FRENCH HOLD GRIP ON VERDUN ITALIANS OCCUPY NEW DEFENSIVE POSITIONS SOUTH OF TRENTE British Parliament Votes War Credit of $1,500,000,000

FULL RESERVES REQUIRED, SAYS COL. CHURCHILL

Where Are Empire's Five Million Men? He Asks in Commons.

CALLS FOR MORE VIM

Training of Africans and Asiatics for Next Year's Campaign Urged.

LONDON, May 23.—Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, definitely aligned himself up with the "ginger up" wing in the house of commons today. The keynote of his address, which was inspired by Premier Asquith's call for a new war credit of £200,000,000, was the enlisting of every available man for active service, declaring that the allies must depend for success on numbers as the enemy possessed great advantages in their central position and superior unity in war direction. He urged training of the "reserves of Africa and Asia for next year's campaign."

Col. Churchill estimated that the effective rifle and artillery strength of the Germans and Turks opposing the British would not exceed half a million men and asked why the 5,000,000 men computed to be available within the British Empire were not being utilized to advantage. He contended that too many men were being kept in Britain for defensive purposes.

Dealing with the British position at the front, he urged readjustment of the British lines so as to eliminate certain salients costly in the holding and of little importance.

Col. Churchill expressed regret (Continued on Page 7, Column 1).

HUGE SUM FOR WAR REQUIRED BY GERMANY

COPENHAGEN, via London, May 23.—The German government, according to the Vossische Zeitung (Berlin), early in June will propose a bill for a new war loan of 10,000,000,000 marks (about $2,500,000,000).

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

GLANCING at the face of the war as a whole, it is seen that the Austrians, the pausing, are committed to a big offensive against Italy on a front of about 20 miles, and that the Germans, attacking the French, are really on the defensive before Verdun, for they are obliged to fight to prevent the making of further progress by our ally. Here Paris reports that the power of taking the offensive is passing from the hands of the Germans to the hands of the French. So the effort of the enemy appears to be confined to one offensive at a time and on a limited front. The zone of attack in Italy is about 20 miles wide, but it is broken by ridges and mountain positions, and the actual frontage is much less. The frontage of original German attack on Verdun was eight miles.

Thus, the course of the war in the past 20 months, which has been in the main prescribed by Germany, and has, therefore, been conducted in harmony with her resources, provides almost certain indications that her military power is on the decline. This is noted by such eminent military experts as Colonel Blood of The Quarterly Review, who observes that the German offensive, which began in February, 1915, in Russia, embraced nearly the whole of the Niemen-Bobr-Narew front, an extent of 200 miles. Mackensen's phalanx advanced from the Donajec in May on a front of about 30 miles, while large armies prolonged the fighting far into the Carpathians on the right and south Poland on the left. Heavy fighting then extended over 200 miles of front.

Then again, the main fighting front during the development in Poland in August, 1915, reached the enormous extent of 300 miles, exclusive of the Bug-Dniester-Niemen-Courland fronts. About this period the Germanic empires appear to have reached their zenith of military power, for subsequent operations, says Colonel Blood, have shown a steady decline. Altho the elimination of the Polish salient reduced the front by 100 miles, and the line from Roumania to the Niemen was held defensively, the German offensive showed signs of weakness about Vilna, and ultimately degenerated into isolated and ineffective attacks between Dvinsk and Riga.

A comparison between the scope of the operations in Russia and the present offensive in Italy and the fighting in France, for which the Germans and Austrians have from seven to ten months to prepare by training new levies, leads irresistibly to the conclusion that the German reserves are on the wane and that the Germans and Austrians are obliged to husband

MAJ. NORMAN PILCHER MET DEATH AT FRONT

He Was Formerly Resident of Toronto and Served in South Africa.

MONTREAL, May 23.—The death of Major Norman C. Pilcher in action on May 19 is announced by a telegram from the militia department tonight. Major Pilcher was formerly general manager of the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company. He came here from England some years ago. At the time of the Boer war he enlisted with the Canadian contingent at Toronto, where he was employed by the General Electric Co. His wife was a Miss Long of Toronto.

