British, French, Russians and Belgians All Win Successes Over The Enemy; London Rejoices Over Glorious Victory

Greater Progress on West Front In Two Days Than Had Been Made In Whole Preceding Year

KAISER MUST CHOOSE ONE OF TWO ALTERNATIVES

Smashing Offensive Continuing Today Along Entire Front in Champagne and More German Positions Have Been Occupied—Advance Along More Than 25 Miles

London, Sept. 27.—In two days the French and British have gained greater results than in the preceding twelve months of fighting. Since the battle of the Marne, with upwards of 20,000 German prisoners in their hands and something like thirty guns without counting machine guns, and with a formidable breach in the German line, the allies apparently have their long expected offensive movement well under way. The advance has been general and its effect is emphasized by the fact that on the eastern front a substantial gain for the Russians is recorded.

RUSSIANS WIN STRIKING VICTORY Petrograd states that the army of Gen. Ivanoff has won a striking victory over the Germans and Austrians in the southeastern theatre, where 1,000 prisoners are said to have been taken.

BELGIANS, TOO, HIT THEM HARD The Belgians also are taking a prominent part in the new offensive movement. Their official announcement reports the capture of a German post on the right bank of the Yser, with the one recent execution by the Germans of adjoining trenches.

KAISER MUST CHOOSE It is believed in London that the new move in the west will again bring the Germans face to face with the necessity of making a choice between the two fronts, as was the case earlier in the war. Military writers point out that the Russians are now holding the Austrians and Germans on a front of 700 miles, while the presence of nearly 2,000,000 strongly entrenched Germans has failed to prevent an advance in France. This, they say, must increase the perplexities of the German general staff and react immediately on any plans which may have been formed for new attacks in the south or southeast.

More German Positions Taken Today Paris, Sept. 27.—The new offensive movement is continuing along the entire front in Champagne. The War Office announced today that further German positions had been occupied.

The announcement also says that all gains in the Artois region in north-western France have been maintained. There is intense cannonading between the Meuse and Moselle and in Lorraine, on the part of both the allies and the Germans.

REJOICING IN LONDON New York, Sept. 27.—A special cable to the Herald from London this morning says:

The congregations in every church in England last night—Established, Roman Catholic and Non-Conformist—rejoiced over the glorious news from the western front that in terrific and continuous battles along the great fighting line from the North Sea to the Vosges the Franco-British soldiers are dislodging the Germans from their strongly fortified positions and have advanced along more than twenty-five miles of front, penetrating to a depth of from two to five miles and capturing more than 20,000 able bodied prisoners.

The British advance north and south of La Bassee completely overshadowed the fighting at Neuve Chapelle in March. It is the most glorious achievement of the allied arms since the German rout in the battle of the Marne.

But while the British advance is a great achievement, it pales when contrasted with the French victory in the Champagne where the German front wall has been shattered into fragments by the gallant French, who have penetrated the German lines to a depth of three miles.

GERMAN LOSSES APPALLING. Apparently the German losses in this great battle are appalling when it is considered the fighting is 'a Potpourri.'

'North of Arras the French, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the British, have inflicted terrific losses on the Germans, forcing them out of what were considered impregnable positions.

GERMAN LOSSES 50,000 TO 60,000 Paris, Sept. 27.—'Is it the greatest advance at last?' is the question that is being asked all over France. Sunday's official communication aroused the liveliest satisfaction.

The military observers, however, are more cautious than the public. They admit that the operations carried out by the British and French were brilliant and declare that if 20,000 prisoners were taken the total German losses must have been at least 50,000 or 60,000 men, but they hesitate to declare on the scant facts available, that this is the beginning of a big offensive manoeuvre.

'The commander-in-chief has not confined his intentions to anybody,' says the Temps. 'It is that which raises hopes. An operation rumored is an operation ended. For the present, let us rejoice over the news and wait with confidence.'

Fair and Cooler Probabilities—Northwesterly gales, clearing; Tuesday decreasing winds, fair and cooler with danger of frost.

ESCAPE FROM FREDERICTON JAIL Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 27.—'Sporty' Jones, awaiting trial on charge of stealing cattle, and George Shaw, charged with theft, escaped from the jail last night. It is said that somebody entered the building through a window and unlocked the door of their cell.

Some local horsemen will leave tonight for Chatham to attend the exhibition races.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK Marseilles, France, Sept. 27.—The British steamer Natal Transport was shelled and sunk by a German submarine on Sept. 17 south of Crete. Its crew of thirty-four was picked up and landed at Piræus, Greece. The sailors were taken from there to Malta.

THE COLUMN OF RELIEF.

(By H. A. Gody) The following lines were composed by the rector of St. James' church and read by him at the close of his sermon on Sunday night, when he made an appeal for men to serve their king and country. Many will remember how General Gordon and his brave soldiers held out against the hordes of the Mahdi's host for long months, every day expecting the relief column to come to their assistance. Two days after Gordon and his men were overmastered and slain. Help arrived, but, alas, too late. Will it be the same now? Will our young men delay in forming the column of relief until these brave men at the front have been overcome by the Teutonic hordes, or will they enlist and strike while there is time?

