Toronto Stronger Than Ever for Public Ownership

MAYOR: HOCKEN | CONTROLLERS: SIMPSON, MCCARTHY, CHURCH, O'NEILL ALDERMEN: ROBBINS, WALTON, HILTZ; ROWLAND, WICKETT, RISK, MAGUIRE, F. SPENCE, McBRIDE; WANLESS CAMERON, SINGER; DUNN, GRAHAM, MEREDITH; D. SPENCE, MAYBEE, SMITH; WHETTER, RYDING

HOCKEN HAS FIVE THOUSAND
 PLURALITY OVER F. G. M'BRIEN
 GOOD GOVERNMENT CONTINUES

Bitter Personal Campaign Against the Mayor Ended in Defeat for His Opponents, as the Electors Refused to Be Stampeded and Progressive Government at the City Hall Will Continue.

With one subdivision to hear from, the total vote polled for mayor was as follows:

HOCKEN	21,471
McBrien	16,441
Burgess	3,725
Birks	1,511

Mayor Hocken's re-election was of course, a certainty. Altho his majority was not as large as expected, yet when it is considered that he was fighting a strong campaign against him personally, the secret of the heavy vote against him is out. However, his majority is large enough to prove that his personal enemies could not stampede the electorate, notwithstanding their extraordinary effort.

Mayor Hocken has made a bold stand for clean and progressive government.
 Such a policy is bound to make bitter personal enemies who would move heaven and earth to defeat him. The electors made certain, tho, that Mayor Hocken would remain in office to carry on his strong policy of good government, and they also gave him a splendid working majority in the board of control and the council.

Frederick McBrien must be surprised at the number of votes given him.
 So must A. E. Burgess. They both made their kick, and the electors have disposed of them.

The vote by wards was as follows:

Ward One.	Hocken	3436	McBrien	2232	Burgess	604	Birks	239
Ward Two.	Hocken	2780	McBrien	2132	Burgess	530	Birks	127
Ward Three.	Hocken	2473	McBrien	1638	Burgess	925	Birks	130
Ward Four.	Hocken	3329	McBrien	2136	Burgess	336	Birks	344
Ward Five.	Hocken	3511	McBrien	3154	Burgess	703	Birks	268

NURSEY LANDED
 CHIEF OF GANG

Thought to have been the organizer of a gang of criminals who early last year terrorized the east end by shopbreakings, holdups and robberies, Earl Strachan, 20, was arrested by Acting Detective Nursey of No. 3 station, at the Riverdale Roller Rink Wednesday evening.

The charge on which Strachan is held is that of assault and robbery. In connection with the attempt in May last to rob Miss Pearce, an employee of the Lever Bros., of a satchel containing over $2000 in wages. Miss Pearce was assaulted at a lonely spot near the factory by two youths about 17 years of age. Detective Nursey afterwards got the two lads, both of whom are now doing time.
 Strachan skipped across the border, tho he has remained across the border.
 Other charges of a more serious character may be laid. Three additional charges of shopbreaking, involving robberies at Burrow's stores, at 583 and 590
 East Gerrard street, and Firth's grocery store on Pape avenue, will be made against Strachan, who is thought to have organized the burglaries.

Another serious offence for which the police revive after Strachan was the organized robbery of pay telephone boxes in the east end a year ago.

MAYOR GRAHAM IS RE-ELECTED IN LONDON

Richter, Opponent of Public Ownership, Defeated by Seven Hundred in Heavy
 Vote - Citizens Declare Strongly in Favor of Sunday Car Service.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 1. - (Can.
 Press.) - Charles M. R. Graham is again mayor of this city after defeating by a majority of 704 Ald J. G. Richter.
 Mayor Graham now enters upon his third term.

The campaign was fought on the principle of public ownership. Mayor Graham being a strong advocate of the policies of Adam Beck.

The elections today were featured by a number of important measures.
 The voting was large and the ratepayers displayed more than the usual amount of interest. London's first board of control, consisting of four members, was selected from a field of nine candidates. The aldermanic campaign was less interesting, twelve being selected from fourteen candidates. There were several bylaws.

New Controllers.
 The members of the board of control returned at the polls are: J. P.
 Moore 3098, W. G. Coles 2969, H. Ash-plant 2696, G. E. Rose 2724. Unusual candidates were: Johnston 2568,
 Bennett 2451, Saunders 2993, Cooper
 945, Copp 948.

Lehoo, trustees are as follows: E. R.
 Dennis, A. M. Hunt, A. E. Silverwood,
 Thom. J. McQuinn, W. G. Coles, W. G.
 Young and L. H. Martin.

The aldermen are Messrs. White, Mitchell, Stein, Hanes, Hancock, Dan-
 nely, Merryfield, Gwathmal, Wilson, Leah, Winder and McDonald, elected in the foregoing order.

Favor Sunday Cars.
 A bylaw to give the city council power to authorize Sunday street cleaning was adopted strongly by the ratepayers.
 This was one of the biggest issues of the campaign, having been fought strenuously in the pulpits throught the city.
 The vote was 4294 for, 2207 against, majority 2087.

A bylaw to grant permission to a natural gas company to pipe their product thru the city streets was adopted by a majority of 1742, a result traceable in some measure to the strong objections made by towns where the gas is at present used against the offensive odor of the gas and to the prices at which the commodity had been quoted.
 The vote: For 2322, against 474.

The Greco Swift Co. is now authorized by the passing of another bylaw, to lay steampipes for heating throught the streets in the downtown section. The vote for 4110, against 2506, majority 1604.

The only industrial bylaw was that to grant a loan of $25,000 to the Greco Manufacturing Co. The majority in favor of the measure was two-thirds.
 The city waterworks goes back under the control of the water commissioners as the result of a bylaw which passed by a majority of 2249.

 plaints to make, and was satisfied with the showing which he had made.

 Elections Were Dull.

(Special to The Toronto World).
 HAMILTON, Friday, Jan. 2. - Few surprises were sprung at yesterday's elections, which were among the quietest yet held here. The vote was small, despite the fact that this was the first time elections were held on New Year's Day in this city. In previous years they were held on the first Monday in January. The lack of interest shown is explained by the fact that there was no majority control and no very important bylaws before the people. The following is the final result of the polling:

EIGHTEEN MEMBERS PLEDGED TO SUBMIT RAILWAY PURCHASE

"The Telegram or the People" Cry Was Answered by the People, and Telegram Influence is Gone From the City Hall Forever.

A large minority of the city council of 1913, supporting the policy of The Telegram, deliberately tried to prevent the agreement of purchase going to the people.

The election yesterday sent to the city council 18 members who are pledged to submit the agreement of purchase to the people. There is a minority of seven who are pledged to prevent the agreement of purchase going
 to the people.

The Telegram made the issue of this election between The Telegram and the people. The people most emphatically voted against the policy of The Telegram, and have thus declared that The Telegram tools itself in taking the role of a dictator of civic government. The influence of The Telegram in civic affairs is effectively smothered.

VOTE HAS ABOLISHED THUGGERY FROM TORONTO'S ADMINISTRATION

GETS SECOND TERM

"No Newspaper Prejudice Will Dictate the Civic Policy
 During My Second Year," Declares Mayor Hocken--
 "Decent Press" is Thanked for Support.

Jubilation was written in every line of Mayor Hocken's face when he was interviewed by a World reporter last evening after the final results had become known, and the mayor considered that he had ample reason to feel elated in view of the opinion which the electors of the City of Toronto had expressed at the polls. He felt that the result was no uncertain indication of the acquiescence and approval of all fair-minded citizens of the faithful and conscientious work which he had done for Toronto during the past twelve months, and, indeed, throught his whole public career.

"It is exceedingly gratifying to me," Mayor Hocken told The World, "that I won out in the contest by such a handsome majority, in consideration of the efforts put forth to destroy public confidence in myself and my colleagues.
 After three hundred days of malicious misrepresentation of every act of mine during the year, I still retain the confidence of my fellow-citizens by a substantial majority."

The Dirty Work.
 "The means adopted in an endeavor to defeat me are known best to the proprietor of The Telegram and to the Rapid Transit Association. That organization was started to defeat me, and it was the agency employed to do things which would not bear the light of day."

"I will not be deterred by newspaper thuggery from doing any duty as chief magistrate to the citizens of Toronto.
 The policy of the board of control for the year 1914 will be dictated by a careful consideration of the interests of the city."

the citizens, and not upon lines framed for the controllers by the prejudices of a newspaper. Thanking to All.

"I thank the citizens of Toronto with for the way in which it has defended me during the year, and I pledge myself to justify the confidence of my friends among the electors and the decent press of the city."

