

Bazin Pleased

Jean Bazin, National President of the Canadian Union of Students says he is 'very encouraged' by work that has been done by the various members this year. He was speaking at Monday night's meeting of the Students' Representative Council at UNB as part of his tour of the Atlantic Region.

In his address he optimistically stated that CUS was "extremely pleased by the work carried out" and that he thought much more could be done. He referred to many CUS services, and told how CUS has lobbied for important legislation, such as the Canada Student Loan Plan. After lobbying and discussions with members of the house, he said, the priority of the loan legislation was changed from tenth to fourth. The flag was, until that time, fourth.

However he added "we are not totally satisfied by the loan plan . . . we are not convinced it will ultimately succeed . . . or solve all the problems of higher education."

The Student Means Survey, he said, is the "best survey ever conducted" on student finances.

He said CUS promised 80% returns in the survey. To date UNB response has been only 32%. CUS will help the DBS in a survey on youth in Canada, he also said, and will submit a brief to the Duff Commission on University Government.

Other subjects dealt with by CUS are discussions of fees, mental health, pensions, work exchange programmes, and a new research service for student governments.

THE VOICE OF UNB

Committee Suggests: Model Parliament Changes

A special committee set up with the unanimous consent of the Model Parliament to study the structure of the UNB Model Parliament held its first meeting last Thursday. It is recommending that a number of changes be made in the Model Parliament Committee's constitution to improve the annual event. The special committee was made up of representatives from all three political clubs.

Desmond Cunnington, Prand - Patriarch - elect of the CA's, started the meeting off on a humorous note by reading a newspaper report on a recent Commons debate on 'udders'.

More seriously, the committee moved that the constitution be changed so that in future at least one member from each party must be represented at all Model Parliament Committee meetings, so that two parties could not legislate without the knowledge of the third party.

It was also recommended that 'all clubs submit their bills for the ensuing Model Parliament to a meeting of the Committee at least a week before the annual Parliament.' Also it was recommended that copies of the Throne Speech shall be given to the leaders of all parties at least 24 hours before the beginning of the annual Model Parliament.

The report did not list possible penalties for not adhering to these rules, but one informed source says, "The probable penalty would be loss of votes in the House."

The CA representative also proposed that speeches be allowed to be made in either French or English at the sessions.

These changes must be made at a meeting of the Model Parliament Committee, and must be approved by all parties before they can be incorporated into the constitution.

Maritimes May Secede

The members of the Atlantic Region of Canadian University Press (CUP) may withdraw from the National organization, it was announced last week. In a telegram to the National President of CUP, John MacFarlane, it was stated that present and newly-elected Regional Presidents, Nigel Martin and David Day, were mandated by the regional members to study the advantages of continued membership in the organization.

The move was made at a special meeting of editors of University papers in the region. A representative of the Brunswickian did not attend, but detailed discussions on the matter took place at the national conference of CUP last Christmas.

The St. Francis Xavierian has already withdrawn from CUP and has become a member of an active United States college press organization. This may be the trend in the local University newspaper scene.

"The values of a membership in CUP are not clear," said Michel Guité, Editor of the Dalhousie Gazette, "and

by AHMAID HABUBU

Chances are, it has been a year or so since you have had a slave of your very own. And with work piling up, and with your room a mass of confusion, and with a huge laundry just waiting to be done, chances are you'd enjoy having another slave of your very own just about now.

Well, your chance is here again. This Saturday evening, the fifth annual WUSC Slave Auction will get under way in Lady Durn Hall at 7:30.

The purpose of the auction will be to collect funds for UNB's donation to the international programme of World University Service. These proceeds meet the needs of student lodging, student health, educational activities and facilities, and individual emergency aid in countries much less fortunate than Canada.

Ross McLeod and David Tilson, those notorious auctioneers of past years will again be putting 20 to 25 girls "on sale". In addition there will be several professors to offer such things as tutorials; several campus celebrities to do almost anything that the slave owner desires. The faculty Queens will be for sale as will Dean Grant, Fred Horsley, Des Green, the Henchmen and that popular cook from McConnell Hall.

Your slave is required to work for three hours at a convenient time. Remember what

Medical Study

Miss Sally Kieth, a third year nursing student from Sussex, N. B., and council member of the Students' Representative Council, has been appointed chairman of a committee to investigate medical services on the UNB campus. Miss Kieth plans to co-ordinate the facilities of the nursing faculty to conduct a survey to determine present medical conditions; to discover the need of medical services; and to recommend necessary improvement.

The committee is receiving assistance from Loyola College in Montreal which recently carried out a similar survey. Results of the committee should be available late this fall, and should be of help in directing the start of a UNB Health Service.

