NEW KILTIES OF SCOTCH BLOOD ONLY

"Sir Sam's Own" New Brunswick Kilties to be Favorite Unit

We have received a copy of No. 1 Battalion orders of the New Brunswick Kilties—Sir Sam's Own, Lt. Col. Guthrie, issued May 25th and just made public, giving details of plans for recruiting, organizing and equipping the unit.

It is to be recruited out of the blood of Scotland in New Brunswick. Headquarters—old Government House, Fredericton.

Honorary Colonels—Sir Max Aitken, Baronet, and Col. H. H. McLean.

Patrons—Hon. J. D. and Mrs. Hazen. All officers to be chosen from men who have seen service at the front.

The men to wear kilts (clan MacLean tartan), with tam-o-shanter with raven wing feather, those worn by men who have seen service to be tipped with red, representing the blood of the King's enemies.

There will be 100 pipers and no other music will be tolerated in the battalion.

Mascots—a Highland Scotch ram and a collie shepherd dog from Scotland.

A daily journal will be kept, recording the doings of the battalion, and to be published weekly and called The Breath of the Heather.

Photographs of all members to be kept in an album with records of their promotions, etc.

The province is divided into districts, one company for each; No. 3 company to be recruited in Gloucester, Northumberland, Kent and Westmorland, one platoon in each.

An officer for each platoon will be chosen from among men who have seen service at the front and claim as birthplace or residence the county which the platoon is recruited.

The Scottish societies are asked to provide funds for the pipers.

As kilts are not provided by the Government, but must be provided from the battalion fund, men of means are asked to supply an outfit for one or more, the soldiers so outfitted to be their representatives at the front and be required to correspond with them regularly.

Five meetings will be held in the five largest centres of population.

On the top of the five highest summits in New Brunswick will be built trestles on the top of which will be piled bundles of fagots saturated with oil.

At eight o'clock on the day set these will be ignited, and in the meetings where the people are assembled there will appear, clothed in MacLean Tartan, a Scotch lassie, who will recite—"Light, light the fire on Craig-gowan Height." Immediately upon the close of the recitation there will come to the ears of the listeners the music of the bagpipes from a section of the band assembled near the building. At the same time there will start from different points in the province, so as to make a complete tour of the territory, men on motor cycles, bearing a flaming torch.

The above idea is to carry out the method of notifying the clans of Scotland, in the years ago, that their country was in danger.

NORTH STAR LODGE

DECORATION DAY

Oddfellows Marched to Cemetery and Decorate Graves of Departed Brothers

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon, the members of North Star Lodge, I. O. O. F. No. 48 met at the lodge rooms and then headed by the Campbellton band, marched to the Rural Cemetery, where the graves of departed brethren were duly decorated. The family lot of the parents of Capt. H. W. Ferguson were also decorated in remembrance to the late Capt. Ferguson. Judge Bolton made a very touching reference to the departed brother on the field of battle and stated that at about the same hour his grave in France was being honored in a similar manner.

The floral tributes were beautiful and the lodge wishes to thank all those who so kindly donated flowers for this purpose.

DEUTSCHLAND IS MAKING HER WAY TOWARD OPEN SEA

Newport News, Va., August 2.—The German merchant submarine Deutschland was sighted off Tangier Sound at six o'clock this morning. She was still heading toward the Lower Bay at a high rate of speed. Tangier Sound is about 75 miles above the Cape.

WAVE OF CRIME SWEEPS CAMPBELLTON

Clergymen, Town Officials, Merchants and Citizens Generally Arrested

Judging by police court business of Friday afternoon and evening, the citizens of Campbellton have become utterly demoralized. Every type of citizen was represented, and in all cases the offence was proved and a fine imposed.

Judge MacKenzie, who presided, was a very busy magistrate, and many record breaking convictions were rendered, serious charges proved and fines collected in the brief space of two minutes. In fact the prisoners came along so quickly that at times there were at least a dozen in line waiting their turn.

The police force, augmented by twelve stalwart officers attired in white, with white caps, and white buttons, had three or four police ambulances requisitioned from the auto owners to assist in carrying unruly prisoners to the presence of the august judge. All classes of criminals were dealt with in a very summary manner.

A town official, and one who is supposed to be wealthy enough to buy his strawberries and cream, was accused and found guilty of stealing strawberries from the door step of the poor newspaper publisher. Needless to say he was promptly fined and when complained of the amount of the fine, he was fined an additional amount for contempt of court.

A well known real estate dealer was arrested for being drunk and disorderly, and upon being fined, refused to pay up. After third degree methods, he dug down and found coin enough to satisfy the judge.

