COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

MONDAY, March 28.—Mr. John Mulvina spent Sunday evening in town.

The Yonge Front correspondent to the Brockville Recorder should certainly be brought to task for writing such scurrilous stories.

Since the Brockville has escaped from the "Libby" prison, certain young ladies have been heard crying, Johnny, get your gun.

Miss Lettie Avery and Miss Nellie Service have been visiting friends in Lyn this week.

TUESDAY, March 29.—The god father of the whiskey license here complains of the waywardness and ingratitude of his protegee.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. treated the Band of Hope to warm sugar on Friday evening, which was a happy time to the youngsters.

Manitoba is receiving quite a number of immigrants from this section this season.

On Tuesday next Geo. Cornell leaves for that land of promise with a car of horses.

If the asylum is not soon built, what will Brockville do with their Snow club.

MONDAY, March 28.—The sound of the whistle at noon to-day proclaimed that the saw mill was to start up under the management of N. H. Ely.

The Eyre fraternity shook the dust from their feet and left town yesterday.

From the large quantities of bran and feed being taken from the grist mill by farmers, the cheese business should make a brisk start this spring.

FRONT OF YONGE. MONDAY, March 21.—We are proud to hear that Mr. Addison, who was injured in the tunnel at Niagara, is likely to recover and will return to his old home and parents in Athens.

Mr. P. Doolittle, of Ottawa, has taped 800 maple trees this spring, from which up to date he has received very little saccharine liquid.

We now have the most snow on the ground that has been in 45 years.

Mrs. Hutchinson, of Escot, died last week, aged 84. This old lady was married three times. Her maiden name was Nancy Trickey.

Mr. Ormon Gibson, of Hillside, made a bee one day last week at his house. A fine pile was cut and cleared, after which a grand oyster supper was served by Mrs. Gibson, assisted by Miss Phemia Tennant and Miss Louise Ferguson.

Miss Agnes Ferguson is very anxious to be re-schooled at Sand Bay.

We had a visit last week from Mrs. Moore, of New Dublin.

The Rev. Mr. Service, of Mallorytown, assisted by exhorter Mr. McGinnis, are holding special services in Rockfield.

No robins appear yet, but some robbers are making inroads among farmers, acting as scavengers.

NEWBORO. MONDAY, March 28.—The outside world must at present be enjoying a season of peace and security, as all its disolute characters have apparently centred in our midst.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not necessarily endorse the opinions expressed by our correspondents.

Editor Athens Reporter: DEAR SIR.—Think you, has not Mr. Benjamin Denbigh made a mistake by publishing the letter of his 'cerial friend'?

Some of our Westport populace have since been surprised by the efficacy and effectiveness of her prayers for those who are travelling the broad road to eternal ruin.

Mr. Enoch Knowlton, an old land-marrow Short Crosey, passed away after a short illness on the 23rd, at the advanced age of 73 years.

A new Methodist church is likely to be erected in this village in the near future.

100,000 cheese boxes will be manufactured in the village next summer by W. Spicer, who has put in the necessary machinery to manufacture this article.

Willard Lee paid us a flying visit last week. He says business is booming in Potlans.

Sugar making has commenced, and if the yield is large Leech & Layng will ship two car loads to the North West this spring.

Wedding bells and new dresses are all the talk on Drummond st. Will our old maids never cease peaching?

FRANKVILLE. MONDAY, March 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mitchell are the guests of Mr. William Mitchell.

A young gentleman of this vicinity seems to be highly favored. In taking his lady love to church he is attended by two other females, acting as body guard.

The closing session of the Epworth League which took place Saturday night proved to be a grand success.

The audience first listened to several speeches and recitations, after which refreshments were served.

The boys of the village amused themselves by raising their large feet and letting them fall heavily on the floor.

Last Saturday evening, after the majority of our citizens of Frankville had retired, they were aroused by a series of shrieks from a young lady and considerable howling from a young man.

It appears he had left his horse standing and called at the door of the inn where she was waiting.

The horse started off just as she was about to get in, but in so doing got the lines tangled in his feet.

Frank might have had further trouble had it not been for the remarkable bravery of the lady.

Three small boys left here on Sunday night for Athens with the avowed purpose of becoming girl mashers.

The results didn't seem to be very satisfactory.

WESTPORT. SATURDAY, March 26.—The enterprising and energetic character of our citizens was forcibly shown on Wednesday last.

Messrs. W. H. McGuire, and M. H. Seed, very promptly took advantage of the strike on the C. P. R. and started for Fort William near Port Arthur, at the head of Lake Superior.

We understand that they have both secured positions as conductors. So much for prompness.

