Opportunities in British Columbia

Agriculture

APPLES. In 1910, British Columbia was awarded the Hogg Memorial Gold Medal by the Royal Horticultural Association of London, England, (the first time this signal honor has been conferred); 13 other gold medals, 13 silver medals, 1 silver cup, and 1 bronze medal, at London, Belfast, Bath, Bradford, Leeds, Chester, Bristol, Edinburgh, Bolton, Aberdeen, Hawick, Birmingham, and other exhibitions in Great Britain. At the International Apple Show, Vancouver, B.C., won the $1,000 sweepstake carload prize, and many other prizes, in competition with the best apple districts of the United States. In the case of unirrigated land the cost of an apple orchard and its maintenance would be approximately: 20 acres at $200 per acre, $4,000; fencing, $250; preparing land (ploughing and harrowing), $150; trees (yearlings), 80 per acre at 20c. each, $320; setting out trees, 1,600 at 8c. each, $128. Total, $4,848. Cost of maintenance for 5 years: Cultivating, pruning, spraying, etc., $30 per acre, per year, $3,000; making the total cost of the orchard at the end of the 5th year, when it should be beginning to give commercial returns, $7,848. Markets—local, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia. Write to Department of Agriculture, Victoria, for Bulletin No. 20, giving varieties of fruit recommended.

BEEKEEPING. Conditions are favorable, especially, in the fruit-growing districts. Honey sells for 25 cents per pound. 134,457 pounds imported in 1910.

CATTLE. The Fraser River Valley and the interior plateaus are peculiarly adapted to cattle raising. Practically all the beef raised is grown under the range conditions. The local demand from June to December is supplied within the province. For the rest of the year the supply is obtained from Alberta. Very little winter fattening is done in the province. Ranch cattle, chiefly Shorthorn and Hereford grades, sell from $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 cents per lb., alive at shipping points. In 1910, B.C. imported 36,791 cattle, valued at \$2,271,540.

CELERY. Properly grown and packed, celery commands good prices and an unlimited market. At present it is only grown in limited quantities.

CRAHERRIES. The coast district and many of the low lands of the interior are well suited to cranberry culture. On the west coast of Vancouver Island settlers have tried it successfully in a small way.

DAIRYING. Good water and luxuriant grasses are in plenty. A favorable climate on coast. Local demand is constantly increasing. Twenty co-operative and private creameries are established. The Provincial Government aids establishment of co-operative creameries. Output of creameries and dairies in 1910 amounted to $1,109,855, about one-half of the local market demand. Average price of creamery butter, 37.57 cents per pound. In 1910 B.C. imported 5,377,104 lbs. of butter, value $1,345,739; 3,409,313 lbs. of cheese, value $680,207; and 845,000 gals. of milk, value $676,000.

FLAX is cultivated successfully. There is an oil mill at Mission, B.C. Flax is only used as fodder; no attempt has been made to manufacture linen.

FLOWERING BULBS. The soil and climate of Vancouver Island, near Victoria, is peculiarly adapted to the production of flowering bulbs. Nearly all the bulbs used in North America are imported from Europe. Estimated profits over $2,000 per acre.

FODDER CROPS. Besides the nutritious bunch grass, which affords good grazing to cattle, horses and sheep on the benches and hill-sides, all the cultivated grasses grow in profusion wherever sown. Red clover, alfalfa, sainfoin, alsike, timothy and bromé grass yield large returns—three crops in the season in some districts and under favorable circumstances. Hay averages about $1\frac{1}{2}$ tons to the acre, and the average price \$18 to \$27.

FRUIT GROWING. It is estimated one million acres south of 52nd degree will produce all fruits of the temperate zone. Apples of excellent quality will grow as far north as Hazelton, on the Skeena River, between 55 and 56 degrees north. Nectarines, apricots, fruits, almonds and nuts have been tried with success. In 1891, total acreage in fruit was 6,437; in 1901, 7,430; in 1905, 22,000; in 1911, estimated at 110,000. In 1902, the first shipments were 1,956 tons; in 1910, 8,745 tons.

GRAIN GROWING. The principal crop is oats. The supply never equals the demand. Wheat is grown principally in the Fraser River Valley, Okanagan, Spallumcheen and around Kamloops. On the main coast and Vancouver Island it is only grown for fodder and poultry feeding. Barley of good quality is grown in many parts. Rye is used for fodder.

GRAPES. Tokay, Concord, Campbell's Early and Moore's Diamond are the varieties chiefly cultivated. Grape-growing has not been established in a commercial sense, though conditions are favorable in all southern districts.