Garbage in SC

At Monday night's SRC meeting, Council President Ken Carty said that he had been approached by the Alumni Secretary, 'Doc' Roberts, on the problem of students tracking mud and leaving 'garbage' in the Main Lounge of the Student Centre. Carty said these people should be dealt with as they deserve. SRC Representatives who see students messing up the lounges should 'throw their weight around a little', said Clyde McElman who attended the meeting.

Student Centre Dances: What will become of them? The SRC sponsored a survey of student opinion about the problem. Recent dances in the Student Centre have lost money, and three SRC representatives, Bev Boone, Eric Champion, and Brian Church, are shown here tabulating the results.

MacMillan Gives UBC $7,200,000

Grant Termed 'Most Generous'

By RICHARD BLAIR (THE UBYSSEY)

Lumber magnate H. R. MacMillan's $7.2 million gift to UBC will put the university on par with U.S. ivy league colleges, president John Macdonald said Wednesday.

MacMillan announced Wednesday a $3 million grant to the UBC Library which, with interest earnings over a 10-year period, will total close to $4 million. The money will come from MacMillan's personal resources.

Money for postgraduate fellowships totalling $3.2 million over 20 years will come from the MacMillan Family Fund.

"These fellowships will put us into competition with the top U.S. colleges such as Yale," said Macdonald.

In addition, Union College and the Anglican Theological College each receive $1 million endowment funds from MacMillan personally.

The $3 million gift to the Library will provide $300,000 a year for 10 years to supplement the operating budget for books and periodicals.

The fellowships for PhD students will provide $3,200 a year for up to three years for each student and will be renewable each year depending on performance.

$500 FOR OVERHEAD

UBC will receive $500 a year for each fellowship for overhead and essential travel.

Macdonald said: "I believe these are the most generous gifts ever made to graduate education in Canada.

"Our first priority is to increase the number of our graduate and post-BA professional students from 2,099 at present to 5,500 by 1973."

He said the 1,300 graduate students at UBC receive an average of about $1,000 each and the U.S. average is about $3,000 a graduate student.

"The library gift will provide tremendous impetus to our graduate program by strengthening our ability to provide library resources essential for research work and advanced study," he said.

TWO MILLION BOOKS

"The present 700,000 volumes will rise to two million volumes by 1975 to make our library the best in Canada. These facilities are crucial for attracting top-flight faculty and graduate students," said Macdonald.

The endowment funds for the two protestant colleges will be used for research, scholarship and training.

Staff members will be given opportunities for travel and study, visiting lecturers will be brought to campus and refresher courses will be offered to B.C. clergymen.

The first 15 H. R. MacMillan fellowships will be available in September. By September 1967, there will be 45 fellowships available, including renewals, and the same number including renewals for the next 17 years.

Applicants can come from any university, but must be Canadian citizens. The fellowships can be used only at UBC and each applicant must undertake to remain in Canada for a reasonable time after completing a PhD program, provided he is offered a satisfactory position.

High School Visits Continue

This month ten teams consisting of one male and one female student from the University of New Brunswick, are visiting selected high schools in the Fredericton and Saint John areas with the principle aim of encouraging more students to continue their education after leaving Grade XII.

During the course of a planned one hour program, high school pupils will hear talks from both members of the team concerning academic and financial problems and their possible solutions.

The present program, which is designed to reduce the student-peer relation to a minimum, is to answer all questions, both major and minor which might perplex the prospective University students.

Mr. Frank Lipsett, Chairman of the High School Visitation Program, believes that the full benefits of the scheme will be achieved as a result of the "student to student" relationship. Mr. Lipsett explained: "At the present time, most of the prospective students eligible to go to University have their questions answered by either a professor from the college or by their teachers; as a consequence, some questions go unanswered because of a student's fear of being embarrassed".

Mr. Lipsett stressed that these college students are not selling their respective institutions, rather, they are giving to the high school pupil a general and comprehensible picture of the present college situation in Canada.

The Visitation Program was inspired and aided by information from the Canadian Union of Students, and is being carried out under the auspices of the U.N.B. Students' Representative Council.

we want to find out what we can get out of the organization before we make any rash decisions." He said the new editor of that paper had stronger feelings about withdrawal.

At UNB, newspaper officials of the Brunswickan had this to say: "CUP acts as a binding force within the nation, but since the French papers withdrew this function has deteriorated. It is still the best source of inter-campus communication, however, and it wouldn't be good to break off for that reason. We don't want to be taken over by the American press. We agree that a study should be made by these two competent people to see just where we stand."

The full report will be made public before the Regional Conference in Halifax next fall.

Full Time Secretary?

by W. Pierce

There is a suggestion going around with in and without the SRC for a permanent full-time executive secretary. The recent financial scandals, particularly with the Rod and Gun Club, the Winter Carnival Committee and the now-notorious Entertainment Committee has led many thoughtful to wonder if a more satisfactory organization wouldn't reduce the drain on their pockets or at least ensure that their hard-earned dollars are not mis-spent.

