Mr. Borden's Western Tour Opened Last Night with Wonderful Meeting in Walker Theatre -- Immense and Enthusiastic Audience Heard Telling Arraignment of iniquitous Reciprocity Bargain

Opposition Leader Cheered to the Echo as He Scored Point after Point on the Men who are Working Out Ruinous Policy for Dominion -- Reciprocity would Ultimately Lead to "Absorption by the United States."

Special to The Standard. Winnipeg, June 19.—Cheered to the echo by enthusiastic Manitobans and loudly acclaimed as he made point after point against the Laurier administration, B. Borden, the leader of the Conservative party in Canada, opened his western tour in the Walker theatre this evening.

Yet what remarkable success has attended the performance of that almost impossible task thus undertaken by these men of memorable faith and courage and carried on by those who have since taken up the burden.

The proper grading of wheat, the preservation of the grades at the proper standard, the prevention of mixing, the manipulation by which the producer is robbed, are matters of vital importance to Canada.

The opposition leader was in fine voice and spirits. His speech was a calm and dispassionate summing up of his conclusions on the reciprocity bargain and as he told with clear definition and statistical proof how Canada's trade would suffer by the nefarious bargain made by Laurier.

Mr. Borden's address was as follows: At this day it is difficult to estimate the difficulties which faced the Fathers of Confederation when they attempted to found this Dominion.

MONKTON SMALL BOYS ARRAIGNED FOR A BURGLARY

Special to The Standard. Moncton, June 19.—George Fawcett, John Capson, Leonard Moore and Charlie Scullion were arraigned in the police court today charged with the burglary of M. J. Steves' confectionery store on Sunday. They pleaded guilty and were remanded until Wednesday for sentence.

Other countries may find employment therein. The Liberal-Conservative party, if returned to power, will establish a permanent tariff commission of able independent and representative men, for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon all matters connected with the tariff.

Let us come then to the consideration of the government's proposals. What is the position today as compared with that of forty years ago? The reciprocity treaty of 1854 had been denounced, Canada earnestly desired to renew it but the United States declined.

The Prime Minister has developed a wonderful admiration for Sir John A. Macdonald since his death. His last fight against reciprocity was in 1891 when Macdonald uttered those memorable words: "A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die."

There was no warning of any such treaty; there was no mandate; more than that, there was no cause. The material progress, the development, and the prosperity of Canada have been notable and marvellous.

Coronation Decorations Damaged by Steady Downpour—Many Notables Arrive at Nation's Capital -- Long List of Coronation Honors.

London, June 19.—Rain has been falling steadily since early in the afternoon and the flags along the streets are hanging limp, gaudy colors are blurred and patches are running down the columns of the triumphal arches.

Thousands of Londoners are fleeing the city to escape the hordes from the provinces and abroad, whose capacity for "coronation" is so boundless that the night so far as sleep is concerned, has become a decidedly cur tailed period.

These barriers have been built so massively that they could withstand the onslaught of a regiment when once closed and the crowds however savage, will be unable to make the least impression upon them.

The special train brought to London a number of representatives of the continental powers and also the papal legate.

The coming Coronation of King George is signalled by a free handed distribution of honours. Sir Joseph G. Ward, Prime Minister of New Zealand, is promoted to a baronetcy.

The baronets and knights include men conspicuous in commerce and science. Several hundred decorations have also been bestowed.

Boston, Mass., June 19.—The 62nd Regiment, St. John, N. B. Fusiliers, which participated in the Bunker Hill day parade and has been the guest of state aid city, left for home late this afternoon. Mayor Frink, of St. John, accompanied the regiment.

SAINT JOHN, TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 20, 1911.

MR. BORDEN IN WINNIPEG.

In the opening speech of his Western tour at Winnipeg, Mr. Borden sounds a patriotic note which will find an answering echo in the hearts of every loyal Canadian. That it is our duty to realize a truer ideal of co-operation between the nations of the Empire, to bind together the East and the West by closer ties of intercourse and to unite our scattered provinces is the burden of his message. With clear and convincing argument the Leader of the Opposition exposes the criminal folly of Canada surrendering her national birthright by adopting the Tariff-Fielding agreement, thereby rendering herself subsidiary to the United States in all her commercial relations, ending ultimately in political union and the loss of British connection and Canadian nationality.