A prominent lawyer was arrested for beating his wife and after a severe lecture from the judge, and a fine imposed and collected, he was allowed to go upon his bond not to again commit the offence.

A furniture dealer, who is also somewhat of a breeder of fancy fowl, was up for keeping a disorderly hen house. Considering the enormity of the offence he got off easily by paying a fine of a dollar.

A young man was arrested for wearing a bow tie, and after a few words about proper taste in dress from Her Honor, was permitted to go upon paying a fine of fifty cents.

Flirting with the police, resisting the police, drunk and disorderly, a German spy and many such offences were speedily dealt with.

Altogether about two hundred cases were tried, and over $70.00 in fines collected, which amount was handed over to the ladies of the Women's Institute for Red Cross purposes.

INDIA'S HEART IS WITH THE EMPIRE

London, July 31.—A special despatch from Simla, India, says:—"Through India war work continues energetically, the keenest interest being taken in its progress. The British offensive is being watched with delight by all classes."

"The Central Imperial Relief Fund's balance at the end of June was sixty-six lakhs of rupees. Thirty-eight lakhs of rupees have already been spent, including twenty-two paid the families of soldiers at the front, and expended in donations to disabled men and heirs of deceased soldiers. The provincial branches of the fund also possess twenty-lakhs and the Madras war fund and provincial fund and Bombay's women's branch, also possess about eighty lakhs."

"The steady flow of comforts and presents also continue. Among the latest gifts are 35,000 rupees from the people of Aden for an aeroplane. The Nawabs and Loharu and Dufans have loaned a number of camels for war service, and the Thakur Sahib of Limbri has given two machine guns."

CORNER STONE OF NEW CHURCH LAID IN BATHURST

A., of Redbank. The address was given by Rev. James Ross, of St. John, Supt. of Home Missions. Rev. W. McN. Matthews, of Bathurst, presided. The Methodist minister, Rev. F. A. Wightman, assisted. The new edifice will be of brick and will cost about $20,000.

LOOKING FOR A VICTIM HERE

Premier Clark, Organier Harry Woods, B. Hachey, M. L. A. Here Recently

Campbellton was honored last week with a visit from Premier Clarke, Hon. Dr. Landry and Messrs. B. Hachey, M. L. A. of Gloucester and Harry Woods government organizer.

They came up from Chatham on the Limited and were met by a number of the faithful. They left again Friday morning.

Arthur Culligan, M. L. A. and D. A. Stewart, M. L. A. were closeted with the distinguished visitors and it is said earnestly talked over the political situation.

It is further stated that the Premier has offered the portfolio of Public Works to Restigouche upon a positive guarantee that the seat can be won.

This was a hard matter to decide and we understand that the local government party here feel no more confident than they did in Westmorland, and hesitated about advising a by-election here.

It is currently stated that the same proposition was made to a Chatham man in respect to Northumberland, but no positive decision was arrived at.

It begins to appear as if the government were afraid to open up any constituency, and that a general election will be announced shortly.

132ND BATTALION MAKES GOOD APPEARANCE

When Reviewed by Governor of Quebec Recently, Were Loudly Applauded

Valcartier Camp, P. Q., July 28th, 1916.

Dear Editor:—No doubt the public of New Brunswick will be pleased to hear of the splendid showing made by the 132nd Battalion at the Review by the Lieutenant Governor of Quebec at Valcartier Camp on the 27th July. The 132nd held the place of honor of the Infantry Battalions, being in the first Brigade, commanded by Colonel H. H. McLean, M. P. The 132nd boys were the first that "Marched Past" at the Saluting Point. As the North Shore boys approached the Saluting Point there was great clapping and cheering. The marching of the boys was splendid.

The Battalion expects to be moving for Overseas in a few weeks.

To-day the boys are completing their Range practice with the exception of those who are away on leave. There are very few Absentees and it is trusted that these will return before the Battalion starts overseas.

Nightly lectures are given by Staff Officers for the benefit of the Officers of this Battalion.

The health of the troops is good.

HAWKING A PORTFOLIO

When over two months ago the people of New Brunswick, through the electors of Westmorland notified the provincial government that they had lost confidence in the present administration of public affairs, and refused to elect P. G. Mahoney as Chief Commissioner of Public Works, it was expected that Mr. Mahoney would gracefully retire to private life and that Premier Clarke would name another member for the honorable and responsible position.

But now, after a lapse of two months, we find that Mr. Mahoney, a private citizen, is transacting the public business contrary to all rules of responsible government.

We also see the sorry spectacle of the Premier of the province and a number of colleagues travelling from county to county, endeavoring to find the right constituency to open to fill this important portfolio. Last week they visited Northumberland and Restigouche, but received little encouragement.