Mrs. Peters, the present secretary is apparently doing an excellent job, but she was not given any say in financial matters, the most important aspect of student government. For the first time this year, an auditing firm is laboring through the books. Auditors though, can do little about un-wise spending and what's more, the SRC books don't contain details of Winter Carnival or Brunswickan revenues or expenditures.

Most non-profit organizations in Canada have an executive-secretary (like the U-NB Alumni) who handles the business of the organization and need only go to members for crucial decisions. Such a man, of good abilities, could be had for perhaps, $6,000-$7,000, a great saving considering the losses sustained this year.

Perhaps, too, there is a need for a good long look at our Student Government by The Council. A neutral committee of competent administrative experts no doubt would come up with some useful recommendations — a kind of Royal Commission and (Student) Government organization.

140 boys and girls from Champlain Heights School, near Saint John, visited the UNB campus last Friday. The four classes of grade seven students wanted to see the Provincial Capital as part of their civics course, so their teachers brought them here to see the Legislature, the University, the Beaverbrook Art Gallery and the Fredericton Playhouse.

SRC Super Survey

The Students Representative Council (SRC) took the initiative to study the problem of Student Centre dances, which have recently been losing money. The dances generally are sponsored by University organizations, and the SRC felt that if they could uncover the reasons for the financial failures then it would lighten the burden of small clubs on the SRC treasury.

A short questionnaire was distributed during dinner hour one day last week. The response was high, and the results showed that, of those who replied about 80% had been to fewer than 4 dances. About 80% either disliked or didn't care about Student Centre dances, and yet more than 80% wanted as many or more dances. This seems to suggest, according to the Brunswickan analyst, that students are not satisfied with the present dances. Slightly more than half of the people who replied thought McConnell Hall should be used. The Student Centre and the Gym were about even second choices, with about 20% each. Almost 80% wanted a live band, with about two-thirds of this group wanting a rock 'n' roll type.

The Science Undergraduate Society is the lucky group which will try out the new scheme, rock 'n' roll band, McConnell Hall, and all.

A fresh snowfall traditionally seems to release a special wild spirit at the University of Tennessee. The sprawling campus at Knoxville becomes no man's land in an exuberant snowball fight. Six inches of snow dropped on Knoxville last week and battlelines quickly formed.

Some 300 students pelted each other, then began bombarding automobiles stopped by a traffic light. A snowball hard as ice shattered a car window, others broke windows in a loaded bus. A produce truck halted at the stop light. Dozens of screaming students charged the truck, heaving chunks of snow. It seemed like the season's biggest battle.

It was. Suddenly a pistol cracked. Marnell J. Goodman, an 18-year-old freshman, pitched forward on his face, dead of a .22 bullet that entered his eye. The snow under his head turned dark red. Angrily, a group of students charged the man who had fired the shot — the truck driver, William D. Willet Jr., 27. They grabbed his pistol, wrestled him to the ground, and pummeled him until a coed begged them to stop. Afraid: Willet, who faced charges of second-degree murder told police he fired his pistol blindly only when students tried to drag him from his truck. "I didn't mean to do it," he said. "They threw snow in my eyes and I fired a shot to scare the gang away... I was afraid." Some students claimed that Willet took deliberate aim at Goodman.

While authorities pondered the conflicting stories, the students found they had still more to ponder.

Within 24 hours, handyman Walter Lee Yow, 55—who had tried to protect Willet from the students—was dead of a skull fracture caused by an ice-hard snowball that struck him behind the ear.

And Roland Lawson, 58, a factory worker was dead of a heart attack. He was found unconscious in his car. It struck a telephone pole just after he had gone through a snowball barrage.

Ironically, Tennessee students even bombarded Mrs. Lawson, too, as she rushed to the hospital where her husband was taken. They couldn't have known. Still, students knowingly threw snowballs at Knoxville police—even as they lifted Marnell Goodman's corpse into an ambulance.

The Future... do you care?

What student hasn't thought about his future? The view of him held by his contemporaries and elders in the years after he graduates will mean the difference between his success or failure, and every student thinks about this when he enters his course, be it Arts or Engineering.

Unfortunately, when people judge others, it is inevitable that many personal factors will be ignored. When a student is interviewed for a job it is the first impression, and not the true character, which is exhibited. Employers know this, and base their decisions on other less obvious (and less personal) factors.

Such as the University he attended.

The image of the University is a major influence on an employer's decision to select a graduate. The notable accomplishments of other graduates from the University will enhance the impression of the University in the eyes of the employer. So will the extent to which the University is mentioned (in a good light) in the newspapers and on the radio.

And so will the extent to which students, faculty and administration participate together in University affairs in sight of the public.

