THURSDAY, SEPT. 19.
THE UNRIVALLED "THUNDERER."

For comprehensiveness, reliability and sound judgment—in fact, in all the attributes which go to make up a model newspaper—the venerable London Times continues to lead all other newspapers in the world. It does not announce its virtues with a brass band or by vain boasting, as minor sheets do; it simply does as a matter of course what other newspapers would consider astonishing enterprise. Here is a tribute paid by the New York Times to the London Times: "The really important news of the world, the news that involves or foreshadows the fate of dynasties and the destinies of nations, news that is of interest and value to serious-minded and thoughtful persons, is collected by The London Times with a diligence, fullness, and accuracy that remain unrivalled even in these days of keen competition and lavish expenditure. There is a quality of recognized authority, too, in its news—of which Dr. Morrison's despatches from China may be cited as an example—that has won for its despatches a confidence and consideration throughout the world to which no other newspaper can make successful pretension."

THE GREAT STRIKE ENDED.

The great strike of steel workers has ended. It was a struggle between organized Capital and organized Labor of greater dimensions than has been—that is the organization was on a vaster scale, especially as regards Capital. The strike has resulted in a complete victory for Capital. The losses of the defeated consist of ten weeks' wages for the host of strikers and the loss of their positions by the strikers whose places have been filled. The Steel Trust, having engaged men to fill the places of some of the strikers, decline to discharge those men now.

In more than one sense the contest has been a most unfortunate one for organized labor, and, in the interest of society and of the mass of workers, the victory is to be deplored. The great steel combine by a coup engineered by astute financiers some months ago dominated the commercial world and achieved a triumph of combination never hitherto equaled. Now the same combination of organized Capital has come into conflict with its strongest opponent in organized Labor and has vanquished that also. It is not a good omen for the opening of the twentieth century that such a state of affairs should exist.

What makes it still more unfortunate is that the public generally cannot well adversely criticize the result on its merits no matter how it may deplore the result in the abstract. The steel combine has conducted its battle with Labor with the same subtle skill—with which it effected the creation of the gigantic trust. Thanks to the lack of discretion shown by the labor leaders, the representatives of organized Capital succeeded in putting organized Labor in the position of being in the wrong. The over-confident, tactless and hot-headed advisers and leaders of Labor were an easy prey for the skilled commercial diplomats at the head of the trust, who from the first succeeded in securing the upper ground in the fight.

The public is in a paradoxical position as regards the result of the Titanic struggle. While every thoughtful man will deplore a victory which places almost autocratic power in the hands of a huge commercial oligarchy in an ostensibly democratic nation of seventy-five millions, it is impossible not to admit that in this struggle with Labor the victory has been won on its merits and that the conduct of the campaign by the representatives of Capital leaves the cause of the latter practically invulnerable to criticism. Labor, by the indiscretion of its leaders, undertook the struggle under conditions which could only be deplored by the most sincere well-wishers of the workers.

IN THE HIGHEST CLASS.

Lord Dundonald, the cavalry officer who did so much in the relief of Ladysmith, says: "As regards horses for mounted infantry work, the best I have seen were the Canadians."

There is some consolation in knowing that any anarchist who gets the drop on President Roosevelt will have to draw quick.

The joy of Canadians at greeting their future King is mellowed by the thought that the American people are at the same time paying their last sad farewells to their dead President.

Young Kruger, who has surrendered to the British, is the son of his father. If he had not surrendered before September 15 he would have forfeited all his property, and, judging by Oom Paul, it is not a trait of the Kruger family to give up anything. Perhaps that is why he surrendered.

The recent launch of the steel steamer "Huron" at Collingwood is a significant indication of what Canada's inland shipbuilding industry may eventually become. Canada has all the materials for building steel ships conveniently at hand. All it requires now is a good start to become a great shipbuilding nation.

It is well to wait the final result before arriving at definite conclusions. That surgery has made great progress in modern times is an admitted fact. It has accomplished feats which a few years ago would have been accounted marvellous. Several papers in the United States and even some in Canada had, written articles in regard to the treatment of President McKinley, as giving another evidence of the triumph of the modern surgical art, but these articles were premature. It cannot be said to be any discredit to that art that the efforts were not successful. Laymen are however, somewhat puzzled to understand how such heroic operations were sent out up till the time the collapse commenced.