Before discussing this question, which is of paramount importance to Canada today, Mr. Borden deals at some length with matters in which the people of the West have a vital interest. The right of the three provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to administer their public lands and natural resources, a right denied them by the Federal Government, is a burning question in the West. Mr. Borden contrasts the freedom which the remaining provinces in Canada enjoy in this respect and pledges the Liberal-Conservative party to remove this unjust discrimination and place the public domain under laws enacted by the local legislatures. He reviews the long standing demand of the Province of Manitoba for the extension of its boundaries and the policy of evasion and refusal which prevails at Ottawa. The promise by Mr. Borden to give Manitoba this measure of justice, so unfairly withheld, can be relied on by the people of the West. It is a pledge which he will be able to redeem at no distant date.

The Hudson Bay Railway is an undertaking in which the wheat growing centres take a lively interest. Protests against private control have come from all sections of the country irrespective of politics since the Federal Government announced the lines of policy they intend to adopt. The declaration of Mr. Borden that he stands for government operation through an independent commission with full control of the rates is in keeping with his oft-repeated policy of protecting the rights of the people. State control and operation of the terminal elevators also have his warm approval. In no other way, as he points out, can the identity of Western grain be preserved, unjust shortages prevented, and a fair value for his product be secured for the farmer. Federal neglect of the chilled meat industry has left Western Canada behind other countries where the business has assumed vast proportions. A policy of aid and encouragement is one of the planks in the Conservative platform and Mr. Borden gives welcome assurance that it would be carried out when the party is returned to power.

Turning to discuss the Reciprocity Agreement, Mr. Borden in scathing terms refers to Sir Wilfrid Laurier posing as a free trader by conviction on his last visit to the West and his hypocritical lament that although dictator of Canada for fifteen years he had been unable to carry out his real trade policy. He had been governed by the citizens. The success of the Council has been what the aldermen are. It may be said with equal truth that it has always rested with the citizens to have good aldermen. The power of discernment, so long dormant, which next April will suddenly awaken in the electorate at the prospect of choosing commissioners instead of aldermen, will be a phenomenon we are all waiting anxiously to see.

maintain," he declares, "the right of the people to pronounce upon this policy before the Government shall put it in operation." The identity of Canadian products will be merged in those of the United States and the high standard of Canadian wheat, bacon, cheese and other produce will be lost and cannot be regained without great difficulty. The treaty encourages the export of agricultural and animal products in their least finished form, thereby leaving the finishing process to be performed by United States labor with a corresponding loss to Canada of all by-products. The treaty is a menace because it will increase the power of the United States trusts in Canada which already dictate to the farmer on the one hand and the consumer on the other. And the trusts would be beyond our legislative control. The economic advantage will lie with the United States. Prices are higher in Canada than the average in the United States. Mr. Borden brings President Taft to witness that after the consummation of Reciprocity the advantage will be still more with the American farmer. The admission to Canadian markets of the products of the twelve favored nations as well as of all the British possessions is a further weighty objection. These countries will be entitled to receive from Canada the same tariff which Canada concedes to the United States, but the markets of the latter will not be open to the same competition. The hope of reciprocal trade preferences within the Empire would be destroyed. Mr. Borden quotes President Taft's now historic utterance that Canada is at the "parting of the ways." Are we as loyal Canadians, he asks, prepared to take so grave a step towards the disintegration of the Empire? There is an added danger in the pact in its tendency to disintegrate the Dominion, to check intercourse and commerce between the Provinces and between the East and West. Mr. Borden appeals in eloquent terms to his fellow Canadians to uphold the policy and the ideals consecrated by the founders of Confederation.

Finally Mr. Borden points to the Agreement as the forerunner of commercial union. Commercial union, he declares, emphatically, will inevitably end in political union. The frank and outspoken opinions of Hon. Champ Clark and Hon. Samuel McCall, together with scores of other equally strong utterances by members of Congress, are evidence that among leading politicians in the United States political union is the ultimate end in view. "We shall not enter upon this agreement without warning as to its consequences," is Mr. Borden's comment. "But it is equally my hope and my conviction that we shall not enter upon it at all. I trust instead that we shall adhere to the policy of the 'past forty years, for closer intercourse between the provinces, for the upbuilding of our nationhood and for the weakening of the ties which bind us to the Mother Country with the rest of the Empire.'"

