Father with strong cryings and tears in Gethsemane (Hebrews v, 7). He was not shamming, he was not penetrating a fraud and deceiving His disciples then and since.

We have great sympathy for the fellow-countryman of Jesus who, failing to understand Him, caused His execution, considering Him a menace to their institutions. His wonderful works, His wonderful words of life, which it is recorded that the people declared, "never man spake like this man," and in general His wonderful personality, seemed really incongruous with His general demeanor. Not claiming to be Jehovah, as some now teach, but, on the contrary, declaring "My Father is greater than I," He nevertheless claimed a special relationship to God, and this He demonstrated by such miracles as the one of our lesson. Had He done and said these things as a member of one of the popular sects of His day, He would have been crucified. Had He joined in with the Pharisees and winked at their interpretation of the Law in one way for the people and in another manner for themselves, He would have received much honor from the rich and poor, the learned and the ignorant. But He antagonized all these by His humility in mingling with the common people, accepting some of them as His special disciples, and sending them out as His representatives. This specially branded Him as foolish in the eyes of the worldly-wise. This specially disgraced Him, not only as a man and a teacher, but particularly as one who claimed to be the Messiah, the King of glory who was to set up an Empire. We can well see why worldly-wise people of that day or this day would consider such a person a fraud, a pretender, a deceiver. Appearances were against Him.

Jesus declared that the Father sent Him and that He delighted to come in obedience to Jehovah's will, to be His agent and servant in the outworking of a great plan for human redemption. Those who deny all of this, and who have awakened so much confusion amongst Christians, and have made the Gospel of Christ impossible to the Jew, should give an account of themselves and explain by what authority they contradicted the Great Teacher—"The Father is greater than I." And when they claim that the death of Jesus was merely a farce, and that He as Jehovah merely stepped out of the body of Jesus and perpetrated a fraud and pretended to be dead and aroused His disciples so to think and so to teach, and pretended later to be raised from the dead—those who thus teach and who thus confuse the minds of all Christians and Jewry, should explain to the world, through the plain statement of the Apostle that God raised up Jesus from the dead by His own power on the third day.

"Art Thou a King Then?"

Picture the Great Teacher walking with his twelve Apostles, a nondescript crowd of those who heard him gladly—not many great, not many learned, not many rich, not many noble. Hear him telling them—those who acknowledge themselves to be ignorant and unlearned (Acts iv, 13)—that, if faithful to him, he would grant them to sit with him in his Throne. "Judging the twelve tribes of Israel." The state, he surely seemed fraudulent, and he had not the heart to condemn the Jews who so misinterpreted him. St. Peter did not condemn them, but distinctly said, I, your brethren, that in ignorance ye crucified the Prince of Life, as did also your rulers (Acts iii, 15-17).

Can we wonder that the learned Jews of that day were confused? They did, indeed, feel this miracle—his recovering of sight to the blind and of strength to the withered hand of the impotent man; and, in the case of Lazarus, at least, they had demonstration of his power over the dead. They perceived that these miracles were having an influence upon the masses—that they detracted from their own position amongst the people. They knew that many of Jesus' sayings were wonderfully wise and that his criticisms of their own inconsistencies were remarkably sharp. Yet, without they said, we know that he is a fraud, because of his peculiar claim to be the Messiah and the Son of God. This claim of his disconcerted all of his teachings and mighty works. It cannot be true that he is the Messiah that our nation has waited for these more than sixteen centuries. God would surely send Messiah, a sufficient demonstration of glory and power to convince the most intelligent of our nation, the Scribes and Pharisees and Priests. What use would it be to repudiate and denounce, must be false.

For the Good of the Nation.

The Jewish wise men of eighteen centuries ago concluded that a man who set the masses astir with anticipation of himself as the Messiah, was a dangerous man. He would, without financial backing for a campaign, would present their nation to the Romans in a ludicrous light. As a result, they might have taken from them, at the word of the Emperor, the civil and religious privileges and rights they were enjoying. They took counsel and determined that in the interests of the peace of the nation this golden-tongued miracle-worker should either be exposed as a fraud or be killed. They tried first to expose him by trapping him in his language in the presence of his followers, and the multitude. But his intellect was keener than theirs and the thrusts they made at him rebounded to their own discomfort and established his own standing in the eyes of his followers and in the eyes of the people. One of these efforts to show up the hollowiness of his claims and their costs of the peace of the nation this golden-tongued miracle-worker should either be exposed as a fraud or be killed. NOT SO MUCH U. S. STEEL USED

New York, Nov. 18.—There was a heavy shrinkage today in the proportion of the dealings in United States Steel and Union Pacific to the aggregate volume of the market. These stocks, together with Reading furnished the medium for concentrated speculative operations, which had become so conspicuous as to induce criticism and arouse suspicion.