Thirty years ago, and over, England's bravest met their doom, Nobly fighting for their country. In the streets of quaint Khartoum. Long they kept the old flag flying, Standing by their gallant chief, As they waited—vainly waited— For the Column of Relief. So today in bleeding Belgium, And in far-off shell-torn France, Sons of Empire line the trenches, Holding back the Hun's advance. Fiercer rolls the roar of battle, Louder swells the tide of grief, As they wait—those who were scorned heretofore— For the Column of Relief. Will it be like Gordon's val'rans, In the streets of old Khartoum? Will those far-off reeking trenches Be our Empire's bloody tomb? No, the hero shall not conquer, Men are arming—time is brief, Speedy aid, warriors, help is coming, See! the Column of Relief!

SIMEON JONES DEAD IN LONDON

Prominent For Many Years in The Life of St. John

A cablegram received this afternoon by R. Kettle Jones announced the death of his father, Simeon Jones, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. Landale Wilson in London, England, after an illness of two years.

Mr. Jones was formerly one of the most prominent citizens of St. John, and was active in many departments of public life, filling the office of mayor of the city for three years.

He was born in France, William, York county, in 1829, and had attained the advanced age of eighty-six years. He was a son of the late Thomas Jones and his wife, former Miss Caverhill.

In 1866 Mr. Jones came to St. John and opened the employ of E. Kettle, brewer, afterwards taking over and building up to large proportions the business which still bears his name.

In 1892 Mr. Jones retired from the business and removed to New York, where he was actively interested in business matters for about twelve years when he left New York and settled in London, where he had resided ever since. The news of his death will be learned with great regret by many friends here.

Mr. Jones was married in 1861 to Miss Annie, daughter of D. J. McLaughlin, in Centenary church here. His wife died some years ago. The sons surviving are R. Kettle of St. John, George West Jones of Calgary, Frederick and Simeon A. of St. John, Andrew U. of Montreal.

Another son was Captain Ernest Jones, who gave up his life for his country in the battle of the Mons. Two daughters survive, Mrs. J. Frank Usher of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Mrs. D. Landale Wilson of London. It is not known yet what the funeral arrangements are.

COREY BACK TO STEEL INDUSTRY AND HEAD NEW CORPORATION?

New York, Sept. 26.—William E. Corey, formerly president of the United States Steel Corporation, it is said, is to return to the steel industry and become the head of the new corporation, the Rockefellers and others well known in the financial world are to become associated with him.

Mr. Corey retired from the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation in 1911 after eight years in that office. Since he has continued to be a director of many corporations, although he has spent much of his time in France.

BRITAIN INTERNING ENEMIES WHOLESALE

London, Sept. 27.—Every male German, Turk and Austrian military age in London, who has not been granted exemption, will be required today to surrender to the police. Austrians under fifty-one years of age, and Germans under fifty-five will be interned. Motor buses will convey them to internment camps.

GERMANS ADMIT SUCCESS OF THE ALLIES' BIG DRIVE

Cautiously Worded Berlin Statement is Confirmation of the Great News—Italians Score Another Success

Berlin, Sept. 27.—A German official communication says that after an artillery preparation of great intensity which at some points lasted fifty hours, the expected Anglo-French offensive has begun in the western front.

The text follows: "Along the entire front, from the sea to the Vosges, the enemy fire has increased. It has especially been violent east of Ypres, between the canal of La Bassee and Arras and also in Champagne from Prosees to Argonne. After severe artillery preparations which at some points lasted fifty hours, the expected attack began."

"Between the railways of Ypres, Roulers and Comines, the British attacked early in the morning. The attacks on the northern wings have already been repelled after hand-to-hand fighting before and in our positions. They are further attacking to the southeast and the southeast of Armentières and north of La Bassee Canal."

"On Thursday evening, as has only now become known, the French penetrated our battered trenches near Soissons. The French were again repelled yesterday near Soissons on both sides of the railway on the opposite side of the Champagne from Prosees to the Vosges."

"In part also the attacks collapsed a few steps in front of our obstructions under fire of our infantry and machine guns. The retreating enemy column suffered considerable losses owing to vigorous artillery and machine gun fire."

ITALIANS DRIVE BACK AUSTRIANS Rome, Sept. 27.—The following official statement from general headquarters was issued last night: "On the 26th, after an intense artillery action along our whole front, the enemy attempted two successive attacks, but was repelled on each occasion."

BELGIANS IN AN ARTILLERY FIGHT Paris, Sept. 27.—A Belgian official communication issued yesterday says: "The night was calm. During the day of Sept. 25 the enemy's artillery displayed great activity on the entire front, particularly in the north of Dinant. Our batteries replied, carrying out an effective fire in retaliation on the opposite positions."

Hard Nut To Crack, Says Expert But Looks With Confidence On Allies' Future On Western Front

London, Sept. 27.—Colonel Repington, a noted military expert, discussing the Franco-British advance in this morning's Times, says: "We have a hard nut to crack now that we have passed to the offensive. The ground in front of us is honeycombed with ironclad lines of defence to lighten our task. All the ridges to the east are occupied by the enemy and the Scheldt and the Meuse, in our front, have been fortified by them."