HOP CULTURE. The Okanagan, Agassiz and Chilliwack Districts are well suited to hop growing and produce large quantities, unexcelled in quality. British Columbia hops demand good prices in the British market, and most of the crop is sent there, though recently Eastern Canada and Australia are buying increasing quantities. The yield of hops averages 1,500 pounds to the acre, and the average price is 25 cents per pound. An exhibit of British Columbia hops, sent to the New Zealand International Exhibition in 1906, was greatly admired, and was the means of opening a new market for this product.

HORSES. There is a good general demand for heavy-draught horses; good horses bring $500 to $800 a pair. The demand for carriage horses, chiefly confined to coast cities, is increasing. The medium animals bring from $200 up; better animals from $350 to $1,500 each. In 1910 B.C. imported 3,525 horses, value $707,000.

POULTRY. All parts of the province are suitable to poultry raising. Eggs average 40 cents per doz. Poultry 22 to 30 cents per pound. In 1910, B.C. imported 5,567,000 lbs. of poultry, value $1,113,400, and 1,339,160 dozen eggs, value $285,682.

ROOTS AND VEGETABLES. All kinds of roots and vegetables grow to perfection and sell at high prices. Potatoes, turnips, beets, mangolds, and all the other roots grow in profusion wherever their cultivation has been attempted. Sixty-eight tons of roots to a measured acre is recorded at Chilliwack, and near Kelowna, on Okanagan Lake, 20 acres produced 403 tons of potatoes, which sold at $14 per ton. The Dominion census places the average yield of potatoes at 162.78 bushels to the acre. The average price of potatoes is $1.60 per sack, while carrots, turnips, parsnips and beets sell at an average of about 60 cents per bushel.

SHEEP. On Vancouver Island, and in the Gulf of Georgia, flocks of from 25 to 400 have always proved profitahle. The foundation of the flocks are Down grades, on which are used Shropshires, Southdown, Oxford, Leicester, and Cotswold; on the lower mainland, particularly at Chilliwack and Ladner, sheep are profitably reared. In the interior, sheep are kept on the farms in small lots. The timber wolf and panther have to be guarded against. The demand far exceeds the supply; 60,000 head of live sheep are annually imported from the State of Washington, a number from Alberta, and many thousand frozen carcasses from Australia. In 1910 B.C. imported 144,378 sheep, value $1,010,646.

SWINE. Hogs are profitably grown in all farming districts. The demand for pork far exceeds the supply. Live hogs bring an average of 7 cents per lb. the year round. A large packing plant in Vancouver has to depend largely upon outside points for hogs. There are several small curing houses. In 1910 there was imported bacon and ham, 2,383,716 lbs.; salt pork, 145,705 lbs.; lard, 2,192,429 lbs. Value of above, $770,747. These figures do not include imports from other provinces, and represent only about 26% of total importation.

TOBACCO. Tobacco has been notably successful in Okanagan Valley. Cuban seed is imported and changed every three or four years, because as the leaf increases in size the flavor diminishes. A factory at Kelowna produces cigars equal to good Havanas, with filler made of local tobacco and a Sumatra wrapper. Ontario or Quebec tobacco has been used for binders. Actual results from 20 acres show the following returns: Proceeds of 24,000 lbs. at 10 cents, $2,400. Total expenses, including rent, $1,294; net profit, $1,016.

Fisheries

BRITISH COLUMBIA FISHERIES. The shore line extends nearly 7,000 miles, with a protected territory of nearly 30,000 square miles, abounding with commercial fish. These include salmon, herring, sturgeon, bass, oolachans, smelts, flatfish, black cod, perch, trout, skill, sardines, anchovies, shad, oysters, crabs, shrimps, prawns. The production of the B.C. fisheries for 1909-10 was $10,314,755. Total value of equipment, including sealing fleet, was $6,823,852; men employed, 19,500, including 142 seal hunters. The industry is capable of enormous expansion. A large number of fishing interests have combined in the British Columbia Packers' Association with a capital of $2,780,000. Write to Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, B.C., for Bulletin No. 20, "The Fisheries of British Columbia."

ANCHOVIES AND SARDINES. Both fish are plentiful and said to be of excellent quality. Some experiments have been made in canning.

COD. The cultus cod, the skill, or black cod, the red rock cod, and many other varieties abound. In deep sea fishing hand lines and dories are used. The fish require a special drying to harden the glutinous substance under the skin. The Whitman dryer, a mechanical process, is used successfully.

CRABS. Large crabs are found in some localities, and take the place of lobsters, which are not found. Canning crabs has been tried.