In closing, Mr. Borden touches briefly on the Government's naval policy and makes pointed reference to the disloyal utterances of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Colonial Conference. He voices the opinion of every true Canadian prepared to fight and, if need be, to die for the Empire which he loves when he says: "Speaking for you and as your representative, our Prime Minister has dared to tell the King and Empire that Canadians desire to enjoy the prestige and advantages of British connection and the protection of the British flag until trouble comes and then to reserve the right to remain neutral. In peace we are to be part of the Empire. In war we shall find both honor and safety in a happy neutrality which will permit our forces to maintain a glorious inactivity, while our flag is fired upon by armed foes. Does this declaration of the Prime Minister voice the real sentiment and aspirations of the Canadian people? The memories of the past forbid us to believe it. And the day may not be far distant when Canadians will have occasion to remember and opportunity to resent and repudiate an attitude so unworthy of the races from which they have sprung."

A correspondent of the Globe, signing himself "Commission," remarks that "in less than one year hence our city will be governed by a commission selected by the citizens of St. John. The success of the commission will be what the commissioners are, so it is with the citizens to have good commissioners." For more years now than we care to count our city has been governed by a Common Council selected by the citizens. The success of the Council has been what the aldermen are. It may be said with equal truth that it has always rested with the citizens to have good aldermen. The power of discernment, so long dormant, which next April will suddenly awaken in the electorate at the prospect of choosing commissioners instead of aldermen, will be a phenomenon we are all waiting anxiously to see.

To World's Convention. D. C. Clark and Rev. Clifford Clark, delegates of the Charlotte street, west end, Baptist church to the district meeting at Campbellton on Saturday and Sunday next, and also to the World's Baptist Missionary Convention in Philadelphia on Saturday and Sunday next, planned to go direct to Philadelphia from Campbellton by way of Boston and New York.

Current Comment

(Toronto News)
In every word that he utters and in every position that he takes, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is influenced by fear of the Nationalists. Nothing is plainer than that he has decided that the British sentiment of Canada can be ignored, and that so long as he placates Nationalist feeling in Quebec Liberal partisans in the other Provinces will be satisfied. Whatever strength the Nationalists may be shown to possess at the next election, at least it is certain that although out of office, they now direct the course of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in London, and dictate the attitude of Canada as expressed by its Government on all questions of Imperial concern.

(Winnipeg Telegram)
It is quite obvious that if the relationship between Canada and Great Britain is as Sir Wilfrid Laurier officially defines it, there can be no permanence to British connection so far as this country is concerned. Canada cannot be a fair weather partner in the British Empire. If we are to accept the protection and the prestige of the Empire, we must be prepared to pay for them by whatever measures are necessary to that end. To assume any other position would be to make Canada a nation of abject dependents, even while we are boasting of having reached the stage of exalted nationhood.

We are all temperate in something or other. A considerable number of us drink too much whisky. Nearly all of us eat too much. Some of us oversleep. Others do not sleep enough or go to bed at late or irregular hours. A very few of us do too much work. In this latter class we would place the majority of newspaper editors.

The following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that this United Baptist district meeting in annual session assembled, put itself on record as opposed to the spirit of the No Temperance of the church of Rome, and also to enter its protest against this and similar encroachments upon the rights and liberties of our people."

It was moved by Rev. Dr. Cousins and seconded by Rev. H. D. Worden.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh & Co.

New York, June 19.—Confirmation of the breaking of the long drought in Texas and the Southwest with reports of fresh rains and unsettled weather in the same territory today brought another decline of prices on the cotton exchange and while the late detailed weather reports, showing less moisture than has been anticipated caused fair rallies, the final range was from 6 to 15 points below Saturday's closing. Perhaps the most demoralizing feature of the market was the relative heaviness of the July option which is supposed to be held almost entirely by the bull clique. Attempts to liquefy the option in volume were quickly abandoned owing to lack of any buying power and to all appearances the bull interests were compelled to buy more of this position than they had sold in order to exert a sustaining influence elsewhere. This is entirely a weather market and the immediate movements of prices will depend upon the completion of reports from the Southwest over night. If rains should continue the downward movement appears to have gathered momentum sufficient to carry prices to considerably lower level. If on the other hand the rain should prove abortive, and insufficient, the rebound of prices might be proportionately violent.

