Store And Contents At River Charlo Destroyed In Early Morning Fire

R. C. CO-OPERATIVE CO. STORE AND CONTENTS BURNED TO GROUND TUESDAY MORNING

Loss of Store And Stock At River Charlo May Reach $15,000.—Alarm Given By Engineer of Passing Train Shortly After Midnight—Warehouse With Seed Grain Saved.

As a result of fire which broke out shortly after midnight on Monday, the large store of the River Charlo Co-operative Co. at River Charlo, about twenty-four miles from here was totally destroyed before the flames could be checked. An adjoining warehouse was saved.

Since its erection a few years ago this store which was owned by the River Charlo Building Co., composed of some twenty-five or more progressive farmers of that district, it has been occupied by the River Charlo Co-operative Company which was formerly known as the United Farmers. This company carried on a general merchandising business and as the building housed a large stock of the loss, although not definitely known is approximately estimated to exceed at least $15,000.

Trainsmen Saw Blaze.
The blaze was first noticed about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning by the engineer of a passing train and, due to his thoughtfulness, an alarm was given. The flames had made rapid progress however and the fire was too far advanced to be easily controlled, but had it not been for this timely warning the nearby warehouse would, in all probability, have been lost and several neighboring houses endangered by the blaze.

The entire stock of merchandise was destroyed. This consisted of dry goods, groceries, books and shoes, etc. The building which was also a total loss, was a two story structure with basement and was well equipped with necessary fixtures. The second story contained a spacious hall. A piano and other furniture was lost.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Mr. Edwin Cook of River Charlo who was manager of the store, for sometime, visited the store on Sunday evening and on his departure from the building left everything in order.

The salvation of the warehouse and its contents is considered most fortunate for it was stored a large quantity of seed grain, much of it belonging to neighboring farmers.

IS BIG TIMBER DEAL ON TAP

Gleener Says Frasers Companies Ltd Buying Local Interests.

The Frederick Gleener says:—"Frasers Companies, Limited, have a deal underway for the purchase of the interests in New Brunswick of Stetson-Cutler, Limited, which is controlled from Boston.

The principal factor in the deal is 1135 square miles of Crown Lands upon which the Stetson-Cutler interests hold the leases, but a large lumber and a single mill at Campbellton as well as a mill at St. John are also owned by the Stetson-Cutler Company.

So far as could be learned by The Graphic to-day the Stetson-Cutler Co. are not extensive holders of fee simple timber lands in New Brunswick. Their Crown Lands holdings are largely in the northern part of the province, however, in close proximity to the Fraser's present pulp mill at Edmundston.

While there have been rumors of a deal since last October, The Graphic has of late understood that nothing was being done in the matter at this time.

Mr. Napier and Mr. Richards of the Stetson-Cutler Co. are both at Quebec, and it is just possible that a conference of those interested may be held at that city.

Local gossip also connected the W. H. Miller Co. Ltd., with this deal and Mr. W. H. Miller is also at Quebec.

LOCAL TEAM DOING GREAT WORK

Senior Players Deserve Unstated Support Of Whole Town—Friday's Game Will Be Memorable Clash.

Never before in the history of hockey in Campbellton has a team representing this town in a provincial or inter-provincial league, exhibited such remarkable skill and magnificent endurance as this year's team now playing in the M. P. H. L. Their heady combination play, clever stick-handling and speed that thrill the spectators now approximate to the performance of professionals. And withal, they have a dash and verve that not only adds to their effective playing but has a style and finish found in few amateur teams.

In regard to their recent victory over the Moncton squad, a few sentences can cover the game and its result as well as a lengthy write-up. As indicated by the score, the match was closely contested and it is only fair to say that the playing of the Moncton squad made it one of the hardest-fought games of the season. But despite the fact that the locals had not fully recovered from the effects of a hard contest in Chatham the previous night, they exhibited some of the finest hockey ever witnessed in the Hub City. Their playing was spectacular and their victory one of the most satisfactory of the season.

In the recent Bathurst game, the Paper Town hockeyists were largely on luck, at least two goals being tallied in the last minute. Had it not been for this outcome would doubtless have been different and when Bathurst plays her last game here there is every reason to believe that Campbellton will be the victor.

Recently too the local squad has experienced a good deal of hard luck. The temporary loss of Thomas was a severe blow and also other conditions which have handicapped their efforts. We will not go into these, however, for the simple reason that it does not sound like good sportsmanship.

The team has met these reverses without a murmur and this should add to the fans' admiration of them.

Despite these facts however, it is clear that the large and loyal following which has manifested the interest they should in the activities of the team. Hockey such as has been exhibited by the locals this year deserves greater recognition and more generous support.

Friday's Game

Tomorrow night's game will give many an opportunity to stone for their lack of interest. With Chatham as the opposing team, the game is bound to be one of the fastest and most spectacular in years. The possibility of a tie with our old rivals for second place in the league adds to the importance of the game. Chatham, with a strengthened team is out for a crowning victory and with our team playing as they have never played before, Friday's match will be one of the greatest hockey contests of the season. If Campbellton turns out to cheer her own squad, the risk should be packed to the very rafters. The local team has been re-organized too, and this should add to the possibilities for a thrilling battle and a sensational victory. The present line-up is as follows: LeBlanc, goal; McLean and Laviolette, defence; Howard, Centre; Sharpe and Wilkins, forwards; and I. Mann and B. Cyr, spares.

FELT EARTHQUAKE AT HALIFAX

Seismograph At Dalhousie University There Registered The Disturbance.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 4.—Professor John H. Johnson, today advised that an earthquake, of slight intensity was recorded on the seismograph at Dalhousie University, yesterday afternoon, at 4.40 o'clock. Atlantic standard time. The disturbance lasted until 5 p. m., and reached its maximum intensity at approximately 4.40

SAYS ANNEXATION TALK WASTE OF TIME

"Co-operative marketing has done much to standardize the products of agriculture," declared Hon. C. M. Hamilton, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, in opening the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association convention. "We may be disposed to hold out the threat of separation or annexation, I am of the opinion that little is to be gained by expending our time and energy in that way."

CAMPBELLTON BEATS ST. JOHN THISTLES

Close Curling Between Two Rinks of St. John and Campbellton Curlers.

The bonspiel now being held at Moncton, started well for the Campbellton Curling Club when our representatives defeated two very strong rinks from the Thistles Club, St. John. The playing is for the Blair trophy. The scores were as follows:

Thistles Campbellton
G. A. Stubbs C. E. McLaughlin
D. Curry H. R. Humphrey
W. J. Brown H. A. Carr
P. S. Malcolm, 6 (skip) T. Wran, 15
G. F. G. Bridges H. R. Barnes
P. J. Likely F. J. McKee
E. P. McAndrews E. P. McAndrews
W. A. Shaw 14, (skip) R. A. Shives 8

Today our rinks meet the St. Andrews Club curlers of St. John.

WILL DISCUSS GASPE RAILWAY

Bishop Ross of Gaspé, The Premier And Others To Wait Upon Federal Government Saturday.

Mgr. Ross, Bishop of Gaspé, accompanied by Honorable L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province of Quebec, and a large delegation of local and provincial members for the Gaspé district, are expected to wait upon the Federal Government at Ottawa, on Saturday, February 7th, on the question of improving the railway service of the Gaspé Coast. This question has now been engaging the attention of the railway authorities as well as the Federal and Provincial Governments, and it is expected that a course acceptable to all parties will be decided upon.

THE WRONG TICKETS.

It was dusk, and the ticket inspector went to the young couple on the back seat of the bus.

The youth, slightly impatient at the interruption, thrust out his folded tickets.

"We do not stop there," said the inspector, courteously.

"Where?" inquired the youth.

"At the pawnbroker's."

p. m. The disturbance of the tremor is indeterminate.

FINE LECTURE WELL RECEIVED

J. L. Paton M.A., Distinguished English Educator Addressed Large Audience Here.

An instructive entertainment of a fine one throughout and previous educational value the lecture delivered in the Opera House here on Monday night by Mr. John Lewis Paton, M. A., ranked high and the appreciative audience which listened to this eminent England educationalist voiced its approval in no uncertain way. Mr. Paton, who is touring Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education, was brought here by a local committee and the cordial reception given the speaker shows that their efforts were fittingly appreciated.

Fine Program

A fine, though necessarily brief, musical program preceded the lecture. This consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. J. D. McNutt whose contribution was very well received; a violin solo by Miss Gertrude Champoux, accompanied by Miss Anita Champoux, and a vocal solo by Miss Lily Roy which won much merited applause. Mrs. F. W. Campbell accompanied Mrs. McNutt while Mrs. McNutt played the accompaniment for Miss Roy.

