THE MAYOR'S BUILDING PERMIT BEFORE COUNCIL

His Worship Says Law with Him; Inspector Says Not—City Solicitor's Opinion Questioned—Matter Rests Until Application in Writing is Refused.

Mayor's Statement

That both the city and the New Brunswick Power Co. were claiming ownership of the poles in the north end being used for the distribution of electricity was the principal fact brought out at a committee meeting of the Common Council this morning, when M. A. Pooler, general manager of the company appeared to discuss with the city commissioners the notice given by the city to the company that it intended to enter into possession of the poles in question on July 1. Mr. Pooler contended that the city lost its right of ownership in 1916 when it failed to notify the company of the termination of an agreement in connection with the north end poles and wires. Commissioner Thornton said that it was clear to him that the city owned the north end equipment and an opinion of the city solicitor, quoted by the Mayor, was to the same effect.

The Mayor explained that the City had served notice to the Power Company that it intended to take over its poles after July 1. The notice had been drawn by the city solicitor. The Power Company denied city ownership. Dr. Baxter, after a conference with the Mayor, he said, had attempted to arrange the matter with the company, but did not think he had made much progress in settling the difficulty.

Besides denying ownership of poles and wires the company denied the existence of any contract between the city and the company which would affect this claim. Commissioner Bullock asked if the company was paying for yearly rental of poles and wires, how they could deny the city's ownership. Power Co. Manager.

M. A. Pooler, general manager of the N. B. Power Co., said that lacking information as to what the city claimed ownership of, he felt that there was little chance of getting together. He said the city had failed to notify the company at the expiration of its contract in 1916, of its ownership of poles in the north end. He said the company had no idea how much equipment was in the contract in 1916. He said the company had not paid the $10 a month rental.

Commissioner Thornton said that the amount was deducted from money due the company from the city. The matter was left to the company, which was willing to purchase the poles from the city at a price of the annual rental of $120 capitalized at ten per cent, was $1200. He said the legal aspect of the matter would have to be settled by the courts. Before a settlement could be reached, he said, the equipment claimed by the city would have to be definitely established.

When the city came into possession of its property in the North End, the New Brunswick Power Company would be entirely shut out, except possibly for the street railway. In the city, when the city took over it, unless it duplicated the poles taken over.

Mr. Pooler said he was glad to hear of an idea to prevent duplicate investment, but whether the company would allow a competitor to use its poles was another question. Commissioner Thornton said that all the poles in the North End used by the Power Co. belonged to the city. The matter was quite clear to him.

Mr. Pooler said the company claimed ownership of most of the poles in the North End. Commissioner Wigmore, Mr. Pooler said the company acknowledged city ownership up to 1916 but now claimed that the poles belonged to the company. Commissioner Frink said when the city gave over the rights in the North End to the St. John Railway Co., there must be some order-in-council passed.

Possibility of Fight. Commissioner Bullock said unless some settlement was made there was liable to be a legal tangle when the city went ahead to use the poles in question and this would no doubt cause delay in the delivery of the hydro. He urged that something be done at once to clear the situation. Commissioner Frink said it might be possible to get through without a legal conflict, but it would not be the first one should a legal tangle follow. He thought that the city should notify the company that it owned all the poles on which the company is distributing current in the North End. No further action was taken.

BETTER LIGHTING FOR CITY AT GREATLY REDUCED COST

Report of Civic Commission Presented to City Council—Ten Times as Much Light in Centre of City, Three Times as Much All Over—Cost of Whole System $79,851—Commission Urges That Delay be Avoided in Interest of Economy.

More than three times the light at about $3,000 a year less than at present can be furnished for the city streets over the whole city, according to a report presented to a committee meeting of the City Council by the civil hydro commission this morning. Estimates of the whole system were presented as well as details of the enlarged area for the installation of white-way ornamental lighting. Besides all the members of the City Council, R. A. McAvity, chairman; Roy A. Willet, secretary, and Barry Wilson, engineer, of the civic commission, were present.

The capital cost of the street lighting equipment for the whole city was placed at $79,851.20, on which the annual charge for maintenance and for the supply of the current would be $40,680.15, as compared with $43,000 paid to the N. B. Power Co. for street lighting last year. The capital cost of the ornamental lighting system was placed at $27,000, on which the annual charge for all purposes would be $6,987.83. The cost for current for the district in which this type of lighting would be placed was estimated at $4,350, as compared with $3,450 paid last year, but the area would receive ten times the light.