FLOUNDERS. The catch is limited to local demand. There are several varieties, some of which are marketed as turbot and sole.

GAME FISH. The lakes and rivers on the Island and mainland are well stocked with salmon and trout. White-fish abound in northern waters. Salmon are caught with a trolling line. The steel head trout, averaging 12 lbs., are very gamey and take a fly. Smaller specimens of Kamloops trout take a fly.

HALIBUT. The British Columbia halibut fisheries were valued at $1,085,325 in 1909. They are largely in the hands of U.S. firms, who make large catches. The fish weigh up to 100 lbs. or more, but generally do not run so large as formerly. A Canadian company has been formed to work the halibut fisheries of Queen Charlotte Islands, said to be the richest in the world. Halibut is being shipped as far as Nova Scotia.

HERRING. The B.C. herring fisheries, already important, can be greatly developed. Herring are caught all along the coast, and in the north equal the large Labrador herring. If the movements of the school are ascertained by a scientific survey, herring can be caught all the year round. The total catch in 1909 was valued at $347,900, including salted, fresh, frozen and smoked fish. China provides the principal market. When the railways are extended in that country the market for dry salted herring will be almost unlimited.

OIL FISH. Dog fish, a small shark, abundant in the North Pacific, are rich in lubricating oil, the refuse being used as a fertilizer. Other oil fish are the rat fish and basking shark, which is tame and quite harmless. Rat fish oil is used in the finest works in watches, gun locks, etc. The industry can be greatly expanded.

OOLACHAN OR CANDLE FISH. Run in enormous quantities up the rivers and inlets. A delicious pan fish about 9 inches long, too tender for carriage to distant markets. Oolachan oil properly refined might have a commercial value.

OYSTERS. The small native oyster is found in many places. The production in 1909-10 was valued at $30,-935. With the growth of population there is a good opening for a profitable business.

SALMON. The B.C. salmon industry is threatened with serious injury by the lack of concurrent regulations on the coast of the State of Washington, which is traversed by the main schools of salmon passing from the sea to the Fraser River. To offset the destruction of salmon in the Puget Sound the Dominion Government have established several fish hatcheries. In the salmon canneries the introduction of a machine called the "Iron Chink," for cleaning and cutting the fish, has made a great economy in the cost of labor. There are several varieties. Sock-eye (or blue black), spring (or quinnat), coho (or silver), dog and hump-back (or chum). The sock-eye salmon in the Fraser River appear in greater numbers every fourth year. In 1905, the total pack was 1,167,460; in 1906, an average year, 629,460; in 1907, 547,459; in 1908, 542,689; in 1909, 967,920.

Fruit Lands on the Thompson River, Kamloops District. See paragraph "Kamloops District—B.C. Fruit Lands, Ltd." on page 62.

SEALING. In 1910 the sealing fleet and equipment was valued at $357,280. The industry employed 67 white men and 75 Indians. In 1909-10 only 5 vessels were engaged, 3,742 fur seals were taken, valued at $123,486. Victoria is the headquarters of the fleet.

SHELL FISH. The shell industry is unexploited. There are many fresh and sea water shells that could be turned to account. The abalone is common in British Columbia, and esteemed a delicacy. The shell can be developed, as in California, into a profitable business. There the shells are polished whole, or shaped into brooches, cuff pins and novelties, and the market is ever widening. Clams, cockles and mussels are found everywhere along the Coast. Output of clams in 1909-10 was valued at $14,400, including 1,950 cases of canned clams.

SHRIMPS. Shrimps and prawns abound on the Pacific Coast. A limited fishery is pursued. The development of a canning industry is capable of great expansion.