Nevertheless, good generalship can make weight on the decisive points to be attacked, while the high quality of the allied troops provided that generalship with the moral force required for victory. In a spirit of calm confidence in our leaders and men, we can regard the future on the western front."

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS' LOSS IN HEAVY STORM

Reports of heavy damage done along the coast by the storm of yesterday and today continue to be received, so far as can be learned, it is believed that fishermen will suffer losses running into thousands of dollars through destruction of their weirs, landings, and fishing gear.

The gale was still blowing strongly along the Fundy coast this morning, at noon raging about forty miles an hour, but its efforts at further destruction were wasted, for there was little left to be included in its sweep.

In the city, reports of such damage as signs being blown off buildings, small boats drifting, trees falling, and similar accidents were general, but the injuries to the telephone and telegraph wires which blacked the lines yesterday, were repaired and communication with the outside world was again possible. At No. 1 berth, West Side, yesterday, some mud screws worked loose from their moorings, but were brought safely back with the aid of a tugboat.

A Severer Blow. A telephone report from Chance Harbor this morning to the Times said that the damage to the weirs and other fishing gear in that vicinity alone would easily run into $10,000. It might be possible to save some parts and repair them, but for the most part the nets and weirs were totally destroyed. The destruction will seriously cripple the fishing industry, resulting in a prospective loss of many thousands of dollars to the men engaged in it along the bay.

RAFTS BREAK UP IN RIVER UNDER STRESS OF STORM

The violent wind storm this morning played havoc with two large rafts of logs in the St. John river, as they were being towed from Fredericton to this city by the tugs Lillie Glaser and Flushing. The tugs had taken refuge above the breakwater at South Bay, but even there they were not free from the effect of the storm.

About 10 o'clock the lines holding the tow of the Lillie Glaser parted and more than 1,000,000 feet of logs were carried out into the river. The raftmen endeavored to save their charge, and as a result of their efforts a boom was formed and many of the logs kept from being carried away.

The tug Flushing also got into difficulties and lost upwards of 800,000 feet of her tow. The Reach was completely blockaded with logs this morning and a crew of men were vainly endeavoring to collect them. The loss will be quite heavy as the rafts will all have to be reformed, the logs resorted for their owners, and in addition large sums paid to men who salvage the logs which drifted away.

The power boat Crest, owned by Hiram Perry, was driven ashore above Cedar Point by the rush of logs, but was later refloated without having sustained any damage.

Believed Retreat From Moscow is to Be Repeated—British Prove Superiority

(Special Cable to Halifax Evening Mail) London, Sept. 27.—The Franco-British forces have undoubtedly proved their superiority. It is impossible to estimate the amount of booty captured by the allies, but a conservative estimate places it at hundreds of machine guns and many thousands of rifles taken from the enemy, who could not withstand the terrific assaults of the magnificent troops commanded by Sir John French.

Allies Begin Offensive With Glorious Victory

German Line Broken in the West—20,000 Germans, Field Guns and Much Other Material Captured in British and French Advances

London, Sept. 26.—More than 20,000 German prisoners, of whom 200 are officers, a vast quantity of guns and war material, what sum is not yet known, but which include at least twenty-four field guns and the whole of the German first line of fortifications at one point over a width of five miles to a depth of two and one-half miles and at another over a width of fifteen miles to a similar depth have in two days of desperate fighting fallen into the hands of the French and British.

These two gains, the greatest by far for the Allies in the west since the victory of the Marne, came as a result of two tremendous and simultaneous assaults which it turns north to Arras and Ypres. It is north of Arras and just south of LaBassée that the British attacked with the French supporting them on the flank. In point of actual ground gained and of the number of prisoners taken the French assault was the more successful but as far as the immediate tactical results are concerned the British victory is likely to prove more fruitful, because it gave them Hill 70, north of Lens, and only a mile from the outskirts of that city which must now be regarded as in imminent danger of capture.

On the other hand the French by their victory in Champagne have nullified at a blow all the results gained by the German Crown Prince in the recent break through this elaborate network of fortifications on the flank of the great French stronghold of Verdun.

FIRST LINE CARRIED IN RUSH.

In both assaults, however, the actual amount of ground gained is overshadowed by the fact that as admitted by the Germans themselves the Allies carried almost in one rush the whole depth of the German first line of fortifications, consisting of three, four or even five concrete lined trenches each 100 or 200 yards behind the one in front of it bristling with machine guns, trench mortars and howitzers and strengthened by labyrinths of underground burrows and bomb proofs, the work of months of labor and planned by the most skilled military engineers in Germany.

These fortifications have been in existence for nearly a year and have been constantly strengthened in every way that German ingenuity could suggest until their holders themselves believed them virtually impregnable to any assault. The Allies could make against them, and in fact hitherto neither the British nor the English have ever, in their most furious assaults, been able to do more than gnaw away the outer lines one by one at no faster than the Germans were able to build fresh lines in the rear and make the whole position as strong as before.