The city electrician presented a plan of the proposed ornamental street lighting covering the extended area which included from the depot to the head of King street; Charlotte street, Union to Harding; Sydney street, Union to Leinster; Union street, German to Prince Edward; German, Union to Princess; Prince William, King to Duke. It was proposed in the added area to install a steel pole with the light on a bracket, the poles also to carry secondary circuits in those districts. The cost of operation for this district would be $6,987.83, giving ten times the effective lighting as at present.

The chairman of the commission said that the estimate for the complete street lighting system was independent of any present installation. Any poles taken over would reduce the estimates by that amount. The cost of operation, he said, would be about $8,000 less than the cost to the city last year. In the district covered by the ornamental lighting plans there would be ninety-seven 1,000 candle power lights. In the same district there were now thirty-six arc lights of 400 candle power each, and two 100 candle power lights.

There was proposed for the rest of the city 1,800 lights. There were now in place 350 arc lights and 100 100 candle power lights. Mr. McAvity said that the commission to expend $79,851.20 for the installation of a street lighting system. He said that any poles or wires taken over would reduce the expenditure by that amount. Commissioner Thornton said that he had a different idea regarding the new form of street lighting—a greater number of lower-powered lights. He thought he would like to look into the matter very carefully before passing on it. Mr. McAvity said that the intention to erect the street lighting system and turn it over to the city for operation at the present time.

Commissioner Wigmore thought that the commission should be given authority to call for tenders for the street lighting system for the whole city. Mr. McAvity said that in one matter, that of copper wire, the market was rising and it was advisable to contract before the prices went higher. Commissioner Frink said that the council was facing two roads, either the creation of a new department or for the council to pass on matters already decided by the power commission without discussion.

Further consideration of the matter was deferred until complete details of the system were brought before the council members. Mr. McAvity said that if the commission was authorized to go ahead with the distribution system at a cost not to exceed $600,000 he would like to see the matter put before the council for approval before adoption. The phenomenon was discovered by a member of the Section Astronomique de France, who is in Greece studying the phenomenon. The astronomer telegraphed the information to Camille Flammarion, and it is stated tonight that the Jurvis observatory has confirmed the discovery.

Remarkable in the significance of the phenomenon, the astronomer points out that if the sun should do the same thing and suddenly become ten times hotter and brighter the earth would be consumed.

HON. WM. PUGSLEY TO PASS UPON CLAIMS ON HUN

Royal Commissioner on Canadian Loss and Damages Bills Against the Germans.

A Canadian Press despatch from Ottawa says:

"Hon. Wm. Pugsley, according to reports in circulation here, is to be appointed a royal commissioner to pass upon claims made by Canadians against Germany for loss and damage through illegal methods of warfare.

Under one section of the Treaty of Versailles, Germany was declared liable for all loss and damage arising out of the war. Another section, however, decided that, having regard to Germany's ability to pay, she should meet claims for loss sustained by civilians.

The Canadian government, after the treaty had been signed, called upon all persons having claims against Germany to file them, and also made an account of German property in Canada and placed it under the control of a custodian of enemy property.

"The Meighen government in 1921 appointed Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen of New Brunswick a royal commissioner to pass upon the propriety and magnitude of claims. Since the change of government, Sir Douglas has ceased to hold the office. Mr. Pugsley, it is now reported, is to succeed Sir Douglas."

Pancho Villa and New York Italian in Title Bout Tonight—Cape Breton Going in for "Pro." Ball and Appoints Commission.

(Canadian Press) Los Angeles, March 1—James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, yesterday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the U. S. District Court here.

New York, March 1—Pancho Villa, who won the U. S. flyweight championship from Johnny Buff, will defend his title tonight at Madison Garden Square against Frankie Genaro, a New York Italian, whom he has met twice in non-championship bouts.

The tiny men are very evenly matched, each being 22 years old and having physical measurements differing mostly in fractions of inches. The bout will be fifteen rounds to a decision.

C. B. Pro Ball. Sydney, N. S., March 1—A commission composed of Neil R. McArthur, Glace Bay; Thomas H. Cooke, of Sydney, and A. Campbell, of Reserve will have complete control of the Cape Breton Professional Baseball League in 1923. This commission was appointed at a meeting of representatives of the three clubs which will form the league in 1923—Glace Bay, Dominion and New Waterford.