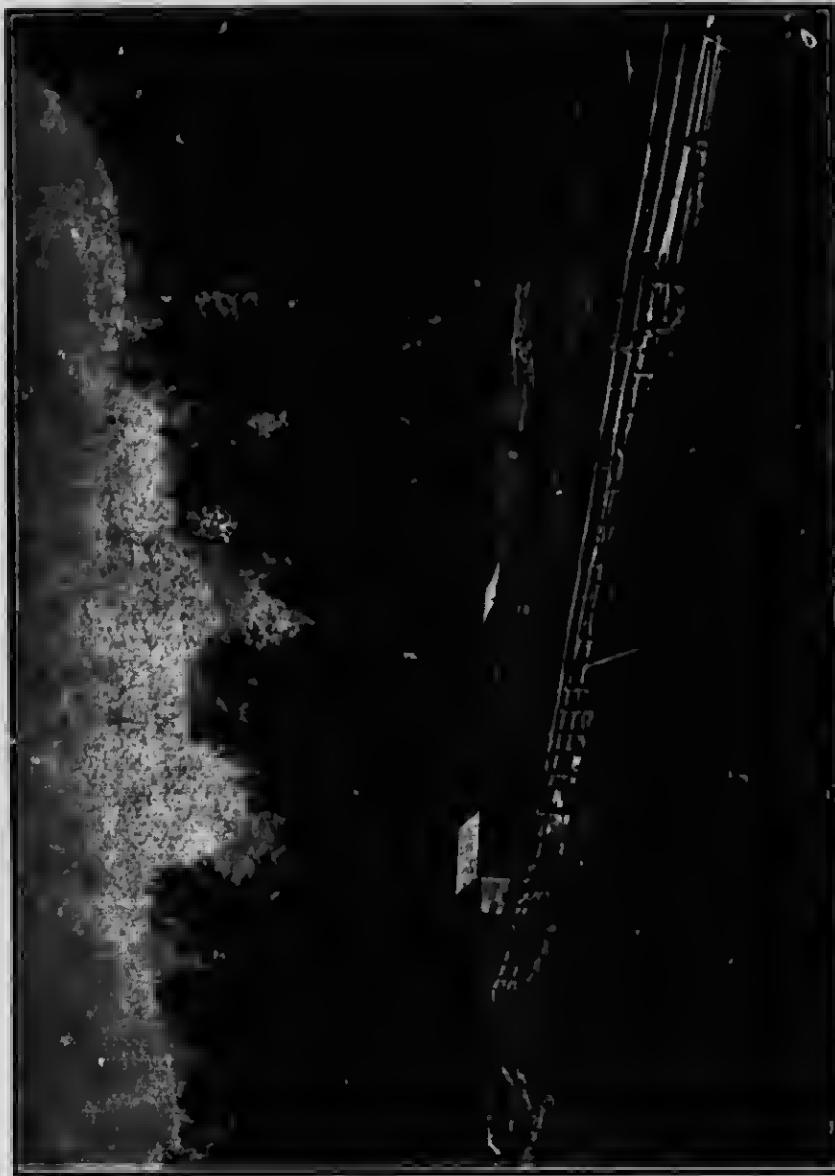

SMELETS. Two varieties are sold in local markets.

WHALING. The sulphur bottom is most common species, averaging 60 tons, value over $500; hump-back, averaging 27 tons, value $140; fin backs, averaging 50 tons, value $338. The right whale, which is rare, is valued at $10,000. The Pacific Whaling Co., employing fast steamers and machine guns, has 3 stations on Vancouver Island with modern plants. Average season's catch of the Co. over 600 whales. Japan imports whale meat and pickled whales' tails. Protection is needed to preserve the industry.

Forests and Lumbering

BRITISH COLUMBIA FORESTS. The forest area is estimated at 182,750,000 acres, including lands covered with small trees. The stand of merchantable timber is estimated by Dr. Judson F. Clark at 130 billion feet. The coast is heavily timbered to Alaska. The forest line follows the shore and river valleys fringing the mountain sides. Along the coast, in close proximity to the forests, are many deep water harbors. The most valuable trees are douglas fir, cypress, red cedar, white spruce, western hemlock. Other trees include white pine, tamarack, balsam, yew, maple and cottonwood. On the coast trees attain much larger dimensions than inland. It is claimed that the B.C. coast climate can produce as much timber in 40 years as can be grown elsewhere on the American continent in a century. For the purposes of conservation the province withdrew its public lands from sale in 1907. A few timber properties are offered for sale by private parties. See Announcements below.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT LANDS. All lands within twenty miles on each side of the Canadian Pacific Railway, known as the "Railway Belt," are the property of Canada. The total area is about 17,150 square miles. In addition there is the "Peace River Block," amounting to three and a half million acres, lying between longitude 120 and 122 degrees west, and between latitude 55 degrees, 30 minutes and 57 degrees north.

MINING

Mining

MINERAL PRODUCTION. The annual Mineral Production of British Columbia for the past ten years, as published by the Bureau of Mines, British Columbia, is as follows:

1901.....	$20,086,780	1906.....	$24,980,546
1902.....	17,486,550	1907.....	25,882,560
1903.....	17,495,954	1908.....	23,851,277
1904.....	18,977,359	1909.....	24,443,025
1905.....	22,461,325	1910.....	26,377,066

The decrease in 1908 is accounted for by the fall in the prices of silver, copper and lead.

