Phone messages are being received every few minutes by the police and others telling of people who have seen or think they have seen Moir.

The police are sifting the stories and following those which look like real clues, paying but little attention to the hordes of tales which are being spun broadcast.

The Chase.

Detectives Nickle and Egelton, in a rig, with The Advertiser man following close behind in a buggy, started at noon for Listowel, Sergt. Down and P. C. Bolton left earlier in the morning for Sebringville, four miles west of Stratford, on the railroad.

Sergt. Green and Sergt. Gilmour, of daybreak, and are working towards Seaforth, and will strike out along on erts to take Ross to the station, the the Buffalo and Goderich line.

The Net Spreading.

The cordon of police, with the aid of telephones and telegraphs, is now stretched out over a territory tending thirty miles in a circle from Stratford.

Another St. Paul's story came to the ears of the police this morning, but it is not being followed as it is thought that Moir is not in that district now.

Moir, according to the story of a farmer, called at a farm house and demanded food.

A Desperate Man.

The farmer and his family had read in the papers of the murder, and of man who committed the deed Moir, it is said, wore a soft cap, probably the one stolen from the boy retained the khaki trousers, walking towards Stratford. The man wore a dark overcoat, a little below his knees, and a khaki uniform. His overcoat was open showing the uniform. Shepley did not know whether he wore a hat or a cap.

Moir held his head down and looked the other way as Shepley passed him. Neither spoke. Moir had a hand in each of his over-

Moir was in very bad humor and snapped back:

"I will hit you just as hard if you do not shut your mouth." Noting the man's condition the soldier made no further comment, and for the rest of the distance to the barracks, very little, if anything, was said.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

Moir had a great penchant for wearing veteran colors, and it was on this count probably that the tragedy was caused. It is the custom at the barracks to wear these colors with certain uni-

As a matter of fact, there is a very strict law governing this matter. Moir had repeatedly offended on this count.

He had several colors-South Africa, Frontier, and others, it is said. On Thursday night, as on other occasions, he came to the barracks wearing the colors on the wrong uniform.

Lieut. Snider, it is alleged, had noticed this, and had ordered Color-Sergt. Lloyd to command Pte. Moir to report to him.

On Friday night Moir again offended, and was ordered to report to Lieut. Snider in the morning.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

This was the beginning of the dispute that ended in the dreadful tragedy. If the story is true, it shows that Lloyd was acting under orders coat pockets, evidently clutching his when he accosted Moir the night of the murder.

Moir was very fond of exhibiting his colors in barrooms, and informing the habitues of these places that he was a veteran of many wars. There was a great deal of doubt among the men at the barracks as to Moir's right to wear some of these colors.

It was thought for a time that the young man who committed suicide at Fergus this morning was Moir. This young man had a gunmetal

As the head of the Government he catches the larger outlook of his predecessors and pushes to a completion the projects they set on foot.

In 1992, Mr. Whitney supported a proposal to place the redistribution of constituencies in the hands of fifteen high court judges. In 1908, Mr. Whitney hands the work over to a committee controlled by his partisan nominees, and they defy every principle of justice and fair play.

In Opposition, Mr. Whitney vow that he would "take the administration of the license business out of politics," and place it on a nonpartisan basis. As Premier, he chose this department for the thoroughgoing application of the spoils system. Immediately after his accession to office he promised that no civil servant would be dismissed unless upon sworn evidence which justified his re moval. THE FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBI-TION.

The enthusiasm with which the British and French peoples have taken up the proposal to hold a Franco-British exhibition in London, or rather a suburb of the great city, during the coming summer emphasizes the rapidly-growing friendship between the two in the western provinces Monday, and countries, and may be taken as proof Toronto had four inches of snow. This that the entente cordiale is more than political in its effect.

The idea originated with the French Chamber of Commerce in London, and French co-operation and superintendence will be strongly in evidence. If present plans are carried out the exhibition will be opened by King Edward and President Fallieres some time next month, and will be the greatest affair of the kind ever witnessed in the United Kingdom.

The site chosen is 140 acres in extent, and lies on the western edge of Inner London, north of what is known as Shepherd's Bush, being so easily reached from all points that it is calculated 75,000 people may be carried to the spot every hour. The arrangement of the grounds is unique. The central point is the concert garden, a large square open space in the middle of the inclosed area, and on all sides will be large ornamental buildings to be used for purposes of amusement and refreshment. To the west of the concert garden is the court of progress, or machinery section, embracing three large halls, providing 300,000 square feet of space for the display of mahim it could be said, as the poet sang chinery, and frenting on an open space of eight acres. And the news was none the less unwelcome because unexpected. It was received with expressions first of incredulity, then of indignation on all hands. So strong, indeed is the feeling of indignation over the matter in this community that unless the Government can produce the strongest possible evidence in support of the course which they have taken, the candidate who is chosen to represent them in the now nearby approaching elections will certainly experience the weight of resentment which the people of Belleville feel over the dismissal of Sheriff Hope. There was not even a "commission" in Sheriff Hope's case. That farce is evidently played out. The Premier, who began with such lofty professions of offer an excuse for the repeated and

Death Rate Among "Home" Children.