It is proposed to have the commission incorporated under a provincial statute and thus their power will be greatly increased and all the clubs will be compelled to obey the rulings of the independent body.

No salary limit was placed on the clubs entering the league and importation is to be made indiscriminately. The league will secure the services of an imported umpire who will be paid a weekly salary and handle all the games in the league. All three teams will bear an equal portion of the umpire's salary.

TEA PRICES ADVANCE

It has been learned from the Salada Tea Company the reason for the recent increase in the price of tea. The largely increased consumption in Great Britain (by far the largest tea drinking country in the world) coupled with the shortage in the tea crop this year of over 80,000,000 lbs., have had the inevitable result. The old law of supply and demand has worked once more, and at the present time prices are higher than have ever been witnessed before in the tea industry. The Salada Tea Company were forced to increase the price of all their blends, in order to maintain their standard of quality, at the greatly increased costs.

Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce Host to Pupils of Schools and Colleges.

Philadelphia, March 1.—Four hundred foreign students in schools and colleges here have been invited to attend the third annual dinner in their honor to be given by the Chamber of Commerce tonight. Representatives of forty-one countries are included in the list of students to whom invitations have been sent.

Well-known business men of this city, with their wives and daughters, will be grouped with the students at the dinner. Men prominent in American diplomatic and business circles will address the gathering. Responses will be made by students. Representatives of each continent will be chosen as speakers.

The plan of entertaining foreign students at a banquet is attracting attention in other cities. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce say they have learned that a similar affair is planned by the New York Merchants' Association, and that Boston, which held such a dinner last year, will hold another this season. Banquets for foreign students also will be held, it is said, in Iowa City, Ia., Chicago, Indianapolis, Springfield, Mass., and South Bend, Ind.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Miss Geneva Stanhope was chosen "Queen" of Calais at "Calais" night in St. Croix rink last evening. There were eight contestants and all appeared in sporting costume. The judges had difficulty reaching a decision and all of the contestants were called on the ice three times and still no one was eliminated. The judges then retired and later reached a decision in favor of Miss Stanhope. Thomas Finlay, the bugler who sounded the "charge" for the gallant light brigade at Balaclava, and started the wild ride immortalized by Tennyson, died yesterday at his home at Drogheda, Ireland. Dalhousie University went on record last evening as being willing and desirous of entering a federation of the universities of the Maritime Provinces at Halifax. Dalhousie is the first of the Maritime universities to agree to federation as proposed.

A LITTLE MORE LIGHT. The more we hear about the recent Conservative pow-wow in this city the more profound is the regret that the reporters were not permitted to be present. The world has lost the golden treasury of priceless words that flowed from the lips of wisdom on that great occasion.

mean that a large number of people will be attracted to Nova Scotia during the most enjoyable season of the year. That will necessarily involve the expenditure by the Province of a very large sum of money, the amount of which will be measured only by the number who will visit us. That is, perhaps, the matter of least importance, but it is nevertheless one which we may well take into consideration.

The coming of the Nova Scotians to the Old Home will be the means of inducing others to visit a country which possesses such varied attractions as a vacation land. The interest which will be created among Nova Scotians abroad will be diffused among their friends and neighbors. The idea of the Old Home Summer will spread to Nova Scotians all over the continent and, if we go about it with the proper organization and with the determination to make it a success, a great stream of travel is bound to be set in motion towards Nova Scotia during the summer of 1924.

WHAT'S WHAT

By Helen Deale

Any expression of weariness or boredom in company is in bad taste, but open yawning is the most unparliamentary of these lapses. If one is actually fatigued from over-exertion, or from loss of sleep it is better not to attend a social function, or, at least, to withdraw before the unbecoming symptoms become too pronounced.

Such an old world air has Victoria developed that it is difficult to realize that only eight years ago the intrepid Sir James Douglas established a trading post where the City of Victoria now stands. Perhaps it is because the population of the city is largely made up of British-born people of independent means, who have brought their traditions with them from the old world that Victoria has such an atmosphere of historical interest and repose.

F. A. DYKEMAN & CO. A letter showing the German spirit of hope that the world is all friendly to it was received recently by Hugh McCavour, of the St. John Rowing Club, from a rowing club on the Danube River. The letter is begging for help from this rowing club to carry on a Silver Jubilee regatta on July 19. The help requested is not advice but quarters in Montreal. He is well known in Canadian railway circles, having been appointed resident vice-president of the Delaware and Hudson Company with headquarters in Montreal.