BRICK. Suitable clay deposits are found in all districts. The manufacture is increasing rapidly. A very good deposit of fire clay exists at Clayburn near Vancouver, from which pressed brick and fire brick are being made. The Silica Brick and Lime Co. manufactures a light grey lime silica brick at Victoria.

BUILDING STONE. Some very good quarries of sandstone, granite and andesite have been opened up on tide water. Except on the coast there is little building stone used. See B.C. Marble.

CEMENT. The Vancouver Portland Cement Co., manufacturing at Tod Inlet, 13 miles from Victoria, has a capacity of 500,000 barrels in a year.

COAL. Beds occur in Vancouver Island, the Crow's Nest Pass, at Princeton, Nicola and the Bulkley Valley and the Queen Charlotte Islands. In 1910 actual production was practically confined to Crow's Nest Pass Collieries in East Kootenay, and the Wellington Colliery Co. and the Western Fuel Co. on Vancouver Island. The gross output was 3,139,235 long tons. The Crow's Nest Pass mines are 250,000 acres in extent. Total thickness, 300 ft.; 80 seams. - See under "Announcements" below.

COKE. The output of coke in 1910 was 218,029 long tons. There are 424 ovens at Fernie, 464 at Michel, 240 at Cariboo. The porosity of the coke is 43.46, enabling a very rapid consumption.

COPPER. The output for 1910 was 38,243,934 lbs., having a gross value of $4,871,512. The chief producers are the Granby Co., British Columbia Copper Co., and the Dominion Copper Co., which own their own smelters, and the Tyee, operating a smelter at Ladysmith on Vancouver Island. The Rossland production comes from the gold ores. Copper also occurs in the Yale, Kamloops, Nelson and Similkameen districts, and Queen Charlotte Island. The average assays of copper ores in the various camps, based upon the copper recovered, was: Boundary, 0.995%; Coast, 3.67%; Rossland, 0.705%.

DIAMONDS. In an analysis of rock specimens collected in 1911 on the Olivine Mountain near the Tulameen River, small diamonds were found. The discovery is of scientific rather than commercial value. Peridite, in which the diamonds occur, is closely related to the rocks which form the matrix for the Arkansas diamonds. No method has yet been devised to separate the diamonds from the rock.

GOLD, LODE. Value of gold produced in 1910, from lode mining, was $5,533,380. About 76% of the gold produced is recovered from smelting copper-bearing ores. The only large stamp mill is at Hedley, in the Osoyoos Mining Division.

GOLD, PLACER. The production in 1910 was about $540,000. The Cariboo District contributed half of this output. Individual miners produce 30%, chiefly from "drifting" operations, which can be carried on in the winter.

LEAD. In 1910 the production of lead amounted to 34,658,746 lbs., valued at $1,386,350. The ore is generally treated at local smelters.