CANADAIN SYMPATHY.

Buffalo Express.

The spontaneous unanimous sympathy of the Canadian people with us in our great national bereavement is no more than could be expected from our northern neighbors. Judges on the bench, bishops and priests and ministers in their pulpits and a united press voice the sympathetic feelings of the citizens of the Dominion, and the spirit of neighborliness is so sincere that it is stated that in all probability many of the festivities arranged in honor of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall will be abandoned. The possibility is expressed, also, of a change being made in the itinerary of the royal party, so that the Duke may represent King Edward at the funeral of the dead President.

When the Duke left England it was understood that he would visit British possessions only—Australia, Cape of Good Hope and Canada. It is thought that, in view of the tragedy, the King may direct the heir apparent to be present at the obsequies. Whether this is done or not, it is impossible to over-estimate the neighborly interest evinced by our English-speaking kinsmen. The breadth of their sorrow is not, apparently, measured by the conventional courtesy due to a sorrowing nation. It bears evidence of the close relationship which exists between these two peoples of the North American continent notwithstanding their national differences. And while they sympathize with the American people they are outspoken in their denunciation of the wretch who struck down the chief executive, and would find it a pleasure to mete out to him a measure of Canadian justice. Judge McDougall, of Toronto, presiding at the court of general sessions, took occasion to say to the grand jury: "It is most lamentable that a man who has come into such close contact with the people as President McKinley has done, should be made the victim of such a terrible extreme of human criminal instinct. It is a lesson to the people of the United States, especially crimes of violence, should be visited with great severity." Czolgosz would get short shrift in Canadian courts. Swift, stern justice for him here will have the admiration of the world.

Further Interesting Experiences Noted by John W. Young in his Trip.

Partridge Hill, Ross Creek, N. W. T., August 31.

Brandon was the next stopping place, and of all the bright, pretty little towns I have been in, it is the best. It is the centre of a great grain and stock raising country. The C. P. R. enters through a valley and the town is built upon the side of the hill from the C. P. R. tracks. They have a good sewer system and water-works. They filter their water the same as Chatham does. The town can boast of many pretty residences and some fine churches.

Mr. Atwell, manager of the Manson Campbell Fanning Mill Co's agency in Manitoba, has his headquarters here and he has been selling lots of mills. Mr. Wallace, who organized the Hedge Fence Company in Chatham, has a similar company here. I met him at dinner and he was looking exceedingly well.

Just across the town, to the northward, rises another hill. On it, in plain view from the main street of Brandon, are the asylum, the Experimental Farm and the Indian Industrial School. Not having time to visit all three, I chose the Experimental Farm. A pleasant view unfolds when you stand on the main street at Brandon and look across and see the fields of golden grain ripe on the hillside, the large buildings; the trees and the grass-covered hill-top which gradually rises for three or four hundred yards farther. From the summit of this hill, it is said, you can look for miles out on the prairie and see a vast expanse of cultivated land. Oscar Atwell and myself visited the Experimental Farm. It looked so short a distance away—just across the valley and half way up the hill. Looking across it seemed no distance at all, and so we decided to walk. We were both raised in Kent county, where there are no valleys, and we didn't understand them. The people told us it was about a mile, but we found it was nearer three, up and down hill. The Experimental Farm is a great place. Supt. Bedford is in charge. They raise all kinds of grain and roots. Everybody is at liberty to go through the grounds and look at the growing grains and vegetables. Everything is planted in rows with a stick at the end with the name of the kind of grain or vegetable on it. Of oats alone there were 75 different varieties growing. The Banner oats have been found to give the best results. Mr. Bedford told me that the Red Fife wheat was the best to grow in Manitoba. For the past five years it had yielded 90 bushels to the acre on land under cultivation for 20 years without ever having been manured. They save all their manure for their roots. They have not as yet been troubled by any insects destroying the grain. The day of our visit the staff were busy preparing a supplementary exhibit of oats and wheat for the Glasgow Exhibition, and splendid looking samples they were.