PROPERTIES. The following information has been supplied by Messrs. Walter H. Cottingham and C. C. Ballantyne: The Sherwin-Williams Co. of Canada has been formed to take over the Canadian business of the Sherwin-Williams Co. of America; the Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited, of London, England, which since 1905 has been associated with The Sherwin-Williams Co. of America, and was founded over 150 years ago; and has acquired control of the Canada Paint Co. of Montreal. The Sherwin-Williams Co. are the largest manufacturers of paints and varnishes in Canada. Their plant covers about four acres in the City of Montreal and is the most modern and complete of its kind in the world, having been built in 1905. It comprises paint works, varnish works, linseed oil mill, tin can factory and box works, all connected and operated by one central power plant, insuring economy and efficiency in operating. The company has its offices and modern warehouses in Winnipeg and operates branch houses in Toronto and Vancouver. The business was established 24 years ago by Mr. Walter H. Cottingham, now President of the Sherwin-Williams Co. of America. The Canada Paint Company, Limited, organized 18 years ago, is a consolidation of three of the largest paint manufacturing concerns in Canada, outside of the Sherwin-Williams Company. Its total output today is practically as large as that of the above company. The Canada Paint Company operates its own paint and color works at Montreal; large proportions at Toronto and a paint factory and linseed oil mill at Winnipeg. It also owns and operates its own Oxide and Graphite mines the products of which are extensively used in the manufacture of paint. The brands of these two companies are among the best and most favorably known in Canada. Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited, is one of the oldest and best known paint, varnish and color manufacturers in Great Britain. Founded over 150 years ago, it has grown from small beginnings till today it stands one of the leading concerns of its kind in the British Empire. The plant is situated upon four acres of land in the City of London. Besides the large business carried on in London and throughout Great Britain, this company's export business has grown to large proportions and maintains its own offices and warehouses at Sydney, Australia; Wellington, New Zealand; Bombay, India, and Paris, France.

MANAGEMENT. The present management will be continued, and the Canadian company, under an agreement with the American company, will have the benefit of the large research and development work constantly being done by the latter. Mr. Walter H. Cottingham, founder of the Sherwin-Williams Co. of America, will be President of Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited, and president of the Sherwin-Williams Co. of America, will be President of Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited, who has been General Manager for Canada of the Sherwin-Williams Co. and who has been associated with Mr. Cottingham for nearly 20 years, will be vice-president and managing director of the company. The present management of the Canada Paint Co. and Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited will be continued. Mr. James W. Garson, Managing Director of Lewis Berger and Sons, Limited, who will be one of the directors of the new company, has been connected with the Berger organization for over 20 years.

OBJECTS OF CONSOLIDATION. It is confidently expected that large economies will be effected by utilizing the manufacturing facilities of each company for the benefit of the common interest. Some of the products, it has been found, can be more economically manufactured in one plant than in others, by reason of conditions being more favorable. It has also been found that by handling the entire output of some articles in one plant instead of three, a considerable saving can be accomplished, by reason of the larger output being handled in one plant. The new company will be operated in a manner to take advantage of the opportunity for savings and increased efficiency of this kind.

The Sherwin-Williams Co. of America are manufacturers in a large way of zinc oxide and white lead, their plants being among the most efficient for this purpose. The new company will have the advantage of their plans and experience. It will be the object of the new company to produce and control practically all of its important raw materials, including Dry White Lead, thus guaranteeing lowest cost with highest quality.

MARKET. Paints, varnishes and colors are among the most staple articles being used in some form or other by railroads, steamships and manufacturers, builders, property owners and householders, and are used in some form in every house, and in all buildings, public or private.

Although the subscription list will close on or before Friday, June 23rd, arrangements have been made to allow four days for subscription from Western Canada and Maritime Provinces. As far as possible all applications for 25 shares and under will be allotted in full.