His Honor Judge McLachy occupied the chair and announced the different numbers on the musical program. In introducing the speaker, His Honor explained that he was a retiring High Master of Manchester School, had come to Canada at the invitation of the National Council of Education and would spend a year in the Dominion on work of a general nature. Mr. Paton's career in the educational world of England had been unique, and among many great schoolmasters his work had been outstanding. He commenced his own education at Halle Gymnasium, Germany, continuing at Nottingham and Shrewsbury. He was a brilliant graduate of St. John's College, Cambridge, carrying off the Chancellor's medal for Classics. As a teacher he had been singularly successful, beginning his career at Leys School, Cambridge, followed by ten years as Sixth Form Master and Town Tutor at Rugby, one of the famous English Public Schools.

Mr. Paton is best known however for his work as Head Master, first for five years at University College School, London, and then for the long period of twenty-one years at Marlborough Grammar School, with which his name is now inseparably connected. Mr. Paton therefore comes to Canada fresh from a great educational experience and with unbounded energy and enthusiasm.

On rising to speak Mr. Paton was given an enthusiastic ovation and throughout his address the audience frequently broke forth in hearty applause.

Mr. Paton's lecture was, perhaps, a surprise to many of those present. Many of his hearers no doubt expected something of high literary excellence, something which at times would require considerable thought to determine its significance, and something presented with a flow of eloquent oratory which would frequently reach heights where the student alone could follow. But Mr. Paton's lecture was of this type. It possessed a literary quality which none can deny but it did not depend upon fine phraseology for its strength. At all times the speaker's meaning was quite comprehensive to the average listener. He never jarred his audience by attempting a too lofty pinacle of thought nor did he resort to the depths to create sensation. His oratory was notably calm and quiet and his thoughts presented in simple phrasing. He never attempted to be brilliant but often he was undeniably so without any apparent effort. His delivery was at times hesitant rather than flowing and rhythmic but it was the thought-content of his words that intrigued and held the interest of his audience rather than the way in which it was presented.

To attempt to cover Mr. Paton's lecture would require much more

whose resignation as Provincial Secretary of Nova Scotia, has been accepted by the Lieutenant-Governor of that province.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WIN AGAIN

Defeated St. Thomas College Last Night 10-3—Banquet After Game.

The local High School Hockey team added another win to their string of victories when they defeated St. Thomas College last night by a score of 10 to 3. The match was somewhat one-sided owing to the superior playing ability and particularly the effective team-work of the locals, but was very interesting to watch. The victors put up a game fight but their lack of team play was a drawback to effective work.

The scoring was as follows: For Campbellton, Miller G. J. Howard 3; W. Ferguson 1. For St. Thomas, Duffy 2; Olevsky 1. Rev. W. S. Godfrey, coach of the senior team referred to after the game a banquet was given the members of the two teams and local visiting teachers by the High School girls in Wesley Methodist Church Hall. Many interesting speeches were also heard about the banquet table. Among the local speakers were Principal Bridges, H. V. Colpitts, J. R. Vallis, Rev. Mr. Godfrey and Ken McKenzie while Mr. Beardon and Mr. Jackson who accompanied St. Thomas boys spoke for Chatham. The local team last night consisted of the following players: P. Love, W. Ferguson, C. Duff, J. Howard, B. Miller, R. Martin, Keith McKenzie and Ralph Sowerby.

space than we have at our disposal. In the eminent educationalist's subject, "The Gates of Leisure," there is such a wide range of thought to cover that he himself could do little more than touch on it in the time allotted to him. Chief among the thoughts he brought however was the glorious possibilities of leisure and his lecture might well have been announced under that heading.

In striking and realistic word pictures he showed the advantages and opportunities of the leisure hours of life and brought out the possibilities for real and lasting pleasure which come to the individual after his days labor and when the discharge of his duty has released him from the necessity of "conforming to time."

In brief but vivid sketches he showed what treasure may be mined from leisure hours, what ameliorative enjoyment and what spiritual and intellectual pleasure may be gained through seeking the worthwhile things of life as "companions" in one's leisure time. And with equally deft pictures he showed the emptiness of life where leisure hours are given to the pursuit of passing joys, shady amusements, cheap or material, which in passing, do not enrich human life.

Mr. Paton's lecture was replete with humor which at times provoked the resiliencies of his entire audience. The speaker proved himself a humorist as well as an educationalist and his abundance of clever and amusing anecdotes not only created the desired atmosphere among his listeners but added much to the entertainment quality of his lecture.

Immediately upon the conclusion of Mr. Paton's address, Mr. J. T. Hebert moved a vote of thanks be extended to the speaker for the splendid address he had delivered. This was seconded by Principal H. F. G. Bridges, and both mover and seconder of the motion paid a particularly high tribute to the distinguished speaker of the evening.

WILL DIVIDE PROCEEDS 50-50

Chautauqua Engagement Being Arranged On More Attractive Plan This Year.

Arrangements are now being completed in St. John with the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association for the coming summer's engagement and with this announcement local guarantors who will arrange Chautauqua Week in Campbellton will be interested in the following press notice in the St. John Globe:

"Mr. Reeves today announced an important change in the contract arrangements between the Chautauqua organizations and guarantors in this district. Under the form of contract, it is provided that all proceeds over and above guarantee and expenses will be divided equally between the organization and the town where Chautauqua and the different centres, with this provision, that the towns in question are to devote their share to some educational or philanthropic purpose. In St. John any profits accruing will be donated to the Free Kindergartens.

This new financial arrangement, Mr. Reeves pointed out meets the objection that Chautauqua was a commercial enterprise. Local guarantors should press for the same arrangement in Campbellton. If it were secured Chautauqua would meet with even greater approval from all who are anxious to support entertainment of a better class.

MONCTON BOWLERS TO PLAY HERE

Hub City "Rollers" Will Meet Local Team On Chateau Alleys Next Week.

It is understood that on next Wednesday when the Moncton hockey team comes to Campbellton for their last league game with the locals, a team of bowlers from the Hub City will accompany them to play a team of Campbellton bowlers.

It is understood that the match will take place on the Chateau Restigouche alleys in the afternoon. The members of the hockey squad will likely be on hand to cheer on their home sportsmen while in the evening the bowlers will be able to return the compliment at the skating rink. A keen match is anticipated and some good bowling will doubtless be exhibited.

GASPE TIMBER LIMITS SOLD

Gulf Pulp & Paper Co. And Chadre Firm Obtain Permits

Quebec, Feb. 2.—Permits to cut timber on lands located in the Gaspé region and on the north shore were sold by auction this morning at the Parliament at a sale, presided over by Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests. There was only one bid made in each case and two successful bidders were the Gulf Pulp and Paper Company, and Desbriens Brothers of Chandler in trust. The latter purchased the permits to cut timber on a block of forest covering an area of about 10 miles at Ruisseau Bleu at $505. per square mile this being five dollars over the upset price.

The Gulf Pulp and Paper Company obtained permits to cut timber on a block of burnt forest located in the basin of the St. Marguerite. There on an area of about fifty square miles. In this case the auction effected the stumpage dues and five cents over the regular price of $1 per 1000 feet was paid.

In addition to the payment as above referred to the bidders have in both cases to fulfill certain engagements. The Gulf Pulp and Paper Company already hold considerable rights on the north shore.

DELEGATES FOR CIRCUIT MEET

Pres. J. F. Rice J. W. Hall and T. M. Richards Named at Edmundston.

Edmundston, N. B., Jan. 31.—President J. F. Rice, Secretary T. Medley Richards and J. W. Hall, who has been one of the principal factors in Edmundston's race meetings, have been named as delegates from the Edmundston Driving Club to attend the annual meeting of the stewards of the Maine and New Brunswick Circuit on February 11th at Fredericton.

Edmundston will be back on the circuit again this year if suitable dates can be arranged.

Reports received from present members of the Maine and New Brunswick Circuit and also from New Brunswick tracks which will apply for membership in the circuit this year already have made it certain that there will be a solid season's racing for stables which can begin on March 1, 1925.

From everywhere word comes that horsemen are much pleased with the prospect of having St. Stephen back on the circuit again this year.

As predicted some time ago, any date during the season can be filled in with racing in New Brunswick, but the latest word from Northern Maine is that the customary number of winter meetings will be held in Aroostook county.

FLATLANDS LOSES TO ATHOL.

Athol wins again in return match at Flatlands.

By the score of 4-2 Athol defeated the fast Flatland hockey squad in an exciting game on Saturday last. The game was featured by brilliant combination on the part of the Athol forwards, but Anderson, the Flatland net minder proved to be a stone wall to their shots.

Only two penalties were handed out although the game was a little rough at times. After the game a banquet was tendered the teams at the home of N. B. McDavid by the Flatland ladies.

The line-up follows:

| Athol  | Goal       | Flatlands |
|--|------------|-----------|
| A. Christensen   | L. Defence | Froud     |
| White  | R. Defence | Ward      |

ITEMS OF INTEREST SPORT FANS

CAMPBELLTON WINS ANNUAL BONSPIEL

Keen interest displayed in Annual North Shore Bonspiel Held Here.