FOE LOSES AEROPLANE IN FIGHT WITH BRITISH

Fourteen Hostile Machines Engaged in Flanders Operations.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, May 23.—In operations on the British front, fourteen German aeroplanes were engaged and one was driven down inside of the Teuton lines in a damaged condition, the British war office reported tonight, concerning the campaign in Flanders.

Heavy bombardments were exchanged by both sides about the Vimy ridge today. German artillery was very actively engaged against the British trenches between Hooge and the Ypres-Bondues railway. Shelling is noted about Mametz, Monchy-au-Bolle, Neuville St. Vaast, and Givenchy. The mining activity was most prevalent about Mametz, Flouret, the Hohenzollern redoubt, Cutchy and eastward of Laventie.

ECCENTRIC CAMPAIGNER LOST IN SOUTH DERRY

Lieut. Turnbull Recently Created a Sensation in British Parliament.

LONDON, May 24, 1:14 a.m.—Lieut. Arthur Turnbull, who jumped from the strangers' gallery in the house of commons March 28, shouting, "I ask you to protect the heads of British soldiers against shrapnel fire," his idea being to rouse the members of the house to the necessity of supplying steel helmets to the troops, has been defeated for election to the house of commons from South Derry by D. S. Henry, Unionist. Lieut. Turnbull was an independent candidate and his defeat was overwhelming.

PRESBYTERIANS DO NOT WANT CHURCH UNION

Representative Meeting in Knox Church Firmly Declares Attitude.

UNDULY INFLUENCED

Charge Pro-Unionists Used Money and Institutions Against Their Wishes.

Charges that money belonging to the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as well as institutions, have been used by those in favor of church union, to further their propaganda, were incorporated in a resolution protesting against church union, which was unanimously carried at a meeting of church-unionists, held in Knox Church yesterday.

The resolution, which was moved by Rev. D. C. MacLeod of Barrie and seconded by Rev. D. T. L. McKerrill of Victoria, Presbyterian Church, Toronto, also charged that the presentation of both sides of the question had been refused congregations by a great many ministers and sessions who have also refused from informing the people of the tremendous issues at stake. While all this has been going on the claim that a large majority of Presbyterians have refrained from taking action under "excessive and protracted urgings." Others, however, have decided that "further use of Presbyterian money, institutions and official positions for this propaganda, thus exerting undue influence on the minds of congregations, will not be tolerated."

The meeting, which was presided over by John Penman, was a large and representative one; ministers and laymen being present from all over Ontario.

The resolution which follows was handed down by the committee on resolutions and will be referred to when the party lays its views before the general assembly at Winnipeg next month.

Whereas the last vote of a ministers, elders, communicants and adherents of the Presbyterian church in Canada, that 46 per cent. of our church members did not vote and therefore did not ask for union, and (b) 40 per cent. of the number going positively refused to be parties to the blotting out of the Presbyterian church in Canada.

In other words, notwithstanding the pro-union propaganda and the illegitimate use of Presbyterian money and institutions with their privileges and positions to eliminate the refusal of very many ministers and sessions to give fair warning that further use of official documents, institutions and other official positions for this propaganda, thus exerting undue influence on the minds of congregations, will not be tolerated.

Whereas large property and beneficiary interests created by those who believed that the witness of the Presbyterian church, with her revered and guiding doctrinal standards, her scriptural policy, noble and unimpaired traditions, and her God and should be continued and such an explicit statement in legal deeds and other official documents, institutions and other official positions for this propaganda, thus exerting undue influence on the minds of congregations, will not be tolerated.

Therefore, believing that we declare our blessed purpose, and we solemnly and effectively promote a true and spiritual union, and we solemnly and effectively judge that the other negotiating parties, who are endeavoring to eliminate anything tending to make our respective services competitive and foster every selfish method tending to federation and cooperation in our great common cause.

Names of Victims of Loos Fight Have Just Been Published.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, May 23.—Confirmation of reports that the German casualty lists are so far in arrears that their total as issued from time to time is in no way representative, declared now to have been supplied. The man, who also is a pilot, is believed to have taken part in the attempt of Sir Roger to land arms and munitions for the Sinn Fein revolutionists.