Rubbing Eases Pain

In his well-known Receipt Book, Dr. Chase writes: "You will allow me one remark about liniments—they ought in all cases to be rubbed in, from twenty to thirty minutes, until the part burns from the effects, instead of two or three minutes, as is the usual custom."

J. H. Gottheil, professor of Rabbinical literature and Semitic languages at Columbia University, today, in the early Bible literature it is mentioned frequently as "Ur of the Chaldees," and its civilization is much older than that of the kings of Egypt whose tombs are at Luxor, Prof. Gottheil said.

"We have found on tablets of the period, which date from about 6000 B. C. to 2500 B. C., writings, both business documents and literary documents written in the Sumerian tongue. These documents show a very extensive culture and language which preceded the Semite culture, and from which the people got their method of writing. There is a very large literature of the Sumerians, which is discussed and read in our universities."

The inspectors appointed were W. W. Hawker and S. C. Mitchell. The meeting was adjourned until Friday.

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system. Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta., writes: "About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often had to stay up at night with me. I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes; I took them and felt much better, so continued all winter, and now I never feel any such faintness. I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

"I Was Run Down"

"Body was completely covered with Boils"

"If you have ever had boils, you know how painful and annoying even one or two can be. But imagine having your whole body almost entirely covered with them! I am a watchmaker by trade, making a specialty of repairing the highest grade movements. This is probably the most trying of any mechanical work, particularly for a nervous individual like me. Working under great strain brought me almost to a state of collapse. I was so irritable and nervous that the slightest thing would send me up in the air. If I managed to get a few hours of sleep at night I was lucky. I had no appetite for food. I certainly was in a bad way. During this time boils began to appear on different parts of my body and the pain from them made life a misery. My suffering was so great at times that I felt there was nothing left for me to do but to end it all. I consulted doctors but they all told me that if I didn't give up my work and live out of doors, I would go into a decline. As I had no money I couldn't do this. In fact paying doctors' bills and buying medicines used up all the money I made. Finally in desperation, I decided that I would either kill or cure myself, so began to study my case. I realized that I was completely run down as any one could possibly be with a bad case of nerves. After reading descriptions of different preparations, the one which appeared to be the best for me was Carnol. It has simply performed miracles for me. Four bottles have done more than months of travel abroad. I feel like a two-year old. I sleep eight hours every night and eat three good meals a day. My skin is of any kind and I have now almost forgotten that I have ever had such things as boils. I want everybody who is ailing to know about Carnol, because I have such faith in it I believe it will cure any human ill."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

THRO' HORRORS OF WAR TIME IN PALESTINE

Miss Mary A. Butterfield, Missionary, Now at Meetings in St. Mary's Church.

Miss Mary A. Butterfield is a returned missionary from Palestine, having had eleven years of service there, including most of the war period.

Miss Butterfield in Syrian Costume.

From there they sailed across the danger zone in the Atlantic, arriving in New York in August, 1917, three months after leaving Jerusalem.

Miss Butterfield spent six months lecturing for the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee in the United States, and then returned to Palestine under a special commission of the American Red Cross.

When the Red Cross closed out its work in Palestine, she resumed her missionary work under the Christian and Missionary Alliance, remaining until the work was well reopened and sufficient recruits from America had arrived.

Since her arrival on furlough, she has been in deputation missionary work in the United States and Canada, telling about her missionary and Red Cross work, her meeting with General Allenby, and other war experiences.

Miss Butterfield is now speaking every afternoon and evening this week in St. Mary's church in Waterloo street at a convention being held under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

On Saturday evening she will wear the Syrian costume—the dress worn by women in Bethlehem—and will tell some of her experiences on that strenuous journey overland through Turkey and Europe in wartime 1917.

Rev. A. W. Roffe, the Canadian superintendent of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will also give an account of his remarkable tour through the Canadian Northwest last summer with Dr. Morris, principal of the Boylston Institute in Virginia and a well-known southern orator.

His account of their experiences is intensely interesting and one that every Canadian especially should hear. The Saturday night meeting promises to be both instructive and profitable.

Inspectors Henderson and Barton raided a house occupied by Nicholas Boychuk, of South Minto, yesterday and seized a quantity of beer. The owner has been ordered to appear in court.

