New British Army of 1,100,000 In France; Allies Are Reported Ready For Great Drive

New York, April 12—A British army of 1,100,000 strong has been transported to France during the last six weeks, according to E. Thompson Seton, a well-known Canadian author and naturalist, here from England. They were shipped at Southampton and Portsmouth and landed in Havre and Bordeaux. One-half of this army is already at the front.

"The great drive planned by the allies for May," he said, "is all prepared and may be launched before that date."

BRITISH GIANT OF 40 KNOTS SPEED

Story of English Battleship of Amazing Proportions to be Most Powerful War Vessel Afloat

New York, April 12—According to a report from London received by the Tribune, England has laid down a new battleship of amazing proportions, which will be by far the most powerful craft afloat. It will mark a change in battleship construction, exceeding that which came when the first dreadnaught was built.

It will necessitate the adoption of new methods in battleship construction by all nations, and will halt the construction programme of the United States. It is impossible, in view of the absolute secrecy surrounding all British naval construction, to verify absolutely the facts about this new sea monster, but the Tribune's information comes from a trustworthy source. It is said that this great new ship will be 300 feet in length, will carry six 15-inch guns, and have the wonderful speed of forty knots.

At present, the Queen Elizabeth, now at the Dardanelles, stands as the most powerful engine of war afloat. She is, however, only 650 feet in length, but carries eight 15-inch guns. She is oil driven, as the new ship will be. In the craft now planned, armament is sacrificed for increased speed. The increased length gives the great boiler and engine room capacity needed to produce such speed.

KITCHENER'S CALL WELCOMED BY MEN IN TRAINING HERE

The announcement from Ottawa that Lord Kitchener was about ready to receive more of the overseas volunteers aroused keen interest among all readers, but was received with special cheer by all the lads in uniform training in St. John. They have been pining to get away.

It is expected that renewed activity will be apparent in the work of recruiting for the 5th, following Lord Kitchener's request for more men. Advice to the headquarters of the unit here show that the number is steadily approaching 700. It is not known how many have been enrolled in Prince Edward Island, nor what the total is at certain points in the province. Dr. Gardner, M. O. with the 20th was at Sussex on Saturday and out of thirty-three recruits examined, he accepted thirty-one as physically fit.

HEALTH BREAKS DOWN; SIR MAX BACK TO ENGLAND

London, April 12—Sir Max Aitkin, M. P., official eye-witness of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, has been compelled to return to England from the front on account of ill-health and the probability is that he will be unable to resume his duties for some time.

FOR DURABLE PEACE WHEN WAR IS OVER

The Hague, April 12—For three days there has been a private discussion of peace by a conference consisting of thirty delegates from Holland, Sweden, Norway, England, Germany, United States, Belgium, and Switzerland. A programme for action in the various countries was drafted.

The object was not to suggest steps to bring the war to an end, but to consider by what principles the future peace of the world would best be guaranteed. A central committee for a durable peace has been created.

Have Reached Point 20 Miles From Border—General Advance Along 125 Mile Front—German Officers Torture Prisoner

Petrograd, April 12—The Petrograd correspondent of the London Morning Post says—A Russian spy was caught on March 29, on German territory north of Myslow, and taken to German headquarters. Here ten German officers held a whole hour torturing the man to extract information about Russian troops. He resolutely declined to betray his country. When the officers tired of torturing him, he was placed under guard as a prisoner of war, but continued to get away and returned to his own lines. He was rewarded with the cross of St. George of the first class, and a gift of money for loyalty to his soldier's oath.

AT THE RANGE

One of the most interesting features of the competitions at the city rifle range last week was a fierce struggle for supremacy among the ladies in the standing shooting class. Early in the week Mrs. R. P. Cowan put on the score of 92 and the other ladies made the most persevering efforts to better the mark.

CHAMPLAIN WAS UP THE BELLEISLE

The steamer Champlain arrived down river this afternoon a little after one o'clock, having made a successful trip to Hatfield's Point, Belleisle. When the steamer left Indianstone on Saturday, Manager Orchard said they did not expect to be able to get above Batters' Wharf, but, as the ice was broken up, they were able to sail up the Belleisle. The steamer brought to the city a good sized cargo of general produce.

YOUNG TURKS DEMAND THAT GERMANS OPEN WAY FOR WAR SUPPLIES

London, April 12—The Times Sofia correspondent says that the Young Turks have demanded the despatch of a German army of 800,000 men across the Danube in order to open the road for some of us to give a few facts in regard to the composition of the rank and file of those in uniform. There is said to be a black sheep in every home, but this does not mean that all of the family are low-down and mean.