In the fighting of the last two days, however, the Allies practically in one rush broke clear through this elaborate network of fortifications into the open country behind and thereby compelled the Germans to fall back over a considerable front to their reserve line at some points three miles in the rear.

This second line, moreover, it is reasonable to suppose, can hardly be as strong or as elaborately defended as the first and the French official report of tonight, which says "in Champagne the Germans continue to gain ground" and "the struggle continues on the whole front" indicates that it may already be put to the test.

Saturday morning we attacked the enemy south of LaBassée canal to the east of Grenay and Vermelles," says Sir John French's official report of the British victory "we captured his trenches on a front of over five miles, penetrating his lines in some places for a distance of 4,000 yards (nearly two and one-half miles).

"We captured the western outskirts of Hulluch, the village of Loos and the mining works around it and Hill 70."

Hulluch is on the road from Lens to LaBassée, four miles north of Lens. Loos is only two and one-half miles northeast of Lens and Hill 70 is east of LaBassée road, only a mile from the outskirts of Lens. The British are thus squarely astride the only direct communication between Lens and LaBassée which has been immensely valuable to the Germans in moving their reserves and supplies.

A later statement from Sir John French issued tonight tells of the furious counter-attacks by the Germans on this line which show the importance attached by them to the position lost. There are abundant indications in all the official reports that the whole fighting has been of the most desperate and sanguinary description.

The great importance of the victory around Lens lies in the fact that it is a step toward the recovery of the great coal and iron mines of Northern France of which Lens is one of the centres and which have been used by the Germans to supply them with the raw material for ammunition and guns. Sir John French's report speaks of the capture of the mines around Loos.

The news of the Allied victories was received both here and in Paris with demonstrations of the wildest enthusiasm. Improvised processions formed and marched for hours through the streets cheering wildly and waving French and British flags intertwined.

The victory is regarded everywhere as another triumph of the military genius of General Joffre, who instituted the policy a month ago of battering daily and hourly the German lines with infantry and artillery fire than has ever before been seen. Meanwhile behind this curtain of fire the Allied generals went quietly and methodically about their preparations. All plans were carefully completed, the troops given every opportunity to rest and train like athletes for a supreme effort, and then General Joffre waited patiently for the ceaseless pounding of the artillery had its effect and the moment for the assault arrived.

Newcastle, Sept. 25.—The united Teachers' Institutes of Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche counties met at Bathurst Thursday morning. Principal F. A. Hourihan in the chair.

Inspector G. W. Mesereau was elected chairman, and Principal H. H. Stuart secretary.

Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Hourihan and Mesereau, Chief Superintendent Carter, Miss Robinson, of St. John, and O. Turgeon, M. P.

Inspector Mesereau emphasized the supreme importance of the teacher.

Dr. Carter urged attention to school gardening, Arbor day, cleanliness and neatness of premises, ventilation, attendance at summer courses, etc. He said the teachers having started to raise a machine gun should hasten the completion of the fund.

Principals Kerr, of Campbellton; Hourihan, of Bathurst, and Harrison, of Chatham, were commissioned to receive subscriptions for the machine gun fund.

Inspector Mesereau believed there was

DAINGEROUS TALK

Sir Sam Hughes Criticized For Loose Language

DRAG THAT HALTS RECRUITING

Statement That He Can Get Million Recruits Any Time He Wants Them—What Canada Has Done as Compared With Metherland

(Toronto Globe)

All over the country patriotic meetings are being held especially in districts where recruiting has been slow—at which trained public speakers are appealing to the young men of Canada to enlist and fight for freedom. Much of this work is done by busy men, who assuredly would not engage in it were they convinced that an ample supply of recruits could be obtained without effort.

The statements of General Hughes, Minister of Militia, that he can get a million recruits any time he wants them and that men are coming forward twice as rapidly as they are required, have caused amazement and consternation among those engaged in the recruiting campaign. Such a ridiculous " brag" is calculated to stop the stream of recruits at the very time when the need for them is becoming more urgent. There are thousands of young men offering now not because of a desire for adventure or the hope of winning fame, but because they believe there is pressing need for their help to destroy German militarism. If Sir Sam Hughes can get a million recruits any time he wants them, serious young Canadians on the point of sacrificing good positions and imperiling their careers at the call of their country will cease to regard that call as urgent, and will be disposed to draw back.

They will naturally regard the stirring speeches of the members of the recruiting league as overdrawn and the statements made about slow recruiting as false.

General Hughes' bragging talk is dangerous also because it leads the Canadian people generally to believe that they have done and are doing their full share in carrying on the great war. The truth is that the proportion of Canadian troops despatched to the seat of war and actually at the front is lower than that of any other overseas dominion, and very much below the percentage of men sent out from Great Britain. In Canada up to the present time the total enlistment has been about 1 1/2 per cent of the

MORNING NEWS OF WAR

London, Sept. 26, 7:25 p. m.—The Bulgarian government this morning officially communicated to the powers a note stating in the most categorical fashion that the mobilization of the Bulgarian army was ordered in the national interest and that it had not the slightest offensive character. The note states: "The entry of Bulgaria into a state of armed neutrality is explained by changes which recently occurred in the political situation" and that "Bulgaria has not the slightest aggressive intention, but is firmly resolved to be equally fully armed to defend her rights and independence."