That's why we have Founders' Day.

Founders' Day was created by students who realized that cooperation between students and faculty was necessary for the welfare of the University.

They saw that it was important for the University to increase the students' interest in the University. They helped the students to realize that they are a very important group and by illustrating the historical importance of the University graduate.

The history of this University began so long ago that the eldest of its professors looks back at its inception in the same perspective as the youngest of its students. This year, however, we are looking to the future. We hope to see that our future is sound, that we will be able to state proudly, "I graduated from UNB." The University's future is the theme of Founders' Day, March 4.

An important subject, "Whether the University" will be discussed by distinguished panelists in McConnell Hall at 4:00 on Founders' Day. What is the purpose of the University? What is happening to University education? These questions will be discussed, and others, and every student interested in his own future should attend, and should have something to say.

At 8:00 that evening, Dr. John Leddy, President of the University of Windsor, will speak at the public ceremonies commemorating the founding of UNB. His subject will be 'The Future of the University', and a speech by a man so experienced in education as Dr. Leddy can be nothing but enlightening. This event is open to all students.

If you care, you'll be there.

DAN SCANS

There is at present an upsurge of thought over the delicate matters of self-expression and individuality in the field of university education. This concern is often seen in the form of news paper articles and sometimes even in the form of strikes and sit-ins. Recently the students of Berkeley protested that student-professor relations had dwindled and that society was no longer interested in producing a free-thinking college graduate, but only a cog in a great machine.

It is perhaps a point of sadness that college students have lost perspective of the situation and do not realize just what their position is.

Indeed it is true that university life educates a student so that he will become part of a huge mechanism. How else can it be done? Would any sane person suggest for a moment that society educate a mass of free thinkers each of whom pulls in a different direction with the net result that they have all pulled against each other and gone nowhere.

It becomes clear that some direction guides must be erected. This is not to say that only one viewpoint should be permitted, but certainly there exists a difference between guidance and regimentation.

One argument often used by those who constantly cry about lack of self-expression, is that everyone has a right to an unfettered university education. This is a fallacy and a political slogan. A university education is a privilege.

One must consider that the student himself bears only one third of the cost of his education, and society bears the rest. Why then is it unreasonable to assume that some return should be forthcoming to society? Why then is it unreasonable to assume that college graduates must help maintain the machine that allowed them the privilege of higher education?

It will indeed be a sad day when serious concern is given to those who use the right of self-expression as a means to gain attention and make changes simply for the sake of change.

Sir:
You are to be congratulated on last week's BRUNSWICKIAN, which was the best ever to appear on this campus. Nevertheless, Doug Stanley's column "Opinion" was trite, unfair, and misleading.

The picture painted is of hoards of mental paralytics, excreted from T.C. in terrifying number, descending upon the schools of New Brunswick to spread perversity and superstition amongst the ranks of innocent schoolchildren. PAH.

It is all too easy to say of a T. C. Student: "He has pimples and greasy hair in great profusion; and He has a look of boundless stupidity upon his ill-formed face; therefore He is the reason for all New Brunswick's educational problems." You will agree that this is poor logic.

"How long must we wait... (for) . . . better salaries . . . stiffer courses, better teachers?" The answer to this question is, "WHEN NEW BRUNSWICK BLOODYWELL GETS MORE MONEY."

The time has come for us to stop whining about the teachers of N.B.; rather, we should see about increasing the Government's interest in them, and their lot.

Fewer Co-eds In U.S.A.

ATLANTIC CITY (CUP-CPS) — The percentage of women students earning college degrees is decreasing, according to reports given separately at the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators last week.

Corma A. Mowrey, associate director of Lay Relations of the National Education Association, noted that 39 per cent of 1963 college graduates were women. This was a smaller ratio than in either 1940 or 1930.