CANADIANS AGAIN ARE IN THE TRENCHES, DOING FULL SHARE

Toronto, April 12—A Mail and Empire London special says—After their two weeks rest, the Canadians marched back to the trenches, and are now doing their full share of the fighting. Snipers are the chief annoyance. An officer just back says they have steel protected loopholes that automatically close immediately a shot is fired. Their rifles are also equipped with telescopic sights.

Snipers Chief Source of Annoyance—Germans Do Not Relish Combat With Dominion Sons—Lacrosse For Recreation

Nearly every night the Canadians hear the steady tramp of moving troops. Machine guns are turned on them with one effect. Several times Canadian patrols have clashed with the Germans at night in the open. Individual snipers have resulted, only bayonets and clubbed rifles being used, because the shooting would draw the fire from both trenches. There are few of these fights, because the German patrols usually run from the Canadians.

HAD DYSPEPSIA

So Bad Could Not Take a Drink of Water Without Suffering.

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure. You eat too much. Drink too much. Use too much tobacco. You make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against you. It is only a matter of a short time before dyspepsia follows.

That old, forty year old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we have received from time to time.

Miss Sarah McRae, Newfield, Ont., writes: "I write to say that I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters, and have found it the best remedy I have ever used for dyspepsia. Two years ago, I had stomach trouble so bad that I could not even take a drink of water without suffering. I took six bottles of B.B.B., and have been entirely cured, and can now eat anything without any bad effects."

Burdock Blood Bitters is an old and well tried remedy but on account of the many substitutes we would ask you to make sure that our name appears on both the label and wrapper as this preparation is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS

BANK OF B. N. A. IN SPLENDID POSITION

Cash Assets of $10,600,000. Double Amount Reported in 1914—Donations of $25,000 to Patriotic Funds—Usual Dividend.

Elsewhere in this issue we publish the 19th annual statement of the Bank of British North America, presented to the shareholders at the annual general meeting, which took place at the head office of the bank in London, on March 2, 1915.

An examination of the figures reveals a position of unusual strength, the cash assets amounting to $10,600,000, which is just twice as much as reported on the statement a year ago, and equal to 84 per cent. of the bank's immediate liabilities. A position of such strength cannot fail to command the confidence of depositors, and it is not surprising to find that, despite the stress of the present times, the deposits have increased by upwards of $4,000,000.

Current loans in Canada show a decrease, but so slight that it is evident that the requirements of borrowing customers have received very considerable attention, despite the shortening of the bank's loanable resources by its greatly increased cash reserves.

The bank's policy for some time past has been one of restraint, and while loans to customers for the legitimate needs of their business have not been curtailed, business of a speculative character has been discouraged. The outbreak of the war, therefore, found the bank unusually well prepared to meet the situation.

Net profits, which stand at $646,000, are naturally less than in 1914, but the eight per cent. dividend has been maintained. Generous grants have been made to the various funds for the benefit of the staff, while donations approximating $25,000 have been made to the Canadian patriotic and Red Cross funds.

In the defence of the empire, the staff of the Bank of British North America as well as the front staff, 15 per cent. being at present on active service.

FIVE PER CENT WAR TAX

What it Adds to the Cost of a Suit of Clothes.

Should you buy a suit this year from cloth imported since February 19th, you will pay from 19 to 60 cents to the cost of buying the material. The war tax on British woolsens is 6 per cent, and cloth costs from four to twelve shillings a yard. On three-dollar material the total war duties on a suit length would be $7.12.

On the Semi-rigid clothes for this summer this tax will not be felt, as all the cloth for this season was imported before the war. LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nubody Will Know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We can know or get from any drug store a fifty cent bottle of "Wyett's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommended this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one section at a time, and in a few mornings the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color and lustrousness, and you appear years younger.

FAIRVILLE CHURCHES ON LIQUOR QUESTION

In the Fairville Baptist church the sixteen young people to whom baptism had been administered on Easter Sunday, were formally admitted into full church membership and extended the right hand of fellowship by Rev. P. R. Hayward last evening. Six other candidates were also admitted by letter, making twenty-two new members.

Mr. Hayward says that some of his congregation had written the legislators at Fredericton urging the temperance cause and he called upon all others to do likewise. The church has already voted publicly on the question.

While he had seen the king's uniform disagreed by members of the battalion now training here, he said that no finer lot of men had ever been gotten together than the 26th as a whole and he blamed abnormal conditions and the un-keeping more than the soldier who had given way to excess. The uniform made the soldier a marked man and his patriotic grasping attitude of the saloon keeper more than the soldier who had given way to excess. COULD NOT GO TEN STEPS FOR THE PAIN IN HIS KIDNEYS.