I wonder where he got his statistics they seem to be very far out. For if he had taken the trouble look up the statistics in this city h would have found that in the home by the Christian women of this city, the record is very different. In the Infants' Home on St. James' street there have been only three deaths in the last year, two of whom were brought in for treatment, and they average about 25 to 30 children the year round. In the Protestant Orphans' Home the result is better, for there has only been one death in eighteen years, and they average about forty orphans the whole year I hope that the lecturer was not talking over the heads of the teachers when he was talking about love. There are not very many children who die of want of love. I hope this will correct the wrong impression given out by the lecturer

Hoffman Starts Scoring.

Hoffman started for the Browns in the first round with a drive to left and Siever followed this up by walking Charley Jones. Stone popped to O'Leary, but Williams-they said he was all in, in New York - drove to deep right for three , bags, scoring both men. Wallace followed fast upon his heels with a smash to left for two. Ferris flied to McIntyre, but three runs were in.

The Tigers started to come right back in their half at the expense of Mr. Bailey. They were aided in their scoring by ragged play on the part of | the Browns. McIntyre singled cleanly to left and Schaefer worked his way to first on four balls. Then Crawford awoke from his lethargy with one of his old-time smashes. He was forced by Cobb, but Matty scored. New York, April 21.-Baron Albert de Rothschild, of Vienna, referee in the Anglo-American chess match for .833 the Anglo-American chess match for the Newnes trophy, cabled to the Brooklyn Chess Club today as follows: "I consider both games drawn."

The message had reference to the wo games left unfinished on March 14 and upheld the contention of the American committee that the games could not be won by the Englishmen, despite the fact that each of the latter had the advantage of a pawn. Thus, A. B. Hodges, at the first board, is credited with a draw against J. H Boston today, 4 to 0. Hits by Collins and Blackburne, the American, incidental-Hartset, following errors by McConnell, ly maintaining his unbeaten record; Pruitt and Unglaub in the seventh inning, and E. EASTER HAT DELAYS TRAIN

Pittsburg, April 21. - There was much trouble at the East Liberty station of the Pennsylvania Railroad this morning and the Pacific Express was delayed five minutes because the soulless corporation which makes Pullman cars builds their corridors so narrow that a woman cannot walk through them with her hat on.

A girl from New York started to get off at East Liberty wearing her new Easter hat. When she attempted to pass through the narrow passageway at the side of the car her hat became wedged and the more she tried to walk forward the tighter she stuck. The conductor angrily declared he would start the train with her still aboard.

The porter attempted to push her forward, but it was no use. Then it suddenly occurred to the young woman to remove the hatpins. The porter SATURDAY BARGAINS helped her to lift the lid and it finally came off. When it had been turned sidewise she reached the platform and cigar made in London, four for 25 cents. the express pulled out five minutes OMEARA'S CIGAR STORE late. Make Babies Safe

A bottle of Strong's Carminative should be in every home where there are infants and young children. During the warm season, which will soon be here, it will be particularly valuable. It quickly relieves colic, flatulence, diarrhoea, cramps, teething troubles and other disorders to which little ones are subject. A safe remedy, indorsed by the medical profession. Price 25c.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

There was a fairly brisk demand for what produce was offered at the markets held here the past week, and the prices paid for the same are apparently satisfactory to the farmers. Grain-Oats are selling at $1 50 to $1 57 per cwt. Wheat at 92c per bushel. Clover seed $12 to $13 per bushel, and timothy seed at $2 75.

Hay and Straw-The supply of hay the past week was fairly large. There is a moderately brisk demand, and prices are lower than last week's quotations. Sales are made at $13, and occasionally $13 50 per ton for the best quality, and $11 to $12 50 for the inferior loads.

The packers report more inquiries for baled hay, but there is a lot of loose hay in the farmers' barns, and If we have good grass at the usual time, there will likely be a decline in prices.

Straw is slow at $7 and $7 50 per Butter and Eggs-The dealers expected by this time to see a considerable decline in the price of butter, but have been disappointed, as there expectations have not been realized. and 27c for crocks in wholesale lots, $1 12; No. 2 northern, $1 09; Ontario No. 2 The price of choice creamery is firm at 32c and 33c per pound. Eggs are in good demand and the supply is per dozen for crate lots and 151/2c for mixed, 1c less, basket lots. The dealers don't expect to see lower prices than is being paid at present, as they are commencing to place a large quantity in cold storage. Potatoes-The market is firmer and the demand good at 75c and $1 per bag wholesale. The dealers expect three car loads here and they don't expect $6; seconds, $5 40; strong bakers, $5 30; prices to go any higher. Apples-Sales are on the slow side At $1 50 to $2 25 per barrel, or 50c to freights.

80c when sold by the bag. Poultry - Prices are considerably lower than quoted last week. Turkeys sold at 14c to 15c per pound, dressed, or 13c to 14c alive. Chickens are 1c per pound lower, at 10c alive, or 11c $7 10. to 12c dressed. Spring ducks, 65c to and steady.

A Collection of Beautiful

Lace Curtains

Each season the lace-workers of St. Gall appear to excel all of their former successes in the making of exquisite Curtains and Curtain Materials. This spring the latest productions are unusually beautiful. The Irish Point, Brussels Net, Poine de Venise, Point d'Arabe, Filet d'Italien, Point Chantilly and Guipure Curtains, in their most effective designs are being shown this week in our Curtain Department.