Petrograd, Sept. 25, via London, Sept. 26.—Between September 2 and 20th, 45,000 Austrian prisoners including 10,000 sick or wounded passed through Kiev on the way to Moscow and Voronezh.

Amsterdam, Sept. 25, via London, Sept. 26.—British warships again bombarded the Belgian town of Zeebrugge this morning. Three ships were engaged. The flashes of their heavy guns were visible on the Dutch coast.

THE DRAFTS WILL GO FORWARD AS USUAL

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—It is denied at the militia department that the system of sending drafts as reinforcements had been abandoned. As a matter of fact, drafts to the extent of some 5,000 men have been called for throughout the country. A statement purporting to be official was published that it was the intention in future to send only battalions as units, and that there were to be no drafts. This statement is denied, and it is said that no official sanction was given for such a statement. There will likely be some battalions in the future as in the past sent forward as units, and recently twelve battalions were forwarded, but the draft system will not be entirely abandoned.

EACH MOURNING OTHER DEAD, SOLDIER CHUMS MEET IN LONDON

Comrades in Work and in Trenches—Wounded in Same Battle But Sent to Different Hospitals

Quebec, Sept. 25.—A story brought in a letter from the front relates the adventures of two Quebec boys who, after fighting side by side for months in the trenches, were wounded in the same battle, taken to different hospitals, and later reported to each other dead.

They have just found each other in the thronged streets of London after mourning each other for more than four months.

The men are Joseph Rochette, private, and Alfred Belanger, private. Both belong to Quebec district, and left with the first Canadian contingent in August, 1914. The two men worked together at the Grand Mere plants of the Laurentide Pulp Company, and fought in the trenches together.

In April both were wounded on the same day at the second battle of Ypres, and were sent to different hospitals, being later reported to each other as having died of their wounds.

After four months' stay in their respective hospitals, they met unexpectedly last week in the streets of London. They have been sent to the front again.

Sunday School Rally

The Sunday school rally in St. John's Presbyterian church yesterday was largely attended, and a good programme was given, especially at the afternoon session, a feature of which was an address by Miss Alice Craig, formerly of this city, now residing in Lynn, Mass. A solo was given by Miss Evelyn Dempster. The order of service was taken issue that prepared by the Association of South school, with some modifications. A large children's choir led the praise service morning and evening. Seven grade roll members were admitted to full membership and certificates for memorised Scripture were presented to Evelyn Manning, Grace Anderson, Freda McFarland and Margaret Anderson.

FOUNTAIN PEN LEADS TO HIS CONVICTION

Boston, Sept. 27.—A fountain pen filled with ink of a peculiar green was the link in a chain of circumstantial evidence.

The police charge that Snyder got into the green ink and the fountain pen would have gone free.

When arrested he had but a single dollar in his possession, although he had hired a room at the Lennox, and the police found a "cheque" check for $25 in his room.

He said that on June 30 he passed a check for $25 on the Hotel Touraine under the name of R. D. Snyder, and that on July 2 he passed another check for $25.00.

The prisoner told Judge Burke that he had never registered at the Touraine but that his brother, Carl, had stopped there last summer.

He explained the presence of several blank checks in his baggage by saying he had put some of his brother's things in his bag.

He and his brother are telegraphers, he said. His story was perfect to this point, when it developed that the Touraine checks were indorsed with ink of peculiar green color.

Inspector Linton produced a fountain pen, which the prisoner acknowledged was his and showed the court that it contained ink of a color identical with that of the indorsements.

Why this should be so the prisoner could not explain. He said he had filed the fountain pen with green ink in Chicago, some weeks ago.

WANTED THAT DRINK

A voice in the dark—"Mamma please give me a drink of water; I'm so thirsty." "No; you're not thirsty. Turn over and go to sleep." "Mamma, won't you please give me a drink? I'm so thirsty." "If you don't turn over and go to sleep, I'll get up and whip you!" Another pause. "Mamma, won't you please give me a drink when you get up to whip me?"

THE CALL TO SERVICE

The following are extracts from speeches at a recruiting meeting in Halifax: "One year from tonight the very destiny of Canada as a British country may be sealed for ever. One year from tonight the old flag which has waved over our forefathers for generations and which we love, may be trailed in the dust. It can only be prevented by the manhood of the country and of the British Empire."—Lieut. H. B. Clark. "To what country did Germany turn her eye for expansion of empire?—Canada. To get Canada she must have war, and something more, she must have victory, which, pray God, she will never have. The men at the front today are fighting for Canada, for their home and their children and their children and their children and their children and their children."—Mr. Justice Ritchie. "Some men make big excuses, but like sieves, they will not hold water. You are not cowards, but you do not take this thing seriously. You must make up your mind to assist. You can't send some one in your place. You must say 'I'll go. It's my duty.' If you go you will be 100 per cent. of a man. If you stay, you are only three per cent. of a man. Wake up, we are tired of talking to you. Put your name to the honor roll and do your bit."—Gunner Belyas.