When you get a pain in the back you may rest assured that it comes from degeneration of the kidneys, for were there not something wrong with the kidneys the back should be strong and well.

Doan's Kidney Pills regulate the kidneys, and there is no further cause for any kidney trouble to exist. What more needs to be said? While Doan's Kidney Pills are not a "balm for every ill that flesh is heir to," they are a positive, never-failing remedy for every disease that has its inception in the improper action in those delicate little filters of the blood, the kidneys.

Mr. Adelard Clowry, Eggenville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for four years. They were so bad, at times, I could not go ten steps for the pain they caused me. My doctor could not do me any good. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I bought five boxes, and now I have been cured for over three years. I will recommend them to whoever may be suffering from kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c per box; 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

GETTING READY.

Two significant statements are made in the cables to this morning's papers. One is that Kitchener's call for the second Canadian contingent has come, and the other is that another great two-week recruiting campaign has opened in England.

It would appear that great events in the war zone are impending. Lord Kitchener said many months ago that the real war would begin the first of May. We are now nearing the middle of April.

RIGHT MONTHS OF WAR.

In spite of the fact that German armies are still in Belgium and France and in a small portion of Russian territory, it must be dawned upon the German people after eight months of war that they are doomed to defeat.

ILLEGAL SELLING.

The police will do a good work if they are able to put an end to the peddling of liquor Saturday nights and Sundays and at other times when the saloons are closed.

exist clubs at which young men and mere youths congregate and have a supply of liquor, and from week to week and month to month confirm themselves in habits which have a tendency to make them at a later period customers of the pocket pedler and denizens of the jail.

The citizen who is interested in baseball is beginning to read up the rules for 1915, and to ask what the prospects are in St. John for the coming season.

It is announced that Ex-President Roosevelt is to travel in Canada this year. Perhaps he will come down and give that long promised address before the St. John Canadian Club.

The work of recruiting the 58th Battalion is progressing very well. More than 600 men are already enrolled and are under training at various points in the province.

Mr. Tilley advises public men in this country to follow the example of the heads of the realm in England and give up the use of liquor during the war.

Russia has already given local edification to towns in Poland, and has offered an apparently satisfactory solution of the language question. The Jewish population is to have a fair degree of representation. Russia has not always kept her pledges to the Poles, but she is now making a good beginning.

The last of the German commerce raiders is off the sea. The Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which sank twelve British, two French and one Norwegian vessel, arrived at Newport News, and although the despatches say it is not known whether she will intern or not, it may be assumed that she will not risk an encounter with British and French cruisers which, knowing where she is, will be lying in wait for her.

Hon. Robert Rogers on Saturday declared himself in favor of a general election; making the senate the issue. His real desire is to run a flag election and snatch a favorable verdict from the people before any further revelations, such as those in connection with military supplies, are made at Ottawa.

The Standard this morning features a statement made by Mr. Hazen concerning the naval service. Mr. Hazen in the course of his speech showed that the Borden government manifested their faith in the existence of an emergency by having the cruiser Niobe "laid up at Halifax with a care and maintenance crew on board."

The Chatham World, discussing the fact that $2,000 given by the Dalhousie Lumber Company to W. H. Berry on stampage account was passed on to J. W. Brantley of the Miramichi Lumber Company without any record of the transaction in the public accounts, says that Mr. Flemming, if the money was due the last named company, should have paid it openly and above board.

In the seven months ended with January the United States exported 8,972 commercial motor vehicles valued at $10,269,442. This is an increase of 81 per cent over the same period a year ago.

No fewer than ninety-three vessels, of a total of 846,455 tons, were launched on the river Tyne last year.

LIGHTER VEIN

Value of a Promise Mr. Thomas Atkins, a hospital orderly, was being put through his paces by a hospital sister as regards his practical knowledge.

"And what do you do in case of collapse?" she asked. "Give him some brandy, miss."

"But supposing you had no brandy?" "Sure, then, I'd promise him some, miss."

Those Dear Girls. Miss Olden—I'd just like to see any man kiss me. Miss Young—What a hopeless ambition!

His Reason. "Why don't you pay your debts, you've got the money?" "But I wouldn't have it if I paid my debts."

Sympathetic Sandy. Though a terrible foe the Highland lad is a tender-hearted child. For when the battle is done, ead! He carries his kilt from the field.

Hopeless. Maud—I said to Jack that I wasn't going to return his ring until I got one from another man. Ethel—He told me he never expected to get it back.

Devotion. She—Would you leave your home for me? I'd leave a baseball game in the ninth inning with the score tie.

"Very remarkable," said the man of ponderous manner. "This diatremism that has been adorning a large seal seems very curious."

"What a diatremism!" "Why—a diatremism is another place to dine."—Washington Star.