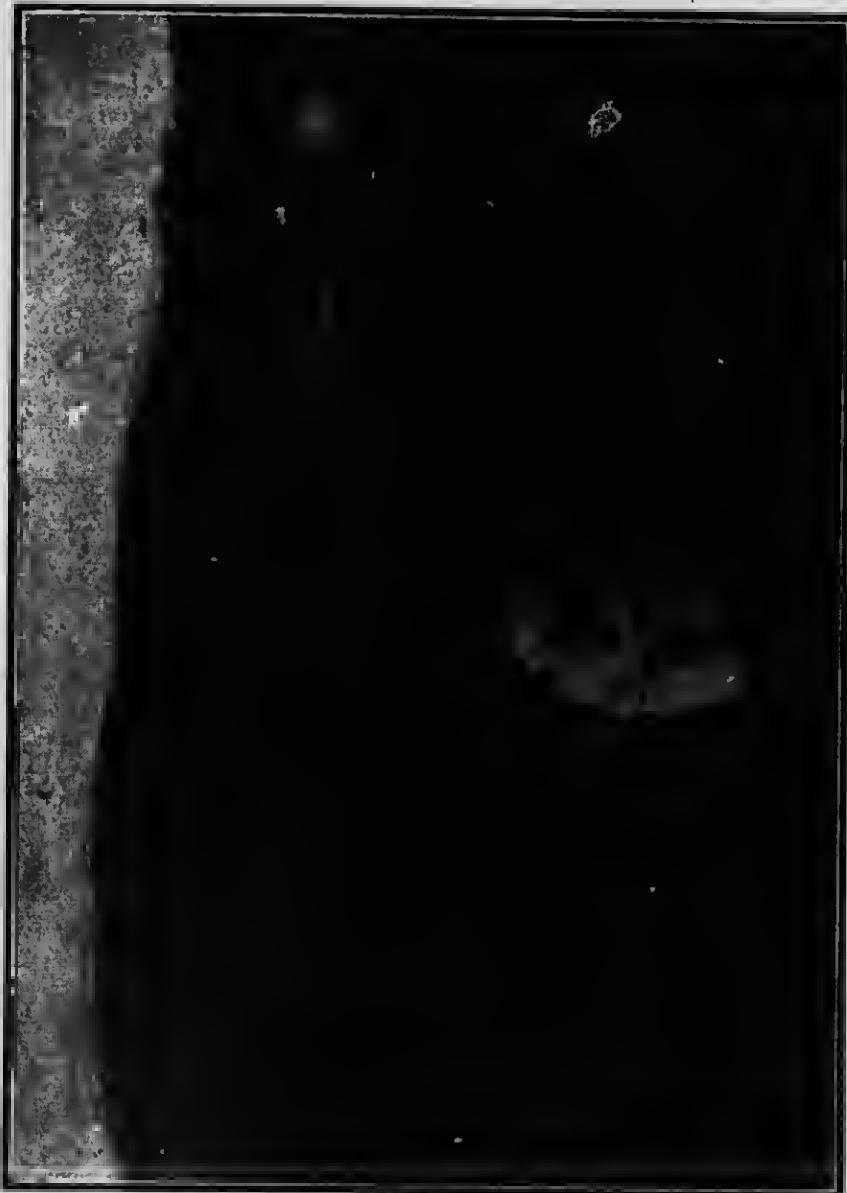

MARBLE. There are excellent marble quarries at Kootenay Lake, east of Kaslo, Lardo, and at Nootka, Vancouver Island.

PETROLEUM. Boring operations are under way in the Cariboo District. Indications of oil occur in Flathead Valley and Sooke, V.I.

PLATINUM. Is known to exist in various parts associated with placer gold in alluvial workings, but has not been mined hitherto except as a by-product.

SILVER. Total production in 1910 was 2,450,241 ozs., valued at $1,245,016. About 72% of the silver is found associated with lead in argentiferous galena, the remainder with copper bearing ores. The Slocan District, including Ainsworth Mining Division, produced 50% of the total output, and Fort Steele Division 24%, all from argentiferous galena.

22 OPPORTUNITIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Irrigated Orchard on Lake Okanagan. For particulars, see page 70, under heading "Okanagan Valley—Okanagan Centre—Okanagan Valley Land Co., Ltd."

ZINC. Total production in 1910 was about 4,183,192 lbs. metallic zinc, in ore and concentrates. Certain mines in the Slocan District produced small quantities of zinc blend as concentrates separated from argentiferous galena as a by-product. A concentrator is erected to treat zinc ore developed in the Blue Bell mine opposite Ainsworth. The Canada Zinc Co. have erected a small experimental plant at Nelson to treat Slocan ores by electric process.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COAL LANDS—CANADIAN-AMERICAN LAND CO. We are heavily interested in British Columbia coal lands. For instance: We have an option on a property adjoining a tract of coal land comprising approximately 50,000 acres, purchased recently at a very high figure by a London syndicate. Agricultural and Fruit Districts

This chapter contains descriptions of some of the leading districts to which immigration is attracted, and regulations affecting Provincial Crown Lands. Illustrations will be found scattered through the booklet.

AREA CULTIVABLE. Professor Macoun, after personal investigation, says: The whole of British Columbia south of 52 degrees and east of the Coast Range, is a grazing country up to 3,500 feet, where irrigation is possible. Roughly estimated, these fertile lands may be set down at one million acres. North of 52 there are 10 million acres of agricultural land.

CHILLIWACK VALLEY. The Chilliwack Valley is the eastern end of the Lower Fraser Valley, comprising an area of 60,000 acres of the finest agricultural land in the world, soil having a mixture of alluvial deposit from the Fraser, and volcanic wash from the Coast Range, gravel and silt subsoil providing most perfect sub-irrigation. Drought unknown. On account of its location and the uniform excellence of its field crops, fruit, stock, etc., the Chilliwack Valley has always been looked upon as a separate district when talking about the Fraser Valley, of which, of course, it is a part. Was settled in 1864. Foothills, now heavily timbered, wonderfully adapted for fruit, apples, cherries, peaches, etc. Chilliwack is noted for its cherries. Dairying chief industry, 2 creameries making 600,000 lbs. butter annually. Milk condenser now operating. Fruit cannery. Field crops yield heavily. Roots 60 tons to the acre; potatoes 10 to 20 tons per acre. Hops very productive and largely grown. Much pure-bred stock raised. Land values at from $150 to $500 for improved farms according to location. Unimproved, $100 to $250. Waterworks system throughout the whole valley, also electric light and telephone. Progressive government. Over 100 miles of splendid roads. Pop. of district about 7,000. See under Descriptions of Towns. Write Sec. Bd. of Trade, Chilliwack, B.C.