Mr. Sala Blancher has been quite ill during the past week.
Mr. G. W. Beach, who was injured by a firkin of butter falling on his leg, is again able to attend to business.

The assessor, Mr. A. Blanchard, is once more abroad with his roll. Do not seek to hide your worldly wealth under a bushel.

A Chamber Pot worth $16 will be given to the person guessing the nearest to the number of seeds in a squash now on exhibition at T. store. Every purchase of one pound of T or coffee entitles the purchaser to one guess.—T. W. DENNIS, Brockville.

A party of young people from Athens and Delhi enjoyed a pleasant evening at the residence of J. Barlow, Delta, last week. The character of the roads conferred upon the Athens party the inestimable boon of seeing the sun rise, and an impromptu speech added the spice of variety to the pleasure of the drive home, leaving nothing to be desired.

The catalogue of new books in the Mech. Inst. library will be printed this week. The volumes just added embrace many fine works, a number of which are religious stories of a high class, with morals strongly drawn. The library, under Mr. Sherman's superintendence, is being well patronized and is no doubt doing a great deal of good to the community.

In order to cure a cow from kicking scratch her while, speak low as if you wanted her voice and incessantly exclaim "By-and-by she will chew her cud, and then you can milk her. Soon she will look for your coming, see her foot back and enjoy milking. The other way is to give her a kick in the hind quarters, and then she will yell, "so there!" Then when she kicks—as she should—take the stool and pound her, using expletives. You will get little milk, but as Bryan expressed it, you will gratify your dog-dogish nature.

It is now pretty well understood to be a dangerous practice to attempt to palm off worthless imitations of the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco for the genuine article. In former years that practice was the cause of much annoyance, and Messrs. Tuckett & Son were compelled to resort to the law courts to put a stop to it. Though we have not met with any cases of the kind lately, it is always a safe precaution for the purchaser to see that the trade mark T. & B. in bronze letters is stamped upon each plug; no plug ever leaves the factory without it, and to appropriate the trade mark is a punishable offence.

Last week a horse in the stable of Gillies' slauhy on the Donnocheer, put up its foot to scratch its eye, and the horse fell on its head, and in its struggles backed into the stall opposite its own. One of the horses in this stall was thrown by the struggling animal, and falling upon its neck, its mane being thrown by the two dying animals in their struggles into the manger, falling upon its side. When the teamsters went out they found the two horses dead.

The horse in the manger was released from its position bruised but not badly injured.
Sixteen young men of Guelph were summoned before the police magistrate the other day for attending a raffie. One of the number was arraigned on two charges, viz., that of selling tickets and throwing dice for tickets for a raffie for a gun. He was fined $2 and costs on each charge.

Death of Nettie Judd.
This (Tuesday) morning a telegram from Rev. T. C. Buchanan, of Crystal City, Mo., Isaac C. Alguire conveyed the sad intelligence of the death of Miss Nettie Judd, the evangelist, which sad event occurred at that place on Monday. Deceased was well known in this place, and her many friends in Eastern Ontario will be pained to learn of her sudden demise. She was a sister of Mrs. Buchanan, with whom she was living, and of Mrs. L. C. Alguire, of Athens. Her parents reside near Malorytown, and her remains are expected to reach that place on Monday next.

Opposed to Decorations.
A Selby correspondent writing to the Whig on the 10th inst., says: Rev. R. C. Horner has taken his departure, after over four weeks' successful labor. Mr. Horner has, during his stay, endeavored himself to many. He is a man of strong convictions and his disapproval of that which he believes to be wrong is expressed in vigorous language. His ministrations were attended with great power. He, however, possesses a few crochets which he insists upon mixing with things spiritual to the confusion of his hearers. He was the right of a feather on a lady's hat, though ever so modestly adjusted, or the sparkling of the most unpretentious jet, seems to stir his righteous soul into wondrous activity, and all eloquence is poured upon those articles of attire.

A Double Fire.
During the forenoon of Sunday last fire was discovered in the roof of the dwelling house on the Mallory farm, two miles east of Athens, owned and occupied by Mr. Wolfe, a Prince Edward County farmer, who with his family, had been in possession of the property only a few weeks. All efforts to stay the progress of the flames were unavailing, and attention was directed to saving the household effects. In this the family were unaided, as all the men of the immediate neighborhood were at church. The successful in saving nearly everything on the first flat, but their bedding, clothing and furniture upon stairs, and their provisions, including two barrels of flour, a lot of canned fruit, and their stock of potatoes were in the cellar, were all destroyed. A high north-east wind prevailed and by it a spark was lodged in the roof of the brick school house (S. S. No. 7), and in a few minutes the fire broke out, spreading to the adjacent wood-shed.