"I am sorry, but I advertised for a Scandinavian cook," said Mrs. White. "Evidently," replied Parsylyria Pearl Waddles, "what chance do you make what a lady's 'ligion am, des so's she kin cook?"—Judge.

If every mother could try Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing, skin irritations and resulting eczema which torture so many babies, what a blessing it would be for the little ones. This letter will give you an idea of what a wonderful work this Ointment is doing in the way of bringing comfort to children who are so unfortunate as to contract Eczema. It is so easy for this trouble to develop from chafing or irritation caused by the clothing and so difficult to get it cured, that Dr. Chase's Ointment is appreciated when once its healing qualities are known. Mr. M. L. Ducloux, Postmaster, Duganville, N. B., writes "I believe it is my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema. My baby was seized with eczema and his face and arms were covered with the terrible disease. A STRANGE CASE

Story of Girl Prisoner in New York Tombs

HER DREAM FRANCE

Affluence of Baker's Daughter and Sale of Customs House Jobs to Neighbors—Arrest When No Positions Materialize

Locked up in the New York Tombs, a federal prisoner, charged with assisting two dozen confiding persons to give her $100 each to get them jobs in the United States customs service, Caroline Klink, seventeen years old, fair haired, big blue eyes and pretty. There is a streak of the romantic in her and she liked to dream of knights and princes and a swoon with power and $1,000,000.

It was this sweetheart, who, the customs authorities believe, seduced only in the imagination of the girl, that brought about the arrest of herself and of her father, Jacob Klink, a tailor. Ever since her arrest she has persisted in talking of her lover who is to come like the knight of old any and rescue her from her prison.

The troubles of Jacob Klink and his daughter began with the new year. The story of their property and arrest is common talk in the neighborhood of 1488 Avenue A, where the Klink family lived up to a month ago.

Caroline began to show evidence of a properly far beyond that which is usual in that part of Avenue A. She bought good clothes and began to develop an unsuspected love for rice and bouillabaisse. To her parents she confided that she had met the prince of her dreams. He was, she said, Jack Andrews, the only son of a wealthy mother, and held a position of influence in the customs service. Andrews did not visit the family but Caroline frequently went out to meet him at dances or at the theatre.

Though wealthy, the Klinks were thrifty; and though he bought the girl presents, he later she said, arranged in so whatever purchases she made, he was paid for at wholesale prices. It was in January that she told her parents she had obtained for her a position as stenographer in the customs house. The work was easy and the hours short. Caroline promised to become an important official of the federal government. Sometimes she would go to work for several weeks at a time.

Why should Caroline worry? The mother could visit her neighbors. She has a $85 a week position, and when she don't go for her salary it is sent to her.

So the visible prosperity of Caroline increased and her father told of the excellence of being in the government. The tenants in the house all enure on getting their sons and daughters into the employ of the government. Sure, Caroline could say a good word for them. Was not Jack Andrews still a power in the government?

So, the government charges, the girl said she could get her "friends" into certain positions if the applicants would put up $100 in return for their application. Several neighbors gave up the money, demanded and supposed the way to the important positions was open to them. In a few weeks. One woman living in the house with the Klinks put up $100 and in return got a receipt and a card headed with the printed announcement that it was a customs house receipt. The amount received was neatly typewritten. This receipt is said to be in the possession of the customs inspector who investigated the case and caused the arrest of father and daughter.

Whether the charge be true or false there is evidence that the property of the Klinks increased. Caroline sounded the depths of Avenue A, luxury. One day she appeared in a splendid coat. The next day she appeared in one of the humble apartments in another coat. She explained that Andrews did not like the first, so she bought the second.

If one wanted evidence of the luxury of the family it was only necessary, some of the neighbors say, to go to the rear yard and look up at the Klink fire escape. Caroline liked flowers and she bought them by the armful. Some of them, she said, Andrews sent her. When the flat overworked they decorated the fire-escape.

In time the family possessions no longer pleased, and there was a mild

To Absorb Freckles And Other Blemishes

Every spring numerous inquiries are made by girls seeking some reliable recipe for removing freckles. Last year very favorable reports were received from many who had used mercuriol wax. This wonderful, becoming as soft as a rose petal, delicate, and effective. Get an ounce of mercuriol wax at any drug store. Spread a thin layer of it over the entire face every night for awhile, wash it off in the morning with warm water, and all your freckles, blackheads, pimples, and all other blemishes will disappear. This treatment is superior to any other. Sprinkles also brings wrinkles to the sensitive skin that are much exposed to wind and changing temperatures. LLOYD GEORGE ABOUT CLOSING ALL THE BARS

Arranging Day of Provincial Rejoicing for July 4—News Notes From the West

Regina, April 12.—To Chancellor Lloyd George, London. Retail sale of all alcoholic liquors in bars and clubs will be abolished throughout province of Saskatchewan July 4. Temperance forces in convention congratulate Great Britain on prospect of drastic curtailment of liquor traffic in six months.

land. George Lloyd, President. This resolution was passed at a convention of the "Saskatchewan Branch of the Bar Association of 100" in Regina recently. The committee also approved of a resolution congratulating the government on its stand in the interest of temperance. A day of provincial rejoicing will be held on Sunday, July 4, when the "bars" will have been banished in Saskatchewan.