Applications may be made on the form accompanying the prospectus and forwarded to

STOCK MARKET PRODUCE PRICES

SEES HIGHER PRICES IN CANADIAN CENTRES

New York, June 19.—A substantial higher range of prices prevailed through the greater part of the day in the stock, and the weakness which was exhibited to favorable developments over the week end, and to increase in the outside demand for stocks. Commission house orders were said to have reached a larger total than on any other Monday in several weeks, and although trading fell off somewhat at the higher prices, the inquiry was sufficiently keen to prevent a setback and discourage attempts to depress the market. It was not until near the close of the day when profits were taken, that stocks lost a portion of their gains. The successful flotation of the Panama bond issue was of decided influence in encouraging the returning spirit of optimism in the financial world, and doubtless was responsible to some extent for the course of the market today. The bonds sold "when placed in at large amounts on the curb today at 103 1/8 to 103 3/16, the rise in price from 102 1/4, at which they were sold on Saturday before the bids indicated that the market had ranged somewhat higher than was expected. A comparison of the amounts which the successful bidders will pay with the amounts of the bids placed in the market, demonstrates the unrivalled credit which the United States government enjoys among the nations of the world. That huge amounts of money are awaiting investment is indicated by the manner in which the issue was oversubscribed, a fact which has aroused expectations of a large demand for railroads, and other corporation bonds from bidders who were not successful in obtaining a portion of the Panama loan. A further favorable influence was found in the government report on iron and steel exports. From time to time, during the last few months, indefinite statements have been received of the improvement in this branch of the iron trade. The government's estimate of the aggregate value of these exports during the fiscal year placed it at more than $50,000,000 above the highest previous record, a showing which exceeded expectations. Crop reports, which are being watched with increasing interest, in the stock market, was confused today, and unfavorable advices from the northwest were associated with the comparative heaviness of the iron stocks. The railroad stocks as a whole, however, were the strongest in the list. There was a good demand for the copper and antimony stocks, and the copper sold at the high point of the year. The trading in his group was influenced by the continued improvement in the metal trade. The electric stocks, also displayed unusual strength, general electric rising 3 points. The annual report of International Mercantile Marine showing a decided improvement in earnings, caused a brisk buying of both the common and the preferred shares, which improved in price. The bond market was firm. Total sales, par value, $2,625,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT. During the past few years railway development in Canada has been little short of phenomenal. The mileage has rapidly increased and the equipment of the roads, required year by year, has taxed the locomotive and car plants of the continent to the utmost. Recently the car manufacturing plants in Canada merged and established a large locomotive plant, for the purpose of being better able to keep pace with the demands of their product. Now comes the announcement that the Canadian Locomotive Company, of Kingston, Ontario, have decided to double the capacity of their locomotive works. The company have been making 75 locomotives per year, but have been forced each year to refuse many satisfactory orders, owing to their very limited capacity.

There are today in Canada over 25,000 miles of railroad in operation, and over 6,000 miles being built. As one locomotive is required for every six miles of road it will mean that 1,000 new locomotives will be required within the next year or two in addition to the 400 annually required to replace the existing equipment. The Canadian Locomotive Company have built up such an enviable reputation that their output is eagerly sought for, and they do not anticipate the slightest difficulty in disposing of all their product when they double their present capacity. As a matter of fact it is generally believed that it will be necessary for them to still further enlarge their equipment as railroad development in Canada is practically speaking, only at its commencement.

MONTREAL CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

New York, June 19.—Today witnessed another quiet and largely profitless market with a fairly steady undertone. The trend of prices was upward during the early part of the session but there was a lack both of news or special feature to stimulate outside buying. In the afternoon there was a moderate reaction upon the advance in grain options which was accompanied by fresh reports of crop damage in the winter wheat and oats sections. Withal it was a characteristic June market with no aggressiveness displayed either for or against prices. Until the crops have further matured and the big interests feel reasonably assured of the season's yield there seems little prospect of a broad or sustained upward movement, although bull manipulation of the specialties is entirely in order. For the time being the tone of the market will reflect the tenor of advices from the grain belt.