AWAIT NEW HARVEST

Internal Strife Over Food Question Admitted by German Papers.

BERLIN, May 23, via London, 11:10 p.m.—The adequate nourishment of our population is "fully assured and will not be rendered doubtful by any blockade regulations of enemy states," says the semi-official North German Gazette today in an announcement of the creation of a food dictatorship with sweeping powers.

"However, the short harvest of 1915, together with reduced imports, have resulted in a food scarcity in some directions, which makes itself acutely felt, and efforts to better conditions have been hindered by the fact that each federal state has been able to make independent regulations. This will now be corrected by a centralization of power."

Sweeping powers. Probably the above have such sweeping powers concentrated as are now granted. Herr Von Batocki, the new food dictator, various councilors will be assigned to him. Pressing agriculture, industry, trade, the military and consumers, and regulations of the federal states and of associations connected with the war will also aid him. Final decision on all questions, however, rests solely in the hands of the federal council, not to be affected by the appointment of the dictator, but in the case of emergency the dictator is even empowered to issue contrary regulations, but these must be immediately laid before the federal council for approval.

The dictator will be able to export appropriate all foods and fodder and may (Continued on Page 2, Column 3).

Gen. Maxwell Issues Order To Stop Letter Smuggling

Communications to Points Outside Ireland Must Go Thru Postoffice Unless Permission is Given.

DUBLIN, May 23, 8 p.m.—General Maxwell, the British commander, has issued a new order, making it an offence under the Defence of the Realm Act, for any person to send a letter or any written communication from Ireland to any part of the United Kingdom or elsewhere by any means except thru the postoffice, unless official permission had previously been obtained. All persons are also prohibited from receiving communications except under similar conditions.

IN THE MORNING OF THE SPRINGTIME

Perhaps the bright, dry, warm weather has come at last. The farmer has yet to finish seeding his wheat, oats, barley, and his fodder corn some days yet ahead. But he manages to say it is all in at last. His clover fields and hay meadows are green and getting lush; his pastures are rich for his cows and cattle; and in many fields sprouted barley and oats are to be seen.

In the garden everything is behind; there is, however, asparagus to cut, if few other things are to be had. Flowers are beginning to show. The cherry trees, the apple trees, the light green-leaved plum trees, all show a wealth of blossom. Lilac trees that disclosed their fragrant flowers on many a former queen's birthday are still a week or more behind. Strawberry plants have had plenty of rain; now they only await the heat.

The maples, the beeches, the other forest trees, are days behind similar trees on the banks of the Ottawa and in territory more to the east. But they are leading: "The leaves do come!"

The country in this Province of Ontario always manages to get ahead some way, fruit at last engendered.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT VOTED ONE AND ONE-HALF BILLION DOLLARS READILY.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT VOTED ONE AND ONE-HALF BILLION DOLLARS READILY.

NEW CREDIT WILL LAST ONLY UNTIL FIRST WEEK IN AUGUST.

LONDON, May 23.—The house of commons unanimously agreed today to vote the credit of £300,000,000 ($1,500,000,000) asked for by Premier Asquith.

The premier commented that this was the eleventh vote since the beginning of the war and the second for the current financial year. The total granted this year, he added, was therefore £3,000,000,000, making a grand total of £2,322,000,000 (about $11,910,000,000).

In proposing the vote of credit Premier Asquith laid before the house of commons an account in some detail of the government's recent financial operations. He took up the period between April 1 and May 20, stating that the actual outlay during these 50 days was £241,000,000.

Expenditures for the army, navy and for munitions in that time accounted for £149,000,000; loans to allies and dominions for £74,500,000; and the outlay for food supplies, railways and miscellaneous items for £17,500,000.

Eliminating the payments to the Bank of England in respect of advances abroad, for which allowances had been made in the previous votes, the Gully average expenditure had been reduced to £4,600,000 (about $23,000,000). There had been no increase, but a slight decrease, in expenditures for the fighting forces. The total outlay was somewhat larger, mainly on account of loans to allies and dominions.