The North Shore Bonspiel held here last Thursday and Friday was without exception the keenest contested of any yet held, and the interest displayed by both players and spectators was exceptional. The rink was crowded with spectators both ladies and gentlemen.

The visitors were unanimous in their praise of the new rink and the perfect ice upon which to play.

The rink and rooms were very tastefully decorated with flags and bunting.

Play began at 9 o'clock Thursday, and continued each day until 10:30.

The Banquet.
The usual curlers banquet was served Thursday evening, at which there were about one hundred and thirty guests.

The lady curlers catered, and the visitors were loud in their praises of the menu and the manner in which it was served.

After the inner man had been duly taken care of the following program of toasts was carried out.

THE KING.
Welcome by President Wetmore.

OUR GUESTS.—Proposed by H. A. Carr. Responded to by Skips, W. A. R. Cragg of Dalhousie and McKinley of Chatham.

Song, by Mr. J. R. Vallis.
THE ROARIN' GAME.—Proposed by Rev. W. W. McNairn. Responded to by Skips McKay of Bathurst and Cragg of New Castle.

Address.—Pius Michaud, M. P. Stories by H. R. Smith.

THE LADIES.—Proposed by A. A. Andrew. Responded to by Mayor Hickey of Chatham.

OUR HOSTS.—Proposed by Skip McKay of Bathurst. Responded to by His Honor, Judge McLatchey. Auld Lang Syne.

The scores of each rink were as follows:

| Club        | Points |
|-------------|--------|
| Campbellton | 235    |
| Bathurst    | 212    |
| Dalhousie   | 151    |
| Chatham     | 149    |
| Newcastle   | 127    |

The handsome trophy which has been in play for five years, thus becomes the property of the Campbellton curlers, this club having had three wins while Bathurst had two victories to her credit.

The following brief history of the annual bonspiels may be of interest.

The first North Shore Bonspiel was held in Chatham in Feb. 1914, between Campbellton, Bathurst, Newcastle and Chatham Curling Clubs, and was won by Campbellton.

The second Bonspiel was held in Chatham in Feb. 1915. The four clubs were again in the contest. The Bonspiel was won by Campbellton.

The third Bonspiel was held in Newcastle in Feb. 1916, between the same five clubs, and was again won by Campbellton. It was decided that commencing with the 1916 Bonspiel, the club winning the Bonspiel Trophy 3 times should own it. Campbellton agreed that her victories of 1914 and 1915 would not count in the Trophy contest.

The fourth Bonspiel was held in Dalhousie in Feb. 1917. This year the "Wood" Schedule of play was adopted for the first time. Campbellton won the Bonspiel with a score of 228 points.

The fifth Bonspiel was held in Bathurst in 1918. It was played on the "Wood" Schedule and was won by Bathurst with a score of 210 points.

The sixth Bonspiel was held at Chatham in 1919. Bathurst again winning with a score of 202.

In 1920 the seventh Bonspiel was won by Bathurst, 225 points. Bathurst thus won the first trophy and after the second trophy was placed in competition in 1921.

1921 eighth Bonspiel won by Bathurst, 226 points. 1922, ninth Bonspiel won by Campbellton, 222 points. 1923 tenth Bonspiel won by Bathurst, 225 points. 1924, eleventh Bonspiel won by Campbellton 187 points.

The competing clubs won or lost as per the following schedules:—
Campbellton
Miles, won 2, tie 1, lost 1, points 41
Shivers, won 3, tie 1, points 56
Wran, won 4, tie 1, points 80
Reid, won 2, lost 1, points 58

Total points 235
Bathurst
D. Connolly, won 4, points 48
Stout, won 3, lost 1, points 47
McKay, won 3, lost 1, points 53

St. Pauls Snatch Last Minute win From Senator

Ottawa Took Lead After Two Scoreless Periods

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Toronto St. Pauls lived up to their reputation as strong finishers and snatched at last-minute victory from Ottawa Senators here Saturday by a score of two to one. After two scoreless periods, and with the last one three parts gone, Ottawa went into the lead when Clancy scored. With about six minutes left to play it looked like a sure win for the locals, but the Harps hit back with a pair in less than four minutes, both from the stick of Jack Adams, and carried off the decision.

Speaker Releases Pitcher Metevier

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 3.—George Metevier, right hand pitcher, member of the Cleveland American League team since 1922, has been released outright to the Columbus American Association team, club officials announced.

Manager Tris Speaker announces that he expects to dispose of Outfielder Guiley and Pitcher Cheeves this month, and will take only thirty three players to the Lakeland, Fla., training camp.

White Sox Have Many Shortstop Candidates

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Six and possibly seven candidates will contest for the berth of shortstop on the Chicago White Sox, when training for Manager Eddie Collins' crew begins at Shreveport, La. The sixth candidate, Clyde Renslow, formerly an independent player of the Pacific Coast, has just been added to the roster.

Others in line for the position, considered the weakest spot on the club last season, are Ike Davis, Harry McGlellan, Bill Barrett, Johnny Corbano, and a Quebec short stop named Wojack. Roy Elah, utility outfielder, also may be given an opportunity for the position.

MONCTON ALSO WANTS 1925 RACING DATES

Moncton, N. B., Feb. 3.—Moncton will make a bid for dates in the Maine and New Brunswick Racing Circuit this year. Phil Bellevue, lessee of the Moncton track is going to attend the annual meeting of the stewards of the circuit at Fredericton on February 11th with another delegate from Moncton, and everything possible will be done to get the Down East harness stars to come to Moncton this year.

CHATHAM WINS HARD GAME

Locals Held Lead Until Third Period—Overtime Necessary To Decide Victor

Chatham, N. B., Feb. 3.—Chatham won an over-time thriller here last night from Campbellton in the northern section of the Maritime Provinces Amateur Hockey Association, landing the fixture by a score of 4 to 2 by a game uphill battle.

Campbellton started off in to lead and the Restigouche team, which has been making a fine showing in the league, had a 2 to 0 lead at the end of the second period, having scored once in each of the first two rounds. It looked like too big a margin to be overcome as the visitors were going fast.

In the third period, however, the Chatham team, which have been upsetting them all lately, demonstrated how they have breezed into second place in the league standing. At the end of the regular playing time they tied the score, 2 to 2, and the crowd went in a frenzy when the overtime play was commenced. Only the first ten minutes of overtime was necessary, however, as Falon and Keoughan scored for Chatham and the visitors were held scoreless.

"Buzz" McLeod, of Moncton, acted as referee and play was clean for such a hard-fought, fast game.

Bathurst Bowlers Win

A team of local bowlers suffered defeat on Friday afternoon last at Chateau Restigouche Alleys when a number of Bathurst bowlers completed a match with them with a margin of 54 pins. Apparently neither team were in very good form for the highest tally on a single string was 99. The locals all bowled low and this evidently accounted for the one-sided score.

Newspaper Leadership

has started the first drive ever undertaken to bring Eastern and Western Canada closer together, and to explain away many of the misunderstandings which have grown up since the war, and which are threatening the underpinning of Confederation.

The Telegraph-Journal of St. John, has sent a representative West. He is now in Ontario. Before his return he will address public bodies, and canvass individuals in Quebec as well as the Prairie Provinces, on his mission of

"SELLING THE MARITIMES TO THE WEST."

Many thousands of Western Canadians will be told the story of what the Maritimes have done for Confederation, and what we expect in return. The claims of St. John and Halifax as Canada's national ports will be persistently and forcibly set forth.

The story of this mission, written by A. M. Belding of the Editorial Staff of this newspaper, whose knowledge of the Maritimes and their needs is unequalled will appear,

WOMAN AND FIVE CHILDREN PERISH

Six Lives Lost In Terrible Tragedy at St. Narcisse de Rimouski.

Rimouski, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Adelard Morneau and five children, were burned to death on Wednesday evening in their home at St. Narcisse de Rimouski, about thirty miles distant from here when the structure caught on fire and burned to the ground.

The disaster was caused when a gasoline tractor, belonging to a neighbor and which had been placed in the Morneau hangar adjoining the house, was the cause of an explosion. The flames immediately communicated with the house, and so rapid were their course that the unfortunate woman did not have a chance to get her children out of the house before the fire had completely enveloped the frail wooden structure which burned like tinder once it felt the hot breath of the flames.

Although the hour was quite early the children were all in bed, and the mother, nearly disoriented, started to run around the house in an attempt to get them safely to the outside. It is thought that she became partly hysterical when she found that the flames had enveloped the house, and did not awaken the children as quickly as she would have done under ordinary circumstances. At any rate, the delay was fatal, for the poor mother and her five children met a terrible death before anything could be done to save them from the outside.

It was established that the gasoline tractor was the property of a wood manufacturer, Alphonse Pinaud, who operated a lumber yard within the limits of the parish of St. Narcisse.
When some repairs had to be made to the tractor he had it stored in the hangar of the Morneau home for the night.