The interior was brilliantly lighted and the decorations and arrangements of booths excited considerable admiration.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF WILLIAM J. PARKS

Mill Street Jeweller Found Dead in his Store Yesterday Afternoon—Body Showed no Signs of Violence.

Mystery surrounds the death of William J. Parks, who was found lying on his side in his store on Mill street about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having evidently been dead for some hours. His store was not open yesterday morning and in the afternoon E. J. Heatt, the proprietor of the place who had learned that Mr. Parks had been absent from his boarding house since Saturday evening, effected an entrance and was horrified to find the body of his tenant lying in the back of his store.

Coroner Roberts was summoned and took charge of the remains. When seen last evening the coroner said that Mr. Parks had evidently come to his death within twenty-four hours of the time of the finding of the body, but he had formed no theory as to the cause of his death, at least he had nothing to say for publication on that point. He declared, however, that he had not found any signs of violence on the body, or anything that would indicate that the deceased had committed suicide.

Mr. Parks was a man of about 45 years of age, and of temperate habits. It is understood that he has a wife living in England, but she was as known he has no immediate relatives living here.

The coroner had not decided last evening when he would hold an inquest.

POSTMASTER SEARS FOUND POCKETBOOK

There was an amusing incident at the union depot last night in which Postmaster Sears played an important part. A clergyman who was bound east, purchased a ticket and leaving the ticket window left his pocketbook on the counter. The postmaster found the pocketbook and informed the ticket agent of the find.

The agent stated that he thought the wallet belonged to the clergyman, who was then enjoying a lunch in the lunch room. Postmaster Sears found the clergyman, and according to him said: "Pardon me, sir, but would you lend me a dollar?"

The clergyman was surprised, and replied: "But, sir, you are a total stranger to me."

Mr. Sears then put on one of his broad grins and handing over the pocketbook said: "Well in that case will you have a dollar?"

The joke was on the clergyman, who thanked the honest government official and felt happy to recover his money.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Rev. Mr. Batty on behalf of the committee appointed to deal with the matter reported that the committee had met. He then read the majority resolution passed by the committee. Following the reading of this resolution he also submitted the minority resolution which had come before the meeting on Saturday and which was found to be unsatisfactory. He also spent considerable time arguing in favor of his resolution and showing it was the best suited to answer the purpose.

Dr. Allison stated that he thought the conference should not decide anything until they were fully versed in the matter on which they were to vote, and gave a lengthy exposition of the decree and its history.

After considerable discussion for and against the different resolutions the minority decree was adopted by the conference. The resolution was as follows: "Whereas the conference views with great alarm the results which have followed the enforcement of the Ne Temere decree of the Roman Catholic church by which in this and other countries the firm foundations of the home have been disturbed, and family relations have been disturbed, and the burden of a heavy disgrace in some cases thrust upon innocent women; and

"Whereas the Methodist church has always maintained, and must continue to maintain, the supremacy of the civil law in determining the conditions under which the marriage contract may legally be made, and what is involved in its faithful fulfillment; and

"Whereas by the terms of the decree great violence is done to those principles of British justice by virtue of which each citizen has equal rights before the law."

"Therefore resolved, That we express our full sympathy with the agitation aroused against the decree by the Protestant world; that we do protest most strongly against the annulment of any marriage when performed by any officer authorized by the statutes; that we deny the right of any church, our own or any other, to cast doubt upon the validity of any marriage when solemnized according to the laws of our land, and would express our conviction that if necessary the most radical measures should be adopted in order to make forever valid all marriages performed by the minister of any church when celebrated under the form of any provincial statute."

The Evening Session. Last evening's session was devoted to moral and social reform work, and to a memorial service in memory of ministers who had died during the year. Representatives from the County Temperance Federation were present at the session and addresses by Rev. W. R. Robinson and Pres. MacTavish were given. The delegates present were G. R. Woodburn, R. H. Othier, Mrs. Seymour, Rev. W. R. Robinson and Pres. MacTavish. Rev. Mr. Batty delivered an address on temperance, after which the service in memory of Rev. Isaac Parker and Rev. Dr. Chas. Stewart was held. Brief sketches of the life and work of each of the departed ministers were read, and speeches appreciative of their work were delivered by several of the members of the conference. This morning the conference will be resumed at 10 o'clock.