Returning from the farm we met Uriah Wilson, Conservative M. P. for Napanee. He, too, had been fascinated by the length of the walk, and was lamenting the fact when we met. Mr. Wilson is travelling through the west for the benefit of his son's health and incidentally studying up the fruits of the immigration policy of the present Government. This gentleman is known as Fighting Wilson and has the reputation of being one of the readiest debaters in the House. He had just returned from a visit to the Doukhobor settlement near Yorkton, and he didn't seem very favorably impressed with the new settlers. They leave the refuse lying around the place wherever they throw it out of the stable. The men don't look very clean or tidy, but the women do, and although it was harvest time a lot of the men were lounging around the town apparently doing nothing. In some of the houses the people and the animals dwell in the same place, other of the houses were fairly clean. Mr. Wilson was asking after Fred Brisco, who is a Napanee production, and he told me, with some pride, that all the Briscos at Napanee were warm supporters of his.

Mr. Atwell, Sr., told me that many of the farmers around Brandon sow more wheat than many of the farmers in Kent county raise. Some of the Manitoba farmers sow from one thousand to two thousand bushels of wheat and have as high as a thousand acres under cultivation; many have 700 acres. The great majority are from Ontario and you couldn't hire them to return.

Moosomin was the next stop. Between this town and Brandon the country varies. In some places it is rolling, in others it is level. The soil in many places is very fertile, as the many splendid farms you see from the train testify. Quite a large portion of the land along here is held by speculators. Moosomin is the first town in the district of Assiniboia and has six large elevators. It is only a place of about 500 inhabitants, but from the middle of September until after Christmas, while the farmers are bringing in their grain and while their money lasts, it is a very lively place, so the residents told me. The town is the centre of a great agri-

LAI'D TO REST

Impressive Funeral Services of the late William Carlyle.

The funeral of the late William Carlyle, whose death occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital on Monday, took place this afternoon at half-past two o'clock from his late residence, Edgar street to Maple Leaf Cemetery. It was very largely attended, showing the high respect and esteem in which the deceased gentleman was held by everyone who knew him.

Rev. Dr. Hammon, of Park St. Methodist Church, was the officiating clergyman and the services were conducted by the Freemasons, of which order deceased was a much beloved member, being connected with Wellington Lodge, No. 46, and Wellington Chapter, No. 47. The pall-bearers were six of his brother lodgemen, two from the Masons, two from the A. O. F., and two from the Workmen.

The floral tributes were very numerous and of beautiful design, including a Masonic emblem from the Masons and a pillow from the A. O. F., besides numerous wreaths, bouquets, etc., from friends and relatives.

Deceased, who was 43 years of age, was one of the oldest and most respected residents, having resided in the Maple City for about 23 years. He was also at one time one of Chatham's most prosperous merchant tailors, the store now occupied by Tennent & Burke.

He leaves a bereaved wife and one sister to mourn his loss.

Mr. Carlyle has been ill for about a year and a half. About two years ago he went to British Columbia and there became stricken with the mountain fever, which afterwards developed into pneumonia. He returned almost immediately to Chatham, but never recovered from the attack.

The relatives from a distance, who attended the funeral, were Mrs. Blackburn, Mr. Thos. Cole, of Toronto, Mrs. Trickey, of Woodstock, and Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Liddy, of Detroit.

SERIOUS FIRE

The Barns and Outbuildings Belonging to Thomas Martin, of Chatham Township Devoured by Flames.

Word reached the city this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, that the barns and all of the outbuildings belonging to Thos. Martin, River Road, Chatham Township, were completely destroyed by fire.

The fire started about half-past two o'clock, and it was not long before the flames were out of control. A good breeze was blowing at the time and the timbers in the building burned like matchwood.

Mr. Martin was away buying horse when the fire broke out and Mrs. Martin was shopping in Chatham. The only one on the premises was a young boy who was powerless to do anything to save the buildings.

The cause of the fire is a complete mystery. Mr. Martin's loss will be very heavy, as all of his crops were in the barn at the time, including his entire crop of hay. Mr. Martin threshed his grain about two weeks ago, and all of this is included in the loss. The barn was almost a new one and the outbuildings were in comparatively good condition.

Mr. Martin's loss can not as yet be estimated, but it is understood that it is largely covered by insurance.

THE ANGLICANS HONORED.