The average expenditure for the army, the navy and for munitions, Mr. Asquith continued, was just under £3,000,000 daily. Speaking of loans to allies, Mr. Asquith said:

"Without that financial assistance it is literally true that the combined operations of the allies could not be prosecuted with success and efficiency. The house would not grudge an additional expenditure in order that the whole financial, naval and military fabric, upon whose co-operative work the success of our joint efforts depends, should be kept in a state of efficiency."

FRENCH LINES HOLD FIRM IN FURIOUS FIGHT

Struggle Rages East and West of Meuse Before Verdun.

FOE COUNTER ATTACKS

Ally Retains Solid Grip on Fort Douaumont During Day.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, May 23.—Furious fighting raged east and west of the Meuse before Verdun today, with the Germans doing the attacking but without the general or local situation being in the least altered. The French held their lines as they were drawn in the morning and they also retained the ground which they gained east and west in Fort Douaumont.

The German counter-attacks designed to check the advance of the French, took on a character of extreme violence along the whole of the French front in the region of Verdun. The French war office is not yet able to specify the considerable effectiveness of this enemy activity.

On the left bank of the Meuse, the Germans launched, on several occasions, their assaulting masses against the positions of the French to the east and the west of Le Mort Homme. The first attack was slowed down by artillery and machine gun fire and cost the Germans heavy losses. A second attack, as desperate as the first, began about seven o'clock in the evening, gained the enemy a footing in one of the French trenches to the west, but he was completely driven out by an immediate counter-attack.

Attack With Fury.

The enemy also attacked with great fury positions at Hill 304. He employed in large measure machines to throw flaming liquid to the west of the hill, and under cover of these he entered one of the trenches of the defence. The foe was immediately subjected to a counter movement, which compelled him to evacuate all the positions which he had gained. An attack to the east of this hill, supported by an intense preparatory bombardment, was at once broken by French fire.

Across the Meuse the counter-attacks of the enemy continued all thru the night and day. The region of Haumont-Douaumont remains the scene of an all-day murderous struggle. The Germans multiplied their assaults and delivered in preparation very powerful artillery bombardments. Despite all their endeavors the positions taken by the French yesterday were maintained in their entirety, notably in Fort Douaumont. In this region they took over 800 prisoners.

In the night operations, the battle was continued from yesterday with ferocity. The Germans increased the number of their attacks in massed formation and they suffered enormous losses. They succeeded in taking a trench north of Thiaumont farm. Inside the Fort Douaumont, the French continued to force back the Germans and left them today holding only the northeast corner of the fort.

The Germans, on the contrary, claim that Fort Douaumont remains firmly in their hands. They assert that there were violent infantry engagements on the front north of Thiaumont farm as far as the cailleste wood and that the French were repulsed on the flanks of the sector by German counter-attacks. West of the Meuse, they say that they captured a French blockhouse in Camard forest. French attacks east of Hill 304 and on the southern slopes of Le Mort Homme, they affirm, ended in failure.

In their aerial operations the French accounted for three German machines today. One was brought down by the fire of a French machine in the Furnee region. An aviate was seriously hit in the course of a fight and fell within its own lines. A French pilot, attacked by three German machines in the region of the Lange River, brought down one of the enemy and drove the other two off in flight.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

their reserves. Corroboration of this may be found in the presence of large numbers of boys of the 1916 and 1917 classes among the Germans and of Bulgarians among the Turks.