Mr. Wolfe, we believe, has no insurance, and his loss will be severely felt.
The school board of the section had the school insured for $700 in the London & Lancashire, which amount will cover all loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee, of Hampton, Virginia, visited Mrs. Redmond, Athens, last week. Mr. Lee has returned to Virginia, but Mrs. Lee, who is a native of California, will remain to watch the budding of a Canadian spring.

Mr. Otis F. Bullis, who has been ill with a bronchial affection for some time past, is now about well, and having received an order from his Boston friend, Mr. Percival, for a few bottles of his medicine, will go to hear of such at any time.

In the Presbyterian church next Sabbath service will be held in the morning at 10.30 o'clock when the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be dispensed. Preparatory communion service will be held on Thursday evening.

W. H. McLaughlin has purchased the earlier business premises, carried on by Chas. Munro at the Armstrong House and has moved his shop to the old stand in the sample room of that hotel. Having an entrance on Main street he stands in convenient and should draw trade.

A leap year snare party will be held in the Baptist church on Monday evening, April 4th, at 8 p.m. A good program will be presented. The leap year character of the entertainment will be developed when the program. Tickets, 15c.

Sherman's Mills Burned.
The carriage and bent-stuff works and large blacksmith shop of Wm. Sherman at Lombardy were destroyed by fire on Monday night of last week. Everything was destroyed, though fortunately a part of the plant had been removed to the new building here. The origin of the fire is unknown. There was an insurance of only $800.

Our Local Fisheries
The ball-pout industry of the back lakes is more important than is generally supposed. Last week ten barrels of these fish, dressed ready for the pen, were shipped from Athens station to the Lake Ontario Fish Co., Kingston. They were taken in the upper Delta lake by W. Sexton, who has established quite a business in this line. From two to three barrels a week are dressed and shipped from Newboro, being caught in the adjacent lakes.

Some time ago we gave space to an article advising the holders of separate and distinct farms that received at conversion. This was followed by a long letter on the line of what was assumed to be orthodox Methodism. Then the way of salvation was followed by the English church was given, and this week we published a mild criticism of one of these letters. The Reporter will not be made a medium of doctrinal controversy; but assuming that the question of salvation is always a live one, and because we have opened our columns to a consideration of the question, we will publish, if desired, short letters from other religions, nominations, and having done that much the matter must end there, so far as the Reporter is concerned.

From the St. Lawrence.
We were favored with a pleasant call on Saturday last from Mr. Henry Hunt, a resident of Hill (formerly La Rue's) Island, on the St. Lawrence. He is a most interesting farmer, interested to a considerable extent in the tourist trade that annually make the Thousand Islands a playground for the holidaying element. He strongly condemns the policy of the Canadian government in refraining from selling the islands on our side of the river to the Americans. From a residence of forty-five years on the river, he has seen the best of the river, and the best of the Americans spend in improving their summer retreats, and in securing for themselves comfort and enjoyment; and from this knowledge he argues that if the Americans were allowed to purchase our islands, a great benefit would accrue to all interested in the tourist traffic.

Some years ago Mr. Hunt went into hunting in a small way, but was comparatively speaking, working in the dark, until he received a visit from Mr. W. S. Hough, the well-known bee expert. From that time his hobby has grown and prospered, and the occasion of his visit to Athens last week was to obtain some of Hough's Langrath hives in which to house the swarms to be thrown off this coming season, and also to obtain his advice as to the bringing out of his bees from their winter quarters.

Redaction of County Councilors.
On Monday Mr. Hardy introduced a bill in the Legislature to reduce the number of County Councilors. The chief features of the bill as explained by the Commissioner of Crown Lands, require that the county clerk shall at the next municipal election, submit to the electors the question whether or not they desire to have the act which will pass this session become law, and have their county council reduced. Then in every county where the electors so decide the Act shall come in force, and not in those where the people vote against it. In counties where there are only fifteen councilors or less the clerk shall not submit the question to the electors, except by the consent of the councilors, but in counties where the number of councilors exceed fifteen, the clerk may submit the question to the people without the consent of the council.

According to the provisions of this bill counties not containing more than 40,000 inhabitants shall have seven county councilors; more than 40,000 and less than 60,000, nine councilors; and over 60,000, eleven councilors, which shall be the maximum number. Cities or towns separated from the county, are not to be included in the county. None of the members of the county council shall be allowed to hold office in the township council.

NEWBORO'S NOVELTY.
Newboro's novelty is a character of a series of meetings now being held in the town hall, Newboro, a representative of this paper visited that village last week on a tour of investigation. He found that the facts in every way bear out the account given in the last issue of the Reporter.