H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall and York, upon his arrival at Quebec, changed the program for his visit in Montreal. The Duke learned of the death of President McKinley, and out of respect for him, but to the great disappointment of the upper 600, cancelled the big reception for which Montreal invitations had been issued, and His Royal Highness decided to visit on Thursday next, the Provincial Synod of the Anglican Church, now in session in that city.

We notice that Matthew Wilson, K. C., is a member of the Synod and of the reception committee. The public will not be allowed admission as by special request the place of meeting of the synod, if it must be held, will be crowded, and consequently only a very limited number of friends can obtain invitations or admission to see and hear the conference.

Columbians Vocate La Macha and Venezuelans Occupy it.

Willemstad, island of Curacao, Sept. 18.—News has been received from Caracas to the effect that the Venezuelan Government has been informed that La Macha has been evacuated by the Colombians, and that the Venezuelans have entered the place and are occupying it.

In Caracas the Venezuelan forces in the Rio Macha district are composed of Colombians and Venezuelans, indiscriminately, and are discussing the Venezuelan troops and Colombian revolutionists, and have purposely confused Colombian and Venezuelan flags, which are as similar as it is hard to distinguish them at a distance from the shore. (Business at Maracaibo is practically at a standstill. The unsettled condition of the customs has vastly diminished the government treasury. Coastwise transportation of troops and communication with the interior are most difficult. It is supposed at Caracas that the evacuation of La Macha was a strategic move.

Life of President McKinley

A Standard Historical Work

(From the Guelph Herald of Sept. 16.) The World Publishing Company of Guelph, Ont., have arranged to issue in Canada the best of all of the forthcoming books on the life of the late President McKinley. It will be a magnificent work, profusely illustrated, written by Murat Halstead, the celebrated war correspondent, the man that was selected by the Government of the late President McKinley to write the official report on the Philippine Islands. Murat Halstead has been a life-long friend of President McKinley, and it will be a labor of love for him to finish this book, which has long been in preparation. It will be complete—his boyhood, manhood, war services, political and social life, assassination, full account of the assassin and the anarchist's conspiracy connected therewith, medical treatment, death, burial and state funeral. The book is so cheap and so excellent that every family should have a copy.

We understand that a magnificent portrait of President McKinley, 18 x 22 inches in size, on card board, will be given with each copy of the book. The work will be sold by subscription, and agents will find an announcement of interest to them in another column.

With Only New Styles

First Fall Announcement from Headquarters of Men's Ready-to-Wear Suits

Our superb garments for fall stand out boldly and alone, unrivalled and without a peer in Chatham. They are as shapely as the finest custom made, and represent the newest ideas of fashion's dictates in full and fabrics. They are all handsomely tailored in full accordance with the highest authorities on correct dress and force themselves into favor by their moderate cost. They are so skillfully cut that anyone can be fitted, be he wide or narrow, tall or short, no matter what your size or taste may be we have garments here for you.

New Fall Suits and Top Coats

SUITS—Very attractive patterns, in nobby patterns, tweeds, worsted and novelty goods. The colorings are especially handsome and trimmings are right. Four button single breasted sack and three button double breasted sack coats are the prevailing styles. $7-50

THE TOP COATS come of imported fabrics, all the new fall shades, and also tailored in a custom manner throughout. Fall box back, medium and long lengths, style and fit absolutely correct. The price doesn't begin to represent the values on either suit or top coat.

Expert clothing buying alone enables us to give you these magnificent suits at this price. They are cut to be hand in all fabrics, colorings and styles. They have more choice and get-up than the high price tailor ever combined in a garment. The double breasted sack and the conventional round corner sack both shown in endless variety. $10-00

Men's Superb Fall Suits and Top Coats

The careful tailoring and painstaking finish gives these garments an elegance which falls to be imitated. They are made to wear well, please the eye and satisfy the careful dresser. No merchant tailor can show nobler suitings or overcoatings than those embodied in this line. Besides the conventional sack suit is the three button double breasted, cut with broad shoulders, full box back. They are very smart and snappy. The top coats are cut in all lengths and possess style and character calculated to satisfy the most fastidious men. $12-00

Men's Pure Botany Blue Serge Suits

THIS TRUE-AND PITY 'TIS THIS TRUE.