The advances of the French north of Verdun into Fort Douaumont and on each side of it provoked the Germans to make furious counter-attacks yesterday in an endeavor to drive the French troops back to their starting-off points. Combined with these frontal attacks were heavy flanking attacks west of the Meuse. These were directed principally against Hill 304 and on their failure there, against Le Mort Homme. Only once did the Germans get a footing in the French positions, and they were immediately ejected by a counter-attack. The fighting, which was forced here previous to the French advance in the north, had its origin in the despatch of French troops to the region of Fort Douaumont. The Germans attacked the French in flank for the purpose of diverting their attention from their purpose of defending the Mort Homme position, but they were repulsed in their purpose. The French hold the higher positions they can compel the Germans to attack them whenever they desire by merely threatening to drive back the Germans. Thus the Kaiser and the crown prince have landed their men in a face of an entrenching force. The battle in the Verdun region has reached the stage midway between trench and mobile warfare. It seems to herald the break-up of the present stationary system of fighting, but whether after a period of manoeuvring and fighting it will resume its stationary aspect on shorter lines depends upon the number of men that the allies can throw into the campaign as reserves. The more men they can mobilize the speedier will the war be ended.

Rome reports that the Italian front remains unbroken. It says that after repulsing Austrian attacks against Italian advanced lines between the Adige and the Brenta and in the Sugana Valley, the Italian troops gradually retired on their main lines of defence. They executed their movement in good order and not under pressure of the enemy. They have observed assemblages of Austrian troops between Lake Garda and the Adige and only reconnaissances have been observed between the Adige and the Brenta. An Italian detachment captured an important Austrian position on Mount Seif, on the upper Cordevole, taking 50 prisoners.

Paris military experts say that the Italians have fallen back before the first shock of the Austrian offensive, but they are now reforming their lines with heavy reinforcements. The Italians who were at Rovereto, 20 miles from Trent, withdrew southward under the heavy Austrian pressure until their lines are now about 10 miles south of Rovereto. Part of the new line is still in Austrian territory. The Austrians are said to be aiming at Vienna, for the purpose of separating the Italians operating against Trieste from those operating against Trent. The Austrians appear to have spent the violence of their first blow and they are probably making preparations for another.

Winston Churchill, who retired from the government after the tactical failure of the British forces at the Dardanelles became known, has become a critic of the government, and yesterday he made a plea for a more vigorous conduct of the war. He said the British Empire had more than 5,000,000 men under arms, he said, the British army should be detaining more than 45 divisions of the enemy. He also said that the war would be a long one. Such predictions are guesses, except in so far as the time it will take to mobilize the full strength of the British Empire at the front. Britain is at the moment in a position where the final reserves in the west, and reserves are only thrown in at the last stages. A great many of the causes leading to the prolongation or the shortening of the war depend on accident, and so it is impossible to predict when it will end. Mr. Churchill also urges the raising of large contingents in India and among the African blacks.

In the Armenian theatre of the war the Russians are steadily converging on Mosul from Persia, and they have recently occupied Serbercht, on the road to that strategic point. They repulsed repeated Turkish attempts to take the offensive southwest of Trebizond last Sunday and they have dislodged the Turks from an organized position on one of the slopes north of the Taurus Mountains.

CHARGES OF HERESY STILL IN BALANCE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—Adoption of the plan for the merger of the board of education and the college board and the announcement that the committee on bills and overtures had not yet reached an agreement regarding the charges of heresy against the New York Presbyterian and Union Seminaries were the outstanding features of the day's discussions of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

FORMER LEAP YEAR BABIES.

In 1904 The Toronto World inaugurated the presentation of a birthday mug to all babies born in Ontario, on Feb. 29. The offer was repeated in 1908, again in 1912, and again in 1916. In this week's issue of "The Sunday World" there appears a group view of a number of leap year babies born previous to this year. These children are unique in that they have a real birthday but once every four years, and for that reason their pictures will appear in this week's Sunday World. Under each picture are the name and address, and the whole is assembled in an artistic layout. Never before, perhaps, has a similar picture appeared in a newspaper. See it in The Sunday World.

even establish fixed per capita rations, if necessary. The only express limitation of the provision that the new department's measures will take into consideration orders of the military commanders. The date on which the new order of things will become effective is to be announced shortly.

"We shall also come thru with potatoes, even the with scant rations until the new crop. The last animal census showed only slightly over 15,000,000 swine, but since the number of pigs in large way may expect in a year or more to make up in some degree what is lacking. The number of meat cattle had decreased less than was supposed, but what we lack is cattle fit for butchering. The older animals are consumed and the army's major requirements are so mighty that even animals unfit for slaughtering must be taken.