ANTI-PURCHASE FREDDY COULD NOT BE LOCATED

Boy Candidate Made Remarkable Run and His Friends Are Satisfied.

Ex-Ald. Fred G. McBrien could not be located at a late hour last night.
 During the early stages of the evening,
 when the returns were being received, his friends entertained high hopes that his candidature would make a final spurt, and might land on top.
 Surprise was expressed in all sides at his remarkably good fight which he put up, and neither ex-Ald. McBrien nor his friends had any reason to be disappointed at the result.

Those Who Paid Respects

OTTAWA, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press.)—An exceptionally large attendance was present today at the New Year's levee of H.R.H. the Governor-General, held in his offices in the east block of the parliament buildings. Wearing the brilliant uniform of a field marshal in the British army, the duke received his callers in his private suite and shook hands with over eight hundred men of all walks of life during the hour of the reception.

Among those who paid their respects to his royal highness were Right Hon. R. L. Borden, Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. T. White, Hon. T. W. Crothers, Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. Martin Burrell, Mgr. Stagni, papal delegate, Archbishop Hamilton, Archbishop Gauthier, Vicar-Gen. Routhier. His royal highness was attended by his staff, consisting of Col. Farquhar, military secretary, Arthur Staden, private secretary, Capt. H. C. Buller, Capt. George Boscawen, A.D.C., Capt. A. Graham, A.D.C., and Sir Edward Worthington, M.D., A.D.C.

Clergy and Laity Observed New Year's Day by Honoring
Head of Archdiocese.

A reception was held yesterday afternoon by His Grace Archbishop McNeil at his residence, head of Wellesley place, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. A large number of the priests of the city called upon his grace, also a number of the Christian Brothers of De La Salle Institute and separate schools.

The laity were well represented, amongst whom were the following: Hon. J. J. Poy, Commander Law, Justices Anglin and Kelly, Claude MacDonald, M.P.; Col. Nixon, Home Bank; Inspector Power, separate schools; Wm. Prendergast, Doctors Cassidy, R. J. Dwyer and McKeown, Messrs. Jas. E. Day, John Boland and numerous others. Rev. F. Kermahan, archbishop's secretary, had charge of the arrangements of the reception.

ARRESTED IN MOOSE JAW GOES BACK TO NORTH BAY

Jacob White Disappeared at Same Time as Married Woman
With Whom He Boarded.

NORTH BAY, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press.)—John Clive, chief of police of Moose Jaw, arrived in town with a prisoner named Jacob White, whom he arrested at Moose Jaw upon a warrant sent by the local police on charges arising out of White's departure from town with a married woman and her child. White had been a boarder in the home at North Bay, and when he left town the woman and child also disappeared.

The case was taken up by the police, and the husband started west, arriving in Moose Jaw shortly after White's arrest. He found his wife and child and brought them home.

White was arraigned before Magistrate Weagar, pleaded not guilty and was remanded for eight days.

WILL BUILD HUT ON AFRICA'S HIGHEST PEAK

German Mountain Climbers Find
Alpine Feats Are Too
Tame.

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—German alpinists, who swarm in Switzerland and the Tyrol every summer, and scorn the services of professional guides even for such summits as the Matterhorn, Mont Blanc and the Jungfrau, are now seeking adventure farther afield. The Hanover section of the German Alpine Club has appropriated $2,000 to build a hut on Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest peak of the African continent.

Kilimanjaro is located on the north-eastern boundary of German East Africa, and overlooks Mont Blanc by some 4,000 feet. The mountain consists of two peaks, the highest of which has an altitude of 19,710 feet. Although in the equatorial region, it has a mantle of perpetual snow and gives rise to a number of large glaciers.

GERMAN SMALL ARMS ARE IN KEEN DEMAND

Orders Received From Mexico
Aid Unusual Activity Now Shown.

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—A report of the leading German small arms company shows unusual activity just now in the production of military rifles and machine guns. In October, 1912, the company had only 946 men employed making rifles; but in October, 1913, there were 3,450, and the number of employees in the machine-gun department had increased from 104 to 480.

Some of the activity is undoubtedly due to orders received from Mexico, some of it is facetiously attributed to the formation of the Viceroy army under Sir Edward Carson, but the increase is probably very largely due to the manufacture of arms for the thousands of extra soldiers to be added to the German army under the recent legislation.

POLICE MUST CONSENT TO GRAVESIDE ADDRESS

Prussian Layman Fined Seventy-
Two Cents for His Offence.

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—For a layman to make an address at the grave of a friend in Prussia without the permission of the police is a punishable offence, according to the decision of a court of appeals just rendered at Cologne. A privy commercial councillor, Heidemann, a manufacturer, had died and his friend, Commercial Councillor Hagen, made some remarks at the funeral without having taken the precaution to get the consent of the police. Before the lowest court Hagen was acquitted, but the prosecuting attorney declared that the case was "one of fundamental importance" and carried it to the court of appeals, which fined Hagen seventy-two cents.

New China That is Perfectly Fascinating

LIKE CHARMING old-fashioned English china all gay with buds and blossoms, or all dignified with conventional borders in rich Oriental tints—this is what much of the new china is like. Set after set you will see, and seem to find each one quaint and daintier than the last. They come from the famous old potteries round Stoke-on-Trent, and if you have it in your mind to buy a new dinner set, you will be tremendously interested in these. Let me describe two or three sets for you:

From the Wedgwood potteries, a delightful set of creamy semi-porcelain with border in a Chinese design of deep blue and Oriental red, the dishes being all most charmingly shaped, with the old-time Brussels sprout handles. The set consists of 99 pieces for dinner and tea use. Price, complete, $31.50.

Answering the popular demand for blue china is an attractive set of Booth's Silicon, widely patterned at the edge with shadowy blue butterflies. This has 113 dinner and tea pieces. Price, complete, $20.00.

A fascinating chintz design of pinks and cornflowers characterizes another set of English semi-porcelain. It has 112 pieces—including such a quaint cream jug and sugar bowl, and is incredibly low priced, at $22.50.

And also a dainty little set—an open stock pattern—decorated in reproduction of an old French border design in Persian tints of red, green and tan. As many or as few pieces as desired are obtainable, a set of 97 of the most usual pieces being procurable at $13.75.

From a Woman's Standpoint

JANUARY 1st—I like your looks, little Diary. Your blue calf covers bespeak the poetry of life. The usual black Morocco journal is horribly depressing—a binding born of dirges and laments. But you, in your happy blues, surely sugar things serene and pleasant. It would be queer of Fate to write anything rough or ugly on your dainty pages. You have come to me in a blue sought. The lovable COVERED spirit of Christmas has cast you upon my desk. Are you a fraud, little blue book, or may I believe that the record of the year will be tranquil and sweet?

My new clock has just struck nine in clear, brisk tones, and I seemed to detect a note of protest in its crisp strokes. "Tranquil and sweet, foretold" did I hear it say? "You are sleepy, or over-fagged, or you've been reading Mrs. Humphry Ward's last book, with its pretty picturing of woman in the inner shrine, tending the mystic fires. You know you don't want to be tranquil. You live in the century when tranquility has no more place in the feminine make-up than hoops or swooning. If it isn't votes, it's slumming or the tango. The devoted housewife is out joining leagues. The woman who stays in bed for breakfast and takes a rest in the afternoon is a relic. Who, now-a-days, ever talks about paying calls? How can they either call on their friends or stay at home to receive them, when the afternoons are crammed with meetings and musicals and sundry affairs of edifying sort? I was made to mark the hours on a woman's mantelpiece: I've been told what my duties would be: I know whereof I speak."

The clock is right, of course. The new restlessness is a germ infecting the March and the Marys alike. The romance of Elaine has been faded in the logic of the Princess. Perhaps you come with a mission, little blue Diary. Perhaps you come to try in your small way to keep those mystic fires aglow—to call one aside from the rush to dream for a while, to take up a pen and write those thoughts that lodge around the soul, the simpler, holier thoughts of us. If we do not express them they often die in the haze, but it is good to sit and dote in a garden, now and then. If we did not use things accomplished in dreams, some of us would never have courage to tackle them in reality. I approve your mission.

Let us work furiously if we must, let us dash around and invent ourselves if we will, but let us spare a half hour once in a while to show that we still have a notion or two of the kind you could find in your blue covers—is not this your ideal little Diary?

The Shopper and The Sale

IF YOU CANNOT COME to the Semi-Annual Sale, she will go to you—through the medium of the Shopper. She will look for what you want and send it to you. She will find the cloak or the rug or the lingerie that has been reduced in price, and select it with taste and discretion. The whole store has been turned into a carnival of "specials" and "reductions." Every department bristles with extraordinary values, particulars of which you will see from day to day on this page. Let the Shopper act as your proxy. Write to her, stating clearly what you want to buy and the sum of money you wish to expend, marking the corner of the envelope "The Shopper."