The Pharmaceutical Association of Saskatchewan in convention here endorsed the attitude of the government and also added a rider requesting the government to provide for the restriction of the sale of spirituous liquors by druggists, excepting for strictly medicinal use and then only on the written prescription of a qualified medical or veterinary practitioner. This association also voted $200 towards the relief of Belgian druggists who have suffered as a result of the war.

A new industry is in process of organization in Regina, which aims to manufacture steel culverts.

In addition to the cultivation of all vacant lots in Regina the vacant lot gardeners' association aims to cultivate fifty more acres of land owned by the city, on a co-operative basis.

That Regina in particular and Saskatchewan in general was suffering less from the financial depression than the greater part of the United States, particularly the southern states, was the impression gained by Lieutenant-governor Brown, while on a trip to attend the celebration of the centenary of peace in New Orleans.

A new industry moves towards co-operative stock marketing was made at the executive meeting of the Live Stock Breeders' recently, when a committee representing the grain growers and the live stock men, was appointed to investigate the question, and report as early as possible to the executive of the live stock men.

WHERE THE RUSSIANS ARE DRIVING THROUGH THE CARPATHIANS IN HUNGARY

Second Contingent Soon Away; The Call Comes From Kitchener

Ottawa, April 11—Kitchener's call has come. The eager men of Canada's second expeditionary force will go forward at an unrevealed date in the early future to join their comrades of the first contingent at the front.

Such was the announcement of Premier Borden to parliament on Saturday night's sitting. Sir Robert Borden entered the house with the Minister of Militia. He rose almost at once to make his statement. Time and again during its progress he was interrupted by applause from both sides of the house, cheers which were heartily returned when Hon. Frank Oliver, who was momentarily leading the Liberal opposition, rose to express the sentiment of the minority.

"We Canadians are not outsiders in this fight," said Mr. Oliver. "It is our fight, too. This is not only a fight to preserve the neutrality of Belgium, but to preserve the British Empire, and all it stands for. Only in the months to come will we be able to realize the sacrifice it will be necessary for us to make. But we all stand earnestly prepared to face whatever may come, with a courage and devotion that will ultimately bring victory."

Premier Borden opened by stating that he had just conferred with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and now desired to make a statement in parliament and to the country concerning the exact condition and mobilization of the Canadian expeditionary forces. In October last announcement was made that until the end of the war Canada would keep continuously in training, and under arms, 30,000 men, and that contingents would be sent forward from time to time, as the war office desired them. A month later an arrangement was made that the number of men so kept in training would be increased to 50,000. This number was in addition to those in garrison and outpost duties. It was also announced that as soon as the second contingent went forward a further enlistment of 17,000 men would be made, bringing the total to 108,000 men.

"I have great pleasure," declared the premier, amid cheers, "in informing the house that this programme has been carried out to date."

Premier Borden gave figures, compiled by General G. Watkin, chief of the general staff, as to the enrolling and the present disposition of Canadian forces, which made a grand total of 101,568.

"In order," proceeded the premier, "to enable the house to estimate the numerical strength of that force I may point out that numerically it constitutes four times as many men as were under Wellington at Waterloo, and it is nearly double the total force of either Wellington or Napoleon at Waterloo. I think that the house and the country may congratulate themselves that in a period of not more than eight months so great a force as this has been organized to a very considerable extent, armed and equipped, and to know also that the number of guns which went abroad with the first contingent considerably exceeds the total number of guns that Wellington had at his disposal at the battle of Waterloo."

"There are in Canada now, in training under arms, more than 65,000 men," said the premier, and he paid high tribute to the character and quality of these men.

"It is proper," proceeded the premier, "that I should here make a statement which may set at rest more or less comment in the press, and more or less surprise which has been manifested, from time to time, at the delay which has taken place in sending forward the second contingent. That contingent could have been dispatched, so far as we are concerned, at least three months ago, and the war office was fully informed of that fact, and has been fully informed from time to time, that it could be sent forward whenever desired. The date at which it shall go forward was arranged some two months ago.