Hugh Chisholm, of the Nashweek Pulp and Paper Company, yesterday said that there was every indication that their plant would continue running indefinitely at full capacity to judge from present conditions in the pulp industry. Mr. Chisholm arrived in the city yesterday from New York.

The two boys, John Cunningham of Chatham and Harry King McParlane of St. Andrews, who recently escaped from the Boys Industrial Home at East St. John, were arrested on the train between West Junction and St. Andrews yesterday. PARLIAMENTARY REPRESENTATION

La Patrie: "The only argument that Nova Scotia can advance in support of its demand for an irreducible minimum of parliamentary representation is to be found in the precedent created ten years ago in favor of Prince Edward Island. But there is no valid reason why the suggested favor should be granted in this instance. Nova Scotia's, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick hold in their own hands the logical and just means of defence against a gradual deterioration of their parliamentary influence. They have only to maintain a growth in proportion to that of the Province of Quebec. It would be a contradiction of the principle of democracy to fix an irreducible minimum of parliamentary representation."

TENANTS IN ROME PAY HIGHER RENTS

Advances as Much as Five Hundred per cent in Some Cases.
Rome, Feb. 2.—(A. P. by Mail).—The landlords of Italy, backed by a powerful lobby, have succeeded in raising rents, have started out to make good the losses of years. The victims are the tenant and his lamentations and protests fill the pages of the press and are heard wherever men congregate. No tenant is safe, and the demands of the landlords are not limited by even the laws of the state. Some have announced increases of 300 and 400 per cent; 500 per cent is recorded in some cases. The date for the new rents is July 1, 1923. Up to the present time tenants have been enjoying possession on contracts made prior to and during the war. This was when the lira was five for a dollar; today a dollar costs between 20 and 25 lira. Existing contracts were made obligatory by the recent Fascio Government up to 1923, but Premier Mussolini threw a bombshell into the situation when he rescinded this decree and became responsible for a ruling that landlords could henceforth charge what they pleased. The only recourse of the tenant is an appeal to his provincial commission, composed equally of landlords and tenants, which will hear complaints and make recommendations. Mussolini has warned the landlords not to be grasping and abuse their position, but these words contain little hope, tenants declare. The position of the landlord has much to commend it, and the argument is advanced in calmer quarters that it is only right the tenant finally should surrender his immunity and bear his share of the burden. Compelled to hold to pre-war leases, the landlords have been heavily taxed, and have had to pay greatly increased prices for labor and material. They had no recourse whatever. They had to smile and stand the gaff. And nothing prevented the tenant from subletting at whatever he could get. There is one landlord in Rome who rented flats for 150 lire a month, while his tenants rented rooms for 600 lire a month each. The situation is aggravated by the substantial increase in the population of Rome during the past five years. The city now counts 608,000 inhabitants, or 66,000 more than in 1918. In view of the lack of new building, the housing situation is acute, with no promise of improvement.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 28.—The executive of the Board of Directors of Maritime United Farmers Co-operative Limited met here today in annual session. RAW SILK PRICES CONTINUE TO CLIMB

DISTILLED SUGAR CANE WASTE BECOMES GASOLINE SUBSTITUTE.

The South African railways have just awarded to the manufacturers of "Natalite," a gasoline substitute, a six months' contract for motor fuel for use throughout their motor transport service, says Trade Commissioner P. J. Stevenson in a report to the Department of Commerce. It is understood that "Natalite" was offered at a much lower price than gasoline, which was quoted by the three leading foreign companies operating in South Africa.

FLEE PRISON IN OARLESS SKIFF

Padding with Hands, Steering by Ice-Cakes, Gangsters Escape from Welfare Island—Land on Long Island Shore.

New York, March 1.—Police boats groped through the fog of the East River in the early morning in search of three New York gangsters who had escaped from the penitentiary on Welfare Island in a small skiff which they paddled by hand and steered by grasping ice cakes on either side of the boat and shoving them away.

Keeper John Conroy, who was on duty at midnight, happened to glance toward the Brooklyn shore when a moonbeam struggled through the cloudy sky and lit up the river mist, which was not very dense at that hour. Conroy could make out vaguely the outlines of a small boat which was moving north with a kind of waltzing motion.