COLUMBIA-KOOTENAY VALLEY. The valley lies between the Rocky Mountains and the Selkirks, which vary from 5,000 to 12,000 in height, and extends from the junction of the Columbia and Canoe Rivers to the United States boundary at Tobacco Plains. Narrow at the north, it maintains from Golden westward a width of from 2 to 12 miles. The valley is watered by the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers, and numerous streams. The area is about one million acres, of which 20% to 30% is available for grain, vegetables and fruits, and nearly all the rest is good for pasture. Apples, pears, plums, prunes, cherries and small fruits of excellent quality mature abundantly. On the bottom lands there is rich alluvial clay loam soil; on the benches there is silt-like sandy loam which generally requires irrigation. The scenery beggars description, and attracts tourists from all over the world. Big and small game and fish are plentiful. A wagon road suitable for motoring runs from Golden to Fort Steele, whence branches lead to Cranbrook and U.S. boundary at Tobacco Plains. The Kootenay Central Railway, in construction, will open for settlement the land north of Cranbrook. Gold, silver, lead, copper, mica and other minerals are found. Cattle and horses can find food at all seasons. A large quantity of timber is distributed throughout its length. Blizzards and cyclones are unknown. Sunny weather is the rule winter and summer. In the valley are the towns of Golden and Cranbrook. Windermere, Althelmar and Wilmer are smaller settlements. The C.P.R. controls large areas. Write to J. S. Dennis, Land Commissioner, C.P.R., Calgary. The Columbia Valley Irrigated Fruit Lands, Ltd., H. O. at Wilmer, have 45,000 acres of bench lands for sale. The Columbia Orchards, Ltd., own a large tract on the east side. Crown lands in the Railway Belt can be obtained from the Dominion Government. Write for illustrated bulletin to the Provincial Information Bureau, Victoria, B.C.

AGRICULTURAL AND FRUIT DISTRICTS 57

DOMINION LANDS. All land within 20 miles on each side of C.P.R. main line belongs to the Dominion, and is administered by the Dept. of the Interior, practically according to same regulations as the public lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Dominion also own 3,500,000 acres in B.C. on the Peace River, subject to the same regulations. Write Commissioner Dominion Lands Branch, Dept. of the Interior, Ottawa.

EAST KOOTENAY VALLEY—CRANBROOK DISTRICT. An area of 300,000 acres suitable for fruit culture, mixed farming and stock raising lies around Cranbrook, in the East Kootenay Valley, between Rocky Mountains and the Selkirks, extending from U.S. boundary, 175 miles, to C.P.R. main line; width varies from 3 to 15 miles. The land lies in a series of level benches. Soil is rich clay loam, light in color, but rich in plant nutrition. All kinds of hay, grain, vegetables and fruits raised in abundance. Stock raising is lucrative, winter feeding not always necessary. A permanent home market provided by coal and other mining industries, lumbering and railroad operations, which give this district monthly payroll of over one million dollars. At present 90% of food supply is imported. Transportation east and west by C.P.R.; north and south by G.N.R. and Kootenay Central. Prices, raw land from $10 to $35 per acre; improved farms, $35 to $150; fruit lands, $50 to $150. See under Descriptions of Towns. See below under "Announcements." Write Sec. Bd. Trade, Cranbrook, B.C.

FRASER RIVER (LOWER) VALLEY—NEW WESTMINSTER DISTRICT.

Extends 96 miles from Gulf of Georgia to Chilliwack, traversed by 3 steam railroads and electric car line from end to end. Steamboats also provide cheap freightage. Farmers can go into the New Westminster market and return the same day. Soil varies from light sandy silt to rich alluvial loam, producing enormous crops of hay, oats and roots. The light uplands are admirably suited to fruit growing and chicken raising. Country well watered by Fraser River and numerous streams. Scenery compares with that of Switzerland or the Rhine and Danube, with characteristics of the south of England. Climate mild and bright with 35 to 55 inches annual rainfall. Principal cities and towns in the district are: New Westminster, Chilliwack, Abbotsford and Mission. The prairie provinces and local consumption demand more fruits than can be supplied. There is a ready market at good prices for all farm produce. Pop. of district 100,000, including British, Canadian, American and some Swedes, French and Germans. See under Descriptions of Towns. For prices of land, etc., see below under "Announcements." Write C. H. Stuart Wade, Publicity Commissioner, New Westminster, B.C.