MUST ROUSE THE SPIRIT OF PATRIOTISM AND SACRIFICE

Rev. Dr. Morison Urges Need of More General Knowledge of Issues at Stake—Thirty Applicants for Enlistment

Further confirmation of the belief that the carrying out of the recruiting meetings in the city was afforded by the return on Saturday when at the Mill street office eight men were finally passed and fourteen others applied and will probably be attested today. That gives a visible total for the Friday evening meetings of at least thirty, a number that exceeds by a small margin the best record for one day's work, Sept. 13, when 29 men enlisted, since the campaign began. The total for the three weeks has been 237 enlistments.

Another innovation was tried with success last night when a meeting was held at the Imperial Theatre. This was largely attended and Rev. J. A. Morison, D. D. of West St. John, gave an address in which he declared that he had been strongly impressed lately with the need for an educational campaign in the province to teach the people the why and the wherefore of the war from the very beginning. A good many decent people, he said very pointedly, did not understand the first reason why their sons and brothers should be sent to fight what was, if they could only realize it, the fight for their own freedom. He suggested that delegates from every town of any size in Canada be sent to the battlefield to come back and tell the people of the imperative need for more men; that school teachers hold a conference to see what could be done to forward the teaching of the progress of the war from week to week; that maps of the war be supplied to the schools and that the story of the war from day to day take the place of the history lesson. These things he suggested, Dr. Morison said, because he was convinced that the people did not yet grasp a tenth of the need for one vast effort now.

"We are forty years late in getting the start in teaching patriotism and the necessity of defending what our forefathers won for us. Preachers have given sermons and the press has carried on a good work that has given thousands upon thousands of dollars to the cause but still the people are unmoved. We must go all over the ground from A to Z and, believe me, we must start at A."

The recruits enrolled on Saturday were: Thomas Carey, St. John; J. R. Miller, McAdam Junction; William Fenney, St. John; Harold Gayens, St. John; James Mulholland, St. John; Frank Fish, St. John; Louis Rogers, St. John; Michael Lee, St. John.

No meetings were held on Saturday. Last night's meeting at the Imperial Theatre, which had once again been loaned for this purpose by the management and W. H. Golding, was presided over by Senator W. H. Thorne. Two hymns were sung well by the men present. Stand Up for Jesus and Onward Christian Soldiers, assisted by the Imperial orchestra, which with one or two additions volunteered its services. Some interesting views of the 20th battalion on board the transport and in camp in England, taken by one of themselves, were shown and will be part of the ordinary features of the Imperial this week.

Dr. Morison, in the course of his spirited address, said:

"DEAR MOTHER:— A good thing to send would be a package of Grape-Nuts, or something of that kind that is not expensive or heavy and is of good food value. Your son, WILL"

Wherever hardships are endured, wherever big deeds are accomplished, there a food is demanded that provides maximum of value in brain and body-building material with minimum of bulk.

In this respect no other food equals

Grape-Nuts

In building the Panama Canal thousands of brain workers as well as brawn workers kept themselves fit and in trim by eating Grape-Nuts dry from the package. Not only does Grape-Nuts supply all the brain-and-bone-building, nerve-and-muscle-making elements of choicest wheat but also the rich nutriment of malted barley. Grape-Nuts is highly concentrated nourishment in compact form—always ready, crisp and delicious—thoroughly baked and packaged to keep indefinitely, anywhere.

Wherever time is precious and sound nourishment vital you'll find Grape-Nuts.

WAS ON HESPERIAN

Michael Leahy, Wounded Moncton Soldier, Had Double Experience

Michael Leahy, son of Mrs. Thomas Leahy, of Moncton, who was wounded some months ago, while serving at the front with the 10th Winnipeg Battalion, known as "The Little Black Devils," is expected to arrive in Moncton within a few days. Pte. Leahy was among the Canadian wounded who were passengers on the ill-fated "Hesperian," which was torpedoed and sunk by the Germans off the Irish coast.

Pte. Leahy is a brother of Miss Gertrude Leahy, of the N. B. Telephone Company staff, Moncton, and I. C. R. Brakeman Frank Leahy. He lost everything he owned on the Hesperian, and in a letter to his mother says:—"After being through what I have been in Belgium and France, and then to be on a ship which was torpedoed by the Germans, seems to be about the limit."

"I will never forget the night our steamer sank as long as I live. I have seen lots of suffering at the front, but the cries of the drowning were terrible. The women and children who were saved certainly gave us Canadians great praise for helping them into life belts and putting them into boats."

SAW SUBMARINE SINK HESPERIAN

British Captain Has Filed a Statement

AVOIDED A LIKE FATE

Submarine Was Making Directly For the Crosby But Captain Managed to Get Away From the Underwater Craft

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 27.—Capt. Smellie of the British Steamship Crosby has filed with the British consul at Newport News a statement to the effect that he witnessed the sinking of the Allan liner Hesperian by a torpedo fired from a German submarine.