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."—Proverbs xiii. 1.

Certain of our patrons—of American birth, but for some years past highly esteemed residents of the Maple City—have called upon The Planet to cancel their subscriptions to this great home journal.

They have a grievance—or fancy they have. They complain of an editorial in Monday's issue under the caption "Let us Forget," in which The Planet pointed out that the severe chastisement which the neighboring republic has so recently suffered, might prove a blessing to the nation if, in the solemnity of the immediate presence of death, it cause the strong minds and the patriots to pause and ask whether the people were drifting as a result of the mad rush for wealth and aggrandizement, the sacrifice of national betterment for personal ambition.

Alluding to the results to the state of this policy, The Planet said:—

To-day the United States, nominally recognized as a Christian country, is characterized by political rotteness, atrocious lynchings, labor upheavals, desecration of the Sabbath, laxity of morals and an appalling et al.'s a serious, stern arraignment but alas! a true one.

And the republic has a proud history, dating from the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

Perhaps the present affliction will cause the strong minds of the great nation to arise and act. It is to be earnestly hoped that it may.

It is to the above that our esteemed late subscribers take objection.

But the facts, deplorably, are just as The Planet stated them. And, moreover, the matter cannot be righted by closing the eyes to them. Publicity is the ablest and most potent champion of reform. The best minds of the republic are realizing this and devoting their energies, both from the pulpit and platform and in the press, to bringing the American people to a realization of existing conditions and the immediate necessity and demand for their amendment.

Patriotism is a grand thing and loyalty to the land of birth much to be admired. But patriotism and loyalty, The Planet submits, are most faithfully conserved—not in a discreet ignoring of the indefensible and wrong, but in an endorsement of every appeal for true reform, for the betterment of existing conditions and for the real and permanent prosperity of the nation and its people.

BIG BOND

Priestess of Anarchy Held in Guarantees of $20,000—Emma Goldman's Case.

Chicago, September 18.—Magistrate Prindville to-day decided to allow Emma Goldman, the anarchist, her freedom until her case comes up for hearing, under bonds of $20,000. Her attorneys said they had secured $15,000 and immediately left the court room to seek the additional money necessary. Meanwhile, Mrs. Goldman was led back to the woman's annex at the Harrison street station. She was much disappointed at the amount of the bond required. "I guess they thought they would make the bond so high I couldn't furnish it," she added, "but I have high it." and "I'll be out of here by to-night."

TRIPLE MURDER

Three Children Murdered by a Half-breed—Their Bodies Burned.

Grantburg, Wis., Sept. 18.—Three children of a Mr. Hawley, living in Lang's Dam, were murdered yesterday, and the house in which they lived fixed to destroy evidences of the crime. The children were a girl of 16, a boy of eight, and another boy of four. Suspicion points strongly toward a half-breed as the perpetrator of the crime. He had been in love with the girl for some time, but she had not reciprocated his affection, and her parents had forbidden him annoying her. The parents, accompanied by the half-breed, started yesterday for the cranberry marshes. After going with them for some distance the half-breed turned back. An inquest shows that the girl was outraged, and then murdered, her throat being cut, while the skulls of the younger children were beaten in with a club. The suspect has disappeared. A lynching is probable if he should be captured.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

TRAVELLER'S IMPRESSIONS

mine in the town, W. F. Young, once of the Kingston Whig, but now editor of the World, a bright little weekly. He told me that the crops were good this year and a fair west-firing grain nearly the town had used 27-1/2 lbs. of twine for seven acres. Nineteen hundred, however, had been a poor year and the yield had only averaged 7-1/2 bushels to the acre. The growing season had been dry, and the harvest wet, but this year the crop could not be better and the average yield would be very large. It was impossible to estimate the number of bushels to the acre that would be harvested, but the grain was heavy and plump throughout the district. The land to the north was very fertile, but southward it was not quite so productive. In the whole of West Assiniboia last year the yield had been 32.93 bushels to the acre, so that it could be seen what the district could do even if it happened to be dry in the immediate vicinity of Mooseomin.

Partridge Hill, Sept. 4, '01.

Leaving Mooseomin on Saturday, August 24th, through a thinly settled rolling country, covered chiefly with low bushes and many waterholes and ponds, in all of which wild duck were seen in abundance, and the trip west continued.