INTERIOR, BULKLEY VALLEY. The arable land covers an area of 100 miles by 1 to 10 miles wide, is timbered lightly. Soil black loam, where poplars are found, and a sandy loam under the black pine. Timothy, oats, barley, wheat and potatoes are grown. Pop. of district about 250. The land available for pre-emption has been taken up. Land can be purchased from $6 to $15 an acre. The valley is approached from Prince Rupert by river boat to Hazelton, thence by stage 42 miles, fare $10.00. See below under "Announcements."

INTERIOR, CENTRAL AND NORTHERN Of the area between 52 degrees and 60 degrees north latitude the land suitable for settlement may be divided into three well-defined areas: (a) That part lying east of the Rocky Mountains from about 54 degrees north to the Northern. Of this district present knowledge is confined to the Peace River and its tributaries, the Parryup, Finlay and South Pine, (see below and under Peace River). (b) That section of the great Intermontane Valley between Selkirk and Rocky Mountains lying north of the Big Bend of the Columbia River. (c) The numerous valleys between the Selkirk and the Ranges to the north of the cross ranges of mountains that form the Northern Confinie of the interior plateau. These include the valley of the Homaltheo River, the country between Chilaco River and Tatla Lake, the Chilcotin District, the Nechako and Blackwater valleys, the country along the east bank of the Bella Kispiox Valley. In a general way agriculture will be confined to grazing, dairying, and stock raising. Wheat and other cereals can be grown in many localities. Cattle foods are abundant. Fruit growing is in the experimental stage. Good apples have been grown at Hazelton and Barkerville. Apples, peaches and grapes on the Skeena River. See below under "Announcements." Write to the Sec. Bureau Provincial Information, Victoria, B.C.

KAMLOOPS DISTRICT. Centre of the famous dry belt. Air is pure, light and bracing. Excellent transportation facilities to all commercial centres in the west, also east, north and south. Government lands for pre-emption may be had along the line of the C.N.R. route leading out of Kamloops. Price of unimproved lands $15 to $40 per acre. Improved lands for orchards and other purposes, $100 to $250 per acre. The soil throughout is highly fertile and productive. Both large and small fruits are produced in abundance. Roots of every description grow successfully. Wheat, oats, barley, rye, and the several grain cereals. Irrigation is necessary for all crops. Poultry, stock raising and mixed farming are successful industries. See under Descriptions of Towns. See below under "Announcements." Write John F. Smith, Sec. B.C. Inland Bd. Trade, Kamloops, B.C.

KOOTENAY DISTRICT (THE KOOTENAYS). The districts known as East and West Kootenay form the s.e.

60 OPPORTUNITIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

portion of British Columbia, and have a combined area of 23,500 sq. mils., drained by the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers. The erratic wanderings of the rivers are interesting. At Canal Flats the Kootenay passes within 1½ miles of Upper Columbia Lake, the source of the Columbia River, which flows northward. For over 60 miles the two rivers parallel each other, flowing in opposite directions. See under Columbia-Kootenay Valley, West Kootenay, E.-Kootenay Valley, and under "Announcements" below.

EAST KOOTENAY. See under Columbia-Kootenay Valley and East Kootenay Valley—Cranbrook District.

Watered by numerous creeks and springs. Ample rainfall, mild climate. Irrigation used only for strawberries and vegetables. Apples are marketed in prairie provinces, strawberries in Calgary and Edmonton. Pop. of district 25,000 to 30,000, including Canadians, English and Americans. Price per acre, raw standard fruit land on rail and water, in 10-acre lots, from $100, near Nelson over $200. See under Descriptions of Towns. See below under "Announcements." similar to the valleys east of Vancouver. The land has been carefully selected. The Inspectors' reports show that in a large portion soil is a rich volcanic ash. The greater part is timbered, generally in scattered clumps, easily cleared, in some parts running as high as 5,000 to 6,000 ft. to the acre, and practically every part has sufficient timber for building purposes. The land is eminently fitted for mixed farming and dairying, and is situated near the Coast, so that with railway connection it will have cheap and easy access to important markets. This part of the province is unsettled, so that nothing definite can as yet be said about fruit growing, except that settlers on land in this part of British Columbia no more advantageously situated, are successfully growing and marketing apples, potatoes and small fruits. The Syndicate proposes to offer land to first settlers at low prices, and to take them into partnership in a comprehensive scheme of colonization. Write British Columbia Colonization Syndicate, 449 Main St., Winnipeg, Man.