He says the submarine gave chase to the Crosby and that only by putting on full steam and steering a zig-zag course in the darkness was he able to escape.

Capt. Smellie's statement, it was said, will be sent to the British admiralty to refute the contention from Berlin that the Hesperian was sunk by a floating mine.

Capt. Smellie says he left London on Aug. 31 for Newport News, and that late in the afternoon of Sept. 4 he sighted a liner a few miles off his starboard bow. He later learned that the vessel was the Hesperian. Just about dark, he says, the liner appeared to give a lurch and began to sink by the head. He got the bow of his vessel around when he discovered a submarine making directly for him.

He was forced to turn his vessel around and rang for full speed ahead. Then he sent a warning to the fire room to put on all steam the vessel could stand. He kept the stern of his vessel towards the submarine and steered a zig-zag course. All lights on the Crosby were extinguished. He says the submarine did not fire on his vessel and when morning came it had disappeared.

Combs Signs for Three Years Cincinnati, Sept. 26.—A contract with the Dodgers covering the next three seasons has been signed by Jack Combs, veteran pitcher. Combs declared that though he turned down the offer to be coach of Yale's nine he may instruct the Blue pitchers next spring prior to March 1, when he will report to take the southern training trip with the Brooklyn club. Bender Sings Federals Pittsburgh, Sept. 25.—Charles A. ("Chief") Bender, formerly with the Philadelphia American baseball club who this year played with the Baltimore of the Federal league, yesterday filed suit in court here against the Federal league, asking judgment for $1,068, which he claims is due him on a contract for his services. In his petition Bender alleges that he signed a contract for two years at $7,200, but recently he was unconditionally released. The Pittsburgh and Buffalo Federal League clubs, playing here today, were made the parishies in the suit. Fined $300 Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—John J. Kilkenny and James Walsh of Wilkesbarre, who recently were indicted on charges of violating the federal statutes in operating a baseball pool in which they gave prizes for correct guesses on the results of major league games, pleaded guilty in the U. S. district court here on Friday and were fined $300 each. Kilkenny and Walsh published a weekly paper in Wilkesbarre and later in Allentown in connection with which they distributed the prizes. The government contended that this constituted a lottery in violation of law. TURF At Moospath Saturday A good day's sport at Moospath Saturday was attended by a fair crowd. There was a cold wind blowing which was against fast time. All the races were well contested, Klondyke winning the racing race in three straight heats, best time 2:31. In the trotting race Border Prince, a four-year-old stallion owned by Thos. Hayes, took the first heat the next two going to Mary McDougall, Iowa Parolee third. Lunacy, a three-year-old, went an exhibition half mile in 1:28 driven by a boy twelve years old. He is a very big gaited trotter. Two New 210 Trotters From the reports of recent meetings are found two new 210 trotters—Lettie Hall, 210, and Slip Past, 2:09 1/2—the first named having secured her new record at a breeders' meeting in Hartford, Conn., on Sept. 18, while the new mark of Slip Past was taken during the Great Western Circuit meeting at Milwaukee, Wis., on Sept. 17. As her name signifies Lettie Hall, now owned by William S. Tod of New York, is a daughter of Walnut Hall, 2:08 1/2, she being his sixth 210 trotter and a product of Walnut Hall Farm, Slip Past, although bred in Kansas, is now owned in Illinois, and has been campaigned this season by W. B. Taylor of Sedalia, Mo., who has brought out in my good trotters, including Early Alice, 2:06 3/4, the mare that he raced on the Grand Circuit a few years ago. Only two reductions are noted, Lizzie Brown having lowered her previous record of 2:07 1/2 to 2:06 1/2, and Jaramie Lead cutting a half second off his former mark. There are now thirty-two new 210 trotters in this year's list. DRIVING BALL PLAYERS THING OF THE PAST So Says Manager Fohl of the Cleveland American League Team. The baseball manager who wants to make a success of it these days will forget that John McGraw and Frank Chance won pennants by driving their players. Such is the philosophy of Lee Fohl, temporary manager of the Cleveland Indians, who most likely will start the 1916 campaign as their regular manager. Fohl has won a lot of pennants but hasn't had much big league experience when given control of the Indians. He was always a shark and at bringing out young players, especially pitchers so some had no hesitancy about promoting him from coach to manager. "The way to run a ball club is to study your players' faces, figure out the best way to handle each man and then wield the whole bunch into a machine without riding any of them," Fohl says. "Ball players of today are more sensitive than those of ten years ago. You can't get anywhere by driving them. Hammer them work into them, let each one work his own problems most of the time and correct their mistakes without handing around baseball bats. A manager could not send a batter up to the plate with definite orders," says Fohl. "Any time you put a batter under orders you are taking something away from him for, in following instructions he may be forced to let a grand opportunity pass. Pitchers should not be worked too hard in the spring training camp. That's when their arms are the weakest, but the reason is to make them do more than twice as much labor then as they will be called upon to perform later on when their arms are strong. "The time for a ball club to cut loose and take chances is when it's behind. A team on the short end of the score seems doomed to lose anyhow, so why not risk everything on a chance of making the break come your way?" Like Clarence Rowland of the White Sox Fohl is a "busher." But where Rowland has been handed the biggest stars Comiskey could buy for him, Fohl has had to work with a very limited backing. Still he has improved his team.