SCOTTISH JESSIE SCORED SUCCESS

Massey Hall Audience Was Delighted by Work of Noted Prima Donna.

PIPERS MADE MUSIC

Jessie MacLachlan Rendered Scottish Lyrics in Sweet, Yet Bewildering Fashion.

Miss Jessie MacLachlan was enthroned undisputed queen in the hearts of enthusiastic thousands who cheered the Scottish prima donna at the Massey Hall last night. The event proved one of the most successful New Year's concerts in the history of Toronto. The original program of 18 numbers had to be almost doubled to satisfy the insistent recalls.

The program began with a martial song with a spirited bagpipe march by the Grand Pipe Major George Murray. The Grand May Nestlitt and Annie Ross charmed the assemblage with a Highland ring and the "Seann Truibhas" dance. Harold Jarvis sang "The Standard of the Braces of May" and "The March of the Cameron Men" in stirring style. Paul Hahn's cello solo, Popper's "Gavotte" with bagpipe imitations, elicited an enthusiastic encore.

Miss Jessie MacLachlan was never heard to better advantage. It was impossible for her to fully meet the demands upon her for encore numbers. As it was, she rendered a repertoire of Scottish lyrics of almost bewildering variety, but so perfectly that each appeared to be Miss MacLachlan's forte.

Deep regret was expressed by members of the committee at the bereavement of Farquhar Murray, who would otherwise have been a prominent contributor to the program.

NEW YEAR'S PROGRAM

New Year's Day at Central Y.M.C.A. was one of exceptional interest. The great new building was thronged throughout the day with interested visitors. The program in the main corridor in the evening was enjoyed by an audience completely filling the place, and brought to a close the most successful open-house event in the Central Association history. Among the artists taking part in the evening's program were: The Empire Male Quartet; Miss Jessie Paxton, soprano; Wallace A. Sault, humorist; R. A. Stapells, baritone, and W. A. Donovan, reader.

USES FOR THE END OF HAM.

For the fire the end of a ham, put it over the fire in cold water and let simmer until tender. When about half done, add to the water four tablespoonfuls of vinegar; when it is done, let cool in the water, then remove the skin from the bone and pick off all the meat, rejecting the hard parts. Run the meat thru the chopper, measure, and to each pint of meat allow a gill of milk, a tablespoonful of dry mustard, a dash of tobacco pepper and two eggs. Cook all this in a double boiler for two or three minutes, then turn into a bowl or small jar. It can be used for sandwiches or sliced cold for supper.

For the end of a cooked ham put over the fire with potatoes or other vegetables or cook dumplings with it. The bone and the little meat left on it will season the rest of the dish.

When making apple tart, grate the apples instead of cutting them into slices. This makes them much nicer, as apples are not good cookers and do not cook evenly.

An easy way to peel apples: Pour scalding water over the apples, and then the skins may be easily removed, and much labor and waste saved.

To clean satin slippers that are slightly soiled, dip a cloth in methylated spirit and gently rub the soiled part.

POTATOES UNDER STRICT EMBARGO

U.S. Regulations to Guard Against Disease Are of Exacting Character.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—(Canadian Press).—Regulations of the most exacting character, restricting the importation of potatoes into the United States to guard against potato disease, were laid down by Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture today in the form of an official decision. Provisions requiring importers to notify the department of all shipments from countries not at present under the absolute quarantine ban and the enforcement of a rigid inspection upon entry by the department's agents are contained in the order.

The regulations also provide for listing under certain conditions, the quarantine now enforced against most of the potato growing sections of the world. Upon the presentation of satisfactory evidence to the secretary of agriculture that a country is free from injurious potato disease and insect pests, potatoes will be admitted from that country in accordance with the regulations governing the importations from countries not now quarantined against.

The countries now barred from importing potatoes are: Newfoundland, the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, Great Britain, including England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, the nations of continental Europe and the Dominion of Canada. Department officials are confident that some of these countries may, in the near future, be permitted to import potatoes, if they adhere strictly to the department's rules.

World editorials are convincing and to the point.

SEAMEN WERE INJURED DURING ROUGH PASSAGE

Three Men on Liner New York Roughly Used by Waves.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press).—Seas that washed one man from the bridge to the deck and swept two others aft from the bow of the vessel, were met by the American liner New York on Christmas Eve, after leaving Queenstown. When the New York came into port today her quartermaster was laid up with a broken leg and an able seaman was just recovering from an ugly scalp wound, the injuries being sustained as a big wave hurled them against a railing. The passengers made up a purse of $50 for the disabled seaman.

The liner fought heavy seas for two days. When she put in port today she tied up alongside her sister ship, the Philadelphia, for the first time in ten years.

DIVER THINKS PRICE CANNOT BE SALVAGED

Steamer's Forecastle Has Been Crushed In—Clear Evidence of Her Identity.

SARNIA, Jan. 1.—(Special).—Another trip was made to the steamer Charles S. Price today and eight descents were made by Diver Henry Watkins. It has been definitely settled that the boat is the Price, as the steering pole and a piece of rail was sent up by the diver. The starboard anchor was out and several hundred feet of chain, showing that she dragged her anchor down the lake. It is practically certain that the boat turned over where she now rests. The diver could not force his way into the vessel and he believes that she cannot be salvaged. Her forecastle has been crushed by the weight of the boat. It is thought that the bodies cannot be recovered.

GIRL OF TWELVE'S LONG DRAWN TRIP

Polack Maid Attempts Five Hundred Mile Journey to Find Parents.

NORTH BAY, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press).—Annie Souchon, a little Polack girl, twelve years old, bright and intelligent looking, with pleasing features and a very scant knowledge of the English language, has been the ward of Chief of Police Rayner for several days, on account of having had the nerve to start out on a five-hundred-mile journey to find her parents.

The little girl was left with a relative at a settlement on the Transcontinental railway, west of Cochrans, by her parents, who went to Ottawa, and she became so homesome among strangers that she started out on the long journey to find her father and mother. She made her way to Cochrans on a construction train and then boarded the T. and N. O. railway express, and altho she had no money the conductors looked after her and brought her thru to North Bay, where she was taken charge of by Chief Rayner.

Chief Rayner placed her with a Polack family and telegraphed the police at Ottawa, who ascertained that the girl's mother had gone home to Europe and the father was working somewhere in the bush, but that there was an aunt in Ottawa who would take charge of Annie if her fare was paid to Ottawa.

Mayor Lee furnished a ticket for the little girl and she went away happy.

THEATRES

Stratford-Upon-Avon Players.
On Monday evening next the Stratford-Upon-Avon Players will open a return engagement at the Princess Theatre, which promises to be quite as popular as their enormously successful engagement last October. It was remarked by every critic on that occasion that even the smallest role in these productions was finely acted, with every part in its proper relation to the picture, and the superb poetic diction of these actors is worthy of a company which comes from the only endowed theatre that exists in any country where the English language is spoken. The leading critics of the theatrical world are unanimously of the opinion that if the national theatre is ever established in England, it must be on the lines laid down by Mr. Benson. In the matter of production he presents Shakespeare's plays in a rich, sober, æsthetic manner, and his great scholarship enables him to achieve absolute accuracy. Nevertheless, he never permits the stage mechanic and the scene painter to interfere with the swift and vital action of the drama. His repertoire next week will include the three great histories, "King Henry the Fifth," "King John," and "King Richard the Third"; three comedies, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "Twelfth Night," and "The Taming of the Shrew"; and the two most popular of Shakespeare's tragedies, "Hamlet" and "Romeo and Juliet." The small order sale is already very large.

Faversham Big Sale Next Week.
The next sale for the second and final week of William Faversham's Shakespearean festival has already assumed tremendous proportions, and the Royal Alexandra bids fair to be packed to the doors at every performance. The series of plays to be presented will be the initial performances of Mr. Faversham's massive revival of "Othello," which is being more sumptuously scenic than any other production of the play in the world. It is presented for the first time in the presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" first disclosed this week. "Othello" will be presented for the first time in the presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" first disclosed this week. "Othello" will be presented for the first time in the presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" first disclosed this week.

On Monday Evening Next.
A prime favorite with the theatre-going public is the Grand Opera House next week. With its stirring and entertaining story, its splendid cast, its amazing pickaninies, its sumptuous scenery and its wonderful record of success on the American stage, "Not to have seen a performance of this almost stage classic at some time or other is not to have enjoyed the most popular and most enduring stage offering in the history of the drama in America. And time has not staled its infinite variety—for it is as fresh, as bright and as new today as it was in the early days of its fame. This year's cast includes Maude Barker, Alice Endres, Leonora Arnest, James Cooper, Scott Moore, Andrew Glassford, George F. De Vere and William Hodge. A splendid scenic equipment is promised and the score of clever pickaninies in their songs, dances and brass band music.