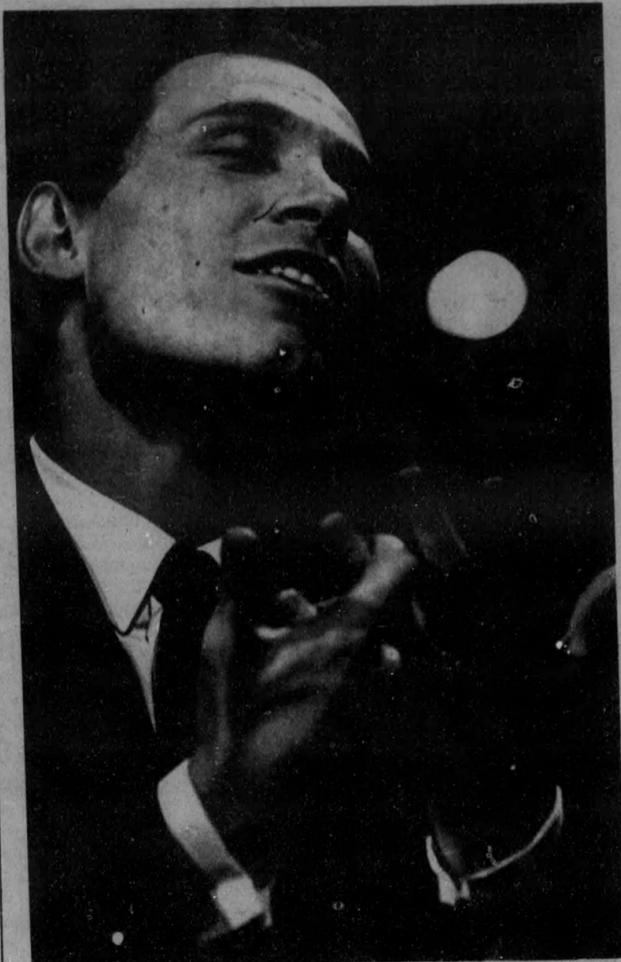

The decline is even sharper in fields of graduate study, she said. The proportion of women earning Master's degrees was only 31 per cent in 1963, as compared to 38 per cent in 1940 and 40 per cent in 1930. As far as the Ph.D. is concerned, "We have fared still worse." The number of women earning doctorates today has more than tripled since 1930, but the number of men in doctoral studies has increased more than five-fold.

Mrs. Esther Paterson, assistant United States secretary of labor and special assistant to the President for consumer affairs attributed this decline to a trend towards early marriage. "Today, people are marrying younger than ever, without waiting until he man is settled in a career, much less until the woman has a dowry," she said. "Marriage itself can now be managed on credit or the installment plan.

As a result, education for women is becoming a life-long prospect, to be continued while families are growing up. "Most women can combine homemaking and education more easily she said.

Mrs. Mowrey pointed to dire consequences if higher education is not tailored to meet the needs of early-marrying women. The decline of women in higher education "will contribute to already disadvantaged positions in the job world and tend to concentrate women in lower paying, less rewarding jobs."

College graduates are more likely to be employed than women with less education. In 1962, nearly 60 per cent of college educated women aged 18-64 were in the labor force, as compared to the 45 per cent of high school graduates employed and 38 per cent of those who did not go beyond elementary school. Eighty-one per cent of those who did not go beyond elementary school. Eighty-one per cent of those women who had five years or more of college and were in the 45-64 age bracket were in the labor force in 1962.

Figures on the proportion of college women in the labor force "suggest that for them the work world is an elective choice expressing their growing desire to fulfill their potentialities as creative human beings," Mrs. Mowrey said.

AN IDEA FOR THE PRESIDENT

At a recent meeting of the SRC, President MacKay elicited ideas from the students for the improvement of the university. Although what I am about to propose is not a new idea, I believe that it has merit enough so that it should once again be brought to the attention of the administration. I refer to the setting up of a trailer court on campus for the use of students.

The advantages of having a trailer court on the UNB campus are numerous and obvious. It would provide a means of inexpensive housing for the growing number of married students, as well as for other students who might acquire house trailers. Since it would provide quarters on campus for a good many students who now commute to UNB in cars, it would also tend to ease the campus traffic and parking problems. Most important of all, a trailer court could be made to provide needed revenue for the university . . . and in that respect it would be advantageous for all the students . . . the more UNB gets from other sources, the less we pay in fees.

Lest the idea be abandoned for the sake of being too general, let's examine the trailer court plan more closely. Although there are several sites where a court could be set up without interfering with the building plans of UNB, there is one superior site practically ready-made. It is already levelled and need only to have the plumbing installed . . . an access road leads right up to it . . . it is in a convenient location. I speak of course of Buchanan Field.

Buchanan Field is little enough used at the present, and will become completely unnecessary for athletics after the completion of the Teachers College athletic field. Using the gymnasium as a starting point, an underground utilities tunnel could be run around the edge of Buchanan Field, which would carry water and disposal pipes and electric wiring. Once that's done . . . bang . . . you're in business with a trailer court. Since the field is well drained . . . it would not even be necessary to pave the roadway . . . and with underground electric wiring, the court would be orderly and attractive . . . an asset to the campus.

An engineering consultant tells me that such a utilities tunnel, with hook-ups for 200 trailers, would cost approximately $100,000. Let us say the university would charge $30/mo for each trailer. The lot would then provide a revenue of over $70,000 a year. Aside from the original construction, the maintenance costs would involve only road-plowing and garbage collection . . . well within the capabilities of our present maintenance staff and equipment. Thus, the trailer court would pay for itself in a couple of years . . . and thereafter provide a handsome revenue for the university. And if Buchanan Field were ever needed for another purpose . . . it could be made available almost overnight.