A peculiar incident in connection with this disaster which is the worst to visit the district in many years, is that there were about thirty lumberjacks living on the top floor of the house, this portion of the structure having been converted into quarters suitable for men. They all escaped the flames by jumping from the windows when the lower section was a seething cauldron.

CROSS POINT

The Municipal Election for Mann, Bonaventure Co. P. Q., which was held at Cross Point on the 19th of January, gave the following results.

The following were nominated on the 14th, Alfred A. Fraser, M. E. Murray, Joseph Berthelotte and Emile Savoy. The election was called to be held on Monday the 19th, of January, but Mr. M. E. Murray tendered his resignation before the opening of the polls. Messrs. Fraser, Berthelotte and Savoy were declared elected. Mr.
The Young was re-elected Mayor by acclamation.

Messrs. Savoy and Berthelotte are new Councillors. Mr. Fraser has been a Councillor for 29 years for this Municipality.

Skin Trouble?

There is nothing so gentle in its beginnings, and afterwards so difficult to eradicate, as skin disease.
At the first sign of unpleasant irritation, roughness or eruption, smother the place with and any incipient trouble.

When the skin is already afflicted with eczema, or poison, the powerful enough is the one external medicine powerful enough to get to the root of the trouble and replace unhealthy tissue with new clear skin.

WANT EMBARGO ON PULP WOOD

Pulp and Paper Association Has Gone on Record as Favoring This.

Montreal, Jan.—The Canadian Pulp
and Paper Association has put itself on record as in favor of a limitation of the export of pulpwood.

Without any opposition, a motion along the lines of a report presented by F. W. Clarke, of Quebec, chairman of the Mechanical Pulp Section, was adopted yesterday.

In the course of his address Mr.
Clarke, who was elected president, said that if Canadian water power was to be kept in Canada, we must find a use for it as an important move in that direction would be the retention of pulpwood in Canada and its manufacture into pulp and paper here. The paper situation and the pulp and paper industry were thus intimately associated, and unless the future of the latter was assured, it would be useless to place restrictions upon the export of power.

Market for Settlers' Pulpwood Not to Be Taken Away Without Providing

Another as Good
"My conclusion is that the Association at this meeting should take a firm stand on this question both on industrial and economic grounds, and that every influence at command should be brought into action immediately to bring about its proper and equitable solution."

"Granted that the interests of the settlers and other private owners of pulpwood are involved to some extent in the problem of how best to deal with our diminishing wood supply, I submit that it ought not to be very difficult for the Government, acting in co-operation with our industry, to devise ways and means whereby exportation may be reduced to a minimum or stopped entirely without sacrificing these interests. We cannot, of course, expect to take away their present market without providing another equally as good or better.

Adequate Export Tax Would Be Help
But a Straight Embargo More Effective.

"An adequate export tax on pulpwood shipped out of the country would provide funds for the protection of our forests and to that extent would relieve us of some of the heavy expenditures that they are now called upon to meet. A straight out embargo would be even more effective."

"Both Quebec and Ontario have recently declared against the exportation of hydraulic-electric power and have taken the unassailable position that our interests require that these who would use our water-powers should come to Canada in order to do so. It is not to our advantage to permit the exportation of power to aid foreign production and to create competition for ourselves. Our power should be used in Canada for the promotion of our own industries, the creation of domestic employment, with a consequent diminution of emigration and the enlargement of the market for our agricultural and manufactured products."

standards of his own station in life until it is sixteen years of age, and it is not left to the mother to take the initiative of putting the law in motion. This duty rests with the Superintendent of child welfare of the Province. The Judge is clothed with power to decide the question of faithfulness and as well to fix the amount of financial responsibility of the father, also at discretion to require the mother to personally care for the child assuming her fitness. Thus as far as possible the child is assured a fair chance in life, and the father is compelled to bear his just share of responsibility for its maintenance. This law has been in force in Norway for eight or nine years, and has worked well and has resulted in a steady decline in the number of such births in proportion to the population. This law in Ontario which contains one third of the population of Canada, has been in operation for nearly three years, and is also making good progress. Dr. Shearer closes his article with this question. When are Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Quebec and Saskatchewan going to fall in line with the other provinces?

Important reform by enacting a similar law, and thus give the children of these provinces born out of wedlock a fair chance, and their mothers something approaching a square deal?
In thinking this matter over, I wondered if our Provincial Union could do something to bring about the enactment of this law in New Brunswick. Our organization from its very beginning has ever realized that the boys and girls are our Country's

WHY?
 Sometimes there is a deal of food for thought in a small and seemingly unimportant news item. Here is one which can be so classified.

SUSSEX, Jan. 15.—A stirring appeal was made to the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association at the closing session of their convention, this afternoon by Harry Magee of New Brunswick, who said that the "why" which they demand and particularly their resolutions were placed to one side by the Provincial Government. He urged them to say "why" to their councillors and representatives in the House at Fredericton so often that they would stop listening to "why" that their demands would be complied with.

From the above item it can readily be seen that Mr. Magee "said something."

WHY is a great little word, and Campbellton, when taking progressive steps that are all too frequently granted little attention from the powers towards which they are directed, would do well to adopt this insistent little interrogative.

When the Restigouche bridge project is discussed and a resolution passed which is laid aside without comment by the government let us demand "why?" When we have a just grievance against the railway and our requests are repeatedly ignored, as indeed they often have been, let us send out the terse question "why?"

When other matters in relation to Campbellton's welfare are side-tracked, as invariably they seem to be, let us all get together like a great industrial choir and sing the chorus "why?"

Too few people fully realize the effectiveness of this little word "why" and it has a remarkable record. In every department and phase of social, political and industrial life, it has all down through the ages, and it is a wonder going back to ancient history there is little doubt but what Eve when questioned by her mate regarding the tree of Knowledge, turned to him with a curious and instant "Why, Adam?" and since that pristine period of time that same little word has been working day and night and with astounding results. In Calhoun's book the most common demand, at least after "hime" "why mama?" With the frequent employment of this interrogative the child gains his preliminary education and from then on through school, college and business or professional life is instrumental in gaining for him one word of knowledge after another.

Life has been briefly termed by the sage as "just one damned thing after another" but to most of us it is one puzzling question after another. And yet it is all quite fitting that it should be so for even our ears are shaped very much like question-marks. And why is a great little word and it has a remarkable record. In every department and phase of social, political and industrial life, it has all down through the ages, and it is a wonder going back to ancient history there is little doubt but what Eve when questioned by her mate regarding the tree of Knowledge, turned to him with a curious and instant "Why, Adam?" and since that pristine period of time that same little word has been working day and night and with astounding results. In Calhoun's book the most common demand, at least after "hime" "why mama?" With the frequent employment of this interrogative the child gains his preliminary education and from then on through school, college and business or professional life is instrumental in gaining for him one word of knowledge after another.

it is often said that the human mind is most receptive to youth and the greatest progress toward knowledge is made in childhood. This is natural enough. In those years every perplexing remark or vague bit of information evokes the same demand "why?"

Perhaps we in the years of maturity, are too grown-up. Perhaps sometimes when we do not understand things fully, we make a pretence of knowledge we do not possess lest the other fellow perceive our ignorance. That is not the way to grow. Let us be a little more childish if it will advance our knowledge and our progress and growth of our town. Let us throw aside all useless affectation when our plans are side-tracked and our demands growed by governments and powers which we seek to address and let us, like the progressive child with an availing for knowledge, get together and loudly and insistently, holler "Why?"

A PUBLIC LIBRARY
 In his reference to the value of good books and his mild surprise at finding Campbellton without anything that resembled a Public Library, Mr. Magee stated who he would like to see in charge of a public library on Monday night touched on a subject which this paper has frequently mentioned and one which should interest every citizen of our town.

There is positively no room for argument on the value of good books and this fact is most clearly manifested particularly in regard to the young. There is a splendid educational value attached to the reading of worthwhile literature; but there is more than that. Through the reading of good books the youth may gain much in thought and suggestion which will enrich his after life. Like education, the study of good literature broadens and develops the mind and opens out new, and previously unknown, avenues of thought. It tends to develop one's sense of beauty and makes more repulsive the smaller and unworthy things of life which have no worth-while quality to impart. Good books develop the power of perception and they inspire ambition and industry and they develop initiative as well.

Probably there is no other one fact which is more important to the youth of our town than the fact that a school which can be made to have such a far-reaching influence for good in youth as good books and with these things in mind, this would be an opportune time for parents, teachers and our local clergymen to get together and investigate this matter. There is apparently no reason why Campbellton can not have a public library and there is no doubt but what if we had one it would be generously patronized and supported. It is undoubtedly a substantial and which merits careful and thoughtful consideration.

AN APPEAL
 Due to lack of employment there are at present several families in Campbellton without sufficient clothing to withstand the rigor of winter and an appeal is being made through the Graphic office to aid in the effort to alleviate these lamentable conditions. All of us at times are prone to be unkind of our blessings and to ignore the needs of those who are in actual want. When conditions of this kind are brought to public attention most citizens however are ready to help and it is to be hoped that at this time a generous response will be forthcoming. All those desiring to contribute clothing to these needy families may leave them at the Graphic Office or deliver them direct to Councillor H. M. Armstrong who is interested in this worthy work.