At Broadview, a railway division point, situated at the head of West Lake, the passengers had a splendid supper. Wild duck was the chief point of the bill of fare. The duck season had just come in the day before, and the people living in the Northwest Territory nearly all had plenty of ducks, as the sloughs all over are full of these wild water fowl.

After leaving Broadview, you can look out of the car window across the boundless prairie, covered with grass alone.

We reached Moosejaw shortly after midnight and had to wait till 4.30 a.m. for the Limited. The station waiting room was crowded with harvesters, but they were not lying around outside as at Winnipeg. Some were stretched in groups on the floor. One had a raw cut in his hand, and another was sleeping soundly, safe from being stepped on. Another was snoring loudly extended in serpentine form on one of the benches. The divisions in the seat accounts for his shape, and when he woke in the morning he would probably need ironing to take the semi-circle out of his form. He evidently did not rest easily, for he muttered in his sleep, blank, the stars are freezing to the moon." Others were sitting in the seats soundly asleep.

At last the Limited arrived and we boarded it. When on a road to take interest in the landscape, it was Sunday morning, at 7.30, and the country without was exceedingly hilly. In the vicinity of Swift Current, the country is covered with ranches. We saw one man and two dogs guarding many hundred acres of sheep on a hillside. We reached Medicine Hat about three in the afternoon. It is pleasantly situated at the foot of hills on the south-east bank of the Saskatchewan River. Here we saw the first Indians wrapped in blankets. They came down to the train selling horn ornaments. Medicine Hat is quite a new town, and the coal found near here in quantities, and natural gas has lately been secured. The town has just carried a by-law, to raise money to light the town with this element of lumination.

At Medicine Hat, the level prairie is reached again with nothing but cattle trails to show for what this country is utilized. The cattle trails cover the prairie like the threads of a spider's web. At places you notice huge fields fenced in. All along the line, the gates across the road, which were—highly seldom—had a high post on top, and a wire strung across the top. I thought that the poles must be used to show the location of the gate, but later learned that this was a part of the same gate opening machinery. The poles were so large, however, I thought they needed something to show where the gate was.

Prairie fires had been raging along this part of the road, and we gazed quite a while in full swing. It grew dark as we drew near Calgary, and as we had to leave in the morning for Edmonton, I saw but little of the place or its surroundings, but I liked it greatly.

Calgary is a pretty city, surrounded by hills, and on a clear day you can see the snow capped peaks of the Rockies. The buildings are nearly all of stone, and the town is fast building up. I left Calgary with a determination to see more of it on my return.

From Calgary north for 40 miles, we saw nothing but ranches, with hay stacks here and there, everywhere cattle, and cattle everywhere. Fifty miles north tilled farms began to appear, and it was odd to see the grain here quite green, while when we reached Edmonton, 192 miles further north we saw many farmers busy cutting their grain.

The Western cattle are well acquainted with the engineers on the train and run merrily in front of the locomotive, while the engineer toots the whistle. If cows are standing near the track, the train has to slow down, for the engine always has to cross the track just in front of the engine. They are a good deal like women. You don't know why the cows do this, but they do. The railroad has not yet reached Edmonton, but stops at Strathcona, on the south bank of the Saskatchewan River. Here the banks are very high, and the situation of Edmonton, reminds one of Ottawa, only the banks are of clay instead of stone, as at the Capital City, but the banks here are just as high, if not higher. The bridge across the river has just been completed. The structure is an immense affair, and cost $75,000, being paid for partly by the government and partly by the town of Edmonton. It is expected that the railway will be across by October.

BRIGHT EYES, ROSY CHEEKS.

That depressing "used-up" feeling and pallid face can be quickly exchanged for happiness and rosy cheeks by a course of "Climax" Iron Tonic Pills. They build up the constitution, make new, rich blood, strengthen the nerves and improve digestion. Each box contains ten days' treatment. Price 25 cents, at all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price. Address: The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

God's love is infinite; his knowledge is absolute. Are we not a man in His knowing all should choose for us rather than that we, ignorant and weak, should endeavor to choose for ourselves?