The discussion had become so insistent as to come under official investigation today by the initiative of the brokers concerned. The fact of this inquiry was supposed to explain the subsidence of the particular activities under review. The absence of any official censure had the effect of removing some of the uneasiness which had begun to be felt on account of the length to which it was feared the movement was running.

The growing ease of the money market was an effective factor in favor of the advance in prices. The average of the day's call loan rates fell below 3 per cent. for the first time since the November settlements began to affect the market. Some large dividend disbursements made on the 15th of the month, have had an influence in the week's money market. The reports from the banks today on the week's currency movement disclosed that receipts have on shipments on the interior movement to the extent probably of over $3,000,000, while the withdrawals on sub-treasury operations amounted to only $1,040,000.

Some sentimental influence was ascribed to the judicial decision in favor of the Standard Oil Company by the United States court at Jackson, Tenn. Reported buying of copper in the domestic market explained the strength of the copper industrialists. The publication of passages from the interstate commerce rate hearings, interpreting that New York Central expense accounts had been padded in order to help the contention for rate increases, created an impression that affairs with the railroads might be better than are admitted.

The shifting of the principal speculative activity to Reading and Union Pacific in the Rock Island issues were supposed to point to a shift in the personality of the leadership. Reading, U. S. Steel fell back to only about one-sixth of the whole market. Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,350,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

HACK WINS FROM SWISS

Russian Lion Won Two Falls From DeRaiz in Less Than Thirty Minutes--3,000 Present at Match.

Boston, Nov. 18.—Two mountains of finely trained flesh with complete knowledge of the wrestling game were George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian lion," and Maurice De Raiz, the Swiss champion, who met on the mat at the Boston Arena last night.

No two wrestlers resemble each other so much as this pair. With the exception of height, both looked heavily alike, though the Russian weighed 225 pounds while De Raiz tipped the beam at 205.

The Swiss made some fine bridges at times, and though the big Russian laid all his great weight on him he failed to force him to the floor.

After five minutes rest, they renewed the struggle and gave a grand display of wrestling that greatly excited the spectators.

After the match was over, the Russian laid all his great weight on him he failed to force him to the floor.

MCDONALD SEES GAME BOOMING

Wrestling Becoming Popular Pastime, According to One of Best Exponents of the Art--Maritime Circuit.

Dan McDonald, the well known wrestler, passed through the city yesterday on his way from Fredericton to Moncton where he will be present tonight at the match between Sam Anderson, the middleweight champion of the world and McLeod, a Scotch wrestler of skill and reputation.

McDonald is of the opinion that the wrestling game is in for a boom as it has become more popular than boxing and is patronized by a better class of people.

He particularly expects to see the Maritime Provinces become a centre of the wrestling art.

Mr. McDonald has received several offers to go to St. John's, Nfld., where the wrestling game is booming at the present time.

IN READINESS FOR BIG GAME

Harvard the Favorite in Today's Contest, Though Yale Men Profess to be Confident of Victory.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—A stiff battle and a winning one, is the prediction of Yale men for tomorrow's great game between Harvard and Yale and the confident Harvard men, who like old times, have hustled here to see if any change can be picked up, came right back with their own prediction that there is nothing to it but the crimson.

Everything points to a great game, in splendid weather and on a field which is in excellent condition.

The Harvard team stayed at Farmington all day and had signal practice and strolls through that town.

The Harvard men left the shade of their university, confident of winning.

There was no argument about it. With the ending of practice this afternoon Walter Camp said today the battle would be a stiff one and Yale ought to win.

Other coaches like Tom Shelton, Ted Coy, Brink Thorne and Foster Sanford, declared that they could not see how Yale could lose.

Harvard the Favorite. Wagering was quite active and in this Harvard ruled the favorite by considerable odds.

The number of special trains arranged for, the membership of football parties, the number of societies and fraternities, indicate that the hostiles of the social and commercial world who will have seats on the stands at the field will be numbered by the hundreds.

Police and traffic arrangements were never before so complete for automobiles will run up into the thousands in number.

The make up of the two elevens was the early subject of discussion.

Yale's first eleven has been decided upon and the debate turned on the chances of Vanhook starting at right end in event of a last minute change.

Yale coaches told of the success of the Minnesota shift formation and of the team's lightning changes in formations.

Up at Farmington the Harvard men, said they had all the shifts worked out, with a defence for each and from the crimson standpoint it was strength in the line, speed in the back field and punting which would count.

The Yale team heard Captain Robert Bartlett, the guest of Harry Whitney, the hunter, tell of the recent trip to the Arctic regions as they sat around a crackling fire at the Meriden golf club.