So there is an idea . . . not a perfect one, but a good one. Do we hear any comment?

SPORT SHORTS

by BILL REDDEN

The 'Big Game' against St. F. X. is to be played this Friday night. St. F. X. comes to town as a highly regarded club after impressive wins against Toronto Marlies and the other MIAA colleges. Their only loss has been to the St. Dunstons' Saints at Antigonish. They boast three strong forward lines as well as a typical hardwood 'X' defense. UNB are fresh from two well-earned victories over Dal and Acadia and they seem to be in good physical condition for this big test which could possibly determine their title chances. . . .

Their first line is composed of Chi Chi Farenzena, Gary McQuaid and Graham Hollihan. The second line is made up of Duncan, Hugh McGonigal and Gus Fahey while the third unit starts Stan Cook, Yves Gregoire and Kevin Murphy. Andy Pete, Bob Byrnes, Jim Bedford and Jon Purcell comprise the defence. Tom Purser is the starting Goaler.

As of Feb. 12th, the 'X' first line had scored sixty points in league play. McQuaid is the Captain and leading scorer of the squad with 14 goals. Both Farenzena and Purser have played two years with the St. Catherine Tepees with such stars as Dennis Hull, Phil Esposito and Fred Stanfield. Purser backed up Roger Crozier during his stay with the Tepees. . . . we here at the Bruns predict that St. F. X. will need all these NHL Stars if they expect to beat a hustling and hard skating Devils hockey team this Friday nite at LBR.

An observer at the recent Canadian High School Curling Bonspiel noted the ignorance of the students in attendance as they showed a complete lack of courtesy toward the visiting rinks by cheering their missed shots. We hope that the visitors to the 'City of Stately Elms' will credit the spectators with ignorance of the etiquette of curling rather than a typical lack of spectator diplomacy. . . . The Red Raiders have dispelled any rumours to the extent that they are inferior to the St. Thomas Tommies. . . . As I bow out as Sports Editor for this year 1964-'65 I would like to extend my appreciation to the various members of my Staff for their contributions — Carol Scarborough, Pat Martin, Diane McKeigan, Willie Davies, Richard Matthews, Arnold Asker, Roly Michener, Keith Gorman, Pete Filmore, Dick Steele, Andy Sutherland, Woody, Richard Simms, and the many typists who have helped to make the publication of the sports pages possible.

Mermaids Fourth

by Carol Scarborough

The UNB Mermaids set out for the Atlantic Open Swimming and Diving Championships last weekend with the sole purpose of improving last year's performance; they returned home in the wee hours of Sunday morning — with their mission accomplished

Shearwater Bluefins, a strong team every year, captured the title with 115 points, followed by Halifax Y Neptunes with 59, Mount A. Goldfish with 57, U.N.B. Mermaids with 34, Fredericton Y Aquanauts with 15, Kentville Marlins with four, and Stadacona Tritons with four. There were five teams who failed to score.

UNB's medley relay team of Kathy Glover, Marg Cameron, Carol Scarborough, and Helen Sinclair finished fourth with a time of 6:24.9 in the 400 race. In the 100 metre freestyle; finishing fifth with a time of 2:59.7.

Carol Scarborough was UNB's only finalist in the 100 metre backstroke, finishing sixth in 1:37.6. In the 200 metre backstroke final, Carol placed fifth in the 3:32.3.

Jenny Adam and Elaine McEwan finished first and second in the 1 metre diving with 210 and 187.25 points respectively, over Sue Jolly of Kentville. All three entries did very well considering that they had to perform eleven dives.

In the 400 metre freestyle relay, Carol Scarborough, Sue Kinnear, Judi Ritchie, and Helen Sinclair finished fourth in 5:38.5, knocking 11.5 seconds off their previous best time. A second team of Joan Dickison, Kathy Clover, Pot Hanson and Heather Spence finished sixth in this race.

The outstanding swimmer of four individual events, and of Shearwater, who capped the meet was Beverly Britton swam on two winning relay teams. Other top performances came from Anne Maria McCarthy, Ann Henderson and Lynn Palmer or Shearwater, Pat Paul of Halifax Y, and Doris St. Amand of Mount A.

UNB vs Ricker

by RICHARD SIMMS

On Saturday, the U.N.B. Red Raiders played Ricker College — the North East College Conference champs. U.N.B. surprised the Ricker Bulldogs by maintaining a 7 point lead until the last 5 minutes of play but finally lost by 5 points, 70-65. Having lost, however, by 58 points to Ricker at the first of the season, Saturday's game was a fair indication of how much the young Red Raider team has improved this year.

The Raiders played a sparkling first half against the NECC champs. They started quickly in the amazingly foul-free half — getting off to a 9-2 lead. However, Ricker roared back to score 11 straight unanswered points. But the Raiders refused to be headed and played a tight defensive and a controlled offensive game to carry a 32 - 25 lead into the second half.