To put the break on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a horse going up hill? If he did, his sensible horse would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill with the brake set against him. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of his duties. A foal stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments. Problems seem presented to his mind "wrong end to." This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Great Medical Discovery. It puts the stomach and digestive and nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light step for the day's duties. When constipation clogs the channels of the body, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will work an effectual cure of that disastrous disease.

While repairing a temple the Chinese cover up the eyes of the idols, in order that the deities may not be offended at the sight of the disorder.

Wearily Brain Workers.

Fagged out, ideas come as slowly as molasses. You think of things just a minute or two too late. Snaps your head down, not eating enough nor digesting enough. Your stomach needs aid, your digestion needs a brace, too. Your blood requires Phosphorus and Iron, that it may be formed readily. Now Ferrozone is a wonderful nerve brace and blood maker. It's food for the blood and nerves, it will make you strong quickly and permanently. Sold by McCall & Co.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Nerviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nerviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nerviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you are attacked. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.

That's where Catarrh always sticks, until it strikes down into the lungs, then it's Consumption. Warm water, sunshine, dry air, are all favorable. Catarrh is not cut itself. The favorable conditions above mentioned enable Catarrh to do its work in one quarter of the time. It always cures, but it cures more quickly by now than at any other season of the year. Your druggist or doctor will tell you what a good thing Catarrh-ozone is. 25c. and $1.

Woman's Priceless Pearl

The greatest menace to happiness is her health. The greatest menace to her health is Kidney Disease. Mrs. Young says South American Kidney Cure is a "priceless pearl." So it is.

Mrs. A. E. Young, Barnston, Que., says: "It is seven months since I took my last dose of South American Kidney Cure and I have not had the slightest symptom of the aggravating Kidney trouble from which I suffered so many years. I paid doctors a small fortune without any permanent results. This great remedy is a 'priceless pearl' for women suffering as I did. It relieves in six hours."

HOW THE LEGS GROW.

The Shocks of Exercise Lengthen Them and Keep Them Even.

As a fact, says the author, our lower limbs are not usually both of exactly the same length, though they are so for all practical purposes. The left is usually the longer, though the gait is not notably influenced by this fact. At birth the lower limbs are shorter than the upper, and their movements are rather of the prehensile type. "We are not born leggy like the foal or kangaroo, but we gradually achieve legitness." The bones increase in length, not so much by interstitial deposit as by addition to their ends—that is, by progressive ossification of the layer of cartilage which intervenes between the end of the shaft and the epiphysis. Ossification goes on till the component parts of the bone are all united by bony matter, and thus the stature of the individual is determined.

If from inflammation or injury an epiphysis is damaged, one limb may be shorter than the other, or inflammatory stimulation may even induce an increased length in the bone affected. The skeletons of tortoises, not being subjected to sudden jars, have no epiphyses at the ends of the long bones, whereas in the leaping frog the extremities of the humerus and femur long remain as separate epiphyses. The continuous concussions to which the ends of the bones of the lower limbs are exposed when a vigorous child is excited by its own natural spirit to run about are doubtless of great value in assisting the growth in length of the lower limbs, which soon lose their infantile character and become adapted for running and walking. By exposing the lower limbs to the same influences and resistances during their entire growth we manage to maintain them of the same length, and gentle jars upon the epiphyses at the joints may be considered favorable to growth.

A BIG WEDDING FEE.

The Generous Uses to Which Henry Ward Beecher Put It.

In his "Eccentricities of Genius" Major Pond says that often while traveling Henry Ward Beecher improved his time by having what he called "a general housecleaning" of his pockets, which would get loaded up with letters and papers until they could hold no more, when he would clear them out and destroy such papers as were worthless.

On one occasion Beecher happened to put his hand in the watch pocket of his pantaloons and found there a little envelope which he opened. When he saw its contents, he called Major Pond to sit beside him and remarked: "You remember the evening I married C. P. Huntington. I was so much interested in the subject that I forgot he handed me a little envelope as he went out of the door. I put it in the watch pocket of my pantaloons and never thought of it again until just now, and here it is, four $1,000 bills. Now," he said, "don't tell any one about it, and we will have a good time and make some happiness with this money. We will just consider that we found it."