King's Daughters Tonight. The quarterly meeting of the union of King's Daughters will be held in the Guild rooms this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Reports from the circles will be received and also from the delegates to the Dominion convention at Ottawa. The delegates were Mrs. G. A. Henderson, who represented the union, and Miss Bessie Armstrong who represented the Door Keepers Circle.

Fire Near Armory. About 6:30 o'clock the fire department was called out to an alarm from box 43, on the corner of Carmarthen and Broad streets. There was a slight fire in the western end of the Drill Shed off the Barrack Green. The chemical stream soon quenched the flames and the damage to the property will be slight. It is stated that the fire presented the appearance of having been set from the outside.

Potato Shipments. The Norwegian steamer Cecilia, under charter to R. Reford Co., now on her way to Havana, took away the following cargo—Canadian products, 3,592 barrels, 2,537 bags of potatoes 80 bags carrots 13 bags and 1 crate of beets and 591 bales of hay. Foreign products, 3,074 barrels and 3,220 bags of potatoes. Manifests have been received at the Custom House for 39 cars of Aroostook, Me., potatoes, passing through this port in bond for Havana, the lot contains about 27,300 bushels.

Salary Increase Requested. A delegation from the Teachers' Association of the city will go before the School Board, probably at the next meeting, in support of an application for a salary increase for the lady teachers of the city. It is the wish of the association to get their request before the board before the estimates for the year are made up. The special meeting of the School Board called to consider the report of the committee on the Barr charges will be held next week.

Interesting Debate. Last evening an interesting debate was held in the Fairview Methodist church under the auspices of the literary department of the Epworth League. The subject for debate was "Resolved, That the policy of renting pews in a church is a hindrance rather than a help to its effectiveness." The affirmative side was supported by P. J. Howley and Miss Gladys Merril, while the negative side found champions in H. M. Stout and Miss Gladys Shaw. S. A. Worrell presided and the decision was given in favor of the affirmative.

Premature Report. According to a despatch in the afternoon papers of yesterday the winter passenger rush to St. John is commencing early. C. P. R. officials and others interested were surprised to read that three special trains were on the way from Montreal to this port with 1000 passengers for the steamers leaving here. W. B. Howard when asked last evening about the despatch said it must be a mistake as the C. P. R. officials here had received no word of the specials, and as there is no boat sailing from St. John inside of a week there would be no need of special trains at this time. The Christmas passenger rush is, however, expected to be very heavy.

Card of Thanks. Mr. and Mrs. John MacCracken, 171 Chesley street, wish to thank their many friends for their kindness in their recent sad bereavement.

Notice. D. Boyaner's Sons wish to announce that they will carry on the optical business of their late father, under the same name, that of D. Boyaner, at 38 Dock street. The public is assured of the same careful attention in the future as before.

J. Sutton Clark and wife, of St. George, N. B., were in the city yesterday.

DR. TORREY ASKS PEOPLE

WHAT THEY ARE WAITING FOR

Evangelist Discusses Reasons Why There is Hesitation in Coming to Christ--No Need to Wait for Feeling or Conviction--Large Audience Moved by Earnest Appeal.

"What are you waiting for?" was the question addressed by Dr. Torrey to a large audience in the Queens rink last evening.

Social engagements, business plans, political discussions, he said, "were keeping many men and women from Christ." He told of a girl who had lost her soul because she waited to attend one more card party, of a politician who refused to accept Christ because his friends told him that he would lose his election if he did, and of a business man who refused to be converted because he could not carry on his business and be a Christian.

Some people, he said, are waiting for a feeling. "A woman once came to me in one of our missions and said, 'I want to be a Christian.' I said, 'Become one now.' She said, 'How?' I said, 'It is just as simple as it is to walk down.' 'Oh, but,' she said, 'I don't feel any better.' I said, 'Of course you don't. You haven't done the thing to make you feel better.' 'But all the other folks talk about their joy,' she said. 'Then let us get down and pray,' I said. When we had prayed, I said, 'Now it is too late to confess Christ publicly in the meeting, for the people have nearly all gone, but you confess Christ the first chance you get.' 'But I don't feel any better,' she said. 'I did not suppose you would,' I said. 'You have not gone far enough yet. You must confess Christ before the world, and then the joy and peace will come to you.'

Wait For Conviction. The next day when I went to the town hall, before I went on to the platform to address the business men's meeting, I received a note from this lady, which said: 'Oh, Dr. Torrey, I feel so grateful to you; I am so happy. Fifteen minutes after leaving the hall last night I had all the joy I could contain. When I got outside I met my brother, and went home with him; and on the way I told him that I had given myself to Christ; and as I told him, the joy came into my heart, and has been there ever since.' Other people are waiting for conviction of sin. They feel that they cannot come to Christ because they have not shed tears and are not overwhelmed with the burden of sin. I like to see conviction of sin, but there is no passage in the whole Bible that says you have got to feel sorry before you are saved.

