A MONTHLY FOR STAMP COLLECTORS.

United States Minutes.

CONDUCTED BY USONA.

The Postmaster General has just unearthed a neat scheme in connection with the annual dead-letter sale. The goods received unclaimed are supposed to be tied up in packages of approximately equal value and submitted by tho auctioneer wrapped up; unsight, unseen. Now it transpires that some of the clerks in the dead-letter office, who put up the packages, arranged to make certain of the packages contain all the valuable goods, and then at the sale they bought these packages in. Of course, knowing the value of the package they could afford to outbid the general public. The Postmaster General had some spotters present, and there was trouble for the conspirators. It is curious to note however, that although these people had been betraying their trust, causing the government to lose money on the one hand and on the other hand keeping the public out of a fair deal, yet only two of them were dismissed. The same affair in a private office would probably have ended in the criminal courts.

In some paper recently, appeared a statemeni that U. S. stamps used in Hawaii could be distinguished by the fact that the cancellation "is invariably in purple ink." If this was ever the case, it is not so now, the ordinary black ink is used throughout the islands.

The prices of some of the stamps as given in the 60th edition are much closer to their real net value than in previous editions, and it will be difficult to give the usual $50 \%$ discount, especially on popular countries. In some cases it is difficult to see where the profit will come in even at catalogue rates.
The l cent Guam has been found with inverted surcharge.

Four cent envelope die B current issue (large draped bust with inner serrated oval) is a rare stamp, says Mr. Bartels. Red brown and orange two centers are not in it for rarity.

Prices on the high value and new revenue stamps are wobbly and, I think, too high, as the sections of the War Revenue Act which are proposed for repeal are not the ones which will affect those values. The $$ 1000$ is quoted at $$ 150$, the $$ 500$ at $$ 70$, the $$ 100$ at $$ 20$, the $$ 50$ at $$ 3.50$, the $$ 30$ at $$ 10$, the $$ 10$ at $$ 1$, the $$ 1$ red at ten cents and the $$ 3$ red at $$ 1$.

Philatelic Inconsistencies

BY' C. L. O'LUCKEN.

"Oh consistency, thou art a jewel !" is particularly applicable to philately as it exists today. Perhaps the one thing which does more to keep philately in illrepute, or to he more precise, to give our beloved science a reputation as child's play, is the inconsistency with which the matter of atamps is treated. This statement, to be understood, needs, doultless a somewhat lengthy explanation, but instead of attempting one, I shall rather point uut some of the inconsistencies which I have encountered during my comparatively brief philatelic curcer, a few of the more glaring ones.

A short time ago I greatly desired to complete a few sets, each of which lached the most expensive stamp necessary to complete the same. I accordingly sent want lists to several dealers, and was at last rewarded by receiving a stamp on approval, together with a note from the dealer stating that he regretted the fact that the stamp was a little off on aecount of having one straight elge; however, if I co:ld use it in that conlition, I might have it a discount com-adorably larger than could have been, olicied had the stamj) been perforated on four stdes. Of course I took the stamp, but it seemed to me a trifle inconsistent to give a discount off a stamp which obviously was more of a "rara avis" than one of the ordinary per-forated-on-four-sides kind. As every one hnows, there are fewer stamps with two struight edges. Ought not, then, the straight edge stamps to be more rare, and consequently more desirable and higher in price than ordinary stamps which are perorated on four sides? In 2 recent issue of the U. S. surcharged for Cuba, it happened that in printing the five cent stamps, the lower lobe of one of the "B's" became broken, thereby making the surcharge on this particular stamp in each sheet somewhat resemble "CUPA," and this yo-culled error or variety is eatulogued in the 59th at $$ 1.00$, while the perfect specimen is catalogued at bat the usual udvance over fuce. By the sume token, then, ought nut the straight edge stamp, which constitutes but a small fraction of the entire issue be worth considerably more than the others? And ought not those very scarce two straight edge stamps be worth as much in proportion as this "CUPd" freak? If a broken type in a surcharge makes a "raricty," then surely the straight edge stamp, which is an entirely legitimate production, is equally entitled to distinction. If we are to pay attention to such unintentional varieties, let us be consistent about the matter, and give the straight edge its just deserts. Let us make philately a science, and discontinue fool's play.