And so in a day or two Mr. Beecher went with Major Pond to look at a cargo of fine oriental rugs, many of which he purchased and sent to different friends, and afterward he spent silver lamps, unmounted gems and various pieces of bric-a-brac, all of which he gave away until he had used up the entire $4,000 "in making happiness among those whom he loved."

After Mr. Beecher's death the major related to Mr. Huntington of the four $1,000 bills, and the railway magnate observed: "I should never have given them to him. It was all wrong. I made a mistake. Money never did him any good."

WEEK'S WORK IN WARFARE

Over Five Hundred Boers Killed, Wounded or Captured.

No Important Result From Kitchener's Proclamation—Report of Final Plan of the Burgheers.

London, Sept. 18.—Lord Kitchener telegraphs from Pretoria, under yesterday's date, that since September 9 the Boers have had 47 killed, seven wounded, 371 prisoners have been taken and there have been 134 surrenders.

REPULSED AT BELFAST. The Boers attacked Belfast Sunday evening, but were easily repulsed.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED. The situation in Cape Colony is unchanged.

NO IMPORTANT SURRENDERS. Pretoria, Sept. 18.—Monday was the last day for the Boers to surrender under Lord Kitchener's proclamation.

THE MINING DEPARTMENT. It is understood that the mining department will be organized on the following lines:—

Commissioner of Mines—Wybery, with a head of council and two sub-heads under him.

Chief Registrar of Mining Rights—Wood.

Chief Inspector of Mines—Weldon.

The Transvaal will be divided into four mining districts:—

First—Johannesburg, including Krugerdsorp, including Klerksdorp.

Second—Boksburg, including Heidelberg.

Third—Pretoria, including Barberton, Lydenburg, and probably Zoutpanberg.

Each of these registrars and inspectors will have sub-district deputies and assistants, and this principle will be followed in the division into engineering and registration branches.

HOPEFUL OF THE RESULT. Some of the officials of the late Boer government who are here are hopeful that something will result from General Kitchener's proclamation in regard to the burgheers who did not surrender by Sept. 15.

TO MAKE FOR DAMARLAND. A correspondent learns from another source that the final plan of the Boers is to make for the Damaraland.

Another Canadian Wounded. Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The Militia Department is in receipt of a cablegram from Mr. Chamberlain dated Sept. 14, requesting that information be conveyed to A. Mather, now in N. B., that his son, Nelson Mather, was wounded at Bushman's Kop on Sept. 8.

DEATH CAME UNHERALDED

Passenger Cars Were Hurled Down Steep Embankment.

Express Train out of Boston, Running Forty Miles an Hour Collided With a Freight Near Avon Station.

Brookton, Mass., September 18.—A switch not properly set brought a passenger express and a heavy freight train together with the resultant deaths of six passengers on the express train, and injuries to 25 others this afternoon on the main line of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at Avon.

Of the 25 injured, those most seriously hurt were taken to the Brookton hospital on a special train.

The accident occurred about 1,000 feet above the Avon station, between two stretches of trestle by the side of a steep embankment.

The engine of the express and the baggage car succeeded in getting by before the freight engine reached the train, but the second car of the train, the smoker, was struck squarely in the middle and turned over, being thrown down the steep embankment, landing on its side in some soft, thick mud.

One of his train's crew had set the switch of a "cross over" in such a manner that when the freight engine struck it it was turned on to the main track.

The engine of the express and the baggage car succeeded in getting by before the freight engine reached the train, but the second car of the train, the smoker, was struck squarely in the middle and turned over, being thrown down the steep embankment, landing on its side in some soft, thick mud.

The collision came with such suddenness that the passengers in the three cars were thrown with great force from their seats.

The cylinder of the freight engine was torn off and escaping steam added to the horror.

All of those who were killed outright seemed to be in the third car, while those injured were in the car which was struck by the engine.

Double Row of Troops Guarded Railway From Dunkirk to Compiegne, Where they Spent the Night.

Compiegne, Sept. 18.—The Czar's first day on French soil passed without untoward incident except the delay of a couple of hours in docking the Standard, the Russian Imperial yacht, at Dunkirk.

The utmost vigilance was exercised along the railroad track. The train dashed through a double row of bayonets and drawn sabres as the infantry were reinforced by regiments of dragoons and hussars.