Scenes From Grand Opera at Shea's.
The headline attraction for next week at Shea's Theatre will be "Scenes From Grand Opera," presented by Miss Dorcas and a company of 12 Metropolitan Opera House artists. Special and elaborate scenery will be employed and appropriate costumes in the presentation of the scenes from "Carmen," "Trovatore," "Bohème" and "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Rehn and Marjorie Lake are the headliners with the company and are assisted by Cash Knight, Homer Long, William Winterhoff, Grace Wolfe and Rosa Rehn. Matinees daily.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING
BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL
DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

The Damper in the Stove
THE damper in the stove is one of the important little things which the housekeeper should be familiar with. It has everything to do with economy and comfort.

When turned so that the air draught is partly closed it makes the hot air remain in the stove and forces it out into the room. Shutting off the circulation of air checks the burning of the fuel and yet a greater amount of heat is obtained.

The thorough understanding of a stove's or range's various dampers will save one-half the amount of fuel used without diminishing the amount of heat thrown forth, but the important point in this consideration is that better results can be had when a draught is rightly regulated.

The other year less wood is burned it is one of our best fuels. Hickory makes a bed of hot coals that retain their heat the longest. Maple and birch are next best liked, and with an easily regulated damper or draught you can burn softer woods.

An even temperature in a house prevents colds and greater evils, so the matter of regulating heat is most important.

If coal is used, never fill the firebox more than half full, for plenty of air is needed for best results. When the fire is well started close the draughts and a high heat will be retained for hours. When the fire must be replenished add more fuel, open the damper, and as soon as the fresh fuel is ignited shake down the ashes.

The dampers in the gas range are in the mixers; the little air holes in each valve. These are adjusted when the range is installed, but often are pushed open or shut when the range is being cleaned, and a yellow flame results. These are correctly adjusted when each burner lights without a splutter and gives a clear, blue, even flame. Anyone can regulate the air supply until the gas flame is right by opening the air valves or shutting them; when they seem just right tighten the screws that hold them. If gas was always the same in quality it would seldom be necessary to touch the mixers, but even the best supply varies at times.

There is still another damper on a gas range that we should all understand, and this is the one that regulates the air in the oven. Always draw it out when broiling so the odor of the meat and the smoke can be carried up the flue.

The broiler compartment is a splendid place in which to cook cabbage, onions and other strong smelling foods, for with the broiler draft open no odor can enter the kitchen.

British Columbia will embrace 7250 miles. The success of the organization under the Southern Cross has been so great that a return visit has been arranged for Mr. Quilhan gives his London and English provincial season. It is to be hoped that the response of Canada will be so good that this country will be included in the next important tour of this great organization.

Cuyler Black, Tenor, Recital.
Cuyler Black, tenor, who made such a favorable impression at Massey Hall recently, will be heard in recital at Foresters' Hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 6. He will be assisted by B. Huxley, pianist, Miss Ruth Kemper, violinist, and Dr. Harvey Robb, accompanist. A splendid program has been arranged, and he should be greeted by a very large audience.

The Famous Flonzaley.
The far-famed Flonzaley Quartet which is announced to give a performance in Foresters' Hall, College Street, on Saturday evening of next week, has just completed the first decade of its existence, having been founded in 1903 by E. J. de Coppet, who names the organization after his Swiss villa on Lake Geneva. The fame of the soirees given there soon spread abroad, and a series of tours through Holland, Germany and France made its European reputation secure. It is now an independent body, and has made seven annual tours of the United States, everywhere winning the most eulogistic criticisms. The members devote their entire time to the cultivation of chamber music, being unique among the string quartets of the world in that the players have an agreement neither to teach, to play in orchestras, nor to accept individual engagements. Seats for the local engagement may now be had at the Lycium Bureau at Bell's, 146 Yonge Street, and the strong demand indicates a capacity audience.

The National Chorus Concert.
Much satisfaction will be felt by the musical people of Toronto at the high character of the programs to be presented by the assisting artists at the eleventh annual concert to be given by the National Chorus in Massey Hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 20. Miss Marie Rappold, the eminent soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Company, will give the following: 1. "Claren's Lied" (Schubert); 2. "Es blinkt der Thau" (Rubenstein); 3. "Zielung" (Strauss); 4. "In Quelle Trine" (Mancini); 5. "Valse" (Mancini); 6. "L'Artista" (L. Tosca), both by Puccini; 7. "Two Roses" (Hallet Gilbert); 8. "Songs My Mother Taught Me" (L. Tosca); 9. "Early Morning" (Gram Pele); 10. "Offi Have I Seen the Swift Swallows" (Dell Aquia). She will also take the soprano solo in "Tribute America," the setting by Max Bruch of Tom Moore's poem, Miss Vera Barstow, the talented violinist, will also assist with the following: (a) "Romance in G" (Beethoven); (b) "Berceuse" (Albert Ham); (c) "Zerztio" (Sarasate); (d) "Zephyr" (Hubay). In Selecting Perfume
Suit Your Personality

By Madge Marvel

THE holiday perfumes are presented in the most adorable containers, real works of art, and worthy of preservation long after the contents are but a scented memory. The new names and the new odors are alike strange to our ears. But in the main, they are delightful and exclusive. The wise woman selects her perfumes with all the care she should show in choosing her friends, for it must be the expression of herself as she is or thinks she is. A certain clever woman has made the study of scents a science and gains handsome income fitting perfumes to personalities. She has both men and women among her clients, and is said never to have made a mistake when once she has evolved the proper fume to express the individuality of the wearer. For those who have not yet found their scented personality there is a general trend toward perfumes that are classically Oriental, and which require to be used sparingly to bring out their true qualities. The old-fashioned rose jars have come back, but in glorified form. Some of them are contained in wide-mouthed jars of brocade. Others are in tall slender crystal vases of which a modified basket shape is most alluring. The sautoirs is still worn by many fastidiously dressed women. It holds the jeweled loggion or monocle, or the tiny jeweled ball watch. These sautoirs have almost invariably silver set with brilliant facets. They add the modish black note to a costume and are as useful as they are attractive. There is apparently the same joy in the possession of the mesh bag as when it first made its appearance. With the customary cleverness of the designer to meet the demand, there is a new method of gilding the silver mesh in either the yellow gold or that peculiar greenish shade which is

People With Dark Eyes Resist Maladies Best

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

(Copyright, 1913, by L. K. Hirschberg.)

THE color of the eye is the visual echo of the shade of feeling in the heart. In every hue and shade and pigment of the eye there is a prophesy which must sadden, soften or daunt every Cassandra who can interpret it. The eyes, according to another philosopher, are held as lions, roving, running, leaping, here and there, far and near. They speak all languages; they wait for no introduction; they ask no leave of age or rank; they respect neither poverty nor riches, neither learning nor power. In another of these essays I told of the experiments in psychology which associated certain characters with eyes of definite hues.

It is of more serious associations that this has to do: of the coloration of the eye in its relation to life and death; contagion and severity of such distempers as diphtheria, scarlet fever and similar disorders of the bodily hygiene.

The pathologists of the Palastow Fever Hospital of England, led by Dr. A. L. Dykes, the senior assistant medical officer, at the suggestion of Dr. J. Biernacki, observed that children with light-tinted eyes seemed to be more susceptible to malignant maladies of childhood and also more likely to succumb to their ravages.

So they set about putting their suspicions and mere impressions to the test of scientific investigation. These tests are now announced, and to say they are significant and full of practical interest is to put the matter mildly.

Dr. F. C. Shrubshell finds that epilepsy and eczema of the skin are more common in the brown-eyed, whereas acute inflammatory rheumatic fever attacks light-eyed persons.

Dr. David McDonald, in an investigation of illness among Glasgow school children, found acute fevers to be more frequent, as well as the recuperative powers to be wanting, in light-eyed youngsters.

Dr. Dykes and Biernacki studied the ailments of one thousand children under twelve years of age. One-third dark eyes, one-third hazel or green eyes, and the other third light blue and gray eyes were included in the thousand.

In five thousand children ill with scarlatina, the black and brown-eyed children recovered most easily and suffered the fewest complications. Less than 2 per cent. of these succumbed to the malady.

On the other hand, nearly 4 per cent. of the light-eyed children died, and there were over 20 per cent. of extraordinarily severe complications in the other light blue and light gray-eyed little ones.