The probability of a local election is greater today than a month ago, and it looks very much as if the plunge will be taken early this fall.

Throughout the whole province both government and opposition forces are being organized and candidates named. The opposition, greatly strengthened by large numbers of the best thinking electors, who formerly supported the Flemming government, but who would not stand for the carnival of graft and hoodluming as revealed by the various commissions, have come out openly for clean government, feel confident that they will sweep the province as has been done in Manitoba. It is certainly time for a change.

THE HAY CROP

Because the hay crop this year is above the average, it is unwise to run away with the idea that it is going to be cheap next winter. The chances are that it will not be anything of the kind. There will be almost as great a demand for hay in Europe for the next twelve months as there has been for the last. The crop in England was a very heavy one, and promised well, but a long spell of wet weather has made it very difficult for farmers with the shortage of labor with which they have to contend, to harvest it in good shape. Much of it has been entirely spoiled, and those farmers who have sown have been advised to quit trying to make hay, but to turn their crop into ensilage. In view of these facts, Canadian hay will find a good market across the water, and farmers should not be in too great a hurry to assume that the abundant supply in this country will necessarily make the market price unusually low.—Commercial.

THE GREATER LENIENCY

The Ontario holocaust, the New York explosion and the terrific heat wave have caused a toll of death and destruction heavy enough to divide attention even with the European war. Latest advices place the Ontario deaths at 240 and the property loss will run to millions. During its twenty days' duration the heat wave was responsible directly for no less than 325 deaths, and indirectly for 302 others, occasioned fully 2,600 serious cases.

es of prostration and killed upwards of 700 horses. Fortunately the loss of life in the New York explosion was not great, but a property damage of $25,000,000 is serious enough to cause a very insistent demand for greater precaution in the handling of explosives. Lenient as American towns, municipalities and states may be in regard to regulations about the handling of dangerous explosives, there are few who will care to dispute that greater leniency has been shown in the general attitude toward those who, under the guise of neutrality and friendship, have wrecked munition factories in many states, regardless of life or property.—Globe.

PROCLAMATION!

BY HIS HONOR JOSIAH WOOD, D.C.L., LL.D., LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF THE PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

WHEREAS the 4th of August, 1916, is the second anniversary of the declaration of war by Great Britain, and Whereas it has been proposed by the Central Committee for National Patriotic Organizations, with the approval of the British Government, that public meetings be held throughout the Empire on that day, at which the following Resolution should be passed—

"That on this the second anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this Meeting of the citizens of . . . records its inflexible determination to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of those ideals of Liberty and Justice, which are the common and sacred cause of the Allies."

AND WHEREAS the Executive Council of this Province has passed an Order-in-Council authorizing a Proclamation to issue requiring the assembling of the people together on that day for said purpose, We therefore hereby request and enjoin that all loyal citizens throughout the Province do meet on said 4th day of August and pass the said Resolution, and in view of the gravity of the situation, and the solemnity of the occasion, the day be also observed by holding meetings of a religious and intercessory, as well as Patriotic character.

GIVEN under my hand and seal at Fredericton, the twenty-fourth day of July in the year of our Lord One thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and in the Seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

BY COMMAND OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

THE FOURTH OF AUGUST.

If public gatherings of any kind or sort on the fourth of August can be made to help recruiting, the Patriotic Fund, the Red Cross, or any national endeavor, there need be no other justification for such gatherings. Whether held or not held, the main feature of any observance of the day, which marks the beginning of the third year of the war, should be the holding of services of prayer and intercession in all our churches, so that the greatest possible number of our people will be given opportunity to engage in prayer for our cause, our country and our country's brave defenders. Remembrance of the two years that have passed into history calls for most devout thanks to the Almighty for His manifold mercies, and the fourth of August will be most fitting time for devout supplication to the Supreme Ruler for His blessing and assistance in bringing the war to an end, and in restoring goodwill among the nations.—Globe.

TO PREVENT MOOSE

DESTROYING CROPS A farmer near Doaktown has conceived a simple and effective means of keeping game animals out of his oats. He has stretched a wire about breast high along that side of his field adjoining the forest, attaching this single wire to the fence post by means of loose staples. Here and there along this wire he has hung empty cans and in one place an old circular saw and some pieces of metal. When this wire is disturbed the noise is indeed alarming. Suffice to say that he has never been bothered with moose since he erected this simple arrangement. The reader will no doubt have already guessed where this farmer got his idea when he recalls the tin cans hung on the barbed wire entanglements at the front.—Chatham World.