I have seen people very sorry over their sins; they just weep and weep, and then go right out and do the same thing again for which they have professed to be sorry. I have known people just as stupid as a man could be, but they turned from their sin and took Christ in cold blood, as it were, and God kept His word and saved them. And He will keep His promise tonight. On one occasion in Chicago I went to preach for a Baptist minister. In the second meeting I sat down by a man and his wife, aged about forty years, and I said to him, 'Why are you not a Christian?' He said, 'I would like to be; I hope to be a Christian some day. My father was a Baptist minister, and my mother is one of the best women that ever lived on earth.' 'Well,' I said, 'come right now.' He said, 'I want to.' I said, 'Then why don't you?' He said, 'I have not got the right kind of feeling.' I said, 'What do you think is the right kind of feeling?' He said, 'I don't feel sorry for my sins. Don't you think a man ought to have conviction of sin?' I said, 'I think you ought, but I do not read in my Bible anything that says a man has to feel sorry to be saved. My Bible says, 'Turn from sin and take Christ.' My Bible says, 'Receive Christ.' 'As many as received Him—not to as many as wept over their sin—as many as received Him to them gave He power to become sons of God.' Don't you know you are a sinner?' I said. 'I know I am a sinner,' he said, 'but I don't feel it.' I said, 'Don't you know that Jesus Christ is your Saviour?' 'Yes,' he said. 'Don't you know it would be the best thing you could do to take Him as your Saviour?' 'Yes, I do.' Then I said, 'Take Him as your Saviour now.' He said, 'Without feeling sorry?' I said, 'Never mind the feeling. Will you take Him?' He said, 'I have not any feeling.'

Every Day Illustrations. "What business are you in?" he said, "I am in the real estate business." I said, "Suppose that I should come down to your office tomorrow morning and offer to sell you a corner lot for five thousand dollars, and you know it was a lot that you could sell in twenty-four hours for ten thousand dollars, but, for some reason or other, you didn't feel like buying it—Would you buy it?" He said, "I would buy it quick, feeling or no feeling." "My friend," I said, "show the same commonsense in religion that you do in business. Don't you know it would be the best paying investment you could make to take Jesus Christ as your Saviour?" He said, "Yes, I do." Will you do it then, feeling or no feeling?" He said, "Is that all?" I said, "That is all to start with." "Then," he said, "I will do it." I said, "Will you kneel down and seal the bargain right now?" He said, "Yes, I do," and he and his wife took Christ. I went back to that church in a few months, and that man had come along so finely that they had made him a trustee of the church.

Men and women, Christ is a Saviour. God offers Him to you; you take Him and it is done. Feeling or no feeling, will you take Him tonight?

There was a merry gathering at No. 1 Hose Company Rooms on Charlotte street last evening, when the members of the company, with some friends assembled to do honor to Frederick Kee, ex-foreman of the company, who retired some months ago.

Harry McBeath, the present foreman, presided. Selections on the bag pipes were given by Mr. Ross. A sketch by Messrs. McCloskey and Stack, recitations by Roy Harding, E. Atchison, A. McBeath and J. Nuttal. Songs were sung by Ald. F. Potts, Joseph Matthews, Wm. Ross, W. Evans, and a musical selection given by Messrs. Causton and Crossley. Speeches were made by Aldermen Sprout, Potts, Vanwart, J. E. Dinmore and others.

During the evening Chief John Kerr of the department, called Mr. Kee to the front and on behalf of the company presented him with an address and a gold initialed ring. Mr. Kee was for years a foreman of No. 1 Company and in presenting the gift, Chief Kerr spoke of his excellent ability. The American schooner Nellie Eaton, Captain Hatton, laden with fertilizer, reached port yesterday morning from Boston, with her flag at half mast. Captain Hatton reports that he sailed from Boston Wednesday morning at 3:30 o'clock. When about 60 miles from Boston, Boone Island, bearing W. N. W., ten miles, Charles Britt, seaman was drowned. At the time of the accident the wind was blowing strong from the northwest with a heavy sea running. Captain Hatton ran his vessel off in order to haul down the flag. Men were sent to do the work and they succeeded in furling the sails. Britt was advised not to assist, and shortly afterwards fell overboard. The vessel seems to have gone over him. The unfortunate man was only seen once, about 300 yards astern, with his hands up. The vessel was put about, and Captain Hatton and men did everything possible that could be done, but Britt had disappeared. Charles Britt was about 22 years old, and belonged to Calais, Me. He was a brother of Captain Britt, of the American schooner Orizimbo, now in port.