In diphtheria, tuberculosis and some of the other maladies, such as septice sore throat, this selection by diseases of those whose eyes were light colored was even more striking. Indeed, very few black-eyed and dark brown-eyed children fell victims to the diphtheria contagion. A little over two in each hundred of these dark-eyed ones died, while over 14 per cent. of the green-eyed, gray-eyed and light blue-eyed ones died.

Thus the color of the eye takes on a new importance for physicians and every one. If these researches go unrefuted they indicate that all of us who have light eyes must exert triple precautions against the imroads of disease.

"Stitches In Time" For the Household

By Eleanor Ames

THE stitch in time is as applicable to matters of the house as to the wardrobe, yet many a woman who would never think of wearing a ripped glove or unremended stocking, complacently allow table linen and bed linen and curtains go to pieces for want of attention. Glass, china, bric-a-brac and furniture which needs mending should not be neglected and the demand, One frazzled bit of drapery or one crumpled piece of furniture will spoil the most artistically planned home. The plate room in the shabby room are as distinctly different as the plate and the hovel. The former may be more ideal; the latter can never be anything but uninviting. There are many good preparations on the market for repairing china and glass pieces not hopelessly shattered. It requires care and patience to do the work, but in the case of ornaments and rare bits it repays. There is no china cement that will stand hard use and the constant washing and soaking in hot water, but one can mend china if it is worth while to preserve the broken object. White lead made a thick paste with linseed oil will mend broken plates and slatters and such articles. They should be set in upright position in a box of sand, and when the lead is applied and the pieces joined, the object should be so weighted that it will be kept under even pressure until entirely "set." For swinging weights to place across mended objects strong cloth with the ends made into pockets and equally filled with buckshot so that balance is preserved, are the best to use. They should be left in place several days.

Lost to Fame

By Tom Jackson

IN Halls of Fame inventors great are sure to have a place. But there's no niche for unknown men who've helped the human race. We know who made the telegraph, who planned the submarine, but who can tell who first united pork with beans? Who was it though our ham and eggs, beef, steak and onions fried? Unwept, unthanked and unused, they lived, and also died. In some neglected, obscure spot there rests in peace to-day the one to first roast juicy ham in the Virginia way. We know Bell made the telephone—know how he brought it out. But who discovered that great need—spare ribs and sauer kraut? And buckwheat cakes with sausages, corned beef and cabbage, too? Who was it first who planked 'em? An echo answers, "Who?" We talk across the continent and through the globe as speed, but who produced these wonders about man had to have his idea. So here is to the unknown ones—the fainte voices to slight—the benefactors of all men who wear an appetite.

Simple Rules for Preserving the Teeth

BY MAGGIE TEYTE

Prima Donna of the Chicago-Philadelphia Grand Opera Company.

THE smiles of the younger generation please me. That proves that better care is being taken of the teeth. The effect, particularly on a young girl, is that of a marvellously whitening effect on the skin. The shops are showing walking boots of dull kid or of suede with a band of fur at the top. These are extremely well liked for the motor as well. Some women have worn the anklet of fur with low shoes, but it is not becoming to any but the trimmest ankles, and even so is too conspicuous to appeal to well dressed women. The use of big silk tassels as a finish to the draping of the cloth skirt is in favor, and if not seen too often adds to the street suit. When there are four or five of them swinging in as many different directions, even in the case of chiffon or velvet or satin these tassels are of jet or crystals. On a gown of white tulle and lace they were of jet. Spanish lace which was draped in a combination of tulle and sash long tassels of crystal and china beads were used. never call any person ugly who has beautiful teeth. Yet, while the importance of good teeth is as vital as it is, there is no other part of the body so abused or neglected, even in these days of enlightenment. Of course, there are evils which teeth are heir to, but the ordinarily healthy mouth needs only simple care in the way of cleanliness and common sense applied daily, with visits twice a year, for prevention, to the dentist, and often if there is the least sign of decay. Brush up and down. Use a brush which will search out the crevices. Have more than one brush. Keep them all scrupulously clean. Wash them frequently in some antiseptic. Cleanse and dry them after each using. The shops are showing silver handles with sets of brushes, which shows the value of different brushes is understood. A good powder or paste, one quite free from grit, is necessary. It should be used both morning and night. Every tooth should be scrubbed from gum to edge. The top of the grinder should receive the same treatment. Don't slight a single tooth. Teeth will have revenge for unkindness. And don't forget to brush the tongue. Some persons scrape it, and there is a blunt little scraper that comes for the purpose. After each meal, with dental silk and quilt pick, remove all food. Then, if it is not convenient to brush the teeth, you can at least rinse the mouth with warm water.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Dimpie of the Green Van," awarded a $50,000 prize by Ida M. Tarbell and S. B. McCure as Justice. Copyrighted, 1914, by Newspaper Features Service.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest. Following the engagement "Peter" begins to be disillusioned; the fortune of a fashionable wedding is distasteful to him, and he rebels mildly against the exactions of his bride-to-be.

His Mother Advises
VII.
"WELL, Peter," said mother, when I returned from my transient visit to the home of my sweetheart, "it's nearly time for the carriage. It's a wonderful wedding night for you, ladde. See, the big June moon is as bright and peaceful as I hope your life is going to be. Did you see Mary in her wedding gown?"
"Yes," said I, and flushed.
"And as lovely as a fairy, she was, too. I know," exclaimed mother, generously. It is one of the many things I like about mother that unlike most women she can always see and appreciate another woman's beauty.
"Yes," said I, again.
"Puzzled, mother searched my face with troubled eyes.
"Did Mary scold," she asked, gently.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

MISS FANNY FROG did not think what a lot of excitement there would be in Frogville when all the children began asking their parents conundrums. Willie Tree-toad got home one afternoon about three o'clock and asked his mother if she had any new conundrums for him. "My dear son," said Mrs. Tree-toad, "if you don't stop asking questions you will turn into a question mark." Out into the back yard hopped Little Willie Tree-toad and there he found Mister Rooster leaning up against the fence. His face was all swollen up. "What is the matter with you," asked Little Tree-toad, "have you a toothache?" "There, there," said Mister Rooster, "isn't that just like the children today. They do not think. What you want to do, Little Willie Tree-toad, is to think! think! THINK!!!" "I do not understand what you mean," answered Willie. "Well, here I am and they call me Rooster. If you want to make a conundrum about ME you must think what I DO." "You crow." "That's right," said Mister Rooster. "What bird do I make you think of when I crow?" "A crow, of course," answered Willie. "Now, there is Mrs. Hen over there, what can you think up about her?" "She has a cackle instead of a crow, and she lays eggs and sets," answered Willie. "That's all right," said Mister Rooster, "but why is a hen immortal?" "I do not know what immortal means," replied Willie Tree-toad. "It means to live forever. Now, why is a hen immortal?" "I give it up," said Little Willie Tree-toad. "Why," said Mister Rooster, "a hen is immortal because her son never gets sick."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Gumboat Smith, the California heavyweight, scored a decisive victory today when he knocked out Arthur Pelkey, the much-heralded Canadian fighter, in the fifteenth round of their "white hope" championship battle in the Daly City Open Air Amphitheatre. The major was a strong favorite in the betting at odds of 7 to 10. Pelkey proved a keen disappointment, being slow and seldom taking the fight to his shifter opponent.

Mileage Heavy For the Federals

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—That the Federal League mileage extending from Baltimore and Toronto in the east to Kansas City in the west, spells certain disaster for the new organization, was the statement of Secretary John B. Foster of the Giants today. He backed up his assertion with some interesting figures of National League receipts and expenses.

"The jumps in the Federal League will be longer than those in the National League," explained Foster, "and railroad and hotel rates are a big item in the profits. It costs $1500 to take the New York team to St. Louis under the arrangements now in vogue, and Kansas City is a whole night's ride beyond St. Louis, so the Federals can figure on spending considerable money for transportation. If they get a number of major league players whom they are angling for, they must expect to visit only the best hotels as well.

"The Giants, always fighting for the lead and with the prestige of having won two successive pennants, failed to make money on any of their three western trips last season. Can you imagine what the Federals may expect from Chicago and St. Louis when the Giants could not get a cent from either city? Furthermore, the Giants went through the month of September, the last of the pennant race, with the team in first place, a money loser. That seems incredible, but it is a fact. Some of these facts will make interesting food for thought by the backers of the new league.

The line up of the teams was as follows:

Good Night, Pelkey!

Arthur Pelkey, the Canadian heavyweight who stumped Jito the lightning by killing Luther McCarty with one punch in a bout in Las Vegas, today laid the heavyweight title, as claimed by him, a fond farewell. Gumboat Smith was always best in their fight yesterday, and it looks as if Tommy Burns' protegee is not even a good second-prater.