CONFIDING IN THE TELEPHONE

A new use for the trouble department of a telephone office has been discovered. The telephone officednan, News reports it in these words: "The family had not had their telephone very long, and everyone took a deep and abiding interest in it. On the outside of the directory they had noted the words, 'Trouble, call No. 4217.' It had been a hard morning, and everything had gone wrong. Finally the lady of the house, in desperation, turned to her trusty telephone and called 4217."

"This is the trouble department," answered the operator sweetly. "Is this where you report your troubles?" asked the lady.

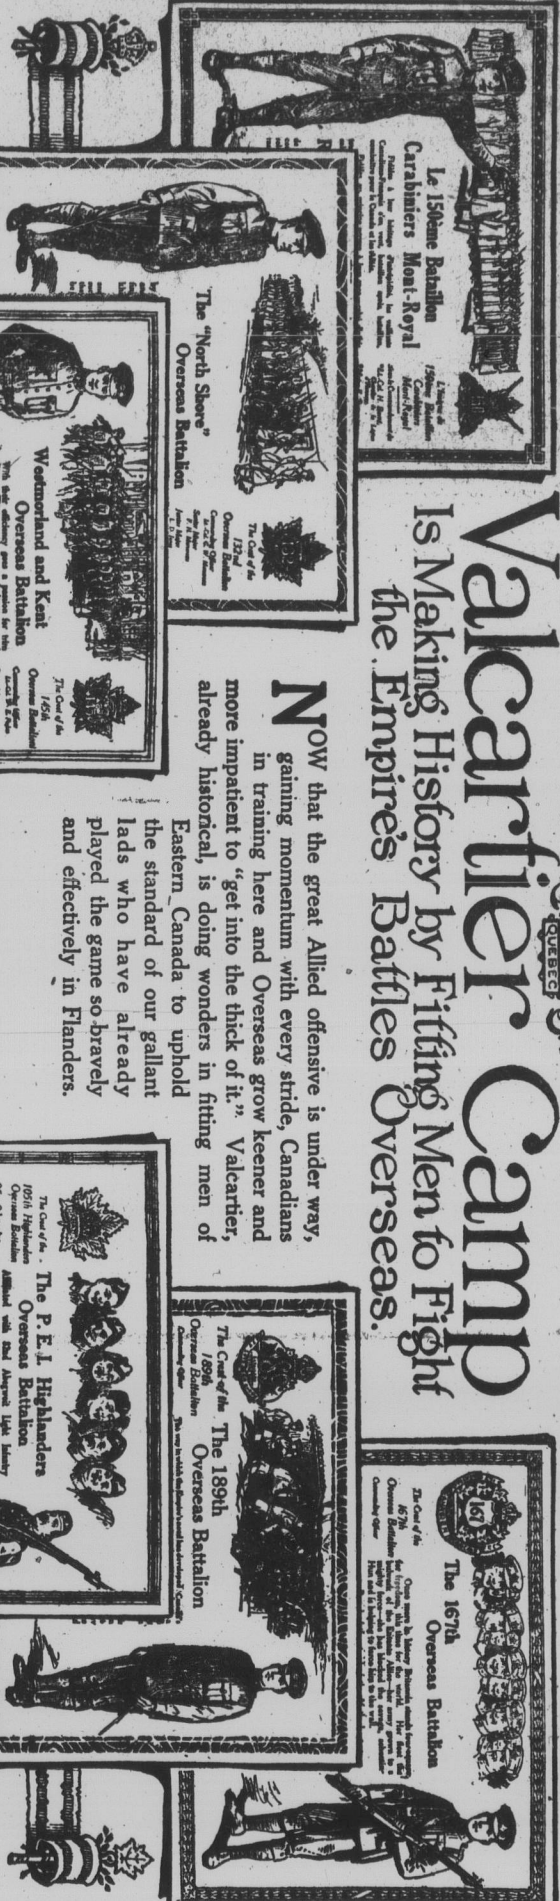

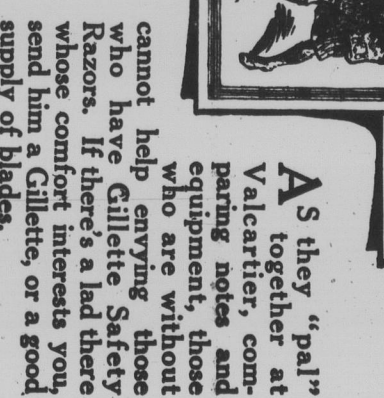

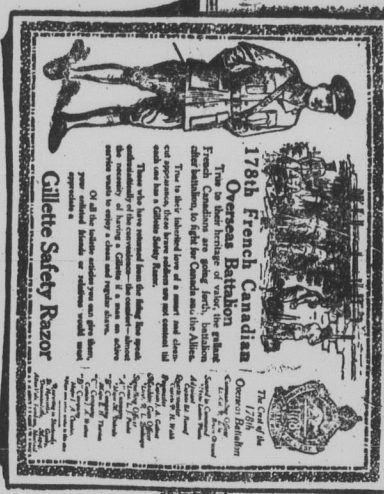

"Yes, ma'am."