The Russian hosts have been attacking the Austro-German defence along the huge Carpathian range at three particular points—through the Dukla and Lupkow Passes, and at the Uskok Pass. Austrian reports are now beginning to admit the slow forcing back of the Austro-German armies before the tremendous pressure of the Czar's legions.

He added that it was the view of the war office, especially of Lord Kitchener himself, that the second contingent should be accommodated and trained in England, so as to leave no room for criticism. It had been thought by Kitchener that a good deal of the training could proceed in Canada as well as in England, and the department of militia had followed precisely and absolutely the desire and expressed wish of the authorities of the war office.

Up to the present time, the premier proceeded, no call had been made on the Canadian Mounted Rifles, but their turn was likely to come whenever the situation changed in the western theatre of operations. The department of militia had been informed that it was within reasonable distance of time when a Canadian expeditionary force of some 50,000 men would be serving overseas. Therefore it was advised that in order to maintain that force in strength and efficiency a continuous supply of reinforcements, properly trained and fully equipped, would need to be provided. The total necessary could not be absolutely determined, because it was impossible to say, with certainty, how long the war would last, as conditions which at present govern the conduct of the campaign in Europe were regarded as likely to change with time.

In view of these representations, the premier said, the minister of militia, in consultation with his officers, had made provision for the establishment of overseas training depots, one or more for each branch of the service. Already some of the service units which embarked with the first contingent were being utilized for the purpose. These depots would be kept supplied with units maintained in Canada, and would furnish drafts for the units serving at the front.

"So far as can be foreseen at present," continued the premier, "a total of 150,000 men will be required, if the war should last another year. However, in war the unexpected often happens, and our own arrangements must be subordinated to the needs of the empire as a whole."

Premier Borden concluded with an expression of very deep appreciation, which, Canadians felt, of the magnificent response given from the Atlantic to the Pacific to the call to arms.

SULTAN STILL IS OPTIMISTIC

Says Allies Cannot Force The Dardanelles

HIGH OPINION OF GERMANS

Declares Words Fail to Express Great Admiration For Kaiser's Troops — Values Opinion of Neutrals

Constantinople, April 10—"I am convinced that the Dardanelles cannot be forced. The brave conduct of the Turkish troops in the recent operations against the Straits permits me to conclude that although the Allies bend every effort and use every means at their disposal they will be unable to achieve their purpose."

This spoke Mehmed V, the Sultan of Turkey in the course of an audience which he had granted an Associated Press correspondent. The Sultan throughout the audience showed and expressed the greatest confidence in Turkey's ability to withstand the onslaught of the Allies forces, and followed with the keenest interest a description of the operations by the Allies on March 18 against the Dardanelles forts, given by the correspondent of the Associated Press, who acted as spokesman for those who had been accorded the audience.

The various phases of the bombardment were discussed by His Majesty in a manner demonstrating that he was well informed on the affair, but he was greatly interested in the human aspect of this tremendous action. What was the effect of the enemy's fire? What was the fate of that population of the town near the forts bombarded? These were things in which the Sultan showed deep interest.

Mehmed V. was in a most cordial frame of mind. Many of the incidents related by the correspondents brought to the Sultan's face broad smiles of satisfaction, appreciation and amusement. How the correspondents had been obliged to make a hasty retreat when Kale Sultanie was reached by the Allies' shells was mentioned by the Sultan with a most friendly and interested interest to His Majesty.

When one of the correspondents told the Sultan that he had been rendered nervous in Chanak Kalesi by the explosions of large shells, which impelled him to stoop at every detonation, and how an old interpreter, who also was retreating, touched him on the arm each time he stooped, "Yok Kismet," the Sultan was much amused and touched the newspaperman on the shoulder in the most friendly fashion and proceeded to explain that the use of the word "Kismet" was improper under such circumstances.

"The old man should have used the word 'Kader' because that term expresses more fully what he wanted to convey," said His Majesty. "The word 'Kader' means that our fate is in the hands of a superior force and that what is to happen will happen any way. The Sultan is an admirer of the British Empire and of the British troops, but 'Kader' alone will not do for us also must work."

The Sultan then asked if his troops appeared to be happy and contented. The answer being emphatically in the affirmative, a new smile of satisfaction lit up his face.

Lauds German Ally "It is very unjust to say that the Allies want to force the Dardanelles and take Constantinople just to import foodstuffs for Russia. But our army and our defence force have shown their ability and willingness to do their duty. I am speaking here not alone of the Turkish defenders of the Dardanelles but also of those Germans who have so efficiently and bravely co-operated with them."

"I would thank you if you would say to me that it is impossible for me to express in words my high opinion of their valor and efficiency. Concerning their chief commander, Emperor William I can only say that we in Turkey pray that he may enjoy the best of health for many years."