LOGIE PAYS VISIT TO BORDEN CAMP

Will Inspect Accommodation for Troops This Afternoon.

MEN WILL GET HOLIDAY

Complete Respite From Drill and Recruiting Efforts Today.

Borden camp, Ontario's great new concentration point for active service troops, was visited today by Gen. Logie. It is stated that Major-General Sir Sam Hughes intends to have a large proportion of the active service troops of this military district under canvas at the new camp near Lake Simcoe by the end of June. The visit of Gen. Logie to Camp Borden may be followed by the moving of troops to the new camp. The movement of four additional battalions originally intended for Niagara may be diverted to the northern camp.

Men Get Holiday. There will be practically a complete respite from drill today for the troops in training for overseas. Recruiting efforts, owing to this being Victoria Day, will also be let up. The recruiting depot will be closed.

James P. Donovan of the R.C.D., in camp orders issued yesterday, is appointed adjutant of Lieut.-Col. Lennox's 12th Battalion. Lieut. Donovan will prove quite an acquisition to the staff of the infantry battalion. He has put his ability as a boxer and ever-ready speaker to good use at recruiting meetings ever since the war started. He is the possessor of two South African medals, the King's Coronation Medal, as well as boxing and athletic trophies. Before coming to Toronto he acted as a physical instructor for the Government families in New York, and he taught boxing at the White House under the Roosevelt administration.

Recruiting Yesterday. The good total of 104 recruits came forward for enlistment yesterday, 74 of them being accepted. Thirty-eight of the accepted recruits will go on active service for the divisional headquarters, the Irish-Canadian, with nine recruits, led the infantry battalions. The Buffs came on with eight recruits. The Toronto Light Infantry and Beavers each secured 10 recruits. The 12th Battalion secured the 6th Battalion there. The totals are now:

Albionians 609
Buffs 498
Beavers 233
Irish-Canadian 719
Buffs 414

The recruiting depot has been called upon to accept 70 more recruits to complete its establishment. The depot also requires a cook and assistant-cook for the divisional headquarters, a staff mess, a routing recruiting meeting was held at 10 p.m. at the depot. A splendid musical program was given by the band of the 12th Canadian Buffs. Good wishes were obtained.

Inspected Cadets. Major Watling, divisional inspector of cadets, with Lt.-Col. J. Fair, inspected the cadets of the Queen's Own Rifles at the armory last night. The cadets paraded under Capt. Kirk and Sgt. Davy, and were inspected by Major Watling. He has gone to the front. This is a very creditable showing, and indicates what a great source of strength the depot is to the regiment.

The boys in their civvies, the depot are to be recruited on Wednesday of next week. Sgt. C. W. Nimmer, who created a sensation in England because of his success as a recruiting officer, has just arrived in Toronto to commence an ambitious campaign in this military district, under Major G. H. Williams' direct recruiting office. He is a newspaper man by profession, being formerly a member of The Edmonton Journal. He was wounded at St. Julien, and states that it was while convalescing in England that he started appealing for recruits. In four and a half months work in Great Britain he raised 921 accepted recruits.

Marched from Mount Dennis. Lt.-Col. J. J. Clark's command, the 12th York Rangers' Battalion, marched from their headquarters at Mount Dennis, six miles, to take part in yesterday's parade. The battalion also did the return journey on Monday.

are becoming more and more appreciative of the benefits of insuring with The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, as we not only give Total Abstainers the advantages of special plans and rates, but keep a separate classification as regards mortality. In 1905 the ratio of business done in the Abstainers' Section to that in the General Section was 2 to 3; in 1915, just a decade later, this ratio had changed to 4 to 3 in favor of the Abstainers' Department.

Two essential factors are responsible for this wonderful increase: First, the popularity of our special policies for Abstainers, coupled with public approval of our Assets and progressiveness; and, second, the growth of temperance sentiment.

Wouldn't you like to carry a policy in a Company that recognizes in a concrete way the advantages you are entitled to as a Total Abstainer?