"Well, I only want to report that one of our dogs got drowned in the stream this morning; the baby is eating a new tooth; the cook left without warning; we are out of sugar and starch; the stovepipe fell down; the milkman left only a pint instead of a quart to-day;

As they "pal" together at Valcartier, comparing notes and equipment, those who are without cannot help envying those who have Gillette Safety Razors. If there's a lad there send him a Gillette, or a good supply of blades.

IN training camps—at the back of the "Front"—even in the first-line trenches, the Gillette is helping thousands of our gallant officers and men to maintain their usual standards of personal cleanliness.

NOW that the great Allied offensive is under way, gaining momentum with every stride, Canadians in training here and Overseas grow keener and more impatient to "get into the thick of it." Valcartier, already historical, is doing wonders in fitting men of Eastern Canada to uphold the standard of our gallant lads who have already played the game so bravely and effectively in Flanders.

QUEBEC VILLAGE IS THREATENED BY A GREAT FIRE

Quebec, Aug. 2.—A great conflagration broke out this morning about 5 o'clock, at Ste. Anne De La Paquette, and now threatens to destroy the whole village. It originated in the shops adjoining the College, and soon spread to other buildings in the vicinity. These shops and the convent of the Sisters of the Holy Family were totally destroyed.

A few hours later, the flames attacked the college itself, destroying the new wing. A southeast wind drove the flames towards the village, and the people had nothing but small chemical extinguishers to fight them. The Catholic Church, the Convent of the Sisters of Charity and the Agricultural School are situated near the college, but it is expected they can be saved from destruction.

The fire was discovered by the Rev. Leonie Pelletier, one of the priests of the college. There only a few priests in the college when the fire broke out, and they escaped easily. There was no loss of life at the convent of the Sisters of the Holy Family, which is a mass of ruins.

BRITISH STILL GAIN GROUND

London, Aug. 2.—British troops are still grappling in hand to hand combats with Germans around Pozieres, but are gaining, according to General Sir Douglas Haig's report from the front to-day.

During the night the British Commander-in-Chief said additional progress had been made along hostile trenches east of Pozieres. There, he said, "fighting is in close quarters between small detachments, and is still in progress."

The text of the British official statement follows:

"Last night some further progress was made east of Pozieres, where fighting at close quarters by small detachments has been in progress."

"Hostile counter-attacks delivered after dark yesterday evening against our new trenches to the west of High Wood failed to get through our artillery fire."

arm while engaged in the relief work. The Lewis fire brigade was sent for, but it had not yet arrived at noon. Many families whose residences are located around the college, had begun to carry out their furniture.

RAILWAY CAR HIT AUTOMOBILE

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 31.—An automobile driven by David Roland, of Viola, Delaware, was struck at a crossing by a Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto railway car, Saturday afternoon, and as a result two women, Mrs. David Roland and Miss Sadie Roland, are dead and another badly injured. The rear end of the automobile was caught and the tonneau, with its eight occupants was hurled 25 feet against a fence.

BRITISH ADVANCE POSITIONS AGAIN

LONDON, July 31.—As the result of local encounters in the region of the River Somme the British troops last night advanced their posts at some points on the plateau to the north of the town of Bazentin-le-Petit. It was officially announced this afternoon. The statement says:

"Last night was spent in improving the positions gained yesterday. There were no further developments in the situation."

PARIS, July 31 (noon).—North of the Somme yesterday evening and last night the Germans redoubled their counter-attacks between Hem Wood and Monaca Farm, says the official statement issued this afternoon by the French war department. The struggle was especially severe round Monaca Farm, where the Germans got a footing for a moment, but were immediately driven back.

At Hem Wood all the German assaults were repulsed by French counter-attacks. At the same time the French batteries on the left bank of the Somme, the statement continues, infiltrated the German troops, inflicting great losses.

On the left bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun sector, a German attack on the northeast side of Hill 304 failed. On the right bank of the Meuse the French progressed slightly in the region southwest of Fleury.

CIVILIANS HELD TO BE EXCHANGED

Berlin, (via London), July 31.—There is a strong possibility that the question of interned civilians will be partially settled shortly, by a decision to exchange all those over 45 years old. It is thought that those between 45 and 50 will be released, contingent upon their unfitness for active service.