So far the Sultan had occupied himself entirely with recent developments in the Dardanelles. Addressing himself to the American correspondents present, he said: "I value the opinion of neutrals highly and wish to avail myself of this opportunity to express the greatest satisfaction that the relations between the United States and Turkey are of a friendly nature."

With this, His Majesty indicated by a slight movement of the hand that the audience was ended. Although in his first year, the monarch arose from the divan with alacrity and shook hands with the correspondents in a democratic fashion.

The audience took place at Dolmabahce Palace. Brigadier-General Salih Pasha, the Sultan's first aide-de-camp, acting as marshal.

The audience was somewhat remarkable because of the absence of anything to remind one of the Orient. The Sultan was seated on a divan, but arose upon the entry of the correspondents and returned the salutations warmly. He then invited them to seats which was an unusual honor, for all but the highest officials are usually left standing.

This was the first audience granted by Mehmed V. to American newspapermen.

GO AS NURSES AT THEIR OWN EXPENSE

Party of Ten, Prominent Socially, Leave New York For France — More to Follow

Montreal, April 10.—Ten Montreal women, members of families which are wealthy and prominent socially, called from New York on Friday for France to go as nurses in the French army. They are paying all their expenses themselves, and they will do voluntary nursing until the war is over. Their work will be their reward. The rest of the party, consisting of a nurse, a chaplain and a Westmount woman of high social standing who also hopes to do her "something" in the war, are on their way to France. The rest of the party, consisting of a nurse, a chaplain and a Westmount woman of high social standing who also hopes to do her "something" in the war, are on their way to France.

The nurses expected to sail from New York on last Saturday by the steamer Chicago, of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, but the sailing was delayed. Before they went to New York they requested Mrs. C. B. Keenan and Mrs. W. J. B. Drew that their names should not be made public, and these two ladies, who have been largely responsible in organizing the party, therefore declined to give their names.

British Captain Drove His Ship For The Periscope

WINS NICE MONEY PRIZE

The Little Steamer Thordis Attacked in Channel, Captain Swings Her Around and Crushes German Under-Water Pirate

Bravo, captain! Accept heartfelt congratulations to yourself and crew for splendid achievement.

The little collier's feat is described as follows in the ship's log:—About 0.30 A. M., February 28—About 0.30 A. M., the Thordis, a small steamer, was sighted by the British submarine Thetis.

W. J. BELL, Master. JOHN PEGG, Mate. Captain Bell told the writer how, in a heavy sea, he pulled his little coasting steamer right over the top of the German submarine, caused his craft full of coal to "sit down" forcibly on the pirate, and sent her to the bottom of the English Channel.

Prior to the main bout two well known local wrestlers, O'Toole and Brooke, gave a fifteen minute preliminary. Their work called forth well merited applause. Neither had any advantage at the call of time so the referee called the bout a draw.

Harry Ludecke received an ovation as he stepped in front of the footlights, after the first fall in the main bout and challenged the winner. He said he had heard rumors of hard feeling against him owing to his recent connection with the police force, but he said he had not participated in any dirty work. He agreed to wrestle the winner within the next two weeks. At the conclusion of the match Prokes accepted the challenge and said he would meet him as soon as arrangements were made.

D. C. for the midweight championship of America. His opponent will have to go some as they will be of the same weight.

Jimmie Kane, a well known athletic promoter in the United States, officiated as referee. His work was of stellar brand and was entirely satisfactory to both participants.

The lucky shot. A real good western drama with a story of heart-compelling interest, which teems with excitement.

The Yosemite. An interesting and entertaining educational subject which is sure to please.

Charles Chaplin. In a Keystone comedy called Recreation, he certainly is the funniest thing in pictures.

congratulated the shipmaster on his achievement.

"I think you did the right thing," he said. Captain Bell and his officers and crew have no doubt that the submarine went straight to the bottom of the Channel, thirty fathoms deep.

"We took off her periscope," they say, "and if she didn't sink she would be bound to come to the surface, but there was no sign of her except a little oil on the water."

The Thordis was proceeding slowly along the Channel towards Plymouth on Saturday morning when the submarine was sighted.

"When we were eight or ten miles southwest by west of Beachy Head," said Captain Bell, "the second mate reported that he saw a submarine to starboard. I rushed on deck, and saw her periscope on the starboard bow. The fact that it did not come up and show herself made me suspicious."

"I realized the danger we were in, and called all hands on deck to be prepared for an emergency. The boats were already slung out."

"The boats were slung out, and the next time I saw her was on our port beam, where she took up a position abreast of us. The periscope at times stood well out of the water. It was reddish in color, but I could not see whether it was copper or painted red."