THE REAL PAYMASTER
 Forests are jobs. Trees mean trade. Logs are the raw material, not of lumber or paper, but of pay cheques. It is an incidental matter that the forest gives us telegraph poles. It is a very important matter that the forest gives 120,000 workmen, supporting a half million of Canadian dependents, and distributing 100 million dollars to maintain Canadian prosperity. Conservation would not sweat a drop for a square mile of Spruce forest, but it would save some vast industry, a thriving town and a thousand contented homes are tied to Spruce trees by an inseparable bond.

We Canadians set 6,000 forest fires a year and nine-tenths of them through human recklessness, but those beacon lights of prodigality mean nothing if they do not tell us that we have put the torch to the livelihood of thousands of men; we have signed an unbreakable note for our children and our grand-children to pay. Let it be laid down as an ugly and undisturbable fact that in the present situation with forest demand growing, the forest fire must be paid for. Every mile of Spruce or Pine or Fir given to the annual bonfire will take to the axe a million dollars in higher costs of lumber and paper in forested industries, in dwindling public revenues, and a sacrifice of population.

CURFEW BELL
 Our English word, Curfew, is derived from two French words meaning Cover fire, that is, extinguish fire. The curfew bell was established in England by William the Conqueror, and it was a means of guarding against fire. The well-known chronicler, William of Maresbury writes that Henry I., who reigned from 1100 to 1135, allowed curfews to be used at court after ringing of the curfew-bell. The customs of ringing the curfew as an intimation of the approach of night was continued down to the seventeenth century, or even later, though the obligation to extinguish fires had, of course, been long since abandoned. The Municipal authorities in certain Canadian towns have enacted by-laws providing for the ringing of the curfew bell, after which children were not allowed to be in the streets or squares.

SWELTERING IN A SUBMARINE
 When one of the brave little subs, whether it be Japanese, British, German or American, goes to the bottom and does not come up, a thrill of horror goes through the civilized world. It is only once in a great while by accident that one gets an inkling of the feeling that men have in such a disaster. Occasionally a survivor is known as "Leap Day" and Year's Last Day" and is taken on the end of June and December respectively. There would be no days lost or dropped and no one will lose any birthdays under his scheme. Mr. Cotsworth points out. Nobody will grow any younger, and nobody will have any undesired weight added to his years. But the June and July born may find their birthdays have mysteriously, sailed to the new month "Sol" and take their heated place in the sun. Other birth dates will change but the issue of a transposition calendar when the change comes will enable everyone to discover speedily their new birthday.

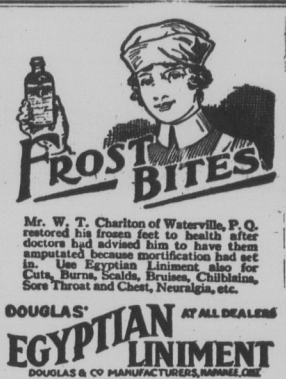

Sundays will be universal and observed simultaneously in addition to being the first day of the week, will begin each year. Clocks and watches will become calendars as well as daily timekeepers, with outer circles divided in 28 for the week days and days of the month. Defects of the present system are overwhelming, according to Mr. Cotsworth, and he wonders how the nation having put up with it so long, he instances the varying lengths of the months from 28 to 31 days, resulting in the unfair apportionment of monthly business; the "camouflaging of monthly profits" as though each month were productively one-twelfth of the year, confusing changes of week-day names for the same dates in the following months; the "drift Christmas, New Year and other holidays to Sundays and into the middle of weeks," thus splitting millions in all nations of the holiday extensions they enjoy when our holidays are united with their rests at week-ends. He also cites "the shifting range of weeks through months," burdening business and social life with tiresome references and necessitating consultation of the calendar to see how many weeks intervene between dates.

Dee Side

The weather for the past month has been exceedingly cold. Rev. Mr. Gordon preached here Sunday in spite of the severity of the day. A number turned out to hear him. Friends of Mrs. S. A. Walker will be pleased to hear she is recovering from her recent illness. Miss Amy McKenzie of Fredericton who has been the guest of Mrs. D. A. Myles returned home Friday. Mr. Laddie McNoughton and Mrs. Cameron McDougall were visiting friends in Rynnmede Sunday. Mr. Dugal Sharp and Mrs. Wilbur Sharp were the guests of Mrs. Lee McNoughton Sunday evening.

We notice quite a few of our neighbors are installing radios this season and quite a few long evenings are passed away "listening in."

OBITUARY

There passed away at Broadlands on the 23rd of January one of the oldest residents of this district in the person of Wm. Gebes Nichol. Mr. Nichol had passed his 93rd year and until six months ago had possessed remarkable vigor of body and mind, only recently yielding to the assault of age. The deceased conducted the ferry service at Cross Point for some time but of late years had retired to his farm and it can be said that few local characters were so widely known.

The funeral on the 28th was largely attended, all classes and creeds gathered to mark the passing of a life that was unique in many ways. Mr. Nichol's wife died eleven years ago, but two children survive. Mrs. Geo. Hetherington who died in her father's illness, and a son James Nichol who is in charge of the Fish Hatchery at St. John.

Mrs. P. C. Belle-Lale.
The death occurred at the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Saturday night of Mrs. P. C. Belle-Lale, mother of ex-Coun. A. C. Belle-Lale, of Campbellton aged 74 years. The deceased lady had been in failing health and for a short time was a patient at the hospital. She returned again to the home of her son, A. C. Belle-Lale, and then on Saturday was hurried to the hospital again in an unconscious condition, where she died. Her husband predeceased her some ten years ago. Three sons and two daughters survive. The sons are A. C. Belle-Lale, Campbellton; Phillip, of Montreal, and Joseph, of Rochester, N. Y. The daughters are Sister Belle-Lale, Hotel Dieu Hospital, here, and Mrs. Lamay, of Rochester, N. Y.

Letters received from former Restigouche Co. citizens, who in recent years were residents of St. John, N. B., express their deep regret about the death of Mrs. Gladys Lalacheur, who died in her 29th year. She was a woman of high talents, a devoted mother and a talented musician. Mrs. Lalacheur was beloved by all who knew her and her death leaves a gap in the ranks of local artists that will be hard to fill. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grant, of Fredericton, and was married in her youth, she showed a marked talent for singing and when 18 years of age went to Leipzig, Germany, and there studied at the conservatory of music under Max G. Alvens. At the outbreak of war, she hurriedly left Germany, arriving in England on the day war was declared.

The late Mrs. Lalacheur was a leading contralto for many years in St. John City churches, including Trinity, German St. David's, St. Andrews and others. In October 1918, she went to New York and studied there for six months under Madame Alves, who had been her teacher in Germany. While there, she was offered and accepted the position of soloist in the choir of the Church of the Beloved Disciple. Returning home she sang in St. David's church last June, that being her last appearance as a singer.

Keenly interested in music, Mrs. Lalacheur freely gave of her wealth of talent to help any worthy cause and her charm of manner and glorious voice endeared her to many.

The late Mrs. Lalacheur's kindness often extended to Dalhousie citizens, who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, in the knowledge of your correspondent, can be for the above reference in the "Graphic" and it will prove that usefulness and sincere kindness extended to others who never dies in grateful hearts.

At the funeral of Mrs. Lalacheur, Rev. Hugh Miller, formerly in charge of the Presbyterian congregation in Campbellton, was one of the two clergymen, who conducted the service.

FIRE CHIEF BLAKE OF ST. JOHN DEAD

Had Been Connected With Fire Department for Fifty Years.

St. John, N. B. Feb. 3.—George Blake, veteran chief of the St. John Fire Department, died at his residence this morning. Although the late chief had been in failing health recently, the end came suddenly. He was about 75 years old yet was of a rugged physique.

Chief Blake joined the local fire department 50 years ago. He was district chief for 35 years and 13 years chief. He was prominent in the Masonic Fraternity, a 33rd Degree Mason and had been Potentate of the Mystic Shrine.

Interesting Baby Book.

Undoubtedly the most interesting reading for the young mother is that which deals with the care and feeding of babies, particularly if the subject is treated in simple language for all to understand clearly. We have just received a booklet, "Baby Welfare," which is one of the most interesting and instructive we have seen in some time. It has chapters on prenatal care, Feeding of Baby, Bottle Feeding, Feeding of Baby, Bottle Feeding, Diet After First Year, Food Formulas, Sleep, Fresh Air, Exercise, Bathing, Clothing, Baby's Weight and Measurements, with many hints as to the proper care of baby's health.

It is a booklet of 16 pages, and is a page devoted to Baby's Biograph, which should be an interesting record of the baby's life. It is a booklet of 16 pages, and is a page devoted to Baby's Biograph, which should be an interesting record of the baby's life.