THE DISPUTES RIGHT OF WILLARD TO THIS TITLE. In Jesse Willard, heavyweight champion boxer, of the world, also champion athlete of the world, as he is styled by his managers and publicity seekers? It seems Willard is attaching himself to a lot of honors many of which might take a lot of vigorous contention to uphold. Dr. B. F. Roller, one of America's best wrestlers, thinks Willard is far from being the champion athlete of the world, while conceding that Willard is the champion fighter. Dr. Roller writes: "What does Willard mean by champion athlete? If he means champion boxer let him say so and I will not argue. If he means that he is the champion of the world in the majority of athletic exercises, namely, fencing, shooting, running, jumping, handball, swimming, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, pole vaulting and football, not to mention tennis and golf, I feel perfectly sure I could easily beat him in eight. At least I am willing to try it. "I do not sweepingly contend that I am the champion athlete of the world, but at least I think I have a far better claim to the title than has Willard. Dr. Roller also brings out the question of supremacy between fighters and wrestlers. He claims that wrestling is a far better means of self-defense and recently challenged Willard to a mixed match in order to prove this contention. Willard so far has ignored his challenge, in explanation of his challenge Dr. Roller writes: "I am not seeking notoriety, trouble or money in this matter, I simply am trying to prove that boxing as a means of self-defense is not in a class with wrestling. I am willing to meet Willard in public or private for nothing or much less than $100-a-you-please and I am confident he will be tied in a knot so quickly he will not know what hit him. A veteran sporting man discussing such a match agreed that Dr. Roller possibly would have an easy time beating Willard at such a match, but suggested that "Sam" Langford would easily defeat Roller. He said that mixed matches of this character have been held before and mentioned "Kid" McCoy's easy victory over an exponent of Savate in Paris. A Wise Kid "Johnny, do you know that your mother has been looking for you?" asked the neighbor next door. "Sure, I do," replied Johnny "that's the reason she can't find me."

ACCUSE LABOR LEADERS OF CAUSING MAN'S DEATH. New York, Sept. 27.—The trial of seven officials of the Cloak and Suit Makers' Union, accused of procuring the death of Abraham Liebowitz, who was beaten to death during the Garment Workers' strike of 1914, after he had obtained non-union employment. Assistant District Attorney Delehanty, in addressing the jury, called the case "A plain and unvarnished story of deliberate murder." He told how Liebowitz, with a wife and five children to support, went on strike with other members of the union. Unable to provide for them, however, he sought work in a non-union shop in Hunter, N. Y., from whence, according to the prosecutor, he was induced to return. Then, at the headquarters of the union, said the state attorney, "an organized assault" was made on him which resulted in his death later in a hospital. All the defendants, he declared, participated in the assault, either actually or by consent, and all were equally culpable.

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 26.—The All-Alaska team of racing dogs, winners of the famous 412 mile all-Alaska sweepstake race, was sold on Friday to Lieutenant Mass of the French army, who will take the dogs to France for use in Alpine service. A. A. (Scotty) Allan, a noted racing dog driver, will accompany them. Lieutenant Haas bought all the dogs and equipment owned by Allan and Mrs. Charles E. Darling of Berkeley, California. The French officer also bought the pick of the dogs in this camp. Altogether a total of 100 dogs and several sleighs were taken for French army service.

EIGHT ON HONOR ROLL; ARE WEARING KHAKI
Fairville Methodist S. S. Rally—Baptist Service Discontinued as Lights Went Out

The annual meeting of the Fairville Methodist Sunday school was held yesterday afternoon and in spite of the inclement weather there was a good attendance. J. Hunter White of St. John delivered the annual address and was attentively followed. Wm. Symonds, representative for the quarterly official board of the church spoke, for that body and Rev. Gilbert Egan, the pastor, also addressed the gathering.
An interesting item on the programme was the reading of a roll of honor of the eight young men of Methodist connection who have answered the call and donned the khaki uniform. They are Harold Hanson, Roland Green, Walter Scott, Herbert Ferris, Cyril Hanson, Guy Ferris, Frank Linton and Percy Symonds. The reading of the list was followed by singing of the national anthem.
The decorations of the school room for yesterday's service were a feature in themselves the flowers especially receiving much favorable comment.
A rally of the Baptist Sunday school scheduled for last evening was postponed owing to the severe storm. A good start had been made in the programme when the church lights went out and the service was discontinued. The rally will be observed on Sunday evening. Diplomas will be awarded to the scholars who graduated.

"A Lift or a Load"
Mr. Retailer, how many of the brands you carry on your shelves are a "lift" and how many are a "load"?
How many do you have to push by sheer weight in order to sell?
How many actually serve to bring customers to your store and so lift your business?
Is it not a fact that goods advertised in the newspapers contribute a lift?
Is it not to your interest to favor newspaper advertised products?