"While the pirate was on the port beam of the Thordis all the crew clustered on the deck saw the wake of a torpedo speeding away from them towards the shore."

"Lord, she's missed!" cried the chief engineer, George Veitch, who had come up from below to join his comrades. The men expected to hear and feel an explosion, and were ready to jump into the boats at the instant of shock. It was hard to realize that the submarine, so near the Thordis that one could nearly touch the periscope by leaning over the side, had actually missed. The torpedo had travelled right under the ship, and continued its flight on the other side in the direction of the shore."

Captain's Inspiration. Then Captain Bell had the inspiration which has made him famous. "I knew that if I ported and threw my stern towards her I could have no chance of getting away," he said to me. "We can only do seven and a half knots in the weather, and that is not of the slightest use."

"The engines were still running, giving the ship some way, so I put my helm hard over to starboard and we crashed right on top of the periscope. "We all heard and felt the hard crunching of the collision. We knew we had got her. She disappeared entirely."

THE NEW GOLF CLUB.

The Riverside Golf and Country Club's plans for the summer season are advancing steadily. Workmen are already engaged on the rougher work around the course, and so soon as the frost is out of the ground the work will be hastened. A large house near the railway station has been rented for the season. A caterer has been secured and meals will be served there during the playing season. In addition to this the farm-house on the property will be used as a men's locker room. On most of the course the new grass had growth enough last year to be cut several times, and it appears to have wintered very well. The outlook for a successful golf season is good.

REPORTS THAT SHOW WORK WORTH WHILE

Activities of Girls' and Boys' Clubs Detailed at Playgrounds Executive Meeting

The report submitted by Miss Pitt at the meeting of the executive of the Playgrounds Association on Friday evening showed that there had been during the month of March twenty-three meetings of the Girls' Club, with an average attendance of twenty-six. Clothing was distributed to three persons who were in need. Forty-four visits were paid to the physical culture class held by meetings, with an average attendance of thirty-five, and, besides their regular work, fifteen to twenty girls attended one extra class a week preparing to assist the reading circle in specialities for a play and to be put on in the week in May. The girls are very much interested in the work of the club. Miss Emma L. Heffer is the physical director.

Miss Pitt also reported in connection with the Traveler's Aid that she had attended 116 trains, conducted twenty-seven persons to lodgings and helped forty in other ways. The report contained several instances showing the very valuable work done in helping girls and women and children who arrive in the city strangers and short of funds.

For example: The woman and two children from Belgium by way of New York, arrived here at 11.30 p. m. They could not speak English, and were cared for them until morning, then looked up an interpreter and found that they wanted to go to a small village near Newcastle. The woman expected to meet her husband here. As he did not come I placed them on the train for Newcastle and they were given $8 towards expenses. A kind-hearted gentleman who did not wish his name published, donated $8 towards expenses.

There was another interesting case of help given to a woman with four small children, and to a country girl traveling from Ontario to take a position in a Nova Scotia town, who arrived here without money. A telegram was sent to a Salvation Army officer in Digby, and she was met and looked after and the money for lodging and telegram refunded.

At the employment bureau of the Girls' Club there were thirty-four applications from emigrants for help and thirty-six from persons seeking employment, which was found for eighteen. The receipts of the employment bureau for the month were $8.50, and the expenditure $2.01, so that this department more than looks after itself.

These facts are gleaned from Miss Pitt's report, but there was also a Traveler's Aid report from Miss Hogg who attended ninety-six trains, took sixteen persons to boarding houses, three to friends and two to the Digby boat. Miss Hogg also gave assistance to a young girl and brother who came in on a late train out of means and stranded, and a young girl turned back from Vancouver, who was helped back to her home in Kings county. There were during the month several cases of young girls being detained and help given to them to return home, while one was sent through to New York.

Superintendent Howard, in his report, said that there had been an average attendance of thirty-six boys every night at the Boys' Club. With the weather the attendance was falling off, but baseball was now being organized. There had been the usual variety of classes and athletic meets, as well as a social evening, an address by Mr. Ingleton on Boy Scouts and various other interesting activities. Donations of magazines, books and games had been received. The boys one night brought to the club a homeless boy, raised enough money to look after him for a night and day and then got him a job. Mr. Howard attended court sessions when boys were up, and also paid two visits to the jail.

Harry Klein had assisted all winter in the physical culture work and Kenneth Robb had furnished the music for gymnastic drills for the last month. Superintendent Howard's report showed that an increasing number of citizens are taking an interest in the work of the association. Among recent contributions was one of $5 from the Y. L. B. C. of the German Street Baptist Church. The Free to Serve Club of Centenary Church has contributed $25 to the funds of the association.