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS

Sent Woman to Bed, Great Change After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Barnia, Ontario.—"After my girls were born I was a wreck. My nerves were too terrible for words and I simply could not stand or walk without pain. I suffered with fainting spells until I was no longer any good for my household duties and had to take to my bed. The doctor said I should have an operation, but I was not in a fit condition at that time. My neighbor said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do you good and will save these doctor's bills. So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to take a few boarders for a while as my rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to a few people I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. You can use this letter as you see fit, as I should be only too glad for those suffering as I have to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. ROBERT G. MAC GILLIVRAY, R. R. No. 2, Barnia, Ontario.

A recent canvass of women users of the "Vegetable Compound" report 98 out of 100 received beneficial results. This is a remarkable proof of its merit. C

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD By RAFAEL SABATINI

SYNOPSIS
Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, is wrongly condemned as a rebel against King James and is deported to Bridgetown in Barbados. There he is purchased as a slave by Colonel Bishop, military commander, at the behest of Arabella, the Colonel's niece. A Spanish galleon, the Cinco Ligas, under command of Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdez, captures the city. While the Spaniards sack the city, Blood sends Mary and Arabella back to the city to safety. He leads his fellow rebels-convicts on board the ship and captures it. Colonel Bishop goes on board and Blood hides the military commander as a hostage while the ship puts out of port and sends Bishop over the gangplank. Don Diego, taken prisoner, is told by Blood to sail the ship to Curacao, a Dutch settlement, in return for his liberty. Jeremy Pitt, who had studied navigation, suspects Don Diego is betraying them.

New to the seats of the Spanish Main and to the throats of the adventurers who sailed it, Captain Blood still entertained illusions. But the next dawn was to shatter them rudely and for ever.

Coming on deck before the sun was up, he saw land ahead, and the Spaniard had promised them last night.

Beating out weather, against the gentle landward breeze, he beheld a great ship on their starboard bow, that he conceived to be some three or four miles off, and—as well as he could judge her at that distance—of a tonnage equal if not superior to their own—Even as he watched her she altered her course, and going about came heading toward them, close hauled.

"There," said a soft voice behind him in liquid Spanish, "is the Promised Land, Don Pedro."

He turned sharply to face Don Diego, so sharply that the smile was not effaced from the Spaniard's eyes had flashed upon it.

"What land is that?" he demanded.

"Will you have the effrontery to tell me that is the coast of Curacao. That land, you treacherous, fawning Spaniard dog, is the island of Hispaniola."

"Ah, perro ingles! You know too much," he said under his breath, and sprang for the Captain's throat.

Tight-locked in each other's arms they went down upon the deck, the Spaniard's feet jerked from under him by the right leg of Captain Blood. The Spaniard had depended upon choking the life out of Blood, and so gaining the half-hour that might be necessary to bring up that fine ship that was beating towards them. But all that Don Diego had accomplished was to betray himself completely.

"Will I say a prayer for your dirty soul now, whilst I am in this position?" Captain Blood was furiously mocking him.

They stayed a moment, then together

Up the ladder went Don Esteban, closely followed by Captain Blood.

"Who will pray for your soul, I wonder, when that galleon comes to lie board and board with you? Do you know what ship it is? It is the Encarnacion, the flagship of Don Miguel de Espinosa, the Lord Admiral of Castile, and Don Miguel is my brother. It is a very fortunate encounter."

The Almighty, you see, watches over the destinies of Catholic Spain."

There was no trace of humor or urbanity now in Captain Blood. His light eyes blazed, his face was set.

He rose, relinquishing the Spaniard to his men. "Make him fast," he bade them.

"But don't hurt him—not so much as a hair of his precious head."

Captain Blood regarded him steadily out of a face which, if impassive, had paled under its deep tan. About the prisoner, clamant, infuriated, ferocious, the rebels-cum-convicts, almost literally "athirst for his blood," waited.

"Wait," Captain Blood imperiously commanded, and turning on his heel, he went aside to the rail. As he stood there deep in thought, he was joined by Hagthorpe.

In silence they stared with him across the water at that other ship.

"In less than half-an-hour," said Blood presently, "we shall be at each other's throats, sweeping our decks with her guns."

"We can fight said the one-eyed giant with an oath.

"Fight!" sneered Blood. "Under-manned as we are, mustering a bare twenty men, in what case are we to fight? No, there would be only one way. To persuade her that all is well aboard, that we are Spaniards, so that she may leave us to continue on our course."

Ozle, with a bent for sarcasm, interposed a suggestion bitterly.

"We might send Don Diego de Espinosa in a boat manned by his Spaniards to assure his brother the Admiral that we are all loyal subjects of his Catholic Majesty."

"Blood!" he said. "He doesn't fear death, this damned pirate; but he can make a different view. Filial piety's mighty strong in Spain. He swings on his heel abruptly, and strode back to the knot of men about his prisoner. 'Here,' he shouted to them, 'bring him below!'

In the ward-room the three stern chasers were in position, loaded, their muzzles thrusting through the open ports, nervously as the Spanish gunners had left them.

"Here, Ozle, is work for you," said Blood, and as the bulky gunner came thrusting through the open door, he pointed to the middle chaser. "Have that gun hauled back," he ordered.

When this was done Blood beckoned those who held Don Diego.

"Lash him across the mouth of it," he bade them, and whilst, assisted by another two, they made haste to obey, he turned to the others. "To the roundhouse, some of you, and fetch the Spanish prisoners. And you, Dyke, go up and bid them set the flag of Spain aloft."

Don Esteban, with his body stretched in an arc across the cannon's mouth, legs and arms lashed to the carriage on either side of it, eyeballs rolling in his head, glared manically at Captain Blood. A man may not fear to die, and yet be appalled by the form in which death comes to him.

Captain Blood vowed that he would meet the fifteen manacled Spanish prisoners. From amongst them, comely, olive-skinned stripling, distinguished in bearing and apparel from his companions, started forward with an anguished cry of "Fate!"

Writhing in the arms that made have to seize and hold him, he called upon heaven and hell to avert this horror and lastly, addressed to Captain Blood an appeal for mercy that was at once fierce and piteous.

Recovering the cynicism in which he had approached his task, the cynicism essential to his proper performance, Blood named him Ogle, to kindle a match and remove the leaden apron from the touch hole of the gun that bore Don Diego. Then, as the younger Espinosa broke into intercessions mingled with imprecations, he wheeled upon him sharply.

"Peace!" he snapped. "It is your father's treachery that has brought us into this plight, and deliberately into risk of capture and death aboard that ship of Spain. Just as your father recognized his brother's flagship, so will his brother have recovered to the first shot from the Encarnacion this gun will fire the answer. I make myself clear, I hope?"

"But name of God, how should it be clear," young Espinosa cried. "Can you avert the fight? If you know a way, and if, I, or these, can help you to it Heaven's name let me hear it."

"A fight would be averted if Don Diego de Espinosa were to go aboard his brother's ship, and by his presence and assurances inform Admiral that all is well with the Cinco Ligas. But Don Diego cannot go in person, because he has a slight touch of fever—shall we say? But you, his son, may convey all this and some other matters together with his homage to your uncle."

Then, as the younger Espinosa broke into intercessions mingled with imprecations, he wheeled upon him sharply.

His excellency frowned thoughtfully. "I understand, in part," said he.

Captain Blood had a moment's uneasiness.

"And we have in the boat below two chests containing fifty thousand pieces of eight, which we are to deliver to your excellency."

"Not another word, in the name of Heaven!" cried the Admiral in alarm. "My brother wishes me to assume charge of this money, to carry it to Spain for him? Well, that is a family matter between my brother and myself." He broke off. "Humi a glass of Malaga in my cabin, if you please," he invited them, "whilst the chests are being hoisted aboard."

And whilst sailors carried on board the two chests, the Admiral and Captain Blood exchanged toasts that damned eternally the besotted James who occupied the throne of England. At the end Don Esteban timidly urged:

"My father is in haste to reach San Domingo. He desired me to stay no longer than necessary to embrace you. If you will give us leave, then, sir uncle."

In the circumstances "sir uncle" did not insist.

As they stepped into the waist of the Cinco Ligas, Hagthorpe advanced to receive them. Blood observed to set, almost scared expression on his face.

"Don Diego" he was beginning, and then stopped, and looked curiously at Blood.

Nothing the pause and the look, Esteban bounded forward, his face livid.

"Have you broken faith," said Hagthorpe firmly, so firmly that he quieted them. "And in this case there was not the need for Don Diego to be in his bonds before ever you reached the Encarnacion."

Peter Blood said nothing.

"Died?" screamed Esteban. "You killed him, you mean. Of what did he die?"

Hagthorpe looked at the boy. "If I am a judge," he said, "Don Diego died of fear."

Don Esteban struck Hagthorpe across the face at that, and Hagthorpe would have struck back, but that Blood got between, whilst his followers seized the lad.