The tide was carrying it toward the Sound, and the bow was swinging toward Welfare Island. The moon went behind a cloud, and Conroy ran to the coal-barge where a skiff had been moored. There had been no oar or paddle in it and it had never occurred to anybody that an oarless boat could possibly prove a means of escape for prisoners.

See Prisoners in Oarless Boat.

While Conroy was investigating, the moon came out again and faintly lit up the boat. The guard could make out the silhouettes of three men, and could see that their bare hands were the boat's only source of motive power. The river was full of big ice cakes. Each man waited until he could lay his hands on one and then thrust it away giving the boat an impetus northward, and, as often as possible, toward the Brooklyn shore. The tide was coming in swiftly, and the boat was making rapid progress toward Hell Gate.

Conroy telephoned in an alarm to the office. Then it was forwarded to the Police Harbor Squad, which sent out two boats.

It was then time for the midnight meal and there proved to be three vacant places at the mess-table. These were the places of three New York gangsters, serving terms for various offenses, who had been acting as trustees. They were Daniel St. John, 25 years old, who was arrested in connection with the slaying of a policeman on election night in 1919; James Lahey, known as "Spot" Lahey, accused of acting in concert with payroll handouts; and John Clinton, accused of carrying a revolver.

Police Boats Groped in Mist.

The police boats had to move with care through the ice field, which was rushing north with the tide in the East River at that hour. With the temperature rapidly growing warmer, the mist began to rise thickly off the river, forming a dense fog, and the searchlights of the boats could not penetrate it to any extent. The three fugitives kept up their cold and difficult work through the ice field for several hours, as was reported later, the speed of the tide making it extremely difficult for them to make progress across the current.

"They apparently landed several hours later at Ravenswood Park," said

Commissioner of Correction Frederick A. Wallis. They were dressed in the prison gray, making their escape difficult, and we have strong hopes of being able to capture them. As far as I know they had no overcoats.

"They were able to get away because, being trustees, they were allowed to go from one building to another. They slipped away on their way to the mess-hall, got out this skiff and started off with their bare hands.

"They were very foolish. For one thing, each man had overlooked better chances to escape in the past. All three had served most of their terms, and one had only three months longer to serve. One of them had $400 in cash to his credit here which he left behind, and the three abandoned a total of $740."

PAPYRUS TELLS OF AIRSHIP IN SOLOMON'S DAY

Earliest Extant Reference to Flying Found in Abyssinian Manuscript.

London, March 1.—There has just been brought to light in an ancient manuscript, the statement that Solomon gave to the Queen of Sheba "a vessel wherein one could traverse the air (or wind), which Solomon had made by the wisdom that God had given unto him."

This statement is quoted by Col. Lockwood March, secretary of the Royal Aeronautics Society, in the opening of his preface to "Bibliotheca Aeronautica," to be issued in a few days. The text is taken from an ancient Abyssinian manuscript, "The Glory of the Kings," translated by Sir E. Wallis Budge, director of Egyptian antiquities in the British museum, in his book, "The Queen of Sheba and her only son Menyelek," published last year.

"This ancient manuscript has, of course, been translated many times," said Col. Lockwood March to press representatives, "but the statement about Solomon's airship apparently escaped the notice of the reviewers, and it has been left to a flying enthusiast like myself to discover and proclaim it. Solomon lived in the tenth century, B. C., so it is quite the earliest reference to flying extant, and as such will be added to our records."

Many theologians believe there were airships a million years ago in last Atlantis, but as a book describing these airships was not published until 1896, the theory was based on astral clairvoyance, Col. Lockwood March prefers to regard his reference to Solomon's airship in the dawn of civilization as the earliest one.

There are other references to flight in Abyssinian sacred writings and there is one long description of the miraculous way in which the Queen of Sheba's son Menyelek left Solomon journeying to his mother's country. "No man hauled his wagon, and whether it was men, or horses, or mules, or loaded camels, each was raised above the ground to a height of a cubit." A cubit, according to the ancient Egyptians, measured about twenty inches, but elsewhere it is recorded that over the Red sea they were lifted up three cubits, "and everyone traveled in the wagons like an eagle when his body glideth above the wind."

Bodily Housekeeping

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take An-uric before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take tablets of "An-uric" three or four times a day.

Does Your Back Ache?

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of the kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as An-uric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists.

Send Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., ten cents for trial package of An-uric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's An-uric (kidney and backache remedy).