ITALIANS YIELDED GROUND TO FOES

Austrian Offensive Reaches Region of Dante's Inferno.

LULL COMES IN FIGHT

Bulgarian Troops Captured, Indicating Progress With Teutons.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, May 23.—A lull appears to have occurred in the heavy fighting between the Austrians and the Italians in the Tyrol, but both sides are making strenuous preparations to renew the battle.

The Italians announce that after repulsing attacks of the Austrians against their advanced lines between the Adige and the Brenta and in the Sugana Valley, their troops gradually retired on their main line of defence. They say that they executed this movement in perfect order and not under pressure of the enemy. Between the Adige and the Brenta, where heavy Austrian attacks were repulsed, only reconnaissances are reported today. On the upper Cordevole an Italian detachment carried by assault an important Austrian position on Mount Seif, taking 50 prisoners.

Intense artillery actions were fought on the upper But, the heights northwest of Gorizia, and in the Montalona sector. Bombs were dropped on the Venetian plain by Austrian aviators and a few persons were wounded.

Along the Isonzo front the Italians have made prisoners of Bulgarians, showing that Bulgarians have joined the Austrians in their present offensive. The Austrian heavy guns are much more numerous in this region than those of the Italians, but they have not been able to overcome the well-organized Italian defenses, which thus far have checked the Austrian advance along the whole Isonzo line.

A Paris despatch says: The French military experts agree that the Italians have fallen back before the first shock of the Austrian offensive, but say they are now reforming their lines with heavy reinforcements.

The operations in the centre are in the area about 20 miles square east and northeast of Lake Garda, where the Italians had made their first drive toward Trent. They were strongly posted at Rovereto, less than twenty miles from Trent, but withdrew southward under the heavy Austrian pressure until their lines are now about ten miles south of Rovereto. Here the Austrians occupy elevated positions on what is called Santo Hill, while the Italians face them from Fasubio Hill.

While away in the United States a few years ago Cope suffered a temporary loss of memory and his parents think that a similar lapse may be the cause of his absence.

OFFICIAL ESTIMATES TOO CONSERVATIVE

Production of Sudbury Mines Underestimated by Ontario Inspector.

FAMOUS MONEL METAL

Creighton Reported to Be Biggest Metal Producer in Existence.

The great nickel-copper mines at Sudbury are now producing at the rate of $48,000,000 per year.

Mr. Sutherland also says that there are 7,000,000 tons of ore now in sight in the mines around Sudbury.

Mr. Sutherland's estimate of tonnage to be produced is 40,000,000 tons of nickel and 40,000,000 tons of copper.

Officials of the government are unduly cautious and conservative.

After allowing for official conservatism, and after assuming that nickel and copper will not always remain at present prices.

The nickeliferous pyrrhotite at Sudbury, contains sulphur, iron and small amounts of silica.

Mr. Sutherland predicts that Northern Ontario will produce $1,000,000,000 in gold this year.

To the end of 1915 Porcupine had produced $19,767,902 in gold and $1,325,764,828 in silver.

It will be remembered that a diamond drill on the Hollinger Consolidated has proven values, and the ore-bearing stratum to a vertical depth of 1400 feet.

MINING NOTES

Mine Manager Randolph reports good progress and results at the Adanac Company's mine.

Despite the rising price of silver, the price of silver nitrate has not advanced.

In an item published yesterday in this column it was erroneously stated that at the Ophir, it was being arranged for diamond drilling.

Kirkland Lake—Some of the richest ore found in the Tough-Oakes mine has been encountered in an ore shoot on the 4th level.

Schumacher.—The Juppiter-McIntyre electrically-driven air compressors are on the foundation.

South Porcupine.—Another vein has been cut by diamond drilling at the Dome Lake.

The Dome Lake mill is running at 60 capacity over what it was before doubling the size of the mill.

Mr. W. Jackson of Buffalo, one of the pioneers of the district, has been visiting at the Dome Lake.

Involved using a large amount of unpayable rock. The new practice will raise the tonnage sent to the mill at the Hollinger Consolidated.