BAD REAR-END COLLISION ON C. G. R.

Freight Runs Into Special and Does Considerable Damage to Rolling Stock

A bad rear end collision occurred on the C.G.R. about 4.30 o'clock Saturday night, at Gloucester Junction, but fortunately no one was injured. It appears that extra No. 274, with Conductor McWilliams, of Moncton, in charge, and Driver Herb McDonald, also of Moncton, at the throttle struck No. 93 at the south switch. The van and a flat car on extra No. 93 were considerably damaged and derailed. The engine of 274 was turned crosswise of the track and five cars were badly damaged. Moncton, Newcastle and Campbellton Wrecking crews were sent out, but the spill was of such a nature that the line was not clear until 5 o'clock Sunday morning. In consequence of the wreck, all trains, including soldier specials, were delayed five to ten hours. A number of telegraph poles were broken, and some little time was consumed in effecting repairs, the telegraphic business being interfered with for a short time as a result of the broken lines.

GERMANY MUST REPAIR DAMAGE SHE HAS CAUSED

Two married women were having a chat, and, as usual, the conversation veered around to the expense of living.

"It's really awful how the rise in prices has affected us," said one, sadly.

"Why, do you know that my bills for clothes this year exactly double what they were last year?"

"Goodness!" gasped the other. "I don't see how your husband can afford it."

"He can't," replied the first calmly.

"But, then, he couldn't afford it last year, so what's the difference?"

DEATH OF HARRY LANIGAN

Harry J. Lanigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keady Lanigan of Rexton, N. B., passed away at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert McKinnon, at Richibucto, Wednesday, July 19th, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Lanigan was born in Richibucto about 44 years ago, and was very highly esteemed.
He lived for some time at Richibucto,
and a few years ago went to Jacquet River, and then to Shives Athol, where he held a position with the Shives Lumber Company. Being in failing health, he, with his wife, came to Richibucto, a short time ago, in hopes that his health would be restored, but he gradually weakened. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Janie McKinnon of Richibucto, one son Louis, and three daughters, Frances, Katie and Greta. Also his parents, two brothers, Louis and Frank, in Nova Scotia, and four sisters, Rev. Sister Marciana of Dakota; Rev. Sister Ligenia in Alberta, and Misses Stella and Emma at home. The funeral was held Friday were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Richibucto.—Times.

The late Mr. Lanigan and family were favorably known at Jacquet River, where Mr. Lanigan was employed with the Louison Lumber Company in the capacity of yard foreman, and much regret is expressed at his sudden demise. Mrs. Lanigan and family have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends, in this, their sad hour of trial.

ment, landing at the river bank over a hundred feet below. There were three persons in the car, but strange to relate, none were injured, and the Ford car landed on her wheels, and although badly bruised, will be ready for business in a week or two.

The scene of the accident was above
St. Alexis. The old road passed over a stream by a high bridge. This bridge has been replaced by a new one lower down. The road has a number of turns and the driver failed to notice that the old road had not been travelled upon and ran down and over the embankment.

Fortunately there was a thick growth of small spruce trees, which broke off easily, but eased the car down the steep grade until, near the bottom,
when a large tree was encountered.
Here the Ford was brought to a standstill and the passengers alighted to view the damage.

Help was summoned and the auto loaded upon a flat car and was sent to the garage here for repairs.

132ND'S HANDSOME

COLORS ON VIEW

Work of I. O. D. E. Crowned With Success

The colors of the 132nd Battalion which arrived Wednesday were on exhibition in the Town hall yesterday in charge of members of the I. O. D. E.
The colors are of a very handsome design and most beautifully worked, and all who saw them were most enthusiastic over the good work that the ladies had carried through so successfully.

There are, of course, the King's color and the Regimental color, to make the set, each one made entirely of silk and gold lace and all the work done by hand.

The King's colors is formed of a large Union Jack in the centre of which appears the regimental number 132 and surrounding this are the words
"North Shore O. S. Battalion, New Brunswick."

The Regimental color has a deep blue field with a small Jack in the upper corner, while in the centre set on a green maple leaf are a crown and the descriptive phraseology as on the King's color, but with the word "Canada" in addition.

Both flags have very handsome stuffs and cords, the staff surmounted, and surmounting in turn a gold crown of fleur de lis and Maltese cross design.

YOUNG LAD DROWNED

AT POINT LA GARDE

A sad drowning took place Monday at Point la Garde, the victim being Earl McEwan, aged 12 years.