Many folks in town could testify to the merits of An-uric as does this woman:

Kirkton, Ont.—"I have found Dr. Pierce's An-uric Tablets to be an excellent medicine. I have been troubled with inflammation in the neck of my bladder for about eight years. I doctored but failed to get cured, so I decided to try Dr. Pierce's An-uric (kidney and backache) Tablets and they have relieved me greatly."—Mrs. John Simpson, R. R. 1.

BOYS UNHARMED BY WILD WEST NOVELS

Toronto Librarian Says the Chief Interest Lies in Catering to Children.

Toronto, March 1.—No boy was ever led astray by reading wild west novels, Dr. Geo. M. Locke, chief librarian of the public library, told an audience in the Labor Temple, while dealing with tendencies in modern literature. It was only one of Dr. Locke's breezy remarks while dealing with his subject, which he also extended to include his work as chief librarian of the public library. Dr. Locke again admitted he did not care if "grown-ups" patronized the public library and declared that his big interest in boys and girls. "We teach the boys and girls history. Some people do not think so, but we have a history going back 300 years," he said. "We do not want the loyalty of the kettle drum and the waving flag, we want loyalty which stands for something. Do they like it? On Saturday not long ago 200 of them stormed the library, and when they were asked what they desired to hear, they agreed upon that of Chaplain. People do not seem to realize that the first white man who saw Lake Ontario was a Canadian, and that this was seven years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed on Plymouth Rock."

Dr. Locke pointed out there was no censorship in Canada of literature, and doubted if there could be found an individual or a group of individuals capable of assuming the responsibility. This led him to express the opinion that there had been a demoralization in literature corresponding to the demoralization in life since 1914. He believed that the rigorous censorship of France and Germany upon literature since the war was sure indication of what was being served the public. "It is perfectly foolish to prohibit books," he said. "The instinct of curiosity and resistance to constituted authority will attract people to them. I know two individuals who wrote a book in the United States which would not sell. They rewrote two chapters, paid a man to attack the book, and then successfully sold it. Reform is never secured by legislation. Develop the good and interesting, and this will drive out the bad."

IS "CANDLE-SNUFFER" Methodist Itinerant System Blamed by Chancellor.

Toronto, March 1.—While the Methodist Church in Canada has never had such all-round efficiency as it has today, Rev. I. G. Bowles, chancellor of Victoria University (Methodist), admitted here that the Methodist itinerant system was not productive of great pupil power. Dr. Bowles to that extent agreed with Rev. Dr. D. G. McQueen (Presbyterian), of Edmonton, who in a recent interview stated that Methodism has had no great preacher since John Wesley. The itinerant system was a "candle-snuffer" said Dr. Bowles, and its advantages and disadvantages had been discussed at practically every conference in the history of the church. At any rate, he said, if the church had laid down its oratorical laurels, it had picked up the burden of social service. The good of the church and the good of the community might perhaps be attained without words of flame and speech of gold.

The present day matches were invented about 1805.

Advocates Another Match. (New York Times). It seems that another match will be necessary between Gene Tunney and Harry Greb to settle satisfactorily the question of supremacy between the two light-heavyweights. Tunney must beat Greb to the complete satisfaction of everybody or Greb must trounce Tunney in an equally decisive manner before either can lay undisputed claim to the championship. At this time Tunney is the holder of a rather empty title as a result of last Friday night's bout. The logical thing to do, then, would be to match the boxers again and let the question of supremacy between them be settled once and for all.

Tunney owes it to the public to agree to another bout against Greb without delay. In justice to Greb, too, it would seem that Tunney should show himself a real sportsman and grant Greb's demand for a return bout. If the new champion is satisfied that he is Greb's superior, then he has nothing to fear in a return engagement. By so doing Tunney would establish himself as a credit to boxing in the cradled sportsmanship in present-day boxing. Not even a defeat can effectively erase the pleasant memory of a sportsman who played the game for the game's sake.

Last Friday's bout will not soon be forgotten. Cloaked in bitter rivalry and pronounced partisan feeling which was overwhelmingly in favor of Tunney, the recent battle will serve as a topic for conversation for many days to come. The majority of those who witnessed the affair were satisfied that Tunney had won and endorsed the decision. Still, a noticeable minority in the crowd voiced disapproval. Even the ringside critics were more than usually divided in opinion. Among the unprejudiced onlookers was William Muldoon, chairman of the State Athletic Commission. While he does not question the integrity of the officials, Muldoon, nevertheless, declares it his personal opinion that Greb was entitled to the decision. This opinion comes from a graduate of boxing and wrestling from a man who has had years of experience and association with boxing to qualify him as an authority. It commands respect. There are probably many other equally qualified who entertain a similar opinion. Another bout, therefore, would work no injustice to either of the principals.