Results of the Aldermanic Elections in Toronto Yesterday

NO CHANGE MADE IN SECOND WARD

Rowland, Wickett and Risk Were Again Returned as Representatives.

LINDALA DID FAIRLY

Polled Eight Hundred Votes Mostly From the Labor Men.

ROWLAND 3722
WICKETT 2387
RISK 2813
Lindala 855
The aldermanic elections in ward two furnished no surprises. Lindala was never conceded a chance against his three strong opponents. Rowland, Wickett and Risk, who polled a small sympathetic vote among the working class, and as a matter of fact got more votes than many people expected.

Ald. Rowland polled the heaviest vote and led Ald. S. Morley Wickett by 375. It was generally thought that Ald. Risk would poll a larger vote than he did, but he was elected by a safe majority.

With regard to the street railway purchase the three aldermen are favorably inclined toward the bill, but insist that it first be submitted to the people. S. Morley Wickett is not prepared to buy the railway at the terms published, but believes that the agreement should be drawn up and submitted to the people.

ORIGINAL MEANING OF A COMMONPLACE TERM

Word "Potluck" Has Peculiar Significance in City of Limoges, France.

The real origin of the word "potluck" is unknown to most of the people who use it in Limoges, France, however, one runs into potluck itself. In a certain corner of that quaint city of jostling roofs there is still segregated, much as it is in a ghetto, a Saracen population, probably a remnant of the wave of Saracens that swept over Europe hundreds of years ago. Here they live in their crooked, narrow streets, following old customs handed down from generation to generation. There are many butcher shops in the quarter and outside of each steams a great pot of soup over a glowing brazier. In each pot stands a ladle as ancient as the pot.

When a customer comes with a penny in goes the ladle and coming up full of savory broth and chunks of meat, odds and ends that the butcher had left over. And what comes up the customer has to take. One can imagine how anxiously the hungry uchiu or the mother of seven must eye the inexorable ladle, and how a pretty girl might get another draw from the butcher's boy.

At any rate, "to take potluck" means to take what you get and say nothing, whether the pot is in Limoges or in the flat of the man who comes to invite a friend of his youth to dinner.

NATURE'S MONUMENT TO PERSON'S MEMORY

Sprout From Poplar Wood Coffin Grows Into Tree That Towers Above Grave.

It is seldom, perhaps, that nature erects a monument to a person's memory, writes a Columbus (Ind.) correspondent of The New York Sun, yet in a small cemetery a few miles east of Nashville, in Brown County, may be found an object bearing that distinction.

More than seventy-five years ago a man named Allcorn became a resident of Brown County, and for several years lived near Salt Creek, in the eastern part of the county. While residing there Allcorn met with an accident which resulted in his death, and he was buried in the cemetery near his home.

The coffin was hewed out of a part of a poplar tree and made into two sections. A few years later a small sprout began to shoot from the crude coffin, and not long afterward a small poplar tree began to spread its branches over the grave.

Within a few years it had grown to large proportions, and during the long period since it first appeared above the ground the tiny poplar sprout has grown into a tree that measures several feet in circumference and towers above all others in the vicinity.

Its branches spread far out in all directions, and many perhaps who pass nearby are attracted by the towering poplar, who they may be unfamiliar with its history.

It doesn't take all morning to read The World. The news is condensed.

ALD. R. H. GRAHAM OF WARD V.

Ward One Went By Acclamation

There was no aldermanic election in Ward One. Aldermen Robbins and Walton and W. W. Hillz were returned by acclamation. Mr. Hillz retired as chairman of the board of education in order to contest the aldermanic seat in Ward One. He was not opposed and with the other two members of council was returned without an election.

RECOUNT SURE IN WARD THREE

McBride Has Majority of Thirty-Five Over M. Rawlinson.

MAGUIRE HEADED POLL

F. S. Spence Made Strong Run and Finished in Second Place.

MAGUIRE 4245
F. S. SPENCE 2918
M'BRIDE 2805
M. Rawlinson 2770
G. J. Castle 309
R. Paulich 135
No other ward in the city will be better represented in the city council this year than ward three. Aid Maguire, who headed the poll, is decidedly public-spirited. Aid Spence will be invaluable in solving the transportation problem, and will be equally valuable in carrying on the general work of the council. Aid McBride was re-elected by a vote of 309.

The hottest fight in the aldermanic campaign was in ward three. Aid Maguire had his organization work perfected weeks ago. Aid Spence went into the fight on short notice, but had an invincible organization. Aid McBride undoubtedly fought his way into third place solely upon his successful effort to start the widening of Yonge street.

ALD. F. S. SPENCE OF WARD III.

GOAT'S VALUE AS A MILK PRODUCER

Failure to investigate the goat is a neglect of the United States Department of Agriculture, that is deplored by Dr. W. Sheldon Bush, and in a recent pamphlet he makes a plea for the greater use of this neglected animal, especially in the near cities. In appreciation of its economic dietary and sanitary value, Americans is much behind other civilized countries. The ideal locality for the goat is high, rocky land, overgrown with weeds and brush, but it thrives when pastured on grassland, and even when kept constantly in barns when size, care and feed are considered, the yield of milk—one to two quarts a day—is proportionately much greater than that of the cow. Its milk is not appreciably different from cow's milk, more nutritious and more easily digested. Above all, the milk of goat is the one dairy animal that is practically immune to tuberculosis. Much may be done in improving our common goats, for flesh and skins as well as milk, but the possible results from goat-raising make this an infant industry well worth investigating and fostering.

NEW PROCESS IN VOGUE FOR EGG PRESERVATION

The American consul at Zurich recently made a report of a new process of preserving eggs which has been brought out in that country and which has attracted a great deal of attention because of its convenience and economy. It is said that the materials from which the preservative is made may be had in almost any country and are nowhere expensive. The treatment of the eggs is a flat vessel of about one hundred quarts is filled to half its capacity with the preservative, into which the eggs are dipped one by one and then allowed to dry. For the dipping process the eggs are placed in flat wire baskets, each with a capacity of 300 to 500 eggs. One basket is dipped after the other, and by employing a large vessel several baskets may be dipped simultaneously. In this manner two or three persons can dip 200,000 eggs per day. The process is said to be much superior to cold storage and it is said that the coating is good for nine months, and the eggs lose none of the quality of the fresh eggs.

WINNER AND LOSER

Here is a photograph of Mayor Hocken and F. G. McBrien, taken while on their way to the convention of Ad Clubs at Dallas, in 1912. McBrien couldn't be found for the remainder of the day after having this picture taken. He won't be found in the city council for the remainder of this year.

TWO NEW FACES IN FOURTH WARD

R. H. Cameron and Louis Singer Take Their Places in the Council.

WANLESS HEADED POLL

His Record of the Past Year Appealed to the Electors.

WANLESS 2667
CAMERON 2101
SINGER 1802
Farmer 1571
McLeod 1358
Hacker 1062
Williamson 895
Sweeney 777
Wineberg 246
Crowl 214
An interesting battle resulted in the aldermanic contest in Ward Four. Aid Wanless headed the list, to which position he was entitled after securing the investigation into the city architect's department, which inquiry will start in a few days. He is a manufacturer and took the stand on railway purchase question that the agreement should be submitted to the people.

R. H. Cameron, who was second, is much interested in the railway question, having been studying the problem for years. He also believed that the people should have the opportunity of voting on the street railway purchase. Being an untried man in civic affairs, his efforts will be closely watched.

Another new man in the council is L. M. Singer, who followed R. H. Cameron. He has the benefit of his legal profession in assisting in the giving of good government to Toronto. Mr. Singer took a very active interest in the street railway purchase proposal, and like the other two aldermen elected in his ward, spoke strongly for having the agreement submitted to the citizens.

In Ward Four Aid Wanless was the only member of the council to run for re-election. Mr. McMurrich died during his 1912 term in office, while George Weston did not contest his seat.

Among the candidates defeated was Mr. Farmer, who many thought would be in the running, as he ran a very active campaign. Hacker, who must work in wet or cold places, such as tanneries, breweries, glass factories, who uses work in wet or cold places or in the open air, is a candidate for the council.

According to the report, it is put to a much wider class of people than the average person would be likely to see. It is a collection of articles, from lobby-house magazines, of the best, most interesting, and most useful, such as lanterns, etc.

It is freedom from waste that the wood especially for articles which come in contact with foodstuffs, and which must be kept clean, and which are used in the kitchen, such as spoons and scoops are widely used.

Only one species of beech grows naturally in Canada, and in practically every place where it grows it is out for market. The total yearly output of beechwood in the United States is approximately 500,000,000 board feet.