"He died before I left the Cinco Ligas," said Blood. He was hanging dead in his bonds when I spoke to him before leaving."

"If I had known that," the lad said at last in a thick voice, "you would be hanging from the yard-arm of the Encarnacion at this moment. But you'll hang there yet."

Captain Blood shrugged, and turned on his heel. But he did not on that account disregard the words, nor did Hagthorpe, as they showed at a council held that night in the cabin.

This council was met to determine what should be done with the Spanish prisoners. Considering that Curacao was a Dutch settlement, in return for his liberty. Jeremy Pitt, who had studied navigation, suspects Don Diego is betraying them.

Coming on deck before the sun was up, he saw land ahead, and the Spaniard had promised them last night.

now lay beyond their reach. It had been decided that, going east of Hispaniola, and thence sailing along its northern coast, they should make for Tortuga, that haven of the buccanniers. It was now a question—whether they should convey the Spaniards thither to make the best of their way to the coast of Hispaniola, which was but ten miles off. This course urged by Blood was determined.

Tempting Dishes Are Easily Made With Cheese

Cheese, cooked and uncooked is being used more widely today than ever before in American households. So many foreign cheeses are available that the at home cooks are searching for all the recipes possible to make use of them. Each recipe given calls for the cheese appropriate for its making, and as a rule there are no substitutes for that particular cheese, as if it happens to be unavailable, it is wiser to use another recipe for an available cheese.

Italian Cream Cheese
This is a home-made cheese, designed to serve with the sweet course. Take a pint of heavy cream and add to it the grated rind and the strained juice of a large, fresh lemon. Add sugar enough to sweeten the cream to taste, then pour it into a cheese bag and let it drain twenty-four hours in a cool place. Turn out the cheese and mold it in shape on a pretty dish, then garnish it with a teaspoonful of jelly or rich preserves.

Almond Cream Cheese
Take a fresh cream cheese and work it to a smooth, thick paste with a little heavy cream. Add a half cupful of blanched and chopped almonds, a half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, a quarter teaspoonful of almond flavoring and a cupful of whipped cream that has been well drained. Blend all together, then turn into a suitable dish and set to chill. When ready to serve garnish with bar le duc or mint jelly, and serve with the salad course. This is a delicious cheese and very rich, and it should be served with very simple salad made with French dressing.

Mixed Cheese Salad
Blend together a cream cheese and a cupful of whipped cream that has been well drained. Add a half cupful of Boquefort cheese, adding red pepper, salt and enough cream to soften the mass so that it may be made into small balls. Add to the balls an equal amount of sharp American cheese cut in small dice. Heap the cheese in lettuce leaves and dress it with heavy French dressing, to which the juice of an onion has been added.

Bavarian Cheese Dish
Wipe the inside of a pudding dish with a cut bud of garlic, then butter it well. Lay in a thick layer of cold boiled and sliced potatoes, dust them with pepper and salt, sprinkle with onion juice, and then add a layer of grated cheese, another layer of potatoes and the seasoning, then a layer of grated cheese and dry crumbs mixed. Dot with butter and turn in a cupful of cream in which an egg has been

Palatable Ways of Serving Soup Meats

There are certain of our possessions that we don't like to lend. Not that we are selfish, but they are personal and we are attached to them enough to think that they reflect our own personality, and it seems like lending a foot or hand and it hurts to see others using them.

Perhaps we should head the list with umbrellas. Every one has, or should have, one or more of his own, and every household should have an umbrella of the cheaper sort to lend when it becomes necessary to do so—one of the glories of a mixture with a frame and the family name marked inside to insure its return. A week-end guest, for instance, frequently is without this convenience, and is quite happy to accept the protection of the family umbrella instead of borrowing someone's favorite.

In one family a wise mother, whose family was well equipped with rain-coats, kept on hand a water-proof cape of ample proportions for guest use and found it invaluable. It was made of material that in no way lost its value by being folded away in a drawer until needed.

What One Hostess Did
A hostess in a country home where the young people, daughters and sons, had a great deal of company, had a hall cabinet with a zinc door and a good lock, and in it she kept all the small toilet conveniences, sponges, wash cloths, shoe dressing, hairpins, pins, tape and the other little things so often needed by visitors and borrowed. The prices were all marked on the things and a box was provided for cash. She carried the key and when things were asked for she would provide them at the regular store price, which enabled her to keep up her stock. This was thought a bit mercenary by some, but the fair-minded all felt it more honest to buy than borrow and were willing to pay. Among the little necessities were stamps, always borrowed and when borrowed rarely returned. It is an idea worth borrowing for other hostesses who have suffered from the beaten.

Bake twenty or thirty minutes, according to the heat of the oven serve with hot meat course.
Toasted Cheese Slices
Cut medium slices of bread and trim off the crusts. Toast the bread very lightly and lay on a baking sheet, cover the slices with very thin sliced sharp American cheese and set under the broiler long enough to toast brightly. Remove from the blaze and dust with a little cayenne pepper and salt and serve at once.

persistent borrower who fails to pay back these debts of convenience. In a small town borrowing becomes acute at times and a stand has to be made to rid one's self of the nuisance, as those with experience know.

Kitchen utensils are not immune from the borrower's list, and the preserve kettle, the ham boiler, the fish kettle and large pie plates are the things most frequently sought. These things are expensive, as such things go, and not used as often as the other things, so people don't buy them. But they always know where to borrow when they are needed. These things, if carefully used, burn and scorch easily and we would rather do it ourselves than have it done for us.

Vacuum Cleaner Needs Care.
The vacuum cleaner has many invitations out and it is wise to refuse if we value the cleaner. People who have none are apt to be unused to caring for it and almost always some little thing will be out of order or broken when it is returned. Some times the borrower offers to foot the repair bill; sometimes they insist "it's nothing, it is harder to have an argument over it than to rise and say 'I am sorry, neighbor, but I never lend!'" In rare cases it may cost a friendship; in most cases, however, people will realize the justice of the stand you take.

Another wise scheme is to keep six or a dozen plated forks, tea and table spoons, to lend a neighbor who has extra guests come suddenly for whom she cannot care, rather than to lend your good silver and have to worry for fear it will be lost or scratched. Children should be discouraged in every way in borrowing. They should be provided with all the things they need in school and at home, so that the idea never enters their head. Better go without than borrow. A child who never has his needs supplied soon becomes known, and it is stunted by the very ones with whom it would like to be friends.

Safeguarding Things You Do Not Like To Lend

Housewives who have learned the lesson of economy count on the soup meat for a use beyond that of contributing to the soup some of its flavor and goodness. Those who know buy with this in mind. A nice piece of

"Owe my life to Carnol," says Mr. Sinclair

Following a railway accident, after other medicines failed, he got relief from two bottles of Carnol.

The following letter needs no comment from us. We leave Mr. Sinclair to tell you about his experience in his own words—"I was very much run down and nervous following a railway accident some years ago. Medicines failed to give me any real help, so I decided to try Carnol. I did not have any faith in patent medicines, but a friend of mine said Carnol was far superior to any other of the so-called patent medicines. 'Give it a trial,' he said, 'and let me know the results.' I am glad to say this wonderful medicine has done for me what no other medicine has done, and it therefore gives me great pleasure to give this evidence in favor of Carnol. I would advise all business men who feel, after the strenuous life of the world, that they need a building up tonic, so take Carnol. It is only by giving it a fair trial that they will know its splendid qualities. After using the first bottle I noticed a marked improvement. My appetite improved and after the second bottle I could eat like a horse, even raw potatoes and onions would be as welcome as apples. I step like a leg and after a refreshing sleep, I was able to take up the strenuous work of the hustling insurance agent. This work calls for considerable nervous energy in closing business and I can say, with confidence, Carnol has no superior in the medicine line. I would suggest that your company give this letter a most conspicuous place, so that everyone may know what a great medicine is before the public as a restorative tonic and flesh builder. I say, with all confidence, I owe my life to Carnol. Nothing makes this medicine—Gordon M. Sinclair, Clitham, N.B. 1-24

SAYS ONTARIO AND QUEBEC MUST HOLD WATER POWER

Toronto, Jan. 24.—Speaking over the long distance telephone from London yesterday Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, declared that Ontario and Quebec must stand together in opposition to the leasing of water powers. The commission, he said, will fight any attempt to alter legislation governing power export in favor of certain interests.

Commenting upon the existing power conditions in this province Sir Adam declared that Ontario was being forced to spend large sums on supplementary steam plants because the Federal Government failed to act in further power development.

EAT MORE SPUDS

A campaign has been started in Maine to induce the people of that state to "eat more Maine potatoes," and as an inducement the statement is made that they are at "rock bottom prices" and there are forty-one million bushels of them to dispose of.

Other arguments advanced are that if the Maine people can be induced to eat more potatoes, it will help the farmers to dispose of the big stock they have on hand. Otherwise they will have to stand the loss and the prospects are that next year the crop will be so small that there will not be enough to supply the demand.