Now Ricker switched from its normal zone defense to a full court defense. The Raiders were having trouble with the press but held on desperately to their 7 point lead for three-quarters of the second half. But then Ricker's close-checking zone press began to upset the UNB team and with 4 minutes remaining the score was tied 59-59. With both teams making up for the lack of fouls in the first half, UNB's Cotter and Piers fouled out of the game in the next 2 minutes. This signalled the end for the faltering Raiders and they threw the ball away 2 or 3 times and missed some easy shots to lose to the onrushing Ricker Bulldogs 70-65.

It is interesting to note the absence of field goals in the last few minutes of play. UNB's last 14 points and Ricker's last 9 were all foul shots both teams shooting with amazing accuracy. The Raiders hit 21 out of 24 foul shots in the last half while the Bulldogs had 17 for 23. Field goals however, made the difference, UNB hitting only 6 to 14 by Ricker in this half. Mike St. Thomas was the outstanding player of the game leading the Ricker comeback with 18 of his 22 points in the second half. Michaud also had 22, 12 on foul shots. Pete McAleenan kept pace with Michaud's foul shooting 9 for 10 for the line and 4 field goals for 17 points to lead UNB. UNB continued the balanced attack it had showed against St. Thomas the night before with Patterson scoring 15, Crandlemire 13, and Redden 12. Both McAleenan and Patterson rebounded exceptionally well while playing steady games. 17-year old Gary Crandlemire, getting better every game, played heads-up ball and made a number of pressure foul shots to garner his 13 points.

With most of the players returning next year, UNB's two week-end games showed that they are going to be a team to be reckoned with in 65-66 with this year's experience under their belts.

Bloomers Win Twice

by Diane MacKeigan

Following two weekend victories the Red Bloomers are back in first place, tied with Mt. St. Bernard for the lead in the MIAA Conference.

On Friday, the Red Bloomers downed the Dalhousie Tigerettes 456-30 in a fast-moving, roughly-played game. On Saturday, the Bloomers met and easily defeated the Acadia Axettes 56-47.

This weekend the Bloomers are at home to Acadia and Mt. St. Bernard. These are two "must" games for the Bloomers if they are to retain their Championship.

UNB vs Dal Stubbs 9, Martin 3, Bray 6, Carson 6, Barr 22, Austin Hills, Allen MacKeigan, MacLellan.

UNB vs Acadia — Stubbs 16, Bray 8, Carson 6, Barr 25, Austin, Martin Allen, MacLellan, Hills.

UNB Downs Acadia

"The wonders of modern-day transportation . . ." (Henry Ford).

On Friday morning last, the UNB Red Devils stepped on a bus at nine o'clock — destination, Wolfville.

On Friday evening last, the UNB Red Devils stepped off a bus at a quarter to seven — game time, seven-thirty!

Of course the Devils won . . . they were supposed to. So what if they were exhausted. For those who haven't heard, the score was 4-2.

Devils have been trying to keep alive the slim chance they have of forcing a playoff with St. Dunstan's but last Friday's almost unbelievable travel arrangements nearly cost them the chance they have. Devils, clearly feeling the effects of their ten hour marathon, showed definit technical superiority over Acadia but were just not playing the hockey they were capable of. In the first two periods, passes were continually going astray, positional play was at a minimum and as a result, a vastly inferior team was able to stay with them.

The first two periods floated by and it might have continued that way if it were not for Acadia shocking the Devils with two quick third period goals.

Devils were then faced with the prospects of an ignominious defeat — play improved immediately and Devil's superiority came to the fore; that is, in the form of four unanswered goals from the sticks of Winslow, Drover, Stairs and Madill.

On the whole the game was a tame and lacklustre affair. The Devils were tired, Acadia was poor . . . UNB won.

Devils Vault Into Second Place . . .

Dal Falls as Devils Come Back (Again)

Shown above are Duquette and Madill signalling the fact that Bob Naylor's (out of the picture) shot has beaten Dal netminder Sieniewicz. Dal forward Drmaj is seen checking Madill. Naylor's twenty-footer came in the third period and tied the game up 2-2. It was this shot that broke the ice as previously Devils had only succeeded in putting one puck behind the phenomenal Dal netminder.

The UNB Red Devils, playing their second game in as many nights, took over second place in the MHL with a convincing victory over Dalhousie Tigers.

Devils, sporting a completely reshuffled lineup, thoroughly dominated play and it was the slightly fantastic goaltending of Sieniewicz of Dal that prevented the game from turning into a rout.

For the first time in over a month, Devils looked like a possible championship (if they get the chance) team. Lines composed of LeBlanc-Stairs-Winslow, Duquette-Naylor-Madill and Belliveau-Leach-McClusky moved the puck well and skated a spirited Dal team into the ice.