Newboro has a neat, clean hall, seated with chairs, and on Thursday evening last, nearly every chair was occupied, not by the elite of the town, apparently, but principally by a class of young men from the surrounding country, who were there to witness anything new and novel that might develop during the course of the evening. The women and girls present were few in number and sat in a bench near the platform. A number of songs with swinging choruses were rendered very harmoniously and with an immense volume of sound, the latter characteristic being due chiefly to a robust fellow, who had a voice like a calico. The meeting was then harangued for about twenty minutes by a tall man, who had piercing blue eyes and an uncontrollable weakness in his legs. The latter peculiarity was painfully manifest during his speech, but was regarded with special favor by his friends, being taken as an evidence that the "power" was operating. His declamations grew louder and his declamation force as he neared the close, until he had worked himself into a perfect fervor.

On concluding his address, and after the singing of a song, he said that they were about to engage in prayer, and that the "boys" must "go to" which he carried out by standing up would be allowed. Meantime, evidence of the "power" was not wanting. A girl about seventeen, who sat near the Reporter, was apparently afflicted with a bad attack of "power" which shook her whole body. She was well known to the people present, and when she moved forward to the platform, their faces wore a look of expectancy. And not without reason. For about ten minutes she trembled and shook, occasionally throwing her head back with a convulsive snap, and all the time wearing a meaningless, idiotic smile. Finally, she flopped backwards, her head striking a chair, and lay on the floor perfectly quiet. During this time the others at the altar, nearly all of whom were women and girls, sent up a special label of applications for the "power" which were varied by shrill squeals from the Blair settlement girl. Squealing in her specialty, and she does it well. Many of the others were jerking and snapping their heads, hands and bodies, but she was the only one who squealed.

With a view to obtaining better order, one of the leaders said that while in Kingston the other day a person was prostrated and a young man named Holman was carried off to the hospital. On leaving the church the young man dropped dead!

When the first prostration occurred the tall man sprang to his feet and called upon the Almighty to "show down the power." A grand chorus of "above it down," was the response, and then ensued a lively and loud ten minutes' groans, squeals, and loud-winded supplications were intermingled in awful discord, until physical exhaustion forced a cessation. The Reporter was assured that Thursday was not a good night to witness the performance, that he should be there when the New Boyne contingent from other religions, who had been invited, were frequent and the "power" was really "showed up."

Much of the prestige enjoyed by these meetings was lost when it became known that the Rev. Mr. Weeks, the prophetess, had removed to Brockville, back to the Home, in Brockville. She was their best drawing-card. She could be relied upon to prostrate every night and in undisturbed quietness. The Reporter was assured that the prostrations were frequent and the "power" was really "showed up."

Much of the prestige enjoyed by these meetings was lost when it became known that the Rev. Mr. Weeks, the prophetess, had removed to Brockville, back to the Home, in Brockville. She was their best drawing-card. She could be relied upon to prostrate every night and in undisturbed quietness. The Reporter was assured that the prostrations were frequent and the "power" was really "showed up."

Going West!

The undersigned having decided to go West, will offer their large and complete stock of goods at a bargain over the counter. This stock of

will be cleared out by the 1st Sept. Please do not ask to have goods charged, as we wish to get our book accounts settled as soon as possible. This will be a good opportunity for parties in need of goods to save money by buying of us, as we have all our new spring stock on hand.

Store to rent. Possession given about 1st Sept.

Phil. Wiltse & Co.

Many of our citizens were inclined to regard lightly the proposal on the part of the B. & W. to run a line from Athens to Perth, as stated in the Reporter last summer. But application has been made to the Ontario Legislature for power to make this change in their route, and last week the following delegation went to Toronto to oppose the change—Rev. P. A. Trow, W. H. Freudenburg, W. J. Webster, Westport; John Paul, L. S. Lewis, Newboro; J. E. Brown, F. S. Harrison, Eastard; A. Gray, R. Brown, J. F. East, South Cross; James Berney, R. Green, Rear Leeds and Lansdowne.

ATHENS GROCERY
MOTT & ROBESON
It is generally conceded that we are doing the grocery trade of Athens. The reason for this is simply that we buy the best goods in the market for cash and sell them at a price that pleases our customers.

Just now we have a special line of TBA that we invite your attention to, selling at 25, 35 and 40c. per lb. The 25c. tea is extra value. Try it.

Our stock of general groceries was never so full and complete as now. We can supply all your wants in the grocery line and give you the very best value for your money.

Call and see our stock, learn our prices; we shall be pleased to see you whether you buy or not.
MOTT & ROBESON
N. B.—We continue to deal in grain and farm produce.