Dalhousie Personals

Mrs. E. R. Gaudet was a visitor to Campbellton on Wednesday Jan. 28th.

Miss Lucienne Samson left on Thursday Nov. 29th, for Chandler, P. Q. to spend a few days with her brother Paul Samson, who is in the employ of the Chicoutimi Lumber Co. She will also meet her friends Miss Marie Godin and Miss Beatrice Arsenault, former Dalhousie girls.

Mr. Pius Michaud, M. P. of Edmundston, N. B. was in the shiretown on Wednesday, Jan. 28th, while making a tour of Restigouche Co. before the formal opening of the Federal Parliament.

Councillor Jackson Miller, Black Lake, registered at the "Queen Hotel" Dalhousie on Jan. 28th.

Joseph Romeo Allard, son of Capt. Frank Allard of Campbellton, P. Q., who is well known in Campbellton and Dalhousie, is receiving congratulations on his successful examination passed recently in Montreal, when out of a class of 15 he was the only one who qualified to be a Captain. He is twenty-one years of age.

Miss Ellen McEvoy, who has been residing at home during recent months, left for New York, on Wednesday, Jan. 28th, to resume her work as a trained nurse.

Mrs. J. Duncan McNeill, who occupies the McGregor home in Dalhousie, after a four weeks visit to their friends in St. John, and Queens Co. N. B. while in St. John, N. B. they paid a visit to Hon. L. P. Farris Esq. Minister of Agriculture and Mrs. Farris.

Mr. Patrick McEvoy, Sydney, N. S. spent the week end with his family in Dalhousie.

Mrs. Wilfred L. Whalen, Grand Ave., N. B. arrived in town last week to spend some time in Dalhousie, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Mary Elzinger. Mrs. Whalen was one of the Dalhousie Co's successful teachers. She is receiving a hearty welcome in her native town.

Mr. John Midgley was among the many visitors from Dalhousie, who went to Campbellton, on Monday.

Mrs. J. W. Cooke was among the many visitors from Dalhousie, who went to Campbellton, on Monday.

Mr. Leo Blanchard, son of Sheriff S. Blanchard, who has been a successful teller in the Dalhousie Branch of the Royal Bank, with Mr. W. A. R. Crage, as Manager has been transferred to the St. Leonard's Branch. He left on Monday for Campbellton, en route for Madawaska Co. It is his first departure from home and him many young friends in the shiretown appreciate true comradeship, gave Leo a real good send off. Previous to attending his departure at the Station in large numbers, they assembled at Sheriff Blanchard's home and took the young Banker by surprise, and presented him with an appropriate address, accompanied with a very nice Travelling Club Bag. The address was read by Mr. Freddie Arsenault, of the Royal Bank, and the Club Bag was presented by Master Arthur Gaudet, on behalf of the Boy Scouts of the recipient. Mr. Leo Blanchard thanked his friends for their thoughtfulness and extreme kindness. He was leaving his hometown reluctantly. Dainty refreshments were served after a pleasant time was spent.

Mr. J. B. McCann arrived in the shiretown on Saturday from Grand Falls, N. B. to replace Leo Blanchard as Teller in the Dalhousie Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. Mr. McCann is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

On Monday evening the regular weekly meeting of the Girls Guides of Dalhousie was held, with Captain H. E. Hocquard present. It was decided to have a Snow Shoe Party on Friday evening.

On Tuesday evening an enjoyable A. S. Party was held at the home of Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford, under the auspices of the Soldiers' Memorial Aid, Dalhousie Branch.

The Telegraph-Journal a few days ago gave an account of the select of a Miss St. Stephen, which ceremony took place in the Rink before a large attendance of skaters and older citizens. In the list of contestants seven charming young ladies appeared, and it is a compliment of the shiretown of Restigouche Co., that one of the young ladies belongs to Dalhousie, in the person of Miss Dorothy Williams.

Mrs. Andrew Barberie was the host on Thursday evening at a very enjoyable Card party at which a game of Whist was played at several tables. The prize winners were: Miss Gertrude Thompson, Mrs. E. J. McManon, 2nd, and Miss Aubrey Brou, 3rd. Dainty refreshments were served after a most pleasant evening.

A few friends of Miss Marjorie McEvoy, belonging to the younger set, were nicely entertained at Miss McEvoy's home on Thursday evening.

CHURCH UNION UP TO JAN. 29TH.

Statement of Governor of Joint Union Committee Upon Progress of Voting

The strength of the United Church of Canada will be far beyond the dreams of its supporters. Out of a total of 9,359 congregations of preaching stations of the three Churches forming the United Church of Canada, only 324 so far have voted non-concurrence. Of these, 229 are in the Province of Ontario, which Province will ultimately contain approximately 3,000 preaching stations within the United Church.

The number of congregations voting non-concurrence in Ontario makes the loss to the United Church appear far greater than it really is. In each such congregation, there is a large minority determined to go with the Presbyterian Church into the Union. These include the great workmen and contributors of the congregation, in most cases.

The revolt against the Presbyterian Church is largely confined to Ontario. The reactionary element is strong in certain sections of this Province but in so far as their influence goes, they are setting their Province against the rest of the Dominion.

East and West are practically a unit in favor of Church Union. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are as emphatic in favor of a united Canada religiously as well as politically as are the West and North. No vote will be taken in the Provinces of Manitoba and New Brunswick until after June 2. These sections will be as strongly in favor of the Union of the Churches as their sister Provinces. Newfoundland has as yet no legislation.

The vote thus far demonstrates that the United Church of Canada is already a great and powerful reality, as well as a great ideal. The following table shows the exact situation in each Province and each denomination determined to go with the

FOR YOUR OWN SAKE—GO TO CHURCH

I am the best friend you ever had. I am hung about sweet memories—memories of boys and girls, memories of brides, memories of the memories of the aged as they grope their way down the shadows. I am decked with loving tears—crowned by happy hands and hearts ## in the midst of the great men of the earth I find a constant dwelling place.

I safeguard man through all his path. I lift the fallen. I strengthen the weak. I help the distressed. I show mercy, bestow kindness and offer a friendly hand.

I am good fellowship, friendliness and love.

Some time, some day, some hour in the near or far future, you will yearn for the friendly touch. I am your comfort and your best friend. I am calling you now! I am the Church.

PRESIDENT DR. PINAUL PRESIDE AT FRIDAY OF PROVINCIAL

Secretary H. M. Armstrong Morning To Prepare For Work On Program—Dr. Travelling Diagnostic Chosen As Officers—C. B. Clinie.

The next important move in the organization of the New Brunswick Tuberculosis Association which had its inception here last summer, will be made tomorrow in Moncton at sessions which will be held at the City Hall there when a Travelling Diagnostician will be appointed and other important work undertaken. Mr. H. M. Armstrong, Secretary of this new provincial organization, left on this morning's limited to prepare for the meeting. Dr. L. G. Pinaud, President of the association will go to Moncton tomorrow to preside at the different sessions.

Will Represent

It is gratifying to know that Campbellton is well represented in the splendid work to check the spread of tuberculosis. There is some distinction in having two local men appointed to the responsible positions of president and secretary and in these cases the Association may feel assured of faithful and efficient service. Dr. Pinaud, as well as other local physicians, has taken keen interest in the organization of the N. B. Tuberculosis Association and, perhaps, a leading part in getting the new association properly formed. In Secretary Armstrong the organization has secured the services of an active and competent executive. In view of these facts and also because of its worthy purpose it is fitting that citizens should take a strong interest in the agenda of the association.

The Meetings

There will be three sessions tomorrow in Moncton. The executive committee will meet at an early hour in the afternoon and a general meeting will follow at 8 o'clock. A preliminary session will be held in the evening. A large attendance of provincial physicians as well as other officers of organization from various parts of the province are expected to be present.

Dr. Wherrett

Dr. Wherrett, an eminent Ontario physician will be decided on as Travelling Diagnostician to be appointed by the Association. The two this official will be to cover the lines in connection with the work of the Association to collaborate with resident doctors and aid in the of the various T. B. clinics which is the intention of the association established through New Brunswick their efforts to combat this disease.

Other Details

Many other details in connection with the program of the new association will be dealt with tomorrow in the intention of association to local committees in each throughout the province and to be made temporary centres for clinics, Campbellton, Bathurst, Carleton Place, Chatham, Richmond, Woodstock, Woodville, Edmundston, St. Stephen, Sussex and St. John's. These clinics will be established for this purpose should the need arise.

Local Appointments

Mr. A. McG. MacDonald, so of the Restigouche Sub-District of Health has been appointed as Advisory Committee. Messrs. Champoux and H. A. Carr have been appointed to the Executive Committee and Mr. John Harquail to the Membership Committee.

Probably no movement will province-wide concern over the danger of tuberculosis as formation of the N. B. Tuberculosis Association. Until the press is no organized effort made the scourge of tuberculosis in New Brunswick will be a constant threat to the health of the people. It is undoubtedly a great need of preventive work planned by this new provincial association.