The game was one of the roughest of the year as Dal attempted to muscle the superior skating Devils. The only result was that Dal threw a number of cheap penalties and tired themselves in the process.

This was the type of game that is classed in the "it's only a matter of time" category.

Devils carried the play throughout and were never seriously threatened although paradoxically, they were behind twice in the game. They outshot the Tigers 44-17 which in itself tells most of the game's story.

Dal took the lead at the eleven minute mark of the second period when Duclose shot through a maze of players and the puck somehow found its way home. Ironically, this was the first shot that Tigers had on Wrigley in the period.

Devils bounced back at the seventeen minute mark when Drover let fly one of his patented 'invisible' shots from the point and the period ended in a 1-1 tie.

At the twenty-seven second mark of the third, Dal again took the lead on an unassisted goal by Drmaj. UNB defence-man, Furlong, fell embarrassingly at the Devil blue line leaving the puck unattended. In a resultant dash for the wandering rubber, goaltender Wrigley lost and Drmaj put the puck into the net.

From then on, Devils began to get to Sieniewicz. Bob Naylor, who played one of his best games of the season, tied the game 2-2 at the two minute mark and the Devils never looked back.

At the five minute mark, Daryl LeBlanc capped a beautiful three-way passing effort with Stairs and Winslow to put UNB ahead to stay. McClusky followed thirty-four seconds later taking a pass from Leach to put UNB up 4-2 and Jeff Leach salted the game away six minutes later after taking a lead pass from Belliveau and breaking in alone.

Tommies Dribblers Trounced

by R. Simms

In an exhibition basketball game last Friday night, U.N.B. surprised the highly-rated St. Thomas squad 82-55. From the starting whistle, St. Thomas could not settle down and gradually succumbed to the deliberate controlled offense of the Raiders.

The opening minutes of each half seemed to be the telling blow to the Tommies. The fired-up Raiders couldn't miss for the first five minutes of the game and took an 15 point 18-3 lead. St. Thomas did not hit a field goal for the first 6½ minutes. Carrying a 39-27 lead into the second half, the Raiders again rocked the Tommies 11-4 in the opening minutes to take a commanding 19 point lead. From then on the Raiders had the game in hand and scooted to their 82-55 victory.

The real difference in the game was defense. The Raiders played one of their best defensive games of the year, rebounding well and playing a very tight man-to-man all the way. St. Thomas on the other hand, trying to get their usual ly potent offense started, played loose defense and the Raiders had many good open shots at the basket.

The Tommies Ron Wallace showed his outstanding ability by swishing 20 points even though he was not hitting with his usually accurate jump shot. with 10 points for St. Thomas. Fran Brideau followed Wallace.

The Raider's scoring showed how important a balanced attack and ball control are in winning basketball games.

Rick Cotter showed his usual all-round hustle to lead the Raiders scoring with 17 points. Pete McAleenan rebounded exceptionally well on both boards to amass 16 points. Gary Crandlemire continued his exciting, aggressive style of play swishing his two-handed jump shot and foul shot for for 15 points. Bill Redden rounded out the Raiders four double figure men with 10 points.

The Student Voice

The Fredericton Boat Club has been a recent topic for discussion in recent weeks. So has the proposed Student Union Building. The Brunswickan roving reporter asked some UNB students what they thought about combining the two operations, and students were invited to answer the question: "Would you be in favour of making the FEC building the new SUB if it could be bought for half the price of the proposed SUB?"

Bob Burt (Yearbook): "I think it's a wonderful idea, but we'd run into extra expense for a transportation system. And there isn't really much point in going all that way at present. Have you considered the Brown Derby?"

Al Tweedie (Arts): "On, well, hell! I think it would be a great idea if the previous facilities could be obtained once more for the students. Frankly I could think of nothing greater than coming in from my 8:30 class for my morning brew."

Bolt Upright (Noise): "No, I don't think it should be used as a SUB for the simple reason that the students couldn't enjoy the privileges that they used to have when the liquor rights were there. I'm assuming that bar facilities couldn't be incorporated into the new SUB, and that the boat club will soon be reopened."

Toot Campbell (Wow): "No, I don't think it's a good idea mainly because I don't think students think of the Fredericton Boat Club in this respect."

Ed Bell (Law): "No, because I'm considering buying it and opening a collar and tie night club there, open only to dates and their escorts. However, were I not able to do that I think it would make an ideal SUB, because it has all the office space and facilities necessary for the fluid administration of student affairs. Besides, I suggested this question."

Jock Strapper (Guess What): "Huhn? Duh, chees, I never been ta da boat club, chees. Unhh, I don't even have a duhn boat . . . uhhh, chees."