SAY L. S. BROWN IS GOOD CHOICE

Newspapers Speak in Praise of C. N. R. Appointment of New Brunswick.

(Halifax Chronicle)

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The selection of L. S. Brown as general manager of the Atlantic Division of the Canadian National with headquarters at Moncton will be gratifying news to the Maritime Provinces. The original proposal was to make the division from Brockville to Winnipeg west and from Brockville east in which case there might have been some uncertainty as to where the headquarters of the Eastern Division would be. It has now been arranged to have a Maritime Division thus upholding the contention of the Maritime Provinces that separate treatment must be accorded the I. C. R.

(Halifax Herald)

L. S. Brown is one of the best known and most popular of Maritime-trained railway-men. The people have confidence in him; and will welcome this announcement that he will be appointed general manager of the C. N. R. Atlantic Region, with Moncton as his headquarters.

With Mr. Brown's appointment assured, the battle for maritime rights must not be allowed to lag. The next step must be the boundary of the Atlantic region extended to Montreal.

(Moncton Transcript)

Mr. Brown was born at Newcastle, N. B., and as a youth entered the service of the intercolonial as a machinist apprentice at that place. Later he went to the telegraph service and became a train dispatcher at Campbellton. Mr. Brown was chief dispatcher at New Glasgow; and for several years superintendent of the Eastern Division. From New Glasgow he went to Moncton as general superintendent, Eastern Lines, and since the war was transferred to Montreal as assistant general manager.

Edward Blake was in practice and for a long time in the past assisted with his leader in cases which his firm held briefs before the court.

He also leaves four daughters, Mrs. Lockhart Gordon of Toronto; Mrs. Eric Hamilton, of London, Eng., and Mrs. Harriet and Miss Susan, at home; also two brothers, Hamilton Cassels, K. C., and Richard Cassels, both of Toronto. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

SHIPWRECKED MEN HERE ON THE WAY HOME

Twenty-six from a Vessel Which Met Disaster on Pacific, Going to England.

Twenty-six seamen from the Tuscan Prince, British steamer, wrecked on Villal Island, B. C., on February 18, passed through the city today on their way to their homes in England. They were in charge of the chief steward, W. Brown. The other officers stayed in Vancouver for an investigation into the standing of the vessel.

The party arrived on the C. P. R. train this morning from Vancouver and were taken to the office of the shipping master, B. S. Purdy, where arrangements were completed for them to sail on the S. S. Metagama this evening. The men are all English, a large majority of them belonging to Plymouth and Middleborough. One other is due to arrive this afternoon to join the party. There were fourteen officers and members of the crew as well as the captain left in Vancouver to attend the inquiry.

In speaking of the wreck this morning, Mr. Brown said that the ship was proceeding at a very slow rate at the time she struck and was thought to have plenty of clearance from the rocks. It was an extremely dark night and a heavy sleet was falling, making the visibility very poor. The way the men managed to get off the wrecked ship was a very interesting story. One man attempted to make the solid ground, which was quite close, in a small boat lowered from the steamer but the force of the waves breaking over the rocks held him off. Another man tried the same plan and then attempted, by getting into the water, to carry a line in. He also failed and it was not until the boatswain got in the boat and another man helped by pushing it off the side of the ship that the shore was reached. A line was carried in and made fast so that the crew could slide down it into safety.

The men were taken off the rocks by two lifeboats from the Canadian coastal service on Village Island. Mr. Brown said this morning that he would like the Canadian coastguards to get the credit due them.

Pedro to Jail

Pedro Meytelo who has been before the police court many times as a common vagrant, was finally disposed of yesterday afternoon when Magistrate Ritchie sentenced him to three months in jail. The magistrate refused more than once to send Meytelo into jail saying that while something should be done, he would only be a bill of expense to the community. He allowed him to go some time and time again in the hope that he would find work or leave the city but he always appeared back in court in answer to the same old charge. A woman gave evidence yesterday in regard to his alleged actions in Coburg street about noon before two young girls. In consequence of this the magistrate sent him to jail to keep him off the streets.