McEwan and a young son of Mr. J.
Sowerby were playing on the beach.
They attempted to wade out to a row boat anchored off shore. Sowerby turned back, but McEwan kept on and was taken off his feet by a light sea, and although he could swim a little, he was carried out of reach. Sowerby ran ashore and got a piece of a pole, but it was too short. He then ran to the home of Robert Dickie and Roger Dickie ran at once to the spot, and after considerable effort recovered the body, which had been in the water about 10 minutes, but life was extinct.

Mrs. McEwan, mother of the unfortunate lad lives in Boston, while he has been living at the home of Mr.
Robt. Dickie. He was a bright boy and the sympathy of all goes out to the mother and relatives in their sudden bereavement.

ENGLISH PURE AND UNDEFILED

By HOPE DARING

"You know she's a widow woman and lives—"

"Oh, Jasper!"

"Eh! What is it?" Jasper Dunning asked, looking into the face of the girl who shared the road wagon seat with him.

Margaret caught her breath. It might hurt him, but what he had just said hurt her. Would it do any good? She looked reflectively along the country road that stretched away in front of them. Over the trees, maple, brave in their green livery of early summer, threw long, cool shadows. Her silence was so long continued that Jasper repeated, this time a little sharply—

"What is it?"

"Did you ever hear of a widow who was not a woman?"

"What an idea! I don't get you."

"Oh, please do not say 'git.' And the other is such a colloquialism! If you say a woman is a widow, that's enough."

Jasper drew up on the lines until his spirited bays reared. When he had quieted them he asked: "What is a colloquialism? I don't get it."

Briefly, Margaret explained. "To use good English, Jasper, means so much. It's the mark of a gentleman. Strangers judge us by our language."

"See here, Margaret. Before you went away to college I talked good 'nough for you," he blurted.

The girl's eyes met his; she was conscientiously honest, even with herself. "It always annoyed me a little, but I had heard people talk in that way all my life. Not until I went to Gorton did I come to see just what such things mean," she said.

"I wish you'd never gone. You see, I didn't so much mind waitin', 'cause I planned to fix up the farm so it'd be a good 'nough home for you. But then two years spoiled you. I wish you'd never gone."

The reiteration of the wish made Margaret forget the grammatical lapses that had preceded it. Never seen Gorton? Never come in contact with that scholarly, progressive phase of life which she had determined should dominate her future? Even if she did teach a primary grade in a village school, Margaret had resolved that not only her own life, but all lives that touched hers, should be sweeter and stronger because of those two years at Gorton!

The silence endured so long that Jasper thought the victory was his. With a superior smile he said, "It doesn't matter."

"Why could he not have said 'doesn't'?" Margaret's brown eyes flashed.

"It does matter to me and to all who care for really good things," she declared. "And if you cared for me, Jasper, you'd try to please me, especially when I'm wholly in the right. Why, I would be ashamed to have Prof. Larned hear you talk—sometimes."

That last word was added almost desperately when she saw the color fade from Jasper's face. Before he could reply they were at the gate of the village home where Margaret boarded. A half dozen young men and girls who were sitting on the verandah came trooping down the walk to meet them, laughing, talking, making plans for the evening.

Those plans were so well carried out that Jasper had no opportunity for further words with his betrothed. Even when, several hours later, he bade her good night, Alice Marr stood only a few feet away, waiting for Margaret to join her.

"Shamed to have that professor hear me talk!" Jasper said to himself as he rode home under the calm stars. "I suppose I could do a little better, but I ain't agoin' to stand it to be ragged all the time."

At that same hour, Margaret was crying softly, her head on the window sill. To go through life blushing for a husband's mistakes, ashamed to have people hear him talk—could she do it? Could she hold fast to her own ideals if she were Jasper's wife? In the years to come, if children should be theirs, how could she teach them a right if her teaching plainly put their father in the wrong?

For three days she pondered those questions. Then she did two things—she promised the school board that she would teach another year and she wrote a note which ran:

"Dear Jasper:

"There has been no change in my feelings. I love you, but I cannot be happy with a man who disregards the things I hold essential. Therefore I must take back my promise to be your wife."

"Sincerely yours, 'Margaret.'"

Jasper made no reply to the note, no effort to see Margaret. A month went by. The cessation of his visits proved to their friends that the engagement had been broken. He began to hear rumors of the many letters she was receiving from one of the Gorton college professors. When, on overtaking Jane Harris plodding along in the rain, Jasper took her home, the story was repeated to Margaret so many times that she became convinced that it was a matter of daily occurrence.

The Grange picnic came early in July. For years Jasper had taken Margaret.

"I'll not go this time," he decided. "Everybody would look and smile, even if they did not say anything. 'Th work in the harvest field.'"