ALD. CAMERON OF WARD IV.

HARLAND SMITH IN SIXTH WARD

New Man Ran Third to Two Former Ward Aldermen.

SPENCE HEADED POLL

He Had Nearly Six Thousand and Maybe Was Close Second.

SPENCE 5823
MAYBEE 5209
SMITH 4847
Ryan 2669
Hurst 1472
Holmes 593
Stevens 343
H. Smith were elected as representatives of the electors in Ward Six yesterday. The contest in that ward was hot and furious. While the result of the representative was known early, it was doubtful for a long while as to who would head the polls. Aid Spence held the leading position in over half the ward, and for some time it was the opinion of the electors that he would come out on top, but when the results from the other half of the ward were brought in it was quite evident that Aid Spence would have an easy victory, and when the final results were known he had a majority of 614 votes over Aid Maybee. Mr. Smith had a majority of 382 over W. H. Smith, who came out in third position. There was no doubt about as to who would be elected to the third position, and it was seen early in the contest that the fourth candidate, Thomas J. Ryan, would be a way down in the running. Aid Smith had a plurality of 2175 over Ryan.

Two of last year's members of the council were returned in Aid Spence and Aid Maybee, who have served the electors of this ward for three and one year respectively. Aid Spence was on the council in 1910, 1912 and 1913, while last year, Aid Maybee broke into the council. Mr. Smith has proven to be a successful business man and promises to make good as a councillor.

THE MAYOR'S SPEECH

Crowd Before World Office Heard Hocken's Thanks to People for Majority.

Addressing the electors, who stood in front of The World office to watch the results of the various contests in the municipal election, last evening Mayor Hocken, after he was assured of re-election, thanked the citizens of Toronto for the substantial majority they had given him.

"After a solid year of misrepresentation I still have the confidence of the people, and I will return to the office of mayor, just as hard for the interests of the people as in 1913. One thing I will promise the electors is that this year there will be no newspaper rule at the city hall, such as has been experienced during the past year. One paper especially, The Telegram, made an effort to run the affairs of the city in 1913, but the efforts of the people are too big and too important to be run by an interest such as that paper, which is governed by one man. Continually it has misrepresented both Controller McCarthy and myself to the people and sent two controllers to the board of control every day with orders what to do, but this state of affairs will not exist this year," stated his worship.

THANKS THE ELECTORS FOR THEIR SUPPORT

"I Will Fight Fair and Square," Controller McCarthy Tells Street Audience.

"What's the matter with The World? The World forever!" shouted Controller McCarthy as he started to address the electors in front of The World office after the election returns were all in last evening, and he had known that he was re-elected.

"After a strenuous campaign I want to thank the electors of Toronto for turning me to the board of control. I thank every elector for the honor they have done me, and I shall not forget those who were responsible for my return to my old seat, and will go into the council this year to fight a square and open fight, as I did in 1913.

"I feel that so long as I fight on the square and in the open, the electors of Toronto will support and elect me," stated the controller in conclusion.

PEOPLE OF HOLY CITY BEHELD FIRST AIRSHIP

French Aviator Landed Near Pool of Sliam on New Year's Eve.

JERUSALEM, Palestine, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press)—Gen. Francois Xavier Bonnier, another French aviator making the flight from Paris to Cairo, landed near the Pool of Sliam on New Year's Eve. The arrival of Gen. Bonnier's aeroplane, the first ever seen by the inhabitants of the Holy City, created the greatest bewilderment, and practically the entire population turned out to see the machine and to welcome the aviator.

Gen. Bonnier is probably the oldest French aviator. He was born in 1857, and is a brigadier-general of the French colonial troops in West Africa. He received his certificate as an aerial pilot in July, 1910.

By the defeat of J. T. V. May in ward five, Ex-Ald. Graham returns to the city council after an absence of one year, while Aid. Dunn was returned at the head of the polls, a position that he has occupied nearly every year during his nineteen years' service in the council, which has been continuous, except for one year. He is the oldest man in the council, having been elected for the first time in 1884. Ex-Ald. Graham, who was ousted from his position in the council last year by Aid. Meredith, again polled a good vote, only 13 polls separating him from Aid. Dunn. With the exception of one year, Ex-Ald. Graham has been in the council for sixteen years, and is now starting in on his seventeenth year. Aid. Meredith, who headed the polls last year, was re-elected, being 14 votes behind Aid. Dunn. This will be Aid. Meredith's second year in council.

BECHWOOD'S MANY COMMERCIAL USES

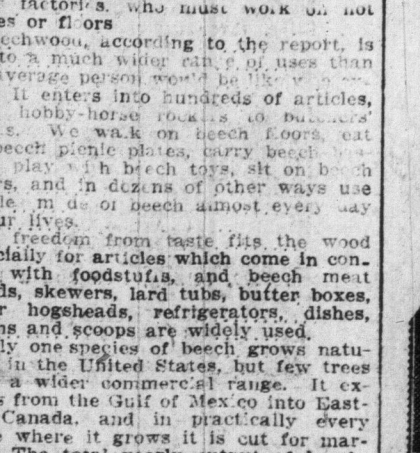

Five Hundred Million Board Feet Yearly Output in United States.

In a recent report on the use of beechwood, issued by the department of agriculture, it is stated that the manufacture of wooden shoes made of beech has reached considerable proportions in the United States. These shoes, says the report, cost from sixty to seventy-five cents a pair, and are good for two years. They are worn chiefly by those who must work in wet or cold places, such as tanneries, breweries, glass factories, who uses work in wet or cold places or in the open air, is a candidate for the council.

According to the report, it is put to a much wider class of people than the average person would be likely to see. It is a collection of articles, from lobby-house magazines, of the best, most interesting, and most useful, such as lanterns, etc.

It is freedom from waste that the wood especially for articles which come in contact with foodstuffs, and which must be kept clean, and which are used in the kitchen, such as spoons and scoops are widely used.

Only one species of beech grows naturally in Canada, and in practically every place where it grows it is out for market. The total yearly output of beechwood in the United States is approximately 500,000,000 board feet.

I. G. Whetter and Sammie Ryding will be the representatives of Ward Seven in the 1914 city council. Out of ten candidates the electors of that ward chose these two men to act the municipal board of the present year. Mr. Whetter was a new candidate and beat out Aid. Ryding in the contest by 72 votes, the latter having a majority of 138 over Jesse G. Wright, the third man in the contest. The victory for the winning candidates was apparent from the start, although the man to head the poll was in doubt for some time. Aid. Ryding had a lead over Mr. Whetter for some time, but when the final results were being turned in it was easily seen that the latter would be the winner.

ANCIENT CLAY STATUETS FOUND IN FRENCH CAVE

Claimed by Discoverer to Have Been Standing for Twelve Hundred Years.

In the cave of Tuc-d'Audoubert, in the department of Ardege, France, there have recently been brought to light two statuettes of clay, which, it is claimed, have been standing there for at least twelve hundred years. They were discovered by Count Beugnot, who has given to the French Academy a detailed account of his "find." "At one place," he is quoted as saying in the Boston Transcript, "the low-roofed passage seemed completely blocked by pillars of statuettes from floor to ceiling, but behind a doorway looked as if it was prolonged.

"My sons did not hesitate to break down the columns and to make a narrow burrow beyond them which we managed to crawl. At the end of this gallery, more than 700 yards from the entrance to the cave, I dropped my foot against a fragment of rock fallen from above. We found two clay statuettes measuring about 2 1/2 inches, almost intact, and representing human figures.

"In drying the clay had slightly cracked, and some of these cracks run right across, but as they are supported against the rock they have kept together. Only the tip of the right horn and the tail of the cow have fallen, and at its feet lies a fragment of 120 years ago has treated his subject in bas-relief. Only one side, the right, is finished; the other, which is stuck against the rock, is barely indicated. On the clay can be plainly seen the traces left by the modeling hand, and on the ground between the two animals pellets of clay still bear the imprints of fingers.

Before reaching the spot where he found these statuettes, Count Beugnot passed thru many subterranean galleries, whose floors were paved with thousands of tracks of bears mixed with a few human footprints. Count Beugnot suggests that this may have been a species of temple, or rendezvous for ritual ceremonies and dances, such as were held by the primitive people of the tribes of Africa. It is the first time that clay statuettes have been found of such antiquity.

BIRDS THAT NEST IN CACTUS STOCKS

Mexico Has Species of Woodpecker That Uses This Lofty Giant Plant.

There is a species of woodpecker in northern Mexico that frequently makes its nest in the stalk of one of the large cactuses—the giant cereus— which abound on the plains in that region.