The matter of the difference in price betwee: used and unused specimens has been extensively treated by various philatelic writers, but a word more or less on the subject will not be out of place here. $I$ am forced to confess when $I$ turn to the pages in my album devoted to the Central American countries, and am obliged to admit that the beautiful unused specimens which adorn those pages are worth but a few cents each, and considerably less than cancelled specimens of the same stamp that philately has not yet reached the stage when it can properly termed a "science," and cannot be until there is some method of doing away with these worthless back numbers which some second or third rate governments palm off on the philatelic public at the end of each year. So long as we permit ourselves to be imposed upon in this manner, so long we cannot consistently, it seems to me, in any sense be termed "scientists," and the term "freaks" is undoubtedly more appropriate. Some one will inquire now why I do not praetise what I preach, and remove from my collection those unused specinens which I so strongly denounce? I expect to decrease my collection by some 200 varieties, which I shall gently consign to the waste paper basket, the place where they belong.

The action on the part of the publishers of certain philatelic journals in agreeing to refuse all advertisements in which counterfeits and reprints are offered is certainly commendable, and is a step in the right direction. Can they not be induced also to include in the category of pictures (they certainly are not stamps,) harmful to philately the remainders which are annually sold to dealers ? yy various governments? I camot see how a small picture, printed upon a piece of gummed paper, which has never done duty as a postage stamp, and yet is not good for postage in the country by which it was issued, can be termed a postage stamp. Why, then, give them a place in our catalogues and in our collections?
To one who is inclined to look into the future, the undoing of philately will seem to have its beginning in these glaring inconsistencies with which the "science" is at present burdened. Until these are remedied we must not hope to have philately placed upon a substantial, scientific basis.

Postal Systems.

Did you ever stop, to think of the wonGerful organization that insures the reguI:I transmission of every little letter, and its final safe delivery to itm owner, even at the remotest ends of the world, the crowded foreign city, or the solitudes of the mountain or the forest?. Yau cannot go to a point so isolated as to be beyond the ministrations of the postoffice ; but in sume foreign countries you would fimd very strange messengers and methuds empluy ed.

In the Cnited States the syste: a is so admirably organized that the work of the letter-carrier ceases to have any inlividuality. If you were to cross the oce:n, however, and visit some of the countries of Asia, you would ste some very queer postmen. In northern Indial, amung the Himalayas, lettors are carrieal by hative ranners at the end of a cleft stick. Sometimes one of these postmen will tatala hundred miles to convey li, inectivas mis. sive, the letter being deliveted in as cican a condition as when it staried.

The commonest type cî Iudien pont-rannei, or "toppal-wallah," wearn a lomg white coat, very light trousers, and a hage light-blue turban. His letter bug is sluagr from his shoulder, and he carie., :a long stick with a sharp iron puint, which can be used as a weapon in case of need. The stick is adomed with six little brass leells which serve to give nutice of the aphourn of the post.
If you were in Japan you would see lithe, wiry runners, with very little clothing on their brown bodies, darting here and there among the crowd. Everybody gives way before them, for they are the postmen of the empire. Their mail is carried in small baskets strapped to their sides. They are capable of sustaining a gocd deal of fatigue, and wake wonderful journeys at times.

Among the placid Clmese, hurry is a form of vulgar impatience. conseguently very little dispatch is used in carrying the mails in that great empire. They are content to convey all ordinary communicutions either by slow pululind or polings loats, or else by foot-runners, whose high sounding title of "the-thousand-mile horse" does not quicken their pace beyond about twelve miles in twenty-four hours. They carry a paper lantern and a paper umbrella, and their letter-bag is secured to the back by a cloth knotted across the chest.
Among the most picturesque letter-carriers of the world are the "Camel Express Messengers" of Bokara. The men wear a serviceable red uniform, and a large green turban embroidered with gold thread. From their girdle hangs a curved saber in a red sheath. Th, camels are adorned with trappings of gay tassels ornamented with blue beads and cowrie shells, and with small brass bells round their neck to give notice of their approach. The rough and rapid trotting of these animals, sometimes at the rate of eighty miles a day, is so trying to the riders as to shorten their lives.
Of vehicles, we find every conceivable variety used to aid the post-runner in his labor. In Natal the post-cart is a light four-horse vehicle, not much to look at, but capital as a means of getting over vile roads with deep ruts. In the mountain distrists of Brazil a two-wheeled wagon, drawn by oxen, is in use, the wheels being cut out of a solid block and fastened to the axle.
In some parts of Russia buffaloes harnessed to two-wheeled vehicles carry the postmen on their road, but more frequently mail sledges are drawn by horses, by reindeer, or, in the far north, by doge.

The latter we find again in Canada-as for instance, in the mail service between Selkirk and Lake Winnipeg, where the work is done by trains of letter-sleighs,

- each drawn by three dogs harnessed in single file.-Philadelyhia T'imes.

Lands Without Official

Postage.