He found his task a wearisome one. Recollections of past joys crowded on him. Suddenly he stood off, resolving to go to the farm 'wood lot. It was there, in the shadow of a grove of birches that grew on the bank of a stream, that he had told Margaret of his love. There had been little need of words; his face and his acts had proclaimed his devotion, yet the telling and her response had been wondrously sweet. Since that day the spot under the birches had been a shrine to him.

"She never loved me, though," he thought, as, entering the dim, cool woods, he slackened his pace. "If she'd really loved me, how I talked wouldn't have made any difference."

Just then he came in sight of the birches, and Margaret, seated on the ground her dark head leaning against a tree's silvery brown trunk. A breeze stirred the branches, and the waving mosaic of light and shade that fell across her face showed that she had been crying. As if, in some vague way, aware of his presence, she lifted her eyes, and their gaze met.

It was but a moment that each looked into the other's eyes. Yet the fragment of time was long enough to enable each of them to glance ahead, seeing dimly what the future might hold for them estranged.

"Life devoted to an ideal might be noble and inspiring, but it would be desolate," Margaret said to herself. "Split infinitives, plural subjects with a single verb, even widow woman—why, they are nothing compared to a lonely life, and Jane Harris, smirking, because she has won him. I'll be proud of his real worth and think of the other as little as I can."

As for Jasper, he compressed his lips. "It don't matter. Or should I say doesn't? I'm blamed if I can tell, but maybe I can learn. It's sure I'll have to be nagged all my life, but 'scent' as how she will be the nagger, I'll make no fuss. And that college feller might as well know he ain't in this."

Neither of the lovers thought of the word compromise, but both were swayed by the idea the word represents. Margaret sprang to her feet, her face tender and wistful, while Jasper hurried forward to hold her in his arms.

At the annual prize day the head boy rose to give his recitations. "Friends, Romans, countrymen," he vociferated; "lend me your ears."

"There," commented the mother of a defeated pupil, sneeringly; "that's Mrs. Jones' boy. He wouldn't be his mother's son if he didn't want to borrow something."

Della—So Matthew is to marry Miss Corbridge? He's much too young for her, don't you think?

Emily—Oh, he'll be rapidly enough after he's married.

"Doctor, my brother stepped in a hole and wrenched his knee, and now he limps. What would you do in a case like that?"

"I'm afraid I should limp, too!"

Tattered Tim—I've been trampin' four years, ma'am, an' it's all 'cause I heard the doctors recommend walkin' as the best exercise. Mrs. Prim—Well, the doctors are right. Walk along.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is a well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Your son may see this. Write and tell him you were there praying for him.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES A. McNAUGHTON

The death of Mrs. Jas. A. McNaughton occurred Tuesday evening at the Hotel Dieu Hospital. The deceased, who was in her 42nd year, had not enjoyed the best of health for the past two years, and although her death was not unexpected, it nevertheless came as a great shock to her many friends. Few there were who enjoyed to a greater degree the respect and esteem of her acquaintances than the late Mrs. McNaughton. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted wife and mother a bereaved husband, now in France engaged upon one of the armored trains, and one son, Patrick, aged five years. She is also survived by her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Leary of this town; two sisters, Mrs. Wm. McClary of Greenview Junction, Me.; Mrs. McIsaac of Concord, N. H. and one brother, Arthur, residing in Groveton, N. H., but at present here. To the grief stricken family the heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out in this their hour of sore bereavement. The funeral will be held on Friday morning at the usual hour from her late residence, Gerrard street, Rev. Father Wallace officiating.

"SMOKE AND LIFTED FOG"
The peculiar dark yellowish tint of the sky on Saturday and Sunday is still a general topic throughout the country, and there have been many rumors regarding the cause. Reports state that the same conditions prevailed practically all over the provinces. When asked what he thought was the trouble, D. L. Hutchinson of St. John, of the government laboratory, said that it was a combination of smoke and lifted fog. The sun had been quite red on Saturday night, but he had not seen it continue so long as it did, and while there was no danger many people throughout the country were forced to use lamps to light the rooms in their houses during the morning, and some of them were badly frightened.

NO CHANGE IN PLANS FOR THE EXECUTION

Statement of Gavin Duffy, Casement's Solicitor.

London, Aug. 2.—Roger Casement's solicitor, Gavin Duffy, of Dublin, has not received word this morning of any change in the plans for the execution by hanging at nine o'clock, Thursday morning, of his client at Pentonville prison. Premier Asquith has received an extensively signed petition from Ireland, but beyond a formal acknowledgment, he has not further communicated with its originators. Casement, according to Solicitor Duffy, who sees the condemned man frequently, remains unconcerned. He no longer looks dejected or depressed. He eats well, favoring fruit and iced drinks.