Unhappily by the vines that cover the trunk of the huge plant the bird clears a space, and with great labor digs a short tunnel and a flask-shaped cavity in the tough, stony wood.

Both the male and female woodpecker work at the task, says Foxglove Companion, and they use the same nest for several years unless the growth of the plant disturbs it. Such a nest is safe from fire, and occasionally this handsome woodpecker—Conturus elegans—digs its tunnel in the trunk of a palm instead of the cereus—circumstances likely to lead to the destruction of the tree. After the young have flown and the nest is left empty, the small seeds of the wild fig are often carried into it by birds or bats.

The moisture of the rainy season causes the seeds to germinate and to grow tendrils that before long reach the ground and take root. The wild fig grows rapidly until in a few years it wholly envelops the palm and suffocates it.

BEATEN FEDERALS TAKE TO FLIGHT

Complete Rout of Army of Four Thousand Hourly Expected.

DESERTERS DISARMED

Steady Stream of Wounded Men Pours Over U.S. Border.

PRISIDIO, Tex., Jan. 1.—(Can. Press.)—The northern division of the Mexican federal army at Olinaga, Mex., with its eleven generals, other officers and about 4000 soldiers, after a merciless three-day attack by Gen. Ortega's 6000 rebels, tonight appeared to be on the verge of fleeing in disorder across the river into the U.S.

With a line of struggling wounded at the border, the deserters already appearing in numbers, Major M. N. McNamee, commander of the border patrol, made every effort to surround and disarm the fleeing Mexican soldiers.

Will Disarm Federal. "I expect at any time during the fight that the greater part of the federal army, possibly two or three thousand, may be forced across the border. I have made arrangements to disarm and hold them if they take place."

More than 500 captives were taken from the wounded on both sides of the river. Most of these were left on the battlefield. The few disabled succeeded in reaching the river, and were cared for by the Red Cross on this side.

Scores of uninjured federal deserters in the hands of the Red Cross officials on this side. All these were disarmed and forced back to the Mexican side.

More than 200 rifles, other arms and ammunition were taken from the fugitives. It was impossible to learn accurately the number of dead, and the belief that it would be great was based on the number of wounded. Many were believed to have died thru lack of medical attention, as neither federal nor rebel are equipped with any field hospital service, and the Red Cross officials on this side were not permitted to ford the river, even to carry Red Cross flags.

Supplies of bandages and hospital equipment were needed. It was expected that the Red Cross nurses and physicians who were coming from Marfa, the nearest railway station, 80 miles away.

TORONTO ROWING CLUB BEAT PRESTON

PRESTON, Jan. 1.—Toronto Rowing Club defeated the local intermediate team here this afternoon in an exhibition game by the score of 8 to 7.

The game was played in the old tank, as the new one was not ready. The game was fast from start to finish and the pace told heavily. At half time the score was 5 to 2 in favor of Preston, but the Queen City boys opened up early in the last half and soon evened up the score.

Presidents fired from what vantage points they had within the horse corral, the customs house and trenches.

LONDON'S SHOW OF LIVE BUTTERFLIES

Zoological Gardens Original Insect House of Original Design.

There has just been opened at the Zoological Gardens in London an insect house of original design, in which living butterflies, moths and other insects are exhibited in something like natural conditions.

The enclosure is floored with turf and decorated with flowers in pots. These are sprayed with syrup every day and the butterflies quickly learned where to obtain their food. They are found at rest on the hot pipes, but from time to time flutter about and display their beautiful colors under the vertical light.

In the natural condition peacock butterflies continue to emerge from the chrysalis until late in October, and many of them, however, are kept quiet in a cool cellar, whence specimens are brought as required to the warmed showcase.

In another case, the moths are displayed. Two large compartments have been filled with aquatic insects, and a large stock of water beetles, water beetles, water spiders and the larval forms of dragon flies will be placed in them as soon as the necessary vegetation has been established.

The remaining compartments will be devoted to hybrid-silk moth larvae, British caterpillars, stick insects, leaf-insects, centipedes, millipedes, scorpions, spiders, and so forth.

LAST C. N. R. SPIKE IS DULY DRIVEN

Sir William Mackenzie and Party Hoisted at Port Arthur.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press.)—Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, and party arrived late tonight after driving the last spike in the C. N. R. at Little White Otter River early this morning.

At one time it appeared as though the fire block bounded by St. Louis Square, Zava avenue, Sherbrooke street and Boulevard St. Denis was doomed as the water pressure at best was very weak.

It was one of the most spectacular fires ever seen in Montreal. The burned structures faced upon an open square and fully 15,000 persons crowded into the square and the surrounding streets watching the apparently fruitless efforts of the firemen to smother the flames.

A. A. Campbell Lost His Vote on the Bylaws Thru Mistake on Voters' List.

Last year and year before, A. A. Campbell, 700 Shaw street, voted as a property owner. He still holds the right. But yesterday noon when he went in to subdivision 5, ward five, at Dawson street school to register his decision on the bylaws he was told he was down as a tenant.

The deputy returning officer could not find any objection, and that was that several other voters in his subdivision had the same complaint during the morning.

Blaze Threatened Destruction of Whole Block—Loss Hundred Thousand Dollars.

MONTREAL, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press.)—Seven families living in the three-story apartment houses from No. 26 to No. 36 St. Louis Square, which is within the water famine district were dispossessed this afternoon when a fire completely gutted three substantial residential structures.

Chief Tremblay had a supply of dynamite on hand, but the heroic work of the firemen in cutting away inflammable material in the path of the flames made its use unnecessary.

Mrs. Ernest Cote was rescued from her home at No. 29 by firemen who carried her to the street. She is suffering from shock, but her condition is not regarded as serious.

Jumped to Safety. Joseph McKinnon, 23 years of age, of Philadelphia, who was visiting at No. 32, jumped from the top floor to a gallery on the second floor. He was badly shaken and is now in the hospital. His condition is not serious, however.

INTELLIGENT SIMIAN AT BRONX PARK ZOO

Chimpanzee Likes to Wear Good Clothes and Play Part of Beau Brummel.

A great favorite with visitors and attendants at the Zoological Park in the Bronx is a chimpanzee known as "Sally". This simian is unusually fond of clothes and is an entirely different creature when he is dressed up.

Mr. Hornaday, director of the park, is quoted as saying in The New York Sun that Sally is naturally a wild, harum-scarum animal, up to every sort of trick, and nothing pleases him more than to play the clown and make visitors laugh.

"But dress him up and see what happens," continues Mr. Hornaday. "He becomes sedate, docile and obedient. He will do almost anything you wish. You can take him by the hand and he will walk round the park with you. Oh, yes, he has done it often."

"Not long ago," dressed him in the park uniform, the uniform worn by attendants—gray cloth with blue facings, gold lace-cuff and shoes. They walked him to my office from the monkey-house. There was a rap at my door, and Sally came in. He walked over to my desk and shook hands with me. He looked into my face in the most human way, and I motioned to a chair for him to sit down. He did. I spoke to him and he seemed to understand me.

"When he was tired of sitting he got up and wandered round the room. Inspecting the pictures and looking curiously at the bookcases and the books in them. Having made a survey of the room, he came back to my desk. It was evident from his manner that he thought he had better be going. I shook hands with him and he went solemnly out."

"But when you take his clothes off and turn him loose in his cage he is a clown again, a simian volcano."

SILENCE GOLDEN MITCHELL THINKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—(Can. Press).—A policy of silence among department heads regarding their administration of branches of the city government during their first few months in office was suggested to his appointees by John Purroy Mitchell upon his inauguration as mayor today...

"We will develop our program slowly," Mr. Mitchell announced in the presence of some of his cabinet members, the mayor and others who gathered at the city hall to see the new executive take office.

"It will not be necessary to go to the people of the city every day to tell them what we propose to do. It will be better for us to wait until we have had time to go to them and tell them what we are doing and have done."

"I caution the new heads of the departments to self-restraint and simplicity, and I advise them to follow the policy which I have outlined for myself, namely, silence for a few months until we have developed our plans further and can come to the people and point to some accomplishment."

Mayor Mitchell urged "team work" among the department heads, and promised the fulfillment of the campaign pledges given by the Fusion party which elected him to office.

New Year's Eve Banquet Was Attended by Sixteen Vaudevillians.

Songs and Stories Friends in Other Places Were Not Forgotten by Merry Makers.

On New Year's Eve a goodly number of the Shea Theatre Company celebrated the passing of the old year with cheer and sincere good fellowship at a banquet in the Municipal Hotel on Queen street.

No Audience There. No audience was present to give the banqueters a stage fright. First came one joke, then another and another and the hall fairly burst with resonant laughter.