WE'RE NEARING TWO DOLLAR MARK

Sensational Advance of Twenty-Two Points on Heavy Trading.

Judging by the volume of business at the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday at the Standard Stock Exchange it was hard to believe that a holiday followed.

McIntyre was again the stellar performer in the advance of 22 points to its credit for the last couple of weeks.

Juppiter was another strong feature, trading up to a new high level point at 86 and closing at the top.

Bar silver advanced 1-3 to 71 3/8. The price of silver has fallen from about 70 cents in 1911 to about 35 cents today.

SILVER TAKING PLACE

Outlook for White Metal Good, Says Expert in Article on the Subject.

The story of silver is intertwined with international economic changes of momentous importance.

We venture at the present time to call your attention to the Ontario mining shares, either for investment or speculation.

Supply and demand are, and always have been, the barometer for fixing the price of any commodity that has a world wide market.

When hostilities commenced, the warring nations immediately started to hoard gold, and within a few months the enormous gold coinage of Europe had practically been withdrawn from circulation.

With gold out of circulation, the Governments were compelled to issue an immense amount of silver coins, and as the silver coinage ran into millions of dollars, it soon exhausted the accumulated supplies of the white metal.

Nearly all of the Government mints throughout Europe have worked industriously these past months turning out silver coins, and even Japan has assisted by minting silver coins for Russia.

As the supplies decreased the demand increased, and a few weeks ago the financial world woke up to find the demand larger than the supply.

Now the question is how high will the price go and how long will it remain there? These are the questions that investors in Cobalt silver stocks want answered.

The experts who are predicting one dollar an ounce for silver are not talking wildly, for these predictions are made after they have carefully studied all the known facts.

The silver production for the past few years has steadily decreased, while the demand has just as steadily increased.

Every time silver advances a cent an ounce, it means hundreds of thousands of dollars in extra profits for the producing silver mines of the world.

MARK HARRIS MINES and MINING

The newspapers have been full of the advance in silver and many eminent writers have written articles giving reasons for the high prices.

Silver has advanced rapidly during the past six weeks, until today it is selling at a record breaking figure.

The causes that led to this advance are numerous and far reaching, the chief factors being a decided shortage throughout the world as well as limited, or rather depleted reserve stocks at the principal distributing centres.

Supply and demand are, and always have been, the barometer for fixing the price of any commodity that has a world wide market.

When hostilities commenced, the warring nations immediately started to hoard gold, and within a few months the enormous gold coinage of Europe had practically been withdrawn from circulation.

Liverpool Cabled Lower Quotations Affecting Chicago Prices at Start.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The same conditions which characterized the recent advance in quotations were prevalent again today. Speculation was largely to the railway list, with a new high record for Reading and best prices of a year or more for other issues of the same class.

There was a wider movement in speculative shares reflected after their recent irregularity. Recognized was continued weakness lower by a point or two most of the active season, and shipping stocks were similarly affected, likewise the so-called distilling issues.

Lower quotations from Liverpool with favorable weather in this country were chiefly responsible for weakness in the wheat market during the first part of the day. Bears seemed disposed to connect the earlier decline with turning rate changes, which were said to indicate better peace prospects.

Declines in the value of hogs and of cottonseed oil weakened provisions. On the downturn, however, commission buying as well as shorts, swung to the buying side.

Incidents bearing upon the market included Southern Pacific April statement, showing a net profit of $1,408,000 and an additional gold import from Canada.

The bond market was firm, but without much activity. Sales (par value) aggregated $4,680,000.

Active Stocks Are All Easier and Buoyancy is Shown Only in Unlisted Issues.

Yesterday's business at the Toronto Stock Exchange had all the earmarks of a pre-holiday market. Trading quieted down considerably and prices were shaded down in all the active issues.

Discussing the position of the Canadian Pacific Railway, an American authority says it is true that of the 10 per cent dividend paid by the C. P. R. 7% comes from the railway and 3 per cent from the remainder of the company.

PARIS, May 23.—Prices were firm on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes 2 francs 40 centimes for the period corresponding to a year ago.
