

THREE LIBERAL LEADERS

MESSERS. BLAKE, MACKENZIE AND CHARLTON AT PARKDALE.

A Night of Political Talk in the Village Town Hall—Independence Various Blasted.

The reformers of West York are a respectable, well-dressed, intelligent looking body of citizens, or at least the 300 or so of them who gathered in the Parkdale town hall last night.

Mr. Charlton was the first speaker, and held the boards for an hour and a half. He was long and eloquent when he came forth. The first and greatest part of his address was devoted to the government's Pacific railway policy.

Mr. Mackenzie was the next speaker, and for over an hour he expounded the Ontario reform government, and then advertised to the orange. "My brother orangermen," [great laughter] said Mr. Ryan, "stood up in parliament for parliament for Sir John, and then when he went to him for incorporation the old man as much as a mouse and would not say a word, while the leader of the great liberal party had stood bravely up in parliament and gave his reasons why he voted against the orange war."

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

HAMILTON NEWS.

Another Marriage Aid Man Arrested—Belonging to Druggists—A Wonderful Need.

HAMILTON, June 25.—W. A. H. Duff, president of the Mutual Marriage Aid association was arrested this morning on a warrant charging him with fraud in connection with the association. He took his arrest very coolly and accompanied the officers to the Grand Trunk station, where they embarked for Brighton.

The register of the college of pharmacy is pursuing druggists who have not paid their fees. The defence in most of the cases is that the fees in the past were generally paid any time within a few months of their becoming due, and that the provisions in the recent statute making it compulsory to pay on June 1 were not known. These cases were remanded until to-morrow.

Last summer Miss DeLacy of Hughson street swallowed a needle, since which time she has been troubled with pains in the chest and other parts of the body. Recently a swelling formed on her right arm, above the elbow, and it was found to be caused by the needle, which was extracted. The joint and arm were then treated by Dr. J. S. Lockie, the president. In addition to the speakers, Hon. T. W. Anglin, G. W. Badgerow, M. E. Antwerp, McMath occupied seats on the platform.

Mr. Charlton was the first speaker, and held the boards for an hour and a half. He was long and eloquent when he came forth. The first and greatest part of his address was devoted to the government's Pacific railway policy.

Mr. Mackenzie was the next speaker, and for over an hour he expounded the Ontario reform government, and then advertised to the orange. "My brother orangermen," [great laughter] said Mr. Ryan, "stood up in parliament for parliament for Sir John, and then when he went to him for incorporation the old man as much as a mouse and would not say a word, while the leader of the great liberal party had stood bravely up in parliament and gave his reasons why he voted against the orange war."

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

Mr. Mackenzie, in response to loud calls, made a few concluding remarks. The hon. gentleman's voice has faded greatly. "I am," he said, "a warm friend of independence. I have always been one. He loved the dominion, but he could not forget the associations of the motherland. As to severing our connection with the mother country," he would not consider it for one minute. Mr. Mackenzie then said that by good management and organization he had no doubt the liberal party could carry the next election.

THE MORMONS COMING.

CONTEMPLATED EXODUS FROM UTAH TO THE WEST.

An Alleged Understanding With the Canadian Government to Take up Land and Practice Polygamy. CHICAGO, June 25.—I have just had an interview with a prominent lawyer of this city who acts as counsel for the Mormon church in Utah. He has been entrusted with many delicate matters by them, has been several times out to Salt Lake city and knows their whole business thoroughly. He says that it is his intention if the United States congress passes and enforces an anti-polygamy bill to make an exodus out of Utah into the Canadian Northwest territory, provided they can make suitable arrangements with the Canadian government by securing themselves in their religion and in their polygamous practices.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

They claim they have had indirect assurances made to them that the Canadian government will give them favorable consideration, and it is likely that a delegation will leave Salt Lake city for Canada in a few days. They will propose to the Canadian government to take up a large section of country, induce immigration, make it blossom as the rose as they have done in Utah, and that they will be peaceable and law-abiding citizens in every way, provided they are given liberty in matters of their own religion and in regard to their views of marriage.

GOOD TEMPLARS GRAND LODGE.

The Next Meeting to be Held at Hamilton.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

The grand lodge of good templars of Ontario concluded its labors last night. The 4th Tuesday in next June the lodge will meet in Hamilton. The officers elected were: G.W.C.T., J. H. Flagg (re-elected), Mitchell; G.W.C., Thomas Lawless, Napolean; G. W. V., Miss Lydia A. Newman, Paris; G. W. sec., T. W. Casey, Napolean; G. W. T., James E. Nixon, Toronto; G. W. chap., Rev. Mr. Leach, Odessa; G. W. M., W. A. Gordon, Florence; G. D. M., Miss Isabella Henderson, Toronto; G. W. C., Mrs. W. G. Hamilton; G. W. sen., A. Newell, Carlisle; P.G.W.C.T., Rev. John Shaw, Peterboro. Miss Cashman of Ohio, general superintendent of the juvenile templars, was introduced by F. G. W. C. Templar Bottrell.

THE DEMOCRATS DIVIDED.

TILDEN, CLEVELAND, McDONALD AND BAYARD.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

Proposed at Four Different State Conventions Yesterday—Nominations for Governor in Indiana and North Carolina. COLUMBIA, O., June 25.—The democratic state convention met this morning, a radical free trade amendment offered by Russell of Cleveland was voted down. The following was adopted amidst great enthusiasm: Resolved, It is the sense of the convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States but was defeated of the office, should receive the unanimous endorsement of the hands of the democratic national convention.

THE WINDMILL OF 1834.

An Historic Structure Reproduced With Fidelity and Exactness.

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

Jewell & Clow have anticipated by nearly a week the semi-centennial celebration, and have now in full blast at their well-known Colborne street restaurant a remarkably true reproduction of the famous and historical windmill which old Toronto-ians love to remember. A portrait of this historic structure embellishes all the frontispieces of the centennial executive committee's tasty lithographs, and it was evidently from this that the ingenious Clow got his correct idea of what the windmill looked like. The World was looking at the miniature—not so much of a miniature, either—flopping its know-white arms in the breeze yesterday afternoon, and wondering if it looked like the real article. "Just as like as two peas," said a very old citizen who was standing near by. "I watched the construction of the original, and the one you see before you is eminently similar."

FEDERAL AT NINETY-FIVE.

WILL THE DIRECTORS PUT IN A PEG?

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

Seven Points in One Day—A Proposal to Reduce the Stock—How Confidence Can be Restored. After the closing hour of the stock exchange yesterday any amount of Federal was offered at 95, a further drop of seven points in one day. There was considerable excitement among brokers and speculators, which was also shared in by business men and bankers. They all seemed to think that Mr. Nordheimer and his colleagues ought to put in a peg and stop the tumble, but so far these gentlemen have done nothing or made no assuring statements to the public. If the stock has got to be helped it is easier to do so at 95 than at 75.