Many persons are under the impression that the Val D'Andorra, a st:ip of no man's land between Spain and France, is the oniy portion of Euror which can boast the absence of an reial postage stamp. As a matter c ract, a piece of country known as "Moresnet Calamine," which lies where the Belgian province of Liege meets the Prussian regency of Aix-la-Chapelle, is in a like position. As it has been found impossible to agree as to the frontier delimitation German and Belgian stamps are used indiscriminately. Further, this piece of country has no coinage of its own and uses that of the Latin union.--London Globe.

All those who received our last number say it was, by far, the best number of any stamp paper published at the present time; it contained over 100 pages and cover, and more than 50 pages of excellent reading matter. We always try to give our subscribers all the reading matter possible. Those who receive this number as a sample copy and did not see our " 20 th Century Nuimber" can receive it by sending 2 2i cents for a year's subscription, and as a premium we will send an 8 c Jubilee or 100 different stamps.

As a special inducement, we offer 3 pages of advertising space in Advocate for only $$ 5.00$. One page for $$ 2.00$. Remember our terms are cash in advance to all.

Editorial Opinions.

Our Last lesue.

This issue is necessurily small on account of the lateness of our January number. We hope to have March issue mailed on time. Although it is only a short time since the Janary number was mailed the results have been very gratiying. It would take another hundred page issue to reprint all of the gooil hingr; our reader; say about it. The following is fro:n one ci the advertisers and shows the results of our paper as an al me:lium as comparea with one of the other philatelic journal-. We withold the mame of the witer. This letter was written only six dizys after tho paper was mailed and was unly a small ad.
"Dear Sir--We have received two an-wers a day from our small ad in Janamy Anvocime which is more per day than we ever got of "West" per month. Lou:s is the finest paper that we have ever seen. They all say that "West" has lots of type in use in his paper but your Dec. No. (only eight pages) was honestly more interestingr than his of over 100 pages. We have heard several persons here in town who have read your paper say they enjoyed every inch of it."
We do not like to pablish anything against other papers but when pulbishers stoop to falsehood against us and our associations we cannot help showing them when we get a chance.

We have heard a few criticisms on account of having ads mixed with reading. matter. Our aim is to coive advertisero the best value possible for theirmoney, and ly ruming ads and reading matter together each advertiser has an equal showing. Printer's Ink one of the leading adve:tising papers in Americal rums the ads this way.

SUCCESS puts dynamite into every reuter. It is a gramd magazine of inspiration and self-hel ${ }^{j}$ ) to those who long to be somebody and do something in the world, many of whom, hedged in as it were by iron walls of circumstance, feel that they have "no chance in life."

Stampic America the philatelic mystery of the nineteenth century has been discontinued. It has never been known (only by at c:y fuw) who was the editor and publisher. We often wondered if A. H. Hall hatd anything to do with it.

A complaint has been received regarding substitution on a D. P. A. Excl..nge circait. Tl:is practice should be discontinucd. A: investigation is being made and and the guiity party or parties will be expolled from the society- The meanest of thieves is the jarty whosubstitutesstamps and any person who does so should be exposed in atl the papers and punished to the full extent of the law.

In our last number we stated that a new issuc of stamps would probably be issued bearing the lineage of King Edward. This shouid have read lineament of King Emhard.

Our Holiday "20th Century Number" contained over 100 pages and cover in thiree colors; over fifty pages of instructive reading matter; good advertisements from all the up-to-date stamp dealers and a n:mber of half-tonns of prominentit collec. tors. We will give this grand number, a 20 word bargain notice and the Advocats until Feb. 1902 for only 25 cents in stamps, coin or moncy order. If you prefer two premiums send 25 unused 2 cent statmps of United States or Canada and the name of a friend and we will send you the paper one yeur and both premiums and your friend will also receive the paper one year.

With this issue we commence to fill the subscriptions of the Jubilec Phildetcist and Monnt Royal Stamp Netes. Those who are already subscribers to the Adrocate will have their subscription extended. This will be another benefit to our advertisers. Although this adds nearly 500 to our circulation our rates remain the same at present. Advertisers got good results from the Iubilec; what will they get from both? Subscribers to the Jubilee can securea copy of our 104 page January number by sending 10 c to Starnaman Bros., Berlin, Ont.

The Postmaster-General denies the report that he has authorized the issue of a new set of stamps, but that he will wait to see what action the Mother Country tnkes.

There is a feeling amongst some dealers that there is going to be a sudden rise in stamps. There are quite a number of stamps in the catalogue priced at almost net value and collectors are sure to make i2 sudden rush for these stamps. The result will be that they will go up iu price. This will benefit philately in many respects: it will be the cause of getting these stamps into circulation and as collectors will purchase other stamps as well, the dealers will do a larger business.
